You Can be Sure Your Watchmaker is Competent

Realizing the inefficiency of many watchmakers and the need of the public to know who is competent, the United States Bureau of Standards arranged an examination for watchmakers and issues a certificate to those who pass a rigid examination. We are pleased to announce that our watchmaker has successfully passed this examination.

You can have your watch repaired here by a man who is certified by the National Bureau of Standards. It costs no more than elsewhere.

PROMINENT ROAD MAN TO ATTEND HIGHWAY MEET

Secretary McKnight is in receipt of a wire from Capt. J. D. Fountleroy, State Highway Engineer, stating that Hon. B. D. Fugler, editor of the Texas Highway Bulletin, will represent the Highway Commission before the meeting of the Lone Star Trail Association which convenes here Friday at 1 p. m.

Mr. Fugler was formerly the legislative representative from Harrison county. He is one of the best informed highway men in Texas, and his visit here ought to make an opportunity for Nacogdoches county to get squarely before the Highway Commission the needs of the Martinsville and the Mt. Enterprise roads.

Our road problem in this county can never be thought of as being half-way solved so long as these two sections of highway remain as they are now.

These roads, and also the Cushing road, ought to and must some day be hard-surfaced. It is entirely possible, and even probable, that the Highway Commission will take over the building of these unfinished roads. Our immediate task is to convince the Commission that it ought to close these ugly gaps in our highway system, and do so without delay.

WORLD SERIES OPENS

New York, Oct. 10.—A crowd estimated at 60,000 was on hand for the opening of the world series today between the New York Americans and the Nationals at Yankee Stadium. The batteries were: Watson and Gowdy for the Giants; Hoyt and Schang for the Yankees. Ruth scored on Muesel's double into center in the first inning, making score end inning Yankee 1, Giants 0.

NOTICE, DELINQUENTS

Every piece of property in Nacogdoches county that is delinquent on 1919, 1920 and 1921 tax rolls will be advertised for sale on October 18, 1923. W. E. Thomason, Tax Attorney 9-1dwlp.

Can You Guess?

In these days of modern affairs, nearly everybody does business with a bank. The only real question is WHERE to do your banking.

We would be pleased to answer that question. You want a strong bank, one that is conservative, yet modern in every way, one that will stand by you, help you, one where your funds are secure, in fact, a bank that insures service and satisfaction. THAT'S OURS.

SIDESTEP CONTRACTS OR TEXAS PRISON LABOR

Austin, Texas, Oct. 9.—Manufacturing concerns that had proposed contracts with the State Prison Commission for prison labor have withdrawn their proposals, according to S. J. Dean, prison finance commissioner, who said the commission has given up further consideration of labor contracts. It was understood the proposals were withdrawn as the result of an agreement with the Manufacturers Association to seek the establishment of prison factories for state-used products.

WALTON OFFERS TO RESIGN IF ANTI-KLAN BILL PASSES

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 10.—Plans for the impeachment session of the legislature to convene tomorrow moved forward apparently undisturbed by the offer of Governor Walton to resign if the legislature would pass a bill he prepared to unmask the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma. Representative McBee said the legislature "will not traffic with the governor on legislation." The governor's friends, however, predict the offer will be accepted to terminate dissension within the party.

LEGIONNAIRES LEAVE FOR MEETING IN CALIFORNIA

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 10.—American Legion delegates from all parts of Texas assembled here today to board a special train for San Francisco and the national convention. They will escort Alvin Owsley, national commander, and will take the "Old Gray Mare" band of Brownwood and the old gray mare.

DYNAMITE HOME OF ENFORCEMENT OFFICER

Steuenville, Ohio, Oct. 10.—The home of Charles Pearce, 36, a prohibition enforcement officer, at Smithland, west of here, was blown up today by dynamite. Pearce and his wife and baby were thrown into a cellar, but escaped serious injury. The blast partially wrecked the city hall, a restaurant and another residence and broke the windows in six homes.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Between 10 and 11 o'clock Wednesday morning the Peterson home, on South Church street, was entirely destroyed by a fire which originated in the kitchen from the explosion of an oil stove. The flames spread so rapidly, fanned by a stiff breeze, that before the fire company could reach the scene the building was beyond saving. Practically all the household equipment and clothing of the occupants were destroyed, nothing being saved except a phonograph, a small center table and a few potted flowers. Outhouses and fences were ablaze until extinguished by streams of water from the hose, and for a time the situation appeared menacing to nearby property.

A trunk containing about $700 worth of diamonds went through the fire, but when its position was located a stream of water was turned upon it and the firemen were enabled to carry out the charred remains. When the contents were lifted out, burned or scorched to a coal, the gems were found and appeared undamaged except that the metal settings were disfigured by the heat. The cases containing the diamonds were burned to a crisp. A purse containing $15 was also found to have been charred, but the money was found intact, the bills not even being scorched. All the other articles in the trunk were destroyed.

The house was owned by Mrs. W. P. Crider, formerly Miss Lou Peterson, who married a short time ago and moved with her husband to Little Rock, Ark. Her sister, Miss Ola, and brother, Odus Peterson, made their home in the dwelling.

It was said a goodly portion of the household effects had been sold, preparatory to the departure of Miss Ola, who had arranged to make her home with her sister in Little Rock.

The building was insured for $1,000 in a company represented by the Sublett Agency. This sum, however, does not cover the loss, the house being valued at considerably more than that. There appears to have been no insurance on the furniture.

SOME DRASTIC DEMANDS ON GERMAN GOVERNMENT

Berlin, Oct. 9.—Drastic demands were made on the German government today by a group of Ruhr industrialists headed by Hugo Stinnes, who recently consulted with General DeGoutte, the French commander at Dusseldorf. They asked authority to continue negotiations with the occupation officials in the Ruhr, for provisions for longer working hours for German workers, compensation for coal confiscated since the Ruhr occupation, compensation for the forcibly levied coal tax, abolition of the coal tax, and a guarantee that all future deliveries of reparation coal be placed in their hands. The cabinet took the demands under consideration this morning.

FLOODS IN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 9.—Oklahoma City's flood hazard was hourly increased this morning as another rise, reported several miles above here in the North Canadian River, swept down to augment the swollen stream, which has wrought havoc in the lowlands. The peak of the high water was believed to have been reached early today, but it is problematical whether the waters could recede in sufficient volume to absorb the new rise.

WILL TAKE ALL OUTPUT

Wichita Falls, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Humble Oil & Refining Company announced today that production will be accepted without limit on the basis of 39 degrees or better gravity at the rate of $1.50 per barrel. This represents an increase of 50 percent, other large companies having quoted $1 where total runs were taken.

NEGROES EXPATRIATED

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 10.—A few negroes are reported to have left Low township early today following an order given last night by a self-appointed vigilance committee for every negro in the township to quit the community within 24 hours. Others are preparing to leave. According to township police, the action of the committee was the result of the slaying on Saturday last of Thomas Rowland and the wounding of his granddaughter, Edith Colter, by a negro. The murderer escaped and the police have no tangible clues as to his identity.

FREE METHODIST CONFERENCE

Your committee sincerely desire to voice the conference's deep appreciation and thankfulness to God for returning to us our worthy senior superintendent, Bishop Walter Sewell, who, with his genial companion, Mrs. Sewell, has blessed our conference with their Godly counsel and conversation at this meeting. The bishop's sermons have been messages from above and his able manner of conducting the business part has not been lessened with the frost of winters passed over his head. Thank you, bishop, a heart full of thanks to you, and may you, with the wife of your youth, live to see the century mark, and with bright minds and loving hearts shine among us as a church.

Again we wish to thank the pastor and his assistants for placing the conference and the visitors in homes. And thanks be to and manifold blessings come upon the citizens of Sacul and vicinity who so kindly cared for us while in their midst. Again we say, God bless them.

And last, but not least, we thank the stationing committee in advance for their wise and unbiased disposition in assigning the pastors and workers to their fields of labor, where, we trust, the Holy Ghost may use them to build up the principles for which our Lord and Master gave his life.

Oh, we do praise God and thank you all, and may the Great Master of Assemblies bring you all to the home above.

Respectfully submitted,
H. A. Hansen,
W. H. Lockney,
Committee.

In district court Saturday the jury in the case of Harrison Perryman, colored, returned a verdict of guilty against him for selling liquor and assessed his punishment at one year in the penitentiary.

SEWANEES-A. & M. GAME AT DALLAS SATURDAY

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 9.—When it comes to a question of loyalty, there's never a doubt between a man's alma mater and his state.

Alumni of Sewanee University in Texas—and there are a thousand or more—are preparing for the most loyal support of the purple and white team in its battle with the football warriors of Texas A. & M. in the athletic stadium here, Saturday, October 13, opening day of the 1923 State Fair of Texas.

Sewanee men will be "in there" as strong as if the game were played on their own college gridiron. Local arrangements have anticipated practically everything—even to a band with which to match the magnificent musical organization the Texas Aggies will bring along.

Tickets for the Sewanee-A. & M. game are already on sale and Sewanee alumni all over the state have been apprised they may be secured by mail application to Jack Swaynee, Akard and Young Streets, Dallas, Texas. All unsold tickets must be returned for "open" sale by Wednesday, October 10, so applications should be prompt. The largest single taking thus far has been sixty tickets which went to Waco.

Texas is well represented on the Sewanee team, which will arrive Thursday, October 11. Roland Jones of Nacogdoches is student manager, and Bob Stivers, center, comes from Greenville, while "Flopp" Millard, the big guard, is another Nacogdoches man.

HEARING POSTPONED

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 9.—The preliminary hearing for N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan for the realm of Oklahoma, charged with riot, scheduled in justice court today, was postponed upon agreement of counsel until tomorrow. Testimony by Dr. A. A. Maupin before a military court implicated Jewett as the leader of the band of men who abducted E. R. Merriman here on the night of March 7, 1922, and lashed him severely for his alleged relations with a married woman.

A delay of one day was also announced in the hearing of the injunction action brought by Governor Walton to prevent the state election board from certifying the returns to the secretary of state. This was made necessary by a murder trial in progress in the court where the action was brought.

INCENDIARISM IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 9.—The heavy odor of kerosene overhanging the ruins of four frame tenements in Brooklyn led the police today to surround the neighborhood in search for the incendiaries suspected of setting the fire in which Charles Camaratta died in a vain attempt to save the lives of his three children. He carried his wife through the flames to the street. She is at a hospital, unaware of the fate of her family. Five hundred were made homeless.

OILMEN IN MEET

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 9.—Two hundred Texas oilmen and members of the Texas Division of the Mid-continent Gas Association, met here today. The annual election of officers was held this morning, and the delegates will leave tonight on a special train for the Tulsa petroleum exposition.

DISTRICT CHURCH WORK

The second district meeting of the Methodist church, under the direction of our able pastor, Rev. E. G. Cooke, was held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Price on Friday of last week. This meeting, as the first one, was very successful and an enthusiastic one, and plans were laid whereby the work of the church might be furthered, and the stranger within our gates reached and made welcome.

Following is the list of those who will have charge of the work in this district No. 2: Mrs. R. P. Branch, Mrs. C. D. Stegall, Mrs. T. M. Reavley, Mrs. W. F. Price, Mrs. Frank Goldsberry, Mrs. J. B. Fenley, Miss Luene Loden, Mrs. Horace Wilson, Mrs. Lee Hardeman, Mrs. Robert Cason and Mrs. Mert Blackburn.

It is the purpose and plan of this movement for these various meetings to be held once a month, and the one for this district will be held on the first Friday of each month.

THE 'DOCHES-TIMPSON FOOTBALL CONTEST

The Timpson High School went down to defeat before the fighting 'Doches High School eleven Friday afternoon by a score of 24-6. The two teams were approximately equal in weight, and they wrestled in almost a deadlock during the first two quarters, the half ending with the score standing Nacogdoches 7, Timpson 6.

'Doches kicked off to Timpson; Timpson found the 'Doches line impregnable, and was forced to put; Nacogdoches fumbled the ball but regained possession of the ball on a Timpson fumble a few seconds later. The ball was carried across the Timpson goal by a series of powerful line smashes and one end run. Timpson recovered a fumbled ball in mid-field during the second quarter and ran for a touchdown.

'Doches entered the third quarter fighting desperately to retain her slender lead, and the tide of victory turned in her favor. 'Doches smashed the Timpson line and ran the ends almost at will. The only forward pass attempted by 'Doches was completed by a substantial gain. The game ended with Nacogdoches 34, Timpson 6.

The local team presented a stubborn defense against forward passes. Timpson completed two passes, one of which netted only a short gain, while Nacogdoches intercepted two passes and broke up countless other attempts to pass.

The game Friday was the first game that will count in the Inter-scholastic League championship race. The 'Doches team plays San Augustine here Friday, October 12. The team is steadily improving and should be able to make a creditable showing against San Augustine.

The Nacogdoches line-up Friday was as follows:

L. E. Olle Seale, L. T. Aaron Parmley, L. G. Oran Baker, C. Ben Tucker, R. G. Marvin Langford, R. T. Ollie Grimes, R. E. Edward Spradley, Q. B. Loy Brewer, L. H. Harlan Patterson, R. H. George Burrows, F. B. Sam Frizzelle.

Substitutions: Joe Lambert for George Burrows; Wilbur Fouts for Loy Brewer; Loy Brewer for Wilbur Fouts; Stanford Bates for Edward Spradley; Fritz Thompson for Marvin Langford; Vernoy Burke for Harlan Patterson.

Touchdowns: Brewer 2, Lambert and Frizzelle 2.

Try for point after touchdown: Brewer 3, Seale.

E. J. Hamilton.

BANDIT ROBBS STORE

Mr. T. B. Bray, who operates a store on the Woden road near the Frost-Johnson mill, was held up at 9 o'clock Monday night by a masked bandit and robbed of approximately $50 in cash, which the thief pilfered from the register.

Mr. Bray was alone in the store, Mr. John Varner, who resides on the adjoining lot, having just left after making some purchases. The robber, with a handkerchief concealing all his face, appeared and ordered his victim to throw up his hands, flourishing an automatic pistol to enforce his command. Of course, there was nothing for Mr. Bray to do but obey. The man then rifled the cash register and backed Mr. Bray to the safe, and ordered him to open it. Mr. Bray protested there was nothing in the safe and the argument caused the loss of time, and fearing some one might arrive, the thief backed to the door and went out closing the door after him. The safe was not opened. Mr. Bray then called to Mr. Varner, who had picked up a book when he returned home, and was reading, and the latter gentleman at once hurried to the store. The robber was tracked for some distance, when the trail was lost. There is not the slightest clue as to his identity. Mr. Bray thinks, however, from his talk, that it was a negro. Officers are working on the case.

NEGRO RUNS AMUCK

Crockett, Texas, Oct. 10.—Jim Henry Mass, 40, a negro, ran amuck early this morning and killed three other negroes and then himself. He visited the home of a negro preacher, where he slew him and another negro, and went to a second home, where a bullet ended the life of a third negro. He then returned to his own home and blew out his brains.

MAKE SAFETY A PERSONAL SLOGAN

While much can be and has been done, as by the industries, to reduce the number of preventable accidents, statistics seem to make clear that the great waste of human life from external causes is largely due to lack of proper care on the part of the victims. Figures in accidental deaths in 1922 presented to the National Safety Congress at Buffalo are worthy of more than casual reading by all the people. Consider this statement: During each day of 1922, 206 persons in the United States were killed by accident. Of this daily number 38 were automobile fatalities, 35 were accidental falls, 19 were drownings and 15 were burnings. More than 50 percent of the accidental deaths are embraced in these four classifications.

It is popularly assumed that automobile fatalities are primarily due in most cases to reckless driving. But from the large proportion of exonerations of drivers whose vehicles have caused deaths it is fair to conclude that as to people "run down" the major recklessness was the victims. If the conclusion be warranted, it but emphasizes the warning to be read in the other three most common causes of accidental killings. Personal carelessness unquestionably would have saved the lives of a great many of those who died from accidental falls. Detail figures show that no small proportion of those so killed meet their deaths at home. With suitable individual carelessness there would be a sharp checking of waste here. Personal carelessness accounts for most of the drownings, according to day-to-day news.

Industrial accidents and accidents in public places will be brought to the possible minimum only through organized effort to reduce common risks and compel those subject to them to be watchful of their safety. The enormous number of fatal accidents in the homes calls for other treatment. "Safety first" needs to be made the common watchword and not reserved for traffic or factory.

FACTS VS. THEORIES

Here is a subject on which the housewife can talk with more authority than many a political theorist and party propagandist. While the Republican national committee is claiming a reduction in federal taxation by its party propagandist. While the Republican committee not only denies that the reduction has been to the extent represented, but asserts that the republican high tariff legislation has added billions yearly to the cost of living. Meanwhile the republican national committee has been issuing statements against extravagance in state and local governments.

While anything that hits extravagance in public affairs anywhere is to be commended, it nevertheless is but natural that a national organization which makes charges against state and local bodies should at the same time be called upon to go fully into the details of the operation of some federal legislation it is supposed to defend.

The republican national committee claims that the republican administration at Washington has reduced the bill of the taxpayers by $1,539,000,000. The democratic national committee, quoting from a statement by the Fair Tariff League, says that the tariff measure named has added not less than three billion dollars annually to the cost of living. It says that the tariff on sugar alone costs Americans $1.90 per capita.

At a time when the policies of the national administration are declared to have been lowering the expenses of the people, what do those in charge of the household buying have to say about it? What, indeed, about the cost of sugar, of shoes, of clothing and other articles? Can the housewife show her husband any reduction in her total bills by reason of any acts of the administration at Washington?

Here is where facts should have their inning.

Newspapers are up against it in this day and time trying to maintain a personal column. Papers would like to chronicle the going and coming of everybody, but they just naturally cannot do so with any degree of accuracy. Not half the people now go and come on the trains, but travel by auto, and their goings and comings are at all times of the day and night and on a dozen different roads. Consequently it is an impossibility to mention all, or even half of them. People who go and come ought to make it a business to notify their local newspaper, either personally or by phone. The newspapers would be glad to have this information.—Jacksonville Progress.

COST OF A MILE OF ROAD

Texas Highway Bulletin. People are prone to think of roads as standardized structures which should be produced at so much per mile. The problem of highway construction costs is not so simple as that by any means. How much should a mile of highway cost? That is as easy to answer as the abstract question—how much should a house cost?

Before even the ablest authorities can determine how much a mile of road should cost, they must be provided with a vast amount of information with regard to where the mile is to be located, the volume of travel it will receive, the nature of the soil upon which it will be built, the type of loads it will be called upon to carry, etc.

The state of New York has just completed a four-mile stretch of road along the Hudson river at a cost of $175,000 per mile. Unquestionably, it is worth it. The state of New Jersey has spent $80,000 per mile on the construction of certain sections of the Lincoln Highway which carry an immense volume of traffic. It is worth it. The old macadam road replaced by the new construction was costing the state $14,000 per mile a year for maintenance. The Lincoln Highway Association spent $65,000 per mile for the paving on the "Ideal Section" in Indiana. It is very economical paving for the traffic it is designated to carry. Ten or fifteen thousand dollars a mile spent for the construction of main roads like the Lincoln Highway east of Chicago would be an absolute waste of the money. It would be thrown away.

Often the most expensive pavement is cheapest in the long run. The public should understand this.

WHISTLES AND THE LAW

Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

An explosive reader has been "touched off" by the letter of a locomotive engineer to another Fort Worth newspaper in which the statement is made that the engines' whistles are sounded in obedience of state law. Deleting the profanity, we deduce that our volcanic reader desires to say that there is no law compelling the engine driver to play a fancy tune on the steam pipes or to go to sleep with his weight on the whistle cord. Then, he adds peevishly that engines passing the track in front of his house whistle as they come even with the law which says the crossing whistle shall be sounded 1,000 feet away, and that he has measured the distance and it is only 492 feet, and that if the blanket-blanks would obey the law and whistle 500 feet away from his house he would not be so disturbed, and that he hopes they have an accident at that crossing some day so he can appear in court and blow up their case by giving away the 492 foot warning.

Under the present system of railroad operation within city limits, some amount of whistling of locomotives is necessary. But there is much that is unnecessary, "over and above" the requirements of public safety laws. It is the unnecessary noise that arouses the resentment of residents near railroad tracks, and which engineers themselves could dispense with without orders from higher-up or changes in the laws.

FLOWERS TO A LIVE ONE

Houston Chronicle.

Our congratulations to Frank Norfleet. He has not only "got" his last man, but in doing so he has rendered the American people a signal service.

Many a confidence game was broken up because of his tireless activities and many a bunco game has been abandoned.

Four years ago Frank Norfleet was catalogued as one of the "suckers."

A group of men, who ought to have been using their brains to a better account, succeeded in fleecing him of $40,000.

Doubtless they considered themselves clever at the time. Just now their thoughts are of a different color.

There were six in the group. Two are in prison. One committed suicide, one died of illness, one was tried and acquitted, and Frank Norfleet has just identified the sixth.

Frank Norfleet might have gone to the regular authorities and left the matter in their hands. He might have exhausted himself with criticism and complaint if the authorities failed.

He might have just given up. Even after losing that $40,000 he had plenty left.

But Frank Norfleet was made of different stuff. He believed in the "I can" philosophy.

So he put on his coat, or took it off, as the occasion warranted, and instituted a man hunt on his own account, but in strict accordance with the law. He not only believed in himself, but in his government.

He has traveled thousands of miles, visiting every state in the union, save one, and two foreign countries. As an incident of his work, 75 confidence men have been run to cover.

Frank Norfleet has demonstrated how a private citizen can help enforce the law.

He has shown that the law can be made to work if private citizens give it the proper support and assistance.

For these things she deserves the gratitude of the country.

A GREAT TRUTH

While Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont whistles to keep up her courage with a hopeful prophecy that the world will soon be run by governments of women, the more noteworthy feature of her address before the western division of her Woman's Party is an unwelcome note of disillusion.

"For nine years," she declares, "I have been as one crying in the wilderness to women of wealth and leisure to give over their pleasure and frivolities and do something to justify their existence. I have cried in vain. No reform ever appealed to people who have all they want."

Mrs. Belmont may never discover a greater truth than this last sentence. Yet it is not an original discovery with this lady that the single great essential of any change in the social structure is the presence in it of discomfort, of protest and indignation and restlessness amenable to organization. The reformer is the least of the necessary elements of lasting reform. Its life blood is protest. The instinct of those who live in ease and comfort is to maintain the status quo, whatever that may be. Sowing the seed among satisfied people is too likely to prove as fruitless as casting it along the cement highway.

If Mrs. Belmont appeals in vain to women who have everything, possibly the thing to do is seek out other women less plentifully endowed with comfort and luxury.

Picking a contented group for the propagation of epoch-making reform is poor strategy to say the least. And besides, maybe the reform Mrs. Belmont advocates is not wanted by the discontented woman, either.

One dead and two unconscious from drinking patent medicine sold by bootleggers is the report that comes from Crosbyton during a county fair. The report says that indignation meetings are being held on the street corners of the town by citizens and that all bootleggers are being made to flee from the county. Of course, the loss of life even in a case of this kind where men use so little judgment is sad, but if this is the beginning of the riddance of the bootleggers from Crosbyton, then the price is even cheap. Young boys are being led to drink just any kind of old rot or poison nowadays.—San Augustine Tribune.

A car driven eastward on Main street by Mr. W. L. Power about two o'clock Saturday afternoon, proceeding at a low speed, struck a small boy in front of the Orton Furniture Store and inflicted minor injuries. The boy stepped from behind a car parked at this point and did not observe Mr. Powers' machine till it was almost upon him. The emergency brake was applied by the driver, but the lad was knocked down and one of his legs slightly bruised, as was also his face and mouth, which bled slightly. The doctor could find no serious injury, and the little fellow went on his way to the picture show, the prospect of missing which appeared to give him more concern than his collision with the auto.

GINNERS' REPORT

There were 9,395 bales of cotton counting round as half bales, ginned in Nacogdoches county from the crop of 1923, prior to September 25, 1923, as compared with 9,132 bales ginned to September 25, 1922.

A boy whose name could not be learned was struck by an automobile Friday near the Johnson gin, West Main street. The car, driven by Tom Parrish, was proceeding at a reasonable speed, when the lad sprang from a truck directly in the path of the approaching machine, and though Mr. Parrish tried desperately to avoid striking him, even running his car into a ditch, the boy was "bumped," being considerably bruised, but suffering no fracture of bones, and when taken to a hospital and his hurts examined was sent home, it not being deemed a "hospital" case.

"IT'S YOUR FAIR—SO BE THERE"

MISS FOUTS ENTERTAINS BRIDE-ELECT

At the charming and hospitable home of her parents on Saturday afternoon Miss Ruth Fouts invited a circle of friends to a most interesting function honoring the bride-elect, Miss Edna Earl Dent, whose marriage with Mr. Elbert Reese takes place in the Methodist church on Thursday, the 11th inst.

The function took the form of a shower for the bride-elect, who arrived half an hour after the guests came. The chair she occupied was decorated in white, symbolic of her pure and unsullied youth and her innocent character. Edna Earl, a truly beautiful young lady, is deservedly popular with the younger society set of the city, and many were the guests who assembled to greet the fair honoree.

Behind the chair reserved for the honoree stood a magnificent floor lamp, whose gentle light and soft color effects were becomingly matched by the other lights and dainty decorations of the cozy room.

Soon a lady dressed in the costume of a klan appeared, bearing on her shoulders a sack containing the presents, which the friends of Edna lovingly bestowed. Upon entering she said, "We always help the poor and needy!" Everyone was delighted with the great array of useful and lovely gifts.

After this the married ladies figuratively adjusted their spectacles and gave the bride-elect sundry and divers bits of sage counsel such as:

"Do your visiting over the phone when hubby is away."

"Be sure to build a smoking room for him when you build a new house."

"Don't let him stop his hunting and fishing; go with him."

"Always agree with him; makes no difference what."

Sundry bits of advice for the bride-groom-elect were given by the young ladies, too:

"Take her on as many long trips after marriage as before."

"Let the bride have her way and so both will have a married life."

"Stay on her good side by flattering her."

Very choice piano selections were rendered by Mrs. Mert Blackburn, and the hostess served delicious refreshments, all of which were greatly enjoyed. Even without the formal acknowledgments which were made, it was plainly evident by the joylight in every eye that the guests, the bride-elect and the hostess had a time of ever-to-be-remembered gladness.

Letters received by the family Wednesday indicate a continued, though slow, improvement in the condition of Mrs. Roy L. Coon, operated upon a few days ago at the Shriners' Hospital in Shreveport. At first it was thought she might be able to return home within a week or ten days, but it is now said it may be a month before she may leave the hospital. The statement that a complete cure will be effected, however, reconciles her and her friends to the delay.

The First Presbyterian church building has recently been overhauled, enlarged and improved. Four new Sunday-school rooms have been added, all the inside woodwork repainted, the walls and ceiling repapered and the aisles and platform around the pulpit nicely carpeted. The pulpit floor also was recarpeted. These improvements have made the First Presbyterian one of the most attractive churches of the city.

Mrs. Nettie Carter of this city has been notified of the arrival of a new niece, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Converse of Beaumont, born on Friday, September 28th. The little lady weighed only 4½ pounds at birth, but was perfectly formed and in good health. She was named Sarah Jean. May she live long and prosper.

GIRLS' AUXILIARY

As a result of the Baptist revival at the mill, the young girls met Friday night with Mrs. Jim Byrd to organize a prayer service which will be later turned into "the Girls' Auxiliary." It was decided that the girls should continue to meet on Friday nights in the different homes.

The business meeting was held after the services, which was read by Pauline Schenks.

The following officers were elected: President, Miss Eugenia Aiken; vice president, Pauline Schenks; secretary-treasurer, Dora Grant; sergeant at arms, Grace Rhodes; choirster, Mattie Bonner.

A leader will be appointed each time by the president to take charge of the following meeting.

The meeting adjourned to meet with Miss Aiken next time, with Miss Bonner as leader.

Twenty-one girls met, and we want more to come next time.

SICKLY, PEEVISH CHILDREN

Children suffering from intestinal worms are cross, restless and unhealthy. There are other symptoms, however. If the child is pale, has dark rings under the eyes, bad breath and takes no interest in play, it is almost a certainty that worms are eating away its vitality. The surest remedy for worms is White's Cream Vermifuge. It is positive destruction to the worms but harmless to the child. Price 35c. Sold by

THE BIG DIFFERENCE AND WHERE DOES IT GO?

Most everyone will admit that $1.10 a month, $13.20 a year; 10 years $132.00; 20 years $264.00; 40 years $528.00 is cheap insurance for men and women from 15 to 50 years of age, and nowhere can you get it for such a small amount. Still if we had been collecting $1.10 a month, whether any deaths or not, after paying all death claims and expenses, 64 deaths in 14 years in the Mutual Benefit, we would now have on hand a surplus of $88,000.00, and for 6 years in the Brotherhood, a total of 24 deaths, we would have a surplus of $39,600.00, a total surplus in the two orders of $127,600.00, and could stop assessing until 127 members died before it would be necessary to begin assessing again. And remember, there have only been 88 deaths in the two orders and all death claims and all expenses have been paid. Is not this vast saving by the Dorsey Way worth something to the people of the county?

Talk about Life Insurance the Dorsey Way is head and shoulders above any other Life Insurance and grows more in favor of the insuring public and grows stronger and stronger as time goes by. Life is uncertain and death is sure. See Dorsey today. We have openings all along in Orders that are worth $1,000.00 the day you get it should you die.

MUTINY CONTINUES IN KENTUCKY PENITENTIARY

Eddyville, Ky., Oct. 4.—V. B. Mattingly, a guard in the Western Kentucky penitentiary here, who was wounded by Monte Walters and two companions yesterday in a frenzied dash for liberty from the prison, died in the prison hospital early today. The three convicts who killed Hodge Cunningham, fatally wounded Mattingly and shot W. M. Gilbert and W. P. Gillipian in an attempt to shoot their way to freedom, were barricaded in the dining room building this morning. They apparently were conserving ammunition for their automatic pistols and waiting for some move on the part of the besiegers. Stationed at vantage points about the barricaded building were prison guards, members of Troop C, National Guard machine gun company, and citizen riflemen from the neighboring countryside, two machine guns being trained upon the building. Plans were made to maintain a steady machine-gun fire and at an opportune time rush the building with guards and state soldiers, who number more than 100.

A barrage directed against the penitentiary dining hall was laid down by 25 National Guardsmen and 35 prison guards. Machine guns swept the hall until 1,600 rounds were exhausted. The three desperadoes fired 12 shots in return.

THE OIL FRAUD CASES

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 4.—Subpoenas have been issued for more than a hundred government witnesses to appear during the hearing of the 13 oil fraud cases set for October 15. The defense is expected to have three times the number of witnesses called by the government. Some will be called from other states, particularly in the case of Dr. Frederick Cook, former arctic explorer.

APPROPRIATION INVALID

Austin, Texas, Oct. 4.—The legislature was without authority to appropriate $2,500 to T. W. and Amelia Thames in payment for expenses and damages sustained as the result of the death of their son, Dell Thames, while an inmate of the Juvenile Training School at Gatesville, in 1921, the attorney general has advised the State Comptroller, who was advised not to certify the account for payment. The case resulted from alleged brutality by H. G. Twyman, military instructor. Following the boy's death, Twyman was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary.

LLOYD GEORGE ARRIVES

New York, Oct. 5.—David Lloyd George, war premier of Great Britain, today set foot on American soil for the first time. He is accompanied by his wife and daughter. ## NET IS TIGHTENING AROUND KNIGHT'S SLAYERS

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 5.—The skull of a human being exhibited in justice court here yesterday was identified by Mrs. Ruby Laub, a witness for the state, as part of the remains of John J. Knight, wealthy Dallas oil man, who disappeared mysteriously in the desert 60 miles north of here in July, 1921. Counsel for the three defendants, Tom Tunstall, C. W. McBiles and his mother, Mrs. Letitia Smith, charged with the murder, brought the skull into court for the preliminary hearing. A fourth defendant, Mrs. Esther Lee Tunstall Fulton is under arrest in Los Angeles. Mrs. Laub says McBiles, a former sweetheart, admitted that he killed Knight.

INVENT WAY TO RUN AUTO WITHOUT CLUTCH

London, Oct. 4.—The mechanism of the automobile will be completely revolutionized by a new form of transmission invented by George Constantinesco, who devised the synchronization gear that enabled machine guns to fire through the blades of airplane propellers during the war, according to the technical newspaper motor. This publication says that Constantinesco's invention dispenses with clutch, gear box and conventional rear axle drive and provides a variable gear which automatically adjusts itself to load and gradient. The invention also is said to cheapen operation cost of the automobile.

OKLAHOMA LEGISLATORS PLANNING IMPEACHMENT

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 5.—It was indicated in well-informed quarters that a call for a meeting of the lower house of the legislature was in progress today and probably would go out soon, summoning that body for an impeachment session October 17. It was indicated it would not be withheld pending the outcome of the injunction action brought by Governor Walton to prevent the certification of the election returns.

HEN ADOPTS KITTENS

Denton, Texas, Oct. 5.—The day of novelty has not stopped with the pineapple hair bob or King Tut sandals, but has extended as far as the barnyard at the College of Industrial Arts, where Ma Speckle, a matronly inclined old hen, has adopted a family of motherless kittens. The latter are small, with beady eyes and growing appetites.

Ma Speckle's original family grew away from her and the respective members are seeking their fortunes in the world beyond the corn meal mush and Ma Speckle's sheltering wings. But the kittens are too content to wander far from the warmth of the straw nest which they now call home.

One little fellow is frightfully spoiled and calls for his foster-parent the moment a hand enters the nest. Ma never fails to make her advent amid a great flurry of wings.

Mays, Jr., formerly engaged in publicity work for the National City Bank of New York, is now connected with the Cuero Record.

HIGHER GASOLINE

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Gasoline will cost more this winter and will be still higher in the spring, according to opinions expressed at the convention of the American Oil Men's Association. The reasons given were that oil production would decrease, the surplus stock be wiped out and independent producers forced out of business.

TEXANS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Houston, Texas, Oct. 6.—Approximately 1,000 Texans are expected to attend the American Legion convention at San Francisco October 15-19, according to John C. Townes, former state commander, who is aiding in the work of making arrangements for the Texas delegation. Alvin M. Ousley of Denton, national commander of the legion, is expected to accompany the Texas delegates.

The San Francisco convention is to be predominantly a Texas affair, Mr. Townes explained, in view of the fact that Mr. Owsley, a native Texan, is national commander. A special, known as the national commanders' special, will carry the Texas delegation and numerous visitors. The Old Gray Mare Band of Brownwood will be the nucleus for a 56-piece band which will accompany the Texans. Sombrosos, red flannel shirts and chaps, such as were worn at the Galveston State convention, will be the official uniform.

Railroads have offered a one-fare rate for the round trip, while low Pullman rates will be in effect. Delegates will be free to use the Pullmans as living quarters during the convention, Mr. Townes said.

YOUNG COUNTY FATHER AND SON SHOOT EACH OTHER

Graham, Texas, Oct. 8.—In an affray at Jean, north of here, Sunday, Mack Robinson, about 50 years old, was shot through the body with a pistol by his son, Jim Robinson, 25, according to officers. Jim Robinson is held in the Graham jail. He was sprinkled with shot from his father's automatic shotgun. The Robinsons recently had a division of an estate, and it was understood the difficulty arose over some dispute over the property.

CROWDED FROM BRIDGE PROBABLY FATALLY HURT

Plano, Texas, Oct. 8.—Leonard Turner, 20, was probably fatally injured Saturday when the horse he was riding was crowded off a bridge two miles north of here. Horse and rider plunged 20 feet to the bottom of the creek. Turner has not regained consciousness.

QUIET IN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 6.—Political circles here are inclined to believe Governor Walton probably would not attempt to use military measures against the scheduled extra session of the lower house of the legislature on October 17. There was no official statement this morning. Some went as far as to say that Aldrich Blake, executive counselor, as a last resort would recommend that the governor himself call the legislature as a final coup d'etat.

C. I. A. ENROLLMENT

Denton, Texas, Oct. 5.—The enrollment of the College of Industrial Arts, not yet complete, has reached 1487. This marks the largest matriculation during the opening week in the history of the institution. It represents 178 more students than at the same time last year.

The average number of students entering C. I. A. at the beginning of the winter and spring terms is 198, thus bringing the probable regular session enrollment this year up to 1625. The present senior class the largest in the history of the college.

When the individual does not have the disposition to do something practical it is easy to take up some cult thought.

Your druggist will sell you Golden Medical Discovery, tablets or liquid, or send 30c for trial pkg. to Dr. Pierce's Medical Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free medical advice.

BARRICADED CONVICTS STILL DEFY OFFICERS

Eddyville, Ky., Oct. 5.—The three convict murderers, Monte Walters, Lawrence Griffith and Harry Ferland, who for more than two days have defied the efforts of the executive and military of the state of Kentucky to dislodge them from their improvised fortress in the penitentiary here, seemed assured of holding their position until evening, following the announcement of the warden, who said further conferences and efforts to dislodge the men would be held up until 5:30 this afternoon, awaiting the arrival of three members of the board of charities and correction. The warden said the convicts evidently used iron steam boilers in the front of the building and a steel-covered bread mixer in the rear as hiding places. In his opinion the convicts could stand off a regiment in these places if an advance were made upon them.

TEXAS MAN SUICIDES IN NEW YORK HOTEL

New York, Oct. 5.—John Hawkins Loving, secretary of the Marshall Chess Club, committed suicide in a hotel room in Greenwich Village last night by shooting. He left a note stating he had an erratic mind and was a social and economic failure. A photograph, on the back of which was written "Benjamin L. Loving, Center, Texas," was found.

ANOTHER GERMAN CRISIS

Berlin, Oct. 5.—The German Democratic party in the reichstag has adopted a resolution declaring the party could not support a government having no parliamentary basis. As a majority of the other parties have adopted the same views, it is not believed Chancellor Stresemann will try to form a cabinet having the support of parliamentary parties.

Stockton, Cal., Oct. 5.—Alex Kels, the Lodi butcher-cattleman, indicted for the murder of an unknown man in an effort to collect his own life insurance money through a hoax, pleaded guilty today in the Supreme Court. Monday was fixed for passing judgment.

TOM CURETON—A TRIBUTE

Brownwood, Texas, Oct. 1.—In the death of Tom Cureton, which recently occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Isom Chandler, at Nacogdoches, the county and locality in which he lived and where he has lived and labored for so many years, has indeed lost a faithful friend and worker in the vineyard of the Master.

The writer knew Tom Cureton more than 40 years, and of him he never heard one word of criticism or condemnation. He lived as he died, a faithful follower of the Nazarene, and his belief in the great Teacher was carried into his daily life and walk. He made no pretensions, save those of an honest, upright man, perfect in all his works, true to his promises, faithful to his friends—a loving father, affectionate husband, a good citizen, a manly, upright man all the days of his long life. In his passing the last of the old line of God's people at Cross Roads passed with his reward.

And what a line of Christian love and religion that has been—Uncle Sammy Barron, Aunt Phoebe Barron, Drayton Lambert, Phin Barber, Uncle John Keathley and his good wife, Uncle Hardy Harrell, Aunt Tildy Harrell, Mrs. Hargis, Melvin Blanton, Aunt Mary Carnley, Aunt Belle Baker, Uncle Bill Baker, Mrs. Rebekah Cureton, wife of Tom Cureton, about whom these lines are written; Grandma Hall, and others quite too numerous to mention, all and each of whom are now singing the praises of the lamb forever, around the Great White Throne above, and with whom is the pure spirit of Tom Cureton, who left for his heavenly abiding place only a few days ago. If I were to write an epitaph for the tombstone of Tom Cureton I would place these simple words: "A man who loved and served his fellowman and died a faithful soldier of the cross."

Tom Cureton, I hoped to see you once again in this life; but now, that I shall not see you again in the flesh, my hope is to meet you when the years of life are passed on the golden shores of the beautiful hereafter.

Henry C. Fuller.

Marriage licenses were issued Saturday to the following couples: Thomas Earle Newsum and Miss Ada Delle Collins of Lufkin, T. W. Hill and Miss Lola Johnson of Appleby, Jesse Bragg and Miss Bessie Wise of Nacogdoches, W. M. Bridwell and Miss Velma Castleberry of Alazan, Jesse B. Davis and Miss Hazle Burnaman of Shady Grove and Otis Pinkston and Miss Velma Moore of Chirenon. Clerk Perrette appears to be mightily "helped up" by this unusual spurt of licenses.

FORMER STATE SCHOOL HEAD RETURNED TO TEACHING

Austin, Texas, Oct. 8.—"I am happy to be teaching again," said Miss Annie Webb Blanton, who has been appointed adjunct professor of education in the University of Texas after four years as state superintendent of public instruction. "I missed the personal contact with students in my administrative work."

"I hope to interest more boys and girls in the teaching profession and to fit them for it," Miss Blanton continued. "Teaching lasts forever and is passed on forever. Teachers contribute to the success of all professions. Finally, of first importance, the teacher deals with the most interesting of all material—the human mind."

Miss Blanton was graduated with the bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from the University of Texas. She has also done graduate work in the University of Chicago. She taught in the Austin High School and the North Texas Teachers' Normal. She has been three times president of the National Educational Association.

LEGISLATORS AND GOVERNOR PREPARING FOR TEST

Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 8.—Preparations for a test of strength between members of the legislature and Governor Walton following the convening of a special session next Thursday moved forward today with calmness.

W. D. McBee, leader of the legislative opponents of the governor, declared that from 20 to 30 members of the house have met daily since they were dispersed September 26 and a record of the sessions kept. He said on the date specified in the governor's call they would merely meet in open session. He explained that the sessions since dispersed had been executive.

POWER OF EQUALIZATION BOARDS IS LIMITED

Austin, Texas, Oct. 8.—County boards of equalization have no authority to add personal property to lists prepared by tax assessors or the tax rolls, the attorney general's department has advised the state comptroller in connection with inquiries from county tax assessors. It was held that a board of equalization has not the power to summon persons before it or consider evidence for investigations as to whether personal property has been rendered for taxation.

SOME FOOTBALL

Austin, Texas, Oct. 8.—High school football reports reaching the University of Texas Interscholastic League Bureau the past week embrace a great variety of scores. The more than 100 games reported ranged from a few 0-0 tie games to the 93-0 defeat administered to Venus by Fort Worth Central High. Electra ran up 97 points on Fairview, but at the same time the boys from the little school near Thrift made a touchdown on their strong opponents.

Running true to form a number of upsets occurred. The greatest surprise was the 7-6 victory of Italy over Waxahachie. Kosse and Reagan battled a scoreless tie, as did Pearsall and Uvalde and El Campo and Bay City. The Longview-Tyler contest ended with each team holding seven points, while Ralls was fortunate in losing out Post 7-6. A few of the large scores were: Vernon 79, Chilli-cothe 0; Waco 72, State Home 0; Wichita Falls 74, Nocona 0; Commanche 81, Goldthwaite 0; La Porte 87, Crosby 0; Mineral Wells 86, Caddo 0; Canadian 86, Higgins 0; Breckenridge 69, Anson 0.

Another good endurance test is to suffer a mosquito bite under circumstances that do not leave you free to scratch.

NOTORIOUS BANDIT IS LIBERATED BY FRIENDS

Jay, Okla., Oct. 8.—Five unmasked men held up the county jail here last night and released Ed Lockhart, the noted bandit, after locking Jack Carey, the jailer, and Perry Arthur, a Jay merchant visiting the jail, in a cell. The bandits fled south in a high-powered automobile. The actual hold-up was committed by a youth not more than 18 years old. The other men were stationed about the jail to fight off any resistance. Lockhart was captured last Thursday near the Kansas-Oklahoma line while asleep in a barn. He was under a 20-year sentence for bank robbery, a 90-day leave of absence from the penitentiary having been revoked recently by Governor Walton.

The boy who held up the jailer was recognized by Carey as a youth living in the vicinity of the Pete Baker farm, six miles west of Kansas, Okla. Lockhart was captured on the Baker place. Carey and Arthur were able to liberate themselves when they found the cell door had failed to lock. Posses are scouring the country.

MINERS RESCUED AFTER NINE DAYS' ENTOMBMENT

Falkirk, Scotland, Oct. 4.—Buried alive for nine days, five of the 49 miners entombed by an explosion in a coal pit here were rescued today and brought to the surface in fairly good condition. Their remarkable escape raised the hopes of relatives of the others imprisoned. The first thing the rescued men asked for was cigarettes.

WORTH WHAT IT COST

Austin, Texas, Oct. 6.—"There are many people today who seem to feel that the schools are costing too much money," says Dr. B. F. Pittenger, professor of educational administration and acting dean of the School of Education of the University of Texas. "This is true only if it can be shown that the service rendered by the schools is not worth the price paid for them."

"One of the most difficult lessons to learn in one's public as well as in one's private business is the difference between 'economy' and 'cheapness.' Nowhere, I think, is this distinction more important or more easily overlooked than in our treatment of our public schools."

"A cheap school is one that costs very little money to maintain. An economical school is one that may cost much a riddle, but that gives back in return for the money spent upon it the very best service that the money can buy. It naturally follows that a school may be costly and yet economical, if its costliness is offset by a very superior type of service."

"In purchases to satisfy our private needs, we know that what is merely cheap is seldom economical. This same principle holds when we invest our money in schools. It is true economy in education to pay enough to secure well-trained and experienced teachers, to give them good places to work in and good tools to work with, and to provide for them a sufficient amount of expert supervision. No one who has studied the experiences of the past can doubt this statement. It is also economical to be generous in the payment of such teachers in order that they may feel that their services are appreciated materially, and in order that they in turn may give loyal and generous service."

"It is poor economy, although it is certainly cheap, to hire young, inexperienced and untrained girls to teach our schools, to deprive them of the necessary tools with which to work, and to starve them by underpayment out of the profession before they have become proficient. It is certainly poor economy to set such teachers to work without providing for them adequate supervision. It is poor economy, although it is cheap because it wastes the time of the children, and it endangers the future welfare of the community and the state."

"A conservative estimate of the amount of money spent by the American people for luxuries that they could easily do without approximates five billion dollars. A liberal estimate of the cost of schools in America today would be about one and one-quarter billion. For every dollar spent for schools, therefore, four dollars are spent for needless luxuries. Even in our large cities, where per capita educational costs are greatest, the average expenditure per pupil is about 42 cents a day. Surely such schools are cheap as any could reasonably require; and, at this low cost they can hardly fail of being economical in the sense that they may make an adequate return in quantity and quality of service for every cent that is spent upon them."

THE ONE-CROP MAN

When wheat farmers proposed some weeks ago that an extra session of congress be called to consider emergency relief legislation, the president suggested that they formulate some concrete proposal on paper. In pursuance of this suggestion, a delegation of bankers and farmers has laid before Mr. Coolidge a plan intended to stabilize prices through recreation of the United States Grain Corporation. This body would control distribution of wheat in home and foreign markets, but would not be empowered to guarantee fixed prices. The president has not gone on record either in the matter of reviving that body nor of calling a special session.

There is a very general feeling that improved methods of distribution may be desirable, but that they come no nearer the heart of the wheat farmers' perplexity than do the facilities for new credit created by the last congress. The single economic error at the bottom of wheat farming, as now pursued is the fact that the farmer stakes everything on wheat. When wheat falls the wheat farmer has nothing in reserve, and wheat is bound to fall if he continues raising extra-normal crops after Europe has gone back to wheat raising.

In a general way what the wheat farmer seeks is to continue raising wartime wheat crops and to find, through government aid, a way to get rid of his surplus. This appears to be an economic impossibility and experimenting with it is bound to prove most expensive to the farmer whose prosperity is entirely tied up in wheat. The Southern cotton planter has gone through a similar period in toy-ing with the one-crop fallacy, and has learned through the efforts of such men as Bradford Knapp that diversified farming is the only sound insurance of farm prosperity. Raising a single crop is quite like opening a clothing store, selling nothing but pants and asking public aid to create a perpetually wide market for pants, when dealing in whole suits would accomplish the equivalent effect.

No other industry seeks a government bureau of distribution, and there is no particular reason why the government should go into the business of marketing grain when observance of widely-known economic principles will relieve the wheat farmer in considerable part and help to assure him

MORE AND BETTER ROADS

The bigger the body, the slower the movement. The greater the movement must be, the longer it takes to get under way.

The United States is a large body, almost entirely surrounded by good motor cars and poor roads. It is moving slowly but surely, towards a condition when it will have only good roads. The movement is slow because the body is so large, and has so many heads—110,000,000 of them.

Improving our almost three million miles of highways is a huge task. The movement is enormous. Therefore, it takes time to get under way. It is like a monster freight train, starting up a grade, requiring many locomotives to begin the travel and slowly getting up speed. But once the train is in motion, it has an enormous force for going ahead; one locomotive can keep it moving and it is difficult to stop.

So will it be with our road building program; slowly but surely the movement for better roads than Federal aid can give, for more roads than states alone can build, is gathering momentum. When it gets up speed, nothing can stop it.

Meanwhile the individual who needs a good road and needs it now, must not lose courage. It was said the Panama Canal couldn't be built in a generation. It was built in a few short years. At the rate we are at present building Federal aid roads it will take some hundred and fifty or two hundred years to improve our road system. All of us will be very dead before that movement is well started. The answer is to change the movement, to work for, educate for, vote for, national highways, built by and maintained by the National Government; give this nation two hundred thousand miles of such roads (which could with ease be built in a period of five years), and the rest of the roads will be improved in even less time, by states, counties and towns, which will refuse to be kept from the benefits of such a national road system, when all that they need to do to enjoy it, is to connect with it.

The League of Nations is handicapped in that it must get its meager share of glory in averting war, which isn't half so spectacular as declaring

KATE LUCY WALSH

Dallas News.

Kate Lucy Walsh is dead. Before she died she made her will and left all her property to the Children's Hospital of that city. The property, when it was all counted up, came to $1,400. It took Mrs. Walsh the better part of her lifetime to accumulate that sum. Adversity beset her, though you never could have told it from her smiling face and cheery ways. And then a charwoman doesn't make a great deal, you know, and besides, a charwoman has to live. Mrs. Walsh was a charwoman.

The story of her gift is told in the Boston Transcript, and even that staid exemplar of conservatism found a place on its front page for the telling of it. Having lost her own children—all three of them—through illness, Mrs. Walsh contrived to make life worth her living by finding ways to make other mothers' children happy. In her scrubbing and odd jobs about the homes of her employers she could somehow manage to make herself beloved by everybody, from the little folks who put her in mind of her own dead babies to their elders of whom she earned her bread.

In time Mrs. Walsh fell sick of pneumonia. At seventy years of age pneumonia goes hard with those on whom it takes hold. The illness was her last, and now all Boston knows of Kate Lucy Walsh, charwoman and benefactress. Over a little bed in Children's Hospital there will be a tablet bearing her name. Probably it will be a tablet of bronze. But it might well be of gold.

REPORT ON FERTILIZER EXPERIMENTS, 1923

Conducted on the John B. Thrash Farm
For the purpose of throwing light on the amount, kind and grade of fertilizer best adapted to our Nacogdoches county soils, the Rural Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce secured the co-operation of Mr. John B. Thrash, one of the best farmers in the county, in conducting a series of fertilizer tests for cotton for the year 1923.

Mr. Thrash's farm is three miles east of Nacogdoches on the Martinsville road. These tests were conducted on two types of soil, a light gray sandy soil, and a typical red sandy soil. The two fields on which these experiments were run are only two hundred yards apart. They are separated only by a small "glade" or marshy plot. It is fair to assume that the rains that fell on one of these plots fell on the other.

These plots were laid out and the fertilizer furnished by the Rural Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Thrash did all the work, and received all the proceeds from all the plots.

The committee had but one object in view in promoting these tests, and that was to help the farmers of the county to fertilize intelligently and economically.

Through the Nacogdoches Oil Mill and Armour & C., makers of various kinds and grades of fertilizers, contributed liberally to the experiments.

The results follow:

Kind of Fertilizer	Amt. Per Acre	Cost Per Acre	Yield Per Acre
A-1 Acid Phosphate only	200lbs	$2.35	840
B-1 10-1.65-1 (Analysis)	200lbs	$3.35	1180
C-1 10-2.47-3 (Analysis)	200lbs	$3.90	1200
Unfertilized plot	000lbs	$0.00	680

Explanation: The figures 10-1.65-1 means that this grade of fertilizer contained 10 percent Phosphoric Acid, 1.65 percent Nitrogen and 1 percent Potash.

It will be seen from the above table that 200 pounds of Acid Phosphate, costing $2.35, produced 340 pounds of seed cotton, worth (at 11c) $37.40, while 200 pounds of a fertilizer containing 10 percent Phosphate, 2.47 Nitrogen, 3 percent Potash and costing $3.90 made 1200 pounds seed cotton worth $132.00. In this case, the addition of $1.55 for a "balanced" plant food made a profit of $39.60.

Kind of Fertilizer	Amt. Per Acre	Cost Per Acre	Yield Per Acre
A-2 400 Acid Phosphate	400lbs	$4.70	1400
B-2 10-1.65-3	400lbs	$6.70	1210
C-2 10-2.47-3	400lbs	$7.80	1250
Unfertilized plot	000lbs	$0.00	680

In this series of three plots, the "straight" Acid Phosphate costing $4.70 per acre made 150 pounds seed cotton more per acre than the 10-2.47-3 fertilizer costing $7.60 per acre.

Please note that in this series, as well as in the first three series, the unfertilized plots made just about one-half as much as the fertilized plots.

Kind of Fertilizer	Amt. Per Acre	Cost Per Acre	Yield Per Acre
A-3 Acid Phosphate	600lbs	$7.05	1120
B-3 10-1.65-1	600lbs	$10.05	1120
C-3 10-2.47-3	600lbs	$11.70	1180
Unfertilized plots	000lbs	$0.00	680

It will be seen in this series that $7.05 worth of "straight" Acid Phosphate made 1120 pounds of seed cotton, worth $123.20, while the high grade "balanced" fertilizer costing $11.70 made 1180 pounds of seed cotton worth $129.80. The "straight" acid phosphate cost $4.65 less than the high grade "balanced" fertilizer, and yielded $6.60 less in value than the high grade stuff. Or, to state the matter differently, a saving of $4.65 on the fertilizer bill caused a loss of $6.60 in the yield of cotton.

The result of these fertilizer tests are published for the possible benefit of our farmers. It must not be understood that the results secured in any one season are to be considered as final. They are to be thought of merely as indicating something of the relative value of the different grades of commercial fertilizers. To secure dependable data it will be necessary to repeat these or similar experiments over several seasons. If sufficient interest is shown in the results secured this season, it will be our policy to repeat the tests another year, and possibly to run several separate experiments in different communities. By enlarging the scope of the work, we can shorten the time necessary to form final conclusions.

We will report next week on similar tests made on the "Redfield" or sandy soil on the Thrash Farm. Watch for this report.

Just over from Belgium and the capitals of Continental Europe with a lot of new laughs and some of the most unusual riding stunts we've looked at in years—that's Joe Hodgins, equestrian comic, star of the Sell-Floto circus and Buffalo Bill's Wild West, coming to Nacogdoches Tuesday, October 16th, with his family of finished bareback artists.

With the Joe Hodgins are the Hob-

Seeking for something new this season, Sell-Floto has combed the far places and it has, it is claimed, brought home the bacon. Spain, little Belgium and England have sent their best, and, with the American

HARVEY RESIGNS

The resignation of George Harvey as ambassador to London will be regarded by many as one of the most satisfying items of the day's grist of news. It is entirely possible that Britshers, too, will bear up under the blow bravely.

Whatever qualities may be claimed for Harvey by his admirers, diplomacy is not rightfully one of them. The tenure of office by the vitriolic satirist has been a sequence of loose utterances. Of course it is generally understood that Harvey was named to the post as a reward for political service. Ambassador Child, who quits at Rome, had similar if less weighty claim for recognition.

As long as the American people are content to have ambassadorships handed out as political plums, just so long must we be content to be represented abroad by politicians rather than by statesmen.

Whenever a man is named to a foreign diplomatic post by reason of merit, his record is likely to be noteworthy. The conduct of the mere politician amid the grave responsibilities of public relations is likely to be merely notorious, as with Harvey.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

That the nation may focus its attention on the need for reduction of fire losses by exercise of proper caution; that it may realize the cost of unnecessary fires and the saving to be effected by eliminating avoidable causes and by conforming to requirements dictated by experience and common sense—these are the two great objects of national fire prevention week.

Proper caution is the best and cheapest insurance policy. And it is a policy that every property owner and user of property can have. Observance of the advice and warnings offered by those who have made a study of fires—their causes and their prevention—is a small price to pay for the insurance that can be thus had. The fact that losses from avoidable fires annually aggregate vast sums, which represent not only loss in property and money, but in facilities of value to communities affected, should drive home to all the need for observing national fire prevention week—and for continuing such observance to the end that every week may be so rated.

IN ANGELINA, ALSO

Lufkin News.

While it is generally conceded that the building of good roads enhances the value of property, there is one Angelina county citizen who owns a 40-acre farm near Lufkin which he renders for taxes at $29 per acre, or a total of $800 for the 40 acres of land and the improvements. The county wants about two acres of this land on which to build a first class highway and the owner of the land wants exactly one thousand dollars for the two acres, provided the county will incur the further expense of erecting a good and substantial fence on each side of the highway. If all the lands of Angelina county were assessed for taxes at the rate per acre this citizen wants to charge the county, the revenue from the taxes would nearly support the state government. There would not be enough money in the county to pay the taxes.

Possibly howling over taxation would get a more serious hearing if it were not still possible to raise more than a million dollars in this country for five minutes of prize fighting.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Cross and little daughter, Lena, and Mr. and Mrs. Gentry Dugat and infant daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, motored to Nacogdoches Sunday evening and attended church services. Mr. Cross, who is the Angelina county Y. M. C. A. secretary, went to make the acquaintance of Dr. A. O. Browne, now pastor of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., at Nacogdoches and who is the secretary of the New Orleans Y. M. C. A. on a leave of absence.—Lufkin News, 8th.

THE DAUGHTERS OF WESLEY

The Daughters of Wesley, Methodist Sunday-school class, of 18 girls, with Miss Edna Matthews as teacher, organized their class last Sunday, October 7th. CHANGING THE NAME OF HOSPITAL STREET

In answer to the article of Mr. McKnight in Tuesday's Sentinel asking suggestions of new name for Hospital street, I would venture to suggest the name of VANDAL street, in commemoration of the acts of vandalism committed by someone connected with the paving of this street a day or two ago in cutting down a long row of beautiful shade trees along the front of the residence of Mrs. Hollis Mast on this street.

S. W. Blount.

RENAMING HOSPITAL STREET

Nacogdoches, Texas, 10-3-23.

Dear Mr. McKnight:

In yesterday's Sentinel I noticed an article from you asking for suggestions from the citizens concerning the renaming of Hospital street. By all means let's drop the name "Hospital" and call it "Elm" street. The great, huge tree which has thrown out its sheltering arms for the protection of all for centuries should be honored not only for its great beauty, protection and long endurance, but for its historical value, and the endearing sentiment, especially which our older citizens have for it. For me its parental boughs are an ever-reminder of the many, many happy childhood days of the past. Having lived on this street when quite young, the dense shade of this dear old tree is known as the favorite playground for myself and companions. If it could only speak, no doubt it would recount the many soldiers who slept beneath its boughs during the conquest of Texas. I am sure it will be the unanimous request of Nacogdoches citizens to rename this street "Elm Street." Although time has dealt kindly with this monarch, and there may not be any immediate cause for worry. However, we must see that its life is prolonged many years to come. Of all objects of creation that crown the earth the tree stands greater in dignity.

Jayce Kelmer says:

"Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree."
Jenine P. Matthews.

MAYFIELD STREET?

Since the question of renaming Hospital street has come up for discussion, the Sentinel desires to note a suggestion made by Mrs. V. E. Simpson relative to an appropriate substitute. This good lady gave as her choice the name of "Mayfield" street, in honor of Dr. J. E. Mayfield, for a long term of a years a resident of that town, and whose name being where the Methodist parsonage now stands. The Sentinel heartily endorses this proposition. No name could be more worthily bestowed upon the street than that of Dr. Mayfield, one of the very best men that ever lived in Nacogdoches—or anywhere else. His youth, early manhood and the prime of his life were spent here, and no man stood higher in the estimation of our people. In thus honoring him, Nacogdoches would honor herself. Dr. Mayfield, who now resides in San Antonio, has long passed the three-score-and-ten milestone of life allotted to man, and most of these fruitful years have been given to the service of Nacogdoches citizens. To name this street in his honor would be a graceful recognition of the unselfish labors of a worthy man.

Our vote is for "Mayfield Street."

FAVORS "MAYFIELD" STREET To the Sentinel:

Seeing in your paper a reference made to the changing of the name of Hospital street, it occurs to me that it would be appropriate to name it after Dr. Joe Mayfield. He once owned that corner where Hospital street intersects North street. He was an honored resident there for years. His father was one of the pioneers of the town and held the office of high sheriff. He has always been loyal to the traditions of the county and had a host of friends in both the town and country, and I think it would afford him great satisfaction in his last years to know that he is remembered in this way.

F. L. Simpson.

A. T. Crawford catches 'possums while you wait. One of the animals had been making raids on his henry, and Mr. Crawford set a steel trap in the hope of ending the intrusions. Sunday night, sure enough, the 'possum revisited a nest (which he had broken up on previous visits), and hearing a commotion Monday morning among the chickens, he visited the trap and found the animal—a big, fat one—securely clamped between the teeth of the instrument. A little early for 'possum and 'taters," but better early than never.

"GOING" STILL RAIDED. OPERATORS CAPTURED

On Saturday night Sheriff Vaughn and his deputies made a raid on a still in the outskirts of Garrison and bagged two of the operators.

The still was located in a pit, and the officers stood on the brink and witnessed the outfit in full operation. They made a rush and there was a wild scramble on the part of the law-breakers to escape. A white man named Joe Cook and a negro, John Burkley, were run down, the former giving his captors a lively tussle. Several shots were fired to halt the fleeing men. Cook and Burkley were brought to jail, but gave bond and were released. Other arrests are expected.

The still, complete in every detail, and several gallons of the finished product were taken in charge by the sheriff.

COLLEGE FACULTY PICNIC

Thursday evening at 5:30 the faculty of the Stephen F. Austin Teachers' College met by appointment at the "shack" on the campus, not for the purpose of a faculty meeting, or to discuss the merits of the Montessori system or the Gary system, but rather to agree on a good place for a picnic. It required but a few words of talk to convince everyone that Ysleta Park was about the best picnic grounds in the whole country. So the party drove out to Ysleta, and begun immediately to prepare lunch. Much advance preparation made the task comparatively easy. President Birdwell, Secretary McKnight, E. E. Davis, Thomas E. and C. E. Ferguson, assisted by Dr. L. W. Sackett, soon had a roaring camp fire going. While this was going on the ladies directed by Miss Edna St. John were preparing all sorts of eats. As soon as the fire burned into a nice heap of coals, it was surrounded by more than a dozen amateur cooks, each vying with the other in cooking a "siskebob." Ever eat a "siskebob"? You never? Well, then, dear reader, you've "got something comin' to you" in the way of eats. As best the reporter could find out about the contents and preparations of this new dish it consists of an onion, two stalks of celery, two strips of bacon, all wrapped about with a nice slice of round steak and the whole of it roasted over a bed of live coals. The reporter ate only four or five siskebobs, but from this limited test he is of the opinion that it represents about the last word in culinary art. Dr. Birdwell claims to have invented the siskebob, but those who watched him roast one last night on the end of a dogwood fork are inclined to believe the statement made by others that the siskebob was invented by the girl scouts.

After the meal was finished the happy party circled around the campfire and followed Miss Ida Pritchett in songs of camp and field, interspersed with a number of "uneful" lays from college life. The evening's entertainment developed a number of voices of various timbre and tone. There was Secretary McKnight who move dwith ease and unconsciousness from low "c" to high "c" without even one time striking a harmonious chord. Upton proved to have a splendid tenor. Dr. Ray slung a wicked bass. Thos. E. Ferguson knew more college songs than anyone. C. E. Ferguson joined in the chorus of every song, except "But the Cat Came Back." E. E. Davis drifted idly and easily from one part to another, and did so without producing the faintest musical note. If the truth must be told, the ladies really furnished most of the music. The closing number was "Good Night, Ladies," led by Prexy himself.

The party broke up at 8:30. It was pitch dark except for the feeble rays of Paul Tischer's lantern loaned for the evening. Some difficulty was experienced in finding the path leading from the camp fire around the lake, over the foot bridge and up the slope to where the cars were parked. A certain bachelor professor is said to have made three trips around the most perilous part of the journey and he was not alone on either trip.

LOST AT SAN MARCOS, WON AT NACOGDOCHES

Well, there was a little consolation in Friday's football games, anyway. The Lumberjacks at San Marcos lost by a score of 47 to six in favor of the team of that place, at which there was little wonder. The San Marcos boys are old, seasoned players, having contested successfully with some of the best college teams in the country, and it is not surprising that they outplayed a newly organized team. We'll try 'em again.

The game here between Timpson and Nacogdoches resulted in a victory for the latter's high school team by a score of 36 to six. There's where the consolation comes in—if you can discern it. The Timpson boys are a game bunch and are going to surprise the older teams some day. There's plenty of fine football material among them. All they need is practice. They have a first-class coach who evidently is doing his duty. At the same time, the Nacogdoches High School team are hard to down.

STRIPLING-YARD

Mr. Leon Stripling and Miss Nell Yard were married at Tyler on Sunday, October 7, at 5 p. m.

The groom is the well-known book-keeper for Swift Bros. & Smith of this city and is a young gentleman of sterling worth, his friendships being limited only by the circle of his acquaintances.

The bride is said to be a young lady of many charms of mind and person, and the Sentinel joins in wishing for the couple a long and happy life.

After a bridal tour they will make Nacogdoches their home.

NEWSOM-COLLINS

At the Methodist parsonage Saturday evening of Mr. Thos. Earle Newsom and Miss Ada Delle Collins of Lufkin were united in holy matrimony, the beautiful Methodist ceremony being read by the pastor, Rev. E. Gerard Cooke. The contracting parties are young and highly respected residents and we wish them a long life of unalloyed happiness.

Only a few friends and near relatives were present.

BIG HIGHWAY MEETING HERE OCTOBER 12TH

Secretary-Manager H. L. McKnight of the Chamber of Commerce has been notified by J. M. Hughes, secretary of the Lone Star Trail Association, with Western headquarters at Winfield, La., that a meeting of the association will be held at Nacogdoches on Friday, October 12th, for the purpose of locating the route of the trail through Eastern and Central Texas, and also for the purpose of stimulating the various counties through which the trail may be located to begin at once an active campaign for the actual construction of the road where certain gaps now exist.

In discussing the matter, Secretary Hughes said: "The Lone Star Trail is not just one of those paper affairs that exist only in the minds of a few promoters. It is a bonafide hard-surfaced highway, extending from St. Augustine, Florida, to Los Angeles, California, with more than two-thirds of the road already completed, and with active campaigns under way in many counties where the trail has been located but not yet built. The association is actively at work, not merely in marking an uncertain road from point to point, but is centering its forces in getting active campaigns under way to close up every remaining gap in this the most important East-to-West highway."

According to Mr. Hughes, delegations will be here Friday from practically all points on the trail from Winfield, La., to Waco, Texas.

Following is Mr. Hughes' letter: Winfield, La., Oct. 4, 1923. Mr. H. L. McKnight, Nacogdoches, Texas.

Dear Mr. Mc.—Have arranged to have our big get-together meeting with you Friday, October 12th. The delegation should get there from both directions by noon of that day. Please have a place for the bunch to meet and have as many of your business and professional men present as possible. This meeting will mean more to your city than anything except the college that has happened to it in a long time. There will be delegations from towns as far west as Waco and as far east as this place. It would not be a bad idea for a bunch of you to meet us at San Augustine. I'll wire at what hour we will be there. Write or wire me if this arrangement meets your entire approval.

With warm personal regards, Lone Star Trail Association. By J. M. Hughes, Manager.

COMMUNITY MEETING

Dr. Birdwell, Prof. and Mrs. J. H. Hinds and Secretary McKnight attended a school and community meeting at Martinsville Friday night.

The Martinsville people have indicated a desire to organize a group or class in dairying for Prof. Hinds during the fall and winter. Quite a number of the Martinsville farmers are selling cream regularly to the Marigold Creamery and they are anxious to learn some of the fundamental principles of dairying. Prof. Hinds has agreed to take charge of the class if it is organized, and to give them two regular lessons each month during the school year.

Prof. Oscar Hanna, principal of the Martinsville school, states that quite a number of the best people of the community will likely form the class. Prof. Hinds has agreed to do as much outside teaching as his schedule will permit. If there is a demand for his services—and they come free to such groups as he can reach—he will likely conduct other classes in other subjects. He is anxious to organize a class in poultry, which he states is one of the profitable side lines of farming.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIAL

Mrs. Giles Haltom entertained the member s of the Senior Endeavor of the First Presbyterian church Friday evening at her home. After a very pleasant evening spent in various games and contests, delicious refreshments were served. Everyone present reported an enjoyable time.

NACOGDOCHES DEEP TEST IN NEW SAND

In the Nacogdoches field, where the operators developing that shallow territory have combined forces and are drilling a deep test in the heart of the field, much encouragement is expressed with developments so far.

The formation is reported excellent. Enough gas has been developed to blow heavy mud over the derrick from around 1275 feet. Eight-inch casing is being set at 1280 feet and test will be made at this depth. The fact that the eight-inch is cemented shows how optimistic the operators are in regard to this test.

Operators drilling this deep test say that Professor Udden's report on formation places it as the Matchitoches sand. Some hold the opinion that depth is not sufficient for this sand.

GIFTS FOR C. C. CLUB

The C. C. Club held its first meeting of the Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Moss Adams.

After the regular routine of business a unanimous vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. D. K. Cason for a gift of relics, Indian curios, etc. She having procured these relics especially for her own collection makes them doubly appreciated by the club.

We also wish to thank Mr. Jake Summers for an appreciative donation.

Last, but by no means the least valued by us, is a piece of art by H. T. Muckleroy of the old Fort. This youth is only 12 years old, so we predict for him a bright future in this connection. Stone Fort Committee.

HELPFUL BIBLE VERSES

The following Scriptural quotations were mailed the Sentinel by one of its lady friends with the suggestion that they might prove helpful to the students of our town:

James 1:5—"If any man lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given."

Proverbs, 2:6—"For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding."

Proverbs 3:13—"Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding, for the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver; and the gain thereof than fine gold."

Proverbs 8:13—"The fear of the Lord is to hate evil: pride and arrogance and th evil way and the froward mouth, do I hate."

Proverb 1:7—"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction."

Proverbs 11:13—"Behold the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and sinner."

Which do you prefer, the recompense of the righteous or the recompense of the wicked and sinner? Think.

We usually can figure out what the politicians stand for, but at times we can't understand what they lie for.

REV. C. O. HOLLAND

Rev. C. O. Holland, aged 63 years, died Wednesday morning at the Mound Street Hospital, where he had been brought from Angelina county for treatment for carbuncles, which affliction caused his death. He came to the hospital Monday.

Deceased was the father of M. M. Holland, chief engineer at the City Light & Water plant here, and Jason Holland, whose home is in Arkansas. A daughter, Mrs. M. McPhail, resides at Pine Bluff. Mitchell Holland of Etolle is a brother.

Funeral services were held at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Christ church, Revs. Taylor Perritte, E. G. Cooke and C. D. Atwell officiating. Interment was made in Oak Grove cemetery.

The pallbearers were L. E. Winder, Grady Stallings, Will Baker, B. C. Castleberry, C. U. Watkins and Leon Stripling.

Mr. Holland was a Methodist minister serving the Lufkin circuit at the time of his death.

O. C. DOTSON

O. C. Dotson died Wednesday at Harlingen and will be buried Friday afternoon at Henderson. He was 80 years old at the time of his death.

Deceased is survived by his widow and two brothers, E. M. Dotson of Beaumont and Luke Dotson of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mr. Dotson had been in the mercantile business at Garrison for a long term of years, but recently failing health necessitated his retirement. He went to the Rio Grande Valley in search of relief, but it was too late.

He is well and favorably known to many of our citizens, who regret his death and extend sympathy to the family.

Hensling-Thomas

At the district parsonage Wednesday evening at 7:30 Mr. Jess Hensling and Miss Genie Thomas were united in marriage, Rev. H. T. Perritte reading the ceremony. Both parties are among the best families of Melrose.

The bride was handsomely attired in blue canton crepe, with accessories to match.

They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Hensling will make their home at Melrose.

PAYING TAXES

Collector Johnson opened his books Monday, the 1st, and reports that taxpayers of the county are coming in and settling up more freely than usual. Forty-one receipts had been issued for the three days ending Wednesday evening. Delinquents are also squaring up, some for as far back as 1921.

Miss Exier M. Lewis, county superintendent of schools, enjoys the distinction of having paid the first poll for this year, visiting the collector early Monday morning for that purpose.

The record price of the fall market for cotton is displeasing to the grower in that he has not more to sell.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER
Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotabs."

The last triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug-trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price 35 cents for the large family size; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)

VISION

Much of our progress depends upon our vision. Yet thousands of folks are unconsciously neglecting their eyesight. They fail to realize that EYEGLASSES will add to their comfort and happiness.

We will tell you in a single examination the condition of your eyes, whether or not you require glasses. If you do, we are anxious to demonstrate our ability to serve you accurately at a cost well within your means.

"BACK TO SCHOOL"

The largest and most progressive school in the United States joins hands with the Rotary Club and other similar organizations in the movement to have the boys and girls to complete their courses in high schools and colleges. This school is known all over the United States as a friend to young people. In order to accommodate these young people, the Tyler Commercial College teaches a literary course in connection with commercial courses, without additional cost. The same literary training can be had in the Tyler Commercial College as in literary schools, and at the same time the student is qualifying himself for a salaried position with a reputable concern, or can go into a university or college and pay their expenses. Those who are not to re-enter high school or the university should write to the Tyler Commercial College today for a free catalogue explaining in detail the school, the work they are doing, and the success of their graduates, especially those who did not finish high school, who have availed themselves of this opportunity.

Mr. Jack Underwood, manager of the Ardmore Milling Company, of Ardmore, Oklahoma, and numerous others who did not complete high school, have creditably completed these courses in the Tyler Commercial College, and are now employed in good positions. Most of them did not advance as far as the 8th grade in public school, and some of them did not get any further than the 5th grade.
