Broncos Move To Quarter-Finals; Face Toughest Opponents Yet Sat.

With the defeat of the Seagraves Eagles, Sonora will move into quarter-final play against White Deer Saturday.

White Deer, winner of District 1-A, promises to be most formidable foe against the Broncos unblemished record this year. Last year the Bucks were stopped just one game short of the state championship by Wills Point and return this year with seven members of their starting team. The Bucks feature a strong threat at the fullback position with Vernon Marlar (5-11, 182) who last year made the All-State second team as a junior. His coach describes him as being the toughest running back he has ever coached. Game time is 7:30 p. m., Saturday, in Snyder.

C. R. Luxton Trial Changed by Judge

by Jim Barnett

The Sonora offensive team has been lauded in sports stories all season for their outstanding job of scoring the touchdowns and making the team a great one.

With all teams, successful or not the offensive backs have always received the newspaper "gravy" while the work-horses in the offensive and defensive lines seldom receive just credit.

The Bronco record for the season indicates that our defense has done a fine job, allowing only 86 points to opponents while scoring 298 in the regular season. In post-season play only 14 points have been allowed while 83 have been scored.

Credit is due these accomplished linemen just as much or more than the scorers.

You can bet they are there doing their job because the Broncos would not be where they are without them.

This should not take any credit away from the backs, but just spread the "gravy" a little bit better.

Juno Ranch Company recently purchased two Aberdeen-Angus bulls from E. M. Stevens of San Antonio.

District Judge Charles Sherrill has set a new date for the trial of Charles Ray Luxton, 31, which was originally scheduled for December 7, here.

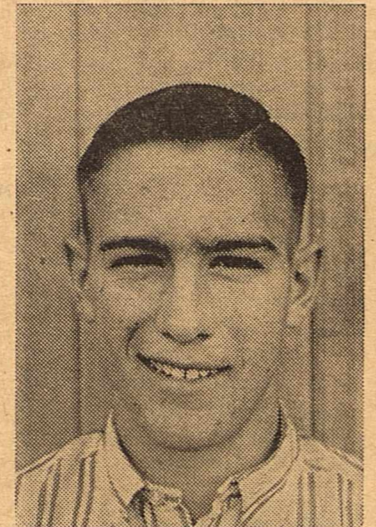

Luxton has been indicted for murder in connection with the shooting death of a man in Big Lake last spring.

Sherrill said the postponement was due to Luxton's defense attorney's decision to withdraw from the case. The attorney, Sam Houston Clinton, Jr. of Austin, is reported to have told Sherrill that he did not feel he was qualified to defend this criminal case.

For this reason Judge Sherrill is having the trial reset. The date has not been announced, but Sherrill suspects it will be tried in January or early February.

University Honors Mrs. Penn Baggett

Mrs. Penn Baggett, the former Candace Cauthorn, has been congratulated by the University of Texas Department of English for her outstanding record and has been recommended for a scholarship. She is majoring in English and her husband is majoring in accounting and law at the University.

JIM FISH

Jim Fish Awarded Scholarship to Rice

Rice University in Houston has named Jim Fish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Fish, the recipient of an academic scholarship.

The $1900 a year scholarship was awarded on the basis of his high school grades and is renewable each year.

Fish plans to study toward a degree in research chemistry. He credited his chemistry teacher here with his decision. He said, "Bob Snodgrass has helped me and stimulated my interest in chemistry."

Superintendent of Schools Rex Lowe, said the awarding of the scholarship was a great honor for both Fish and the Sonora schools.

Pallbearers were Lea Allison, John R. McClelland, Louie Trainer, Jessie Green Barton, J. L. and H. H. Brunson of Bronte.

Honorary pallbearers were Clayton Puckett of Ft. Stockton, Tom Richey of Lampassas, Charles C. Roberts of San Angelo, Robert Halbert and Bryan Hunt.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS now that hunting season is approaching mid-point is Big Bob (Teaff) our illustrious intrepid hunter. If Ole Buck can use a few elusive tricks why can't Big Bob even the score with a few tricks of his own? A little headlighting never hurt anything but the pocketbook. And since Nolan Johnson, game warden, is surely watching his son's football efforts help guide the Broncos into state playoffs, the coast is clear for bagging the prize trophy of Sutton County, Ole Buck. But hark, can the long arm of the law be approaching? Will Nolan be blinded or will he suspect that something is awry? Should Big Bob explain that he is only snipe hunting?

Lemley Sets Angus Bull Sale Tuesday

Joe R. Lemley of San Angelo has scheduled a nationally advertised angus bull sale at the Sonora Livestock Exchange Co. Tuesday, December 6, beginning at noon.

Lemley said that he set the sale in Sonora to honor his many friends and customers who, in his opinion and in the opinion of many corn-belt feeders, produce some of the best angus feeder cattle in the U. S. He said his bulls could add to the high-quality angus to be found in a production area within a 200 mile radius of Sonora.

Angus to be offered have run in large pastures and have been fed some grain. Lemley says they are truly range-raised bulls, mostly full age-2 and 3 years old. About 50 yearling bulls suitable to breed heifers or to hold over to next year will also be sold.

let the bulls be sold at the end of the sale and trade them in on his younger, better bulls.

Offered will be bulls at the top end of Lemley's own breeding and the top end of the famous Jennings Bros. herd from Miller and Hymore, South Dakota. The Jennings bulls were bought in 1965 as calves when Lemley bought all the famous Jennings Bros. bull crop. All bulls have been running in Lemley's pastures in West Texas for over a year and are fully acclimated to the West Texas country.

All bulls will be delivered free of charge anywhere in the U.S. UNIQUE TRADE-IN

If a rancher wants to trade in a registered angus bull not over 6 years old and guaranteed to be a good breeder, Lemley offers to

Prugel 'Christens' Telephone System With Call to White Deer's Mayor

Mayor A. E. Prugel yesterday placed a ceremonial "first call" over the city's new dial telephone system, but once the long distance connection was made, the conversation changed swiftly from telephones to football.

Prugel's "first call" over General Telephone's new dial equipment was to White Deer Mayor, Alvin Williams, and the conversation centered around the Saturday fracas in Snyder when White Deer's Bucks engage the Broncos in a Class A quarter-final match.

"A sizeable team of repairmen is making these necessary 'house' calls, and we hope most of the changes are completed November 30," McCullough said. The district manager explained that over 100 rural phones were involved in the change, and that there was a possibility some would not be adjusted by November 30.

"We ask that those rural customers who are not reached during the first day be patient," McCullough added. He noted several other changes brought about, including the changing of all local numbers, operation of coin telephones, a new ringing system for party line phones, and the method of calling another party on the same line. Approximately 22 people attended the breakfast, held in French's Big Tree Restaurant.

In the first 30 minutes after the 9 a.m. cut over there were 1,053 local calls by local subscribers, a substantial increase over the 600 per hour which is average during busy hours. After about 45 minutes calls settled down to normal, adding up to about 7171 per day.

Direct Distance Dialing allows people to dial long distance without assistance of an operator. Actual conversion to the new system occurred at 9 a.m. All Local phones were converted to the new system Wednesday, as were a majority of the rural phones served out of the Sonora exchange. McCullough said that rural phones would have only one-way service - that is, these customers could dial outgoing calls, but would be unable to receive calls - until a telephone repairman arrives at each rural customer's home to adjust the phone's ringing mechanism.

"The new equipment makes it possible for the local exchange to join the Direct Distance Dialing network, and this refinement is scheduled to be placed in service in 1967," McCullough announced.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stockton for the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Swain of Houston.

Broncos Smash Seagraves 36-0

Despite the hard-charging offense of Seagraves which racked up a total of 250 yards on the ground, they were defeated by the Broncos by a score of 36-0 at Mustang Stadium in Andrews.

The Seagraves offensive team, under the leadership of their ground-gaining fullback Mike Bagley, made several long drives and twice went within two yards of paydirt only to be stopped by the tough Bronco forward wall of Al Letsinger, Alex Castro and Nino Perez. Bagley picked up 145 yards against the Broncos on 35 carries but was unable to score.

For the first score Cook dropped back to pass on third down with long yardage for a first and hit Noe Chavez with a 45 yard pass at the Seagraves 25-yard line. Chavez took the throw into the end zone for the score.

After four downs the Eagles were unable to move the ball and were forced to punt. Renfro took the kick on the Sonora 42 and ran it back for the score. End Nino Perez threw the key block of the play at the Seagraves 25-yard line giving Renfro clear sailing to the end zone.

On the next set of downs for the Broncos, they scored again on eight plays—the score coming with only 30 seconds left in the half. A Cook to Renfro pichout put the Broncos on the Eagle 44-yard line followed with a Cook to Chavez aerial to the 19. A run by Renfro moved the ball five more yards and then a Cook to Chavez aerial gave the Broncos paydirt again.

In the second half of play the Bronco's fourth touchdown came on an off-tackle run by Renfro from deep within Bronco territory. Renfro carried for 86 yards without being touched by an Eagle defender.

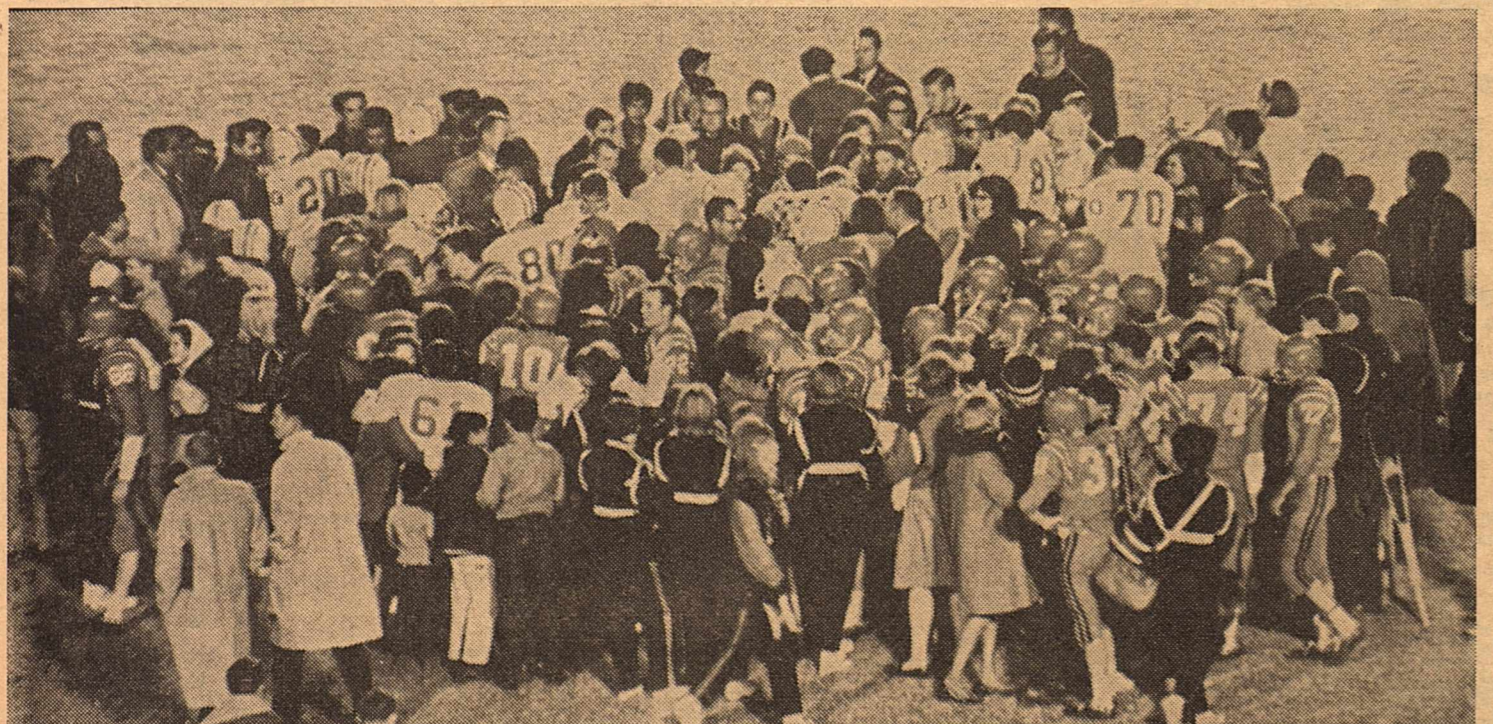

The last score of the game came on a fourth down with long yardage play. Cook dropped back and shot an aerial to Nino Perez in the end zone.

In the extra point department Cook kicked two extra points and ran one while David Wuest kicked his two extra points.

Boyd Lovelace said he did not recall seeing a better deer, although he recalled Doyle Morton killing a 159 pound deer that did not have as many points. George Barrow said the trophy in his store weighed 156 pounds but had eight points.

The Moon Won't Replace Niagara

The Devil's River Philosopher sez: Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed Ranch on Dry Devil's River looks into a minor problem this week.

Dear editor: On the theory that some day the Viet Nam problem will be solved, well I really don't mean solved, most problems like that aren't solved, they just dissolve. I was looking around on the inside pages of a newspaper last night to sort of change the subject and ran across a couple of items that interested me.

One of them was an article saying an official of the National Space Council believes that by the year 2001 spaceships to the moon will be a regular thing and he predicts that trips to the moon will be more popular for honeymooners than trips to Niagara Falls used to be.

Maybe so, but I'm afraid he's not taking any practical view of the proposition.

In the same paper I read another item about the moon, and this one pointed out that the rockets already put on that planet have reported back that at night up there the temperature drops to 260 degrees below zero. Also, the night lasts two weeks. Anybody who already this year has felt the first twinges of oncoming winter, where temperatures in the 30's and 40's feel chilly, can get some notion of how cold 260 below zero is.

Furthermore, when day finally dawns, and a day up there lasts two weeks too, the temperature soars to 260 degrees above zero. I don't know how many honeymooners now go to Niagara Falls, but I can tell you how many will want to go to the moon under those weather conditions. None, outside maybe a flagpole-sitter here and there.

The last place I'd want to invest any money in would be a motel on the moon. About the time you got enough ice in the swimming pool to get it cool enough to swim in during the 260-degree day, the sun would go down and you'd have to bring it up to a boil for night use.

And I guess I just don't have a scientific mind, because I can't imagine two honeymooners strolling around the moon hand in hand, each one locked up inside a 50-pound space suit and both preoccupied with watching their control panels to see if the oxygen supply is holding out.

The trouble with scientists is that they can't see the people for the science. They don't seem to realize there's no moonlight on the moon.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

The Small Town Problem

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is turning its attention to the problems of small towns. Certainly they are plentiful enough and serious enough to merit study.

C. L. Cooke of Fort Worth, chairman of the Small Town Task Force of the WTCC, has named a panel of men from both small towns and cities to undertake the assignment.

It met November 18 in Olney to launch its work. Consultations with state and federal agencies will be conducted in December. Individual cities will hold "town hall" type meetings soon to examine the assets and potentials of their community, as well as the problems of their particular town.

Six area hearings will be held by the panel of specialists in January and February. At these meetings the problems will be examined and discussed.

On March 15 a "white paper" will be issued by the panel outlining recommendations for solutions of problems explored in the hearings.

John Ben Sheppard of Odessa, the hard-driving president of the WTCC, says this is not an academic study, but rather an "action group. It is driving for results. Small towns in this WTCC study are defined as those with a population of 12,000 and under.

Subjects to be embraced in the panel's work will include industrial potentials, tourist attractions, and recreational, educational and cultural facilities.

The exodus of people from the farm to town, and from towns to cities, is one of the trends of our times. Usually, small towns get smaller and big cities get bigger. This is a problem for each.

For the small towns their decline reduces retail business and tax valuations, which in turn affect schools and the quality of education, and revenue to support necessary municipal and county services.

For the cities the burgeoning population puts heavier demands upon them for schools, streets, water, parks and other facilities needed to sustain communities.

The economic and social forces at work are often bigger than those affected by them can control.

But there are ways to relieve, if not completely offset, some of them. An entire region, yes, even an entire state has a stake in this for there is a harmful imbalance if poverty pockets exist side by side with booming urban centers.

It is to the credit of the enlightened leadership of the WTCC that this important problem has been singled out for its study and action. Concerned people in all size communities will be eager to support this effort and will await its outcome with interest.

NORMAN ROUSSELOT

"Horses and Horses" Published

"I wrote it mainly because I've always enjoyed writing poems and rhymes, even since my junior high school days", Norman Rousselot said about his newly published children's book, "Horses and Horses".

Rousselot said he got his idea of writing books for children because his own children had so many and he felt that he could do something similar too.

He said that he submitted three different works at the same time to several publishers, but only the one submitted to The Naylor Company was considered. The other publishers had already come out with similar books, he said.

Rousselot said that The Naylor Company told him that the subject matter of "Horses and Horses" fitted in with their general policy of publishing works about the Southwest and Western Culture.

He added that the writing of children's books is a difficult field to enter. He said that publishers had told him that they receive as many as 70 books a month for consideration, but only a small percentage of these are published.

By The Rev. Arno Melz
 Pastor, Hope Lutheran Church

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. Take therefore no thought for the morrow, for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." Matthew 6:33,44

Is your God careless and forgetful? Do you sometimes have to worry about what will happen to you? If you worry about your home, family, job or health, perhaps you are worshipping the wrong God. This happened to the prophets of Baal when they prayed for fire, but did not receive an answer. They were praying to a god of their imagination.

If you pray to the one true God, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost as He reveals Himself to us in the Bible you need not worry. Jesus tells us if you seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness all the other things will be added to you. When you dedicate your life to loving God above all things, and your neighbor as yourself; when you take time daily to pray and meditate, and weekly to worship you are putting first things first.

A person who uses every opportunity to be kind, considerate physical needs. These other things that will be added are money, health, jobs, happy homelife and the like.

Put your complete trust in God, accept Jesus as your personal Savior who died on the cross for your sins. Be assured that if He would die for you, He will also care for you in other ways. Turn your life over to God and quit worrying.

Amen!

A Parson's Eye View of Sonora

by The Rev. Ross T. Welch

The Parson was not the only one who proved you can root for the Broncos on a Saturday night over two hundred miles from home and still be in your accustomed place in the House of the Lord on Sunday morning.

There were a number of laymen who accomplished the feat. They even kept alert during the sermon and it is usually easier to stay awake while talking than while listening.

It was worth the trip to see the Andrews High School plant. I attended San Angelo College the first two years it was open, and we had nothing that would begin to compare with the Andrews set-up. One does not have to look far to see the explanation. In nearly every direction there are pumping oil wells.

It was a long trip, but the facilities were exceptional and the hospitality was really remarkable. We had the privilege of seeing the game from the booth where Albert Ward was relaying a play by play account back to the home listeners over KCKG. I am the world's poorest spotter—get so interested in the action, I forget to look for numbers.

Anyway, I made a good stooge—since Jimmy Harris did not show up—when Albert missed a play and turned to me for help, I had usually missed it also. There were a few exciting minutes there before the game started, when we could not establish telephone connections with the outside world. Fortunately there were a couple of telephone men in the crowd who came in and got things working.

Despite the score, which is all that counts, it was a good game. The Eagles never got on the scoreboard, but they were a constant threat. The Broncos' scores resulted from thrilling, spectacular plays, but no less thrilling were the goal-line defensive stands that refused to let the Eagle battering ram cross the goal line.

Apparently the Eagles had had their way all year with a rushing game and that was what they depended on entirely. At the cost of repeating an early season observation—a strong factor that will help the Broncos go all the way (we hope) this season is the balance of this year's squad. It is not often in a small town that you can put together a team with a passer the likes of Laney, a sprinter the likes of Ed Lee, a rusher the likes of Mike and a pass receiver the likes of Noe, all backed up by strong replacements.

This is not to take one iota of credit from the coaches who have trained the boys in their respective proficiencies, at the same time developing a defensive squad that keeps opponents' scores to a minimum.

We talked with some of the Seagraves men who had scouted the White Deer team last week. They reported that Spur had a good passing attack and the North Texas team stopped them.

It may play havoc with church attendance, but, having passed the regional hurdle, we predict the Broncos will be playing until Santa Claus starts south.

I told my congregation Sunday if there had been as many holes in the Bronco line Saturday night as were in my Sunday morning congregation, it would have seen sad. The young people were conspicuously absent, but they had good numbers for the evening fellowship and will assist with the Christmas musical programs in the churches.

We go back to another oil town this week end, but it is not quite so distant.

One advent candle burned last Sunday and only three to go, which means Christmas cannot be far away. This Monday morning north and the frog in my throat indicate that our Indian summer may be past.

The interdenominational Sunday Evening Fellowship recently elected the following officers: Laney Cook, president; Monte Dillard, vice-president; Margaret Bundy, secretary and Mike Gosney, treasurer.

They meet from 5:30 to 7 each Sunday evening. Meals will be prepared by the Wesleyan Service Guild or one of the Sunday school classes in the Methodist Church on first, third and fifth Sundays by the ladies of the Episcopal parish on the second Sundays and by the Presbyterian church on fourth Sundays.

During the month of December, meetings will be in the Episcopal Parish Hall and the Presbyterians will be hosts in January. John Tedford is directing the group singing in preparation for a musical program in the Methodist Church on Dec. 18 and the Christmas Eve communion service in the Episcopal Church.

You will have to ask someone else about the sermon, but the other portions of the Thanksgiving Community Service at the First Baptist Church, were—we thought—very fine.

Mrs. Dowdy had done a beautiful and artistic worship center, the solo by Joe Lane was very effective and I agreed with my wife that the service would have been well worth while just to hear Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Lowe play the Thanksgiving music on piano and organ.

If perchance you were one who missed this service, put it down in your little book not to let this happen again.

It is positively uncanny how many times we can lose the call on the coin toss before ball games, both as to playing site and also as to which team will receive on the kick-off. We do not mind losing the toss so long as the boys go on winning the games.

Next week, Dec. 4-11, is Universal Bible Week. The Sonora Ministerial Alliance, with the assistance of some volunteer helpers from each of the cooperating churches, is prepared to give recognition to this week which honors what we consider the most important book in the world.

When you are down town next week, take time to look at our display. You might need a new Bible or want to give one to a friend. Those whose eyesight is failing appreciate the large print editions which come very inexpensively from the American Bible Society.

Just the other night a young

Mercy

"Oh give thanks to the Lord of lords; for his mercy endureth forever." — Psalms 136:3

In ancient times, when kings and rulers could declare execution for any subject at the slightest whim or hint of displeasure, a merciful "master" was often fabled in legend and song.

The mercy of the one "master of the universe" is well known but, perhaps, in these modern times often forgotten. We forget to be appreciative for our freedoms and our good fortune. We pursue life and the good things of life so diligently that we fail to say "thanks" to the God who makes all things possible.

Give thanks, through prayer, to the Lord whose mercy and goodness endureth forever.

Patsy Rainwater from Snyder was in town visiting her sister, Mrs. Bob McMinn. Mr. and Mrs. Hays entertained Mrs. Hays' sister Brenda Den, and her friend Robin Adams. Also in town visiting was Paul West from Houston.

Quite a few former Sonora residents were seen in Andrews Saturday. Lefty and Richard Cox were both there. John Kerbow, who now lives in Alpine, was also at the game. A lot of the kids visited with Clyde Greer, who used to teach in Sonora. Tim Allison was also seen there.

Hey! Did you all know that we just lost another student from SHS? Susan Houston recently moved to Big Lake.

Did you see all the college crowd that gathered for the holidays? A few of the group that we haven't seen recently are James Stewart, Gil Trainer, Carol Hopf, Mickey Hardegree, Stan Bundy, Robert Kelley, Mary Davis, Janie Letsinger, Cathy Moffitt, Janice Caveness, Tommy Doc Raye, Carla Whitworth, Jan McClelland, and Debbie Cooper.

Some of the more regulars were also home. Among these were Ray Glasscock, Libb Wallace, Eddie Sawyer, Joyce Hearn, Carl Teaff, Eddie Howell, Mike Wuest, Jack Hearn, Gary McGilvary, Bill Elliott, Erwin Seydler, Katherine Adams, Dick Hearn, Jerry and Candy Shurley, Tim Brown and Johnny Morris. Robert Kelley brought a friend home with him—Bob Driscoe.

Jackie and Dot Cargill spent the holidays in Bryan with their relatives.

Eddie Sawyer went to Austin to watch the football game there. Sonora's BRONCOS won their regional game against Seagraves (as if you didn't already know!). They will play the quarter-final game against White Deer Saturday night at 7:30 in Snyder. Let's all go and support our team!!!

W. T. Barnett and D. H. Moody of Crosbyton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart while hunting in Edwards County.

John David Fields visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fields, during the holidays. He is a student at Southwestern University in Georgetown.

Support The Team!

The Booster Club is asking the football supporters to wear their "red" in Snyder and to give the team a send-off at the field house at noon Saturday, according to James Trainer. He said that only a few people gathered to see the team off last week and that he felt that a send-off by a group of supporters would help team spirit.

Since this cold weather and wind have set in the golfers have turned to football and other things. We did have a few brave souls though that managed to get up a mixed foursome Thanksgiving afternoon.

There was a tie for first place and it stood as everyone was too cold and full of turkey to have a play-off. Peggy Trainer, Jimmy Powers, George Johnson and Gil Trainer were on one team and the other team was made up of Peggy Sharp, Batts Friend and Jackie Sharp.

Grand Losers of the event were Bobbie and Lee Fawcett, James D. Trainer and Ruth Morgan.

GN
Last Wednesday was a flop as far as ladies day is concerned. We only had one foursome out, Bobbie Fawcett, Libbye Love, Ann Hill and Ruth Morgan. It was really a bad day to try to play golf though. You can imagine how bad it was because not even Marilyn Bloodworth came! Bobbie Fawcett won the prize of the day for having the best poker hand. I think she had six fives.

GN
We want to welcome Roy and Ruth Morgan of Atlanta, Georgia, to the golf course. They've been coming out pretty regularly while they are here.

GN
John Bell tells us that the course was deserted Saturday afternoon. You don't suppose they were all in Andrews?

GN
If anybody is having any trouble with their ears due to cold, wind, etc. you ought to see what Bobbie Fawcett has to solve the problem. They look like coin purses but they go on your ears. Sure are nice.

GN
We'll be looking for all of you in Snyder Saturday night.
