Former Merkel Resident Found Dead Friday

Mrs. P. L. Newberry, 81, was found dead in her apartment in Abilene about 8:35 p.m. Friday. A doctor estimated she died late Thursday afternoon.

She was found lying on a bed by a detective after her landlady Mrs. S. O. Rister, called and reported that there was no light in the apartment. She had suffered a heart attack in December and had been ill about two weeks.

Funeral was held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist Church in Merkel with the Rev. Alvis Cooley officiating, assisted by the Rev. John English of Abilene. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Newberry, a former Merkel resident, was born Nov. 16, 1877, in Tennessee and was married to Sam Newberry in 1909. She came to Taylor County in 1896.

Survivors include one brother, W. H. Young of California; one sister, Mrs. Rossie M. Robins of Abilene; three nephews and four nieces.

Veterans Buy More Land Each Month

AUSTIN — More veterans are buying land every month through the Veterans' Land Program, Land Commissioner Bill Allcorn reported this week.

In March, the Veterans' Land Board bought 37 tracts of land for Texas ex-servicemen. In April this number increased to 95 and in May the Board bought 127 tracts.

Through June 20, 113 tracts have been purchased through the program, and before the month is ended, this figure is expected to rise to 175.

In October, the Board expects to level off its purchases at about 350 tracts a month, Allcorn says.

This land is being bought with money from three sales of Veterans' Land Bonds since December, 1957, which have made $374 million available for land purchases.

Plans for the opening of the new Merkel Country Club are complete with open house set from 2 to 6 p.m., Sunday, July 6.

Other opening activities will include a buffet barbecue for members only from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., Friday, July 11, with entertainment from 9 p.m. 'till midnight.

A private enterprise, owned by Nathan Wood and his son, Don, the country club facilities will include a nine hole golf course and club house with locker rooms, showers and a large club room.

The modernistic club house, located one mile north of Merkel, is of rock construction with red trim. The building is flanked by a red shadow box fence and features a circular driveway at the front.

Interior walls of the air conditioned club house are of rock with the ceiling finished in pink tectone. Floors are red concrete and red trim is used throughout the building.

The 50x25-ft. club room features a woodburning fireplace, TV set and snack bar with a full kitchen to be installed later. Along the northeast wall of the room are picture windows adorned with sunken planter boxes which look out on a circular patio. Wrought iron furniture and match-stick bamboo drapes complete the decor.

The country club facilities will be available to members and guests only with green fees extended to out-of-towners.

OPERATION DEATHWATCH

Major Wilson E. Speir, Regional Commander of Region No. 4, Department of Public Safety announced today that Operation Deathwatch for the three day July 4th Holiday Period will run from 12:01 a.m. July 4 through 11:59 p.m. July 6. A total of 28 motorcycles have been predicted for this period.

Merkel Man Wins Wild Cow Milking

Ralph Russell of Merkel won first place in the wild cow milking contest and Bill Hogan of Kerrville won first in bullriding here Saturday night in the final events of the 12th Annual Winters Rodeo.

Others placing in the wild cow milking contest were Vester Parrish of Wingate, second, and Jimmie Edwards of Richelle, third. These were final scores after the first and second go-arounds.

Monte Wilkes of Silver and Dick Allen of Bowie tied for second and third places in the bull-riding contest. Weldon Minzenmayer of Winters won fourth.

Major Speir said that all uniformed enforcement personnel of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, License and Weight Service and Highway Patrol Service of the Department of Public Safety would be assigned traffic duties during this period. All holidays and days off have been cancelled. Patrolmen will operate radar extensively during this period in an effort to reduce the death toll.

Speed and DWI violations will be the primary targets of Patrolmen during this period as these two violations contribute to traffic deaths more than any other violations.

Moorists are urged to cooperate in the reduction effort by observing all traffic laws, drive defensively, don't gamble your life and that of your loved ones on a few seconds you might gain by driving at excessive speed.

Let's commemorate the 4th of July in the proper spirit and live for others to come". Speir said.

TEACHING JOHNNY TO SWIM SERIES THREE

To float on his back, Johnny squats in waist-deep water with his shoulders are below the surface. With his head tilted back and ears in water so that he is looking straight up, he stretches his arms to his side with the palms up. He then lifts his hips as close to the surface as possible to put him in the back float position. To do the back glide, illustrated in this picture, he takes the squatting position to do the back float and then glides hard.

The back kick glide, shown here, simply adds the "steamboat" kick to the back glide. He should be able to move at least two body lengths before going on to the next step. Care must be taken to prevent him from kicking into deep water.

Now Johnny is ready for a back stroke, finning. From their position as in the back glide, his hands should be moved up along his body for a distance of two or three inches. Then have him turn them out so that the palms are facing toward the feet, and, without stopping, push them back into place. The movement should be continued without interruption. When he adds the kick to this movement he will be swimming on his back.

Former Merkelite Will Visit Here

Mrs. Robert Bennett and her daughter, Vicki, will spend the weekend of July 12 in Merkel visiting her father, C. S. Higgins, other relatives and friends.

While in California Mrs. Bennett and her daughter plan to visit Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm and see several television shows.

Dr. Bennett was unable to accompany his wife at this time but plans a Canadian fishing trip after her return home. He practices in Columbus Ohio where they make their home.

Let Dad Do The Cooking—Outside

The weather is at hand for "Dad's Backyard Drive-In" to open the barbecue season. If this favorite family "hot-spot" isn't blazing at charcoal heat already.

For the master chef, it means juicy, sizzling steaks, tender, crisp hot dogs, smoky ribs smothered in sauce, hickory-sweet chicken that falls apart in your fingers.

For the tots and teen-agers it's "hamburger heaven" at home. And for the woman of the house, it means time off from her own cooking and more time out of the kitchen.

She can eliminate a lot of extra clean-up work after those Saturday and Sunday night suppers, or for luncheons by putting in a supply of disposable paper products that will make that summertime living even easier. Paper plates, cups, napkins, even spoons and forks that you can use and then throw away are essential and will lighten the washing load. Napkins are particularly important because, no matter how much care you take, open-air eating is bound to be a bit messy. The larger ones such as the new Kleenex table napkins are especially practical because they're big enough so you can wrap them all the way around a hamburger or hot dog bun, not only to keep them warm but to prevent the hot meat juices from burning your hands.

It's easy to forget that the same fires the barbecue foods to a tasteful turn also can be severe hazards. But, by taking a few simple precautions before the first trip to the hickory pit, the chef can be sure of a full season of happy and hearty eating.

First of all, be sure to have the basic equipment for proper barbecuing and personal protection. Requirements include a long-handled spatula, a barbecue fork, tongs to pick roasting corn and baked potatoes out of the coals, asbestos gloves or gloves with asbestos palms, and an apron. Be certain, too, that the handles of your spatulas and forks are of wood, cork or some other non-heat conducting material and that they fit tightly.

Your chef may feel a little foolish the first time he dons an apron, but it will keep fat from splattering the new sport shirt he received as a Father's Day present.

Here are a few safety precautions which all barbecue chefs should follow:

—When using lighter fuel to start the charcoal, never pour more fuel on the coals after the fire has been started.

—When using paper to lay the fire, ruffle it and anchor it with charcoal so the wind won't blow burning pieces of paper away or up into your eyes.

—Keep children (and adults) wearing fluffy, inflammable clothes well away from the fire.

—Don't set up portable barbecues near garages, sheds or wood-fences.

Finally, another practical idea is to pour water over the charcoal to extinguish the fire after the food has been cooked. It's safer, and the remaining charcoal can be used the next time.

Farmers Urged To Improve Cotton Quality

The Texas cotton farmer's opportunity this year will be in a high quality crop, not necessarily in quantity, Agriculture Commissioner John White said this week.

While there is a present surplus of cotton, the supply is mostly in the lower grades that sell for less. This cotton results in heavy mill waste and added cleaning costs. But the best demand—and biggest opportunity for profits—is for the higher grades.

Seven important steps are recommended to help the grower improve the quality of his cotton. As to the first two points, planting is already under way over most of Texas but the other suggestions can still be put into effect.

These seven steps are:

1. Plant cotton on the best suited land. The ideal field is inherently fertile, free of soil borne disease, warms up early, charcoal can be used the next droughly.

2. Use best seed available of a recommended variety. Good seed may be somewhat short this year but all of it should be treated with a good fungicide.

3. Fertilize to fit needs. Use your fertilizer at the rates time and manner recommended by Texas experiment stations in your area. Both excessive and under use of some fertilizers can have a bad effect on the grade of harvested cotton.

4. Manage the crop for quality. Control weeds, insects and diseases. Discontinue irrigation early enough for the crop to mature before frost. Late irrigation can delay maturity and seriously reduce grade.

5. Pick promptly and carefully whether by hand or machine; avoid mixing good cotton and bad, wet and dry lost.

6. Deliver cotton to the gin as dry and clean as possible. The ginner, too, has a responsibility to keep his equipment in order, to use proper drying and take time to do a good job.

7. Sell on merit. Have cotton classed before selling; then sell on the basis of its grade and staple. This is the grower's means of assuring himself of the benefit of producing better cotton.

1958 MID YEAR REPORT

We have reached the halfway mark in a very unusual year. It has been a half year of depression talk . . . yet there have been inflationary tendencies. There have been reports of unemployment figures . . . yet wages are high and workers are striking for higher. It's all very confusing . . . but let's not become confused. Our Mid-year Statement of Condition shows a healthy financial condition which reflects the progress of Merkel and families in this area. We believe the second half of this year will be a period of stepped up business activity that will belie the "depression talkers." And you may rest assured that we will continue our efforts to guide you to financial security by providing you with the dependable service and financial advice you have learned to expect from the F&M.

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

AMERICANA Cities To See St. Augustine Retains Old World Charm

OLDEST HOUSE—ST. AUGUSTINE, FLA.

IN THE pages of Americana many cities are associated with the words "romantic" and "historic." And when such is mentioned, one city comes immediately to mind—St. Augustine, Florida.

Rich in historical interest and Old World charm, St. Augustine is the nation's oldest city. It was on August 28th (St. Augustine's Day), 1565, some 42 years before the settlement of Jamestown and 55 years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, that the Spaniards arrived at Indian Village of Seloy, renamed it St. Augustine and claimed "the land of Florida" for Spain.

Prior to Florida's annexation by the United States in 1821, the city was ruled for two centuries by the Spanish. It was an English colony for twenty years and then reverted to Spain again.

The sound of musket and cannon have many times echoed over historic St. Augustine. In 1586 the city was attacked and burned by Sir Francis Drake. Eighty-two years later, Capt. John Davis and his British buccaneers pillaged the city, but left without burning it. After this attack, the Spaniards built a citadel of stone—the Castillo de San Marcos. This fort withstood many attacks, and remains today as the oldest standing fortification in the U. S.

Oglethorpe Failed
British General Oglethorpe of Georgia twice attacked St. Augustine without success. In 1817 General Andrew Jackson invaded West Florida and on July 10, 1821, the Stars and Stripes were raised over St. Augustine, following cession of Florida from Spain.

Almost immediately after it became a part of the United States, St. Augustine began to slowly gain renown as a health resort. Early visitors included Prince Achille Murat (nephew of Napoleon), and Ralph Waldo Emerson, a promising young writer.

In the 1880's, Henry M. Flagler, a visiting millionaire, was captured by the old-world charm and flavor of St. Augustine. His vision and efforts brought great hotels, the extension of the railroad, and an influx of tourists that has continued to this day.

City of Charm
The charm of St. Augustine is found in its climate, a wealth of sub-tropical flowers and foliage, and the many revealing evidences of its storied past.

Summer Projects In Homemaking Dept. Underway

The Homemaking Division of the Vocational Education and Rehabilitation Program of the TEXAS EDUCATION AGENCY, has proclaimed that the Jim Ned Voational Homemaking and Vocational Agriculture Programs be based upon a yearly plan, that is twelve months of supervision. Under this plan, the Homemaking Education Program of Jim Ned will continue throughout the summer. Mrs. Chambers has scheduled classes, workshops, and individual projects to be continued through the summer months in the Homemaking Department and in the girls' homes. The summer work also includes work with adult groups in the forms of classes and workshops to be held in the department.

Several projects for the Homemaking department have been taken on for summer work. These include, renovating the four rooms, reupholstering and refinishing the furniture, making new draperies and curtains, and possibly resanding and revarnishing the floors. These classes are open to adults and students both. A workshop on Problems of Clothing Construction was held for Homemaking students May 28-30.

Adult classes are tentatively scheduled for June 30—July 4, and includes a workshop on Clothing Construction and the use of attachments on a sewing machine. There is also scheduled a workshop on Home Food Preservation for the latter part of August. These dates will be verified later and posted.

Another project which the chapter of F.H.A.'ers has adopted is the selling of Birthday Calendars throughout the Lawn-Oval-Tuscola area. We are now in the process of collecting names and birthdays, and we would appreciate your full cooperation. There is no obligation whatsoever for having your name and your birthday printed on the calendar should you wish for it to appear. The calendars will also have Club meetings and dates printed on them. All in all, it is one way of reminding yourself of important dates, plus helping to advance the Homemaking program.

The funds raised by the F.H.A. Chapter members go to pay part of the expenses at the Area and State F.H.A. meetings held each year, plus financing various Chapter projects such as State of Texas flags which are given to servicemen.

We would like to take this opportunity to invite you to the Homemaking department at any time during the summer. You may come to visit, or better still, "come to help and possibly to learn."

Texas Farm Land Prices Not Hurt By Recession

The price of farm land in Texas and elsewhere is more than holding its own. Apparently, the business recession has not had an effect on land prices any more than the recent seven-year drought.

According to a recent nationwide survey, good farm land will continue to be a scarce commodity. During the 12-month survey period, only 31 of every 1,000 farms were voluntarily put up for sale. This compares with 57 ten years ago. As recently as 1952, more than 55 percent of all land sales were made by active farmers; now only 50 percent are.

There is a possibility that social security may result in some slight easing of the tight land supply situation, however. The acreage offered for sale by retiring farmers is increasing.

But competition to buy land is becoming stiffer. Bulk of the demand is by farmers wanting more acres for expansion. The survey showed roughly 40 percent of all farm real estate purchases were made by active farmers for farm enlargement. And this percentage is increasing.

Not just farmers are bidding furiously for farm land. More and more city folks are in the market, too. Thirty-six percent of buyers were non-farmers, up from 32 percent five years ago.

Other findings showed the average value of farm real estate increased 6 per cent from the spring of 1957 through the spring of this year. And values in two regions of the country climbed substantially more, the southwest (up 10 percent, largely because of Florida) and the northern plains states (up 9 percent).

Total value of all farm real estate in the U.S. is now figured at $116 billion — up $109 billion a year ago, $74 billion 10 years ago, and $35 billion 20 years ago.

Want to know how to get a farm? An eight-page booklet is available telling how to find a farm, where to get advice, and how a farm can be financed. This may be old stuff to most farmers but is worthwhile reading for any would-be farmer.

To get a copy write: John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.
