McElroy Kidnapers Is Given Death Verdict

RECEIVERSHIP OF JESSE JONES BEING ASKED

By United Press
FORT WORTH, July 27.—Jesse H. Jones, Houston financier and chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, today was ordered to appear in federal court in answer to a receivership suit against him and part of his interests.

The RFC also was named a defendant party to the suit on the basis of holding liens against the property involved. The petition also charged "negligence" on the part of the RFC in making loans to the involved interests.

The suit was brought on behalf of Mrs. Selma Sternberg of St. Louis, Mo.

The petition asks federal judge James C. Wilson, sitting as a court of equity, to appoint receivers for the Fort Worth Properties Corporation, a Jones interest, in which she claims to hold $3,000 in bonds. She claimed that six interest payments due her are in default.

Judge Wilson ordered Jones to appear before August 18 to show cause why the receivership should not be declared.

By United Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 27.—Increasing tension at the Urschel mansion as silence of the captors of Charles Urschel lengthened into the 17th day, failed to swerve the anxious family from its course today.

The family has decided to take no action toward effecting release of the oil man until kidnapers who seized him at his palatial home last Saturday night, make the first move.

Arthur Seeligson, chief of the negotiators appointed by the family, announced it is still believed Urschel was kidnaped solely for ransom and not by persons with a grudge.

Willows Pool To Be Drained And Refilled Again

A. N. Larson, chairman of the Willows swimming pool committee for the Lions club, announced today that the pool was again being drained, cleaned and would be refilled.

This is the first season the pool has been operated by the club that it has been drained more than once. This will make the second time this season it has been drained. It was stated that if the attendance and patronage justified another draining, cleaning and refilling operation would be gone through in the next two weeks in order to assure perfectly clean, pure water at all times.

When the pool is refilled the water used is the same that is used for drinking purposes over the city and it is maintained in a clean condition by constant filtration and purification, so that even when not drained, the pool and the water is sanitary.

Patronage of the pool was today urged by the committee in order that it can be drained again in the next two or three weeks in order to keep the pool in the ranks of the most sanitary in the state.

Rotarians Hurl Challenge to The Lions For a Game

The Ranger Rotary club has challenged the Ranger Lions club to a soft ball game to be played Monday or Tuesday of next week, with the losers to pay for a watermelon feast for the winners after the game.

The exact date for the contest has not been named, though some of the conditions of the game have been set out by the Rotarians and have been accepted by the Lions.

The regulations under which the two teams are to play contain the provision that only bona fide members of the club, in good standing at the time of the game, can participate.

These two teams have met on several occasions in the past and in each instance the score has been close with each team winning its games by one score. The game will probably be played on Monday as the Rotarians play the Elks Tuesday afternoon of next week and the Lions clash with the Barbers Thursday afternoon.

SHEPPARD TO TOUR THE STATE IN DRY CAUSE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, July 27.—The author of the 18th amendment expects to gas and grease his new sound truck today or tomorrow and take off for the prohibition battle fields in Texas.

Senator Morris Sheppard is letting it be known around Capitol Hill that he is just beginning to fight. The successive action of 20 states in voting to remove from the constitution his favorite bit of prose writing has aroused the senator to unprecedented oratorical efforts.

"Texas will turn the tide," Sheppard said.

Sheppard probably will skipper his sound truck from here to Texas. The rambling loud-speaker will visit every part of the state. He will make 30 speeches, perhaps more.

Doy Arnold Is Now a Hen, Not A Barking Dog

By United Press
FORT WORTH, July 27.—Jailer A. B. McDougald, in charge of the fifth floor of the county jail, scratched his head in amazement today when he heard a sound like a hen cackling coming from one of the cells.

Investigating, he found the noise was being made by Doy Arnold, alleged Breckenridge wife slayer, who had been barking like a dog for several months, was brought here because his barking disturbed the family of Sheriff Morrow of Stephens county, whose family lives in the jail.

The "cackling" began last night, McDougald and inmates said.

As the result of the conference, the president said, people in the United States better understand European problems and European statesmen better understand United States problems.

Refineries Are Closing Down In East Texas Field

By United Press
KILGORE, Texas, July 27.—Reports were current in the East Texas field today that several refineries were closed because of the government's ban on interstate shipment of illegally produced oil and hot oil products.

Nineteen of 49 refineries in the area, according to L. B. Morand, in charge of the pipeline and refinery department of the Texas railroad commission, are shut down ostensibly to make repairs.

It was pointed out, however, that seldom more than five to eight plants ordinarily are closed at the same time for repair work.

Increased stringency of the federal regulations was blamed for the inability of some refineries to continue operations.

IS WARNING TO KIDNAPERS ATTORNEY SAYS

Jury Brings In Verdict Recommending Hanging of Walter H. McGee.

By United Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 27.—Death was decreed by a jury today for Walter H. McGee, convicted of the ransom kidnaping of Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of the city manager of Kansas City. The jury returned a verdict finding McGee guilty of plotting and leading the abduction and recommended he be hanged for the crime. The recommendation of the jury is mandatory under Missouri law.

The verdict of the jury was the first case in which the death penalty has been invoked in the war on kidnapers.

"This verdict will serve notice to kidnapers throughout the nation that they may expect the severest punishment for their crimes," said Joseph Keenan, special assistant United States attorney general.

Conviction of McGee came just two months after the daring abduction of Miss McElroy, who was seized at her home while other members of the family were absent.

Comptroller Has Motor Fuel Div. Now In Eastland

The State Comptroller's office has established a motor fuel division in the court house at Eastland which is headquarters for a district comprising fourteen counties around Eastland. For the past several days a corps of men have been visiting the several retail stations and bulk wholesale stations over this district advising the dealers as to the law bearing upon their sales and purchases.

The men have taken samples of gasoline from various places scattered over the district and have found several samples that did not meet the requirements of the law. Those responsible have been notified.

This department feels that the general public should be well versed in the manner in which such business is conducted and that, hereafter, any violations of the law shall be dealt with more strictly.

HITLER GOING BACK TO THE DARK AGES

Adolf Hitler is the dictator of the new Germany. He is headed in the direction of the dark ages. His latest is that the private fortunes and even the citizenship rights of "enemies of the state and the people" are to be confiscated by the nazi government.

He has issued another order, which is fraught with peril to the lives and fortunes and liberties of the Germanic people. He has ordered a nationwide election for the construction or reconstruction of a religious organization to be known as the nazi church of the people.

Not long ago the new government of Spain not only ordered but accomplished the confiscation of all the religious institutions and all properties of the Catholic church. All institutions of learning recognized as the property of the church on the ban were taken over by the new rulers of the ancient nation. All convents and schools were closed. "perpetually and forever." All religious organizations of the church were ordered disbanded and those who refused to abide by the decrees were ordered deported. There can be no liberty in a land where the state persecutes those who refuse to accept the dictator of his henchmen as the religious guide or guides and there can be no freedom in a country where the church attempts to regulate or enforce the religious views of dissenters.

This is the record of history. Freedom of conscience, freedom of the press, freedom of assemblage, and freedom of action in the making of the laws of the people and the selection of servants cannot exist where a dictator and his armed henchmen are the masters and ever moving and acting in utter inalienable rights of man. Political insanity and religious bigotry march side by side in many countries.

There are many pious people in the so-called civilized world of the Occident who point to the Chinese and Japanese as heretics or heathens, and yet the Chinese are the most liberal of all the races of mankind when it comes to tolerance of creed, and the Japanese of today, or the vast majority, are for freedom of conscience and the right of a man to select his own god and bow his head at the altar in the temple of his choice.

Dictator Adolf Hitler is reminded that the tail never wags the dog, that a return to the dark ages is not impossible but it is improbable in Germany and all other so-called civilized nations.

Many of our members of Congress are quite busy explaining to the homefolks why they voted for this or for that bill.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

GENERAL FRANK T. HINES, U. S. Administrator of Veterans Affairs, says:

"Although the old adage 'Misery loves company' is often suggested as a form of consolation, the contemplation of the misery of others can never serve as a panacea for our own.

"In the unhappy times through which we are passing the urge for self-preservation alone should serve to provide for each of us whatever stimulus is necessary to enable us to persevere more persistently than ever to win our way through, individually, to that prosperity and contentment which is every man's desire and the birthright of every human being.

"This effort need not be—indeed, must not be—a selfish one. Few can achieve success without intentionally or incidentally helping others and I believe that achievement must ever taste sweeter to the man who possesses along with worldly success the consciousness that he represents a certain measure of security and substance to some of his fellow beings.

"Humaneness—was there ever a time in the history of our country when a general exercise of this most desirable quality was more necessary? The need for it touches and permeates almost every human contact in these troublous times when the whole order of things seems so out-of-joint and readjustment, more or less excruciating, is the order of the day.

"The high degree of courage shown by our President has pointed the way to recovery and a better understanding, and it is heartening to note now in many directions indications that we are on the upward path at last; that business and industry are at least struggling with incipient action instead of lying supine and inert grumbling at inaction but seeing no way out, and it behooves each and every one of us to make a conscientious and sustained effort to accentuate this movement in every way possible, whether it be by participation financially or industrially or just by 'keeping our chins up' and fighting through."

THE ROLL OF HONOR

HOOKS and SLIDES
 BY BILL BRAUCHER

The Toughest Grind
 PERHAPS the marathon dance is the sternest test of endurance devised in the interests of physical torture. But the marathon bicycle race is not far behind.

There begins July 30 at Montreal an American counterpart of the trying Tour de France. More than 40 riders will start at the Montreal ball park on a 4300-mile road grind down through some of the border states and back to Montreal.

The bicycle marathon is as cruel to the riders as Pyle's Bunton Derby was to the runners who pushed their weary feet from coast to coast. The prize in this event is announced as $25,000—and it will be bitterly earned.

For 60,000 Francs
 THE Tour de France is a month of pedaling around the borders of France—through Brittany, the Basque country, up and down the hills of the Crau, winding around the roads of Savoy and the lower Alps, into Alsace and the north country, and finally—for some—Paris.

Psychology?

In the Montreal marathon, some of the hardy European road racers who never know when they are licked will strive. Among these are the Czech Frantek Bartalska, German Otto Ludeke and Italian Mario Rossi. Six-day riders will try, among them such familiar names as Torchy Peden, Zenon St. Laurent, Reggie Fielding, Godfrey Parrott and Pierre Gachon.

Coast Lumber Shipping Booms

SEATTLE—Shipping lines have announced they were "filled up" with lumber orders, and space aboard their boats has been signed for some time in advance, due to the upturn in the lumber market. Lumber tariffs are up from $9.75 to $10.25. Higher rates, because of increased bookings, are expected.

The Arrow Line is booked to the end of July and is putting on an extra ship, the Helen Whittier, which has been tied up in San Francisco since 1931.

The Williams Steamship corporation, a subsidiary of the American Hawaiian Steamship company, was prepared to take the idle freighter, Willpote, out of Lake Union and put her back into service. She will load at Seattle, Tacoma, Bellingham and on the Columbia river, for Puerto Rico, Charleston, Norfolk, Baltimore, and Albany, N. Y. She will carry about 3,000,000 feet of lumber.

The Quaker Line and the Hawaiian Steamship companies also reported capacity lumber orders.

BACK TO THE HORSE

CLEBURNE.—The fact that his records show more than 400 fewer automobiles registered in this county this year than at the same time last year has caused S. O. Rosser, county tax collector, to wonder if farmers are going back to the horse and buggy. His records show decreases in registration of both passenger cars and trucks.

INFLATION MUST BOOST PRICES!

"Inflation means higher prices. The 30-hour week means higher prices. Changing the gold content of the dollar means higher prices.

"Men's clothing prices are going up daily. Right now expenses are greater. Woolens are up and they are still rising. So are trimmings. . . . The party is over. The day is passing when every one loses money and no one makes a living wage. Your children's children will not see prices like these again. Take our advice. Buy a suit now, for next season. Never again will prices be as low."

I'm strong for sunshine — so I'm strong for "Toasting"

I've always found that really good reasons are the simplest reasons. For instance, I know that sunshine mellows and heat purifies. "Toasting" is therefore very easy for me to understand. And very easy for me to appreciate—because—my sense of the fastidious is so very exacting. You see, I'm always aware of the fact that my cigarette comes in such intimate contact with my lips. Quite naturally, it's the purity of "Toasting" that I single out for special praise. It's just my own personal feminine reason for saying "Luckies Please!"

because "It's toasted"

University Prof. Likes 'Brain Trust'

AUSTIN.—Endorsement of the "brain trust" plan of government is given by Dr. O. Douglas Weeks, department of government, University of Texas, in a discussion of civic education and citizenship in the Southwestern Social Science Quarterly.

Treating of the duty falling upon instructors, he says: "Moreover there is the duty of furnishing directly to the agencies of government, of society and to the public itself, professional, technical and even popular advice and instruction. The days of scholarly monasticism are over; the community must be served."

The educational or propagandistic activities of voluntary organizations, associations and pressure groups, which purport to be for the public good, he finds "more often hide selfish group interests behind elaborate facades of public welfare."

Of the future he says: "We cannot tell the student of today what he shall do 40 years hence when some political decision confronts him; we can only tell him how he may do it."

"If we are required to specify in exact terms what future conditions will bring, we can say with some certainty that there will be a political and social order in which public administration will assume a greater and more efficient part, in which social as well as economic planning will prevail, in which citizens will have to cooperate much more than they do today, and in which health, safety, education, a more reasoned equality of opportunity, and a knowledge of how best to use leisure time will be better assured. And this can be accomplished by intelligent expansion of characteristically American political traditions; it need not be, and probably cannot be, either bolshevistic or fascist, both of which represent the death of the kind of civic training that is here contemplated."

Now go on with the story CHAPTER XL

ON nights when Marcia could not sleep she was haunted by Arthur Higgins' eyes and what he had said. He didn't know what he was talking about, she assured herself. He couldn't understand how she felt about Dick, her husband. If Dick, who believed her to be so innocent, should learn the truth about her marriage to Lon Moore she would be a fatal blow. It would kill Dick! He would never, never forgive the fact that she had lied to him.

It was on one of the hottest afternoons in June that Marcia called at her brother's home. Higgins opened the door for her. He said, "Mr. and Mrs. Colvin are expecting you, Miss Marcia."

"Thank you, Higgins," she answered, stepping into the hall. It was cool after the blistering blaze of the street.

She gave the butler a box of flowers she had brought from her garden and slipped from her silk coat which he took. She heard music as she moved toward the drawing room. Elinor and Barrett were there. For a moment Marcia studied them from the doorway.

Barrett stood with his arms on the piano, staring down at the girl. Marcia had never seen him before with that look of adoring tenderness. Elinor's face was raised to his and she was smiling. They were obviously devoted to each other.

"Well!" said Marcia loudly, blithely.

The two at the piano started. Barrett turned and called out warmly, "Hello!" He was so happy, she saw, to hold resentment. Elinor rose.

"I'm so glad to see you, Marcia!" she exclaimed.

"Bring child!" Marcia murmured, kissing Elinor. "My heavens, but you look lovely! Lovely!"

"I happen to think so too," she stared at Barrett. She had thought him to be devoted to her but she realized now he had given her only the surface of his love.

U. S. Airports Show Increase

WASHINGTON.—The number of airports and landing fields in the United States had increased, on July 1, 1933, to 2,136, as compared with 2,037 on July 1, 1932, according to the Department of Commerce's Bureau of Aeronautics.

Of the 1933 number, 631 were fully or partially lighted for night use.

California was the leading state, having 214 fields, followed by Texas and Pennsylvania with 136 and 111 respectively. California also was the leading state in the matter of municipal airports, with 53, while Pennsylvania had the largest number of commercial fields, 70.

Municipal airports throughout the country numbered 550 while 643 of the fields were commercially operated. Army airdromes totaled 55 and Navy air stations 16. Two hundred sixty-nine Department of Commerce intermediate landing fields, 525 auxiliary fields, and 68 miscellaneous government, private and state fields completed the number.

League Trials Coca Leaves in Argentina

By STEWART BROWN United Press Staff Correspondent GENEVA.—The central opium board of the League of Nations is anxious to know why Argentina, except for Japan and Formosa, is the world's largest importer of coca leaves, a South American plant from which cocaine is made.

The board's statistics show that Bolivia is the world's principal producer of coca leaves. Its production is estimated at more than 2,000 tons annually.

Almost all the Bolivian export goes to Argentina. The quantity imported into Argentina is more than the total import of coca leaves by countries manufacturing cocaine, with the exception of Japan and Formosa.

But as Argentina is neither an exporter or manufacturer of cocaine, the league is interested to know what happens to the dangerous leaves. From private communications they are convinced the leaves are chewed by the population, or mixed with mate in small quantities.

The league has been experiencing considerable difficulty in obtaining reliable statistics regarding the use of narcotics in South America because many South American nations have not ratified the Geneva convention of 1925.

It was found, however, that there is a negligible amount of dangerous drugs imported into South America. Its concern is chiefly with the production and consumption of coca leaves. Obviously, the league would prefer South America to consume the leaves in the raw form rather than allow them to be treated chemically to make cocaine for export.

Reports Show Business Boom

WASHINGTON.—World improvement in the textile industry, increase in the Japanese market for American cars and a new French law organizing the French wheat market were included in a report on various types of commerce the world over received recently by the commerce department.

Definite signs on improvement in the textile industry in various parts of the world, the department said, were recorded in the form of larger orders and increased production activity. Canada, Mexico, Britain, Ireland and Germany were included in those showing improvement.

The market for American made automobiles in Japan during June was good, the department said. A seasonal decline usually ensues in July and August, but the department predicted the autumn outlook as "very good."

The law for the organization of the French wheat market provides an initial minimum price of 115 francs per 100 kilos for wheat, to be increased by 1.50 francs monthly, for a period of one year. Eighty francs will be the premium per 100 kilos of domestic wheat exported as grain or flour. A milling tax and suspension for two months of the temporary duty free entry of soft wheat milled for re-exportation is also provided in the new law.

PORTABLE BAR SEIZED

FORT WORTH.—A perambulating bar, well supplied with .22 beer, has been taken out of service here, a la police. The bar consisted of a coupe with refrigerator installed in the turtle back. The supply of sacks in the car indicated the driver was doing a prosperous curbstone business.

Gasoline Stations For Airplane Lines

NEW YORK.—With the formal opening, at Hicksville, L. I. of the world's first roadside airplane filling station, Captain Alford J. Williams, Jr., former navy speed flier and now directing aviation for an oil company has inaugurated a new type of service-to-fliers. Likewise, this departure from dependence on airports for service comes as a boom to aviation employment. For, these service and filling stations are to be manned by unemployed airplane mechanics and riggers.

Within a few months Captain Williams expects to have existing national airways dotted with these "roadside service stations," where the touring flier can drop in for refueling and minor repairs. He can read prices set in six foot numerals, thereby shopping as he flies. Best of all, before very long one of these 50 acre plots always will be in easy reach of those forgetful ones who fail to look at the gas before they start on a journey.

Captain Williams stated that this new idea came to him when a jobless mechanic asked for work of any sort. The man, Elton Babcock, former machinist mate first class, had been a member in Captain Williams raving crew during the speed trials in the navy.

Five Day Marriage Law Causes Judges To Give Opinions

CLEVELAND.—Ohio's five-day marriage law in checking the divorce rate, especially in Cleveland, meets with a sharp divergence of opinion between two Cleveland Domestic Relations court judges.

Judge Samuel H. Silbert declared the law, which requires couples to wait five days before obtaining a marriage license, has developed a tendency to increase the percentage of happy marriages, but Judge Frederick P. Walthers said that after two years of enforcement, the law has not checked the divorce rate.

West Coast To Get Eye Of Venus

WASHINGTON.—At 6 o'clock in the morning of Aug. 17, you may get a beautiful eye of Venus (the one in the sky) if you live in Pacific coast states.

On that date, according to the American Nature association there will be a remarkable close conjunction of Jupiter and Venus. They will be separated by a distance of only six minutes of arc, or a fifth the diameter of the moon. As distances go in the heavens, this is closer than some of the decisions made in a baseball game.

The result will be that these two planets will resemble a magnificent double star in the western sky.

Although they seem close together, Venus will be about 128,000,000 miles from the earth, with Jupiter, baseball-like, 583,000,000 miles away.

crumbs from his table. It was not a pleasant thought for one of Marcia's temperament.

SHE settled herself in a chair. "Tell me, was Cuba amusing?" she asked.

"Rather," said Barrett, again looking at Elinor. "I've always been attracted by the place."

"Did you like it too, dear?" Marcia went on, turning to Elinor. "Oh, I adored it!" the girl answered.

"You two talk just the way Dick and I did about Dick's place in Canada where we spent our honeymoon. But you aren't honeymooners and haven't that excuse," Marcia murmured. To herself she thought, "What in the world can make Elinor flush so?"

"We were really delighted with the trip," Barrett started hurriedly. Higgins came in then with the flowers Marcia had brought. Elinor and Barrett both seemed eager to speak of the flowers, admiring them and praising them rather extravagantly.

Barrett, drawing his chair closer to Elinor's, reached for an end of the string sash she wore about her frock and ran it through his fingers.

He had to be near Elinor, Marcia saw. The thought aroused a flame of jealousy in her heart that was disconcerting.

Elinor asked about the baby and immediately Marcia was off. She related with elaborate detail just how the baby smiled, the way he looked while sleeping. She missed not a bead of the rosy every proud mother tells but she saw in her listeners no tendency to smile or hint at boredom as so many listeners do. Instead she felt she had their whole-hearted attention.

"You've been sweet about listening to all this," Marcia admitted when at last she had finished. "But it's so wonderful—having a baby for one's own! I can't help babbling. I hope some day you'll understand."

"I hope so," said Elinor and blushed.

A GAIN Barrett was looking at Elinor with that humble, adoring look. He laid his hand upon Elinor's. He had to make a trip down town and Marcia volunteered to give him a lift. Before her, and much to her amusement, he said his goodby to Elinor, kissing her and adding, "Don't forget me!" He tried to make it seem a joke but quite obviously it was more than that.

"It looks as if life were happy for you, Barry," Marcia commented after they were on their way.

"Happy doesn't half express it," he responded.

"I'm so glad," she commented. She assured herself that she really was glad. And yet Barrett's infatuation annoyed her. When she had been a child Barrett had always been willing to do anything to stop her tears. Now that was changed! A fool could see that Elinor ruled him, or could rule him if she wanted to.

When Barrett returned home at a bit after six he found Lida Stafford sitting with Elinor. As Lida greeted him she gave him a sly glance and a smile which he knew Elinor noted.

A little time passed and then Lida rose. "Run in to see me tomorrow morning, will you, Barry?" she asked sweetly. "I

Her smile became a trifle stiff and she saw that her eyes were watery, frightened. Always before when she had come into his room he had dropped everything to welcome her.

Elinor noted his preoccupation. She told herself that she should have realized his devotion, all those little attentions, could not last.

"Barry—," she began again. "Yes, darling?" "Barry, what makes mother—I don't know just how to express it—but why does she look at you so slyly sometimes? The way she did this afternoon? It's almost as though there was something up and she knew that was a secret."

"Lord, dear, you know your mother better than I do! How would I know why she does anything?"

"I don't know why I asked," Elinor said slowly, "but I thought you did know, Barry. Somehow I've felt that you did. I don't know how to express it but I thought I could see aversion—or shrinking—in your face. These last few weeks I've thought I could tell what you were thinking just by looking at you. You have such an honest face, Barrett."

He hoped he did not—at the moment. But it was true. And Elinor had seen that he was hiding something from her. She had seen that he was ashamed of the deception, too. He couldn't tell her that he and Lida had no secrets because that wouldn't be true. And he couldn't tell her the truth because of his promise to Marcia.

There was nothing for Barrett to do but curse the trick that had led him into such a trap. (To Be Continued)

Single Word Lost This Damage Suit

EL PASO.—A single word lost caused Anna Lee Turner to lose her damage suit against the Big Lake Oil company for asserted pollution of cattle watering tanks on her Pecos ranch, an eighth district court of civil appeals decision reveals.

Overflow salt and sulphur water from the oil company's property caused cattle to die, she contended.

The appellate court judges held that statutes prohibit pollution of streams "of the state," whether the pollution is accidental or not. But they held she could not recover damages because the word "of" means public streams. Had the statute used "in," the woman could have recovered damages for pollution of a private watering tank.

Fort Worth Woman Owns King's Table

FORT WORTH, Tex.—A king's table stands strikingly in the corner of a room of the home of Mrs. Georgia Scott Townsend here.

It is one of two identical and highly decorated tables which belonged to Louis the Fifteenth, king of France. The other table reposes in the historic palace of Versailles.

Mrs. Townsend obtained the table from a collector who secured it in Russia where it had been sent as a gift to the Russian court. For a long time, French authorities believed it had been lost, until a friend of Mrs. Townsend, visiting in Paris, was shown its counterpart and informed museum directors.

A large reproduction of Louis the Fifteenth makes up the center of the table. Around the border are miniatures of ladies of the court, Madame Lafayette, Madame Du Barry and others.

Watch Taken In James Holdup Gets New Case Put On

JERSEYVILLE, Ill.—A 53-year-old watch, which once derived notoriety when it figured in a train robbery near Glendale, Mo., headed by Jesse James, has been placed in a new case.

The timepiece is owned by William Ballard of Jerseyville. He purchased it in 1860 and two years later it was taken from him during a train robbery at Glendale, Mo. At the time of the robbery Ballard recognized Jesse James, the leader of the bandit gang, as a cousin of his father's.

Several days after the robbery the watch was returned to Ballard through the mails. Ballard's name had been engraved in the case of the watch and made it possible for James to return it once it was discovered it belonged to a relative.

Branch Mint Gold Deposits Increase

DENVER, Colo.—The Denver branch of the United States mint is receiving an average of $60,333 worth of gold a day for coinage this year, Supt. Mark A. Skinner announced. That is an increase of more than $10,000 a day over the average daily deposits last year.

These figures, Skinner pointed out, represent the work of lode miners, unemployed men who swarm the Rocky Mountain streams seeking to pan gold, and persons who have dug into the family jewel box.

Farmer Built His Own Set of Teeth

By United Press
SCIO, Ohio.—Henry Osborne, farmer living near here doesn't have much use for dentists.

When Henry needs a new set of teeth, he builds them himself out of aluminum.

For several months recently Osborne had realized he needed new teeth. So he hunted up an old aluminum kettle and spoon that had been lying around the farm for years. He melted them down in his forge.

The lid of a baking powder can served as a mold. It took him a month to make his own devices for measuring his mouth, but finally he finished the job.

"They work, too," Henry exclaimed. "I know, for I tackled corn on the cob the other day, and there was skidding."

Inventions, by the way, are right up Osborne's alley. A gear housing from an old auto provides feeding machine for his hogs. When lightning paralyzed a horse, Osborne rigged up a sling so the horse could exercise without falling.

More than two-score labor saving devices can be found on Osborne's farm. Inventin' things runs in the family, he says.

TIMES TAKES ELKS GAME BY SCORE OF 7-3

A last-inning rally by the Times, which accounted for four scores, ended a 3 to 3 deadlock with the Elks and moved the Times up another step out of the cellar, which it had held successfully all season. The final score was 7 to 3.

Both teams played air-tight ball through the first few innings, the Times making two runs in the second and one in the fourth, while the Elks were scoreless except in the fourth, when they got three runs. Hits were few, the Elks getting but four and the Times but seven. The Times was credited with four errors to six by the Elks.

Hurricane Warning Helped Crop Cutting

By United Press
GONZALES, Texas.—Threat of a hurricane proved a great aid to signing up farmers in this vicinity for plowing under part of their cotton crops.

"It was evident," said John Saunders in charge of the reduction contracts, "that the storm warnings for the Texas coast had a part. Farmers hurried in to sign the government contracts before the storm might injure the crop."

23,000 Texans Can Be Employed Under Federal Road Plan

HOUSTON.—On the basis outlined for the federal public works program, 23,000 Texans can be employed for one year by the $24,000,000 highway-building allotment to this state, the Texas Good Roads association pointed out in a statement today.

This does not include employment which will be created by the additional $200,000,000 to be expended on other types of public work in Texas.

Former Administrator Sawyer's estimate is that the entire federal highway allotment of $400,000,000 will provide 9,600,000 man-weeks of work. Texas' share would be 600,000 man-weeks, which if split between two shifts of 30 hours each would employ 23,000 men one year at about $80 a month.

"This employment could not arise at a better time," the road

Here's One Good Way To END AGONY OF NEURITIS

Newark Man Knows How and Loses 10 Pounds

"Gentlemen: I used Kruschen Salts to try and get rid of Neuritis from which I had suffered for one year in my left shoulder and arm. I took a little of the salts in the morning, sometimes in my coffee, other times in water. I would also occasionally take a dose in water at night before retiring. For 3 months I used the salts and while I lost 10 pounds in weight, the pain in my shoulder HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED. During the time I was taking the salts I received no other medical treatment so I am fully convinced the Kruschen Salts did the trick." C. K. Murray, Newark, N. J.

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—a jar lasts 4 weeks—get it at Paramount or any druggist in the world—costs but a trifle.
