

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS CONTINUE TO WORK ON BUDGET

The Eastland County Commissioners held a called budget workshop Friday to discuss the operating budget for 1991-92. Final decisions must be made and the County Tax Rate in place by Oct. 1.

The Commissioners appeared favorable to a $25 per month car expense raise for Vernon Walker, Justice of the Peace for Pct. 1 Comm. Richard Robinson said Walker needed extra money to cover additional expenses when he was called out to Ranger or Cisco.

The Commissioners were still undecided on continued funding of the District Attorney Investigator David Ward. Commissioner Reggie Pittman said he understood that the Court had approved the position and not necessarily the individual. The Investigator is paid by a State Grant with the county matching with 25 percent.

One Commissioner said he understood that the Investigator was "causing conflict with law officers around Eastland County." Another said he had heard a different report.

L. T. Owen, Comm. of Pct. 3, said he understood that District Attorney Leslie Vance "would bring us a report showing what he (the Investigator) was doing."

An attempt was made to locate the District Attorney so he could discuss the matter. After failing to locate him, the Commissioners decided to wait until the regular meeting Monday to hear a report from him.

They were reminded that a murder trial gets underway Monday, and the District Attorney would probably be very busy.

There was some discussion of a requested raise in the County Judge's salary. Judge Bailey said that a majority of the Court voted last year that the County Trial Judge's salary should be 80 percent of the District Judges salary.

But since no dollar figure was included, the salary raise did not come through.

Reggie Pittman said he didn't see how the Court could vote for any kind of raise this year. Robinson said he had voted for the 80 percent formula last year but due to the economy and general attitude this year he didn't see how the court could give that salary raise. The other Commissioners agreed.

When someone suggested that Judge Bailey might not want to carry on the Trial Court if he didn't get the raise, the Judge replied that he would "work just as hard with or without it."

On other proposed raises, Attorney Truman Kirk of Cisco spoke in favor of a raise for Sheriff Ronnie White. He said that the Sheriff was honest and capable, and deserved consideration on a salary increase.

Alford Bush, Justice of the Peace for Pct. 2, reminded the Court that J.P.'s had salary problems of their own.

"Eastland's County J.P.'s are paid about half of what other counties pay," he said.

Other highlights of the morning included a report from Calvin Ainsworth, Comm. of Pct. 2, in which he said that an amount should be budgeted each year for the rewiring of the courthouse.

On other matters related to maintenance, Ainsworth said he would like to thank the Eastland Fire Department for work around the Courthouse Square on the painting of stripes of parking spaces thanks also went to City workers who assisted with the painting.

HENNINGTON MURDER TRIAL POSTPONED UNTIL SEPTEMBER 16

Jury selection was completed Monday for the trial of Shirley Hennington in the death of Leslie Renee Roberts of Ranger. The trial was postponed until Monday, September 16.

Bill Dowell, assistant district attorney, will be prosecutor for the State.

Attorney Charles Scarbrough of Abilene will represent the defendant.

Jerry Hennington, husband of the defendant, was previously convicted in 91st District Court on the case. The State will attempt to prove that Mrs. Hennington was also involved in the 1989 murder.

AGREEMENTS AND DISAGREEMENTS AT COUNTY COMMISSIONERS MEETING

Eastland County Commissioners Monday made agreements with Precincts 2 (Ranger), 3 (Rising Star, Carbon, Gorman) and 4 (Cisco) to subsidize Emergency Medical Services for the next fiscal year.

Each Precinct will be given $15,000 for the operation. Final details will be worked out, and the contacts with the Precincts are expected to be signed soon.

Ranger was represented by Delbert Cozart, Cisco by City Manger Mike Moore, and Rising Star by Frances Agnew. The subsidy in Pct. 3 will be equally divided between the Rising Star Volunteer Ambulance and the Gorman and Carbon Fire Departments, Pct. 3 Commissioner L. T. Owen said.

No agreements were reached with Pct. 1 however, where an Ambulance Service is operated out of Eastland Memorial Hospital. Heated words were exchanged, and at the end of a long session District Attorney Leslie Vance was requested to negotiate with Hospital Board Chairman Bill Hoffmann and reach a workable solution.

The City of Eastland and the Hospital Board have already approved a contract to ensure that the ambulance service "breaks even." The City has budgeted up to $18,000 for its half of any possible deficit.

Bill Hoffmann made a formal presentation of this contract to the County Commissioners, stating that this was the same contract the Commissioners had previously agreed to. Nacap on the subsidy is listed in the contract.

"I made it very clear (July 22) that what we were asking for was a break-even contract," Hoffmann said.

Pct. 4 Commissioner Reggie Pittman replied that each contract should be left at $15,000 - the same for each Precinct.

Comm. Pct. 1 Richard Robinson said that the Commissioners thought they had made it clear that the Court was putting a $15,000 cap on the ambulance contract.

Comm. L. T. Owen asked Hoffmann: "Is your contract an open-ended contract?"

Hoffmann answered that the ambulance budget had been pared to the "bare bone."

Robinson told

Hoffmann: "Our legal counsel (District Attorney Leslie Vance) says we're making a mockery of the budget process if we hand you a blank check."

Pct. 2 Commissioner Calvin Ainsworth suggested that Ranger and Cisco Ambulance Services could cover Eastland if a contract isn't signed by Oct. 1.

Doctor Bob Alexander replied that such an arrangement would be "woefully inadequate."

The Commissioners suggested that Eastland Memorial Hospital take the $15,000 budgeted by the County, the $18,000 from the city, and run the service as long as they could with that.

"In an emergency you could always come back and request more funds," several members of the Court said.

"What guarantee do we have that you would be willing to do that?" Hoffmann asked.

Other Hospital and City Representatives stated their feelings on the reliability of the Commissioners Court.

"The City and Hospital works well together, but everything the County does is always negative," the Commissioners were told.

Eastland Mayor C. W. Hoffmann told the Court that the City of Eastland has an attorney and he had no trouble with the contract being presented to the Court.

"This is a money decision, not a legal one," replied District Attorney Leslie Vance. "The $18,000 the City budgeted doesn't mean one thing, with no cap. If it's $400,000 (a deficit) you're liable for it."

Hoffmann told Vance and the Court that what they had essentially done (by not agreeing to the contract) was to require the Hospital to stop the Ambulance Service.

"Well, we catch it no matter what we're doing," Calvin Ainsworth answered.

Richard Robinson said he had "a lot of people jump on me over that proposed tax raise to pay for the $15,000 subsidy."

Both he and Ainsworth stated that people wanted no more taxes, "whether they have an ambulance service or not."

Outside the Court County Auditor Ray Pruitt showed some of his characteristic optimism and perspective.

"I think they (the D.A. and Hoffmann) are going to work something out," he said.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

"Whispers"

When I was a child my family that raised me, Linnie Wheat Aishman lived in Ranger (1931). I have many fond memories of Ranger. I have memories of places I have lived here down through the years. The earliest of these is having lived at Haganam Luke I rode a new school bus to begin my first day of school at Hodges Oak Park, I'm sure others have memories of this old school also. Thinking of these times, I drove by the old school (part of Rangers past) and took a picture of the plaque that dated the schools having been built in 1926. (65 years ago) I drove by again the other day and it was gone. It had been removed. I was saddened. I also took a picture of the back corner of the building where I stood many mornings to stay warm until the school bell rang. I guess I am trying to say, if people want to preserve Rangers past, things like this shouldn't happen. To some, it was just an old building. To me it is a memory of the beginning of a very important part of my life. My first day of school, not to many people are interested in this, but some of us older ones are. They do not seem to listen to Yesterday. They are to caught up in Today. Only some day will they understand when Ranger again presents her history to another generation. Our words will be but, "Whispers."

COUNTY FUNDS NEEDED ON FARM ROAD IMPROVEMENTS

While discussing the County budget at Commissioners Court Monday Judge Scott Bailey called attention to the financing of improvements on the Farm-to-Market road that goes from Eastland to Lake Leon.

The Judge said the 2 1/2 mile project, approved by the State Highway Department, required approx. $200,000 as the County's part.

Funds from the County would be used for purchasing right-of-ways, doing refencing, and the moving of utility lines out of the right-of-way. The money is to be available by May 1992.

"If we don't do something this year we'll lose our funding," the Judge told the Court.

The Commissioners said they might be able to put some money for right-of-ways and fencing in this year's budget.

The roadway being widened is a particularly dangerous stretch about 5 miles southeast of Eastland. The road all the way to Stephenville is considered dangerous.

Low Income Beneficiaries Get Help With Medicare

If you're on Medicare and don't have much income or resources, the Social Security Administration wants to make sure that you know about a program that can save you money. It's called the "Qualified Medicare Beneficiary" program, and it can help pay for your Medicare premiums, deductibles, and coinsurance.

Although a notice was sent to Medicare beneficiaries who are likely to be eligible for this program, recent studies show that a significant number of them have not yet applied and are not receiving the benefit.

If you have not applied for the benefit because you don't have enough information about it, let me explain how you qualify and how the program can benefit you.

First of all, you must be age 65 and older, or disabled, and your income and resources must be low enough for you to get to meet the State requirements for medical assistance or "Medicaid." It is your State Medicaid agency that is required to pay your out-of-pocket Medicaid costs. That agency also must determine if you qualify for the benefit.

The rules may vary from State to State, but in general your total income for calendar year 1991 cannot be higher than the Federal poverty income level of $6,620 for one person and $8,880 for married couple. In addition, you cannot have resources such as bank accounts or stocks and bonds worth more than $4,000 for an individual or $6,000 for a couple.

the $29.90 monthly premium for Medicare medical insurance coverage is taken out of your Social Security check every month. If you qualify, this program will pay that premium for you, as well as some of the other Medicare charges you've been paying up till now.

Money Talk

By Kay Bailey Hutchison

Texas State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison answers questions about personal finance and state government. These questions are compiled from timely issues of concern facing Texas and Texans. Answers, however, are not intended to replace the advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

Q. A friend of mine who is a rancher told me there is a program called "Linked Deposit" that could help me expand my textile manufacturing business. What is this program? I would like to know more about it and how it might benefit my business.

A: In August 1988, Texas voters approved a constitutional amendment authorizing the so-called "Linked Deposit" program. This program is jointly administered by the Texas State Treasury and the Texas Department of Agriculture. The Texas Legislature authorized $5 million of State Treasury deposits to be used to encourage banks to lend money below the U.S. Treasury market rate for eligible agricultural diversification projects. The name "Linked Deposit" comes from the transaction between the lending institutions and the State Treasury. Lending institutions issue loans available through this program to qualified borrowers, and then the State Treasury wires the "Linked Deposit" to the lending institution.

Following a loan review process, a "Linked Deposit" application is completed jointly by the borrower and the lender and then submitted to the Texas Department of Agriculture for approval. Once the State Agriculture Department approves a project, the loan application is submitted to the State Treasury for verification of the depository's status and collateral pledged. The State Treasury's deposit is made to the lender at an interest rate two percentage points under the current U.S. Treasury market rate. The lender can charge the borrower up to six percentage points over the U.S. Treasury's interest rate, or up to four percent over the market rate. The maturity date of the "Linked Deposit" cannot extend past the end of the state's current 2-year budget period, but can be reviewed again and renewed.

The benefits of this program are many, but most importantly, it creates jobs and provides loans for diversifying our state's agricultural industry. By providing these loans, the program strengthens our Texas economy overall. There are several other state loan programs aimed at stimulating economic development and expansion.

For more information on loans that are available, contact the Texas State Treasury, P.O. Box 12608, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Someone Loves You
As we gaze across the valley
And see the wild flowers blooming there
The sun setting in the West
As if an answer to our prayers

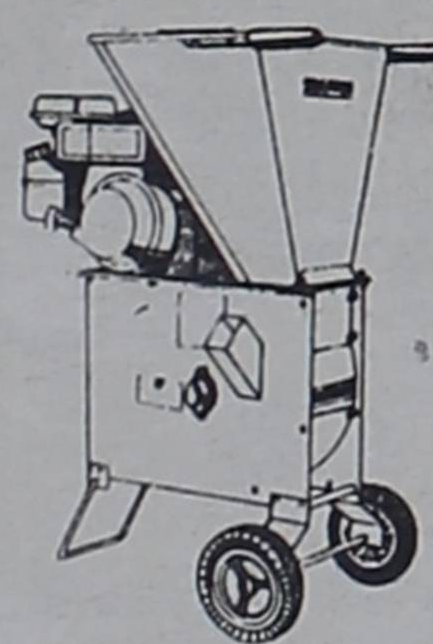

Each hair on your head is counted
And He sees the sparrow fall.
How could we doubt that He knows us
When He loves us one and all.

When sorrow and trouble overtakes you
And you have no place to hide.
There is one who is always near you.
Within His arms you can abide.

So don't say that no one loves you
And this world won't even care
Just trust in the Lord each day
For He's no further away than a prayer

Clues to what killed the dinosaurs

Dating of a giant crater in Siberia supports the belief that massive asteroids crashed to Earth 65 million years ago, causing the dinosaurs' extinction. A competing theory is that volcanic eruptions killed the dinosaurs at about the same time.

DO YOU KNOW?

GIL HINCHLIFFE

"If somebody needs it done, I'll sure give it a shot." That's the reason for the "Helping Hand Special" ad that's been running for months in the Classifieds.

Both Gil's thumbs are green-all the way up to his elbows. The garden he cultivated this year has paid for itself with old standbys, but Gil also grew Chinese cabbages, and his loofah vines are still blooming and putting on "fruit."

Any number of people have received "a little jag" of green or yellow beans, tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, okra or blackeyed peas. Some of them have gathered directly from the garden, but most of them have had the "garden sass" directly from the helping hand.

Gil has processed over four hundred jars of garden produce as well as frozen uncounted pints and quarts for family use. Fall beans are up and tomato plants are set out.

Gil would rather work with mowing yards and tilling gardens, but he says, "Somebody's got to do it" when it comes to cleaning out garages and hauling off junk. Often, he is that somebody.

For one vacationing client, he gathered eggs and milked goats.

Gil likes a good joke and some that aren't so good. He laughed, "Nothing else to do!" when a hard summer rain washed all the top soil off his blackeyed pea patch. They looked funny-pitiful, too, but by the time it was dry enough to cover them up or plow them up, they had rooted and leafed out. "Still getting peas from that patch," says Gil.

There is a problem with being a helping hand: "I'm proud to be a Hinchliffe, but I hate to spell it more'n once! Just make that check out to 'Gil,' please."

For Women

Ruth Stewart, M.Ed.

Q. What are the human qualities than men admire about women?
A. They admire femininity, good health, happiness, and childlikeness.
The human side of a woman fascinates and amuses a man and causes him to want to protect her.
The human side refers to her appearance and manner of actions.
Her femininity, girlishness, joyfulness, vivacity, and dependency upon men help to win a man's heart.

Now an outlaw, Robin Hood (Kevin Costner, r) and his friend Azeem (Morgan Freeman) take refuge in the forest in Warner Bros. epic/adventure, 'Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves'.

'Robin Hood' Begins At Majestic Friday

Robin Hood and his rough, colorful troop have captivated generations with tales of their rugged adventures in England's Sherwood Forest. Now a modern version of this 800-year old legend will show at the Majestic in Eastland.

'Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves', starring Kevin Costner, will begin at the Theatre on Friday, Aug. 30, 7:30 and show each night through Monday, Sept. 2. Tickets will be $3, with the picture rated PG-13.

'Robin Hood' was filmed in England and France, and has the theme of outlaw rebels who stole from the rich and gave to the poor. Fighting to wrest Sherwood Forest and its surrounding lands from the corrupt Sheriff of Nottingham keeps Robin Hood and his loyal band thoroughly occupied.

There are many new and colorful details in this 1991 version of the epic. 'Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves' begins with Robin of Locksley, a young British nobleman who sought adventure abroad in the religious wars of the Crusades, facing death in the dungeon of a foreign land.

Escaping his hideous fate with the help of a Moor named Azeem, he returns to his beloved Eastland Telegram, Ranger Times, Cisco Press, Callahan County Star, The Rising Star Thursday, August 29, 1991

England to find things in sorry shape.

His father has been murdered and he has lost his land and his family's good name. He seeks out Maid Marian, the sister of a friend who died in the Crusades' dungeons. He remembers her as a child, but she has become a beautiful and very independent young woman.

Robin and Azeem take refuge in the dense cover of Sherwood Forest, and Robin forges an army of dispossessed peasants hiding there. They resolve to help Robin rid England of the Sheriff of Nottingham and his mercenaries.

Lots of action in this picture. There is also a recreation of 12th Century England, with much of the filming done in forests near the legendary site of Robin Hood's hide-out. The result is a feeling of realism which seems to last through the whole picture.

Fishing Outdoors

by Terry L. Wilson

COOK 'IN' AT THE CLASSIC

Ken Cook, a former fisheries biologist for the State of Oklahoma, took top honors in the 1991 BASS Masters Classic in Baltimore this past weekend. Ken's 3 day 5 fish each day limit weighed in at 33 pounds 2 ounces. These fish were taken using a spinner bait around grass. The first place finish netted Ken $50,000, but this is only a small piece of the pie. Winning this the super bowl of bassing pros is said to be worth near $1,000,000 in product endorsements over the next couple of years.

Second place finisher Randall Roming brought in 32 pounds 15 ounces using Berkley's 7 inch Power Worms. This netted the hometown favorite $13,000.

The remaining top ten were 3rd Woo Doves, Pa. 32-5, 4th Zell Rowland, Texas 31-8, 6th Mark Davis, Ark. 29-13, 7th Randy Fite, Texas 29-5, 8th Harold Allen, Texas 28-4, 9th Jerry Wagner, Ark. 24-13, 10th Jim Nolan, Ark. 23-11.

Other Texas pros in the 35 man field included 16th Bo Dowden 21-9, 20th Rick Clunn 18-11, 26th Gary Klein 15-5, 27th Tommy Martin 14-4, 32nd Jim Kirkpatrick 13 lbs. and 34th a tough angler anywhere Jay Yelas 12-3.

Area fields will be full this weekend and the skies will be raining shotgun blasts as dove season opens in the Big Country.

There still seems to be some confusion according to the TPWD about daily bag and possession limits for mourning doves and other species.

Ron George, dove program leader for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, said a daily bag limit is defined as, 'the maximum number of the indicated or possessed during the permitted shooting hours in one calendar day.' A possession limit is defined as, 'the maximum number of the indicated species permitted to be possessed by one person when lawfully taken in the United States.'

A person cannot legally shoot a daily bag limit of doves in the morning, then go out in the afternoon and shoot more doves.

Don't forget it is unlawful to shoot and leave birds lay to waste.

New Law Changes In Motor Vehicle Registration Sept. 1

In September, the simple matter of registering a motor vehicle in Texas will become a little more complicated.

The change is a result of insurance reform enacted by the 72nd Legislature.

Beginning Sept. 1, the owner of a motor vehicle must submit current proof of financial responsibility with an application for initial registration, renewal of registration or transfer of registration.

Also for the first time, Texans will have to show proof of insurance to receive or renew their driver's licenses and vehicle inspection stickers. "Many states have found that tying these responsibilities to proof of insurance increases compliance with mandatory liability law," said Arnold Oliver, engineer-director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. "But the Legislature was really responding to public pressure. Insured drivers - that's about 75 percent of us - wanted to tighten enforcement on the other 25 percent."

The most common evidence of financial responsibility is a liability insurance card issued to the policyholder by the insurance company. Examples of other types of acceptable proof include insurance policies and binders, pool coverage documents, certificates of self-insurance, and certificates of bond.

The new law applies to registration handled in person or by mail. The original or a photocopy of the evidence will satisfy the requirement of proof of financial responsibility. All original documentation will be returned.

Questions about proper evidence of financial responsibility for vehicle registration may be directed to your automobile insurance company, your county tax assessor-collector, or to the local Division of Motor Vehicles regional office. For information about driver's licenses and vehicle inspection stickers, contact the Department of Public Safety.

Study On Hearing Loss

Researchers at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston are comparing the two most common types of hearing assist devices to learn better ways of overcoming age-related hearing loss.

"These devices have been tested in patients as they were developed, but we have no scientific evidence comparing their effectiveness in patients," said Dr. James Jerger of Baylor's Huffington Center on Aging.

Two-hundred-eighty study participants will be tested to determine their hearing loss and evaluated using a conventional hearing aid, an assistive listening device and a combination of the two devices.

The five-year study will give researchers a base of information about which technology is best suited for eliminating, background noise, the hearing problem faced most by older people.

"Background noise is the single most common hearing problem among the elderly," said Jerger, a professor of audiology. "The patient has difficulty picking out conversation from other sounds."

Conventional hearing aids can be programmed to lessen the effects of background noise by enhancing certain sound frequencies. Still, some patients complain that conversation is muddled.

With an assistive listening device, the patient places a microphone at the source of the conversation, making background noise less noticeable.

"Attitudes about hearing aid use will also be discussed during the study. Many older people do not want to wear hearing aids because they see them as a sign of senility, or of growing old," Jerger said.

Half of all people older than 60 experience some hearing loss. By age 80, 90 percent of all people will lose some hearing.

We would like to thank our many friends and neighbors for their love and support in the loss of our loved one Lonnie A. Franklin. Words cannot express how much we appreciate the prayers, cards, and letters of inspiration, and phone calls of comforting words to lift our spirits and to those who brought food and sent flowers, plants, and memorials. We would especially like to thank Rev. David Jordan and Rev. Jerry Spur for their ministry and kindness. Each heart was touched by the songs sung by Della Lewis. Thanks to Edwards Funeral Home for their sincere caring in the loss of our loved one.

Immunization Rules Aimed At Better Disease Prevention

The Texas Department of Health (TDH) reminds all parents and school or day care administrators that immunization rules for Texas children recently have been changed. In efforts to stop recent resurgences of so-called childhood diseases, the Texas Board of Health, in both 1990 and 1991, modified existing immunization requirements.

TDH urges parents to ensure that their children's immunization records comply with those rules. Physicians and local health departments can supply detailed information about the requirements. Low-cost or free back-to-school immunizations are offered throughout the year in many Texas communities.

One of the newest immunization rule changes eases restrictions against persons other than a child's parents who seek vaccinations for children in their care. Now, parents and legal guardians may formally delegate authority for signing immunization consent forms to other adults, such as a child's grandparent.

Other recent rule changes include a mandatory second dose of measles vaccine for all Texas school children by age 12. Also, children who are younger than 5 must be vaccinated against Haemophilus influenzae type b (Hib disease), a common cause of meningitis in children, and pertussis (whooping cough).

Wes Hodgson, epidemiology coordinator for the TDH Immunization Division, said, "The continuing measles outbreaks which began in 1988 underscore the tragic results of incomplete vaccinations. In recent years, some parents failed to protect their children against vaccine preventable diseases, while some school and day care operators failed to keep adequate records so that inadequately immunized children went unnoticed. The result has been a growing number of insufficiently immunized children and young adults - all of whom are now vulnerable to infection."

Hodgson said that state law requires all children entering Texas schools or day care to show proof of immunizations at certain ages against polio, tetanus, measles, rubella (German or three-day measles), mumps and diphtheria. Younger children must also give proof of immunity to whooping cough and Hib disease.

"The law allows for some exceptions to these requirements," Hodgson added, "but each case must be considered individually."

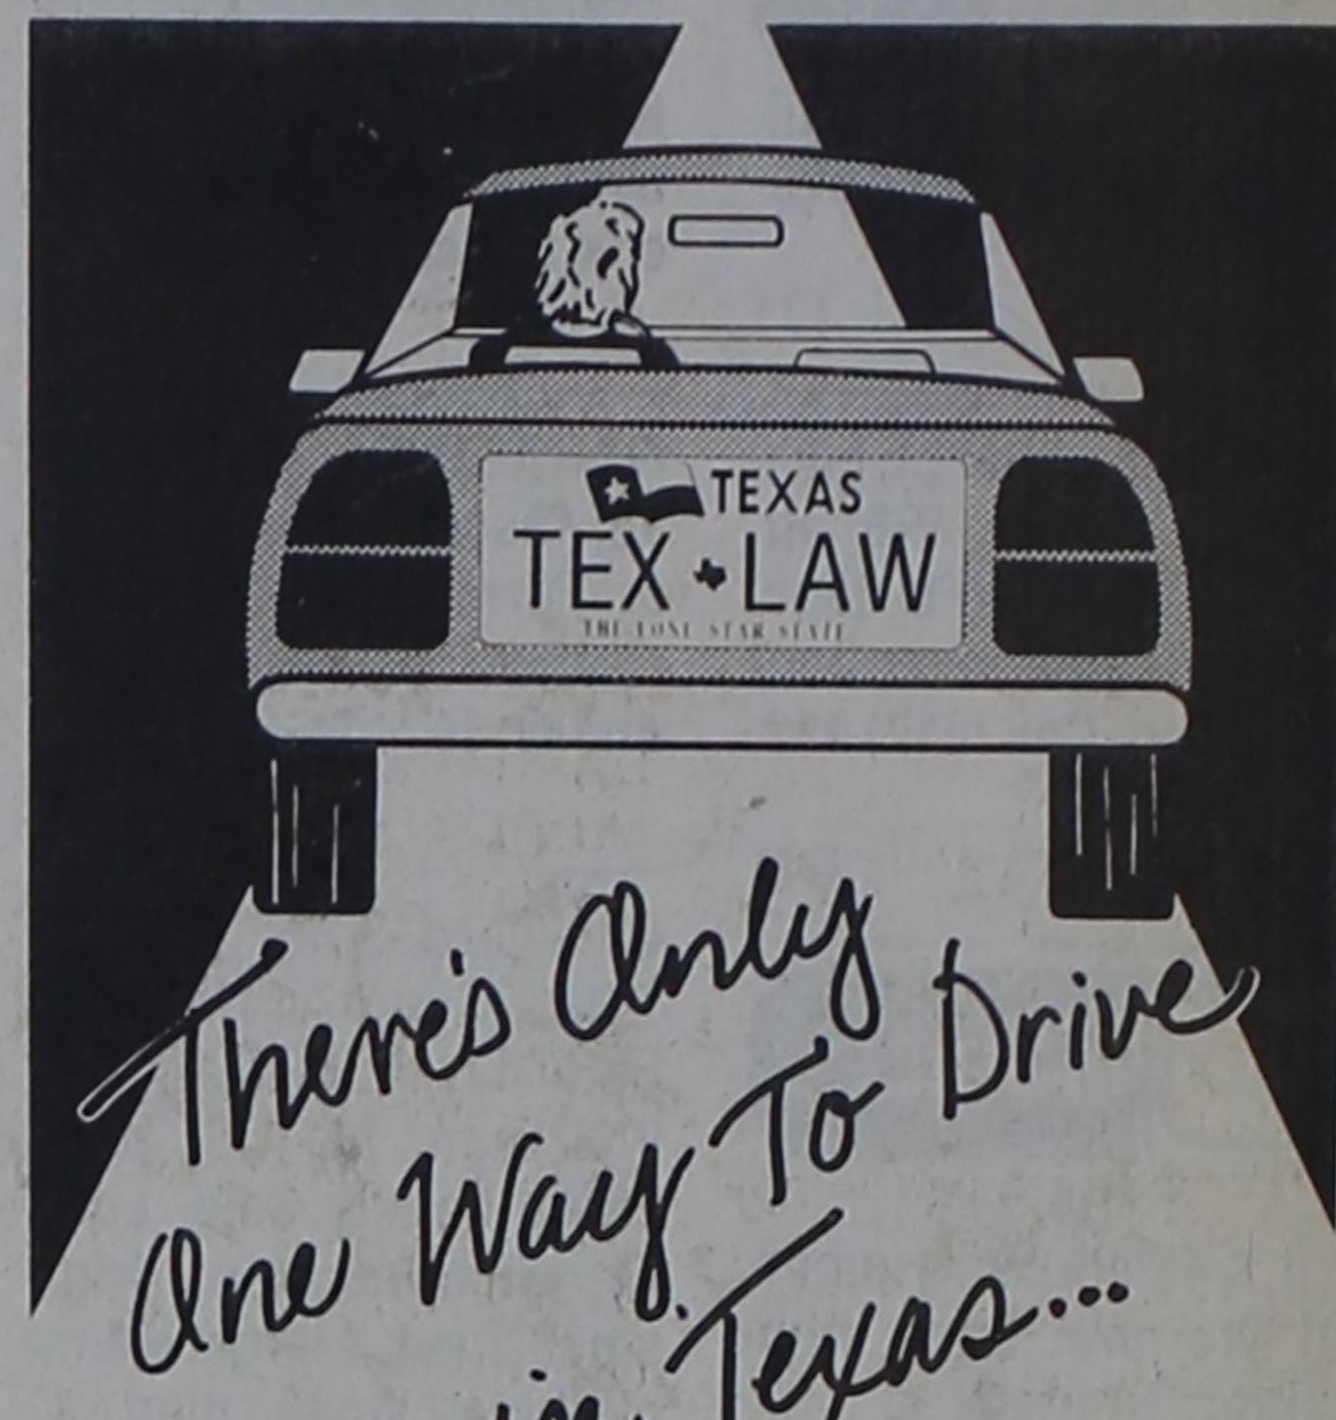

He stressed that since a child's age and medical history are factors in which vaccines and "boosters" the child needs, parents should consult their family physicians about the required immunizations for each child.

Hodgson said that, beginning in 1992, college students enrolled in health related courses, and medical or dental schools will be required to have certain immunizations against rubella, mumps, measles, tetanus, diphtheria and hepatitis B. Veterinary students will need current vaccinations against rabies.

Two Countians On Brazil Trip

Ten tall Texans went to Macapa, Brazil this summer, made at least 163 visits, left 99 new Christian commitments, 30 commitments, eight ceiling fans and large chunks of their hearts with the people there.

The four teams of missionaries included volunteers under the Double Mountain Baptist Association sponsorship with six from the area, two from Kingsville, and Price Rose of Eastland and Vernon Orr of Cisco.

PRICE ROSE

Rose, a county native and retired electrical engineer, is no stranger to foreign travel, and as a layman, has witnessed far and wide.

He is the son of the late George P. Rose, and his mother now lives in Olden. He worked full-time and graduated from Ranger schools and Ranger Junior College, joining Texas Electric Service Co., before being drafted in 1953. After service, he earned his bachelors and masters in electric engineering from Texas A & M, before joining Chevron in New Orleans (which his wife calls their first foreign assignment.) They later lived in Indonesia, for some eight years, where their three children graduated from high school at Singapore American School, and later went to Saudi Arabia for some six years, returning home in 1985 to retire when they bought the Judge Rawleigh Brown home at Lake Leon.

He was called back for electrical consulting work on three different occasions in 1988, serving each time Kuwait.

In Brazil the volunteers worked with Southern Baptist missionaries and local, native pastors and evangelists. (And Mr. Rose's description of how he, who speaks no Portuguese, and his interpreter, who spoke no English, were able to convey the basic message to the native, many of whom could not read the native language, is an exciting story within itself.

Mike Smith of Stamford was team leader and others included Mike Bradford of Abilene, Matt Harrington of Knox City, James Sinclair of Haskell, Willie Smith of Anson, Isaac and Norma Torres of Kingsville and Lee Welch of Anson.

The ceiling fans? Just a unique gesture that will help remind the natives there for ever of the Texans who brought cooling fans for the churches.

A hit with all was the ingenious, improvised on-off switch that the clever, engineering Aggie whittled, jerry-rigged and devised out of boards, wire and hand-carved knob.

The accompanying story is Mr. Rose's account of the exciting endeavor.

PARTNERSHIP MISSION

JUNE 9-19, 1991

By Price Rose

The eight of us were ready to depart the Abilene airport at 6:15 a.m. on Sunday, June 9th. The crew was ready. The bags were all loaded (complete with one ceiling fan per person). This phase of the "Partnership Mission" by Double Mountain Baptist Area (Cisco and Erath Baptist Associations), Southern Baptist Missionaries in Brazil, the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and Brazilian Baptist was underway.

We boarded on schedule, taxied a very small circle and stopped. The plane wasn't ready! It had a hydraulic problem, so we got off the plane to wait. It was a long way to Macapa, Amapa, Brazil, via Dallas-Ft. Worth, Miami, and Belem, Brazil, and we were still grounded in Abilene, Texas!

Another plane was made available and we soon departed. Though hardly more than an hour behind schedule, we were late enough to miss our connecting flight in Dallas. No Problem! There were other flights to Miami. The problem might be, would we get to Miami in time to connect with the only flight that day (that week?) to Belem, Brazil? And, what about that other couple from Kingsville that was to meet us in Dallas and go with us to Brazil?

Not to worry!! There were a few anxious moments, but we arrived in Belem only a few minutes after the scheduled time - midnight. The flights were comfortable, the service was good; we were well fed - and the couple from Kingsville was with us. The trip wasn't over, however! The long line to the Immigration Service window moved slowly. Even at 1:00 a.m. it was hot! Three of us cleared the Customs Service Checks rather promptly. We waited outside the terminal for the rest of our group to make their way through the various formalities. (We had considerable time to visit with the three Missionaries there to meet us. It does take time for only three customs agents to look in every bag of every person coming off more than one big plane!) At least it was cooler outside where we waited!

We took a long bus ride to a hotel, had a very short sleep and another bus ride, back to the airport by 6 a.m. (the same day, Monday!!!). Two of the Missionaries who met us on our way in, Randy Pegues and Don McNeal, came to accompany us (after a short night for them, also.) They served as our interpreters during all of our stay in Brazil. The 7:10 AM flight from Belem to Macapa took less than an hour. We could easily see from the air as we approached Macapa - this was not like West Texas! For one thing, their creeks are bigger!! There was muddy water covering a lot of what could be seen from the air. The muddy water was the mighty Amazon River flowing North to the ocean.

The one resident Southern Baptist Missionary in Macapa, Ken Overton, and numerous local Baptist Church members met us at the airport. It was hot there, too, even at 8:00 o'clock in the morning. The short tide from the airport to the only International quality hotel in town revealed some more differences from "back home." The bus was not air conditioned, and the humidity was much higher. The streets that were paved were filled with potholes, and not nearly all streets were paved. Most of the houses we passed were very small. Many of them were less than what we might call temporary shacks. Most cars and trucks looked old.

"Big Cars" were rarely seen. Lots of people walked or rode bicycles wherever they went, even in that heat! There were city buses rumbling down some streets fairly frequently. They looked old and well used, too.

Our first day in Macapa was about half gone by the time we settled into our hotel rooms after having a very late breakfast at the hotel dining room. After the first day and half of our trip most everyone was ready to nap until a 3:00 p.m. meeting with Missionaries and local Baptist leaders. The meeting included some orientation for us by the missionaries, dividing us into teams for our time there, and some specific planning by these teams for what we would try to accomplish. Later we all went to the First Baptist Church of Macapa for a night Service. It was a night to remember!

Just when most everyone was dressing to go to the service that night, the electricity went off all over the city. (It was very dark in those hotel rooms, but most of us had flashlights and short hair, so we could manage quite well.) Several of the group called for a taxi to take them to the service. Others of us decided to walk the dark streets to the church house since we were told it was "only a short distance." (It was more like a mile!)

By hurrying we arrived, all hot and sweaty, at 8:00 p.m. when the service was to start. The flashlights had again come in handy, to help miss the ditches, pot holes and debris along the way. Though there was some delay until the lights (and fans!!) were on, it was a great prayer, praise and singing service and a good time of fellowship with new found Christian friends. The fact that we knew little or no Portuguese, and most of them knew little or no English, only slowed us down a little! Those in

ANNIVERSARY

Edwards Celebrate 50th Anniversary

John and Vernell Edwards will be honored with a reception in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary at Northside Baptist Church, Abilene on Saturday, Aug 31 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Hosted by their daughters, Peggy Shell of Dallas and Diann Murphy and daughter, M'Lissa Carey of Baytown.

They were married Sept. 2, 1941 in Baird, Texas by Rev. A. A. Davis. John is a native of Abilene, Vernell is from Carbon.

They have six grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren.

John is retired from Oil Transport, Co.

Engagement

Bulgerin - Hurst

Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Bulgerin of Eastland announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Claudia Diane of Lubbock to Roy Neal Hurst of Weatherford. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders of Hamilton.

Wedding vows will be exchanged at seven o'clock on Saturday, November 30, 1991 at First United Methodist Church of Eastland.

our group who spoke Spanish had a decided advantage, however.

The walk back to the hotel was more enjoyable. It was some cooler and we were in no hurry. There were some lights along the way, too. Some of us even continued walking, out onto a pier just across the street from the hotel. More surprises there. For me at least! The water that had been splashing against the sea wall earlier was gone! The boats tied up to the sea wall, and for some distance out along the pier, were sitting in mud - the tide was "out!" I had no idea there would be so much change in the level of the river (six to eight feet) due to tidal action. The next day I was again surprised to see the amount of "greenery" that showed when the tide was "out," but was completely submerged when the tide was "in."

Tuesday, our "manual" labor started. We were scheduled to work from about 8:00 to 11:00 AM each day (while it was cool??). That first day, and again on Wednesday, the entire group went to the Jardim Felicidade (Happy Garden) Mission site (except for Don McNeal who became ill). We were to work on installing "windows" so the building would be "secure" enough for us to install the ceiling fans we brought with us. As expected, not everything went as expected, but good progress was made at that site anyway.

August And September Are Designated As National Pediculosis Prevention Months

Head lice is the most widespread communicable childhood disease, second only to the common cold.

A dermatologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston warns that parents should look for signs of head lice (pediculosis) as the new school year begins.

"School-aged children have a higher incidence of head lice because they come in close contact with each other daily," said Dr. John E. Wolf Jr., professor and chairman of dermatology. "Parents may keep their child clean, however good personal hygiene does not prevent the spread of lice. Also, head lice can appear in anyone regardless of socioeconomic class."

Lice are small, six-legged insects that feed on humans by sucking blood from the scalp. An adult female louse lays up to 10 eggs, or nits, daily. The nits latch onto hairs near the scalp, the back of the head, behind the ears and the eyebrows.

According to the National Pediculosis Association, an estimated 6 to 12 million Americans transmit head lice annually through body contact, infested clothing, combs, hairbrushes and furniture.

Children with head lice suffer intense itching, often leading to inflammation and infection of the skin. Nits can survive for several months depending on the extent of the infestation.

Wolf suggests using pesticide-based shampoos equipped with a special comb to remove dead lice and nits. Although they are generally considered safe, Wolf said infants, children with allergies and scalp infections, pregnant women and nursing mothers should see a doctor before using such products.

Wolf recommends that parents of children with head lice notify the school or childcare center immediately.

"Prevention is impossible once the child has been exposed to lice," he said. "Alerting them immediately may protect other children and save everyone the anxiety."

He offers these steps to avoid lice:

- Watch for signs of head lice, particularly frequent scratching.
- Use natural light and a magnifying glass when examining the child's hair.

- Wash sheets and recently worn clothes in hot water and dry on the hot cycle. Combs and brushes used on lice-infested hair should be soaked in hot water to kill any attached eggs.
- Vacuum beds, rugs, furniture and stuffed animals which may serve as a head lice haven. Do not use insecticidal sprays, which may harm family members and pets.

- Discourage children from sharing hats, clothes and grooming aids.

For more information on head lice, write the National Pediculosis Association, P.O. Box 149, Newton, Mass. 02461 or call (817) 449-NITS.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

State workers ardent hopes for a three percent pay raise next month were dashed last week, when the state's chief revenue estimator said funds for the raise will be unavailable when the new budget year begins Sept. 1.

The Texas Legislature approved a three percent raise for state workers for each of the next two years but made the raise contingent upon Comptroller John Sharp certifying that the money will be available.

Scrambling for Money

Tom Plaut, Sharp's chief revenue estimator, said he and others are scrambling to find enough revenue just to certify the $59.1 billion spending bill without the pay raise.

"We're fresh out of money," Plaut said. It would cost about $385 million to give workers a three percent raise for the next fiscal year and $584 million to fund the raise for the next two years.

Reacting to the news, spokesmen for employee groups expressed outrage, but pointed their fingers at the Texas Legislature, not at Sharp.

The comptroller does not write the laws and he doesn't pass the taxes, said Lane Zivley, executive director of the Texas

Public Employees Association.

Judge Nixes Districts

In a move that could further complicate the current special session, a state district judge ruled last week that recently adopted legislative districts and congressional and board of education districts being mapped by the Texas Legislature are invalid because they are based on inadequate federal census figures.

Judge Mario E. Ramirez Jr. of Edinburg issued a temporary injunction that prevents lawmakers from using 1990 census figures to draw political boundaries. He ordered state officials to develop their own census figures and use them to draw new districts by Sept. 30.

Attorneys for several South Texas residents, who filed a suit against the state because they were not counted in the census had asked Ramirez to issue the preliminary injunction to force legislators to create new political boundaries. The lawsuit is set for trial Oct. 1.

Attorney General Dan Morales said he will appeal the decision either to the 13th Court of Appeals in Corpus Christi or the Texas Supreme Court.

That will stay the court's order while the appeal is pending, Morales said.

House Okays Redistricting

Meanwhile, the House last week narrowly passed a congressional redistricting plan, over the objection of most of its Republican members and a handful of white and black Democrats.

The vote of 74-65 differed only slightly from the 72-63 vote by which the House passed a similar plan Aug. 7, during the first special session. That plan died when the Senate failed to act on it before the 30-day session expired on Aug. 13.

As expected, the plan maintains safe districts for Texas' 27 incumbent congressmen while creating three new districts in the Dallas, Houston and San Antonio areas that are predominately minority residents.

Rep. Tom Uher, D-Bay City, chairman of the House Redistricting Committee, said the preservation of incumbents is necessary to maintain Texas' clout in Congress.

But House Republicans blasted the plan which protects Democrats and ignores population growth in GOP strongholds.

"It looks like the birthmark on Mikhail Gorbachev's scalp," said Rep. Randy Pennington, R-Houston. "Really, this is silly because it's going to the courts."

"No" to Ethics on Agenda

Gov. Ann Richards said she is reluctant to add ethics legislation to the special session agenda, even if the bill is a non-controversial one to fix technical glitches.

"We made an agreement

Cooked Whole Wheat Will Stretch Your Budget

Cooked whole wheat isn't just for breakfast! It's not just for health nuts, (with legislative leaders). This is going to be a short session," Richards told reporters.

She said her staff is reviewing mistakes in the much criticized ethics bill passed in May and government reorganization legislation passed in a special session earlier this month.

But she said she is trying to avoid adding anything else to the agenda unless it is absolutely necessary.

"Once you start opening a call to one issue, the list is 200 to 300, and they are all very worthy," Richards said.

$700 Million Balance

Texas will end the 1991 fiscal year on Aug. 31 with a cash balance of about $700 million, Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison reported last week.

"This $700 million cash balance estimate is great news for Texas taxpayers, Hutchison said. She said the surplus is due to steady growth in the state's economy.

Other Highlights

- State Rep. Curtis Soileau, D-Lubbock, announced between special sessions that he won't seek re-election. The Beaumont attorney said too many special sessions keep him away from his family and "I don't want to be a part-time Dad."
- Money Magazine named five Texas cities in its first 20 best cities to live in, and put 24 Texas cities on its list of 300. The ranking had Bryan-College Station in 3rd place; Lubbock, 5th; Austin, 9th; Galveston-Texas City, 13th; and Waco, 17th.

either. This nutritious grain makes a tasty and thrifty extender in your favorite recipes.

Just cook the wheat ahead of time and store it in the refrigerator. It can then be used as needed in soups, chowders, chili, sloppy joes, spaghetti sauce, pizza, lasagna, meat loaf and hamburgers.

In soup or stew, add cooked wheat to taste, in the same way you would add barley to your soup stock. To make hamburger go further, add a half a cup of cooked wheat to each pound of meat. If you like, use more wheat to stretch the meat even more.

But before you can experiment with adding cooked wheat kernels to your recipes, you need to know how to prepare it correctly. Instructions for five alternate cooking methods were cited in the August 1991 issue of The Ensun magazine, a publication of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

STEAMED WHOLE WHEAT. In a large casserole dish, combine 1 cup of clean whole wheat with 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt and 2 cups water. Place the uncovered dish on a rack in a steamer or a deep kettle and fill the bottom of the kettle with water to within 1 inch of the top of the dish.

Put a tight-fitting lid on the kettle or steamer and bring the water to a full rolling boil, then continue boiling for about 15 minutes. Reduce the heat to its lowest setting and cook the wheat for 10 to 12 hours or overnight. Each cup of wheat yields about 3 cups of cooked wheat.

DOUBLE BOILER METHOD. In the top of a double boiler, combine 2 cups water and 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to a rolling boil. Add 1 cup of clean whole wheat and stir the mixture until the water comes to a boil again. Cover the pan and place it over the bottom part of a double boiler in which you have poured hot water. Cook over low heat for 4 to 6 hours or until the wheat is tender.

DIRECT HEAT METHOD. In a large saucepan, measure 3 cups water and 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to a rolling boil and stir in 1 cup clean whole wheat. Cook for 2 or 3 minutes, then turn heat down to the lowest setting. Cover the pan and cook for 25 to 30 minutes or until wheat is tender.

THERMOS METHOD. In a large kettle, combine 3 cups water and 1/2 to 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to a rolling boil. Stir in 1 cup clean whole wheat. Bring to a boil and boil for 2 or 3 minutes. Pour mixture into a 1-quart thermos, which you have preheated by pouring in warm water. Leave enough space at the top to allow for the wheat to expand. Seal and let stand overnight.

OVERNIGHT METHOD. Bring 2 cups water and 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon salt to a rolling boil. Stir in 1 cup wheat and bring to a boil again. Immediately lower heat to its lowest setting, then cover the pan and allow the wheat to soak for at least 8 hours.

If you do not plan to use the cooked wheat immediately, it can be safely stored in a sealed container in the refrigerator for up to one week.

TX NOTICE INFO-237 NO FINAL DEFICIENCY PAYMENTS FOR WHEAT, BARLEY, OATS

Market prices on 1990-crop wheat, barley and oats exceeded the basic loan rates for these crops and no final payments, also known as Findley payments, will be made, according to Jerry Harris, Chairman of the Texas State ASC Committee.

The basic loan rates were $2.44 per bushel for wheat, $1.60 for barley and $1.01 per bushel for oats. The national average prices received by producers from June 1990 through May 1991 were $2.61 per bushel for wheat, 2.14 for barley and $1.14 per bushel for oats. "Because market prices were higher than the basic loan rate, no final payments were earned," Harris said.

He explained that the announced loan rate is set lower than basic loan rate in order to maintain domestic and export markets. "Findley" payments are made when the 12-month national weighted average market price is less than the basic loan rate.

LABOR DAY WEEKEND

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Public Safety estimates that as many as 31 persons could lose their lives on the state's Roadways during the upcoming 78-hour Labor Day holiday period. "Labor Day is the last holiday of summer and we want them to be around for future holidays," said DPS Assistant Director Lt. Colonel James R. Wilson. "The way to have a safe Labor Day on the roadway is to avoid drinking and driving, drive inside the speed limits and wear your safety belt."

Last year, 33 persons died during the 78-hour Labor Day holiday, with late-reported deaths and deaths due to injuries bringing the final count to 40. Of those deaths, 25 (63 percent) were attributed to either excessive speed or DWI, Wilson said.

This year's Labor Day period, designated by the National Safety Council, is from 6 p.m. Friday, August 30 to midnight Monday, September 2.

"As part of our Operation Motorcade program, we will have all available Troopers on the roadways over the Labor Day weekend to assist motorists and to try to hold down the traffic violations that can lead to fatal accidents," Wilson said.

One of the violations Troopers will be keeping an eye out for is failure to wear a safety belt or use a child restraint. Last year, of the 32 fatalities in which seat belts could have made a difference, 88 percent of those killed were not restrained, according to the DPS Statistical Services Section.

"If you do need help this Labor Day, or any time you are traveling in rural areas of the state, please remember the DPS maintains a toll-free telephone number — 1-800-525-5555," Wilson said. "Use this number to report accidents, road hazards, suspected drunk drivers or other emergencies."

Periodically throughout the Labor Day holiday, the DPS will be reporting on the number of traffic fatalities occurring across the state.

"We never make these fatality estimates to show how accurate we can be," Wilson said. "We always hope the estimate is high. The more wrong we are, in this case, the more pleased I'll be. Please drive carefully."

Each year, Texas experiences a cash flow imbalance because the state spends more money early in the fiscal year than it does later in the year, Mrs. Hutchison explained. Revenue collection, however, is greater later in the fiscal year than it is early in the fiscal year, she said.

In 1986, the Texas Legislature authorized the State Treasury to issue cash management notes for short-term, borrowing purposes. Since that time, the state's cash management note programs have ranged from $450 million in 1988 to a record $1.25 billion in 1987.

ANCE — The Texas Cash Management Note Committee Wednesday authorized State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison to issue up to $1.5 billion in notes over the next two years.

USDA ANNOUNCES FINAL RULES FOR PEANUT PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—Final rules of the peanut program for the 1991-1995 crops of peanuts were announced today by the U.S. Department of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The rules carry out the peanut program provisions of the Food, Agriculture, Conservation and Trade Act of 1990.

The interim rules published in the Federal Register on April 19, were adopted with the following changes:

—"Considered produced" credit will not be granted for a peanut poundage quota that is transferred to another farm under a "fall transfer" provision.

—The basis for determining quota priority counties in Texas has been changed so that the county's quota comparison for 1989 will be made using basic quota rather than effective quota. As a result, Bailey and Hidalgo Counties have been added to the list of eligible farms may, if they had a 1990 quota, retain their eligibility after a farm reconstitution if the new farm does not include any part of a farm that did not meet this requirement.

—Loan pool profits in either the bright hull pool or the dark hull pool for Valencia peanuts produced in New Mexico will not be used to offset any losses other than losses for New Mexico Valencia peanuts of the same hull category. Also, profits in other loan pools will not be used to offset losses in any loan pool for Valencia peanuts produced in New Mexico.

—For contracts between producers and handlers for the purchase of 1991-crop additional peanuts for exporting or crushing, the contract may be filed on a form other than the standard form prescribed by USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation. However, in order for the contract to be approved by the county ASC committee, the contract must contain the elements prescribed by the peanut regulations.

The final rule for the 1991 crop says that CCC will not require producers to satisfy the producer's contracts for additional peanuts before making peanuts available for use as "buybacks." The rule also maintains the prohibition against the granting of export credit for peanut products made from contract additional peanuts and exported to Canada or Mexico. However, further public comment will be solicited on these provisions for the 1991 through 1995 crops at a later date.

The final rule appeared in the Aug. 13 Federal Register.

CASH MANAGEMENT NOTE COMMITTEE AUTHORIZES ISSUANCE OF UP TO $1.5 BILLION IN NOTES, KAY BAILEY HUTCHISON SAYS

AUSTIN — The Texas Cash Management Note Committee Wednesday authorized State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison to issue up to $1.5 billion in notes over the next two years.

"In no way is this note issuance a reflection on the state of the Texas economy," Mrs. Hutchison explained. "Rather, it's a method of correcting a cash flow imbalance in the state's General Revenue Fund."

In a related development, Mrs. Hutchison told fellow members of the Cash Management Note Committee at a meeting on Wednesday that she expects the state to end the current fiscal year on Aug. 31, 1991 with a cash balance of about $700 million.

"This $700 million cash balance estimate is great news for Texas taxpayers," said Mrs. Hutchison, Texas' chief investments officer. "It is the result of steady growth in the economy and provides state government with a cushion as it begins a new fiscal year."
