Junction Sidelines- There were many evidences of sportsmanship and hospitality on the part of Junction people last week. Driving into town, one saw a huge banner marked "Welcome Sonora." The welcome banner seemed to set the tone for the whole evening. We feel that the Junction school officials, coaches, townspeople and players went out of their way to see that Sonorans were treated as guests. We'll have to go some to match this spirit of friendliness when Junction plays here next year.

Everywhere our team goes people talk about their good citizenship, their friendly, quiet ways, and how much credit they give Sonora. There is a reason for this. We desire to represent their town as they think it should be represented. We appreciate their citizenship.

Ever hear of a rattlesnake 10 feet, 11 inches long not counting head or rattles? Well, come to the office and we'll show you a picture of it. It was killed north of Rio Hondo in 1929. (Fifteen cents charge for all snake stories we have to publish next week.)

We received an anonymous tip Wednesday that politics were really hot at the Elementary School. Seems the Student Council is holding elections today and sixth and seventh grade political machines are really grinding away.

We checked up and found the halls plastered with posters, exhorting, pleading poetically, shaming and challenging the young voters to put various candidates in office. Here are a few samples of campaign slogans:-

Clip the rest and vote for the best. Jo Bess for Press.
Vote for Herman, he's Determined.
In the month of May, you will be proud to say, you voted for Gay, on election Day.
Mary, Mary, quite Contrary, Vote for Francine for secretary.
Don't be a dumb bell, vote for Mary Dell for secretary.

Vote for Alfred for secretary and he'll tackle the job like he tackles a boy with the ball.

There was a little rooster sitting on a fence. He voted for Jerry cause he had good sense. Jerry and Claire would make a nice pair, for president and vice-president.

The Sonora City Commission, acting on the advice of City Attorney L. W. Elliott, voted at a special meeting Monday night to employ Quentin Owsley, Houston telephone rate expert, to make an investigation of General Telephone Company's demand for increased rates in Sonora.

Owsley, who represented the City of Anson, and is at present representing San Angelo, charges $100 per day for his services and estimates that about 15 days will be required for the General Telephone Co. investigation.

The motion to employ Owsley was introduced by Commissioner Alton Hightower and seconded by Commissioner Artie Joy.

Following passage of the motion, Mayor Alfred Schwieng deferred action on the matter until the next regular commission meeting Monday, November 1. At that time the rate question will either be dealt with or deferred further depending on whether Owsley's investigation has been completed.

In recommending that the commission employ Owsley, Elliott stated that he did not feel the commission had at present enough facts to determine a fair rate and that additional facts should be secured.

"If we go into court now, we wouldn't have the facts," Elliott said, "and I don't want us to go into court unless we are loaded for bear."

Speaking for the telephone company Joseph A. McCrum stated that he considered the move a wise one and that "the company will cooperate with Mr. Owsley in every way possible."

Meanwhile local telephone subscribers were advised by the city to pay their bills under the OLD rate, since the commission has neither accepted nor rejected the company's demands. Bill adjustments can be made after the question is settled. (See city advertisement).

LOCAL RANCHERS TELL RANGE PITTING RESULTS

To conserve moisture, range-pitting is being used as an emergency practice in parts of West Texas. Its value is discussed in the article "Pit Your Range To Hold Rain" in the November issue of The Progressive Farmer magazine.

The pits catch water and allow it to soak into the soil instead of being carried off by gullies and ditches. Although a good vegetative cover would do a better job, the drought and overstocking of

Big Red Rolls Over Junction Eagles 25-0

Sonora's Big Red Line stopped the Junction Eagles cold Friday night in Junction, then proceeded to cut the two Georges (Wright and Johnson) loose for two scores each. The final tally was 25-0.

All in all, the big difference was adaptability and teamwork on the part of the Broncos. Tracy Crites, who took a pass to the Junction 3 early in the game, only to have it nullified by a penalty, turned in his best defensive game all season. Crites and Jack Johnson teamed up on blocking assignments which produced consistent gains.

The Broncos, who scored in every quarter except the third, got away to a fast start in the first when a Randle fumble was recovered on the Junction 20. George Johnson went around right end to the six and George Wright went over tackle for the score. Wright ran over for the point.

Junction came back with a passing attack from the spread formation, but the Sonora line rushed the passer badly and Randle was forced to kick.

Sonora got its second drive underway from its own 30. Wright and Johnson carried alternately to the Eagles 10, where Johnson ran the left end for a score. The run for point was stopped.

A delayed buck worked for the clincher in the fourth. The ball was on the Sonora 45 when George Wright hesitated a second, then charged through a truck-sized hole to go 55 yards for the TD. The kick for point was blocked.

George Johnson made the final tally when he ran around the Eagles' left end, cut to the east sideline and ran 72 yards for the touchdown. Again the kick failed.

Joe Turner classed the victory as an "overall squad win" because the reserves pushed the first squad all week. Turner gave special praise to the line which played a hard, bruising game, and to the coaching staff of Oliver Wuest, Jack Fry and John Kemmer. Turner also said Wright's signal calling was masterful and kept Sonora in control all the way. Monday with a light workout, while the B squad had a rugged scrimmage. The B team will play Ozona B team Saturday night in Ozona.

Ranchmen Attend Game Meeting Slated Tuesday

Forty ranchmen turned out for the District Supervisors election, field day, and barbecue on the Paul Turney ranch last Monday.

Fred Earwood was re-elected to serve a term of five years on the Board of Supervisors. He will represent the landowners of Zone 1 of the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District.

Turney served the group a barbecue dinner prior to the afternoon program.

The Rev. Alanson Brown, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church told the group that stewardship of the land was closely allied to salvation of the soul. He referred to the work of the monks during the middle ages and how as a result of their work the lands of Europe are still productive after centuries of use.

Following Mr. Brown's talk the group made a short tour of the Turney ranch and examined a six-acre trap that has not been grazed since 1921. The trap was formerly a bedrock and devoid of vegetation. Today the trap contains a variety of 19 grasses, 15 woody plants, and 40 weeds. E. B. Keng, area conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, pointed out that pastures that had periodic rests improve more rapidly than enclosures similar to this one that had not been grazed in a long time.

Andy Truden, work unit conservationist, and Leo Merrill of the Texas Experiment Station, conducted a demonstration of the effect of raindrops striking bare soil. The test pointed out that uncontrolled raindrops rob the ranges. Beating against bare soil they close the door to their own entry. They break down soil structure, causing the soil to run together and form a seal that actually waterproofs the land. Accumulating on the surface, they provide the runoff water to carry away detached soil particles.

Vegetative cover cushions the fall of the rain. The large drops break into a fine spray that settles harmlessly and trickles down the stems. Here it enters the soil to provide moisture for plant growth.

The effect of soil crusting and vegetative cover on the infiltration of water into the soil was shown. The group saw a lot of grass on the Turney ranch that was grown on 9.5 inches of rain. Andy Truden pointed out that Turney stocking at an average of 30 animal units per section for the past 10 years coupled with short deferments left his grass in a good condition to start growth when the spring rains came.

The pits are made 2 to 3 feet long, 4 to 8 inches deep, and 8 to 12 inches wide. The pits should be constructed in early spring or summer to catch and hold the spring and fall rains.

The Glascock Brothers use the practice on their ranch pest of Sonora. They found that after a 2 1/2 inch rain, moisture had penetrated 6 to 8 inches deeper in pitted areas than in areas with no treatment.

A. H. Walker, range specialist, Texas A. & M., advises ranchers to pit the most productive crusted soil first. The pits should be run on the contour and constructed so they will last at least two years. He advises against pitting areas containing poisonous plants as it cultivates these plants. To it is useless to pit sandy land as the pits won't last.

Plans Complete For Halloween Carnival Oct. 30

Plans were about complete this week for the annual Halloween Carnival which will be sponsored Saturday night, October 31, by the Student Council of Sonora High School.

As was the case in preceding years a queen, elected by popular vote, will preside over the carnival. Voting will stop at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The costume parade, the outstanding attraction of the affair, will begin moving promptly at 6:30 o'clock from the Courthouse. The parade will turn at Concho and Main and disband in front of the Sonora Motor Company.

Some of the features of the carnival will be the Country Store, Chamber of Horrors, Cake Walk, Fish Pond, and various concession stands.

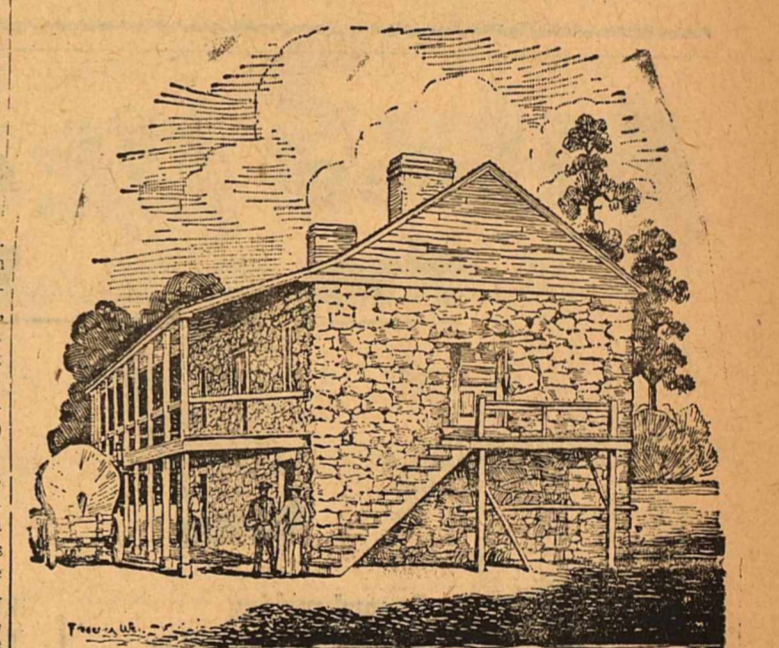

Mrs. Beulah Cook spent last week in San Angelo visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turner.

HAVE WE FORGOTTEN?

By W.H. Marshall

A man's tomorrow is largely influenced by his today. Moral compromises have a way of paying off later with disgust. No man is liable to win promotions who is not willing to keep pushing himself forward. Some people mistake prodigality for prosperity.

If you cannot forgive men their mistakes you are to be pitied. Fine upholstery does not make an automobile.

When we have no time for God and the Church, we have forgotten the meaning of our own lives. That man is poor who has no time for Christianity.

Since God is always fair with you why not meet Him at least halfway. That would be a good start.

A man will get no more good out of life than he is willing to be loyal to.

A well-managed life makes room for God's judgement as well as your own judgement.

When you are able to tell yourself the truth you are getting somewhere.

How a man handles his misfortune will tell the story of what he has on the inside of himself.

Not many men can live down a bad reputation.

An honest man can win because he is a clean fighter.

If you are not willing to say, "I said it," you better not say it. We are all salesmen. We should be careful how we rate ourselves.

Dusk Is Dangerous!

Late afternoon hours can be a dangerous time on autumn evenings. By the time youngsters are pedalling home from a scout meeting or football game after school, it's twilight and time for every driver to be extra cautious. Parents can help by seeing that every bicycle is equipped with an adequate reflector to warn approaching cars. The two children here are using safety reflectors of red "Scotchlite." More than 15 million of these are being distributed this fall in special packages of a leading brand of margarine. The red hexagons light up more than a block away when a car's headlights shine on them.

Your Health

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in Texas declares Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer. It takes more lives each year than cancer, accidents or any other cause of death, in fact one third of all deaths are due to heart disease and the toll is rising. It can be curbed if you will have a periodic health examination by a qualified physician and follow his instructions for protecting your heart. An annual physical examination sometimes brings to light adverse conditions, many of which can be corrected before they cause serious damage. Only a physician can recognize for certain the danger signals of heart trouble, and tell you how to care for yourself.

If your physician tells you to slow down or reduce your weight, to cut down on your heart's work load, heed his advice. He wants to help you take care of your heart and to keep you in good health. There's no replacement possible.

The heart needs good care to stay in good running order. Almost anything you do affects your heart. The food you eat, the stairs you climb, the hours you sleep, the pace you set for yourself, your illnesses, the worries you brood over, the tensions you live under—all affect your heart. These are the patterns of your life. These are what make you tick. These conditions play roles in making your heart the kind of heart it is. And there are indicators to warn you of trouble, if you look for them.

The heart can work at a fast pace, and under handicaps, for a long time, because it draws on its reserve power. But when the reserve power of the heart begins to wear out, you experience some of the symptoms commonly associated with heart disease. You may experience a shortness of breath, pain over the heart or breast bone, swollen ankles, and heavy and uneven heart beats.

Of course at any time, sudden, strong physical exertion will cause a person's heart to beat faster. But if, under ordinary circumstance, you experience any of these symptoms, heed the warning and see your physician. You may not have heart trouble, but it's smart not to take chances.

Saved By 2nd Chute

PIETERMARITZBURG, SOUTH AFRICA — Seconds before this dramatic photo was taken, Stan Kirk, former paratrooper with the 6th British AB Division, was falling to earth at more than 120 miles an hour. His parachute tore while he was making a drop from a height of 3,500 feet at an air show here. Just before this shot, Kirk's second chute opened. South African air regulations require that all chutists carry an emergency chute — just in case. The regulation saved Kirk's life.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Smitty's Not-So-Silent Partner

Dropped into Smitty's gas station last week and met his new partner who turned out to be a real talker.

"What'll it be?" asked Smitty. Before I had a chance to answer I heard a strange voice "Fill her up! Fill her up!" And there was Smitty's partner — one of those parakeets perched next to the gas pump.

"Took me a month," Smitty said, "but I finally taught him to say those magic words. It's sure paid off — he's had a good influence on my customers."

From where I sit, Smitty's bird may be good for business — and may get him a few laughs. But when people act like parakeets, they're not so funny. For instance, those who keep insisting over and over again that their neighbors shouldn't have a glass of temperate beer with their supper now and then. They're simply repeating their own ideas, without any regard for the rights of others.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
FROM VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Q - I am an ex-WAC, planning to attend school under the Korean GI Bill. My husband is working. Will VA pay me the added GI allowance for a veteran with dependents, even though he is working?

A - No. You could claim the added allowance for your husband only if he were in fact dependent upon you.

Q - As a member of the Reserves, I receive pay for attending weekly meetings and going on active duty two weeks each year. Will this pay be deducted from the monthly allowance I receive as a student in college under the Korean GI Bill?

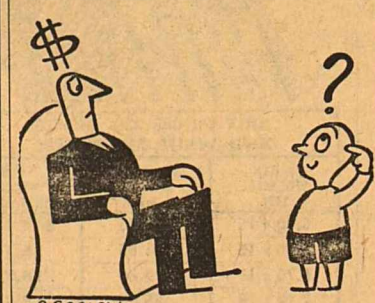

A - No. Reserve pay will not be deducted from your GI allowance. Neither will any other outside earnings you may receive. Under the law, the monthly allowance for school-going veterans remains the same, regardless of outside income of any kind.

Q - I have a permanent GI insurance policy which lapsed several months ago. To reinstate, I understand I will have to pay all back premiums. Will I also be required to pay interest on the premiums?

A - Yes. You will be required to pay interest at the stipulated rate for your type of policy.

Q - I am thinking about paying the additional premium on my GI insurance policy, so that if I become totally disabled for six months or more I will receive a monthly payment from VA. If I should become disabled, would these payments I receive be deducted from the face amount of

The Basic Idea
Behind the All-New 1955 PONTIAC

On Display October 29 and 30

ABOUT 30 years ago General Motors Corporation presented to America a new car called Pontiac. This new car was the direct result of a very specific idea.

The idea was this: to create a car which took its style, its engineering principles and its features from the very best and most expensive in America—and to build these into a car priced just above the very lowest!

Naturally, such an idea produced a wonderful and highly popular car—a car which millions of satisfied owners have driven with outstanding pride and pleasure.

Now, nearly three decades later, an entirely new Pontiac has been created for 1955—a car completely new from the ground up!

One thing, however, about the 1955 Pontiac remains unchanged—its basic idea—to offer the American public the very finest car that can possibly be built to sell at a price within easy reach of any new-car buyer.

When you see the new Pontiac on Friday or Saturday—Oct. 29 or 30—you will be immediately impressed by its remarkable new styling. No other car in the world looks like this new Pontiac!

When you drive it you will be astonished at its performance. For the 1955 Pontiac introduces the powerful new Strato-Streak V-8, an all-new engine that has already been proved in more than 3 million test miles!

When you price the new Pontiac you will come face to face with the basic Pontiac idea—you will be agreeably surprised that so much car, so much sparkling newness, so much luxury, so much downright goodness can be priced so near the very lowest.

We cordially invite you to come in on Friday or Saturday and see for yourself what a superb all-new General Motors masterpiece has been created to carry the wonderful name "Pontiac" for 1955.

RIGHTS OF ACCUSED EXPLAINED

Most criminals have a good idea of their rights in court, but the average citizen, confronted with a traffic ticket or court summons, has little knowledge of the protections provided for him. Having had little experience with the courts, he is apt to view with a sinking feeling any document requiring his presence in court. However, if he is innocent of the charge and knows his rights as citizen in court, he need have no fear of appearing before judge and jury.

Probably the most fundamental and important right is summarized in the well-known adage: "Every man is innocent until proved guilty." It is up to the prosecuting authorities to prove that the person on trial is guilty—and not the obligation of the person accused to prove that he is innocent. The prosecution must prove your guilt beyond a reasonable doubt, or you will be acquitted. The mere fact that you have been given a ticket or accused of a crime is not even evidence of guilt.

Another important protection is the right to have a witness whose testimony you may need subpoenaed to appear in court and testify. Many people are reluctant to go to court when their own rights are involved, and unless you had a means for compelling their attendance and testimony, you often would be unable to prove the facts necessary for success in your case.

It is the duty of every citizen to testify if he has information important to a law suit and is called upon to do so. The courts can and do enforce attendance in court and the giving of testimony.

Certain other safeguards are valuable to you. A person may refuse to testify in any proceeding if he has a reasonable belief that his testimony could be used as a basis of a criminal proceeding against him. This does not mean, of course, that a confession given freely and voluntarily cannot be used in evidence. But it does mean that an accused cannot be compelled to take the witness stand. Nor can his failure to testify be commented upon by the prosecution.

Our courts provide many safeguards for the innocent against false accusation of crime. But many of these rights would be valueless without the assistance of a lawyer, who has been schooled in legal principles and rules of statute or decision involved, to invoke these rights. The "right to counsel" must be granted to every accused person brought before any court in the state. In capital cases, if an accused person cannot afford to pay for legal counsel and desires it, the court must appoint a lawyer to represent him.

Every person charged with an infraction of the law has the right to consult counsel before making any plea. This applies to cases in every court—including justice of the peace courts, municipal courts, traffic courts and district courts. It does little good to consult a lawyer after you have pleaded guilty and paid the fine, for then the damage has been done.

The courts are open to you any time one of your legal rights has been denied or any of your property has been unlawfully taken. This is one of your most precious rights. The courts are the only peaceful means of enforcing your rights.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

The New York Giants 20-year-old bonus infielder, Joe Amalfitano, stands out as the luckiest player of the year. Because he was a bonus baby, the Giants were forced to keep him all season or risk losing their investment in him. He was in nine National League games and only five times at bat all season. He didn't even connect for a single hit. But, says The Sporting News, because he was with the team all year, he received a full $11,147.50 share of the largest World's Series melon of all time.

The new manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, Mayo Smith, will have to get acquainted with his players in more ways than one. The pronunciation of the players' names are important and The Sporting News is passing along a few in this sports flashes release.

Luke Easter, who played first base for the Cleveland Indians, is about to retire from baseball and thinking seriously of taking up a pro ring career. Luke was once an amateur boxer, according to The Sporting News.

Johnny Wyrostek, veteran outfielder of the Phillies, who saw some service at first base last season, pronounces his name Wy-ross-tek.

New FORD THUNDERBIRD

A personal car of distinction
...with Trigger-Torque performance

You'll be delighted at the wealth of conveniences the Thunderbird offers. Two tops are available: a disappearing fabric top... and an easy-to-lift-on hard top. The extra-wide vinyl upholstered seat is foam-rubber-cushioned... power-operated 4 ways. Windows roll up... by power, if you like. There is a tachometer... and a clock with a sweep-second hand. There is a telescoping steering wheel. And you can have power steering and power brakes.

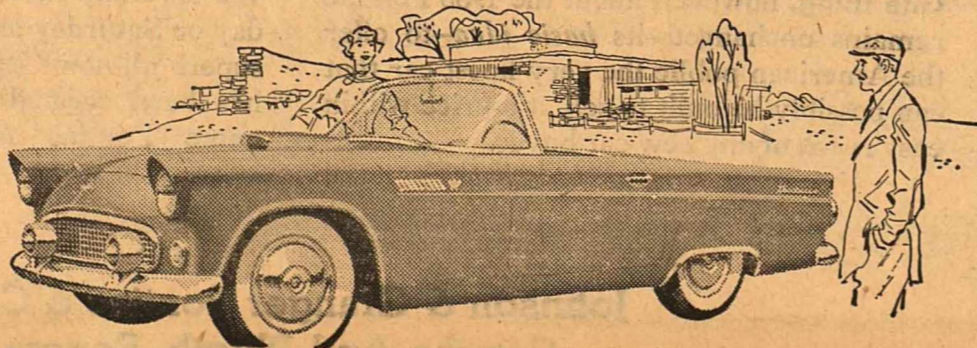

Something totally fresh is here—a bewitching new all-steel beauty that sets the styling keynote for other Ford cars to come.

But, styling gives the merest hint of what the Thunderbird has to offer. In traffic and on the open road the Thunderbird's Trigger-Torque performance is literally a revelation. Here is hair-trigger response... fleet, liquid agility... backed by a reserve of swift, sure power to meet safety's every demand. Trigger-Torque performance stems from Ford's new Thunderbird Special V-8—a high-torque engine with 4-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts, wide-opening valves and Ford's famous low-friction design. And you can have the Thunderbird with the transmission of your choice—Conventional, Overdrive, or new Speed-Trigger Fordomatic.

Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension not only velvet-cushions your ride, it also allows the Thunderbird to handle with utmost ease—to corner with greatest stability.

But, more important, the Thunderbird is the product of the same advanced engineering... the same manufacturing skills that have made Ford products so dependable, so value-full and so desirable to so many.
