MAN IS MURDERED BY BURGLAR

Man Indicted for Kidnapping Banker

By BOYCE HOUSE
The world yesterday observed the birthday of a man "who never had a chance." Abe Lincoln was born in a log cabin on the frontier. He enjoyed few opportunities for education. He knew poverty and its galling limitations. But he walked miles to borrow books and he didn't merely skim through them; he read them until he had mastered their contents as he lay sprawled on the floor in front of the burning logs in the fireplace. He was defeated for the legislature; for congress; for State commissioner; for vice president and for United States Senator. These failures did not dim his spirit. In fact, he made his defeat for the senate a stepping stone. He took a position on the issue of slavery that cost him the senatorship but it made him a national figure and he was nominated for the presidency. He was elected and guided the nation through the four darkest years of American history. His deeds and his character won him a lofty place in the history of the world.

America has finer school buildings now than then; better-equipped teachers; modern textbooks that are changed about every two years; buses to haul the students to school where they can study everything from wild flowers to how to hic, haec, hoc—but we produce few Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Jacksons.

Lessened output of farms and factories is not reflected by the quantity of lawsuits. Twelve suits were filed the first four days of this week in the district courts in Eastland.

Sometimes an editorial writer really writes something that is human—something that doesn't abound in statistics and cold reasoning. Bruce Catton, chief editorial writer for a large group of American newspapers, recently wrote the following:

"The other day a certain five and 10-cent store at Newark, N. J., received a letter containing a $1 bill. The letter explained that once upon a time a little boy had strolled into the store, noticed the trays of glittering rings on the counter, and slipped two of them into his pocket when on one was looking.

"The years passed. The little boy grew up. But he couldn't forget the two 10-cent rings that had sparkled with such irresistible magic on a day when his hands went groping hurriedly for a ring with a shining stone.

"So he made atonement the other day by sending the store a $1 bill to pay for the banditry of long ago.

"It is doubtful if the man who made amends for the misdemeanor of the wistful youngster who wanted two rings ever stole anything else in his life. If he had he would have forgotten this childish transgression. Those who sin much don't suffer. But those who have stepped aside only occasionally do. Their consciences aren't calloused and hardened.

"The gold of the rings turned to brass before the little boy knew it. Maybe he thought it was his conscience taking away the sylvan gleam. Maybe it was.

"And the stones, he probably discovered, weren't lovely, beautiful bits of color caught when a raindrop broke, but glass with a drop of dye. He learned wisdom but he couldn't get away from the pin pricks in his mind that told him he had taken something that didn't belong to him.

"When he was at the bat and going strong; when he was swimming faster than any other one in the gang some place in a deep green hole; when he awakened suddenly in the strange hush of a long night—he remembered the rings.

"Like a ghost, the two circlets followed him. Other boys didn't worry about the apples and pumpkins that were spirited away from a farmer's orchard. But this offense was different. He had walked into a store and deliberately taken property that didn't belong to him. He had a wrong to right.

"It would be interesting to know just why the little boy of long ago took the rings. Certainly not to make money, for he took only two. Evidently not to show his bold, defiant courage. One ring would have been sufficient for that.

"Maybe it was somebody's birthday at home and he didn't have any money to buy a present, so he decided to steal one. And while he was doing it he remembered another little sister who would cry if she didn't get one, a gift, too. It was just as easy to take two rings as one. One with a blue set, perhaps, and one with a red.

"Maybe he just wanted to feel something beautiful in his pocket. Nobody knows. But it is certain that the man who righted the wrong of the little-boy-he-used-to-be has turned the brass of the stolen circlets back to gold again."

INVESTIGATION OF CASE LASTS FOR 2 MONTHS

Bank Cashier At Redwater Was Abducted and Wounded.

By United Press.
TEXARKANA, Texas, Feb. 13.—Jess Glascoe, 27, Texarkana, who has been in jail since three days after the kidnaping and shooting, Dec. 7, of R. W. Hanks, cashier of the Redwater State bank, near here, was indicted on three charges today by the Bowie county grand jury in connection with the affair, climaxing more than two months' investigation.

HOBO SWARMS HIT TOWNS ON THE BORDER

By United Press.
DEL RIO, Tex., Feb. 13.—Economic depression may be causing anxiety in various quarters but there is one special species of humanity which openly declares itself heartily in favor of "business slumps."

Border towns throughout the southwest are feeling the pinch as cities and towns inland and visited by sterner weather during the winter season do not feel it.

It is caused by the hobo menace. Every freight train along the border carries from 10 to 50 tramps. Into small border towns they roll, swarming out of freight yards to bombard back-doors. City authorities in many border towns have ruled that hobos be herded together, kept in a band and loaded on the first out-going freight.

Texas Holidays Now Total Jinx Number

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—Texas now has the traditionally unlucky number of holidays. The legislature's decision at this session to make Robert E. Lee's birthday, Jan. 19, an official holiday, the number was brought to 13. Election days, holidays by statute, are frequent enough to chase away the jinx.

The official holidays and the men or events they honor, now are: Jan. 1, New Year; Jan. 19, Lee; Feb. 22, Washington; March 2, Texas Independence; April 21, San Jacinto; May 30, Decoration; June 3, Jefferson Davis; July 4, Independence; Sept. 2, Labor Day; Oct. 12, Columbus; Nov. 11, Armistice; Nov. 23, Thanksgiving; Dec. 25, Christmas.

PAY BONDS IN STERLING

By United Press.
PARIS.—The French supreme court recently handed down an important decision, ordering the payment of French investors in the City of Tokio 5 per cent bonds of 1912 in pounds sterling instead of francs. This decision is considered important because of British demands that British holders of French war loans should be paid in gold instead of paper francs. France insists that her war loans shall be paid on the present value of the franc.

LIGHT SNOW AND CHILL RAIN VISITING TEXAS

By United Press.
DALLAS, Feb. 13.—Winter visited Texas again Friday on the wings of a light snow in the Panhandle and cold rains over other sections of the State United States weather bureau forecast here at noon promised colder weather over the week-end.

A thin blanket of snow covered the region about Canyon following a scant rain yesterday. Ice-coated streets and highways where rain had settled hampered traffic.

FLYING NEA CAMERAMAN AIDS IN RESCUE OF MAROONED FISHERMEN

Here's the piteous appeal for food and rescue, traced in the snow, that a flying cameraman for NEA Service snapped when he flew with a Buffalo Times relief plane to the rescue of 20 fishermen marooned on floating ice in Lake Erie. With pike poles, the half-starved men traced "EATS" and "HELP" when the relief plane appeared overhead. The pilot dropped a big can of steaming coffee by parachute and then directed U. S. Coast Guard boats to the scene where the rescue was effected, one of the group being a 9-year-old boy. Note the canvas windbreak about which the men huddled.

MAYORS TO MEET ON GAS BILLS

By United Press.
ABILENE, Feb. 13.—Probability of a meeting of oil belt mayors loomed following a suggestion from Mayor J. H. McGaughy of Moran that towns in the oil belt unite in investigating both billing and rates.

Mayor McGaughy addressed his proposals to the mayor of Abilene, Albany, Cisco and Breckenridge. The suggestion follows a wave of protest in more than 50 cities and towns.

Both Mayor Thomas E. Hayden of Abilene and Mayor J. M. Williamson of Cisco said they favor the proposal of McGaughy. Mayor W. B. Webb of Albany said he had referred the McGaughy letter to the Albany Chamber of Commerce. Mayor Chas. H. Clark of Breckenridge, who is recovering from an attack of influenza, was unable to discuss the matter.

The mayor of Abilene expressed the opinion that the price of gas "should come down with other commodities."

"I think a conference to discuss gas rates and billings could do no harm and it might do some good," said Mayor Williamson of Cisco. "There has been considerable complaint here."

PAMPA, Feb. 13.—Efforts of McLean residents to obtain cheaper gas resulted in a temporary injunction issued by Judge Clifford Braly restraining the McLean Gas Company from charging more than 30 cents per thousand for the first 30,000 cubic feet or 25 cents per thousand above that figure.

32 DIVORCES IN 23 DAYS. BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—Divorces were granted in Fairfield county superior court at the rate of more than one a day for the first month of 1931. The two presiding judges had granted 32 in the first 23 days.

FRANC STABILIZED. By United Press. PARIS.—Government statistics show that while the franc is stabilized at five times its pre-war value, living costs in Paris have risen to an index figure of 597, an increase of five points over the previous trimester. The index is based on the requirements of a worker's family of four persons.

RAILS RIPPED UP; TRAIN HAS NARROW CALL

By United Press.
DALLAS, Feb. 13.—Southern Pacific officials today were investigating an attempt last night to wreck the crack Dallas-Houston passenger train, "the Owl," five miles west of Corsicana where two entire rails were torn from the roadbed. Only the block signal system used by the railroad saved "the Owl," J. E. Bledsoe, division passenger agent here, was informed today.

When the signal at the beginning of the block did not give the proper light, "the Owl" stopped and its crew discovered the gap in the track.

Murder Victim Believed To Be Recent Prisoner. By United Press. CROWN POINT, Ind., Feb. 13. A nude, disfigured body found in a culvert on the Lincoln highway near Gary was tentatively identified today as that of James Riley, a recent prisoner of the county jail.

Although the body of the victim believed to have been killed by rival rum runners had been stripped of all clothing and the face and hands bathed in acid to delay identification, Charles Stevens, a fellow prisoner, said it was that of Riley.

Schoolboy Loses His School Books. A high school boy has lost his textbooks due to the fact that he mistook a Ford sedan parked near the Times office as his own and put the books in the car Thursday afternoon. His car was parked nearby and it was not until after the owner of the other automobile had driven away that the boy discovered the mistake.

The finder of the books is asked to telephone the Times.

OBSERVATORY FOR PELEE. By United Press. PARIS.—The government has voted credits for the creation of an observatory on the edge of the crater of Mount Pelee, in Martinique. The observatory will be devoted to a study of volcanoes and the physical characteristics of the surface of the globe. The Academy of Sciences selected the site of the institute.

STUDENT ELECTROCUTED. By United Press. BERLIN.—Hans Thiele, a science student at the University of Halle, was electrocuted in the college laboratory when 4,000 volts of electricity passed through his body. The tragedy occurred while Thiele was taking a protracted examination on electric rays.

CITY COMMISSION WILL MEET ON GAS QUESTION

The city commission will hold a special session Saturday with representatives of the Texas-Louisiana Power Company at which time the company will formally present its statement with reference to the gas bills for last month.

Mayor John Thurman said this morning that it was probable no action would be taken by the city commission until the regular session next Tuesday night.

The mayor had been out of the city and had not had opportunity to study the statement, which the gas company issued yesterday, and therefore had no comment to make on the subject at this time.

RACING BILL FRIENDS MAKE A CONCESSION

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Feb. 13.—Sponsors of the bill before the Texas legislature to legalize contribution horse racing had made a concession to its aroused opponents today after a hearing last night before the house committee on state affairs.

Whether the concession would mollify the opponents seemed doubtful. One delegation from Tarrant county announced it was still "unconditionally opposed" to passage of the bill as soon as Representative W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi had offered to submit the amendment. Pope did so after a hearing of more than two hours, interrupted by frequent applause and laughter and frequent pointing of conditions which opponents of the bill said would result at Arlington Downs if it was passed.

The amendment would specifically restrict to 30 days in each year the period in which "contests" might be conducted at any one place, and would do away with the blanket clause in the bill providing for repeal of laws not in conference. The bill's opponents asserted that this repeal clause would have annulled every state law against gambling.

Further hearings on the bill will be held to give members of the legislature opportunity to present their views.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 13.—Eaton Noble, 23, bank clerk, was in a critical condition today despite blood transfusions from his mother, Mrs. Mary Noble, and Mrs. Margaret Miller, 22, divorcee, faced charges of assault to murder following a shooting last night beneath Mrs. Miller's bathroom window. Mrs. Miller told police that she fired a pistol six times from her window when she noticed someone peeping at her as she took a bath.

Routine business matters were transacted.

PLAN LEVY ON AUTOS

FORMER LOCAL MAN BROTHER OF THE VICTIM

Judge Ghent, Sanderford's Brother Is Found Murdered. By United Press. LITTLE RIVER, Bell County, Texas, Feb. 13.—The body of Will C. Sanderford, 55, filling station operator, was found in his station here this morning, his head battered in with a hammer or hatchet. The sheriff, John Bigham, who investigated, said it appeared that Sanderford had been killed while asleep.

Indications were that Sanderford had been killed between 10 o'clock last night and 6 o'clock this morning. He made a practice of sleeping in the station at night. It is about one mile from Little River. Signs indicated that he had been killed instantly without recognizing his assailant. The body remained on the cot where he had been sleeping and only the left foot was hanging from the cot.

Neighbors living about a hundred yards away went to the station early today to make purchases, finding the body.

Sheriff Bigham said a window had been removed to provide entrance to the station for the invader.

Sanderford apparently had undressed and gone to sleep. The doors were locked when the neighbors found the body, the sheriff said. None of the neighbors had heard any noise during the night, which might be connected with the killing.

It is believed that robbery was the motive because the dead man's purse containing all the money in the store except a few pennies, and a shotgun which he borrowed from a neighbor for protection, were known to be taken. The instrument with which Sanderford was killed has not been found. Officers were not able to tell whether merchandise had been taken from the small store as there was no way to check its contents.

Sanderford was married. His wife lives in Little River, the sheriff said, but Sanderford, operating the station at night, spent most of his time there.

Judge Ghent Sanderford, formerly of Ranger but now living in Eastland, is a brother of the slain man and he left for Little River, according to information received here from Eastland. Judge Sanderford, brother of the deceased formerly was secretary to Gov. M. A. Ferguson.

CURTIS TO SUPERVISE TOURNAMENT

The district 9 basketball tourney will be held in the Eastland high school gymnasium on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 20 and 21, under the supervision of Coach Esker Curtis of Ranger, athletic director of the district.

The champions of six counties will take part in the tourney. The counties represented will be Eastland, Stephens, Palo Pinto, Erah, Hood and Somerswell.

As there will be six entries, an elimination game will have to be played Saturday afternoon and the final game will be played that night. Admission will be 25 and 35 cents at night and 15 and 25 cents Saturday afternoon.

WORTHLESS LOOT IS ABANDONED BY BONEHEAD YEGGS

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Two bandits who executed a "great mail robbery" which turned out to be a great joke on themselves discarded their worthless loot today. Three pouches of mutilated and cancelled currency of a face value of $807,000 were found piled against an alley door of a garage.

The pouches consigned to the treasury from New York Federal reserve bank were stolen yesterday by two robbers who slugged a mail clerk at Union station.

GRANDSON 'TELLS ON' GOVERNOR

By BOYD LEWIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 13. Startlingly intimate facts about Gov. Wilbur L. Cross, Connecticut's scholarly new chief executive, are contained in an article just published by a member of his household.

For instance: Sometimes he gets up on the wrong side of the bed and everybody has to do just what he wants them to do.

He is addicted to apple pie and—being a politician at heart despite his 40 years as a professor at Yale—would flatter anyone who could make good apple pie.

Even Better
He likes huckleberry pie even better!

He wears old pants, an old shirt and a farmer's straw hat when at his vacation retreat on Lake Sunapee, N. H.

These disclosures are contained in an article written by the Governor's grandson, Wilbur L. Cross, 3d, 12, who believes, despite his grandfather's human frailty with respect to pies and his early-morning acidity that he is a great man. In fact, Wilbur's article was so convincing it took a silver medal in a contest conducted by a children's magazine for the best piece on "A Great Man." Other contestants wrote on Napoleon, Caesar and George Washington.

Here is Wilbur's article: "I think my grandfather is a great man because he does so much for me. Sometimes he gets up in the morning on the wrong side of the bed. Those are the times when everybody in the house does exactly what he wants them to do. For instance, as soon as he comes into the room where I am, my aunt will tell me to clear off the desk and throw all the scraps into the waste basket so that he won't blame her for not keeping the desk tidy. But usually he is in the right mood."

Christmas Presents
"Every Christmas he gives me a present and puts some money in the bank for me."

"He loves apple pie (he ought to join the pie-eaters club) and anybody that could make a good apple pie would be a great person to him—at least he would say so. I wouldn't say that because I don't like apple pie much."

"He likes huckleberry pie even better than apple pie and if you could see him up at Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire, out getting huckleberries with an old pair of pants, an old shirt and a farmer's straw hat, you wouldn't think that he was governor-elect of Connecticut." (The article was written before Governor Cross's inauguration.)

GOVERNMENT BUILDING IN THIS STATE

By United Press.
DALLAS, Feb. 13. — Sixteen federal projects in Texas, representing approximately $7,337,000 in construction work, are "under contract," according to a report on the federal building program in south and southwestern states received here.

Construction of the $470,000 marine hospital at Galveston and the $100,000 postoffice at Mexia are the farthest advanced.

Blue print plans have been made for the $430,000 Brownsville postoffice, $100,000 postoffice at Coleman, $1,445,000 postoffice at Fort Worth, $615,000 postoffice improvements at Houston, $335,000 postoffice at Lubbock and $130,000 postoffice at Sweetwater.

Disputes over the site of the $535,000 El Paso postoffice have delayed progress there. The report, released by President Hoover's emergency unemployment commission, points out.

Sites have been accepted at Wichita Falls for a $725,000 postoffice, Plainview postoffice costing $152,000, and a $200,000 postoffice building at San Angelo.

Condemnation proceedings were required for the $375,000 quarantine station at Sabine Pass, the report said.

Effecting a saving in time, labor and material, a portable electric paint mixer can be used both in the shop and on the job.

SPEAKING of SPORTS

By DIXON STEWART
United Press Staff Correspondent
Jones and Rockne
Ultimates in Sports

Sport followers who saw Bobby Jones and Notre Dame during the 1930 season witnessed the ultimate in golf and football. They were the best ever developed in their respective lines of sport. Jones swept through golf like a cyclone, then decided there was no more to do and stepped out.

Notre Dame had what was regarded as one of the greatest college football teams that ever trod the turf.

The 1930 Notre Dame team had more co-ordination and more perfection in the minor details that bring out clean-cut play and sparkling performances than any team of the past.

Coach Rockne said of the 1930 team that he never had seen a group that worked together better or one that was more compact. "They were friends," he said, "and their friendship led to the best teamwork I ever saw."

Fielding H. Yost, veteran Michigan coach and athletic director recently named the six greatest football players he ever saw. He limited his selection to men whom he witnessed in action, naming Jim Thorpe, half-back, Carlisle Indians; Pudge Heffelfinger, guard, Yale; Benny Oosterbaan, end, Michigan; Willie Heston, half back, Michigan, and Germany Schultz, center, Michigan.

The selections aroused curiosity regarding Yost's whereabouts on the afternoons Walter Eckersall, Wallie Steffen and Red Grange played against his Michigan team.

"Hack" Wilson in coming to terms on his 1931 salary, saved himself from becoming the first holdout on the Chicago Cubs' team since President "Bill" Veech has been running the team.

Veech, a former Chicago sports writer, has been at the head of the Cubs for ten years and never has engaged in a salary dispute with any of his players.

While other clubs annually receive columns of publicity about the signing of players, salary disputes and "holdouts," Veech signs his players without ballyhoo and never reveals the terms of the contracts. The Cubs are reputed to be the highest salaried team in the majors, which may be the reason for the lack of holdouts and their reputation as the best satisfied and most loyal group of players in big league baseball.

The salaries demanded by modern day baseball holdouts present a striking contrast to those of earlier days. Way back when Johnny Kling was the ace of catchers he refused to sign for the $6,000 salary offered by the Cubs, demanding $7,000. He didn't make the training trip, and held out until after the start of the season, finally accepting the team's terms. Gabby Hartnett, present Cubs' catcher is reported to draw an $18,000 salary.

Mordecia (Three-Finger) Brown, one of the great pitchers of all times, was another renowned Cubs' holdout. He had toiled for some five or six years and helped win four pennants and wanted his salary raised from $5,000 to $7,500. He finally got it and then was traded to Cincinnati. Today the Cubs have at least four pitchers on their staff who draw more than $7,500 and none of them compare to Brown in pitching efficiency.

WOMEN DO NOT TALK MUCH about feminine hygiene
.. but they know these facts

Even when they say little, most women know that feminine hygiene is a healthful and necessary part of the toilette. Modern standards of dainty living demand a real, surgical cleanliness.

This much the woman of today does know. But usually she is not so clear about the choice of an antiseptic for the purpose. This question has now been solved by the new preparation called Zonite. This antiseptic is fast replacing caustic poisons such as bichloride of mercury and compounds of carbolic acid. No woman need fear to use Zonite herself or to recommend it to her friends, for it is absolutely non-poisonous. Zonite is as safe as pure water and far more powerful than any dilution of carbolic acid that may be allowed on the body.

All druggists sell Zonite. Get a bottle and read the directions.

TRADE ENTENTE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND ITALY NEAR

(This is the tenth and last article by Webb Miller on Fascism and Italy. It deals with the nearness of a trade entente between Italy and Russia.)

By WEBB MILLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
ROME, Feb. 13.—An economic rapprochement between Fascist Italy and Soviet Russia which will vitally affect millions of grain and cattle growers and the oil interests in the United States, Argentina and Canada and influence the wheat, meat and petroleum market of the world is in rapid progress.

This close trade entente between two governments whose political concepts are so theoretically hostile is one of the most momentous commercial currents in Europe today.

Although the political and diplomatic repercussions are yet only dimly perceived they are bound to be felt eventually.

Such an economic entente is inspired by elementary reasons of mutual advantage, by economic laws and geographical considerations. Italy needs raw materials and wants to sell manufactured products. Russia needs manufactured products and wants to sell raw materials.

Russian Trade Up
Therefore Italy's purchases from Russia are increasing, especially since the new trade agreement in August under which Russia agreed to purchase 200,000,000 lire worth

Publisher and Flying Bride Return to Work

Their honeymoon "will have to wait awhile." Two days after their marriage at Noank, Conn., Amelia Earhart, first trans-Atlantic aviatrix, and George Palmer Putnam, publisher, are pictured here as each returned to work. Miss Earhart—she will retain her maiden name—is seen at the left as she left New York by train to fill a business engagement in Washington, and Putnam is shown at his desk in a New York publishing house. Miss Earhart will continue in her position as an aviation executive.

of merchandise from Italy in the year ending July 1, 1931. Mussolini's declaration in late October that Italy must find here trade expansion toward the East and the Grandi Litvinoff Conference at Milan in November gave fresh impetus to the expansion.

The government is lending every aid to efforts to augment trade relations with Soviet Russia. It has agreed to guarantee to exporters 75 per cent of the risk under the new trade agreement. In commercial circles it is reported that the Soviets intend to purchase at least 300,000,000 lire of present agreement and 500,000,000 the next year.

In the meantime Italian imports of raw materials—mostly timber, wheat, meat and petroleum—has increased nearly 100 per cent in the past year. The great bulk of this increase was at the expense of United States, Argentina and Canada.

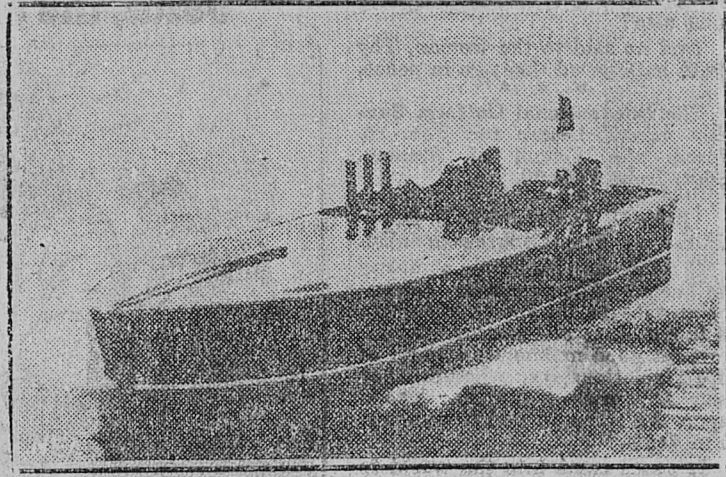

Increased Imports
The increase of imports from Russia is shown by the figures for the first nine months of the last three years, in millions of lire: 1928, it was 135; in 1929, 223; 1930, 336; while the exports to Russia in millions of lire were 61, 52, and 77, respectively.

The statistics regarding Italy's purchases of wheat from abroad are most eloquent and afford a clear indication that the trade current has turned eastward.

This is a matter of acute concern to the United States and Argentina farmers because the Italian is one of the heaviest eaters of wheat in the world. The per capita consumption is over 400 pounds annually.

For the first 11 months of each year the wheat imports in metric tons from the principal sources were:
Russia, 1930, 351,088; 1929, 0; 1928, 728; United States, 1930, 248,528; (only 9 months), 1929, 389,497; 1928, 817,206; Argentina, 1930, 159,813; 1929, 433,749; 1928, 705,254.

Miss America IX to Seek Record

One hundred miles an hour—that's the official aquatic speed record that Gar Wood, veteran motor boat racer, hopes to attain with swift Miss America IX. The formidable looking speed craft is pictured here as it shot through the water off Miami Beach, Fla., in its first tests since being equipped with super-chargers. The boat won the Harmsworth International Trophy at Detroit, Mich., last year.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

Not a "Tennis Bum"

So George Lott didn't say anything about becoming a "tennis bum" after all. George says so himself in a recent issue of American Lawn Tennis, an illustrated magazine devoted exclusively to the game.

George writes to the editor in this fashion:
"I would like for once and all to deny that I have ever made any reference to a 'tennis bum.' What I did say, and I said it to you, was that I did not see how anyone could possibly be successful in business and still give four months a year to competitive tennis. I added that I expected to start to work in the fall. The inference drawn from this was the result of some of our sensational New York sports writers. As a matter of fact, immediately after I was reported to have taken a stand I did not take, I received about a dozen letters from successful business men throughout the country commending me upon this stand."

What Are We to Infer?
This pillar of truth and enlightenment is vastly interested in George's denial, since at the time some comment was made here regarding his position. But it is not so much that which is interesting now—it is the fact that George received all those letters from business men, praising him for the words he says were thought up by the "sensational New York sports writers."

Is this pillar to infer that these 12 letters represent the views of all successful business men in the matter of amateur tennis? George's letter makes no mention of any successful business men condemning his stand on tennis bumship. Not a sporting voice is raised from the ranks of the successful business men defending amateur tennis as it is today.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

ROCKY KANSAS, former lightweight champion, whose real name is Rocco Tozza, is one of the wealthiest retired boxers. . . . His bankroll is estimated at $300,000. . . . Rocky was ready to retire before he won the championship. . . . He was offered a bout with Richie Mitchell in Buffalo, and only reluctantly accepted it. . . . He was as much surprised as anyone else when he knocked out Mitchell in the first round. . . . After stopping Mitchell Rocky began collecting purses in a big way, finally winning the championship. . . . He moved into an exclusive residential district, taking a home next to the residence of a state supreme court justice who helped him invest his earnings. . . . Most of his money is in apartment houses.

In Low Estate?

Do the nation's successful business men think amateur tennis is the bunk? Or were these 12 letters from crabbled old gentlemen who have placed business above sports of all sorts?

Surely you would think there was one successful business man in this broad country who would write to George in this manner: "Amateur tennis I regard as the finest sport in the world, and I do not think it interferes with business. And 'tennis bum'! My dear George, how could you refer to those dashing young athletes of the courts who play for glory, not for gold, in such a slighting manner!"

But no such dissenting voice was raised, no not one.

It almost makes you feel like saying, "Well George, if you did not say it, what did you say it for, and you should have, anyway."

WORK TICKETS SOLD

By United Press.
NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Even the unemployed have a racket here. Investigation has revealed that "floaters" apply for work with city departments and sell the tickets entitled them to dig ditches or sweep streets. It was disclosed also that at the end of a week's work, laborers sometimes sell pay slips at a discount.

"The Store That Put the Prices Down and the Quality Up"

Government Private
Texas oil 370 lire per ton 400
Russ. oil 240 lire per ton 280
For deliveries of Russian oil from tankers directly into the State Railway tanks at Messina the price was only 185 lire per ton.

Oil Interests
United States oil interests are being severely affected by the close trade entente between the government-fostered AGIP organization and the Soviet Petroleum Syndicate. The AGIP company has entered into a contract for heavy supplies of Russian oil over a term of years.

The principal purpose of the formation of a GIP organization is a greater measure of national security in event of war, especially to obtain supplies near Italy from countries politically friendly, or likely to be friendly, in event of emergency and to build up big storage facilities and reserve stocks.

From 40 per cent of the total crude oil imports in 1925-6-7 the United States' share last year decreased 23 per cent, while Russia's rose from 28 per cent in 1925 to 60 per cent.

Many other facts indicate the growing commercial intimacy with the Soviets. A Russian naval mission has been travelling through Italy visiting naval bases. There are rumors that Italy will build warships for Russia. Three Russian merchant ships are already building in Italian yards. The great Fiat factory is building 350 motor trucks for the Soviets. One of Fiat's subsidiaries, the Vital Perosa company, is constructing a huge ball-bearing plant for Russia in Moscow. Several American engineers are assisting.

As trade with Russia expands the effect will be increasingly felt in United States and Argentina. The Soviets, with far cheaper labor costs, and closer proximity to Italy can deliver wheat, timber and petroleum which cheaper than it can be brought across the Atlantic.

Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The State Department is full of anecdotes about old Eddie Savoy, the 75-year-old colored messenger who has been there for 59 years and is regarded as indispensable. Eddie, the man who has shown the diplomats in to secretaries of state for many decades, is full of anecdotes about the department and the social life of Washington in which he has always played a part.

Eddie Savoy has given more than one ambassador his passports. The first was Sir Lionel Sackville-West of Great Britain, in 1888. Sackville-West had written the famous "Murchison letter," advising a citizen of self-called British extraction how to vote in the election and, as it was a trick played on the Democrats, President Cleveland decided he would have to leave. Eddie was given the ambassador's passport by Secretary Bayard who, he recalls, cautioned him not to high-tail Sir Lionel by saying:

"Remember, Eddie, we are asking and not kicking the gentleman out of our house."

Gets Autograph for Receipt
Well, Eddie had to come back with some kind of a receipt, so he indicated that he admired Sir Lionel and would like an autograph on the back of the envelope. Sir Lionel autographed and Eddie went proudly back with what served as a receipt.

Some 10 years later he pulled the same trick on the Spanish ambassador, Barnaby, with the oncoming of the Spanish-American War. It was also Eddie who handed the walking papers to Charge d'Affaires Aigars when we last broke relations with Mexico. He recalls sadly that Leslie Woolsey, solicitor in tie department, took the papers to German Ambassador Bernstorff. Eddie always understood that the reason for that was that there was some legal business to transact with Bernstorff at the same time.

Made One "Slip"
Secretary of State Lansing had already told Bernstorff about it, though. During the exciting pre-

WHY TAKE PILLS?

There's no need to drug yourself with laxatives when constipation can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal. Mr. F. C. Aminsen, Keweenaw, Washington, writes:
 "I suffered with chronic constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night, but since I got your Kellogg's ALL-BRAN it works fine. I would not be without it. I was so dreadfully sick of taking pills every night. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally and is pleasant to take."
 Just eat two tablespoons of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily. Relief is guaranteed. It is the natural, safe way.
 Delicious with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood. In the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Jesus, the Friend of Sinners selves. Who is this that forgiveth sins also?

 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.
 The International Uniform Sunday school Lesson for Feb. 15. Jesus, the Friend of Sinners. Text: Luke 7:36-50.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of The Congregationalist.
 Is a man known by the company he keeps? The prevailing opinion holds that he is, and in the main it is true that evil communications corrupt good manners. But all of life's relationships, whether they mar or enrich our lives, depend upon the spirit in which we enter into them.

If Jesus came into the world to save sinners, he could not very well avoid meeting sinners and being friendly with them. It would have been as absurd to hope to save men from their sins and at the same time avoid mingling with sinners as for a man to go fishing with a fine array of fishing tackle but in a region where no fish could possibly be found.

If we were more like Jesus and had more real interest in our fellow men, we should be less particular about our companions and friends but very much more particular about ourselves and about the spirit and attitude which we display toward others.

Strong Shouldn't Fear Evil.
 If a man is weak and easily influenced for wrong, he is wise to avoid the influence of evil companions. But if a man is godly, with the power of Christ upholding and sustaining him, he will wish to display toward his fellow men the grace of God in kindness of life, in gentleness of words, and in that love that wins men from their own ways of sin and selfishness.

Here in our lesson we find Jesus in contact with two sorts of sinners. The one was a very respectable sinner who did not think that he was a sinner at all. In fact, one of his deepest forms of sin was in believing that he was better than certain other people whom he despised.

Simon the Pharisee thought that character and reputation were the same thing. That was a very great mistake, and with it Simon made the other great mistake of imagining that sin was largely a matter of offense against conventional standards. It was inconceivable to Simon that a man might make a high profession of religion and be very earnest, and yet at the same time be a very great sinner through lack of love and kindly consideration for others.

Sinner Repented.
 The other sinner was a woman who knew herself for such. There was no question about her standing in the community. She had evidently been guilty of gross sins that had shut her out from respectable society and that made her known in the city as a sinful woman. Yet in the soul of this woman was something that so responded to the Master's goodness and gentleness that she brought her tribute in the only way that

INCOME TAX

Of the millions of taxpayers who will be required to file returns for the year 1930, the vast majority are entitled, in addition to the personal exemption of $3,500 for married persons and heads of families, $1,500 for single persons, and a $400 credit for each dependent, to a further credit of 25 per cent of the tax on the full amount of their earned net income.
 Earned income is defined as wages, salaries, professional fees and other amounts received as compensation for personal services actually rendered. However, all net income up to $5,000, whether actually earned or not, is considered earned income for the purpose of this credit. A taxpayer who in 1930 received a salary of $4,000 and a profit from a real estate transaction, or other business venture, of $1,000 may treat the entire amount as earned income. When it is shown by statistics that out of a total of approximately 3,000,000 reported incomes of between $3,000 and $5,000, the far-reaching benefit of this reduction is understood. Following is an example of how a single person with no dependents should compute his tax on a net income of $4,000:

Net income	$4,000.00
Less personal exemption	1,500.00
Balance taxable at 1 1/2 per cent	2,500.00
1 1/2 per cent	37.50
Less 25 per cent of $37.50, earned income credit	9.38
Balance of tax payable	28.12

The maximum amount that may be claimed as earned income is $30,000, although the taxpayer actually may have earned an amount in excess of that sum.

Yellow Mound
 Special to the Times.
YELLOW MOUND, Feb. 10—Farmers in this section are very optimistic over the grain crop for this season. The recent rains and warm sunshine have made the fields green like springtime. Miss Beulah Speer was a visitor in our school last week.
 Those from here attending the double funeral at Flatwoods last Friday were B. H. Greer and daughter Abbie, Mrs. Bert Duncan, Mrs. McMillan and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hearn and daughter, Inez.
 Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Reese and baby spent Friday night with Mrs. Reese's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hearn.
 Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sneed spent Sunday with their son Earnest Sneed and his wife of Cisco.
 Mr. Finley is recovering from diphtheria.
 Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hensley have moved to the Roy Millers place.
 Mr. and Mrs. Dunlap have taken charge of the Yellow Mound grocery and are going to open sometime this week.
 Several of the young people of Yellow Mound were joined by a party of young people from Eastland Friday night and all enjoyed a westerly roast at Butler Springs.

Janet Again Stars With Chas. Farrell
 Long hours of study and longer hours of rehearsal marked the preparation of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell for their starring roles in Raoul Walsh's latest Fox Movietone production, "The Man Who Came Back," which comes soon to the Arcadia theatre.

The roles of "Angie" played by Miss Gaynor and "Stephen Randolph," enacted by Farrell, are said to be by far the strongest ever attempted by this popular pair of screen favorites, and when they had been definitely assigned to the romantic drama written by Jules Eckert Goodman, they threw themselves wholeheartedly into making it a definite milestone of their careers.

A POET'S BID FOR FAME.

Edgar Lee Masters, a lawyer, a poet and a prose writer of national fame, is in bad with all men and women who are admirers of Abraham Lincoln, the Emancipator of chattel slaves. Poet Masters gave his conception of the Emancipator "as grossly dressed and unkempt," and other traits of character too numerous to mention. Now the custodian of Lincoln's tomb gives the lie to the lawyer poet. This is his contribution to the literature of the period:

"I have 300 pictures of Lincoln, taken at various ages after he was five years old, showing him in many poses and not one even hints that he was unkempt. On the contrary, in each, he looks as though he had just stepped from a band box. His clothes were neat, his hair well-combed and his features pleasant."

Edgar Lee Masters sought trouble and he found it. Regardless of his writings or his motives Abraham Lincoln is an immortal of American history—an immortal of world history. Just as Robert E. Lee, magnificent soldier and statesman and Christian gentleman, will remain an immortal of history while time shall last. It was late in the day but the lawmakers of Texas honored themselves and their constituents when they enacted the statute making the birthday of the great son of Virginia a public holiday.

Why should the graves of America's heroes be invaded to form sordid reading for the people now on earth? Why should modern literary ghouls desecrate those sacred influences which spring from the pages of history and fall from the lips of tradition like hallowed rain upon the plastic minds and characters of young America. Why should we be made to lose faith in those virtues we have long been taught to revere and emulate? What possible good can Poet Masters hope to accomplish? Better a fictitious Christ than a genuine devil.

ARKANSAS RAINFALL CHEERS SUFFERERS.

Arkansas is one of the greatest sufferers from the drouth of 1930 and the winter months of 1931. Thousands are being fed by the Red Cross. Thousands are being fed by their friends and their neighbors. Sunday is the Lord's day and Sunday brought rain and brightened prospects to parts of the drouth-ridden sections.

Prosperity follows depression. Rain follows the drouth. Many valuable lessons will be taught the American people by the afflictions which have fallen upon them in sections in the recent past. Perhaps many of them needed valuable lessons. Nature has her own program. She sent the greatest snowfall of the year to the city of New York. It provided employment for 15,000 jobless. It appears that every snowflake has its silver lining.

SPANISH DICTATOR STEPS ASIDE.

Spain has had a military dictator for seven years. He ruled the king as well as the nobility. Perhaps a dictator was necessary to beat back the bolshevistic tide. Regardless of this the dictator ruled with an iron hand and he did what he thought best for Spain. Now he has handed the sceptre back to the king and the people. General elections will be held and parliamentary government will return to the Spanish people.

Prophet Gandhi of India to all intents and purposes has rejected the proposal of Prime Minister MacDonald and will continue to preach his program of universal boycott of the British and British goods as well as his gospel of non-resistance. There is no place recorded in history where a people ever won independence while proclaiming the doctrine of non-resistance. Liberty of individuals and of nations has been won by the sword and gunpowder. Gandhi has a clever brain. He is destroying British trade in India and the commerce of the empire. If he persists he will find himself behind bars and if his followers are not careful bombs dropped from war planes and shell from machine guns directed by the soldiers of the empire will teach Gandhi and his lieutenants that the weapons of Mars are more powerful and more deadly than the preachments of mystics.

Great Britain is a large buyer of American cotton, China is a large buyer of American cotton. Japan is a large buyer of American cotton. Russia has been a large buyer of American cotton. There are many disturbing signs in the ancient lands of the Orient for the American growers of the fleecy staple.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Okla.

That to advertise continuously is good business foresight.

Advertising is a necessity. No business can become a great success without it.

The whole world knows that well advertised products are of such quality that commend their favorable consideration.

Business concerns that are not continuous advertisers are overlooking the one big power that is so necessary to increase sales.

There is no sales opportunity that compares with advertising through the printed page.

Business concerns who think they can get sufficient business without inviting it are just "kidding" themselves. If they don't look out they will dream on until they are out of business.

Look cold facts in the face. Business is never so good that it can't be made better.

Business men who put in their time talking "poor business" usually have it.

Business men who continuously advertise quality goods get the big end of the business.

That the complexity of modern life increases its demand upon the charitable public.

There are many people at the present time, through no fault of their own, largely dependent upon the generous promptings of individual's human hearts.

Practiced in the right spirit, there is no more truly religious exercise known to man than aiding unfortunates.

At the present time the Red Cross is carrying on a campaign for a wider manifestation of public sympathy in its work. I cannot imagine a greater humanitarian endeavor than that in which this ardent band of workers are engaged.

To the Red Cross the sick and suffering are a challenge to the greatest and most exalted of human instincts and devotion, and the earnestness with which they are carrying out their labors have established them firmly in the affection of all.

The Red Cross seeks more solid financial support and there is no question but the people will respond in a liberal manner. Few of us can do the actual mending of broken minds and bodies or follow the path of earthquakes, storms, floods or droughts but we can all have a part in these things to keep the Red Cross going and growing.

MAY CUT AUTO TAX.

PARIS.—The French chamber of deputies is considering a project to cut in half the tax on automobiles used by a farmer in delivering his produce, or by a doctor, lawyer or other professional in the exercise of his work. There was such a law in 1920, but it was suppressed in 1924.

It is no indication a farmer is domestic merely because he belongs to the sowing circle.

GRAHAM.—Both Graham National bank and First National bank declared 10 per cent dividends at recent date.

21 PORTLANDS IN U. S.

By United Press.
PORTLAND, Ore.—A statistically-minded soul scanned a postal guide and learned that there are 21 Portlands in the United States with a combined population of a little more than 400,000, more than 300,000 of whom live here.

TO AID WINE MAKERS.

PARIS.—In an effort to relieve the crisis among wine makers, the French government has set aside $10,000,000 for the purchase of alcohol from distilling wine. This will be held in reserve and put back into trade when the market condition warrants.

PILLOW EXPLODES.

By United Press.
HAVRE.—Great was the astonishment of the Van Enos family when a few cigaret ashes dropped on a pillow in the baby's cradle caused an explosion that tore away half the house. The pillow had been stuffed with gun cotton. The baby was unhurt.

Indiana Lady Says She Feels More Energetic After Taking Black-Draught.

Evansville, Ind.—"I have known of Theford's Black-Draught all my life because my father kept it in my home and used it whenever he needed a medicine of that sort," writes Mrs. Earl White, of 1117 Mary Street, this city. "He gave it to us for colds or whenever we needed a laxative. Since I have been married, I have used it in my home. I found it very good for children.

"I take Black-Draught whenever I have a spell of indigestion. Sometimes I have pains in my chest which seem to be caused by gas. Black-Draught relieves it.

"If I get up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish and have no appetite, I know that I need something for this condition. I take Black-Draught, because after having used it I feel fresh and have new energy. I recommend it for I find it so good for my own use."

Thousands of others have reported that many disagreeable symptoms, due to constipation, indigestion and biliousness, have gone away after they had taken Black-Draught. 1¢ a dose.

Is Your Face Covered With Pimples?

Wichita Falls, Texas — "My son was in poor health when he was about twenty years of age. His blood became thin and he was pale. He was also troubled with his stomach and his face broke out with pimples. Finally, I decided to have him try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the time he had taken a few bottles of the 'Discovery' he was completely relieved of all these troubles, his blood was healthy, and he had no more stomach trouble."—Mrs. Beulah Singleton, 1101 18th St. Tablets or liquid. FOR GINGER'S SAKE
by ETHEL HUESTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Ginger Ella Tolliver, daughter of a miserly stepdaughter of the wealthy and indulgent former Phil Van Doorn, organized a Junior Country Club in the town of Red Thrush, Iowa, just to keep life among the younger set from becoming too dull. Accordingly, she purchased an old farm house and remodeled it.

Bard Holloway, a young artist who was hobnobbing around the country, stopped in Red Thrush. Attracted by Ginger, he agreed to stay and paint portraits and decorate the new club house. He gave the name "Joie de Vivre" to the club, and he suggested sending to Chicago for Nicolò Calleno, who could cook and sing and strum a guitar.

But Nicolò could not come. In his place there arrived three of his countrymen, Angelo was a musician, Pietro could cook, and Benito could sing. Ginger took them on.

Bard began to realize he was in love with Ginger. He suggested leaving. But Phil, knowing Ginger, persuaded him to remain longer as the Tollivers' guests. But for Ginger's good she wrote to Speed Roney, a former friend of Ginger's, and invited him to visit them. She felt he would give Bard some competition. Ginger thereupon invited Patty Sears to take care of Speed. But Patty would not come, pleading loyalty to Eddy Jackson. Whereupon Ginger went to Eddy about it. Getting word that Speed was bringing his sister, she persuaded both Eddy and Patty to come.

And Eddy decided to ball things up by making life miserable for Ginger. Meanwhile Benito had made a trip to Chicago and returned with a plan to kidnap Ginger. Knowing her stepmother has a lot of money, he plans to hold her for heavy ransom.

Speed and his sister arrive. Her name is Cotton, and she is not at all like the girl Ginger expected to see. Ginger was a little fearful that Cotton would prove very attractive to Bard. Eddy arranges for Bard and Cotton to be together.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII
Ginger was honest enough to admit that Cotton was genuinely nice, very cordial, very friendly, most amusing. And for all Ginger's suspicious watching, she could not discover that she put herself out in the least to attract the favorable attention of Bard. Indeed, among the men she was more personally attentive to Speed than to either of the others, listening attentively when he spoke, dancing with him very often, and betraying an affectionate and sisterly interest in him that was most becoming.

Also Ginger was just conceited enough to be pleased because Cotton, in spite of her Greenwich studio, her New York life, and her artistic profession, was gaily delighted with Joie de Vivre.

She could scarcely take her eyes off Benito hiving in the corner. She declared the spaghetti was the best she had ever eaten. And when Ginger told her about Ben and Jenky—sitting modestly apart at a small table in the bay window, Benito having insisted that they make part of the party and leave the work entirely to him and his companions—she wanted to be taken over immediately for an introduction, an office which Eddy was deftly commissioned to fulfill.

For several minutes she sat at the table, chatting cheerfully to the shy delight of Benny and the fluttering excitement of his wife, after which she wanted to go to the kitchen to meet the chef at close range.

"Eddy," she whispered, "how about something to drink?" Eddy ran a nervous finger around his collar. "Well, I think I can arrange it," he said. "The girls don't drink, of course."

"No, but we do, don't we? We do, can we?"

"I think we can. I'll see what I can do."

He winked at Pietro who joyously admitted them to his private retreat behind the big kitchen door, and filled their glasses from a huge vinegar jar.

"Not bad," said Cotton approvingly. "We'd better have another right away, because it isn't easy thinking up excuses to come to the kitchen more than once. It takes two to get clear down to my toes and improve my dancing."

Not without some inner qualms, Eddy had two with her and led her back to the table where Bard, who had himself been initiated into the kitchen mysteries, viewed their flushed faces with some suspicion.

"If anybody else wants to go on a tour of the premises—especially the kitchen—I proclaim myself official guide from henceforth," he said solemnly.

It was Cotton who, as they were dancing to the newer and more popular airs, suddenly herself burst into song, the others joining gaily, until the old house rang with their rhythm.

"It's the nicest thing I ever heard of, Ginger," she declared. "I just adore it. I wish I had one of my own."

When Ginger told her that Bard had done the panel decorations nothing would do but that she be regaled with a private showing at the hand of the artist.

"I suppose it never occurred to you to panel the kitchen, too?" she suggested slyly as they circled the room.

"No, it never did," said Bard.

"What a shame! One of those pretty Puritans would make such a nice view behind the kitchen door with Pietro."

"If you're hinting, I'll take you," he said. "We can go up to see the one on the stair landing, and then go down the back way. But you want to be careful. There's a tick in that Italian grape juice. Remember, we're all preach-

31 Injured in Theater Blast

Police and firemen are shown here examining the debris after an underground explosion in front of a Los Angeles theater injured 31 persons and rocked the theater as well as other nearby buildings. The explosion was believed to have been caused by ignition of sewer gas. The performance was attended by a number of film stars and the explosion took place shortly before they were scheduled to leave the theater.

ers in Iowa, and we don't hold with such carryings-on."

"Eddy's one, too, isn't he?" she said. "I adore preachers. I was impressed with the way he turned it into a sacrament."

Pietro rejoiced at their coming. This, now, was the sort of woman he could understand. Ginger was all right, peppy, pretty and a nice girl, but for Pietro, give him slim fingers yellowed with the smoke of cigars, and a round red line of lip-stick smudging the rim of a glass—

The night was all ups and downs for Ginger, momentary exaltations followed by quick depressions.

When they were getting into the cars for the return to town after the dance, Bard crossed to stand a moment by her side and whisper:

"I was going to say I would try to imagine you are right beside me going in, Ginger. But I can't imagine such a thing. For no one but you could possibly be you. I don't even want to imagine it."

Ginger laid her fingers lightly across his hand that rested on the door. She smiled.

"Just the same," she admitted ruefully, "I'm no Cotton, and no body knows it any better than I do. There's only one.

Three fair maids and three young men, with a fair apportionment of good looks, wit and sex appeal; every hook of every day dedicated to the amusement of the moment; unlimited financial resources to pay for their pleasure; high-powered automobiles, thoroughbred horses, well-kept tennis courts and golf links; a place in the country with quiet walks in pleasant forests, hammocks suspended in leafy dells, canoes afloat upon the shady river, music to be had for the wanting and a polished floor shining its invitation to lightly dancing feet—in such a youth's Utopia, it would seem all life must blend in a merry medley of laughter, song and love.

Ginger's party had all these and more. But there was no laughter among them save what was grimly forced. The only song was that of the willing and large-lunged Benito. As for love affairs—inside of 24 hours they had got their affairs into such a state of confusion that it seemed as though they could never be righted world without end.

The party opened to a false start on the first day and floundered clumsily along, growing steadily worse, until within three days everything imaginable was wrong with it, nothing was working out well, and nobody was having a good time—unless, indeed, it was Eddy Jackson. And he was pretty well swallowed up in the sorrows of the sad majority.

In some ways the unoffending Patty had the worst of it. Patty was perfectly agreeable to anything and everybody, she was entirely willing to do anything that was asked of her and accept anybody as a partner.

If it seemed advisable, as Eddy maintained, for her to accept the unwilling attentions of Speed Roney, Patty did not complain even when it became increasingly obvious that Speed's interest was entirely forced, prompted not at all by personal desire but by the clever coercion of Eddy Jackson.

Never much of an ornament to society in a conversational way, Speed fell a prompt prey to the moody constraint of the others and lapsed into a mental depression from which he made no effort to arouse himself.

To Patty he was overbearing, oppressively polite, seeming even to prefer the company of his own sister to her, than which no more fatal thing can be said of any woman. To Ginger he had no opportunity to show even the formal courtesies that might be expected, for she was completely monopolized by the sudden aggressiveness was jealous. And of whom? Of whom, indeed, but Cotton, forced unwittingly to the party by his own unthinking act.

For her part, Cotton found herself effectually sequestered in the Rattletrap with Bard Holloway most of the time, and the situation was neither of her doing nor to her liking. Bard did not interest Cotton. She knew a hundred young men very much like him on the whole, and his type had no charm or novelty for her.

But take Eddy Jackson now! There was a type that Cotton had never before encountered, and she was merrily intrigued. A farmer, a rich young farmer—an agriculturist, rather!—looked up to by old experienced men—the sort who could make Pay Dirt out of a common Iowa farm—one who knew his way about in the world—good-looking, too, in a powerful way. He was a constant spur to her laughter and to her wit, and a keen observer could almost hear the mental click of their verbal contact.

Texas Girl is Rewarded

WHEN children are weak and run-down, they are easy prey to colds or children's diseases. So it is never wise to neglect those weakening and depressing symptoms, such as bad breath, coated tongue, fretfulness, feverishness, biliousness, lack of energy and appetite, etc.

Nine times out of ten these things point to one trouble—constipation. Mothers all around you are coming right out in public to tell how their children are being relieved of this trouble by California Fig Syrup.

Mrs. W. E. Wagner, 5414 Santa Fe Ave., Dallas, says: "My mother always used California Fig Syrup, so I knew what to give my baby when I saw by her bad breath and coated tongue that she was constipated."

"She has been more than rewarded for taking Fig Syrup. It made her a well, happy girl promptly. She never complains of any symptoms of constipation now."

The genuine, endorsed by doctors for 50 years, always bears the word California. All druggists.

Among other things to bear in mind in planning your next wardrobe will be a U-shaped décolletage to replace the former V-shape. It is softer and meets the needs of many backs that cannot stand such a severe cutting. The U-shape also affords many interesting ways of draping material and gives the bodice an entirely new slant.

There will be a tremendous vogue for lace and chiffon—perhaps because they are such fluttering materials. Materials that the lightest breeze will sway never

OUT OUR WAY

MENUS FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY
BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

AT this season of the year new cabbage and cauliflower greet the market-going housewife. These vegetables are shipped north from the south and California in great quantities and are so attractively priced that there is no reason to regard them as luxuries or as vegetables in any way inferior to the home-grown products of late summer.

These suggestions may help the inexperienced marketer in making her selections. All vegetables have certain "points" to watch for when purchasing them.

New cabbage will not be as hard and heavy as the old has been, but it should be firm and fairly solid. It should be free from sponginess or softness and reasonably heavy. It should be closely trimmed, with the outer leaves crisp and green. Wilted or yellowed outer leaves mean age and a general wiltiness throughout the head. The head should be smooth and well formed without cracks.

Certain defects are easily detected upon examination. Worm injury or decay spots are perfectly apparent and mean just so much waste.

The size of cabbage heads has little relation to quality, small heads often being as firm and desirable in every way as large ones. Individual heads must determine the advisability of purchasing large or small heads. It is usually economy to select heads of a size that will be used in not more than two meals.

New cabbage is cared for after cutting much as head lettuce is. Wrapped in a damp cloth and placed in an air-tight container, it will stay crisp several days.

Daily Menu
BREAKFAST—Cereal cooked with chopped figs, cream, waffles, syrup, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON—Dried beef with rice, prune and peanut butter sandwiches, orange jelly with whipped cream, vanilla cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER—Baked ham, creamed spinach, stewed potatoes a la Southern, pineapple and cream, cheese salad, date and nut puff, milk, coffee.

In choosing cauliflower, there are two parts to be considered: the jacket or outer green leaves and the head itself. If the jacket is in good condition, an extra meal is furnished, for these outer leaves can be carefully trimmed and cooked. They should be fresh and firm and of a bright green color. Cauliflower is a very perishable vegetable and a perfect head speaks the utmost care in harvesting and shipping. If the flower is clean and pearly white, solid, finely and closely grained free from discoloration, and the packet is green and fresh, the vegetable is of the first quality.

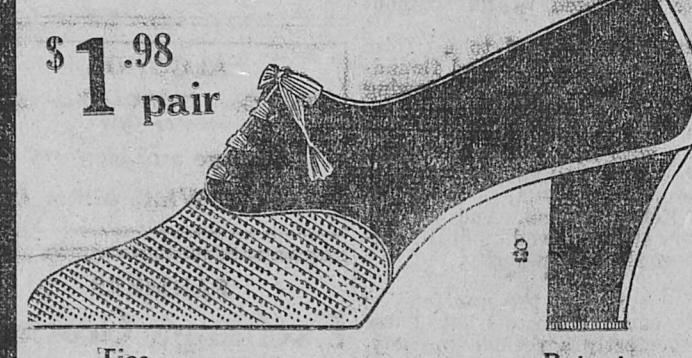

Riciness, so often found in heads of cauliflower, is said to be a sort of second growth. This gives the head a granular appearance and indicates over-maturity. Looseness, which is the result of a separation of the clusters, also shows over-maturity and is undesirable.

Dirt and worm stains are hard to remove and injure the flower. These imperfections mean waste and must be considered in the purchase price.

Short gloves with wide gauntlets of silk and lace will replace the former, just below and just above the elbow kid and suede combinations. They seem to be an integral part of the evening gown. There will be more long sleeves in evidence, but they will be of such sheer texture as to seem scarcely to touch the arm or to be visible.

And as for other coats, it is inevitable that they will continue short but their shortness will be elongated in the back.

Veteran of the Stage To Take Part in Plays

A veteran of many years on the American stage is Alfred Aldridge, the noted character actor, who will be seen in important roles in the Shakespeare Guild's productions to be presented in the high school auditorium Monday afternoon and night Feb. 16. Mr. Aldridge plays Antonio, "The Merchant of Venice," afternoon, and Polonius to William Thornton's "Hamlet" at night.

Theater goers still remember Juliet Marlowe's magnificent production of "The Goddess of Reason" and Olga Nathersole's impelling presentation of "Mary Magdalen" is more than a memory. Both these productions saw Alfred Aldridge in featured roles. Later years found Mr. Aldridge doing Shakespearean characterizations with many noted Shakespearean celebrities and as he aptly puts it, "From Broadway to the storm-tossed precincts of Juneau, Alaska, I have spoken the immortal lines of the greatest playwright the world will ever see."

The Shakespeare Guild productions will offer the first appearance in Ranger of William Thornton, the distinguished young American actor, whose phenomenal rise to stardom in Shakespearean roles in an epic of the American theatre. He will be seen in two of his most famous roles—in "The Merchant of Venice" at the matinee and in his matchless impersonation of "Hamlet" at night.

These imperfections mean waste and must be considered in the purchase price.

SHORTNESS OF BREATH AND A COUGH HAD FARMERS WORRIED

Nothing Helped Him Until He Took Lin-O-Nine Which Banned His Trouble.
COSTS LITTLE AND WORKS LIKE MAGIC
"I suffered from bronchitis, shortness of breath and a cough which I could not get rid of though I tried all kinds of medicine without relief. Then I saw Lin-O-Nine advertised and it stopped the cough and I got alright again. I sure recommend it for troubles like I had," writes Ernest Franke, well known farmer of Industry, Texas.
The famous Kerr Chemical Co. manufactures Lin-O-Nine of the very finest ingredients. It is composed of Eucalyptus, Flax Seed Oil, Betula, Cassia, Irish Moss and Glycerine. Show your doctor the formula printed on each bottle and he will tell you it is by far the most effective remedy made for wintry coughs and colds that hang on, and won't shake off easy. It is a snow white, creamy, pleasant tasting medicine in two sizes at leading drug stores, 50c or $1. or send coin or stamps for bottle direct to Kerr Chemical Co., Brentwood, Md. They guarantee Lin-O-Nine will do the work or money refunded without quibble or question. Lin-O-Nine relieves those conditions associated with coughs, hoarseness, throat irritation, etc., and is equally effective for infants or the aged. Children like it.

Life, death and old age in plants may be the direct result of electrical phenomena, experiments conducted at the University of Arizona indicate.

Medical science is offering to sufferers from pernicious anemia the possibility that their liver diet may eventually be replaced by a simple and cheap chemist.
