Boundaries For Proposed Water District Approved By Council

Boundaries for a proposed fresh water district for Goldthwaite were approved by the City Council meeting in special session Monday night.

In approving the water district plans the council instructed the engineer and fiscal agents to prepare the necessary petitions for circulation to secure the required number of signatures. When the petitions are completed they will be presented to the county commissioners' court requesting that the water district be created.

The council took this action after the engineers recommended the area as the smallest outside the regular city limits that can be taken into the district without making expensive surveys.

The proposed district will include a limited area outside the city limits that has a possibility of reaping benefits from a water district. Proposed boundary lines follow as closely to the city limits as possible and yet follow established lines, the engineer pointed out.

Engineering firm Joe J. Rady

& Co. made the recommendation after their representative, Bob King, and fiscal agent, Henry Keller, spent most of Monday checking records at the courthouse regarding established survey lines.

WATER RIGHTS
 The council also instructed Engineer Joe J. Rady to make application to the State Board of Water Engineers to secure water rights for the City of Goldthwaite to Colorado River water.

TRUCK PURCHASED
 Bids for a two ton truck were opened and the low bid from Edgington Motor Company was accepted and the council voted to purchase the Ford truck.

Edgington's bid was $2,498.35. Other bids were Duren Equipment Company, International, $2,562.51, and Saylor Chevrolet Company, Chevrolet, $2,624.88.

The new truck will be equipped with a new all steel 10 foot dump bed with a four to five yard capacity at a cost of $925. Total cost of new dump truck when equipped is $3,423.35.

Lone Star Gas Company Requests Rate Increase

Lone Star Gas Company last Wednesday night made application to the city council for approval of proposed rate increase for residential and commercial users of natural gas in Goldthwaite.

The application with proposed ordinance for approving the rate increase were presented to the council by district manager A. Raesener, San Saba, and L. J. Ward, Goldthwaite manager for Lone Star.

In making application the company pointed out action by the Railroad Commission of Texas in issuing an order revising the city gate charge to be paid to the Transmission Division of Lone Star Gas Company by the Distribution Division for the gas the Distribution Division sells Texas Cities and towns for use by residential and commercial customers.

The application stated that for the average residential customer on the system the proposed local increase will amount to slightly more than one cent per day.

After some discussion the matter was tabled by the council.

OTHER BUSINESS
 Election returns were certified by members of the city council and newly elected officials took office. Mayor Y. B. Johnson and alderman V. A. Hudson were re-elected and Ray Duren and Howard B. Campbell are newly elected aldermen.

Retiring aldermen are Joe S. Langford and I. W. Mauney. Treasurer's quarterly report was presented to the council along with monthly operating statement by W. C. Barnett, city treasurer.

Barnett also reported to the council on improvements at the park. He also reported on street repair work that is being done and plans for the street paving this summer.

Howard Campbell was elected mayor pro-tem and Glynn Collier was named city secretary and W. C. Barnett, city treasurer.

Mayor Johnson told aldermen that council and other city committees for the new year would be announced at the next meeting.

WATER DISTRICT
 After discussing the matter the council voted to instruct the mayor to proceed with plans for creating a water district for Goldthwaite.

Creating a water district is the first step necessary in any long-range program that the city might undertake in the future.

Progress Report Made On Census

A preliminary check of the 1960 Census has revealed a high degree of diligence, long hours, hard work and effectiveness on the part of the 17 crew members and 286 Enumerators assigned in this 21st Congressional District. Results to date have been most gratifying.

The response from citizens, in main, has been most cordial and co-operative. In only a few instances have the enumerators encountered reluctance to answer the questions asked. The co-operation of the press, radio and TV stations has contributed mightily toward alerting the public and sharing general knowledge of the purposes of this Census.

The San Angelo District office sends its appreciation to all who have aided in this undertaking, according to W. G. Stacy, District Supervisor.

Commenting on progress Stacy said: "Because of the coverage that must be made by a limited number of Enumerators, some folks may not yet have been counted. Please help us, hold on to your Census Reports (as well as your patience) and we will soon get to you."

'60 Marketing Year Wool Incentive; Mohair Support Prices Announced

A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound and a mohair support price of 70 cents per pound were announced last October 15 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the 1960 marketing year which began April 1, 1960.

The 1960 prices are the same as for the first five years of the program running from 1955 through the 1959 marketing year.

The shorn wool incentive price is established under provisions of the National Wool Act of 1954 which directs the Secretary of Agriculture to take into consideration prices paid and other cost conditions affecting sheep production in determining a support price that will encourage an annual production of 300 million pounds of shorn wool. The law also limits the amounts available for making payments to 70 per cent of the duties collected on imports of wool and wool manufacturers since Jan. 1, 1953.

Yearly production of shorn wool is moving toward the 300-million pound goal set by the law. Estimated 1959 production is 252 million pounds, the highest since 1946, and compares to 234 million pounds in 1955, the first year of the wool payment program. Stock sheep numbers increased 3 per cent during 1957 and 4 per cent during 1958, and on Jan. 1, 1959, were the largest since 1948.

Payments to producers for the 1960 marketing year will follow the same methods employed for the current 1959 year. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool up to the incentive price of 62 cents per pound.

Lamb payments will be made to each producer who sells lambs that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

Payments for the 1960 marketing year will be made on wool and lambs marketed during the April 1, 1960-March 31, 1961 period. Payments will be made in the summer of 1961 following the end of the marketing year.

The National Wool Act which authorizes an incentive payment program for shorn wool also provides for a mohair support level as much as 15 per cent above or below the comparable per cent-of-parity at which shorn wool is supported. The 70-cent mohair support price is near the minimum of this range. No mohair payments have been made during the first four years of the program because the averages of prices received by producers were above the support price.

LABOR SAVER—Looks like Fred Reynolds, watchmaker-rancher, has it all figured out. But then, somebody has to get those labor saving devices figured out.

The other day E. D. 'Dumble' Hamilton at the teller's window at the bank asked me whether I had seen the new lawnmower that Fred developed and was using at home.

The first impression was the possibility that he may just have an 'Opal' powered mower working on his lawn. You know that is his wife's name.

Dumble said, "No, it's not that, you just must see this new mower system."

I checked and found out Fred really does have the lawn mowing problem well in hand.

He has a portable pen made of steel landing mats on small wheels. In the pen he keeps a few head of sheep, ewes or lambs, either one will do, and they do the mowing. When they get the tall grass in one square mowed down he just moves the pen and they go after more green grass in new location. And they are always looking for greener pastures too.

And says Fred: "It does a pretty good job."

GOOD VOTER TURNOUT—City voters turned out in good numbers last week when they elected a mayor and three aldermen.

Only four candidates were on the ticket for the three places to be filled on the Council. The mayor was unopposed.

The fact that 184 voters took enough interest to go to the polls to vote is a good indication that people are interested in their city government. Especially when there are no apparent issues at stake.

Mayor Y. B. Johnson, Jr., and some members of the council commented at the meeting last Wednesday night that citizens who took time out to go vote are to be commended for doing so. It shows city officials that they are interested in their city government.

ARE WE MISSING OUT—Report has come to the editor regarding a conversation that took place in front of the drug store a few days ago.

Minister Charles J. Hill, Jr., happened along about the time this took place and he thought it worthwhile to pass along.

Three who might be called "old timers," or senior citizens as many prefer to call them today, were having a little session about our town.

They were talking about some of the things we have or don't have in Goldthwaite.

One of them blurted out with: "We haven't got anything here, don't even have a TAXI."

Come to think of it, this party might just be hitting the nail on the head. Maybe the town is missing out on something by not having taxi service.

Someone said since then, "We need a taxi service, especially for elderly people."

There is a thought for a sideline for someone.

LBJ STRATEGY—In a recent issue of NATIONAL REVIEW there appeared this comment on our Senior Senator of Texas, Lyndon B. Johnson. And we quote:

"How does Lyndon Johnson feel about the repeal of the loyalty oath? On the assumption that it is very difficult to find out how Mr. Johnson really feels about anything, a reader sought to trap him by writing him two letters (under different names), one urging him to hang on to the loyalty pledge, one urging him to repeal it.

"But old Lyndon calmly outfoxed him—all in the day's work. To the letter urging him not to repeal, he wrote: 'As you may know, this question was before the Senate during the last session of Congress, and at that time I voted against removing this requirement as a condition to obtaining a student loan under the act.' Most cordially, etc. etc.

"And to the letter urging repeal, he wrote, 'I do not see that the disclaimer affidavit adds anything to the strength of the oath of allegiance required by the act. In fact, a bill I introduced to provide loan assistance for college students through a Government insurance program does not include the provisions which you find objectionable.' Most cordially, etc. etc."

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMITTEE IS IRKED OVER BUDGET CUTS | FEAR SOVIET WILL BEAT TO NUCLEAR POWERED

By HENRY CATHCART

Central Press Association Washington Writer

WASHINGTON—The joint congressional committee on energy is about to explode in indignation over the administration's foot-dragging on development of a nuclear-powered rocket.

For some years the committee has been unhappy about Atomic Energy commission's refusal to speed up its work on nuclear-powered airplane, but has grown with official explanations that development could not be speeded without possible loss of the entire project.

However, the nuclear rocket is a different color. This vehicle is America's last remaining hope to recapture the lead now held by Russia. Yet, committee members charge, certain budget cuts slow down development for two and a half years more, setting the blast-off back to 1967-69.

Committee members want the program speeded up rather than slowed down, also want the AEC to step up its work on nuclear-powered plane.

Behind their growing impatience is the conviction that the program is working as rapidly as possible toward these goals, and present schedules, most likely will win this race also.

Some members frankly express fears of public reaction. Russia should score first in these efforts on top of her successes in the missile and space business.

On paper, a nuclear rocket is not only possible, but much more promise than the conventional liquid or solid vehicles. A space expert, in recent testimony before the committee, emphasized, "Nuclear power will be to space what combustion engine was to aeronautics."

● CLEVER WORKER—Representative Joel T. Broyhill, Republican from Virginia, quite a rarity. He represents a study on St. Virginia district right across the Potomac river from Washington, and his chief interest is serving his voters who live there.

Broyhill, after working diligently for years, recently announced a ground-breaking ceremony for a new bridge across the river named after a famous Virginian, George Mason.

One of the speakers at the ceremony commented that Broyhill was an adept politician. "He gets the bridge named for a Virginian and gets the people of Washington to pay for it."

Broyhill responded, "If there is any person here who thinks I have any personal or political interest in this bridge, they're absolutely right."

● ATOMIC FALLOUT SHELTERS—The Office of Civil Defense Administration has been aware for years of the fact that some local building codes prohibit the construction of fallout shelters, although OCD wants every home to have one. However, they never thought they'd run into such a trouble right in their own back yard, in Washington, D. C.

A Washington architect wanted to build a shelter in his back yard, and went to city authorities for the necessary building permit. Zoning officials turned him down, however, because only so much of his lot could be occupied by "dwellings."

Then he went to OCD and tried to get a permit to build a shelter in his own basement, but this, too, was refused because his design did not meet the agency's specifications.

It all had a happy ending, however. After about three months of wrangling, the architect got city permission to build a structure in his yard and the city classified it as a non-dwelling room.

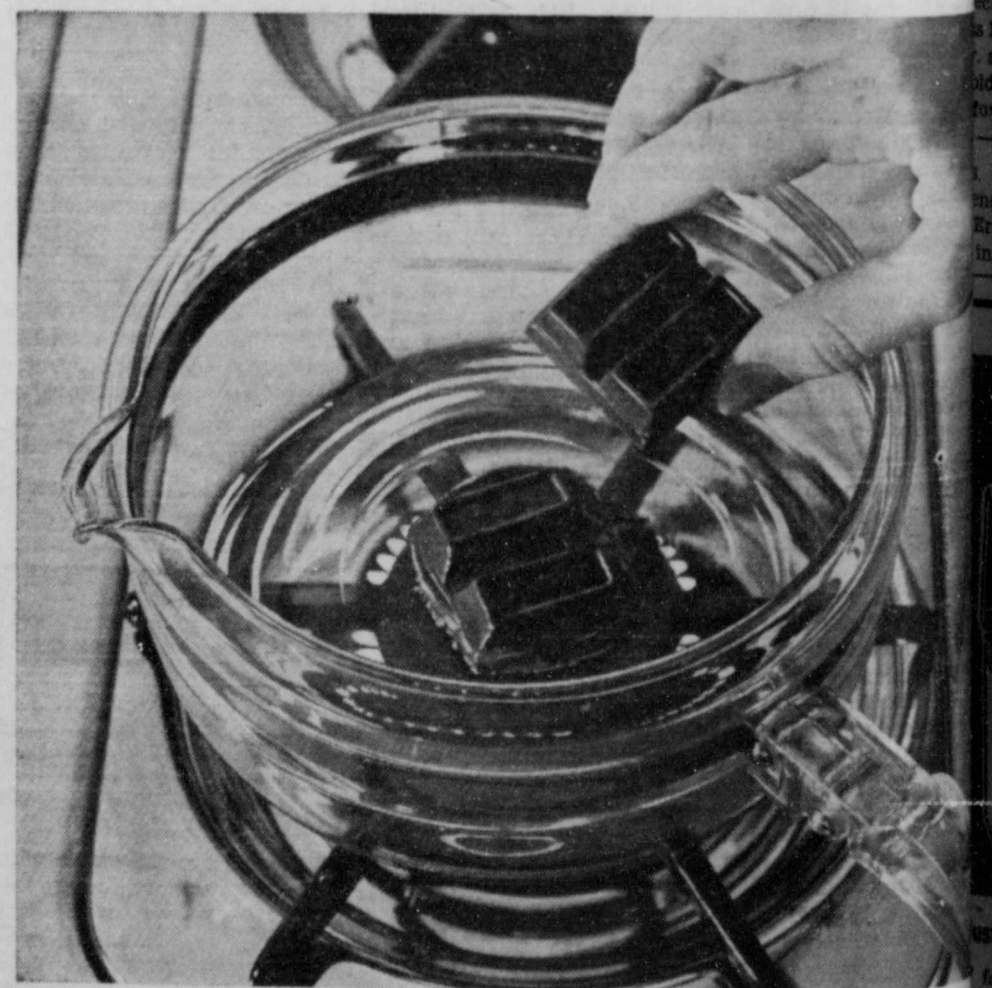

However, the architect is still shaking his head about the general bureaucracy which urges all citizens to build shelters for themselves and then places stumbling blocks in their way. He wonders how many home owners would have the persistence he had.

SATELLITE 'EYED' BY CONGRESS—A duplicate of the Tiros weather satellite is moved into the House Office Building in Washington for an illustrated briefing of the House Space Committee. The television weather "eye," a twin of the payload now sending pictures of cloud and storm patterns from its orbit in space, will be launched later this year. TIME TO SPRUCE UP YOUR OUTDOOR FURNITURE

With warm weather already starting, this is a good time to get outdoor furniture in condition for summer use.

Here are some timely suggestions. If you have aluminum outdoor furniture that has started to rust, rub with 2/0 steel wool and oil the hinges carefully; then rub on a coat of an exterior clear penetrating tung oil sealer.

Freshen iron furniture by removing soil with warm soapy water, a brush and cloth. Rinse with warm water and dry. Remove rust with 2/0 steel wool and apply a metal paint or an exterior sealer.

To repair loose bindings on rattan furniture, soak them in warm water, rewind carefully and tack. Coat with clear varnish or a clear penetrating tung oil sealer.

Redwood furniture can also be finished with a tung oil sealer. The kind designed for outdoor furniture will dry in the presence of moisture.

Replacement of sail cloth and canvass covers for director chairs and butterfly chairs can be found ready-made, or you can make them yourself if you are fairly skilled at sewing jobs. Plastic backed vinyls, webbings and easily washable fabrics are available by the yard for use on different kinds of outdoor furniture.

PLAN GOOD MEALS EVERY DAY

Your daily meals should supply you with many different nutrients. You need protein for growth and for repair of the body; minerals and vitamins for growth and to keep the body functioning properly; and fat and carbohydrates for energy.

Most foods contain more than one nutrient. But no single food contains all the nutrients in the amounts you need. To get all the nutrients you need, select some items for every meal from each of these major food groups—fruits and vegetables; milk and milk products; meats; poultry and eggs; and bread and cereals.

To combine these foods into tasty, attractive meals is easy to do, but it does take planning. Suggestions for doing this job are given in "Good Meals Every Day," a colorful bulletin written by foods and nutrition specialists.

Ask for a copy at my office or write a card and ask for it. (Telephone MI 8-2650).

GIRL SCOUT SHOUT

By MRS. HOUSTON DUREN

A Song and Games Workshop, sponsored by the Heart of Texas Girl Scout Council, for all leaders and assistant leaders in Girl Scouting, was held at the First Christian Church in Lampasas, Wednesday, April 6.

The workshop was given in order to strengthen programs in Day Camps this year. All children need to participate in the growth-giving activities that bring satisfaction to all ages—to singing and playing games. In doing things as a group, children learn team-play, group activity and comradeship. Day Camp provides an excellent setting for these activities. Plenty of sunlight, fresh air, and open spaces are conducive in carrying out these recreational activities.

Leaders attending from Goldthwaite were: Mrs. Connie Pope, Mrs. Eric Looney, and Mrs. Annie Armstrong.

The District II meeting for the Heart of Texas Council will be held in Brownwood, Thursday, April 21, at the Council Office. The meeting will begin at 9:30 with the district chairman, Mrs. J. P. McCracken of Cisco, in charge.

It is very important that our community be represented at this meeting.

Anyone of the Community Girl Scout Committee who plan to attend may contact the local Community Chairman, Mrs. Larry Dalton, and transportation will be provided, if needed.

TROOP MEETING REPORTS BROWNIES

Troop 7 (2)—We wish to correct an error made in this report last week: Mrs. Arnold Kelly, Troop Committee Chairman, met with the Brownies, rather than Mrs. Doug Collier. However, Mrs. Collier did meet with the girls this last Tuesday, and they all rode down to the park to look for a site for their Unit Home during Day Camp this spring. While there, they enjoyed the park's playground equipment, and came back by the Dairy Cup for "Nibbles."

Troop 4 (3)—Pauline Sutherland reported a most interesting meeting last Thursday, decorating Easter Eggs and making decorated Easter wagons which were to be taken home.

Troop 9 (4)—This troop completed plans last Wednesday for their Easter Party, and also planned a slumber party which will take place very soon.

INTERMEDIATES

Troop 3 (5 & 6)—Last Thursday these Girl Scouts, who are still busy with badge work, planned a hike and cook-out which will help them carry out their requirements for their badges.

Troop 5 (7 & 8)—This troop planned a hike which will help them have a good time as they work off badge requirements. They also discussed new badges to begin soon, during their meeting last Tuesday.

SENIORS

Ship 8 (10)—The Mariners traced courses for vessels in and out of the harbours along the Gulf Coast, last Monday night. They showed channel buoys and markers. They also discussed Coast Guard regulations regarding boat registration, pilot rules of the road, and safety equipment. These are requirements 4 and 5 of the Jack Tar rating.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas—Texas leads all other states in the building of new interstate highways since the beginning of the program four years ago.

Today, 562 miles have been completed in Texas, says State Highway Engineer DeWitt C. Greer, and 355 more miles are under construction. Cost so far: $480,000,000.

Target for the State is to have 1,000 miles in this main, heavy-duty trunk system.

These roads, Greer points out, have built-in safety features and are three times as safe as ordinary highways.

Features that enable these roads to cut the traffic toll by one death a year for each 10 miles of length are:

1. Dividing of traffic to eliminate head-on collisions.
2. Grade separations to cut out intersection accidents.
3. Wide lanes with surfaced shoulders to provide ample room for passing.
4. Controlled access entrances and exits to ease cars on and off the highway.

But the roads are only a fraction of the program in the state. Six more miles of public roads than any other in the country.

In the less elaborate divided highway not in the interstate system, Greer says the state now has 1,029 miles of divided highways with a goal of at least 2,000 miles by 1975.

Most Texas mileage is in the two-lane market system, now up to 38,150 miles.

New Industry Seeking—Reorganized Texas Industrial Commission is setting out toward some long goals with a short list:

Commission, with a staff of one man plus a secretary, is after a Texas-sized share of new industries for the state. Its appropriation for the year is only $23,750.

Other agencies of government have assisted, however, with research. Questionnaires already have been sent to Texas cities to build up a permanent file of data on potential sites.

No Wide Open Spaces — As Texas prairie gives way to subdivisions, more and more Texans are getting in each other's way.

Problems growing out of the population explosion and rapid urbanization of Texas were the subject of a two-day Austin conference for newspapermen, civic leaders and planners.

Texas newspapers were commended by Steve Matthews, executive director of the Texas Municipal League, for their efforts in keeping the reading public informed on complex and changing city problems.

Conferees pondered how to plan orderly, pleasant communities for the two million additional residents expected to be added to Texas cities in the next ten years. Also, how to correct the all-too-prevalent bane of "acres of hot asphalt and cold stone," congested streets and the "grotesque suburban sprawl."

One Word Makes Difference—Because of a slip of the tongue or typewriter in Potter County, Court of Criminal Appeals dismissed appeals in three cases mistakenly addressed to the Court of Civil Appeals.

A court order from the district court in Amarillo said the defendants had given notice of appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals, Austin.

Since the cases were criminal cases—driving while intoxicated, contributing to the delinquency of a minor—the civil court could not handle them.

And since they were appealed to the civil court, the criminal court could not handle them.

Trinity Permit Granted—After the longest and probably most patience-straining hearing in State Water Board history, Trinity River Authority and the City of Houston were granted permission to build a $40,000,000 dam at Livingston.

Also authorized was a $5,000,000 salt water barrier at nearby Wallisville.

Conclusion of the matter was a near-miracle of compromise and appeasement. Initially Houston alone had sought the permit with stiff opposition from the Trinity people. They got together and agreed on a joint project with a 70-30 split on costs and water use, with Houston taking the larger portion.

But when the hearing came before the Water Board, the San Jacinto River Authority, North Texas Municipal Water District and affected landowners protested.

SJRA dropped its opposition when Houston agreed to use Trinity water for industry only and to step up buying of San Jacinto water for domestic use. Water Board order provided that the rights of upstream users in North Texas should not be cut into by the new dam.

Nothing near Chevy's size and price can match the Full Coil cushioning of its ride, or the fine, finished workmanship of its Body by Fisher. That even applies to some cars that cost a lot more. You're up in the higher price brackets before you find a car that moves as quietly as a Chevrolet or offers the inner space that Chevrolet does.

Or look at the extras Chevy gives you—at no extra cost—that others in its class can't offer at any price. Shock-cushioned steering, Safety Plate Glass in every window. Keyless locking of all doors. MISSISSIPPI RIVER ON A RAMPAGE—Farmers and National Guardsmen work desperately on a sagging levee in Meyer, Ill., but the flood-swollen Mississippi River was not to be held back. A few hours later, a ten-foot-high wall of water rolled over 80,000 acres of rich farmland. Thousands of residents had fled to higher ground before the river poured into their homes and barns. The breakthrough ended 24 hours of piling sandbags by the emergency workers on the crumbling levee.

Ruling Effects Reporting Of Price-Support Income

A "certificate of interest" received by a farmer under the Federal price-support program is not income until it has been taken to a bank and exchanged for the loan proceeds, according to a recent new ruling by the Internal Revenue Service.

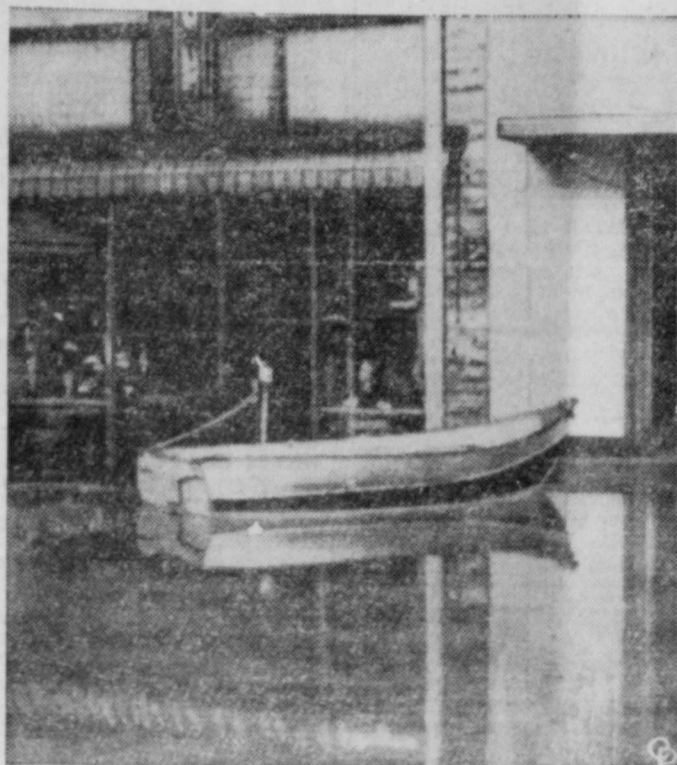

There has been some confusion in the past in certain cases where producers have presented such certificates to the bank to complete their loan, in the year following the year in which the certificates were received from the County Office.

A ruling was therefore requested from the Internal Revenue Service as to the year in which such certificates should be considered and reported as "income" for the year in which they were received, or for the year in which they were presented to the bank or other financial institution.

The new ruling by the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service states that "After due consideration of the facts now presented, we now hold that a producer who receives a certificate of interest in one year and consummates the loan in the ensuing year upon its surrender in return for the loan proceeds, should include the loan as gross income in the latter year if he has made the required election under section 77 of the Code."

Section 77 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 authorizes as producer, if he elects to do so, to consider amounts received as loans from CCC as income in the taxable year in which such amounts are received. Under the new ruling a producer who received a certificate of interest in 1959, but presents it in 1960 to a bank for the cash disbursement will be considered as having received the loan in 1960.

PLENTY OF PARKING SPACE—A storekeeper rowed into downtown Hannibal, Mo., to inspect water damage to his shop. His boat, tied to a parking meter, adds a curious touch to the disaster-gripped scene. Water continued to seep into the city through saturated levees as the Mississippi River reached a level of 23.4 feet in the Midwest's worst flood in years.

TODAY'S Menu
Keep Emergency Shelf Full Of Canned Foods
By ALICE DENHOFF
A WELL-stocked emergency shelf of canned foods is wonderful insurance for kitchen crises, whether the cook is suddenly called upon to prepare for unexpected guests or an impromptu special celebration.
With the basic cooking done, it is up to the ingenuity of the cook to improvise and individualize the canned foods, adding herbs, beverage flavorings and sauces for a gourmet accent.
For Lunch Or Supper
For an easy and hot luncheon or supper dish, serve 4 to 6, cook 1 lb. of sage meat until lightly browned. Drain off most of fat and add 2 c. canned kidney beans, pork and beans in tomato sauce. Cover and simmer a few minutes.
Season to taste.
Serve piping hot with crackers or hard rolls and tossed green salad.
Canned Puddings
As for desserts, rich, creamy canned puddings are a boon for winter meals, whether hurried or planned. The pudding is only to be heated and served with your favorite sauce.
To give a pudding a bit of tang, a lemon or orange with bits of the grate is added, is a nice idea. Or whipped cream sprinkled with bits of candied fruits for especially festive toppings.
Fruit-Nut Breads
Canned fruit-nut breads are to the same toppings as steamed puddings, only a sweeter.
For a quite impressive pudding combine whipped cream with fruit cocktail; pile on hot warm fruit-nut bread and drizzle with honey.

Questions And Answers About Social Security

Question: I quit work in July 1959 after working 6 years. I will be age 57 in July 1960. Can I freeze my earnings so I can draw my own benefits at age 62, or will I have to draw wife's benefits based on my husband's work?

Answer: Women born in the first half of 1903 must have at least 28 quarters of credit to be eligible to social security benefits at age 62. If born in the last half of 1903, 29 quarters of credit are necessary. Six years of work would give you only about 24 quarters. You cannot freeze your earnings unless you qualify for a disability freeze. If you later earn 5 more quarters, you would be guaranteed the higher between an old-age insurance benefit and a wife's benefit.

Question: Before losing both of my legs in 1958, I drove a truck for a cement manufacturing plant. Now I have recovered to the extent that my former employer has offered me a job as bookkeeper. I understand that if I accept this offer, the social security checks for myself and wife and two children will stop, and I am not sure I will be able to hold the bookkeeping job. Should I refuse

TURN AT THE WHEEL ENDS IN HOSPITAL—Stock car driver Don Bitner brushes death at the wheel of this racer as it turns over (top), rights itself, and then flips (bottom) end-over-end. The accident occurred during a 100-mile contest in Atlanta, Ga. Bitner was trapped in the car for 10 minutes before rescuers could free him. The hospital reports the driver as being in fair condition.

Tourist Industry Report Shows Drop In Tourist Expenditures

Austin, (Spec.) — The 1959 Texas Tourist Industry Report released by the State Highway Department shows a 100-million-dollar drop in tourist expenditures with Texas in the past two years.

In 1959, Highway Department surveys indicate 9.6 million visitors spent $431 million in Texas as compared to 1947 estimates of 10.3 million visitors and $531 million spent.

Herbert C. Petry, Jr., Chairman of the Texas Highway Commission and Member of the Texas Development Board, expressed the hope that the new state advertising program would soon get underway in full force. He indicated that this program would be most effective in expanding the tourist crop and thereby preventing a further drop in tourist expenditures.

the job and continue drawing disability benefits?

Answer: No. The social security law requires that if a disabled person is able to return to work, he must report this fact. But the law also provides for a three-month trial period. If you accept the job, your social security checks will continue for a period of up to 3 months. If, at the end of the 3-month period, you are able to handle the job, your disability checks will stop. If, by that time, you find that you are not able to do the work, your checks will continue to be sent to you. You should report to the social security office at the time you take a job. At the end of the 3-month period, you will be requested to make a progress report.

Petry explained that competition from other states for the tourist dollar was strenuous, and that the Texas tourist industry was feeling the ill effects of more vigorous programs in other vacation states.

"Texas has been given the go-ahead to advertise both tourist and industrial attractions, and as soon as funds are provided we are ready to carry on a campaign for these out-of-state dollars. We are like a man with a few million acres of a fine product, but have not yet been able to get it marketed," Petry stated.

The Texas Tourist Report defined tourist dollars as new money earned elsewhere and brought into the community where it is then spent and respend into the local business cycle. Largest part of the tourist dollar is spent for food, lodging, and car upkeep. The average visitor in 1959 spent $8.19 per day, and stayed 5.5 days in Texas.

Tourists themselves provide the records from which the Highway Department obtains the statistics in the annual Tourist Report. Survey cards, to be completed and mailed back after the visit in Texas, are given tourists stopping at the Highway Department's seven Travel Information Bureaus located on major highways entering the state.

Years ahead in style... that's why Ford is far ahead in sales!

The "bug" bites thousands of people every week. They've been driving high-priced cars year after year. But suddenly they sprout out in 1960 Ford Galaxies, pleased and proud as punch. They're switching to Galaxy because they want that years-ahead Thunderbird look, with a glamour and grace that won't ever wear thin. They're going for Galaxy because Galaxy gives them—in look and in deed—an elegance denied to all but costlier cars. And Galaxy gives them all this for far less than what they've paid in the past... plus a high resale value! And these selfsame values are crafted into every car we sell—from Thunderbird to new Ford Falcon! Come let us prove it!

Conservation Reserve Has Little Effect On Vacating Farm Homes

Even though more than two-thirds of the land in the Conservation Reserve is in the form of whole farms, the program is having little effect to date on where farm people make their homes and on how much shopping they do in their local communities.

Those are some of the preliminary findings by the Agricultural Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture based on interviews with Conservation Reserve participants in five different areas.

Farm population has been declining and size of farms increasing in most rural areas for many years, and there is no indication of any speed-up in these trends as a result of the conservation reserve, according to the report.

The primary purpose of the Conservation Reserve is to check surplus production by retirement of cropland. Farmers who place all their eligible cropland in the Reserve are not required to remain on the farm but may do so and make use of the buildings, home garden area, and permanent pasture.

This study shows that some Conservation Reserve participants who would have sold their farms and moved away are retiring and continuing to live on the farm. Some who have shifted to non-farm work and are continuing to live on their farms said they would have moved to towns or cities if it had not been for the opportunity to obtain a reasonable return from their investments in farm property by participating in the Conservation Reserve.

National FHA Week Observed April 3-9

By CONNIE POPE

The Goldthwaite FHA chapter observed National FHA Week April 3rd through April 9th.

Sunday the FHA'ers started the week by attending the local Church of Christ for morning worship services.

The following day, Monday, was "Smile Day." Each FHA girl wore a smile and made people happy all day.

Tuesday was Color Day. The FHA'ers carried out the FIA colors, red and white, in the clothing they wore.

Wednesday the girls and their families planned a family night together. Each family tried to do something special for the day.

"Peanut Day" was Thursday. Each FHA girl had a "peanut," a secret pal, and she was extra nice to her "peanut" all day.

Friday the World Clothing Drive was concentrated on entirely. The girls all brought clothes for the drive.

The final day, Saturday, was spent visiting older people and friends.
