SERVICES AT NORTH BENNETT

We have just closed our revival with 14 additions, 11 were by baptism. The revival was one of the greatest revivals in the church in its history. Alvis Weathers, 21, surrendered to the call to preach. Two things testify to the spirituality and genuineness of a revival; first, souls saved; second, the calling of young men to the gospel ministry.

Next Sunday, Sept. 7, is our regular church day. The church will observe the Lord's Supper at 11 o'clock. Come for Sunday school at 10 o'clock and remain for all services. Evangelistic services at 8 P.M. You will enjoy the spirituality and friendliness of our church.

Miss Wetzel Married to Karl Doggett; To Live In Austin

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram)

Miss Marjory Rue Wetzel became the bride of Mr. Karl Kimble Doggett of Austin Saturday, August 23, at Rosen Heights Presbyterian Church.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Rigby, 5321 Hampshire Blvd.

Mr. Doggett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doggett of Goldthwaite, who attended the wedding.

Rev. John Mitchell of Cleburne officiated in the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. W. J. Lucas of Austin. Music was played by Miss Dorothy Jo Smith, pianist; Miss Shannon Schwall, violinist; Mr. Sims Buttram, Misses Joyce and Roxana Renneberg of Austin, vocalists.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Jack P. Wetzel of Beaumont, wore a white slipper satin gown, white lace mitts and fingertip illusion veil which fell from a tiara of velvet white forget-me-nots on tulle. She carried her mother's heirloom lace handkerchief and a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and bouvardia.

Mrs. Jack Wetzel, matron of honor, and Miss Annette Ceder of Austin, bridesmaid, wore lime taffeta dresses, fuchsia carnation headdresses and short veils and carried fuchsia carnations.

Mr. Voyd Lee Doggett of Goldthwaite was his brother's best man and Messrs. John Rogers and Neal Cook were ushers.

A music box concealed in the top of the tiered wedding cake began playing "Beautiful River of Dreams" when the first slice was cut by the couple. The cake was served by Mrs. Jerry Walker of Goldthwaite, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Faye Anderson of Austin, and Miss Laura Goodman of Dallas.

The couple will live in Austin after spending a week at the ranch of former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson in Junction.

The bride attended Wheaton College and the University of Texas. Mr. Doggett worked in Alaska during the war.

IF YOU CHANGE NAME, NOTIFY S. S. BOARD

Came June, came brides, come headaches for the biggest book-keeping organization in the country, the Social Security Administration.

Being proud of their new names, working brides almost invariably ask their boss to show their new names on the payroll—and being human, most of them put off bringing their cards around to the Social Security Administration office for an official Social Security name change, David S. Pruitt, Manager of the local office reports.

So June's bride now appears on her employer's social security report; as Mary Brown along with the number that the Social Security Administration records for Mary Smith. The Social Security Administration suspects that a marriage might

At SW TEXAS COLLEGE

Elizabeth Stockton of Goldthwaite is among the freshman girl students at Southwest Texas State College who will live in the new Salle Benetta dormitory when school opens in September.

The new Spanish Colonial-style building, which is being completed this month at a cost of $275,000, will contain rooms for 130 girl students. Boasting custom-made furniture planned by College President J. G. Flowers, visitors have agreed that "the new girls' dormitory is the most beautiful one at any Texas school."

The new freshmen are expected to be in San Marcos by September 14, beginning of the traditional "Freshman Days" a period for orientation and registration of new students which last until September 17.

During this period, in addition to regular registration procedures, there will be parties, dances, swimming, skating, and a free picture show for the new students, so that they may become familiar with San Marcos and the "Hill."

'NEVER SAY GOODBYE' AT MELBA IS GALA COMEDY

Errol Flynn offers conclusive proof that he is a many-faceted actor and more particularly, a stalwart comedian of topmost stature in Warner Bros.' rollicking new film comedy, "Never Say Goodbye," co-starring Eleanor Parker, which plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the Melba Theatre. As a mirth-provoking adventure in modern marriage, with some excellent common-sense philosophy behind its hilarious exterior, the new motion picture wins this column's unqualified recommendation as one of the brightest comedies of the season.

That love conquers nothing whatsoever until the final comic reel, is due as much, perhaps, to Ellen's mother (Lucille Watson) and straight-laced attorney (Donald Woods), both of whom deery Phillip's irresponsibility, as it is to Phillip's own peculiarly defective memory. For Phillip, a successful commercial artist and creator of the famous Gayley Girl, develops a highly irregular mental blank every time he makes an appointment with his beautiful model (Peggy Knudsen), which proves embarrassing to Ellen, who has put up a valiant struggle to maintain her faith in Phillip's sincerity.

As Phillip, Errol Flynn forsakes his erstwhile swashbuckling in favor of a warm and human portrayal of an average husband in love with his wife, and emerges as a top rank comedian, bound for even wider popularity than has been his to date.

Swing Of Southwest Farm Markets

Most southwest farm products gained strength last week and closed steady to some higher, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

All cattle classes advanced 50 cents to $1.00 per hundred pounds at most southwest markets last week. Choice steers at Denver reached $32.50, a new all-time high, and the bulk of good fed kinds brought $27 to $30. Late-week gains largely made up for early losses at southwest hog markets. Closing top was $26.75 at San Antonio; $27.75 at Fort Worth; $28.25 at Oklahoma City; $28 at Wichita; and $29.50 at Denver. Sows and pigs sold up to $24 and $25.

Most sheep sold firm to 50 cents higher, but aged classes weakened slightly at some terminals. San Antonio paid $18 to $20 for medium to good spring lambs, while Fort Worth gave $19.50 to $22.50 for medium to good kinds.

Eggs and poultry sold generally at firm prices last week, and top quality eggs strengthened at some markets. Best white eggs brought 50 to 55 cents per dozen at most places, best mixed 45 to 50, and medium grades 40 to 45. New Orleans bought heavy hens at 29 to 32 cents per pound, and spring chickens at 39. Most other markets took heavy hens at 22 to 25, and fryers and broilers 35 to 37.

Rains in the corn belt checked deterioration of the crop and weakened corn prices; but other grains sold strong. Wheat, oats, barley, and grain sorghums each advanced 5 to 8 cents on southwest cash markets. Wheat futures reached new high levels, and oats rose to record high prices at Chicago and Kansas City.

Spot cotton prices declined $3.00 to $7.50 at southwest markets last week. Demand continued good for better grades but offerings were light. Widespread rains damaged open cotton and delayed picking but benefited young growing cotton.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY CARD KEY TO SOCIAL SECURITY PAYMENTS

"Every person who gets work in private industry or commerce must have a social security card." This was emphasized today in a statement to the employees in this community by Mr. Pruitt, manager of the Social Security Administration field office at Austin, Texas, where social security cards may be obtained. "A social security card," Mr. Pruitt said, "immediately establishes an insurance account with the United States Government and opens the door to eventual benefits under the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system."

The purpose of this insurance, Mr. Pruitt explained, is to provide regular monthly payments for the family when the breadwinner grows old or, when he dies. Since benefit payments are based on the worker's wages in employment covered by law, "it is important," Mr. Pruitt said, "to have all wages correctly reported and recorded in your social security account. Part-time and temporary employment counts, too, and every dollar of wages from covered jobs up to $3,000 a year, helps to increase the production."

Mr. Pruitt explained that the number on a worker's social security card is the same as that under which his account is set up in the Baltimore office of the Social Security Administration. Many persons have the same name, but no two persons have the same number. Don't lose your original card—issuing duplicates cost money, paper, and time.

The field office manager pointed out the important part which the employer plays under the system. "He pays half the premium for your Government insurance; he forwards to the Government his own and your social security premiums; he reports the wages of every employee so that they may be recorded in the proper social security account; and he is required to provide each employee with a statement of the wages so reported by him."

FIGHTING AGAINST AUTO BLACK MARKET

Detroit, August 14.—Chevrolet Motor Division and its dealer organization from coast to coast are waging a continuous and relentless campaign to prevent new cars from entering the so-called black markets of the used car lots, and are making strenuous efforts to see that new car deliveries are in accordance with an equitable and orderly program based upon the dealer's pre-war volume of business. T. H. Keating, general sales manager of Chevrolet, said here today.

"It must be kept in mind that Chevrolet dealers are independent merchants and that the Chevrolet Motor Division is not in a position to regulate or interfere with the normal operation of their establishments. Nevertheless, the Chevrolet Motor Division has the moral obligation to protect the good name and public goodwill of Chevrolet, and cooperates closely with dealers in this respect," Mr. Keating continued.

"Chevrolet has 6,200 direct dealers in the United States and we are proud to state that to Chevrolet's knowledge, only an infinitesimal percentage of this vast organization violated the common sense rules of good business and good public relations recommended by the Chevrolet Motor Division and practiced by the overwhelming majority of their fellow dealers."

Miss Audine Cromer, Jack Kline Marry

Miss Audine Cromer of Wichita Falls and Mr. Jack Kline of this city were united in marriage at 2:35 p. m. August 24. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cromer of Gordon and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kline of Goldthwaite. The marriage took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. B. Hardman, 2121 Ave. F, Wichita Falls. Rev. Ronald Whalley read the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, wore a street length frock of white pebble crepe, with matching gloves and hat which was made halo effect and crowned with white tube roses. She carried a white Bible topped with three orchids and stephanotic streamers. Her "something old" was a heirloom crystal necklace.

Miss Shirley Kline, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, and wore a pheasant brown suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Everett Levemors of Wichita Falls was best man for the groom.

At the reception, which immediately followed, the house was decorated with white gladioluses. The table was laid with a Maderia cloth and centered by an oblong arrangement of flowers. The bride's chosen colors of white and fuchsia was carried through-out. Mrs. Almeta Sanders presided at the brides book and Mrs. Herbert Cromer and Mrs. W. B. Hardman served the refreshments.

When the bridal couple left for points in Oklahoma and Southern Texas, Mrs. Kline wore a smart afternoon frock of fuchsia crepe and matching accessories. They will make their home at 1722 9th St. in Wichita Falls where Mr. Kline will attend Hardin College.

About 35 attended the ceremony and the list included several out of town guests.

SHIELD YOUR FAMILY in the CRITICAL YEARS

IN families where there are small children, there is nothing so important as to keep that family together under the constant care of the mother until the youngest child has had an opportunity at least to complete High School. This is the formative period—these are the critical years.

If you should die during this period, the Jefferson Standard Family Protector Plan will carry your family through. And if you live, this plan will give you continuous protection and an income for the retirement years. You owe it to your family to investigate the Family Protector Plan. For complete details at no cost, write or phone today.

ARE YOU A KILLER?

No less an authority than the president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police tells us that the modern officer views every traffic violator as a potential killer.

To some this may seem a rather macabre point of view for the genial cop on the corner. We think, however, that it is fortunate for us all that police forces are being trained to take a realistic and stern attitude toward traffic violations—especially with this country's tragic record of increasing deaths on our streets and highways. When the lives of 33,500 men, women and children are snuffed out in one year because of reckless driving and violation of traffic regulations, then it is time for someone to get tough.

Progressive police training throughout the nation is demonstrating its value. Modern traffic squads are no longer given pep talks and then sent out "just to keep an eye on things in general." They are briefed as to what intersections are accident prone, what violations are causing the accidents and during what hours. They know what to look for and they should be applauded rather than hampered when they deal sternly with the violators.

That such selective enforcement is effective has been proved. The communities which have adopted it are to be commended. To those which have not done so, we recommend such an enforcement program and suggest that the people in the communities do the same, for their own good.

Do not erroneously believe that the traffic policeman enjoys writing you a ticket for a violation. He would rather do it, however, than pick you up in a basket after an accident of your own or some other violator's making.

If you violate a traffic regulation, consider that a violation identical to yours has killed several persons—perhaps at the same place, perhaps even on the same day. That you did not cause an accident is not important. That you might have caused one is. Apprehending you is the traffic officer's job. He is not only protecting you from your own folly, but lessening your exposure to dangerous driving habits of others. He deserves your highest respect and fullest cooperation.

EDUCATING WOMEN TO BE NURSES

With the aim of educating more women for the nursing profession to help relieve the present shortage of graduate nurses, the five Baptist hospitals in Texas are this month launching an intensive student nurse recruitment program preliminary to the opening of new freshmen classes in their schools of nursing in September.

Personal appeals will be issued to young women aged 17 to 35 through Baptist churches and Sunday schools over the state, to interest them in preparing for the nursing profession. Speakers will outline to the girls the advantages nursing offers of a well-paid livelihood, position of community prestige and an opportunity to aid suffering humanity, officials stated. "The demand for nurses far exceeds the supply," Andrew Q. Allen, volunteer director for the nurse recruitment campaign, stated. "Unless more young women answer the call and enter nursing, the people of this country will suffer for lack of adequate care in time of sickness. The shortage in civilian hospitals has been acute since the beginning of war and has not been relieved since war's end because of the great number of nurses now required in veterans' hospitals."

The varied fields open to graduate nurses today include hospitals, doctors' offices, industry, public health agencies, government service, nursing school auxiliaries and foreign missionary work. All are in desperate need of more nurses.

Earning and Spending

LESSON TEXT FOR SEPTEMBER 7
—Proverbs 11:24-27; 16:8; Ecclesiastes 5:10, 11; James 5:1-6.

MEMORY SELECTION—Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right.—Proverbs 16:8.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

By WILLIAM CULBERTSON, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

AS BELIEVERS in Christ we are responsible not only for the way we earn our living, but for the way we spend what we earn.

Of course we must earn our living honestly, but if we spend foolishly that which we have earned, we shall have dissipated much of the effect of our example in earning.

Possessions are a trust from God, and we shall have to render an account of our stewardship.

Just because we have given a certain percentage of our income to Christian causes is no reason to think we shall meet with divine approbation with regard to our stewardship. If we give a tithe, well and good, but what about the other nine-tenths? Is God pleased with our stewardship there?

I. The Vanity of Wealth (Eccles. 5:10, 11).

IN ANY study of wealth, it seems necessary to begin with an understanding of its limitations. We live in a world in which men frequently lay great importance on possessions, and indeed, there are many things which wealth can purchase. On the other hand, there are some things that money cannot buy. And further, we should recognize that our possessions are not eternal, that they may suddenly fade away.

The passage here reminds us of the fact that wealth for wealth's sake is bound to be a disappointment. The man who loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver, any more than the man who loves pleasure shall be satisfied with pleasure. Augustine was right when he said that man could be satisfied with no less than God himself.

Notice how accurately the picture is drawn. If we have increased wealth, we have increased responsibility (v. 11). That fact is as unalterable as the most rigid law we know. The only advantage is, as the Preacher expresses it, the beholding of goods with the eye—not a very great advantage after all.

II. The Proper Accumulation of Wealth (Prov. 16:8).

IT IS just as true as when Solomon wrote it, that "Better is a little, with righteousness, than great revenues with injustice."

This statement needs no argument, needs no proof. If we would have the honor of men, self-respect, and the blessing of God, there is no alternative.

III. The Improper Accumulation of Wealth (James 5:1-6).

THE apostle James speaks of a condition that will obtain in the last days (v. 3). There are many evidences that the condition he describes has had altogether too many fulfillments in recent history.

James excoriates the rich who have defrauded their employees in order that they might fare sumptuously and live riotously. These unscrupulous rich have taken advantage that they were not resisted (v. 6). Such wealth is corrupted.

Notice once again that the result of their sin will rise to break them. It is a serious thing to trifle with sin, to eat the bread of iniquity. God has no patience with injustice in social relationships. Sooner or later judgment will come.

IV. The Proper Use of Wealth (Prov. 11:24-27).

LIBERALITY should characterize the child of God. It is true that the Bible condemns the attitude of imprudence, yet it also condemns the attitude of the miser. To withhold more than is meet, also tends to want.

How blessedly true it is that there is a recompense to giving. Here we read that the one who waters shall himself be watered. Our Lord affirmed the same truth in Luke 6:38.

To have it within our power to help, and fail to do so, is to bring upon ourselves censure and condemnation. Therefore, we should seek to perform the good (v. 27).

This passage concludes with the statement that one who searches after evil shall find that evil will come to him. The man who sets his heart to do wrong will not have to wait long to find the occasion to do that which is in his heart.

Many are the injunctions in the New Testament regarding the proper use of wealth. For example, the Christian has a duty toward his own family (I Tim. 5:8). He is enjoined to be sympathetic and generous in his giving to help others (II Cor. 8:15). Certainly he is to dispense his goods with the glory of God in view (cf. Col. 3:17).

ARE YOU A KILLER?

No less an authority than the president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police tells us that the modern officer views every traffic violator as a potential killer.

To some this may seem a rather macabre point of view for the genial cop on the corner. We think, however, that it is fortunate for us all that police forces are being trained to take a realistic and stern attitude toward traffic violations—especially with this country's tragic record of increasing deaths on our streets and highways.

Progressive police training throughout the nation is demonstrating its value. Modern traffic squads are no longer given pep talks and then sent out "just to keep an eye on things in general."

That such selective enforcement is effective has been proved. The communities which have adopted it are to be commended. To those which have not done so, we recommend such an enforcement program and suggest that the people in the communities do the same, for their own good.

Do not erroneously believe that the traffic policeman enjoys writing you a ticket for a violation. He would rather do it, however, than pick you up in a basket after an accident of your own or some other violator's making.

If you violate a traffic regulation, consider that a violation identical to yours has killed several persons—perhaps at the same place, perhaps even on the same day. That you did not cause an accident is not important. That you might have caused one is. Apprehending you is the traffic officer's job.

EDUCATING WOMEN TO BE NURSES

With the aim of educating more women for the nursing profession to help relieve the present shortage of graduate nurses, the five Baptist hospitals in Texas are this month launching an intensive student nurse recruitment program preliminary to the opening of new freshmen classes in their schools of nursing in September.

Personal appeals will be issued to young women aged 17 to 35 through Baptist churches and Sunday schools over the state, to interest them in preparing for the nursing profession. Speakers will outline to the girls the advantages nursing offers of a well-paid livelihood, position of community prestige and an opportunity to aid suffering humanity, officials stated.

The varied fields open to graduate nurses today include hospitals, doctors' offices, industry, public health agencies, government service, nursing school auxiliaries and foreign missionary work. All are in desperate need of more nurses.

Feeding wheat alone to steers not advisable, but it can be fed safely when mixed with corn or grain sorghums in equal amounts.

Earning and Spending

LESSON TEXT FOR SEPTEMBER 7 - Proverbs 11:24-27; 16:8; Ecclesiastes 5:10, 11; James 5:1-6. MEMORY SELECTION—Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right.—Proverbs 16:8.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

By WILLIAM CULBERTSON, D. D., Of The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

AS BELIEVERS in Christ we are responsible not only for the way we earn our living, but for the way we spend what we earn.

Of course we must earn our living honestly, but if we spend foolishly that which we have earned, we shall have dissipated much of the effect of our example in earning.

Possessions are a trust from God, and we shall have to render an account of our stewardship.

Just because we have given a certain percentage of our income to Christian causes is no reason to think we shall meet with divine approbation with regard to our stewardship. If we give a tithe, well and good, but what about the other nine-tenths? Is God pleased with our stewardship there?

I. The Vanity of Wealth (Eccles. 5:10, 11).

IN ANY study of wealth, it seems necessary to begin with an understanding of its limitations. We live in a world in which men frequently lay great importance on possessions, and indeed, there are many things which wealth can purchase. On the other hand, there are some things that money cannot buy. And further, we should recognize that our possessions are not eternal, that they may suddenly fade away.

The passage here reminds us of the fact that wealth for wealth's sake is bound to be a disappointment. The man who loves silver shall not be satisfied with silver, any more than the man who loves pleasure shall be satisfied with pleasure. Augustine was right when he said that man could be satisfied with no less than God himself.

Notice how accurately the picture is drawn. If we have increased wealth, we have increased responsibility (v. 11). That fact is as unalterable as the most rigid law we know. The only advantage is, as the Preacher expresses it, the beholding of goods with the eye—not a very great advantage after all.

II. The Proper Accumulation of Wealth (Prov. 16:8).

IT IS just as true as when Solomon wrote it, that "Better is a little, with righteousness, than great revenues with injustice."

This statement needs no argument, needs no proof. If we would have the honor of men, self-respect, and the blessing of God, there is no alternative.

III. The Improper Accumulation of Wealth (James 5:1-6).

THE apostle James speaks of a condition that will obtain in the last days (v. 3). There are many evidences that the condition he describes has had altogether too many fulfillments in recent history. James exhortates the rich who have defrauded their employees in order that they might fare sumptuously and live riotously. These unscrupulous rich have taken advantage because they were not resisted (v. 6). Such wealth is corrupted.

Notice once again that the result of their sin will rise to break them. It is a serious thing to trifle with sin, to eat the bread of iniquity. God has no patience with injustice in social relationships. Sooner or later judgment will come.

IV. The Proper Use of Wealth (Prov. 11:24-27).

LIBERALITY should characterize the child of God. It is true that the Bible condemns the attitude of imprudence, yet it also condemns the attitude of the miser. To withhold more than is meet, also tends to waste.

How blessedly true it is that there is a recompense to giving. Here we read that the one who waters shall himself be watered. Our Lord affirmed the same truth in Luke 6:38.

To have it within our power to help, and fail to do so, is to bring upon ourselves censure and condemnation. Therefore, we should seek to perform the good (v. 27).

This passage concludes with the statement that one who searches after evil shall find that evil will come to him. The man who sets his heart to do wrong will not have to wait long to find the occasion to do that which is in his heart.

Many are the injunctions in the New Testament regarding the proper use of wealth. For example, the Christian has a duty toward his own family (1 Tim. 5:8). He is enjoined to be sympathetic and generous in his giving to help others (II Cor. 8:8-15). Certainly he is to dispense his goods with the glory of God in view (cf. Col. 3:17).

Test for leaking by closing the door on a piece of ordinary wrapping paper about the size and thickness of a dollar bill. If the paper pulls out easily, the gasket is not tight enough to keep warm air from passing into the refrigerator. This may be because the rubber in the gasket has become brittle and hard. Or it may be the fault of the door. Try tightening hinges or latch to make the door fit more snugly. Test again with paper. If the door still is not tight, get a new gasket.

If the temperature is normal and the door does not leak, but the refrigerator still runs too much, call in a serviceman.

FRIED CHICKEN FOR NEXT WINTER

College Station, Aug. 6—Fried chicken can be a year round food for the family table if some of them are saved for the freezer locker, Gwendolyn Jones, food preservation specialist for the A. and M. Extension Service, suggests.

She says the young birds are best for fried chicken and getting them ready for freezing is the same as for eating. But, it is easy to pick the chicken if it's dipped into a semi-scalding water for half a minute. This means the water should be about 128 degrees.

Suggestions on freezing include cutting up the chicken into pieces exactly as you would cut them for frying. The next step is to cool the pieces and pack into moisture, vapor-proof containers or wrapping paper. Put the amount needed for each meal into a package. Make the package as air-tight as possible.

Freeze quickly, and store at zero degrees or lower. If the home freezer is used, the chicken may be killed in the afternoon and frozen that night. If a commercial freezer locker is used, the chicken may be killed in the morning, and taken to the locker early in the afternoon.

AFTER 90 YEARS

College Station, August 6—Young County land that has been in continuous cultivation for 90 years has been put back into top not condition with the planting of the soil improving crop, hairy vetch.

Over 8,000 pounds of clean vetch seed has been harvested off 30 acres of the 90 year old land by war veteran J. B. Fore, who took over his farm in lower Tonk Valley after his release from the service and started a "better farming" plan. Young County Agricultural Agent R. C. Dunkle reports that the land on Fore's farm is Brazos River sandy soil and for many years, crop yields off the land didn't pay for the cost of production. This year, when planted to the vetch, gross return from the 30 acres was $1,698.

The vetch was seeded in October, 1946, after 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate fertilizer had been applied.

Fore, who "talks little and does much," says County Agent Dunkle, is convinced of the soil benefits to be derived from planting hairy vetch, and plans to plant 200 acres of the crop this fall. He expects to grow feed on the 30 acres that have had the benefit of the crop this year.

The land that Fore has "brought back to life" was first put into cultivation by the Tonkawa Indians, 90 years ago, according to Dunkle.

Harley V. Duncan

Harley V. Duncan, formerly of Moline, passed away on August 23. Funeral services were conducted last Sunday by the Rev. Jim Ashcraft at the Pleasant Grove Methodist Church, and interment was in Pleasant Grove Cemetery.

Mr. Duncan was born at Liberty Hill, Texas, on February 23, 1915, and was 32 years, six months and six days old at the time of his death.

He is survived by his widow, Laura Frances Duncan; one son, Thomas Sidney Duncan; four

His father, John Lec Duncan, of Aransas Pass, is in ill health and was unable to attend the services.

Mr. Duncan is also survived by 15 nieces and 13 nephews.

Fertilized and limed pastures produced three times as much beef as unfertilized pastures in recent Florida experiments. Some fertilized pastures produced at the rate of a ton of beef per year.

There you have it in black and white—the way to avoid many a fatal accident. And this is equally true—it's not "safe to be a smart driver!"

The young driver who slouches over the wheel and goes twisting and roaring through traffic for his own self-satisfaction and the adulation of others is as out of date as a 1910 flivver.

More and more, new drivers-to-be are enrolling in driver instruction courses, to learn how to be safe and intelligent drivers. They are taught how to operate and control a car. They become familiar with traffic rules and regulations—and the penalties for violating these established rules of the road. They learn that it is really smart to be considerate and courteous to others.

Many communities are making these courses available through their schools today. If your son or daughter is coming of driving age, see to it that they take a driver instruction course. If there is not one available in your town, ask the school or police authorities how you can obtain instruction material.

Make young drivers safe drivers—right from the start.

Sept. 5 Is Date For Many New Laws To Take Effect

Austin—Texans will have new paths to tread warily come 12:01

a. m. Friday, September 5 if they want to keep within the law.

At that time, 119 of the acts of the 50th Texas Legislature will become effective. The 119 are acts passed without emergency clauses or acts carrying emergency clauses that failed to get the required two-third total vote of members of both the House and Senate for emergency status. Such bills are known as the 90-day bills of a legislature because they cannot be put in force until 90 days after adjournment of the legislation session at which they were enacted.

Among the 119, the one that will probably cause the greatest changes in people's habits and behavior is the "uniform traffic code." The code has 157 separate sections, and the State Department of Public Safety, safety organizations and officers over the state have been studying it and coaching the public in its provisions. The state police are now those parts of the code which publishing a booklet containing are of interest to the average driver. It will probably be available early in September.

Labor Regulated
Also among the acts to take effect Sept. 5 are the numerous labor-regulating measures for which the session became famous. These include the act to ban closed shop union contracts; to prohibit strikes by public employes; against sabotage of utilities; against mass picketing; secondary boycotts and the check-off of union wages or dues without written consent of the worker. There are also the acts to make unions responsible for breach of contract and subject to terms of the state anti-trust laws—both penal and civil.

Other laws affecting the "working people" that will first be in force in Texas Sept. 5 include an extension of lawful working hours for women engaged in canning and some harvesting operations, with the provision that they shall get double pay or hours in excess of the status limiting most women workers to 9 hours in any day and 54 hours in any week.

Workmen who are injured will be able to draw more compensation under an amendment to the compensation law. (RISING STAR RECORD)

Eagle Office this week saw the Old Man writing a letter, and feeling sorry for his gray hairs and long white whiskers. She asked him what he was doing. Without looking up the Old Man said, "Writing." Kind Lady—"To whom are you writing?" Old Man—"To myself." The K. L. smiled and said, "Writing to yourself? Well, what are you telling yourself?" The Old Man looked up with an annoyed air and said, "How do I know? I won't get the letter until tomorrow."

Once the Old Man phoned the doctor and said, "My wife has appendicitis!" And the Doc said, "Huh! I took out your wife's appendix three years ago and I never heard of any one having a second appendix." Old Man—"Doc, have you ever heard of any one having a second wife?"

Here's the way to stop 'em: Still, on his salary, the Old Man sometimes buys the 7th candy and flowers—on a 2 a. m. income.

A friend of the Old Man's spent a day in Waco on business last week, and the Old Man asked him if he drunk any Dr. Pepper while there. He said, "Yep, 10, 2, and 4—two at 10, four at 2, and ten at 4." He got back, all right, though.

And while you are climbing steadily upward on the ladder of success, you'd better be kind to all, friends, strangers, and foes alike—because you will surely meet them on your way down again.

The Old Man has been thinking things over deep here lately—and what a mess the women have made of us men!

Once when the Old Man was attending a big society event, he said to the hostess: "Pardon me, Mrs. Astor, but that never would have happened if you hadn't stepped between me and that spittoon."

And when the Old Man went into the dry goods store the other day and told the young lady he wanted to see something in ladies' satin slips, she asked, "For your wife, sir? Or do you want something better?"

The Old Man has such a reputation for being smart that one mother wrote to him this week for some advice. She wrote: "I am a mother of four children. My husband wants another one, but I heard that every fifth child born in the US is Chinese. Shall I take that chance?"

Once the Old Man was sitting in a big Fort Worth hotel and noticed a lady passing through the lobby several times. Finally the Old Man stepped up to her and asked: "Pardon me, but were you looking for a particular person?" And the lady said, "I'm satisfied if you are."

This here happened when the Old Man was in CG Cop—"Look, fellow, you were knocked unconscious and you say the man gave you a glancing blow." Old Man—"That's right, officer. He socked me for glancing while his wife fixed her garter."

The Old Man can't think of but two reasons why some people don't mind their own business. One is that they haven't any mind, the other that they haven't any business.

And when the Old Man asked the 7th if she took that dollar bill out of his right-hand pants pocket last night, she said, "Certainly not. Maybe you don't know it, but there's a hole in that pocket."

A good friend of the Old Man's walked into the office here Monday and found the Old Man deeply depressed. The friend said, "Hello, Old Man, what's the matter?" Old Man—"Oh, just the 7th—she's interfering with my office matters; just now she's hired me a new secretary." Friend—"Well, there's nothing wrong with her engaging a new secretary for you. Is she blonde or brunette?" Old Man—"He's bald."

Nature must be a pretty wise old guy—it provided two eyes, two ears and only one mouth for us humans, but most of us don't take the hint to look long, listen longer—and shut up quick.
