'LIVE AND LET LIVE'

With the slogan "Live and Let Live" better weeklies and daily newspapers all over the United States last week started the greatest campaign for prevention of accidents on highways ever contemplated in this country. The program is the greatest peace-time public service activity ever undertaken.

The editorial and advertising material has been prepared by the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives, and is a direct result of President Truman's Highway Safety Conference, the last of which met in Washington two weeks ago. The Conferences were called to bring to automobile drivers and pedestrians alike the appalling highway accidents which last year killed 33,500 persons in this country, and injured 1,150,000 more, with an economic loss of over two billion dollars.

The purpose of the campaign is to save 10,000 lives in the United States during the rest of this year.

The Eagle believes that all of us should read all this material each week, and remember it when we are driving or walking on the streets or highways.

Evangelist, Hershel Dyer of the Pioneer Park Church of Christ in Lubbock, Texas, will begin a series of Gospel meetings at the Church of Christ in Goldthwaite on July 4th, to continue through Sunday, July 13th.

Mr. Dyer needs no introduction to the members of the Church in Goldthwaite, having preached here during the time he attended Abilene Christian College. Since earning his degree at ACC he is now doing local work for the Church in Lubbock. Mr. Dyer is anxious to meet again with old friends and make new ones. The Church here extends a very hearty welcome to everyone to come hear the Gospel preached in Spirit and in truth.

Charles L. Baker, a well known young Gospel singer of Muleshoe, Texas, will direct the singing. Mr. Baker is a capable leader and you will enjoy singing under his direction.

The closing day of the meeting, July 13th, the church plans an old-fashioned "Dinner on the ground and singing in the afternoon." M. E. Blake, who is the Minister of the local congregation, extends an invitation and welcome to the public for this occasion also. "Bring your lunch and stay all day", says Mr. Blake.

During the ten days of the meeting, services will be held daily at 10 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. The evening services will be under the tabernacle where the cool evening breeze will keep the audience comfortable. There are plenty of good, comfortable seats, and a cordial welcome at all times. Come worship with us.

This unlighted trailer, moving slowly along the darkened highway, was completely invisible to an overtaking motorist as he came suddenly upon it from around a corner. He crashed into it and was fatally injured, but one more of the many bitter ironies of highway deaths, where a lawbreaker who was indifferent to his own safety and the safety of others escaped injury, while an innocent victim paid for that indifference with his life.

NATIONAL HIGHWAY SAFETY PROGRAM OF THE STATE PRESS AND PUBLISHER ASSOCIATION

By JULIAN H. HARVEY
Managing Director, National Conservation Bureau

While thousands of persons annually lose their lives on the nation's streets and highways, a curiously apathetic public continues to go its way, probably wondering what is the real cause for our high toll of traffic deaths, but never getting much further than the wondering stage.

If the truth were known, every driver and pedestrian would realize that he or she holds the secret to the cause or prevention of traffic accidents. The secret is the individual attitude of the driver or pedestrian toward accidents and toward general courtesy on the road. If the attitude is bad, then accidental deaths and injuries increase. If the attitude improves and the individual becomes more careful and courteous on the road, then thousands of lives can be saved.

Unfortunately, the problem of poor public attitude toward accidents—which may also be termed carelessness—is a problem that has to be solved by each individual. It cannot be completely solved by mass hypnotism, regulation, or any other general device. All the efforts of today's safety and traffic experts in the three E's of traffic safety—Education, Enforcement, Engineering—are simply means by which poor attitude and carelessness on the part of the individual are minimized. In the final analysis, each individual must do his or her part if our national traffic death toll is to be wiped out.

For example, all the education, enforcement and engineering we can muster will be of little avail if the individual driver persists in the attitude that the spectre of accidents will not touch him and he can indulge in excessive speed and reckless driving.

All safety specialists agree, and the National Conservation Bureau figures bear out their contention, that the greatest single cause for traffic fatalities is speed. We maintain that most speed limits are now too high for safety, but agree that the question of what is sane in speed limits depends somewhat upon street and road conditions. Since these conditions vary with terrain, denseness of traffic and especially with weather, it is up to the man behind the wheel to determine whether or not the existing speed limit prescribed by law is a safe driving speed.

Last year approximately 20 per cent of the drivers in this country involved in fatal automobile accidents were exceeding the speed limit. Another 6 to 8 per cent were exceeding SAFE speeds although they were travelling under the statutory limit, and still another 4 per cent were driving too fast for existing conditions where no speed limit was indicated. Fatal accidents where speeding was a cause were almost twice as numerous in cities as they were in rural areas.

Consider the statement: "Exceeding safe speed although travelling under the statutory limit." When a driver, entering a long, straight and broad stretch of smoothly paved highway, sees a marker indicating the speed limit to be, say, 45 miles per hour, he must consider that traffic engineers have set that speed as the correct speed for safety and best driving conditions. If it is raining and the pavement is slippery, certainly the limit of statutory speed is not the safe speed. If it is snowing, or the pavement is coated with ice, the safe speed is far below the statutory allowance. The same is true if the road is crowded with holiday traffic. Hence, a driver can be considered speeding, especially in congested areas, when he is driving under 15 miles an hour. Inevitably to the conclusion that individual attitude is the criterion of traffic safety.

Next to speed, 1946 nationwide figures show that driving on the wrong side of the road, including passing, is the most frequent traffic violation. Driving under the influence of alcohol is rated as the next greatest cause for traffic fatalities. Following these come a long list of minor, but obviously careless, violations such as failure to give right-of-way, disregarding traffic officer's signal of stop signs, improper turning. All are reckless driving. They can be avoided if each individual cooperates.

Frequent and prolonged suspension of driving privileges for traffic violations would, it is agreed, prove a great aid in creating a wholesome respect for safety rules and law enforcement. But self-discipline on the part of the driver is the most important factor to be considered.

No matter how excellent the mechanical condition of an automobile may be, no matter how ideal weather and road conditions may be, there is a point where they lose their effectiveness, because their mastery depends upon the judgement and control of the person behind the wheel. The most reliable safeguard against accidents is a sane attitude toward safety, with proper respect for law enforcement and the rights of others on the highway.

SOIL CONSERVATION FIELD DAY MOTION PICTURE SHOWN TUES.

Motion pictures of the Mills County Soil Conservation Field Day held last April were shown to about seventy-five members of the Goldthwaite Lions Club and their invited guests, among whom were included some of Mills County's leading farmers at the regular first Tuesday night meeting of the Goldthwaite Lions Club held at The Hangar at 8 p. m. The film was shown and explained by R. H. Nelson, who also showed two reels taken in Comanche County the day before at their Field Day.

Lion President Jesse Saegert read a letter from Mrs. E. T. Fairman, President of the Goldthwaite P-T. A., expressing their appreciation to the Lions Club for cooperation with the Parent-Teacher Association.

Lion Secretary W. P. Duren read the minutes of last meeting and they were approved. The club voted to pay expenses of the Duchess, her escort and chaperone from Goldthwaite to the Brady Jubilee this week.

Lion T. C. Graves, chairman of the Lions health committee, was asked to look into the matter of a fly control program for Goldthwaite.

Discussion was held on wild house cats, and some Lions said they would wage an all-out war on any such seen hereabouts.

Lion Bain, who with Lion

Graves, is on the advertising committee for the Second Annual West Cross Timbers Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association Show and Sale to be held at Legion Park here July 23 and 24, asked that as many Lions as possibly could be present for the event.

The following leading farmers and stockraisers of Mills County who had been invited to be guests of the club to see the showing of the Soil Conservation pictures were introduced to the gathering:

GOLDTHWAITE SCOUTS WIN HONORS AT CAMP B-GIBBONS

In competition with 16 of the best Boy Scout Troops in the south district, Troop 45 of Goldthwaite won second at Camp Billy Gibbons and was given a nice banner. They competed with Boy Scout Troops from Brownwood, Ranger, Cisco, Bluff Dale, Breckenridge and several more large towns.

Every boy in the troop took an active part in all events. Each Scout was happy to see so many of the Goldthwaite people at camp on visitors' day.

Those who visited camp during the week were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Long, Mr. and Mrs. Loy Long, Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller, Mrs. Charles Conradt and Addie Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Long, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laughlin, John A. Hester, Boyd Hunt, Sonny Gilliam and Mrs. Charlie Stark.

The Scouts would like to express their appreciation to the following who furnished transportation which made it possible for them to attend this fine camp: Jack Long, Loy Long, Fred Laughlin and Tom Miller, who transported all the boys, and to Bob Steen for the use of his pick-up to haul the tents and camping equipment there and back, and to Sonny Gilliam who drove the pick-up from the camp Tuesday morning.

We hope it is possible for every boy in Troop 45 to attend the camp next year. Every minute is well spent and is character building to any boy.

Again we would like to say thanks to every one who is helping our Scouts.

The Goldthwaite Scouts, Troop 45, accompanied by Scoutmaster Charles Conradt, returned from Camp Billy Gibbons Tuesday morning after a week's encampment.

The Scouts who attended the camp were: Jimmy Laughlin, Billy Miller, Franklin Dew Weathers, Bobby Ledbetter, Red Miller, Sammy Reid, Robert Henry Johnson, Jack Long, Jerry Long, Bennie Bob Long, John

The Eagle Office will be closed all day Friday, the fourth, and Saturday, the fifth, so that employees can have a well-earned three-day holiday.

STORES CLOSED

OLD MAN 100

BOSS IS NOT RESPONSIBLE AT OLD MAN 100 STAYS IN LUMEN - NEITHER IS THE OLD MAN YOU GET MAD. COUNT AT THOUSAND BEFORE YOU BEAT HIM UP.-THE BOSS)

BAD WRITING—

Old Man heard a good-um W. Roberts this week—a true story: Way back in 1894 when Johnny young man even before he was in the mercantile business at Mullin. One day he was real busy with his work and he noticed a negro man standing in front of his store. He asked him what he wanted. The negro was Chandler, who lived at the ranch, and he wanted to write a letter for him to his brother in Brownwood. Johnny told him to come back that afternoon and he would write it for him. The negro showed up with a letter and told Johnny what to write in it. After it was written and Johnny read it to him, he asked him if there was anything else he would like to have written. The negro studied a little, and said: "That sure is a sweet letter, but you might as well excuse the bad writing and spell it."

OTHER CONFESSIONS—

Old Man 100 has known L. L. Hays of Trigger for a long, long time, and always figured that if he ever asked him who was the best man in the county he would say Bro. Hays. All that changed last week—and now Hays has changed since Bro. Hays confessed. He told the Old Man that he always read every issue of the Eagle—and had been doing so for a long time—EXCEPT when he was reading a notice and then when he got down to what kind of notice it was, he would skip it and go on to the next one. This startling confession from one of the county's best preachers so shocked the Old Man that he acknowledged that he had done the same thing. The Old Man last week was reading where one weekly paper in another state started cutting out of wedding write-ups what the bride and attendants wore, etc. and he said that he had never started telling what the brides wore. Bro. Hays said the Old Man agreed we don't care just so they wear something.

RED-RED AUTHORESS—

Editor—Did you ever write anything before?

Authoress—Oh, yes. I wrote a confession story once.

Editor—Did the editor send it back?

Authoress—No, he came all the way from New York to San Francisco to see me.

TAKE THE BOSS—

Take the Eagle Boss, now—about the only thing he does is to play solos on the cash register here at the Eagle Office every time somebody comes in to pay his subscription, and he's got a combination on said cash register so none of us hands can get our hands in same. But this week he did do something—and after thinking it over for a day or two the Old Man thinks maybe he got stung. Anyway here's what happened: The Boss got a letter from the National Safety Council offering a prize of $500 cash and the National Safety Council's award for Distinguished Service for Safety for the best original editorial appearing in any weekly paper in the U.S. Now the Boss mentioned the Old Man to write an editorial—which appears on editorial page this week—so if he won the Boss is to get $500 cash and the Old Man gets all the honor and medals. The Old Man swelled up some and accepted—but later got to thinking what the 7th would say (continued on last page)

Daily ups and downs of cotton prices left quotations $1 per bale lower to $3.25 higher.

Egg markets continued firm last week, and poultry saw very little change. Most current receipt eggs brought 37 1-2 to 38 1-3 cents per dozen at Fort Worth, and Dallas paid 38 2-3 with the rots candled out. With warmer weather, dealers bought more eggs on candled grade. Best grade brought 45 at Fort Worth and 43 at Dallas.

Cattle showed general easiness at Oklahoma City and Denver last week, and some classes sold lower at other southwest terminals. Good calves brought mostly $19 to $21 at Houston.

Hog markets ruled generally steady to 25 cents higher for the week, but sows lost around 50 cents at Oklahoma City. Fort Worth paid $24.75 to $25 for the closing bulk of good and choice medium weight butcher hogs.

Most sheep and lamb markets gained 50 cents to $1.00, but Oklahoma City closed steady to 50 cents lower. Good and choice spring lambs reached $19 to $21 at San Antonio.

Among the items that help start household fires is the housewife goes about her daily tasks, the electric iron ranks up among the worst of them.

Ordinarily the blame can't be put on the iron, but on the person who goes off for a few minutes and forgets to turn it off.

Home management specialists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service say that if a housewife is really safety-minded, she will not only turn off her iron when she leaves it, but disconnect it as well, even if she leaves only for a few minutes.

"Octopus connections" — several electrical connections on one outlet—are another household fire hazard, the specialists say. A safe rule is to make only one or two connections from an outlet and the use of temporary wiring. Other electrical "don'ts" around the house are to hang extension cords over or run them through door underneath rugs; don't wear cords on lamps and stoves; don't let clothing, papers, or other inflammable materials come too close to bulbs.

Swing Of Southwest Farm Markets

Grains found generally good demand last week. Wheat, oats, and yellow corn stayed about unchanged. Barley, white corn, and old crop sorghums showed some strength, with advances limited to 3 to 6 cents. A little new crop milo from South Texas came on the market at several cents per hundred lower than the old crop.

Good rains throughout the southwest peanut producing areas aided crop prospects. Rainy weather interfered with hay making but improved pastures and reduced demand for hay. Seven to ten million pounds of Texas wools sold in the past ten days. Growers received 42 to 45 cents per pound grease basis for average to good staple.

'CLOAK AND DAGGER' STARS GARY COOPER

On Saturday night Prevue, United States Pictures, Inc. will introduce its initial screen effort, "Cloak and Dagger," a Warner Bros. release, to local audiences at the Melba Theatre. Starring Gary Cooper, featuring Robert Alda and introducing to American audiences the famous European actress, Lili Palmer, the thriller tells the exciting story of what happens when a mild-tempered man of knowledge is faced with the sudden need to become a man of action.

Gary Cooper, last seen hereabouts in his memorable screen characterization of Clint Marmoon in Warner Bros. "Saratooga Trunk", is cast in the new drama as Alvah Jesper, professor in a small New England university.

THRILLING NEW OUTDOOR DRAMA

The story of an adventurer, the saga of an empire builder, the fabulous tale of one of the most fabulous characters to ride across the western horizon in the blistering days of the past century will unfold at the Melba Theatre Tuesday, with the opening of Republic's "Plainsman and the Lady", starring William Elliot and Vera Ralston. Elliott plays the role of Sam Cotten, the romantic and incorrigible Sam Cotten who changed the course of an empire with his dreams of rapid transit.

In direct contrast to Sam's boldness and daring was the gently born and fashionably reared Ann Arneson, portrayed by Vera Ralston. Ann's father, played by Reinhold Schunzel, was one of the far-sighted men of his time who realized that the country could never expand as long as its communication system remained archaic. He hired the brash Sam Cotten to see that his newly inaugurated Pony Express mail went through unmolested by hostile Indians and the manipulations of the rival stagecoach lines, to who the Pony Express was a dangerous economic rival.

"MR. ACE"

The story of the private life of a public woman, "Mr. Ace," will make its debut at the Melba Theatre Saturday night only. George Raft and Sylvia Sidney co-star in this tense conflict between a man and a woman united in love... but divided by ambition.

George Raft plays Eddie Ace, a power in that twilight world of politics where the strings are pulled in quiet but deadly obscurity. In his typical style, Raft plays the political toughie, quick with his fists as well as his wits. At the same time there is a slow deliberation about his acts that this reviewer finds very effective.

Sylvia Sidney is Congresswoman Margaret Wyndham Chase, the ambitious Congresswoman whose hat is in the gubernatorial arena. Not only a charming and glamorous screen figure, Miss Sidney is an accomplished actress, conscious of camera technique and using it to full advantage.

STUNG BY YELLOWJACKET

Goldthwaite Postmaster M. Y. Stokes was stung by a yellow-jacket early last Saturday morning. The poison from the sting received emergency treatment by Dr. Ruel Slaughter, after which Mr. Stokes was taken to a Brownwood hospital for further treatment. He was back on the job Monday morning.

William L. Biddle's wife, son and sister-in-law visited him at McClosky Hospital last Sunday. He expects to be able to come home in about two weeks.

Mrs. I. Z. Woodard and children of Brady spent the first of this week here with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Featherston and other relatives, while Mr. Woodard was on a business trip to Boston.

TEXAS RETAIL SALES UP SIX PER CENT

Austin, July 4—Retail trade in Texas showed no signs of slowing down in May as retail sales of independent stores rose 6 per cent during the month. The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported. The usual April-to-May gain is only 4 per cent.

Merchants in almost every Texas city reported increased sales, although customers are exerting more selectivity in buying. Sales stand 17 per cent above their May 1946 levels, but this hike is due to the rise in prices during the 12-month period and is not indicative of a rise in actual physical volume of goods sold.

Medium sized and smaller towns seem to be faring better than their larger sister cities in retail sales gains. Cities in the population bracket over 100,000 showed an April-to-May advance of 5 per cent while all smaller population groups felt sales rise slightly more than 6 per cent. In comparison with sales in May 1946, cities in the 50,000-100,000 population group and towns having less than 2,500 population came out ahead, showing sales increases of 21 per cent.

Credit continued to account for an increasing number of total sales as department and apparel stores throughout the State reported that 57 per cent of net sales went into the charge books compared to only 56 per cent in March and April and 54 per cent in May 1946.

By districts, retail sales in May ranged as high as the 10 per cent hike reported in the Edwards Plateau district and the 9 per cent registered in the Coastal Prairies district. Only one district, Western Cross Timbers, reported an April-to-May decline, turning in a dip of 2 per cent.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

T. F. Sansom, who has been in the Veterans Hospital in Temple for the past two weeks, underwent an operation June 25. At last report he was doing nicely and expects to be able to return home July 5.

AMENDMENTS TO S-S ACT HELP SURVIVORS OF WW2 VETS

Recent amendments to the Social Security Act provide for old-age and survivors insurance payments to thousands of formerly ineligible survivors of discharged World War II veterans. David S. Pruitt, manager of the Social Security Administration field office at Austin, pointed out that since this protection is based entirely on military service, it is not necessary for the veteran to have held a social security card or to have normally been covered by the Social Security Act. Among those groups which normally are not covered by social security but who are protected by this amendment are professional and business men and other employees.

This legislation provides protection to survivors if:

1. The veteran dies within three years after discharge,
2. He had at least 90 days of active service in the armed forces after September 16, 1940,
3. He were not dishonorably discharged, and

4. The survivors are not eligible for payments from the Veterans Administration. Proceeds from National Service Life insurance policies are not counted as payments from Veterans Administration.

The amendment does not provide for benefits to survivors of servicemen who died while on active duty. However, the survivors of servicemen who died while on active duty and who had worked in employment covered by the Social Security Administration long enough to be insured may still be eligible for benefits under the regular provisions of the Social Security Act.

Since payment of these benefits is not automatic, claims must be filed at the nearest Social Security Administration field office.

Soil fertility, soil composition, rainfall, erosion, leaching, and climatic conditions are all vitally concerned in profitable animal production.

List Tare Weights Of Used Fat Cans

Now that meat dealers are paying higher prices for used cooking fat, women realize that salvaging kitchen grease is one way to substantially cut down meat bills. However, they should remember that the tare weight of the container is deducted by the butcher.

- For the convenience of housewives and meat dealers, here are the standard weights of cans:
- Size 1 (such as used for soup)—holds 10 ounces, weighs 2.2 ounces.
- Size 1 1/2 (used for dog food)—holds 16 ounces, weighs 2.7 ounces.
- Size 2 (standard for tomatoes)—holds 20 ounces, weighs 3.6 ounces.
- Size 3 (fruit and vegetables)—holds 1 quart, weighs 5.3 ounces.
- Size 4 (fruit juice)—holds 48 to 50 ounces, weighs 7 ounces.

JONES VALLEY H. D. CLUB

The Jones Valley H. D. Club met with Mrs. Luther Jernigan June 24. Mrs. Delton Barnett is our new chairman, after the resignation of Mrs. Arthur Wilcox.

We repeated the Lord's Prayer for our opening prayer. Roll call was answered by all, giving some helpful hint. We discussed the club party. Definite plans to be decided at our next meeting. Mrs. Albert Tulley gave the program on "How to Use a Commercial Pattern." Then a very interesting discussion on patterns was given. Each member gave her age in pennies to be given to the H. D. Council.

For recreation we played "Electrified Jewelry."

Our hostess served refreshments to 13 members and four children.

The next meeting will be July 14 at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Tillman Smith.

A letter from Mrs. A. H. Smith, former resident of Goldthwaite, and now living in San Antonio, states that they are enjoying the Eagle and thinks it is the best weekly paper in Central Texas.

During the month of May, almost 13,000 farm workers were placed by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service farm labor program.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

Should the U. S. admit 400,000 of Europe's Displaced Persons? That question was debated on the American Forum of the Air broadcast last week in which I took a part supporting the negative. My opening statement included the following, which contains some of my reasons for opposing this pending legislation.

"By all means, these attempts to break down our immigration laws, scuttle our quota system, and admit 400,000 Eastern Europeans should be defeated.

"Already under existing law we can admit a total of 154,000 quota immigrants each year, mostly from Europe. A total of $12,000 aliens, including tourists, business men and transients, were admitted last year, and that does not include the unknown number who came in illegally. Under our quota law we are now admitting about 1600 a month from our Displaced Persons camps in Germany.

"But those who want to break down our immigration laws say that is not enough. They want to bring in 400,000 over and above the quota allotments under the existing law.

"Our quota system is sound and should not be disturbed. Under it the number who may be admitted during a year is limited to a percentage of people of that same nationality living here in 1920. The quota system is based on the desire of Congress to preserve the racial composition of this country through the selection of immigrants from those countries whose traditions, languages, and political systems historically were akin to ours.

"I maintain we have no obligation to admit those 400,000. Let us first rehabilitate our own underprivileged, provide housing and jobs for our own people, before burdening our problems and our economy with an influx of job-seekers and perhaps many trouble-makers.

"Instead of relaxing our immigration laws, I favor reducing the number who can come in for at least a few years. Why pollute our country with this vast number of people, many of whom I am reliably informed are among the dregs and riff-raff of Eastern Europe?"

Supporting me in this debate was Mr. Omar B. Ketchum, National Legislative Representative, Veterans of Foreign Wars. On the other side were Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York and Mr. Edward Mark O'Connor, Executive Assistant, War Relief Services, National Catholic Welfare Conference.

The fact is that a major portion of the 700,000 displaced persons now in the American and British camps in Germany entered the camps long after the war ended. Army officers just back from Europe assure me many of those people are undesirable, subversives, and trouble-makers. They are looking for a soft life and many get into the camps in order to enter the United States.

Most of them are from Yugoslavia, Poland, and the Baltic countries. General Lowell Rooks, who has had charge of our camps over there came back recently to report that nearly all those people could safely be repatriated to their own countries if they were willing to return. "Let them go home where, I am convinced, the greater part of them would find their best opportunity to rehabilitate themselves," said General Rooks. More than 7,000,000 have already been repatriated to their native lands since the war's end, and General Rooks said he knew of no instance of persecution upon the return.

Our only hope of survival in a mad world is to keep this country virile and strong. That cannot be done if we become simply a dumping ground for the undesirables of other lands. Our immigrants who are admitted should be limited to a good stock of people.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES FOR JULY 6

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 6.

The Golden Text is: "To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever" (Jude 1:25).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O Lord God of hosts, who is a strong Lord like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee?" (Psalms 89:8).

 "This territory has good possibilities, and I am enthused with my work," was the statement made this week by Y. B. Johnson, new Goldthwaite High School Vocational Agriculture instructor.
 Johnson, a native of Coleman, finished at A. & M. in May of this year and was assigned to the local school for the summer and the coming school year to replace William B. Cowan, who resigned early in the year.
 The new teacher is an army veteran, having served four years with the Infantry, with overseas duty in the European theatre of operations. Johnson stated also that it was a break to work in cooperation with County Agent McCombs since they were classmates.

THINK ON THESE THINGS

All one can read in the papers these days is how we are NOT getting along with our neigh- bors, and especially Russia. I am persuaded that the more we talk about war and build up the idea, the more likely we are to actually have trouble. If we leave it entirely alone it may develop into trouble anyway, but it is certainty that it will develop into no good for any one if we continue to play it up in the minds of others.

I am not advocating a closed mouth, don't care attitude. Not by any means. It just seems to me that we get what we ask for in most every case, and I can- not find anywhere in history where people ASKED for war any more than this Nation is asking for it now.

Let us let the sleeping dogs sleep. Let us not forget that preparedness is always wise, therefore we need to be prepar- ed but I can see no reason for us, as a Nation to ask for WAR. Did you ever find an old dead body, with a very obnoxious odor? I am sure most of us have, and we observe that as long as we do not molest it, it will get no worse, BUT just prod or probe, or agitate it and "the more you stir it the more it will stink". So no matter what the trouble is, the more you stir it the more it will stink.

In the first place we cannot hope to gain "Peace on earth, good will toward men" with guns and gas and planes and Atom Bombs. When men all over the world forget about shedding the blood of their fel- low men and turn to Him who shed His blood on the Cross, will he find peace, and not ut- till then. We must turn to the word of God and the principles of Christianity if we are to find peace and rest, and NOT ONLY turn to them but practice them in our every walk of life. If we are to have peace we must change our motto from "Get there first with the most ATOM BOMBS" to: "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye al- so to them likewise" (Luke 6:31)

Put your FAMILY FIRST

THE intention of every man with a family is that his property be passed on to his wife and children at his death. Unfortunately, this doesn't always happen because the family may be the very last to receive a part of the estate property. Funeral expenses, other death costs and outstanding debts have to be paid, and they come ahead of the family.

Thousands of far-seeing men are using our special Jefferson Standard Clean Up Plan to take care of last expenses. This plan will put your family first and assure them of receiving all of the property that you leave. It can also be combined with other Jefferson Standard plans to provide replacement of income. At no cost, ask about our Clean Up Plan today.

BE ALIVE ON THE FIFTH

The National Safety Council, in an effort to cut down Fourth of July traffic deaths during this three-day-long holiday, is offering $200 for the best original editorial appearing in any weekly newspaper in the United States.

National safety organizations in this country are putting on through the press an intensive 13-week campaign to save 10,000 of our lives during the last half of 1947. The Eagle is printing this editorial not in an effort to win the $200 prize, but to maybe save one life of some Mills County person during this week-end.

Many columns could be written about why drivers should take great precautions while in the long line of holiday traffic, but not many people would read it to the end and very few, if any, would remember it while driving on the Fourth.

The Eagle submits the following as its editorial to help cut down the Fourth of July accident toll:

While you are driving in heavy traffic on your Fourth of July trip, keep these thoughts in mind:

One of the 10,000 lives to be saved in the next six months may be yours; won't you do your part to help save these lives?

Maybe you think you can drink and drive—and maybe you have and can—for a while! But the many serious tragedies on our highways blamed on DWI drivers prove that sooner or later you can't. Why not wait—this Fourth—until you get to your destination to start drinking, or let some other member of your party do the driving? State Highway Patrolmen say the drunker a man gets the better driver he THINKS he is.

Let these thoughts run through your mind during your driving this long three-day holiday period, not so much that maybe when you read your papers Sunday the terrible death toll to be reported may not be so large—as we read these figures over and over and keep on killing ourselves and others on the streets and highways—but that more of us right here in Mills County may be alive on the Fifth—and Sixth—

SPEED AND THE INDIVIDUAL DRIVER

How fast is too fast? The highway patrolman says it is any fraction over the speed limit set by law. If you drive 51 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone, you're liable for arrest on a traffic violation charge.

Common sense, on the other hand, may not be so meticulous as to detail, but can be a lot more rigid regarding speed limits than the law requires the patrolman to be. Under certain conditions, like rain or ice-coated pavements, common sense will tell you that 15 miles an hour is too fast in a 50-mile zone. Common sense, or here more specifically called proper driver attitude, is your own personal speed cop and should ride with you at all times.

Safety experts point out that excessive speed is the greatest single cause for our great number of traffic fatalities—approximately a third of the total. Next in line comes driving on the wrong side of the road, followed by failure to give right-of-way, disregarding traffic signals, improper turning and a host of others. All of them, especially speed, can be lumped under one ominous heading: Reckless Driving.

The safety and traffic specialists have a three-pronged cure for reckless driving and its annual harvest of death and injury. By widespread public education in traffic hazards, by strict enforcement of sane and adequate traffic regulations and by installation of uniform and adequate traffic devices, the annual toll of traffic deaths and injuries can be wiped off the slate.

Unfortunately, they point out, such a beneficent program is of little avail without the inclusion of a fourth element: Proper individual attitude toward safety. All the education, enforcement and engineering we can muster will be of no use if the individual driver persists in the attitude that he can indulge in excessive speed and reckless driving.

The most important factor in accident prevention is a sane attitude toward safety, with proper respect for the rules of the road and the rights of others. The realization of this is the only thing toward which the man behind the wheel should apply the accelerator.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Moral Integrity in Our Everyday Lives

LESSON TEXT FOR JULY 6—Job 1:1; 27:1-5; 31:19-28.

MEMORY SELECTION—My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go: my heart shall not reproach me so long as I live.—Job 27:6.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D. Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago. MODERN problems may well be solved by the principles found in Old Testament Scripture. Man is essentially the same as he always has been; sin and temptation to evil have only changed their outer trimmings. Above all, the Word of God is eternal in its validity and effectiveness.

We learn from Job and his experiences that it is possible to live by the grace of God, that he can be pleased with our lives. That is an encouraging fact. Job was just a man, but he was a man who was

I. Upright and Good (1:1). SOME liberal critics of the Bible have tried to prove that Job was not a real man, but other Scripture makes it clear that the words "there was a man" (v.1) states a fact. (See Ezek. 14:14 and 29; James 5:11)

He was a man with a large family, with great flocks and herds, and so a man of business, and the husband and father in a growing and active household. But in it all he was upright, and a good, God-fearing man.

Many make excuses for their failure to serve the Lord. They say that their business duties and relationships make it just about impossible. Others say that family situations and responsibilities keep them from service and worship of the Lord.

The experience of Job equips all such excuses and squarely faces us with the fact that it is possible to live for God in the midst of the very circumstances of modern life.

II. Tried and True (27:1-5). AFTER Job had lost his property, his children and even his health, three of his friends came to comfort him. But they only added to his sorrow by accusing him of being sinful, and suffering only what he deserved.

Job in these verses is replying to them. We note that in his ignorance of God's purposes, he accused God of being cruel to him (27:2; 30:21). This matter was later to be straightened out with the Lord.

But even now when he did not understand God's dealings, and stood there sick and destitute, he maintained his integrity. He would not turn from the Lord, nor would he be led off into wickedness.

It is possible for a man to be beaten and bruised and bewildered, and still true to the Lord. Let's never forget that!

III. Kind and Fair (31:19-23). JOB had been a rich man, but had not let his own prosperity dim his eye so that he could not see the need of his poor neighbor. He was not among those who, because they are well fed, can see no point in all the fuss about the hungry people round about.

There is something very fine and worthy of our imitation here. It is so easy to take what we have as a special favor from the Lord, to be retained and used by us, when we ought to recognize it as a matter of stewardship for the Lord.

A vital part of real moral integrity is the right use of possessions. Many a man or woman who has passed all the other tests with flying colors comes to grief at this point.

IV. Spiritual and Faithful (32:24-28). THERE were plenty of temptations in Job's day, as there are now, to depart from the worship of the true God to other modes of devotion.

The worship of the sun was common, and Jeremiah 44:17 shows that it continued for generations. In fact, what shall we say of the worldwide devotion to astrology in our day.

Then there was the temptation to worship gold. How up-to-date that is, for do we not have millions who worship "the almighty dollar," yes, even if they do not have it.

To all such temptations Job said a resolute "No." He would not even permit his innermost heart to be enticed secretly (v. 27). He stood true for the God he loved and served.

Who will question that one of our greatest needs in the world today is for men and women who, by the grace and blessing of God, will live good and upright lives, in real loving-kindness to mankind. God give us men, yes, that kind of men!

THINK ON THESE THINGS

All one can read in the papers these days is how we are NOT getting along with our neighbors, and especially Russia. I am persuaded that the more we talk about war and build up the idea, the more likely we are to actually have trouble. If we leave it entirely alone it may develop into trouble anyway, but it is certainly that it will develop into no good for any one if we continue to play it up in the minds of others.

I am not advocating a closed mouth, don't care attitude. Not by any means. It just seems to me that we get what we ask for in most every case, and I cannot find anywhere in history where people ASKED for war any more than this Nation is asking for it now.

Let us let the sleeping dogs sleep. Let us not forget that preparedness is always wise, therefore we need to be prepared but I can see no reason for us, as a Nation to ask for WAR.

Did you ever find an old dead body, with a very obnoxious odor? I am sure most of us have, and we observe that as long as we do not molest it, it will get no worse, BUT just prod or probe, or agitate it and "the more you stir it the more it will stink". So no matter what the trouble is, the more you stir it the more it will stink.

In the first place we cannot hope to gain "Peace on earth, good will toward men" with guns and gas and planes and Atom Bombs. When men all over the world forget about shedding the blood of their fellow men and turn to Him who shed His blood on the Cross, will he find peace, and not until then. We must turn to the word of God and the principles of Christianity if we are to find peace and rest, and NOT ONLY turn to them but practice them in our every walk of life. If we are to have peace we must change our motto from "Get there first with the most ATOM BOMBS" to: "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise" (Luke 6:31)

M. E. BLAKE, Minister, Church of Christ Goldthwaite, Texas.

Wm. M. Roberts returned to the Veterans Hospital in Dallas Monday morning after spending three weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Griffin and two sons of Sonora visited with relatives in and near Goldthwaite Sunday.

HEALTH NOTES

With the incidence of measles usually being somewhat high in summer time, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a statement concerning the use of immune globulin for protecting very young or frail children from an attack of this perennial childhood disease and its often serious complications.

"If you have a child less than five years old who has been exposed to measles, your family doctor may recommend giving him globulin," Dr. Cox said. "Through city, county or state health departments, doctors can obtain immune globulin free, to be used as they think advisable. Infants and children, whose health makes it inadvisable for them to suffer an attack of measles, may avoid the disease if immune globulin is administered within eight days from the time exposure."

The State Health Officer emphasized the fact that immune globulin, cannot give a child permanent protection against measles, but explained that the protection is ordinarily of about three weeks duration. However, there is no limit to the number of times it can be used, and a baby who is protected by it once can be protected by it again if exposed later. Immune globulin can go on shielding him against measles until he is old enough and strong enough to stand an attack without risking serious consequences.

During an outbreak of measles, Dr. Cox said that it is well to keep children under five years of age, and more especially frail children, from all other youngsters who might serve as sources of infection. Statistics show that nine-tenths of all measles deaths occur in children under five years of age.

HILLSIDE MISSION

—By LIDA BYRNE

Once a preacher said: "Don't tell the people important things which they should know just ninety-nine times, tell them a hundred times."

We hear a lot about military bases around the North Pole. Here is what God's word says: "The Lord shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle fleeth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand;" Deuteronomy 28:49.

Also in Ezekiel 12:20 we read: And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate; and ye shall know that I am the Lord."

We know there have been peace conferences and nothing definite about peace has been accomplished: Here is what God's word says: "For when they shall say Peace and Safety; then added destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with a child; and they shall not escape." First Thessalonians 5:3.

That same Bible which gives us the above prophecies, also gives us good promises. Many of us do not have the faith which we should have.

WHERE THOUSANDS DIE!

91 killed—3,150 injured! If that were the report of an explosion, wreck or other disaster, it would be front page news. People would be horrified! But worse—it's just one day's automobile casualty list in the United States. It happens every day, week in, week out. Four deaths, 131 injured—every hour. At year's end 33,500 lives snuffed out, over a million injured or maimed for life. That's what happened last year. This year's record threatens to be even higher.

Speed—reckless, wanton speed—drunken driving—defiance of safety rules and regulations—and careless, jaywalking pedestrians, top the list of causes for this grim toll.

What can you do about it? Will the speeding wheels of your car add one death to this mass murder of the highways? Not if you, the driver—and you, the pedestrian—take your individual responsibilities seriously. Drive carefully at all times, under all conditions, and be alert when walking.

Don't be one of the thousands to kill, or be killed. Drive safely—and live!

...belt have long delayed the care-free air of one whose crops are immune to disease, but no more. Brown stem rot, and some lesser ailments have now beset soybeans, thereby putting them in a class with most other farm commodities.

Dairy farmers are in no position now to create or force a market for surplus spring flow milk, except through a constant drive to get the general consumption of milk up. Even so, it would be a general increase the year around, because the demand for milk doesn't normally fluctuate as much as does production. The nation, Texas included, needs more milk, but they need it in more of a constant flow. Summer ice cream consumption doesn't make that much difference. Some dairymen have solved the spring surplus problem for themselves by breeding some of their cows for fall freshening, thereby bringing a steady milk flow all year. Balanced dairying, we believe it's called.

CONSERVATIVE GRADING CONSERVES MOISTURE

By PAUL T. KOSHI
U. S. Soil Conservation Service

The range conservatively grazed over a period of years is more drought resistant than the overgrazed one. Drought is not determined by the amount of rainfall, but by the amount of moisture in the soil.

Under dense cover of little bluestem, Indiangrass, sideoats grama, and other choice grasses and weeds, the rain-water is rapidly absorbed. No soil is lost and the runoff is negligible.

On the overgrazed range, there is very little vegetation or brush present to check the rapidly falling raindrops. The precious soil is stirred up and the soil pores are clogged resulting in heavy runoff and in loss of surface soil. The soil moisture lost by evaporation is also much greater from abused range. Thus normal years result in severe droughts and an abnormally dry year is a catastrophe.

Through conservative grazing and leaving one-half of the current year's growth of vegetation, mulch and organic matter accumulated will improve the soil-moisture relationship. This leads to a stable livestock enterprise and permanent agriculture.

A complete offering of college subjects are available during the summer session, which is divided into two six-week terms. ### SINGING AT NORTH BENNETT

There will be a singing at North Bennett Church Sunday night, July 13. It will be for all who love gospel singing of the right kind and in the right manner.

This singing class will meet each second Sunday night. We want to build a singing class that is different, for the purpose of promoting church music and worship. It is not the purpose of this singing to entertain only, but to learn how to sing with spirit and reverence.

Our Church book, Favorite Songs, will be used. Brother Calvin Weathers will be the director of the class. He is unsurpassed in leading in this kind of work.

We invite singers far and wide to come each second Sunday night. We believe if you will come once, you will keep coming.

SANTA FE INCOME

Santa Fe's net railway operating income for May, 1947 was $3,237,099, according to a statement release by President F. G. Gurley today.

This is an increase of $1,723,238 compared with May, 1946. Net income for the first five months of 1947 was $15,594,233, compared with $13,087,932 in the first five months of 1946.

POSTAL RATES ARE UNCHANGED

Postmaster M. Y. Stokes, Jr., has received the following message from the Inspector in Charge, Post Office Department:

"Under House Joint Resolution, 80th Congress, approved by the President on June 30, 1947, the 3-cent letter rate and other postage rates and fees in effect on that date are continued thereafter on a permanent basis. Postmasters should notify local newspapers and radio stations and continue to require such rates and fees."

OLD MAN 100-

OPPORTUNITY-

A Goldthwaite young couple was driving along a lonely lane in the moonlight when a loud knock started in the motor. "Wonder what that knock is?" said he. "Maybe," replied the girl, "it's opportunity."

RAIN REPORT-NONE-

The way these here rains fell last week put us right up to the edge of Goldthwaite—and the town got skunked—it seems maybe there ain't much to the old saying that it rains alike on the just and unjust. Maybe there jest ain't no unjust here in this town for it to rain on or maybe . . . (P. S.—As this is being writ, the Old Man hasn't got his duller raise yet, and the Boss ain't got his rain either, but both may have by the time you read this.)

SECOND SPASM-

And the Big Fat Boss don't want to give the Old Man that duller raise—but he wants it to rain for free. It's gettin' so hot and dry here in town that this is what the Boss has been doing the last three days: He sweats, and he sweats, and he sweats; He walk the floor, Wrings his hands and frets; He looks for a cloud— Then he matters out loud: "Old Man Hunnert, Are you insane? Dang your onery hide, Why don't you let it rain?" And the Old Man jest tells him He ain't looking for praise— We'll get that rain When he gits his duller raise.

GETTIN' LATER-

Onct, right after the Old Man had married (about) the 5th, we lived in the country and always got up early. One time after the 5th's nephew had been working on the grandpa clock, the Old Man woke up a little before day and started counting the clock striking—and counted up to a hundred and two. He nudged the 5th and said: "Wake up and build the fire; it's later than I ever knowed it."

Walter--We're closing now,

sir Would your mind settling your bill? Old Man--But I haven't been served yet. Walter--Oh well, in that case there'll be only the cover charge.

Now that the $2 bill is coming into its own—they say it will buy nearly a duller's worth of stuff now—the Old Man is wondering that if and when the dollar gets back to normal purchasing power if he will have any.

And these Goldthwaite parents were surprised when they heard their 3-year-old daughter say: "I'm getting t-i-r-e-d as h-e-l-l of your spelling words around me all the time."

And when the doc told the Old Man, "I, er-er have taken the liberty of sending you my bills again," the Old Man said: "Yeah? Well, I've taken your advice and I'm not letting business matters worry me any more."

What made the Old Man so mad

when the 7th said "Men are men" was she pronounced the last men in a way that spelled it sound as if it was spelled "B-r-u-t-e-s."

The Old Man is mighty sure the 7th worships him because she places burnt offerings before him every day.

One good thing about the Old Man's third—she was so tall that when she got her feet wet in the winter it took the cold until next summer to get up in her head.

Now you take 20 years ago girls never thought of doing the things they do today—and that's why they didn't do them.

The 11 dullers a week the Old Man gets for writing this column may not be much, but the Old Man sure is independent in his job here—he can come to work anytime he wants to before 8 and quit any time after five.

One time when the 7th was visiting a zoo in the city she kept annoying the keeper with silly questions until he got mad. "Is that hippopotamus a male or female?" was her next question. "Madam," he replied, "what possible difference could that make to anybody except another hippopotamus?"

The Old Man notices that about the time youngsters get to the age when they quit playing with blocks, dolls and toy trains, they have reached the stage where they start playing with fire.

SAFETY TIP OF THE WEEK

HIGHWAY DEMOCRACY
"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" . . . It's 171 years since those words first were written, but the truths which our forefathers held to be self-evident are still mighty good working principles. Even our rules on safe driving are based on them.

Take the rule of right-of-way at intersections, for example. It might be stated in the words of Thomas Jefferson himself: "Equal rights for all—special privileges for none."

"Equal rights" at intersections means obeying the traffic officer or the traffic light; if there is no signal, it means waiting one's turn; if there is any doubt as to whose turn it is, it means YIELDING the right-of-way. Last year more than 150,000 were killed and injured at intersections because someone claimed "special privileges."

Good highway democracy pays dividends in the life, liberty and happiness of everyone.

R. J. POTTS NEW HEAD TEXAS GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION

Oustin, July 2—The next two or three years will be the most momentous ones in the history of the road-building industry. R. J. Potts of Harlingen, newly-elected president of the Texas Good Roads Association said this week in an interview.

"The world is going to be on wheels to a greater degree than ever before," Potts declared, pointing out that a stupendous amount of preparation must be done for increased travel, in view of the fact that wartime traffic made great demands and necessitated exceptional wear upon the road system of the nation.

Road planners and builders face these two major problems, Potts stated:

1. Traffic must be handled expeditiously in congested areas by means of multi-lane highways that are expensive to build and maintain; and
2. Facilities must be provided so that farmers can take their produce to market; so that children to school and that people in rural areas can comfortably remain there in the interest of continued agricultural productivity.

The two goals must be reached, Potts added without rendering the Texas Highway Department incapable of expanding and maintaining the State and Federal primary road system.

Potts was elected president of the Association at its annual meeting in San Antonio May 23. Other officers chosen were Joe Leonard of Gainesville, first vice-president; H. B. Zachry of San Antonio, second vice-president; T. C. Jones of Fort Worth, third vice-president; E. P. Craven of Austin, secretary-treasurer; and Ike Ashburn, executive vice-president.

New directors chosen were Frank Barney of San Angelo and Lucian Morehead of Plainview.

Potts is literally the "Mr. Good Roads of Texas" and for the past 42 years the improvement of the state's roads has been his dominant interest.
