Local Producers Protest Lamb Imports

Large Number Attends Meeting Here Monday Sponsored By Farm Bureau

A large number of sheep producers in this area went on record Monday night registering their opposition to a program of importing lamb from Australia and New Zealand for domestic retail market.

The group met at McLean Cafe to discuss the problem which is confronting domestic lamb producers. The meeting was sponsored by the Mills County Farm Bureau with president Homer McCasland presiding.

The group generally felt that an immediate embargo cannot be placed into effect because of contract commitments but they hope that an effective embargo or increase in import duty can be imposed to stop excessive importation of frozen lamb.

To register their protest they sent telegrams to the following members from Texas in Congress: Congressmen J. W. Poage, O. C. Fisher and Sam Rayburn, and Senators Lyndon B. Johnson and Ralph Yarborough.

Following is the text of telegram:

"We, the undersigned Sheep Producers of Mills County, Texas, understand that an incoming large amount of frozen lamb is being imported to compete with our domestic lamb market. This is likely to cause our domestic lamb market to drop to a point where we will be forced out of business.

"Since the sheep and lamb industry is one of our principal sources of income in the southwest and particularly in this section of Texas, we feel that an embargo should be imposed at once on imported lamb."

Signed by the following list of lamb producers: Charles W. Hill, George H. Lynch, Claude H. Bramblett, Oma Robertson, W. O. Kemp, Charlie Schwartz, J. D. McKenzie, Milton F. Meier, George Tiedman, W. W. Limmer, F. B. Daniel, Jim Soules, G. O. Geeslin, James M. Green, W. C. "Bill" Sherwood, Glynn Sanders, A. R. Rowlett, David Watters, H. C. Schunke, E. J. Drucekhammer.

Poll Taxes Are Going Slow

The sale of poll tax receipts is reportedly going at a slow pace this year. Report from the tax assessor-collector's office Wednesday morning showed that 525 have paid their poll tax for 1958.

This being an off year as far as elections go, will influence many citizens in sliding by without getting their poll tax receipt. This should not be the case, however. Every year is important and special elections could be called that may prove very important to every voter.

January 31, is the last day on which citizens can get their poll tax and be qualified to vote.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hester and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Hamilton attended funeral services for Mr. Hester's cousin, Ben Willis, at Priddy, Sunday afternoon.

S. L. Tate Jr. Resigns As Music Director

S. L. Tate, Jr., music director of First Baptist Church for the last year and half, resigned last week Wednesday night to accept the position of Music and Youth Director of Immanuel Baptist Church, San Angelo, Texas.

The resignation will be effective January 20th. The church will have a reception honoring him this coming Sunday evening following the evening service.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Long and Mr. and Mrs. George Angel, all of Grand Prairie, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sykes last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Dutch McKenzie of Sinton visited relatives and friends here last week.

Little Miss Camille Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Bryant, was brought home from Rollins-Brook Hospital in Lampasas Monday night. At last report she was improving satisfactorily.

WCID Directors Elected Tuesday

Five directors were named in the first regular annual election by voters of Mills County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1, Tuesday.

According to un-official returns the following were elected: Jim Soules, Arnold Head, Homer McCasland, Walter Tubbs and J. S. (Sherwood) Owens. Soules, Head, McCasland and Owens have been serving on the board the past year. Tubbs will replace Bertram Geeslin who has served the past year. Other candidate on the ballot was T. J. Watson.

The vote will be officially canvassed when the board meets on Saturday, January 24, and complete tabulation will be announced at that time.

Lions Attend Mid-Winter Meeting

A number of Goldthwaite Lions Club members attended the Mid-Winter Conference of Texas District 2-A held at the Gunter Hotel in San Antonio last Sunday.

This was the last meeting of the original district 2-A which is being changed into three districts starting with this year. There will be district 2A-1, 2A-2 and 2A-3. Goldthwaite will be in district 2A-1, with this year's convention being in Colorado City on May 9 and 10.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Duren and sons, Phil and Tom, Howard Campbell, Truett Aldridge, L. J. Ward and Jesse Moreland left here Saturday for the meeting while J. T. Jones, Ray Duren and Harold Yarborough made the trip Sunday morning. Campbell, Aldridge, Ward and Moreland served as Tallies for the conference.

FHA Increases Interest Rates To Private Lenders

Farmers Home Administration has increased its interest rate to private lenders under the insured farm loan program from 3½ to 4 per cent. Walter T. McKay, the Agency's State Director, advised that this change was made to encourage more lenders to advance funds for insured loans in order to meet the needs of qualified applicants throughout the Nation.

The insured farm loan program encourages the use of private capital in place of direct-Government loans. Through this program private lenders can advance funds to eligible farmers for the purchase of land, for building and land improvements, and for domestic and irrigation water systems. In addition to the 4 per cent paid the lender, the borrower pays the Government 1 per cent for insuring and servicing the loan.

Although the amortization period of the loan may be up to 40 years depending on the purpose for which the loan was advanced, the lender, at his option, may have the note redeemed by the Government at any time after five years. The note, held by the lender, is negotiable and may be assigned to another investor at any time.

"The insured farm loan is an attractive investment for private lending institutions and individuals and has been well received here in Texas," McKay stated. "In fact, 928 of our more recent real estate loans totaling $8,926,000 were made from funds provided by private credit sources.

Goldthwaite Eagles Defeat Gatesville Hornets, Jan. 6

The Goldthwaite basketball teams were hosts to the DeLeon teams on Friday, January 2, with the girls playing the first game. The Goldthwaite girls made a good showing against a strong DeLeon team which is undefeated in 15 games. DeLeon has the same team this year that went to Regional Finals in Class AA last year. The score was DeLeon 76, Goldthwaite 56.

When the boys took the court the Eagles avenged an earlier defeat by the DeLeon boys in a "nip and tuck" ball game which found Goldthwaite forging ahead in the last minute to win by three points, with the score being 49-46.

Two of the most thrilling ball games of the season, according to Coach Blansit, were played Tuesday night, January 6 on the local courts when the Eagles clashed with the Gatesville Hornets. In the girls game it was close all the way with the lead changing hands numerous times. With about one minute remaining in the ball game Goldthwaite trailed the Hornets. With only 40 seconds remaining, the Eagles managed to forge ahead by one point and a field goal just before the horn sounded gave them their three point victory. The score was 49-46 in favor of the Eagles.

The boys game proved to be just as exciting as the one played by the girls. The score was tied and the lead changed hands many times. With a little over a minute to play the Eagles trailed by two points. A field goal by the Eagles tied the score with about a minute to play. Neither team was able to score in the last minute of the ball game, thus the regulation game ended in a tie, 37-37. In the three minute overtime, the Eagles scored 9 points while they held the visiting Hornets scoreless. Final score was 46-37.

Larger Ewes Produce Larger Lambs-Test Show

College Station, (Spec.)—The first breeding is a good indication of how large her lambs will be, both at birth and weaning time.

Tests at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Southwestern Range and Sheep Breeding Laboratory at Fort Wingate, New Mexico, showed that heavier ewes — regardless of breed — produce heavier, faster-growing lambs than lightweight ewes.

In the 4-year tests, ewes were grouped by weight. The lightest group averaged 65.4 pounds as yearlings and the heaviest, 92.7 pounds. The heaviest group, with an average weight advantage of 26.3 pounds, produced lambs averaging 1.29 pounds more at birth and 10.5 pounds more at weaning.

USDA scientists say quicker profits from breeding flocks should be possible as a result of this finding because culling can be done before breeding rather than after each ewe has produced a lamb. In addition, the bigger ewes have more skin area for growing wool.

Mrs. Tom Cave was carried to Scott and White Hospital at Temple by Wilkins Ambulance last Friday, where she will receive treatment.

Mrs. Bess Wright, Dallas, Wilbur Shipp and son, Irving, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Anderson of Austin were guests of Mrs. T. J. Shipp and Lewis last weekend.

COTTON PICKIN' CHILLY—Just how cold is "Cotton Pickin' Chilly"? When the extreme cold wave moved through Central Texas on the weekend of January 4 and 5 Mills County citizens got Chilly in a number of ways and fashions. In fact to the tune of many different descriptions.

When I mentioned to someone on the street Monday morning that it was "Cotton Pickin' Chilly," we got to discussing just how cold that might be.

Someone said: "Boy I'd sure hate to be out trying to pick cotton in this kind of weather."

At any rate most everyone in this area got a good feel of winter weather since from all available reports this was the coldest spell we have had in about eight years.

Six years ago this month the temperature dropped to 17 degrees. Several people have reported to us that about two years before that the temperature dropped to six and eight degrees. This year reports came in with temperature readings as low as four degrees.

GAS LINE BLOW OUT—The extreme cold weather causing contraction in the gas line supplying Goldthwaite went a bit too far this time when it caused the line to blow out. That's when local citizens really got the "Chills." Although some slight pressure and gas supply was maintained in the system all during the repair period, different areas were affected in different ways. Some homes had pressure to maintain their furnace while others didn't have enough pressure to light any kind of heating equipment.

L. J. Ward, local Gas Company Manager, and other company personnel from several Central and West Texas towns had a rough time of it, along with everyone else, until service was restored about midnight Monday. The break happened between 6:30 and 7 Monday morning.

Residents who were effected know pretty well what I am talking about because they felt it, too. But, I want to share it with our readers who were sitting by the fire nice and warm at that time.

GOING ON THE DOUBLE—Two other local citizens who really got into the swing of things that cold Monday were Howard Campbell and Virgil Geeslin, of Campbell Gas Company, local Butane and Propane dealer.

In fact they were going "on the double" from the very moment of the gas shortage discovery.

Aside from the demands for service from their regular customers they started in to do what they could in helping where it was needed most in other areas.

They distributed a number of portable Propane systems to Doctors' offices and to a number of homes where there was sickness or where the extreme cold weather might cause undue hardship.

Monday afternoon just about the time Lone Star Gas Company crews got the supply into temporary service and the gas pressure came up to serve the needs of the city Campbell and Geeslin were laying plans to go into another phase of relieving the situation.

They were just about to go out to Lake Merritt where there are a good number of portable, or small, Propane systems in the lake cabins and cottages. If the emergency had continued they were going to move these systems into service, but, the gas pressure was back up.

Then the two also got into the act when their services were enlisted by Lone Star Gas Company to supplying two of their tank trucks with Propane gas which were hooked up with the Miniature refinery of Lone Star Gas Company to supply the city system while the permanent weld was made in the tap line to Goldthwaite.

Those taking part will tell you that there were enough men and equipment on the scene to make it appear like a little city during the late Monday night hours when the permanent weld was completed about Midnight. And they will also tell you that when the job was actually finished and the crew member who was checking the pressure in the regular line said all was OK there was a real big sigh of relief showing on everyone.

MARCH OF EVENTS

Fight for GOP Leadership Waxen Hotter in Senate Incoming Progressive Battle Old Conservative

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—Political Washington is agog over the heat generated in the fight for the Republican Senate leadership. Regardless of whether the "conservatives" or "progressives" win out, prospects are for a bitterly divided GOP Senate membership as the 86th session of Congress gets underway.

The strength of the progressive faction has grown as the conservative ranks have been shrunk by election defeats. All of the Senate Republicans who were defeated came from the conservative ranks. All of the Republican senators who were victorious for the first time carry the progressive stamp. What the progressive group is trying to do is elect a leadership team which will reflect what they believe are the progressive desires of the voters. They want a leadership which will advocate the kind of liberal doctrine which will appeal to voters across the nation in order to avoid a political debacle in 1960 when the nation will elect a successor to President Eisenhower.

President Eisenhower is keeping hands off, outwardly at least, because this is a matter of concern to the legislative, not the administrative branch of the federal government.

However, he is known to be deeply concerned over the looming split in the Senate's Republican ranks. Some of his most able lieutenants are working night and day to effect a compromise which would keep the conservatives in top positions but give the progressives a voice in inner party deliberations and also provide them, with better assignments on the more important legislative committees.

DEFENSE SPENDING—As federal budget-making time approaches, much attention is being given to the level of defense spending for the 1960 fiscal year which begins July 1, 1959, and for which Congress must provide money during the coming session. Defense spending this year came close to $41 billion, a little more than half of all federal spending, and early estimates were that a billion dollars additional would be required for 1960.

However, there are reliable reports that President Eisenhower has placed a firm ceiling on this huge spending category slightly below the current spending rate, and the military men are howling. For one thing, they argue, missile costs are soaring as the new military art becomes more proficient and greater numbers of long-range and intermediate-range missiles are moving onto test platforms.

For another, inflation and the consequent cheapening of what a dollar will purchase, has had its effects all along the line on military hardware. One military man claims that it will require an additional billion dollars in spending next year just to maintain the Defense department's current rate of operations.

In this squeeze between mounting missile costs and inflation on the one hand, and the President's ceiling on the other, some Pentagon planners maintain the only answer is to cut back further on so-called "conventional" weapons—guns and tanks—and to further reduce the size of the active armed forces.

However, whether defense spending is held below $41 billion this year or not, all experts are agreed that the future trend is upward, and forecast $45 billion a year in outlays three or four years hence, when missiles will be rolling off assembly lines on a mass production basis.

By MRS. JOE GREEN

This is Monday morning and I will try to get the news in on time. We have sure had some cold weather, it was down to 5 degrees above zero here.

1959 is here and I hope we have a good year but only the good Lord knows what is in store for us.

Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Coffman went to East Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coffman and brought them here and in the afternoon they visited Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Alexander in Goldthwaite.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Head and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Collier Sunday.

By MRS. ORA BLACK

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes entertained a few friends New Year's night with a Watch Night party, at their Shady Oak ranch home. The Christmas lights and decorations beamed from the interior of the den as well as without, making the setting a merry and delightful one. The hosts served refreshments of cake, coffee, sandwiches and delicious home made candy throughout the evening. As the clock chimed the midnight hour the guests departed, wishing all a "Merry Happy New Year" and stopping to bury dimes on the lawn, which is supposed to bring good luck throughout the coming year.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: How much should my employer take out of my pay for social security in 1959?

Answer: Beginning January 1, 1959, your employer will take 2 1/2% out of your pay, and he will contribute an equal amount. Earnings up to $4800 will count, and the social security tax will be paid on earnings up to that amount.

Clementine Wilmeth Briley Writes From Temporary Home In El Paso

By CLEMENTINE WILMETH BRILEY

We hear of bitter cold all over the nation. Mrs. Dwyer hopes that it will keep the fruit trees from blooming too early so that we can hope for a good fruit crop this year. We have had cold here too. Christmas was warm and mild, but cold came the following Monday, and it was still with us at the Sun Parade New Year's Day. It was clear, but a cold wind blew from the north. Yet thousands of people lined the route of the parade.

We have a friend who lives in a south-front, two story, brick apartment house right on the route. Every year she invites us and others to view the parade from her house. She had cookies and coffee for all of us. Also cocoa for the kiddies. Others brought cookies and coffee. So besides seeing the parade, we have a delightful little party. To view the parade, most everyone went out on the porch, or down to the curb where some sat on benches with blankets over the back. But I stayed in the house and viewed through the window that beautiful panorama of majestic floats, marching bands, prancing horses, and marching units from Fort Bliss. The theme was Americana. Floats represented Thanksgiving... Christmas... American Sports... Summer Band Concert... The Village Blacksmith... Symbols of Liberty: Eagle, Liberty Bell, Statue of Liberty... A Showboat... A June Bride... Springtime in America... Fourth of July, and other American institutions.

The game, Wyoming-Hardin-Simmons, was the day before with victory going to Wyoming. Preceding the Sun Queen's gorgeous float, came the University of Wyoming's Band, followed by the Hardin-Simmons' Cowboy Band. I was glad that all the Duchesses, mounted high on their auto floats, wore mink coats to protect them from the cold. Of interest to me was a procession of some of our first autos. Among many others, I noticed a 1915 Ford and a 1914 Ford. The float representing Favorite American Sports won the Sweepstakes award. There were also many other awards. That night I peeped through my bedroom window to view once more the Star on the Mountain. Next night it was gone till Christmas comes again.

For a long time we had planned to make a trip to Juarez to do some special shopping. Suddenly late New Year's Eve, we decided to go. When we turned south on Stanton Street toward the bridge across the Rio Grande, there were three lanes of bumper to bumper cars. We would travel just a few feet then stop till we could start again. It was very slow, but we finally got across the bridge. We went straight to the Market Place, did our shopping, and were back home in a little while. The bridge on Santa Fe Street coming back was not crowded. The U. S. Custom Service said 18,000 autos crossed the Santa Fe bridge Monday. Today's paper said the North bound crossing over the Santa Fe Street bridge broke all records in 1958. The total was 25,820,413, which is 1,747,831 greater than the 24,072,582 of 1957. So this, the busiest International Bridge in the world, grows busier year by year.

Today (Thursday) the weather is mild and warm again. It is a joy to work outside. Everywhere I behold the poignant beauty of bare boughs against a winter sky. One little yellow Narcissus is blooming on the north side. All the frost and ice we've had has not fazed it. Who was it said, "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

This is Sunday evening and it sure is cold and all the water pipes are frozen, and I am afraid the grain is killed.

Rev. Clearence Dycus was scheduled to preach at the Baptist Church this morning but he was sick and unable to be here. He sent another preacher and the visiting preacher and his wife were dinner guests in the Joe Green home. We are sorry our pastor is sick but we enjoyed the visiting preacher and his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hill are staying in town with Mrs. J. Everett Evans, who is not well at this time. O. B. was out here this afternoon and said Mrs. Evans was just worn out and tired.

Merlene Head was here for the holidays. She returned to Austin this afternoon and will return to school tomorrow.

Mrs. Virgie Wild is back at home. She has been helping take care of her mother, Mrs. Gage. Mrs. Wild plans to remain at home for a while.

Mr. Horner is still improving. Several in this community are sick with colds and flu. January 2 Mrs. Bertha Taylor and son, George, entertained the Green boys and their families with a supper. She is an aunt of the Greens. Those present were Floyd Green and family, Joe Green and family, and Jim Green and family. Everyone enjoyed themselves and Aunt Bertha surely had a good supper.

Herbert Coffman and family visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coffman in Evant. Mrs. Coffman is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. Fayne Coffman and children left for Bolivia, South America, the first of January. They are supposed to stay two years and if they like the set up may stay longer. Fayne has a Government job.

Mrs. George Brown has been on the sick list several days. We hope she is soon well.

TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

BY GEORGE G. REESE

January and February, tree planting time in most parts of Texas, are nearly here. And there are lots of things that we should keep in mind if we get our orchard started in tip-top shape. B. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist, has several suggestions on how to handle trees upon arrival and how to prepare soil for planting.

If the trees cannot be planted at once, they should be "heeled in" by digging a trench wide and deep enough to receive the roots. In covering the roots with soil, care should be taken to work the soil into the spaces where the roots are massed together, otherwise there is a danger of drying out. Avoid "heeling in" in poor drainage areas. The soil where the trees are to be planted must thoroughly be prepared. Deep plowing is recommended and should be done in the fall or early winter at which time a cover crop such as vetch, clover, rye or oats may be sown. Plant the tree at the same depth that it was in the nursery, and pack the soil firmly around the roots.

PRICE OUTLOOK FOR FEEDER AND STOCKER CATTLE IN 1959

The greatest price strength in 1959 will be in feeder and breeding stock, just as it was in 1958, according to John G. McHaney, extension specialist. The bumper 1958 feed harvest, second in consecutive years, should keep the demand for feeders at a high level in 1959.

have moved to Jeso, N. M., where they have a job on a ranch. She said it was very cold and snowing out there. She doesn't have anything on Mills County, we have had snow, sleet and very cold weather.

The gas was off in Goldthwaite Monday and my niece, Judy Miller, came out here and stayed with us a while. Joe went to town and she returned to town with him. The gas came on late in the evening.

Strong demand for young cattle both for feeding and herd expansion may keep the price of feeding and breeding cattle high relative to slaughter and fed cattle.

When all factors are considered it appears that prices may not be greatly different from those of 1958. However, we must remember that because of the increases in cattle inventory the stage is being set now for a price decline at some time in the next few years. Let's hope that it does not come in 1959. The average annual price received in 1959 could be a little lower than in 1958. Cattle feeding is at a record volume. Total red meat production is expected to be a little higher than in 1958. The slaughter of cattle and calves and total beef production will probably be a little larger in 1959. Pork supplies will also be larger.

In every year since 1948, with the exception of 1950 (the year the Korean War began), in which there was an increase in total red meat production above the preceding year, there was also a decrease in the price received for beef cattle compared to the year before. However, we certainly do not expect any severe break in prices in 1959. This may be put off another year or so.

The following unknown factors might affect the prices in 1959: If a wide area drought should develop in 1959 and range conditions deteriorate, this would cause more cattle to be slaughtered and would not encourage farmers and ranchers to purchase cattle for restocking. A situation of this kind would tend to cause prices to decline.

If the international situation should become more serious and the U. S. is involved, this would create a stronger demand for cattle and would cause the price of cattle to increase.

A decline in general economic and business conditions, plus a material increase in unemployment would bring about a decrease in the demand for beef.

What is the great commandment in God's law?

We find in St. Matthew 22:37-38 the admonition which our Lord gave to a lawyer. Here it is: "Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment."

Income TAX FAX

How many exemptions can I claim?

Each exemption is a $600 deduction. That is, for each exemption you are allowed to make $600 tax free.

Exemptions determine the amount of tax-free income you are allowed each year, and are devised to make the tax fair between single persons, married couples, and large and small families.

You are entitled to one exemption for yourself. You are entitled to one additional exemption if, on December 31, 1958, you had attained 65 years of age, or if you were blind.

If you were both 65 and blind, you are entitled to two additional exemptions. You are also entitled to exemptions on the same basis for your wife, if you file a joint return.

If you file a separate return, you can claim your wife's exemptions only if she has no income and was not claimed on any other taxpayer's return for 1958.

If your wife or husband died in 1958, the additional exemption for age and blindness are determined as at the date of death, rather than December 31st.

You are entitled to one exemption for each dependent. Additional exemptions for old age and blindness apply only to you and your wife or husband, not to dependents.

Each dependent must qualify under all five of the following conditions.

1. Dependent must have received over one-half of his support from you in 1958.

2. Dependent did not have over $600 income in 1958, besides what you provided, unless the dependent was your child or stepchild under 19 years of age, or if over 19 years of age, a full time student, in which case the dependent child can earn any amount as long as you actually provide over one-half of the cost of support.

3. Dependent is not claimed by any other taxpayer and does not file a joint return with another taxpayer. For instance, do not list a dependent married daughter who files a joint return with her husband.

4. Dependents must be a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, The Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone.

5. Dependents must be closely related to you or be anyone else who meets requirements 1, 2, 3 and 4 above and had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household, even if not related to you.

If the dependent has worked part time and earned less than $600 in 1958 or was your child under 19, or over 19 and a student, and income tax was withheld from such earnings, the dependent should file a tax return to secure refund of the tax withheld.

This will in no way prevent you from also claiming the exemption for the dependent, provided, of course, that dependent meets all five of the above conditions.

If your dependent can qualify in all other ways, except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps you can arrange with the others who contributed to his support for you to claim the credit anyway under a Multiple Support Agreement—Form 2120.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I am 67 years old and have worked under social security as an employee. I plan to retire in June of this year. By that time, I will have earned $2,500. How much can I earn for the remaining months of the year and still qualify for my monthly social security checks?

HELD IN SLAYING—Mrs. Rita Moran Perkins, 41, of Peabody, Mass., is shown in custody after her arrest in the fatal stabbing of her husband, Lawrence, 26. She has four children by previous marriage.

Answer: Regardless of how much you earn in a year, you can now get checks for every month in which you neither earn wages in excess of $100 nor render substantial services in self-employment. We suggest that you inquire at your nearest social security office before you retire.

Question: I contacted my social security office in 1953 to file application for benefits as a dependent mother on my son's social security account. I was told then that I could not qualify because he was survived by a widow. Can I get payments under the new amendments to the Social Security Act?

Answer: You may now be able to get benefits if you meet the other requirements. The amendments provide that a dependent parent can now qualify for benefits even if the deceased son or daughter was survived by a widow or children. You should contact your nearest social security office immediately.

Sideoats gramma is one of the most important grasses in the Brown-Mills SCD. It is a summer growing grass that furnishes excellent grazing during the spring, summer and fall months. It cures well for winter use. It is also an excellent grass for reseeding cropland for permanent pasture, or as a part of a conservation cropping system.

It is a good seed producer. Yields up to 200 pounds per acre have been made on dryland. This gives it a place as a cash crop since seed usually sell above 60 cents per pound.

All of the native pastures have some sideoats gramma unless they are in very poor condition. The stand and vigor of this important grass can be improved rapidly along with other good grasses by good pasture management.

the blinds with them a charcoal stove, or a hand warmer. These are fine at times. The charcoal stove also is dangerous. If it is tipped over, there'll likely be a fire and everything will go up in smoke.

One of the handiest heaters I have seen, for use in a duck blind is the new Coleman Sportsmaster stove. It not only serves as a good heater, but does an excellent job of cooking. It weighs only about five pounds and requires very little space.

Unlike the upland bird hunter, the duck hunter always has a boat load of equipment to take to the blind. In addition to a boat and motor he usually takes along a pretty good size spread of decoys. Also there will be a box or two to sit on. Perhaps there also is a dog for a retriever.

In real bad weather a tarp is mighty handy as protection from the wind.

It is well to remember that here in Texas when a hunter goes out after dead birds—and takes his gun along—he must lift the motor of his boat out of the water, to be legal.

Back in the old days when live decoys were legal there was still more trouble. You'd have a boat load of blocks. There'd be a crate with from two to six live decoys. The drakes would be set out on one side of the blind and the hens on the other. When a flight came in sight those little hens started talking.

During that time repeating shotguns held five shells in the magazine. Some hunters were able to buy magazine extensions for their automatics. The limit on ducks was 25 per day, with no exceptions. We must have thought then that ducks always would be plentiful.

Back in those days when you gave a duck away it didn't have to be dressed. Nearly everyone to whom you gave a duck appreciated it and didn't mind dressing it. Today things have changed. I know quite a few hunters who go out and shoot ducks and then give them to the guides because they don't want to pick them. There are places where you can get the birds picked by professionals and most of us take our ducks and geese there.

I hunted at one place recently where there was a mechanical picker and the guides ran the ducks through in short order. Then they gutted and washed the ducks and packed them in ice for the trip home.

That's for me! Speaking of ducks, there's been a bountiful supply of coots this year. Most hunters will not kill a coot, although coots are not bad eating. On the other hand, they are quite a delicacy in the north.

Most hunters have their favorites in ducks. A mallard usually is first choice of most hunters. It is a wonderful bird. Most of the outstanding pictures we see are of mallards.

Running a close second in popularity would be either the redheads or the canvas backs.

Far down the line is the lowly teal. It is the duck I like best. One little teal, with plenty of good oyster dressing, is just a good meal for one person.

The teal really is a fine little bird and I hope it never will be in too short supply.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. White of Temple spent the weekend with Misses Abbie and Ruth Ervin and J. P. Ervin.

WHEN MAO STEPPED DOWN—Mao Tse-tung (center), chairman of the Chinese Communist Party, is flanked by other top officials in Wuchang at a session of the central committee during which he announced his decision to resign as president of China. He still will hold his party post. Shown (l. to r.) are: Marshal Chu Teh, who replaces Mao as president; Liu Shao-chi, Mao; Premier Chou En-lai and Chen Yun. Mao was expected to devote his efforts to China's new system of consolidated communes. They are expected to have extremely rough going during the coming year.

A few days ago I stood blundering in a duck blind. Six decoys were headed straight to my blind. I didn't have a chance. Then it happened. Just as they were setting their wings to come in, some decoy in an adjacent blind began blowing his heart out on a duck call.

That's the last I ever saw of the teal. I suppose duck callers have saved the lives of the ducks than any other one thing.

There are few men who know how to handle a call. They think they need to do is to blow and the ducks will come flying in to their blind.

Some hunters refuse to go into a blind with a man who has all hanging around his neck. They know that he knows how to use it properly. So many hunters never have realized that although they might sound good to a hunter, a duck can't read them.

There are times when a call, used correctly by an amateur, can do the work. Occasionally when ducks are flying high on a windy day, and your spread of decoys is in a secluded spot, the attention of flying ducks can be had. Then it's time to put the call in your pocket and keep it there.

How many times have you heard ducks calling or talking, while you are in the blind—after daylight? Very seldom. Yet you'll be standing there, your eyes watering and straining to see a duck coming into sight, then suddenly across the lake you hear a loud "quack, quack." It doesn't fool you. It's dear old Bill over there "calling them in."

This is not a reflection on the man who is a good caller. There are a few. They are born, just as a great musician is born. The few good duck callers I have heard are good at music. Their ears pick up every note. They have a retentive memory. They play by ear every sound a duck can make. It is real entertainment to hear one of these callers.

However, there is one thing I've noticed, and that is that good hunters use the call very little in the blind. Occasionally they will give a hint to flying ducks that there is life below. But they don't just start out blowing for the sake of making a noise. They know the mating call, the feeding call and the conversational call and use each in its place.

There really is a lot more to duck hunting than just getting in a blind and tooting. A few well-placed decoys can help a lot. The blind itself should be properly placed and covered. It should be a blind where the hunter can see without being seen. If a hunter has a bald head or a white hat he shouldn't be standing up in the blind in plain view. Those ducks can spot you a mile away.

Another thing, a duck hunter needs to have plenty of warm clothes but not too many to get in his way when he starts to shoot. Some hunters carry into Austin—We conversed recently with Mr. S. T. White, from Ohio, with his family, was on his way to Burnet County to select a home. He assures us that California will not compare with Texas, as regards stock-growing or agriculture. He proposes to establish a sheep-ranch, and has with him some of the finest imported sheep we have ever seen. Our noble Leicester Buck, a ewe and two lambs, were purchased in Canada for one thousand dollars. The others, of the Cotswold breed, were equally fine. While in town (Austin), this morning, he exchanged two of his flock for one hundred ewes, valued at four hundred dollars. With such stock, the business must be profitable.

These specific common sense features are the big reasons why Ford is the best seller:

- 1 Six passengers, not just four, ride in comfort. Yes, even the man in the middle, because Ford's full-depth seats are extra thick all the way across.
- 2 The doors are wider for easier entry. Compared with Ford's major competitor, they open wider... and have convenient two-stage front door checks.
- 3 Ford's styling is sensible. It's clean and simple like the Thunderbird. No useless frills or wings that are easy to dent.
- 4 Ford's frame surrounds you with safety. In its field, only Ford has a wide-base frame that seats all passengers within the protection of its husky side rails.
- 5 Ford's spacious luggage compartment is easier to load and unload. High rear trunk wall on Ford's nearest competitor makes loading and unloading difficult.
- 6 Ford's got the most sound and weather insulation. The most everywhere. No other low-priced car compares.
- 7 Ford is economical. You save up to a dollar a tankful with standard Six or Thunderbird V-8 engines that thrive on regular gas. You need change oil only after each 4000 miles. And the muffler is aluminized to last twice as long as ever.

IN TEXAS

What's behind the big switch to FORD?

And here's good news for the economy-minded...

With all these exclusives, and with the usual optional equipment, Ford prices are as much as $100 lower* than the nearest major competitor.

We Accept The Russian Satellite for Star of Bethlehem? Wise men of old were led to Bethlehem by the Star in the night. He that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen him in the East and we come to worship Him. The works of God may be seen in the sky. Who has not seen the stars of the heavens, and the accuracy of the planets in the system. The Psalmist said: "The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmaments show His handiwork." Again He says, "When I consider thy works, O Lord, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, thou hast ordained, what is that thou art mindful of?" and then he says of the Lord, "Thou hast made him a little less than God."

to the heavens but our help must come from the Lord. These recent satellites, one with a voice crying "Peace on earth to men everywhere," the other rushing on through space to join the planets of the sun in an orbit all its own, all proclaim a New Era with tremendous possibilities. They are part of the scheme in a cold war, which could be made so hot that the elements would melt in fervent heat.

The Star of Bethlehem led to the Christ Child who was destined to die on a cross. We are faced with two choices, one is to follow Christ even to a cross. The other is to rely on power and force to bring about the New Era. I think one leads to destruction, the other leads to a cross but eternal life. Christ leads out into the future and says, "He that would come after me let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." Christ does not offer an easy way to life but He is the sure way. Christ, "The Bright and Morning Star," declared "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life." We can say which way we will take but we are faced with the decision.

O, Holy Child of Bethlehem, Descend to us we pray; Cast out our sin and enter in, Be born in us today.

Let us keep our faith in Christ and He will go with us all through 1959 and beyond. Faithfully yours, Tom Mitchell.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEXAS—Texas' 56th Legislature soars off the launching pad this week.

Predictions are that it'll be orbiting around the Capitol for many months to come—certainly long enough to put to good use the air conditioners newly installed in the legislative chambers.

Many have suggested the 56th will have to have one or more special sessions before it can solve all its pressing problems. Certainly before they can leave, the lawmakers will have to perform the thankless task of levying many more millions in state taxes.

Additionally, they'll be beset on all sides for new spending programs which would call for even more taxes.

After several months of this, outer space may look invitingly calm compared to the Texas Capitol.

THIN KITTY—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's official revenue estimate for 1950-61 is more of a storm warning than a forecast.

Calvert expects the state's general fund deficit to hit $65,234,703 by the end of this biennium next August. Under the present tax set-up, he estimates revenues to the same fund during the next two years would total $180,897,245.

After the deficit is taken care of, only $115,000,000 would be left for 1960-61 spending. It's a pretty thin kitty when compared with the $282,000,000 appropriated from general revenues for 1958-59. It means the state will have to raise $167,000,000 more just to maintain its present "standard of living."

Comptroller Calvert's official revenue estimate this year is a far cry from the one he made two years ago for the 55th Legislature. In that well-heeled era Calvert forecast approximately a $50,000,000 surplus. No one paid too much attention to outgoing House Speaker Jim Lindsey's prophecy that spending needs would outrun this figure.

In good years and bad, the Legislature is bound by law to hold its appropriations within the comptroller's revenue estimate.

TREASURE HUNT—A number of economies plus stricter levying and collecting of present taxes might net the state as much as $74,599,957 without new taxes.

This report was made by a financial study committee headed by Secretary of State Zollie Steakley. Committee was appointed by Gov. Price Daniel last summer.

Its six cash-raising ideas: (1) put more tax-collecting personnel in the comptroller's office, (2) cut out tax exemptions for beer and cigarettes sold on military bases, (3) increase franchise tax rate, (4) consolidate state "housekeeping" services (such as telephones), (5) increase fees charged by state agencies and (6) establish a "conservatorship" for the state to take over unclaimed money (such as bank accounts) and personal property.

Senate Investigating Committee also inquired into the comptroller's work, was told that additional personnel would make it possible to collect millions more in taxes.

HOPE FOR CREDITORS—State Liquidator C. H. Langdeau reported his office is making progress toward clearing up some of the stickier problems resulting from insurance company failures.

By John C. White, Commissioner

RADIOACTIVE SOIL PROBLEM

Scientists are talking about "paving" farm land as a protection against radioactivity.

The idea is not as far-fetched as it may sound. In this atomic age of international tension, the problem of radioactive fallout is a very real one and scientists are looking ahead for measures that will reduce the after-effects of nuclear explosions. In addition, accidental contamination land is a potential danger as we experiment with radioactive materials.

But whether from nuclear weapons of an enemy or by accident, any contamination would have to be met promptly to safeguard lives and keep valuable farm land safe for food production. That is where "paving" of farm land comes in.

Several experiments have been tried on a test farm by the USDA agricultural research branch. A low concentration of Barium 14, a relatively short lived radiation agent, was sprayed on a variety of crops and land uses. Object of the research was to discover the most effective method of removing the radioactive crops to leave as little as possible behind on the soil.

Once the barium was applied, crops, mulches, stubble and sod were removed from the test plots the same day and the radioactivity of cleared fields was measured immediately.

No removal method tried by the researchers eliminated all radioactivity, unfortunately. Raking and removing heavy and medium mulches cleared up nearly all contamination, though a little more was left on the soil from light mulch. Cutting and rolling sod and removing it was about as effective as removing light mulch. When the top layer of soil and stubble was flail-chopped and picked up in a chute-delivery bag, a larger amount of radioactivity was left on the plot. More than two-thirds of the radioactivity was left when plants were mowed and collected in a bin attached to the mower.

Now about the "paving." Once the crops are removed, the remaining contamination in the soil must be dealt with. Still to be tried is the method of spraying the soil with emulsified asphalt, letting it harden, then scraping it off to pick up the radioactive surface layer.

Well, if nothing else, it ought to keep down those winter weeds.

Langdeau told the Senate Investigating Committee that if some proposed property sales go through, creditors of US Trust and Guaranty will get a 10 per cent payment. They have previously received a 31 per cent payment.

Cecil Rotsch of the liquidation division told the committee that ordinary life policies of bankrupt Estate Life Ins. Co. had been reinsured and the unsound industrial policies cancelled.

In an earlier report the Senate committee had charged Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison with negligence contributing to the downfall of Estate.

BATTLE LINES DRAWN—Representatives of Texas Municipal League and spokesman for the State Firemen's and Policemen's Associations tried to have a friendly get-together. Purpose: to share views on future legislation on firemen's and policemen's wages, hours and pension plans.

Municipal League wanted to talk about its plan to put more control of wages and hours in the hands of city councils, rather than the Legislature. Firemen and policemen were more interested in their plan to get the Legislature to limit working hours in cities over 10,000.

After a stormy session the two groups admitted they were "poles apart."

Each gave notice they'd stick by their guns and fight it out at the Capitol.

AT IT AGAIN—Texas Employment Commission, a frequent battle ground for labor-management hassles, is caught in the cross-fire again.

It was touched off at a meeting of TEC's advisory council called to consider proposed changes in the unemployment compensation laws.

Commission Chairman Perry Brown is recommending that the weekly checks be upped from $28 to $35, the 24-week pay period to 36 weeks and that there be a one-week waiting period before payments begin.

R. F. Newman, labor's representative on the Commission, recommended payments pegged at 55 per cent of the average salary. At present $78 weekly average, benefit checks would be about $43. Newman also recommended extending the unemployment law to firms with only one employee.

Labor spokesmen on the council were critical of Brown's one-week waiting period proposal and even more critical of Brown and Commissioner Maurice Acers. State AFL-CIO President Jerry Holleman accused the two commissioners of voting down the appeals of jobless workers.

Management representatives declared the commission's first responsibility was to get people employed, not to pay out benefits.

HIGHER PRICES SEEN—1959 may be the year for another round of inflation, warns the University Bureau of Business Research.

BBR noted that even with the recession there was no drop in prices during 1958. Hence, the expected expansion in business in the coming year might mean some sharp price rises.
