

The Way It Was
Mills County

The Roaring Twenties

Hartal Blackwell

America in the '20s is remembered as a land of prosperity. Although the first two years saw a sharp recession, conditions quickly reversed and almost every part of the economy showed improvement except agriculture.

The marvelous growth and boom in the '20s stemmed in large part from Henry Ford's idea of inventing the Model T automobile, often called the wonderful "Tin Lizzie", first manufactured in 1908 - the last in 1927.

"I think people are going to buy a passel of these gasoline buggies", quoted Frank Phillips; he promptly went about founding Phillips Petroleum Company to produce the gasoline to make them go. But he and others were really astounded at the rate the car business grew.

Between 1920 and 1929, the number of registered cars in the U.S. jumped from 1 million to 23 million.

As the revolution of wheels swept over Mills County and the nation, a new way of life came to the people.

The "Tin Lizzie", and other cars that followed, brought forth a great change in the lives of all - town and country were drawn together by the network of roads built to accommodate the new cars - then town and city were eventually drawn even closer.

Within one generation the plague of mudholes was replaced with speeding traffic for the American motorist. Growth fed on growth. A farm woman was once asked why she did not have a bathtub when the family was able to afford a car. She replied, "Well, you can't drive a bathtub to town."

Will Rogers, the famous American humorist, saluted the Model T "flivver" one day and said, "So good luck, Mr. Ford. It will be one hundred years before we know if you have helped or hurt us, but you certainly didn't leave us like you found us."

Soon the rival car, the Chevrolet, was selling strong and in time outsold the Ford.

Kelly Saylor owned and operated the Chevrolet Agency in Mills County for many years. Another popular car was the Overland, sold by Jim Brim; there were also Pierce - Arrows, Buicks, Chryslers and many others.

The bone rattling Model T touring cars sold for $850 in 1908, and for $290 in 1924 after they were produced on the assembly line. It was the first car within the reach of the average wage earner's pocketbook.

Highway building boomed with the tremendous increase of cars. In 1909 the United States had only 725 miles of paved roads - in 1930 there were more than 100,000 miles paved.

As the new highways were built, gasoline was imperative; a search for oil began. Gasoline stations were introduced to the public and built beside the roads. The State of Texas formed a Highway Department to replace the volunteer policy to maintain public roads.

Oil towns over Texas were a lure to Mills County citizens. As every phase of the economy boomed except agriculture, local farmers, ranchers and businessmen found no boom here, so they left their homes hoping for more money in the oil fields. Many commuted to oil towns, such as Mexia, Luling, Liberty, Ranger and others - leaving the family at home while they worked during the week and returned on weekends.

However, many left never to return to their home county, and spent the remainder of their working lives in the oil fields.

It was almost a mass exodus from Mills County as people left in search of a better way of life. They lived in oil field shacks and helped pump the "liquid gold" from the ground for the growing oil companies.

Eventually, billboards began to dot the roadsides to tell travelers, re-discovering America in their shiny new cars, about hot dog stands, diners, tourist cabins and newly opened filling stations.

In the decade that followed the first World War, the automobile became an institution. Overjoyed with their new mobility, people took to the road.

They saw the mountains, the oceans, the big cities and their far away relatives; they honked at each other, helped fix flats and grew accustomed to the nearness of the Colorado River for fishing and picnics, to adjoining county fairs, and found colleges not too far away for their young to attend.

The new automobiles freed millions of Americans from Sunday afternoons on the front porch - the porch rocking chair was replaced by a seat in the Model T - the scene of courtship was shifted from the parlour to the picture show.

The Nation was beginning to enter an age of frivolous boom.

Correction

The article on the meeting of the Goldthwaite City Council in the July 21st issue of the Goldthwaite Eagle was in error concerning the report of the Water District Board of Trustees contained therein.

The Water District Board did not deny an election in an official manner. Only legal procedures are postponing an election. When methods and procedures of holding a water district election are worked out, an election will be held.

The Water Board voted unanimously last Friday to seek Attorney General opinion on the procedure and time of holding a water district election. Members of the board pointed out that the district has held two elections of board members, one at its inception and another in 1969.

Members of the Water District Board expressed a desire to work toward one interest in the city. Members receive no pay for their services, and the only responsibility of the board is to pay off bonded indebtedness and to set the tax rate for the district each year.

The members of the board are O. O. Smith, Hollis Blackwell, W. G. Saylor, Victor Williams and Jack Reid.

FAITH REMINDS GOOD CITIZENS TO OBEY THE LAW

Since religion teaches us to respect the rights and property of others, the good citizens of our free society will gladly obey the laws of the land, which were established to ensure the observance of those very tenets. We are well aware that these laws are working to protect our freedom, not to curtail it; and if it should ever become necessary to change or abolish a law, we can avail ourselves of the legal procedure that has been provided for the purpose. However, this is a rare occurrence, because most of our laws are in accordance with the basic rules of human conduct, as set forth in the Bible and taught by every Church denomination. By attending your own, you will learn the background for the fine system of laws to which you owe your freedom.

"Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake."
—1 Peter 2:13

The law is the last result of human wisdom acting upon human experience for the benefit of the public.
—Samuel Johnson

"Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless His holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits." Ps. 103:1-2

Is it a delight to you, as it is to me, to turn to the great thoughts and words of prayer when sitting down to eat? The quoted first two sentences of Psalm 103 have been a favorite all-together prayer before eating for my family through the years.

My wife and I found joy before we were married with the discovery that the prayer that her grandparents had taught her as a child was worded exactly as the prayer that my parents had taught me in childhood, "O Lord, bless this food to our use, and us in thy service. Amen."

So the words themselves, whether they be from familiar scriptures, or from well-known table prayers, or worded by immediate and free association, fill the heart with a surge of wholesome pleasure before the refreshments of a meal.

And far beyond the literal meanings of the words spoken or thought of for a table prayer, are the enjoyments through memories of occasions, places and people in the happy fellowship of eating together. Indeed, prayer before a meal has become a time when all good things come together to assure my spirit. "Be not dismayed whate'er betide, God will take care of you."

Through a simple table prayer I come to feel at peace with my Creator -- and that is the deepest joy I know. In happy reverence before I start to eat, I know that God is great and God is good, that he will take care of those for whom I pray, and that he will care in the whole mystery of his will and creation.

"Be present at our table, Lord." As we bow over food prepared, let us "hold fast to that which is good," prove in our hearts all the grace of God; being ready to eat with joy and with giving thanks -- for this is the will of God in Jesus Christ concerning us. (Closing was associated from I Thess. 5:16-21)

CTMC '77 Summer Youth Program Over

The 1977 Summer Youth Program, funded through the Department of Labor and Central Texas Manpower Consortium, drew to a close Friday, July 22. Twenty-three youth, ages 14 to 17, participated in this year's program.

A new and innovative approach was introduced to this year's program, with youth participating in pre-vocational skill classes, basic educational skills classes and on-the-job training.

Students were taught such basics as grooming, career options, how to prepare for job interviews, balancing a checkbook, and how to set up a budget. Along with job market preparation, students were reinforced in some of their weaker subjects, such as reading, writing and math.

Highlighting the 8-week long program were field trips to Fort Hood, the Supreme Court Building in Austin, the Coca-Cola Bottling plant in Austin and LBJ Library. Several local field trips were also participated in.

Many of these students will continue with the Manpower program, through on-the-job training in private businesses and the In-School Program, which will begin in September.

Appreciation is extended to all those who worked with the Summer Youth Program and who helped provide our youth with something more lasting than money.

Natural gas does far more than heat your home!

GAS FIRES THE BRICK THAT OUR CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY WILL NEED TO BUILD A STRONGER ECONOMY.

As the building industry goes, so goes much of our economy. And the benefits of construction starts are all the greater when locally manufactured materials are used. Because more of the money stays at home to create more jobs.

Brick manufacturers in the Lone Star service area employ more than 10,000 people in making, distributing and selling brick. Many of these jobs depend directly on natural gas as the most efficient and economical source of heat for firing the brick.

Temperatures in the kilns run as high as 2,600 degrees F. the year around, and this takes a lot of gas. Brick plants served by Lone Star require more than 1.6 billion cubic feet annually. Now, with so many jobs at stake in this one industry alone, future gas supplies must be considered.

It's time to build job security.

Vast basins of natural gas, yet untapped, are crossed by Lone Star's pipeline system. A fact that puts Lone Star in one of the most favorable buying positions of any gas company. But, with steadily rising prices, the new gas will be expensive.

The risk is that companies in energy-short areas of the nation could wind up with the lion's share of these reserves as they are developed.

Buying enough gas to last this area far into the 21st century adds up to one inescapable fact. Both you and Lone Star will have bigger gas bills, because Lone Star cannot make the purchases without a fair return on the necessary investment.

But we're ready to invest in this area's future. If you are.

Lone Star Gas Company
Working energetically for your area's future.

Star News

I'd like to introduce to the community one at a time the new teachers who will join Star School this fall. The teacher for this week is not really new to many of us as she and her husband are both graduates of Star High School.

Virginia McCasland will teach Kindergarten through Grade Two. She is the wife of Elroy McCasland and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Owens. Virginia has taught for several years in the Grand Prairie school. She is working on her masters degree this summer. The McCaslands have four children, three of which are married and the fourth is teaching in Grand Prairie.

Saturday, July 23, was a big day at the Karry Harper home. They had a birthday celebration for P. O. (Bud) Harper's 91st birthday. They had a buffet lunch and a large birthday cake. All of Mr. Harper's children were there and a number of grandchildren and great grandchildren — which was a total of 64 present. They had a nice warm day of visiting, eating and playing dominoes.

All individuals who are 55 or older are invited to participate in the activities at the Mills County Senior Citizens Center in Goldthwaite as well as the local activities in Star.

The Calendar of activities at the Center in Goldthwaite is as follows:

Priddy Senior Citizens Enjoy Monthly Get-Together

On July 21st, the Senior Citizens of Priddy met for their monthly luncheon (the 3rd Thursday of each month) There was a large attendance to enjoy games of 42, Skip-Bo and dominoes, which were played throughout the day.
At the noon hour, Mrs. Beth Miles, director of the Center, made announcements, then turned the program over to the Pastor of the Lutheran Church, Rev. Don Vlasak, his wife and daughters.
Since this was our only meeting in July, Rev. Vlasak brought a program on the Independence of our country.
The dining tables were arranged in a V formation, and the Reverend commented on the birth and growth of our nation, and what we as citizens owe to this great land. The group, who formed a circle around the tables, sang "America", and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Vlasak. "God Bless our Native Land" was sung as a prayer. Then the group joyfully sang "Happy Birthday, Uncle Sam".

Suddenly, Marie and Janice Vlasak appeared on the scene with hands full of colorful balloons attached to long strings, which were released to make a very colorful ceiling.
Four beautiful, over-sized balloons of blue and red were then brought out and released, with the announcement that they were to go to the 4 oldest Senior Citizens present. These were Mr. George Tiemann, Mr. Stelter, Mr. Vee Dunlap and Mrs. Mary Hohertz.

We would like to express our appreciation to the Vlasaks for this inspiring program. Also our thanks to the Zion Lutheran Church for allowing us to use their beautiful building for our meeting each month.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Johnson and Mrs. Minnie Tischler were first-time visitors—but we certainly hope not last-time ones.

Forty people were in attendance to enjoy a bountiful and delicious meal. Why not plan to join us on the 18th of August for a fun and feast frolic? We welcome you!!
