and is considered one of the best pharmacists in the South. He is a graduate of the Western University of Pennsylvania, and has been doing prescription work for fourteen years. He is registered in seven states, by examination, and besides his certificate is recognized now in any state in the Union. He was in New York for some time, and that is acknowledged the most exacting state on pharmacists in the United States and the only one that fails to recognize many diplomas or certificates of other states. In addition to being an expert prescription clerk, Mr. Rochefort is a splendid around drug store man, affable, courteous, a good mixer, and the popular firm of Weeks & Ratcliff may well feel proud of having secured his services,—as well as the many customers who may have occasion to entrust prescription work to the gentleman.

James D. is morning received from T. W. Lar... secretary of the Beaumont Board of Trade, inviting a corn exhibit from this county at the Beaumont Fair next month. The telegram was turned over to E. H. Blount who will refer the matter to the Commercial Club.

F. S. Rochefort, of New Orleans, Assumes Charge of Weeks & Ratcliff's Prescription Case — Registered in Seven States.

F. S. Rochefort, of New Orleans, La., has arrived in the city and has already assumed his duties at the prescription case at Weeks & Ratcliff's drug store. Mr. Rochefort came here from Dallas, but claims New Orleans as his home and was located in that city for several years, going there from San Francisco. In this latter city Mr. Rochefort was well established, having a nice little drug business of his own, but the terrible earthquake and disastrous fire, of several years ago, wiped it out entirely, leaving him bare, and at which time his wife also lost her life. Mr. Rochefort is an excellent gentleman

HALTOM & HALTOM, PROPRIETORS.
GILES M. HALTOM, MANAGER.

Yes, thank you;—it's some more pleasant than when the mercury was playing around 100 in the shade.

NACOGDOCHES is one city in Texas that has a good water supply. Few others can boast of such good fortune.

WATCH the papers from various sections awhile and note their comments on East Texas tobacco and the future of the industry. Grow tobacco Mr. Farmer.

EVEN old roosters are selling for as much as $3.50 per dozen in the Eastern cities, and yet some people are doubtful about there being money in poultry.

You may as well patronize a mail order house as to buy your stuff from a peddler,—a fellow who is only temporary and pays nothing toward the upbuilding of a city, town or community.

COTTON sold for its highest price for several years last week, so news talk has it. Any way the per pound is very satisfactory to the farmers from the way they are selling the product.

THAT Cook-Pearry controversy continues to be a chief topic for discussion, and indications are that Roosevelt's hunting expedition will be lost in the shuffle, unless he kills bigger animals than elephants.

SOME folks are forever condemning the mail order houses and wanting the newspapers to fight them, but those same folks, when they have a printing job to figure on, throw some mail order house's price in front of the printer as a gauge.—Oh, consistency!

FROM the tone of Petit's reply today to A. M. Kennedy's recent outburst, that gentleman "from McLennan," ex-speaker of the Texas House, prospective candidate etc, realizes that not all happenings have yet gone into print. Mr. Kennedy may be good.

COL. R. M. WYNNE of Fort Worth, one time candidate for governor, one time candidate for attorney, an ex-confederate soldier and a mighty good lawyer, has been named by Governor Campbell to succeed Col. John B. Reagan, as Superintendent of the Confederate Home at Austin.

UNTIL you learn to stand on your own bottom young man, very little hope for your success will be entertained and little good you will accomplish in this world of ours. Start out in life determined to be and be something and never aim lower than your expectations and success is sure to crown your efforts. By all means select an occupation, even though it be humble, stick to your job and master the situation; become proficient and you will always have a job. This old make shift living is a sorry proposition, for no man will ever rise to fame until he settles well upon an occupation or profession.—Houston County Herald.

WORKINGS OF THE ICONOCLAST

Texas people have seemed to almost worship W. J. Bryan for the past twelve years, and some democrats who have accepted him with a few grains of salt have almost been read out of the party. Cone Johnson was abused a year ago for refusing to vote for Bryan. All of Mr. Bryan's populist tendencies were overlooked, and party democrats delighted to refer to him as the greatest American statesman. Now the same crowd who worshipped at his feet are tearing the idol from its pedestal and are reviling the Nebraskan with ugly epithets. With many of these it is not because he advocates a certain political principle, for they stood last year on the Bryan principle with full enthusiasm and some of them didn't notice the Bryan idea till Senator Bailey, after a year of silence, showed it to them. Then they unsheathed their stiletos and are going after Bryan with blood in their eyes.

Bryan has not changed his views. His notions have all the time been different from old-line democracy, but democrats have accepted his theories. The very bunch who went from Texas to the Denver convention voted for Bryan's free raw material doctrine and surely they ought to be willing to carry their part of the crime of 1909.

Bryan is a great man, a clean American, a patriot, and he is in earnest in his convictions. Grant that he is wrong on the tariff and wrong in his railroad theories, none can doubt his honesty, and only those who get their political convictions second hand will dare say that he is not the superior of most leaders in knowledge of political economy. His tariff doctrine will find a strong following in Texas. However, it is not probable that his notions will be embodied in the next state platform, even if the people shall deem it worth while to make a platform.—Ennis Daily News.

WHERE will you find a man always grateful, always affectionate, never selfish, pushing the abnegation of self to the utmost limits of possibility, forgetful of injuries and mindful only of benefits received? Seek him not; it would be a useless task. But take the first dog you meet, and from the moment he adopts you for his master you will find in him all these qualities. He will love you without calculation. His greatest happiness will be to be near you; and should you be reduced to beg your bread, not only will he aid you, but he will not abandon you to follow a King to his palace. Your friends may quit you in misfortune, but your dog will remain; he will die at your feet, or if you depart before him on the great voyage will accompany you to your last abode.—Our Dumb Animals.

THIS Bascom Thomas business! We have studied over this no little bit. It is true that Bascom is a sorter of a young inexperienced chap, and is not altogether onto the ways of the world, and here-

By hangs the tale. If it were true that Bascom was a "rounder" and was "onto all the ropes," he would never have squealed and been expelled from the senate by his more "wise bretheren. But Bascom squealed and was expelled, but we believe he is right, the people of his district believe he is right, or they never would have returned him to the senate. Governor Campbell says the capitol was infested with corrupt lobbyits during the last session of the legislature. We believe it, and we also believe there was something rotten about the legislative halls. If not, why the expulsion of Thomas and why the resigning of Speaker Kennedy? It is our honest opinion that if the common people could take a "look in," there would be a mighty "shaking up" to take place at the next election.—Grapeland Messenger.

It will require 500 acres of tobacco to supply the demand of another season, the major portion of which is already spoken for. Growing tobacco along with other things is a paying proposition, and folks who have not done so heretofore will have a few acres in 1910.—Nacogdoches Sentinel. Samples of East Texas tobacco exhibited in Fort Worth recently by Dr. Harrington, director of Texas experiment stations, were a revelation to tobacco dealers. The samples of both leaf and filler were equal to the Cuban article, and command a high price. As the filler can be grown in the open without shade, there is no good reason why every farmer in the region adapted to tobacco culture should not begin with a few acres and increase his patch and add the leaf grades as rapidly as experience makes it safe to do so.—Fort Worth Record.

The autumn leaves will soon be falling. The kiss of the Frost King will turn their garb of green to gold and royal purple, then to a dull, dead brown, and when the breezes sought through the tree tops, one by one they will be shaken from the parent limbs and flutter to the ground. Barren and leafless will be the boughs, and once where flickering shadows fell, he sun and the moon will gaze brazenly down upon the dead memories of a beautiful spring time that has slipped forever into the realm of the days that have fled. The trees will sigh and mourn for a few dreary months, and frost and snow will rest where buds and blossoms once were seen while the carpet of brown leaves will gradually decay and enrich the soil, from which all vegetation springs. But spring time will come again, and when the radiant beams and the ardent gleams of the golden sun once more warm the cold earth, tiny green slips will peep from beneath the ground, and the shrubs and trees and vines will once more dress in leaves and blossoms, and the miracle of the resurrection is witnessed by every living thing.—Clebune Enterprise.

BAD habits are like the mistletoe that clings, apparently so harmless, to the mighty oak, and slowly but surely saps its life out, and in time the once mighty tree is a skeleton, left standing to remind people of the great havoc that can be wrought by these tenacious little growths. We can always get an object lesson from nature, but never have we seen one which was more forcible than the one we learn from the oak and the mistletoe. So long as the tree is properly cared for and all the little outside growths kept off, it is beautiful and healthy. And so it is with human beings. So long as the clinging evil habits are kept from us, just so long do we enjoy health of body and mind, but let the little shoots remain unheeded and they will as surely sap your life's blood as will the mistletoe kill the oak. —Rusk Press Journal.

THE farmers of East Texas are beginning to farm. Lots of them did real farming this year—made money by it—and lots more will do real farming next year. It pays.

Cook May Visit Southern States.

It is not without the bounds of reason that Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the North Pole explorer, will some time before the new year pay Texas a visit. It is stated that a citizen of Dallas, well known for his connection with various amusements, has sent a message to Dr. Cook, offering the latter a handsome sum if he will come to Texas and make a series of lecture tours through out the state, telling of his personal experiences during his thrilling dash for the coveted goal,—the North Pole.

If Dr. Cook will not consent to pay the Lone Star State a visit, it may be that Commander Peary will be made a similar proposition.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Paw Paw, Mich.—"I suffered terribly from female ills, including inflammation and congestion, for several years. My doctor said there was no hope for me but an operation. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can now say I am a well woman."

EMMA DRAPER.
Chicago, Ill.—"I want women to know what that wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has done for me. Two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation, and I never thought of seeing a well day again. I had a small tumor and female troubles so that I suffered day and night. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it made me a well woman."—Mrs. ALVENA SPEBLING, 11 Langdon St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

WHAT IS HYOMEI?

You Have Heard About the Catarrh Cure Stripling, Haselwood & Co. Guarantees.

Hyomei is a wonderful antiseptic, so powerful that it promptly destroys germ life, yet its action on the mucous membrane is extremely soothing and healing. It relieves catarrh in five minutes; it cures in a few weeks or money back.

It is made chiefly of eucalyptus and eucalyptol taken from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia. The medical profession knows that eucalyptus is an absolutely certain germ destroyer and with the active principles of eucalyptus as a base Hyomei is made more efficient, pleasant and quick acting by the addition of Thymol, an antiseptic and disinfectant largely employed in the Listerian System. Guaiacol and other important medicinal agents are also included in the Hyomei formula, which, without doubt, is the greatest destroyer of catarrh germs the world has ever known.

Hyomei is a powerful, penetrating antiseptic that is pleasant to use. It does not contain a particle of cocaine, opium or any habit-forming or injurious drug.

No dosing the stomach when you use Hyomei. Just breathe it in through the small inhaler that comes with each outfit. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Nacogdoches by Stripling, Haselwood & Co. $1.00 for complete outfit.

MI-ONA Cures Indigestion

It relieves stomach misery, sour stomach, belching, and cures all stomach disease or money back. Large box of tablets 50 cents. Druggists in all towns.

STORY OF A LOST BOOK.

Lost by One of the News Staff Twenty Years Ago in Nacogdoches County. Turns up—Wants Information.

Some strange and mysterious things sometimes happen, and are hard to account for, if indeed, they can be accounted for at all. Twenty years ago, or perhaps longer the writer was living at his old home near Swift or old Cross Roads, ten miles east of the town of Nacogdoches. At that time a man by the name of A. Y. Donegan, was teaching the public school at Cross Roads and boarding at the residence of B. M. Hall. The writer and Donegan were great cronies and used to go to all the parties that occurred in the neighborhood or in the adjacent neighborhoods, for that matter. Donegan possessed a good library, and one day he made the writer a present of a book the title of which was "Prose Tales of Poe." The book contained such pieces as "The Adventures of Gordon Pym," "Landor's Cottage," "Berenice," "The Gold Bug" and many others all of which were written in Poe's inimitable style and were all very interesting, especially "Berenice." While teaching school at Martinsville about twenty years ago, this book and a number of others were taken by some unknown person or persons from the library of the writer and never returned. A few days ago Mr. H. C. Warren, of this city walked into the office with the book in his hand and asked if the writer of this story had any recollection of ever seeing the book before. He said he accidentally came upon the book at a house near Clawson sometime ago and while reading it had noticed the writer's name in the back and had wondered if the name in the book and that of the writer was one and the same. The lost book was readily recognized and the mystery is how did it wander around and find its way into Angelina county. Who brought it thither and when. From whom did they get it. Just as a matter of curiosity the writer would like to know.—Lufkin News.

PROSPECTS IN EAST TEXAS.

Great Awakening For This Section of The State is Predicted—More Hogs and Sheep Needed.

That there will be a great awakening as to the resources of East Texas and a development that will surpass that of the West within the next ten years is the prediction of M. M. Offutt of Cleburne who is in charge of farm management and investigations of the United States Department of Agriculture for Oklahoma and Texas.

Mr. Offutt said that East Texas is the most thoroughly adapted to diversified farming of any part of the State, the soil producing such a variety of feed stuffs, especially in Bermuda and alfalfa on which to raise hogs to the stage of fattening for the market, besides a great truck farming country when once its resources in this branch have been developed.

"The farmers of East Texas," he said, "are not awake to their opportunities."

As to best specific branches of the live stock industry East Texas is best adapted to, Mr. Offutt said: "Hogs are practically a natural production of this section, and the products of the soil are such as are especially adapted to swine raising.

"One of the natural products, which the farmers in that section are trying to kill out needs to be grown more extensively. I refer to Bermuda grass. It will grow anywhere down there and there are numerous hillsides and other lands that can not well be utilized for farming to advantage that can be converted into Bermuda pastures.

"Texas needs more hogs and there is not a place under the sun better adapted to this industry than is East Texas. The old razor-back, which is in his nativity in that section, must be supplanted by the high-bred stock as the Herford, Shorthorn and Aberdeen-Angus have taken the place of the Texas longhorns, which in a few years have almost become extinct.

"As a mutton sheep country, the world can not beat East Texas; and the beauty of it is that they can be raised at such a small cost that it is bound to be profitable, when taken up in an intelligent manner. Then, too, there is another advantage to that section, which is in the variety of stuff that can be produced for home consumption, thus reducing the cost of living to the farmer who operates along the right lines. However, he must mix brains with the brawn and get the old idea out of his head that there is money in nothing but cotton. This does not imply that cotton should be abandoned entirely, but should be cultivated more as a side line, as a cash crop along with the stock farm. When these methods and the results that must follow are demonstrated

Be Prepared for Emergencies. When a cold comes to you—or in your family—or a sudden chill—if you let it alone you are making recovery hard. When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it—at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

When the bowels are constipated, poisonous substances are absorbed into the blood instead of being daily removed from the body as nature intended. Knowing this danger, doctors always inquire about the condition of the bowels. Ayer's Pills.

in that part of the State we will see a rapid development there, such as is not dreamed of at present." Mr. Offutt states that he has already recommended to the United States Department of Agriculture the establishment of an experiment stock farm in East Texas, which will be conducted on an extensive scale if the recommendations go through.

Letter to Tucker Hayter & Co. Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Sirs:—It's an old saying: the best advertisement is a pleased customer.

It happens to us continually in this way: A man buys Devco for his house—he has painted it once in three years for a dog's age, and thinks he knows what he wants—buys 30 gallons, and has 10 left.

He sees right-off that 20 Devco is as much as 30 of anything else. He likes that; it comes quick; it is a surprise; and he tells us it. The best advertisement is a pleased customer.

Three years roll round. There isn't a sign that his house needs paint; he don't paint it. Next year he don't paint it. This comes slow; it is a surprise; but he has got used to it. Still the best advertisement is a pleased customer.

Yours truly, F. W. Devco & Co. New York.

Melrose Musings. We are here in the pleasant country where the mocking birds sing around our door. The air is so pure and sweet and in fact all living creatures seem to enjoy themselves with a free good will. Our little home for the present is on a beautiful hill where the delightful breeze fans us day and night. No place on earth like a pure country home.

Mrs. Lessir Blackwell from Chireno paid us a flying visit. Lots of cotten hauling every day. Some are storing it away for a more desirable profit. While the price is fine at 12 cents the human family cannot be satisfied.

Our country is blessed with reasonably good crops. The ginners are crowded with work.

Rain is needed very badly; am glad to say the water is rising in the wells, suppose the great Equinox so near is the controlling power.

We are longing to see our old friends who seem so busy they haven't any time to visit. After awhile we will be dead when they will rush to our funerals, wishing when too late they had spent more of their time in that home. Time and tide wait for no man.

School will open the fourth of October.

Miss Lora Hardeman went by Jacksonville to visit her brother's sick baby en route for her school at Hungertord in Wharton county.

Cullis Wilson's fourteenth birthday passed off very pleasantly with his cousins, Dorathy, Hal and Helen Hardeman dining with him, enjoying a large dish of pop corn balls in the afternoon.

As there is only one genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna and as the genuine is manufactured by an original method known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only, it is always necessary to buy the genuine to get its beneficial effects.

New Sawmill Plant.

It is reported on very good authority that Sam Hayter of Nacogdoches and several others whose names are not mentioned, will in the near future figure on the proposition of putting in a large and up-to-date sawmill at Manton near where the big orchard of the Angelina Orchard company is located. It is stated that the new company has secured several million feet of excellent timber, enough in fact to last for several years run.—Lufkin News.

On the Market Again.

There are so many patent medicines, of all kinds and descriptions, and so many formulae, that as a rule to find the "best" is rather a problem.

There is one exception in the pill line however, and admitted too, by physicians, druggists and the people in general and that exception is "Shindler's Pills," formula by Dr. F. C. Ford, recognized as the best of the kind ever sold. For many years Shindler's Pills were sold all through this country, had a reputation in keeping with the excellent quality and folks kept them on hand at all times in preference to every other kind of medicine. For the past two years, for some reason, these pills have been off the market, but the formula has been received and is owned by Weeks & Ratcliff, and a large amount of the pills have just been received and are now on sale. Too much commendation can not be given these pills, and any person who has ever taken just one is a friend of the little fellows and knows the worth of them. These pills are made and the formula is owned exclusively by Weeks & Ratcliff but the pills can be found on sale at all drug stores.

JUDGE LINDSEY'S TALK.

It is a pity that the talk of Judge S. A. Lindsey, the Tyler Courier-Times man, made in this city on the occasion of the East Texas Press Association meeting, could not have been heard by every business man, every professional man, and every farmer, in Anderson county. It was full of logic and facts that should soak in. He tells in a way devoid of all trimmings just what stands in the way of our greatest progress and development. He gets right down to the meat of the thing, and then he suggests a remedy. His remedy is good roads, good schools and good farming, coupled with the motto, "The scrub must go." Lindsey is a long-headed man, and he is making his influence felt. If that talk could be made by this man in the same earnest, convincing way, in every voting box in this county, and if these people are not idiots, old Anderson county would start a movement that would result in good roads. And these are the key to all else. Give the county good roads and as a natural consequence good schools and good farming will follow. And such roads as he designates as good roads would more than double the value of the lands of this county. Lindsey says our people have not the confidence in the country they should have. This, he says, is attested through the poor roads, the poorly constructed bridges, of temporary material, the rickety old school houses, and the sorry farm houses. People who have confidence in a country, he declares, do not build for temporary use, but build permanently. They build permanent roads, permanent steel bridges, substantial buildings, etc. The very character of our buildings he says, give the lie to our assertions that we think this is "the best county on earth." At least, this is the effect it has upon those who come among us seeking investment.—Palestine Herald.

AGRICULTURAL PROGRESS

This year we shall raise three billion bushels of corn. It is hard to realize what that means, says a writer in Success Magazine. It is a harvest greater even than the bumper crop of 1906. These three billion bushels will be worth to the farmers over a billion and a half of dollars, or over three times as much as the corn was worth in 1896. Last year the value of all farm products in the United States was almost eight billions of dollars; this year it will be over eight billions. This is more than the entire wealth of America in 1850. In 1850 the farms of the United States were worth less than four billions, today they are worth twenty-eight billions.

Every day the farms of the country are worth $3,400,000 more than they were worth the day before.

It is a good thing for the people at large that the farmers are getting their share of general increase in wealth. The eight billion dollars that they get each year amounts to only seven hundred dollars apiece when it is distributed over all the farmers and farm laborers in the country. But the per capita amount is growing and is bound to grow still more.

During the next twenty years we are going to a great revolution in farming. Agriculture is to be more intelligent and more intense, new plants are to be introduced, a better use is to be made of the land, and an acre will produce twice as much as it now produces. The benefit of this new production should not be monopolized by railroads, elevator companies and harvester trusts. It should go to the farmers and to the people, and it should show itself in better food, clothing and housing and in more wide-spread education for the great mass of us.—Dallas Times Herald.

To HAUL a ton of freight over a macadam road costs 8 cents a mile. Yet the 200,000,000 tons of a farm produce hauled to the railroads cost, last year on an average, 28 cents a mile. This is the computation of the Washington Bureau of Statistics. The difference between 8 cents is the price the country pays for poor roads. It amounts to more than three hundred million dollars annually. A good road is as much a matter of economy as any labor machine that was ever invented. To take a big load quickly to market means the ability to handle larger crops at less expense. Farmers need good roads more than any other class; they suffer from bad roads more than any other class.—San Antonio Express.

They Didn't Have to Change.
During the years in which our food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.
The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Scotch Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.
It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that every one needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Scotch Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.
This splendid food is packed in three ways—regular size, large size family packages and hermetically sealed tins. The latter especially adapted to hot climates. 4

PASSING OF PICNIC GROVE.
All the vacation, all the real outdoor recreation, almost, that hundreds of thousands of "good, honest, hard-working Americans get out of the year is had at the picnic grove. It is to that weather-worn pine table in the grove that thousands of as good women as any in our country must go for a taste of some one else's cooking—the taste that is so good after a year in the kitchen. It was at the picnic table that a great many of our proudest citizens learned how to properly use a knife and fork. The picnic grove is the summer camp, the roof garden, the seaside pavilion, the summer hotel, of more—and, it may be, better—Americans than ever go to the real summer camps, the real roof gardens and seaside pavilions and summer hotels. Yet they are passing away.

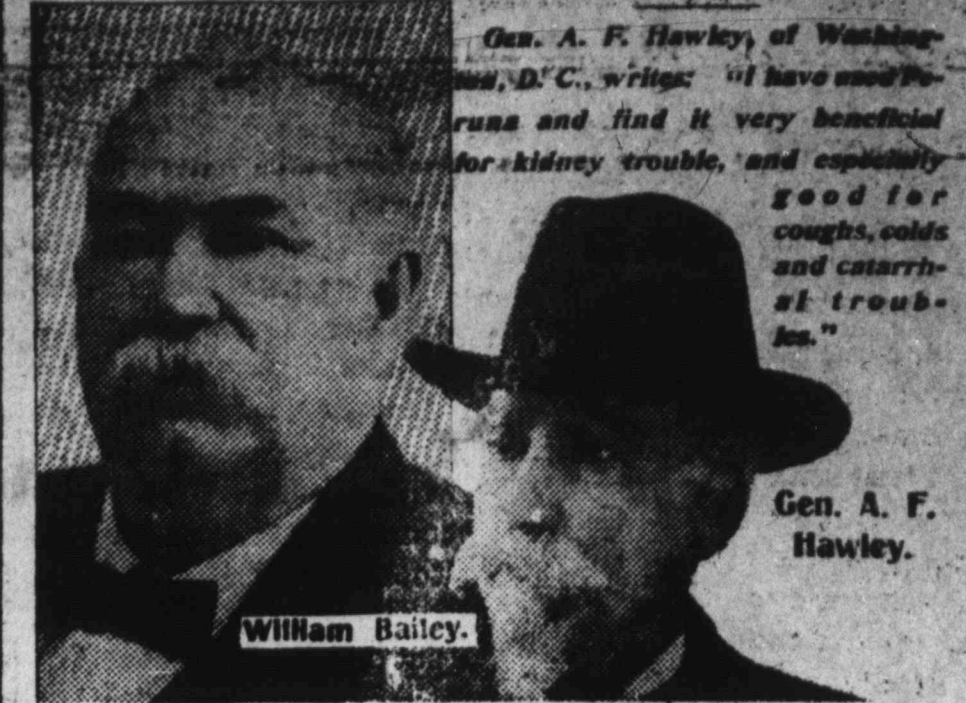

It would be the part of good sense, of sound Americanism, for us to remember that, as a people, we can not afford to turn our backs upon the old-fashioned picnic grove, but must preserve it along with our other parks. When we realize this perhaps we will also see through the delusion, no less silly than grave, which is responsible for the shameful conditions that effectually padlock the great public parks against 90 per cent of the public.—Recreation.

PE-RU-NA USED FOR KIDNEY CATARRH.

Gen. A. F. Hawley, of Washington, D. C., writes: "I have used Peruna and find it very beneficial for kidney trouble, and especially good for coughs, colds and catarrh of the throat."

Gen. A. F. Hawley.

William Bailey.

Kidney Trouble for Nearly Thirty Years.
William Bailey, Post Office No. 69, Union Veteran Legion, and prominently identified with many of the great labor protective associations in Chicago and New York, and secretary of one of the largest associations in the former city, had for nearly thirty years been afflicted with kidney troubles.
Within a short period he has been persuaded to try Peruna, and his present healthy condition is attributed to his judicious use of that great remedy. Washington climate is notoriously bad for kidney and liver troubles, yet by a judicious use of the remedy he is now quite cured and in excellent physical condition.
This brief statement of facts, without exaggeration or hyperbole, appears to tell the whole story, which the Peruna Company is authorized to use, if it so chooses, believing, as I do, that by so doing it will be for the general good.
William Bailey, 38 I St., N. E., Washington, D. C.

Kidneys Affected—Back Weak.
Mr. M. Broderick, Secretary and Treasurer Local Union No. 406, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, writes from 435 E. 46th St., Chicago, Ill., as follows:
"I have been suffering from a weak back and kidney trouble for some time, and have been able to find relief only through the use of Peruna."
"During the winter season I usually keep a bottle of your medicine in the house, and by taking a dose at night I am feeling fine the next morning."
"Some of my friends assure me that Peruna is equally as good for their various ailments as it is for my complaint; but I do know that for kidney trouble and suffering from a weak back it has no equal."
Cold Settled in Kidneys.
Mr. Joseph Klee, 215 East 4th St., Topeka, Kan., writes:
"My wife took Peruna for liver trouble and a run-down condition incident to the same. A few bottles built up her health and strength."
"I took Peruna for a cold which settled in my kidneys, giving me much pain. In two weeks I was much better, and in a few months I was well."
For Liver and Kidneys.
Mr. W. H. Armistead, Cumberland, O. H., Va., writes:
"Your Peruna has cured me of chronic catarrh of long standing. I thank you so much for your advice. I think it is a great medicine. It will do all that you recommend it to do. Besides, I can recommend it to cure all liver and kidney troubles."
Chronic Kidney Trouble.
Judge C. J. Park, R. F. D. 1, Buckhead, Ga., writes:
"For a long time I was troubled with catarrh of the kidneys, and after taking Peruna I feel like a new man. I think it is the greatest catarrh medicine of the age, and believe it will cure any case of catarrh on record."

How to Increase the Death Rate Among the Boll Weevils During Winter so as to Protect the Following Year's Crop.

There have numerous articles written on the above subject, especially on the idea of destroying the cotton stalks early in the fall.

Some writers contend that to plant early cotton you are only making food for the boll weevil, but that you should plant your cotton, late, and by doing so the hot summer days will come on the weevil before he has had time to do his deadly work. Through the courtesy of Earnest Spradley we submit the following report of the State Crop Pest Commission of Louisiana which has just completed a series of experiments at Mansura, Avoyells Parish. The object of these was to determine how many boll weevils could be gotten rid of by destroying the cotton plants at different times during the fall.

The report is: "To secure this information cages were made of wire cloth, each cage being 8x8 feet and six feet high. In these cages were placed piles of trash, leaves, moss, stumps, etc., to form winter quarters for the boll weevils such as they would find out doors.

On September 28, 1908, a lot of live and active adult boll weevils were gathered in a nearby cotton field and placed in one of these cages and securely locked. No growing cotton was in any of the cages. Thus these weevils were deprived of all food from then on. Had the cotton plants in the field been destroyed on September 28, the weevils there would likewise been deprived of food.

Therefore the number of weevils through the winter in the cage must have been the same as the number living through the winter in the field where the cotton plants were destroyed on September 28. If anything, conditions would favor a slightly larger number surviving in the cage than in the field, for in the cage the weevils were protected from birds, mice, "punkies," etc. A cage of this kind was started once a week from September 28, to December 21, 1908, with freshly collected weevils from the cotton field. The past spring (1909) the cages were watched every day and as the weevils came out of the trash they were counted, recorded, and then removed from the cages. In this way a complete record was obtained of the number of weevils living through the winter in each of the cages. Following are the results:

Out of 1,037 adult weevils collected in the fields on September 28, 1908, 28 lived through the winter. Of 1,195 gathered in the field on October 5th, 15 lived until until spring. Of 1,132 weevils collected on October 12, 62 lived through the winter.

Adding together these figures we see that out of a total 3,364 weevils collected in the cotton fields between September 28, 1908 and October 12, 1908, only 105 or 3.1 per cent, succeeded in living through the winter. This simply meant that on the plantations where the cotton plants were destroyed before October 15, 1908, only 3 per cent of the weevils survived the winter to infest the present years crop.

On October 19, a cage was started containing 922 adult weevils and on October 26th, a similar cage was started with 1,294 weevils. Out of the 2,216 boll weevils placed into the two cages 340, or 15.8 per cent, survived the winter. We therefore safely conclude that on farms where the cotton plants were destroyed between October 15th and October 27th, last fall an average of about 15 per cent of the weevils lived through the winter successfully.

Additional cages were started in the same manner on November 2nd, 9th, 16th, and 23rd, containing, respectively 1,326, 1,326, 1,429, and 1,342 adult weevils. Out of this total of 5,414 weevils, 1,181, or 21.8 per cent, succeeded in living until spring, showing that where the cotton plants were destroyed between November 1st and 25th an average of approximately 22 per cent of the weevils survived the winter.

Cages started on November 30th, and December 7th, containing a total of 743 weevils, showed a winter survival of 210 of them, or 28.3. Therefore destruction of the cotton plants as late as November 7th resulted in 28 per cent of the weevils living through the winter.

Out of 1250 weevils collected in the fields on December 14th, and 21st, and placed in cages on those dates, 545, or 43.6 per cent survived the winter. Postponing fall destruction of the cotton plants until the middle of December or later, permitted over 43 per cent of last seasons boll weevils to survive the winter and attack the crop of 1909.

These figures are so convincing that it is beyond comprehension that any farmer should continue trying to grow cotton without picking out his crop early and completely destroying the cotton plants, stalks, leaves, squares and bolls, long before the first autumn frost.

Destruction of the cotton plants before October 15th, in this instance, allowed but 3 per cent of the weevils to live until the crop of 1909 was subject to their attack. Against this small number of over-wintered weevils, as has been repeatedly proven by experience, the planter can make a good crop by the use of proper early-maturing varieties and by the adoption of the intensive cultured methods. By leaving the cotton plants standing until after the middle of December, last fall, the farmer invited certain destruction of this years crop, for when he starts the spring with 43 per cent as many weevils as he had the previous fall he cannot hope to make a crop by any known means under the sun.

Arguments are still made against early fall destruction of the cotton plants by those who steadfastly refuse to see the plain facts placed before them, but the farmers who are destroying the cotton plants early in the fall are making money growing cotton, and the fact remains, despite all arguments, that there is no other way in which a paying crop of cotton can be made under the conditions as they now exist in Texas, and in Louisiana, and as they will exist for many years to come.

Strangely enough, there are farmers who still argue that they cannot pick out the crop early enough to destroy the cotton plants by October 15th, or November 1st. The alternative is to have no cotton to pick out. Those who cannot so arrange their farm management as to follow the above recommendation in this regard are simply advised not to grow cotton at all, for unless the weevils are destroyed—by destroying the cotton plants—early in the fall, a profitable crop is impossible.

Do not wait for sad experience to drive this lesson home to you. If you intend to grow cotton next year make all preparations now to pick out this years crop as fast as it opens and destroy all cotton plants by cutting them down and burning them before October 15th or, at the latest, November 1st.

Mild Laxative for Baby Free

The child of today is the parent of the future, and whether it grows up healthy and strong, or puny and weak, depends upon the intelligence of its parents, for most children are born into the world healthy, but thousands become future weaklings between birth and the age of ten, when the parents are still in greatest control.

The prime cause of trouble is in the stomach. A baby that is fretting its face, seldom cries and always looks cheerful; the little child whose stomach is good romps and plays and never whines; the growing child learns well at school and is eager for fun if its head is clear and its stomach light, and that means it has no constipation.

The best and safest way to cure any irregularity of the stomach and bowels in children is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a liquid laxative wonderful in its effect as Mrs. John W. Dinham, Apple Creek, O., Mrs. H. L. Colman, Plainville, Ind., and numerous others can testify who give it to their children with extraordinary results.

A bottle only costs 50 cents or $1 according to the size you want, and even the 50-cent bottle will do a wonderful amount of good in a family. It can be given to any member of the family in constipation, sour stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, dyspepsia, heartburn, sick headache and similar digestive troubles. It never gripes or strangles like pills, cathartics, salts and cathartics, which should not be given to children, women or old folks.

If you have a child or other member of your family who needs, but has never used this great laxative tonic, send your name and address to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent to your home. In this way you can find out what it will do without personal expense.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

EXPERIMENTAL ROADS.

The good roads movement is complicated by the uncertainty which prevails as to the best and most economical material to employ. There are decided differences of opinion throughout the United States and the situation is made the more confusing because of the exceedingly active agitation of those who have materials or patented machinery to sell.

The Department of Agriculture is conducting an experiment in with Cornell university which should be of immense help to road makers and county commissioners. A highway in New York which bears a heavy traffic is divided into sections of 100 yards each and different forms of material are laid—macadam, granite, slag, tarred stone and asphalt preparations.

A careful account of cost is kept, records made of the time necessary to lay the road bed and the conditions under which it was necessary to work.

The road will be completed this fall. It will be watched closely and about a year hence a pains-taking inspection will be made. It is hoped that time data can be published and recommendations offered which will be of value.

The good roads idea is taking a closer and closer hold upon the country. It would be seriously injured if even a small preparation of the new highways laid should prove more costly than a community should be asked to pay, or should prove to wear too quickly and throw the roads back to their old state of disrepute.—Bonham Favorite.

WOODS FIRE DOES DAMAGE.

From Saturday's Daily: Between 200 and 300 acres of pine lands were swept yesterday afternoon by fire, resulting in a great deal of damage. How the fire originated is not known, but presumably caused by a lighted match being thrown into pine straw.

The area burned was the property of John Power, and amounts to quite a loss. It is stated that lots of the trees are not injured a great deal, but most of them are deadened. But for an old field and a strip of burned over lands, the fire yesterday might have done much more damage.

The gin plant of J. W. Bird had a very narrow escape Thursday afternoon too. The plant was in operation when a match, running through the stands, was struck and ignited some lint, making quite a blaze. J. H. Woodum, gin stand man, was near, and threw himself on the fire, smothering it, and saving the plant from possible total destruction. He was badly burned about the hands and face and is said now to be suffering considerably as a result of his efforts.

DEATH CLAIMS COL. JOHN B. REAGAN

Superintendent of the Confederate Home at Austin, Passes Away This Morning at the Residence of His Son, Dr. J. H. Reagan—Demise Will be a Great Shock to the Entire State—"This is the First Time I Ever Turned Back From Anything."

Colonel John B. Reagan, father of our townsmen, Dr. J. H. Reagan and Forest Reagan, and for the past three years Superintendent of the Confederate Home at Austin, died this morning at Dr. Reagan's home at Hayward, of apoplexy. Col. Reagan's demise came at five o'clock, after a night of comparative rest, and was a great shock to the family, friends and entire citizenship, despite the fact that all realized for some time that the end was not far away. Col. Reagan suffered his first stroke of apoplexy last April and since that time has been on the gradual decline though he took extended rests, short trips and other changes in the hopes of his health being benefited. Some days ago he came to this city to visit his sons, as he had frequently done the past summer, and in a general way seemed to have been doing very well. Col. Reagan was conscious until the last, his mind was clear and active, while he fully realized that he was near death's door. When the demise came this morning he was surrounded by his family and a few friends, saying, "This is the first time I ever turned my back from anything."

Col. John B. Reagan was born in Blount County, Tennessee, March 13, 1848, being sixty-six years, six months and eleven days old at the time of his death. He came to Texas in an early day, joining the Confederate Army from this state. At the close of the war he returned to Texas and settled at Rusk, Cherokee county, and where he continually resided until about three years ago when he was appointed superintendent of the Confederate Home at Austin by Governor T. M. Campbell. He served in that capacity of manager of the East Texas Penitentiary four years and was appointed by Gov. S. W. T. Lanham. Previous to going to Austin, Col. Reagan served as sheriff of Cherokee county for thirty years. He was one of the best known and most loved men in the state and the entire citizenship of this commonwealth will mourn his loss. The Confederates at the Home in Austin, aged and remissent, will bow their heads of silvery locks in grief, and mourn greatly the death of their beloved chief, leader and comrade who has looked after their wants and needs the past few years. Until three days ago he was hopeful and believed he would again be able to assume his duties at the Capitol city, but ill health had claimed him, the life on this earth was near an end, he realized it, and sent to Governor Campbell his resignation as Superintendent of the Home. The death announcement was a distinct shock to the people of this city and all the morning friends and acquaintances of Col. Reagan and his sons, were out to express feelings of regret and sympathy. Judge James I. Perkins a long time personal friend and fellow townsman, adjourned District Court just after noon, till Monday. The remains of Col. Reagan were shipped this afternoon at 2:30 to Rusk, via the T. & N. O. to Galatin and from there by special train to Rusk. Interment will take place tomorrow afternoon in the City Cemetery there. The following was written by a member of the Confederate Home at Austin, and shows the high esteem with which Col. Reagan was held by all who knew him, and especially his comrades, the old soldiers:

The inmates of the home were kindly remembered last Saturday, Texas Independence Day, by the ladies of Jeff Davis chapter, U. D. C., of Galveston, who sent to the veterans a fine treat consisting of ice cream, cake, candy, apples, oranges, bananas, etc. The good things were in the greatest profusion, and were distributed by a committee of ladies from Albert Sidney Johnson chapter of Austin. Those Galveston ladies are in the habit of remembering the old men in this manner at occasional intervals, and the veterans swear by the members of that chapter and kiss their hands for this last evidence of their kind regard. The noble women composing the United Daughters of the Confederacy have done much for the inmates of the home.

Since my last, C. B. Meeks, aged 62, died in the hospital here. He was a member of Duff's Texas regiment during the war and had only been in the hospital about two weeks, and had not been regularly admitted to the home, only coming here for treatment. There were only three deaths in the month of February.

A delegation from the Epworth League, headed by Rev. and Mrs. Ellis, visited the hospital a few days ago and held a song and prayer service. As a result of their visit, many of the old men wore flowers in their button-holes that evening.

There has been an unusual number of visitors to the home of late, including a number of ladies. Among the latter were Mesdames Mobley and Crawford, the former being the youngest daughter of the late lamented judge, John H. Reagan, and a cousin of the present popular superintendent. A number of legislators have also visited the home in the past few days, five or six of them coming out Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Werlein of Austin filed the pulpit at the chapel last Sunday and delivered an eloquent discourse to a large congregation. Our charming and popular matron, Mrs. Lee Gaines, who, among her many other accomplishments, is a fine musician, presided at the organ.

Two or three old men recently clubbed together and manufactured a fish trap, with which they fondly hoped to catch many fish out of the Colorado, but so far the enterprise has not proven a success. I believe they have caught three fish.

John B. Reagan is the present genial and popular superintendent of the Texas Confederate Home, who, as I mentioned in a former letter, was himself a gallant Confederate soldier, who won the right to be so characterized on many a bloody battlefield, where the boys in gray "fought like brave men long and well."

Mr. Reagan was born in Blount county, Tennessee, the grand old state which has furnished so many noble men, both soldiers and statesmen—the state that gave Texas a Houston; a Crockett and many other illustrious men whose names adorn the pages of our history. He is a nephew of the late Judge John H. Reagan, whose memory will always be revered by all true Texans. Mr. Reagan came from Tennessee to Texas in 1857, with his parents, locating in Cherokee county, at or near the town of Rusk, and was living there when the call to arms was sounded in the South. Now, Mr. Reagan is of Irish descent, and no man with Irish blood in his veins ever sat down quietly at home when the tocsin of war was sounded and men were gathering for the fray, and Mr. Reagan promptly enlisted in company C, Third Texas infantry, which regiment became a part of the brigade commanded by the gallant General Sul Ross, another name dear to all true Texans, and which brigade did much hard fighting, and won a place in the annals of the Confederacy almost if not as proud as that won by those other two famous Texas commands, Hood's brigade and the Terry rangers.

The Ross brigade saw its first service in the Missouri campaign, under General Price, and was in the battles of Wilson's creek, Elkhorn (where General Ben McCulloch of Texas fell) and the various other sanguinary engagements of that campaign.

At the close of that campaign, during which Mr. Reagan never missed a fight, the command was ordered east of the Mississippi and became a part of the army of Tennessee. On the bloody fields of Shiloh and Corinth Ross' brigade was conspicuous for its gallantry, and young Reagan was always on the firing line and in the forefront of the battle.

At the battle of Murfreesboro, Tenn., Mr. Reagan was severely wounded, and while waiting for that wound to heal saw the only respite from active service he knew while hostilities lasted. His wound healed quickly, however, and he was soon back in his place in the ranks, where he did his duty as became a good soldier, until all was lost gave honor, and then he surrendered with the remnant of the "thin line in gray" and came back to his Texas home with the proud consciousness of having done his duty as be-

EVERYONE NEEDS
S.S.S.
IN THE SPRING

This is just a short talk which we hope will be of interest and help to you in selecting the tonic and blood purifier that will be of the greatest value to you this Spring.

That this is the most trying of all seasons on the health is a fact well known to us all. It is the time of year when our constitutions are required to stand the greatest strain, and unless properly cared for the foundation is often laid for physical disorders or disease later on. The great majority of persons are fast coming to realize the importance of preventing disease. Health is our most valued possession, and its preservation is a matter which vitally concerns every one.

Most persons, even those who are ordinarily strong and robust, feel the necessity of a tonic and blood purifier at this season. Some have no particular ailment, but are weak, debilitated and run-down. The Winter life, with its decreased amount of outdoor exercise, and the fact that the cold weather has kept the pores of the skin closed, prevented the usual necessary amount of refuse and waste matter from being carried out of the system. These impurities entering the circulation have weakened and thinned the blood, and this vital fluid is therefore lacking in the nourishing properties necessary to sustain and preserve systemic health, when warm, active Spring life begins.

The general bodily weakness, tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, etc., show how weak and anaemic the blood has become. Frequently skin diseases, pimples, eruptions, boils, etc., break out on the skin, and this is evidence of the impurity of the circulation.

S.S.S. is the medicine needed to correct this condition, and is the only one on which you can rely to supply the system with the best tonic effects, and at the same time thoroughly purify the blood. The use of S.S.S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the strain of the long, hot Summer. Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened it could not resist disease, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria, or some other trouble. S.S.S. is Nature's ideal tonic and blood purifier, made entirely of the pure extracts of healing, strengthening, health-giving roots and herbs. It tones up the stomach and digestion, rids one of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and in every way contributes to the strengthening and building up of the entire system. S.S.S. is recognized everywhere as the greatest of all blood purifiers, and this combined with its unequalled tonic properties, make it a medicine needed by every one in the Spring. S.S.S. is for sale at all drug stores.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

came a man. And through it all and despite it all, I remained (so his comrades tell) the same jovial, pleasant, chivalrous gentleman he is today with always a smile and a pleasant word for all, and most popular where he is best known.

When the war was over Texas needed such men as John B. Reagan and needed them badly. After the dark days of reconstruction and carpet bag rule were things of the past, Mr. Reagan held the position of deputy sheriff of Cherokee county for 14 years, after which he was elected sheriff of the county, which place he held with credit to himself and satisfaction to the people for 16 years.

When Governor Lanham went into office he appointed Mr. Reagan assisted superintendent of penitentiaries and he had charge of the Rusk penitentiary.

The duties of that position he discharged as he has always done all duty—did it well.

Governor Campbell appointed him Superintendent of this Home, and he entered upon his duties February 1, and in one short month has won the regard and esteem of all the inmates—the hardest set of men to please I ever knew Taylor Thompson.
