Driller Takes 66,000 Volts And Lives

Glenn Bowen, 47, knows how it feels to take 66,000 volts and live.

He found out Saturday afternoon where he and Arthur Pickle were on the Espy-Vander Stucken ranch, drilling shot holes for the Pioneer Drilling Company. About 2:15 o'clock, Pickle was backing the drilling truck with Bowen as passenger when the tower on the back of the truck came in contact with the West Texas Utilities highline. Pickle realized what had happened and knew also that the truck had a load of dynamite. He yelled at Bowen to jump. As Bowen left the truck the full charge passed through his body, exploding the ends of his toes on one foot and severely burning his hands. The other foot was also burned.

At the time of the accident, the drilling truck was trailing a compressor truck. With great presence of mind, Pickle jumped in the compressor truck and bumped the drilling truck away from the line. He then brought Bowen to Hudspeth Memorial Hospital. His condition was described as good Thursday.

Heat of the current melted part of the truck's axle and fused the caliche where it entered the ground. Bowen's home is in Wichita Falls. Pickle is from Woodard, Oklahoma.

The club will hold $600 short on the $2,000 building fund. The rest rooms have been completed and fixtures will be installed next week. A work shop and ammunition vault have also been finished.

The range now has a plentiful water supply, due to the generosity of Wesley C. Young, who donated a well.

Census Reveals More Cattle Fewer Sheep

Livestock numbers, except cattle and chickens, on Texas farms and ranches at the beginning of 1952 were lower than a year ago. For the entire nation cattle numbers were 7 per cent larger than on January 1, 1951, while for Texas the increase was only 2 per cent. The severe drought over the state has seriously hampered livestock production and has hit hardest the sheep and goat producing sections, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Stock sheep numbers in Texas showed a slight upturn in 1950 but were down 10 per cent on January 1, 1952 compared to a year earlier. There was 6 per cent fewer goats than a year ago and 15 per cent fewer hogs.

This means that livestock numbers have been kept relatively low during a period of favorable returns, because of reduced feed supplies. Even now, Texas farms and ranches have almost 9 million cattle, over 6 million stock sheep and 1.6 million hogs. Also, at the start of 1952, Texas farms had about 23 million chickens and a half million turkeys, which was an increase over a year before. In specialized areas, Texas growers raise about 50 million broilers a year, says Bates.

Feed reserves have been depleted because of abnormally heavy feeding during the past few months and feed supplies per animal unit are now the lowest since 1947, points out Bates. Unless the weather becomes extremely favorable for the production of large feed crops this year, reserves are likely to drop still further, he adds. So it looks like higher feed costs are ahead, unless stockmen plan wisely and get a better break on the weather.

The wildcat will be drilled on a 1,400-acre checkerboard block assembled by Kennard Cook, Dallas geologist and oil operator, who turned it to Republic, retaining a full 16th ownership and acreage. A cash consideration also was involved in the deal.

Stanford Oil and Gas Company, holding offsetting acreage contributed $15,000. Pure Oil Company, also holding offset acreage, contributed $10,000.

Western Natural Gas Co., Hiawatha Oil and Gas Co., and Ed. C. Lawson of Tulsa contributed acreage.

Treatment Of Mexican Wet-Back Brings Tears Of Gratitude

The story below which was recently published in the Texas Mohair Weekly at Rocksprings, tells the story of Luzino Biyeda, a Mexican wet-back, and the treatment given him by the people of Edwards County. Biyeda's story has been reprinted in several metropolitan news papers and has attracted much interest in the Southwest.

Luzino Biyeda, twenty-one year old Mexican national, has been dismissed from the Edwards County Memorial Hospital at Rocksprings, after being a patient there for 32 days. Biyeda is the person in 100 that has survived the killer disease lockjaw. Not only survived but is well on the road to good health.

Treatment by the ranch county of Biyeda, a wet-back, is told in this story. In view of the recent charges of mistreatment of "wet-backs" and pending legislation on the question, Biyeda's experience is of particular interest.

He was brought to the hospital critically ill on Thursday, January 19th, by Arnold Guthrie, former of the Barron-McClain ranch twenty miles southwest of Rocksprings off the Del Rio highway. At the time, he was unconscious and suffering from a severe case of tetanus.

The youth had left his home in Tenkuehdo, Zimapan, Hidalgo, Mexico, about 150 miles from Mexico City, a few weeks before to find work. His family consisted of his mother, stepfather, three brothers, and three sisters, and they worked for farmers in the area.

Biyeda decided to try his luck in Texas, so he slipped across the border and began looking for a promising ranch home where he could get food and employment. As he was nearing the Barron-McClain ranch in Edwards County, he climbed over a fence and got a splinter in his right hand. Not bothering to stop and remove the splinter, he hurried on to the headquarters ranch and asked for a job. Guthrie hired the boy, since labor was needed badly to help with feeding and other ranch work.

Several days later, as Guthrie and Biyeda were working, the foreman noticed the boy was not using his right arm. Upon being questioned, Biyeda admitted the arm was sore. After Guthrie looked at the splinter in it and how it had infected the hand, which still was swollen and black, he rushed the boy immediately in a car to the nearest hospital.

Biyeda's brother, Teelo Lozana, 23, came to Rocksprings from Mexico upon hearing of his brother's illness with the trip being arranged by the Mexican consul and Rocksprings authorities. They also had Teelo talk by phone to his mother in Mexico and inform her of his safe arrival and of the condition of his brother.

For many days, Biyeda did not recognize his visiting brother. Teelo stayed almost constantly with Biyeda at the hospital, although several nights he was persuaded to leave and get some rest at a house nearby.

When Biyeda finally regained consciousness, he was overcome with the attention he was receiving and over the news that his brother was with him. He slowly began regaining his strength. His diet was carefully checked and vitamins and other deficiencies supplied.

Biyeda requested that he be allowed to tell some one how he had been treated, so a press interview was arranged. Neither Biyeda nor his brother speak English, so an official interpreter was present, as was also Mrs. Temple Good, Supt. of the hospital, and Mrs. Terry Cowart, the attending nurse. The hospital staff and attending doctor speak fluent Spanish, which was a great help and also a pleasure to Biyeda.

At the interview, Biyeda stated that he was never treated so good in all his life. With a smile and a soft voice, he said, "The nurses are so good, and the doctor is so good, and I am pleased with everything, and I want to thank everybody. They make no difference in the way they treat me from all the others." His brother, Teelo nodded approvingly.

The Biyeda asked if he could have a picture of the hospital and doctor and nurses to take home with him to show everyone. An appointment was made with a local photographer to come and make the pictures he wanted.

Every medical aid known was used by the attending doctor and nurses at the hospital in an effort to save the boy's life, although he was now in the advanced stages of lockjaw, and in addition, pneumonia had developed. Injections of antitoxin were administered; Oxygen was given; and for two weeks, he received only intravenous feeding, since he could not drink even a drop of water. He suffered spells of violent seizures; had a succession of convulsions; and these were accompanied by severe vomiting attacks. Special nurses attended him constantly for three weeks.

Sheriff Dor Brown of Edwards County and Dr. Frank H. Patt, the attending physician contacted the Mexican consul, Juan Richter, at Eagle Pass and explained the situation to him. They asked him to get in touch with Biyeda's family to see if one of his relatives could come to Rocksprings, at the time, the men doubted that Biyeda would recover.

Also, Yancy Barron, owner of the ranch who made his home at Palmer, Texas, near Dallas, was called. Barron gave instructions to provide everything the boy needed and stated that he would defray all expenses.

The Barron, although 74 years of age, came in his car to Rocksprings, arriving here Monday, January 21, to see personally about the boy. Barron, who was president of the Palmer Bank, owner of the brick factory, and who had many other business interests, planned to stay here as long as Biyeda was in the hospital. But tragedy struck when Barron was killed Saturday night, January 27, as he slipped and fell, striking his head on a concrete porch. Barron was alone in the house at the time, but managed to call Guthrie, who summoned an ambulance and doctor to the ranch. However, Barron died a few minutes after Dr. Pratt arrived.

L. R. McClain, Barron's grandson of Palmer, came at once to

Tidelands Grab Seen As Just Another Step To Socialist Plan

Tidelands oil issue was seen today as one raised and promoted by "Federal empire-builders" to expand their bureaucracy and to move another step in the direction of nationalization of the country's natural resources. This conclusion was contained in an analysis of the controversial tidelands legislation prepared for the Council of State Chambers of Commerce of which the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is a member.

The study declared that "something more than Federal preemption of a new and potentially rich State revenue source motivates the Federal bureaucracy." It pointed out that Federal ownership of the submerged lands would mean the creation of additional Federal bureaus, the obtaining of new personnel and the hiring of an army of lawyers to handle the litigation that would ensue. The analysis continued.

"For nearly two decades this Nation has seen the Federal bureaucracy succeed in one aim after another to disintegrate, in large chunks, the taxing of other political powers of the States and put these powers to its own use.

"The correct course is to wrest control of the submerged lands from the States is unmatched by anything yet in its enormity and in its tricky resort to all the gadgets of governmental procedure in order to attain its ends."

The study also said "the Federal bureaucracy and its journalistic emissaries have waged a long campaign of propaganda against legislation restoring title in submerged lands to the states" ever since the Supreme Court's decision in the California, Texas and Louisiana cases.

It added, "This propaganda campaign has marked by constant reiteration of distorted facts, misrepresentations and unfounded charges against the legislation and those supporting it."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FROM VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Q - Are there any charges made for obtaining a G.I. home loan?

A - The lender may charge reasonable closing costs, usually paid by any borrower. He also may make a reasonable flat charge as provided in schedules issued by VA, to cover the cost of originating the loan. There is no commission or brokerage fees may be charged to a veteran for securing a GI loan.

Q - Would a World War II veteran with a "bad conduct" discharge be eligible for GI Bill benefits?

A - That depends on the circumstances in any individual case. The law requires a discharge under conditions other than dishonorable, VA would have to determine whether the "bad conduct" discharge was given under conditions other than dishonorable. If this were so, the veteran might be eligible for GI Bill benefits, subject to all the other conditions that apply.

Q - Is there any priority system for entering a VA hospital?

A - Yes. Veterans who need treatment for service-connected disabilities have priority over those who require hospitalization for non-service-connected conditions. Veterans in the latter category, if not emergency cases, must wait for a bed to become available and must swear that they are unable to afford private treatment elsewhere.

Q - I expect to be discharged from service soon. Can you tell me what I have to do in order to get the new kind of term insurance for Korean veterans? I have never held National Service Life Insurance, and I am not disabled.

A - You must apply in writing to VA, Washington 25, D. C., within 120 days after your release from active duty, and pay the required first premium.

WHAT ARE TODAY'S FACTS ABOUT NEW CAR ENGINES AND POWER STEERING?

LAST YEAR Chrysler introduced its new FirePower V-8 engine, and America's first passenger-car full-time power steering. Both new ideas "took hold" in a big way.

Today, others are announcing "new engines" and "power steering" . . . but with some basic differences worth keeping in mind if you're buying a new car.

First: about "new engines." The fact is, a really new engine design happens only once in a great while. It did happen in the FirePower V-8. Its 180 h.p. was only incidental to its basic new design. Its key idea is a hemispherical combustion chamber, which makes even non-premium gasoline develop more usable power than other designs can get from premium fuel.

Only Chrysler engineering has so far mastered this design. Several cars do have some power increase, in terms of previous designs. The important fact is that FirePower is not a "warmed-over" engine, but brand new in performance, construction, and efficiency.

In power steering, too, there are basic differences.

Chrysler uses hydraulic power, always in effect, to do two things. First, it does 4/5 the steering work as you turn the wheel. Second, we've cut the amount of wheel turn needed by over 1/3.

Parking or cruising, you get more and easier control than ever before. In sand, snow, or ruts, the hydraulic power is always there to keep the front wheels from "steering back" at you. You get the same amount and feel of control all the time . . . full-time ease and full-time safety.

Actually, the differences, both in engine performance and in steering safety and ease are impossible to put in words . . . but just as impossible not to feel the moment you get into a Chrysler and drive it! Why not see your Chrysler dealer and do that, soon?

LAST WEEK THE HOUSE disposed of one appropriation bill, adopted a conference report on an immigration measure, and recessed on Thursday for the week-end.

The economy coalition in the House was very much in evidence as the supplemental appropriation bill was dissected and amended in a number of respects. I offered an amendment to prohibit the employment of nearly 400 additional Federal employees, and for other purposes. It was adopted and alone will save many millions of dollars during the years to come. The initial cut provided by the one amendment amounted to $1,390,000.

The wetback bill was cleared by the conference committee to which it had been referred to iron out differences between the House and Senate. The compromise version was promptly adopted and was sent to the President. It is a vast improvement over many of the proposals advanced by the Administration, and is considered a fairly good bill in most respects.

Meanwhile, the farm labor crisis continues and the present processing agreement with Mexico to expire in early May. A new agreement is to be negotiated in Mexico City soon, to enable Mexican workers to be recruited to work in areas on this side of the Rio Grande where there is found to be a shortage of domestic help. The trouble has been that the agreements have been so weighted down with red tape and unworkable provisions, that the program has had the effect of encouraging wetbacks to come across in numbers and has deprived many people of badly needed labor. We can only hope that the new agreement will be an improvement.

YOUR HEALTH

From a literary point of view life may begin at forty, but from health standpoint, life after forty begins to be more complicated for the average individual, than it was in his earlier years. According to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, the principal health foes confronting people in middle life are heart disease, cancer, kidney disease, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, apoplexy, diabetes, and arthritis.

Middle aged people of today are healthier than were those of preceding generations, and the present generation, when they reach middle age, should enjoy even better health than their parents of today.

Medical care in middle life has two important phases. The first is going to the doctor at regular intervals for a complete physical checkup, whether or not there has been symptoms that suggest the need for medical attention. The second is prompt attention to any illness which may mean the difference between prompt recovery and continued good health and prolonged invalidism. It is difficult to say which of these phases is the more important.

It has been found that men and women who faithfully pursue the habit of regular health examinations and who follow the advice arising from them tend to live longer, more satisfactorily, and freer from disease than those who simply take a chance and go to the doctor only when pain or disability forces them to give up their normal activities.

It is also a fact that many diseases of middle age respond to treatment in early stages whereas if neglected until later stages they often cause permanent invalidism and even death.

It's Time For Hot Cross Buns!

This is the time for Hot Cross Buns — those currant-filled buns with the frosted slashed cross, a symbol of the season. Here is a new version of the traditional Lenten favorite.

Rich with butter, short on time, that's the story of these Hot Cross Butter Buns. Spices, lemon rind, eggs and butter blend to add delicate flavor. The "speedie" method, developed by Virginia Roberts of The American Beauty Home Baking Institute, includes one-bowl mixing and requires no kneading.

Because they're so easy to make — and so good — you'll serve these butter-rich Hot Cross Buns right around the clock to add a festive note to your Lenten menus.

Hot Cross Butter Buns

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| 1 cup milk, scalded | 2 eggs |
| 1/4 cup butter | 1 teaspoon cinnamon |
| 1/4 cup sugar | 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1/4 teaspoon mace |
| 1 package compressed or dry granular yeast* | 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1/2 cup lukewarm water | 1/2 cup currants |
| | 3 1/2 to 4 cups sifted family flour |

Add butter, sugar and salt to scalded milk, cool to lukewarm and add yeast softened in lukewarm water. Blend in eggs, spices, lemon rind and about one half of the flour. Beat well. Blend in currants and enough of the remaining flour to form a soft dough.

Let dough rest in bowl for 20 minutes, then divide into 18 parts and shape each into a ball. Place in greased 9x13-inch pan. Let rise until light, about 45 minutes. Slash a cross on top of each roll. Bake 25 minutes at 375° F. Frost tops while slightly warm.

*For dry granular yeast follow directions on package.

It Makes Your Dollars Feel Important too

THE Buick pictured here can match price tags with a lot of cars smaller in size and horsepower and win.

But that only gives you a hint as to what a whale of a buy it is.

Like costlier Buicks, it has the wide-open view of a one-piece windshield.

Like costlier Buicks, it has the gleaming distinction of sweepspear styling.

Like costlier Buicks, it has smart new fabrics and door trim.

Like all other Buicks, it has the extra safety of new, long-lasting Wide-Band brakes.

Like all other Buicks, it has the sure-footed, road-hugging, even-keeled steadiness of the Million Dollar Ride—a combination of 15 engineering features including a husky X-braced frame, end-sway and side-roll stabilizers, Hi-Poised engine mountings, Permi-Firm steering and soft coil springs for every wheel.

And like all other Buicks, it has a power-packed Fireball 8 Engine—a high-compression valve-in-head that gets extra wallop, extra mileage from every gallon of gasoline.

So we think that you'll feel mighty important bossing around this smart-stepping smoothie.

And when you check the price we're asking against the field — we think your dollars are going to feel mighty important in buying power too.

Ever go "over the side"?

IT ISN'T EASY with the roll of the transport and the clumsy sway of your heavy full field pack.

Then, finally there's the tense, terrible run toward an angry beach and a destiny you cannot even guess.

It's all very serious and dangerous and hard. Yet thousands of American youngsters have done it—and are ready to do it again, if need be, in defense of our country and you.

But defense is your job, too. And you can do your job, in an important way, by buying U.S. Defense Bonds.

For these bonds make you and your family secure at home. They provide the economic stability that's needed behind our effective military power.

So, for the sake of the boys on the landing nets—and for your own family's security—invent your savings in United States Defense Bonds now!

The U. S. Defense Bonds you buy give you personal financial independence. Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever.
