

THE EVENING NEWS

4TH QUARTER
NO 58

Amarillo, Texas, August 14, 1900.

25c PER MONTH

Bryan's speech at the notification meeting, is pronounced the best he has ever made. It is to be hoped that every young man in the country, as well as the older ones, will read it.

The day is passed for withholding from politics. The critical condition of political affairs demands, as never before, the serious consideration of every citizen.

The State Democratic convention nominated the state officers with one exception, that of putting up R. M. Love for Comptroller.

To the voters of Potter Co: I desire to announce through the columns of the Amarillo News—as I have already done in the Western advocate—that I am before the voters of Potter County for the office of Tax Assessor at the coming of the next November election. I have served the people of this county as County Commissioner for the past four years to the best of my ability and I trust to the entire satisfaction of the people. We as a Commissioners' court have tried to do our duty to the people for the best interest of the county, and I only claim my part of the credit.

As one of the commissioners I have had to pass on each and every rendition as well as the tax rolls of this county each year and therefore I am not an entire stranger to the Assessors office; and now all I ask, is for the people to elect me to the Tax Assessors office one term, and see for themselves whether I am competent to fill the office or not; and if the people find after I have it one term that I cannot fill it as the office ought to be filled then I am ready for them to get another man. If I am elected to fill this office I will take a delight in filling it as the laws of the state of Texas directs it should be filled; and I would further say that I am not running against any one but only on my own merits and that I have the best of feelings towards my opponents. Now good people before you make up your mind as to who you will vote for in this Tax Assessors race, please give my case very careful consideration; and after so doing you believe me to be the man for the place I will be very thankful to you for your support and help.

Yours very respectfully,
J. R. Law.

Mack Moore has moved the tenant house from near the news office to near the Baptist church.

Lightburne & Co. are moving the old Connally yellow store to the lot North of the News office.

Patton says there are two fellows in town that might be induced to contract with the council for the gas it needs with or without franchise—who are allways on, call or no call. Besides their burnished brassy faces are enough to light the city, should their gas ever flicker.

The following letter to the San Antonio Standard is from Jim Smith who will be remembered as having worked in the shops here in 1895.

Barroo Creek,
East Africa, Portugese Territory.

June 13, 1900.

Dear Walter and Bank: As promised, I will write. Guess you will be surprised to hear from me. Well, I made the trip fine; wasn't sick any more after the first eight days at sea; was so sick then, however, I fell off about thirty pounds and have never been able to regain it since I landed in Beira, East Africa, one month ago with $60. She lasted me four days, when it was all gone. Every time you turn a corner it costs you $5. But there is plenty of work here. A man with a fair education can do well here, or a good tradesman, and they pay you not less than $125. a month; but every time that you go and get a meal she costs you 75 cents and isn't as good as army grub and you know how we used to kick in the army; and when you take a drink she costs you 25 cents.

I landed 1,700 miles south of here, at Cape Town, and came up the country towards the Transvaal and went broke and had to go to work, and you all know that nearly broke my heart; but I got a good job as a fireman on the Robson & De la Rive road and I get $100. a month, but she costs me $75. for board and $25. for whiskey, so I have a pretty good salary left.

This is a worse place than Fort St. Philip, Louisiana; they can't hardly get men to work here in the summer, it is winter here now. Every man that works for the railroad company is furnished from one to three negroes to help him. I have got two, one to shovel coal and another to do my washing; they work for $2.50 a month and their board and clothes; they don't eat any thing but rice and don't hardly wear any clothes; but they are kept in their place better here than the negroes are in the states. They are not allowed to walk on the sidewalks; they run in the streets like dogs.

I am going to stay here until the war is over and then I am going into the Transvaal.

I am in the Portugese territory and can't get out, for the line is guarded and no one but soldiers can cross it until the war is over, unless you get a pass from the portugese war office at Mozambique and at the war office in London. Any one who goes across without a pass will be given four years in prison, so you see I am tied up, but I dont care much so long as I hold my job.

I have not seen George Bent, I heard that he was in Cape Town.

Jack Miles and Dock Moss are making $140. a month and their board; they both have their saddles with them and they are a great sight to the people here. Jack loaded a fellow up that he could rope a zebra on a horse and so he has not seen a zebra since he has been here. Jack and Dock are both lying around doing nothing; every day is just like Sunday to them—having a good time.

But there are a great many wild animals here. You can see the lions out on the railroad track and hear them howl at night and you can bet that I dont get off the engine after dark. The funniest thing that I have ever seen was a drove of about 100 monkeys emigrating; they were all playing along, having a good time.

Well Bunk, you and Thomp give all the boys my best regards and if you don't answer this and tell me all the news you had better.

Yours forever,
JIM SMITH.

Washington, August 11, 1900.

Democrats are delighted with Col. Bryan's speech of acceptance, especially that portion of it which so clearly points out the difference between legitimate expansion—acquiring territory to become future States—and imperialism which acquires islands to become colonial possessions. The speech is probably the most complete argument against imperialism ever presented in a single publication, and should be perfectly studied by every democrat who wishes to fit himself to demolish every argument the republicans have yet advanced in favor of the imperialistic foreign policy of the McKinley administration. In fact, the speech might be called the democratic primer of the present campaign.

"Two souls with but a single thought,
Two hearts that beat with vain desire,
He thinks she's sweet as she can be,
And she agrees with him?"

The Amarillo News in quoting from this paper says it is edited by a "very intelligent German." Thanks, brother, but you are 'way off, our editor is no German and not so very intelligent either.—Quanah Tribune-Chief.

Thanks, Koch, for the correction, but we have no apologies to offer, for you are altogether as creditable as a German; then you spell it in a foreign tongue, and besides your endomitable energy justifies the old apothegm that a "Dutchman will make a living where a white man would starve to death." Yes, Caldwell is Henglish, but he is 'way off from being an Henglishman.

Mr. Voils is erecting a real nice residence on 8th and Buchanan streets.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION Of the State of Texas, to be Voted on Tuesday, November 6, A. D. 1900.

[H. J. R. No. 35.]

JOINT RESOLUTION, amending Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto Section 20, providing for the organization of irrigation districts, and for the levying and collection of a tax for the construction of reservoirs, dams and canals.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

That Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Section 20, as follows:

Section 20. In addition to the powers of taxation granted in the foregoing sections, it shall be lawful for the Legislature of Texas to authorize the land owners of the counties of Archer, Baylor, Clay, Wichita and Knox to organize irrigation districts in said counties without regard to county line.

In making provisions for the construction of irrigation works within said territory, it shall be lawful to levy taxes and create an indebtedness to rest as a charge on and be secured by a lien on the irrigable land for the use and benefit of which said irrigation works have been or may be constructed. The Legislature may authorize such taxes and indebtedness as may be necessary to construct irrigation works within said territory, but no taxes shall be levied nor indebtedness created in any district until authorized by a two-thirds vote of the resident land owners therein whose lands are susceptible of irrigation from the proposed works.

The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of Texas, on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1900, at which election all voters favoring the amendment shall have written or printed on their tickets "For amending Article 8, of the Constitution of Texas, so as to permit the formation of irrigation districts in Archer, Baylor, Clay, Wichita and Knox counties," and those opposed to said amendment shall have written or printed on their tickets "Against amending Article 8, of the Constitution of Texas, so as to permit the formation of irrigation districts in Archer, Baylor, Clay, Wichita and Knox counties."
