of my school days at Ole' Opra on the Radio, that was a real treat for all of us. All of this is part of my memories of Hodge's Oak Park, like Fannie Dale Swaney was my best friend in the first grade and she would invite me to her house for tea parties. Mrs. Swaney would prepare cookies and sandwiches for us. She would give me dresses, Fannie's dresses were so pretty and Ijust loved them. So many memories.....

I was brought up in a Christian home and always shown that we should respect those that are in authority, well it is hard to have respect for the authority of our City Hall. For instance, over a year ago, after the body of Leslie Roberts was found on the Lover's Lane, it was voted to close that road, with a gate at either end of it. This was to be done immediately, well immeand you can bet that the diately has passed and it still is not closed off. know for a fact that a friend of mine donated one gate to the City for this purpose, so that they would come out to his house and get it. MOST IMPOSING of the many re-constructions at Williamsburg is the Governor's Palace, residence for seven royal governors and the first two governors of the Commonwealth of Virginia--Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson. Within its walls are a stable, kitchen, gardens and a privy.

This first was a Colony, and the crown exhorted (repeatedly) the General Assembly to build a home and 3,000 pounds was voted and work begun in 1706, and proceeded slowly, and when Gov. Alexander Spotswood arrived in 1710, it was little more than enclosed shell. He pushed for and got additional legislation to "render the new House Convenient as well as Ornamental." Ornamental, it is, today. A local said in 1711 that he saw a magnificent display of weapons in the entrance hall "nicely posited," by the ingenious contrivance of Col. Spotswood. They're there today "to display strength."

Spotswood moved in, in 1716 and work continued for six more years, and after work on the gardens, a canal, members of the Assembly finally expressed alarm at the expenditures being spent for refinements. "In - disgust, Spotswood removed himself entirely from any further involvement with the house and the grounds," you wonder today, surely the of revolt included those planted in the dispute over how grand the governor's (a representative of the crown) home should be.

The house was completed in '22, fallen into "runinous condition" by '51 and Gov. Dinwiddie moved next door. Reconstruction and the addition of "grand rooms" for was carried entertaining out in the mid-'50s. Gov. Berkeley redecoration thorough launched in '68, and with the coming of the Revolution, Virginia's last royal governor, John Murray, fourth Earl of Dunmore, fled Williamsburg. Later when Jefferson lived there, he drew some plans for the remodeling of the Palace, but they were never carried out because the seat of government and governor's residence moved to Richmond in 1780. The vacant Palace was used as a hospital following the siege of Yorktown and the orchard by the canal became burial ground for 156 American soldiers The building burned to the ground on Dec. 22, 1781.

Judging from the material today, the activities of these "great Houses" were patterned, as much as posible, after the royal gatherings of Europe, in which the elegantly-furnished rooms became a stage on which the governor and his guests acted out the latest forms of etiquette and displayed themselves as being in world's the with fashionable and civilized manners and conversation. A dance (or routs) in one room, refreshments in an adjoining "supper room," with open doors to the gardens, which even feature a maze for amusement. on business, visitors would be screened at the entry, and admitted to the or indirectly directly governor, either in his bedroom, private dining room or private libary. The elegance of the governor's residence did not just happen; it was the product of hard work by many servants butlers, footmen, cooks, laundresses, maids, gardners, grooms, and laborers. The kitchen, scullery and laundry, along with other support buildings involved in the task of maintaining the household, are in the west yard. Of special interest "bagnio" or hexagonal bathhouse, a luxury rarely found elsewhere in Virginia.

All who called the Palace home were not without merit. Gov. Fauquier is credited with directing the attention of the burgesses to the need for better care of "Persons who are so unhappy as to be deprived their reason." The General Assembly responded and opened in 1773 the earliest facility in North America devoted entirely to the care and treatment of the mentally ill. The restored hospital is now the entry to the excellent DeWitt Wallace Decorative Arts Gallery to be detailed later.

Nutrition Program

The other day we had a gram. The Senior Center circular come across our desk, had some interesting things in it. The question was asked "Is margarine always better for you than butter?" According to these researchers this is not necessarily true since margarine vegetable oils are altered by the process of hydrogenation: The fatty acids are solified, as well as processed foods containing hydrogenated you would be right back to where you would be if you ate butter. If you follow a lot of fat diet, it is ok to eat small amounts of butter, margarine and other high fat foods so long as you keep your total fat consumption within recommended limits.

BREAST CANCER DETECTION UNIT AVAILABLE TO AREA WOMEN

Monday, October 7 Eastland Memorial Hospital 304 S. Daugherty Eastland, TX

CALL 629-2601 FOR APPOINTMENT

A Service of Transamerican Diagnostic Services (Providing Mammography Services for over 5 years)

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast can-

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

I. 35-40 years of age One baseline mammogram

40-50 years of age -A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and

III. 50 years of age and over -An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.

IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental xrays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $60.00 The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

Pharmacy Topics By Bob Mueller

There's a mini baby boom going on in the United States, with more than 4 million births estimated for last year, the biggest number since 1964. One reason is that the babies of the last baby boom are now of child-bearing age.

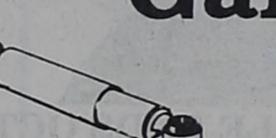

Research in Zurich, Switzerland indicates a correlation between migraine and depression. Usual route, say the scientists, seems to be anxiety disorders in the young teens, then migraine, then depression.

Though it's mostly female teens who are deficient in iron, Physician and Sportsmedicine magazine reports that many young males may also be low in iron, limiting energy and sports performance. Puberty and strenuous exercise may cause the deficiency. Tetanus most often develops not from the proverbial rusty nail, but from minor household injuries. Doctors recommend everyone be immunized against tetanus, with a booster shot every 10 years.

You'll always get good health advice from the pharmacist at Wal-Mart Pharmacy, Hwy. 80 East, Eastland, 629-3347. Make us your health and beauty headquarters.

Social Security Representative To Be In Eastland October 1

Representatives of Social Security will travel to the Park Hill Senior Citizen Center in Eastland on Tuesday, October 1, 1991 at 9:30

The budget crisis has affected the social security administration in several ways. One of these is that we have less money to pay travel expenses. So, we have had to reduce our travel schedule.

We regret the inconvenience and will resume our normal travel schedule when, and if, funds are made available.

County Extension Homemakers Clubs Represented At TEHA

Eastland County Exension Homemakers Clubs were represented at the annual TEHA State Convention in Austin, September 8-10, by delegates Gerry Zummer of Morton Valley, Sheila Boyd of The Pleasant Hill Club, Dois Hodges of The

Olden Club. Others attending from Eastland County were Ardythe Caldwell from The Morton Valley

Upon their arrival at the beautiful DoubleTree Hotel, members and guests were greeted in the registration area by the TEHA State Board. Sunday afternoon's options included exciting tours in the Austin area, the capitol and governor's mansion or viewing the convention's trade show and other pre-convention activities.

An uplifting and inspirational mini-concert by contemporary Christian recording artist Tammy Hays of Georgetown set the tone for the opening ceremonies on Sunday night, September 8th. In addition, special awards were presented for member's individual accomplishments as well as awards to outstand:ing counties and districts.

Among the 75 TEHA Members recognized for 50 years service was Dora Schaefer of The Pleasant Hill Club of Eastland County.

On Monday morning,

the delegates received training on their duties and responsibilities while at the convention and upon their return home. At the general session which followed, keynote speaker Carolyn Corbin spoke on "Choosing the Future."

On Monday afternoon, ten mini-workshops presented information specifically dealing with the state organization and its members, including TEHA's statewide Literacy initiative. At Monday evening's session, director's from TEHA's fourteen districts reported on educational programs and activities that had been conducted by their counties in a delightful skit entitled, "Steel Begonias." Keynote speaker, Darlene Brannon immediate past President of Tennessee Extension Homemakers, spoke on "Hats Off To TEHA."

On Tuesday morning, six major workshops were conducted by the state education committee chairmen. They dealt with timely issues that face families and communities across the state. Delegates received information and materials that will assist them in presenting programs in their clubs and counties during the coming year.

Fire Prevention Week To Be Observed In County Oct. 6-12

The Eastland County Farm Bureau, in conjunction with all fire departments in the county are working together to emphasize fire prevention and protection throughout the county.

Fire Prevention Week is always the Sundaythrough-Saturday period in which falls October 9, date of the Great Chicago

This year's exciting state convention, which saw 951 people in attendance, closed with Tuesday evening's banquet, installation of officers and entertainment presented by #l, The Bastrop Community Senior Center #2, The Lady Singers #3, The Men Singers #4, The Dancing Dollies.

County Farm Bureau said, "Fire is both friend and foe. We can't live without it, but its destructive power is a threat we must control." Protect yourself by keeping fire a friend: *Regularly inspect your house and out-buildings for fire hazards. Check the electrical system, electrical appliances and equipment, fuel storage, heaters and heating system. Make needed repairs or replacements without delay. Don't overload circuits or bypass fusing.

* Remove trash, stacks of papers and other unneeded combustibles that could feed a fire.

* Read and follow instructions with portable heaters. Place them where they won't ignite com; bustibles or be tipped over. Never use gasoline in a kerosene heater, and make certain gasoline and kerosene containers are clearly marked to avoid a mix-up. Never use a kerosene or gas-fired heater in a closed area - have ample ventilation.

* Check your heating system prior to the heating season. Install and use wood-burning stoves as directed in the manuals or other literature. Screen fireplaces. Keep chimneys and flues free of obstructions and creosote buildup.

* Keep matches and lighters out of children's

* Don't smoke in bed nor when drowsy. Don't smoke when using flammable materials nor in places that have readily combustible materials such as hay, straw, dry weeds, grain dust, etc. Store flammable liquids in well-marked, closed containers. Make sure your cigarette or match is "out" before discarding.

* Be prepared for fire should it strike. Have operating smoke detectors and fire extinguishers. Develop and practice a home fire escape plan. Teach children how to call for help. Have a water supply available to fight

* Choose and regularly inspect fire extinguishers that are the right size and type for the fires that might occur.

* Consider installing a sprinkler system in all new construction.

Alcohol abuse is a common problem today with our youth. Parents should be alert to the following trouble signs:

TROUBLE SIGNS

How can you recognize if people you love have turned to drugs or alcohol? Use these signs as a guide:

They avoid family members and family gatherings and tend to isolate themselves in a bedroom.

· They prefer to spend lots of time with friends the family doesn't know.

· Family valuables, such as credit cards, cash, radios and cameras, come up missing without explanations.

· Alcohol or drugs are missing from liquor or medicine cabinets.

· They have problems at school or with the law. · They lose interest in their usual activities, sports and hobbies. They complain about vague health problems, such as stomach aches, headaches and recurring colds. • They become verbally or physically abusive, or they rebel and show anger toward authority.

· They have long, unexplained absences from home and unexplained visitors and phone calls.

with a sponsored Fish Fry and include several important presentations. Bob Turner, State Representative, will be the feature speaker. Program Area Committee Chairmen will present a report on programs completed in

NOTICE

The Eastland County Water Supply District will be accepting sealed bids for the sale of a 1977 Glastron Boat, 75 hp Evenrud motor and trailer. It is being sold as is. The boat can be seen at the Lake Leon Dan Park, and bids will be left with the lake officer. All bids are subject to rejection by Eastland Telegram, Ranger the board. No bids will be accepted after 10-31-91.

for their committee. The Annual Meeting of the Extension Program Council is an important time for all Program Area Committees to meet as a group and exchange ideas. If you just became a member of a Program Area Committee this year, this will be your first annual meeting to attend. We hope you will plan to attend.

Please call the county Extension Office, 629-1093, by October 10, 1991 to confirm your attendance.

Bonnie White Paintings

Artist Bonnie Ree White was born in Callahan County, in the rural West Texas community of Pioneer. She, being raised on a farm and the tenth of ten children, developed a strong appreciation for the historical and natural beauty of her native state. Her artwork clearly reflects this heritage with a distinct style. Her paintings transmit to the Viewer a feeling of both past and present leaving them with an insight of pleasant memories or the expectation of an impending escapade.

For many years she has developed and refined her unique style by studying with some of the most prestigious artists including Dalhart Windberg and by employment in several galleries.

She works in many medias but finds a much finer accomplishment of art when working constantly in one. She does not believe in the term (natural talented) but in many hours of observing and gleaning from great works of the Old Masters and the Contemporaries, then with many hours of on hands experience can one develop an original style.

While being actively involved in the day to day activities of the art gallery, she experienced the attitudes and atmosphere of the art community.

Her one person shows and awards have contributed to the increase in of the Austin area art popularity and sales ofher work.

Line For Women

Ruth Stewart, M.Ed.

Q. Does a woman have to be beautiful to be feminine?

A. You do not have to be beautiful in the classic sense to have all of the charms of feminity. When a girl or woman is tender, soft, fun-loving, and innocent and pure she will be perceived as being beautiful. Regardless of her features or form, to most men she will seem a paragon of feminity. She is beautiful in her own way.

the value of this resource. Don Pitts, field response coordintator in the resource protection division, presented the paper, 'Assessing the Value of Fish and Wildfish Killed be considerable.

During Pollution Events in Texas,' during the American Fisheries Society conference Sept. 8-12 in San Antonio. The paper was co-written by David Sager, chief of the environmental contaminants branch, and Dennis Palafox, formerly of the department. While not new - the department began using this new formula in the spring of 1986 - TPWD is the only state using the computer program, which was developed by the department.

'We're one of two or three states that have the ability to look at the recreational value, economic value, commercial value and habitat loss value,' and $630.19. Sager said. In 1985, the Texas Legislature authorized the TPWD to place a value on the state's resources.

Most states use a value placed on the fish by the AFS. The department goes further. The TPWD formula takes the AFS value multiplied by by the inflation rate plus either the recreatinal or commercial value plus impairment value (lost recreational value) plus investigative costs. 'It's probably still a minimum value but it's more accurate than what was used before,' Pitts said. 'Other states charge usually whatever

A 14-inch largemouth bass is valued at $5.55 under the AFS formula and $55.83 under the department's system. The state record largemouth (27 inches) is worth $70.68 to AFS, $210.21 to TPWD. A 15-inch spotted seatrout for AFS and TPWD is worth $6.06 and $27.42, respectively. A 33 inch trout, the state record, is valued at $70.55 (AFS) and $148.56 (TPWD). POINTS TO PONDER

by Bill Reed, Pastor

The other day as I listened to the radio I heard a person make a statement that I wished I had written down. Essentially what he said was he practiced dedicated procrastination. He explained that it was a studied effort to put off doing the trivia so he had time to do what was really important. I felt that was the most profound statement I have heard for a long time. It is too bad I didn't practice what he said otherwise I would have an exact quote. It reminded me of a passage of scripture, as well as one of the prob- zombies who live in over lems we all share today. How can we take time/ make time for all that we seem to think we must do?

In Exodus chapter 31 verse 17 are these words. "On the seventh day God rested and drew breath." Also in Exodus are the words "Remember the Sabbath day, and keep it holy." 20:8. For most of us the suggestion that we should clear our calenders once a week brings a cynical smile or a wishful sigh to our face. A whole day set aside to quietly and carefully landscaping our souls instead of bulldozing our way through the personal, economic, and stay home from our place of worship we devote a tremendous amount of time to trivia. The average person spends about 40 hours a week watching television.

Before you disagree, think of how much time is devoted to just one football game on TV. Instead of having intellectual conversations with our families we drug our souls with trivia. Our lives have become more and more wound up, wounded and wrecked by devotion to trivia. In many respects, we have become living scheduled, over medicated, over tired state of existence. I asked Dr. Gohlke on a office call why I was so tired? He replied, "You probably are just

There is a natural rythm to life. To work without a Sabbath leads to a dysrhthmic life with all sorts of dysrythmic diseases - like chronic fatigue syndrome, pain, depression, and low energy. Our Sabbath - less culture suffers from "Timesickness" - where we have no time to do the important things because we are so involved doing the trivial things.

Starting the week by mine what is really important and put them in the proper sequence of life schedule. Take your family to Church this Sunday, talk to each other at Sunday dinner. Forget the trivial thing like Nintendo and football for at least one Sunday and do something important like taking a family walk in the fall afternoon.

COUNTY RESOURCE ASSOCIATION BEGINS FALL SEASON

The Eastland County Resources Association began a new season with a meeting September 12 at Eastland Memorial Library. Attending were a number of people interested in community service. Director Corrie Cowley presided over the meeting.

Dr. Vaughn Baker, pastor of the Eastland First United Methodist Church, presented the Association with a check for $168.19. This represented contributions from children of all churches who attended the Vacation Bible School at the Methodist Church last summer.

The money will be placed in the special Travel Fund for children who need to go out of the county for medical attention.

Dr. Baker said that the Ministerial Alliance will hold a Community Thanksgiving Service on Nov. 26, 7 p.m. at Bethel Baptist Church.

Corrie Cowley gave a detailed report on the use of the Travel Fund for chronically ill and disabled children. The Association is the local provider of funds for children who need to go out of the county for specialized treatment.

the County Resources Association with much of the funds used. So actually this is a revolving fund, Corrie Cowley ex-

From January 1991, through August 1991, the Fund had assisted eight different children on various trips for medical treatment, Ms. Cowley said. Total expenditures from the revolving fund were $2373.74. Most had been reimbursed.

On other reports, Peggy Roberts of the Multipurpose Center (Central Texas Opportunities), said that her government funds were currently depleted.

More funds were expected to be available after Oct. 1.

She said donations were coming in from the First Christian Church - 'One of our biggest supporters.'

Along with other Programs, the Homeless Program was short of funds, Mrs. Roberts said. She reported that people were needing places to live - needing deposits to turn on utilities.

'I can't believe the amount of people needing help, especially on utilities,' said she. Some needed transportation to apply for jobs.

Lois Robinson, a Volunteer for the Food Pantry, also reported on needs at this facility. Food items had been depleted, and the need for volunteers to work at the Pantry were also pressing.

'Only two people are keeping the place open,' she said.

Hours for the Food Pantry are 1-4 p.m., Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The phone number is 629-2132. Anyone wishing to volunteer was urged to call.

Rhonda Pipkin reported on needs related to work of the Department of Human Services. She included needs of the aged and disabled.

She also said the American Cancer Sopciety has received gas donations for travel of patients to treatment centers. There are also several volunteers who will drive people. A full report on this project will be forthcoming.

As the County Resources Association meeting ended it was decided to have future meetings on the first Thursday of each month. The next one will be Thursday, Oct. 3, at 12 noon. The public is encouraged to attend.

BIG TEX IS BACK!

Big Tex, the four-story tall Texas cowboy, will make his 40th appearance at the annual State Fair of Texas. The fair, held in Dallas' Fair Park, takes place between Sept. 27 through Oct. 20.

This year's fair features cook-offs, a carnival, exhibits and livestock shows. Free concerts by stars such as The Oak Ridge Boys, .38 Special, The Commodores, and Vince Gill are included in the price of admission.

Special performances for this year include an air rodeo and bungee jumping exhibition, a dazzling laser show in the Cotton Bowl choreographed to music of "Route 66" and "God Bless the USA" and an amazing show of daredevil Haro bike riders in an actionpacked, open-air show.

Additional information on the fair, including concert performers and dates, may be obtained by calling the Texas Department of Transportation's toll-free travel assistance number, 1-800-452-9292. The service is staffed by professional travel counselors and also offers trip planning assistance, Texas Highways magazine subscriptions and travel literature.

THE 47 CLUB

The 47 Club met Tuesday evening, September 17, at the home of Barbara and Buzzy Rutledge for their first meeting of the 1991-92 year.

New yearbooks were distributed to members. MAKING DISCOVER-IES is the program theme for the club's meetings on the 3rd Tuesday afternoon of each month September through May.

Husbands of members were special guests at the covered dish supper at the Rutledge's home. A fun time of REDISCOVER-ING FRIENDS was had by all who attended: Tom and Susan Peebles, Joe Shelby and Susan Scott, Pete and Betty Brashier, Bob and Dorothy Adkins, De and Jereta Davis, Leonard and Denice Marusak, Jerry and Pat Edwards, Dwaine and Gilda Crawford, Mike and Brenda Noth, Dorothy Beames, Debbie Drake, Norma Koch, and Buzzy and Barbara Rutledge.
