Aunt Sarah, I love you.

Remember my 10th birthday, when you gave me that funny piece of green paper and everybody made such a fuss over it. (Except me.) Frankly, it was a pretty disappointing present for a kid. I couldn't eat it, couldn't play with it, couldn't wear it—and Mom took it away from me practically the minute I got it.

And every birthday after that (and Christmas, too), you gave me another one of those Bonds, you called them. I thought you were pretty gooney.

At least, I never had to guess what I was going to get from good old reliable Aunt Sarah.

And what I got was good old reliable U.S. Savings Bonds.

What I didn't realize then was that you gave me a gift of security for the future. Thanks to you and those Bonds, I had extra funds for college. And they helped when I bought my first new car.

Next week, I'm giving my nephew, Harry, his first U.S. Savings Bond. I know the kid is gonna think I'm some kind of nut. But, someday...

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And, always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

They laughed when I bought my first Bond.

In my neighborhood everyone was poor. Most of us were lucky if we had enough food to eat or clothes to wear. So like most kids we spent a lot of time talking about the things we wanted out of life. Things like owning a big car, wearing fine clothes and going to all of the best places. Boy, we could hardly wait to grow up.

Like the other kids I had little odd jobs in grammar school but I got my first real job when I started high school. I was a junior clerk in a big department store. That's where I first heard about U.S. Savings Bonds. My boss asked me if I wanted to join the Payroll Savings Plan and I said yes. A month later I got my first bond.

When my friends found out they really had a good laugh. Imagine buying U.S. Savings Bonds when there were so many other great things to buy. Well, they kept laughing and I kept saving all through high school.

After graduation some of us wanted to go to college. And that's when my Bonds really came in handy. They not only helped pay my tuition, but also helped buy some books.

Well, I'm a senior now and looking forward to graduation. Unfortunately, a lot of my friends never even got started. And to think, they laughed when I bought my first Bond.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Are you going to live longer than your money?

Maybe you're having a pretty good life now. Your credit is good, you've got a few nice clothes and a good dependable car. And if you're lucky, maybe you own your own home. But that's because you're working. What happens when you retire? You can't live on memories. It's still going to take money. Lots of money. Money that you should be saving now.

And one of the easiest ways to start putting away a few dollars for those retirement years is by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way every time you earn a little money for today, you save a little for tomorrow. Then when the time finally comes to retire, you'll have something put away to retire to.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

There's a future in it for someone.

Your son's education for instance.
But by the time he's ready for college his education may well cost a small fortune.
The kind you just don't have lying around under a bed.
That's just the reason why your government has a great thing going. A U.S. Savings Bond.
In themselves they're not a quick buck. They won't make you that fortune overnight. But in the long run they do pay off. Darn well at that. And at a guaranteed rate. Starting a savings plan is easy.
You can join a Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Or get into a Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank.
Then watch someone's future grow. Like your son's.

O. Box 13246, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711

Saturday night Class A state rated Petrolia came to town sporting a 29-0 record. The Owls finally were beaten but gave Petrolia all the competition they could stand. The final score was 61 to 57. The Owls outscored Petrolia 25 to 23 on field goals but were cold from the free throw line.

It was an excellent ball game and should help the Owls down the line in the playoffs.

Girls' Basketball

The Hedley high school girls played their bi-district game Tuesday, Feb. 13. The girls were ahead after the first quarter but finally lost the game 40-45. This game ended the season giving the girls a 33-4 record. We would like to thank the fans for the tremendous support shown throughout the season. We had an especially fine turnout at the bi-district game, and I only wish we could have played as well as our support.

The girls do deserve a little praise for a fine effort and a fine season. Thanks again to the people of Hedley for helping make this a successful year.

Jr. High Basketball

Feb. 12 Hedley played Estelline. The B boys won 23 to 18. High scorer was John Duke with 6 points, Perry Potts and Terry Lewis had 4 each, Randy Woodward 3, Mike Drum, Randy Shaw and Andy Wheatly 2 each.

The girls beat Estelline 38 to 22. High scorer was Nickii Bolin with 16 points, Laura Wheatly had 14 and Lynn Skaggs 8.

The boys beat Estelline also, 54 to 23. High scorer was Riekey Bolin with 22 points, Michael Darnell had 10, Stuart Messer 8, Bob White, Troy Turner and Jimmy Lowe 4 and Mike Drum 2.
