Each year they have been bringing to San Angelo many thousands of pounds of wool, they considering this the best wool market in the state.

Mr. Whitehead stated that Val Verde County is in excellent condition and that one of the best summers in its history is just closing. He said he was afraid that an early frost might work a little hardship on some of the stockmen on account of the growing grass, but that should this occur, even then, there would be enough feed stuff gathered to feed thousands of stock.—San Angelo Standard.

Net proceeds from the President's Birthday Ball held in the Wool House last Friday, totaled $200, according to H. V. Stokes, Sutton County Chairman. The High School orchestra and another local orchestra under the supervision of Roland Howell and Johnnie Martin, furnished music for dancing throughout the evening.

Urges Increased Fire Prevention Effort

Austin, Feb. 4.—Reports of fires during January to Texas fire insurance department, described as revealing a serious increase in the number of fires, prompted Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, to issue an appeal for greater individual effort in fire prevention.

"Fires constitute one of our most serious threats to national defense and our nation's all-out war production," he asserted. "As an individual contribution to our own welfare, as well as the welfare of our country, it behooves each of us to assume more personal responsibility in fire prevention now.

"At a time when all material resources are so vital to our nation's industrial production, we can ill afford to allow any of it to be destroyed by fire because of carelessness. Any destruction of our resources whether it be food, clothing, raw or manufactured materials, homes or other property, places an additional handicap on wartime effort. We must curb the economic toll exacted by fire."

Hall, who is also Fire Defense Coordinator of the National Defense Committee of Texas, added "there is no better fire defense at home than the constant practice of fire prevention."

Citing indiscriminate storage of waste paper as creating an extreme fire menace to almost every home and place of business in Texas, the Commissioner recommended immediate removal of accumulated paper to places where the hazard will be lessened.

It is suggested that individuals or local groups sponsoring the collection of waste paper remove it to buildings isolated from the business section and residential areas of the city to avoid fire spreading to adjacent property, should it break out in the stored paper.

"Above all," Hall cautioned, "avoid accumulation of waste paper in the house. The application of a few simple rules of fire prevention will add to our safety and safety of our property at a time when it is most needed."

New Member Added To Lions Club

Vestel C. Askew, newest member of the Lions Club, was presented a membership pin by Dr. Shelton, when the Lions met for their weekly luncheon Tuesday at the Methodist Church.

Principal speaker on the program was R. T. Hammock, from the Division of Extension of the University of Texas. Mrs. Jack Mann played several violin numbers, accompanied by Noble Prentice at the piano.

Announcement was made of the Lions Club zone meeting to be held at the St. Angelus Hotel in San Angelo on February 19. Also it was decided that the luncheon next week will be held at one o'clock, instead of 12 o'clock.

At a short director's meeting, held after the luncheon, it was decided to feed the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association convening here March 2.

Guests at the Tuesday luncheon were Father Regis, Homer Jennings of Lubbock, O. C. Finley of Del Rio, Manns Hoggett, president of the Mertonson Club, Dee Word, and Mr. Hammock.

The Philip Yung Lees

Chinese Couple To Speak Here

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Yung Lee, young Chinese couple, will appear in the Sonora Public Schools on Friday, February 6, at 2:45 p. m. according to an announcement by Noble W. Prentice, Superintendent.

Philip Yung Lee was born in Canton, China. His given name in Chinese, "Tao Yung," means "Glorious Truth" in English.

Through missionaries Yung Lee had his first contacts with Western music and began to study it along with native melodies. After he toured China's largest cities as a singer, he began an intensive study of Chinese music in his own country and a composer of several songs. He wanted to get in the United States to study Western music but feared his dream would not come true. However, fortune was with him, for one of the famous Soong sisters—a sister of Madame Chiang Kai Shek—decided to sponsor him on a trip to the United States.

Philip Yung Lee had become a Chinese missionary preacher and while studying voice in Chicago served as pastor of the only Chinese Christian Church in Chicago's great Chinatown. Music critics heralded him as the best Chinese singer they have heard in this generation. Eugene Stinson of the Chicago Daily News said, "His voice is a baritone with fine resonance and admirable pliancy. . . his diction would put most American singers to shame."

Later Yung Lee went back to China to serve as secretary of China's Christian Broadcasting Association and a program director of station XMHK in Shanghai.

While there he married a young lady whom he had met in Chicago. She was a graduate from the Rockefeller Foundation Hospital in Peiping and had taken care of the famous iron lung patient, Fred Snipe, when he had crossed the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee will both take part in the presentation of this lecture program which they choose to call "China Sings On." It is not a musical program—but rather a lecture; however, when discussing oriental music, Mr. Lee will sing to his own accompaniment. In his lecture Mr. Lee will endeavor to show the many reasons for a communion of endeavor between the Orient and the Occident. He is highly appreciative of what the Western World has given his people.

Mrs. Lee will give a short talk on what a Chinese girl sees in the American girl.

47 Firms Signed Up For Payroll Allotment Plan

A very cooperative attitude was expressed by the twenty owners of Mexican business firms who met with the Defense Bond Sales Committee at the First National Bank Thursday of last week, according to the report of George H. Neill, chairman of the Committee. At this meeting, Neill explained the method and purposes of the Payroll Allotment Plan, and urged 100 per cent cooperation of all Mexican employers and their employees.

A similar meeting will be conducted by Neill and the Committee for ranchers of Sutton County on Monday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock, at the bank.

Forty-seven firms, representing 187 employers and employees, had signed up 100 per cent in favor of the plan by Wednesday. Next week a complete list of firms and employees will be made ready for publication.

ATTENDS MUSIC MEET

Roland G. Howell attended the meeting of Superintendents and Band Directors of schools in Region 2 of the Texas School Music Lodge in Abilene, Thursday, February 5. The purpose of the meeting is to organize the Region and to make plans for music contests to be held.

Noble W. Prentice was unable to attend. Mrs. Howell accompanied her husband to Abilene.

Committee Draws Up Plan For Increased Output

The plan of work for an Agricultural Program for Sutton County for 1942, as drawn up by the Sutton County Land Use Planning Committee, has as its foundation a plan which, if followed, would increase the production of Sutton County ranches, resulting in a greater profit for the ranchmen and a greater supply of food and fiber for National Defense.

The committee, composed of Sutton County ranchmen and local Agricultural Agency representatives listed range land improvement as the No. 1 problem. To produce a maximum amount of livestock and livestock products over a long period of time from our range without depletion, the following practices should be followed: (1) proper rate of stocking; (2) deferred and rotated grazing; (3) good distribution of livestock water and proper location of fences; (4) elimination of range-destroying and poisonous plants; (5) soil and water conservation.

Improvement of livestock is second only to improvement of range, according to this committee. It was recommended that this be brought about by (1) culling of herds and flocks; (2) use of better sires; (3) improved supplemental range feeding and (4) control of eradication of internal and external parasites.

Since prices of livestock are at a high level and since the national defense program is calling for an increased marketing of livestock and wool, the coming year is certainly an opportune time for ranchmen to cull and improve the quality of their livestock. The Committee pointed out culling at this time would give the ranchmen an advantage of paying off indebtedness with high price livestock.

The plan calls for an increased production of feed crops on available cultivated land which can be brought about by (1) use of better planting seed; (2) better methods of farming and preservation of feed stuff; (3) improved production by soil and water conservation practices.

The Committee recommends that the proper conservation of desirable game and wildlife be practiced to increase the value of range land and to contribute to an increased revenue to the ranchmen and business men of the county.

The Committee recommends that help and encouragement be given to the 4-H Club movement; also that efforts be made to increase enrollment of members with range flocks as their demonstrations.

The Sutton County Committee, which formulated the above plan, is composed of the following: R. A. Halbert, Chairman, Frank Bond, vice-Chairman, H. C. Atchison, Secretary, Edwin Sawyer, J. M. Vander Stucken, W. H. Dameron, Thos. Espy, Joe B. Ross, Mrs. Velma L. Shurley, Joe F. Logan, and Leonard Gibbs.

Schools Abandon Five-County Meet

It was decided that the Sonora Schools will not participate in the Five-County Meet in Menard and Junction this year, when the Sonora Schools faculty, the High School student body, and school officers met Wednesday of last week. This decision was reached after consideration was made of war conditions, rubber shortage which makes transportation difficult, need for conservation of funds, and the many demands made on the school for participation in defense activities.

A Sutton County Interscholastic League Committee will be organized for the duration of the war. Also a defense program is being planned by the students, and literary and athletic activities will be intensified locally.

Yvonne, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Penick, was taken to a San Angelo hospital Saturday of last week to receive treatment. Her mother and grandmother, Mrs. J. T. Penick, are with her.

Tire Ration Rules Changed By OPM

The telegram relates to Section 404, E-9, of the rules promulgated by the O. P. A., and the changes that have been made. New rulings make trucks eligible for new tires for (1) hauling feed, water from farm to farm to feed livestock; (2) hauling produce, livestock, milk, etc. from farm to market, but not to the ultimate consumer; (3) trucks used in transporting farm products, but not to the ultimate consumer; (4) trucks transacting at will for transporting farm products, provided any other use of the truck must be stated in application for new tires; (5) trucks used to haul feed, salt, etc. from market to farm; (6) farm trailers used in transporting farm products, but not to the ultimate consumer.

Committee Named For Planting Drive

Encouraged by results obtained from a tree-planting campaign conducted in Sonora two years ago, the Sonora Lions Club is sponsoring another such campaign this year.

A committee composed of H. C. Atchison, Geo. D. Chalk, D. L. Locklin, Edwin E. Sawyer, was appointed to take charge of this program.

Citizens of the town or county who anticipate planting of trees, shrubs, or fruit trees and wish to cooperate in this campaign this year should contact one of the above-named committee at an early date. By pooling such orders, good trees and shrubs can be purchased at a lower rate than can be done by individual orders.

Daughter Of Mrs. McGilvary Buried Thursday Afternoon

Services were held at the First Baptist Church Thursday afternoon for Mrs. James Lindsey, who died of pneumonia Sunday afternoon in Buffalo, N. Y.

Rev. B. C. Brinkley, Baptist minister of Wink, and Rev. Fred DeLashaw, local Baptist pastor, officiated.

Mrs. Lindsey was a daughter of Mrs. B. C. McGilvary of Sonora. Other survivors are two sons, Max Darrell and James, and two sisters, Mrs. Word Sherrill of Uvalde, and Mrs. Bryan Hickerson of Bristol, Va.

Pallbearers were Hix Hall, Earl Lomax and J. H. Trainer of Sonora, Dr. Koeberk and Marian Balch of San Angelo, and Leslie Baker of Eldorado.

Local Basketeers Trip Ozona Quintet, 24-22

For thirty minutes of the thirty-two minutes in a game, Sonora led Ozona by a scant hustling margin. The thirty first-minute saw Ozona tie up the score, and the last one resulted in the winning goal. The game ended 24-22. The Ozona fans were cheering so wildly it was difficult to let the boys on the court know the game was over.

Gene Shurley was high point man for both teams with nine. Montgomery and McLaughlin each scored six points for Ozona.

The game was an excellent exhibition of skill and outstanding sportsmanship.

Line-ups for both teams:
Sonora—G. Shurley, F. B. Shurley, F. Berger, C. Richardson, G. Wallace, G.
Ozona—Montgomery, F.; Patrick, F.; McLaughlin, C.; Hannah, G.; Cox, G.

A second string game was played that was a thriller also. Raymond Johnson sank a basket for the opponents, but a few plays later redeemed himself by putting one in for Sonora.

Two extra periods were required before Sonora won, 8-6.

Saturday night, February 7, at 7 o'clock the Broncos will entertain the Menard Yellow Jackets in the high school gymnasium. Come out and help win the game.

A resolution was passed in memory of the late Roy E. Aldwell, past director of the company. A bonus of $150 was voted for Private George E. Allison, former assistant manager of the house.

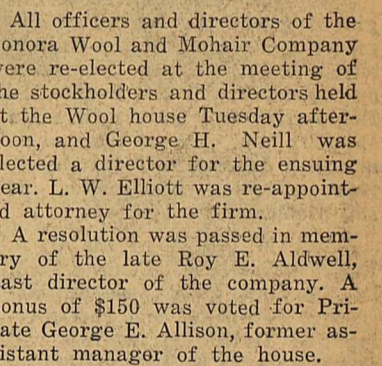

It was voted at this meeting that 10 per cent dividends will be paid later to stockholders, and a financial report was read.

PACE STEPPED UP

These last several years Americans have been stepping up their fast pace. Everything must be done at the quickest possible moment regardless of cost. What have been considered indispensable conveniences by Americans have been unattainable luxuries for most of the peoples of the world. Wealth and power and self-centered interests have been the goals and gods of us Americans. In our mad scramble for things of this world we have many times forgotten those deeper spiritual values of life on whose immutable foundation our civilization rests.

We Americans might heed the following words of an English minister:

We have been a pleasure-loving people, dishonoring God's day, picknicking and bathing, and now the seashores are barred.

We have preferred motor travel to church going, and now there is no fuel for our motors.

We have ignored the ringing of the church bells calling us to worship, and now the bells cannot ring except to warn us of invasion.

"We have left our churches half empty on the Lord's Day, and now the buildings are in ruins.

"We would not listen to the way of peace, and now we are forced to listen to the way of war.

"The money we would not give to the Lord is now taken from us for taxes.

"The food for which we forgot to say thanks is now unattainable.

"Nights we would not spend in prayer are now spent in anxious air raids.

"The evils of modernism we would not fight, and now we face Germany in a death struggle, which produced these teachings."—Mission Times.

Problems Of Soil Mechanics To Be Discussed At T. U.

Austin, Feb. 2.—Problems of soil mechanics and foundation engineering will attract authorities of national repute to the University of Texas campus February 6 and 7.

Sponsored by the College of Engineering and the Bureau of Engineering Research at the University, the Fifth Texas Conference on Soil Mechanics and Foundation Engineering will feature six main speakers and several discussions at which delegates will participate in round-table consideration of soil problems of every type.

Frank M. Auten, of the U. S. Engineers' Office, Denison, will be the first guest speaker, discussing "Planning and Interpreting Soil Tests." His address will precede one on soil compaction by Spencer J. Buchanan of the Mississippi River Commission, Vicksburg, Miss. Both speakers will be heard on the Friday morning program, at which delegates will be welcomed by Pres. Homer P. Rainey to the University campus. S. P. Finch, professor of civil engineering, will preside.

George G. Wichline, bridge engineer for the Texas Highway Department, Austin, will preside at the Friday afternoon session when Alfonso G. Cadaval, resident engineer for the El Palmito dam in Mexico, will speak on the use of soil tests used in design and construction of the giant earth dam. On the same program Dr. P. C. Rutledge, professor of soil mechanics at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., will speak on "Shear Failure of Soils."

J. Frank Dobie, widely-known Southwestern folklorist and professor of English at the University, will be principal speaker at a dinner meeting Friday night in the Driskill Hotel here. Dean W. R. Woolrich, of the University College of Engineering, will be toastmaster.

The final session on Saturday morning will feature a discussion of utilizing available soils in airport construction. Speaker will be

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

An optimist laughs to forget; a pessimist forgets to laugh.

A boy came home from school one day and asked: "Pop, how much is a billion dollars?" And his dad replied: "It's a helluva lot of money."

The next day the boy came home from school crying. The father asked, "What is the matter, son?" "That wasn't the right answer," the boy replied.

Texans, almost a thousand of them, many in big white Stetsons, and Justin cowboy boots, provided "color" on "Texas Day" recently at the New Orleans races. The Texas horses (there were three events exclusively for them) and the Texas folks were the magnets that drew the biggest crowd of the Crescent City racing season and one of the largest throngs in the history of the track.

So anxious were the Lone Star thoroughbred breeders to race their two-year-olds, that the entries were so numerous the Lone Star Stakes was run in two divisions—the second time in the annals of the American turf that a race for "babes" has been divided. Sylvester Labrot, chairman of the Fair Grounds, had originally offered a purse of $1,500 and, when the event was made a double-header, he generously doubled the prize.

Part of the afternoon's program was carried on a Coast-to-Coast hookup and two famed Texans made their radio debut to millions of listeners tuned in on almost 200 stations—Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., manager of the huge King Ranch, and W. C. Stroube, Corsicana oil man, whose Liberty Pan captured the first half of the Lone Star race with great speed after a difficult start. R. B. George of Dallas saw his Greenock Flame win the second half by an impressive margin.

There was a cowboy band in big hats and bright bandanas and, as the horses were parading to the post for the Sam Houston Handicap, the tune was "Beautiful, Beautiful Texas." After Potranco had borne the colors of the Bluebird Stock Farm of Dallas to victory, Jockey Madden carried the beautiful wreath over and placed it on the grave of Pan Zareta, Sweetwater mare, world's record holder for five-eighths of a mile, the band playing "The Eyes of Texas" meanwhile.

Joe Wolkin had all his concession force wearing Texas regalia at the hot dog stands and "One-Eyed" Connolly, world's greatest gate-

THE preparation and application of putty for steel sash follows closely that for the more common wood variety, save that litharge is an added ingredient to promote adhesion on the comparatively smooth metal.

To one part (by volume) each of white lead and litharge is added 3 parts whiting, the whole being kneaded in linseed oil until the proper consistency is reached. This is in comparison with the 2 to 3 part mixture of soft paste white lead and whiting usually specified for wood sash.

In both cases the putty dries to a firmly adhesive mass, yet the white lead base remains sufficiently elastic to allow for the expansion and contraction of the surface. This is the secret which keeps sash maintenance costs at a minimum.

Q: How often should the drain of a kitchen sink be cleaned?

A: The drain or rather sink trap should be cleaned at least once every two weeks by pouring down plain boiling water with potash lye or caustic potash added in stubborn cases. (Use these chemicals with caution as they not only destroy clothing but cause nasty burns as well.)

When washes fail, the insertion of a wire following the removal of the trap plug serves to relieve the congestion.

Q: How can we pep up the circulation of hot air through ducts remote from the furnace?

A: The installation of a fan to create a forced draft would undoubtedly solve your problem. See your local dealer in heating equipment.

Q: Please suggest a way to remove soiled wallpaper.

A: Wallpaper is readily removed with a broad knife, scraper or similar tool once the paper has been well saturated with warm water. Simple washing should then suffice to remove all traces of the paste.

THE CITY OF Pharr realized one of its long-sought ambitions this week—the approval of the municipal water supply by the State Board of Health with an "A," or excellent rating.

Mayor A. A. Kelley, the city commissioners, and plant superintendent Lee A. Doty, were jubilant over the good news. It gives Pharr the authority to erect the highway signs advertising the Health Department approval of the water. The city officials have been working hard on this project for more than a year.—Pharr Press.

MILAM COUNTY'S COUNTY-WIDE blackout Monday night from 8 to 8:30 o'clock was labeled "highly successful" by the Milam County Defense Council as reports continued to come in Tuesday of 100 per cent cooperation and efficiency from all sections.

Here in Rockdale lights started disappearing with the first blast of the siren at 8 o'clock and within less than a minute the entire town was cloaked in darkness.

No infractions of the blackout rules were reported here or at any point in the county, with a bright moon and an occasional woods or grass fire the only things that resembled any form of light in the entire area.—Rockdale Reporter.

PLANS HAVE BEEN inaugurated in Bell County for a county-wide rat killing campaign. Chairmen for each locality have been appointed and the dates will be set as soon as arrangements are announced complete by the chairman.

The rat campaign is a vital part of the defense program. Rats carry a flea which spreads typhus fever germs and they do great economic damage. It has been estimated that each rat on a farm costs the farmer $2.00 per year.—Bartlett Tribune.

That GLARE ICE CAUSES THE MOST HAZARDOUS WINTER DRIVING.

A CAR GOING 20 MILES AN HOUR CAN BE STOPPED ONLY AFTER 155 FEET, ON GLARE ICE. ABRASIVES BRING THE STOPPING DISTANCE TO 96 FEET.

AS AGAINST THIS, ONLY 41 FEET IS NEEDED TO STOP A CAR ON A DRY, BARE PAVEMENT.

LIFE LINE OF THE FAR EAST

Burma Road Hums As Far East War Spreads

RANGOON, Burma.—Every day and every night, the whir of 3,000 loaded trucks hums and re-echoes over the rocky gorges and deep ravines which surround the vital road bringing supplies from the democracies of the West to the heart of blockaded China. Topping mountain ranges and slithering through malarial valleys, narrowing to 9 feet in some places and widening to 16 in others, what was once a caravan route for Chinese silk merchants has now become a 1,500-mile highway connecting China with her Allies.

When Japanese invaders seized the China coast in 1937, the Burma Road was only a muddy trail for mule trains carrying native produce from and to China. But China, anticipating severance from the outside world, had already allocated $2,000,000 for the construction of a modern road from Lashio, terminus of the Burma railroad, to Kunming, China. Every county along the proposed highway was assigned its stretch of the road. From villages and towns bordering the old silk route poured almost 1,000,000 workers, men, women and children, bringing food, pickaxes, make-shift shelters. Many of the workers died from malaria; often monsoons washed away sections of the new road; but the work persisted. In two years, 800 miles of road crossing nine 5,000-foot ridges were completed. By 1939 American-made trucks were carrying Red Cross supplies and munitions 1,500 miles from Lashio to Chungking, China's war capital.

Today, with Japanese forces spreading fan-wise over the entire southwest Pacific area, this vital link to China from British Burma is a key in Allied military strategy. With a monthly capacity of 40,000 tons, the Burma highway has seen an increase in the transport of military supplies from 3,804 tons to 17,500 tons in four months, and this in the face of increased raids by Japanese bombers. Planes have arrived at Rangoon to reinforce the American-built—and partly American-manned—Curtiss P-40's (or "Tomahawks") which now patrol the road. Anti-aircraft guns are being mounted at the two suspension bridges over the Salween and Mekong Rivers, and Chinese armies have taken up stations in Burma, facing the Japanese forces in occupied Thailand.

Meantime, American engineers are working at top speed to complete a new parallel Burma-to-Kunming railway which will triple the amount of materials now reaching China. This, at last, will give China an alternate route for the arms and equipment which she needs so vitally to carry on her long and heroic fight against her enemy and ours: Japan.

DRAFT BOARD WANTS ONLY ONE ADDRESS

A Selective Service registrant, at the forthcoming February 16th registration of men in the military service age bracket of 20 to 45 years old, who has more than one place of residence may choose which one he wants recorded as his place of residence to designate the Local Board that always will have jurisdiction over him, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, said this week.

General Page emphasized, however, that no transient address may be recorded and that Selective Service Regulations prohibit any interference or dictation by a registrar when a registrant who has more than one place of residence is making his choice as to which he desires recorded as his home address.

"It is the intent of the law and the purpose of Selective Service Regulations," General Page pointed out, "that each man be registered at his home address and be subject to call to fill quotas from that Local Board. That is a basic principle of democratic procedure and I expect every Selective Service registrar in the State of Texas to adhere strictly to it."

Registration cards to be used February 16th will contain a space for the registrant to list his place of residence. In the event that he has more than one place, he is required to list his own choice as his place of residence.

In addition, the registration card will have space for recording a mail address. This may be the same as the place of residence or it may be another address where the registrant will receive his mail more readily.

Selective Service Regulations also require each registrant to describe the place of his residence so that its location may be determined from its description. A registrant who lives on an R. F. D. route will be required to supplement his mailing address by a description of the location of his residence. For his reason, and because some registrants may be able to receive their mail more readily at an address other than their place of residence, the registration card has spaces for both addresses.

A description of the place of residence of the registrant, General Page stressed, will once and for all time determine the local board that will have jurisdiction over the registrant. The mailing address, however, can be changed when necessary and local boards will send their notices to the mailing addresses without regard to place of residence. While the mailing address is subject to change whenever the registrant moves, General Page pointed out, registrars are instructed to warn the registrant that once he designates his place of residence he irrevocably designates the local board which will have continuous jurisdiction over him.

Bark Of Tree Substituted For Wool

And now the bark of a tree is being used as a substitute for wool, relates the San Francisco Chronicle in a recent article. What next?

The article tells that Pacific Lumber Company of San Francisco has received a patent for combining the bark from California's famous red-wood tree with wool to make woolen goods. Woolen blankets and fabrics for overcoats and suitings are now being displayed which contain from 30 to 40 per cent redwood bark fiber. The results are good from the standpoint of appearance.

Research has proved that redwood bark, formerly a waste product, has good felting qualities and intermat with wool fibers to form strong fabrics. The resulting blend is carded, combed and spun into yarn which can be woven or knitted into fabrics having properties similar to pure wool textiles.—Sheep & Goat Raiser.

Many ranchmen have contacted this office with reference to the supply of Phenothiazine and, from investigation, apparently the supply of yPhenothiazine will be adequate. No wholesaler, however, would commit himself. There is a generous supply on hand and an early purchase by the ranchman of his requirements would not be out of order. The uncertainty of demand is another factor in this situation, which means much to the sheepmen who must constantly fight stomach worm infested flocks.—Sheep & Goat Raiser.

Fire prevention is the best fire protection.

GARAGE AND DRIVEWAY—

The garage, being next in importance to the house and having a driveway leading to it, should receive careful study as to its location. The driveway, a necessary evil, is going to take a good share of the lot, and especially so on a narrow lot. A good driveway is expensive in construction, and a minimum amount of driveway should be planned when the house is being located on the lot.

This is certainly not accomplished when the garage is placed at the rear of the corner of a deep, narrow lot, which necessitates the drive running the full length of the lot. Then too, it is not practical to drive the car in reverse the length of the drive, and perhaps into a busy street, and a turning spur would take up so much of the space which would be used as a rear lawn. Therefore, it is usually better to place the garage nearer the house. It may be anywhere, from almost even with the house, or behind the house, depending upon the architectural design and arrangement of the home. A garage near the street mars the picture of the whole unless the doors are kept closed, and you many times have seen beside furniture, packing cases and other trash being unattractively displayed through the wide open doors of a garage. Of course this defect can be remedied by always keeping the doors closed.

If a house is built with no thought of a driveway, it often is a difficult task to work out a satisfactory plan, and too often a turning spur must be made, especially if younger people, or some who are older, must drive the car. And again the convenience for guests must be considered. A landscape designer and planner has always a number of radii for making curves, and other necessary dimensions. However, the most practical way is to back the car out of the garage, and as soon as the garage door has been cleared, turn the wheel as far as they will go, and keep backing until one can easily go forward to the street. This can be repeated several times, and the tracks made by the wheels can be staked off as a track for the garage.

As soon as the stakes are driven, try the drive a few more times to be sure that you are correct,

America's electric companies have been able to accomplish this by good business management—by producing over 90 per cent of the nation's electric power and making it available almost anywhere, over carefully interconnected systems.

We're glad we can make this report—and glad to pledge our unending effort to supply millions of workmen with all the electric power they need to make America POWERFUL!

DEFENSE SKIT PRESENTED BY SOPHOMORE CLASS

A defense skit, secured from the Defense Savings Staff in Austin, was presented by the Sophomore class in assembly last Friday afternoon, under the direction of Miss Lealyne Noble. This skit was part of a program which Frank Schofield, State administrator, has asked the school to carry on during the entire school year.

"Victory," composed by Superintendent Noble Prentice, was sung by Mrs. Preston C. Lightfoot, accompanied by Mr. Prentice. Patriotic songs were sung by the student body.

Two films, "Defense for America and Your Town" and "A Story of America" concluded the program.

Explains Delay In Red Cross Shipments

The response of Chapters to our requests for acceptance of War Relief Quotas, including sewn and knitted garments, and Surgical Dressings, and our more recent program of knitted garments for the Armed Forces, has been overwhelmingly gratifying. We deeply appreciate the fine spirit of unselfish service being shown by volunteers.

In many chapters we realize that Production Chairmen are faced with the very real problem of lack of materials to keep their volunteers working. We know the telephone calls, the visits, the complaints, that you are receiving. Our nation is now at war and all normal processes of communication are curtailed. Not only are the manufacturers having difficulty in filling orders promptly, but transportation is also slowed down on the delivery of materials.

While we recognize the difficulty that prompts your telegrams and telephone calls to us, there is little we can do to expedite the shipment of materials for your War Relief Production. The requisitions for this Government material have to clear through the Procurement Division and are subject to considerable delay before the shipments actually reach you. The orders for yarn for the Army and Navy sweaters and other knitted articles are placed direct with the manufacturer and shipments are made more promptly.

Owing to the fact that there is an obvious shortage of wool, Chapters should do their utmost to cooperate with the Office of Production Management. We are asking you to keep very accurate records of everything in the way of materials given out and to check and follow up. All volunteers who are making woolen or knitted garments should be requested to return their scraps to the Chapter.

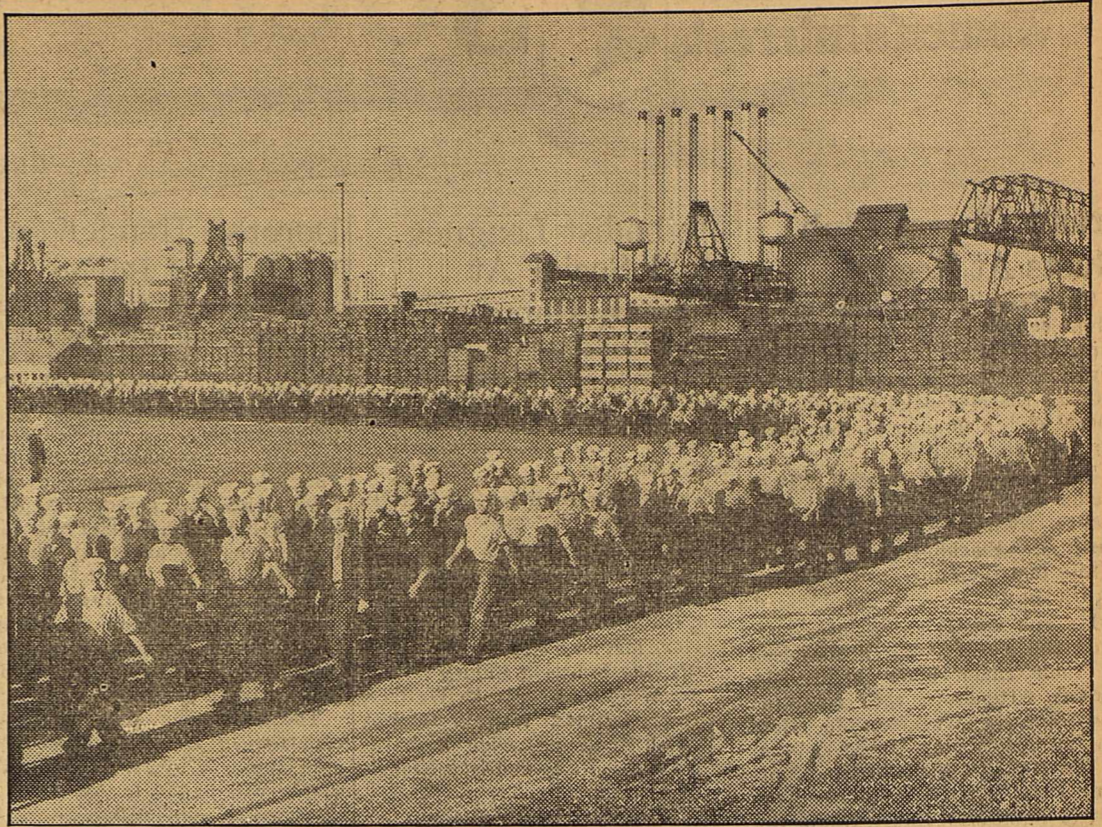

It is becoming increasingly difficult to furnish Chapters with printed instructions for the Production Program. We are trying to provide the necessary knitting instructions, especially for the Armed Force Quota. Please conserve all printed forms as far as possible.

We are keenly aware of the problem that faces you in explaining to your volunteers why these materials are not immediately available.

ABOUT BOOKS

Henry Seidel Canby, the noted critic, once said that "a sense of humor is worth gold to any writer." Franklin P. Adams, erstwhile columnist and now one of the Iron Guard on Information Please disagrees. "The writers who amass the greatest gold have, it seems to me, no sense of humor," he once wrote. "And I think also that if they had it would be a terrible thing for them, for it would paralyze them so that they would not write at all. For in writing, emotion is more to be treasured than a sense of humor, and the two are often in conflict."

This is a sound observation, according to E. B. White, who with his wife, Katherine S. White, has edited an anthology of a thousand and one laughs—"A Subtreasury of American Humor" (Coward McCann: $3.00). If you want to be successful as a writer—make 'em weep. If you want to be loved, make 'em laugh.

"A Subtreasury of American Humor" contains representative writings of 99 Americans, ranging from Benjamin Franklin to James Thurber. But the Whites have not included anything in their anthology just because somebody at some time solemnly announced that it was funny. They have selected the things that they themselves like and hat struck them just as funny the second time they read them as the first. Their motto throughout was:

"If it be not droll to we,
 What care we how droll it be."
 And this, we think, is a good working motto for any anthologist, be his subject humorous or otherwise. "A Subtreasury of American Humor is a real honey of a book, containing entertainment for many a winter evening. The Book-of-the-Month Club is sending it out to its members as a book dividend, and it is likely to live long after that as a real classic among anthologies."

Carl Glick, author of "Shake Hands With the Dragon" (Whittlesey House: $2.75), which Lin Yutang says is the best non-fiction book by an American about the Chinese people since Carl Crow wrote "400 Million Customers," is writing another book about New York's Chinatown. Down Mott Street and up Pell, he's a celebrity these days, and is hailed everywhere with "Hello, Mr. Glick," "How's the dragon?" At the Sugar Bowl, where he was dining the other evening, he was greeted by the young-looking, smiling patriarch, Mr. Chin, who features importantly in the book. Mr. Chin presented the author with a photograph of himself with all six of his sons, his two daughters, and innumerable grandchildren, which Mr. Glick accepted with truly Chinese courtesy. "Just think," he told us afterward, "I knew Mr. Chin for ten years before he consented to speak to me in English."

Americans have some queer notions about India and its people, says Krishnaal Shridarani, author of "My India, My America" (Duell, Sloan & Pearce: $3.75). Once he was spending a week-end in Long Island, when his hostess announced a surprise for the guests. She took them all into a dimly lighted living room, in the middle of which a rope hung from the ceiling. He thought maybe this was a form of decoration. It wasn't. She was going to treat her guests to the famous Hindu rope trick. He, being from India, was supposed to vanish up the rope. But all the time he was in India, he says, he had never seen the rope trick.

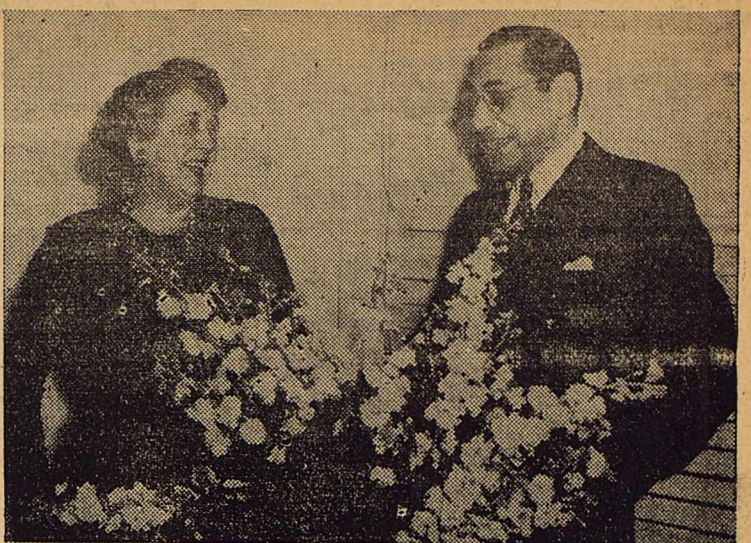

Ciro Algeria, that delightful Peruvian to whom New York is another Bagdad, and whose novel, "Broad and Alien Is the World" (Farrar and Rinehart: $2.75), won the Latin-American prize contest, is always learning a lot of incredible things about us. But nothing, he says, seems more incredible to him than hearing an American man say: "I can't find my wife. I don't know where she is." "All men should know where their wives are," says Mr. Algeria, "Always."

Planning the show, which will be twice as large this year, are shown Herbert Marcus, general chairman, and Mrs. Robert M'Greer Hall, co-chairman and head of the women's division.

"Stop Worrying," Dr. Cox Urges Texas Citizens

Austin, Feb. 2.—"Indulging in worry and spreading gloom is a form of sabotage," Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today in commenting on the necessity of cheerfulness and courage in facing our national crisis.

Dr. Cox asserted that failure to rise and meet our difficulties with determination and cheerfulness will undermine our national strength more seriously than can the enemy acting from without.

"It has been proved in industry that a gloomy, worried mental state is conducive to accidents, and the President has issued a proclamation declaring the reduction of accidental injuries as essential to national strength," Dr. Cox stated.

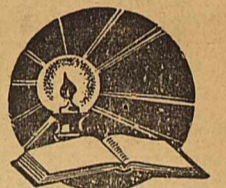

"Your State Health Department stresses a warning against worry that is carried to the extreme. If you notice a growing tendency to worry, try by the exercise of your own will to stop this futile, de-vitalizing habit," he urged.

Dr. Cox pointed out that these are troubled times, and it is natural that we should feel concern about national affairs. It is one thing, he pointed out, to feel this concern and do whatever we can that may be constructive in solving our difficulties, but it is worse than folly, he added, to abandon ourselves to the ravages of worry and fear.

Men given physical exams for the army this week were, according to Leo Brown, clerk of the local Draft Board, Frank Willard Turney, T. C. Thiers, Bill Davis, Oscar Q. Adams, Elisio Dundia, Jesus Gutierrez, Segundino Segura and Jessie W. Merritt. Those to take physical exams soon are Philip Fay and Augustine Taylor.
