Invest In Positive Action For Youth In 1992

Wouldyoubeinterested in this new investment available to our country and community's youth? If you parent and/or work in a school, church, law enforcement agency, city government, newspaper, human services agency, civic group, or a local business, then you are definitely a vital part of a community! Wow! That's all of us. Today's statistics and research data prove that communities are raising our kids, not just parents or not just the schools: but the COMMUNITY. On the weekend of February 28 & 29th, the communities of Ranger, Eastland, and Cisco will come together to focus on contemporary issues related to children and youth in our society. This spring conference on POSITIVE ACTION FOR YOUTH will provide concerned adults with the opportunity to participate i a topic-oriented workshop addressing the origins of negative behaviors among youth and on developing positive nurturing by parents and the community. The acronym PAY has been adopted as the theme word of the conference because our community of Ranger believes that positive action for our youth will PAY our community be encouraging people toward productive, contributing lives.

The PAY conference will be sponsored by the Eastland County Coalition on Positive Action for Youth and the Region 14 Education Service Center. Keynote speakers will include Tom Zimmerman

"Self Esteem: Developing Competence in your own Environment" and Pat Socia "Teen-agers and Sexuality." A variety of workshops will be offered featuring parent issues, risk factors/resilience factors in families, youth empowerment, substance abuse, promoting youthdirected restitution as an idea that is working to redirect negative juvenile behavior into contributory citizenship - just to name a few! Anyone interested in attending this conference can contact your local PAY coalition: Lois Boles, Arthur Comacho, Patti Cozart, Jim Hall, Stan Harper, Roland Honeycutt, or Father Tom. Also more information will follow throughout January and February through the local media and community groups.

...THE WOODVILLE REPUBLICAN, Mississippi's Oldest Existing Newspaper, Volume 1: December 18, 1823 - December 17, 1839. Compiled by O'Levia Neil Wilson Wiese. Reviewer, Jeane Pruett.

In researching Wilkinson County, Mississippi, for information on her mother's people, Ms. Wiese found that much of the information she needed could not be found in court records, but was recounted in the back issues of the oldest newspaper in the state, The Woodville Republican, which first appeared in December 1823.

Wilkinson County is perhaps the most historical county in Mississippi. It was the boyhood home of Jefferson Davis, had the first standard-guage railroad in America, and in 1830 was distinguished by having at the same 205 Wagstaff Bldg; Co., MS. He married time a U.S. senator, a governor, and a lieutenant governor.

The Woodville Republican recorded many of the activities which occurred in the county as well as surrounding counties. The paper included announcements of Masonic Lodge celebrations, legal notices and rewards for runaway slaves, foreign news, marriages and deaths, religious and community activities, court proceedings and legal disputes, personal estate and tax sales, military and public office elections, deaths from epidemics, illness, murders and suicides, information about river boats, river traffic, the building of the first railroad, etc.

Ms. Wiese abstracted the relevant genealogical information from existing issues of the paper. Only the year 1832 has no existing issues; the other years are nearly complete with only a few scattered issues not represented in these abstracts.

Examination of this volume shows a wealth of information available in book form that otherwise would take hours to research in person, not to mention, cost of a trip.

Entries are in chronological order; surname index; 1895 Mississippi Map included. 1990, 275 pp., paper, #W137 $21.50. Shipping: $3.00 per order. Heritage Books, Inc.; 1540-E Pointer Ridge Place; Suite 300, Dept. P/P; Bowie, Maryland 20716.

MAMMOGRAPHY CAN SAVE YOUR LIFE!!

If you are a healthy woman over 40 who never has had a mammogram, The American Cancer Society recommends that you have this simple life saving procedure now. Since one woman in ten develops breast cancer at some point in her lifetime, the urgency is real.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination. These images are then interpreted by a Board Certified Radiologist, and a report is sent to your own doctor. It takes only a few minutes, and can detect incipient breast cancer as small as the period at the end of this sentence. Early detection (18 months sooner than a lump can be felt) not only permits treatment before the problem becomes serious, but the cure rate is over 90%. Mammography cannot only save your life, but help you avoid the need for disfiguring surgery too. You don't need to have been a previous patient of ours to receive this screening, but you do need to make an appointment at a time convenient to you.

PHONE NOW: 817-893-2011 Ext. #228 Appointments will be scheduled: Tuesday and Thursday of Each Week From 1:00 PM to 4:00 PM This Service is Available Beginning January 14, 1992

TRAIN SAMPLING was what it turned out to be, coming out of Venice, bound for Garmish-Partenkirchen, the military resort center in the German Alps. It's a tucked-away place and you've got to really want to go there because you don't accidently get there. We did our infamous four-minute change in Verona (cheered by locals who didn't think we were going to it [and for a brief second we weren't too sure ourselves]). Next change was at Innsbruck, Austraia, and bear in mind, with each change we were "stepping down" from the deluxe to the smaller lines that transversed mountains, hauling locals, dedicated tourists, milk cans and Next switch goats. Mittenwald, the violin capital, and then at another little place that's not even listed on the maps, we were told that if the last local had gone, we'd have to hire a hack. It hadn't, and we were greeted at Garmish-P by a cab-driver who helped with the bags and took us graciously to the Gen. Patton Hotel, one of two military rest-and-recuperation centers that provides recreation facilities for off-duty service people. It had been a German officers club prior to the occupation of American forces, and its timbered, tall ceilings and other decor fairly be-speak the German Bavarian culture.

The German share in the mighty Alps is not very large. They stretch from Lake Constance to the Salzburg Alps, but they include the Allgau Karwendel and Wettershtein, culminating in the Zugapitze (9,724 ft.), Germany's highest peak. The mountain actually belongs to two countries for the border between Austria and Germany runs directly over the peak. The mountain was first conquered in 1820. These and others are popular hiking and climbing centers, and this whole area is a tourist mecca. Garmisch-P was the site for the 1936 Winter Olympics; Mittenwald is known around the world for its famous violins; Oberammergau is famous for wood carvings and the scene of the passion play presented only every ten years; Berchtsegaden, Hitler's famous Eagle's Nest mountain retreat, is nearby; as is the Austraian festival city of Salzburg. Structured tours are available including the three castles built by King Ludwig, the "Sound of Music" out of Salzburg and others.

Mittenwald was originally a key trade center and prospered when goods coming up through the famous Brenner Pass and Innsbruch from Verona were transferred to barges to be taken on to Munich. When that trade went to a different route, the town suffered, but was renewed in 1684 when a farmer's son, Matthias Klotz, returned as a master violin maker after 20 years of study, and turned the town into the center for stringed instruments, with the wood coming from nearby forests, and now violins, violas and cellos are shipped around the world.

Der Fuhrer's favorite mountain retreat where many top-level Nazi staff meetings were held during WWII has given Berchtesgaden a bad image problem; it had been a resort long before Hitler's time. Members of the ruling Wittelsbach dynasty started coming here in 1810 and their ornate palace stands today and is one of the town's major attractions, along with the former Nazi complex and a working salt mine.

Winter sports rank high at Garmisch-P: more than 62 miles of downhill ski runs, 40 lifts and cable cars and 93 miles of cross-country tracks. They ski from November-May and major races held every January.

Our community was shocked and saddened when we learned of the death of Roy Buchanan. He was buried at the Simpson Cemetery on Saturday following funeral services at the Higginbotham Chapel in Gorman.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to Sylvia, Kelly, Nancy and the Buchanan family. Let us continue to offer our support, love and prayers for this family during this dark hour for them.

Roy was the son-in-law of Mrs. Albert Hendricks, and we will all miss him. Glenn and I visited with Roy and Sylvia, Kelly and Yancy many times when they were visiting here, and really feel the loss of Roy, and Yancy who died November 26, 1991.
