HEART-BREAKING STORIES TELL OF RED CROSS NEED IN BATTLE-SCARRED FRANCE

Washington, D. C. FIFTH COLUMN 'GUNS' IN U. S. Attorney General Bob Jackson's plea for a federal law requiring registration of all privately owned firearms had more behind it than he disclosed. Inside fact is that this constitutes one of the most serious problems facing the government in its war against fifth columns.

Following the World War, one armament company alone disposed of 15,000 "Tommy" guns to private purchasers after trying unsuccessfully to sell them to the army. About 10,000 of these deadly weapons are "unaccounted for." How many are in the hands of potential fifth columnists the government, under existing laws, has no way of knowing. Jackson's proposed statute would provide the power to find out.

Another unmentioned factor troubling officials is the tremendous increase in the sale of guns and ammunition in the last two years. Tax collections by the internal revenue bureau give the following figures on this astounding traffic in our "peaceful" country:

Total sale of taxed firearms, rifles, shotguns, pistols, revolvers, to private persons in 1938—$24,959,048; in 1939—$36,010,684.

In the past three years these sales reached the amazing total of $97,463,760—which is almost one-fourth of the army's 1937 appropriation. It is also vastly in excess of average sales for sporting purposes and law enforcement.

Note—The U. S. is far behind other powers in regulating firearms. England, France, Germany, Italy, Japan all have drastic laws on the private possession of weapons. The national firearms act of 1934 imposed a limited regulation on the sale of machine-guns and sawed-off shotguns by requiring manufacturers, dealers and pawnbrokers to register sales and transfers. But the many thousands of these lethal weapons sold before 1934 still are unaccounted for.

OIL TO ITALY

Italy's entrance into the war has at least one harmful effect upon her ally, Germany. It means the end of U. S. oil shipments to Italian ports for trans-shipment to Germany.

These shipments, especially of lubricating oils, have been heavy since the first month of the war. With Italy at war, however, U. S. ships are barred.

This will stimulate Axis efforts to open up oil resources in the Near East, and Italy is sure to make a drive for the British and French oil fields in Iraq. Or getting through the Suez canal, she will strike at the oil fields of Iran, under control of the Anglo-Iranian company.

David L. Truett for Representative

In announcing my candidacy as State Representative of the 104th District of Texas, composed of Comanche and Mills counties, I am mindful of the fact, if elected to this important place it will be my duty to the people of this district and the people of the state at large, to plan and work for their betterment and mutual advancement. At this time the buying power of the majority of the state has become impaired and has thus brought stagnation to almost all kinds of business.

One of the greatest questions coming before next legislature, is the social security obligation, that was placed in our constitution some five years ago by a large majority vote of our people. I am in favor of the meeting of this obligation in its various phases, and giving to the old people the maximum amount 1st Lieut. J. J. Stephen, Medical Corps Reserve, attended the final meeting and dinner of the Waco Reserve Officers at Waco Thursday night. The main event on the program was a discussion by Major W. C. Lattimore of the recent East Texas maneuvers in which Major Lattimore served as an umpire.

James Oscar Burns, who was honorably discharged from the U. S. Navy, at San Diego, Calif., arrived at Mills last Thursday. His mother and sister, Mrs. Oscar Burns and Evelyn met him there and Mr. Burns and James Oscar accompanied them to Goldthwaite Saturday evening. James Oscar received a medal for having an honorable discharge and another medal for perfect conduct during the four years in the Navy. Congratulations Jimmy for such worthwhile medals.

Captain M. Y. Stokes, Jr. was elected Vice President of the Central Texas Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association of America in Waco last week.

A number of Mills county boys have applied for enlistment in the Army or Navy within the last few days. The EAGLE would like to publish their names and new addresses in the Honor Roll. Their relatives are requested to inform us.

Two Star Youths To Learn to Fly

Stephenville.—Oran H. Soules and Ellsworth Karnes of Star have been named two of thirty civilian pilots who are to be trained this summer at John Tarleton College under the United States Civilian Aeronautics Authority. Ground school training is going forward rapidly, and it is expected that they and the other students pilots will begin flight instruction by June 15.

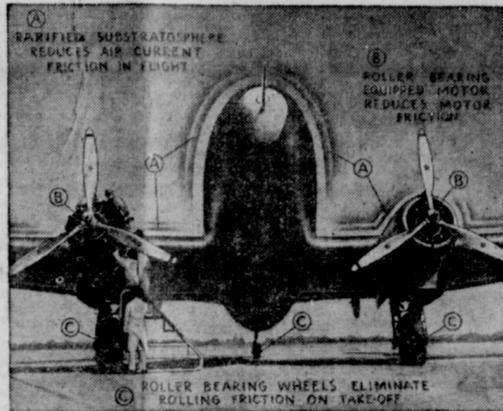

As the new pilots come in, the last of the 20 pilots trained at Tarleton last semester under the C. A. A. completed their flight examinations and received their private pilot's licenses.

In order to carry out the increased program at Tarleton this summer, one more plane will be bought and a flight instructor will be added to the present staff of two. Dean J. Thomas Davis was in College Station this week conferring with A&M college officials about Tarleton's resources for training pilots and mechanics.

There is much more to the course than flying. A minimum of 72 hours of ground school work is required. In this course one studies the theory of flight, Civil Aeronautics regulations, aeroplane engines, navigation, and meteorology. Between 35 and 50 hours will be spent in the air and the student usually solos after eight or nine hours. Examinations must be passed in both phases of the work before license is granted by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

The ground school work will be under the direction of Gabe Lewis and E. A. Blanchard, Tarleton professors.

TO INVADE NEW FRONTIER OF SPACE

Built to streak through the rarefied sub-stratosphere nearly four miles above the earth with 36 passengers at 210 miles an hour, this biggest of all twin motored transports represents one of science's greatest victories over speed-retarding friction. At 20,000 feet, where artificial air pressure inside the cabin will equalize the atmospheric conditions outside, the ship will encounter reduced air current friction, making greater speeds possible. Internal friction in the 14-cylinder Double-Row Cyclone engines has been reduced by equipping fast-moving parts with Timken roller bearings, which are also used on the huge landing wheels to enable the transport to take off and land in small airports with a full passenger load and three tons of mail and express.

Congressman South Reports Progress

Congressman Chas. L. South reports that good progress is being made on America's defense program. In a letter to a Goldthwaite citizen he states: "By lending every energy toward building up our defense, we will be strong enough to make it unlikely that any aggressor nation, or combination of nations, will want to attack us. The President has shown splendid judgment in the selection of such men as Knudsen and Stettinius to direct our defense program. I believe the country will not only be well-pleased, but surprised and amazed by the results which will be achieved."

Rates High in Congress

The important place which Congressman South has earned in Congress was revealed a few days ago when Roy L. Walker of Lampasas appeared before the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee of the House of Representatives against the Neely motion picture bill.

As reported in the Lampasas Daily Leader, Hon. Chas. A. Wolverson of New Jersey who, like Judge South, is a member of this important committee, said to Mr. Walker:

"We appreciate very much, Mr. Walker, the message you have brought us from the interests you represent in Texas, and I wish to say to you that while you have brought something to us from your state you can take something back to Texas for us. If you will tell the various interests you represent in the State of Texas the high regard and esteem in which Mr. South is held by the members of this Committee as to his ability and high purposes, I will feel that you have carried something back that will be worthwhile to them."

Mr. Walker says that the people of this district should feel proud of the fact that their representative is doing a worthwhile job and is recognized as one of the leading members of Congress.

Four Local Students On JTAC Honor Roll

COMPULSORY SERVICE FOR MEN AND WOMEN EXPECTED TO BE ASKED IN CONGRESS

Be A Went! NOT A Sent— ENLIST TODAY!

Col. J. A. Moss, U. S. Army recruiting officer with headquarters in Dallas was in Goldthwaite Tuesday in the interest of faster recruiting for the Army in this section. He left a number of recruiting stickers which Goldthwaite business men readily agreed to display in their places of business.

Col. Moss has just opened a recruiting office in Brownwood which will remain in operation indefinitely.

While it is considered certain that compulsory military service will be enacted within the near future, men who voluntarily enlist now will have the advantage of selecting the branch of service they prefer. They will also receive regular Army pay, whereas the draftees, according to current reports, will not receive any pay above food and shelter.

Recruiting Station At Brownwood

Sergeant William J. Hess, U. S. Army Recruiting Officer, has established a new recruiting office at Brownwood to serve this area, and is receiving many applications for enlistment in the armed forces.

The new recruiting station, located in Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall on Baker Street in Brownwood, will save persons in this vicinity desiring to enlist the expense of traveling to more distant cities where recruiting stations are located. Preliminary physical examinations are given at Brownwood and expense of travel from Brownwood to posts is borne by the Army.

From time to time, various branches of the service are expected to have openings, and men joining any branch will be eligible for transfer to the branches of their choice when openings occur.

Sergeant Hess will be glad to discuss with interested men any matters relating to enlistment. His office hours are from 7 a. m. until 5 p. m. six days a week.

Lions Re-elect Officers Here

Following a chicken dinner served in the recreation room of the Methodist church Tuesday evening, the Goldthwaite Lions Club enthusiastically re-elected the following officers for another year:

President, A. H. Smith; Vice-President, Raymond Little; Secretary, T. C. Graves. Directors will be announced later.

A resolution placing the local club on record as opposing all un-American activities was offered by Mayor H. G. Bodkin and unanimously passed.

The next meeting on July 2, will be the last for this summer.

Plenty of Rain Falls in June

A rain a day, and sometimes several has been the rule recently, and the government rain gauge maintained by Harry Allen has registered a total of 3.46 inches for June so far.

Much more than that has fallen in some communities in Mills county recently. Even Lake Merritt has received enough to rise a few inches.

Plans Will Go To U. S. Congress In A Few Weeks

President Roosevelt announced at his press conference Tuesday that he will soon propose to Congress some form of universal compulsory government service for all young American men, and he indicated the program might be broadened to include young women.

He said that in view of the rapidly changing world the United States is undoubtedly going to come to some form of universal government service for every young person, no matter what his position in life may be, and that the plan he now has under study will be sent to Congress in letter or message form within the next few weeks.

Service would be military only in its broadest terms, he said, and probably would represent compulsory training for all youth.

He said he believes such training would have a salutary effect on the national morale and observed, in this connection, that young Americans are patriotic enough but that their idealism tends to drift toward the isms.

He did not specify any age range but it was indicated he has in mind youths between 18 and 21. He indicated there was a problem of finding sufficient diversified occupations to apply universally to young women.

The plan, he said, envisages training of young men for combat service, for uniformed behind-the-lines service as technicians, aviation mechanics, etc., for nonuniformed training in industrial production necessary for support of a fighting army and conservation corps training to preserve the nation's natural resources.

Mr. Roosevelt said his idea was to subject all young Americans of every class to some form of discipline for about a one-year period.

Walton D. Hood Spoke Here June 19

Walton D. Hood, of Austin, candidate for Railroad Commission speaker in Goldthwaite Wednesday afternoon. A former Major in the First World War, and a past State Commander and past National Vice Commander of the American Legion, Hood devoted a large portion of his address here to Americanism.

"We are facing serious times," the candidate said, and we must bind ourselves closer together. We have as much danger in internal trouble by Fifth Columnists as there is from invasion by foreign armies.

"The only ism we need in this country is 100 per cent Americanism."

Hood said he favored an increase in the truck load limit on a scientific basis with first thought to highway safety. He resigned his position as Chief Enforcement Officer for the Railroad Commission, in May, after serving as an enforcement officer since 1932.

American Legion Holds Meeting

At a called meeting of the American Legion Tuesday evening, petitions were drafted to Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard and Representative Chas. L. South urging that Congress remain in session during the present emergency.

We surely have had some fine rains. They were fine on the feed crops. I think everyone around here got their grain put up who were having it combined. Threshers will start soon.

Charles Goode was at home over the week end from Randolph Field and said San Antonio was fine.

Wayne Baker, also of Star, is at Puerto Rico. He is in the Navy.

Mrs. Florence Teague is visiting in Brownwood. She is in somewhat better health since she went. She has been in ill health for several months.

Miss Iona Woolsey of Hall, Texas, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Roe and helping with the work as Mrs. Roe has had the measles. There has been quite a few cases around here, but everyone is well now.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wall and daughter, Mildred are moving back from the M&J Stock Farm on the Lometa highway.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kluge are visiting in the Webb Hill home.

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Sam Anderson and children to our community. They have rented the house next to the star garage.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Gulice have moved to Hamilton where they have leased a cafe and service station. We are sorry to lose them, but hope they will do fine in their work.

Mrs. Woodson Clary, who underwent an operation at Temple some time ago, is home at last. We are sure glad to have her with us again.

Mrs. Dora Goode, who has been sick for the past few days, is able to be up and around again.

Work on the new school house is going on fine. It will be some time before it is complete, for there is lots to be done yet.

We surely are having some fine lessons in Missionary Society. We hope more will come and join us in our work.

They finished another lot of mattresses here last Friday. There will probably be another lot started soon.

Perhaps the surest way to reach the pinnacle is to have such a burning desire to get there that nothing can divert us.

The Fergusons and National Defense

Very few people are discussing politics. Every one is talking war. This is as it should be for the first qualification of good citizenship is patriotic love for the Nation and the red-blooded desire to defend it. Governors may come and governors may go but the first instinct of every true American will always be to preserve National safety at any cost.

However, we must soon face the duty of electing a governor and a legislature to serve during the two stormy years just ahead. When a hurricane strikes, only an experienced pilot can guide a vessel safely to shore. In the dark days before us, only seasoned leaders should be placed at the helm. This is a vital and necessary part of National defense.

Serving as a war governor is not a new experience for the Fergusons; it will only be a repetition of similar service rendered during the first world war, if we are forced into another contest.

With the help of President Roosevelt they ministered to the needs and suffering of the unemployed in time of peace; by his side they will meet the problems and the dangers that arise in time of war.

The Fergusons have been weighed in the balance and not found wanting. They have stood the test; they have kept the faith.

SKIMPING IN WRONG PLACES OFTEN COSTLY IN LONG RUN

CUTTING COSTS ON FUNDAMENTALS MEANS ENDLESS TROUBLE AND EXPENSE IN YEARS TO COME

CRACKED WALLS—Often caused by uneven settling of footings and foundation. Skimping on footings in either size or concrete mix is poor economy.

CREAKY FLOORS—Very often the result of skimping on size of floor joists. Another example of the wrong place to cut costs.

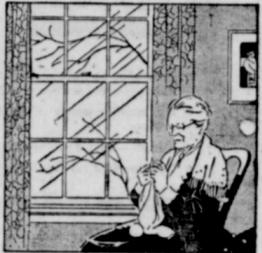

Where is it wise to cut costs in your new home and where is it wise to buy the best? This is a problem that most home builders face more than once during construction. And what is the answer? It is a problem that every home owner must settle to the best of his ability with the help of his contractor and architect.

Replacement Big Factor

There is one general principle that can be set down here, however. Briefly, it is this. Any part of your house that it is not practical to replace should have the best in construction and materials. By this, we mean such items as footings and foundation, timber skeleton and frame work, windows and window frames, which are really part of the house frame, concealed ducts and wiring. All these things must last the life of the house.

Wiser to Wait

It is wiser to wait for some of the attractive furnishings and fixtures until more money is available, rather than to skimp on fundamental parts of a house which will only mean costly repairs, excessive heating bills and disgust and discomfort in years to come. Remember: if you can't replace them, make them good.

DRAFTY WINDOWS—Result of poor fitting and cheap construction. A few dollars extra spent for precision built windows and frames would save enough in fuel costs to pay for slight extra cost.

Liberty Rubber Is Made of Oil

New York.—Using a new synthetic, Ameripol, described as the long-sought Liberty Rubber capable of replacing the natural product, the B. F. Goodrich Company has begun the manufacture for the public of America's first passenger car tire of domestic materials, according to John L. Collyer, president.

In a series of revelations that threw an entirely new light on the nation's preparedness for any emergency affecting natural rubber supplies, Collyer made what was characterized as the most important announcement from the American rubber industry in the last quarter century, to a gathering of five hundred industrialists, military experts, scientists and the press at the Waldorf Astoria.

Collyer stressed three important achievements of Goodrich research and production, hitherto cloaked in secrecy and which, he said, are now made public because Goodrich "recognized the responsibility which the national defense program places upon all industry."

The three highlights of the disclosures were:

(1) The development by Goodrich, working independently for the past fourteen years, of a synthetic which in many of its important properties is equal or superior to natural rubber, and can be processed and vulcanized like the natural product.

This Liberty Rubber has been named by Goodrich, Ameripol, which signifies a recombination of molecules of American materials.

(2) Goodrich has had in operation for more than a year and a half a pilot plant producing Ameripol, and it is now being made in a semi-commercial plant. A manufacturing plant which will have a daily capacity of several tons of Ameripol is under construction, to be ready this fall.

(3) The new Goodrich tires use Ameripol to replace natural rubber in proportions varying from 50 to 100 per cent.

"It is my personal opinion and fervent prayer that our rubber supplies will not be interrupted," Mr. Collyer said, "But rubber is too vital a product for us to follow any course but a safe one."

The basic raw material from which Ameripol is made is American petroleum. By the cracking process petroleum is broken down to a mixture of simple molecules and from this mixture can be separated a gas which under pressure liquefies to give butadiene. This is mixed with other ingredients prepared from natural gas and air and then made into a milky emulsion, using soap produced from American agricultural sources. Upon heating and agitation, these ingredients react to form an emulsion of synthetic rubber, which is similar to the latex obtained from rubber-producing trees. From here on the process of obtaining a sheeted rubber is quite like that used for natural rubber. The latex is coagulated with acid, producing a curd. This is then sheeted and dried to give the Goodrich synthetic, Ameripol.

Vacation Children

"The child's day during vacation this summer should be scheduled to include a period of rest before meals, because uninterrupted, strenuous play tends to spoil appetite and may retard digestion," stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"There is no doubt as to the value of play and exercise in stimulating appetite, vigor and endurance. However, when carried out to the extent of bringing about definite fatigue, play and exercise often exert an opposite effect.

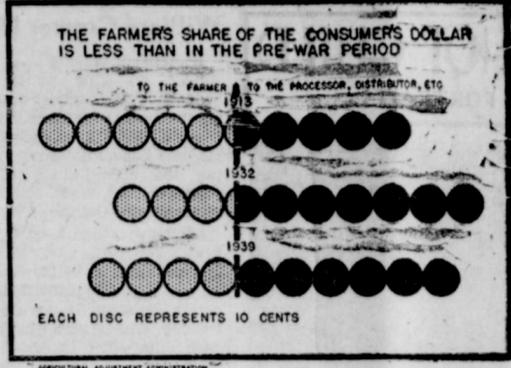

"The average child enters wholeheartedly into play both physically and emotionally. When allowed to play hard up to mealtime, he comes to the table in a fatigued, excited state with poor appetite, temporarily impaired digestive capacities and a tendency to gulp his food hastily. Therefore, a rest period before eating is of benefit to a child.

"Careful studies have also shown that excessive as well as insufficient activity reduces one's physical capacities. The reserve capacity of children is relatively small, varies with individuals and may be easily exceeded.

"Hard play in the evening up to bedtime usually disturbs sleep. The ill effects of over-activity are more likely to be observed in the spring after the relatively sedentary life of the winter season. Another period when play becomes excessive, is at the beginning of summer vacation when children have their first opportunity at day long physical activity.

"Properly regulated camps, city playgrounds and other community recreational facilities for the children offer model schedules for supervised play with a good balance of exercise and rest."

Texas Federation Chooses Candidate

Amarillo.—The following article, appeared in the Globe-News coverage of the recent 19th annual convention in Shamrock of the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and has been submitted to Miss Ruth Douglas of Denton, editor, for publication in the forthcoming issue of the Texas Federation news:

"Seventh District voiced enthusiastic—even deafening—approval of its own candidate for the presidency of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, at the convention.

"This unanimous approval was evident in applause that followed all appearances of Mrs. Walker either on the program or in the convention halls.

"The board, in pre-convention session, officially endorsed Mrs. Walker's candidacy, and unanimous endorsement by vote of the convention delegates followed.

"The executive board also voted to recommend that the Seventh District buy a piano to be placed in the Federation Headquarters at Austin in honor of this popular clubwoman. Mrs. Walker graciously refused the honor when the recommendation was submitted to the convention because, she said, she had not yet earned it, and suggested the district so honor some pioneer clubwoman.

"Reports of Plainview clubs invariably claimed Mrs. Walker as a member or boasted they were among the first clubs to endorse her candidacy.

"Lusty applause followed every mention of Mrs. Walker, who seems to have the wholehearted support of every club in the 49 counties of her district."

Cuba Will Issue Lions Club Stampo

Chicago, Ill.—The Republic of Cuba has designed a special two-cent stamp to commemorate the convention of Lions International which is to be held in Havana July 23-25, 1940. The stamp will be carmine in color, with the Cuban flag placed diagonally as a background, on which is superimposed the Lions emblem at the lower left, and at the right a group of three of the royal palms of Cuba. The stamp, in addition to the standard information, will carry the words "Convencion, La Habana, 1940."

The stamp will be 32 mm. high by 22 mm. wide, and will be issued in sheets of 100. The printing will be 2,500,000 copies. This issue will be placed on sale at the time of the convention, July 23-25, and the Cuban postmaster general has ordered a special post office to be installed either at the convention hall or the headquarters hotel during the convention.

More than 5,000 Lions from all parts of the world are expected to attend the Lions Havana convention. Special train, boat and air services have been arranged to accommodate the delegates from the United States and Canada. The Nieuw Amsterdam, 36,287 ton flagship of the Holland-American Line has been chartered and will sail from New York July 20. The Peninsular and Occidental S. S. company will operate extra schedules from Miami, Key West and Port Tampa, Florida, to Havana during the week of the convention, and Pan-American Airways are planning to put additional planes in operation to accommodate the crowds. Special trains are scheduled from California, Texas, Illinois and New York.

Red Cross Pleads For More Cash

To aid Europe's war-ridden millions, the American Red Cross is now embarked upon a relief operation greater than any previously attempted in its peace-time history. This gigantic task is exceeded only by the organization's operations during the first World War.

As representative of the strongest nation not engaged in war, the American Red Cross has become the only hope for victims of the European holocaust, particularly the 5,000,000 civilian refugees. As their own resources become exhausted, only the Red Cross stands between these hordes of sufferers and starvation.

The size of the European relief task may be appreciated by a comparison with the Ohio-Mississippi Valley flood of 1937, the greatest natural calamity in which the American Red Cross has operated in the 60 years of its history. In that disaster 1,000,000 persons required assistance. Twenty-five millions of dollars were contributed in response to Red Cross appeals in this relief operation. Several foreign countries sent funds. In another example, public contributions of $10,000,000 were spent in relief of drought sufferers in 1930 and 1931. The New York-New England hurricane of 1938 required a Red Cross expenditure of $1,700,000 for emergency and rehabilitation care for 14,000 families.

As in other great catastrophes the American Red Cross must "follow through" on the European job. It has been estimated that $20,000,000 will be needed if minimum needs of the victims of war are to be met. The problem before the American Red Cross means providing emergency food, shelter, clothing and medical supplies until the gap is somehow bridged.

Up to June 10, approximately $5,200,000 had been spent by the American Red Cross for European war relief. Additional millions are desperately needed and will be translated into aid to suffering humanity as funds are contributed through the $20,000,000 war relief fund campaign, which now has approximated the 10-million dollar mark. The National organization is urging chapters to bring their local campaigns to a successful close by June 30.

Use Caution While Getting Your Suntan

Austin.—"Use caution in getting your suntan this season" is the advice of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Under a misconception as to the amount of sun they can take without ill effects, many persons thoughtlessly submit their unprotected faces, backs, and legs to over-exposure to sun and suffer painfully, sometimes seriously, as a result," Dr. Cox pointed out.

Restraint in acquiring a suntan is advised. Exposure of ten minutes the first day should be ample, and the amount of time spent in the sun can be increased on a day-to-day basis as the skin becomes accustomed to sunlight.

Advising sun-bathers to "learn their limits" Dr. Cox further pointed out that individual differences may determine the length of time that a person can stay in the sun without being burned.

Before becoming too ardent over prolonged sunbathing, one would do well to remember that many a vacation or week end has been ruined because the blistering and illness-producing power of the sun's rays on tender skin

Simple Rules to Protect Anglers

Austin.—With tens of thousands of fishermen on lakes and streams in Texas, the executive secretary of the State Game Department today outlined a few simple rules for the protection of the angler from accidents, and at the same time outlined practices in the handling and treatment of fish and minnows that should be followed if Texas waters are to be as productive of these species as every angler expects them to be.

For your own safety and for the producing of better fishing, check these rules and see if you are living up to them:

At a glance one can usually tell whether or not he has caught a fish that must be returned to the water. Catch the fish in the lower lip with your thumb and fore finger, remove the hook and release him easily to the water. If it is necessary to catch the fish with your hands, wet your hand first to prevent the disturbance of the protective slime that covers the fish. Be sure you have a legal fish before it goes on the string. This oversight might make a fishing trip an unhappy one. Check your tackle box for a ruler before you leave home or mark off the lengths on your boat or tackle box. Remember bass must be eleven inches long and crappie seven inches. Don't waste fish. Take only those that can be used, and use those that you take.

Seining bait may prove to be more expensive than buying it from a bait dealer, if care is not taken. Be sure that you do not seine minnows over three inches long, small bass, crappie and perch are not minnows. All species other than minnows must be released to the water immediately. Minnows that are too small was insufficiently appreciated. Some persons are susceptible to sunburn but don't tan; other individuals tan over a longer or shorter period, but the same general rules applies to all—"don't overdo."

Most sunburns, according to Dr. Cox, are similar to first degree burns, but some, as the result of over-exposure, reach the blistering stage characteristic of a second-degree burn.

for bait should be likewise returned to the water. They may be large enough for bait next time you go fishing. They are also valuable fish food. It is illegal to injure small fish or leave them on the bank to die.

Never use a boat that is unsafe. Boats with rotten boards should never be used. In case your boat does turn over, never get excited. Most wooden boats will support three or four people even if turned over or filled with water. Wait for help and never try to swim a great distance to shore. Many a good swimmer has lost his life trying this stunt. If it is necessary to swim, never try to swim with your clothes on. Remove your shoes first and then other clothes. It is better to lose your clothes than your life. Never wade unknown waters with hip boots, because if you go into water over your head with hip boots on, it is nearly impossible to remove them. Holes or rock jump-offs will cause one to lose balance and here is where the trouble comes.

Every fisherman should have some first-aid equipment in his fishing outfit. Scratches and bruises should be treated immediately to prevent infection. Never try to get a complete suntan on a single fishing trip. The

Dr. W. J. McConnell Speaks at Denton

Denton, Texas.—The present critical period in world history is not a time for outbursts of thoughtless men and women. Dr. W. J. McConnell, president of the North Texas State Teachers College, told students and faculty of the college here Saturday morning in an assembly address in which he warned his hearers that if they wished to be spared the horrible example of Europe they must heed the admonition to exercise discretion in what they say and do until the crisis is over.

"Particularly do I urge you to respect the feeling of millions of men and women whose blood goes back through the generations to Germany, but whose loyalty to the American way of living and whose lack of support of Nazism is no less than that of any other American," he declared.

The speaker asked that his audience make a distinction between Germany and Nazism, pointing out that America is a melting pot and a fusion of all people and that millions of Americans with German blood in their veins abhorred the Kaiser and likewise abhor Hitler.

President McConnell recommended that students go home and read an article in the Reader's Digest of June, 1939, or the original in Current History, in which William Seabrook related the contributions made by Germans to America and to the American way of life.

"Let us not," he said in closing, "make fifth columnists out of those who are among the most loyal to the traditions of our country by the mistreatment of these, our loyal friends."

"Europe," he declared at the beginning of his talk, "is experiencing a travail unparalleled in history and her travail may be the prelude to ours. Millions of peace-loving people of one group are grappling at the throats of another group equally peace loving."

"As you lie sleeping peacefully tonight, the stars over Europe look down on one of the most ghastly scenes of human agony that the mind of man can conceive."

By planning to take care of yourself, you can relieve the Big Planners of part of their burden.

CHAPTER 86.

AN ORDINANCE TO BE A PART OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF GOLDTHWAITE, TEXAS, PROVIDING FOR A TRAFFIC LANE ON FOURTH STREET; REGULATING PARKING THEREON; PROVIDING FOR A SAFETY ZONE AT THE SOUTHEAST CORNER OF BLOCK No. 10; AND PROVIDING A PENALTY FOR VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GOLDTHWAITE, TEXAS:

Article I.
 Section 1. That there shall be marked with a white line on 4th Street, between Block 14 and Block 9, a traffic lane, with parking boxes on each side. Said traffic lane to be all of said street therof to within 12 feet of the center of said street from the alley east to within 18 feet of the intersection with Front street. And on the south side of said street, a space extending from the curb to within 12 feet of the center of said street, from the alley west to the east edge of the drive-in on lot 11 in Block No. 14. And there is hereby designated as a traffic lane, all of said street not included within the above exceptions.

Section 2. No person or persons, firm or corporation shall park any automobile, truck, trailer or other vehicle of any kind in said traffic lane. No parking shall be permitted on said street at any point, except between the lines of said traffic lane and the curb. Automobiles, trucks or other vehicles too long or too cumbersome, to be parked between such traffic lane and the curb, shall not be parked on said street.

Section 3. Any person or persons, firm or corporation, parking an automobile, truck, trailer or other vehicle in the herein designated traffic lane on Fourth Street, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $100.00.

Article II.
 Section 1. That a safety zone be marked at the S. E. corner of Block 10 in Goldthwaite, Texas. Said safety zone to be and extend from the intersection of Fourth and Fisher Street at corner of side walk, north 18 feet, and from said point west 18 feet, and to be marked with white paint on the curb and edge of sidewalk.

Section 2. Any person, or persons, firm or corporation, parking any automobile, truck or other motor vehicle or other vehicle, in said safety zone, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $100.00.

The fact that the City of Goldthwaite now has no sufficient ordinance regulating traffic on Fourth Street, and no provision for a safety zone at the south east corner of Block 10, and that a dangerous traffic hazard exists, which creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity for the regulation thereof,—therefore, the rule requiring ordinances to be read at three several meetings is on motion and second, waived, and this ordinance is passed to its third and last reading, and unanimously passed and adopted by the city council of the city of Goldthwaite, Texas.

Passed June 3, 1940. Approved June 6th, 1940. (Seal)

H. G. BODKIN,
 Mayor of Goldthwaite, Texas
 Attest:
 F. P. BOWMAN,
 City Secretary.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
 INFORMAL PORTRAITS

Use a portrait attachment to take informal portrait close-ups such as this with a box camera or fixed-focus folding model.

SUMMER is an ideal season for informal outdoor portraits of your family and friends, and informal portraits are about as easy to take as any other type of snapshot. Naturally, such informal shots are not to be compared with the work of skilled, experienced professional photographers... but, since you take them yourself for your own album, they do have unique personal interest.

Your informal portraits may show one, two, or several persons, grouped naturally—without stiffness. The subjects should fill most of the picture space; too much background is detrimental. Faces should be turned so that a good likeness is obtained—whether profile, full-face, or in between—but as a rule the subjects should not look directly at the camera.

Two types of lighting are acceptable. Direct sunlight from one side is all right, but straight-overhead lighting from the noon sun produces harsh, displeasing shadows. For a softer lighting, and better likeness, place the subjects in "open shade"—for example, at the edge of shade from a big tree, where they will receive light reflected from the sky, but no direct sun.

Informal portraits in direct sunlight require no increase in exposure. In open shade (not under trees or a porch) try an exposure of 1/25 second at f.8 lens opening. With a box camera or inexpensive folding type, use the smallest lens opening, and give a very short time exposure—about as fast as you can work the shutter—with the camera on a firm, solid support.

A focusing camera enables you to take reasonable close-ups without a lens attachment, as well as full-figure shots. You can also take full-figure shots and group shots with a box camera if it has a "two-point" focus setting, enabling you to get as near as five or six feet to the subject. But for real close-ups with the inexpensive camera, you will need a portrait attachment—a small supplementary lens that slips on over the regular camera lens. The attachment does not change the exposure.

Often, an informal portrait gains interest if the subject is busy with some everyday activity—for example, filling a tobacco pipe, if a man, or crocheting, if a woman. The action adds story quality—and tells more about the subject. Concerted action—such as conversation—adds unity to a group picture.

Make a collection of good, informal portraits of your friends and family. They'll justify a special section in your snapshot album.

William Guynes Dead

William Guynes, a long time resident of Mills county, died suddenly Wednesday from a heart attack at his home in Goldthwaite. He will be buried with Masonic honors Saturday following the arrival here of his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Phillips of Winterhaven, California.

Mr. Guynes had been in poor health for some years but was up and about most of the time. He was in The Eagle office transacting business Wednesday afternoon, and no one who talked with him then imagined that the end was so near at hand.

In his younger days he had been a locomotive engineer and spent many years in Old Mexico where he had many interesting adventures on the railroads there. He also spent a number of years on Texas railroads.

When he retired he moved to Goldthwaite and purchased a ranch on the Goehnow crossing road. After the death of his wife several years ago he moved to Goldthwaite, unwilling to leave the friends he had made here.

Mr. Guynes was an active member of the Church of Christ and a faithful member of the Masonic fraternity. Without ostentation or display he performed countless deeds of charity for which his name will long be cherished by those whom he assisted and comforted.

To those who had proved to be his friends he was intensely loyal, unswerving in his affection and faithful to the end. His place will not easily be filled.

Brady Jubilee to Be Held July 3, 4 and 5

BRADY, June 20. (Special)—Featuring Texas' largest horse race meet, a night rodeo and a continuous round of entertainment throughout the three days, Brady's Fifteenth Annual July Jubilee will be held this year on July 3, 4 and 5.

Five running races daily, with no purse less than $150.00, will comprise the afternoon racing program, with some of the outstanding race horses in the Southwest already on hand for the competition.

This year, the rodeo has been divorced from the race meet and will be held during each night of the Jubilee, with eight spectacular events on each program. The rodeo will be under direction of Earl and Jack Sellers of Del Rio, nationally known rodeo promoters, who have lined up the nation's best performers and the best available livestock. Extensive repairs have been made on the rodeo grounds to make the arena one of the best in this area.

The Jubilee will be officially opened with a gigantic outdoor religious service to be held Sunday night, June 30, at Richards Park. Bishop A. Frank Smith of the Methodist church will be the principal speaker and all church congregations in this area have been invited to participate in the services.

Wright W. Rahl Buried Here

Critically ill of a heart ailment in a local hospital for the last week, Wright William Rahl, 44, manager of the H. O. Wooten Grocery Co. here, and a religious and school leader for many years, died at 5:40 a. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Rahl, a resident of San Angelo for 14 years, was a director of the Board of City Development; repeatedly was elected chairman of the board of stewards of the Trinity Methodist Church; served in various other church capacities, including the presidency of the Men's Rock-house Bible Class; was a Mason and a Shriner; was serving in the third year of a six-year term as a member of the San Angelo school board; and was the executive leader of the Red and White independent store organization established several years ago in the San Angelo section.

Surviving are the widow; a daughter, Dick, of Orlando, Fla., another daughter here, Lottie Willie, and a son here, Billy Jackson; also the parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Rahl of Goldthwaite; and two brothers, Sam Henry Rahl of Goldthwaite and Pat Rahl of Macon, Ga.

Mr. Rahl was born in Goldthwaite Sept. 24, 1895. He came here in 1926 after having traveled for Wooten out of Abilene for five years. Earlier he had worked in Wichita Falls. He started

Connally—Smith Bill Aimed at Aliens Sped Toward Passage

Washington, D. C.—The Connally-Smith anti-alien bill rapidly sped toward passage by the Senate and House, is meeting with acclaim throughout the United States as a measure expected to aid materially in the control of "fifth column" activities in America.

Offered by Senator Tom Connally of Texas on behalf of the Senate Judiciary Committee, the measure requires deportation of certain classes of aliens and the fingerprinting of aliens seeking to enter the United States.

"In addition," states Senator Connally, "the bill forbids tampering with military or naval forces of the country, or advocating overthrowing or destroying the government by force or violence. "Aliens subject to deportation include those aiding any other alien to enter the United States in violation of law, any carrying a gun designed to shoot more than one shot without reloading, and those violating the Alien Registration Act," Senator Connally explained.

"No visas are allowed any alien entering the United States who has not been registered and fingerprinted and all those without visas, re-entry permit or registration card shall be excluded, Senator Connally continued, adding: "Every alien in the United States over 14 years of age must be fingerprinted and registered. Applications for registration are to be made at designated post offices, and aliens are required to give notification of change of residence within five days."

"America's ideal and objective is still peace — peace at home and peace abroad. Our security is not a matter of weapons alone. The arm that wields them must be strong, the eye that guides them clear, the will that directs them indomitable."
"These are the characteristics of a free people, a people devoted to the institutions they themselves have built, a people willing to defend a way of life that is precious to them all, a people who put their faith in God."

In his defense speech to Congress May 16, 1940.

BIBLE THOUGHT

"Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need."—Heb. 4: 16.

AMERICA CAN

Those who are old enough to remember the events leading up to America's participation in the first World War are able to note many resemblances in recent happenings. President Woodrow Wilson was laughed at for the persistence with which he sent notes to Germany protesting against violations of American rights. When America, finally outraged past the breaking point, entered the contest on the Allied side, German war lords scoffed at our military impotence. It was true that we did not have enough of an Army to catch Pancho Villa in Mexico, but once the American people set their minds on building one, it grew by leaps and bounds. From almost nothing in April 1917 when the war was declared, it jumped to approximately four million men when the Armistice was signed in November 1918, and over half of these were then in France with more than a million in the front lines. Now certain quarters have called attention to President Roosevelt's recent threatening speeches in which "fighting words" are used about Germany, Italy and Japan. One newspaper chain says that he is speaking loudly while carrying a feather duster instead of the traditional big stick. Or as Lindburgh puts it, the President is threatening "with an empty gun." The same interests denounced his Chicago speech in 1937 in which he urged the quarantine of aggressor nations. They have also called attention to the fact that democratic government in America foredooms her to a snail's pace in arming. If there were no hope or possibility that America could re-arm more quickly now than it did in 1917-18, there might be some question as to the advisability of the president's plain speech. But America is far better prepared at this time to proceed with re-arming than she was in 1917. Plans for such an emergency have been prepared in advance,

Put On A Good Show

A COMEDIAN once was asked why he worked so hard during a matinee with few people in the audience. "David Belasco might be one of them," was his answer.
Between the great things we cannot do and the little things we will not do, the danger is that we will do nothing. Some day, we tell ourselves, we will write a great book or found a big business, or paint a masterpiece. If we would arrive later we must start now. We must be willing to play to a small house. We must pay the price. We must start at the bottom and do our best today.
A man can't be the head of a great enterprise all at once, but he can make a start; he can do his best; he can set a good example for at least a few others; and he can be an executive over himself. Even if your job is small, do it as though it is the most important job in the world. Only thus will you approach perfection.
—THE SILVER LINING.

HEY! KEEP YOUR MIND ON OUR BUSINESS!

See Editorial—"America Can"

and the nation's war industries will be able to swing into full stride with a minimum of confusion and delay. Within twelve months munitions and mechanized equipment as well as airplanes should be coming off the assembly lines in a steady stream.

It is this knowledge which implements the arm of the President in his speeches today. Only Congress, of course, has the power to put the machinery into motion, but the President is undoubtedly relying on its doing so when he gives the word.

The American Army can train 50,000 men a month so that within a year it can have 600,000 trained men in addition to those already in the ranks. This depends upon Congress instituting some form of conscription, but this also Congress will do if convinced of the need.

There may be some who question the totalitarian nations waiting for one or two years to give America time to arm. If they strike sooner, it will not be the President's radio speeches that are to blame. Certainly the neutral nations of Europe gave Germany no such cause for attack, yet Norway, Holland and Belgium are nonetheless ground beneath the conqueror's heel today. Those who think that a stifling of the indignation which the President shares with most other Americans would protect America from aggression are lacking in the very realism they have urged upon the President. They are, to state it mildly, naive.

The gist of the matter is this: America now realizes that in a world dominated by force, she must be armed. The President's strong words are neither a substitute for re-arming nor an incitement to aggression. Though his protests seem, so far, to have fallen on deaf ears, America can place herself in such a strong position that the words of her President will receive respectful attention from even the most unreasonable of the dictators. America can build an army of defense that will protect this nation from the world, if need arises. America can raise, equip and train an army of 400,000 or 4,000,000 men.

The American people are ready, Congress is willing, industry is eager, the President has pointed out the way. When do we start?

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MALACHI DEMANDS HONESTY TOWARD GOD

LESSON TEXT—Malachi 3:7-13. GOLDEN TEXT—Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me how herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.—Malachi 3:10.

Spiritually sick—and desperately so—was Israel in the days of Malachi. The nation had been released from captivity in Babylon and had been back in their own land for almost a century. The outburst of religious enthusiasm which characterized their return had resulted in the rebuilding of the temple (Ezra 1:1-4). In this they were encouraged by Haggai, as we recall from our lesson of last Sunday. They had later been led by Nehemiah in renewed interest in spiritual things and in the rebuilding of the city wall, but now again they had turned away from God. Malachi came with what one might call God's last word before judgment upon their sins. The lesson centers around four words.

I. Apostasy.
"Ye have turned aside" (v. 7, R. V.). This was God's complaint against His people. In spite of His blessings upon them, they had intermarried with the heathen, they had dealt treacherously with their brethren, and had neglected to worship God. What was even worse, they felt no conviction about their sin and denied that they owed God anything, not even the debt of common gratitude.

Read the insolent, self-confident questions and assertions of the people in verses 7, 8, 13 and 14. Think how perfectly they fit the attitude of thousands of unbelievers and backslidden Christians in our day. One might almost think that Malachi were reading the secret thoughts of our own people, and possibly of our own hearts.

II. Robbery.
Illness commonly has its center of infection, whether it be physical or spiritual sickness. Malachi struck at a very vital point when he revealed that the heart of Israel's difficulty was dishonesty toward God. That dishonesty reflected itself in spiritual things, but, since Malachi was talking to an arguing generation (just like ours), he gave them a concrete illustration of their deceit—they had withheld from God the tithes and offerings.

Men who would never cheat the telephone company out of a nickel will rob God consistently Sunday after Sunday by sanctimoniously slipping a thin dime into the collection plate. If that is all a man can and should give, God will bless it and multiply it for His glory. But certainly it does not befit one who lives in luxury to give God's work the smallest piece of change which he can decently slip into the plate. "Nothing may be said to be an Old Testament principle. Doubtless it is also true that the principle of New Testament Christianity is that all we have belongs to God, but often the one who hides behind that fact does not give as much as the people of Old Testament times. Is that honest?"

III. Judgment.
God is love, but that does not mean that His patience is without limit nor that He will forever withhold judgment. He says, through Malachi (v. 9), "Ye are cursed with a curse." The blessing has been withheld (v. 10). The devourer is in the land (v. 11). He promised them release and blessing if they repented and returned to the right way, which obviously means that their failure to do so would bring judgment. We know that Israel despised God's warning and to this day is paying for its sin. Will America be wise enough to heed God's call?

IV. Blessing.
So often the loving God had to speak through His prophets of impending judgment on sin, but how gracious He is in that He always holds out the promise of blessing for repentance and obedience. Look at the precious promise in verse 10. Thousands of Christians join the writer in saying, "That is true in A. D. 1940 just as it was in 400 B. C." Read verses 11 and 12. Note that our God is not only a great God, but a good God. Consider the blessings of spiritual fellowship—the certainty of victory revealed in verses 16 and 17. One marvels that Israel could resist such a loving plea just as one wonders also why men of our own day of God's grace still resist His gracious invitation.

A Helpful Heart
It is a fine thing to do kindly, helpful deeds. It is one of the very finest in the world. But there is something finer than the helpful hand; it is the helpful heart.

End Is Death

Kathleen Norris Says:

Don't Be Scared by Your Own Children

(Bell Syndicate—WNU Service.)

They aren't satisfied to read that the coming-out party of one young girl costs sixty thousand dollars, and that another young girl, tired and hungry, slips into the cool river to end it all in despair.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

LONG ago, when as a young woman I found life filled with heavy responsibilities and burdens, I worked out a little scheme for myself. It has worked for forty years now, and I believe it will always work, for anybody at any age.

The scheme was simple. It consisted merely in picking out the worst of my troubles, looking at them firmly in the eye and deciding two things; first, whether it was my fault, and second, whether there was anything to be done about it.

If it positively wasn't my fault and there was nothing more that I could do to cure it than I had already done; then I experienced a certain relief, a certain peace of mind from the mere contemplation and analysis. For example, if one of the younger children was ill, and I inordinately worried, just the thought that the doctor had the case in charge, and that the child was being carefully watched, did something to reassure me. Or suppose I had to deny one of the younger members of the family the money or the luxury or the advantage that some other child had; to remind myself that that advantage, however large or small, simply could not be afforded, through no blame to myself, instantly stabilized my own position.

Face One's Problems. And so with older and more serious problems, in all the years, the habit of facing them, analyzing them, dismissing them, has proved to be the successful way to escape them.

That's why I'm recommending this process of analysis today to all the mothers and fathers of America who are worrying about one of our latest national epidemics. I mean the tendency our children have, in high school and college years, to yearn for other sorts of government, other social experiments, other isms of all sorts.

Too often we dismiss this tendency—and it is widespread—with a mere nervous "I don't know what's getting into schools and colleges nowadays, they're turning out perfect REDS!"

And to the eager student we say coldly: "I don't want to hear any more of that nonsense! You don't know one thing about Russia. People buying divorces the way you buy theater tickets, and no religion, and everybody living in one room! Don't let your father hear you talk that way, and don't you bring that red-headed boy to this house again!"

Look to the Constitution. Now, it seems to me we ought to take quite a different attitude. It seems to me we ought to try rather to convince these young revolutionaries what the simple truth is: that there is no ideal social system that is not perfectly compatible with the principles upon which this greatest of all republics was founded.

There is no system of the sharing of labor, wealth, land that is not practicable under our own Constitution. It has been called the noblest document ever emanating from the heart of man, and it deserves the description. If we were true to it, if we spent upon the study and development of it one half the time we spend upon strange despotic ideologies from war-torn, hate-enveloped Europe, we would have no time to look across the water to what goes on over there.

For that matter if THEY had saved their powder and their guns for a few hundred years, and taken a good look at the Sermon on the Mount, which they all profess to believe, we never would have heard the names of Stalin or Hitler. If the czars and the military and the Greek priesthood of Russia had not been sunk in luxury and oppression and taxation the bitter scenes of 1917 in that country never could have taken place.

A Practical, Sane Solution. Today, if we in America stopped wringing our hands over the strange tendencies of our children to adopt drastic means of settling the questions that disturb the national peace of mind, and set ourselves seriously to supply these rising young Americans with sane and practicable means to accomplish the ends they desire, we would find ourselves still safe under the Constitution, and in a much improved world.

How often, when they are spouting their young complaints and criticisms at the dinner table, do we answer them with a simple "What do you want changed? Just what are you working toward?"

Well, they want equality, they want security, they want work for everyone and a fair living for everyone who works. They aren't satisfied to read that the coming-out party of one young girl costs $60,000, and that another young girl, tired and hungry and coughing her life out after too many hot hours in the cotton mills, slips into the cool river to end it all in despair.

And I say more credit to our children for caring, for not taking their own privileges and advantages for granted, as the more fortunate folk have done for so many generations, but determining to do something to make right the age-old wrongs!

There is no reason why general—indeed, universal peace and prosperity and opportunity should not flourish here, without disturbing one word of the Constitution. There is no country in the world that will offer them a better opportunity for utopian experiment. Nor need our basic laws be upset. Those of us who will still worship in our churches; those of us who love simple home life and privacy may still preserve these privileges.

And those who hate work, who refuse to assume family responsibilities who won't go to church and will go to roadhouses, will be permitted to pursue their own lives peaceably, as they do today. In other words, the freedom of the individual, that precious heritage that was given us by the founders of our country, will still be respected by all who chance to come into contact with it.

Cure Lies in Co-operation. Far better than the fear or scorn with which we treat our young reds today, would be an analysis of their motives and desires. What got them into this way of thinking, anyway? Why, just what we all felt at 13 and 20 and 22. A passionate resentment of the injustices of life; a passionate desire to cure them. Find out what they want, and then see if it isn't something easily achievable and practicable. Help them to get interested in the native problems of adjusting wage scales, clearing out slums, increasing employment by increasing trade, opening up new tracts for new cities and farms, and they will discover that instead of the leprosy and typhus that the countries of the old world have had to handle, America's troubles are only heat rash and chickenpox.

That's New in Cooking

By Gertrude Dent

Deep-Fat Frying Adds Interest to Meals

THE deep-fat kettle is the ally of the homemaker who would like to serve her family some of those foods we enjoy when "we eat out," but seldom attempt at home. To be sure, the hotel or restaurant chef is a past master in the art of deep-fat frying, and the homemaker can be if she observes a few simple rules. There is economy and variety in deep-fat frying. One would never suspect the masquerade of left-over vegetables and meats, when they emerge from the deep-fat kettle as croquettes, fritters, and cutlets, all crispy and golden brown. There is menu variety in feathery light doughnuts, crisp French fried potatoes, and crunchy potato chips.

The first step in successful deep-fat frying, is choosing the right kind of kettle. The deep well cooker on the modern electric range is just that. It provides the deep, straight-sided kettle which is best suited to deep-fat frying and without the necessity of buying a kettle especially for that purpose. It provides controlled temperature, too, and simplifies the problem of maintaining just the proper temperature for frying. And for best results, economy, and a smoke-free kitchen, temperature is important! Fat which cools off rapidly means greasy doughnuts, limp French fried potatoes; fat which gets so hot that it smokes is "burning" fat. A deep fat thermometer will indicate the temperatures of the fat and the controlled heat of the cooker on your modern electric range will help to maintain it.

Doughnuts are one of the deep-fat fried foods least often attempted and most thoroughly enjoyed. You'll like this recipe for Molasses Doughnuts and you'll enjoy the simplicity of making them when you use the cooker in your electric range.

Molasses Doughnuts (Makes 36)

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup light-colored molasses
- 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
- 4 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 teaspoon cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon shortening (melted)

Beat the eggs, add sugar gradually, and beat well. Then add molasses and milk and the dry ingredients which have been sifted together. Beat in the melted shortening. Chill the dough; then turn out onto a well-floured board and roll to 1/4-inch thickness, cut with a doughnut cutter, and fry in deep fat at 365° until the doughnuts are well browned. Drain on soft paper. After each using, cool the fat slightly, then add a slice or two of raw potato and reheat the fat until the potato is well browned.

For variety, roll plain doughnuts or Molasses Doughnuts in a mixture of 1/4 cup superfine powdered sugar and 2 tablespoons of cinnamon. Serve them for a family breakfast, or with pots of steaming coffee after a skating or coasting party in the frosty air.

Regency

By Mary Ellen Moore

The brides and grooms of this month haven't had a very sunny honeymoon, because it has rained too much. At least we've had plenty of rain in this part of Texas.

The mattress center opened Thursday, June 13, with Miss Scott as demonstrator. The makers of the ten mattresses for our community would have completed all work within two days but they ran out of thread and had to stop.

We regret to know that J. M. Jones, who has been ill for some time is not improving. He and Mrs. Jones would be glad to have old friends call in to visit them.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brown and sons visited with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whitehead at Lampasas Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brown have as their guests, his parents Mr. and Mrs. Lon Brown of Lometa.

Butch and Andy Rowlett were transacting business in San Saba recently.

Alton Jones made a business trip to Brownwood Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carrell of San Saba were business guests at their farm and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Skelton Thursday.

Willie Newsome of San Angelo is visiting Arlie Skelton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Bradley were business visitors in Brownwood Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Egger and daughter, Wade Ann were in Brownwood Tuesday. Mrs. Egger purchased a new sewing machine.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyt Roberts and children and Wayne Roberts were shopping in Goldthwaite Saturday.

H. L. Egger was a business visitor in Brownwood Friday.

Mrs. Charles Roberts spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Warren Freeman at Ridge.

J. G. Egger was meeting friends in Goldthwaite Saturday.

W. D. Thomas was looking after business in this community Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Butch Rowlett were in Brownwood on business Saturday.

Homer Rowlett, who has been working in Goldthwaite for several months, is at home with his mother, Mrs. Claude Rowlett.

We hope the Jones people are enjoying their vacation, and do so much want them to tell us all about it. They're a fine lot of people and like to write about 'em, and like to read about 'em, too. Didn't get but two names on the list this week, so if anybody hears anything about them let me know.

under the constitution. Now the question arises, what is the most practical way to raise the money to pay these obligations, and at the same time place the least burden on the people of the state in order that their buying power can be maintained or even increased. The most plausible way in my way of thinking is to obtain this money out of the natural resources of the state. Texas in 1939 had 129 oil refineries operating, producing eight billion gallons of gasoline. Of this great amount Texas people consumed 16 per cent and the remaining 84 per cent was sold to other states and to foreign nations. Texas people paid a consumers tax of 4 cents per gallon at the filling stations on what they consumed, the other 84 per cent sold elsewhere left our state tax-free. If elected your representative, I propose to introduce a bill reducing the tax at the filling stations to 2 cents per gallon and place a tax of one cent per gallon on all or eight billion gallons payable at the refineries. This bill will produce at the present production, eighty million dollars, an amount sufficient to pay all the state's social security obligations and other outstanding obligations and put the state on a cash basis. All this can be achieved, not by placing a burden on the people of the state, but instead, will increase their buying power some seventy million dollars, as 84 per cent of this levy will be paid by the consumer outside of the state.

I believe in the doctrine of reciprocity. We are paying taxes to other states on a number of commodities that we buy from them, thus helping to support the programs of their state governments. We pay on automobiles, tractors, farm machinery and various other things. I can not but conceive it but right that they pay a small tax on some of the things they buy from us. This tax is one that can be collected at a nominal cost, as it will be collected at the refineries. This tax will be passed on by the refineries to the consumer whether in other states or foreign countries, and hence will not be a burden to the refineries. As at present other states are buying immense amounts of gasoline tax free from us and in turn are placing a tax of several cents per gallon on the consumer of their state to support in part social security to their people. Texas, last year, produced 39 per cent of all the oil that was produced in the United States and 23 per cent of the total amount produced in the world. The GOOD LORD placed this and other natural resources beneath our soil, and if our people and especially the old people of this state who have, by hardships and trials, made this state what it is today, with all the wonderful opportunities and privileges, that we the younger generation are now enjoying. If they are not entitled to some of the proceeds of these natural resources, wherein does Wall Street base its claim?

I not only believe in paying the maximum amount for assistance to the old people, but I advocate that a mortuary fund be established whereby at death of each of the old people that their beneficiary be paid $100.00 as burial expenses.

I am in favor of increasing the load limit on trucks in order that our farmers may receive a better price for their produce. Believing that education is one of the greatest bulwarks to our civilization and our democratic principles, therefore I am for the liberal support of our schools and higher institutions of learning. I am for any legislation that is for the betterment of the people of this great state.

If elected it shall be my aim and purpose to cooperate with any Governor that the people see fit to elect. I will work hard to sell my ideas and plans to the legislature, but should I fail to get my plans enacted into law, then I shall and will support the next best plan that is just and sane, in order that the old people may be paid that which is justly due them.

Assuring you if elected as your representative, that it shall always be my earnest endeavor to make you an efficient servant, ever looking to the upbuilding of this, the greatest state in our beloved Union.

Assuring you that I will appreciate your vote, whether I am privileged to see you in person or not, I am,

Yours very truly,
DAVID L. TRUETT.

RED CROSS APPEAL—

confidence to these refugees like a storage battery — without bursting into tears." Day after day, stories like these keep flooding across our desks—hundreds of them, thousands of them.

And so you can understand why I can't help appealing to you now, as a LIFE subscriber who is also close to the news, to give again, as generously as you possibly can, to your Red Cross.

For today, once again, the American Red Cross has taken its place as America's greatest charity — battling in every shell-torn field or menaced city to relieve the suffering of war.

Every day and every hour the task of mercy to which the Red Cross is dedicated becomes more important and more pressing.

For you and I know that this war in Europe is exacting a toll in human suffering whose frightfulness and tragedy cannot be gauged by anything that has ever gone before.

Think of the little Belgian boy named Jacques N— who pushed his baby sister's carriage alone all the way to Paris after his mother failed to rise from the ditch where they had thrown themselves when the planes machine-gunned the road. Then multiply little Jacques a thousand times . . .

Think of the British Tommy who mumbled to his Red Cross nurse that he was going to have machine guns mounted on his new artificial legs and go back to the front lines. And multiply that Tommy by God knows how many thousands of other brave and hopeful young men, sweating with the pain of broken bodies, who will be found where they lie and aided to recovery by the Red Cross . . .

Think of a bewildered old couple like Pierre and Marie C— whom Red Cross volunteers reunited with the children and grandchildren they had lost on the long, bullet-spattered road from home . . . Think what sudden homelessness and hunger and exhaustion would mean to your own family, and multiply this a million times . . .

And then I know you will give—generously, and now.

In times like these you must be proud, as I am, that we Americans are represented in the holocaust of Europe today by the tireless tenderness and sympathy symbolized by the Red Cross.

And now, as the Red Cross pours out medical supplies and food and clothing to help the helpless, and as the Red Cross doctors and nurses and ambulance drivers and stretcher bearers tax their nerves and bodies to meet the strain, their need for your support grows greater every hour.

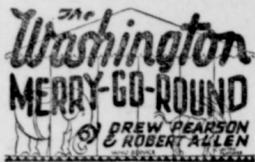

So—please—will you give every penny you can spare today?

Inexpensive Improvements

Contrary to the beliefs of many, modernization does not always entail a large amount of money. This rambling old home on a country road in Maryland had almost reached the "haunted" stage when it was taken over and reclaimed at relatively small cost. A new roof of composition shingles was provided, in addition to several coats of paint for the sun-baked exterior. Other replacements included new steps, porch ceiling, cellar doors, gutters, and downspouts. Interior repairs included repapering of several rooms and modernization of the heating system. Total reconditioning cost was $910, but the valuation of the home increased over $1,000. All of this work was eligible for financing under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

from these sources will be diverted to the Mediterranean route, and the result probably will be a heavy increase of U. S. oil shipments to Britain and France.

APPEASING MUSSOLINI

Allied and Roosevelt diplomacy struggled behind the scenes until almost the last minute to keep Mussolini out of war.

It was on a Monday that the Italian dictator shouted his hoarse-voiced proclamation of war. And as late as the preceding Saturday, the French were still dicker with him. At that time they offered him the island of Corsica, birthplace of Napoleon, as well as the important French colony of Tunisia, plus French Somaliland with its Red Sea port of Djibuti.

But Mussolini wanted more. Real fact probably was that he could not afford to antagonize Hitler by failing to declare war. A Nazi victory looked too certain, in which case Mussolini would have been left facing the triumphant and resentful hordes of Nazi Germany just across the Brenner pass.

Note—A lot of people think Mussolini will face an aggressive Nazi army anyway.

ROOSEVELT'S MOVES

President Roosevelt came to realize that nothing counted with Mussolini except (1) what he was going to get in return for keeping the peace; and (2) whether he was going to be on the winning side.

Accordingly, the last week's announcements from the White House that the United States was sending army and navy planes direct to the allies, plus surplus army equipment, was calculated to have a double effect. One was the actual help it would give the allies. The other was the hope that Mussolini would be influenced by the fact that the United States was talking in deeds, not mere words, and that these deeds might turn an allied victory.

POLITICAL CHAFF

One of Alf Landon's hardest jobs is scotching booms for himself. Practically every day, by long distance phone or telegraph, he has to nip the plan of some admirer to start a drive for him.

Following reports that Communist and Nazi agents are working along the Mexican-U. S. border, Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma proposed construction of a series of forts, each within sight of the next, to shoot any foreign agent seen sneaking into the U. S.

Mattresses Over 100,000 Mark

College Station.—Applications to receive cotton mattress making materials have passed the 100,000 mark with 119,079 filed in 203 Texas counties which are participating in the Department of Agriculture's program for aiding low income farm families. Of this number 95,363 have already been certified by county agricultural conservation committees as eligible to receive cotton and ticking.

In announcing this response, Mildred Horton, vice-director and state home demonstration agent for the Texas A&M College Extension Service, reported that to date 10,069 mattresses have been made in the 46 counties to which cotton and ticking have been delivered. These materials are furnished by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation.

To facilitate the program, 1421 community centers have been set up where applicants may gather to work cooperatively on mat-resses for themselves and their neighbors. These are completely organized and will be ready to begin operation upon the arrival of cotton and ticking.

Commenting on the rapidity with which Texas communities have prepared for operation of centers, Miss Horton paid tribute to 4,999 women leaders and 2,258 men leaders who are volunteering their time and services to enable all eligible families to benefit from the program.

"These leaders are not receiving any pay for the services," Miss Horton pointed out, "but they are everywhere being recognized as 'good neighbors' in their communities."
