April 30 Deadline On Wool Incentive Signatures; ASC To Remain Open Sat.

The Sutton County ASC office will remain open all day Saturday, April 27, to accommodate ranches who will be in town to sign wool incentive payment applications.

All unshorn lamb sales and wool sales receipts that have been turned in to the ASC office for application for payment under the wool incentive program are now ready for the producers' signatures.

All producers are urged to give this their immediate attention. Deadline for signing applications is April 30.

April 29 is the last date on which ranchers may sign up for emergency feed under the new extension of the drought relief program. These applications are for feed only. The roughage program was not extended, according to Mrs. Marie K. Ellis, office manager.

Mules Slate League Opener Here Sunday

The Sonora Mules will play their league opener here Sunday afternoon with the Goodfellow Air Force Base Skyhawks from San Angelo, according to Mules manager Pat Lyles.

Local fans will see some real baseball, Lyles says, with a number of former pros now playing with the Skyhawks. Among them is Charlie Boxhold, famous football quarterback from Maryland.

Norman Rousselot will pitch for the Mules. Game time is 2:30 Sunday at Allison Field.

Dr. Carl Kunath Addresses Lions Tuesday Noon

Dr. Carl A. Kunath of San Angelo was principal speaker at Tuesday's Lions Club meeting at the Methodist Church. Dr. Kunath, a member of the district board of the American Cancer Society spoke on progress in the battle against cancer.

In the United States alone 225,000 people died of cancer during 1956, Dr. Kunath said, and an additional 26,000,000 living Americans will die of cancer. This is approximately one of every six American now living.

Each day 685 people die of cancer and cancer is the number one killer of children between the ages of three and 15, Dr. Kunath added. Sonora will lose six people to the disease in 1957. According to figures compiled by the Society, about 15 persons in a town the size of Sonora will be under treatment for cancer and three or four will be cured. 600 now living in such a town will fall pray to the disease and one out of four will die of it.

In every four cases of cancer, one will be cured, one could have been cured if the disease had been detected in its early stages, and the other two are doomed because of a lack of knowledge about the disease and means of controlling it. The two known cures for cancer are surgery and irradiation.

Recent findings on the controversial connection of smoking with cancer show that only one

Children Need Fourth Polio Injection Now

Parents of children who have received their series of three polio shots are urged to supplement the original series with a fourth injection, say polio experts who are now advocating the fourth injection as a booster.

This measure comes about as a result of recent discoveries in the variance of individual responses to the vaccine. Certain persons are nearly completely protected from polio with only two injections while others require all four shots to assure immunization.

Dr. Charles F. Browne who recently attended a panel discussion on poliomyelitis, conducted by Dr. David Schrum of Baylor University School of Medicine, Houston, and Dr. Theo Panos of the University of Texas School of Medicine, Galveston, gave the present schedule for immunization against polio as follows:

One injection, followed by a second a month later. The third shot should come seven to 12 months after the second and should be followed by the fourth a year later.

All school children who received polio vaccination under the original 1955 school program should have their boosters now, Dr. Browne said.

In 180 non smokers will contract lung cancer; one in 170 pipe and cigar smokers; one in 45 cigarette smokers who smoke a half pack a day; one in 18 who smoke as much as two packs a day.

Funds raised in the annual campaign of the American Cancer Society are used to further the fight against cancer. Of each cancer dollar, 29 cents goes toward research for a cure for this major killer.

Dr. Kunath spoke to women of the community Tuesday afternoon at the school.

AWARDS PRESENTED AT DAR MEETING THURSDAY

Mrs. Duard Archer and Mrs. Josh Ewing of Eldorado entertained the Daughters of the American Revolution in the Club room of the Memorial Building in Eldorado Thursday afternoon.

A program and social hour followed a short business session. Awards were presented to Lennie Mayhew and Charline Logan, outstanding pupils in Sonora and Eldorado, by Mrs. Mary Coupe Davis, regent.

Ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses to approximately twenty members and guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Saunders, Jr. spent the holidays in Kerrville the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Auld.

McMillan Services Held Monday

Mrs. T. L. McMillan, 77, Fort Worth, mother of Mrs. George E. Allison of San Angelo, died Saturday in St. John's Hospital in San Angelo. Mrs. McMillan had been in ill health for some time and had been hospitalized since April 4.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Polytechnic Methodist Church in Fort Worth and burial in Fort Worth.

Savings Bond Sales 10 Percent Quota, Says Neill

During the first quarter of 1957 Texas had achieved 23.4% of its 1957 bond quota. Total sales for the first three months of this year were $45,160,721. Sales in Sutton County amounted to $7,755 during the first quarter which was 10.8% of the 1957 quota of $71,792, according to G. H. (Jack) Neill, chairman of Sutton County.

"The month of May, 1957 has been designated Minute Man Month in Texas and across the nation. During May special emphasis will be made to remind all citizens that for their own future security and the future security of the United States everyone should invest regularly in U. S. Savings Bonds--the safest investment in the world today," Chairman Neill stated.

Foodway Store Enlarges Facilities

Evans Food-Way will complete their renovation program Thursday and will be open for business at that time. The store has been enlarged by including the portion of the Hallum Building formerly occupied by the Sonora Package Store.

Foodway Manager Bill Lee says the additional space has enabled him to increase his flood area by 50 percent. A complete job of redecorating has been done and new equipment added.

Item 7: Estimated loss of sales from the hordes who would have thronged to our door if they could have found it, $10,800.29.

Total: $10,918.69. This is due and payable on the tenth of the following month.

Odds And Ends

After 19 months of research, experimentation, etc., John Daniel Eaton, electrician par excellence and vice-president in charge of not hiding your light under a bushel, this week installed "The Devil" on his perch over the door of the News Office. From this vantage point The Devil will keep watch over the vigorous, if somewhat unskilled journalistic efforts within.

Equal credit for The Devil's creation must be given to staff artist Tommie (Mrs. Bill) Lee. When, upon completion of the artwork involved, Mrs. Lee was asked to comment upon her undertaking she said "Any success I may have achieved in this portrayal of The Devil is due to the untiring efforts of my husband who sat as a model--and sat--and sat--and sat."

Also to Jim Perry, that brave man and true, who took up his torch and burned The Devil out of a piece of sheet iron.

Cost of the project can never be accurately determined. We have just received Mr. Eaton's bill for his work and we feel compelled to submit, publicly, a counter-statement to him:

Item 1: 116 cups of coffee we were forced to provide for Mr. Eaton, at 10 cents per cup: $11.60.

Item 2: One quart Grade A quality, Air Force Red Fluorescent paint which Mr. Eaton designated as essential to the project. (He didn't use it). $12.45.

Item 3: Time lost holding wobbly ladder for Mr. Eaton: $67.50.

Item 4: Shoe repair incurred by ourselves and friends in going to the old news office to pick up packages left there, $6.00.

Item 5: Tranquilizer pills taken by staff members to overcome nervous attacks brought on by wobbly ladder, $5.00.

Item 6: One pair trousers torn on "Devil" left in traffic aisle by Mr. Eaton, (100 percent Wool

Religion Belongs In Your Car

In no place is religion more practical than behind the wheel of a car.

The problem of traffic accidents is not merely a technical problem of engineering, licensing and enforcement. It is basically a human problem. Accidents are caused by drivers, not by automobiles.

All the advances made in automotive design, better and safer streets and highways, and new techniques and devices for efficient traffic movement will not solve the traffic accident problem until drivers really become aware of their moral and social obligation behind the wheel of a car.

Deliberate or unintentional violation of a traffic law or sign, or of the dictates of common sense or courtesy, takes the "accident" factor out of traffic accidents. Such actions place the burden of guilt upon the negligent driver. And if death results, the guilty driver also has broken the Commandment—Thou Shalt Not Kill.

It is time for all persons who profess any religious faith, to accept their moral responsibilities in helping to prevent traffic accidents.

Anger, impatience, selfishness—have no place on the roads. They lead to accidents and often to death. Love, courtesy and consideration, on the other hand, will reduce traffic accidents.

Outlook Bright For Budget Cuts

The Budgetarians—folks who are sticklers for budget figures and seem to think they are sacrosanct—are resting during the Easter recess, licking their wounds and girding themselves for the second phase of the battle in May.

With only $15 billion of budget requests acted upon thus far, the budgetarians fought valiantly against every one of the cuts that have totalled $1.1 billion thus far. That means the big battles are yet to be fought. The Senate has not yet acted on any appropriations.

President Eisenhower, following House prodding, came up with a $2 billion suggestion for cuts. That's in addition to what the House has done thus far. So the outlook brightens, and despite the stubborn opposition, coming in the main from liberal Democrats, aided and abetted by such liberal columnists as Drew Pearson, it now looks like we will be able to trim the budget estimates by as much as $5 billion—again assuming the Senate will go along with us.

Looking Through The Windows Of Life

By W. H. Marshall

Living On A Barter Basis. "What shall we do to you, that the sea may quiet down for you?" Jonah 1:11.

Jonah had become a problem. In his attempt to get away from the Lord—to escape a disagreeable duty that was perfectly plain he had taken passage on a ship bound for Spain. But he soon learned that one does not evade God so easily, for a terrible storm arose which the sailors agreed was some kind of divine visitation; someone on board had offended some god!

When Jonah finally confessed that he was the one whose presence on shipboard had jeopardized the lives of all the rest, the sailors said to him, "What shall we do to you, that the sea may quiet down for us?" They had no interest whatever in Jonah's affairs. He could take care of them to suit himself. But they were desperately concerned about their own, and they were ready to bargain with Jonah.

It is an unfortunate fact that a very great deal of life proceeds on the basis of barter. We invite those people to dinner which we have a right to expect will invite us in return. We vote for the candidate who promises to do something for us, not for the one who can be depended upon to do something for the country. We join the club that will lend prestige to our name, not the one that is doing a needed work from which the entire community benefits. It even happens sometimes that we join the church which promises us social standing, instead of the little one around the corner that is so badly in need of our personal assistance. We live by the motto, "I'll help you if you will help me." And we call it "enlightened selfinterest." A pretty name for an ugly thing.

Now it must be admitted that people who live on the basis of barter do get something out of life. They get exactly what they pay for—and nothing more!

But there is another rule of life which is vastly more rewarding. Jesus said that being servants of all would do it! And those who have tried living that way say it works.

So, if I can put myself out a little for you, I am better for doing so. It works with all of us that way.

Another effect of the severe drought is the appearance of poisonous bitterweed over a large strip of formerly clean country from south and west to north and east of Sonora.

Ranchmen are finding single plants of bitterweed scattered here and there over entire ranches. The infestation varies, but in some instances bitterweed plants will average one to each acre.

During normal times bitterweed apparently is spread only slightly by winds. Whirlwinds, of course, can pick up dead bitterweed plants and carry them short distances before dropping. Bitterweed seed are also spread by vehicles, livestock, deer, turkey, javelinas, ants and birds.

The present distribution of single bitterweed plants on formerly clean country, however, appears to have been caused from straight hard winds during the current drought. Bitterweed pods (each containing 40 to 80 very small seeds) were ground up by the feet of livestock into individual seeds. The hard winds picked up individual seeds and dust particles and carried them for miles into clean areas.

Ranchmen who have bitterweed free country should make a thorough check to see if individual plants can be found. If any plants are found, a careful acre by acre search must be made, to find and burn plants before they can produce seed. The usual history of bitterweed pulling has been for a ranchman to pull for six to eight years and then decide to give up. From an economy standpoint, ranchmen who have single bitterweed plants occurring for the first time should decide whether to do a thorough job of pulling this year, or not to pull at all.

The little bitterweed plant with only one bloom will produce from 40 to 80 seed, and large plants can produce over 40,000 seeds. If a plant is allowed to seed one time, the seed may come up in that general area for 10 or more years. When attempting to keep clean country bitterweed free it is extremely important to get every plant.

From observations made during the past 15 years it appears that this is the only time bitterweed seed has spread to a large area by wind. With reduced stocking and the return of normal moisture it appears logical that it might be many years before similar drought conditions would again make conditions favorable for spread of seed by wind.

Improvement of grass cover is the best long term method for keeping bitterweed out or decreasing the present stand. Ranchmen should make every effort to stock lightly and defer as much country as possible. Bitterweed cannot stand the competition of good grass.

Fountain of Freedoms...a Free Press

The history of the press, since its development five centuries ago, has been a history of restraint. It is natural for men in authority to resent the sting of criticism. It is human for them to be ambitious, and to seek to entrench themselves. Hence rulers often avoid criticism and disagreement by stifling it. But the courageous men who founded this new nation sought here full freedom for each individual. When they established a constitution, aware of the human frailty even of rulers elected from among them, their First Amendment provided that "Congress shall make no law...abridging the freedom of speech and of the press..." With the widespread education and enlightenment that resulted, the people here have advanced farther toward all freedoms than the people of any other nation. The beacon of this Western World, marks for all nations the start of the path to Freedoms: Freedom of Speech and of the Press.

Watch That Bug Spray!

AUSTIN—Between now and fall, insecticides in back yard gardens will fog the air like smoke as the annual battle between gardener and garden pests is joined in earnest. Farmers will fight with spray planes and aerosol mists as a summer sun brings maturity to insect-vulnerable field crops.

Inevitably, the insect will lose. A single breath of lethal spray, a single drop on his tiny body, a single bite of spray-covered green and his doom is sealed. He has a single consolation—a gram, but satisfying one: his executioner, being human, is liable to the human disease of carelessness. Which could mean that the man behind the spray gun stands a fair chance of being himself a victim of the very weapon he employs against the insects. So it is that the executioner becomes the executed. Modern insecticides and miticides—including the deadly "organic phosphates"—allow slight margin for error. Improperly used, they have a high toxicity for warm-blooded animals—including humans—as they have for insects. Does their danger restrict their

Texas Mohair Weekly — McKnight Drug Company has announced they again hold a graduation contest in connection with the sale of graduation gifts. With every dollar spent for a gift for a graduate anywhere, the customer is given one vote to be cast for a member of the Rocksprings Senior Class.

The winner will be presented a gift certificate to be applied on a gift of his own choosing. * * *

Fort Stockton Pioneer — Installation of Fort Stockton's new dial telephone faced an indefinite delay Wednesday as the result of a strike by Western Electric workers throughout Texas and Oklahoma.

Bob Montgomery, Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. manager in Fort Stockton, said he had no idea how long work on the system here would be delayed, nor whether the walkout would cause a change in the projected mid-June target date for the switchover to the dial system in Fort Stockton. * * *

Carrizo Springs Javelin — The long-awaited zoning ordinance was passed Friday evening by the Carrizo Springs commission. The city dads voted unanimously to pass the ordinance, which had been in the planning stage and under study for more than a year. * * *

Junction Eagle — Erection of a 400 foot tower on the hill at the end of College street to test TV signal reception will be started some time next week, according to Loyd Williamson.

An arrangement has been made with Western Communications of San Angelo to put up the tower for a week or 10 days of testing to see if signals strong enough to relay into town are received.

use? Yes, but only to a certain extent. Skilled doctors and chemical engineers in the State Health Department's Division of Occupational Health, while acknowledging the dangers of careless use, say: "Any poison, however toxic, can be used with safety when proper precautions are taken."

It is for this reason that the State Department of Health, in cooperation with the Texas Medical Association and Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has undertaken to acquaint as many persons as possible with exactly what those precautions are. The project has taken this form:

Kits of material on every conceivable phase of insecticide usage, including the composition of poisons and their relative toxicity, and a description of insects and mites each is effective against, have been made available for physicians, veterinarians, and county agents. Also contained in the kits are guide sheets listing laboratories prepared to perform highly complicated blood tests for cholinesterase activity, how specimens should be prepared, and the limits of exposure to potent insecticides.

All the information is the latest obtainable, condensed to bare essentials for quick reading and reference. The intention is to make the office of every doctor and every county agent an information center in the safe use of economic poisons.

Still, the burden of safe use will always be on the person behind the spray gun. He is the one who must follow the instructions on the manufacturers' label. He is the one who must guard other people and livestock against wind drifts containing spray. He is the one who must make sure he is gloved and masked and properly clothed before using the poisons. He is the one who must be alert to spillage or inhalation.

He is the one who stands to be executed by his own weapon.
