WHITTLIN'

By DOLPH MOTEN

Shucks, the monsoon season must be over.

As this is being written, it's been nearly a week since we've had any rainfall.

Like the fellow said, "I knew this rain wouldn't last."

Nobody told them it would be easy when they agreed to be candidates for city council posts, but the present council members are having a rougher time than is necessary in connection with the present paving program.

The council members, believe it or not, really aren't paving salesmen. They have no more interest in paving than does the next Mr. Average Citizen except that they were elected by the people to serve these same people on their city government.

City voters, you'll remember, voted in favor of a paving project back early in '66. They indicated they wanted an additional paving project and were willing to spend taxpayers' money (what other kind does the city have?) for the project.

The council at that time, which was different than the present one, was petitioned by a group of voters to call the election. There was no alternative for the council. The election had to be called, and was.

The people favored it. The next step, and it was long enough in being made as we've indicated in previously-expressed opinions in this space, was to get the paving project designed and completed.

About the only decisions the council members have had to make in regard to the paving is what streets would be involved. Outside of that, the decisions were made by the voters.

Conscientious studies have been made as to what streets should be paved in this next program. All the streets proposed by the council to get paving would have benefitted from the improvements, though in some cases the property owners involved disagreed or felt they couldn't afford the cost even if it would be beneficial to them in the long run.

Possibly it makes for bad public relations for the city to be in a position to assess the cost of street improvements against individuals' property. However, such is the case and the people were aware of this, or should have been, at the time the paving bonds were voted.

The present council, according to our thinking, doesn't want to make a hardship on anyone in regard to paving or for any other reason. The governing body is just carrying the paving ball for the people of the community. Members of the council are doing what they consider best for the town as a whole.

If all the people were aware of this, the councilmen's job would be easier and certainly more pleasant.

The latest horseback sport fad to hit this community is the eight-man pony express

PAVING PREPARATION -- Bovina's forthcoming paving project is being staked out last week and this by an engineering crew from Lubbock. Determining the proper place for a stake on Avenue A is Darrell Jenkins of Lubbock. The staking work began the latter part of last week and is expected to be completed this week with the paving, curbs and gutters to be installed soon thereafter. The project is scheduled to include some 20 blocks.

Feedlot Construction Progressing Smoothly

Target date for Parmer County Cattle Co. feedlots to be ready for use is the latter part of October.

Construction work is well underway at the site of the new feedlot.

Located four miles southwest of Bovina on Highway 60, the facilities will be ready for feeding cattle this fall barring unforeseen construction delays.

The cattle feeding operation is designed to ultimately feed 30,000 head.

Manager of the feedlot, who is handling the building of it, is Casper C. "Cap" Neagle, a veteran feedlot manager, who came here from Roswell early this summer.

Foundations for major buildings at the feedlot, including the mill, are expected to be completed in the next few days and pen construction is planned to begin within the near future, according to reports.

Stockholders in the cattle feeding company are G. D. Anderson, Jr. of Bovina, John Douglas Pitman of Hereford, Owen Seamond of Hereford, A. R. Dillard of Wichita Falls and Naegle.

To be installed is a grain preparation mill which will handle feed for 30,000 head of cattle, according to the corporation's original plans. Pens for approximately 10,000 head of cattle will be built at first with others to be installed as they are needed.

The feedlot is expected to employ 20 or more people when it is operating at capacity. In addition to the payroll, the increased use of locally-produced feeds will have a tendency to make a better market for milo and ensilage.

Sikes Buy, Now Operate, Dairy Freeze

Bovina Dairy Freeze is now under new ownership and management.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Sikes purchased the business last week and began operation of it Thursday morning.

Previous owners of the drive-in cafe on Highway 60 were Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Thatcher. They operated the business for some three years.

The business was established several years ago by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Gilreath.

Mrs. Sikes said this week that good food and drinks and friendly service would be policies of the business. It will continue to be closed on Mondays.

Dr. Pemberton --

Veterinarian To Practice Here

Cecil A. Pemberton, D.V.M., has announced the establishing of a veterinary medicine practice here.

Dr. Pemberton began his work here Monday. He came here from Hereford where he worked for the past six weeks with feedlots there.

He has practiced in Arizona for the past 12 years working for individuals with large ranching interests.

The veterinarian said he will work with both large and small animals here.

Prior to going to Arizona, Dr. Pemberton practiced in Dallas, Tulsa and Kansas.

He is a native of Texas, being born and reared in Midland.

He received a degree in veterinary medicine from Texas A&M in '42 and earned a veterinary science degree from Kansas State in '45.

Dr. Pemberton is enthusiastic about Parmer County from the standpoint of cattle operations.

"I came here to make this my home and I want to be a part of the community," he said. A widower, Dr. Pemberton is the father of two grown children.

He says he plans to offer veterinary supplies when he has established an office. He is presently staying at the Sands Motel and may be contacted there.

Some showers this week. ---Willie

Construction began this week on Bovina Schools' new grade school classroom building.

The structure, which will include a kitchen, book storage space, offices and an assembly area, will face Highway 86 and will be west of Ninth Street. The property on which the building is being constructed was purchased for that purpose several months ago.

Ed Lampe Construction of Lubbock has the contract for the building.

Lampe submitted the lowest of seven bids. Total cost of the building bid was $173,518. Bids were opened June 29.

School district voters favored an election for $212,000 for bonds to build the building early this year.

Approximately 195 days are needed to have the building ready for occupancy and it is possible the classrooms will be put into use by mid-term of the '67-'68 school year, according to Superintendent Otis Spears.

The building will be unusual in that the classroom and assembly room portion will be six-sided. This is considered the first phase of what may someday be a 24-classroom building.

race. Our knowledge of it is limited to what we've heard the cowboys say. And they are whetting our interest.

The action takes place inside an arena with two teams opposing each other at one time. The race is a relay and all eight horses and men get an opportunity to take part in each match.

Everything happens at top horse speed and it's our understanding this makes for exciting watching, not to mention the thrill of participation.

Bovina's team got in its first competition Saturday night at Canyon and was well initiated into the sport, according to reports we've been overhearing.

Such a race is, incidentally, scheduled for the Bull Town Days celebration here next month. We plan to be on hand to witness the fun.

To say the sport can be rough is a mild way of describing it, the big boys tell us.

Bovina's team members brought back a confession from a rodeo hand they met during the Canyon competition. He told them that he made his living riding bareback and saddle broncs, Brahman bulls and bulldozing and that he gave up riding in pony express races because he couldn't afford to get hurt!

How 'bout that, sports fans?

Dirt work and levelling is being done at the site this week.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

USING SOFT BAIT—Surf, salt water, and even fresh water fishermen often find it difficult to keep soft bait such as shrimp, liver, crab, etc., from coming off the hook.

Get rid of this worry by tying such bait to the hook with thread.

Carry a spool of strong thread in your pocket, then, if rushing water tends to wash away your offering, you have the remedy at hand.

CLEANING SURFACES—Sometimes flat surfaces on which to clean fish are hard to come by. Cutting boards do fine, but in lieu of such a convenience, go out and find a downed log, or stump.

Then a little work with a hand axe will prepare an excellent fish cleaning surface.

Just cut two notches about two inches deep and 18 inches apart, in the side of the log, or the top of the stump. Chop out the wood between the notches, the same depth, then level off, and you have a table that's renewable.

Then when the day's job is done, whittle away the stained, bloody surface, and you'll have a new surface for next day's cleaning.

FISH CLEANER THAT CLEANS—Sneak away your wife's nylon hairbrush. If she acts suspicious, go out and buy one at any department store.

Such brushes, if stiff, make excellent tools to clean out the abdominal cavities of fish after the entrails are removed. They do a far better job than most other methods.

PREVENT CHOPPING—To keep your boat from pounding in rough water (which makes for mighty rough riding), change the tilt of your outboard.

Bring the motor shaft closer to the stern.

This keeps the boat bow low in the water, no matter what the speed, and cuts out the wham-bang of high waves.

TAKE THE MISSUS WITH YOU—Many sportsmen miss out on a lot of fun by leaving the little lady at home.

It is surprising how adaptable women are on the trail. Seldom do you have to baby them, or grant any special privileges.

One man we know takes his frau on nearly every trip he makes. He is an international hunter, but admits his wife is a better shot, more intrepid, and more enthusiastic than he. Furthermore, she provides plenty of charm in the drawing room.

NIGHT FISHING FOR CRAPPIE—Fish for crappie at night when they bite best. A lighted lantern (shaded to place the boat in the shadow) will serve a dual purpose. It will attract more fish and at the same time lessen pesky insect swarms.

MARLIN FISHING—You who hanker for a bit of marlin fishing had better use a pretty rugged line if you want to land your catch.

Nothing short of a 30-pound test, fluorescent monofilament line is recommended for marlin fishing, especially if you want to take home a 150-pound fish.

Increase the test weight according to your optimism.

DARK RINGS IN YOUR BOAT—In these days of widespread water pollution your boat is apt to get mighty dirty, very quickly.

Mostly, this dirt takes the form of dark, slimy rings that accumulate on the hull at the waterline.

These can be removed easiest with a good scouring powder and a "Chore Girl" activated by a lot of muscle power.

CLEANING YOUR BOAT—Your boat's exterior, the bottom in particular, can be cleaned quicker and easier if you'll don a bathing suit and do the cleaning job while you and the boat both are in shallow water.

This mainly because clean water is handy all around you—and the underwater parts of the craft are kept soft.

Know The Truth

By Lavern Stewart

"Sanctification" is a Bible doctrine; however, it is not what some people think it is -- a second work of grace. The idea that something happens to one sometime after conversion which destroys his evil nature, or does away with his desire to sin is foreign to the Bible. Sanctification is not a miracle, but rather a process. One must be sanctified to go to heaven, Heb. 12:14. "Follow after peace with all men and the sanctification without which no man shall see the Lord." This is from the Revised Version; the King James has the word "holiness." To show that it does not mean to destroy any such thing as "inborn sin" or get rid of an evil nature by some direct power from God, Jesus said (John 17:19), I sanctify myself. One might read in the Old Testament (Exodus 13:2; Lev. 8:10, 27:14) about such things as houses, land, and vessels being sanctified, which simply meant that they were set apart for a holy use. Our sanctification starts at conversion when we obey the Gospel (Acts 2:38) and are thereby set apart from the world, or, to say it another way, when the Lord adds us to the church, Acts 2:47. Even before the church started, Jesus died so that men could be set apart from the world and therefore be a part of his body, the church, Ephesians 5:25-26, says Jesus died in order that He might sanctify and cleanse the church with the washing of water by the word. This passage is plain -- His death made it possible for the Word of God to command water baptism at which point one is (by Christ's blood) cleansed from his sins and so called out of the world, or sanctified. Further, we see from 1 Cor. 12, that one who has been baptized into Christ (Rom. 6:3) is sanctified and therefore, having answered God's call, is a saint.

"Can't you keep the weeds out of your OWN LAWN?"

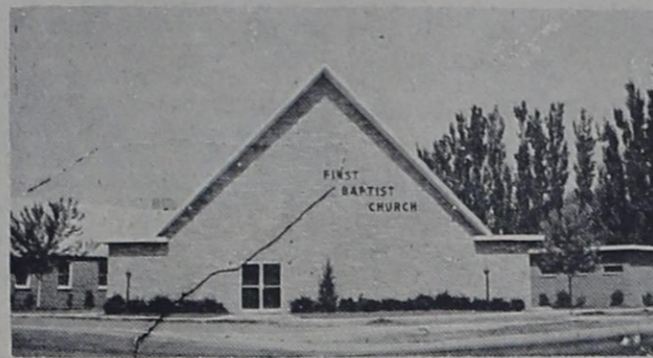

"But to do good and to communicate forget not: For with such sacrifices God is well pleased." Hebrews 13:16 "And he that keepeth His commandments dwelleth in Him, and He in him. And hereby we know He abideth in us, by the spirit which He has given us." 1 John 3:24

Two brothers, convicted of sheep stealing, were branded on the forehead with the letters S.I., meaning "Sheep Thief." One of the brothers was unable to bear the stigma, and tried to bury himself in a foreign land. But when men asked him about the strange letters he was embarrassed, so he kept on wandering restlessly, and at length, full of bitterness, dies and was buried far from home. The other brother said to himself, "I can't run away from the fact that I stole sheep, I will stay here and win back the respect of my neighbors and myself."

As the years passed, he built a reputation for integrity. One day a stranger came and saw the old man with the letters on his head. He asked a native what they meant. "It happened a long time ago," said the villager, "I've forgotten the particulars, but I think the letters are the abbreviation of 'Saint'."

4-H Camp Set July 31 - August 3

Parmer County 4-H'ers, leaders, and parents are looking forward to and making plans for the annual Parmer County 4-H County 4-H Camp, July 31-August 3. The camps held each year in the Santa Fe National Forest in New Mexico.

A new camp site will be used this year. The new site will be on Bull Creek. Up until this year 4-H'ers camped at Holy Ghost Canyon.

Everyone enjoys the cool mountain air, hikes, sleeping in tents and campers, and good food, according to Ronny F. McNutt, county agent.

James Mabry of Lazbuddie has been cook for the camp for the past 17 years. The food is good and always plenty of it, McNutt adds.

Roy Miller, adult leader of Lazbuddie, is in charge of getting equipment and other supplies ready for the camp.

There is one requirement of a 4-H'er before he or she is eligible to attend camp. This requirement is to turn in a record book on their project work this past year. This record book should be turned in to your local adult organizational leader or to the county agent's office immediately.

Any 4-H'er that has failed to get their camp fee of $9 per person into the County Agent's office in Farwell should do so immediately.

Adult leaders will pick up members at the Lazbuddie School Monday morning, July 31, at 7 a.m. and at Clays Corner at 7:10 a.m. In the Bovina area, members and leaders will meet at the bank building at 7 a.m. in the Friona area, members and leaders will meet in front of the grade school cafeteria at 7 a.m.

All members will meet at the County Courthouse in Farwell at 7:30 a.m. Monday, July 31, and leave as a group from this point.

Each member should bring a sack lunch to eat for dinner Monday.

During June --

Parmer Co. Has 8 Auto Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated eight accidents on rural highways in Parmer County during the month of June, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, highway patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person injured and an estimated property damage of $2,822.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1967 shows a total of 52 accidents resulting in three persons killed, 21 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $36,561.00.

The number of traffic deaths in Texas continues to rise. For the first six months of 1967 there have been 1,476 traffic deaths compared to 1,396 traffic deaths for the first six months of 1966. This six per cent increase is very alarming, and chances are it will become very critical because of vacation months and holiday periods still ahead to intensify the magnitude of the accident picture, Sgt. Wells said.

This alarming increase of accidents can be reduced by drivers knowing and obeying traffic laws, being a defensive driver and being a courteous driver. The Sergeant stated, "Courtesy is contagious -- try it."

On The Farm In Parmer County

By RONNY MCNUTT
County Agent

The amounts of rain received over the county this past week were varied. Amounts ranged from about one-half to two and one-half inches. Some hail and wind damage was reported east of Friona.

Several farmers say this is the most rain they have seen for July and for this time of the year particularly.

Weeds are growing everywhere. If you think you are the only one having weed problems talk to almost anyone and you'll find out you're one of the group.

SORGHUM MIDGE

According to Don Rummel, area entomologist, there is a possibility of increased sorghum midge damage this season. During the past three years only minor midge damage has been experienced. However, the unusual amounts of rainfall and cool weather have provided favorable conditions for a midge buildup this year. The most important consideration is the fact that a larger acreage of grain sorghum will head this year after midge populations have had time to reach economic levels.

During the past five years grain sorghum which bloomed by August 1 usually did not suffer economic damage. However, this may not hold true every year. It should be noted that damaging infestations occurred approximately 10 days earlier than normal in central Texas this year.

Early midge populations are maintained on Johnsongrass and other wild hosts; where several generations may occur. As the wild hosts mature, the midge migrate to nearby grain sorghum. The early grain sorghum infestations are not sufficiently damaging to warrant control. However, these early infestations contribute directly to the midge populations which cause damage in late grain sorghum.

The extended planting period this year makes the development of damaging midge populations in late planted sorghum more likely.

At this time it is not definite that a serious midge infestation will occur. However, conditions exist which make this a possibility and a warning to this effect is in order.

Producers who have late planted sorghum are urged to watch early heading fields in their local areas for midge activity. The observance of midge activity in early heading sorghum is a good indication that nearby fields of later heading sorghum may suffer economic damage. The midge control recommendations should be studied so that insecticides can be applied properly should control be necessary.

Our web-footed friends and others are given their due in a big book a child would enjoy.

He can learn about the comorant, an obedient bird trained to catch fish for a master. There is the stalwart stormy petrel, only six inches long, never touching land from October to June. In these pages he meets the pelican, a bird able to float like a cork. And there are many more.

As he pores over pictures and chapters a child will learn about the many subdivisions of mammals, birds, reptiles, fishes and invertebrates of all sorts.

The World of Animals, part of the World Library series of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wis., acquaints a young reader with the wild life of the world and with the wild and domestic animals he can find in his own country.

If you are building a library for a child, a set of reference books can be valuable in his work and play. Relatives may want to join on the add-a-book plan, giving a book each birthday. A colorful array of volumes is to be found at local variety stores, bookstores, department stores and even drug-store racks.

The world of change and challenge will engross a child as he studies. The many changes of animal life before man arrived and since are colorfully illustrated.
