WHAT'S...

COOKING?

By NORMAN WRIGHT

If any of you folks happened to have read the first "What's Cooking" column ever written, which was on last October 16, you will remember we said it was being started simply as a place in which to toss junk—junk being bits of miscellany that were neither Society News nor General News, but stuff that had to be printed anyway, somewhere.

So, we started it as a junk column and got along very well for a while, but nowadays it has reached the point where it keeps us in hot water from one publishing day to the next.

Time was when we didn't have to worry about anybody but the people of Ranger when we stuck something in here, but all that has now been changed and very much so.

One day we sat down and unburdened our soul on the subject of radio and television announcers and how they were driving us stark raving mad crazy with their commercials, thinking we were talking only to the homefolks, and a day or two later we got a flock of letters from all over the Southwest wanting a copy of that column. Even got several long distance telephone calls.

We thought to ourself this Ranger Times certainly does get around and said we reckoned it was going out to old residents who had moved away and were still getting the paper.

A little later on we got another flood of letters requesting a copy of another column, and these letters were from a different set of people than the first bunch. We wondered sure enough this time what the heck was going on, and couldn't quite figure it out.

Then one Monday morning a customer of ours up on Main Street told us she had heard one of these columns read on the radio the day before, and the light began to dawn. It turned out that Jack Nunnery, the man who conducts the Suburban Editor program over WBAP each Sunday morning at 10:30, had been reading one of these columns occasionally on the air and therein lay the source of all our trouble.

Sometimes our mail, as a result of Mr. Nunnery's broadcasts over a considerable portion of the United States, is complimentary and sometimes we get cussed out good and proper, more especially if we happen to say something about somebody's favorite politician or about their pet peeve.

So, as much as we appreciate the honor accorded us quite frequently by Mr. Nunnery, it is nevertheless uncomfortable. Time was when we could go to press in a comfortable pair of old pants and a sloppy pair of old house shoes, but now we have to put on our Sunday duds and wear a tie, lest we say something that will bring the wrath of God down on us from some fellow a thousand miles away.

Heavy Damage Here When Derrick Falls

Since Ranger people have been talking lately about restoring the big oil derrick that once stood at the end of East Main Street, Mrs. Ethel Brooks Gilmore sent the Times an old newspaper clipping telling of the storm that night which was on October 22, 1951.

Perhaps you will remember an 80-mile-per-hour wind that accompanied the storm, which occurred about 6:30 p.m., and a 3.04-inch rain that fell within 25 minutes. The Gholson Hotel lobby and basement were flooded and the Ranger Times paper stock was damaged at an estimated $2,000. Carps Studio, Langston's Barber Shop and Traders Grocery had plate glass windows sucked out by the wind as it roared down Main Street.

A window in Ranger Jewelry Company was blown out and the lobby of the Paramount Hotel was flooded. The Veteran's Apartments in the north section of town had water up to the floors; Dr. Finn's

All-New Tourist Courts Brighten Highway 80 W.

Six brand new tourist cabins at Chick's Court, seven blocks west of Ranger, were opened this week to make a bright spot on Highway 80 for weary tourists coming through the city.

The cabins, which are owned by John Usery, are all equipped with wall-to-wall floor covering, Simmons inner-spring beds, panel ray heat, modern, new shower and refrigerated or washed air for summertime.

Usery also owns four other cabins which are located across the highway from Chick's Courts, and they are to be moved across the road and consolidated with the new ones.

Usery invites all his friends to stop by and inspect the new cabins, because he says he is quite proud of them. Elbert Smith is manager of the court.

Screwy Shooting Wednesday Nite Puzzles Police

One of the screwiest shootings anybody ever heard of took place Wednesday night in front of the Wagon Wheel Cafe on Highway 80 East, almost in the heart of Ranger, and it aroused officers all over this section of the state keeping them up most of the night.

The "shooting" was put on all the police networks, every road in the section was blocked, county officers came over to get in the act and even Jim Riddle, the Texas Ranger from Breckenridge, sped over to find out what it was all about.

Police Chief W. G. Pounds wishes he knew.

It all started when a black and white 1957 Ford drove up and stopped in front of the Wagon Wheel Cafe about 9:30 p.m. A man got out and the black and white Ford came on towards Ranger.

The gent who disembarked from the car went into the cafe and asked Shorty Varner, operator, where he could find Burke Hart. He said he owed Burke Hart some money and wanted to pay him. Varner said he never heard of the man, and neither have the Ranger police for that matter.

The man then went back out and was standing in front of the cafe when the black and white Ford sped up again. This time a man got out, leveled a gun at the

Name Already Left Out On One Honor Roll List

We knew exactly what was going to happen long before we started printing these Honor Rolls — that we would leave somebody out. The first list appeared Tuesday and already we have left out the name of Elaine Lavoie, a seventh grader, who should have been included among those having made "All A's and B's." We are sorry Elaine. We're running the Young School Honor Roll today, and will run the Hodges School Sunday, and just as sure as we do we will leave somebody else out. So please call us. Don't get sore, just call us, and we will gladly correct our mistake. Why we can't get them right to start with is something we, more than anybody else, would like to know.

Dallas Officials Here; Pleased With Progress

Ranger Manufacturing Company, one of this city's newest and most prized industries, is swinging into its full Spring production schedule this week as machines started rolling on new Sport Shirts that are being turned out now at the rate of about 35 dozen a day, with more to come later.

Gene Boeding, buyer for Ranger Manufacturing Company and Louie Gossmann, plant mechanic of Dallas, visited the company here Monday and said they were well satisfied with the way the schedule is going here.

Boeding is just back from a buying trip to New York where he purchased materials for all the new garments to be manufactured in the Spring line, and Gossmann put all of the machines in the Ranger plant in order for the heavy schedule to come.

The Sports Shirts being made now, according to Miss Vernon Hargett, plant manager, are the brand new styles featuring Italian collars, button down collars, and all the other new styling that has been developed for the Sports Wear Line. Materials being used here include Dacron, Dan River Plaids and Prints.

In addition to Sports Shirts the company also manufactures ladies blouses, men's and boys' pajamas, and dress and work shirts for men and boys.

According to Miss Hargett, they get into the manufacture of these other lines as orders come in from salesmen in the field. As the volume of orders for Spring merchandise increases as the salesmen and field representatives get further along in their coverage of the trade, the work here will pick up accordingly, and it is expected that the plant will reach a high degree of employment as it gets further into the season.

Operation of the Ranger plant has been placed on a streamline basis and efficiency has been greatly improved. Ranger joins the plant personnel in looking forward to a banner season and a record-breaking production schedule.

Tarleton Beats Ranger Junior College 83-70

RJC Rangers lost a fast one to the Tarleton Plowboys here Tuesday night 83-70.

There's an old saying in basketball if you make 33 per cent of your shots you win. Yet RJC made 39 per cent of its shots and lost simply because Tarleton was hotter than a pistol and made 69 per cent of its shots.

Bubba Canuteson was high point man for the Rangers, sinking six field goals and six free shots for a total of 18. James Tull and Doug Jordan were tied for second place scoring honors with 14 points each.

Other scorers and their points were Bill Light 7, Jimmy Everett 6, Ronald Darnell 5, Alton Williams 3, Bob Baker 2, and George Boynton 1.

Bragg Stockton was high point man for the Plowboys with 22.

12,510,000 Bbls. Pumped In Jan. By Gulf Oil Corp.

A total of 12,510,000 barrels of oil were pumped through the Ranger Station by Gulf Oil Corporation during the month of January, it has been learned. This represents one of the highest months in a long time, and pumping often reached as high as 415,000 barrels a day.

Oil which comes into Ranger in small pipelines is pumped from the station here to Port Arthur through a 26-inch line, one of the biggest there is.

More U. S. oil is being demanded these days to make up for the oil shortage brought on by the blockade of the Suez Canal.

fellow they had put out a few minutes before, and fired a shot. The man hit the ground like a ton of bricks and two men, one wearing an overcoat, jumped out of the car, picked up the body, dragged it into the back seat, and hightailed it East.

Police were called and at the time everybody thought a genuine shooting had taken place, and for all anybody knows it may have been the real thing.

BUT, and that is a mighty big "but," all the king's officers and all the king's men haven't been able to find hide nor hair of the car even after blocking all the roads and searching all night, and what's more, there wasn't a sign of blood on the gravel in front of the cafe where the man is supposed to have received the fatal slug.

A boy and a girl who had been spooning out near the Haganam dam reported to police they saw a trio of suspicious looking men out there who had caused them to abandon whatever it was they were doing, and one of the men was wearing an overcoat.

This triggered the thought that perhaps the overcoated figure could be connected with the mysterious man in the overcoat who helped put the shooting victim in the black and white Ford, and officers went out to search around the lake but this, too, proved to be a water haul.

Nobody at the cafe got the license number of the car, which disappeared before officers got there, and nobody knows the name of anybody involved except the anonymous Burk Hart who the stranger first inquired about.

Chief Pounds said he didn't know, and wouldn't say positively, but he had just about decided to put it down as a "Ranch Day Prank" in advance of activities being celebrated by you know who.

The Times received long distance telephone calls from every big daily paper in this part of the state Thursday morning wanting to know what in the world had taken place over here, as they had received some sort of reports from their own police departments that they could not make heads or tails of.

Neither can we.

about it on the radio, but it took the citizens of Abilene by complete surprise and a flying saucer scare was in full swing in that city.

The balloon, which was said to be about four stories high, was sent out from San Antonio and carried some 500 pounds of weather observation equipment. It soared over Abilene and this section of the State at about 90,000 feet.

Even though it was almost sundown when the balloon was sited in Ranger, at that great height the sun was reflecting from it like a "second sun" as some people described it. The thing finally floated on off to the northwest and no telling where it went.

here say there is no such thing as a 3-pound crappie. Rip Galloway, of the Chamber of Commerce, is one, among others, who is jibous about it. Rip says he has heard of a 3-pound crappie but has never seen one.

A 3-pound crappie seems to be as elusive as the 4-minute mile and the 15-foot pole vault once were. Whoever comes up with one is going to have something very unusual and we are pleading with you in advance, if you catch one, please bring it around here for a photograph.

Ed Richardson, caretaker out at the dam, has a two and three-quarter pound crappie, frozen that he is going to take to Fort Worth for display purposes. But that is not a 3-pound crappie. We believe there are some in that lake, and we want to see one very much, if you should hang one, you should have it weighed in the presence of witnesses, because it will lose a lot of weight on the way to town.

Who, we wonder, is going to be the first to bring one of those things in here.

PLEASE PHONE 224 and give us your news items. They will be of interest to others, and we always appreciate your calling us.

WSCS Meets In Second Session of Bible Study

Members of the WSCS met at the First Methodist Church Monday afternoon. The meeting was opened with a short business meeting led by the president, Mrs. A. W. Brazda.

Mrs. Herman Boyd presided over the program which was the second session of the Bible study—Paul's Letters to Local Churches.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. R. E. Johnson and was followed ed with the group singing "Oh, Spirit of the Living God." The program was in the form of a skit—Bible characters represented by local women. Mrs. B. A. Tunnell represented a very busy missionary society woman preparing for her Bible study through many obstacles and hindrances, and finally was ready for her task.

Mrs. Stanley McAnelly represented Barnabas and Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall as Paul. Mrs. Richard Bonney sang a solo, "Lord, Speak To Me." Mrs. Archie Robinson represented Stephen and Mrs. Beverly Dudley, Jr. the wealthy citizen, Philemon, who always opened his home to the ministry. Mrs. F. S. Pearsall represented Dr.

Luke and Mrs. J. E. Matthews, Timothy. Mrs. Deffebach stood for Azuilla and Priscilla.

Mrs. Boyd gave the beginning of the Christian church and Pentecost. The very beginning was the most important of all times.

An announcement was made that the District meeting will convene in Eastland, March 7.

The meditation was a poem, "The Crucial Hour" by Grace Noel Crowel, read by Mrs. Boyd. She also gave the closing prayer.

'QUEEN OF HEARTS' IN THE HEART OF—Dinah Shore, chosen "Queen of Hearts" by the nation's disc jockeys for the 1957 Heart Fund now in progress across the country, is shown being welcomed to Texas and Dallas by Mayor R. L. Thornton, Sr., of Dallas. Miss Shore made her only Texas stop in Dallas on a 10-city tour, appearing in behalf of the 1957 Heart Fund of the American and Texas Heart Associations. In urging generous support of the annual drive for funds with which to fight the nation's Number One killer-disease, the songstress pointed out that "heart disease has touched every one of us in some way." Miss Shore's mother died of coronary thrombosis, one of the forms of heart disease for which medical science still seeks a cure. Funds contributed to the annual Texas and American Heart Funds are used to further research into the causes and cures of heart disease, for medical and lay educational work and for community heart service programs.

INCOME TAX AIDS

One of a Series of 12 Articles Prepared by The Internal Revenue Service

This is the tenth in a series of 12 articles prepared by the Internal Revenue Service to assist taxpayers in avoiding errors that cause tax audits. Today we are presenting 11 common reasons for the Internal Revenue Service having to adjust miscellaneous items claimed by taxpayers:

1. The dividend exclusion for a single person or a married person filing a separate return is $50.00. For husband and wife filing a joint return it is $50.00 each.
2. Life insurance companies and certain other types of corporations do not qualify for the dividend exclusion nor the dividend credit.
3. The loss incurred on the sale of a personal residence is not deductible, for income tax purposes.
4. Real estate agents' commissions, forfeited escrow payments, title fees, documentary stamps, attorney fees, cost of surveys, and similar payments in connection with the sale or purchase of a personal residence are not deductible as itemized deductions and they do not constitute a loss that is deductible for income tax purposes.
5. Stocks and securities on which there is a reasonable likelihood of some recovery, even though small, are not entirely

Baylor Hospital Gets Super Volt X-Ray Machine

Two million volts of harnessed energy will soon be brought to bear against cancer at Baylor Hospital. Purchase of a giant 2,000,000 volt General Electric X-ray Machine for this purpose—valued at $118,000.00—has been made possible by a gift from Mr. Charles A. Sammons, Reserve Life Insurance Company, and other companies controlled by Mr. Sammons. The announcement was made Saturday afternoon by Mr. G. H. Penland, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Baylor Hospital. Mr. Penland said, "Mr.

worthless therefore the loss incurred as the result of their decrease in value is not deductible.

6. The profit on items in which the taxpayer is a dealer and which he holds for sale to customers in the course of his trade or business are not subject to the capital gains treatment.

7. The maintenance and operating expenses attributable to a house or a portion thereof which is occupied by a taxpayer as a residence or is occupied by his dependents are not deductible for income tax purposes.

8. Only the expenses actually paid during the calendar year are deductible by a cash basis taxpayer.

9. The value of a taxpayer's personal labor is not deductible as an expense and it may not be included in the cost of the property.

10. Amounts which represent capital improvements are not deductible as operating expenses for Federal income tax purposes.

11. Percentage depletion is limited to the smaller of:

- a. 27 1/2 percent of the gross income from the property, or
- b. 50 percent of the net profit from the property.

Study your tax instructions carefully before preparing your return and you will avoid having questionable items in your tax returns.

In the next article we will discuss other miscellaneous items that the Internal Revenue Service is required to adjust.

Sammons, The Reserve Life Insurance Company and other companies he controls have given this unit to Baylor Hospital to be used as a companion piece of equipment with the present Theratron Cobalt Therapy Unit in operation at Baylor. The Theratron Cobalt Therapy Unit was also given to Baylor by the Reserve Life Insurance Company in honor of Mr. Charles A. Sammons on January 9, 1955. That gift made possible the establishment of the Charles A. Sammons Irradiation Therapy Center at Baylor which was dedicated on September 8, 1955." Mr. Penland stated further, "In the first year of operation of the Charles A. Sammons Irradiation Therapy Center at Baylor, the patient load has increased to three times what it was prior to the opening of the Center. Radiologists at Baylor have studied the problem of increased demand for services and it was their conclusion that an additional therapy unit should be installed as early as possible. This new equipment," Mr. Penland continued, "will complement the present Cobalt Unit, each doing certain things better than the other. When the new equipment is installed, the Irradiation Therapy Center at Baylor will have versatility comparable to any Irradiation Therapy Center in the United States. We are deeply grateful for this gift."

Mr. Charles A. Sammons, when contacted for comment, said, "The gift is made in honor of Mr. E. H. Barry, President of Reserve Life Insurance Company, in memory of his daughter, Kathy." The room in which the equipment is to be housed will be named after Mr. Sammons' request "The Kathy Barry Memorial." Mr. Sammons went on to say, "It has been most gratifying to see the fine work that has been done with the cobalt machine. I hope the addition of the X-ray equipment will enable many more people to receive the benefits of the Center."

The new unit, known as a "Maxitron-2000," will be the only one of its kind in the Southwest. Although large in size, the machine is made maneuverable by a motor-driven adjustable supporting structure. It can be aimed at a cancerous growth simply and precisely. Complex interlocking electrical devices prevent operation of the unit, unless all operating and safety factors are in order. The Maxitron will be installed in a companion room to the Theratron Cobalt Unit now in operation. This room was designed with sufficient strength and protection for a heavy unit of this type. It will have a special viewing window which provides maximum protection from radiation for the therapist while still permitting a clear view into the treatment area.

The powerful 2,000,000 volt X-ray unit, which weighs more than six tons, will be suspended from a ceiling 22 feet in height.

Installation of the Unit will also require the completion of two additional therapy rooms in the Sammons Center. In order to accommodate the massive equipment, structural changes will have to be made in the large therapy room where it is to be housed... chiefly the addition of ten feet in height. It is estimated that the structural alterations will cost about $15,000.00, bringing the total cost of this project to approximately $133,000.00.

Radiologists at Baylor explained that the new equipment has many medical advantages. First, patients can be treated with this unit with less irradiation sickness. Second, treatments can be given with less skin change. Third, the sharp beam edge of the machine offers protection to adjacent sensitive structures (such as eyes, etc.). Fourth, the large output of the machine decreases treatment time. Fifth, short treatment time permits treatment of a greater number of patients. Sixth, used with its "twin" or "companion piece"—the Cobalt Therapy Unit—it will provide additional flexibility in the handling of cancer problems. Therefore, they feel that this new equipment will materially aid in coping with the increasing number of cancer patients. It will also permit treatment of more than twice the number of patients now treated in the Irradiation Therapy Center.
