WORK ON TOBACCO STATION

Clark Lot on West Main Street Will Be Fenced, Nice Barn Built And Seed Shade Erected—Otto Olsen In Charge.

The site selection for the tobacco demonstration farm has been settled and work will begin at once improving the place. A nice fence will be built around the lot, three acres located on West Main street and known as the Clark lot, a nice, commodious barn will be erected and an eight acre shade for seed beds will also be put up. This shade will be used for growing tobacco after the seed beds are done with, and possibly arrangements will also look after the industry in Texas, all other sections, though making this city his headquarters. The three acres are considered plenty to demonstrate in any and every way with growing tobacco, and as a whole is placed as one of the best things the county ever did when it secured an

AN EXCELLENT MARKET.

Nacogdoches Starts The Cotton Season With More Cotton Buyers Than Ever Before, Insuring Top Prices—Farmers Will Bring Staple Here.

The fellow who last year, or any year for that matter, imagined he had a grievance, and thought this city had too "few" cotton buyers, and who carried his cotton to other points to take the same price, but who went thinking such would be better, can settle back in his easy chair this season, for there are more cotton buyers in Nacogdoches than for years. They are about the most numerous citizens we have at present, and the way they are going to buy the fleecy staple will cause the old heads and long time residents to open their eyes in astonishment. In the first place the folks who live in this county but who carried cotton to other points, with the belief that they would get better prices, nearly always got fooled. That has been proven on paper, in black and white, and beyond all reasonable doubt. Nacogdoches paid as high a price for cotton last year as any city in East Texas, and in lots of cases paid more than other towns for a radii of fifty miles. The people who went to other points learned this (some of them) after it was too late. But this year things have changed and buyers are here to the heart's content of the folks who yearn for more "in the market." Nacogdoches will be the leader this year as last, and the farmers who fail to come here with their fleecy staple will be losers. There are already four men here to purchase cotton, representing the largest firms in the South. They are Vinson Byrnes for Algier & Co.; H. K. Brown for Kempner & Co.; W. G. Bateman for Bateman & Crow; and Mr. Naman who was here last year, but the firm he is with is not learned. Now this is in addition to the resident buyers. These will probably include every merchant in the city who has bought in the past—Mayer & Schmidt, Tucker, Hayter & Co.—and others. Anyway there will be plenty of purchasers for the fleecy staple in Nacogdoches, and farmers are here put on guard that to get the best they ought to bring their stuff to this city.

Three Noted Men.

Denison Tex., August 24, (1 p. m.) Senator Bailey, Governor Campbell and Governor Haskell of Oklahoma will speak from the same platform here during the Woodmen state encampment September sixth. Bailey gave his promise to speak that date a week ago, and telegrams were received from Governors Haskell and Campbell to-day, accepting invitations to speak that date.

appropriation for the farm. The people of this county who have been growing tobacco and who expect to grow it in the future, will receive untold benefits from this farm and the man or men in charge. It is thought that if a big success is made the next two years, no trouble will be experienced in getting a much larger appropriation from the state to continue it.

Will Prevent Meeting.

San Antonio Tex., August 24, (1:30 p. m.) Mother Jones of labor Union fame is here today and said she would go to El Paso to try to prevent the meeting of Tatt and Diaz. How she would attempt to prevent the two Presidents meeting she did not state. She said she did not want Tatt with a man like Diaz.

Mexican, drank but little and had the confidence of the business people at Lutkin. The remains were taken in charge by Humason's Undertaking establishment and prepared for burial. Interment took place this afternoon at Keltys.

The general opinion and belief is that he had stopped on his way home, for a brief rest and had fallen asleep. In this connection he was caught by the extra freight and killed as stated, although everything possible was done by the people in charge of the train to avert the tragedy and stop the train in time. No blame whatever attaches to them.

MEXICAN KILLED AT LUTKIN.

"Tamaie John" Run Over by Freight Train on Cotton Belt This Morning About 2 O'clock—Body Badly Mangled.

Special to The Sentinel.

Lutkin, Texas, August 25.—Juan Garza, better known as "Tamaie John" was run over and badly mangled by Extra freight train No. 170 at about 2 o'clock this morning, just outside the limits of the Cotton Belt yards, in the northern part of Lutkin. Three extras were coming into Lutkin at the hour mentioned with No. 170 in charge of Conductor Guinn and Engineer Hunter at the throttle, in advance. According to a statement made by the railroad people Garza was in a sitting posture when first seen and no doubt was in a drunken condition and unable to get off the track and out of the way. It has been his custom a long time to sell tamales around on the streets of Lutkin till twelve or 1 o'clock and then walk out to his home at Keltys, two miles from Lutkin on the Cotton Belt railroad. Last night he left town at the usual hour, about 1 o'clock, being seen last in the Berry restaurant. Half an hour later he was dead.

He was about 49 years old, owns his own home at Keltys, and leaves a wife and several children, his sons having very good positions at the sawmill at Keltys. Garza, was a good

DIES PREDICTS SUCCESS

Has Three Months Engagements Ahead for Speech Making in the Entire District.—Will Be Candidate Again.

Congressman Martin Dies was in the city for a few hours this morning, having come in from a trip to Jacksonville and Rusk. He also visited and delivered speeches at Holcomb and one at Alto, before the Farmers' Union.

Congressman Dies, when seen by a reporter for the News, in addition to stating that he would, of course, be a candidate to succeed himself and that he would devote the next three months to filling engagements for speeches in this district, he gave out the following statement:

"I feel hopeful that the next national election will return a Democratic Congress. It the tariff legislation of the Republican Congress, which has just adjourned, does not convince the American people that the Republican party cannot be relied upon to reduce taxes and expenses, then nothing could convince. Some people may momentarily be deceived by the grand stand play of the President in his demand for free raw material, but it will require no very high degree of intelligence for the people to understand all such legislation is in the interest of the manufacturers, and against the interest of the people. We sell the raw material and buy back the manufactured article."

Speaking of his own record in the extra session of Congress, Mr. Dies said: "I voted for every proposition to reduce the taxes and curtail the expenses of the government."—Lutkin News.

The trades day matter—speak!

Good old East Texas ribbon cane syrup—best made—due soon.

Even the majesty of the law trembles when such heinous crimes as the Houston assault takes place.

Just be thankful it is not any hotter. That is all the consolation we can offer at present—and the only promise for the future.

The finding of gold in old Nacogdoches county is merely one other argument that you can find most anything you may want in East Texas.

Hot weather is not worrying the folks of this section when applied to the crop situation. Cotton is not the only thing the farmers of Nacogdoches grow.

Yes, we are perfectly willing to exchange some of our dryness for a portion of that Colorado wetness. Moisture is a wanted thing at the present date.

The tobacco industry is the greatest thing in this county, and the people will profit well by turning their attention to a certain extent to growing this crop.

The weather the past few days has shown this section to be a hot number. It is not always thusly with the weather, but nearly always with other things. Push it along—a trades day is a mighty good proposition.

This county must have an exhibit at the Dallas fair this year. And more than that it must have an exhibit at the Beaumont fair and the Shreveport fair. Now don't pass this up—it's important. An exhibit association ought to be formed with the city backing it up.

The dives and joints—there are several of them in town—ought to be pushed out. There is no room in a decent community for such trash and the people are growing tired of seeing some things that are going on. Make the "nigger" dives vacate.

This section is causing much favorable comment these days on account of the excellent tobacco harvests and prospects for a good second crop. The tobacco industry is a great thing for Nacogdoches county and the farmers will do well to increase the acreage another year. Tobacco is as staple as cotton.

Just to call your attention to the exhibit proposition again. Nacogdoches county must have displays at the fairs. There is the Dallas fair, the Shreveport fair and the Beaumont fair. Every one of them are are pretty big concerns and every one draws thousands of people annually. Can Nacogdoches county afford to pass the opportunities to show this county up.

THE GUILTY FLEETH."

The Center News says "the guilty fleeth when no man pursueth," and then cites the following from the Lutkin Tribune:

"The fact that there are more people in jail at Lutkin than there are in jail at Nacogdoches or Center, is no indication of a better condition of affairs in Shelby or Nacogdoches counties than those in Angelina county. Lutkin is a railroad center, and the people from every section of the country. There are five different railroads that come to Lutkin, and they come too, from several sections of country, that for years have been known as the wild and woolly class, and of course sometimes these kind of folks drift into Lutkin and sometimes get into trouble and later into jail. And again, there are at Lutkin two of the largest saw mills in the country. They employ more than one thousand men, and many of these men are transient, and some are not Christians. Those who are not Christians sometimes get a little too lively, especially on paydays, and sometimes they get into trouble and finally into jail. The business volume that Lutkin transacts with this class of people in ten times greater than such business at either Nacogdoches or Center. Of course Angelina county has some bad men in jail and some bad cases against men who are out now on bond. The murder case that recently came here from San Jacinto county ought not to be charged up to this county. Roquemore, who killed a man in this county near Michelli, was a citizen of Nacogdoches county. Roy Shirey, who is now under a twenty years sentence, was not a drunkard, neither was Frank Thompson. In discussing the criminal record of any given locality there is always a number of things to be considered, before the proper conclusions can be reached. It is always best to be just, and first see that our own glass house is invulnerable before starting out with the proposition that we are moral paragans."

THE Nacogdoches Sentinel is trying to get the people up there to become interested in a creamery proposition. The wonder is that Nacogdoches has not established a creamery long ago. If some of the people who are interested will write to some of the South Texas creameries for figures on the subject they will be surprised at how much an institution pays.—Lutkin Tribune.

You can find most all kind of people every where, but you have to go to West Texas to find many people of a same mind. The folks of that county are natural born boosters, from the cradle to the grave, and never shut off steam except to catch new breath. That very thing is making West Texas, and if this section had some of those pull-together, boosting, advertising, never give up qualities, with the advantages we have here, East Texas would lead the rest of the world.

NACOGDOCHES as the leading market center of this section, ought to make some efforts to attract more trade from afar. Last year's cotton record shows this to have been the best city in East Texas and frequently paid much higher for the staple than any other town or city. That was a good thing, and still more hustle ought to be put forward to make this season eclipse the last.

WEST Texas is proud of the fact that good rains have fallen there. Well, those people have cause to be proud—and lack of rain is the only thing in the world that will cause a Panhandler to be the least discouraged. Give that country moisture and they can out hustle any people on earth.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

If West Texas had only half the natural resources of East Texas had only half the hustling proclivities of the western part of the State, this section would be one of the greatest industrial centers of the world.—Rusk Press Journal.

Although 10,000,000 pounds of butter are consumed annually in Texas, her forty-five creameries only supply one-sixth of the amount. Strong argument for more butter factories.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Texas imports less butter today than ever before and more than she will import next year. New creameries are being built in numerous portions of the state, and within a few years more it is believed less than half of this amount of butter will be brought in from other states. The creameries have proved successful in practically every instance, and there is no reason why the Sentinel's present campaign should not result in the erection of one of the best in Texas at Nacogdoches before the coming of 1910.—Dallas News.

THERE are some sections of Nacogdoches putting up with dives that ought not to be allowed. Push the filthy places out of the way of decent people. It's not right to have to suffer such degradation and if the joints can't ousted one way, do it another.

THE people of this city can not begin too early on the trades day matter. The two had last year were successes in every way and all concerned were well pleased. It stands to reason that any and all others would prove even greater successes.—The merchants and business men would do well to get together along this line at once.

THE Nacogdoches Sentinel is trying to get the people up there to become interested in a creamery proposition. The wonder is that Nacogdoches has not established a creamery long ago. If some of the people who are interested will write to some of the South Texas creameries for figures on the subject they will be surprised at how much an institution pays.—Lutkin Tribune.

SENSATIVE SAN AUGUSTINE.

The Nacogdoches Sentinel says of Timpson that it is the only town in East Texas that has nerve enough to try to progress, and this because Timpson is talking of holding a fair. It has been said that "Caesar was not more ambitious than Cicero, but in another way," and each East Texas town has its own way of progressing, and all are going ahead.—Beaumont Enterprise.

The Tribune did not notice the original article, but if the Enterprise quotes correctly and the Nacogdoches Sentinel stated that there is but one town in East Texas "trying to progress" and that was Timpson, we feel called upon to remark that Nacogdoches ought not to continue to ignore her little neighbor town in San Augustine county which has progressed proportionately more than Nacogdoches in the past year.

Take the San Augustine people away from Nacogdoches and there will be a serious hole in that city. Bring them back to the old home and the towns would reverse positions shortly.

If you won't notice us, don't slam us in any such manner, please, even tho' we haven't set the day for our coming county fair.—San Augustine Tribune.

Begging pardon as quickly as we can Denton, and really wish we hadn't said it so loud. Of course you are just as progressive as possible, and we commend the fair proposition.—it is a good thing. Can't blame any East Texas town for being sensitive for—well, we are not going to say it.

POLITICS are beginning to interest and attract some attention. Most any old time one can hear probable candidates being discussed,—from precinct to state. There are lots of fellows in the field already, and goodness knows how the line up will look in six months more. The state offices are going to draw like molasses, where flies are allowed. The treasurer's office is going to be hard sought and possibly next in line with the strongest fight will be the Comptroller's counter. The former is now occupied by Sam Sparks, who threatens to run again, while the other will have enough seekers to make it warm,—including the Right-Honorable Bob-Barker-of-Santone-and-grand-old-texas. Push it along—there's money in it—but the capital bunch ought to be given a rest. At least some of them.

HON. GUS SHAW, the Red River planter, banker, merchant and candidate for Governor, has his peepers opened at last. A short spin over the country has put him over 1,000 miles, cost him like blazes and only two speeches to his credit. This thing of running for Governor is a snap,—and no wonder Hon. Gus wants reform.—Nacogdoches Sentinel.

Gus Shaw is as able as any one of the other candidates to pay the price—more able than most of them. But it is little short of scandalous that it costs so much money to make the race for the state's highest office. If poor men are to be barred from other high and honorable offices in Texas, as they now seem to be barred from the governorship, then may the good Lord have mercy on Texas.—Dallas News.

THERE is no demand among those who pay the taxes for a special session of the legislature to consider the proposed amendment to the federal constitution providing for an income tax. Texas is just now enjoying a little peace of mind while trying to keep cool. An extra session might afford an opportunity for political work by the candidates, but there is absolutely no need for otherwise. The income tax proposition can wait until January, 1911, and then be passed upon as soon as half the states will act. And who is certain that the Texas legislature would approve the proposition?—Marlin Democrat.

EVERY few days a midnight burglar scare takes place some where in the city,—very strong evidence that the loafers ought to be made to move on. The dives and human filth joints are still doing business as of old too,—another extremely nauseating feature that ought to be pushed out of sight of decent people.

THE scarcity of water in some localities in Texas is causing serious looks on the faces of consumers. The water reservoir here is not any to large nor is there too much water in it. Sixty days more of dryness would make things in that line real serious here. The people should be careful about their consumption of water, though this is not said with any intention of causing folks to cut out baths,—nor to drink less (water.)

THE political bees are working over time these days and a good hatching will probably result. There are already a baker's dozen in the field for gubernatorial honors, as well as a nice, healthy size bunch for other fat places. This thing of office seeking in Texas is a terrible disease indeed.

It is too hot for fish to bite, and the drouth has robbed the river of its spring-time charm. The beautiful flowers have withered and died under the heat of the sweltering sun, the green grass has turned a dull brown and much of the earth is sick and weary, drooping under the enervation influence of the unprecedented drouth. But there is this consolation: There can be but little more of it. The days are growing shorter. The days and the nights will soon become cooler, the rains will come, and under our new conditions we will soon forget the trials and discomforts of the past. Human nature has a peculiar recuperative quality, and it is well that it is so, for often the trials of life are many and the burdens grow great under the glare of the noon sun.—Cleburne Enterprise.

THERE is very little excuse for any one being out of work these days, and when you do find a fellow idle, it is usually from choice. Since the recent vargancy law went into effect some folks have gone to work, who never worked before, and still there are some who seem to think it is cheaper to not work at all. The loafers and loungers, white and black, male and female, ought to be run in if they won't work. Street and roads need fixing.

WORTH MOUNTAINS OF GOLD

During Change of Life, says Mrs. Chas. Barclay

Graniteville, Va.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Va.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures of female ills as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

For more than 30 years it has been curing female complaints such as inflammation, ulceration, local weakness, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life. It costs but little to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and, as Mrs. Barclay says, it is "worth mountains of gold" to suffering women.

PROF. HARRINGTON HERE.

Former President Of A. & M. College Spends Day in the City on Business Relative to Tobacco Industry.

Prof. H. H. Harrington, formerly president of the state A. & M. College, came in yesterday afternoon, spending the night and a portion of today here, leaving on the T. & N. O. for Fort Worth. Prof. Harrington's visit here was in connection with the tobacco demonstration farm which is to be located in this county. The selection of the site has practically been settled, but Prof. Harrington had not been here to approve. In company with Otto Olsen, George T. McNess and J. T. Gill, Prof. Harrington called on a number of the business men and spent the morning in meeting the people in general.

This was the gentleman's second visit to this city, the first having been made about four years ago, and of course he notes many changes and improvements. In reference to the tobacco business in this section, he stated that it looked very promising indeed as did other lines of agricultural work. He is a firm believer in "intense and diversified" farming and believes strongly in that as the salvation of the small farmer and farmer and especially the big East Texas farmer. Prof. Harrington left this afternoon via the T. & N. O. for Fort Worth.

George T. McNess and family are moving today from the Young place on North Fredonia street to a place on Hospital. The Young place was recently purchased by County Judge F. P. Marshall for a home and he and Mrs. Marshall will move into it by the first of the month.

COUNTY TEACHERS INSTITUTES.

Program Issued For The Meetings Which Take Place August 30 And September 6—Large Number of Teachers Expected to Attend.

The following program has been issued to the teachers of this county:

The legal County Teachers' Institutes for both white and colored teachers of Nacogdoches county will convene as follows:

The colored institute will convene at the colored public school building in Nacogdoches at 8:30 a. m., August 30th, and continue five days. The white teachers will convene at 8:30 a. m., September 6th, and continue five days.

Every teacher who is teaching or expects to teach in this county during the scholastic years of 1909-1910, must attend as bona-fide participants and not simply because the law compels them to do so. Teachers are urged to study section 37-92 and 93 of the school laws of Texas. Teachers of independent districts are not exempt from the above sections of the school laws.

The law governing institutes will be strictly enforced to be a bone-fide participant, every teacher must do all the work outlined in this program to the best of his ability. The teacher who would go to the institute unprepared would go before his classes the same way. During the five-day institute let each teacher be a live wire desiring to help and be helped. Every teacher should study every topic in this program.

Study these books carefully before the institute opens. No excuse for not getting the books will be accepted. Supply yourselves with note book and pencil and take notes of principal things that occur.

Let every teacher be prepared to take charge of the institute with either Mann or the Human Plant as the book of study. The teachers will be asked to contribute twenty-five cents each for the expenses of the institute; we feel sure that no teacher will complain of this small sum. Some Methodist Revival Meetings.

Rev. J. Eugene Matlock of Georgetown has been conducting some of the best revival meetings ever held in Nacogdoches county. Rev. Matlock is an evangelist of note. While a young man, he is a power in the pulpit, and he is doing much and lasting good every where he goes. While he is of a friendly temperament and is a good mixer, yet he is very firm and emphatic while in the pulpit and elsewhere. He is very sincere and zealous for God, and never shows any disposition to compromise with sin. It is strengthening to any child of God to be present and see this gospel preacher as he labors so earnestly, calling men to a higher life, as it is in the man Christ-Jesus.

His many friends of Appleby, Prairie Grove, Smith's Chapple, Shady Grove, Nacogdoches, and Bonita, who have had the privilege of listening to him preach have united themselves in one voice in petitioning this coming gospel minister of Texas to come back to Nacogdoches county next summer and preach for them.

As Bro. Matlock expects to conduct some meetings out of Texas next summer, it will be impossible for him to reach all of the points to which he has been invited.

So numerous have been the calls for Bro. Matlock's services, that it has been deemed necessary, if all are favored, that we have a "campmeeting". Therefore, taking into consideration these facts, the people of the neighboring churches have agreed to arrange for a "campmeeting", to be held at the "Weaver-branch," near Shady Grove next summer.

Bro. Matlock, with his singer, Bro. Dickson of Carthage has agreed to come and conduct a twenty-days "campmeeting." Let all whom it may concern take notice and be present at that time. We are expecting the greatest revival of religion ever enjoyed in this county.

Our prayers are for Bro. Matlock, his singer, and their families.

About Home Folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith went to Nacogdoches today, where they will spend a few days before returning to their home in Campti, La.

Miss Alma Houston and Miss Foye of Nacogdoches, who have been visiting Mrs. Emery Ray left for home this afternoon.

Ike Murray, a prominent and well known citizen of Nacogdoches county living in the Appleby neighborhood, accompanied by his little son, Emmett, was in Lufkin a short time this afternoon on his way home from Alto, where he had been to have the virtues of a mad stone tried on the arm of his little son who was bitten by a mad dog last Monday.—The madstone adhered to the wound made by the teeth of the dog fourteen times and Mr. Murray feels assured that the child will be entirely safe. The dog that bit the child belonged to Henry Ramin, a neighbor.

Prof. John B. Power, of Nacogdoches, an old time friend of the editor, was in Lufkin yesterday and gave the Tribune office a pleasant call. It has been a long time since we had seen John, but time has dealt kindly with him during the intervening years, and he still resembles the same old John as of old. He will be one of the teachers in the Nacogdoches school, this year, in fact will be principal of the West Nacogdoches school, which is one of the best schools in the county. He had a good report to make concerning people and things generally in the Nacogdoches country and said among other things that people were happy and prosperous. He thinks the tobacco business will be made a great success up there and that it will get to be the leading money crop of that section of country. John is an optimist in respect to everything that concerns the present or future welfare of Nacogdoches county.—Lufkin Tribune.

The dampness is appreciated even if given us in only a limited way. Anything wet right now is such a scarce proposition that it is rather a "novelty." Wanted—more rain.

If there ever was a time in the history of Nacogdoches when organization was needed, it is right now. There are opportunities knocking at the door but there is nobody and no "body" to take things in hand.

It is never too late to do good,—but of course the sooner we get at a thing the better it will be. This thing of rocking along because we have been use to it, is a mighty poor way to be. There are lots of things that might be done if the right spirit was shown.

JAMES HAYES QUARLES, librarian of the A. & M. College, and a newspaper man of note, will enter the role of benedicts September 15. The right-honorable James Hayes-Q. is one of the nerviest men in Texas anyway, and wears that high silk cover to a fare you well.

The young men of Nacogdoches have an opportunity to do something worth while for their city. It is up to them to get together, co-operate and pull hard for the future of this home section. There are lots of things that needs be and would be, with the proper spirit of push and hustle.

There is lots more than just talking. Anybody knows that, but sometimes talk results in real doings. Some folks may not think that all talk is good (and it's not) but a certain amount can be worth a great deal. Let's start some talk about a Young Mens Business Club,—and then make it go.

The tobacco industry is already taking on new life for the new year and indications are that a much larger acreage than ever before will be planted. The tobacco industry is a great thing for Texas and especially the redland belt, of which Nacogdoches county is the center, and every thing for the upbuilding of that industry ought to be done.

IMAGINARY grievances must be awful things to suffer. Take any fellow who has a mind that run rampant, picturing himself the worst treated being in the world, discriminatad against in every way and on every occasion and it is a pitable spectacle. There is nothing more deserving of sympathy than a person who has lost all hope and places himself the object of scoff by his fellow men. Imagination is the cause of half the troubles in the world.

The ice man seems to be holding on with an unusual tenacity this season, and instead of the thing getting better, the weather grows hotter and the ice bill larger. But what's the use,—stop the ice wagon and the coal man appears immediately.

The tobacco industry in Nacogdoches county is the biggest thing in East Texas if the people would but wake to the realization of the facts. There ought to be at least twice as much tobacco grown next year as this, and to do this some work must be done. Encourage the farmers to try a small patch of tobacco,—it's a money crop.

A CREAMERY is just as sure to pay here as any where else. There are fully five hundred cows in a radii of ten miles that can furnish the cream and the owners of these cows would be glad of the market. A good creamery would distribute from $2,000 to $3,500 per month among the farmers, besides the amount of money brought in here by the sale of the butter. Small factories pay where ever located and there's no reason they shouldn't do so in Nacogdoches.

EDITOR FORD of Orange has but little use for the Port Arthur mosquitoes. He makes no criticism of the home product, and acts as if the Orange specie is an unusually quiet, docile, harmless kind. Stump of course believes in the Port Arthur pest for all he is worth and when Jawn W. Gates is perambulating around the Earth, Stump tells us about the city and her wonderful opportunities, including the "midnight songsters."

'SPOSE some energetic young fellow, business man, gets his wits together and canvasses the city for another trades day. Get up a real interesting program, including things worth while and a little fun on the side, but as a whole to attract the people who want to come to see and those who want to come for other purposes too. Wouldn't the merchants get into the move? Wouldn't they co-operate and donate liberally to such a thing? Believe they would and further believe that with a good strong program, a pulling together of the people of the city and some extra efforts on the part of the direct management, that a trades day would eclipse all former efforts. The two last fall were good, weren't they? Then one to beat them would have to be an extra good one. Some hustling, boosting, working fellow could do much,—if he would.

The very recent visit of Charles M. Schwab, the multi-millionaire steel king, to and through East Texas, is exciting no end of wonder with some folks. It is the old story that has so often been told. Some day the enterprising, hustling folks from other sections—with capital at their command—will swoop down on old East Texas and develop the resources of this wonderful country. It is that same old story. We folks of East Texas do not appreciate the good things and do not realize the opportunities at hand. When the time of awakening comes—perchance it will be too late to do other than sigh and go back to sleep. If the people of this country would but unite—get together—and develop—this would be the richest and most attractive portion of the globe. It is here. Most everything one wants, including opportunities beneath and above the ground. The fact that the very highest development is not now going on, is not because there are no resources, but because the people choose to let them remain as they have for decades and even centuries. Some body, sometime, by some means, is going to wake the people of the piney woods but it will be too late for us to enjoy any benefits.

FORT WORTH is in arms, so to speak, and swears vengeance on the disgraceful section known as "Hells Half Acre." Fort Worth is merely repeating a performance that is now due, and that takes place about annually. But Fort Worth is no better city than any other in Texas, and really is only making believe. Commercialism is at the bottom of it all and as long as the world turns there will be no change in the "Hells Half Acre" unless it be in location and increasing the size. All towns are interested to a certain extent with characters that conduct such places, human buzzards that prey by day and night, and make possible the dumping-grounds for all degradation. Yes, nearly all towns have them, we'll say, and to get rid of them entirely is out of the question. Fort Worth's present status is merely the picture of smaller towns enlarged and segregated. Some towns do that while others put up with dives and joints and hangouts. Fort Worth is merely bluffing.

That Beaumont preacher who says that God is sending the mosquitoes, the heat and the charbon to plague the people for their indifference, and who added, "He has no fault to find with the woman, but the men of Beaumont in particular are indifferent," evidently got his evidence mixed. The reverend gentleman should see the way the mosquitoes go after the ladies. And as for the heat—does he for instance fancy that any woman who does her own housework did not feel the effects of the temperature the past few days while working over the ironing board or the kitchen stove? The reverend gentleman seems to want some free advertising.—Port Arthur News.

Quite a number of young girls enjoyed themselves at the Park yesterday at a picnic given by Misses Alma and Fairy Cavin in honor of their cousin, Kate Beall Sheperd of Tatum. The out of town guests besides the honoree, were Misses Buna King of Beaumont, Mary Weatherly of Garrison. Chaperones were Mrs. Marvin King and Misses Lilly and Bertha Cavin.

Obituary.

Each and every home is at times filled with mourning, each and every heart is at times made to grieve when the divine Creator in His infinite wisdom permits the death angel to make its advent into its limits and claims as its victim one of the dear ones from its realms. Such was the state of the home of W. M. and Sallie Reedy when on July the 7th God sought to choose from their midst one of the brightest gems of their home circle, little June Harris, who came to bless this world only for two short years. He was born April 1, 1907 and died July 7th 1909. During this short time he proved to be a child from which much could have been expected if he had only been permitted to live. He showed that great skill in learning that lay concealed in his little mind which in after years if developed would prove a great blessing to his family, his community, his state and the Father in heaven. He had already at such a tender age learned to talk plainly and having such a sweet disposition as he did. He used this talent so well in speaking kindly and softly to those who spoke to him. Naturally we can't understand why such a good child should be taken from us it nearly breaks the heart of fond mother, proud father and loving brothers and sisters besides all who know such a child to have to part with them, but mother, father, friends, we must remember that God in His wisdom does all things for the best. Yes God saw that he was too good to go through this vile world and be subject to the trials and temptations that confronts life so he called him up higher to enjoy the bliss of his eternal home where no pains nor cares shall ere molest his infinite happiness.

Dear ones do not grieve for him for death is really again to such a child for we know beyond a doubt that he is now enjoying the eternal bliss of his heavenly home. It could well be said blessed are they who die as he died before they are subject to the sins of this wicked world. Yes dear ones he is now a little angel fitting about in that sweet beyond watching your every step and he is today using his sweet tender little voice, so sacred to his mothers ear, beckoning you to come and join him. Will you do it? You can not call him back to you, all you can do is prepare yourself to meet him and to do so you have got to be as he was for Christ—says unless you become as a little child ye can not enter the Kingdom of heaven. Thou art gone our precious darling

Never more canst thou return.

Will Get A Barometer.

Captain H. H. Cooper is arranging to give the public another convenience, as it might be termed. The weather forecast given now daily is a much appreciated feature, but the Captain proposes to go that one better by installing a fine barometer in the post office. This will give the condition of the weather for the past 24 hours, wind direction and other things coupled together that a forecast can be made. In other words it is the proposition of predicting weather, as is done by the government, based on past experiences. The Captain endeavored to interest Uncle Sam in the matter of supplying him with a barometer, but nothing doing, so he ordered one at his own expense. It will be here in a few days now and when installed and working will prove an appreciated feature to the present weather service.

Petition For Pardon.

A petition is being circulated today, having for its object the releasing of James Boatman from the state prison at Rusk. Boatman was convicted of forging the name of A. W. Ellis, of Lutkin, to a check, and then cashing the check. He was given two years in the pen and has already served nearly fifteen months. At the time he was sentenced he was about seventeen years of age. The boy is well connected, his parents being highly respected citizens of Nacogdoches county. It has been claimed all along that there was another party in the transaction who induced young Boatman to commit the crime.

You can not be well, feel well, or look well if your kidneys are deranged. Foley's Kidney Remedy makes healthy kidneys, and cures backache, rheumatism, and all disorders of the urinary organs. Restores health and strength. Mast Bros., & Smith. eod

Rev. T. J. Dunn who has been holding a protracted meeting at Martinsville, in Nacogdoches county, came in this afternoon and went out to his home at Jack creek. He reports a most excellent meet. The services were well attended and many people became interested.

On The Fantastic Feminine.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson writes most entertainingly, if rather sarcastically, in the American Magazine for August on the idiosyncrasies of Woman's apparel, and the article accompanied by illustrations which are not caricatures.

She says with a great deal of truth, "Dress means so many things to a woman that a man can never really understand. It is at once her profoundest interest, her amusement, her profession, her recreation, religion and dissipation. Her passion for it is vital and fundamental and lies deeper than the instinct of adornment or any mere abstract love of grace and beauty. She knows intuitively that she by the mere act of being fair sets countless laws of life in motion."

And then she proceeds with no gentle hand to flagellate the vagaries and eccentricities of the present modes, finding it particularly incongruous that just at this time when woman chooses to make of herself, by her apparel, the clinging, helpless vine, that she should clamor for a hand in the government of the nation.

She strikes a blow at the "Picture Hair" of the day and sympathizes with the playgoer who cannot ask the lady whose coiffure so fearfully and wonderfully made, obscures his vision, to remove her hair, as he could his hat for the "picture hair" is a harder matter to fight than the picture hat.

How she makes us of the meager purse sigh for the good old days when the black velvet gown of our grandmother or the ubiquitous "black silk of our mothers could be depended upon to proclaim one well dressed and to "the manner born"! Alas! it is like reading of the golden age or the fairy tales of our childhood, in this age of unrest, when the season begins with an empire style and closes with the long waisted gowns of "The Moyen Age."

In all this we heartily coincide with Mrs. Wilson, but when she heaves a sigh for "Mother" who she claims is a martyr to the prevailing modes, we must say her sympathy is misplaced. "Comfortable middle aged mother," does not now exist, except in story books of a past generation or perchance in some remote cross roads settlement.

The mother of today cannot be distinguished in her dress, her interests, her line of thought, her pleasures, from the daughter.

Mrs. Wilson's pathetic words of condolence might apply to the grandmother of today, but far more likely to the great grandmothers, for even the grandmothers assume with complacency, the empire modes, the "rats" and puffs, and the high heels the peach basket hats of the day.

Mrs. Wilson has expressed a hope that no "mere man" would read her article on "the Fantastic Feminine" but at any rate the editor of the Houston Post has and makes it the subject of an editorial.

He perhaps one of those men who say to their wives in the language of Mrs. Wilson's article, "article, "My dear if a lot of silly women want to make caricatures of themselves, will you tell me why you sensible ones participate in the orgie?" and who would no doubt be ashamed of her if she displayed such independence and would wonder why she does not look like other women.

Victor Hugo Week in Paris. The dedication of a new statue of Victor Hugo by Rodin in Paris on September 26th, is to be made the occasion of a week's celebration in memory of the great novelist and poet. There will be a ceremony at the Pantheon, a revival at the Comedie Francaise of "Le Roi s'amuse" and a fete in front of Notre Dame, with a big procession of vasa bonds carrying colored torches.

The loge will be reserved at the Comedie Francaise for Adele Hugo, the daughter of the poet, whose sad and tragic history aroused the sympathy of the world. As a girl she was kidnapped at Guernsey by an English officer. Her parents searched Europe for her without obtaining a trace of her whereabouts, when several months later the girl was found wandering alone, apparently demented, in the streets of New York. "I am the daughter of Victor Hugo," was all she ever said. She was sent back to France to her parents, but with wide staring eyes, she kept her lips sealed, and the mystery of her martyrdom, perhaps a stranger and more absorbing drama than her father ever wrote, was never revealed. She never entirely recovered her reason, and since the death of her father has lived in his villa, morose, solitary and alone, seldom speaking and never of the past.

Occasionally she comes to Paris to witness from the back of a darkened box the reproduction of her father's plays, but otherwise she lives in seclusion, having no friends and never receiving visitors.

Very handsomely engraved invitations have been received this week announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Nora Evans to Mr. William Le Roy Gaston on Tuesday evening, the 31st inst at 9 o'clock at the M. E. Church in Lutkin, Texas. Inner cards read that they will be

At Home after fifteenth of September Nacogdoches, Texas.

While this is not very much of a surprise for "coming events cast their shadows before," yet the nearness of the interesting event created a little stir among the many friends of both parties. Owing to the high regard in which both Miss Evans and Mr. Gaston are held in the community, considerable interest is felt and the wedding will no doubt be one of marked distinction.

Miss Zillah Langley who has been spending almost the entire Summer in Austin, with a few weeks in Corsicana the guest of friends, is expected home the early part of next week.

Sunday School Class Entertainment

The Sunday school class of which Mrs I. J. Roberts is the capable leader had their regular monthly meeting at her home on Monday night, and as this date also marked the fifth anniversary of the organization of the class, the meeting was marked by appropriate observance and was in fact made a gala occasion, there being about fifteen couples present.

Mr. Will Cox as president of the class had charge of the meeting and program, which included a resume of the five year's work, several musical numbers, (instrumental solos by Misses Willie Gramling Ruby Haltom, Weaver) also a history of the class by Miss Constance Burrows, a class poem of five years ago read by Mr. Will Cox. Class notes by Thad Floyd, recitation by Miss Constance Burrows and a very clever and original poem by Rev. J. W. Mills, who was a guest of the class. Following the above interesting program refreshments were served in the dining room, which had been decorated with the class colors, pink, green and white, the same colors being evidenced in the delicious cream and cake which concluded a memorable evening in the history of this class.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Bay and little daughter left yesterday for their new home in Dallas, Texas. While the good wishes or this department as well as that of their many friends follow them to their new home, it is with sincere sorrow that we give up such good citizens and friends. They will be sadly missed and it will not be easy to fill their place in the social life of Nacogdoches.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." It will cure you. Mast Bros., & Smith.

Birthday Party. Miss Ruth Middlebrook was eight years old on the 23rd and the day was made memorable both for her and her little friends by a very delightful afternoon party, in which the usual games were freely indulged in and the afternoon happily concluded with sherbert and nabisco wafers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith returned last night from Lutkin where they attended the late illness and death of their mother Mrs. M. E. Smith, of several weeks duration.

Mrs. Smith underwent an operation of amputating a leg caused from a compound fracture of the ankle from which she never recovered, owing to her advanced age of 71 years.

Mrs. H. F. Schmidt returned yesterday from a visit to her old home at Ledbetter, Texas.

To the Trading Public

This month (August) winds up my first year's business which has amounted to fully twice as much as I had expected. Hence I may say I have done well.

A lot of my former customers have become new customers, and a lot of new comers added to these have patronized me most liberally, while others have given me assurance of becoming customers in the near future. To all of them I feel profoundly grateful.

This increase in business has created a demand for larger and better quarters, which I have secured, and on September 1st I will move my stock to the building now occupied by Geo. W. Blackburn's market and Sanders & James' restaurant, where I will be better able to serve my patrons.

I shall have for the fall and winter season an up-to-date stock of Merchandise dependable in quality with prices to compare with the short crops.

Yours truly

Prof. H. H. Harrington, of the state A. & M. He gave it as his intention to pay another visit to this city next Spring. Before leaving the city he placed a large order for Nacogdoches cigars, and expects to smoke "the genuine article," grown, cured and made in Texas.

ONLY ONE "BEST"

Nacogdoches People Give Credit Where Credit is Due.

People of Nacogdoches who suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Nacogdoches. Here's Nacogdoches testimony:

Mrs. H. M. Reid, North street, Nacogdoches, Texas, says: "I have nothing to retract from the public statement I gave over three years ago in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. Knowing of the value of this remedy and how positively it relieved me of pains in my back, so intense at times that I could hardly sleep or rest, I have on many occasions recommended it to my friends. I had tried every known remedy, in an effort to find relief but was unsuccessful until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Mast Bros. & Smith's drug store. A few boxes of this remedy gave me great relief and improved my health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Cured Hay Fever And Summer Cold.

A. S. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success." Mast Bros., & Smith.

Keeps Bowels Open; Free

There is no function of the human body so important as keeping the bowels open. Upon the condition of the bowels, more than upon any other one thing, depends the health and well-being of the entire system. There is scarcely a sickness that has not got constipation and stomach trouble complicated with it. It is at the bottom of most of the serious diseases of life.

Every grown up human being ought to have at least one full and easy evacuation of the bowels every 24 hours. But unfortunately there are thousands who do not get this. No matter what is the nature or cause of their constipation, and no matter how chronic and long-standing it is, they will not find a better cure than the well-known Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. So confident are the dispensers of this wonderful laxative that it will cure any case of constipation in young or old, that they will send a free test bottle to anyone who sends name and address to Dr. Caldwell.

The sample will do for any constipated person what it did for Mrs. W. D. Fuller, of Eaton Rapids, Mich., for Mr. J. F. Edwards, of Lebanon, Tenn., and a host of others in all sections of the country. After having used the sample they will buy as Mrs. Fuller and Mr. Edwards did, which is to go to the nearest drug store and buy a regular bottle, which costs 25 cents or $1, according to the size. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is not a tablet or powder, but a liquid laxative tonic, which is what a good constipation remedy should be. Thousands, who once sent for the free test bottle, now have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin regularly in the house. It is the most scientific blending of laxative ingredients ever put before the world.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

A Better Fair View.

Our little community has at last taken a start to place herself among the progressive communities of the county.

Mr. Alton Smith is constructing a new barn, which is quite in his way of doing things.

The protracted meeting started on the second Sunday of this month. Great preparations were made to make it a success. The good spirit is among our people and their works will show the results.

The Literary Society is doing fine work. We meet every two weeks and always have large audiences which show that the citizens appreciate the efforts of the young people. The next program will include among other things a debate with Appleby. The subject for discussion lies between whiskey and war. Every body is invited.

The people began singing school on the second Monday of July, under the efficient leadership of Prof. W. E. Reid, of Shady Grove. This promises to be a grand success. The people are almost a unit. Dear citizens this, unity, is the first element of power. In unity there is strength.

Let us make a long, strong, and determined pull, for now is the time to, begin to climb. Do not let this opportunity to organize and train a first class choir, pass. A community is, as an individual judged by the degree of progress each attains.

Yours for a better Fair View.

Letter to S. Kaplan & Bro. Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Sirs: Would you rather have your customers speak of your shoes as wearing well, as not running down at the heel, as turning water, and taking a shine; or wag their heads and say nothing?

We'd rather have ours, at long intervals, say: "We want some more paint, and we want Devoe." We know it isn't in human nature to paint very often; we don't expect them to come very often; don't want 'em to. All we want is to paint what they have to paint, whenever they have it; the longer the time, the surer they are to come back. There's business enough in the world; there are houses enough to paint; let 'em take their time.

If we were a shoemaker, we'd make shoes to last half a lifetime, and shoe the whole town.

Yours truly,

F. W. Devoe & Co.

EVERYONE NEEDS S.S.S. IN THE SPRING

This is just a short talk which we hope will be of interest and help to you in selecting the tonic and blood purifier that will be of the greatest value to you this Spring.

That this is the most trying of all seasons on the health is a fact well known to us all. It is the time of year when our constitutions are required to stand the greatest strain, and unless properly cared for the foundation is often laid for physical disorders or disease later on. The great majority of persons are fast coming to realize the importance of preventing disease. Health is our most valued possession, and its preservation is a matter which vitally concerns every one.

Most persons, even those who are ordinarily strong and robust, feel the necessity of a tonic and blood purifier at this season. Some have no particular ailment, but are weak, debilitated and run-down. The Winter life, with its decreased amount of out-door exercise, and the fact that the cold weather has kept the pores of the skin closed, prevented the usual necessary amount of refuse and waste matter from being carried out of the system. These impurities entering the circulation have weakened and thinned the blood, and this vital fluid is therefore lacking in the nourishing properties necessary to sustain and preserve systemic health, when warm, active Spring life begins.

The general bodily weakness, tired, worn-out feeling, sickle appetite, poor digestion, etc., show how weak and anemic the blood has become. Frequently skin diseases, pimples, eruptions, boils, etc., break out on the skin, and this is evidence of the impurity of the circulation.

S.S.S. is the medicine needed to correct this condition, and is the only one on which you can rely to supply the system with the best tonic effects, and at the same time thoroughly purify the blood. The use of S.S.S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the strain of the long, hot Summer.

Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened it could not resist disease, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria, or some other trouble. S.S.S. is Nature's ideal tonic and blood purifier, made entirely of the pure extracts of healing, strengthening, health-giving roots and herbs. It tones up the stomach and digestion, rids one of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and in every way contributes to the strengthening and building up of the entire system. S.S.S. is recognized everywhere as the greatest of all blood purifiers, and this combined with its unequalled tonic properties, make it a medicine needed by every one in the Spring.

S.S.S. is for sale at all drug stores.

THE Yoakum Creamery one day last week shipped 1,700 pounds of butter. The average amount paid to the farmer patrons of that plant monthly is $3,500,—and yet some people will stand up and argue that a butter factory cant pay.

Tobacco Growing in Nacogdoches County.

The tobacco acreage in this county was about 125 acres last year, increasing to about 400 acres this, there being about 27 acres grown under cover.

As shown by the report of the soil survey there are over 180,000 acres of tobacco land in this county. This is red land with a clay subsoil. It is called Orangeburg clay or fine sandy loam, containing iron concretions and considerable green marl, outcropping occasionally and ranging from a few inches to three or four feet from the surface. This green marl is rich in lime, phosphoric acid and potash, giving it a value as fertilizer and adapting the soil in conjunction with the climatic conditions not found elsewhere to the growing of cigar tobacco.

For the past four or five years the entire crop of tobacco has been sold or raised under contract from one to three years in advance by one Northern buyer, these crops being taken by him barn-cured at from 12c to 17c per pound for filler or 40c to 50c for that grown under cover. This tobacco was shipped elsewhere and fermented and possibly sold Cuban or Sumatra tobacco. Inasmuch as the disposition of these crops made it difficult to know or learn more of the quality much speculation as to value and quality has naturally followed. However, a few growers refused to contract their crops last year and took steps to establish a packing house for the purpose of fermenting or curing their crops properly for market. J. Thos. Hall of Orangeburg (near Nacogdoches) and D. R. Reed of Redfield, growers of wrapper and filler, were the prime movers in this matter and succeeded in arranging with an experienced and highly capable packing house man, Geo. T. McNess, formerly head of the tobacco industry under the United States Department of Agriculture, to cure and pack all unsold crops. Owing to the delays incident to this enterprise this tobacco will not be ready for market until the last of this month (August). Now packing houses (three of them) have been established, filling the place for tobacco that the cotton gin does for cotton. These facilities for handling the crops will doubtless greatly stimulate interest among both growers and buyers and will mean much to the development of this county, since the price of shade grown tobacco of this character should under favorable conditions, bring from $1 to $1.50 per pound, while that grown in the open should bring from 40c to 50c per pound.

While the farmers of the county are slow to give up cotton and corn, quite a few have found it profitable to try an acre or two, resulting in an increase or in inducing their neighbors to do likewise the next year. Hence, the development of tobacco industry is growing substantially.

The cost of growing shade tobacco, including fertilization and harvesting, is about $140 per acre, while that in the open can be grown for $30. Thus, estimating 1,000 pounds of Sumatra or shade-grown (wrapper) tobacco per acre and applying prices obtained heretofore, we have a gross receipt of from $400 to $500 per acre. Deducting cost of production will leave a balance of $260 or $360 net per acre to the good of the grower. But applying the real market value of $1 or $2 per pound with 12c for curing and 20 per cent for shrinkage, we have reading not unlike the Arabian Nights Tales, especially when it is remembered that two crops can be grown with reasonable conditions or by adding irrigation to tide over a possible four or five weeks' drouth. Applying prices paid for Cuban or filler tobacco, grown in the open, and remembering that 50c per pound with a yield of 1,000 per acre, we have satisfactory results.

A well-constructed shade can be built for about $250 per acre, and will last five or six years with about $10 per acre each year. The belief is growing that a superior wrapper can be grown in the open, but the market end is not known, as it has heretofore been sold barn-cured. One grower by fertilizing his crop grown in the open the same as that under shade has what to all appearance is an excellent wrapper. But this remains to be determined, since his crop is just being harvested.

Another item of expense that should not be overlooked is the construction of barns in which tobacco is cured. These barns can be used nine to ten months in the year for storing grain, hay or stock. They are needed for tobacco during July and August. One barn 100x40x20 will care for five acres of shade or ten acres of open-grown tobacco, and need not cost more than $750 complete, and will last as long as any other house similarly constructed and cared for.—J. Thos. Hall, in Galveston News.

Citation.

The State of Texas.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Nacogdoches County, greeting:

Oath having been made as required by law, you are hereby commanded to summon Walter Walker by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Nacogdoches county, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Nacogdoches, on the 2nd Monday in September A. D. 1909 the same being the 13th. day of September A. D. 1909, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 4th. day of August A. D. 1909, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 88, wherein Lena Walker is plaintiff, and Walter Walker is defendant, and said petition alleging that plaintiff is an actual bona fide resident of the county of Nacogdoches and State of Texas, and was for six months next preceding the filing of this suit, and that the whereabouts of defendant are wholly unknown to this plaintiff. That on or about November 5, 1909, plaintiff and defendant were legally married to each other in Nacogdoches county, and thereafter lived together as husband and wife until December 10, 1906, when because of harsh, unkind and tyrannical treatment this plaintiff was forced to leave defendant with the intention of never returning to him as his wife. That defendant made, immoral and illegal proposals to this plaintiff, and she being a woman of refinement, caused her great humiliation and mortification. That immediately after such proposals and propositions plaintiff left defendant and has not lived with him since.

That during the time they so lived together as husband and wife, plaintiff alleges that she was kind and dutiful wife, always performing her marital vows, as best she could.

Wherefore plaintiff prays that Citation issue, commanding defendant to answer this petition and that upon final hearing hereof, she have judgment dissolving said marriage and for such other relief that she may be entitled to, all of which is more fully set out in plaintiffs original petition, now on file in this office to which reference is made.

Herein fail not, but have before said Court, as the aforesaid next regular term, this writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Witness, Arthur A. Seale, Clerk of the District Court of Nacogdoches county.

Given under my hand and the Seal of Court, at office in Nacogdoches this the 5th. day of August, A. D. 1909.

MALARIAL DISEASES.

How to Avoid Them and the Serious Consequences of Neglect.

"Fix me up something to knock the malaria, doctor," remarked a sallow-faced, sickly looking man, entering a prominent physician's office the other day.

The doctor stepped to his medicine case, took down a couple of bottles, mixed a preparation which he handed to the patient with the customary advice to "shake well and follow directions," and resumed his seat.

"Such cases are frequent," replied the doctor in answer to a question. "The warm days and damp, chilly nights are certain malaria breeders and are most serious in those who have neglected to keep their stomach, liver and bowels in good condition. Such persons are full of the impurities on which the malarial germ thrives, and it is from this class that typhoid fever, pneumonia, Bright's Disease, small pox and yellow fever claim most of their victims when these diseases are prevalent.

The proper way to guard against the malarial germ and the serious diseases which follow it is to get into good condition by taking a reliable remedy that will keep the bowels clear and the liver healthy, and to continue with it at frequent intervals during the sickly season.

A dose of Prickly Ash Bitters three or four times a week will do all of this, besides stimulating the digestion, improving the appetite and keeping the bodily energy at the highest pitch.

Prickly Ash Bitters is known everywhere as a system tonic and bowel regulator. It not only removes all traces of malarial poison from the system, but tones up the vital organs, gives new strength and vigor, makes the body strong and the brain active.

"Prickly Ash Bitters is the best all-around medicine for the family I ever used. During the past ten years I have always kept it in my house. Whenever any of my family show signs of malaria, kidney trouble, indigestion or constipation a few doses is all that is needed to make them well and hearty again.—W. H. McWILLIAMS, Pickering, Ia.
