Jobs for about 74 men on P. W. A. projects in this section will be made available by Tuesday, it was announced Saturday by Crigler Paschall of Eastland, who has charge of the project.

The jobs are slated to start on Monday morning, but since the work orders on them are received too late to register the applicants for the work it will be Tuesday morning before they can be started, it was announced by Paschall.

One project will be the remodeling of the Revis building into a girls' dormitory for the Ranger Junior College. On this project six laborers, one mortar mixer, five carpenters, two painters, one plasterer, one plumber, one brick mason and one electrician will be needed.

The second job will be completing the Recreation building, which will require six laborers, one mortar mixer, four carpenters, two brick layers, one roofer, one electrician and one plumber. Both jobs will be under the supervision of W. M. Bordeaux.

All wishing to secure employment from these two projects must be on the relief rolls and must apply in person at the office of Crigler Paschall in Eastland for assignment to the projects.

The third project will be lateral road work near Eastland, but which is in the county commissioner Henry Davenport's district, and will employ 30 laborers, three truckmen with flat bed trucks and seven teamsters with two-up teams.

Financier's Victim

A romantic mystery was presented by the slaying of Dr. Fritz Gebhardt (above), rich German industrialist and economist, in his apartment in smart Mitchell Place, New York City. Vera Stretz, blonde art student, to whom he had been engaged, is reported to have admitted shooting him, but refused to divulge her motive.

RED CROSS ROLL TO BE STARTED IN FEW DAYS

Only a few days remain until the annual Red Cross Roll Call in Ranger. Workers are now being informed of their selection for Roll Call duty.

Mrs. L. H. Flewelling, Roll Call chairman, has outlined a plan of work that is expected to make the solicitation of memberships easier and more readily obtained.

The Red Cross is maintained by members. The work of the organization is too well known to attempt any explanation, but it might be pointed out that the national organization has met its demand upon its service in the world's greatest peace crisis, as it did in the great war years.

In the past few years of the world-wide turmoil, the Red Cross has extended aid to millions of our citizens, victims of unemployment, drought, flood, tornado, and other major causes of distress.

"You should enroll now. In this great Legion of Mercy and you will be represented on every scene of disaster," Mrs. Flewelling said Saturday.

"Just as the tender beam from the lighthouse tower guides the storm-tossed mariner to safe harbor, so does the Red Cross carry a message of hope and safety to suffering humanity everywhere.

"Your membership will help to build this lighthouse."

Following is a list of the names of the workers who are now being notified to be on hand at the chamber of commerce office, at 9 a. m. Monday, Nov. 25, at which time the Roll Call will start: Mrs. Mills Davenport, Mrs. Roy Jameson, Mrs. Harry Wheelon, Mrs. A. N. Larson, Mrs. Bob Hodges, Mrs. E. R. Green, Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, Mrs. Tom Yonker, Mrs. E. E. Crawford, Mrs. Johnnie Ducker, Mrs. O. L. Phillips, Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall, Mrs. A. H. Allison, Mrs. Alice D. True, Mrs. Waide Smith, Mrs. J. M. Ralston, Mrs. B. EARLY ACTION SEEN IN BIG SPRING CASE

Preferential consideration with an early decision will be given the case of the City of Big Spring vs. J. S. Garlington, county judge of Howard county, because of the nature of the litigation, it was indicated by justices of the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland, to which the case was submitted Friday.

L. E. Coleman and other property owners of Big Spring were granted their motion to intervene as co-relators with the city of Big Spring, which asks that the court grant a writ of mandamus to compel Judge Garlington to appoint three special commissioners to appraise damages created by reason of re-routing of Highway No. 1 in Big Spring through property owned by Coleman and others.

BIG SPRING, Nov. 16.—The suit of the City of Big Spring vs. J. S. Garlington, county judge, in which the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals at Eastland granted L. E. Coleman and others the right to intervene as co-relators, grew out of differences between the county judge and the city commission as well as differences between the judge and members of the county commissioners' court.

The city filed condemnation proceedings against L. E. Coleman and others for a small strip of land on Highway No. 1 in the eastern edge of the city in the neighborhood commonly known as "Coleman Hill." The county commissioners' court agreed to pay damages and stand costs, Coleman and the board of city commissioners agreed on the city and Judge Garlington refused to appoint them or any others, saying that he believed the city ought to bear part of the expense. The city filed the mandamus petition to force Garlington to name the commissioners that the road might be opened. Judge Garlington Thursday night decided not to contest the suit.

Man Leaves None The Worse For a Suicide Attempt

Police had granted the transient privilege to sleep in the hall and discovered the attempted suicide when locking up a drunk.

Disbelief was expressed in the man's report that he had inhaled the gas for an hour and a half since succumbance in that period would have been certain.

LOBOS SCORE VICTORY OVER BULLDOGS 14-7

The Cisco Lobos puzzling forwards and laterals were too much for the Bulldogs defense to solve Friday afternoon and the traditional Armistice Day battle, played four days late this year because of the weather, was turned into a 14 to 7 win for the ancient and traditional rivals of the Bulldogs.

The game was good throughout, with the Bulldogs threatening on the other occasion and one Lobo threat being halted on the goal line, but history repeated again when the Bulldogs went down for

Olden Is Winner Over Caddo In a Hard Fought Game

Olden was a good ball game from Caddo at Caddo Friday afternoon by a score of 6 to 0 in which both teams played excellent football.

Caddo threatened once, earning a first down on the Olden 12-yard line, but after four plays Olden had rushed them back to the 25-yard line.

The Olden players, after the game, said that Caddo had the best blocking team the Hornets had met this year, and praised the Caddo team highly for its teamwork.

He proposed an 11-point "constructive" fiscal program including restoration of the gold standard, stopping unnecessary public works and balancing the budget" not by more taxes but by the reduction of follies."

Notre Dame Earns Tie With Army

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Out of shadows of impending defeat, Notre Dame's fighting Irish came back today to score a fluke touchdown in the last 30 seconds of play and get a 6-to-6 tie with a gallant Army team which had led for three periods of a brutal, bruising game at Yankee Stadium before 80,000 spectators, the largest of the eastern season.

Army scored on a 40-yard pass from Monk Meyer to Ed Grove in the last two minutes of the first period.

Then for the next 46½ minutes the strong-hearted Army team, given only a slim chance against Notre Dame, threw back every attack of the South Bend eleven to batter it down.

Notre Dame scored in the last 30 seconds in a two-yard plunge.

A Sport Hardly Rates Importance of Life

An intercollegiate football season is always confusing, what with teams that aren't supposed to be so hot rising in perverse might and smacking back the ears of the supposed world-beaters.

On a recent Saturday the football teams of Ohio State and Notre Dame universities met in Columbus, O.; and to read what some of the sports writers had to say about it next day you'd imagine that for deathless heroism and supernatural visitations the affair eclipsed a combination of Leonidas at Thermopylae, Custer's last stand, and the Angels of Mons.

Hearken to some of the wordage from frenzied type-writers:

"Notre Dame came out of the maw of hell to beat Ohio State today."

The maw of hell, eh? Isn't this football business supposed to be a game? Or are they playing it with hand grenades and liquid fire nowadays?

"A Great Notre Dame team that Rockne would have loved, a team that could rise to magnificent, incredible heights of courage today struck down the Scarlet Scourge. . . . 'Be with us today, Rock! Be with us today!' And Rockne was there."

The "Scarlet Scourge," forsooth! What have we here, anyhow—a reincarnation of the murderous hordes of Attila and Genghis Khan, or a bunch of likable American boys playing a game? And "magnificent, incredible heights of courage" . . . well, heaven knows that the boys who play football have plenty of the old stomach, and go in and take their knocks with praiseworthy stoicism; but you couldn't use much finer language than that to describe the charges of Pickett's division at Gettysburg.

And about these ghostly visitations: are hysterical writers going to be invoking the shades of deceased coaches every time a football team wins a game? Where are those shades when their teams lose, anyway?

Now all this is a good deal less than important, of course; but it is a symptom of a kind of delirium that depends upon the nation every so often, and all things considered it really isn't very good for us.

College football is a game. It is played by a group of boys who like to get a little sport in their spare time while they are getting an education (that's the theory, at least) and it is somewhat less epoch-making and world-shaking than battle, murder, and sudden death.

By getting ourselves all wound up to a razzle-dazzle of emotion and strewing the landscape with high-powered adjectives, we commit a profound injustice to the boys themselves. We hand them a false set of values, and thereby do our part to handicap them for life.

Let's take our football with a little sanity.

Law Makers Face to Face with the Pension Problem and Tax Bills

Texas law-makers in second called session resumed work Monday and tackled pension legislation and the tax bills that must be enacted to provide the revenue for the payment of pensions in the coming year of Centennial history. In other words the law-makers will determine the type of taxes to be used to pay old age pensions and all the committees are said to be prepared to crack down as well as to clear the legislative deck for action.

Texas voters repealed the prohibition provision of the constitution and the amendment declared against the open saloon. Now the battle to come as to liquor control interests all taxpayers. In a large number of counties, hard liquor is said to be sold without restriction or restraint. Well, business is business and the lawmakers have the last word. The repealer carried the state by a majority upwards of 50,000. Millions of additional revenue is needed and untaxed liquor is not providing a cent to wipe out deficits or to provide for governmental costs.

The New Jersey minister who suggested that churches be brilliantly lighted, and attacked saloons, evidently believes churches, not men, should be lit up.

Electrochemists are trying to generate 5000 degrees F. "to melt stubborn elements of the earth," but we doubt if it will have any effect on Mussolini.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — With Huey Long out of the picture, President Roosevelt and his political advisers are more or less worried about Father Coughlin, Dr. Townsend, and Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia in the order named.

The administration would hate to have Coughlin fulminating against it in the election campaign. On the other hand, it can't afford to play along with the radio priest's economic and monetary programs.

The Townsends are considered more of a menace to certain Democratic members of Congress in the west than a threat to the national ticket. But the administration will be careful not to step on Dr. Townsend's toes at the next session, even though it regards his old age pension plan as cockeyed.

THE Democratic high command observes with pleasure that Governor Talmadge, though he has been around the country a bit, isn't picking up any noteworthy support as a presidential candidate.

Its chief worry was that the governor might lick Roosevelt in the Georgia primaries, which would look simply awful, because the president has always claimed Georgia as his "second home" and has been supposed to be tremendously popular there.

The party politicians think they could lick Talmadge in the Georgia primaries. But they're not quite sure.

WILL the AAA put a processing tax on canary seed? Don't laugh. That's one of those difficult problems now upsetting some of the farm administration's master minds.

Amendments to the AAA act passed by the last Congress added grain sorghum to the list of basic commodities and require Secretary Wallace to formulate a program for it, since its price is far from parity.

Plenty of grain sorghum is used on farms. But officials find that its only commercial use is in manufacture of canary seed. So—!

NATURALLY, there's much more concern over the corn-hog program.

AAA now plans to increase this year's low production of pigs by 30 per cent, which ought to mean lower pork prices by election time.

That's about as many pigs as can be produced and means 65,000,000 pigs as compared to a normal five-year base period average pigpage of 81,000,000.

The drought cut many pig-raisers down to from 20 to 40 per cent of their individual base average of hogs, while others were able to raise 100 per cent.

The idea for remedying this is to give the benefit payments, or the bulk of them, to the low percentage fellows and let them raise all the hogs they possibly can, while the hundred per centers and others near their class are limited to their 100 per cent of the five-year base average. Sport Glances.By Grayson

IT is obvious that there are too many or too much Louis' and Lewis' around for the beffer beak busters.

John Henry Lewis hammering Bob Olin out of the light-heavy-weight leadership again reminds us of the tremendous strides made by Negro athletes in the last several years.

Pop Warner attributed the dominance of Negro athletes in the dashes and jumps to their protruding heels, but research work disproved this. And even any second-class anthropologist will tell you that the knuckles of Joe Louis and John Henry Lewis are no different than those of their white competitors.

Onhand, I would say that their being given the opportunity is the reason for the Negroes' advancement in sports. That is all they ever required. Louis and Lewis are children of the fist depression. They probably would never have been given the chance had the golden glove era continued.

You see more and more black boys in varsity competition, too. For instance, there will be a half dozen splendid Negro athletes on the Ohio State track team next spring in addition to the great Jesse Owens.

Negro Stars Have Corner On Sprinting and Jumping

SPRINTING and jumping are the Negro's fortes.

Negroes have captured 12 of the last 15 national championships in broad jumping. Sol Butler, DuBuque, and Ned Gourdin, Harvard, accounted for this number. DeHart Hubbard bagged it a half dozen times; and Eddie Gordon, Iowa, and Owens each have taken it twice.

Owens enjoyed the most phenominal day in the history of athletics at Ann Arbor last spring when he established new world records of 26 feet 8 inches in the broad jump; 20.3 seconds in the 220; and 22:6 in the 220 low hurdles; and equaled the 100-yard mark of 9:4.

Owens then was considered unbeatable, but Eulace Peacock, the Blue Streak of Temple, came along to beat him in two events, and then prove that it was no fluke. Although it will not be recognized because of a slight wind, Peacock negotiated 100 meters in 10:2 to trim Owens in the American championships at Lincoln on July 4, with the Buckeye Bullet finishing third behind Ralph Metcalfe.

Eddie Tolan, Negro star of the last Olympic Games, shares the world record of 10:3 for this sprint with Metcalfe and Owens.

Simmons Leads Grid Parade; Black Boys Play Baseball, Too

CORNELIUS JOHNSON, tall Compton, Calif., Junior College student, accounted for the A. U. high jump with a leap of 6 feet 7 inches after establishing an indoor figure of 6 feet 8 1/2 inches last winter.

The Negro race never has been as well represented numerically in football as it is today by the flock of luminaries headed by Ozzie Simmons, of Iowa, and duplicating the feats of such illustrious predecessors as Fritz Pollard, of Brown; Paul Robison, of Rutgers; and Duke Slater, of Iowa.

There are sepia-hued Dizzy Deans and Charley Gehringers, too, even though they are limited to their own league.

Did you ever see Satchel Paige pitch?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, today.

The Golden Text is: "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life" (II Corinthians 5:4).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. . . . For this corruptible must put on incorruption and this mortal must put on immortality" (I Corinthians 15:50, 53).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "By putting 'off the old man with his deeds,' mortals 'put on immortality' . . . He who has the true idea of good loses all sense of evil, and by reason of this is being ushered into the undying realities of Spirit" (pages 262 and 325).

A LONG, HARD WINTER SETTING IN

V-8 LEADERSHIP

ON OCTOBER 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year.

One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm.

These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out, in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 in wages, and $523,111,389.00 for materials.

According to Miller, details are now being prepared by the AAA for a production control program for 1936 to 1939 similar to the 1935 adjustment program. He pointed out that the peanut program is based more on acreage stabilization than on reduction of acreage. The contract signers of 1935 were allowed to plant to total of 5,000 more acres in Texas than in 1934. The Secretary of Agriculture, following the first diversion plan which will close November 15, invites the peanut millers to submit offers to purchase, on or after November 16, on a second diversion plan, a specified quantity of farmers' stock peanuts of the 1935 crop, for which producers will receive not less than $65 per ton for No. 1 Spanish peanuts which have at least 70 percent sound meat.

The GOLDEN FEATHER by Robert Bruce

MIKE HAGAN suddenly oanged the desk with his list "I remember, now," he said. "That guy—listen, Larry, maybe there's a lead in this, after all. Back about 1925 he was pulled in for murdering a village marshall who stopped his truck in some little town between here and Dover. And Don Montague, of Dover, was his lawyer. Doyle's face lit up with eager ness. "Sure, I remember, too," he said. He paused, frowning in his effort to remember. "I got it," he said at last. "This fellow French Pete—his real name was Rubidoux. He used to have a sort of resort on a little lake over in Locoming county, before he got into the booze-running racket. Any how, he'd held onto it, and the talk was that Montague made him sign it over to him as part of his fee."

Loboes Score

The lone Bulldog score, and the second of the entire season, came in the fourth quarter with the Loboes leading by a score of 14 to 0, and cheered Bulldog fans who saw possibilities of at least a tie in sight. But the offense bogged down just enough to prevent such an outcome of the game.

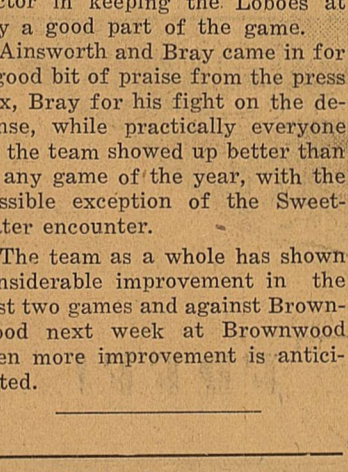

The Bulldog tally came when Walsh got loose from about mid-field to carry the ball down to the Cisco 15 before being stopped. Walsh carried over from that point and kicked the extra point to make the total score for the Bulldogs for the season to date exactly equal to the score run up by the Loboes during the 60 minutes of play Friday. The other Bulldog score this year came in the Eastland game, also in the last quarter.

When Larry Glenn arrived in Portsmouth he went at once to police headquarters where he found Detective Sergeant Mike Hagan talking with a broad-shouldered, swarthy chap whom he introduced as Sergeant Doyle, of the Portsmouth force.

"Tell us the story again," said Mike. So Larry outlined the situation in detail, telling how the Jackson gangsters had been traced to the Engle farm, outside of Middlothian, and how a mysterious telephone call had announced that they were going to French Pete's.

"The market opened this year with a much better price."

COLLEGE STATION. — Peanut farms in Texas will average around $100 more income this year due to the peanut program which includes the important feature of diverting surplus peanuts into oil. E. A. Miller, Extension agronomist in charge of the Texas peanut program, estimated recently. "This should bring about $1,000,000 more into Texas this year," Miller declared. "It is estimated that Texas growers are receiving at least one cent a pound more for their peanuts as a result of the program." Texas producers raise one-tenth of all the peanuts grown in the United States or about 100,000,000 pounds a year. This year's estimate of Texas peanuts is 117,000,000 pounds. Miller explained that peanut adjustment payments, including the diversion payments to peanut oil mills are having a strong effect in maintaining a fair price for peanuts in spite of the fact that commercial estimates place this year's...

later they found themselves up in front of a deserted school house. But at last Thornton held hand as a signal at a cross and confidently told the driver to the left. They proceeded along the road in the direction the driver had indicated. It was dark and their lamps cast long beams ahead of them, and the golden reminded Larry there was no sense in making rival too conspicuous. At his direction, therefore, drove past the place where branched off, and parked it out of sight around a bend in the road. Then, grouped about leading car, Larry laid out of attack with the sheriff's Portsmouth chief.

As a result, Tony Thornton and Doyle through the woods; and later one of the county deputies got one of them around and drove for the mouth of the lane to French Pete's place. The fork he turned down with his lights on and allowed it. The rest of it followed on foot, 50 yards behind. The car had gone perhaps a mile from the road when a man suddenly appeared, light of its lamps. He stooped in the road, and a shotgun in his hands. It slowed to a halt. "Where you goin', buddy, the man with the gun. I put his head out of the and said, innocently, "Why this the road to Middlebury?" The man with the gun him scornfully. "You ought to know it said. "This is private You'll have to go back to road."

GO LARRY WENT IN TO TALK WITH THE PORTSMOUTH CHIEF OF POLICE, WHILE TONY LAROCO, AT HIS INSTRUCTION, HURRIED TO TELEPHONE THE LYCOMING COUNTY SHERIFF; AND BOTH OF THESE OFFICIALS PROMISED FULL CO-OPERATION, TO THE EXTENT OF THEIR ABILITY.

An hour later three police cars drew to a halt at the concrete bridge that marked the county line in them were Larry Glenn, three other federal agents, Mike Hagan, and the Portsmouth chief of police with half a dozen of his best men—all heavily armed. Beyond the bridge waited another car, with the Lycoming county sheriff and four deputies carrying riot guns. The cars stopped and Larry and the Portsmouth chief held a brief consultation with the sheriff; then they all started off again. Twice they made wrong turnings. As Thornton said, some of the roads in this part of the county had been re-located in recent years; once they followed an execrable road that petered out, at last, in somebody's farm yard, and a little

ON TEXAS FARMS

Harry Lee Beakley, 4-H Club member of Northwest in San Sabata, reports a yield of 38 bushels of corn per acre. "This," says father, E. C. Beakley, "is much better than the community normal production where 25 bushels is considered good." He attributes Harry's good crop to good seed, fertilizer, and proper cultivation.

Well Echols, president of the Merrillville 4-H Club, in a speech at the San Benito Rotary Club said "I had 20 acres, of which I had nine to the government and 11 to cotton in 1934. On 11 acres of cotton I made $5.35, and from the rented land $4.83.

Last year, I also had a flock of hens which average in 11 weeks' time 129 eggs per hen. Spring I culled the flock and eight months since then the average 196 eggs per hen. Culling is not responsible for the difference but better feeding and flock management helped."

Marie Mertz, first year 4-H girl of San Gabriel, planted a feet of 28 varieties of vegetables which produced 2,992 lbs. "My pantry contains 1,000 containers and 582 I canned the help of mother. I brined 100 lbs. of cucumbers. I did this in my school work, but many I stayed up until 11:30 at waiting to take the cooker off," Marie states. From her garden, she sold $14.07 worth of vegetables and canned 256 containers for non-club members.

CROCKETT—In addition to supplying her own pantry with 1,091 containers of food, Mrs. Bill Milwee, 4-H pantry demonstrator for the Center Hill Home Demonstration Club in Houston county, has helped 16 non-club member families and two club families to can 2,500 cans of fruits and vegetables. She charged a small toll for her services and helped to fill her own pantry.

Mrs. Milwee, with the help of her husband, has solved the storage problem by building a small log house about 8 by 10 feet. It is lined with shelves spaced 10 1/2 inches apart on which the products are stored. Mrs. Milwee also has 250 pounds of dried peas and beans stored and treated to prevent weevils.

CLEBURNE—Chicken feed sacks, a slab of thin pine for bottom, thread, an old belt, and red lacquer were used by Miss Lovada Bishop of Johnson county in making a dress at the cost of 10 cents for thread and enamel, according to Miss Agnes Roberts, home demonstration agent.

The sacks were bleached and resemble a rough crash weave. The buttons were carved in two-inch discs, large eyes bored in them, and the buttons lacquered in red. The belt was also given a coat of the red lacquer.

WEATHERFORD—"Good soil preparation is responsible for the remarkable growth of the shrubs in my yard this year," Mrs. A. J. Davis of Parker county told Miss Janie Parks, home demonstration agent.

Early last fall the beds were dug all around the house. They are three feet deep and about four and one-half feet wide. The clay was removed and the bed was filled with good soil and barnyard manure.

FRANKLIN—Spare time spent in cleaning out underbrush and deadening trees on his native pasture has proved quite profitable to L. L. Neyland of Robertson county, according to V. L. Sandlin, county agricultural agent.

Neyland owned considerable land that was considered waste land, being so thin and badly eroded that it took around 25 acres to carry one cow. Four years ago he started working on the land in his spare time. The results were so noticeable that he employed cheap labor to finish the job at a cost of $1.50 per acre, which included scattering bermuda grass on particularly barren spots.

The increased growth of grasses has stopped most of the erosion and the pasture is now carrying one cow to five acres and is steadily improving.

MORTON—Corn put in a trench silo by R. W. O'Neal of Cochran county would have netted him about $3 per acre for the dry corn if sold at market prices, while in the trench silo he is getting two and one-half tons of green feed which he values at $4 per ton, according to his report to G. R. Schumann, county agricultural agent. Neal estimated that the corn that was put in the silo would have made about five bushels of ear corn to the acre when harvested dry. The corn was cut up by an ensilage cutter.

GONZALES—One of the largest pecan crops since 1926 is reported by Gonzales county producers, according to J. M. Saunders, county agricultural agent. Producers expect to harvest enough additional pecans from cleared bottom lands to pay for the clearing of the lands. These pecans have been lost heretofore because of the excessive undergrowth.

Aside from the pecan crop which is to be harvested, several hundred acres of this land which has been a total loss to the producer until the undergrowth was cleared is being seeded to Italian rye grass and should furnish an abundance of winter grazing.

ROMANCE TEAM

Adorable Dixie Lee and romantic John Boles top the cast of the Fox whirly-girly musical, "Redheads on Parade." The nation's 48 most beautiful titian-tressed girls are in the chorus of this gay romantic comedy, which comes to the Arcadia Theatre Monday and Tuesday.

ALTHOUGH Dixie squads have dropped only one decision in competing in six of the last 10 Rose Bowl battles, California really hasn't seen anything yet, according to followers of the University of North Carolina, which has a solid south behind it in its Pasadena New Year's Day game bid.

North Carolina's record this year lacks only one thing—a victory over a foe from another section, and the Chapel Hill institution isn't going to let another campaign slip by with a flaw like that. It has closed to combat New York University, another of this fall's unbeaten arrays, at the Yankee Stadium, Oct. 17, 1935.

The Tar Heels were letter perfect in repelling the best North Carolina State outfit in 15 years, 35-6. They previously repulsed Wake Forest, 14-0; Tennessee, 33-13; Maryland, 33-0; Davidson, 14-0; and Georgia Tech, 19-0. Duke is the only major obstacle between the prides of the Old North State and a clean slate, and 35,000, the largest crowd ever to see a football engagement in that vicinity, will see this pair have it out at Durham, Nov. 15.

Carl G. Snaveley, the Lebanon Valley man drafted from Bucknell, is being hailed as a miracle man in his second year in charge of the Blue and White.

Passer Jackson Dots "I's" at 40 Paces

WHAT has made the Tar Heels move along at such a rapid clip?

In Jim Hutchins, 18-year-old tennis player of Winston-Salem, North Carolina has a human battering ram. Experts say that this young giant is by far the most consistent plunger who has ever performed on North Carolina turf.

Don Jackson dots "I's" at 40 paces, his passing and punting being largely responsible for the threats the team offers.

New Deal Wrestling Card Has Two Good Bouts For Monday

The "new deal" arrangements made by the Elks club puts them in direct contact with a better class of wrestlers, such as Gene La Belle, Eddie O'Shea, Joe Reno, Al Westcott, Speedy Franks, Joe Kopecky, Dory Detton, Doug Henderson and many others.

Monday night, Nov. 18, there will be two of the fastest matches ever held in Ranger. In the preliminary, Blondy Chrane, pride of Abilene, a favorite with the Elks arena fans, will take on one of the fastest boys in the game, Albert Szasz, the Hungarian Flash.

On the main event, a two-hour time limit, best two in three falls, will bring together two worthy opponents. Eddie O'Shea, whom you all know is always hustling to win his match, will be pitted against Bill "Ace" Abbott. Abbott held the Texas amateur championship before turning professional some 18 months ago. He is in the game to win, and add more laurels to his professional record.

The Elks are expecting a large attendance, regardless of weather conditions. If the weather turns cold the arena will be comfortably heated. The show starts promptly at 8:30 p. m.

is an elusive ball carrier and a splendid team captain. Harry shines particularly as a defensive side-back. He is considered Cliff's superior.

The other starting back is Herman Snyder, who serves as co-captain with Montgomery Snyder attends to two vitally important assignments. He is an excellent blocker and backs up the line.

North Carolina has four ends who would make anybody's club in Dick Buck, Andy Bershak, Bill Moore, and Buck McCarn. Buck stands out, but the others have starred consistently.

One Tar Heel tackle is Thom Ewins, the large and fast young man who performed for his alma mater as a weight man in the ICA games in California and in the National A. A. U. meet at Lincoln last summer, and who captured the 100 yard dash in the Carolina A. A. U. get-together two weeks later.

The other tackle is Johnny Trimpey, another husky who registered from Philadelphia, and who prepped at Mount Pleasant in North Carolina.

North Carolina's guards are Van Webb, Emmett Joyce, Paul Pendergraft, and Charley McIver, the former pair starting as a rule.

Professor Snaveley Rushes Tar Heels to Front

BABE DANIEL, 210-pound center from Charlotte, twice made the All-Southern high school lineup.

With many other schools having better material as a whole and vastly more reserve strength, the North Carolina varsity is considered an accurate gauge of the coaching ability of Snaveley, who took Chuck Collins' leftovers in 1934 and went on to turn in the finest record made by a modern North Carolina team. Snaveley in his inaugural year lost only to Tennessee and was tied only by North Carolina State.

Neither the south nor east would regret sending Snaveley and the 1935 North Carolina varsity to Pasadena.

One Man Ballyhoo Is Making France Yearn for Bullfrogs

PARIS—A plan to produce bigger and better frog legs for French gourmets is being worked out here by Clifford Holger de Rodde, Chicago-born, American war veteran.

Having imported a number of Louisiana bullfrogs, De Rodde, who lives on his farm at Morigny, outside of Paris, is trying to breed 2,500,000,000 of them before the end of 1938. At the same time, he is waging a campaign to make the French nation bullfrog conscious.

"I don't mean to criticize French frogs," he said, "because after all it isn't their fault if they don't grow up. There isn't a frog in France except my Louisiana breeders that is over four inches long. Order frog legs in France and take one mouthful and that's all there is to take.

"It is my ambition to change all that," he continued. "I am going to make it possible for Frenchmen to eat legs from frogs measuring eight inches from snout to vent."

He already has built artificial pools, enclosed with wire netting, for his breeders and is working on plans to increase the number of these water-holes for his future stock. He estimates that each female frog will lay 10,000 eggs a year.

"The eggs must be immediately skimmed off the top of the water and put in another pool as otherwise the frogs would eat them. Here they hatch into tadpoles and then develop into regular frogs. I don't expect any eggs next spring because frogs refuse to breed until they are accustomed to their environment. But in the summer of 1937, I'll have my own international Exposition of Louisiana Frogs. If things go well, I should have 2,500,000,000 of them by the end of 1938," he said.

Soy Beans Urged As a Cash Crop

BEEVILLE, Tex.—A movement to establish a new cash crop for this section has been started by Paul Russell, manager of a local cotton oil firm.

He suggested to representative farmers and business men that soy beans be given a trial in this section to determine its adaptability to soil conditions.

Russell promised to install equipment to crush soy beans if enough acreage could be subscribed to make the project worthwhile. At present, cotton is practically the only cash crop in Bee County, and curtailed acreage has cut the annual cash income of the county, Russell said.

Crime Key Held By "Robin Hood"

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo.—The dramatic story of the "hired" murder of the Rev. James A. Radford, Ozarks minister-farmer, is expected to be unfolded at the trial of five men at the November term of Reynolds County circuit court.

An alleged confession by Robert Camden, self-styled "Robin Hood of the Ozarks," resulted in the arrest of the five. Sheriff M. M. Jamison of Reynolds County said Camden confessed that he shot and killed the minister because he was hired to do so.

Those held are James Wofford, 76, and his son, Bud, 49, who live in the hills near here; Vernie Smith, 25, and Will Camden, 48, uncle of Robert, Emmet Smith, 28, brother of Vernie, was arrested in Denver.

The fiction-like story of the murder, as Camden told it in his confession, was revealed by Sheriff Jamison. Camden, now serving a 30-year term in the penitentiary for robberies, admitted killing the minister, and said he had been hired to commit the crime.

"The Ozarks Robin Hood has been roaming about in Missouri and Arkansas for several years," Jamison said. "He served one term and we trailed him for months before trapping him in cave near here. He committed petty crimes, forcing natives to cook for him, give him shelter and taking small items from them. He threatened to kill them if they reported him." Camden did not reveal how much he received for killing the minister, who was shot to death at his home near Ellington in August, 1933. The Rev. Radford's daughter saw the assassin fleeing through the woods, but could not identify him.

The motive given for the crime was that Vernie and Emmet Smith, stepsons of the minister, suspected him of having intentionally brought about their Thanksgiving service sermon. It has been an annual custom in Ranger for a number of years to hold joint services of the Protestant churches on the Sunday before Thanksgiving and the plans this year call for a similar service for the combined congregations of all churches in the city.

PAYROLLS INCREASE OVER STATE

AUSTIN—Reports from nearly 1,500 representative establishments show that a total of 70,507 men and women were employed in Texas for the week ended nearest the middle of October, a decline of 2 per cent from the like month a year ago, but practically the same as the corresponding week of September, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Total payrolls for these firms, however, were $1,591,000, an increase of 2.6 per cent over October last year and slightly larger than the previous month.

Cities showing an increase over both comparable periods included Laredo, Port Arthur, San Antonio, Waco, and Wichita Falls.

Industries showing gains over the two period were: Cement plants, cotton oil mills, electric maintenance and equipment, furniture manufacturing, men's clothing manufacturing, petroleum refining, and wholesale stores.
