Farm Bureau Membership Drive In Full Swing Throughout County

DAVID WAITERS
President

The Mills County Farm Bureau Membership Drive and Kick-off banquet which was held Monday night at McLean's Cafe was a big success. There were four precinct chairmen and 36 members present to enjoy the delicious fried chicken dinner.

Millard Shivers, Director of Organization for the Texas Farm Bureau, of Waco, was guest speaker along with J. D. Jordan of Mason, who is Area Field Director. They both gave interesting talks on all the vital problems which confront farmers and ranchers. They stressed the point of joining the Farm Bureau with your neighbors of Mills County as a "Big Body," which can confront these problems. So when you are called on by one of your neighbors or Farm Bureau workers, join this family independent non-governmental voluntary organization. The group's aim during this membership drive is to get as many members in Mills County as possible.

The next directors' meeting will be held next Monday night, March 3 at McLean's Cafe and all Farm Bureau Directors are urged to attend. The meeting is set for 7 p. m., according to Mrs. V. Z. Cornelius, publicity chairman.

Officers who are serving the local chapter at this time are: David Waiters, president; Homer McCasland, vice-president; and W. W. Fox, secretary and treasurer.

Rev. Cartwright, Other Ministers To Meet With Gov.

Rev. Walter J. Cartwright has been invited to be one of a group of Texas ministers to meet with Governor Price Daniel next Tuesday, March 4. Editor William Prescott Allen, who has campaigned for such a meeting of representatives of all Ministerial Associations with the Governor in behalf of a campaign against juvenile delinquency, has extended the invitation to Mr. Cartwright as President of the Mills County Ministerial Alliance. Allen has been very disturbed over the situation, stating that Texas, which once had a good reputation in this respect has "become the most corrupt state in the union, with most of the people in Texas either indifferent or afraid to do something about it." He cites general crime statistics, the dope problem and insurance scandals as typical of the situation.

Mr. Cartwright states that he has accepted the invitation to meet with the Governor. At this time there is a possibility that other ministers of the county will accompany him to Austin next Tuesday, after the meeting of the Ministerial Alliance Sunday in the study of the First Baptist Church.

Ben D. Sudderth Announces For Re-Election As Representative

It is customary for a candidate for public office to make a formal announcement of his intentions. I intend to file my application for a place on the Primary ballot seeking re-election to the office of State Representative for the 73rd District. As has been said by Wendell Clark, one of America's greatest statesmen and a former Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States; I believe it is a good plan for a constituency to select a good man with good habits, personal integrity, young enough to learn and re-elect him. It is my hope that I thusly qualify, and on this principle I base my candidacy for re-election to the office of State Representative.

My record should be known to all who have given attention to it. During my service in the State Legislature, a constant effort has been made to do two things particularly: (1) To know the views and feelings of my constituents and reflect their sentiments to the greatest possible degree in the State Legislature; and (2) To inform and advise as clearly as I can on those issues which effect my constituency and our State.

Space will not permit a discussion of specific issues, simply because there are too many. Generally, however, I have consistently voted to reduce expenditures.

Schools Week Proclamation

GREETINGS:

Public Schools Week in Texas is a special time set aside each year in which to place increased emphasis on our public schools. Parent visitation is encouraged, and the citizens of our communities are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with the respective school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers in an effort to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation.

Today, more than ever before, the importance of our schools is being realized by an awakened Nation. Education, both in scientific and liberal arts fields, has taken on a new perspective. However, with all the rush to train scientists and place satellites in outer space, it is important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of March 3-7, 1958 as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK in Texas, and urge each citizen to recognize the tremendous importance of our public schools.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 15th day of January, 1958. (Seal) (Signed) Price Daniel, Governor of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Karnes of Borger spent Monday night with her sister, Mrs. Luther Ward, Mr. Ward and Odena.

Colburn Ward, student at the University of Texas, spent Saturday night and Sunday with his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Ward, and Odena.

Eaglettes To Play In Bi-District Monday Night, Mar. 3

The Goldthwaite Eaglettes will journey to Cross Plains next Monday night, March 3, 1958 for the first game of our Regional Tournament—usually called Bi-District. They will meet the sextett from Albany in this important tussel—the team that won district 10A from Clyde in a third and deciding game in a two-out-of-three series.

Albany was defeated twice in district 10A play and after being tied with Clyde who also lost two games, had the series mentioned above and emerged the winner in the deciding game by only one point—47 to 48. Each of their games were won by close scores thus Albany promises to be stiff competition since they are a high scoring team. Every person's support is needed to help the Eaglettes continue their winning streak. Let's support the Eaglettes!

Eagle To Publish Third Annual Soil Conservation Issue May 8

Plans are now underway for the third annual soil conservation issue of the Eagle, which will be published Thursday, May 8. The announcement was made this week by members of the Eagle staff and Hubert L. Berry, supervisor of the soil conservation service here.

Members of the Eagle staff, members of the Soil Conservation Service staff and a number of interested individuals will be busy preparing material for this special issue.

This special edition will be published just prior to Soil Conservation Week which will be observed this year from May 11 through May 18. Many churches throughout the area will observe Soil Stewardship Sunday on May 18.

Last year this special issue received much praise from people over a wide area. There were more than forty special feature articles and pictures showing the benefits of soil conservation practices. A large number of business firms and individuals who are interested in soil conservation also carried special advertisements in this issue. Also a number of contractors who do much of the work in connection with soil conservation practices throughout the territory.

Plans are in the making now for a bigger paper this year with more room for pictures and special features on what is being done by soil conservation practices in Mills County. Additional space will also be available for advertisers.

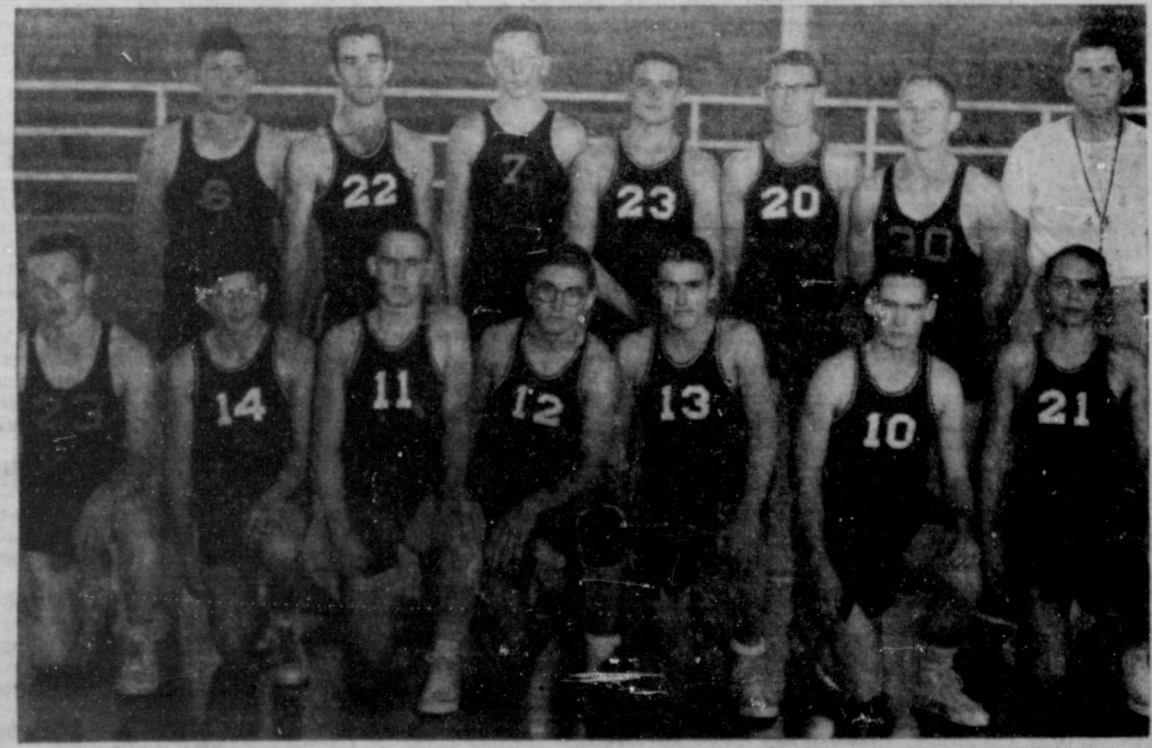

A number of those who carried advertisements in last year's issue have indicated that they will again want space for their messages in the special issue this year.

Work on preparing material is now underway and advertisers are invited to contact the Eagle staff, who will be happy to help prepare special copy for their ads.

Weather Report

According to an official report from Harry Allen, rainfall since last report reads as follows: Feb. 21, .53 inch; Feb. 22, 1.35 inches; Feb. 23, .57 inch; and Feb. 25, .09 inch. This brings the total for February to 2.71 inches and the total since the first of the year to 4.83 inches. According to Mr. Allen everyone should be on the lookout for storms as the barometer is lower than he has seen it in a long time and this is a sure indication of storms.

Miss Lawana Benningfield of ACC in Abilene spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Benningfield, and family.

Here are members of the Goldthwaite High School basketball squad, six of these boys (seniors) played their first high school game on the local courts last week. The boys won three of their ten conference games this year.

ARE YOU FIT TO DRIVE?

You may have a good driving safety record and feel you are in excellent health. Even so, there are circumstances under which you're not fit to drive.

That finding comes from the American Medical Association, and is elaborated in a new pamphlet. Here are some of the things that make a driver dangerous.

Emotional upsets. If you can't keep your mind on the wheel and off your worries, you shouldn't be behind the wheel.
Driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong; some are aggressive and intolerant. They need to grow up to become mature.

Sleepiness. Dozing is not restricted to night driving. On long trips the driver should rest every two hours and drink coffee or cola to stay alert.

Medicines. Some medicines, including sedatives, tranquilizers, cold tablets, etc., may dull reflexes or impair coordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. Consult your doctor about the side effect of drugs.

Other hazards listed in the AMA pamphlet include faulty vision, certain nerve and heart disorders, diabetes, old age—and, of course, drinking. All of these conditions can result in special hazards—all require preventive measures. It's a case of where knowing ourselves and acting accordingly could produce a heartening drop in highway carnage.

CONSERVATION THROUGH FREE ENTERPRISE

"The successful operation by farmers of a nation wide soil and water conservation program through their Soil Conservation District has proved that a free enterprise operation can do the job effectively and that a free people can govern themselves as in contrast to 'conservation by government edict'—and expensive, tax-supported administrative agency operation."

That was said by Nolen J. Fuqua, president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, at a speech before the last annual convention of the Farm Equipment Institute. And that was certainly a logical place to talk about conservation—for modern agricultural machinery has done more than any other force to make it possible, practical and profitable.

Mr. Fuqua said that there are more than 2,700 of these districts now in operation—all administered by locally elected farmers and ranchers. Nearly 2 million farmers are participating in carrying out soil and water conservation plans throughout the country. And here is a work with a real cash value—for it has been proven that conservation farming increases the annual net farm income by $6 to $15 per acre.

More important, it is the means whereby our limited farm acreage will be preserved and improved for coming generations. In this age of soaring populations, this is an urgent and continuing need.

FACT AND OPINION

A reason why President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles are reluctant to hold a "summit conference" with Russia at this time is found in some information gathered by U. S. News & World Report. Since 1943 there have been 19 top-level conferences, in which the chiefs of state or foreign ministers participated. Forty agreements were made—and the Soviet government has kept exactly three of them.

Economic Intelligence reports that average hourly earnings of workers in manufacturing increased 10.6 per cent from 1955 to 1957, and total compensation increased 15.2 per cent. In the same period, on the other hand, net corporate profits after taxes declined 1.2 per cent.

At a recent conference, the mayors of 82 per cent of our big cities said that parking is the most urgent municipal problem. It's common for four or more cars to compete for each space on the streets.

Delegates to the latest convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation approved a resolution opposing compulsory unionism and favoring a national right-to-work law. The resolution states: "No person should be deprived of his right to work because of membership or lack of membership in any organization."

Because "Kilroy" and Simon Sakowitz were there, the Arabia Temple Shrines Crippled Children Clinic will benefit to the hearty sum of $20,000. That's what Mr. Sakowitz, vice-president of Sakowitz Brothers paid for the Houston Fat Stock Show grand champion steer, "Kilroy," when it was auctioned off before a jammed house of about 10,000 persons at the Shrine's thirtieth annual ball in the Coliseum Saturday night. Mr. Sakowitz, who bought the champ in the name of his company, donated the steer to the Shrine for the crippled children.

"Kilroy" was fed here by Robert Henry Johnson and won Grand Championship at the Houston Show this year. The steer was auctioned at the show and brought young Johnson $12,500.00.

Mrs. Gertie Jones, wife of Austin Jones of the Star community, died at her home at that place Tuesday.

A daughter, Janell, weighing six and a half pounds, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sumpter Gerald in Fort Worth February 5.

25 YEARS AGO—

(Taken from The Eagle Files of February 24, 1933)

H. B. Johnson's car, that was stolen last week, was found the early party of this week in the Mount Olive community, where thieves had left it stripped, in C. M. Barrington's pasture.

Mr. Herman Kaufman and Miss Opal Waldon were united in marriage Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Rev. J. S. Bowles, on West Fifth St., Rev. Bowles officiating.

Among the interesting society events to take place this week is the marriage of Joe Weatherby of Brownwood, son of Mrs. J. N. Weatherby, to Miss Maxine Fletcher of Temple, which is to be solemnized Thursday evening.

The piercing whine of the burglar alarm at the Trent State Bank Thursday afternoon sent officers armed with shotguns rushing to the scene while unarmed citizens stopped, looked and listened. No bank robbers emerged however as the alarm had gone off unintentionally, probably because of a short circuit somewhere in the wire. A good demonstration was given that in the event of a real alarm bandits would receive a hot reception. About 50 men were at the bank before bandits could have made a get-away.

The remains of Mrs. Mable Fowler Gram, who died in Dallas, last Saturday morning, were brought here and interred in the cemetery, after religious services were conducted by Elder E. P. McNeill of Mullin, which were attended by a large assembly of friends of the bereaved family.

Don't Get Your Hopes Up Over Possible Tax Cut! See Symington a Contender For Democratic Nomination

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Don't get your hopes up for a tax cut just because of the big hearings being conducted by the House ways and means committee.

Chairman Wilbur Mills (D), Arkansas, is dead set against a tax reduction unless a big surplus is available in the federal treasury or business gets so bad that it needs a quick shot in the arm. Neither condition is in sight now.

The hearings were set last summer when the Democrats anticipated that the Eisenhower administration might ask for a tax cut in the President's budget message. They wanted to beat him to the punch.

However, sputniks have intervened and the administration has made it clear that it will seek anything but a tax cut. Defense spending is going up and a deficit is not an unlikely prospect.

● PRESIDENTIAL CONTENDERS—Two possible contenders for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination are jockeying for position in the congressional "space race."

They are Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri. Both are in the forefront of efforts to force a sweeping overhaul of United States' missile-age defense planning. Johnson quickly seized the initiative and took charge of the Democratic drive to compel greater efforts on the part of the Eisenhower administration to overtake Russia's space-weapons lead.

However, Symington, a former Air Force secretary who long has proclaimed his belief that U. S. defenses are inadequate, is reported determined to play a spectacular role in the current session of the missile-minded Congress. The Missourian is preparing a bill, which he expects to introduce with bipartisan support, to abolish the Joint Chiefs of Staff system and give a single commander broad authority over all of the armed forces.

● FARM BATTLE BIG ONE?—The fight over the farm policies of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson shapes up more and more as one of the biggest battles of the new session of Congress. Many senators are lining up against the embattled Benson and demands for his resignation would come as no surprise to observers in the Capital.

Benson's programs are believed doomed and even the secretary himself has admitted that he doesn't see much chance of getting his program through. A number of senators are urging a "no-confidence" vote in the Agriculture secretary who says he won't quit as long as Mr. Eisenhower wants him to serve.

● EDUCATION AID HOPES LOW—The chances for any federal aid to education bill, other than possibly a scholarship program, are just about nil at this session of Congress.

That old bugaboo, the segregation issue, looms largely in any discussion of the possibility of providing federal funds for the construction of public schools. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D), New York, has made it clear that he again will try to attach a rider to any school construction bill denying federal aid to any state that practices racial segregation.

That, in effect, would kill a school measure just as it has in the past two years. Strong southern opposition, coupled with the votes of economy advocates, would defeat the bill.

HEART DISEASE PROBABLY HAS NOT INCREASED...

The increasing number of reports of heart disorders as a cause of death has been brought about by the success of medicine. Many persons who formerly might have died of other diseases now live long and useful lives—eventually to succumb to a failing heart which has performed its lifetime of duty.

Therefore—as we grow older, the care of the heart must be considered in our every activity. Have regular check-ups by your Doctor, and follow his guidance carefully. He probably can help to keep your heart functioning for many extra years of buoyant and happy life. Whenever medication is required, we will be happy to have you bring your prescriptions to this Pharmacy.

ces are good that when you put the scattergun in the closet and got out the fishing rod you just gave the gun a lick and a promise. If so, better retrieve it now and do a little wiping or you may have to polish off some rust, come next hunting season.

While good shotguns are plentiful and more are being made every day, there still is a sound economy in using a rag and some good gun oil or grease on the gun you have.

Most of us had pretty good hunting this past year. From the beginning of dove season on Sept. 1, through the close of quail season Jan. 16, there were a lot of shotgun shells burned.

Perhaps our own most interesting hunting was in the Eagle Lake area. There we found some very wonderful goose shooting in the rice fields. For this we used a new Model 50 Winchester, full choke. Shells were Western short magnum, with No. 2 and 4 shot. If you remember, this is the gun that operates on its own gas, reducing recoil, snap back noises and increasing speed of loading.

RODS — BOATS — LINES ARE BETTER

Having watched considerable bait casting over a long, long time it is interesting to note how much farther most fishermen cast nowadays than in the years gone by. Of course there are many good reasons. Mostly, however, equipment can be credited with quite a few yards of the extra distances.

Right now we have the best fishing equipment the world has seen. It is engineered for both distance and control. A few years back it took a lot of practice to get both distance and accuracy.

Nearly everyone today has good equipment. It is very seldom you run across a rod made prior to 1950. Fishermen have pretty well used up all the steel rods that were made prior to World War II. Following the war fishermen began using glass rods. Today the very finest and cheapest rods are made of glass fiber. It is true there are a few inefficient glass rods, but we are now getting such quality in nominally priced equipment anyone who can afford to fish can afford a quality rod.

The same is true of reels. I don't know what the relative sales records are, but from the number of enclosed reels you see around today's fishing holes, they must be taking over. Women seem to like them especially well. We have several friends who have bought these reels for their wives and children. They like them so well they are now turning to enclosed reels for themselves.

Then there is the line. Monofilament has taken over. Fishermen have learned they can cast farther and easier with monofilament than with any other line. Cortland even refers to its monofilament as "the line with the boarding house reach." This firm is making its lines in the new smoke-tone color, both in the extruded and the braided lines.

IDLE ACRES AT HOME AND COTTON PROFITS ABROAD

Texas and other American cotton farmers face another in a series of hard knocks this year in the form of "home-made" competition — foreign competition brought about by short-sighted planning at the top level in Washington.

It is now apparent that, due to relentless insistence on holding down cotton allotments in our country, not enough top quality cotton will be produced to meet our own domestic needs this year. As a result, we will likely find ourselves in the ridiculous position of bringing cotton into this country from Mexico, Brazil and possibly even such countries friendly to communism as Egypt.

Current cotton acreage allotments are based on an estimated production of 11½ million bales. But what some of our government planners have failed to recognize is the fact that much of this land went into the Soil Bank and will not produce any cotton.

Last year, our upland cotton was lower in grade than at any time in the past twelve years. Middling and higher grade production was the smallest since 1949. And now our textile indus-

A TIP ON MINNOWS

A fish biologist has just reminded me that most of the rough fish which we have to fight in our new impoundments have been put there from minnow buckets. There is a tendency on the part of all of us to dump into the lake whatever minnows we have left when we are through fishing.

If you use pond raised minnows this isn't so bad. However many places sell minnows that have been seined from distant rivers, some as far away as Mexico, Oklahoma or Arkansas. Many of these are carp and gar minnows. As a result, we are infesting new lakes with rough fish which later must be cleaned out.

If you have some minnows left, give them to someone else or dump them out on dry land. Or, you might take them home, dig a hole in the garden and pour them in. Then plant a squash or watermelon. They'll be well fertilized.

ACCIDENTS DUE TO CARELESSNESS

From time to time during the coming year you'll be reminded in this column about water safety. Hardly a day goes by that we don't read about someone drowning, or being seriously injured in a water accident.

Most of these accidents can be traced to just plain carelessness. Somebody does something very foolish and the next thing his friends are dragging the lake for his body.

We hope every time you step in a boat this year you'll remember to use utmost care, both for yourself and others.

tries are facing a serious shortage of better quality cotton. But this shortage could be overcome if our farmers were allowed to take advantage of promising soil and weather conditions so they could have the crop when it is needed.

We need an immediate 25 per cent increase in cotton allotments in order to meet our domestic demand. We can produce the desired grades this year if our farmers are given the opportunity.

The 1957 cotton story was a sad one in Texas—and practically everywhere else in the nation. Ginning of top grades was off drastically, and our farmers had to fight continued bad weather to produce what they did.

A sad epitaph to that story would be for "sidelined" farmers at home to stand idly by while cherished cotton profits wing their way abroad.

Auto Inspection Deadline Is Only Two Months Away

With less than two months left in which to have motor vehicles inspected, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, urged motorists to obtain their 1958 inspection stickers immediately. In so doing, he said that 84 per cent of the registered vehicles in Texas have not been inspected for the current year.

"At the present rate of inspection it looks as though the usual ten per cent who wait until the deadline for inspections will be waiting in line on April 15. With crowded inspection stations on this deadline date immediate service cannot be rendered and car owners will suffer an unnecessary loss of time and inconvenience."

Nearly half of the vehicles already inspected have required some adjustments or repairs which require more time for both the owner and the inspection station and can be handled better when not rushed.

The state police director said much time can be saved if car owners obtain their 1958 inspection stickers early.

How to Keep a Free Press FREE

SELDOM does Freedom of the Press disappear in one annihilating blow.

In countries where the Press has been chained, there was first a period when it failed to realize and resist the beginnings of its end — the first encroachments on its freedom. There were powerful interests which wanted certain facts "kept out of the newspapers." There was pressure here and pressure there to have the truth withheld.

Before the Press of any nation succumbs to tyranny, there always has been a period of failure to speak out.

Here in America there is only the limitation of national security — the necessity to protect and preserve confidential military and scientific information — which can be accepted by a Press that is determined to stay free.

America's newspapers have made, and will continue to make, a conscientious effort to protect that security — at the same time keeping the people informed as fully as possible on all matters concerning their welfare. So long as American newspapers pursue that policy fearlessly, our Press, our people and our country shall remain free of tyranny.

AUSTIN, TEX.—How's business? Whenever two men stop to talk on this question it is almost sure to be a long one. With state and national interest focused on the economy, the state's much searching for a means to try to decipher the economic analysts' jargon about "downward plateaus" and "rolling adjustments." It means watching whether neighbors are buying new cars or patching the old ones, the state level, the spots on the Texas Employment Commission. Its weekly reports on the number of people making unemployment claims was for years regarded as the most routine or routine reports.

Today TEC's reports are looked upon, almost breathlessly, for the first sign of betterment. The recent brought no encouragement. It showed that 75,000 persons covered by unemployment benefits were out of work. It was an increase of 3,000 over the previous tabulation of 72,000. This year, as at no time in the decade, TEC's end-of-winter reports are of particular interest. Even in good years, mid-winter weather pushing employment down by keeping job-making activities as slow as construction and retail sales at least partially "soaked" February's final week usually is the beginning of the recovery period.

This year, as at no time in the decade, TEC's end-of-winter reports are of particular interest.

ter reports are being looked to as a weather vane.

NEW BUSINESS BEGUN—Along with the gloomy, TEC has good news—62 new businesses opened in Texas last month. They range from a cafe in Austin to a garment factory in Denton. Dallas got the lion's share—15 new firms.

Immediate effect: 910 new jobs for Texans.

IAB CALLED "MODEL T"—Texas had better streamline its industrial accident system before Washington steps in, warns H. C. Pittman.

"It's a 'Model-T' operation in a jet age," says Pittman, who is chairman of the Industrial Accident Board. Result is that Texas employers pay more and Texas employees get less than in almost any other state.

"I'm ashamed of it," said the board's chairman. He blamed the creaky operation on out-of-date laws (system was set up in 1913) and public indifference.

IAB is the state agency that processes, supervises and keeps records on payment of claims arising from industrial accidents. Its work has increased substantially in recent years.

Pittman spoke at the annual safety clinic of the Texas Highway-Heavy Branch, Associated General Contractors. Clinic is climax of year-long effort to reduce accidents in construction.

Gov. Price Daniel presented awards to companies with the best safety records for the past year.

MASS SIGN-UP BEGINS—Most state departments now have registration forms for those who come in asking for something for someone else.

Forms were put out as the new "representation before state agencies" law, passed in the first special session last fall, went into effect. Law was designed to keep a check on those paid to seek help or favor from state officials.

There are numerous exceptions—telephone calls, visits for a public hearing, visits for information only and contacts at some place other than the state office.

But businessmen are being advised, "when in doubt, register." Penalties are up to six months in jail, $500 fine.

NATUROPATHS' ILLS MOUNT—Texas Supreme Court pushed naturopathy outside the realm of legal practice and slammed shut the door.

High court upheld a lower court injunction which barred a naturopath in Midland from doing business. Naturopaths had contested the prohibition on grounds it deprived them of constitutional rights by allowing medical doctors, dentists, chiropractors, etc., to practice, but not naturopaths.

Court's ruling pointed out that law permits these other groups to practice only after meeting certain qualifications and obtaining licenses. Naturopaths' licensing law was declared invalid some time ago, and no new one has been passed.

Effect of the ruling is to require a naturopath to qualify as a full-fledged medical doctor.

COEDS AT AGGIELAND?—One of the touchier issues confronting the Commission on Higher Education is whether to recommend that Texas A&M admit women students.

It is known to be under considerable pressure from both directions.

Created by the Legislature in 1955, the Commission has responsibility to study and make recommendations for development and improvement of the programs in all Texas state-supported colleges and universities. To date, most time has been spent in study, but recommendation phase is coming up.

Dr. Ralph T. Green, executive director, is to report to the 15-member Commission on the A&M issue at a meeting April 14. Commission will then decide what course to suggest to the college officials.

However, the Commission can not force the college to accept its decision. Chances are the question will be argued in the courts and the Legislature for some time to come.

A suit already has been filed in Brazos County in behalf of would-be women Aggies.

CLIMB IN CRIME—Newly-organized Law Enforcement Commission is beginning its work with a depressing array of statistics outlining its task.

John H. Crocker Sr., Houston lawyer, is chairman of the nine-member panel. Group is to study ways to combat crime and report ten months hence to the 56th Legislature.

Defining the problem are these facts that were dumped in the Commission's lap:

1. Major crimes in Texas are increasing faster than the national average—9.2 per cent here as compared to 7.2 per cent nationally.

2. Of some 154,000 major crimes committed in Texas last year, an estimated 50 per cent were by juveniles. Governor Daniel has asked the Commission to give top priority to study of juvenile crime.

3. State correctional schools for youths are not equipped to handle the swelling tide of offenders, according to the Texas Youth Council. Gatesville school, with capacity of 650, has population of 898.

THE PARABLE

Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

(St. Matthew 13:13)

THE PARABLE is the basis of all religious education. From infancy through adult life we learn spiritual truths only as they are interpreted for us in terms of every-day experience.

OUR CHURCHES follow the example of the Greatest Teacher. Simple precepts or more complex doctrines are brought to us in vivid illustration. Lessons, sermons, hymns—even church architecture and ritual—are full of human narrative, word pictures or traditional symbolism to help us grasp and apply God's truth.

SPIRITUAL MATURITY must come to us through the effective teaching and practical guidance our churches provide. Our souls cannot grow simply by seeing a church on the corner, or hearing folks talk about religion. Worshipping and learning every Sunday, we will understand Christian truth in living terms and use our understanding to serve God and man.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

Saturday, February 15, I attended a luncheon meeting of the El Paso Chapter of the Texas Woman's Press Association at the Hilton Hotel. When it came time for the speaker, the president began to make introductory remarks. She said the speaker was an Indian. I could see no one that resembled an Indian. Presently a young woman, who sat at the president's right, and not far from me, arose and began to speak.

She said she was an Indian, and was speaking in behalf of her people. She looked like a cultured white woman to me. I learned later that her name is Dell Barton and that she is private secretary to the editor of the El Paso Times. She said the government does nothing for the Indians in the reservations. Their schools are wholly inadequate and they live in abject poverty.

She said recently a philanthropic person got a bill passed to transfer the Indians from the reservations to the cities, find them a place to stay, get them a job, and pay all expenses for one month. Then they are on their own. "This," she says, "will not work. The Indians are not trained for any kind of a job. They cannot adjust to the new environment. So they fail." She said the white man cannot understand the Indian, because they are different. She said, "We hear that 'All men are created equal,' but that is not true." Does that shock you?

I remember the first time I realized that that statement was not in the Bible. Bro. Mack Tackett was preaching for the Sunset Church of Christ in Dallas. One night John and I went to see Bro. and Sister Tackett in their home. This subject came up. I said, "The Bible says that all men are created equal."

Sister Tackett said, "No, Sister Briley, that is in the preamble to the Constitution, but the Bible doesn't say that."

Dell Barton wants the government to establish technical schools in the reservations and train the Indians for trades. Then transfer them to the cities where they can get jobs and raise their standard of living. She wants us writers to write our congressmen to that effect.

A card had come from Mrs. Burt Briley of Brownwood. She said, "I went to the funeral home while Mrs. Reeves was there, but I did not get to go to the funeral at El Paso." This was my first and only knowledge of the passing of my dear friend, Mrs. Sarah Ann Reeves, widow of the late John Reeves of El Paso, who preceded her by 26 years. Just last month, Jan. 19, she celebrated her 100th birthday.

For several years, Mrs. Reeves had been blind, and for the past year or more had been confined to her bed and much of the time was not conscious of what went on around her. So death was sweet relief to her and to those who loved her best. I shall always remember her as she was when her children were at home. She was a lovely mother and a wonderful woman who "looked well to the ways of her household."

I also noticed in the Eagle the passing of little Gerald Chesser. I call him little, because he went to school to me at Mullin when he was in the second grade. I see him as he was then—before that unfortunate happening of the measles—a dear, bright, little pupil. I cannot realize that he was seventeen.

TODAY'S Menu
Here's Lamb Casserole And Two Fish Dishes

By ALICE DENHOFF
HERE'S a hearty main dish for today's menu—a lamb chop casserole.
Combine 1/2 c. flour, 1 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. ground black pepper. Roll 6 shoulder lamb chops in the mixture.
Brown chops, two at a time, in a skillet with 3 tsp. hot shortening.
Place in a 12x8x2-in. baking dish. Arrange a slice of onion and a slice of green pepper over each chop.
Heat Tomato Soup
Add 1/4 c. water and 1/2 tsp. crumbled whole basil leaves to a 10 1/2-oz. can tomato soup and heat. Pour over chops.
Bake one hour, or until tender, at 325°. Top with mushroom caps sauteed in tsp. butter.
A delicate stuffing gives an Epicurean touch to fish steaks.
Purchase 3 fish steaks (salmon or halibut) of the same size and shape.
Place one steak on an oiled baking dish.
Mix 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/4 tsp. black pepper and sprinkle over fish.
Make Filling
Combine 2 c. soft bread crumbs, tsp. each instant minced onion and dried parsley flakes, 3 tsp. butter, 1/2 c. canned tomato and 1/2 tsp. each ground sage and ground thyme. Toss lightly with 1/2 tsp. salt and 3/4 tsp. black pepper.
Spread half of mixture over fish steak.
Cover with second fish steak. Spread remaining crumb mixture over. Top with third fish steak and dot with 1 1/2 tsp. butter.
Four 1/2 c. boiling water in pan around fish. Bake at 350° 20 to 25 min.
Serve to 6 with a lemon-mayonnaise sauce made as follows:
Heat together 1/2 c. mayonnaise, 2 tsp. fresh lemon juice and 1/16 tsp. white pepper in top of double boiler, stirring constantly. Serve hot over fish.
To make Shrimp Poenta, for 4-5, combine one c. cornmeal, tsp. salt and one c. cold water. Stir into 3 c. boiling water in a saucepan. Cook until thickened, stirring frequently, about 15 min., adding more water if necessary.
Sauté 1/2 c. sliced onion in 1/2 tsp. olive oil. Add 1/2 lb. mushrooms, sliced. Cover and cook slowly 10 min.
Add tsp. salt, tsp. crumbled whole oregano leaves, 3/4 tsp. crumbled whole basil leaves, 5-oz. pkgs. frozen shrimp, thawed, dried parsley flakes and a 6-oz. can tomato paste.
Heat 5 min.
Turn Poenta onto a platter and pour sauce over. Sprinkle generously with grated Parmesan cheese.

Presnall H. Wood, Pastor
Goldthwaite Baptist Church

One of the greatest desires of the human heart is for happiness. There is a vast difference between fun and happiness. Fun is for sale. A large part of the world makes its living selling fun. Fun is sold through radio, television, movies, carnivals, and amusement parks. Pleasure can be purchased, but it soon wears out and has to be replaced. Happiness is very different. Happiness is eternal and permanent. It cannot be bought at any price. There are theaters which have a franchise on it. No currency will purchase it. No missile can destroy it. No success formula will guarantee it.

Many think that happiness is found in money. Money will buy many things, but money will not buy real joy. Sometimes the richest person is the most miserable.

Many think that power can buy real happiness in life. The dictators, rulers, and industrial giants that have died as suicides contradict this avenue for achieving happiness.

Many think that position will pay the price for happiness. A man can hold the highest office in the land and still be unhappy. Edward VIII of England gave up his crown in order to gain the happiness that he desired.

Where can happiness be found? The challenge of Jesus Christ is, "But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." (Matthew 6:33). This same Jesus said, "These things I have spoken unto you that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full." (John 15-11). Many people say, "I would give anything in the world to be happy? Would we be willing to give ourselves? As we give ourselves to Jesus through simple faith, we will truly have real happiness in our hearts and lives.

Southwestern States Telephone Co.
Launches '58 Construction Program

The Southwestern States Telephone Company for the second successive year has launched a construction program which totals more than $7 million.

Construction during 1958 will almost equal the 1957 record construction program of more than $7½ million. D. T. Strickland, vice-president and general manager, said the huge construction programs are necessary to keep pace with the rapid growth of areas served in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas and to keep abreast of developments in modern communications systems.

"Our company is continuing its policy of providing the best possible telephone service for the cities it serves," Strickland said.

Evidence of the company's efforts to carry out this policy is the fact that 81 per cent of the company's 125,000 telephones now are dial operated, as compared to 45 per cent dial five years ago and 22 per cent dial ten years ago. This is in keeping with plans for complete dial operation.

Southwestern States has expended some $30 million in converting exchanges to dial operation, installing additional central office equipment, outside construction, and other improvements in the past ten years. During 1957 five exchanges were converted to dial operation, three new dial exchanges were created, and four old dial units were replaced with new equipment.

One exchange has already been converted to dial this year, and 11 others are scheduled for conversion during 1958. Two more exchanges are due to have present dial equipment replaced.

Another step in providing the most modern service available was the inauguration of the company's first system of microwave radio for handling long distance calls. This system was installed late in 1957 between Lindsay and Purcell, Oklahoma, both of which have been recently converted to dial operation. More microwave systems are to be installed in 1958. These systems operate without the use of pole lines or cables and provide greatly improved circuit's for long distance service.

Southwestern States operates exchanges in 163 communities in four states, with about 1,230 employees on the payroll during 1957. Salaries for these employees totaled approximately $4½ million for the year.

The 1958 construction budget includes $2,214,300 which has been designated for work in the West Texas Division which includes Ballinger, Bangs, Blanco, Blanket, Brady, Brownwood, Coleman, Dripping Springs, Fredericksburg, Goldthwaite, Johnson City, Junction, Kingsland, Llano, London, Marble Falls, Mason, May, Menard, Novice, Palmt Rock, Richland Springs, Round Mountain, San Saba, Stonewall, Talpa, Willow City, Wimberly, Winters, and Zephyr.

Headquarters for the division are located in Brownwood, with A. J. Lacy as division manager.

Among the projects slated for the West Texas Division is the installation of microwave radio equipment to provide improved long distance service from Brady to Brownwood to Abilene. Cost of this project will be in excess of $350,000.

Central office equipment providing additional telephone lines and relief for existing facilities will be installed with expenditures as follows: Brownwood, $167,000; Ballinger, $12,750; Brady, $104,700; Johnson City, $9,180; and Marble Falls, $7,500.

New buildings will be constructed at Fredericksburg and Mason for equipment to convert these exchanges to dial operation. The dial conversion at Fredericksburg will be effected at a cost of about $390,000, with the Mason project involving expenditures of about $190,000.

Approximately $40,000 will be expended for additions to buildings at Brady, Coleman, and Marble Falls and remodeling the central office building at Brownwood.

company is doing everything possible to provide new and modern facilities which will insure the best in communications service for our subscribers," Strickland concluded.

ditures of Government at every opportunity, only voting for those things applicable to the welfare of our State and those things which I believe to be beneficial to the people of my district. As the record will show, on many occasions I have found myself in the minority, but have never failed to exercise the right to vote as such and to do as I thought best, regardless of any other consideration. It is a simple fact that the only way our taxes can ever be reduced is by cutting expenditures.

At all times, I have tried to represent the very best interest of every segment of the people and economy in our 73rd Legislative District. All matters affecting the farmer, the oil business, the business and professional man, the manufacturer and the working man have received my unstinted attention. Many times we do not accomplish all that we think should be accomplished, but I believe those who have had occasion to learn firsthand, know, that I have done the best possible under all circumstances, which must be met.

At all times I have favored States Rights and the rights of local self-government from the precinct level up. This proposition covers many issues and, in all of them, my record will show my opposition to the Federal Government's encroachment in any field rightfully belonging to the States and also my opposition to the State Government's encroachment in any field rightfully belonging to the cities and counties.

At all times I have tried to conduct myself in a manner as to deserve the greatest degree of trust and confidence which have been placed in me by my friends for the past two years. To violate that trust in any respect would be unthinkable, and it shall never knowingly be done.

Both my wife and I have tried at all times to do those things to bring the greatest possible credit to our District, and shall continue to do so. Very soon I expect to begin contacting the people of my District in regard to my candidacy. I hope you, my friends, will believe in me and trust me with your affairs in the State Capitol. I shall continue to be devoted and faithful in every respect.
