Santa Claus' Annual Visit To Mills County Saturday

Saturday, December 9th will mark the first official visit of the Jolly Ole St. Nick to Goldthwaite. On the visit here he will check his list to make sure all the Mills County boys and girls have been good, and will take Christmas orders beginning at 2:00 p.m. at the courthouse, following the annual Christmas Parade in downtown Goldthwaite.

The parade will begin at 1:30 p.m. Helping to make the day more festive, the Goldthwaite High School band will be in the parade, playing Christmas music.

Santa will ride the big red firetruck through the streets and around the courthouse square before stopping at the courthouse for his visit. Boys and girls should enter the courthouse on the west side to meet Santa.

All Mills County children are invited to come see Santa and receive free candy treats, courtesy of the Goldthwaite Lions Club, who also sponsors this annual event.

The visit here Saturday is merely a trial run for Santa, who promises to return on Christmas Eve.

Mills County boys and girls, remember — Saturday is the day to give your Christmas orders to Santa.

Senator Clower Formulates Constitutional Amendment Concerning Referendums

Senator Ron Clower (D-Garland) today pre-filed a proposed Constitutional amendment reserving in the people of Texas at all levels of government the rights of initiative, referendum and recall. "This amendment," Clower stated, "would allow the people through a petition signed by a designated percentage of the qualified voters to place a certain measure on the ballot for consideration, to veto measures enacted by the legislature or passed by local governments, and to recall public officials from all levels of state and local government."

Clower, who has both introduced and supported these issues in previous sessions of the Texas Legislature as well as during the Constitutional Convention, commented that, "These provisions are not contained in our present Constitution, and I strongly feel they should be a part of any democratic form of government. This is literally putting the ability to govern into the lap of the people."

"If the majority of voters feel that a public officer is not responsibly fulfilling the duties of his or her office, if they are in disagreement with certain governmental action, or if they feel there is a need for a particular measure, then under these provisions the people will have the legal ability to take definite action. It seems to me that this is a fundamental right of a free and democratic society."

Waco area members of Teacher Retirement System who plan to retire in 1979 may schedule an individual meeting with a TRS retirement counselor at La Quinta Inn, 1110 So. Ninth St., Jan. 11 or 12. Deadline for scheduling an appointment is Dec. 20.

Counselors will have a complete retirement estimate for each member at the meeting and will be able to discuss the retirement options available and application procedures.

The area counseling program, expanded to 22 locations across the state this year, began with nine locations in 1975. It places individual retirement counseling close to every TRS member. Members may also visit TRS offices in Austin for retirement counseling during weekdays throughout the year.

Washington Views and News

By Cong. Bob Poage

Dear Friends,

Probably the greatest enigma of modern political life is the growth of Communism. Communism purports to offer a degree of economic security for which all people strive. Yet no Communist country has been able to give its people a standard of living even approaching the standard of the Free Enterprise countries.

Theoretically, Communism is based on pure Democracy and equality of all people. Practically, only a very small group makes all decisions in the Communist state. Elections offer no choice. The average citizen runs the probability of arrest if he criticizes the ruling group.

Most religions accept the expressed desire of sharing goods as morally desirable. The pure Communist governments demand the common ownership of all goods. (None of them have quite achieved this professed objective.) The Socialists only ask for common, or government, ownership of what they conceive to be essential industries. At the same time, most Communist governments (Poland is an exception) repudiate all religion apparently to escape any feeling of moral responsibility for their acts. They deny the existence of God because the rulers seek to clothe themselves with the attributes of God.

Most Communist countries have established very strict rules of conduct (and I must say in many cases have succeeded in securing a very substantial degree of compliance); but, the ruling class is generally exempt from the rules and government seems to operate on the rule of expediency - not morality. Of course, this is not expressed in their laws or Constitution, but how often have you observed a citizen of a Communist state successfully invoking constitutional guarantees?

The Communists have, in many cases, been able to accumulate capital for investment in public works which could not have been accumulated in Free Enterprise countries. They have done this by using a capitalistic trick of creating artificial persons. In the "Free World" we call these "Corporations" and our government uses them - but not to the degree they are used by the Communists. The state owns the corporations. The corporations are given monopolistic powers. They can have no competition. Their government-owned corporations are able to take all of the income of the people. This has enabled many Communist countries to build great public buildings; and, in the USSR, to build a tremendous war machine. Such transfer of the earnings of the people can only be made at the expense of the living standards of the population.

We are seeing our own government move in this direction. We can only extend government services by taking enough taxes from the wealth which the people have created to pay the bill (or by inflation). Basically, the difference is one of degree, or of speed, with which the public services are developed. In many Communist countries the rate of development has been so fast that the rulers have become afraid to take so much and have allowed a somewhat larger share of the national production to stay with the people. Apparently, this is happening in both the USSR and in the People's Democratic Republic of China. In many of the smaller and poorer nations which are trying Communism, governments are still taking unbearable toll from their people.

While I think it is clear that the Communists have been able, in many places, to eliminate a great deal of corruption and to greatly strengthen government, they have done it at a cost in human dignity and in personal freedom which no one here wants to pay. It is probably true that a benevolent dictatorship is the "best" (or most effective) type of government in most countries, but who wants to pay this price for efficiency? I don't, and I am sure most Americans don't. The real objective should be to reach a balance between complete freedom of action (anarchy) and absolute dictatorship. We want neither extreme but the pressures of modern civilization and increasing population tend to lead us more and more toward greater government control (basically the kind of government we see and dislike in the Communist countries).

I don't think we should try to impose our ideas of government on other people, nor should we allow them to impose their systems on us. I think that if we can remain strong no foreign power is likely to try to impose their system on us, but if we give them reason to feel that they can easily destroy us, they will likely try.

Parents-Teachers, Know Each Other

Parents and teachers, know each other - for children's sakes, Patricia Lamson advises in a release from Texas A & M University.

Work together as a team and share ideas about the child's needs and interests - to make learning more meaningful, she says.

Ms. Lamson is a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A child's interests in specific areas can make learning more meaningful - both at school and at home.

When parents and teachers inform each other of these interests, then both can make those interests work for the child's benefit, she says.

Also, knowing what the child encounters in each place and how he reacts can help both parents and teachers better understand and help the child, Ms. Lamson says.

For example, when parents learn of a school incident or activity that especially interested their child, they can plan other activities, such as trips or talks, to extend the interest.

That, in turn, will extend learning into the child's home life, she adds.

Cold Cures Elusive

Most of us have a cold or two during the course of the winter. Usually we try to keep going to the office, but sometimes we feel too bad to work, and spend a day or two at home.

There are medications now available — antihistamines, pain relievers, cough suppressants, and fever reducers — that can make the symptoms of a cold much less severe. These have their limitations and their problems. Antihistamines can cause drowsiness, which can be highly dangerous when driving an auto. If you get a cold, ask your doctor about the medications that reduce runny nose and sneezing and coughing.

As youngsters heard the old folks say: Treat a cold and cure it in two weeks; let it alone and it will go away in a fortnight. The time element isn't that exact, but the theory is the same.

Facts from a pro on driving to survive.

Q. Does a limited-slip differential have safety value? L.M., Austin

A. A limited-slip differential sends power to both driving wheels, while a normal differential sends power to the wheel with the least traction. The limited-slip differential can keep a car moving in poor traction conditions—like snow, ice or mud—which may prove to have safety value in certain circumstances.

Q. I know it's legal in Texas to make a right turn on a red light after coming to a full stop. But what about left turns on red where one-way streets are involved—are they also legal? H.K., Lufkin

A. Yes. You can make a left turn on red from a one-way street into another one-way street after coming to a full stop and yielding to any approaching vehicles. The exception is where a sign is posted specifically prohibiting such a turn.

Q. Generally speaking, is it safer in an emergency to brake hard or to maneuver abruptly in trying to avoid an accident? L.L., Dilly

A. Situations vary, but usually it's safer to take evasive action rather than slam on the brakes. We all have a tendency to hit the brakes in an emergency. But it's hard to control a car in a panic stop, and vehicles need considerable distance to stop. A quick steering maneuver to avoid a hazard, such as an animal in the roadway, takes less time and involves less chance of losing control. Learning to use evasive action demands practice. It can be practiced mentally, while driving, by imagining an emergency situation and playing out, in your head, what you would do. Actual practice can be gained in safe, off-road areas, like a deserted parking lot.

The Moline Menace

by Bob Altenloh

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS
Quite often when a person applies for a job the company sends out letters seeking personal references. The personnel department heads who do this are really not using their noggins. The employee certainly wouldn't list five enemies! He would give the names of five close friends who would not write anything derogatory about him.

Once I received such a letter from the Union Pacific Railroad. A friend, whom I had known all my life in Chicago, was applying for a job. I had a problem. It was easy to answer questions about how long I had known him, but he was a cagey--let us say not too responsible a character in certain ways. He was harmless, but somewhat of a fly-by-night good time Charlie.

When it came to the part in the reference letter where I was asked to give a statement about his character, I had to do some heavy thinking on it. I didn't want to hurt his chances for employment, but I didn't want the responsibility of citing him for a medal. I wrote: "Given the opportunity, he should go a long way!"

He was hired, but about six months later I got a letter from the Trainmaster explaining that this character had borrowed a considerable sum of money from him and blew town. I wrote him back and said in all truth that I really had no idea where Willie Lump Lump went. I did suggest that he dig up the reference once more and do some remedial study on it, particularly the bottom line which read: "Given the opportunity he'll go a long way." He did.

We all have embarrassing moments. Shirley had one that I caused although somewhat in innocence. At a flea market I wandered along some of the tables. I got into a conversation with a woman who sold knick knacks and also had jars of home-grown honey on display. We discussed bees and bee culture. Returning to the motor home, Shirley asked me about her. "Very nice person," I said. "She has hives."

Later in the day Shirley visited with her at her table. In talking to her she began something like, -- "You're looking well."

"I am?"
"Yes. You don't seem to be breaking out at all."

It took a little while, but they got their heads together and found out that there are hives and there are hives.

My most embarrassing moment? Looking through a keyhole and seeing an eye.

Economic Development District Holds Executive Meeting In Brownwood

Judge James Ledbetter attended the Executive Committee meeting of the Pecan Valley Economic Development District held in Brownwood on Tuesday, November 21, 1978. Also attending was Mrs. Charles Sherwood, newly appointed member to the Board of Directors for the District.

Other business included a discussion of by-law revisions concerning District membership and reports on project activities. Edward Koplan, Executive Director of the District, told the Committee that Gov. Briscoe had recently approved funds to be used in the renovation of a Sr. Services Center for year ending September 30, 1978. The report indicated that the District was in compliance according to the audit guidelines established by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

San Saba County.

Under new business, discussion was held concerning the need for the District to apply to the Economic Development Administration (EDA) for a "Professional Services Grant". Funds, if received, would be used to develop a housing rehabilitation program for the City of Brownwood. The committee unanimously supported the District's application.

The Committee also voted to pursue two studies to be accomplished during fiscal year 1979, as required by the work program of EDA. These included studies on problems of unemployment, under-employment and under-education, and alternative solutions to meet these needs. A special economic study will also be prepared, subject of the approval of E.D.A.

After further discussion on activities for the upcoming year, the meeting was adjourned.

Pointers On Selecting And Maintaining Yule Tree

Many people still enjoy and appreciate the beauty, color and aroma of a traditional cut Christmas tree. Below are some tips to help you select your Yule tree and maintain it in the best possible condition throughout the holiday season.

1. Choose your tree early. Most Christmas trees are cut four or five weeks before they arrive on the lot. The sooner you can get the tree home and into water, the better.

2. Select a full, dense tree that is evenly branched. The branches should be firm and flexible. Shake the branches when selecting to see if needles fall. Fresh, healthy Yule trees do not drip their needles.

3. Select a tree with good green color. This indicates that the choice is fresh, has good needle retention, fragrance, fire resistance and longer holiday beauty.

4. Once you have selected your tree, saw off the lower two inches of the trunk. This will help the tree absorb water which will insure freshness and lasting qualities.

5. Stand the tree in water in a cool location outside until you are ready to trim it. Then, place it in a tree stand that holds water and keep it filled during the holiday season.

6. Place your tree in the coolest location possible indoors, away from the open fireplace, radiators and heaters.

While it might seem a great waste to cut down thousands of trees every year just to have something to hand ornaments on at Christmas, we really should not criticize this practice.

The majority of trees cut for Christmas are grown specifically for the purpose on commercial Christmas tree farms. They are just as much a crop as fruits and vegetables. In addition, we can be sure that, like fruits and vegetables, these trees are carefully replanted for future harvests.

Recently there has been some discussion about the water in the Mullin area. There have been a few instances of illness which were thought to be due to drinking water containing high nitrate level. Several wells in Mullin vicinity have been checked and were found to be above the safe level. All the public water supplies in the county have been checked and are in the safe range.

It will be a long time before Ed Thornton can live this one down. Eddie Dean Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. S.E. Thornton, went hunting with his father on the opening day of deer season and bagged a ten point buck while his father got only a five pointer. That was bad enough, but this year Sunday, Eddie's younger brother, Ronnie Lynn, went out to their deer lease in Brown County and got an eight-point buck.

In the Regional playoff at Stephenville Friday night, the Mullin Bulldogs were toppled by the Iredell Dragons with a 30-12 defeat.

Adult Participation Urged In County Livestock Show

Each year in the County Livestock Show there is a home economics division. This year adults will be participating in the following: Canning, Arts and Crafts, Pecan Pies, and Homemade Yeast Loaf

Bread. The Pies and Breads are new divisions that have been added this year. All adults in Mills County are encouraged to enter items in the canning, arts and crafts, Pecan Pies and Yeast Loaf Bread. Entries are due at the show barn in Goldthwaite on Thursday, January 18, from 4-6 p.m. Items should be picked up on Saturday, January 20 at 1:00 p.m. No entry fees are required and ribbons will be awarded winners. This seems like a long way off, but those who are interested should start preparations now. More information will be in the paper in January prior to the Livestock Show.

A fine is described as a tax you have to pay for doing wrong; an income tax is a fine for doing OK.

Asked how she liked her new boss, a young secretary remarked, "Oh, he isn't bad, but he is kind of bigoted." "What do you mean?" Explained the girl, "He thinks words can only be spelled one way."

Texas To Begin Implementing Food Stamp Act Of 1977 Dec. 1

Texas will begin implementing the much-delayed Food Stamp Act of 1977 on December 1, 1978, a month ahead of all other states except New Mexico. The first change to go into effect will eliminate the purchase requirement, a move designed to make food stamps more accessible to the lowest income families. Other provisions of the bill, intended to simplify and tighten program administration, eliminate higher income households, and reduce the potential for errors and fraud, will go into effect March 1.

Formerly, food stamp users paid a portion (up to 88%) of their food stamp allotment, receiving an additional portion, called the "bonus amount," without charge. The size of the allotment depended on the size of the household; the amount charged the food stamp user depended on his income. Under the new program, users will receive only the bonus amount.

According to officials of the Texas Department of Human Resources (DHR), which administers the program in Texas, the elimination of the purchase requirement is expected to add 30,000 households (102,000 persons) to the program by June 30. Some 230,000 Texas households (773,000 persons) currently use food stamps, adding more than $21 million in federal funds to the state's economy each month.

DHR Commissioner Jerome Chapman said the change will be of special benefit to elderly people on fixed incomes. "Accumulating enough cash to pay for rent and utilities and still have enough left over to buy food stamps is more than many low-income people can handle," he said.

Drop Expected In 1978 Texas Pecan Harvest

AUSTIN—Texas pecan production in 1978 is expected to drop considerably below last year's crop due to a late freeze, drought and insects, according to the Texas Department of Agriculture. This year's harvest will total only 28 million pounds, a 12-per-cent decline below the 32 million pounds recorded in 1977, a Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service survey indicates.

"It looks as if this will be a 'tie-breaking' harvest, however," commented Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown. "While Georgia remains the number one pecan producing state, our production this year should break the second-place tie between Texas and Alabama, making Texas the undisputed second largest producing state. Alabama production is to drop to 16 million pounds this year."

The Texas crop was set back early in the year, with trees in the Trans-Pecos area being damaged by a late freeze. Then a lack of moisture across the state during most of the growing season caused many trees to begin shedding nuts soon after they were set.

A lot of people are walking around with those little pocket calculators and nothing in their pockets worth calculating.

There's a big difference between good sound reasons and reasons that sound good.

The March 1 provisions will streamline the application process by using standard deductions. This is expected to disqualify at least 23,000 higher-income food stamp users.

It will be tougher for students to get food stamps under the new law. Previously, students were ineligible if they were claimed as dependents by parents who were ineligible. Under the new law, even students who are not claimed as dependents will still be ineligible if they properly could be claimed by ineligible parents.

The new regulations also tighten work requirements. All recipients between 18 and 60 must register for work, must look for work, and may not turn down or quit a job without good cause. Exceptions are those who are already working, people caring for someone at home, the handicapped, people in drug or alcoholic treatments programs, and SSI (Supplemental Security Income) recipients.

The new law increases the federal matching funds to the state for investigating and prosecuting fraud from 50 to 75 percent.

Procedures for implementing the new law were developed with the assistance of the Good Stamp Advisory Committee, an ad hoc, statewide group that includes representatives from the Community Nutrition Institute, Texas Retailers Association, Texas Farmers Union, League of Women Voters, Texas Farm Workers Union, Governor's Committee on Aging, Houston Interfaith Hunger Coalition, Texas Retail Grocers, and the Texas AFL-CIO.

No one will be automatically eligible for food stamps under the new program, although generally families whose net income is below the poverty level will be eligible. The poverty level is determined annually by the federal government; the present level for a non-farm family of four is $6,200.

Net income is what is left after certain deductions:

- A standard deduction of $60 from the household's total income.
- A 20 percent deduction from earned income to make up for taxes, Social Security, and other mandatory deductions.
- Up to $80 per month for dependent care and excess housing costs, but the total of both amounts cannot exceed $80. Housing costs included rent, mortgage, payments, property taxes, utility payments, and home insurance; expenses in this category that exceed 50 percent of the household's income are counted as "excess housing costs".

Texas Poultry, Eggs Fill Cold Weather Menu Needs

AUSTIN—Texas consumers should figure plenty of nutritious poultry and eggs into those cold weather menus, due to bright supply prospects and reasonable prices, urges Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"Over 15 million broiler chicks were hatched in Texas during September, up 7 per cent over 1977," Brown said. "This signals good supplies of broilers in the months ahead. In addition, shipments of broiler chicks for this year are up from 65 million in 1977 to 88 million."

Brown stated that consumer demand for chicken has gained steadily. Supplies of red meats have tumbled off. As of August, chicken slaughter in Texas was up 6 per cent over last year in response to this growing demand.

However, turkey supplies are reported to be less abundant this year, and this could force holiday prices somewhat higher, he noted. September figures show 1,000 heavy breed turkey chicks hatched, which is 1 per cent below a year ago. Total poundage of turkeys slaughtered during August was down 10 per cent from 1977, he added.

In contrast, eggs for holiday baking and cooking should be in plentiful supply through the upcoming cold months. Production during September totaled 196 million eggs, an increase of 4 per cent from last year at that time. Texas producers hatched 2.3 million egg-type chicks during September, and this 8-per-cent jump should help guarantee future supplies at reasonable prices.

Corn Purchase Totals $11 Million

DALLAS—Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced that the Republic of China (Taiwan) recently signed contracts for $11 million worth of Texas-crop corn.

The contract was awarded to the Louis Dreyfus Corp. of Stamford, Conn., during ceremonies at the World Trade Center. The contract called for 99,000 metric tons of Texas corn to be delivered to a Texas Gulf Coast export location. The meeting between Republic of China buyers and potential American sellers was coordinated by the Texas Department of Agriculture, in a continuing effort to stimulate foreign sales of Texas and American agricultural goods.

The Taiwanese buyers were part of a grain procurement mission which will arrange for the purchase of 1.9 million metric tons of U. S. grains during a 45-day tour in this country. As well as agricultural products, the mission will also purchase American industrial equipment.

So far in 1978, Taiwan's trade with the U. S. has totaled about $5.4 billion, with almost $1 billion of this going for agricultural products.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Governor-elect Bill Clements proposes to recommend an effective $2 billion worth of tax relief during his first two years in office.

Clements, planning transition and inaugural activities, announced his legislative program will assign high priority to a new $1 billion tax reduction package.

But he emphasized that is in addition to the approximate $1 billion worth of benefits to taxpayers—home and agricultural land owners, primarily—proposed in the tax relief constitutional amendment. The amendment, submitted by the legislature last August, was approved by voters November 7.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, while cautioning that budget recommendations are still being developed, said he agrees with Clements that a significant tax reduction, in the range of $2 billion, will be possible next year.

"In my opinion, there will be adequate funds for additional tax reduction," Briscoe said at a news conference. "I hope we have a cut in the range of $1 billion—in addition to that called for by the tax relief amendment."

Clements indicated strongly he is leaning toward recommending that one cent of the sales tax ($500 million a year) be applied toward forced reduction of school property taxes.

Another possibility, he conceded, is a flat reduction of one cent in the sales tax. The governor-elect also favors elimination of the state's 10 cent property tax for college building.

Law Proposed

Attorney General John Hill contends Texas should have a fair campaign practices law.

If one had been in effect, Hill said, late-hour campaign tactics by supporters of Clements in their gubernatorial race would have overstepped it.

The attorney general protested distribution of campaign pamphlets implying Clements was "superior as a candidate on the basis of religious faith."

Clements has denied any part in distributing the pamphlet.

Hill also criticized Clements' proposals for a major tax reduction. He said the recommendation is excessive.

The attorney general said he intends to remain as titular head of the Texas Democratic party for the rest of the year when he leaves office.

Coal to Increase

Texas coal production will quadruple by the year 2,000, while oil and gas output is cut almost in half, according to U.S. Commerce Department projections.

The Commerce survey indicates Texans will use a little less oil, about as much natural gas and 10 times as much coal.

Gas production by 1985, according to the study, may drop from seven trillion cubic feet to slightly more than six trillion. Oil production is expected to drop from four million barrels a day in 1976 to 3.3 million in 1985 and finally to two million by 2,000.

The forecast projects completion of coal slurry pipelines from Colorado and Montana to the Houston area in another two decades.

Courts Speak

In reversing a minor theft conviction, Texas Court of Criminal Appeals held persons who do not speak English are entitled to interpreters during trial even if they fail to ask.

The same court reversed a Lubbock robbery conviction due to introduction of evidence acquired in an illegal search warrant.

It further reversed a life sentence assessed a LaPorte man in a forgery case and threw out McKinney drug case convictions due to faulty instructions by the trial judge.

Texas Supreme Court reversed a $7,500 insurance judgment in a case where a pilot who crashed his plane held medical and flying certificates issued after he made false representations concerning a heart condition. The finding upheld the trial court, which had been overruled in part by the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals.

Fourth Court of Civil Appeals reversed a $3 million damage award against Southwestern Bell to a former company executive and the family of a deceased top official.

Appointments Announced

Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Freeman B. Dunn of Porter and T.L. Roach Jr. of Amarillo to vacancies on the Texas Board of Corrections. Briscoe also named these judicial appointees: P. Oswin Crisman, Kenneth C. Kippel, Joan T. Winn and Steven G. Condos, all of Dallas.

Erwin G. Ernest of Huntsville, John Ray Harrison of Houston, David Hittner of Houston, Robert S. Webb III of Houston, William W. Kilgarlin of Houston, and Alice A. Bonner of Houston. They will occupy 44th, 95th, 191st, 330th family district, 12th, 113th, 133rd, 312th, 215th, and 80th district courts respectively.

Short Snorts

Gov. Briscoe, in a speech at Abilene, called for more Texas toll roads.

The State Insurance Board staff recommended a $60 million cut in workers compensation insurance premiums.

January meetings of two major associations—realtors and school teachers—contributed to a shortage of hotel rooms during the inauguration of Bill Clements and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby January 16.

Republican governors accepted an invitation from Clements to hold their 1979 national meeting in Texas—probably in Austin.

Opinion portions of a survey of teachers are excepted from disclosure, but remaining compiled results of the survey must be made public. Attorney General Hill said in a new opinion.

Hundreds of bills are being introduced in the House and Senate in preparation for the 1979 legislative session.

Mrs. W. J. Sanders Services Held Here Nov. 24, 1978

Mrs. Beulah Mae Sanders

Thanksgiving Day was saddened in Mullin by the death of one of her beloved citizens, Mrs. Beulah Mae Sanders.

Mrs. Sanders passed away at 3:00 a.m., November 23, 1978 in the Childress Hospital, Goldthwaite, Texas. She had been critically ill for three weeks prior to her death, during which time she had undergone major surgery. Her devoted husband of 68 years, her son Prentice and her daughters, Lucille and Ruby were at her bedside when she passed away.

Mrs. Beulah Mae Sanders was born in Robertson County, Texas on July 31, 1891. She was the daughter of Mr. John J. and Sara Caskey Canady.

On November 13, 1910 she was united in marriage to Mr. William Jefferson Sanders. They were married in Goldthwaite, Texas, by the Rev. J. M. Jackson. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Mullin, Texas.

Mrs. Sanders had spent most of her married life in Mullin. This union had eight children. In addition to her husband, seven of these children survive her: Prentice Sanders, Glynn Sanders, Jack Sanders, William Edward (Bill) Sanders, Mrs. Albert (Lucille) Jenke, Mrs. Daisy Boyles, and Mrs. Garland L. (Ruby) Alldredge. She is also survived by 13 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren. She is also survived by one brother, O.J. Canady of Stephenville, and one sister, Mrs. Lois Pickens of Lampasas.

An infant son, Cecil, preceded her in death in 1918.

Mrs. Sanders had been confined to a wheelchair since June, 1975, but it never dampened her spirit. She never complained but always had a cheerful smile and kind word for all. She never failed to thank her good Lord for the many blessings He had bestowed upon her and her family. Her strong Christian faith always showed. We would go to comfort her and come away comforted by her. What a great person she was to all who knew her.

Although her family was large, she had enough love for it and that for her nieces and nephews, friends and neighbors. She was a devoted Christian and loving person. She was held very dear and precious in the hearts of all who knew her. This was proven by the many beautiful floral expressions of love and by the great crowd of loved ones and friends who attended her funeral.

Funeral services were held in the Wilkins Funeral Home Chapel, Goldthwaite, Texas, at 2:30 p.m., November 24, 1978. The services were conducted by her beloved pastor, Rev. James Rogers, who was assisted by Rev. Joe Rigsby.

Musical selections, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" and "Shall We Gather at the River", were sung by Oreta Sanders, Ernest Lynn Fisher, Ione Bessent and Illa Calder.

Retired Teachers Enjoy Speaker

The Community Room of the Mills County State Bank was the meeting place for the December meeting of NRTA (National Retired Teachers Association).

Mr. Paul Hilburn of Stephenville, who is Assistant State Director of Texas

Retired Teachers Association, spoke to the group on forthcoming legislation that will affect retired teachers as well as active teachers. He discussed at length five proposed bills that will, if enacted, affect retired teachers. He stressed the importance of all retired teachers becoming members of Texas RTA in addition to NTRA.

A business session followed with Miss Love Gatlin, president, presiding. Miss Gatlin closed the meeting with the story "Gift of the Magi", by O. Henry, which was enjoyed by all.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses Euna V. Barnett, Neppie Long, Lee Ruth Campbell, and Lucille Roberson. There were twenty-one members and one visitor in attendance.

There will be no meeting in January.

Quality of venison is not determined solely by the culinary talents of the homemaker. The entire process of handling the carcass from field to table can add or detract from the desirability of the final product. The hunter plays an important role in determining whether a deer steak is tender and tasty or tough and bad-flavored.

The following general recommendations can be made for Texas conditions:

1. Whenever a choice is available, select a female animal for less flavor intensity (gaminess). This does not mean that male animals provide undesirable meat, but rather that most consumers may prefer the less flavor of the female.

2. Whenever possible, place the shot in the neck or head to insure a clean, rapid kill. This prevents post-shot stress and also reduces tissue damage considerably.

3. Field dress the animal as soon as possible. If contents of the intestine or paunch have been spilled, the carcass should be rinsed with water. A publication, L-634 entitled "Field Dressing Big Game," is available from any county Extension office and provides more information.

4. If weather permits, leaving the skin on the carcass will help conserve moisture. However, a little common sense dictates that carcasses should be skinned and covered with a fly proof bag in hot weather if a cooler is not accessible. Also, a male in the rut may have a strong urine odor on the hind legs and probably should be skinned prior to storage.

5. If the family prefers a somewhat more intense flavor which is similar to aged beef, the carcass may be hung in a locker for about a week before final processing. Again, common sense dictates storage in a clean locker which eliminates contamination of odors from poorly handled carcasses.

These recommendations are not the only way to handle carcasses. For the hunter who has a preferred method which differs somewhat from these recommendations but whose family is satisfied with the venison brought home, change is unnecessary.

If a hunter has no experience in handling deer carcasses or has had a bad experience with deer meat, these suggestions may help increase the use of the deer resource.

Further suggestions on care and cooking of venison can be found in the publication MP-1333, "Big Game Cooking Care," also available from your County Extension Office.

Locklear Rites Held In Hot Springs, Ark.

Clyde Locklear, 72, a resident of Hot Springs, Arkansas, passed away Sunday morning, November 26, 1978 at St. Joseph Hospital, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

He was born in Carlsbad, New Mexico January 31, 1906. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clabe Locklear, long time residents of Goldthwaite.

Mr. Locklear was married to Emma Harrell, July 8, 1937, in Goldthwaite.

He was a retired owner and trainer of thoroughbred horses. Also a member of the Richard Street Church of Christ, member of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association (HBPA), past president and charter member of the H.B.P.A., and served on the board of the organization for many years. He was employed as a placing judge at Oak Lawn Park, Hot Springs, at the time of his death. He was head of the New England Division for many years. He was also a member of the Masonic Lodge in Fort Worth, and a member of the Eastern Star in Hot Springs.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Emma Locklear of Hot Springs; three brothers, Cecil Locklear of Grove City, Ohio; Jack Locklear of Austin; and Wayne Locklear of Weatherford. One sister, Mrs. Alma Williams of Goldthwaite.

Services were held Tuesday, November 28, 1978, at 2:00 p.m. at Gross Mortuary Chapel with Ministers Charles Jackson and John Cannon officiating. Burial was in Greenwood Cemetery, Hot Springs.

Pallbearers were George Fultman of Emory, Texas; George H. Frizzell of El Paso; Bill Turnbull, Roy McDonnell, G. L. Collins, Eddy DePrang, and H. W. Herndon of Hot Springs.

Mrs. Alma Williams of Goldthwaite attended the services with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Locklear of Austin.

An elderly gentleman won $100,000 in the lottery. Since he had a bad heart, his family was concerned that the good news might bring on a heart attack. They asked the pastor to come over to break the great news to the winner.

The pastor's approach was subtle. He talked for a while on sundry subjects to his old parishioner, and then deftly slipped in this question: "Tell me, Sam, what would you do if you won the lottery and got $100,000?"

Said Sam: "Why, I'd give you and the church half of it."

The pastor keeled over.

He who occupies a place in the sun must expect some blisters.

A guest speaker was talking to a member of the audience after his rather long monologue. "And how did you enjoy my talk?" he asked. "Refreshing, really refreshing," the man replied. "Did you really?" questioned the delighted speaker. "Oh, absolutely," he said, "I felt like a new man when I woke up!"

(Too late for last week)

On Monday, the Junior High went to Evant to play ball. Both teams played well. The girls team won but the boys were oversized and as a result lost.

On Tuesday, the Star girl's teams traveled to Jonesboro to play. Star Jr. High won with a final score of 26-8. Star girls who scored were Kristy Boyd, Joy Hamilton, Gina Britten, Darla Emdy, and Loraine Stark.

This game was followed by the "B" team game. Jonesboro won this contest with a score of 29-8. Glenda Rhoades and Matilda Stark made Star's 8 points.

Following this action, the High School team took the court. It was a good game but Star lost with a final score of 37 for Jonesboro and 27 for Star. Girls scoring for Star were Natalie Whitlock, Martha Hamilton, Ramona Tidwell and Dixie Clary.

Little Mary's father had denied her the new bike she so dearly wanted. That night, when she said her prayers, she concluded with: "And please don't give Papa any more children. He doesn't know how to treat the ones he's got now."

New Horizons Highlights

Children develop into healthy and worthwhile adults because of good parents and good people who help them through childhood.

At New Horizons, we are trying to fill a gap that was caused most often by insufficient parenting and the lack of people who really care. We can use a lot of help to try to fill this big job.

New volunteers are helping us to do a better job. As a volunteer, you can make a big contribution in the life of a child while at the same time doing something that you really like to do.

There are many areas that a volunteer could be of help to our children and to New Horizons - Recreation, Arts & Crafts, Woodwork, Mechanics, Rock Masonry, Horticulture, Tutoring, Sewing, Cooking, etc. - are some of the areas that a volunteer could make a big contribution.

If you are interested call Del Barnett, 938-5518, or 648-3139 after 6:00 p.m.

Hillview Highlights

Recently here at Hillview Manor we had a spaghetti supper for our volunteer fire department. It was our way of thanking them for being here in case we ever need them.

Before the supper, Fern Rajnoch, Administrator, presented Roger Horton, Fire Chief, with a certificate of appreciation and a letter stating how we feel.

Fern would like to especially thank Ann Carey for cooking the dinner; the firemen and their wives for coming, and Florence Sheldon and Geraldine Geeslin for helping serve.

Once again Hillview residents will be sacking Christmas candy for the Lions Club. It is at this time of year that our people enjoy doing and giving what they can for others. They also enjoy the Christmas Caroling, children, guests gifts and decorations here at the home.

At this time, the residents and staff of Hillview Manor wish to extend an invitation to all of their families, friends, the staff of the hospital and to the staff and all the residents at Heritage Home to come join us at this joyous time of year, and to share with us the true spirit and meaning of Christmas-peace on earth and good will to all men.

A CURIOUS PAIR-This sheepish couple are just two of the more than 80,000 head of sheep and lambs which were reported on feed in Texas drylots at the first of September, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown. This figure reflects a 10-per-cent rise from the same month a year ago, he adds.

Texas Ag Producers Receiving Share of Booming Exports

AUSTIN--The export market for Texas agricultural products is booming, and the state's producers are continuing to work to receive their share, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"Texas exports increased an estimated 16 per cent last year over the 1976 figure," Brown said, "with the value of 16 selected major commodities totaling nearly $1.2 billion."

Brown said that currently the export market is even stronger than last year, with total U.S. agricultural exports likely to reach around $26.6 billion, according to USDA forecasts. "Texas' share of that record market is increasingly important to our farmers and ranchers, who now harvest one of every three acres for the export market," he commented.

"Increasing exports are important to all of us, not just those in the agricultural industry, however," Brown continued. "Agricultural commodities are our only products being sold in quantities large enough to lessen the gap in world trade. When America buys more than it sells overseas, it leaves a surplus of dollars abroad, forcing the value of the dollar to fall."

Cotton led the list of 1977 exports for the state, totaling an estimated $559 million. "Strong cotton demand will probably continue," Brown said, "especially in light of this year's smaller crop, which will reduce carryover supplies." Texas' cotton production is expected to drop to 3.7 million bales, compared to 5.5 million bales in 1977.

The second highest money-maker was grain sorghum, with estimated value of $191 million, followed by: Wheat, $165 million; rice, $164 million; and soybeans, $48 million.

History of Christmas Gifting

Christmas gift-giving grew out of both pagan and Christian traditions.

The Christian practice of giving presents to friends and relatives follows the example of the Magi, "three wise men from the East" mentioned in the New Testament (Matthew 2:1-12) who traveled to Bethlehem to present gold, frankincense and myrrh to the Christ child 12 days after his birth.

Another tradition credits the ancient Romans, who exchanged presents during their midwinter Saturnalia festival from December 17 to 24 in honor of the birth of the sun.

It was not until 353 A.D., when Pope Julius I set December 25 as Christ's probable birth date, that the feast of the Nativity was first observed in Rome. Before that time, many Christians felt gift-giving was a heathen custom.

By the Middle Ages, however, the practice was firmly established. Tradesmen honored their patrons, while servants temporarily enjoyed some of the good things of life with their masters. In Russia peasants received gifts while they sang outside the houses of lords.

Puritan New Englanders outlawed such festivities when they came to the New World, but the Dutch colonists of New Amsterdam continued their Old World celebrations, as did the Southern planters, who observed Christmas with feasting, singing and dancing.

Whatever your tradition and choice, the Christmas spirit of loving thoughtfulness is expressed in every gift.

DURABLE GIFTS, like traditions, last and last and last.

What will you do in 20 years when she runs to you and says, "He asked me to marry him and I said yes!"

Will you have to say, "I'm sorry honey, but I didn't plan ahead for this day and I simply won't be able to afford the wedding you deserve."

Or will you be able to tell her that you're happy that she's happy and that you've been planning for years to make that special day the happiest day of her life.

Plan ahead with a savings account. Add to it regularly and soon you'll have the peace of mind that comes only from financial security...

And you'll make your little girl a happy big girl some day.
