Following is the new designation for Mills County:

In MILLS COUNTY the following described roads are hereby designated as FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS subject to the availability of funds under the terms of Senate Bill No. 287 and subject to the condition that Mills County will furnish all required right-of-way free of cost to the State:

Jimmy Caraway of Austin was home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ples Caraway last week between semesters.

Restrictions On The Use Of Water Are Removed—New Well Brought In

On last Sunday morning water from the new well was turned into the system. Since that time elevated storage has been filled, thus enabling us to print this notice.

Production of new well has been tested at 150 gallons per minute, which far exceeds any previous expectations. The output of this well is proof positive that the test hole drilling in 1945 has begun to pay off.

Pump in place in new well is only temporary and is capable of only half of wells capacity. This pump was used by Layne Texas Company for test and has been borrowed until new pump is delivered, which should be in next ten days.

Pipe line and power supply were rushed into place because of the emergency. The Lone Star Gas Company very generously placed their equipment at the City's disposal and deserve the thanks of the citizenship.

The City Council and Utility management wish to thank all of you for your unselfish cooperation in helping curtail the use of water during the shortage; and hope that no new condition will arise to cause anxiety.

NOTICE:

The 1949 Goldthwaite Annals have arrived. The staff will be at the Home Economics building from two to four o'clock Friday afternoon. Please bring your receipts.

SINGING DAY

This coming Sunday will be singing day at the Church of the Nazarene at 2:30 in the afternoon and we are looking forward to a great time. A special invitation is extended to singers every where to come and take part in leading or singing special songs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Karnes, Mrs. Jim Rudd, Mrs. A. D. Karnes, and Miss Clara Karnes spent the week end in Fort Worth. Mrs. A. D. Karnes and Miss Clara remained for a longer visit.

Mohair Market Research Project Is Under Way Now, Says TSGA Secty.

The following letter is self-explanatory:
Mr. Hollis Blackwell
Goldthwaite, Texas.
Dear Hollis:

This is just to let you know that the Mohair Market Research project is underway. A contract for this important work has been signed by the Marketing Research Branch of the U. S. D. A.'s Production and Marketing Administration and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association as co-sponsors. A private concern, the Ralph E. Burgess Services, Inc., New York City, will do the actual research work.

This research project will cost $30,000. The U. S. D. A. is putting up $20,000 and the mohair producers through this Association are putting up $10,000.

As our quota must be raised and deposited with the U. S. D. A. not later than July 29, you can see that we have only a few days left.

We will greatly appreciate your contacting your growers so that the balance of the $500 quota for Mills, Hamilton and Brown Counties can be sent to this office by July 26.

Sincerely yours,
ERNEST WILLIAMS,
Secretary.

Mills County Farmers Make Tour Of Blackland Experiment Station

Nineteen cooperators of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District from the Goldthwaite work unit area made a tour of the Blackland Experiment Station, Temple, Texas, on Monday, July 18th. George G. Reese County Agent of Mills county arranged for the tour and Dr. J. R. Johnston conducted the group over the experiment station. All of these cooperators had planted Madrid clover and were interested in the work the Experiment Station at Temple was doing with sweet clover for grazing and soil improvement.

Dr. Johnston recommended sweet clover for the blackland because of the extensive root system that opens up the sub-soil. Madrid and Evergreen clover are recommended because they have a more extensive root system, longer growing season, provide better grazing and add more organic matter to the soil than Hubam sweet clover.

The group saw fat steers on grazing plots where the value of small grain and clover for grazing was being studied.

"Sowing small grain and Madrid clover together in the fall is a sound conservation practice," Dr. Johnston says, "because the land has a protective cover during the months of April, May and June when erosion hazards are the greatest. The clover adds nitrogen to the soil, opens the sub-soil and builds up the organic content of the top soil."

The group saw how they were using the clover in a rotation. Small grain and clover were sown in the fall with 200 lbs. superphosphate. The grain was harvested in June and the clover was allowed to grow for summer and winter grazing. The land was plowed in March and prepared for cotton planting around May first. With this rotation, the land is protected with an effective cover seventy-five percent of the time. Dr. Johnston stressed the importance of using phosphate with sweet clover and early fall planting. He had proof that clover grown in the same drill with small grain did not winter kill or heave and he showed the group a drill that was specially prepared to sow the clover with small grain and phosphate.

In the afternoon the group studied variety tests on grain sorghums, corn and cotton.

Those attending the tour were as follows: Supervisors J. H. Priddy, W. A. Hill and Vernon Carr of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation district; Euel Priddy, C. L. Evans, Edwin Druickhammer, Arthur Gromatzky, Jeel Christenson, Priddy, R. C. McCollum, Lake Merritt; David Walters, Pleasant Grove; E. H. Haggood, Floyd Sykes, Big Valley; Kyle Smith, J. E. Smith, Prairie; Charles Hill, South Bennett; George G. Reese, County Agent; Ben R. Day, Charles Haenisch and Greely Ricketts of the Soil Conservation Service.

A & M Extension Service Expert Tells How To Exterminate Flies

4-H YOUTHS SAVE TRACTOR FUEL

Two million gallons of tractor fuel will be saved this year by 30,000 rural boys and girls as a direct result of putting into daily use practices recommended in the National 4-H Tractor Maintenance program, according to a recent analysis. Potential value of the program was estimated by an oil company official when he stated that if some three million American farm tractor operators had a chance to learn the 4-H way of tractor care, 200 million gallons of tractor fuel could be saved annually.

It was pointed out that in these days of declining farm prices, reducing labor costs by means of efficient tractor operation could make the difference between profit and loss in the farming business. One 4-H boy summed up the object of the tractor maintenance program in a few words when he said, "A good-running tractor means more cash in the pocket."

Texas 4-H Club members not only bring benefits to the farm through skillful tractor operation, but they also have an opportunity to compete for various individual awards. At the end of each year records are submitted to the Extension office where they are scored on the basis of accomplishment. The Stanolind Oil and Gas company, sponsor of the program in Texas, provides sterling silver medals for county winners; a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for state champion, and $300 scholarships for 4-H'ers having the best records in the nation.

Since the project was first inaugurated on a national scale in 1945, more than 110,000 Club members have learned how to keep a tractor in top-notch working order the year 'round. To do the job, 11,500 Club leaders in 41 states were trained in special tractor clinics set up throughout the country for this program.

Herman Schneiderjan of Gallesville won Cooke county and state honors in 1948. Silver medals were awarded to 119 other county winners. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the program.

Mrs. Lucile Fairman was called to San Antonio last week on account of the serious illness of her brother, Norman Grisham, who passed away in the Baptist Memorial hospital July 14, after an illness of several weeks.

College Station. —Sanitation is the number one item in a successful fly control program. Insecticidal treatment is of little or no value unless a thorough job of cleaning up all fly breeding places is done, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College.

It is a known fact, adds Deer, that flies carry the germs of many diseases and with the increasing amount of polio in the state it is more important than ever to get rid of the flies and other insects that may be carriers of the disease.

Deer says, if DDT is not giving good results, try a 2 percent chlordane household spray. It should get the flies as well as other insect that are bothersome in and around the house.

Premises should be kept clean at all times. Keep garbage in covered containers and keep the lids on these containers. Clean up and destroy breeding places around the farmstead and don't expect the insecticides to do the entire job. They'll help, says Deer, but there is nothing that can be substituted for cleanliness, but he concludes, if you mix the two together in liberal proportions and use them, you can keep flies under control.

One treatment is not enough and if complete control is to be maintained, constant watch must be kept to see that the flies are kept in their place and the only good fly is a dead fly.

"Just as our forefathers had to take care of their savings so that they would be available when needed, so must we see that our savings under this government plan are taken care of. This is done by making sure that the employer sees the social security card when a worker takes a job. The wage earner should contact the Social Security Administration office when he becomes 65 or when a member of his family who has a social security card dies."

Miss Norma Sue Ross visited friends in San Marcos over the week end.

Miss Mary Collier of Waco spent the week end in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Collier.

EIGHTY MILLION WORKERS HAVE OLD-AGE CREDITS

"Eighty million living workers have acquired credits under old-age and survivors insurance, the Federal insurance system," James B. Marley, manager of the Austin office of the Social Security Administration disclosed today.

"This mass saving is the modern way of satisfying our traditional instinct for securing ourselves against a rainy day. It is the national nest egg. It is the bulwark of the working man against his fear of leaving at his death a widow and orphan penniless, or of facing a destitute old age. It is social security in action," he said.

"Old-age and survivors insurance under the Social Security Act provides a means whereby a worker puts up a portion of his wages as a saving when he be-

Your Job at Home

Food storage, as every homemaker knows, is an important part of housekeeping. Nutritional values of foods are frequently lost and spoilage results through improper refrigerator care. And there is no better way to protect the vitamin content and prevent drying out than by wrapping in Sylvania cellophane. membered as one of the best. The story was taken from Robert Carson's Saturday Evening Post serial. It deals with an escapade in the career of Dee Dee Dillwood, the world's wealthiest and most unpredictable orphan. Dee Dee can never decide what to do about men until she encounters Marvin Payne. Marvin, portrayed by Stewart, is a good aviator but a financial failure. The gay adventure begins on Dee Dee's wedding night. She abandons her bridegroom in New York and starts for Los Angeles in Marvin's cargo plane.

How the scrupulous Marvin, who refuses to accept unearned riches, finally wiles under Dee Dee's magic spell, has been depicted with devastating effect. Comical scenes aboard the plane and the forced landing in an Oklahoma wilderness are vastly entertaining.

"BELLE STARR'S DAUGHTER"
Top-flight entertainment, exciting and action-packed in a refreshing new way, came to the Melba Theatre yesterday with the showing of "Belle Starr's Daughter," a new Twentieth Century-Fox release starring George Montgomery, Rod Cameron and Ruth Roman.

Here is a picture that opens up new horizons in the colorful story of the West, and reveals them with a power and drama far above any "Western" you've ever seen on the screen before. Its film play, written by W. R. Burnett of "High Sierra" fame, "Belle Starr's Daughter" is free of stereotyped situations and dialogue, and emerges as a rich slice of adventure, drama and romance in the most exciting era in the annals of the great Southwest.

When Rose, high-spirited daughter of the legendary Bandit Queen of Cherokee Flats, took to the path of banditry to avenge the murder of her mother, she set the spark to one of the bitterest wars that ever brought terror and death to that fabulous territory known to historians as the Cimarron. This is her story, and the story of the fight that was to pit a determined U. S. Marshal against the Southwest's most dangerous bandit in a battle in which Rose herself was to emerge as the prize.

 It was while we were eating breakfast Monday morning that we heard Bert Low say that Louis Honea was dead and the funeral would be at ten thirty. At once we felt that we must be there.
 When we came to this country in 1888, the Honeas had preceded us by five years. They lived first at Elkins. It was there that Louis lost his father, and he, at an early age, became head of the family. About the time we came here, the Honeas were living a few miles north of the Buffalo schoolhouse, and the younger Honea children attended school there. Later they bought a home near Indian Creek, and they lived there till they moved to Brownwood.
 Mr. Honea was one of the best-loved and most worthwhile men of this part of the country.
 He was an ardent lover of song, and was one of the best song leaders we have ever had. He was always at the community gatherings, at church, at singings, at funerals, always ready to play the organ or lead the singing. In 1898 he married Miss Lomi Stinson of Indian Creek. She was also a singer, and they often sang together.
 Mr. Louis became very useful to these communities around here when he began to buy cattle from all the little farms.
 Some years ago I heard my brother,
 Jim Wilmeth, say that

Louis was a man you liked to deal with. He never smoked, he never cussed, he was always pleasant, he was always fair, and he regarded his word as good as his bond.
 When we reached the Methodist Church at Brownwood, we found so many cars we could hardly find a place to park. Inside the church, the floral offering was beautiful, the singing was beautiful, and we caught glimpses of many familiar faces. Among those we got to talk to after services were Mrs.
 Lena Crowder, Gene Meeks, and Miss Otie Wilson of Brooksmith.

We had dinner with Mrs. Jim Honea and Mrs. Horace Reynolds. Two lovable characters, who were among the earliest pioneers of this Ebony Community.

Our WASHINGTON Letter
 By Congressman O. C. FISHER

A measure designed to go a long way toward meeting the need for more adequate rural telephone service passed the House last week.
 The bill authorizes the Rural Electrification Administration to make loans for the expansion and improvement of rural telephone service under the same terms and conditions which REA has employed for many years in making loans for rural electrification. It is not a bill for government ownership or operation of telephone facilities. On the contrary, it provides that funds shall be made available on identical terms to private corporations, public agencies, and cooperatives, gives persons now operating telephone facilities a clear preference over all other types of applicants, and preserves to the utmost the authority of State regulatory bodies over rates, service, and service areas.
 The Committee hearings disclosed that only 42% of American farms now have telephones.
 In Texas the percentage is only 17.6%, as of 1945, according to the U. S. Census of Agriculture.

 Under this proposal, sponsored by Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, the money for loans would be handed exactly as REA loans are now made. The money is borrowed by the Government at a low rate of interest and then re-loaned to the rural telephone applicants. The program will, therefore not cost the taxpayers anything, and will be administered by the present REA set-up.

Among recent callers at our office have been Mr. and Mrs.
 W. E. Cantrell, of Eden; Capt.
 and Mrs. J. M. Inks and Mrs.
 Roy Inks, of Llano; Russell
 Hughes and Dave Davis, Homer Jordan Jr. of San Angelo. The Cantrells were accompanied by Miss Pearl Curry and Mrs. Mostella and Jimmie Curry of Paint Rock. Their tour took them into Canada and thence back to New York where Mr. Cantrell will attend the Lions International convention.

It's hard to fool a rabbit. The only people we ever knew personally who could tell from the outside whether a watermelon was good inside were a couple of professional watermelon graders for the state department of agriculture in Oklahoma.
 But the old timers say a rabbit won't chew on a bad melon and that if you can find tooth marks of the right kind on a rind, it's a safe bet. There's some question about how long a melon will stay good after it's pulled, but that depends upon several things, and you can usually tell how long it has been out of the field by looking at the stem.
 Now the kids will have a good reason to save the Easter bunnies over until July.

Pigs sired by a registered boar experts are saying now. This should more than pay the cost of the purebred boar.

For the first time, probably, in the history of either hogs or television, a registered Hampshire boar was seen on WBAP-TV this week. It was T. J. Har-

If enough livestock were allowed to graze Johnson grass at the proper time in its growth, there'd be a lively market for the seed in a few years.

THE SOULES REUNION

All the surviving children of the late F. M. and Florence Soules of Star, met on July 4th at the Will Boykin creek. This being the first time they have all been together in several years, was a very dear occasion for all.

The crowd started to come in around 10 A. M. and continued to arrive during the afternoon. Several spent most of the night before driving in order to be here. The majority of the people were related, in some way. There were approximately 145 present.

It was rather amusing to listen to our fathers and mothers relate some of the old happenings. Mr. Smith of Lampasas told of teaching his first school at Knox School in 1907-8, at which time several of the SOULES KIDS were striving with the 3 Rs.

Lunch was served under the shade of large pecan trees, and on the bank of the creek, where a long picnic table was prepared. Every one ate until they were miserable, and still had food left. After lunch, the children went swimming. Some made pictures, others just visited, and the rest played baseball. It is surprising how some of the daddys and even grand-daddys can run. Some of them over 60 years old, but I mustn't tell their names.

Those of you who were not present missed a time, and we hope you will make plans now to be at the next meeting on July 4th, 1950.

The following persons gave their names; I hope no one was overlooked:

REBURIAL RITES FOR JAMES THOS. OWENS

JAMES THOMAS OWENS

Re-burial services for James Thomas Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Owens of Center City, were held on July 15, 1949, at the Center City Methodist Church with interment in the Center City Cemetery. The Rev. Roy Hilliard, district superintendent of Kerrville District, assisted by Rev. Hogan, pastor of the Center City Methodist Church, conducted the services. Pall bearers were his cousins: Glen Geeslin, Larry McCasland and Dale McCasland of Goldthwaite; Thurman Head and Silas Price of Lometa; and Melvin Landers of Abilene.

Mrs. John Berry of Goldthwaite, played the piano, and Merlin McAnelly of Lometa played taps at the cemetery.

Prior to these services, a brief service was held in the home for the benefit of his grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Owens.

James Thomas Owens was born December 24, 1925, at Center City, attended school at Center City and Star, and joined the Methodist Church at twelve years of age. In July 1944, he volunteered for military service, was accepted and inducted into the army on July 24, 1944. He received his basic training at Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells, Texas, and sailed from Fort Ord, California, early in January, 1945. He was put in a Casual Company that stopped in the Marianas Islands for a short period of training. Around the first of May he arrived on Okinawa and was put in the 7th Division. On the 24th of May, 1945, he was killed in action at the age of nineteen years and five months, having served in the army ten months to the day. His lieutenant, Raymond L. Spear, and his sergeant, Lester Pierson of Palestine, report that James was always cheerful and good natured throughout his combat days and that he died instantly from a sniper's bullet.

Accompanied by military escort, Sergeant Pierce of Chicago, James' body arrived in Goldthwaite by train on the morning of July 15, 1949, and was taken to the home of his parents where it lay among a bountiful array of beautiful flowers as a host of friends and relatives gathered to pay loving tribute to the memory of one whose life exemplified so perfectly those high qualities which make life worthwhile: loyalty and devotion to home and family, and service and sacrifice for community and country.

James is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Owens; a sister, Virginia Owens McCasland; three brothers, Sammie, Davis, and John Howard; two grandmothers, Mrs. Tom Venable and Mrs. J. T. Owens; and many other relatives.

TAKE YOUR FAMILY TO SUNDAY SCHOOL
WANT TO BE A GOOD PARENT?

Of course, there's only one answer. Here's your family. So much with you. Forever "on-the-go" and also "on-the-grow."

And here are you right at the center of it all. Trying to make ends meet, squeezing past one tight place after another. No let up. Don't you ever get tired? If I could pass out orchids!—but that's something else. Let's put it this way: you fathers and mothers do a perfectly grand job. Considering the toughness of the times. Considering the rocky time you have keeping up with your youngsters. Considering how everybody feels free to jump on you and blame you for almost anything and everything.

Being good parents isn't easy—not this year!

You have some time felt the restfulness that comes in church? Bowed down when others did? Helped swell the volume of song? Listened to the words from the Book? Felt the jangling nerves go quiet? Forgotten some of the worries? Grown strong? Built up fresh courage? Felt good?

But—just suppose now for a moment that you had never been given that chance!

Not a nice thought. Not true to the facts either. For somebody saw to it in your early years—they gave you this. And now—this week and every week—you can give this to those who belong to you.

Want to be a good parent? Take Your Family to Sunday School.

—Dr. Grace Sloan Overton, LL.D.

GOOD NEWS—BUT!

In each of the first five months of this year, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, fire losses declined in relation to losses in the same months in 1948. The May decrease was nearly nine per cent. Total losses for the five months were better than 10 per cent less than for the same period last year.

This is good news. But it certainly doesn't give us cause to pat ourselves on the backs and say that the fight against fire is now being won. Our fire waste for the 12 months which ended May 31, is estimated at more than $676,000,000. That includes an allowance for uninsured and unreported losses—but it does not and cannot cover the indirect loss which fire causes, in the form of unemployment, declines in business production and so on. Then, above and beyond this economic waste, there is the grim fact that fire took thousands of lives during that past year, and disfigured and maimed many thousands more. A large proportion of the victims of fire are children, which makes the situation more horrible still.

Right With God
Lesson for July 24, 1949

"GET RIGHT with God" is an expression which has been sometimes used by people. It is not a coarse or cheap idea. It is the most important thing you can do. Think what it means to be wrong with God! That means to be out of harmony with his will, going "across the grain of reality" as the old Greeks used to say. To be wrong with God means to be a rebel against reality, to have the power of the universe working against you, and so to be headed for sure destruction. Wrong with God, you cannot win. Right with God, you cannot lose. To be right with God means to be in line with the purpose that runs through all things; it means in the simple language of the Bible, to live as a child of God.

Dr. Foreman

There are two ways in which man can come into line, so to speak, with God. One is by being whipped into it, and the other is by a free act of will. The poet of the 32nd Psalm begs his readers not to be like mules or colts (Ps. 32:9). These animals can be broken and controlled by their masters. But they do not understand what is going on, and if left to themselves they would never serve.

They have to be caught, harnessed and driven. But God does not want to treat human beings like that. Getting right with God is not a business of getting into harness, being beaten into walking on the right road.

That is not God's way. He pleads with us through his inspired poet: Be not as mules—be men!

Facing Up to Yourself
THE short good Bible word for being wrong with God is Sin. The very first step toward being right with God is to see yourself as you are. No one ever went to a doctor till he at least suspected he was sick. No one ever went to school of his own accord who thought he knew everything. And no one will come to God who thinks he is as good as he needs to be. When life goes hard with us, when everything about our life seems twisted and rotten, we make all sorts of excuses for ourselves, we lay the blame on our parents or our friends or the social and economic system in which we live (doubtless all these have a share in creating our troubles), but we hate to look at ourselves in the mirror of truth.

This comes first: recognizing our own wrongness, not just weakness but wrongness. When we reach the point where we can say with the Psalmist, "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me," then we are on the right road.

"Hide Thy Face"
THERE are two things we never hear about in the Bible. One is that God never forgave anyone who did not repent, and the other is that he refused to forgive any one who did repent. But repentance is not merely regretting that a wrong was done; still less regretting being caught. Repentance, the kind the Bible describes (as in these Psalms for example), means a complete change of attitude, it means coming over on God's side and seeing the way he sees it, seeing life the way he sees it.

God's forgiveness is not of the grudging, remembering, reminding kind. But condoning and forgiving are still a world apart. Condoning means saying in effect, It is all right, it makes no difference, you can go on sinning for all I care.

Some human "forgiveness" may be like that, but not God's. His forgiveness is based on real repentance, and the aim of it is to save the sinner from his sin.

Plebeous in Mercy
THE Psalmists saw clearly what the kind of God we have. He is not like the holder of a mortgage waiting till the first time some payment is deferred gives him a chance to pounce down and evict his tenant. We are not criminals against whom God is a prosecuting attorney, trying to pile up evidence against us "If thou shouldst mark iniquities who shall stand?" We are children, lost and wandering children, rebellious and disobedient children, but still children; and God holds open the door of mercy.

Mills Soil Conservation Dist.
Prize From State Office

Chairman of the Soil Conservation District, State Office of the Soil Conservation Service, Washington, D. C., has awarded a $100 prize to the Mills Soil Conservation District for the best soil conservation plan in the state. The prize was presented to the district at a meeting of the State Soil Conservation Committee on July 19, 1949. The plan, prepared by the district's conservationist, Carl W. Walsler, and approved by the district board, was praised for its thoroughness and practicality. The plan calls for the establishment of a conservation district in the Mills area, which would be responsible for the conservation and improvement of the soil in the area. The plan also calls for the establishment of a conservation district in the Mills area, which would be responsible for the conservation and improvement of the soil in the area.

Veterans' Land Program Now In Effect; Co. Judge Has Blank Forms

County Judge Lewis B. Porter, who is also Service Officer for Harry F. Edmondson Post American Legion, was in Austin last week and called on Commissioner of the General Land Office, Bascom Giles, chairman of the Veterans' Land Board, and obtained literature and application and contract blanks for Mills County World War II veterans who might wish to buy land under the program passed by the last Legislature. Any Mills County veteran who is interested should see Mr. Porter. One application has already been sent in from this county. The Veterans' Land Board members are Mr. Giles, the Governor of Texas, and the Attorney General. Veterans having a service-connected disability sustained in combat will receive a 90-day priority. Veterans do not have to live on the land, and may buy any amount from 20 acres up to the $7,500 limit. Following are some questions and answers concerning the new law: Q.—Who can buy land under the veterans land program? A.—Any Texan who served at least 90 days in World War II and still resides in Texas. Q.—What do I have to do to get started? A. First—Find the land you want, if it's for sale, find out the price, and then write Alvis Vondygriff, Executive Secretary of the Veteran's Land Board, General Land Office, Austin. Q.—How much do I pay down? A.—You must pay 5% of the total up to $7,500. For instance, you pay $375 cash on a $7,500 farm. The interest rate is 3% for 40 years. Q.—Can I pay more than $7,500? A.—Yes, you can receive veterans' Aid on purchases up to $10,000, but the Veterans Land Board will pay only $7,500, minus your 5 per cent. Q. What land can I buy? A.—You can buy any farm or grazing land from anybody, if appraiser OK's the value. The Veterans' Board will buy it and resell to you at the same price. Preference—Veterans having service-connected disability sustained in combat have a 90-day priority. Write for particulars.

Board will pay only $7,500, minus your 5 per cent.

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 24.

The Golden Text is: "Teach me thy way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth" (Psalms 86:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Psalms 25:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Science will declare God aright, and Christianity will demonstrate this declaration and its divine Principle, making mankind better physically, morally, and spiritually" (page 466).

Allan Shivers Has Lead Over Field In 1950 Texas Governor's Race

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll
AUSTIN, Texas, July 16.—The elevation of Allan Shivers to the governorship by the death of Governor Beauford Jester is bound to improve his chances for the Democratic nomination in 1950. But even before fate thrust upon him the job of chief executive, he already had the inside track to win it in next year's elections.

Twice in recent months The Texas Poll has conducted statewide surveys to measure the relative popularity of prospective candidates for governor. Both times Shivers placed first. The most recent survey was completed just one week before Governor Jester died. A cross section of qualified voters was shown seven names, listed in alphabetical order, and asked this question:

"Here are the names of some men who may run for Governor of Texas next year. Which one do you think would make the best governor?"

	July 1949
Allan Shivers	21%
Price Daniel	13
Olin Culberson	10
L. A. Woods	8
Bascom Giles	8
Caso March	5
Carlos Ashley	1
No opinion	34

Carlos Ashley, senate senator representing the Austin district, became the latest prospect in June when he announced he was seriously considering running for governor to put a stop to "gray-train government." His remarks were interpreted by political observers as a side-swipe at Shivers, then presiding over the senate as lieutenant governor.

Ashley's low standing in the poll is an indication that he is relatively unknown over the state.

The fact that Shivers will have had the advantage of more than a year in the office before next year's primaries may influence the final decision of some of the men who have been planning to enter the race.

Only Caso March, former Baylor University law professor, has committed himself publicly. Unsuccessful in two previous campaigns for governor, he has announced he will continue running until elected.

Until recently, Attorney General Price Daniel, Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson, and Land Commissioner Bascom Giles have all been regarded as almost certain candidates State Superintendent L. A. Woods on several occasions has remarked he may run since his job was abolished by the Gilmer-Aiken reform legislation.

The first "trial heat" by The Texas Poll on the 1950 governor's race was conducted in April, 1949, shortly after Woods had indicated he might run. At that time, a majority of the voters would not even express an opinion. Among those with opinions, however, Shivers had the most supporters.

The question was: "Which one of these men do you think would make the best governor?"

	April 1949
Allan Shivers	17%

Health Notes

POLIO
With the alarming total of 922 Texans having been attacked by the dread disease, poliomyelitis, 1949 bids fair to be the worst polio year the State has ever experienced, and health officials in every section of the State are exerting every effort to bring the disease under control.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has re-iterated his appeal for every citizen to cooperate in a continuous clean-up program, ridding their premises of all rubbish and trash piles, and any such filth as will afford breeding places for flies and other disease-spreading insects.

"This polio situation will never be controlled without the observance of stringent basic sanitation measures," the State Health Officer declared. "The filth on your premises may cause the disease to attack your neighbor; and the same condition on his premises may cause polio in your home. This problem of controlling polio is one demanding the closest possible cooperation, and until a program of continuous cleaning up is instituted and stringently enforced, we shall continue to face the menace of polio in all sections of the State."

Dr. Cox emphasized to parents whose children are suffering from poliomyelitis, the comforting knowledge that about 60 per cent of all cases of recognized polio recover completely, and at least 25 to 30 per cent of recognized cases recover with only minor disabling paralysis.

"Only about 8 per cent of polio victims develop the deadly bulbar type, which affects the nerves at the base, or 'bulb' of the brain," Dr. Cox said. "Most patients suffering from bulbar polio die within a very short time. But it is a comforting thought that 92 per cent of polio patients never develop bulbar polio, and make a partial, or in many cases, complete recovery and are restored to health."

For 200 years during the Middle Ages, most of the fighting was done by knights, and townspeople did not participate.

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON
Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson is chairman of a special committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

Joe Doakes was charged with robbery with a pistol. A jury found him guilty, and his sentence was fixed at 15 years in the penitentiary.

The indictment of Doakes read, in part, as follows: "that one Joe Doakes by assault and by violence with a firearm robbed one John Smith of one ten-cent piece..." However, when John Smith took the stand during the trial he testified that he actually had been robbed of two nickles instead of one dime. The jury saw no difference and promptly convicted Doakes.

The case was reversed by a higher court. Its ruling was that the proof did not meet the allegations against Doakes—simply because of the difference between two five-cent pieces and one ten-cent piece. The higher court ruled that Doakes was entitled to a new trial.

The State Bar favors revision of Texas' criminal statutes in such a way as to eliminate technicalities that result in delay and additional expenditures from public funds.

Anthrax Quarantine Will Have To Continue For Several Days Longer

SHERIFFS ARE GIVEN 3-POINT PROGRAM

Ways to improve the caliber of law enforcement were suggested to Texas sheriffs in their state convention at Dallas Tuesday.

District Attorney Will Wilson of Dallas told them to:

1. Adopt a code of ethics to lift their profession to a higher level.
2. Make their jobs more stable by working to raise the tenure of office from the elective two-year term to four years.
3. Work toward a revision of the Texas penal code.

"Your profession could be on a level, ideally, with that of the ministry, so important is the work you do," Wilson told them. "Only through law enforcement are citizens allowed to live at their present high level of human dignity."

GOLDTHWAITE CUBS TO PLAY EVANT A DOUBLE-HEADER

The Goldthwaite Cubs will take on Evant in a double-header at Municipal Ball Park here Sunday afternoon, beginning at 1:30, in a Cowhouse Basin League game.

The Cubs went to Hamilton last Sunday and beat their team to the tune of 16 to 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Auldridge had as their guests over the week end her mother, Mrs. Turner, and her brother, Fred and wife of Gatesville, two of her sisters, Mrs. Sullivan of Calif. and Mrs. Joe Wilkerson and husband of Copperas Cove, and their daughter, Mrs. Erroll Sheppard, husband and children of Crosbyton.

In deciphering secret messages, the assumption of probable clew words is often necessary.

The Quarantine for Anthrax that went on in the south west part of this County on June 23, will have to continue for several days longer, according to word from the Live Stock Sanitary Commission, owing to some minor complications which they hope will clear up in a few days.

Anthrax is recognized as one of the oldest and most destructive diseases recorded in history, we should ever keep in mind that it can be contracted by man as well as livestock, and is fatal when contracted in the worst form.

It is up to the people to do every thing possible to stamp this contagion out, and there are no known remedies except to destroy by fire everything that dies in the way of livestock and continue from year to year to vaccinate every head of livestock in the contaminated areas.

People should inform themselves about this deadly disease. The County Agent has treatises on it and can secure you any literature that you might want on anthrax.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Z. Woodard and children of Brady visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Featherston and his mother, Mrs. Woodard, this week.

Mrs. S. E. White from Mena, Ark., was here the latter part of last week visiting her brother, John Jackson, and family and other relatives.

OLD MAN 100

HORSE SENSE— Now, away back yonder us oldsters used to brag about our Horse Sense, which we had more of than any other kind. Old Hun, has often wondered just what Horse Sense meant. So, he's offering a 5-dollar cash prize and will print their picture in the paper for the best answers to the following question: (If nobody answers them, then o. h. reserves the right to win his own prize):

- 1—What is Horse Sense?
- 2—Do you think you have any?

3—Is it something them young college squirts need bad but haven't got any of?

4—Did them Houston people that ate in restaurants last year get more or less of it?

5—Which had you rather have, a lot of it or a lot of duller bills?

6—Do them gov't fellers need more of, less of, or about the same of?

7—Pass the dice—you missed your point.

AIN'T A-BRAGGIN'—

Now, O. H. don't like to be bragging on his own self all the time—he wants his readers to brag on him—which they ain't to date. However, if any reader should want to brag on o. h. eny, here's something: Now Old 100rt may not be the 1st, 2nd, 3rd or 4th smartest man in the country, but he has had some mat experiences that could be bragged on some. He's had 7 tries with 7 of them FFF's (Funny Feminine Females) which he jokingly called the Softer Sex until last week the 7th slapped him in the mouth and he decided them FFF's may have soft heads but not fists—they ain't all-over softies. To live to be what they call a ripe old age, a man has to have lots of nagging, straight talkin' to, abuse, plenty slappings and things to keep him allus in the prime of condition — and 7 different wives will get him a good variety of these, and more. Now, this advice ain't for them movie stars, who already change spouses nearly every time they change their UU's (under-mentionedables), or at least every time they change to a new picture.

MIXED UP—

A close contender for the title of the world's most absent-minded man often would call a taxi when his own car was waiting for him. When the cabbie asked him where he wanted to go he would frequently give his telephone number. Once when he left his apartment he left a note which read: "Will be back in fifteen minutes." When he got back to the apartment he saw the sign and sat down to wait for himself. He finally realized who he was and opened the door and walked in. He kissed the cat good evening and then put out his wife. He got half a ham from the ice-box, carefully tucked it in bed, then climbed into the ice-box and went to sleep.

And when a friend asked O. H.: "What are you raising in your garden this year?" O. H. told him: "Johnson's Plymouth Rocks, Brown's Leghorns, and Smith's Wyandottes."

And, after you git past a hunter, the Distant Future quickly becomes the Ancient Past.
