

VIC'S . . .

SOLILOQUY

In his telegram of congratulations to President Eisenhower, Governor Stevenson said truly: "You have won not only the election, but also an expression of great confidence of the American people."

The President's victory, of avalanche proportions, amounted to an almost unprecedented personal tribute. There can be no doubt that he is the most popular figure of his time, and that tens of millions of Americans, all partisan considerations to one side, look on him with the utmost trust and with that still rarer feeling, affection.

But there is infinitely more to the Eisenhower victory than a personal achievement. What is of enduring importance is the attitude of mind and heart that the President has brought to the most demanding and exalting position on earth.

Mr. Eisenhower's over-riding interest is in people—not just people in the mass, but people as individuals. His speeches, formal and informal, almost invariably stress the theme of individual freedom, and urge the kind of government in which that freedom may flower. He finds the super, centralized state dangerous and distasteful, and believes profoundly that government should not do for us what we can do for ourselves.

A great many supporters of the President, of course, have disagreed and will again disagree with him on various issues. Such disagreement is the essence of the democratic process. But his basic philosophy is solidly in the old, free American tradition.

Finally, another thing said by Governor Stevenson in his election-night telegram should be remembered in the unpredictable days that lie ahead: "Tonight we are not Republicans and Democrats, but Americans."

PRICE FIXING BY EDICT

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, in his new book, "Farmers At The Crossroads" (Devin-Adair Company, New York) has something wise to say about the marketing and pricing of farm products.

When farmers plan their production and marketing programs on the basis of their individual price forecasts, some make wise decisions and some do not. However, he then points out, "Aggregate errors in production judgments tend to be self-correcting, as economic ratios change and dictate such corrections." Hogs and corn provide him with a fine illustration of that principle: "If the price of hogs is high relative to corn, for example, farmers produce more hogs. As hog production and marketing increase, the ratio between hog and corn prices narrows, inducing farmers to shift to other kinds of livestock."

But what happens if government fixes the hog and corn prices? Mr. Benson answers in these words: ". . . The farmer must try to forecast changes in government edicts affecting relative prices of the two commodities, rather than to forecast economic changes in consumer demand and cost relationships. Government actions are frequently more difficult to predict than market behavior. . . Administrative rulings are not as flexible as the market place. The price administrator moves slowly, and discovers belatedly that the support level is wrong. It takes still longer to admit the error and correct it."

The problems and dislocations that accompany price fixing by edict must always be worse than those they are supposed to solve.

SHOP EARLY

Each year about this time merchants begin to advise us to "Buy early—and avoid the Christmas rush." That is always good advice. And this year, it would seem, it is better than ever. For, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Christmas sales, auto sales excluded, will total more than seven per cent above those of the 1955 season, for a new all-time record. The dollar total for November and December is forecast at $31.1 billion. The Chamber also observed that the 1956 retail boom is healthier than last year's, reflecting a more normal expansion in population and personal income.

This season the millions of people who flock through America's retail stores, in search of either holiday gifts or the routine things we buy all seasons, will be offered an almost bewildering assortment of wares from which to choose. They will see the best and most attractive standards of display, sanitation, advertising and promotion. They will, with few exceptions, be met by friendly, courteous and helpful sales people. They will—unless their wants are unusual indeed—find exactly what they are looking for. And they would do well to consider what has made all this abundance possible. The most important force in that has been the competitive, free enterprise system, in which no one has a monopoly on anything, and in which the rewards go to those who please the public most, and who offer the best value for the dollar.

MARCH OF EVENTS

U. S. Farm Mechanization Making Wonderful Strides
Modern Methods Make Better Buy Than in Past

WASHINGTON—A revolution is sweeping the country which affects not only Americans but more than half the people in the world who fail to get enough to eat. Yet it is a little or no public notice.

The technological advances which have taken place on American farms since the advent of rubber tires and tractor-mounted implements have had a pronounced effect on the structure of agricultural enterprise. Moreover, there are those who believe that during the next 25 years the revolution in progress may look like child's play as compared with what is bound to happen.

The swift pace of United States farm mechanization in the last two decades is evident in these government figures—which tell only part of the story:

From 1940 to 1956, numbers of farm tractors increased 158 per cent, trucks 167 per cent, combines 426 per cent, and compactors 38 per cent.

Of the machines which have been on the market for only a few years, pickup balers have increased 1,652 per cent since 1942, and field harvesters 149 per cent since 1950. The use of bulk milk tanks on farms has increased fold in the last three years.

ON A TYPICAL CORN-HOG-DAIRY FARM, the volume of chinery and machine services used in one year has increased 200 per cent since 1940 while the volume of labor used has decreased the same percentage.

As a result of all this, farmers have increased their production efficiency. In the early 1930s, one farm worker produced food for about nine persons whereas today there is one farm worker every 18 U. S. consumers and the farmer is producing more products than can go into these 18 stomachs.

Furthermore, food was never a better buy than it is right now. A generation ago Americans spent 25 per cent of their income on food. Today, we still spend a fourth of our take-home pay for food—but for a far better diet.

Thirty years ago an hour's take-home pay for industrial work bought 5½ loaves of bread compared with 10 today; 30 years ago an hour's take-home pay bought 3½ quarts of milk—now 21 7½; then it bought 1½ pounds of steak—now 2 pounds; then it bought one dozen oranges—now it buys three dozen.

THE PRESIDENT of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers, Prof. Roy Bainer of the University of California, asserts United States agriculture will have to increase its output by 50 per cent within the next decade alone because of this nation's growing population.

Since there has been a decrease of 1.6 million commercial farm acres in the last 25 years, some authorities, including Bainer, believe the key to the problem lies in even more efficient farming.

Still, we can't ignore—with justifiable pride perhaps—that the strides have been made toward increased mechanization. A tury ago, 79 per cent of the total energy used for agriculture was supplied by animals, 15 per cent by wind and only six per cent by machines.

By 1960, it is estimated that machines will supply 96 per cent of the nation's total work energy, humans three per cent and animals one per cent.

THERE ARE 12 MILLION tractors, cars and trucks on our roads today, about a million grain combines and 700,000 mechanical pickers. More than 700,000 farms also have milking machines.

The capital investment of our farms is tremendous. Officials estimate that for each of the 8½ million farm operators, hired help and family workers there is an investment of slightly more than $15,000.

However, perhaps the most striking addition to this investment in farming has been in the last decade and a half with the progress of technology and equipment. In 1940 the average value of the equipment at the disposal of each farm worker was about $1,700. Today it is slightly more than $1,700.

TODAY'S Menu

Short-Time Cooking For Pork Main Dishes

By ALICE DENHOFF
PORK has its fullest flavor when it is thoroughly cooked, but that doesn't mean that hours of preparation are required. Of course, some of the larger, chunkier cuts need about 3 1/2 hr. to roast or simmer to juicy doneness. Still, there are many savory pork recipes that can be assembled and cooked thoroughly in an hour's time—or even less. Try some of the following main dish and snack suggestions.

Unusual Dish
Pork Balls and Fruited Noodles makes an unusual dish.

To serve 4, combine 1 lb. ground pork, 1/2 c. bread crumbs, 1/4 c. minced onions, 1 slightly beaten egg, 1/2 tsp. nutmeg, tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. pepper. Shape into 16 balls, roll in flour and brown in 2 tsp. melted fat.

Remove balls from skillet, add 4 tsp. flour and blend well. Stir in 3 c. bouillon or water, tsp. onion salt, tsp. Worcestershire sauce, and a dash of pepper.

Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add pork balls, cover and simmer 30 min.

Mix 1/2 c. raisins (rinsed) with 4 oz. noodles, cooked. Serve noodles and raisins topped with pork balls and gravy.

Armed with a can of pork loaf, a nice main course can be assembled in a jiffy.

To serve 4, cut 1 can pork loaf into 8 slices and place in shallow baking dish.

Mix 1/2 c. crab apple or currant jelly and 2 tsp. prepared horseradish and spread on pork slices. Bake at 400° F. for 20 min.

For a hearty pork and noodle skillet to serve 4, brown 1 lb. ground pork and 1/2 c. chopped onions in a little hot fat. Add tsp. each salt and chili powder, 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce.

Cook 3 c. uncooked noodles in slightly salted water 10 min. Drain and add to pork with 1 can tomato sauce thinned with 1/2 c. water.

Cook over low heat 15 min. Season to taste.

With Blue Cheese
Blue cheese and pork loaf combine nicely for hearty snacks.

To prepare some 64 one-bite snacks, cut 1 can pork loaf into 8 lengthwise slices.

Mix 1/2 c. blue cheese that has been crumbled (a 4-oz. package) with 2 tsp. prepared mustard and spread over slices.

Broil 3 in. from source of heat until cheese topping is bubbly and lightly browned, about 5 min.

Cut each slice in 8 pieces and impale on cocktail picks. Men like these hearty snacks.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

SELLER REMAINS LIABLE WHEN BUYER ASSUMES MORTGAGE

Henry Jones decided to sell his home for $15,000 and when a buyer was found, the question arose as to how the buyer should finance the purchase.

Henry had a mortgage on his house, with a balance of $10,000, and the buyer suggested that Henry permit him to take over the mortgage payments, paying Henry the difference of $5,000 in cash. This, argued the buyer, would save him the trouble and expense of getting a new loan himself and so Henry agreed.

Several years after the deal was closed, Henry received a letter from his bank advising that the payments on the mortgage were far in arrears and that he would have to pay or a lawsuit would be filed.

Henry was surprised to learn that he was still liable on the original obligation, and that if the property could not be sold at foreclosure to bring enough money to pay the mortgage and the costs, he would have to pay the difference.

Of course, Henry might have sued his buyer for his loss, but the chances would be that the buyer is insolvent and "judgment-proof", so that Henry could not collect a judgment against him.

When a mortgage is assumed by a purchaser of real estate, the financial institution still holds the original note which was signed by the seller. If Henry had contacted his bank and obtained a release of liability, Henry would, of course, have been cleared of all further responsibility of the obligation.

Henry's bank, however, would have no reason to release Henry and might be reluctant to do so unless the bank's investigation disclosed that the buyer was at least as credit-worthy as Henry. The bank may also have had additional problems concerning releasing Henry from the obligation if the loan was of the FHA or GI type.

The danger of permitting an assumption of your mortgage loan may, therefore, be considerable, especially in view of the fact that real estate markets may fall after a period of years so that the real estate itself may not be of sufficient value to pay the mortgage note in the event of a default by the buyer.

WINTER FARM FIRES
Usually, winter is still a few days away but colder weather has arrived. When temperatures drop and all forms of equipment are brought out on farms, the chances for fires increase. Every year more than $100 million dollars worth of farm property is lost to fire, and members of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council say most of this vast loss can be prevented.

Studies made at many of these destructive fires show that defective chimneys, carelessness with combustible materials and misuse of petroleum products rank high as cause of farm fires.

A check should be made now of all heating equipment used whether in the home or in connection with water systems or in farm buildings. Cracks or other chimney defects should be repaired and rusted or burned out stove pipes should be replaced. Petroleum products should never be used to start or hasten a fire. Make sure that combustible materials are proected and stored away from heat sources.

Use a metal or asbestos floor covering under wood or coal-burning stoves and a spark arrester on the chimney to eliminate the risk of a roof fire. Care should be taken to see that stock water tank heaters, brooders and other types of farm heating equipment are installed safely and kept in good operating condition. Make sure that dampers in stoves or furnace pipes are never closed so tightly as to force carbon monoxide or other gases out into the room.

Too, be cautious about running combustible motors in closed shops or garages. If farm machinery is being repaired in a closed shop, make sure the ventilation and heating systems are safe and in good operating condition. Keep combustible material away from heat whether it comes from a stove or a torch being used in connection with a repair job.

CARE CAN PREVENT WASTE
"DUSTLESS" DUST CLOTH
Ever push dust from one spot to another with a cloth that refused to pick it up? Solve the problem by making your own "dustless" dust cloth.

You will need a square of jersey cloth (about 16 inches is best), a clean coffee can, with tight fitting lid, and paste wax or furniture polish.

Apply paste wax or furniture polish to the sides and bottom of the can. Place the clean cloth inside, close the lid tightly and allow to stand for 24 hours. The cloth will absorb the oil evenly and be ready for use.

This cloth can be kept in any closet since it has a tight fitting lid. Make several at a time to keep in different parts of the house.

Many Applications Processed For Grain And Roughage In Four Months

During the four months period through October 31, 1956, Texas farmers and ranchers eligible under the emergency feed grain and roughage programs, received assistance in the purchase of 1,443,867,646 pounds of grain and 1,374,170 tons of roughage, Walter T. McKay, Farmers Home Administration State Director at Dallas announced today. 91,787 applications for grain assistance and 37,405 applications under the roughage program were processed during this period.

The emergency feed grain and roughage programs are meant to help established farmers and ranchers, who are primarily engaged in farming and ranching, to maintain their basic herds of cattle, sheep and goats, if their circumstances are such that this assistance is needed, McKay advised. The local Farmers Home Administration committees have the responsibility to determine the eligibility of individual applicants and to approve the amount of feed each applicant may purchase under the program.

Two hundred thirty-three counties in Texas are designated under the emergency feed grain and roughage programs. In these counties, eligible applicants are helped in buying corn, oats, barley and grain sorghums, or approved feed mixtures containing either 60 or 75 per cent of these grains through a Government subsidy of $1.50 per hundred weight. The Federal Government bears the full amount of this subsidy. In addition to the emergency feed grain assistance, eligible applicants are helped to buy hay or other approved roughage to maintain their basic herds. Under this program applicants receive a Federal subsidy of $7.50 per ton of roughage actually bought.

Regulations that guide FHA county committees in the review of applications provide that applicants will not be certified if they are financially able to obtain the necessary feed for their basic herds without difficulty and can continue their normal farming and livestock operations. It is not expected that applicants will exhaust their total resources, including credit, before they can be certified for this assistance McKay advised.

"However, McKay added, the fact that the purchase of feed at regular prices may not be profitable to the applicant is not sufficient to qualify him for assistance. It must be determined in every instance that an applicant is primarily engaged in farming or ranching and that this is his main source of income. A nominal portion of his income from other sources would not necessarily disqualify the applicant. The overriding factor in determining the eligibility of any applicant is his financial ability to obtain the feed necessary to maintain his basic herds and continue his normal operations. An applicant whose financial circumstances are such that he can provide necessary feed for his basic herds and carry on his operations without serious difficulty is not eligible for this assistance."

Under the present designation applications may be filed through December 3, 1956 for a supply of feed grain and roughage to carry basic livestock herds through December 31, 1956.

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

Most automobile performance records are pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up an important new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!

A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel. It set a new record of less than 57 hours for the run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

When you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ, the true significance of this record run becomes apparent. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. And when a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. Come try a Chevy.

CADDO LAKE STATE PARK's bayou affords thrilling but safe boating. On Caddo Lake's broad water separating Texas and Louisiana, native guides are needed to thread many of the passages among cypress trees and knees. The park at Karnack, Texas, is popular with campers and fishermen.

Lake State Park at Karnack traces its name to one of the most unusual earth disturbances in recent times. On December 16, 1811, an earthquake affecting two million square miles, with its epicenter in Missouri, caused topographical changes that temporarily reversed the flow of the Mississippi river and did other strange things. Among them, it caused the sinking of a Caddo Indian village near the Texas-Louisiana border. Fleeing to higher ground the Caddoes established their new village on what is now a part of Caddo Lake State Park. The strange antic of Nature left an eminence which is wooded with tall pines and other trees, while the lake is studded with cypress trees and cypress knees. The disaster visited upon the Indian Village has proved a boon to sportsmen. It created a large, shallow lake with perhaps

Local F. H. A. Chapter Attends District III Meeting At Brownwood

By VIRGILENE GEESLIN
And DELORES THOMAS

Goldthwaite F. H. A. Chapter members went to the District III meeting at Brownwood Saturday morning, November 17.

On arrival we registered and the first session began at 9:30 o'clock with Miss Elwana Hawthorne presiding. We were welcomed by the City Manager and School Superintendent and greeted by the State FFA vice-president.

We were entertained by the Brownwood A Cappella Choir and the Miles FFA-FFA Sextet. Speakers for the morning were Rev. John C. Gilbert of Brady and Patrolman Joe Perry. At 11:30 we were dismissed for lunch.

The afternoon session began with the meeting of the House of Delegates at 12:30. There the District III officers for 1956-57 were elected. It was decided that the District III meeting will be held at Hamilton next year.

Entertainment for the afternoon session was a style show by the Brownwood Chapter, a skit by the Santa Anna Chapter and also a skit by the Stephenville Chapter. The theme "Stars In Our Crown" was completed with the installation of the new officers. Mona Schwertner of Miles was elected as the new president and Delores Thomas of Goldthwaite was elected recording secretary.

The Chapter was accompanied to Brownwood by the sponsor, Mrs. Patty Johnson and Miss Jearline Perry. Delores Thomas is a junior in Goldthwaite High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Thomas of Goldthwaite.

more variety of fish than any other equal body of water. It provided one of the greatest havens for ducks, geese and other waterfowl.

The park has sleeping and meal facilities that can care for group gatherings of a 100 people, and individual cabins for families and smaller groups. Its trailer camp, conveniently located near the park canteen, has water, light and sewerage connections.

The cypress growth of Caddo Lake is painted by famous artists. Many of the trees growing in the water are festooned with heavy Spanish moss. Except for dredged channels the lake has an average depth of about 10 feet. It is noted for its black bass and white perch. The saw grass and lily pads form lurking spots for bream, small mouth bass and big black bass. The deeper water is well populated with crappie, channel cat, yellow cat, willow cat and mud cat. Loggerhead turtles over 200 pounds have been caught.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

By CHARLES HAENISCH

The Range Management Contest co-sponsored by the Daniel Baker Agriculture Department of Howard Payne College and the Middle Colorado Soil Conservation District Association is scheduled to be held on a ranch cooperating with the Concho Soil Conservation District, near Eden, Texas, December 1, 1956. Teams of three members each from any FFA Chapter or 4-H Club within any of the five soil conservation districts in the Middle Colorado Association, are eligible to participate in this contest. A number of entries have already been received and several of the Soil Conservation Districts are sponsoring local Range Management Contests prior to the contest at Eden. The three first place teams will receive trophies and plaques. The 10 high individuals will receive loving cups. Awards are given by Howard Payne College. The first place individual in the contest will be awarded a $150. Agriculture Scholarship to Howard Payne College.

This contest is designated to give participants "on-the-ground" training in all of the important phases of Range Management. One section deals with Plant Identification in which the contestants identify from 25 to 33 range plants growing under natural conditions. The second section deals with Range Trend Indicators in which the contestants determine range plants, increasing or decreasing, on specified plots, and soil erosion, surface crusting, and pounds of vegetative cover per acre on other plots. As a third phase, Range Condition and Site Determination, in which the contestants study and determine the soil site and range vegetative condition on four to six designated 15 by 15 feet plots, is included.

A free barbecue lunch is being served for the contestants and the team coaches by the Concho Soil Conservation District on the day of the contest. Entries should be mailed to A. T. Bratton, Head of Agriculture Department, Howard Payne College.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard E. Collier and children, Benita and Jimmy, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Collier and Jerry.

Football Receipts Best In Years

A financial report has been published following each football game this season, to keep school patrons informed. Results of the season for one-half, or Goldthwaite's part, total gate receipts, including reserved tickets sold, amounted to $3,233.74 on the varsity's ten games and a total of $126.42 on the three home games for the "B" team.

In five varsity games away from home, half of the receipts amounted to $1,645.45 and on the five games played at home receipts were $1,619.29. The grand total income on football was $3,360.16.

Supt. J. T. Jones expressed appreciation to fans and patrons for their support that has enabled the school to pay athletic bills in full. This appreciation comes not only from the administrators but also from the coaches, team members and school board as well.

Art And Civic Club Members Hear Book Review By Miss Love Gatlin

The Art and Civic Club met at the Jennie Trent Dew Library Tuesday afternoon, November 13, with Mrs. Lee Walton, Sammy Harper and Chester Head as hostesses.

Mrs. Jack Elms was program leader and introduced Miss Love Gatlin who reviewed the book "Merry Christmas Mr. Baxter."

Mr. Baxter, who was in his difficult fifties—all the familiar fun habits still strong inside you and not quite enough energy to see them through.

Mr. Baxter, who had just recovered from the economic shock of last Christmas, was just being reminded that Christmas was not far off.

This difficult story so cleverly told by Miss Gatlin, touched and reminded each one of the listeners of incidents in their own lives as those of Mr. Baxter.

The refreshment table was centered with a beautiful arrangement of autumn leaves and candles.

A delicious refreshment plate was served by the hostess to club members and their guests.

MODERN HOMEMAKING RECIPES... HOUSEHOLD HELPS

By Julia Hunter
HOME ECONOMICS DIRECTOR, LONE STAR GAS COMPANY

Winter months usually bring an upsurge in the amount of wild game brought in for the homemaker to turn into a tasty meal.

If members of your family are among the season's successful hunters, or if you are on the list to share the bounty of an outdoorsman, you may become involved in a cooking problem. With a good recipe to follow and a little general knowledge of game cookery, however, cooking wild game is as easy as cooking any other meat.

One of the first concerns in cooking wild game is the flavor. Many gourmets contend the wild flavor of game is important and should be retained. However, if you object to the "gamey" flavor, bake or roast birds with sliced onions, quartered apple and celery leaves in the cavity. Discard these accessories after cooking is completed.

If dressing is desired with the birds, parboil them before they are stuffed or bake the dressing in separate pan. If the bird is stuffed without parboiling, much of the wild flavor is absorbed by the dressing.

Marinate venison before cooking to remove part of the wild flavor and insure tenderness. It is especially important to marinate venison cuts for boiling.

Freshly killed large game and many game birds are tough and should be aged before cooking. Ducks, geese and pheasant should be stored two to four days. Quail needs no aging.

Venison requires two to four weeks for maximum tenderness. Any antlered animal is venison. The term is commonly applied for deer, but venison recipes may be used for preparing the meat from any antlered animal, elk, antelope, moose.

Generally speaking, large game is cooked like corresponding cuts of domestic meat and small game and birds like poultry. One point to remember is wild meats are leaner than domestic meats and need added fat in cooking.

Game meat that has been frozen should be cooked with as little delay as possible after it is thoroughly thawed, for

you'll find a Faith to live by...

It's quiet inside. Quiet with the peace of centuries, for this is God's House.

Within these walls, the worries which loomed so large outside become less fearsome... for the first time perhaps you see them in their true perspective. If this alone were the reward of Faith, it would be enough. But there is more.

Faith is a source of strength, a reservoir of power that helps you meet the needs of every day. By worshiping with your family each week at your church or synagogue, you're giving them a measure of security no amount of money could buy. The Faith to hope... to grow... to live by.

Give them a Faith to live by

Worship with them this week

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

November 22, was Bill's Thanksgiving holiday but for me it was another day of fun. All turned out pretty well. Cooley School had a Thanksgiving dinner to which turkey and pumpkin pie and all the other good things were served. The teachers were permitted to invite their families to dinner with them at the home at Cooley was at 12 o'clock. Then until one, two bus loads of children were to leave for Western College to see the Wizard of Oz. Grace was the teacher to accompany them. Mrs. Howser, the principal, always so thoughtful—thought it would be a good idea to have the children go with her on this trip, and sent a letter to that effect. It was time to get him. Genoviva ironed his shirt. Granddad polished his shoes. He dressed that dimple in his left cheek kept twinkling in and out. He sparkled like diamond when he and Dad got in the car and took off for Cooley.

Johnny and his Mommy got back about 3:30. He had had a wonderful time. He had got to ride in the bus and had been to Texas Western College and he had seen The Wizard of Oz. He told his Mommy that he liked school and he wanted to start going to school right now.

Billy didn't have anything out of the ordinary at his school today, but tomorrow they will go to Texas Western to see The Wizard of Oz. And next week they are to have two days of turkey dinner, then get out Wednesday for the holidays. No more school till Monday.

A week ago today we took our friend, Mr. Brownie Reeves White, to the Greyhound Bus Station where she caught the 5:30 bus for her home in Los Angeles. A card from her yesterday said she got there about noon next day. The weather was warm and pleasant—a little cool at night—but the drought was on full force. They had had only one small shower since she left there July 8.

A letter from our daughter, Ruth, today said Jan had asked her several times to write me that she could dress herself like Johnny does. They are leaving Wednesday after school next week to spend Thanksgiving with the Mitchell kin at Texarkana. Callie Wilson—a onetime Ebonyite—had called her from Vidor where she was visiting her son. Also Carol Jean wrote someone at Welcome Valley, where Don preaches each Sunday, told her she had just found out that Carol was Miss Clemmie's granddaughter. It was Monty Rae Crowder Schermer. Jill, who was six September 27, started in kindergarten the first of school. She soon got to take a special test and was promoted to first grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennard and children of Fort Worth spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dennard and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Faulkner.

Mrs. J. H. Simpson and daughter of Grand Prairie and Miss Ruby Simpson of McKinney were recent guests of Mrs. C. A. Simpson and other relatives.

CALLAN GRAHAM, Former West Texas legislator and district attorney from Kimble County, has been named executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads Association at Austin. He will assume the post December 1.

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture

FIG IN THE PARLOR
By John C. White, Commissioner

Modern pork production has reversed the old truism, "You can't raise a pig in a parlor." Apparently you can! And at a neat profit, too!

Southwestern hog feeders are showing interest in a recent housing and management practice that involves a "pig par-ket as high as 300 head of hogs a year with a minimum investment in money and labor, yet get maximum returns.

A group of hog pioneers came up with the parlor idea, starting with a large group of pigs on concrete. According to studies of the Ralston Purina Company, the first 32 hogs marketed from a "parlor" returned a labor profit of $6.32 per pig in 45 days on a 18 cent market.

A parlor 30 by 22 feet can handle 50 pigs weighing 60 to 80 pounds. Maximum efficiency of investment, labor and feed is claimed with a turnover ever 60 to 70 days. The cost of the parlor including equipment was about $400 in the experimental locations.

Feeders who have used the parlor system believe that their hogs show better carcass yield in addition to these stated advantages: quick turnover of investments, fewer disease problems, ease of adaptability to either hot or cold weather, and higher daily gains.

Texas hog raisers may want to investigate this method of production, in view of the high competition for the consumer dollar. In addition, current hog prices call for low production costs in order to make a profit.

Information concerning "pig parlors" may be obtained by writing to John White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin.

COTTON AND OTHER CROP PROSPECTS

Texas' prospective cotton crop estimate has been whittled down by 140,000 bales since the United States Department of Agriculture's previous guess of August 1. The new prediction is for 3,460,000 bales this season. Observers point out that dry weather in unirrigated sections has taken its toll and the production outlook is smaller than for any year since 1950, and is two per cent below average. Acreage allotments are a big factor in the reduction.

TURKEY growers in Texas are raising an estimated 4,457,000 birds this year. This increase was 47 per cent over the 1955 output has trade nervously wondering whether the market will absorb such an increase and still provide any kind of profit for the grower. The turkey crop is bigger than at any time since records were begun in 1934.

Over the United States as a whole, the number of turkeys is put at 76 million, or 16 per cent above last year.

As a result of this increase and the unsettled condition of the market, the USDA has inaugurated a turkey purchase program to prop up the anticipated sag in demand. Turkey, which the government buys will be distributed to non-profit school lunch and institutional programs.

PECANS, the fruit of our state tree, may amount to 26,800,000 pounds, according to the Crop Reporting Board. The estimators remembering a bad miss in their guess of last year, cautiously add that the case-bearer insect is busy on the crop and may reduce it somewhat. Drouth is also cited as a factor that may cut his figure down before harvest time.

BROOMCORN, a minor state crop but one of importance in South Texas, is estimated at a low of 2,500 tons this season. This is only 26 per cent of the 9,500 tons of last year and 36 per cent of the 10-year average.

A record low crop of 25,800 tons is expected for the entire United States.

Production details for any of the above crops or other state production may be obtained by writing John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas.

If Gifts Are Mailed Early They Can Be Delivered Before Christmas

Pointing up the need for your cooperation on her 1956 "Mail Early For Christmas" campaign, Postmaster Lucile Fairman says if you will follow these three simple rules, all of your gifts can be delivered before Christmas Day: Wrap them securely. Address them correctly, and Mail them early.

Amplifying these rules, the Postmaster said, "Avoid the risk of mailing poorly wrapped packages. Use corrugated mailing cartons, plenty of heavy brown wrapping paper, and be sure that every package is tied with strong cord. Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the shocks." She also reminds us that size and weight limitations for Parcel packages vary according to place of mailing and destination, and advises us to secure Pamphlet No. 2 at the post office, telling all about Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing, and Pamphlet No. 3, giving complete details on Domestic Postage Rates and Fees.

Speaking about correct addressing of Christmas gifts and cards, the Postmaster said: "Be sure your Christmas mailing list is up to date and that you have the complete name, address, zone number, city and state for everyone on your list. Send all your Christmas cards by First Class mail, because they will be processed and delivered quicker, and they'll be forwarded, or returned, if it becomes necessary."

Only Christmas cards sent First Class mail may carry written messages, a custom everyone enjoys. Moreover, Christmas card envelopes smaller than 2 3/4 inches by 4 inches or larger than 9 inches by 12 inches require hand cancellation, and must carry First Class postage.

TORCH HELD HIGH FOR HUNGARY

A HUNGARIAN FLAG (arrow) flutters from the torch of the Statue of Liberty in New York after a band of partisans sprung a gate hinge to climb a 40-foot ladder in the arm, which is closed to the public. A small American flag was flown beside it. Officials removed the flags a half hour later, but did not press charges. (International)

AUSTIN, Tex.—Austin's feud over O. Henry's "Honeymoon House" has people over the state taking sides.

Bone of contentin is a weatherbeaten frame cottage where the famed short story writer took his bride 69 years ago. History lovers want to preserve it as a "beautiful tribute." Austin Heritage Society gained City Council permission to move it into a park adjoining an exclusive westside residential area.

Nearby homeowners call it a "vermin-infested junk heap." They say they'll sue.

While park lovers fumed, history lovers got the house loaded on a truck, began inching it into the park. Stories went out across the country and brought back a tide of advice for each group. But no solution.

CO-OP CASE REOPENED — Texas Supreme Court has agreed to take another look at a case to decide electric power selling rights.

Issue is whether rural electric cooperatives can continue service in areas after they are annexed by cities. In August the Supreme Court refused to review lower court decisions in favor of the co-ops.

Suit was brought by the attorney general, numerous private utility companies and the League of Texas Municipalities. On the other side is the Upshur Rural Electric Cooperative, backed by 54 other co-ops and the City of Gilmer.

Private utilities contend the law restricts co-ops to towns of 1,500 or less. Co-ops say they can't be thrown out once they've legally entered an area.

No date for arguments was set by the high court.

STATE WINS PRIZE MONEY — Businesses offering prizes to customers must pay a 20 per cent state tax, according to court ruling.

Third Court of Civil Appeals so judged in a suit against Mrs. Tucker Foods, Inc. It offered coupons worth 15, 25 and 50 cents with cans of shortening. Attorneys for the firm argued the prize tax applied only to theaters and places of amusements.

District and appeals courts interpreted the statute as apply to "any business enterprise."

HOSPITAL DIRECTOR RESIGNS—Dr. James Bethea, executive director of the State Hospital System since 1953, has resigned effective June 1.

Dr. Bethea will be 70, statutory age for retirement, next October. He said he submitted his resignation early to give the state hospital board plenty of time to pick a successor.

Board members will take up the matter at their next meeting Dec. 10.

DROUTH UPS WELFARE PAYMENTS — Impact of the drouth is reflected in climbing old age payments, says the Department of Public Welfare.

In its annual report the department said it added 533 to the old age rolls during fiscal 1956, compared to only 90 the year before. Drouth, it said, reduced income, not only of oldsters, but of children and relatives who helped support them.

Total old age assistance payments for 1956 were $111,410,645, parceled out in monthly payments from $5 to $55. Average was $41.71. Cost is paid 33 per cent from state funds, 67 per cent from federal funds.

"YOUNG TEXAN" JURY — Picking of the five outstanding young Texans of 1956 is under way. Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced the committee which will name the honorees.

They are Ben H. Wooten, president of the First National Bank, Dallas; T. Harrington,

TEXAS, THE MIGHTY—Texans, despite their reputation for boosting the home state, find they can hardly outdo the latest account by outsiders.

U. S. News and World Report devoted 17 glowing pages to "the new powerhouse of the United States." Post-war industrial boom, says the magazine, has made the state a "modernized Goliath." It's "an empire that keeps getting mightier," says the report, because it's "so big and so naturally rich."

Statistics cited: factory put, up 690 per cent since 1949; business activity, up 499 per cent; oil and gas production, 468 per cent; construction, 303 per cent.

Conclude the editors: "United States is finding its way and more that it cannot along without Texans."

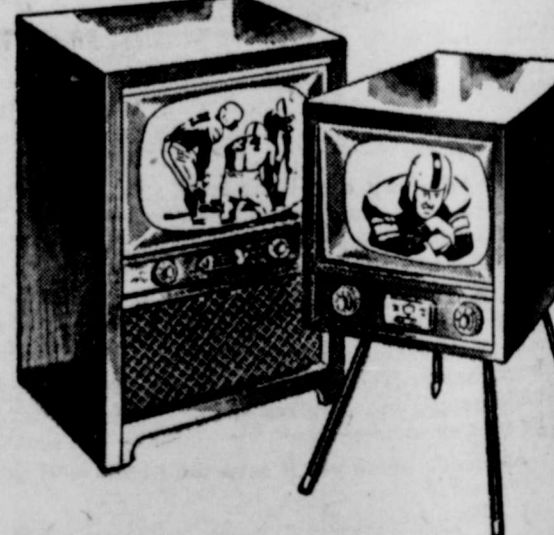

Earl McCrary of San Antonio spent the weekend with mother, Mrs. Myra McCrary.
