SOLILOQUY

Gordon S. Taylor, manager of the Buckner Ranch for boys, Burnet, sends thanks to all of those who took part in sending a number of goats to that organization during the Christmas season just past. He said: "Thank you very much for the goat you gave Buckner Ranch for Boys. Many gifts of this nature make it possible for us to carry on this work." He also extends an invitation to everyone who is interested to stop in at the ranch for a visit and see what they are doing at Buckner Ranch for Boys.

Mr. Holland, "Fessor" Frizzell received a greeting card from his old friend Charles Ed Bull out in California during the holiday season that was quite unique. It was "old" Santa displaying the suit with the caption "It's kind of old, and needs airing, but still it's good for one more wearing." The card was addressed to KID Holland Frizzell and was signed "The old Kid from Big Valley."

Wonder how many Goldthwaite citizens ever give thought to the many little services that are provided by their City Utilities and the staff working there.

It was pointed out at a recent council meeting that each year working crews of the City Utilities go about doing the "Expected" and put up the lights around the courthouse square and then take them down after the holidays are over. Most everyone takes the matter for granted and looks forward to the job being done. Well, as was pointed out the little matter which has become to be expected costs some money, besides the work that is involved. City Utilities manager W. C. Barnett, announced that light globes for the project cost about $35 to $40 each year, not to mention the work involved.

When you look at it from that standpoint it is only natural to have this thought come into mind. "Who would do that job and assume that responsibility and pay the cost if we didn't have City Utilities?"

Mrs. Levi Auldridge writes the following from Gatesville: "Please renew my subscription for another year and change my address to Gatesville. Thank you so much and hope you and staff have a happy new year."

Mrs. Callie Higgins sent greetings for a big happy 1958 from out at Santa Rita, New Mexico, as she forwarded money order for renewing her subscription to receive the Eagle for another year.

Another word of appreciation at the beginning of the new year comes from Mrs. Bess Harris Jones, director of public information, Texas Tuberculosis Association. She writes:

"What better way is there to begin a New Year than to thank those who have helped in efforts to control disease in Texas?"

"Your publishing facts about TB, and of ways local and state tuberculosis associations seek to eradicate this illness has been very helpful to us, who are working toward this end, and to the people of the state who benefit in better health.

"We sincerely appreciate your help, and hope for you and your staff a fine 1958."

THE FARM BLOC?

"The farm bloc," long a potent force in American politics, will be an "odddity of the past, referred to only in history books" 25 years from now, according to Austin Kiplinger, executive editor of the Kiplinger Washington Letter.

"There will be no such thing as the 'farm states' in American politics by 1982," the Washington editor told an audience of southern businessmen. "The agricultural states will become increasingly industrialized. This process has already begun. Last year, for example, farm families received one-third, or 6.7 billion dollars of their incomes from work done away from the farm. By 1982, we predict that fully half the income of farm families will come from non-farm work, from employment in light industry, service trades, and other jobs.

"Who will produce the food?" "The mechanization of farms has already enabled us to produce more with fewer farm workers. This process will continue. In 25 years, American farms will produce one-third more food and fiber with 40 per cent fewer farm workers," the editor told his audience.

"The political effect of this economic change will be that the farm bloc will begin to share the viewpoint of the industrial states. We will see fewer and fewer of those classic legislative and political struggles between agricultural and industrial interests," the Washington editor said.

MARCH OF EVENTS
Atlas Comes to Rescue Of Europe Missile Bases
Brings NATO Approval Of Like Plans at Paris

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—According to some theories, the firing of the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile at Cape Canaveral was timed to the NATO conference in Paris, and news of the successful launching could not have come at a better time.

The first successful firing of the Air Force ICBM had been expected on the cape for several weeks before actually went soaring into the air.

It was delayed repeatedly until after President Eisenhower arrived in Paris and the vital NATO talks got under way. The big U. S. objective was to get permission for setting up missile bases in Europe.

America's prestige was at a new low as a result of the failure of the Vanguard satellite project. Mr. Eisenhower's missile plan was meeting formidable resistance.

Then, the button was pushed and the Atlas was launched. The position at NATO was changed, and the American plan was approved.

DISARMAMENT—The U. S. agreed under pressure from NATO allies to seek renewal of disarmament talks with Russia, but American officials had little hope that any new discussions will produce an accord.

They feel that further disarmament talks will bog down on the same old issue that wrecked the London conference—Russia's refusal to agree to an adequate inspection system.

U. S. diplomats feel that the Soviets' recent call for a ban on nuclear weapons tests was strictly a propaganda gambit aimed at wooing the support of the uncommitted Asian bloc of nations.

The only reason the U. S. agreed to try further disarmament talks was to appease the western European nations who were balking at allowing missile bases on their territory.

The concession by the U. S., however, also resulted in an agreement in principle on a plan for placing American atomic stockpiles in Europe.

SCIENTISTS—Youthful scientists in the government are caustic about the current furor over the need for training more scientists to regain for the U. S. the first place in research and knowledge.

They point out that all the emphasis is being put on training young men for scientific work without making certain that they will be able to get jobs when they get out of school.

Two recent occurrences are cited to bolster their U. S. Scientist unhappiness. One is a budget bureau order—quickly rescinded once it was made public—holding up again long-delayed pay raises for top government researchers.

The scientists feel that, no matter how quickly the order was pulled back, it betrays a basic feeling that scientists can be pushed around.

The second incident concerned a group of young engineers and physicists in New York who hired a hotel room near a scientific meeting to "sell" their services to companies.

They reported they had been bounced out of aircraft research job when defense orders were cut back. They added that this problem is widespread, because research is usually first to feel the effects of any cutback.

Proper Winter Care Can Add Years To Life Of Farm Machines. Up to 30 per cent can be added to the life of farm machinery by giving it proper winter care. And too, time will be saved in getting the machinery back on the job when needed.

There are suggestions on winter machine care. Keep machinery under shelter when not in use. Coat with grease or a rust preventive all bright metal parts such as mower sickles, plow wings, cultivator and other moving parts as well as the bearings of machinery. Grease tires should be blocked to take the weight of the machine off of them while in storage. Gasoline should be drained from auxiliary motors. Spark plugs should be removed and three or four ounces of kerosene oil dropped into each cylinder. Turn the motor over a few times and replace the spark plugs. The cooling system on all motors not used during the winter season should be drained. Place a cover over the engine exhaust pipe to keep out moisture. Lubricate all machinery when it goes into storage. Charge all batteries. It's a good idea to remove the batteries from the motor and to check them regularly to see that they remain fully charged.

Finally, while the machinery is in storage give it a thorough inspection for worn and broken parts. Make note of the repairs needed so that the repair jobs can be done in advance of their next period of use.

With the continuing price squeeze, proper machinery care can cut farm expenses and machinery replacement costs and make the farm operation more efficient and profitable.

OUTLOOK FOR BEEF CATTLE — Because employment and income should be high in 1958 and the slaughter of beef cattle should be a little less than in 1957, it appears that beef cattle prices should be a little higher than in 1957. John McHaney, extension economist, here are three reasons Mr. McHaney gives for the outlook for beef cattle in 1958:

1. Due to improved range conditions, a strong demand has been created for cattle to re-stock ranges.
2. The big 1957 feed crop has created a strong demand for feeders in the corn belt.
3. A very strong demand exists from consumers who like beef-steak. Over-all, beef cattle one of the bright spots in the outlook for agriculture in 1958.

CARE OF HOUSE PLANTS

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

By I. H. COPELAND

Farmers and ranchers are becoming more interested in the development of pasture through the program which is being sponsored by the Brown-Mills Soil Conservation District.

Indications are that approximately 3000 acres will be seeded during the spring of 1958. With the good season the chance of success is favorable. It is estimated that 30,000 acres in Mills county needs to be seeded to grasses. Some of this is old "needlegrass" fields and is producing very little livestock feed and doing a poor job of soil conservation. With proper land preparation and the seeding of grasses, this land can be converted to profitable grazing land.

Dry weather and the scarcity of seed have greatly hindered efforts to get this land seeded to grasses for several years. Although moisture is good now, there still is a lack of most of the native grass seed. There seems to be an ample supply of blue panic. The price quoted by most seed companies is about 35 per cent lower for blue than it was last year.

Approximately 70 per cent of the cost of seeding grass will be paid through the Mills County ACP, according to Edgar Burkett, chairman of Agricultural Conservation Committee. Information on where to get seed and prices can be obtained by contacting any of the Soil Conservation personnel.

research, development, and testing to provide nuclear-carrying capability for USAF's bombers, fighters, rockets, and missiles. Largely through the Center's efforts, nearly all front-line USAF air vehicles can now carry and deliver atomic or thermonuclear weapons to defend this nation against aggression.

AFSWC also evaluates personnel hazards involved in development, test, and use of atomic weapons, and it provides support to the Atomic Energy Commission in conducting both continental and overseas nuclear tests. The Kirtland Center is also doing research to design structures to withstand nuclear blasts.

Lieutenant Walton is a nuclear research officer with the effects division of AFSWC's research directorate. He is currently engaged in studies of hazards of nuclear propulsion systems. The effects team conducts studies on special problems arising from the nuclear weapons development program and from full-scale tests. They use experimental data to predict characteristics of nuclear implosions at low and high altitudes.

Walton's team also compiles research data into physical and mathematical formulae, correlating results and advising the Air Force on conclusions to be drawn from these results.

Lieutenant Walton joined USAF in February, 1957, after receiving a Ph. D. in nuclear physics from the University of Wisconsin. He also has a B. S. from Texas A&M.

Adults too often will put on a show of courage with a "cold," rather than retire and rest—and call the Doctor. Pneumonia sometimes attacks such stalwarts.

Do not try to be brave with a "cold," however simple. Follow the well-established guidance—rest, eat a well-balanced diet, and drink plenty of water and fruit juices. If symptoms persist, call your Doctor promptly, while there is still time for treatment of the current illness and prevention of possible hazardous complications. If medicines are indicated, we will be happy to render the best in Pharmaceutical service in filling your Doctor's prescriptions.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I have been working part-time for wages for 3 years for a man who is in business. He has never held out social security from my pay. When I asked him about it, he told me that I was doing compulsory labor; and he didn't pay social security taxes on my wages. How can I get social security credit for this work?

Answer: Your employer may be violating Federal Statutes in not paying the tax. Get in touch with your social security representative so he can determine what action needs to be taken.

Question: If I apply for monthly benefits now, will I be required to pay back the lump-sum benefit that was made to me when my husband died two years ago?

Answer: The widow's benefits which you may now become entitled to are payable in addition to the lump-sum benefit received when your husband died. You will not have to pay it back.

Question: I farm 160 acres of land which I own. Is it left up to me to decide if I want to pay the social security tax on my income from my farm?

Answer: No, it is compulsory. Every farm operator who clears $400 or more in his taxable year from self-employment must report his earnings and pay the social security tax. This applies to his net earnings either from farming alone or combined with earnings from any other business he may operate.

Fish Phone Calls Proving Costly

Despite heavy fines some men still persist in telephoning for fish. In November two men paid fines of $100 each in Newton county for shocking the fish with magnetic telephones, according to the director of Law Enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

Heavy fines also were dished out in justice court in several counties for killing deer illegally, according to the report. In almost every instance, these violators paid $100 fines.

Most of the fines were paid for either hunting or fishing without licenses. A number, however, violated the law in hunting from automobiles, night shooting, and illegal limits.

Tax Tips For Car Owners Are Presented By Internal Revenue

Certain expenses in connection with operating an auto are deductible on that 1957 Federal income tax return, according to Jim Cheatham of Internal Revenue Service, Brownwood, Texas.

Salesmen and women and other business people who use their cars exclusively for work may deduct the full cost of upkeep, including gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, insurance and depreciation.

If the car is used for both work and pleasure, only the percentage of business use may be claimed. Remember, however, that expenses of driving an automobile to and from work are not deductible.

Personal use: Some expenses incurred in operating an automobile for personal use are also deductible. (But be careful not to duplicate amounts claimed as business expenses above.) If you plan to itemize your deductions on the long form (Form 1040), you may claim:

1. License tags.
2. State gasoline taxes. Determine the total number of miles driven last year, divide by your car's average mileage per gallon, and then multiply this figure by state tax, per gallon.
3. State or local taxes on the total purchase price of a car purchased during 1957. Federal excise taxes on new cars for personal use are not deductible.
4. Interest on automobile loans. If you are financing your car on the installment plan, you may deduct the interest portion paid on your contract. (See your Income Tax Instruction booklet for computation.)
5. Casualty and theft losses not compensated for by insurance. You can claim any loss resulting from an accident not caused by your willful negligence. Damage to your car from fire, lightning, storms, hail or flood is also deductible.

Mr. Cheatham urges taxpayers to file their returns as far before the April 15 deadline as possible. "It may save you some money because last minute filers often make costly errors in their returns."

Hillside Mission

It is generally understood by Christians that the following verse, which contains the words: "Those who are called by name" means Christians, and we are told that prayer is intercession between us and God. The Bible says: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways: then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land." 2nd Corinthians 7:14. Do we believe that?

Water Program For Texas Is Going Ahead

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson has been assured by the Chief of Army Engineers that the mock-up of a Texas water program he requested last summer will be ready by the end of April.

Senator Johnson asked the Army Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation to collaborate on the development of an integrated water development plan for Texas. He has been told by Maj. Gen. E. C. Itschner, Chief of Engineers, that full collaboration exists between the Engineers and the Bureau.

"Also," General Itschner wrote the Senator, "the Corps and Bureau are coordinating their activities with the efforts of the State of Texas as represented by the State Board of Water Engineers and other State agencies."

The two Federal agencies invited State representation and participation in all meetings and discussions regarding the program. Four such meetings have been held, two in the office of the State Board of Engineers, one in the Austin office of the Bureau of Reclamation and one in the Fort Worth District Office of the Corps of Engineers.

At the last meeting, General Itschner informed Senator Johnson, the general framework of the report was established in sufficient detail to permit preparation of a sample draft of the report. Another meeting will be held this month to make final plans for the pattern of the report and the material to be included in it.

"The vigor with which the State of Texas is concentrating on the problem of water resource planning and development is indeed gratifying," the Chief of Engineers said. "Reports from the field indicate that extensive planning has to date been accomplished by the river basin agencies and that full cooperation of these agencies will be extended to the Federal agencies in the preparation of the mock-up which you have requested."

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schorn and boys of Fort Worth spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. H. P. Harris.

Mrs. Lizzie Garrett of Star is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Willis Hill, and Mr. Hill.

New officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Alma Williams, president; Mrs. Carl Bryant, San Saba, vice-president; Mrs. Annie Armstrong, Goldthwaite, secretary-treasurer. After the business meeting, games of "42," dominoes and canasta were enjoyed. The Goldthwaite members will be hosts to the club at the next meeting on February 3.

TWO-TRUCK COLLISION HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Last Saturday night a collision between a Coca-Cola truck from Monahan and a cattle truck belonging to Arthur (Shorty) Schuman took place at the "Y" south of town.

Sheriff C. F. Stubblefield and Fire Chief, Jack Reid, were called to the scene of the accident. Mr. Reid stated that though one of the trucks had caught fire, it was out when he arrived with the fire truck. He and several of the firemen washed off the street to prevent fire starting from the gasoline which was escaping from the trucks. Neither of the drivers were seriously injured though both trucks were damaged, with Mr. Schuman's being totally wrecked.

Yellow Turnip Makes Unusual Winter Slaw

By ALICE DENHOFF

THE yellow turnip or, to give it its more fancy name, rutabaga, is a sort of culinary stepchild, appearing too infrequently as a holiday vegetable. We like to use this healthful winter vegetable in a salad, a slaw, to be specific. Try it and see if rutabaga doesn't add something to slaw.

To serve 6, combine 3 c. shredded raw cabbage, 1 1/2 c. shredded rutabaga, 1/4 c. chopped green parsley and 1 small onion, chopped. Add 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. black pepper, 1/16 tsp. garlic powder, 2 tsp. fresh lemon juice and 3 tbsp. mayonnaise. Mix lightly but thoroughly.

Leftover Ham
Use that leftover ham in a hearty and nourishing salad. This recipe will serve 6.
Toss together lightly, 2 c. diced cooked ham, 1 1/2 c. peeled, fresh orange sections, 1 c. diced celery, 1/2 tsp. each minced onion, fresh lemon juice and heavy cream, 1/4 c. mayonnaise, 1/4 tsp. salt and 1/16 tsp. black pepper.

Serve on a bed of lettuce and sprinkle chopped nuts over the top. Garnish with water cress sprigs and orange sections.

Good Substitute
If desired, use luncheon meat in lieu of ham.
Celery and crabmeat combine smartly as a first course or as a main course luncheon or supper salad.

Combine 1 1/2 c. sliced celery, 2 c. chilled, cooked or canned crabmeat, 3 tbsp. mayonnaise, 2 tbsp. chill sauce, 2 tbsp. fresh lemon juice, 2 tbsp. finely chopped onion, 1 1/4 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. black pepper. Toss lightly. Serve on lettuce.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Roy Wilkins Funeral Home with burial in Goldthwaite Memorial Cemetery.

By VERN SANFORD

Those of us who fish for sport often overlook the importance of our commercial fisheries.

In fact, we bitterly resent some of the tactics of commercial fishermen.

It must be remembered, however, there are millions who do not fish who can only have fish by buying them.

The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries of the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service, has established four new regional offices and a new southern California program office. The purpose of these new regional offices will be to implement the expanded commercial fishery program.

Texas is very much interested in any advancement of the commercial fishery industry. Waters of the Gulf of Mexico are worked daily, particularly by shrimpers.

Some protective legislation has been passed to keep commercial netting out of Laguna Madre, and to control shrimping and oyster gathering in other Gulf areas. This is very necessary to protect this wildlife resource. The Texas Game & Fish Commission has a marine laboratory at Rockport, and suboffices at other places along the Texas coast where daily studies are made. These offices work very closely with the Fish & Wildlife Service in protecting our supply of marine fish. They are important both to commercial and sport fishing.

WEED CONTROL—GOOD AND BAD

For those who live in the coastal areas it might be well to keep in mind this spring that some weed control can be harmful to wildlife. The Game & Fish Commission recently completed purchase of additional marsh land in the Beaumont-Port Arthur area to provide refuge for water fowl. Careful studies are being made of seed-producing weeds that ducks and geese like to feed on. Biologists directing this program have had long experience and training in providing such foods. You might want to contact them about some of your acreage.

Also a rather intensive weed control program now is under way by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service. The purpose is to find ways of eliminating undesirable marsh plants and to substitute plants which will produce food for migratory waterfowl.

One phase of this project is the testing of various herbicides to find which will eliminate noxious weeds without injuring wildlife values. Your county agricultural agent also can be most helpful in this work.

FOR SPIN FISHING ENTHUSIASTS

Spin fishermen always have had the problem of knowing just how much line to play out when they hook a big one. Now comes the B. F. Gladding Co., with a color-metered Platyl line that indicates at a glance. With each package of line there is a rod decal corresponding to 10-yard markings. This will prove a popular feature.

Speaking of spin fishing, it's getting light enough now to put in a few minutes dry casting in your back yard each evening when you get home from work.

Get a casting practice plug or remove the hooks from a spin size plug. Set up a marker; an old bicycle tire is excellent. Then practice for accuracy.

The beginner has little trouble getting distance with spinning equipment. Many times, however, accuracy is impaired because your spinning rod is longer than the average bait casting rod. It also has a lighter action, requiring only a flick of the wrist.

With a little practice for a few evenings you'll find you can hit the target every time. Accuracy in casting is very important if you are fishing in good bass water, which has plenty of stumps, rocks and tree tops. A lot of time can be wasted freeing lures that hang on overhanging branches. However, it is a well known fact that big bass usually are found in some of these difficult spots.

Incidentally, this backyard practice is good for the whole family. Take a couple of Junior's old bicycle tires. Set up your casting distance and then start to work. Do it systematically and properly, however, don't just go out for a few hit or miss licks. This practice will pay off well before the season is over.

Of course on Sunday afternoons you might put on a real lure and stand on the lake bank. It's fun to catch a bass when you are just practicing.

GUN DIGEST EXPANDED

If you haven't seen a copy of the new 1958 edition of the Gun Digest, better look it over. The book has been greatly expanded this year to cover both new and modern arms and ammunition. It has information on ballistics, scopes, choke devices, loading tools, metallic sights, and custom and foreign guns.

It also contains many interesting how-to articles by noted writers. So it furnishes mighty good reading, as well as ready information.

NEW STAMPS

A black and white wash drawing of Canada geese feeding in a cornfield has been chosen as a design for the 1958-59 migratory bird hunting stamp. Leslie C. Kouba, a Minneapolis artist, was the designer. This will be the 25th stamp issued in the Federal duck stamp series. This stamp is required of all persons who hunt migratory waterfowl.

Speaking of stamps, have you bought any of those whooping crane stamps? First sale of these stamps began at Corpus Christi recently. Corpus is only a short distance from the Aransas Wildlife Refuge at Austwell, where 31 of these whoopers wintered.

The stamps are beautiful and effective reminders that there are so few of these beautiful birds in existence.

Rudder Urges Veterans To Buy Forfeited Land

Austin, (Spec.)—Even the $12.5 million in Veteran's Land Bonds were sold in December the quickest way for ex-servicemen to participate in the Veterans' Land Program is to buy forfeited land, Land Commissioner Earl Rudder said today.

The next sale of forfeited land is scheduled for January 21. Fifty-eight tracts in 21 counties will be offered for then.

Commissioner Rudder urged veterans desiring information about the sale to contact the General Land Office in Austin.

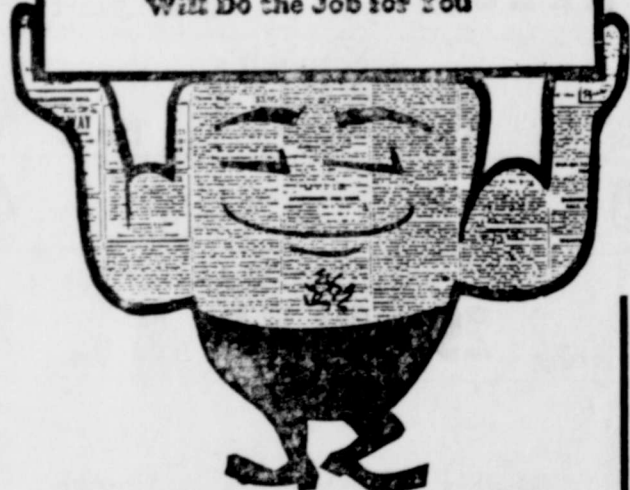

GREEKS BEARING GIFTS—Motorists in the U.S. may be startled by this photo from Athens, which shows drivers bearing gifts to the traffic cop at an intersection. But it is an old custom in the Greek capital, where once a year the hatchet is buried, with police handing out no tickets and drivers handing out presents. (International)

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

On the last Friday of the Old Year we set out shrubs at the front of the house. Japonica euonymous, wax leaf ligustrum, and pyracantha. They look fine. The first Friday of the New Year was warm and bright in the afternoon. I pruned the roses, worked sulfa soil into my flower beds, and set out daisies. That night it turned cold and rained. It was cold and gray and rainy all day Saturday, and Sunday morning the ground was white with snow. It has been too cold since to work out with comfort, but I have discovered that some of my bulbs are peeping through.

There were some good TV programs during the holidays. The one I enjoyed most was that of Marian Anderson in her Goodwill Tour Around the World. As a singer she is considered one of the greatest artists of all time. She was sent by the State Department to represent the United States. Everywhere she was received with great ovation.

Monday, Jan. 6, school folk had to go back to school. I heard both pupils and teachers saying how they dreaded it, but after they got back it wasn't so bad. Now that Billy and his gang have gone back to school, Johnny is left alone.

Though we still have cake left from Christmas, last night Billy said, "Granny, I want you to make some chocolate cookies tomorrow." This evening when he got home from school I was in my room, but as soon as he got in the kitchen door, he called, "Granny, did you make them?" I had a pan full for him.

A letter today from Mrs. Edna Dwyer said she and the Cawyers spent Christmas at Ablene with Ednabeth, Harold, and Shelley. They spent one night at her home at Ebony. She and Austin put out a few trees and grape vines, and she got to hoe some of the weeds out of her beets and onions. She got to see Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Egger and Mr. and Mrs. Charm Whittenburg. She phoned Mrs. Effie Egger. The Stanley Reeves had not yet returned from spending Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. Mildred Crawford, in San Antonio.

Mrs. Dwyer said they got back to Victoria Saturday night, and Sunday they went to Orange. Went to church that night and got to see lots of their old friends. On their way home Monday they stopped at Beaumont to have supper with the Mitchells. The married daughters were there, so they got to see the whole family. Even Larry Don, the newest member. Aunt Edna says, "He is a Honey."

C. W. Holden Buys Registered Ayrshire

C. W. Holden, Goldthwaite, Texas, recently made an initial purchase of 1 registered Ayrshire, according to the Ayrshire Breeders' Association Secretary, David Gibson, Jr., of Brandon, Vermont.

The transaction was recorded in the National Office of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association in Brandon, Vt., where complete records on all registered Ayrshires in the United States have been maintained since 1875.

Because of their ability to produce at a low cost an abundance of milk with an average butterfat tests of 4%, the Ayrshire breed of dairy cattle has become increasingly popular with dairymen throughout the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Burleson of Harlingen were guests last week of Mrs. Burleson's mother, Mrs. John Davee.

FARM TRENDS AND FORECASTS FOR '58

Each new year brings new expectations and speculations on things to come—both good and bad. These are some of the present prospects for Texas agriculture:

LIVESTOCK—Prices are good now on livestock, and producers are making good profits. Bumper feed crops have decreased costs while prices are way up from a year ago. However, this windfall may not last too many months. Eager hog raisers could glut markets later this year, depressing prices. Range cattle prices are up sharply, cutting profit prospects for grain feeding.

SEED—The Texas Department of Agriculture Seed Division reports good germination potential on Texas cottonseed and hybrid sorghum seed tested so far. However, germination difficulties have been reported in many neighboring states, notably to the east of Texas on cottonseed and to the north of Texas on hybrid sorghums. Several states have lowered germination standards. There is plenty of good seed left and available in Texas. Best advice is to check seed tags carefully for germination ratio.

EGGS—A more profitable year is in prospect for Texas egg producers. Prices should be higher, feed costs lower, and sales are expected to be only slightly under the record volumes of 1956 and 1957. Production is expected to be off at the start of the year but cheaper feed and fair prices will likely encourage many farmers to restock their henhouses. An added boon is anticipated for Texas producers in the form of the new Texas Egg Law, which should raise prices and standards at the same time. Also in the offing is a Texas egg market report which the Texas Department of Agriculture hopes to get underway before spring. The proposed report would include egg prices in Houston, San Antonio and Dallas markets.

COTTON—Surpluses are down due to the weather foul-up of the 1957 crop. Although it is too early to tell, prospects right now are encouraging for 1958 cotton. Cottonseed oil prices are way up and in good demand. Exports of American cotton indicate stocks may be down at harvest time this fall.

The Delray 4-Door Sedan. Chevy's the only car in its field with Body by Fisher and Safety Plate Glass all around.

It's one of Chevrolet's dollar-stretching Delrays!

The handsome Delrays are the lowest priced of all the low-priced Chevrolets. And they're full-size Chevrolets—wider, lower and nine lively inches longer. In size, in style, in fine details and construction, no other car priced so low gives you so much!

When you're thinking about buying a car because of its extra-low price, there are two things it pays to watch for. First, be sure you get full measure when it comes to size. Don't settle for a cut-down bargain model. Second, be sure you get all the equipment and conveniences that you'd normally expect to be standard. Look for such everyday things as an instrument panel switch for the dome light, a booster for vacuum windshield wipers and crank-operated vent windows. Chevrolet's Delray models are the lowest priced in the line. But they're full-size Chevrolets—wonderfully lower and wider, with the same increased length as other models. They're all Chevrolet, with bold new sculptured styling and beautiful Body by Fisher. And they're equipped to do you proud. Nothing else near the price has what's in this package. See it soon at your Chevrolet dealer's!

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

Austin, Texas—Education has been a prime concern of Texas government for more than a century and a quarter. But seldom, if ever, has the subject loomed so large in public discussion as now in the satellite age.

Austin, site of the Capitol and state university, is the center for a swirl of conferences and statements on the direction in which education should move.

Mirabeau B. Lamar, known as the "father of education in Texas," admonished early lawmakers with the famous statement, "The cultivated mind is the guardian genius of democracy."

In the past few months, since Sputnik, statesmen have taken up this theme in different words, but with greater-than-urgency. They're saying, in effect, that unless the tempo of training can be stepped up immediately to train more people better, democracy is doomed.

In Austin this challenge has set off lively debates and given heavy new significance to the planning conferences of those who set educational policy. Current examples in the news:

SCIENCE AND MATH study in Texas public schools will get a critical examination by a group of school principals with advice from business and industry leaders.

State Board of Education set up the study group which is to complete its project by end of 1959. Goal is to find means to enrich the schools' curriculum in some areas, set standards in others.

Board has previously raised graduation standards in Texas high schools, taking away from the students the chance to pass up math and science in favor of "snap" courses. This action, taken before their current science emphasis, was "somewhat prophetic," commented on a board member.

NO TAX FOR TEACHERS—would do more than scholarships and new buildings to raise level of instruction, said the secretary to the Commission on Higher Education.

Jack D. Cox said exempting teachers from income taxes would have the effect of raising salaries without levying additional taxes.

POOR PAY FOR PROFS was hit even harder by a University of Texas faculty member in an Austin talk. He cited salary incentives as crucial in comparing Russian and U. S. school systems.

According to Dr. B. H. Amstead, an American college professor can expect to double his salary in a lifetime; his Russian counterpart can achieve 15 times his beginning wage. American teachers make 10 per cent less than factory workers, said Dr. Amstead, Russian teachers 2½ times more.

Proposed federal scholarships will be useless, he opined, unless there's also more money to attract people to run the schools.

"SURVIVAL DEPENDS on the quality of our schools," Sen. A. M. Aikin, Jr. of Paris told the Texas Association of School Administrators.

Aikin, leading legislative spokesman for education, reported on the aims of the Hale-Aikin Committee of 24 set up by the Legislature to make an over-all study of the state's school needs.

"Specific recommendations from the people of Texas on many important school matters are needed by the study group," Aikin said. Success of the study depends on how well the people get behind it and participate, he added.

It was begun, said the senator, "before foreign development re-emphasized the fact that education is a vital part of our national defense."

LAND LEASING SET—School Land Board has set March 4 for sale of oil and gas leases on public lands.

Some 34,000 acres of tidelands plus several hundred tracts on state prison farms will be offered for leasing.

It will be the first time tidelands leases have been offered since the federal government filed suit contesting Texas' claim to land more than three miles from shore. State officials were unsure how attractive the land would be under the circumstances.

OPTOMETRISTS AT ODDS—Rival groups of Texas optometrists are apparently on their way to the Texas Supreme Court to settle differences over what practices are legal for that profession.

Disagreement centers on two issues: (1) whether optometrists may advertise, and if so, who and (2) whether they may have offices in part of the space of a store.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled unconstitutional the portion of the Ophthalmic Dispensers law passed last spring that pertained to advertising. Reason, a familiar one: the topic was not mentioned in the bill's caption.

Members of the Texas Optometric Association disagreed with the opinion. They brought suit asking that the State Board of Examiners in Optometry be enjoined to enforce a no-advertising rule. Since the case involves constitutionality of a law, it can be appealed to the Supreme Court.

Another suit was brought by a group of optometrists protesting a state board ruling that an optometrist's office cannot share space in a store.

Attendant publicity resulted in the resignation of Charles M. Babb of Austin as executive secretary to the State Board of Optometry Examiners. Babb was criticized for holding that position while also serving as legal counsel to the Texas Optometric Association—i. e., serving both the regulators and the regulated.

SHORT SNORTS — Travis County grand jury gave state officials and employees a clean bill of health after two months' searching for "any further evidence of misconduct." It did, however, recommend tighter regulation of notaries public and insurance company officials handling company funds.

Railroad Commissioner Olin Culberson made the first statewide political announcement by stating he would seek a fourth term in his present office . . . Persons wanting to buy under the veterans land program will have a chance Jan. 21 to buy land of previous owners who failed to meet payments. Forfeited land includes 58 tracts in 21 counties, said Land Commissioner Earl Rudder . . . Lt. Gov.
