Lake Leon Water Gets Clean Bill Health from Tex. State Health Dep't

WHAT'S...

COOKING?

By NORMAN WRIGHT
As we remarked earlier in the week, the people of Ranger owe some kind of a vote of thanks to the medical profession of this city for the wonderful job that was done in administering the first round of polio shots to all the youngsters in Ranger's four schools, Senior High, Junior High, and Young. The second round is coming up within the very next two or three days, and none of it will have cost any of the students a red cent.

All this happened quietly and without fanfare while other schools over the state have been in big arguments with the medical societies, with the doctors in many cities standing in the way of youngsters receiving their shots because they wanted to find some way to get a little cash for their own pockets by administering them. The doctors have actually held up the great Salk Polio Vaccine Program because they did not favor the free administration of the vaccine, and all you have to do to confirm this is to pick up your daily newspaper and read what has been happening down at Houston and even to other big cities right here close to home.

Here in Ranger, Dr. A. W. Brazda sat down and wrote himself a letter addressed to the State Department of Health at Austin and told them he wanted some Salk Polio Vaccine and told them exactly what he wanted to do with it—to vaccinate free the school children of Ranger.

They sent him 1,800 shots. With the close cooperation of school officials, the P-T-A, and the Ranger Clinic, represented by Dr. W. P. Watkins, the first round of shots were administered and the second round is coming up. The third and final round will be given when school takes up again next September after the summer recess.

Dr. Brazda even had enough vaccine left over to extend the program to the Olden schools, and there will also be enough left for Carbon and DeLeonora.

This should be an example to the medical profession everywhere. To think of it, after thousands of children have been crippled for life, and after years of research, and after the expenditure of countless millions of dollars to find a cure for Polio, the administration and effectiveness of the whole program is held up at the end because some doctor somewhere is holding out for $2 to administer the shots. It doesn't make sense—not to us, anyway.

Some of the medical societies have claimed that administering the shots on a mass, free, basis smacks too much of socialized medicine, but it does no such thing. It is a mass, humanitarian fight against a killer disease the same as it would be a mass effort.

Following a chemical analysis made of Lake Leon Water on February 12, 1957, by the State of Texas Department of Health, Dr. J. V. Irons, Director of Laboratories, has declared the water to be chemically pure and well within the requirements of the United States Public Health Service for potable drinking water.

This is perhaps the first authoritative public report ever made in any newspaper on the desirability and purity of Lake Leon water as drinking water.

The report from the Department of Health also squashed any idea any person may have dreamed up to the effect that Lake Leon water was affecting their kidneys.

J. W. White, plant superintendent at Lake Leon, sent a sample of the water to the Department of Health Division of Laboratories on last February 12, and the analysis was made on February 15.

A report of the analysis was forwarded on February 15 in the following letter which read:

Mr. J. W. White
Plant Superintendent
Eastland County Water Supply District
Ranger, Texas
Dear Mr. White:
The enclosed analytical reports on samples of water submitted by you show these to be well within the requirements of the United States Public Health Service for potable drinking water.

From a chemical standpoint, the waters represented are good for a Texas water supply. As to whether or not a particular individual suffering some organic malfunction would be adversely affected by the use of this or any other water would of course lie within the realm of private medicine, but for the normal individual it should be entirely satisfactory as a drinking supply.

Yours very truly,
J. V. Irons, Sc.D.
Director of Laboratories.

Although the following may not be understood by anybody except another chemist, herewith is the chemical analysis as made by the Department of Health Laboratories. (Note: P.P.M. stands for Parts Per Million.)

Should Be Big Week-End At Busy Lake Leon

If the weather stays pretty, this should be another whopping big weekend for fishermen at Lake Leon, a record - breaker, in fact.

Following the report last week in the Fort Worth Star Telegram about the big "Crappie Spree" now going on at the lake, many a carload of fishermen from Cowtown should be headed this way.

As a matter-of-fact, some of the high moguls of fishing from the Dallas - Fort Worth area have arranged to bring parties of fishermen here and the Chamber of Commerce has been asked on a few occasions to make advance arrangements for them in the way of reservations.

After the Star Telegram told of one set of Cowtown fishermen throwing back 40 crappie weighing over a pound each because they were too small to keep, compared to some other fish they caught, anglers in the vicinity went wild, according to the paper.

Dick Darmon, former president of the Fort Worth Anglers Club, has spent the week spreading the news that Lake Leon offers "The most wonderful crappie fishing I have ever seen or heard of."

Ranger Souvenir Gifts Grace DAR Tables

Ranger-made Ash Tray Souvenirs, carefully and individually fashioned by the Green Door Ceramic Studio under direction of Mrs. C. B. Pruet, will grace the tables at the state meeting of the DAR which gets under way Sunday at Mineral Wells.

The trays are being given to members of the DAR with compliments.

Much Remodeling Of Homes Under Way In Ranger

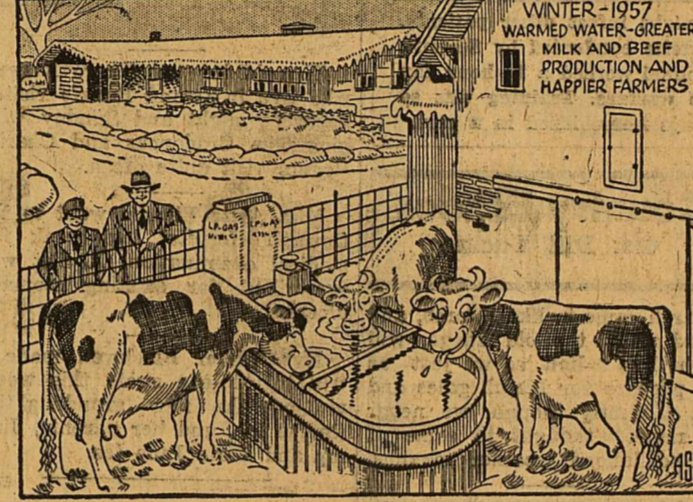

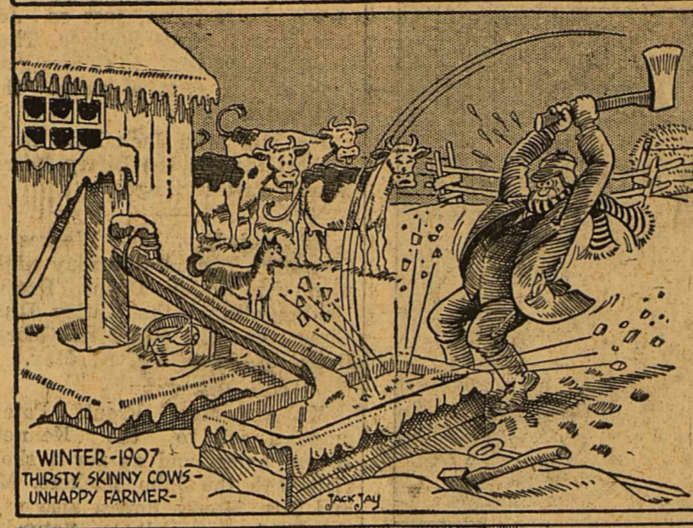

Driving around over Ranger it is almost impossible to find a single block in which some kind of home remodeling work is not going on at the present time. Some sort of home repair is going on all over town, and adding to the beauty and appearance of the city, as well as to the value of individual property.

Not only are individuals improving their private homes, but many apartment owners are dressing up their premises, both inside and out.

The Chamber of Commerce reports that several individuals are going in for very expensive remodeling projects at their homes, one of which is reported to be in the neighborhood of $10,000 in improvements and additions.

THE CHANGING SCENE

Little League Meet to Get Ball Rolling Set Monday Night

An important meeting of everybody in Ranger interested in the Little League Baseball Program will be held Monday evening, March 11, at 7:30, in the basement of the First Methodist church. It is announced by Leonard Pounds, president of the League.

It is said there should be at least 100 sets of parents there, because there are more than 100 boys interested in the Little League ball games, and who will be out to make the clubs. It is especially requested that every parent, who has a potential Little League ball player around the house, be at this meeting without fail.

Several problems will be discussed and any and all questions answered that anyone may have concerning the Little League Program, and it is hoped at this meeting to get everything set to start the ball rolling when the first practice games begin on April 15.

Regular season play gets under way on May 13. During the season practice sessions are held once a week, and games are played each Monday night and Thursday night, with two games being played each night.

There will be four teams again this year, the same as last. The Yankees, sponsored by Killingsworth's Funeral Home and managed by James Townzen; the Indians, sponsored by Art's Tool & Supply Company and managed by Curtis Blackwell; the Dodgers, sponsored by Premier Oil Company and managed by Walter Artburn, and the Giants, sponsored by the Commercial State Bank, and for which a manager must be obtained.

Umpires for this season will be Wilson Simpson, Onis Littlefield and Wallace Johnson.

Officers of the Little League include Leonard Pounds as president, Wayland Jowers as vice-president, Mrs. Dewey Cox as secretary and Wilson Guest as treasurer.

Pounds said each Little League Club would carry a roster of 15 players, and there were usually about 40 boys left over who did not make the teams but who were placed in the Minor Leagues so as to be better players a year from now.

Pounds said that Bill Wood of Abilene, District Little League Representative, was in Ranger a few days ago inspecting the field and said that more lights would have to be installed in order to bring it up to state requirements.

As it is each light pole at the field now has a bank of four lights per pole and it is hoped that one more bank can be added to each pole, making eight lights per pole, or exactly twice as many as are in operation now. This is one of the things to be discussed Monday night. Texas Electric Company has never made any charge for lights used at the games.

All parents will be asked to register Monday night for door prizes which will be given away, including a baseball glove, an Official Little League Baseball Bat, and an Official Little League Ball.

Groups Will Sponsor City Clean-Up Due to City Wide Demands

The Civic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Civic Committee of the Ranger Garden Club voted Friday night to sponsor a City-Wide Spring Clean-Up following a city-wide demand that the town have one since two years have elapsed since the last one was held here.

Rip Galloway, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said his office had received innumerable inquiries from citizens wanting to know when another general trash-hauling was going to be arranged, and Buck Wallace, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Civic Committee said if they wanted to get rid of their junk that had been in favor of putting on another old-fashioned trash-hauling spree and the Garden Club Civic Committee said to count them in and they would support it wholeheartedly.

It was generally agreed if they were going to have one it might as well be a whing-ding while they were at it, and Mrs. Mamie Ruth Hamrick, president of the Garden Club, was appointed to contact every Woman's Club in town and arrange for a representative from each club to attend another clean-up meeting tentatively scheduled for the Chamber of Commerce office next Friday night, March 15, at 7:00 o'clock.

Also, representatives from the Lions Club, Rotary Club, the Volunteer Firemen's Organization and the City of Ranger will be invited to attend this meeting.

Purpose of the meeting will be to make plans for the Clean-Up and set the date, and also to en-

"Ranger... A Better Place To Live" to Be Sermon Topic Sunday

The Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ranger, will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "Ranger—A Better Place to Live," it is announced.

Rev. Perkins said he had made up his mind to deliver this address as a result of recent civic meetings held in Ranger when industrialists from other cities had stressed the importance of making a community a good place in which to live, and such a good place, in

Second Round Polio Shots Due Here Next Week

The second round of Salk Polio Shots will be given in Ranger Public Schools this coming week, it is announced by Supt. G. E. Rush.

Pupils at Hodges Oak Park and Young Schools will receive their shots Tuesday morning, and Junior and Senior High School Students will be given their shots Thursday morning.

Cooperation of all parents is asked in seeing that their children are in school at those hours so that they may not miss the shots.

The third and final round of shots will be given next September, according to Dr. A. W. Brazda, who says it is recommended that the third shot be given anywhere from six months to 12 months following the second shot.

As in the case of the first round, no charge of any kind will be made for the second round of shots.

Speaker Forgets One Big Ranger Asset

Fred Husbands, executive vice-president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, who addressed a joint session of the Ranger Lions Club and Rotary Club last Wednesday, failed to mention one thing about Ranger when he was enumerating some of the town's assets that made it an attractive place for new industry.

Husbands forgot to mention that Ranger was in the snack dab center of the deer hunting area of Texas.

Friday A.M. Freeze And Frost Hurts New Vegetables

The 27 degree temperature and frost which visited the Eastland County area early Friday morning, left a lot of damaged new gardens in its wake, with tender young squash and tomato plants being the hardest hit.

Fruit trees were damaged considerably, but the extent of the damage will not be known for several days. Many fruit trees were on the verge of blooming and some actually had a few blooms on them, especially those that had been located in sheltered places.

Farm crops in general did not suffer.

Chest Survey Set for Gholson Lobby

The Free Chest X-Ray Survey coming to Ranger on April 4-5 will be set up in the lobby of the Gholson Hotel, it is announced by Mrs. Joe Falcloth, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, sponsors of the survey.

All details concerning the free survey will be prominently publicized in the Times prior to the event. It is being anxiously awaited by practically everybody in Ranger.

In spite of the fact that nobody has been making much racket lately over the GI Home Building Program in Ranger it is going on just as strong as it ever was and is making progress every day.

Contractor M. L. Lawson said this week the first home, which is being built at 712 Page Street, and belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tackett, would be complete within about three weeks, weather permitting. The house has already been held up several times on account of the weather, but has made splendid progress nevertheless.

The new Tackett home will be furnished with new furniture throughout, it is said, and Lawson told the Times he thought he would be able to secure the cooperation of the Tackets in allowing a public inspection to be made of the home so everyone could see the quality that is being put into the GI Homes being built, and to be built in Ranger.

Lawson said further there were about six other families who had bought their lots and were waiting for a few details to be ironed out before beginning their homes. Abstracts are delaying some of them, and uncompleted plans are delaying others. However these six are pretty apt to get under construction before too long, Lawson said.

At the same time it is reported there are about 12 more families on top of this in the planning and discussion stage, and it is felt that they, too, will be ready to get down to serious business as soon as they have seen the Tackett house, and as soon as they are convinced that GI Homes can, at last, be built in Ranger with no strings attached.

Without batting an eye, Contractor Lawson unhesitatingly predicts that 25 new GI Homes will be built in Ranger before the campaign is finished.

The program, which has the backing and support of the Chamber of Commerce, gives a GI an opportunity to build and own a home of his own on terms that he can handle. By having the house built now while a number of them are being built at once, a GI can actually get almost $1,000 worth of extra house since men and labor are on the grounds and an individual does not have to start from scratch by himself, thus having to pay for a lot of preliminary costs that are already taken care of.

Contractor Lawson stands ready to help any family with their plans, and to help them with their GI Loan, and his advice alone, which comes free but which is nevertheless valuable, is worth a lot of money. He has built so many GI Homes that he knows the ropes and knows how to avoid many costly mistakes.

Lawson has moved to Ranger and will be here until the present building program is finished. He and Mrs. Lawson live in the Floyd Killingsworth Apartments, and the contractor can be reached there.

E. E. CRAWFORD ABLE TO SIT UP AT HOSPITAL

E. E. Crawford, who was stricken with a heart attack on Friday of last week, is able to sit up at West Texas Clinic, and is reported doing nicely. Crawford was kept under oxygen for several days following his attack, and was taken off of it gradually. He will be taken home in a few days, it is said.

FIRST WATERMELONS ARE RECEIVED HERE

Believe-it-or-not, the first watermelons of the season have been received in Ranger at the Hamilton Fruit Market on Highway 80, according to Mrs. H. H. Hamilton.

The melons came in here from Florida and average about 14 pounds each, and retail for 10c a pound. For those of you who like to rush the season, these are said to be very tasty and sweet.

Mrs. Blanch Murray has returned from a three week visit in Cleburne and Mineral Wells.

Clean-Up

list the services of all organizations in putting it over in the proper manner, block by block.

This City-Wide Clean-Up will not cost the residents of Ranger anything at all except a little extra time, it is said. For the first time in two years, it will be arranged to have city trucks and volunteer trucks visit every house in the city at a specified time for the purpose of hauling off the junk and trash that has accumulated over the past 24 months. It is a program that everyone will welcome and heartily support since it will really be worth something to homeowners to get rid of a lot of debris that is cluttering up their premises.

Also discussed at the meeting was the possibility of giving prizes to homeowners who did the most thorough and attractive job of cleaning up their premises, and these prizes would probably take the form of shrubs that could be planted in order to further beautify the city. This phase of the campaign will be discussed further at the meeting tentatively set for Friday night.

The Garden Club committee also brought up the idea of encouraging as many homes as possible to plant one or two or three brand new shrubs this year, along with the clean-up, and it was suggested that everybody in town buy the same type of shrub, one that would flower in the spring. By doing this, the whole town would be in bloom at the same time and would make a very beautiful picture.

It was decided to contact nurserymen and get a special price on some one type of flowering shrub that everybody could buy very reasonable, and perhaps have the nurseryman bring the shrubs here on a truck so that homeowners could buy them at the proper time.

The Times will announce full and complete details of the Clean-Up as soon as they are ironed out. In the meantime, this much is certain, there will be a Clean-Up on a City-Wide basis within the very near future, due to popular demand for one, and everybody can start right now getting ready for it—it's on the way.

Mother of Former Ranger Man Dies

Word was received here Saturday morning that Mrs. W. C. Gorman, Sr., of Big Sandy, passed away Friday night at her home in Big Sandy. She was the mother of Bill Gorman, formerly of Ranger, who worked here for a long time for Lone Star Gas Company. The Times did not learn details about the funeral except that it will be held in Big Sandy Sunday afternoon.

How To Cook for Weight Watchers

Any weight watchers in your family? If so, you, the cook, can be a big help by planning a n d preparing foods to cut calories.

Here are some suggestions offered by extension foods and nutrition specialists:

Use non-fat, dry milk solids for cooking. Reconstituted dry milk solids heated and combined with vegetable liquors are good in soups.

Keep desserts simple . . . Serve fresh fruits or canned and frozen fruits packed in water or juice—not syrup.

Roast or oven or pan-broil meats, poultry and fish instead of frying in fat. Avoid "breading" and use of egg batters on foods. Trim extra fat from the meat.

Serve salad materials plain—or use low-calorie seasonings or salad dressings. These can be made with tomato juice, herbs and lemon juice or vinegar.

Prepare food without added fat, sugar or flour whenever possible.

Tempt appetites with herbs and spices instead of rich seasonings, sauces and gravies.

Serve low-calorie items for nibbling in-between-meals or as appetizers. Try celery, cabbage wedges, carrot sticks, or other low-calorie vegetables or fruits.

fort to wipe out a thousand rattlesnakes that had just been turned loose in a neighborhood. There are times when ethics can be stretched too far, and interference in the fight against polio is one of them.

Have you ever stopped to think of the great strides the medical profession has made against practically all of the killer diseases that were so common in this country even as little as ten years ago? Time was when a person stricken with pneumonia, diphtheria, tuberculosis, even influenza and measles, stood in great peril of losing his life and most people did. Nowadays you seldom, if ever, hear of a fatality resulting from these or any other common diseases of a decade ago.

Of course, the miracle drugs have had a lot to do with it, but don't forget also that a great share of credit must go to the improved professional skill of your own family doctor who has come a long, long way since the horse and buggy days.

Today, only two killer diseases remain unconquered—heart disease and cancer. After all, the medical men say, you CAN control the disease of the heart by living simply, eating simply, eliminating stress and strain and worry, and taking it easy in general. You can nurse heart disease along carefully and live with it and prolong your life, but that is not so with cancer, not now at least.

But there will come a day when these, too, will be conquered, just as all the other killer diseases have been conquered, and it will be a brighter day for all mankind.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS

The average person does not often use the term "negotiable instruments" in his everyday conversation, and the words may not mean much to him. Actually, it is just a mouth-filling term used in law to describe certain important pieces of paper that we normally call by simpler names.

Even though we seldom use the words, we deal with negotiable instruments all the time. Every check we write to pay the gas bill is a negotiable instrument, and so is your paycheck or pension check. The note you sign to buy a new car, the money order you purchase at the bank or post office, or the traveler's checks you take with you on a trip instead of cash, all are negotiable instruments.

It was all started by merchants who had to send large sums of gold or currency between cities or nations. They worked out a way to exchange money, or the value of money, by written messages, much of the time through a third party like a broker or bank. But when you deal in pieces of negotiable paper instead of hard money, there have to be certain standards and safeguards or the paper could lose its value.

Consequently, there developed a whole system of laws within nations and between nations, upon which all our business rests. Through the courts, if necessary, the owners of negotiable instruments may enforce the terms written on the paper.

In the United States there used to be confusing times because of different state laws, but by 1924 all 48 states had adopted a Uniform Negotiable Instrument Law which sets up the same rules nationwide.

Since so-called negotiable instruments are so important; since they are ordinarily just like money in many ways; since they often are used like money, or are sold to other persons or companies, and since there are special laws defining the ins-and-outs of negotiable instruments which we wouldn't ordinarily have any reason to know about, there are one or two simple rules we should follow:

We should make certain we read what's on the paper, that we know what the words mean, and what the penalties and dangers may be, before signing our name.

Remember: You are the only person in the world with that signature, and the courts, as a rule, must take your signed promises at their face value.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Second Baptist Announcements Made by Pastor

Rev. Edward L. Scarbrough, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, made the following announcements today relative to services Sunday:

"There is no better instrument through which the Word of God can be taught than through the Sunday School. This Sunday's lesson will be on 'Unlimited Forgiveness.' Come at 9:45 a.m. and hear words of life.

"The Morning Worship service will begin at 11 a.m. with Gene Ashcraft leading the congregation in some well known hymns. The pastor's message for the morning will be, 'Salvation—Present and Future.' If you have heard of many ways in which to be saved then you will want to be here at Second Baptist Church for this service.

"Once we come to Christ we must learn to do his work. Training Union at 6:15 is essential to better service for our Lord. Come see why we have one of the best Training Unions to be found.

"At 7:30 we will have the Evening Evangelistic Hour. We have not only been having good attendance but we have been feeling the Spirit of Fellowship and Love. This service is the best hour of the week. The pastor will be speaking on, 'Dead Men Walk our Streets.' Everyone in our church should hear this message and we give a very warm welcome to the many visitors that have been in our congregation."

When you give your heart to a boy—

You're in for some trouble—when your heart belongs to a boy. Boys don't like soap. Boys scuff up their shoes. Boys make too much noise when they're home—and when they go off to school, leave a house that is far too still.

You're in for a world of happiness, too—when your heart belongs to a boy. The kind of happiness that erases tears, shuts out loneliness, rubs away all kinds of aches and pains.

Small wonder mothers love their little boys so very, very much.

One of these days your boy will be starting off to school in his shiny new shoes and fresh clean shirt. And he'll start learning all the things he needs to know to make him the kind of man you want him to grow up to be.

One of the most important lessons for your son to learn is the meaning of thrift and the value of a regular savings program. And that's what the U. S. Treasury's School Savings Program will teach him.

By the purchase of 10¢ and 25¢ Savings

Stamps in their schools, children are investing in U. S. Savings Bonds on the installment plan. And, as you know, Savings Bonds are one of the best investments that any of us can make.

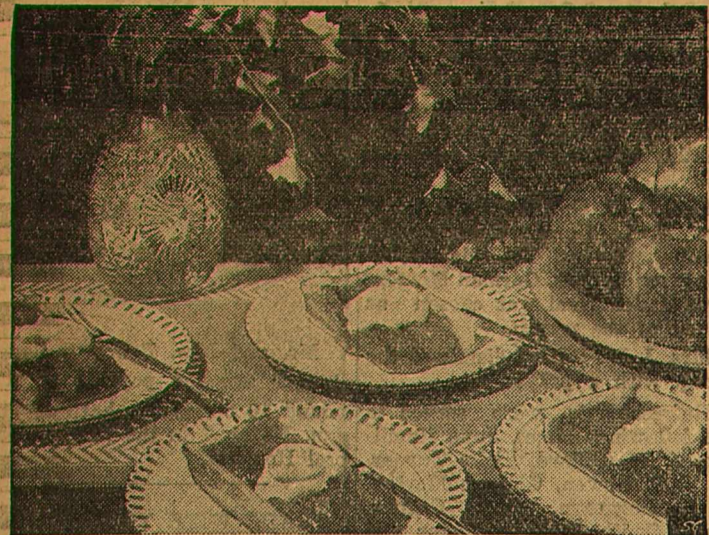

Is your child's school participating in this important program? Why not speak to your principal, school superintendent or P.T.A. group about it?

Fabulous Flan Makes Square Dessert

Pies with square corners are as old-fashioned as can be. When families were large, Grandmother found that it saved time to put the makings of 2 pies in a big square dish. Good idea for today, too — and a "square" of pie somehow seems new and different. This "flan" recipe — so simple to make — has a truly excellent flavor . . . the combination of apples and maple-blended syrup is a happy one. Served warm on a cold Wintery night, it will provide especially happy eating. Hint: Use the charming syrup bottle, when empty, for sprays of ivy!

Maple-Fruit Flan

- Pastry for two-crust pie tart apples
- 1 cup Log Cabin Syrup
- 1 tablespoon butter
- Line a square baking pan with the pastry dough, rolled 1/8 inch thick, extending pastry 1/2 inch up on sides of pan.
- Peel and core apples and cut in thick slices. Heat syrup to the boiling point. Add one-fourth of the apple slices and cook until apples are tender and transparent, but not mushy. Remove from syrup. Repeat until all apples are cooked. Arrange in rows on pastry so that slices overlap slightly. Pour remaining syrup over apples and dot with butter. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 35 minutes, or until pastry is done and apples are lightly browned. Cut in 3-inch squares. Makes 9 servings.

Rev. Perkins Announces First Baptist Services

"A Better Place To Live," will be the theme for the Sunday morning message as the pastor preaches at 11 a.m. Moses looked over into the "promised land" but because of his past was not permitted to lead his people into that haven of rest. Today there are hundreds of people whose past has them living in confusion because they do not know what to do with their sin. Come this Lord's day and learn God's plan for overcoming, "that mixed-up-feeling," or the basis for a Christian home, the way to keep your loved one, God's plan for a better place to live, is also a better way of life.

Mr. Jesse Sutton, minister of Music will give direction to the music at both services. The choir, and special arrangements will bring thrills to Christian hearts because of gospel music. Training Union and Sunday School will afford the family the

Brotherhood Revival Coming To Second Baptist

Date for the Brotherhood Revival to be held at the Second Baptist Church will be announced next week, according to Rev. Edward L. Scarbrough, pastor, at which time the speaker will also be named.

In speaking of the coming revival, Rev. Scarbrough had the following to say this morning: "Each night men of the Brotherhood will be preaching, testifying and singing. Each message will thrill your heart and challenge you. Never will you find a group of men so earnest in the work of the Lord. Each first Friday of the month the Brotherhood meets for Business and Supper, but that is just the beginning. All the rest of the days of the month you will find them about the business of the Lord.

"The men who will preach, testify, and sing will be men that every resident of the City of Ranger knows and loves. They were reared here, work here, were saved here and are interested in the welfare of their friends who live here. "Won't you be a part of this revival effort. All are invited. Men, women, children—come ye to the waters and drink.

"To have a revival we must pray as though God had everything to do with sending it; then work as though we had everything to do with bringing it. Then we will not have to worry about the services. They will honor God. You are invited."

Why Should I Have An Abstract?

... is a question that all abstracters have a ready answer for. When the ownership of real estate enters your business life, title problems also enter. Buying, selling, mortgaging or otherwise conveying, demand title information. You get that information from the abstract, the only means yet devised which reflects the condition of the record title which has everything to do with the question of values. If you buy only good titles based on the abstract you will have few, if any, title problems.
