EDUCATION LOCAL RESPONSIBILITY

A worried parent recently wrote Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, expressing deep concern over community apathy toward local school problems, especially those of a budgetary nature. In an election involving desperately needed school taxes, the writer observed that, "There were 72 votes cast in our box — in contrast to the several thousand votes cast during the last presidential election. And ours is a neighborhood of young marrieds." Mrs. Hobby, a federal officer, was then asked to do something about the situation.

The answer to a plea of this kind should be painfully clear. Local initiative, local responsibility and local pride are things that cannot be established by fiat nor bought with federal money. Turning to the federal government to solve local problems is a deadly process for people who value freedom. It is suicidal in the case of education.

As Mrs. Hobby warns, "Our public schools began in our local communities, they must stay there. . . the Federal Government must not interfere in educational matters which rightly belong to the local and State authorities."

Plattsmouth, Nebraska, Journal: "As long as the average American is free to read what he pleases, listen to whom he pleases, travel freely, speak his mind and enjoy access to all sources of entertainment, news and propaganda he desires, communism will make no significant gain in the United States."

Inside WASHINGTON
MARCH OF EVENTS

Korea Army Withdrawals
Arouses Little Criticism
Congressmen See Selves
Getting Pay Rise Soon

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's decision to withdraw two United States Army divisions from Korea stirred up virtually no criticism by Washington armchair strategists even though no assured peace has been reached with the Reds.

Two reasons for this appeared to be obvious. First, not many persons are willing to set themselves up as critics of a military move made by a man who formerly was one of this nation's most successful field commanders.

Second, the move holds out strong hope that a reduction of forces overseas obviously spells out the possibility of additional cuts in military spending.

Even though the man in the street hasn't shown the interest in economy that accompanies other developments in Washington, grass roots observers report that the public is keenly interested in the President's avowed intention of balancing the federal budget and reducing taxes.

Moreover, the public trusts the President implicitly on the decisions he makes on reducing military strength in keeping with national security.

The battle over a reduction in Air Force funds, which the President won, has convinced the politicians of this fact.

● PAY BOOST PREDICTED—Members of Congress are privately confident they will win a pay boost in the coming year and they are perfectly willing to give the same treatment to federal judges.

A national commission recently conducted hearings on the problem and gave numerous indications that the salary hike will be recommended. Congressmen will be merely required to approve the recommendations made by the 15-member board.

The most likely proposal—and the one urged by most witnesses before the commission—would provide a $10,000 across-the-board pay raise suggested by Senator Pat McCarran (D), Nevada.

Such an increase would boost the pay of senators and House members to $25,000 a year. It would lift the pay level of judges in district courts to the same figure, provide $27,500 in the circuit courts and $35,000 for the Supreme Court justices.

Chief Justice Earl Warren would benefit even more. His salary would be increased from $25,000 to $40,000, placing him on a financial par with the vice president and the speaker of the House.

● CHARITY CRACKDOWN—There will be a strong movement underway in the new session of Congress to tighten controls on charity "racketeering" in the wake of disclosures made by a New York state legislative investigation of abuses.

Several House members have announced they will press for action on bills aimed at preventing the American public from being bilked by unscrupulous operations.

Some of the measures to curb abuses would set up federal safeguards on the use of United States mails as well as the radio and television industries in promotion schemes. Also under consideration is a proviso requiring sponsoring organizations to list the amounts spent on fund drives, amounts raised and dispersed as well as their officers and sponsors.

● JET TRANSPORTS—There is growing optimism among Air Force officials that America's first jet transport plane is on the way. The pioneer in the field is Boeing's 707, now under construction at the firm's Seattle plant.

High ranking officers recently inspected the prototype jet which is expected to make its maiden flight next autumn. Their main interest was centered on the possibility that the transport might be converted into a refueling tanker for jet bombers in the event of war.

If the new Model 707 proves itself adaptable for conversion into a jet-tanker, the Air Force feels that one of its biggest problems in strategic bombing—in-flight refueling—will be solved.

Fire which early Monday morning completely destroyed W. A. Richard's Cafe and Meat Market, for awhile threatened to destroy the entire business section of Goldthwaite. Bill's Cafe was located in the S. P. Sullivan building between the Bakery and the First National Bank Heat and smoke from the fire did considerable damage to the bakery, and smoke did some damage to Little and Sons Dry Goods store, the rear of which joins the cafe building.

Rev. H. G. L. Busley and wife, who have recently been called to the pastorate of the Second Baptist Church, Vicksburg, Mississippi, spent Monday night and Tuesday in the home of Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Ivins.

Erin Ritchie, who is attending Abilene Christian College, spent last weekend with home folks.

Miss Mirth Cook was born in Wheatland, Dallas County. She was the daughter of Mr. James W. Cook and Sallie H. Cook, who later became pioneer citizens of Mills County. She made her home in Mills County and Goldthwaite for 25 years. She moved to Dallas in 1915 where she has since resided.

Mrs. D. A. Newton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. W. McNeil of Valley Mills.

R. W. Hodges, age 81, died at his home the 16th of January. He was a pioneer citizen of Duren community and had a host of friends and relatives who will sadly miss Grandpa—Mullin Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Starnes spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Kemper.

50 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from Eagle Files of January 23, 1904.)

L. A. Kuykendall was killed by being struck by a railroad locomotive at the depot at Mullin Monday night about 8:00 o'clock.

County Clerk Smith, County Attorney Pribble, Miss Myrtle Farrar and Miss Julia Kemp visited Mullin Wednesday, the gentlemen in their official capacities, Miss Farrar as stenographer and Miss Kemp to make a photograph of the place of the railroad accident.

Married at the home of the officiating minister January 20, 1904, W. D. Rayburn and Mrs. Jennie Conner, all of Star, Rev. G. W. Templin officiating.

Mr. E. R. Mayer of Washington County and Miss Bertha B. Ince were married Wednesday at noon at the residence of the bride's parents in the Live Oak community, Judge L. E. Patterson officiating.

Miss Bertha Mitchell died at the family home a few miles east of this city Tuesday night and was buried in the Rock Springs Cemetery Wednesday. Her death was caused from pneumonia, which she contracted while suffering with measles.

Mr. F. M. Mitchell died Thursday night at his home east of town. He suffered some time with measles and before he had recovered from that disease he contracted pneumonia, which caused his death. His daughter died the early part of this week and two other members of the family were reported to be dangerously ill yesterday.

J. W. Roberts this week sold his farm in the Shaw Bend neighborhood to T. E. Puett and in the deal he bought Mr. Puett's property in this city, consisting of two residences and a livery stable building.

VIC'S . . .
SOLILOQUY

It seems in order to pass out a few bouquets to those who played a part in making the Mills County Livestock Raisers' Association's sixteenth annual Exposition in Goldthwaite last week Monday and Tuesday such a success.

First of all there are the officers, R. L. "Bob" Steen, president; Luther Jernigan, vice-president; Glynn Collier, treasurer; and Carl Casbeer, secretary. It is generally recognized that Bob Steen is the Daddy of the Mills County Stock Show. He has contributed much time and effort in seeing the organization to that end and the results of his efforts are manifested in the splendid exhibits that were on hand this year. Other officers have played no little part in the matter. Without their help it would be hard for Bob or any other president to carry the load that goes with such a job. With a good group of officers such as he has working with him in the local organization that load is made much lighter.

As the old saying goes, any outfit has to have some good "Buck Privates," too. Well, that goes for a lot of the other fellows who take their places on the many committees that help carry out plans that are presented by those in places of leadership. And when you stop to think, or attend some of the meetings, or look around and observe, the many various phases of details that are necessary to properly stage this type of program, you can readily see that it requires many "Buck Privates" to get the job done. Then when the show is over and apparently most of the folks are happy with the results it becomes clear of mind that these "Buck Privates" were on the job along with the officers.

The general arrangements committee, which is composed of the superintendents of the various divisions, have a big job. For this year's successful show those serving in that capacity were: Jay Boothe, vocational agriculture teacher of Mullin Schools, in charge of hog division, Y. B. Johnson Jr., vocational agriculture teacher of Goldthwaite Schools, in charge of sheep division, Luther Jernigan, in charge of goats, Eutha Evans, vocational agriculture teacher of Priddy Schools, in charge of poultry, and W. V. Horton, the cattle superintendent. Every one of these men had plenty to do and they did their job well. There is the show secretary, Carl Casbeer, whose job it is to keep records of everything that happens from beginning to end. With the help of Glynn Collier, treasurer, they are the ones who hand out the honors after the judges get through with their work—and it looks like work too. This year Casbeer was unable to attend and take his usual place so he had an able assistant, Charles Haenisch, to team up with Collier to keep up to the minute records. Also on the general committee this year was Col. A. L. Muller who took charge of selling some of the stock offered by exhibitors.

Our county agent George Reese, along with Vocational Agriculture teachers of the county, for their work with the 4-H and FFA members in supervising the projects that are exhibited. George was wearing a smile, of being well pleased, after the grand and reserve champions were announced Tuesday evening. They were both calves that have been fed under his supervision.

We wouldn't overlook the fine contribution made by the Breeders with their prize exhibits. It takes a serious breeder stock to make the complete and we had some of the finest exhibits from breeders again this year.

But the heart of the exhibition is made up of the boys and dozens of boys and from the 4-H Club and Chapters throughout the county. They are the ones who on the show for the those who attended and enjoyed them as they went through the ring "Showing" their and joy that has been the result of their attention day night for the past year are the ones who are a great big hearty, thank for a job well done.

Serve Cold and Hot Dishes
On the Company Buffet Table

By ALICE DENHOFF
A BUFFET lunch or supper seems like fun and an easy way to entertain. And so it is, but it entails plenty of preparation, especially so far as the food is concerned.
The good thing about buffet service is that there need be no last minute touches to the foods—once they are placed on the buffet ready for service. The cold dishes are kept in the refrigerator until required, the hot foods come out of the casserole piping hot from the oven or the pan atop the range, and are placed in tureens all ready for service. Maybe the hosts or a delegated helper can slip out into the kitchen and fill up empties, so that the hot foods are just that.

Buffet Table
A big table or bench on sawhorses, completely covered with a white cloth, plain or fancy, is the foundation of the buffet table. A pretty centerpiece of flowers, or vases flanking the service add the proper note of festive color. China, glassware, silver, table napkins are ready in convenient piles. At some parties, someone stands behind the buffet and serves hot foods and salads. At other events, it is entirely self-service.

A buffet luncheon is likely to be long on salads with perhaps a hot soup or another hot dish. An evening buffet, especially during the winter season is apt to include a couple of hot dishes, say a special chowder or lobster blisque and another hot dish, perhaps spaghetti and chicken livers. "Dunkers" are liked, so big platters of shrimp with bowls of delicious cocktail sauces or curry sauce are tops.

Soup ladled out of a handsome big tureen always makes a hit, especially when the soup is something special. A divided dish or several small dishes filled with chutney, red caviar, anchovy filets, tiny white onions, tiny spiced tomatoes or spiced pears or crabapples or pickled walnuts look and taste good. And don't forget the raw vegetable fans who want their crisp carrot sticks, cauliflowerets and celery curls.

For Sandwich-Making
A platter of various cold cuts and another platter of assorted breads, plus relishes and spreads is a certain hit, since guests like to make their own sandwiches. All these are good for stand-up or sit-down parties, or for seating guests at small tables.

Salad Garnishes
If salads are served—and they should be at a buffet meal—have them smartly garnished. Strips of red pimiento, segments of avocado, diced hard-cooked egg yolk all add color, and taste, too.

The nice thing about informal meals is that china can go informal. Gay pottery, earthenware, glass of various colors all add to the charm of the occasion. But there should be some harmonious link in color, otherwise the setting will be a hodge podge.

"Pillars Of Our Freedom" Discussed At Star P-TA Meeting, By Tennison

By MRS. BOB CLARY

Just as Mrs. T. L. Adams, president of Star P-T. A., stated to those present at the last meeting: "Those people who were not present to hear our guest speaker don't know what they did miss." Rev. R. C. Tennison, who is Mrs. Akins' father, formerly from Hamilton, surely did deliver a message that was well worthwhile. Would that more could have been present. His subject, "Pillars Of Freedom," included four big parts in our democracy. First, he said, was, "Work"—and if done wisely would help make a better living. Second, was, "Save"—both as individuals and in our government. Third, "Vote"—because it means much to democracy to not let the selection be like the weather in that we talk about it and do nothing. Fourth, "Pray"—because our democracy is founded on our faith in God.

Because of the changes and developments in the Gilmer-Akin Law, Leroy Beard more or less put himself on the spot to a "Question and Answer" discussion concerning our school at Star. Would the people like to know the standard accreditations of our school under the Gilmer-Akin Law which go into effect next September? Here is a chance to learn more about how our school is operated if we will bring our questions and discussions together for a better understanding. The regular meeting nights come on the third Monday of each month.

Let us be more concerned about the schools round about us.

We think every one in this community attended the fat stock show at Goldthwaite. The boys and girls surely had some pretty stock. The ranchmen sure are improving their herds.

About the weather of last week. It just seemed that no one wanted to talk about it. Mrs. Conner reported it was just so cold, they stayed at home.

Mrs. Evans reported they took their meals by the stove.

In general we think all the farmers liked the weather. Some think the cold killed some of the insects and set the fruit trees back. We had a little snow and sleet and not as much rain as some expected.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Evans came Friday and helped George Crawford kill a hog.

Floyd Daniel and Mark visited Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Daniel

Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Romans just returned from a pleasant visit with their little granddaughter, Diana Lynn and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Romans of Little Rock, Arkansas. Diana Lynn was born January 2. Mr. and Mrs. Romans say they had beautiful weather and saw lots of pretty country on their trip. The best of all was the company of little Diana.

A. L. Crawford visited Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bramblett during last week and reports them to be doing nicely.

It was nice to see Joe Burdett in town Saturday. Mr. Burdett has been a victim of flu. He reports Mrs. Burdett will have to remain around home a few days. She is feeling much better.

Truman Vaughan took his mother, Mrs. J. H. Vaughan, to the hospital at Waco last week. We are happy to report Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan to be on the mend. They were able to enjoy the company of their great-grandson, Mark Daniel, who visited them during last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Elms and their grandson, Aubrey Robinson of San Angelo were business visitors at Priddy Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Verda Price and family have returned to their home in Oklahoma City after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. T. Stevens.

O. A. Evans helped W. W. Williams saw wood during last week.

Jess Ivy has been bedding land at the Mrs. Otto Nauert farm.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Crawford and William G., visited Mrs. R. A. Stevens and Miss Lola Saturday afternoon.

W. A. Elms attended the stock show at Mullin along with several other folks.

A. L. Crawford and William G. tended the basketball game at Mullin. Every one reports a nice time over Mullin way.

STRAIN ON THE 1954 POLITICAL RESOLUTIONS

The woman who has used an electric clothes dryer would never think of hanging her wash on a line again. She has learned that she can do her washing in any kind of weather, with a minimum of work and trouble. She knows that clothes dried electrically are cleaner, without smoke or dust to soil them.

She has found, too, that the clothes dryer is easier on her family's clothes. They wear better and hold their color better, when wind and sun cannot damage them.

She knows all these things, because she has learned from experience.

Research facts bear out her experience. The Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station found that "white items dried in the dryer 50 times were as white as those dried outdoors. As for holding color and preventing fading, the dryer excels. All colors—even those washed 50 times in hot detergent water—remained deep and clear except one unstable blue dye. All items faded in the outdoor drying, even though they were in partial shade."

"Can This Be The Christ?"

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—John 7-8.

The Jews' feast of the Tabernacles was at hand, and Jesus' brethren asked Him to go and let His disciples see His miracles. He refused, however, for He knew that His own brethren did not believe in Him.

Later Jesus went to the feast, and people argued with one another, some saying, "He is a good man; others said, Nay, but He deceiveth the people," but no man spoke openly of Him for fear of the Pharisees.

Jesus taught in the temple, and the Pharisees marvelled, saying, "How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?" Some said He hath a devil, others, "He speaketh boldly and they say nothing unto Him."

The Pharisees sent officers to take Jesus, but they returned without Him, and when asked why they had not brought Him, they answered, "Never man spake like this Man." MEMORY VERSE—John 8:12.

News Of The Ebony Community

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Winter really bore down upon us last week as it has done several times previously during the last two months. The thermometer dropped again to 15 degrees. Thursday sleet and snow fell early in the morning, enough to make the ground almost white, but the sun came out in the afternoon, and the snow disappeared except in shady places on the north. The cold makes the cattle look drawn and hungry even though we try desperately to distribute to them enough of the meager rations to sustain them.

Sunday balmy days returned. We saw robins in the woods. At church just outside the house I could hear a wren singing a song exquisitely sweet. It was a day to make one long to walk in the woods. We wondered if we might dare hope for an early spring.

Things brightened up at the Malone home Friday when Mrs. W. A. Burn added her charming presence to the household of Ernest Malone and his friend, Jim King. Mrs. Burn says she left her sister, Mrs. J. E. Bean, of Van Horn still quite helpless from her broken right arm, suffered when she fell on the icy street just before Christmas.

When we were on our March of Dimes campaign Sunday of last week, we went by to see Alexis Eickholt, but he was not at home. Saturday he walked over to our place to bring us his liberal contribution.

Aleck went back by the Malone home and Mrs. Burn gave him a job digging a cesspool. I went down late in the evening to visit her. She was all aglow. Jim King was helping Aleck. Everything was working out just right. Blue Thompson and Mrs. Charles Griffin were helping her get out from Brownwood a sink for the kitchen and all necessary plumbing for it and the bathroom. This is Mrs. Burn's final week here. She hopes soon to board her plane for her return to her home in Manila. Then she will not be back for another three years.

Ernest Malone is very frail since his recent operation and illness. And we are all glad that his friend, Jim King, is staying with him. Mrs. Burn is trying her best to have everything convenient for them when she leaves.

I want to make a correction of an item I wrote last week. Instead of Mr. and Mrs. Shuler it was Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schusler (I can't be sure of the spelling) of Llano who visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byer. And their 5 1/2 months baby boy playing on his pallet on the floor was not only the joy of his parents, but also of Mr. and Mrs. Byer. Charm Whittenburg tells me that Mr. Schusler, who did service in Germany, spoke German so fluently that the Allied Officers made him their interpreter.

Enelle Thompson and Johnny Griffin did a good work for John Briley Saturday afternoon helping him brand and dehorn his calves.

Mrs. Edna Dwyer writes from Orange that her children, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Cawyer, are doing everything they can to make her stay with them very happy. But there is a little homesick note for her home so dear to her, and for her old friends to whom she is so devoted.

Sunday after church we went by Mrs. Effie Egger's to find out just who were her visitors.

Her son, Clayton, from Houston and her nephew, Everett Philen, and family from Texas City had been with her since Friday night. Everett looked fine, and his children, Mittle and Dinky, are darlings. Mittle came out and sat in the car with us and talked to us just like a little lady.

The second game of the night saw Evant boys down the boys from Goldthwaite by a score of 56-34. Carl Smith dropped in twelve points to lead the scoring.

PARENT PROBLEMS

Children of "Model" Parents

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

MORE than 1,000,000 children ran afoul of the law in the United States in 1952. Of this number 270,000 appeared before juvenile courts. These courts heard another 110,000 cases brought by parents, teachers and social agencies.

Juvenile delinquency rose 29 per cent between 1948 and 1952, while the number of children 10 to 17 years of age increased only 6 per cent. So reported Dr. Martha M. Elliot, Chief of the Children's Bureau, recently, before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Privileged Children Witness after witness, according to the public press, declared that delinquency was not confined to slum areas. Apparently the rate of increase in juvenile delinquency has been fastest among children from comfortable, privileged families. So we have also been reading and hearing now for several months.

This must be a disillusionment to the many persons who have all along supposed that crime is chiefly an economic matter.

During Prosperity Significantly, this unprecedented increase in juvenile delinquency occurred during a period of fabulous growth in prosperity in the United States. Those who have read my column during this period and earlier know that for years I've been warning all parents not to trust to mere material advantages at home for building good citizenship in their growing children. Yet it is reasonable to expect that almost no children growing up in comfortable homes and communities, with parents of superior education and family background, should become juvenile delinquents.

We should not condemn even these parents wholesale. Most of them are trying to use the methods of rearing their children which they suppose the rank and file of experts advise. These parents suppose they have been warned against restraining their children, lest they harm these children's personalities and frustrate them; and it's been the parents among the intelligentsia who have been first in accepting this advice and most faithful in following it.

The Model Parents When parents who are looked up to as among the "best" in their community turn their back on the prophets of no-restraints and stiffen up in home discipline of their own little children, we might soon see a marked decline in juvenile delinquency.

My bulletin "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Your dimes and dollars created the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—you make up its army of 80 million supporters and two million volunteers.
In 16 years, a powerful force for good has grown from a mere handful of men and women. Its power is yours.
The National Foundation has created the most extensive voluntary research program ever leveled at a single disease. It sustains a program of patient aid in which no polio victim goes without the best available care for lack of funds. It trains thousands of hospital and health workers.
And it will take more in '54 to keep this program rolling—because victory looms over the horizon. Show your faith in the organization you have made —

Governor Proclaims March 1-7 Public Schools Week In Texas

GREETINGS:

The Public School System of Texas goes back literally to the very beginning of our State. Texas' first Constitution made provisions for a system of public education. President Mirabeau Buonaparte Lamar, in his message to the Texas Congress in 1838 stated, "It is admitted by all that cultivated mind is the guardian genius of Democracy, and while guided and controlled by virtue, the noblest attribute of man. It is the only dictator that freemen acknowledge, and the only security which freemen desire."

The progress of our public schools from small beginnings to the fine educational system we have today has not been easy. It has required a cooperative effort of State and local officials, the active interest of parents and of citizens generally, and the energy and devotion of public spirited men and women who have been willing to devote their lives to the teaching profession.

In recent years we have had to face great problems in the administration of our public schools. We have learned that the solution of these problems is only possible with public interest, understanding and cooperation.

One of the best evidences of public support is a definite effort on the part of each citizen to become familiar with the public school system and to keep in touch with it.

THEREFORE, I, Allan Shivers, Governor, of Texas, do hereby designate the period March 1 - 7, 1954, as one of the public schools during this period and become acquainted with the programs and accomplishments of our educational system.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK IN TEXAS and urge every citizen to visit

(Seal) In official recognition whereby I hereby affix my signature this 5th day of August, 1953.

(Signed) ALLAN A. SHIVERS Governor of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams and Mr. and Mrs. C. Locklear were guests of their son and brother, Wayne Locklear and family at the Horseshoe Bend Ranch near Weatherford last Sunday. The Williamses returned home Sunday night but Mr. and Mrs. Locklear remained for a longer visit with their son.

Pvt. Varnell Wilkey Enters Ft. Bliss For Basic Training

Fort Bliss, (Spec.)— Private Varnell Wilkey, son of W. B. Wilkey, Moline Route, of Goldthwaite, recently began eight weeks of basic training in the Antiaircraft Artillery Replacement Training Center at Ft. Bliss, Texas.

The first eight weeks of basic training are spent on fundamental Infantry subjects like army drill, rifle, machine gun, and bazooka marksmanship, and familiarization with army technical subjects. This first phase of training is climaxed with a one-week maneuver in the field.

Upon completion of the first eight week cycle, Pvt. Wilkey will be assigned for further training at Ft. Bliss in the techniques of antiaircraft artillery, or he will be transferred to another Training Center for schooling in some other army skill.

Should he remain at Ft. Bliss, his second eight weeks will see him learn the uses of various electronic equipment employed by the AAA-RTC. He will also be expertly trained in the firing of light and medium antiaircraft artillery at low-flying and high altitude aerial targets on the one-and-one-half million acre Ft. Bliss ranges.

New Conoco Super Gasoline with TCP
The Greatest Gasoline Development in 31 Years

When old-timers squint at the sky, when calds start milling and bawling it means: just one thing—the first "norther" of the year is blowin' in. It's the beginning of winter—a critical time for the brood cows. They're building next spring's calf and maintaining their own bodies, too!

Cows need help to stay in shape and drop strong calves next spring. They need carbohydrates for heat and energy, body-building protein, vitamins and minerals. Purina Range Checkers are a welcome sight to cattle braving winter's cold. See us next time you're in town for more information about easy-to-feed Range Checkers—they have what cows need for health and reproduction.

A TIME FOR ALERTNESS

Any program as extensive as the recent drought relief hay shipments to Texas can have mixed results. It can do a lot of good and yet still have some harmful after-effects.

One danger lies in the spread of noxious weeds or plants to areas where they did not exist before. When hay is brought in from distant points, it is inevitable that some foreign plants are mixed with that hay. And they can be a real bother if they get a foothold in Texas fields.

There are several precautionary measures a farmer or rancher can use to prevent this spread. When practical, only one area of the pasture or barnyard should be used as a feeding site. This area can be watched closely, and if weed seeds are present in the hay, it will be a simple matter to eradicate the resulting plant growths.

Caution also should be used when using barnyard fertilizer in the fields. Many undesirable weed seeds can pass unharmed through the digestive tracts of livestock and germinate in the ground.

If this fertilizer is used, it should be spread in designated areas and a close watch kept on it. Any new or unusual plants found in the field is a potential threat to the land.

Studies show that the shipment of agricultural commodities from one state to another is the prime cause of weed and insect spreading. The opportunity is especially ripe in Texas this year.

Although only about 81 counties have received these disaster shipments this winter, the facts are that foreign plants can spread alarmingly in a new area in a very short time.

This coming spring is the time to begin a sharp lookout for strange weeds that might have slipped into the state in drought relief hay. The farmer who takes the necessary precautions protects not only himself, but also his neighbor, and his state as a whole.

Three Types Of Loans Available To Aid Farmers And Stockmen

Three types of loans made by the Farmers Home Administration are particularly adapted to helping farmers and stockmen meet their credit needs for feed, seed, livestock equipment and other operating necessities, L. J. Cappelman, State Director of the Agency said. In his Dallas office Cappelman pointed out highlights of the 1954 lending program of FHA. Total lendings up to this time have amounted to $31 million dollars, he said, and county offices in many parts of the State are overrun with applicants. Mr. Cappelman listed the regular farm operating loan program, the special livestock loans, and in designated disaster areas, the disaster loan programs.

Through the operating loan program, farmers may borrow to acquire farming equipment and buy any kind of available feed and pay production expenses. Loans are made through local county Farmers Home Administration offices to farmers and stockmen whose proposed operations are on a sound basis. The funds supplement but do not compete with other local credit. Operating loans made for all purposes this year, between July 1 and January 15, in Texas, amounted to $11,415,000. Cappelman added that no more funds are available on this type of loan.

The special livestock loans were made available late last summer. The January 15 report of Mr. Cappelman to Administrator R. B. McLeish of the Farmers Home Administration showed more than 650 farmers and stockmen had borrowed more than $9,267,000 in special livestock loans to buy feed and hay, obtain pasture facilities, replace livestock to normal levels, and to handle other needs brought on by drought conditions. These loans, restricted to established producers of cattle, sheep, and goats, help farmers carry on normal livestock production rather than expansion of operations.

Most of the demand is coming from drought-stricken Southeast Texas although the loans are available throughout the State.

under designation of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson. Disaster loans are also made in area designated by Secretary Benson as a disaster loan area, where severe weather or other conditions have caused substantial production losses or where unfavorable local economic and credit conditions have made emergency credit necessary for continued operations. More than 5,500 disaster loans totaling $11,000,000.00 had been obtained by farmers between July 1 and January 15 this year.

Other types of loans handled by Farmers Home Administration provide credit for buying and improving efficient farms and farm buildings.

Mr. Cappelman pointed out that the loan demand this year is greater than in the history of the Farmers Home Administration and heavier in Texas than in any other state. Funds are available and applications may be submitted at the office of George M. Dorman, County Supervisor, located in the Mills County Courthouse in Goldthwaite, Texas.

YOUR TELEPHONE MULTIPLIES YOU!

It's practically impossible to measure the real value of your telephone. In shoe leather and energy saved... in minutes and hours saved... in savings of gasoline and wear-and-tear on the family car... in things accomplished in an ordinary day—your telephone does an enormous job for a small cost. Today you can be here, there, everywhere at once through calls you make and calls you receive.

Telephone service has not gone up in price nearly as much as most other things you buy.

MOST PEOPLE "pay" their telephone bill with far fewer hours of work than it took ten years ago. On top of that, the service is vastly better—faster, more efficient, and you can call about twice as many people. But on the other hand, the service costs far more to supply.

Elementary School Basketball Team Open Season With Two Victories

By PEGGY JONES

The two teams of elementary school journeyed to Mullin on Tuesday for duels on the Hardwood and walked off after desperate struggles with victory in both boys and girls divisions.

The first game opened at 6:00 p. m. with the sextet taking an early lead, and holding it throughout, but never more than three points. The hustle of Joyce Schuman, the making of goals by Balenda Whitley and V. Geeslin, the stalwart guarding of Nelda Yeager and S. Morgan made the whole affair rather exciting and guarantees good future teams for Goldthwaite.

The boys game opened with a quick score by Kite of Goldthwaite and the lead was overcome until only three ends of the game remained was tied on 22 all. Tinsley the leading scorer of the thwaite delegation but assisted by scoring of ers, Reynolds, Jones, Edgers, Todd, Kite and others. Jones garnished the only of the extra period to bring tory to the locals by the point margin.

The two junior teams of grade school will enter a vitation tournament in this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles spent the weekend in Worth, guests of Mr. and E. E. Madding and Wanda
