Duren Announces Red Cross Nears 1951 Fund Goal

Volunteer workers for the Mills County Chapter of the American Red Cross so far have raised $1,792.73 toward the Country's 1951 quota of $2,800.00, Warren P. Duren, General Campaign Director, announced as the Eagle went to press.

Pointing out that the campaign is scheduled to close tomorrow, Saturday, Mr. Duren requested that workers who have not yet reported to him do so as soon as possible so that the drive for funds may be concluded on schedule.

In Goldthwaite Ray Duren, City Chairman, said that $1,203.68 of a quota of $1,295.00 has been raised. He said that his collections were not quite complete and he was confident that Goldthwaite would exceed its quota.

Complete reports have been received from Scallorn where, under the chairmanship of M. F. Hines, the quota was exceeded by $14.00. Pompey Mountain, Ralph Duren, Chairman, exceeded its quota by $11.50. Other complete reports have been received from W. A. Triplett of Pompey Creek, David Watters of Pleasant Grove, Sam Edington of Regency, Mrs. C. W. Daniel of Rock Springs, C. A. Page of Big Valley, and S. M. McCasland of Center City.

Reports have not yet been received from Enoch Godwin of Long Cove, Mrs. V. C. Segelquist of Payne Gap, Mrs. Rex Clifton of Star, R. H. Williams of Caradan, James Aldridge of Democrat, the Rev. A. H. Muelbrad of Priddy, and Lowell Burkes of Mt. Olive. Only a partial report has been received from Glynn Sanders of Mullin.

General Chairman Duren said that when all of his co-chairmen had reported he was hopeful. (Continued on Back Page.)

Eagle's Franklin Dew Weathers Is In The Navy Now

Back in the summer of 1945 a little shaver eleven years old who could reach the job presses only by standing on tip-toe came to work on the Goldthwaite Eagle. This week, now grown to man's estate, he arrived at the United States Naval Training Station at San Diego, California, donned the uniform of his Uncle Sam, and started through the routine of boot camp. The Eagle lost Franklin Dew Weathers and his country gained a printer and started making a sailor of him.

The week before last our Franklin—he will always be the Eagle's "Our Franklin"—went to Dallas to enlist, after having been processed in Goldthwaite by Navy recruiters from Brownwood. His papers were not quite in order and Franklin, the son of County Treasurer Bertha Weathers, came back home to confer with his mother, with County Clerk Earl Summy—and to stand around gleefully doing nothing while he watched the Eagle staff get out last week's newspaper. Late last week Franklin went back to Dallas clutching a new sheaf of papers and wearing a green cow poke's hat, a vivid green shirt, tight blue jeans, cowboy boots and a broad leather belt around his slim middle.

On Monday morning of this week the Goldthwaite Post Office delivered a postcard that

SOUTHWEST STATES TELEPHONE COMPANY ASSISTS IN GREATLY ADVANCING PLANS OF REA AND CEN-TEX TELEPHONE COOPERATIVE

A pledge of cooperation by the Southwestern States Telephone Company has resulted in assurance by the Rural Electrification Administration that the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative will receive a federal loan to be used in establishing modern, dial telephone service in rural areas of nine Counties, it was announced this week by Willis A. Hill of Goldthwaite, President of the Co-op.

The attitude of the Southwestern States Telephone Company was stated for the record on Friday night of last week when its representatives met in Goldthwaite with the officers and directors of the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative.

"In recognition that the public interest is paramount, we have agreed not to interfere in any way in the plans of the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative," General Manager D. T. Strickland and Division Manager John D. Allen said in a statement in behalf of the Southwestern States Telephone Company.

"As a result of the meeting between the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative and the Southwestern States Telephone Company, the rural people in this area will receive a loan from the Rural Electrification Administration and subsequently they will receive good telephone service much sooner than otherwise would have been possible," Robert E. Beeghly and E. G. Ammons said in behalf of the telephone division of the R. E. A. Mr. Beeghly is Loan Appraiser and Mr. Ammons is a Field Representative of the telephone division of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Along with Mr. Strickland and Mr. Allen they met last Friday night with Mr. Kill, Vice President Warren P. Duren, Secretary Ernest E. Wilson and Directors Walter Marwitz and Delton Barnett of the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative, which has processed applications for service in Mills, Brown, Coleman, Hamilton, Coryell, San Saba, McCulloch, Lampasas and Comanche Counties.

Following the meeting, Mr. Beeghly and Mr. Ammons said that the attitude of the Southwestern States Telephone Company toward the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative was "the most liberal that we have encountered on the part of any telephone company."

Clean-Up Week Starts On Monday; City Ready To Truck Away Debris

When next Monday morning rolls around the City of Goldthwaite will be ready with trucks and men to cart away rubbish that all householders and landowners are expected to rake up the most successful Goldthwaite ever has had so that no unsightly spots will remain. Mr. Barnett said that the City is ready to do its part and in order to do the disposal job with dispatch will provide either extra trucks or extra men so that accumulations of debris may be moved away quickly.

The Garden Club's Civic Committee has made several surveys of conditions within the City limits. Scores of examples of commendable work on lawns and gardens were cited by Mrs. Horton, who also noted many improvements, including painting and repairs, to homes and business establishments. It was also noted, however, that many vacant lots continue to present a most deplorable appearance and she expressed hope that the owners or those responsible for them will take advantage of Clean-Up Week and the facilities that the City will provide to make it successful.

Week's Rainfall Measures Up To As Much As An Inch And A Half

Breaking a dry spell that would have been one of the longest and most serious on record if it had not been for snow and sleet late in January and early in February, blessed rain fell on Mills County during the past week.

Starting early Monday morning before most people were awake, the rain continued intermittently throughout the day. There were some drizzles on Tuesday and just at dusk on Tuesday night most of Goldthwaite was deluged by both rain and hail. The Tuesday night storm was of short duration but in most sections of Goldthwaite the hail fell in sufficient quantity to make the ground white for a few minutes before it melted.

As for how much precipitation there was, it all depends on where the rain gauges were located. Harry Allen measured the rainfall as .72 of an inch. Tuesday's rainfall, including the hail, was measured by Mr. Allen at .32 of an inch.

Radio Installed In Sheriff's Car Aids Efficiency

Two-way radio communication was installed on Tuesday of this week in the car of Mills County Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield, thereby enabling him to maintain constant touch with other law enforcement officers.

The FM equipment was made possible by appropriations by the Commissioners Court of Mills County, the City of Goldthwaite, and by funds that were raised by the Goldthwaite Lions Club.

With a microphone through which he can speak himself and by means of an amplifier through which he can hear others, Sheriff Stubblefield now is in communication with the Brownwood Police Department and the office of the Brown County Sheriff. Through them he is able at all times to communicate with the Highway Patrol of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Soon he will also be in communication with the Sheriff of Comanche County, for whom similar equipment is being installed.

"It works just fine," Sheriff Stubblefield said of the equipment, which was installed to provide greater efficiency in law enforcement.

REFRESHING TELEPHONE COOPERATION - IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

It may make you blink when you realize what has happened but the fact is, as a first page news account in this week's Eagle reports, that the Southwestern States Telephone Company has placed the public interest first and foremost in its attitude toward the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative.

We believe that it has been a long, long time since anything so important occurred as last Friday night's meeting between the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative's officers and directors on the one hand and General Manager D. T. Strickland and Division Manager John D. Allen of the Southwestern States Telephone Company on the other.

As result of the cooperative attitude that was displayed by Mr. Strickland and Mr. Allen, the telephone division of the Rural Electrification Administration was able to give definite assurance that rural residents in Mills, San Saba, McCulloch, Comanche, Brown, Hamilton, Coleman, Coryell and Lampasas Counties will receive good telephone service much sooner than otherwise would have been possible.

News of that sort is tremendously important not only to ranchers and farmers who do not have telephone service but will have it soon; it is important also to a trading and communications center such as Goldthwaite, where a headquarters building to house the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative already has been leased for a term of 15 years.

Modern communication is responsible for much of mankind's progress. There are few places that can be described as "backlands" any longer. Down here where we live there are many people who can remember when roads did not run past their doors. There still are too many people who cannot reach a telephone without driving to it—in some cases considerable distances. But more progress due to technical advancement is to be made right here very soon thanks to the initiative of those who organized the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative, to the position that the Southwestern States Telephone Company has taken in the public interest, and to the fact that the necessary funds will be made available through the telephone division of the Rural Electrification Administration.

This is NOT socialism. The loan to be provided by the R.E.A. is to be repaid by the members of the telephone cooperative—who actually are stockholders in an enterprise that has been created for service rather than for profit.

For many months we have been cheering the persistence and the efficiency with which the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative has been working to make a dream come true. We now send up a loud and lusty cheer for the Southwestern States Telephone Company for its readiness to help rather than obstruct. Officials of the R.E.A.'s telephone division have described the attitude of the Southwestern States Telephone Company quite accurately as "the most liberal" that they have encountered in negotiations with any such concern—negotiations that were made necessary by regulations providing that communications systems may not operate parallel lines in competition; on the grounds that such competition would be wasteful and not in the public interest.

Benefit will redound to this and many other communities because of the latest developments in the march of the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative along the road to realization of plans. Vision has been set aglow by cooperation—and if that is not good news, then we never hope to find any. Congratulations all around—they certainly are due.

GOOD CITIZENS VOTE

One of the tests of good citizenship is the individual citizen's exercise of his right to vote. There will be city elections in Goldthwaite on April 3 and there will be school elections in Mills County on April 7. Enough said.

(Editor's Note: One of the most widely discussed of recently published articles was written by Merrill Mueller, radio commentator, for Quill—a magazine for journalists published by our fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi. In his article Mr. Mueller, who has been a friend of General Eisenhower for many years, asked: "Which Party Will Draft Ike First?" Because of the great interest in the subject, we reprint the article in full from the March issue of Quill.)

By MERRILL MUELLER

President Truman made a deal with General Eisenhower to make Ike available for the presidential campaign of 1952.

The Chief Executive told Ike that one Harry Truman did not want to be accused of exiling a potentially powerful contender for the honors of the White House.

Ike told me this during a private meeting in Denver last December. None of our talk was off the record, but some of it must still be restricted at this time because of the General's foreign commitments.

Ike also told me—in contradiction to his written replies to my letters over the past five years—that he would run in 1952 if drafted by one of the political parties.

About the same time, President Truman told friends around him in Washington—several of whom I have talked with since—that Ike could have the presidency if he wanted it. Mr. Truman was said to be thinking of a more restful form of public service as an elder statesman in Congress.

Here on the West Coast, where coalitions are best exemplified in the successful figure of Governor Earl Warren of California, an Eisenhower-Warren slate is often discussed unofficially as the best vote pulling combination for anybody in '52.

Since Governor Thomas E. Dewey came out for Ike as president, it's been no secret that the Republicans are staking most of their hopes on the general to put them back in power in '52.

But they are overlooking an obvious threat, that Ike could just as easily become the Democratic candidate! It is said that in such a position he would epitomize a combination such as that which is dominating the present Congress, the liberal Republicans and the Old-Line Democrats.

Those who believe we will still be on a war footing in '52 suggest that such a combination of power, with Earl Warren, would result in a "National Unity" campaign that couldn't miss.

All of this public talk deserves some response on Ike's part. Once before there was talk of drafting him, in 1948. At that time, he threw down the efforts of political groups that opened offices and "Eisenhower-for-President" drives—efforts which, in effect, amounted to a public draft-call.

Ike today is still not seeking any office; but the five star general who has returned to the Supreme Command in Europe this time proposes to keep completely silent.

He has no need to seek any office for, as he laughingly (Continued on page 11)

The Eagle's

By The Editor

A short time ago a fellow-publisher, convinced that the world was completely wacky, printed everything in his newspaper upside down as a sign of the times. This editor believes that there is nothing to be gained by making things any crazier than they are and so we shall continue to print items in the Eagle rightside up—the boys in the backshop willing. However, nutty things do happen.

For example: The editor was in Clements' Drug Store last Saturday trying to stay out of the doghouse by making a last-minute purchase of Easter candy. Who should walk in but Postmaster Lucile Fairman and what do you suppose she was there for? She was there to pay Will Woody six cents for two three cent stamps that she had had to borrow!

Right after that baffling experience the editor walked into Harry Allen who made the solemn announcement that even if King George VI ever did make up his mind to bestow knight-hoods on him and E. B. Adams for their antics with the replica of the Stone of Scone, the deal never would go through so far as Mr. Adams was concerned because he had heard he would have to be knighted in his nightgown. Mr. Allen, apparently, would be willing to become Sir Harry, even if he did have to appear before His Majesty so attired. What a picture that would make!

Last week the Eagle printed a wacky story about Jimmy Culwell and his whizztitz. The critter subsequently was inspected solemnly by Brian Smith, Doc L. P. Huddleston and Harry Allen. Only Doc Huddleston had a firm opinion as to what Mr. Culwell's whizztitz was. He said it was a cocoon from which would emerge a moth—a big one—that would not eat and which would live for only three days. What gave the wacky note to Doc Huddleston's hypothesis was his forthright statement that when the moth emerged from the cocoon its head would be its tail and vice versa.

With stories like that being printed in the Eagle week after week, the editor often wonders about the effect on the subscribers—and on other editors. Just think of the poor editor at Guymon, Oklahoma. Last week, when Mr. and Mrs. Jim Randles of Hardesty, Oklahoma, sent in their subscription to the Eagle they served notice that "Jim is threatening to take the Eagles to Guymon" and ask the newspaper there to reprint them.

Mr. Randles' mother, Mrs. Edith Randles, is the widow of the late John Randles. Both of them were reared in Mills County. When the Randles finish with their Eagle, they report, they pass it on to their son-in-law, Jim Arnold. If the Randles and the Arnolds read this week's Eagle, this is to advise them that on Monday of this week, when Mrs. L. E. Nix celebrated a birthday anniversary, she had the rare experience of having Roy Lee Hill, Arnold Kenneth Kelly and the editor sing "Happy Birthday" to her over the telephone. Very well they did, too. Mrs. Nix is a cousin of the Jim Randles.

Another letter that goes to show how rugged the Eagle's subscribers are came from Mrs.

Myrlene Reynolds Wins Top Prize In Circle Fabric Center Contest

Miss Myrlene Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reynolds, has material for three new frocks as result of having walked off with the first prize in a sewing contest that was sponsored by the Circle Fabric Center of Brownwood on Saturday of last week.

MYRLENE REYNOLDS
The style review was entered by Miss Reynolds as a member of the Future Homemakers of America Chapter at the Goldthwaite High School. She entered two dresses that she had made herself—a white salyna cloth suit frock and a navy blue strutter's cloth suit. (The latter entry was most appropriate since Miss Reynolds has somewhat more than a merely passing interest in one Franklin Dew Weathers, who now is in training at the U. S. Navy's boot camp at San Diego, California.)

As first prize, Miss Reynolds won material for a formal dress, for a "dresy dress," and for a sun suit.

There were 28 entries from Mills, Brown and Comanche Counties. They were judged by Mrs. John Will Vance of Coleman and Mrs. Marion Wetzel of Brownwood.

The contest was staged in the administration building of the Brownwood High School under the direction of Howard Wilson of the Circle Fabric Center of Brownwood. Miss Reynolds won with her white salyna cloth suit dress. Both of her entries were projects of the second year FHA work at the Goldthwaite High School.

Miss Pauline Hable Becomes Bride Of Thomas Allen Cave In Austin

Miss Pauline Hable of Athens, Texas, became the bride of Thomas Allen Cave of Graham, Texas, on Easter Sunday at the Chapel of the University Methodist Church in Austin.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hable of Athens and the niece of Mrs. Charles Gradye Patterson, also of Athens.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Cave of Graham, and is the grandson of Mrs. Tom Cave of Goldthwaite.

The vows were read by Dr. Edmund Heinsohn before an altar decorated with Easter lilies and tall white tapers.

Given in marriage by her aunt, Mrs. Charles Gradye Patterson, the bride wore a ballerina length dress of white chantilly lace over taffeta and carried a white Prayer Book with a bouquet of gardenias and baby orchids falling from streamers of white satin. Her shoulder length veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls.

The couple will live at 704 West Street in Austin.

Despite The Navy, Junior Class Readies Its Play For April 6th

Because Tommy Earls is joining up with the United States Navy, the Junior Class of the Goldthwaite High School has rearranged its cast for the play, "Nearly Sixteen," which will be presented at the Grammar School Auditorium at eight o'clock on Friday of next week.

Bobby Carr has been moved into the roll for which Tommy Earls had been rehearsing, and Bobby Joe Davis has taken the part that previously had been spotted for Bobby Carr, it was announced this week by L. E. Burks, who is directing the play.

With rehearsals going well and an entertaining production promised by the Class of 1952, the public is cordially invited to guard against disappointment and buy tickets early.

Ticket sales will be an important order of business next week when any member of the Junior Class will be glad to see to it that you have a reserved seat—or a general admission ticket, if you prefer.

Members of the cast, as it now stands and will continue unless there are further enlistments in the Army, Navy, Air Forces, Wacs or Waves, are John Weaver, Betty John Jackson, Sandra Bain, Bobby Carr, Winona Lawson, Vernon Whitley, Bobby Joe Davis and Billy Harrell Anderson.

Star FHA Girls And F. F. A. Boys Sponsor Big Show Monday Night

Everybody from anywhere in Mills County, and neighboring Counties, too, is invited to the Star School Gymnasium at eight o'clock next Monday night, April 2, to enjoy fine entertainment that will be offered by the Lone Star Playboys of Waco—who made such a hit when they appeared in Star last year.

J. C. Yearly, Jr., Advisor to the Star Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, said that the proceeds from the performance of next Monday night will be used to bolster the treasuries of the Star F. F. A. and Future Homemakers of America Chapters.

There is competition between the F. F. A. boys and the FHA girls, because the proceeds will be divided between them on the basis of the number of tickets that are being sold by the boys and girls. The boys will use their share to help to defray the expenses of the F. F. A. Father and Son banquet last Friday night and the girls will use their share to pay for the Mother and Daughter banquet, for which plans now are in the making.

Admission to the performance by the Lone Star Playboys of Waco will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

"There will be an hour and a half of sparkling entertainment and we feel sure that nobody will want to miss the big show," Mr. Yearly said.

Athletes At Goldthwaite High School Turn To Track, Baseball

Now that spring football training is all over at the Goldthwaite Schools, Coaches Carl Knox and Jack Locklear have started track and baseball workouts.

Thirty High School boys have turned out for both track and baseball and early next week there will be tryouts for track competition in an interscholastic District meet at Fredericksburg late in the week after next.

Mr. Locklear said that track tryouts will result in the selection of G.H.S. contestants in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the 440 yards relay, the mile and half mile runs, the broad jump and in discus throwing and shotput events.

The baseball schedule will be announced later by Coach Knox, who this year is baseball chairman for the District.

On Friday night of last week, nearly 200 spectators turned out at Eagle Field to see the football squad demonstrate the results of spring training. The "White" team defeated the "Blacks" by a score of 20 to 7 and the spectators agreed with Coach Knox that the players acquitted themselves proudly and showed promise of excellent football for next fall, despite the fact that eight players who had been scheduled to appear were absent. Billy Harrell Anderson, Wayne Wicker and Dick Lindsay were last Friday night's stars but Coaches Knox and Locklear were emphatic in saying that all members of the football squad who were present did well.

E. B. Gilliam, Jr., President of the Quarterback Club, which sponsored last Friday night's event, said that more than $50.00 was contributed to the Club's treasury. Treasurer Alfred Carter reported that eight new members were enrolled in the Quarterback Club.

Clay Secrest of Junction stopped for a short visit with his cousin, Mrs. John W. Roberts and Mr. Roberts.

The Rev. H. C. Garber, Pastor of the Church, said that the film will be exhibited at the Mullin Baptist Church—but that it will be of interest to the entire community, all members of which will be welcome.

"In His Name" has been shown widely throughout the South and interest in it has been attested by the great demand for the film, Brother Garber said.

"The people of Mullin and vicinity are fortunate to have such a well-produced film filled with action, suspense and love of Christ made available to them," Brother Garber added.

And on Thursday of next week Mrs. Gwin will be at the Star school from 1:00 p. m., to 1:30 p. m.

"The health of a child in school is of the utmost importance," Mrs. Gwin said. "Every child should be prepared physically before entering school. His adaptation to the school routine and his progress in school will depend in great part on the child's physical well-being."

Mrs. Gwin asked that parents take special note of the days and hours that she will conduct the pre-school clinics at Priddy, Mullin and Star so that neither children nor parents will be kept waiting on the appointed days.

Our WASHINGTON Letter

Indications are a Tideland bill will be reported by the House Judiciary Committee before long. When that is done, the measure will be acted upon by the House, then the Senate, and finally by the President. If and when passed, the President has indicated he will veto it. Then will come the real test — the question of overriding the veto. That will take a two-thirds vote of each House.

The first test on Tideland in Congress occurred back in 1946 when the House voted 188 to 67 in favor of a bill to confirm ownership of tidelands in the States. The Senate passed by a vote of 44 to 34. President Truman promptly vetoed it and that was the end of that effort.

The next Congress — the 80th — saw a renewed effort to force a Tideland bill through that would be able to withstand a veto. But it turned out to be an abortive effort. The House did its part by voting 257 to 29 to disclaim any Federal interest in Tideland, so far as minerals were concerned. The bill went to the Senate and a determined fight, led by Senator Donnell of Missouri (defeated in last year's election) succeeded in blocking Senate action, and that was all for that session.

Then came a period of rumored compromises and later the Supreme Court acted on the Texas case. By a 4-to-3 decision, the Court held that Texas did not own its tidelands even though that ownership was specifically retained in our annexation agreement, and even though the coastal area was described by metes and bounds in the Constitution of Texas.

Now, the issue is again before the Congress. Led by Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, a Member of the House Judiciary Committee, the fight has already begun to get a new Tideland bill out of that committee and to the Floor of the House. When that is done the measure should pass the House in a walk. Indications are that it will do well in the Senate this time. Observers believe there's a fair chance to even override a veto this year. It'll be a long, hard fight, but Texans will never relax their efforts to undo a grievous wrong that smacks of judicial robbery.

As School Band Grows It Needs New Instruments

A concert at the School Gymnasium on Wednesday morning of last week by the Howard Payne College Band resulted in raising approximately $45.00 for the treasury of the Goldthwaite School Band, it was announced this week by Director Howard E. Gill.

Mr. Gill said also that individual businessmen in Goldthwaite had contributed an extra $20.00 to the Goldthwaite School Band. "While we are grateful for the contributions from our businessmen and happy over the success of the concert that was given by the Band of Howard Payne College, the Goldthwaite School Band still needs assistance," Mr. Gill said.

"Recently, ten more students have joined our band and so we face a need for additional equipment."

Mr. Gill renewed his appeal of last week that any persons who have band instruments of any kind that are not in use donate them or lend them to the Goldthwaite School Band.

The time is rapidly approaching when the Goldthwaite School Band will participate in the interscholastic music festival at Brownwood and Mr. Gill is anxious that the best possible showing be made.

Baptist Church To Offer Study Courses In Religious Education

During the week starting April 15 and ending on April 20, training courses for Sunday School workers will be conducted at the First Baptist Church in Goldthwaite, it was announced this week by the Rev. J. T. Ayers, Pastor.

Brother Ayers said "that the training courses will be conducted by Mrs. C. W. Dossey and Miss Nella Casement, both of the Dallas office of the Baptist Training Union.

Mrs. Dossey, Brother Ayers said, will work with elementary children and the teachers and officers of the Sunday School at the First Baptist Church.

Miss Casement will work with adults who bear the responsibility for the religious education of young people.

During the week of April 15 to April 20, study courses will be conducted every night at the First Baptist Church, Brother Ayers said. It is probable, also, that there will be day-time classes for elementary workers.

Further announcements regarding plans for the study courses will be made later, Brother Ayers said that both Mrs. Dossey and Miss Casement are highly competent instructors in religious education methods.

Baptists Here Are Shocked By Death Of Dr. J. R. Hickerson, Jr.

Last week's airplane tragedy in Colombia, which took the life of Dr. J. R. Hickerson, Jr., was felt poignantly in Goldthwaite where the Baptist Missionary was well known.

The Rev. J. T. Ayers, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, sent a message of condolence to Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Hickerson, Sr., in Brownwood. The elder Hickerson, who is Texas Baptist Missionary for District 16, which includes Mills County, is the father of the missionary who lost his life with 28 others when a plane in which they were flying crashed during a storm in northern Colombia last week.

In an address at the First Baptist Church in Goldthwaite several months ago the late Dr. Hickerson, Jr., prompted the support of the Faithful Workers Class, of which Mrs. R. V. Littlepage is President. Since then, the Class has been supporting a Colombian theological student at Call.

Mrs. Littlepage said this week that the effort in support of the late Dr. Hickerson's work in Colombia will be continued by the Faithful Workers Class of the First Baptist Church here.

Dr. Hickerson's body was interred in Colombia. Memorial services for him were held at the Trinity Baptist Church in Dallas on Monday of this week. Mrs. Hickerson, widow of the late missionary, is in Cartagena, Colombia, where she intends to remain to carry on the work that Dr. Hickerson started.

Conservation

 Department's soil conservation activities; to utilize to best advantage the great variety of agricultural sciences available in this field; and to provide the unified and coordinated leadership, service and action needed to meet to the fullest possible extent Department of Agriculture responsibilities regarding soil, water, range, and forest conservation.

In a report on the Mineral Wells meeting of last Monday, Bill Durham wrote in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram as follows:

Success of the new program will depend entirely upon co-operation between agencies on the county level, state officials in charge of the meeting agreed.

Represented were county PMA committees, Farmers Home Administration personnel, Soil Conservation Service personnel and soil conservation district supervisors.

First step will be the moving of county offices of the PMA and the Soil Conservation Service into the same building.

Soil conservation district supervisors and PMA committees asked many questions on putting the order into effect which were answered by top state officers of the agencies concerned.

G. G. Gibson, director of the Texas A&M Extension Service, served as chairman of the meeting. Other agency representatives included Lewis David of Corsicana, state PMA committeeman; W. M. Burkes of Dallas, Farmers Home Administration; C. M. Caraway of DeLeon, State Soil Conservation Board; Clayton Puckett of Fort Stockton, president of the State Association of Soil Conservation District Supervisors; and Roy Gough of Temple, assistant state conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.

David pointed out that aim of the co-ordinated effort will be getting more conservation work on the ground for each dollar spent. He explained offices within counties will be located at whatever point is most convenient for farmers.

He stressed that Soil Conservation Service technical approval will be necessary for all

The portion of the session that is to be broadcast will feature outgoing officers of Area 11. Miss Hale has been Area Reporter and consequently will be one of those who will be heard on the broadcast—at 1510 on your radio dial.

At the Stephenville meeting, Miss Marjorie Whitl will be installed as fourth vice president of the FHA's Area 11.

Rainfall

 Mrs. Flo Wilke also measured 1.1 inches of rain on Monday at her Shady Oaks Ranch, ten miles south of Goldthwaite on the Lampasas highway.

The rain not only made everybody happy but brought a rush of claims for credit for it. It brought hope, too, that there will be more rainfall soon, so that grass will keep growing and so that farmers can keep operating on the crops that they hastened to plant as soon as the sun resumed smiling again.

If anybody is to be awarded an Oscar for the rain it has been suggested that the recipient should be R. E. Clements for his poem, "Rancher's Lament," in Rog's Corner on the first page of this week's Eagle. Mr. Clements wrote about "no water in the creek, spring gone dry," before the rain fell. After he had finished writing "just won't rain, don't know why," the skies opened and a royal welcome was given to mud.

In some parts of Mills County, and in Brown County, too, the week's rainfall was reported to have been as much as an inch and a half.

As for how happy the rain made practically everybody, you can get a good idea of the reception it received simply by reading the columns from the "country correspondents" in this week's Eagle.

Ben R. Day, Chief of the Goldthwaite Work Unit of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, described the rainfall this week as a "life saver."

"The rain has made our clover," Mr. Day said. "The planted grass will come up. We are hopeful now of crops of clover and oats so lush that there will be a big harvest."

Mr. Day said that in anticipation of big oats and clover crops the Supervisors of the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District are planning on rigging windrows in preparation for the harvest time ahead.

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

The most glorious thing this week is rain. Early Monday morning we heard its welcome melody upon the roof. Through the day it rained more till water ran everywhere, and there was plenty of mud. The rain gauge registered one inch. This will help the grass to grow, and how we do need grass, for feed is almost gone. Now we can plant corn and garden.

We were happy to have with us at church Sunday Mrs. Hulon Egger and her children, Marianna and Woody Dean, and Mrs. Taylor Duncan and her little daughter, Annette. In Mrs. Edward Egger's class the three little girls, Jerry Egger, Annette Duncan, and Marianna Egger, with their pretty Easter dresses and purple irises in their hands, were a sight to make the heart glad.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reeves

were scheduled to attend the Heart of Texas Easter Sunrise Worship service near Mercury Sunday. We presume they carried out their plans, though we can't be sure. But just wait till our Central Texas Telephone Cooperative comes into service. Then we can check up on things.

Mrs. J. R. Briley called on Mrs. Effie Egger Sunday after church, but found her not at home. Evidently she and Clayton were attending Easter Sunrise services somewhere.

Jim King of San Saba County is spending a while with Ernest Malone.

The Howze family who recently moved on the Effie Egger place, moved to Brownwood last week.

John Briley and Ernest Malone went to Goldthwaite Monday. It was getting time for new car registration plates. On the strength of the rain that fell that day, John Briley brought back seed for corn planting.

After church Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charm Whittenburg and Clint and Jack went to Goldthwaite to be present for a family dinner at the home of Mrs. Whittenburg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Reid. They were accompanied by Mrs. Edna Dwyer. Mrs. Dwyer had a special invitation.

Texas Venture In Education • 1876 Our first state college—Texas A. M. in its seventy-fifth year

Less than a generation ago grain sorghum was a tall spindly feed crop, grown on a few Texas farms. Today it is the state's money crop, valued at $160,000,000 a year. A $24,000,000 processing this one crop has been built at Corpus Christi. This development is the result of research by plant scientists of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the A. and M. System, under leadership of R. E. (Bob) Karper, A. and M. agronomist at Goldthwaite. By juggling the genes within the grain sorghum seed, Karper and others have been able to pull it down to a thrifty low-growing plant with heads at uniform height throughout the field. This made it possible to harvest the grain mechanically, completely revolutionizing the culture of the Texas plains area. The present day combine-type sorghum is being further developed for a variety of uses and is increasing rapidly in value to Texas farmers, as a result of the research on the Texas plains since 1915.

School Voting

 Large on the County Board.

It was expected that the competition for the School Board seats in Goldthwaite, Star and Priddy would result in a large turn-out of voters.

A number of candidates and their friends already are working actively among the citizens. Considerable interest centered on the forthcoming election in the Goldthwaite Independent School District because of the known desire of many residents of rural districts to have greater representation on the School Board, because the Board has yet to act on the resignation of Chairman C. C. Collier which, if accepted at the April 9 meeting of the Board will create another vacancy to be filled by appointment, and because a number of suggestions and ideas regarding the Goldthwaite Schools have for some time been the topics of informal debates in and around the Square.

Future Farmers Of America Press Work And Care Of Land

Members and guests of the Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, assembled for their annual Father and Son banquet at the Star School auditorium on Friday night of last week, heard J. C. Yearly, Sr., county Agriculture Agent, and Representative Aron Gromatzky of Priddy drive the responsibility of the future of the state on the shoulders of the young men who work and care for the land.

In a brief speech that delighted the occasion, Earl Fairman, President of the Future Farmers of America, pointed to the importance of pacts between fathers and sons—to the necessity that fathers have good sons and that sons have understanding fathers.

Eighteen F.F.A. members and 22 of their guests were present. The meal was prepared and served by the Future Homemakers of the Star School under the supervision of Miss Tommie Ann Booker, FHA Sponsor.

F. F. A. Chapter President Davis Owens was the Toastmaster and at the start of the function he conducted an impressive ritual in which Chapter Secretary Chester E. Brooks, Treasurer Ernest Rickle, and Reporter John Howard Owens participated. Chapter Advisor J. C. Yearly, Jr., explained to those present the significance of the F.F.A. symbols—the owl for knowledge and wisdom, the plow for labor and tillage of the soil, the rising sun for "a new day in agriculture," the ear of corn for the common interest of all tillers of the soil throughout the land, and the eagle for the national scope of the F.F.A. organization.

Joe Winner gave a reading of "My Pa Said So," there was a piano solo by Miss Ann Wright; and Miss Freda Soules, Chapter Sweetheart, Miss May Bell Cox and Miss Mary Lou Whitehead sang the "F.F.A. Fellowship Song." Ernest Rickle recited "A Father's Prayer For His Son."

J. C. Yearly, Sr., the guest speaker of the evening, is the father of the vocational agriculture teacher at the Star School. He has been in extension service work for 35 years and since 1935 he has been agriculture agent in Fayette County, with headquarters at LaGrange.

In his address Mr. Yearly emphasized the importance of small communities to national life and existence at a time when the world faces a crisis arising from the struggle between "Christianity and heathenism." His talk was shot through with bits of philosophy but he kept returning to his main theme — that 80 percent of American leadership is provided by men and women who came from farms. He granted that it requires an optimist to make a success of farming—an optimist with Faith in God—but he pointed out that now, less than 17 per cent of the American population is engaged in the production of food, feed and fiber crops.

"At a time when we are feeding half the world, we simply must produce more and take better care of the land if anybody is to survive," Mr. Yearly said. "We must work with nature and we must remember that the preservation of our nature begins with the work on our farms."

Mr. Gromatzky, who is an Honorary Member of the F.F.A. Chapter at Priddy, said that the reason for the existence of the Future Farmers of America is to improve the membership itself and thus improve American agriculture.

"We must farm harder and better if we are to feed our own nation and others," Mr. Gromatzky said.

Mullin FFA Banquet Next Monday Night

The Mullin Chapter of the Future Farmers of America will have their annual Father and Son banquet at the Mullin School lunchroom at seven o'clock next Monday night.

Don Clark, Advisor to the Mullin F.F.A. Chapter, said that the guest speaker will be J. B. Payne, Supervisor of vocational agriculture in Area Four. Mr. Payne makes his headquarters in Stephenville.

Gromatzky said. "Our government and our nation will be no better than the small communities in our land."

In his speech, Mr. Fairman also complimented the Star Chapter of the F.F.A. on their choice of a Sweetheart in the person of Miss Freda Soules.

The honored guests of the evening were the fathers of the members of the F.F.A. Chapter at Star. They were:

Goldthwaite F.F.A. Judging Teams Arrange A Busy Contest Schedule

A busy schedule for the judging teams of the Eagles Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, the Goldthwaite High School, was announced this week by Y. B. Johnson, Jr., Chapter Advisor.

Mr. Johnson said that tomorrow, Saturday, the livestock judging team, of which John Carothers, Harvey Parker, Bill Parker and Aaron Batcheler are the members, will go to the Fitzsimmons Ranch, 12 miles east of Llano, for "warm-up competition."

Next Monday three teams—livestock, poultry and dairy—will go to Abilene to compete in the judging contests sponsored by Abilene Christian College.

Members of the poultry judging team are Curtis Lawson, John Weaver, Gene Woods and Jimmy Bryant. They will grade brown and white eggs, will judge dressed and live poultry, and will judge laying hens.

The members of the dairy judging team are Kenneth Weston, James Kemp, Bob Parker, Bobby Joe Davis and Johnny Carr.

In addition to the competitions at the Fitzsimmons Ranch and at Abilene, the Goldthwaite F.F.A. judging teams are pointing toward a judging contest that will be held at Coleman on April 7.

All of the contests this week and next, Mr. Johnson said, will give the local F.F.A. judging teams good workouts in preparation for the big area competition that will be held at Stephenville on April 14. Goldthwaite F.F.A. contestants in the Stephenville competition will be announced later.

Elder Macy At North Brown Sunday

Elder Emory Macy, Pastor of the Church of God at Mullin, will preach next Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the North Brown School House. It was expected that the service would be attended by a number of persons from both Mullin and Goldthwaite.

FIRE DESTROYS PAPERS OF GREAT VALUE

All memoranda pertaining to contracts that were to have been completed at the end of this week for the new White Building, were destroyed last night in the one alarm fire at the home of Lars Hensen, builder. A fresh start will have to be made on the deal, it was reported.

Though the fire itself caused but slight damage to the home, the loss of the papers is a serious matter.

News Of The Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District

Farmers and ranchers continued to plant grass seeds last week in anticipation of the good rain that has fallen.

W. H. Wasserman used the grass seed drill to sow a 15 acre field to little bluestem mixture. He seeded the field to grass in order to reduce the amount of cultivated land on his ranch. About one-half was flat broken and the other half was in a thin stand of oats. Mr. Wasserman will keep the livestock out of the field until the grass becomes established.

Charles Dudley, Democrat farmer, made a trial planting of King Ranch bluestem, sideoats grama, and bluestem mixture on the field where he had used the eccentric disc. The seeds were scattered by hand on the area prepared with the disc.

E. D. Roberson did at least two things that were worthwhile last week. He fertilized a plot of sideoats grama and King Ranch bluestem that were seeded last year with 200 pounds of 16-20-0 fertilizer to increase the seed production of the grasses. He also prepared a seedbed with his one-way plow in a turned out field and then made a trial using the eccentric discs. Sideoat Grama seeds were scattered by hand over the two acres and observations will be made this summer and fall to determine the effectiveness of each method of land preparation.

George Fletcher had scattered his King Ranch bluestem seed on the plot that was plowed with the eccentric disc. He also seeded the King Ranch bluestem on his spreader dams, diversion terraces, and tank dam. Herman Jones had spread the King Ranch bluestem that was harvested on his ranch on an old field that had been turned out and plowed with the eccentric disc.

With another fifteen to twenty days in which to plant grasses, most farmers and ranchers should be able to get this job done.

We wish to say "Happy Birthday" to Mr. R. E. Clements, our old, faithful druggist. I don't think there is a home in this community who hasn't been helped "one way or another" by Mr. Clements, who dedicates his skill and hard work so quietly and friendly. We send Mr. Clements a poem by Alice Cary:

Kind hearts are the gardens,
Kind thoughts are the roots,
Kind words are the flowers,
Kind deeds are the fruits.

The school children enjoyed an Easter egg hunt Good Friday. William G. Crawford said he found nine eggs. All the little boys and girls of his room had a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bramblett and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crawford attended Church at North Brown Sunday afternoon.

O. A. Evans "did it." Mr. Evans spoke of showers, which would fall about the first week in April or the last day of March.

A. L. Crawford, Henry Nauert, J. V. Gage, and Cecil Grellé planted corn last week, and most all the folks planted gardens. Prospects for corn and gardens are far better than we thought possible a few weeks ago. We think now that our good friend, Bill Shipp of Priddy will be hunting information about how much cotton we are planting.

B. J. George and Pearl Crawford were victims of the flu during last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crawford and Pat of Burnet were at the Crawford home Good Friday. Mrs. Ralph Crawford, being a trained nurse, thought it best to postpone our Easter reunion.

Others who called in the Crawford home during the week were: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans, Charlie Partin and son Tommie, and A. L. Crawford.

Gene McNeerlin was absent from school Wednesday, suffering from a bad cold. Gene reports that their grain and orchard came through the cold spell much better than they thought a few days ago. Gene had better keep a lot under his hat, for Edwin Stevens and Alvin Tiemann will be down nibbling on those peaches.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Partin, Tommie and Jimmie spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Partin and enjoyed the Easter dinner.

William G. Crawford spent Sunday with Edwin and Mildred Stevens, and I think Mr. and Mrs. Tom Stevens were kept plenty busy hiding Easter eggs.

O. A. Evans suffered a painful arm a few days after getting it hurt while working with the tractor, and Mrs. Evans was on the sick list a few days. We are happy to learn at last report der the terms of the North Atlantic Treaty is totally sincere.

General Ike will not voluntarily leave Europe; he will be ordered home.

When Harry Truman told Ike the conventions of 1952 might cause embarrassments for both of them, the General made no comment.

As a soldier, Ike still takes orders from his Commander-in-Chief. Such orders could quite conceivably be used to make Ike available for U.S. candidacy.

If Mr. Truman sees defeat for his party with himself in the chief campaigning role, he would not hesitate to use a vote getter of Eisenhower's stature to retain the power of the Democratic party's bureaucracy—and, incidentally, create new powers for himself.

Ike is one of the most lovable characters on earth; also one of the most loyal and, at times, one of the most naive.

If he won the White House as President Truman's heir-apparent, the Fair Deal would not be dead despite some of Ike's pointed public statements on individual enterprise and the dangers of an all-powerful state.

Not that Ike is against any liberalism. The best definition I've heard of his politics comes from Harry F. Butcher, the naval reserve captain who was his war-time aide. Butch says in his experience in living and working with Ike over a number of years, the General adds up like this:

"Liberal Republican on questions of business; Democratic on questions of dealing with people."

That's about the way I'd put it after knowing the General nine years, but I'd add this important footnote: Ike is indebted to Democratic leaders, or Democratic appointed leaders, for picking him out and pushing him to the top.

Dwight Eisenhower, for the present, will add no fuel to this controversy as to where he stands. He's far too busy with the critical task of saving Western Europe. He knows he need say nothing anyway until mid-summer of '52, when President Truman will ask him to come home, ostensibly on leave, to be "available."

It is by that time, too, if the North Atlantic treaty is to prove successful, that Europe must throw up a great new leader to take over Supreme Command.

This is partly the answer to Winston Churchill's complaint about America grabbing all the top commands now; the commands will be juggled as the integrated North Atlantic forces are organized.

That's the second reason for Eisenhower's silence.

There's still another. From the point of view of those who believe there's no better man than Ike for the White House, this third reason is most important.

During the indecisive days when Ike was conferring with President Truman on the S.H.A.-P.E. Command, but before he was appointed, the General sidestepped an informal suggestion from Herbert Hoover that Ike should stay at home.

Mr. Hoover apparently mentioned the obvious points—including two that Ike was a Republican choice and that Ike could be put in the position of endorsing the Truman-Acheson foreign policy.

(The General, still on the active list, would obviously have to support the policies of his Commander-in-Chief from the moment he resumed wearing khaki.)

But having avoided taking any issue with his old friend Hoover, the General showed a

The performance will be staged by Dunham's Donkey Shows but the "trained donkeys" who will be the performers will be Mullin basketball players and others. They will appear in donkey circus acts and some really wing ding surprises have been planned for the evening, Mr. Clark said.

John R. Stough, who opened the Goldthwaite office of the United States Soil Conservation Service in 1942, has been transferred from Brownwood to Pecos, where already he is working as the range conservationist in the five-County Trans-Pecos Soil Conservation District. He has been succeeded by Vaughn Speakman, who formerly was on duty with the Soil Conservation Service at Aspermont. Mrs. Stough and the Stough sons, John and Bill, will remain in Brownwood until the end of the school term.

After his tour of duty in Goldthwaite Mr. Stough was succeeded by the late Jesse Beane, who subsequently was succeeded by Ben R. Day, who now is Chief of the Goldthwaite Work Unit of the Soil Conservation Service.

Hillside Mission

By LIDA BYRNE

A Preacher said: "Here is one of the greatest secrets of prevailing prayer:— To study the Word of God to find what God's will is, as revealed there in the promises, and then simply take these promises and spread them out before God in prayer with absolutely unwavering expectation that He will do what He has promised in His Word."

that will be much more attractive to the eye and more sanitary as well." Mayor Long and Mrs. Horton said in a joint statement. "Success depends upon having everybody participate in a spirit of cooperation."

Mills County has been contributing its part to making Goldthwaite more attractive. Under supervision of the Garden Club and with the cooperation of the Mills County Commissioners Court and Cockrell's Riverside Nurseries, many improvements have been made in the landscaping of the Court House grounds. Abijah Stark has been working flower beds, pruning shrubs, and transplanting bushes. The results of his work are apparent even to the most casual observer.

As recorded previously in the Eagle, Ridge and Ebony, where W. H. Freeman and Hubert Reeves are the chairmen, respectively, were the first to "go over the top," both this year and last year.

Mr. Duren said he was hopeful of being able to issue a complete report on a successful 1951 Red Cross fund drive in time for next week's Eagle.

Vote—School Elections—April 7

Eagle's Eye

and, the voters will have a chance between now and April 7 to talk with the various candidates to find out where they will stand and what they will do if they are elected. And if any candidate is of a mind to present his ideas to the voters, the columns of next week's Eagle will be open to him. If you are a candidate and you wish to express yourself to the voters before the April 7 elections, then just write a letter to the voters, sign your name to it, and send it to me.

Without in any way reflecting on any of the candidates who have presented themselves for election to posts on our school boards there is, it seems to me, one matter for regret. It is that among the candidates, there is not even one woman. I believe that all of our school boards would benefit if a woman and especially a mother sat on them. By the time the elections of next year roll around it is to be hoped that some of the ladies in our midst will be willing to offer themselves as candidates for election to our school boards.

Our Franklin

had been addressed to the Goldthwaite Eagle and that had been mailed from Amarillo last Saturday. It said:

"I passed the test with flying colors. I am on my way to San Diego now. We will get there about three o'clock Sunday afternoon. Tell them all hello for me.—Franklin Dew."

That postcard now is tacked on the wall of the Eagle office. The picture on it was a bit on the ribald side — thereby showing that our Franklin was very much a sailor even by the time he got to Amarillo — and the picture side of it will be kept to the wall for the sake of the sensibilities of our Miss Ruth Ervin and our Miss Earlene Nix.

In the same mail Mrs. Weathers received both a postcard and a letter. Both said about the same thing and followed the general line of the Franklin Dew Weathers communication, to the Eagle.

Also in the same mail, Miss Myrlene Reynolds received a communication. It, too, said about the same thing but added that 17 other embryo gobs were on the way to San Diego with our Franklin. What else that communication said is a secret between Miss Reynolds and this reporter who, however, will let just a tiny bit of it out by admonishing our Franklin that it is not necessary to tell Miss Reynolds to "be sweet." She is, anyway, without any coaching from you, Franklin.

After boot camp, our Franklin is slated to attend a school for printers that is operated by the United States Navy. On the basis of his six years of experience with the Eagle, it is safe to predict that our Franklin's promotion will be rapid—that he will promptly become an instructor in said school, passing on the store of knowledge that was packed into him by Roy Lee Hill, Arnold K. Kelly, and Joe W. Baldwin.

The very best of luck, Franklin. You are missed all around the town—and especially by Highway Patrolman Billie R. McElroy.

Telephone Co-op

ments by Mr. Strickland and Mr. Allen that in agreeing not to interfere with the plans of the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative, the Southwestern States Telephone Company also "will be willing to switch the Co-op subscribers anywhere in the area where our exchanges can be of service."

Subsequently, Mr. Allen said that the Southwestern States Telephone Company recognized that the public interest would be served by the extension of telephone service into the rural areas that will be served by the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative.

"We are happy about the attitude of the Southwestern States Telephone Company and we are appreciative of it," Secretary Wilson said this week. "Our plans have been advanced greatly toward realization."

With cooperation pledged by the Southwestern States Telephone Company and with assurance of a federal loan given by the officials of the telephone division of the Rural Electrification Administration, plans now are in the works to make the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative a going concern.

An engineering survey to determine the location of transmission lines, relay points and other mechanical facilities will be made during April, Mr. Wilson said this week.

The Co-op soon will open its headquarters in Goldthwaite in the building formerly occupied by the Shepherd Hatchery on Fourth Street between the square and the railroad tracks. Some time ago, federal officials in Washington gave assurance that despite the national emergency, scarce material such as copper, would be allocated to the Central Texas Telephone Cooperative.

Pending completion of the engineering survey, Mr. Wilson said, applications for service still are being accepted by the Co-op. Persons who live in rural areas that will be covered by the Co-op and who have not yet applied for service may do so through Co-op leaders in the various communities.
