News Sale Announced, Tenth In 80-Year History

Announcement is being made this week of the sale of the Devil's River News. John T. King, owner and publisher since August 1, 1963, announced Thursday the sale of the 80-year-old weekly to Doyle Morgan, former Sonora High School principal and presently co-owner of Morgan-Hunt Insurance Agency. Morgan will become the tenth owner of this newspaper, the oldest business in continuous operation in the county. The weekly was established October 18, 1890 by Mike Murphy, an Irish immigrant. Following Murphy's death, his brother, Steve, most colorful of the paper's editors, assumed the editorship which he maintained until his death in 1925.

Mrs. King, also a UT graduate, had a CPA office in Hondo and also worked in the office of a Uvalde CPA. The Kings have two daughters, Holly and Ellen. King will probably enter a job printing operation in Austin after a vacation. The Morgans are members of the Methodist Church and they have two daughters, Kathy, who graduated from high school this year and Marilyn, a junior. ACCOUNTS NOT SOLD Accounts due the Devil's River News were not included in the sale of the newspaper, but are due the former owner, John T. King. Payments may be made at the news office or to Box 768, Sonora, in response to June billings.

DOYLE MORGAN

Third owner of the "Devil", as it is known to longtime subscribers, was M. A. Wilson who ran it until 1932 when he sold to George Baker, now owner of the Fort Stockton "Pioneer" and a state representative. Baker sold to Robert W. Jacobs.

In 1938 Jacobs sold the business to G. H. Hall, who in 1940 sold to Clay T. Puckett, now a Houston Episcopal minister. Puckett in turn sold to Stanton Bundy in June 1955. Bundy, a ranchman and now living in Durango, Mexico, sold to Della and John King in 1963.

The Kings moved here from Hondo, where he had been employed as advertising manager of the Hondo Anvil Herald since graduation from the University of Texas, Austin.

The Morgan family moved to Sonora, during the summer of 1960. A native of Madisonville and a graduate of the schools there, Morgan holds a bachelor's degree in accounting and a master's degree from Sam Houston State College in Huntsville. He and his wife, Fae, were employed in the Madisonville schools where he was principal and she taught third grade. He was high school principal here during 1960-67, when he resigned to enter private business. Mrs. Morgan teaches in the local schools.

Community Project Termed Success In Cedar Hill Cleanup Campaign

A community project that began when plans were laid in January, was completed June 15, when a group of persons living in the Cedar Hill and Roosevelt communities finished a beautification and cleanup campaign at the Cedar Hill Cemetery, in the Camp Allison area.

The cemetery which started in the early turn of the century is the burial ground of many Sutton and Kimble Counties pioneers. Some of the family members buried there include Adams, Theirs, Shroyer, Joy, Pearl, Eubank, Watkins, Fish and Allison. Civil War grave markers have been placed in the cemetery by the government as several of the early-day settlers buried there were Civil War veterans.

Since the cemetery is located some distance from any town and has never had a caretaker, people in the area decided to clean the weedy, run-down plot of ground. In January, funds were started through donations and an estimate of the cost of curbing, fencing, etc. was obtained. Finding someone to do the work was a difficult and expensive operation, so local ranchmen and others decided to make it into a community work project.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shroyer said the actual work began May 25, and the last weed was cut about noon June 15. The entire cemetery was curbed and an 886-foot chain link fence now encloses the area. Shroyers said numerous people helped with the work besides donating material. Layman Taylor of Junction donated a cement mixer and Mrs. Fox and her son, Robert, of Roosevelt donated sand and gravel for the project.

Area citizens provided pickups, tractors and mowers for the cleanup job, and usually five or six people worked daily during the 2-week period. The workers are proud of the finished project, which had long been an eyesore in the community and a source of disappointment to those who had family members buried there.

The material cost amounted to $1,199.60, and donations from twenty donors has been received in the amount of $775.00. Persons with relatives buried in the cemetery, or others who might be interested, are invited to donate to the fund in order to pay the outstanding amount due on the material bill.

Shroyer said checks should be mailed to the Junction National Bank, Junction, with checks made payable to Cedar Hill Cemetery Association.

Those who have contributed include Mina Adams, Mrs. A. L. Hight, Mrs. Herman Thiers, Melvin Heam, Buster Shroyer, and Ira Shroyer, Maudie S. Musgrove, Raymond Shroyer, Lester Shroyer, and Mrs. D. O. Adams, Alfred Thiers and Ruby, Betty Russell, Mrs. Ray Dixon, Viola Adams, Mrs. Rosa Shroyer Davis, Lee Joy, and H. O. Joy, P. E. Adams, Mat Adams, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nevill.

Based on Moliere's "School for Wives", the small cast musical is described by the director as a romantic satirical comedy done in a highly stylized manner and has been reviewed as a fine concoction of clowning, cavorting and catchy tunes.

student at Lon Morris College in Jacksonville. He was awarded the best actor trophy at Texas Junior College Drama Festival this year. Mark appeared two years ago at the Point as Franz in "Sound of Music" and brought down the house as Pappy Yokum last summer in "Lil Abner".

Laws That Don't Work

Gun control laws, of themselves, do little to retard the growth of crime. Of the nation's twelve largest cities, four were covered by total firearms registration during the first half of 1969. Four more were under local or State laws requiring permits to buy or transfer handguns. One had an ordinance covering all firearms transfers. Three of the nation's largest cities, by contrast, had no local or State laws rigidly restricting the sale of firearms.

Among the cities with controls, New York City, Chicago, Washington, D.C., and San Francisco have, perhaps the stiffest firearms laws. In these cities, the homicide rate during the first half of 1969 ranged from a six percent increase in New York to a 102 percent increase in San Francisco. Five of the nation's largest cities with gun controls of varying stringency showed alarming increases in homicides, ranging from 53 percent in Cleveland to 18 percent in Philadelphia. The other three of the nation's largest cities—Los Angeles, Houston and Milwaukee—having the least restrictive gun laws came up with these figures for the first half of 1969. Los Angeles, murders up 14 percent; Houston, murders decreased five percent; Milwaukee, murders decreased 18 percent.

The foregoing are facts from figures compiled from the FBI Uniform Crime Report. They bear out the belief of Dr. Bruce Danto, director of the Detroit Suicide Prevention Center, that "gun control is not the answer" to the rising tide of violence in cities. The sad truth is that many freedom destroying laws aimed at law-abiding citizens are passed in an emotional fury; and, after passage, no one ever takes the time to appraise their effectiveness. It is much easier to pass another law than to remove a bad one from the statute books.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ... Despite The Shape The World's In Most Everyone Seems To Like It

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on Dry Devil's River takes an optimistic view of things this week, more or less.

Dear editor:
Some people are saying the world was never in as bad a shape as it is now, but as I sit out here on this bitterweed ranch and examine it through the newspapers I wonder about that.

For example, take the astronauts. No sooner do they get a good look at what's outside the world out there in forlorn space and get safely back than they take a desk job in Washington or run for some office, here on the good earth.

Things have a way of balancing out. Take the colleges. According to an article I read last night, over 300 college presidencies are vacant, just not enough capable men willing to take on the job, even with combat pay. Yet what happens? College riots shut down about that many universities and so, what's the problem?

Or take government employees. For many years they dreaded to see Washington's birthday for example fall on Saturday or Sunday, thus knocking them out of what otherwise would have been an extra holiday.

So what happens? They convince Congress it's the holiday, not the birthday that counts, so now if the birthday falls on Saturday they get Friday off; if on Sunday, they get Monday off. I don't care what the problem is, if a man thinks long and hard enough, there's a solution, although I don't know what would have happened if Washington and Lincoln had been born on the same day of the month, or if Columbus had arrived here on Christmas. I presume however that Washington has a commission drawing up emergency plans in the event some future holiday-worthy hero gets born on an established holiday.

The problem wouldn't come up however if they'd put me in charge of declaring holidays. I declare one whenever I feel like it, having no patience with a man who waits till Congress tells him when to go fishing. What does Congress know about when the fish are biting?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A Bishop Looks at Life Out of Character

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

Recently a friend of mine did something that surprised me because it did not seem in line with his usual standards of life. I remarked that what he had done was 'out of character.' Later I began to think about this expression, 'out of character'. I looked it up in a dictionary and found this definition: "not consistent with the role or general character."

I began to realize that we are all at times, "out of character." We do and say things so foreign to what we want to be, so much less than our best, that we are surprised at ourselves—and so are our friends. There is this constant danger of being false to our true role; we used to call it "falling into temptation." We used to say that it was the devil who lead us astray. The Bible describes people who become possessed with demons.

Dr. James W. Laurie, who is retiring after a notable term as president of Trinity University in San Antonio, has some words related to this theme when he gave his final address to the recent graduating class. "Your generation and mine," he said, "have gone through waves of cynicism and skepticism, and doubt in our process of searching and finding. It's time we came out of some of the morasses into which we have allowed ourselves to be thrown."

"It's time we sought again the dreams and the plans that come to focus out of a reverence for the one true and living God."

"If you go out determined to be yourself, your best self, the self that God intended you to be, then neither you nor I will have walked these corridors in vain."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Early Barton of Sterling City. Mr. and Mrs. Curt Schwiening of Junction, are parents of the bridegroom.

Providing music was Mrs. St. Loeffler, organist.

as ushers. Acolytes were James Barton of San Angelo and Bobby Barton of Sterling City, brothers of the bride.

Tiba Schwiening of Ft. Stockton was flower girl, and Steve Barton of San Angelo served as ring bearer.

Her husband, a graduate of Sonora High School, is employed by the Atlantic-Richfield Co. of Fort Stockton.

Following a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the couple will live in Fort Stockton.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mmes. R. A. Halbert, Vestel Askew, Mack Cauthom, Lois W. Young and Johnson.

Orchid and pink carnations and asters decorated the party rooms, and about fifty guests called.

yours is the hand that lights your child's face

We've heard so much about the effects of insecurity on the life of a child! It seems urgent to find a picture of security... that elusive ideal that parents want to provide but can never be sure they have.

Notice the importance of the light in our picture. It doesn't really come from that fatherly hand. Someone else has provided the light which links father and son. The father merely stood in that light... and held his son's hand!

Sunday — Father's Day — in hundreds of thousands of churches, earnest fathers will stand in the Light. With their sons they'll worship God... experience again the spiritual understanding of life. See the brightness of that true security reflected in youthful eyes.

Green News

by Monica Davis & Jo Neville

There was much excitement at the Golf Course last Wednesday when Sammie Espy made a HOLE-IN-ONE on #9. Spectators at the club house thought she had seen a rattlesnake when they heard her scream and saw her jump into the air. No snake—just her tee shot dropping into the cup.

At the time there were six in the "Hole In One Club". Others experiencing this "golfer's dream", at one time or other, are Wanda Cahill, Peggy Sharp, John Bell, Charlie Howell, John McClelland and J. W. Neville. (Did we omit anyone?)

—GN—

Twenty members of the Golf Auxiliary met at the club house June 17 for the regular monthly luncheon. Peggy Elliott and Jo Neville served as hostesses.

Wanda Cahill reported Muriel Brown was the "Most Improved Player" for the year. Ernestine Hext won the annual Nassau Play, and Wanda had the best score of the month.

New officers elected included Lucille McMillan, president; Marilyn Bloodworth, vice president; Jodie Finklea, secretary; Pauline Thompson, treasurer.

We are most happy to welcome Eddie Mae Kinser, Gail Schoenwolf, Betty Jo Cooper and Doris Rousselot as new auxiliary members.

and Monica Davis and Jo Neville, reporters.

—GN—

Ladies Tournament—Round Robin Play—Match play began June 17 and is to be finished August 20. There are three flights. Each golfer has to play everyone in her flight.

The "Play for the day" last Wednesday was won by Dorothy Ratliff. (One making the most Birdies with handicap).

—GN—

Sunday 48 golfers participated in a Mixed Foursome, low ball tournament. First place winners were Marilyn Bloodworth, Jack Hext, Dick Hamilton and Nolan Johnson.

Second place winners were Muriel Brown, Francis Archer, Doyle Morgan, and James Alexander.

Third place winners were Gail Schoenwolf, Bill Tittle, Arch Mittel, Vernon Rogers and Ed Grobe.

Fourth place winners were Peggy Elliott, Steve Thorp, George Barrow, Wayne Herrmann and Lea Roy Aldwell.

From out of the Old West comes news stories and pictures taken from actual newspaper clippings during the era from 1801-1901. This new monthly publication is entitled Pioneer News Observer and features news of "the good old days".

After receiving a copy through the courtesy of another newspaper, I would like to share some of the highlights with my readers.

From the San Angelo Standard Times, June 5, 1886:
A San Angelo girl wants to know "if it is true that kissing cures freckles."—would not say positively, but a simple recipe like this is worth trying. Call after business hours.

From the Dallas News, June 6, 1886:
SLOW TO GET THE NEWS
Jeff Davis was hanged in effigy at Greer Spring, Ohio. That neighborhood had just heard of the close of the war.

Ad in the Dodge City Times, June 8, 1878:
J. H. Holliday, Dentist, very respectfully offers his professional services to the citizens of Dodge City and surrounding counties during the summer. Where satisfaction is not given money will be refunded. (Editor's note: This was the man who was to be remembered as Doc Holliday, more noted for his gunfighting than his dentistry.)

—SKH—

Linda Garmon, who is attending a business college in Austin, visited her mother, Mrs. Bill Garmon, and her grandmother, Mrs. Willie Andrews, over the weekend.

Mrs. Ben Berry and two great-grandchildren who are visiting for the summer, visited her sister, Mrs. G. W. Hurt in Maverick last week. They also visited with an aunt, Mrs. Kate Lumpkin of Electric, Alabama, who they had not seen in 60 years.

of Omaha, Nebraska, are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Candalaro Jiminez.

—SKH—

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Howell have returned from a ten-day trip that took them to several places in Texas and New Mexico. In Perryton, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Allen and family and their son, Charlie. They spent three nights in Red River, New Mexico, at the Allen's summer home, and also visited in Taos, with side trips to the art gallery and Bent Museum. The Howells also visited their son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Howell in Amarillo. This was a nice Father's Day trip and weekend for Dr. Howell, who saw all his children and grandchildren while away.

—SKH—

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neil Smith and Linda visited last weekend in Lubbock with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mittel.

Mr. and Mrs. John Eaton visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Groom in Fort Worth last week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Loeffler and Mrs. Leo J. Wilson were in Abilene last week to attend the wedding of Miss Sue Britt and Michael Thomesen of San Angelo. Mrs. Loeffler was organist for the wedding.

Visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Richardson, Sr. recently were Michael Richardson of College Station and Dan and John Richardson of Angleton.

What's right about America?

Today, the surest means of a book becoming a best-seller is for the author to highlight and denounce bitterly the faults of this country. The same can be said of television and the movies, which prefer in these modern days to depict the seamier side of life in America.

But there's hope. As I have moved across this state, I have sensed that our people are growing weary of gloom. It's becoming easier to strike up a conversation on what's right about America.

I always suggest that there are a lot more level heads in this country than we are sometimes led to believe. There are a lot more decent, law-abiding citizens than there are criminals and cheats and sharks. There are a lot more young people in the "now" generation who want to improve America than the handful of radicals who want to burn it to ashes and start all over.

I can understand why the "majority" has broken its "silence." There's a growing impatience with agitation and controversy. But I feel we should continue to approach our nation's problems with a cool head and an open mind. I've listened to the voices of dissent. I think I know what they're asking of their government.

One thing they want is confidence. They want the assurance that their public officials have the courage to meet the issues of the 1970's with imagination and integrity, and not with some form of "old politics" that thrashes around with problems but never quite locates the workable solutions.

It was my desire to answer this urgent need that prompted me in January to seek the office of United States Senator.
