A GERMAN SUBMARINE IN AMERICAN WATERS

WASHINGTON, April 17.—A German submarine today fired on the destroyer Smith about 100 miles south of New York.

The presence of enemy submarines in American waters indicates that the threatened submarine blockade of American Atlantic ports had begun.

This announcement was made at the navy department:

"Reported from Fire Island Lightship to the naval stations at Boston and New York at 3:30 a. m., on the 17th, an enemy submarine was sighted by the U. S. S. Smith, running apparently submerged. Submarine fired a torpedo at the U. S. S. Smith, which missed her by 30 yards. The wake of the torpedo was plainly seen crossing the bow. Submarine disappeared."

Forecasts Submarine Blockade.

First information of the encounter came to the navy department in a round about way from the Boston navy yard, which picked up the Smith's report, saying she had been fired upon by a German U-boat.

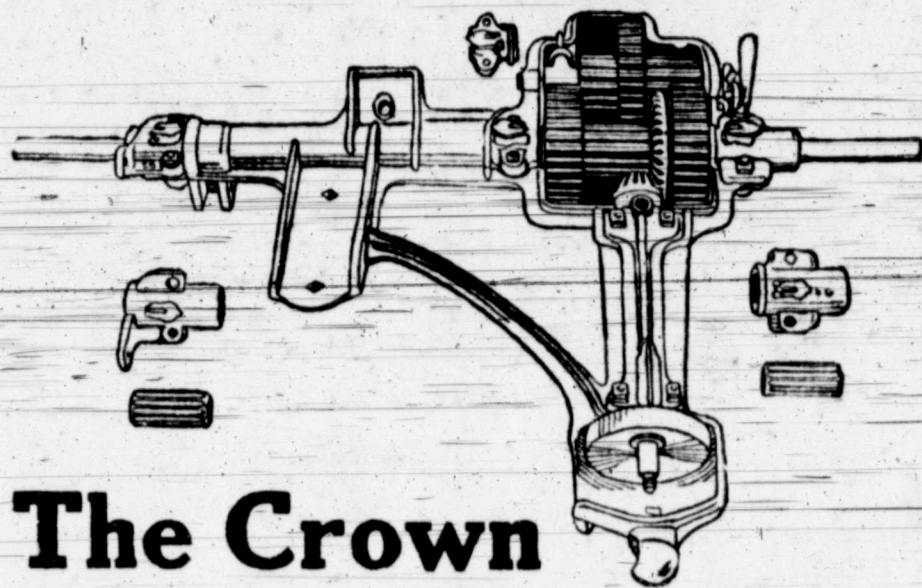

The navy department, after communicating with Fire Island, Boston, New York and other Atlantic coast points, announced that the report of the Smith's encounter had been substantiated by official investigation.

Whether the presence of the German submarine merely foreshadows a sporadic raid, such as the U-53 conducted off the New England coast, or whether it is the signal for the beginning of a general submarine blockade of the Atlantic coast is not known.

The Crown

The Mower With a Simple Double Speed Gear

The Crown Mower has many points of superiority over any other machine we have seen but the greatest thing is the "double or changeable speed;" there is no other mower on the market with a similar device. The gears are very strong, heavy and durable and perfect in their operation. It is a simple matter to change from one speed to another. The Crown gives you a Fast Speed for hard cutting and a Slow Speed for ordinary or light cutting. This saves the life of the machine and much easier on the team.

It's the greatest mower we have seen and we want you to see it whether you intend to buy or not. Come around and take a "look" or if you are not coming to town just phone or write us and we will send you full information about it.

Commissioner of Agriculture Davis has promulgated a "loyalty pledge" which has been printed and distributed over the state.

It is a pledge for farmers alone wherein it is agreed to increase the acreage of foodstuff, with the implied agreement to study for greater efficiency and increase the raising of poultry and live stock.

RAISE HALF OF YEAR'S WAR COST

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Administration suggestions as to possible new sources of taxation through which to raise approximately one-half of the estimated cost of the first year of the war, or $1,870,500,000 were submitted by Secretary McAdoo last night to the senate finance and the house ways and means committees. The other half of the cost is to be provided by $2,000,000,000 of the bonds provided by the war revenue bill passed Saturday by the house, which is expected to pass the senate this week.

Outstanding in the suggestions are greatly increased income and excess profit tax rates, taking of many imported articles now admitted free, and stamp, liquor, amusement, sugar, coffee, tobacco, soft drink, freight and passenger transportation receipts and automobile taxes. All of the data is sent to congress for its information and without recommendations from the treasury.

LEGISLATORS IN AUSTIN READY

AUSTIN, Texas, April 17.—With today's arrivals there will be a quorum in both branches of the legislature tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and it is expected the appropriation bills of the house and senate committees will be ready for introduction immediately after the lawmakers get down to business.

There will be no new organization in the house and the same officers also will serve in the senate, with the exception of a president pro tem. It is reported that Senator James Harley of Seguin is scheduled for this position for the extra session.

STATE UNIVERSITY IN CONTINUOUS SESSION

AUSTIN, Texas, April 17.—Hereafter the University of Texas will be in continuous session with the exception of a term of about four weeks in September when it is necessary to put the buildings in condition for the influx of students the first of October. In addition to nearly one hundred regular instructors of the University, twenty others have been chosen to assist in the work for the present summer, including men from other universities and some of the best known teachers of Texas. The summer session will open June 12, the first term continuing until July 26; the second term from that date until September 4. Courses will be offered in all the regular academic subjects, in education, in law, and in engineering, as well as regular summer normal courses leading to teacher's certificates. In addition, special courses will be taught in the subjects of agriculture and Home Economics.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 17.—Major General John J. Pershing has detailed Captain James G. Boswell, infantry, to organize military courses and a cadet corps at the University of Texas. Captain Boswell has assumed his duties. The action was taken at the request of President Vinson.

Mr. J. T. Yates, one of The Sentinel's good friends from Douglas, was in the city this afternoon, and made this office a pleasant call.

Those who seek for nothing more than happiness in this world are doomed to many disappointments.

With the beautiful weather that has prevailed today, we feel like exclaiming with the amateur poet. "Spring has come!"

That bunch of westerners from Canada and the United States are putting some "pep" in the European war, and recovering country that had been lost at a great sacrifice by native soldiers.

It is as important to drive away hunger as it is to drive away encroaching enemies, one being essential to the other, and the man who tills the farm bears an important part in the patriotic work of his country.

According to a Dallas county grand jury, "gasoline, gin and girls" are the main causes of crime. Why not amend it to read "gasoline, gin and gents"? Why this discrimination against the "gents"?—Fort Worth Record.

A peanut crop will pay for the cost of production, and make a good payment on the purchase price of the land. Several crops on the same land rightly managed, would accumulate for the investor a home clear of any other expenditure.

Are you cleaning up your premises today? The trash wagons will be around tomorrow, and if you have failed to do your part, you have neglected a very sacred duty to yourself, your neighbor and your town. Don't forget to have the trash barrel or box containing the trash on the side of the streets where the wagons can get to it easily.

Motorists to and from Lufkin "cuss" Angelina county for the bad condition of the road in the neighbor-county would neglect so important highway unless it be because inhabitants fear the bottom on the Angelina side, and can't understand why the neighbor-inhabitants fear the landing of "furrin" enemies at the point and would thus impede their progress. But now that they have a flag on the stand-pipe for protection, let us hope that the trouble will be remedied, and the highway made passable for Lufkin people to visit a good town when out joy riding.

The sweet potato industry in Longview and the great Longview country is one of the best and largest industries in the state of Texas, and at the rapid increase of the past three years, this city will ship more in the future than any other point in the world. This is saying a lot, but the Leader has received statistics which will prove that these are facts. In conversation with J. B. Wells who has charge of the curing plant of this city, he stated that three years ago only three cars of potatoes were shipped from Longview. Last fall there were between 160 and 170 car loads shipped from this point and he calculates that this fall there will be between 300 and 500 cars marketed.—Longview Leader.

A mother's pension bill, providing for the granting of small pensions by the commissioners' court of the various counties to indigent widowed mothers who have resided in the state five years preceding the application for pension, and two years in the county, has been signed by the governor and will now become a law. The amounts to be allowed are as follows: One child shall not exceed $12 per month; two children $18, and $4 per month for each additional charge, no child to be over fifteen years of age. The pensions are to be allowed only to prevent children from becoming public charges, and if they are not properly fed and clothed, action will be taken. There is no appeal from a refusal of the commissioners' court in passing upon any application.

CONFIDENCE IN YOURSELF.

Do you remember how you used to stand on the street corner and watch the chaps spin by in their autos? The spinning looked so easy. Apparently, all the drivers did was just sit comfortably back and let the machine, unaided, do its work of quick, easy and safe locomotion. Suddenly a truck rushed out of a side street, right in the course of one of the comfortably seated autoists. Did the autoist bestir him to excitement, did he pull madly at levers and wheels and other bits of complicated machinery? He did not. With ease undisturbed he leaned over ever so slightly, gave a little pull at this and a pat at that, and his car glided out of danger.

And you said as you watched: "It's no trick to drive an automobile."

Then one day when Providence had placed a shekel or two in your pocket over and above the monthly grocery bill you walked right into an auto shop and bought a flier. The mysteries of wheels and levers were explained to you, and with high confidence in yourself to start and stop and steer and shift gears you started out on the panchalant business of driving an automobile.

And then suddenly high confidence dropped to the zero point and soon sank below zero, and what was high became low and finally confidence didn't exist at all. For every vehicle that approached you seemed bent on running into you, and you in turn seemed determined to run into street cars and autos and pedestrians and things, and the street simply wasn't big enough to hold you.

And you thought of the fellow who drove his car so comfortably.

Well, live and learn.

What you have you must win. Nothing is given you out of hand, not even the ability to drive a tin Lizzie.—Shreveport Times.

The additional fifteen cents road tax carried in the county election Tuesday by twenty-four votes. There were about fifteen hundred votes cast. The vote of Garrison precinct was seventy-five for the bonds and only twenty-five against it. This is additional proof that Garrison is the most progressive town in Nacogdoches county, not excepting even the city of Nacogdoches.—Garrison News.

Let's take stock in the matter of municipal progress in arriving at the conclusion as to which town is the most progressive. Nacogdoches has a waterworks plant that would supply a town of twenty thousand population; she has one of the best electric light and power plants in the state, with constant service—day and night, rain or shine. She has a first-class sewerage system with free service to the citizens. All these enterprises are owned and operated by the city. The city has also paved the public square and some of the leading streets, erected steel and concrete bridges across the streams, maintains and furnishes equipment for a first-class fire department, employs a scavenger service and street sweeper with which the public square and leading streets are cleared of all dirt and trash every morning; operates a free wagon yard for the farmers, and renders a lot of other service of more or less importance which we cannot call to mind just now. In addition to this public service we will soon have a Federal post-office building and free mail delivery which has been secured by the "progressives." Now, let us have your list.

When you have tried out all other places, and have decided to give up in despair, come to Angelina—and all of your troubles will be over. Thousands have tried the experiment, and no one has ever been known to complain.—Lufkin News.

We are glad that you give us the opportunity to try out all other places first, after which we, too, promise not to complain if, as a last resort, there is no other place left. We regret to make this observation, or to contemplate the experience of the final windup of a "useful" career in such obscurity, but you provoke it, darn you. Save us a place at Davisville where we can get democratic mail from a democratic postmaster, and a division of the next Irish potato grown in the county.

THE CONFEDERATE HOME.

The following letter, describing life and conditions in the Confederate Home, was clipped from one of the State papers by a veteran of this county and sent to The Sentinel with the request that we reproduce it.

There has been much talk recently concerning the management of the Home, and being an inmate of the Home for two years or more, I will tell somewhat of how we do, of what we do, of what we have and how we generally get along.

The Daughters of the Confederacy, with the help of the citizens of Austin, and such help as they could get from the outside, began this work soon after the war. There was then only one or two houses, one of which was a two-story building, known now as the Buzzard Roost still stands. The original occupants of those old buildings have departed long since. After quite a while the burden became too heavy and the State took charge. Now it is a State institution, continuing its mission, which is take care for the old, indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers, which purpose it has nobly fulfilled for many years. Soldiers almost from every county in the State during these years have rested here for a while, passed on, and are now sleeping, several hundreds of them in the State Cemetery.

There has been some talk about repairing our present buildings, some of which begin to look a little old, but the general impression is they will last as long as we will need them. And I think they will, for the youngest man here is 70 years of age, and on up to the nineties, and most of them in some way afflicted. In a few more years only a hospital will be necessary. The Home is beautifully located and a view south and west looking towards the mountains with the Colorado rolling between is splendid.

The grounds contain fifteen acres and almost every foot of it you can walk with dry feet, rain it ever so hard—I don't think in all the State there could have been found a more desirable place. The houses which set back of the headquarters, which is on the brow of the hill, were intended to be in a square, but more room became necessary and now they are scattered around promiscuously. Two of the larger buildings now full of old soldiers have in time passed been used as hospitals. A part of one of them is now our chapel. The buildings for the soldiers were in long rows and the rooms contain four beds. They are large enough for four men and comfortable with a stove in the middle. Now, if the men should happen to be congenial, it is all right, and if not, it is all wrong, and this has been the occasion of many fights and removals, and more disturbance generally than anything else.

The causes for these disturbances are innumerable little things, especially when the parties are not overly friendly—and nothing short of a fight or a change in location will satisfy. The result of these encounters are never very serious, as the parties engaged are not so strong and active as they once were. Some of the men are very old and childish and easily offended. Occasionally you meet one of these old fellows, and inquiring as to the condition of his health, he will tell you it is none of your "dom business." He means no harm by it, just don't like to be troubled and especially as he knows you can't do him good. The physical and mental man are very closely connected and many of them are hardly responsible. We have some here who are well educated, whose minds are strong, but I guess the most of our minds, like our bodies, are weak. I can no longer remember names and places myself, but my appetite is good.

We have a good hospital with a good doctor, nurses, all the help necessary, and everything about it nice and clean. Within its walls there is always from eighty to one hundred patients, and from it to the grave there has been carried seventy-two this year. From there all who are here will go some day, and the question is, who is next? To look at the poor, suffering, emaciated, lying in their cots, you would say death is a prize. There are here now about three hundred and sixty-five men the deaf, the blind, the one-legged, the one-armed, the one-eyed, the rheumatic and most anything else you could mention. These men, many of them, since the war, have been local, while others just been going up and down the earth, to Australia, Alaska, South America, Canada, Mexico, seeing the world, and seeking that which they never found.

This home is a good place for the worn out, weary and disappointed to end their journeying. There are soldiers here I expect, from almost every division or brigade of the armies of Lee and Johnson. There are men here who stormed the heights of Gettysburg, or stacked arms at Appomattox with Lee, and at Greensboro with Johnson. They talk much of war, of what they saw or did, and of questions affecting the people of the present, political, religious, and social, they are not slow to talk concerning any question and it is very seldom any two agree for long.

President Wilson, manager of our national office could get information here to run the thing from somebody who knows just how he should do when in doubt. These talks do no harm, may do them some good, and anyway it shows there is life in the old land yet. When we cease to have opinions about matters and things we are at a low ebb indeed.

Lights are supposed to be out at nine o'clock, but this is not always observed, as someone, somewhere, is more than apt to be sick. We get up anywhere between five o'clock, and seven o'clock, at which latter time we have breakfast. For breakfast we have biscuit, coffee, oatmeal, butter and some bacon fried crisp. For dinner we have cornbread, potatoes, peas beans or cabbage, milk and meat cooked with them. For supper biscuit, butter, milk, rice dried apples or peaches. We don't have a variety but it is good enough for anybody and I wish everyone in Texas, black or white, had as much and in such abundance.

Breakfast over we go to the office and glance at the big dailies get our mail, if any, and for the rest of the day are in or out as suits our pleasure for we are allowed to wander as we please. The doctor advises those who are able to exercise. All the western side of Austin on which side the home is located, is rocky and hilly and among these hills the soldiers in years past have made beautiful paths, winding about along which it is pleasant to walk. With plenty to eat, good beds upon which to sleep, clean sheets and pillow cases, our clothing washed every week, good books and papers to read, and nothing to do we should be thankful and happy. It is not to be expected, numbers considered, that at our meals the plates, cups, knives and forks should always be exactly as clean as in the private homes. I have seen slips of that kind in well regulated families. Our clothes, while not exactly such as an equal number of young men who are flying about with the girls and plenty of money would desire, but are comfortable, and that is a plenty.

We have preaching every Sunday almost, and singing often by the young people from town or the University. There are several preachers in the home, and a diversity of opinions among them about the future. The preachers in the city have therefore been taking it time about holding services in the home chapel. We have plenty of instruction as to the way if we will only do.

To add to the comforts and pleasures already mentioned all the railroads extend to us the courtesy of granting us passes to any point in the state to which we wish to travel which we appreciate most highly. Without these many of us would stay here till we die, never having money enough to buy a ticket.

The officials of the home with their assistants are doing their best to make comfortable and pleasant the inmates.

Come and see us.

SHINE WHERE YOU ARE.

(By JOHN HAY)

Don't waste your time in longing For bright, impossible things. Don't sit supinely yearning For the swiftness of the wings. Don't spurn to be a rushlight Because you are not a star, But brighten some bit of darkness By shining just where you are.

There is need of the tiniest candle As well as the garish sun. The humblest deed is ennobled When it is worthily done. You may never be called to brighten The darkened regions afar; So fill for the day your mission By shining just where you are.

CALLS LEGISLATURE TO MEET APRIL 18

AUSTIN, Texas, April 14.—Governor Ferguson in the opening paragraph of his proclamation issued today, calling the legislature to meet in extra session at 10 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, April 18, appears to imply that the legislature has been derelict in its duty when he says:

"Whereas the thirty-fifth legislature of the state of Texas in pursuance of a concurrent resolution theretofore adopted, adjourned the regular session of the Thirty-fifth legislature at 6 o'clock p. m. on March 21, 1917, without making appropriations for the support of the state government, as provided by the constitution shall be done:

"Now therefore, the failure of the legislature to pass such appropriation bills creates an extraordinary occasion, justifying the governor to convene the legislature in extra session."

Continuing the call, the governor says: "And in pursuance of the powers vested in me under the constitution of the state of Texas, I do hereby call the said Thirty-fifth legislature to convene in extra session in the state capital in the city of Austin, Texas, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., Wednesday, on the 18th day of April, A. D., 1917, for the following purposes, to-wit:

"1. To make appropriations for the support of the state government and its institutions, and the repair, restoration and erection of the necessary public buildings for the fiscal years beginning September 1, 1917, and ending August 31, 1917.

"2. The special consideration of the matter of the adoption of a uniform system of text books to be used in the public schools of the state, after the contract of the present adoption has expired.

"As is well known, the contract for the furnishing of text books for the public schools will expire before the next regular session of the legislature will convene in January, 1919. Therefore, it is highly essential that provision be made by the legislature for the adoption of text books to be furnished the public schools. If we wait until after the contract has expired, then the patrons of the public schools would either have no place to obtain school books or they would be at the mercy of the publishing houses and would be compelled to pay exorbitant prices for books. Already there is a well-defined plan and design on the part of certain publishers of school books to defeat any legislation upon this subject at this time for the express purpose of obtaining an opportunity to unload upon the children of the state a large amount of obsolete and out-of-date text books at attractive prices.

"Therefore, I urge upon the Thirty-fifth legislature at its special session to consider the question of adopting and providing school books for the children of the state so that they may buy the best books for the least money.

"3. To consider and act upon such other matters as may be presented by the governor, pursuant to section 40 of article 3 of the constitution of Texas.

"In testimony whereof I hereunto sign my name and cause the seal of state to be affixed, at Austin, Texas, this 14th day of April, A. D. 1917. (Signed) 'JAMES E. FERGUSON,' Governor of Texas. By the governor, Churchill Bartlett, secretary of state.

ASK $2,320,646 FOR EDUCATIONAL WORK

AUSTIN, Texas, April 16.—President R. E. Vinson of the University of Texas, appeared before the house committee on appropriations today relative to appropriations to be made for that institution for the next two fiscal years.

This institution is asking for a total appropriation of $825,068 for the first, and $815,578 for the second fiscal year. This includes the appropriation of $98,755 a year for the support and maintenance of the medical branch at Galveston. Doctor Vinson detailed the various items in the budget for the next two years. The amount appropriated for the last two fiscal years was $705,192 for the first, and $742,811 for the second year. This, however, did not include $322,540 appropriated for the new educational building and other special expenses incurred during the past two years.

Before the senate finance committee, the heads of the four state normals occupied the attention of the committee. These are the appropriations asked for these various institutions: Sam Houston Normal, Huntsville, $76,000 for the first and $80,000 for the second fiscal year; North Texas State Normal, Denton, $110,000 for the first and $115,000 for the second fiscal year; Southwest Texas State Normal, San Marcos, $80,000 and $85,000; West Texas State Normal, Canyon, $65,000 and $70,000.

FRENCH JOIN BRITISH DRIVING GERMANY BACK

More Than Ten Thousand Germans Have Been Captured in the Alliance which Goes Forward.

PARIS, April 16.—(11:50 p. m.)—The French began an attack this morning after several days' artillery preparation, between Soissons and Rheims. Several German lines were carried and more than 10,000 Germans were taken prisoners. The official announcement of this success, issued by the war office tonight, describes the fighting, as being of the utmost violence.

From the Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press, British Headquarters in France, April 16.—(Via London, 10:10 p. m.)—With the hot flames of war raging along the entire western front, British and French alike, it can be stated that each detail of the offensive plans has been worked out at prolonged conferences between General Nivelle and Field Marshal Haig, and the war councils of France and England.

The part to be played by each belligerent has been definitely agreed upon and a schedule has been arranged as for one great cohesive force. Various tasks have been precisely allotted along the wide-reaching battle lines, and the results thus far attained justify the conclusion that the supreme test of the war is near at hand.

It was planned that the British should strike from Arras while the French guns still were roaring their preparation for infantry hostilities further to the south. The successes gained in the first stages of the British advance have given the French great confidence in the inauguration of their own enterprises.

The whole struggle in the western theatre promises to be a titanic one. The allies are prepared as never before, both in material and personnel.

SLIM CHANCE TO EXPORT COTTON

Great difficulty securing space for cotton in the ocean freight service is now being experienced by exporters. A British admiralty ruling allotting the space has just been made as follows:

Eighty-five percent of the space of English ships from American ports shall be devoted to munitions, 7% per cent of the space to foodstuffs and the remaining 7% per cent to cotton.

CRIME OF TREASON.

Just now while the country is excited with war, and people are prone to express their convictions, sometimes too fully, it would be well for every one to familiarize himself with the law on the subject.

What is treason? "Whoever, owing allegiance to the United States, levies war against them," says the federal statute, "or adheres to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort, within the United States or elsewhere, is guilty of treason."

The penalty is death, or the judge in his discretion, may sentence the convicted one to not less than five years in prison and fine him not less than $10,000.

For having a knowledge of the crime of treason and not telling the officials is punishable by not more than seven years and $1000 fine. Enlisting in a cause against the United States is punishable by three years in prison and $1000. It is unlawful to sow sedition, to incite strife or for two or more persons to conspire to do anything against the United States. Just how far "giving aid and comfort to the enemy" can be stretched is hard telling.

CHICAGO, April 13.—May wheat sold $2.22½ today or 3½ cents higher than the high point reached by the sensational advance yesterday.

WARNS AGAINST TREASON TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—All persons in the United States, citizens and aliens, are warned in a proclamation issued today by the president that treasonable acts or attempts to shield such acts will be vigorously prosecuted by the government.

With the issuance of the proclamation by President Wilson the country was first informed of the serious watchfulness which will be maintained by the government to guard against any assistance being given enemies of the United States. The experiences of Great Britain and other entente countries in this respect will guide the course of the American government, and in the words of President Wilson's proclamation, "all who aid or shield those who aid" enemies of America will be prosecuted with utmost severity.

GOVERNMENT TO CONTROL RAILROADS IN THE WAR

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Power for the president to order railway officials to operate part of their rolling stock during war time as he may see fit without actually taking over the railroads is given in the common carrier regulation bill of the last session of congress, reintroduced in amended form today by Chairman Adamson of the house commerce committee.

Provisions to permit the president to control and operate all railroad, telegraph and telephone lines, to draft their employees into the military service, to use the military in protecting the operation of railway lines and to increase the personnel of the interstate commerce commission from seven to 11 members, are included as in the previous bill.

The section by which the president might order the operation of part of a road's rolling stock is considered of the greatest importance.

All property taken over by the president would be returned to its owners at the close of the war. Attempts to evade service ordered by the government would be dealt with severely.

No special provision other than permitting the president to use military to guard the operation of trains is made against strikes.

WHEAT $2.47½

CHICAGO, April 16.—May wheat although handled in small lots only, today sold up 5 cents to $2.30.

July wheat sold at $2 just before the close of the market today, an advance from Saturday of 8½ cents. May jumped 12½ cents to $2.37½.

KANSAS CITY, April 16.—Advances in May wheat continued today as a result of additional efforts by shorts to cover. The closing Saturday figure of $2.38½ had been raised to $2.47½ shortly after the market opened. Traders predicted additional high prices as long as the cash demand keeps cash wheat selling at such a big premium over futures.

They Earned $29.00 For Each $1 Invested

THAT'S WHAT INVESTORS EARNED WHO PURCHASED ORIGINAL SHARES IN MY FIRST COMPANY. OTHER COMPANIES I ORGANIZED EARNED SHARE PURCHASERS TREMENDOUS PROFITS. NOW I AM ORGANIZING A BIG, NEW COMPANY JOINING ME NOW MAY BE THE MAKING OF YOUR FORTUNE. INVESTIGATE IT.

FORTUNES IN OIL

Here in the Coastal Oil Belt, millions of dollars are being earned by all classes of investors, from the man who can afford to invest only a few dollars a month to the investor of thousands. Single wells often come in with initial production of 10,000, 15,000 and 20,000 barrels of oil daily. Oil is selling up to $1.30 a barrel at the well, so that single wells often produce enormous fortunes every day that passes. Figure it for yourself. I organized the Hoffman Oil Company and sold shares at $10 each. Within nine months investors in the original shares of this company received $29 for every $1 invested, or $290 for every ten shares purchased. Here's what some of my investor friends got for coming in with me:

One man invested $70. In nine months time this small sum grew into $1906.70. Two ladies invested $84 each, and within the same time got back over $2200. One man invested $670, and when the profits were divided he received over $18,000 as his share. Many others profited in proportion, at a rate of $29 for every $1 invested.

YOU CAN INVEST

Now I am organizing a big, new company, the Hoffman Oil & Refining Corporation. I want to make this one of the biggest oil producing, refining and marketing companies in the Southwest. The par value of shares in this company is $10, the same as in my first company. But for a limited time, early buyers will get the benefit of a big discount. The recent allotment of shares will be sold at only a fraction of the actual par value. But this offer is positively limited. At the present price and terms, no matter how MUCH or how LITTLE you can afford to invest your opportunity to participate in the large profits we expect to make is just as great as anyone else, because ALL shareholders will share equally in the profits, according to the interest each one holds.

Don't lay this paper aside until you have clipped out and sent in the attached coupon. By return mail I will send you full details about my phenomenal success in the oil business and the wonderful profits I made for my investor friends in previous companies I organized. You'll be interested, and it may be the means of making your fortune.

Old Nacogdoches is being cleaned up from "center to circumference" today. Now, let's keep it clean, folks.

With the loss of its "Lens" let us hope that Germany will now be able to see more clearly the "handwriting on the wall."

The fellow who is content to "get by" will never "get very far" in the race of life. Nothing worth while is ever accomplished without great effort and great sacrifice.

Young men of the "country" who are "hiding behind skirts" in matrimonial alliance to escape conscription to service to their country, are inheriting much righteous criticism.

If all the idlers and street loafers in the various towns would get to the farms, while the "getting is good," they might escape getting called to the trenches later on.

An authority on the subject says that "keeping rich is harder than getting rich." We have had no experience in the former, and have not succeeded very far in the latter, hence we pass the idea down the line.

The Shreveport Times very wisely observes that "one of the country's military hopes is General Economy." True, and it will help us carry out the plan of covering the "crown of thorns" with a "cross of gold."

Those wealthy people of the cities who are "gobbling up" the food supply of the country against that day when there will be a shortage and increase of price, should get this philosophy: "That man who orders more than he can eat, the woman who cooks more than she can use, are not exactly patriots."

With flour at three bucks for a sack, Editor McDougal of the Tyler Courier-Times urges a return to the old-fashioned corn dodger. But with corn at one dollar and fifty cents a bushel, the esteemed contemporary will find that the spirit of commercialism has also entered this sacred precinct of man's sustenance and robbed it of its glory. Let's go fishing.

The Lufkin News gives assurance that the road leading from Nacogdoches to Lufkin will be repaired on the Angelina side one of these days in the following reply to The Sentinel's observation in the matter: "Have no fear, brother, this road will be built. It ought to have been built long ago. As for Lufkin people visiting a good town, that would work both ways."

Perhaps it is not too much to say that fifty years hence people will travel fifty miles an hour on foot rollers propelled by storage batteries in their shoes. Nothing is impossible, and no task is too great for electricity. And yet forty years ago the man who put the harness on this great force and made it do his bidding was a crank, laughed at by people who believed themselves intelligent.—Honey Grove Signal.

The newspaper grafters are seizing upon the opportunity of the campaign for better farming to work in some free advertising. The government is maintaining bureaus with which to assist in this great campaign, and the newspapers are giving liberally of their space, but the latter will draw the line on those enterprises which would include a veiled advertisement and thereby defraud an honest toiler of his wares.

Some smart fellow got his name in the paper the other day by informing the editor of one of our exchange of some wonderful things that had come to his attention. He says that a wagon maker who had been dumb since infancy picked up a hub and spoke; on the same day a blind carpenter reached out for a plane and saw; a deaf farmer went out with his dog and herd; an elephant inserted his trunk in a grate and flue; and a bed bug listened to a bed tick.—Tyler Courier-Times.

NACOGDOCHES TRADITIONS.

In December, 1855, there was a "hot time in the old town tonight." One cold night when the inhabitants were shut in doors, and wrapped in sleep, a fire broke out in a restaurant located about the middle of the west side of the big plaza.

The restaurant was owned by a man named Harlocker. This side of the square was filled up solidly with wooden buildings. There was no brick buildings in the line, and not a house in the line escaped. There was a "doggerly" on the corner where Hoya's land office now stands, and this, too, was burned, though the home of the German owner named Rimmele escaped and is still there, next door west.

The Rimmele name is gone. Mrs. John Pluecker was the last. There was nothing saved but a few barrels of whiskey which were rolled down the hill to the Banita Bayou. After the fire some of the men went down there and got highly hilarious to "drown their distress"—and then some.

The wooden court house then set in the middle of the public square or plaza, and it was badly scorched, and it had a narrow escape. It was afterward removed into the new row where the burnt buildings had burned. This was done at the instance of Judge Bennett Blake, who was elected by a small majority on the one issue or question of moving the court house and building a brick on the south side of the public square. This was done in 1857, and the first brick court house then built, being the one preceding the one now being torn away.

Thereafter a public well was dug in the center of the plaza where the old old frame court had stood. A circular covering with a hardwood floor, was constructed at this well, and the capacity of the well was intended to supply the general needs. It was about six feet in diameter, and was walled with brick. A fence around it enclosed shade trees, and this afforded a summer resort for any who wished. There was no gateway, entrance being made by several sets of steps over the fence. At one time a horse ran away with a buggy and leaped into this well yard. How to get him out was a problem.

The evacuation now being made for a Federal building, or postoffice, obliterates these structures, but does not blot out these memories; nor does it reveal any traces of the original mission that was probably located there and called La Mission del Guadalupe de Nuestra Señora del Pilar.

This mission faded away from lack of population to furnish membership and support. No definite record of it has been found.

The customs and methods of business, of commerce, and of all social as well as political and religious transactions, were quite peculiar and primitive here in Texas until about the end of the 19th century. Transportation and travel were by means of animal traction or conveyance. The biggest road in Texas then passed from East to West through the town of Nacogdoches. Mails were carried by stage coaches, hacks and horseback. A good speed for a letter going to Natchitoches, La., was two days and nights in transit, and from there on down the Red River by steamboat to New Orleans was four days. The first railroad reached Nacogdoches in 1884 or 1885. With it came a telegraph line.

But the first telephone came in 1898. It was a private, small line from Alto, and was brought here by a man named Pittman, Robert W. Murphy, who is now deputy district clerk here, dug the first postholes for the line. Patrons were to pay for each talk, so much per. This custom was of short duration. The phone lines changed hands from time to time until the S. W. Telegraph & Telephone Co., took over the entire system. It is now much changed up and improved. It permeates rural districts, and it covers the most distant cities. We are so familiar with it that we fail to credit it with its wondrous work.

The automobile has likewise assuaged civilization. But what shall we say of the aerial travel, and of the wireless conversation? And what next? Shall we see across the ocean, or talk to Mars or the moon? Wonders will never cease. Why not hold converse with all living nations, in one language, and even departed spirits? Or why may we not expect to answer the question "what is life," or what materials and functions, or actions of matter produce it?

HE IS ONLY A PRINTER.

"He is only a printer." Such was the sneering remark of a leader in a circle of aristocracy, of high quality, says a writer in the Century Magazine. Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. What were Prince Edward William and Prince Napoleon? Proud to call themselves printers. The Czar of Russia, the crown prince of Russia, and the Duke of Battenberg were printers, and the emperor of China labored in a private printing office almost every day. William Caxton, the father of English literature, was a practical printer. What were J. P. Morris, N. P. Willis, James Parker, Horace Greeley, Chas. Dickens, Benjamin Franklin, James Buchanan, Simon Cameron, Schuyler Colfax? Printers all, and practical ones, Mark Twain, Amos J. Cummings, Bret Harte, William Dean Howells, Joel Chandler Harris and Opie Reid, practical printers, as were Artemus Ward, Petroleum V. Nasby and Saint Lovin-good. Senator Plumb of Kansas, and James S. Hogg, ex-governor of Texas, were both printers, and the leader of science and philosophy in his day made it his boast that he was a "jour" printer. In fact, thousands of the most brilliant minds in this country are to be found in large cities and towns. It is not every one that can be a printer—brains are absolutely necessary.—Typographical Journal.

BILL TO AID LIVE STOCK FAR-REACHING

The live stock commission bill recently enacted by the legislature and signed by the governor is a very sweeping law. It gives the commission what might be described as plenary power to protect the health of all animals in this state. It authorizes the commission to make investigations, establish quarantines, formulate rules and regulations for shipment, prescribe methods of cure and disinfection, and in some cases to order the killing of animals. It makes the duty of all commissioners courts, and for that matter, of all citizens, to obey and co-operate with the live stock commission. It gives the various counties two years in which to hold elections to decide whether they will take up the work of tick eradication, but after that it compels them to do so, election or no election. To facilitate the work of tick eradication, it establishes three great zones in the state the northern, central and southern, which are to be employed for quarantine purposes.

The bill is very long and very painstakingly drawn. It goes into every possible detail of offense and penalty likely to develop from its enforcement, and provides remedies for all imaginable contingencies. It even designates the character of solution to be used in the dipping vats.

Its chief object, of course, is to protect and develop the live stock industry of Texas, which is now suffering greatly from the inroads of many malignant and communicable diseases, among them, splenic fever, scabies, anthrax, glanders, etc. Those who ought to know claim that the ravages of these infectious and contagious cost the stockmen of Texas millions of dollars, and that they can not be successfully dealt with until there is some authoritative agency to handle them and to compel co-operation.

The bill which was recently enacted, and which is now a law, is designed to convert the live stock commission into just such an agency, to live stock industry. It is too long to print in full, but the following are some of its major provisions:

The commission is empowered to safeguard the live stock of this state against infectious and communicable diseases whether they exist inside or outside of the state, to co-operate with the commissions of other states and with the United States department of agriculture. It is empowered to establish quarantines, of the state, of districts, of counties, of parts of counties, and even of individual premises. It is empowered to issue rules and regulations governing these quarantines. Owners, agents, shippers, common carriers, etc., are forbidden to break these rules under penalty.

The bill provides that county commissioners courts shall assist the live stock commission in maintaining these quarantines, and that the counties shall bear the expense of such disinfection or eradication as may be necessary. All the work, however, is to be carried on under the supervision of the state live stock commission. The employment of a state veterinarian with assistants and inspectors, is also left to the live stock commission.

It is made the duty of the live stock commission to investigate any locality or situation when they have reason to believe that disease or infection exists and to take such measures as seen proper. In case of glanders, ways are provided for the appraisalment and slaughter of the infected animals.

BUY-IT-MADE-IN-TEXAS.

DALLAS, April 14.—Almost with one accord the merchants and business men have taken the "Buy-It-Made-In-Texas Week," inaugurated by the Buy it Made in Texas Association for May 7 to 14, as one of the most significant commercial moves in the recent history of the state.

All of the cities of Texas, with possibly a few exceptions, are going to see an observance of the week. Retail

PUT SERVICE ABOVE PROFIT IN INTEREST OF DEMOCRACY--WILSON

"Everyone Who Creates or Cultivates a Garden Helps and Helps Greatly" to Win the War--Eyes of the Country on the Middleman in This Opportunity for Signal Service--President Issues Stirring Appeal.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—In a personal appeal addressed tonight to his fellow countrymen President Wilson calls upon every American citizen—man, woman and child, to join together to make the nation a unit for the preservation of its ideals and for triumph of democracy in the world war.

"The supreme test of the nation has come," says the address, "we must all speak, act and serve together."

Putting the navy on a war footing and raising a great army are the simplest parts of the great task ahead, the president declares, and he urges all people with particular emphasis on his words, to the farmers, to concentrate their energies, practice economy, prove unselfishness and demonstrate efficiency. The address was:

"My Fellow Countrymen:

"The entrance of our beloved country into the grim and terrible war for democracy and human rights creates so many problems which call for immediate consideration and settlement that I hope you will permit me to address to you a few words of earnest counsel and appeal regarding them.

"We are rapidly putting our navy upon an effective war footing and are about to create and equip a great army, but these are the simplest parts of the great task on which we have addressed ourselves. There is not a single selfish element, so far as I can see, in the cause we are fighting for. We are fighting for what we believe and wish to be the rights of mankind and for the future peace and security of the world. To do this great thing worthily and successfully, we must devote ourselves to the service without regard to profit or material advantage and with an energy and intelligence that will rise to the level of the enterprise itself. "We must realize to the full how great the task is and how many things, how many kinds and elements of capacity and service and self-sacrifice it involves.

"These, then, are the things we must do and do well besides fighting, the things without which mere fighting would be fruitless.

"We must supply not only abundant food for ourselves, our armies and our seamen, but also for a large part of the nations with whom we now have made common cause.

"We must supply ships by the hundreds out of our ship yards to carry to the other side of the sea, submarines or no submarines, what will every day be needed there and abundant materials out of our fields and our factories with which not only to clothe and equip our own forces on land and sea, but also to clothe and support our people for whom the gallant fellows under arms can no longer work, to help clothe and equip the armies and to keep them supplied with raw materials, coal to keep the fires going in ships at sea and in the furnaces of hundreds of factories across the sea, steel out of which to make arms and ammunition both here and there; rails for worn-out railways back of the fighting forces; locomotives and rolling stock to take the place of those every day going to pieces; mules, horses, cattle for labor and military service; everything with which the people of England and France and Italy and Russia have usually supplied themselves but can not now afford the men, materials or the machinery.

"It is evident to every thinking man that our industries must be made more prolific and more efficient than ever and they must be more economically managed and better adapted to particular requirements needed that the men and the women who devote their thought and their energy to these things will be serving the country and conducting the fight for peace and freedom just as truly and just as efficiently as the men on the battlefield or in the trenches. The industrial forces of the country, men and women alike, will be a great national, a great international service army—a notable and honored host engaged in the service of the nation and the world, the efficient friends and saviors of free men everywhere.

"I take the liberty, therefore, of addressing this word to the farmers of the country and to all who work on the farms!

"The supreme need of our nation and of the nations with which we are co-operating is an abundance of supplies and particularly of food stuffs. Without abundant food for the armies and the peoples now at war, the whole great enterprise upon which we have embarked will break down and fail. The world's food reserves are low.

"Not only during the present emergency, but for some time after peace shall have come both our own people and a large portion of the people of Europe must rely upon the harvests in America. Upon the farmers of this country, therefore, in a large measure, rests the fate of the war and the fate of the nations.

"I particularly appeal to the farmers of the south to plant abundant foodstuffs as well as cotton. They can show their patriotism in no better or convincing way than by resisting the great temptation of the present price of cotton and helping to feed the nation and the peoples fighting for their liberty and our own. The variety of their crops will be the visible measure of their comprehension of their national duty.

"The government of the United States and the governments of the several states stand ready to co-operate. They will do everything possible to assist farmers in securing an adequate supply of seed, an adequate force of laborers when they are most needed at harvest time, and the means of expediting shipments of fertilizers and farm machinery, as well as of the crops themselves when harvested. The course of trade shall be as unhampered at it is possible to make it and there shall be no unwarranted monopolization of the nation's food supply by those who handle it on its way to the consumer.

"This, let me say to the middlemen of every sort, whether they are handling our foodstuffs or our raw materials of manufacture or the products of our mills and factories:

"The eyes of the country will be especially upon you. This is your opportunity for signal service. The country expects you to forego unusual profits, to organize and expedite shipments of supplies of every kind, but especially of food, with an eye to the service you are rendering and in the spirit of those who enlist in the ranks, for their people; not for themselves. I shall confidently expect you to deserve and win the confidence of the people of every sort and station.

"To the men who run the railways of the country, whether they be managers or operative employes, let me say that the railways are the arteries of the nation's life and in them rests the immense problems of seeing that these arteries suffer no obstruction of any kind.

"To the merchant let me suggest the motto: 'Small profits and quick sales,' and to the ship builder, and the thought that the life of the war depends on him. The food and war supplies must be carried across the seas, no matter how many ships are sent to the bottom. To the miner, let me say that he stands where the farmer does. The work of the world waits on them. If he slackens or fails, armies and statesmen are helpless. He also is enlisted in the great service army. The manufacturer does not need to be told, I hope, that the nation looks to him to speed and perfect everything he can, and I only want to tell them that their services are adequately indispensable, and are counted on by every man who loves the country and its liberties.

"Let me suggest also that every one who creates or cultivates a garden helps and helps greatly to solve the problem of feeding the nations and that very housewife who practices strict economy puts herself in the ranks of those who serve the nation. This is the time for America to correct her unparadise fault of wastefulness and extravagance.

"In the hope that this statement of the needs of the nation and of the world in this hour of supreme crisis may stimulate those to whom it comes and remind all who need reminder of the solemn duties of a time such as the world has never seen before, I beg that all editors and publishers everywhere will give as prominent a publication and as wide a circulation as possible to this appeal. I venture to suggest, also, to all advertising agencies that they would perhaps render a very substantial and timely service to the country if they would give it widespread repetition. And I hope clergymen will not hope the theme of it an unworthy or inappropriate subject of comment and homily from their pulpits.

"The supreme test of the nation has come. We must all speak, act and serve together."
 "WOODROW WILSON."

tail merchants are going to make special displays, hold special sales and give demonstrations of the quality and extent of Texas-made goods.

Another important step arranged by the Association is an employees buying campaign. A certain period each day will be devoted by the employees of each factory to the study of other Texas-made products. This directly affects 400,000 people and their buying and should turn a great tide of commerce back into Texas.

Governor James E. Ferguson has signified an intention to officially proclaim Buy It Made in Texas Week. Mayors of one hundred cities will proclaim this move, and this number is likely to grow before the close of the preparation for the week.

BOND ISSUE BILL GIVEN APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The $7,000,000,000 war revenue bill which has passed the house, was approved today by the senate finance committee and will be taken up in the senate tomorrow for passage.

JOHN M. CRABTREE GAINED 34 POUNDS

Quit Taking Tanlac Eighteen Months Ago—Still Retains Weight and Feels Fine—Suffered 20 Years.

"I have actually gained thirty-four pounds on three bottles of Tanlac and I now know what it is to enjoy life and good health after suffering for twenty years," said John M. Crabtree, a general merchant at Five Mile Station A. Dallas, Texas, a few days ago.

"I bought my first bottle over eighteen months ago, when I lived at Gallatin, Tenn.," continued Mr. Crabtree, "and I want to tell you, it was the best investment I ever made in my life. I began to improve almost from the start and three bottles simply made me over into a new man. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since."

"I suffered with catarrh of the stomach and indigestion for twenty years and for eighteen months before I started taking Tanlac, I had to live entirely on cereals. My stomach was full of gas and I suffered awful headaches all the time. I was as nervous as a man gets to be and I could hardly sleep at all and could get no ease or comfort any time. I spent nearly all of one whole year in bed and was unable to do anything at all and I fell off in weight to one hundred and eighty pounds. I had all the symptoms of catarrh and I just can't describe all the suffering I had to endure from it for those twenty years."

"I kept reading about Tanlac in papers, but couldn't make up my mind to try it, because I had tried so many different kinds of medicines and had been disappointed each time. But when my friends, who knew my dreadful condition, begged me I bought a bottle and began taking it and the results in my case have been nothing short of wonderful. After using my third bottle I found I had increased in weight from one hundred and eighty pounds to one hundred and fifty-two making an actual gain of thirty-four pounds—all my troubles were gone and I was feeling like another man."

"Although it has been a year and a half since Tanlac relieved me of my awful catarrhal trouble and indigestion and made life worth living, I still retain my increase in weight and feel simply fine all the time. I've been eating anything I want all the time—in fact anything anybody else can—and sleeping like a child every night. Being made into a strong healthy man after suffering as long as I did is enough to make me rejoice and I'm glad to endorse Tanlac because I know what it has done for me. You can just tell anyone to ask me about Tanlac and I'll tell them what I have told you."

Van Aukin is a citizen of Beaumont, and was one of the witnesses at the Sapp trial last year. While here it is alleged that he signed the name of Sheriff Evans to a telegram to Miss Martin, a Beaumont milliner, requesting her return to Lufkin at once in connection with the case. An investigation and indictment by the grand jury followed.—Lufkin News.

HOME GUARD COMPANY IS BEING ORGANIZED

From Saturday's Daily. Pursuant to the call of local citizens interested in the matter, a large crowd of people assembled in mass meeting at the City Hall last night for the purpose of organizing a home guard military company, with which to drill and train for military service should the defense of our homes ever need it.

After some little discussion, Mr. H. F. Tucker was elected chairman of the meeting with Mr. Frank Sharp, Jr., as secretary, which put the meeting in shape for the discussion of means and measures leading up to the purpose in view.

Mr. Tucker made a patriotic speech in which he stated the object of the meeting. He was followed by stirring and enthusiastic talks by Messrs. W. W. Lee, Capt. I. L. Sturdevant, Dr. F. C. Ford, Elmer Weaver, and others, all enthusiastic with the purpose of the meeting.

Capt. I. L. Sturdevant was placed in nomination for captain, but upon the suggestion of Mr. Roland Jones the election of officers was deferred until the roll of membership could be prepared, thus leaving the matter of selection of officers to the actual members. The roll was immediately opened and signed by the following well known citizens of the community: Roland Jones, Holloway Muller, H. Shindler, R. B. Mangham, H. C. Hatchel, B. C. Duncan, E. A. Fipkin, Rho Cox, W. W. Lee, Floyd E. Aten, Joe Gibbs, W. S. Beeson, Ben Tucker, Bryan Faulkner, L. W. Simpson, Will Pack, Tom DeLamar, W. A. Wade, Teddy Pierce, Joe Stack, Rev. J. N. Cunningham, Jno. S. Doughtie, J. O. Ray, H. F. Gillette, W. D. McCormack, H. A. Loden, J. H. Rainbolt, J. M. Greene, N. B. Reeves, H. E. Wilson, Cleveland Hines, Phillip Sanders, Willie Walters, Robert Wilson, P. V. Davidson, F. H. Tucker, J. Thos. Hall, I. L. Sturdevant, Frank Sharp, Jr., Henry Overstreet, W. E. Weaver, Leon Closs, Jno. U. Cruse, W. A. Peterson, Jno. N. Gilbert, Jr., Vernon Matthews, G. W. L. Woodland, N. D. Naman.

Present at the meeting last night were people from youth who are not yet out of their teens to those wearing the frost of many winters, some of them having reached the three-score and ten years allotted to the age of man, but in whom the spirit and love of freedom still lives, and who are still ready to do anything in their power for the defense of their country.

It is not anticipated that this company will have to do active military service, and does not carry with it the obligation to go to the front, having for its purpose training and preparation for home protection should any emergency ever arise in which they would be needed, and the hearty response to the call best attests the love of liberty and patriotism that prevails in the community.

"THE HOME GUARDS" HAD GOOD MEETING

From Tuesday's Daily. The Home Guards, an organization of local citizens formed for the purpose of home protection and drill practice a few nights ago, had another interesting meeting, and set in motion actual operation of the purposes for which it was planned.

With Chairman F. H. Tucker presiding, there was some discussion of the matter of electing officers, and it was finally decided that this matter should be deferred for the present, and in lieu thereof divide the company into three squads and select three drill masters. For this service Messrs. W. W. Lee, Elmer Weaver and Robt. Wilson were unanimously chosen, and entered heartily upon the duties of the position with which they had been honored.

In the matter of the amount of drill practice, and the times of meeting, a committee was elected who will work out the details and call the next meeting.

The business of the meeting having been concluded, the troops assembled down on the public square and received the first instructions of this organization in practice.

Several new names were added to the roll last night, and the organization starts off with about fifty members, all enthusiastic in the purpose for which they have united.

YES, LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN

Cincinnati Authority Tells How To Dry Up Corn or Callus So It Lifts Off With Fingers

You corn-pestered men and women need suffer no longer. Wear the shoes that nearly killed you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because few drops of freezone applied directly on a tender, aching corn or callus, stops soreness at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted out, root and all without pain. A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried, as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin. If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house. It is fine stuff and acts like a charm every time.

Would be glad to go over the matter with you at your convenience, whether you want bond now or hereafter. It has long been the custom to ask your friends to sign your bond, but why ask them when you can secure a bond so cheap? The time is at hand when your friends who sign your bond are weakened in the business world, and then the Surety business is promoted for this line of business, and why not use it? Your friends can't deny you, but 99 out of 100 had rather not sign any bond, so avoid this and let me make your bond for 1917, you'll gin more I expect.

THE BOY SCOUTS OF NACOGDOCHES

Getting Ready to Offer Their Services to the Nation or State.

The Boy Scouts had a most interesting meeting last night, and while the serious phases of the great war were discussed, having no knowledge as to what the country might be called upon to bear, nor how long the world-struggle would last, the Scouts decided that it was high time for them to live up to their motto in spirit and in training. The motto is "Be Prepared." This means a whole lot, even for a boy—and the Scouts will be ready. You will hear from them. Parents have been sent cards, asking their consent that the Scouts may offer their services to "Our Country." This is very necessary, and, as we are asking you and your boy to do only what we and our own boys are going to do, we hope that no patriotic and Christian parent will place his boy in the attitude of seeming to refuse to respond to the call of the nation and of liberty, justice and peace for all humanity. We are serving others rather than ourselves; and are to give our time and work for the sick, wounded and unprotected rather than to the army and navy.

Last night the first steps were taken to organize the "Boy Scout First-Aid Company," and about twenty of the older Scouts turned in their names. Robert Monk has been unanimously chosen as the Captain of this company, with Clifford Burrows as first and John Crawford as second lieutenants, Joseph Johnson as Band Leader, Gillette Tilford is color bearer, and other special officers will be selected. These Scouts will begin to drill in formations, in stretcher-signal work, coast line patrolling, bandaging and all lines of first-aid-to-the-injured work. They are not to wear arms, but may be coast patrols, messengers, and Red Cross workers.

For the Scouts under 13 years of age we also have very important work, but they will not be called on to leave Nacogdoches. But they will also learn first aid to the injured, signaling, and above all how to make thoroughly sterilized bandages, sponges, and individual first aid packets. They will also get machinery, such as hand rolling laths, slitters and sterilized ovens with which to put up Red Cross and field hospital supplies. The Campfire girls could do a great service in this line by securing all of the old, but clean white cloth possible, preferably old sheets, washing and ironing them thoroughly and putting them in packets wrapped in paraffin paper.

The Boys will have a Big Encampment this summer, but it will not be for fun. All the time will be spent in work to "Be Prepared." We are hoping to carry them to the coast for this work, but in any event to have them under the training of government officers, skilled surgeons and graduate nurses. But always they will be under the immediate care of their own officers and Nacogdoches men. Send your boy into this blessed and Christian service.

M. C. JOHNSON.

URGE PASSAGE OF DRY AMENDMENT

NEW ORLEANS, April 12.—A resolution urging congress, in view of the war, to pass speedily a national prohibition law, "thereby eliminating material and moral waste," was adopted by the General Federation of Women's clubs at today's session of its biennial council meeting here. A copy of the resolution was telegraphed to President Wilson.

The federation also adopted a resolution pledging the individual members, said to number approximately 2,000,000 women, "to use only those amounts of food required for adequate nourishment; to control and prevent waste in all kinds of materials in the household and to live simply."

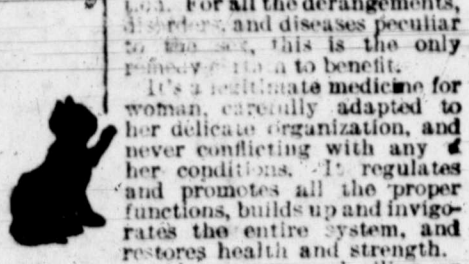

Mrs. C. W. Cartwright of Minnesota presented the report of the motion picture committee censorship of cooperative community censorship of films and special programs for children. The committee declared against the showing of so-called white slave films and those parading sex subjects.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPESIA

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-head-ache, you can get relief in five minutes by neutralizing acidity. Put an end to such stomach distress now by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by food fermentation due to excessive acid in stomach.

It's a medicinal medicine for woman, carefully adapted to her delicate organization, and never conflicting with any of her conditions. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions, builds up and invigorates the entire system, and restores health and strength. Are you weak, nervous and alling, or "run-down" and overworked? Then it will bring you special help. It's the mother's friend. It lessens pain and insures life of both mother and child. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has a record of years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful drugs. Sold in Tablet or Liquid form by dealers.

PEANUT CROP EXHAUSTED.

As a further fact that the peanut crop is now one of our most staple crops, and has come to stay, it might be interesting to many to learn that the big crop of last year, grown in the United States, is already exhausted, and the refineries are now getting their supplies from Japan. Mr. K. P. Branch, of the firm of Branch & Goldsberry, who handle large quantities of peanut oil in this section, informs The Sentinel that his firm recently placed an order for a car-load of peanut oil, and in answer to the letter was advised that it would be some days before the order could be filled as the refineries were now having to get their supplies from Japan.

The largest crop of peanuts in the history of the South was grown last year—and the time between seasons is not half out. No further argument should be needed to prove the fact that there is room for yet another fifty per cent increase before actual demand is supplied.

A prudent mother is always on the watch for symptoms of worms in her children. Paleless, lack of interest in play, and peevishness is the signal for WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. REVEAL SECRET PLOT AGAINST ENLISTMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 15.—An amazing propaganda to prevent enlistments for war was unearthed by the house military committee yesterday. The movement was fostered in Philadelphia in secret headquarters and literature urging against war and against enlistment was circulated from it.

In addition to this propaganda, the threat was made to the committee yesterday that an anti-enlistment move would be undertaken in this country—but who made the threat was not revealed.

The committee sat in secret session, presumably so that pacifist talk inside might not be published. John Reed, war correspondent and witness, admitted after the session, that he "had lost his head," and made some remarks he regretted.

Reed, asked whether he would enlist in the army, said "no." "Give your name to the secretary," said a committee man. "We will see." The American Federation of Labor sent a letter through President Gompers, protesting against draft and favoring volunteers.

LATEST WAR NEWS AS IT BREAKS TODAY

A U-Boat Sinks Ship Off the Coast of Cuba; American Squadron Will Replace Atlantic Patrol.

KEY WEST Fla., April 12.—The British ship Trawler Captain Williamson, was sunk by a German submarine off Cienfuegos, Cuba four days ago and all hands landed at the Cuban port a few hours later, according to C. Peterson, a member of the crew, who arrived here from Havana late today. Peterson claims to be a naturalized American of Norwegian birth.

BUENOS AIRES, April 12.—The newspapers print a report that the Argentine transport Pampa has been sunk by a German submarine. Another report is that the Argentinian sailing vessel Oriana has been sunk by a German raider off the coast of Brazil. There is no official confirmation.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—With high British and French naval officers in conference here with American naval officers, definite steps have been taken toward participation of the American navy in the war against Germany. Patrol of the entire Atlantic seaboard, reaching southward to the Panama Canal Zone, and possibly northward to include Canada, was the first duty of American warships. With that goes the necessity of guarding against the probable extension of the German submarine campaigns to include approaches to major American ports.

British and French ships now on this patrol duty will be withdrawn as soon as the American forces have their lines established. The American squadrons will operate from the British and French bases in the South Atlantic, wherever necessary.

This was learned today, in connection with the announcement that Vice Admiral Browning, of the British navy, and Rear Admiral Grasset, of the French navy, are in Washington conferring with Secretary Danjels, Admiral Benson, secretary of naval operations, and other officers of the American navy.

Farmers and others who live at a distance from a drug store should keep in the house a bottle of BAL-LARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It may be needed at any time for cuts, wounds, sores, sprains or rheumatism. WOMEN TO WEAR TROUSERS IN WAR

CHICAGO, April 11.—American women will wear trousers during and after the war, Miss Mary O'Reilly of the Woman's Trade Union League intimated to a meeting of women here last night. She urged that the women's Co-operative League of the United States employment and immigration service, composed of delegates from 300 Illinois women's clubs, appoint a committee to consider the industrial condition of women in war time.

"Now that war is here, we must be prepared to meet it," she said. "When English women went to work at men's jobs, as we shall have to do they began to wear trousers and now they don't take them off when they go back home, but wear them on the streets."

CAPTURED BURGLAR.

Deputy Wade Walters captured a negro yesterday and locked him up on a charge of breaking into a trunk in Cas. Donegan's colored boarding house.

The negro refused to give his name, or the place from which he came, but he will possibly know where he is staying before he gets through.

LATER—Since the above was put in type, the negro has plead guilty to two charges of theft, and in default of payment will be put on the road gang.

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

A YOUNG MAN WAS KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Robert Parker, son of Mr. R. B. Parker, living out on the Logansport road some four miles from town, was found cold and stiff in death out in the horse lot this morning, by members of the family.

Esquire Frank Huston, Sheriff Luther Prince, County Attorney W. A. Wade and county health officer Dr. T. J. Blackwell went out to the scene and held an inquest over the body, rendering a verdict that he came to his death through a shock of lightning.

The condition of the body gave evidence that the calamity, happened early in the night, and it is presumed that the young man had gone out into the lot about the time the rain and windstorm came up, which was about ten o'clock. The body was exposed to the rain that followed, and considerable trash was washed onto it. The unfortunate man was about thirty-seven years of age and made his home with his parents.

TEXAN CARRYING AMERICAN FLAG FALLS IN CHARGE

OTTAWA, April 11.—The Stars and Stripes went into battle for the first time in the world war during the recent entente storming to Vimy Ridge in France, according to an unofficial dispatch received here today from Canadian army headquarters in Europe.

"To a young Texan who came to Ontario to enlist, and who is now lying wounded in the hospital," the dispatch reads, "belongs the honor of first carrying the American flag into battle in the European war, into which the United States has so intelligently, has just emerged. He went up to the assault at the Lusitania, the Stars and Stripes—back and forth, and fell thus."

PARIS, April 11.—It was decided today that the Lafayette Flying Squadron composed of Americans who have distinguished themselves at the front will change from the French to the American military uniform and thereafter carry the American flag as the French front.

ARMY IS BEARING PEACE STRENGTH

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Reports on recruiting reaching the war department up to today indicate that the regular army will soon reach its peace strength of 128,000 enlisted men, and until the president issues an order, regiments can not be brought up to war strength nor can new units be formed. Indications are that the administration does not feel like ordering this until the new army organization bill is passed. Work on that measure was continued today by the house military committee, which arranged to hear Secretary Baker, Major General Scott, chief of staff, and Brigadier General Crowder, judge advocate general again, in explanation of the administration plan.

To fill the immediate need for properly trained officers the administration intends to establish a number of civilian training camps for officers in various parts of the country, similar to the Plattsburg camp.

This saves shelf wear and soil, saves time of the clerk and customer, and is in all things a great improvement.

GERMANS RETREAT BEFORE BRITISH

BRITISH PATROLS ENTER LENS FOLLOWING BIG BATTLE—ENEMY IN RETREAT.

LONDON, April 15.—(12:30 p. m.)—British patrols entered Lens between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon, according to a dispatch received from the correspondent of Lloyd's News with the British army in France.

Describing the conditions about the Lens, the correspondent wires: "Though the enemy is still in his machine gun redoubts, in some places there are only rear guards, for the main body has retreated."

"Lens and Lievin had been defended with guns, and it was certain that at least 150 were in the network of mines and pit heads. "From the prisoners we know wild scenes took place in Lens, frantic efforts being made to get away guns and stores, and defend the line of retreat by blowing up the roads."

"Orders were given to destroy the mines by firing charges into the pits and by flooding the mine galleries."

PRESIDENT WILSON APPEALS TO FARMERS

"I particularly appeal to the farmers of the South to plant abundant foodstuffs as well as cotton. They can show their patriotism in no better or convincing way than by resisting the great temptation of the present price of cotton and helping to feed the nation and the peoples for their liberty and our own. The variety of their crops will be the visible measure of their comprehension of their national duty."

WASHINGTON, April 15.—In a personal appeal addressed tonight to his fellow countrymen, President Wilson calls upon every American citizen—man, woman and child—to join together to make the nation a unit for the preservation of its ideals and for triumph of democracy in the world war.

"The supreme test of the nation has come," says the address. "We must all speak, act and serve together."

FOUR THOUSAND CHICAGO MEN EVADE SERVICE BY MARRIAGE

CHICAGO, April 15.—Three thousand nine hundred and six men—nearly enough to fill four full regiments—evaded possible compulsory military service in Chicago the last seven days by securing marriage licenses.

And despite the efforts to discourage them and the pitiless publicity thrown upon them by the press, the rush of "war grooms" continued unabated. During the four hours that the license bureau was open 212 applications were taken out.

Monday's record was the highest of the week. One thousand one hundred and twenty-six licenses were granted. The next day 14 extra clerks were removed from the bureau and only 669 of the thousand or more who stood in line were accommodated.

Doctor Said Operation or Death—But Medicine Cured.

Des Moines, Iowa.—"My husband says I would have been in my grave today had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from a serious female trouble and the doctors said I could not live one year without an operation. My husband objected to the operation and had me try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon commenced to get better and am now well and able to do my own housework. I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman as a wonderful health restorer."—Mrs. BLANCHE JEFFERSON, 703 Lyon St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Another Operation Avoided.

Richmond, Ind.—"For two years I was so sick and weak from female troubles that when going up stairs I had to go very slowly with my hands on the steps, then sit down at the top to rest. The doctor said he thought I should have an operation, and my friends thought I would not live to move into our new house. My daughter asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had taken it with good results. I did so, my weakness disappeared, I gained in strength, moved into our new home, do all kinds of garden work, and raised hundreds of chickens and ducks. I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. M. O. JONSTON, Route D, Box 190, Richmond, Ind.

Of course there are many serious cases that only a surgical operation will relieve. We freely acknowledge this, but the above letters, and many others like them, amply prove that many operations are recommended when medicine in many cases is all that is needed.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

TO AMERICA

Yes, Mother, it is true;
Bad daughters and worse sons we've been to you—
Taking all, giving naught—
Till we have brought
You down to this.

You need
A starker breed
To cherish you and guard—
Keep watch and ward,
Or strike if strike they must!
Mother, our shameful heads are in the dust—
Abject—
Before you.

Too mild, too patient!—yet once more
forgive
Our faithless greed, young folly, old neglect!
For though we perish from you, you shall live—
Mother—through humbled daughters
who respect,
Through chastened sons who serve you and adore you.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercurial; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crabs into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system. When you feel listless, sluggish, constipated and exhausted out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate. Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day. It loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't grip.

CARRANZA BALKS ON TAKING KAISER'S OFFER

(W. B. Kay in Trinity Tribune)
We have always claimed the kaiser was a comic sort of cuss, who must always have his little joke no matter what the fuss; take the stunt he pulled on Belgium; 'twas a Teuton brand of joke— Though he failed to land the gallery or their laughter to provide Then he sank the Lusitania in the grimmest sort of test, But of all the bulls he ever pulled his latest is the best. We wonder how Carranza took the kaiser's snappy note When he offered Whiskers, Texas if he'd help to get our goat. Somehow we think we see him as he read the message o'er, And in our imagination we can hear his muffled roar. When he called in his chief minister, A-grooving in his throat, Exclaiming, when he saw him, "Dios, a hell of a note!" Kaiser Bill would give me Texas, now whaddy'ye think of that, If I would cross the river and help him in his spat. I might have delirium tremens, throw an epileptic fit. But I refuse a stick of dynamite, with the fuse already lit. Yes, old Bill would give me Texas— grab the wireless quick and tell Bill he might give me Texas—and Texas give me hell! "Bill might offer me a wildcat for a roommate, or he might Send me an invitation a whole cage of lions to fight. If I would help him lick the world no doubt he would be glad To offer largess for my pains a tiger fighting mad. Yep, if I would join him in his spree he might be willing to Turn me a loose stark naked in a fight ing, biting zoo! "Old Bill might think he's funny, but his humor's sort of stale; If William's just a-kiddin me, his effort's wholly fail. I might drink carbolic acid or take concentrated lye, Or walk up to Jess Willard and soak him in the eye; I'm talking to you, Wilhelm, so get what I relate— There ain't no guy a-living that could hand me Texas State!"

Postscript—P. S.
"Since think over that there note—er what you wrote me about, I might take your proposition—if you'll just leave Texas out!"

PIONEER LADY OF SHELBY IS DEAD

The information is gleaned from the Center Champion of the death of Mrs. Maggie Johnston, wife of late Hon. F. L. Johnston, which sad event occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nettie Farrar at Waxahachie a few days ago, and her remains were brought back to Tenaha for interment. Mr. Johnson was for many years a prominent attorney and politician of Shelby county, and was well known all over East Texas.

TO AID FARMERS IN RAISING FOOD

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The government's appeal to the farmers to put forth extraordinary efforts to increase food production on account of the war has brought a flood of new applications for loans to the federal farm loan bureau. The response indicates that the farmers are preparing to meet the emergency by making use of the 5 per cent long time loans provided by this system to provide themselves with needed equipment to enlarge and intensify their operations. Indications are that the farmer has realized that the enlistment of a million men into the army will add to his labor difficulties and is preparing to invest more capital in labor saving machinery, and in putting more land under cultivation.

Reports from the 12 federal land banks indicate that the farmers will call for about $125,000,000 worth of these 5 per cent loans this year, all of which money will be made available to enable the farmer to successfully meet the war emergency. The money which is loaned to farmers is procured by the sale of farm loan bonds. These bonds bear 4 1/2 per cent interest. The federal farm loan board has already made plans to float about $100,000,000 of these bonds. Farmers have manifested concern over the salability of these bonds in the face of the competition of a great flood of war bonds at 3 1/2 per cent. The federal farm loan board announces that it believes the farm loan bonds will find a ready sale because they bear a rate of 1 per cent higher than the war bonds, and because they are backed by the farm land values of the country; they are exempt from all forms of taxation; the bonds of each of the 12 federal land banks are endorsed by all the other 11 banks, and every dollar's worth of bonds represents $2 worth of carefully appraised farm land as security.

The federal farm loan board urges that it is just as much a matter of patriotism to buy these farm loan bonds as to buy the war bonds, because this money will be used to finance the American farmer and enable him to meet the demand for increased food production. This attitude is based upon the recognized fact that the outcome of the war depends, in a large degree, upon the ability of the United States to feed itself and provide a surplus for the allies.

The federal farm loan board is speeding up its operation so as to enable as many farmers as possible to get this new working capital in time to assist them in this year's operations. The high prices of farm products have added to the farmer's difficulty in getting seed, and has increased the need for this capital.

WILSON MAY FIX PRICES OF FOOD

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Intensive developments of the food-producing power of the United States on a scale never before contemplated was discussed by President Wilson and Secretary Houston today as the means of meeting one of the vital problems of the war with Germany. Secretary Houston returned late today from St. Louis, where he conferred with representatives of the grain raising states. He laid before the president plans by which the federal government, working in co-operation with state and local agencies, will put forth its utmost endeavors to stimulate the production and economical distribution of food.

The plans include a request for legislation by congress giving the president power to regulate and fix food prices, if necessary. To continue the government's agitation for increased production and economy in the use of foodstuffs, President Wilson probably will soon issue a proclamation to the nation calling attention to the situation. A suggestion to this effect approved by Secretary Houston was laid before him today by Representative Fisher of Tennessee and J. R. Payne of Memphis, representing the Tri-State Better Farming Association. Secretary Houston said the government was counting on the active co-operation of every man, woman and child in the United States, and that the increased power to be requested of congress was only aimed to meet local situations and emergencies where drastic action might be necessary.

M'LEMORE'S RESIGNATION CALLED AT LIVINGSTON

LIVINGSTON, Tex., April 14.—At a mass meeting held here yesterday afternoon the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Believing that the perpetuity of all representative governments depends upon the patriotism and loyalty of their people, and that in case of a crisis such as that now upon us, the people should manifest their loyalty and devotion to that which tends to maintain and uphold the dignity of their government, and condemn that the courage and manliness of our citizens which would degrade and destroy the courage and manliness of our citizenship: Be it therefore, resolved that we, the people of Livingston and Polk County, in mass meeting assembled, hereby unqualifiedly indorse the course of President Wilson and the majority of congress in accepting the gauge of battle thrown down by the imperial government of Germany, to uphold the rights of humanity and the honor of our nation; that we pledge our unqualified support to every means and measure that is adopted to meet the needs of the hour and bring victory to our nation, and her allies, to the end that the ignominious rule of the kaiser may be overthrown and the rights and liberties of the people upheld.

Be it further resolved, that we hereby express our disapproval and condemnation of those members of congress who by their acts and words have refused to support our president and the course he has adopted for the safety of our nation, but have thereby lent aid to the enemies of our government. That we expressly condemn the votes and words of Jeff McLemore of Harris County, Texas, as being unpatriotic and unloyal, and hereby declare his course does not represent the sentiment of any of our people who are loyal American citizens; and we here and now call upon him to resign his seat in congress, that our great state may be represented by one who is true to the sentiments and spirit of America, and who is willing to uphold the honor of our nation against every foe.

We further direct that the secretary of this meeting send a copy of these resolutions to President Wilson, a copy to the said Jeff McLemore, and that copies be furnished to the press for publication.

ENGLISH COTTON FIRM CLOSES HOUSTON BRANCH

Strong evidence that the big financiers of Liverpool believe the war will last for many months and that it is going to tax the resources of England to the uttermost is given in the voluntary withdrawal of Bushby Bros., one of the largest cotton houses in the world, from the American trade.

The firm is breaking up its splendid organization in this country and will attempt no more business until after the close of the war. The American headquarters is in Houston, in charge of J. P. Chambers, and he is preparing to close the office and return to England. Edwin Bushby left for England some time ago. The firm has been one of the heaviest buyers in the Texas field and operates in millions of dollars. Mr. Chambers says he is going back to England, shoulder a Lee-Matford and do his bit for the flag. He has scores of friends in Houston who regret to see him leave.—Houston Chronicle.

BIG MERCHANT FLEET IS AMERICA'S ANSWER TO FOE

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A Campaign of colossal proportions to break down the German submarine blockade and keep the entente plentifully supplied with food, clothing and munitions has been determined upon by President Wilson and his advisers as America's first physical stroke against her enemy.

Unable now to send an army into the trenches, the president believes the United States can do an even greater service in the common cause against Germany by providing a great armada of merchantmen to invade the undersea campaign, about which have been riddled the fading hopes of Prussian conquest.

For weeks officials have been at work on such a plan, but not until today was it revealed on how great a scale the task had been projected or how great importance was attached to the administration's general war program. Virtually every detail has now been completed and by fall the campaign itself will be in full swing. Many officials believe it may attain a supremacy over the submarine which will prove the decisive victory of the great war.

AUTOMOBILE RUNS PERFECTLY WITH WATER AND COAL OIL

Mr. S. J. Berry of the Pone community, an inventive and mechanical genius, has perfected an attachment, a simple looking arrangement, which can be easily adjusted for and attached to any automobile, whereby the car is propelled with a harmonious mixture of water and ordinary coal oil. He has been using this for power at his mill for several months, cutting down the cost of fuel by more than one half. The United States patent office has granted him a patent on the device recently. He attached it to a Ford car Monday morning and drove to Henderson and states that he made the run, ten miles, without shifting gear, except to slow down on extremely rough places. Upon reaching town his car was running as smoothly as any driven with gasoline.

The device is simple, inexpensive, and if further tests prove its final efficiency, motorists and gas engine operators will doubtless reduce the fuel cost of operations by using coal oil and water. Mr. Berry has been at work on this device several years—and like all inventive minds, has achieved success by persistence and the following out one theory until it has been proven or finally rejected. "We are glad that he has succeeded in this and hope that he will receive just compensation for his labor."—Henderson Times.

INTERSCOLASTIC MEET WAS HELD SATURDAY

The Nacogdoches County Interscholastic League Meet was held Saturday, April 14th.

The three schools of the county represented in the meet were Nacogdoches High School, Nat and Melrose. Neither of these having any contestants for athletic feats, the representatives met at the High School auditorium at 7:30 Saturday evening, where only declamatory contests were held. The representatives from Nacogdoches were: Seniors, Miss Fannie Lou Gaston and Joe Ellington; Juniors, Alton Thomason. Nat was represented only in the girls' junior contest by little Miss Jerrel. The representatives from Melrose were: Seniors, Hellen Hardeman and George Grimes; Juniors, Annie Lou Perry and Marvin McBride.

The winners in senior contest were Hellen Hardeman and George Grimes of Melrose. The junior winners were Annie Lou Perry of Melrose and Alton Thomason of Nacogdoches.

The winning contestants from this meet will go to the district meet to be held at Timpson next Saturday, April 21.

The judges were Mr. Curry of Shreveport; Mr. Woodward of San Antonio, and Rev. G. L. Taylor of Nacogdoches.

In connection with this meet Prof. Shoutz of the Melrose school, while not familiar with the rules regarding the matter, expresses himself as being of the opinion that the loving cup, which is now with the Chireno school, should be claimed by his school as his representatives, won first honors in declamatory contest. This is a matter we assume will be adjusted satisfactorily with the schools involved.

DEATH AT WODEN.

The undertaking department of Cason, Monk & Co., prepared a burial outfit this morning for the remains of Fred W. Seiber, who died at his home at Woden Tuesday afternoon at 6:00 o'clock.

Mr. Seiber is survived by his widow and three children. He was a member of the Baptist church and the Maccabee lodge, and was a good man and a good citizen.

The funeral will occur Thursday afternoon at King's burying-ground, near Woden.

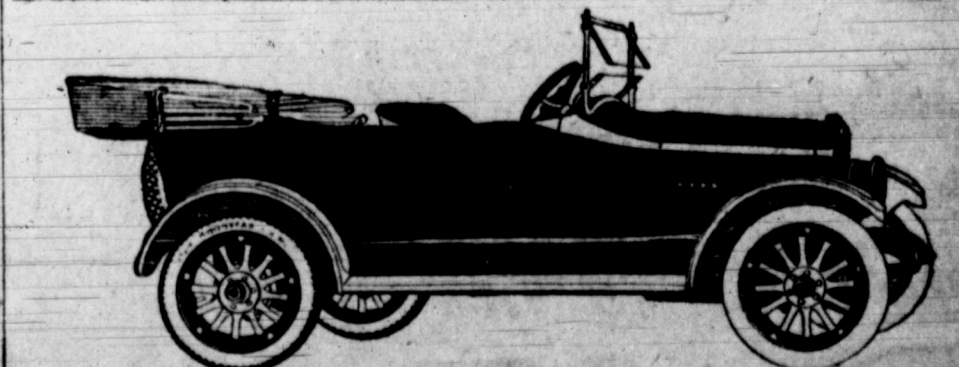

Constipation and Indigestion.

These are twin evils. Persons suffering from indigestion are often troubled with constipation. Mrs. Robert Allison, Mattoon, Ill., writes that when she first moved to Mattoon she was a great sufferer from indigestion and constipation. Food distressed her and there was a feeling like a heavy weight pressing on her stomach and chest. She did not rest well at night, and felt worn out a good part of the time. One bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets corrected this trouble so that she has since felt like a different person. dw
