Mat Adams Takes Oath For Office Of JP

Mat Adams was sworn in to the office of Justice of the Peace Monday, County Judge J. W.

MAT ADAMS

Elliott administered the oath of office to Adams. Adams who was elected to the office in the June 6 election will also fill the unexpired term of the late Alfred Cooper, who died July 15.

Mr. Cooper declined to run for the office again and announced his retirement in January. A field of five candidates filed for the post with Adams and John Eaton receiving the majority of the votes in the May election. Adams defeated Eaton in the June 6 runoff election.

During April, the late Mr. Cooper became ill and was unable to continue in office after serving for the past twenty years. W. T. Hardy, former superintendent of the Ranch Experiment Station, was appointed to serve as acting Justice of the Peace, and continued to do so until the appointment of Adams became effective Monday.

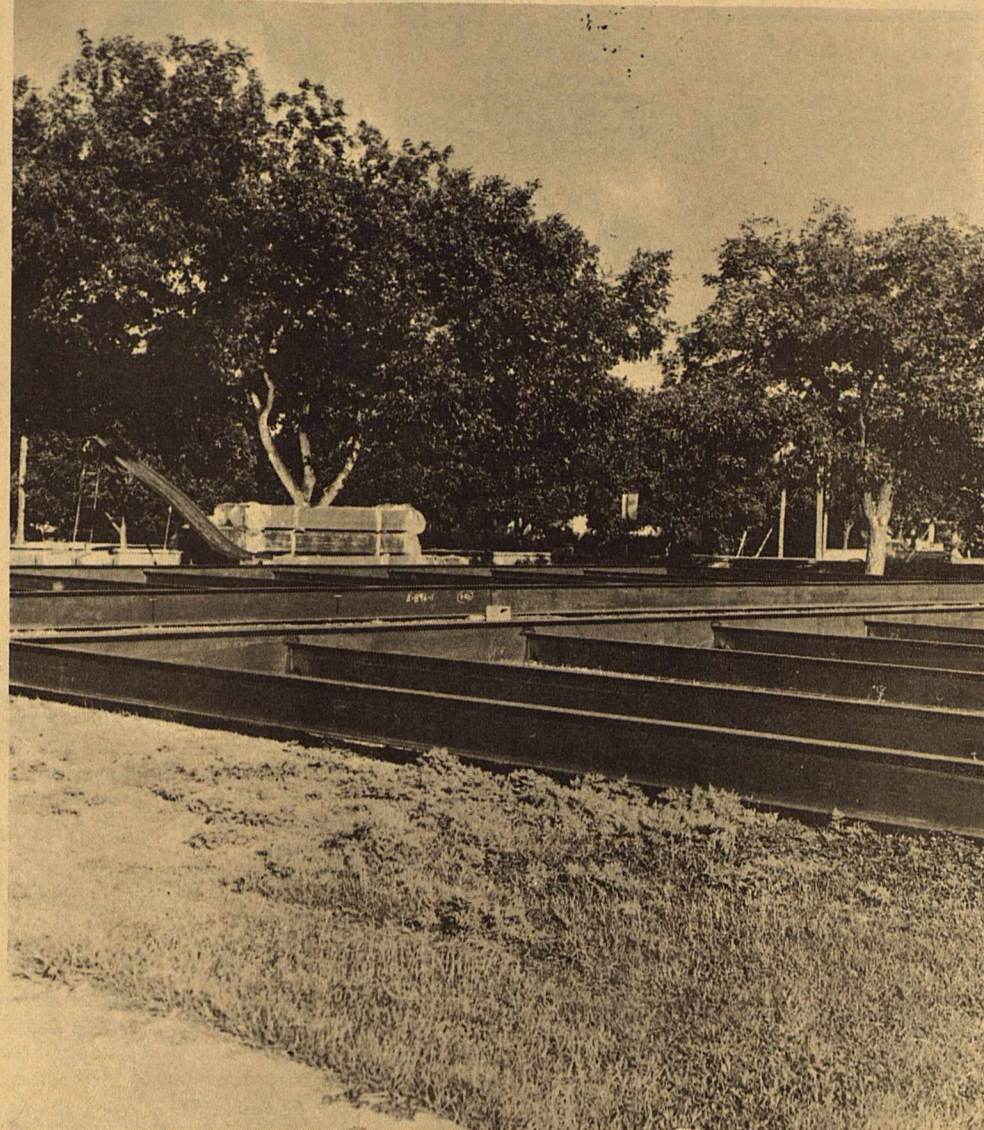

Celia Victims Need Clothing

Five families recently moved here from Corpus Christi, after they lost clothing and other household items in hurricane Celia.

Mrs. Ernest McClelland said the families have nine children among them and are in need of clothing for the children. Their ages range from fourteen to six. Persons wishing to donate clothing should contact

Mrs. McClelland or Nann Kames.

FOUNDATIONS ARE BEING LAID for the steel structures that will be used for additional classrooms on the elementary school grounds. The buildings will not be completed in time for the opening of school, Monday, Ken McAllister, superintendent of the schools announced. McAllister added, however, that a full day is scheduled for all grades. Two teachers and aides will be assigned to each classroom in the first and second grades in order to take care of the number of students assigned to each room. As soon as the buildings are completed, the number of students assigned to each room will be lessened.

Jr. High Football Physicals Set

Junior High football physicals will be given Sunday, August 23, at 1:30 p.m. in the basement of the High School, announced Oliver Wuest, coach.

Broomweed Thrives

by E. B. Keng, SCS Technician
Several of our native weeds appear to thrive on hot, dry weather. These include annual broomweed, curlycup gumweed, and the purple-topped thistle-like plant called eryngo.

Broomweed, an annual weed which germinates abundantly during wet winters, grows primarily on deep divide or valley soils which store large quantities of moisture. The plants grow through the summer and by fall they often dominate the landscape with a sea of small yellow blooms.

Sheep will usually control broomweed by grazing during January and February when the plants are two to four inches high. Winter weeds were so abundant this spring, however, that little broomweed was taken. The plant can be controlled by spraying with 2-4-D in early spring, but the cost of spraying and the fact that good weeds are also killed discourages chemical control. Joe Logan severely damaged a heavy stand of broomweed this spring when he sprayed the pasture to control mesquite.

Curlycup gumweed, a tall, yellow-flowered "daisy" is starting to bloom along roadsides and in waste areas. The flower buds and upper leaves are resinous or gummy. The plant is rarely abundant in the Edwards Plateau soil conservation district, and its actual value is not fully known. George Brockman brought in a specimen from his ranch that had been grazed by goats or deer.

Leavenworth eryngo, a beautiful purple-topped, stickery plant, is blooming in small colonies here and there. The plant is frequently used for floral decorations. The upper portion of the stem and upper leaves and flowers become violet-blue or bluish purple and are very colorful. The dried plants make attractive winter bouquets.

COMMISSIONERS ADOPT GAME PROCLAMATION

County commissioners in a meeting Thursday adopted the Edwards Plateau game proclamation, with the hunting season to open on the same date as last year, that is, with the opening date to coincide with a weekend. The season opening date will be November 14.

Wuest said all boys in grades seven and eight who intend to play football should be in attendance, as uniforms and lockers will be assigned at this time. Local doctors will give the examinations without cost, Wuest added.

Kimble Countians Plan Observance Of 94th Birthday

The "Kimble County Kow Kick" has been set by Junction residents in observance of the County's 94th birthday. The festivities are planned for September 7, Labor Day. A parade will open the day's activities at 10:00 a.m., and programs are being planned and will be held at Schreiner Park. Some of the events include hula-hoop contests, Mr. and Miss Kimble County contest, biggest liar contest and old fiddler contest.

Prizes will be given to the oldest man and oldest woman present, also to the youngest boy and the youngest girl present.

Bonny J. Newbury of Junction says, "I sincerely hope that each of you will put on your boots, straw-hats and blue-jeans and join us at the Kimble County Kow Kick!"

SONORA STUDENTS ANGELO STATE SUMMER GRADUATES

Two Sonora students are among 133 candidates for degrees at Angelo State University this summer.

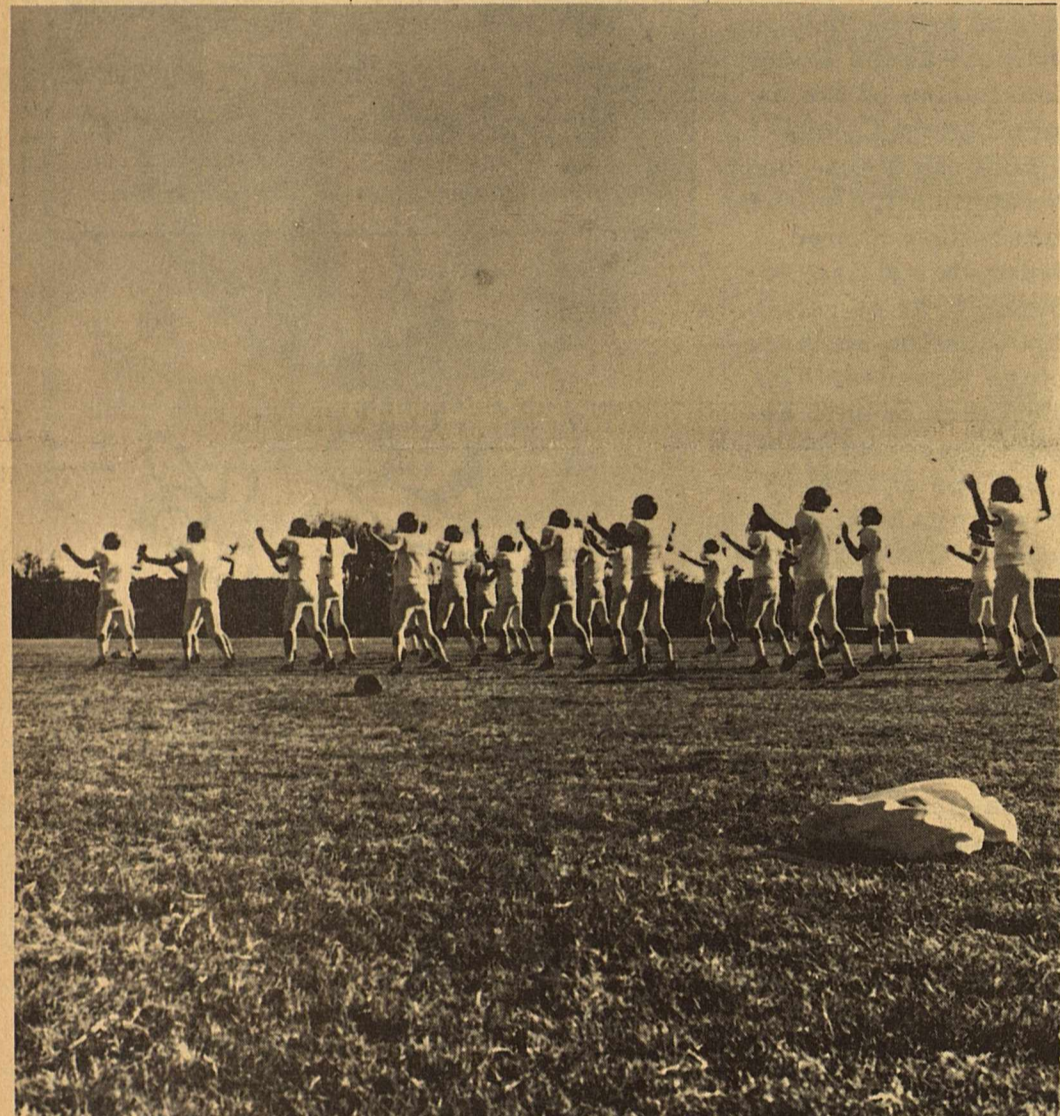

They are Gilbert C. Allison, Jr., a candidate for a Bachelor of Business Administration degree, and Yvonne C. Carroll, a candidate for a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Graduation exercises at ASU are scheduled for 9:30 a.m., Saturday.

Eldorado Golfers Plan Tourney

Eldorado golf club members are sponsoring a tournament at the Eldorado golf course, August 22 and 23. Twenty-seven holes will be played both Saturday and Sunday.

A charge of $15 per team is being made for partnership ball entries. A barbecue is planned for Saturday night. Interested persons may contact Ernestine or Jack Hext, or Ralph Waldron at Eldorado.

THE AUGUST SUN bears down relentlessly on the Sonora Broncos while the coaches run them through fast-paced calisthenics. Head Coach Jerry Hopkins and the high school coaches join in the exercises as the Broncos prepare for the opening of the football season. Facing tough opposition as usual, the Broncos began workouts Monday, with two sessions daily scheduled for this week. Dave Campbell's Texas Football says: "In light of Sonora's fantastic record of the 1960's the worst luck the opposition seemingly could have would be to be in the same league with the Broncos. And yet the 1970 district race appears mighty like a tossup between Sonora and Mason."

Farm Bill Clears House

By a final vote of 212 yeas and 171 nays, H.R. 18546, the Farm Bill, cleared the House about 8 p.m. August 5. The bill as passed by the House includes wool, dairy, wheat, feed grains and cotton, as well as some miscellaneous provisions.

The bill, if finally enacted, will extend the National Wool Act through December 31, 1973. It would continue the present wool incentive price of 72 cents per pound and the present mohair support price of 80.2 cents per pound through each year of the extension.

The main thrust of the debate on the bill centered on the efforts of Congressman Findley (Ill.) and Congressman Conte (Mass.) to substitute their provision of a $20,000 per commodity payment limitation for the amendment offered by the House Agriculture Committee calling for a $55,000 payment

The Agriculture appropriations bill as passed by the Senate contains a $250,000 increase for acceleration of most essential research on sheep production. The Senate Appropriations Committee also included sheep in a $1,328,800 appropriation at Clay Center, Nebraska previously limited to research on quality, reproductive and feeding efficiency of beef. The $250,000 increase is subject to consideration in

Jimmy Richardson Sul Ross Graduate

Jimmy Frank Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hugh Richardson, graduated from Sul Ross University at Alpine, August 14. Richardson was a degree candidate in Animal Range Science at the university. He was a 1963 graduate of Sonora High School.

William Elliott U of T Graduate

William (Bill) Marion Elliott Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Elliott, is among the 300 University of Texas seniors who are tentative candidates for the Bachelor of Business Administration degree August 25 at the close of the summer session. No public graduation exercises will be held.

CITY POOL CLOSING SET

The city swimming pool is scheduled to close Saturday for the remainder of the summer, except for special hours and occasions. These hours will be posted at the pool, according to Mike Wuest. Interested persons may check at the pool for the opening days and hours.

Department Dove Maps Available For Hunters

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is distributing the 1970 dove maps to help prospective hunters prepare for the season on white-winged and mourning doves starting in September.

The maps will be available this week from license deputies, Department regional and field office, or from Department headquarters in Austin.

For regulatory purposes, the state again has been divided into a North Zone, which includes Sutton County, and a South Zone.

The North Zone mourning dove season is September 1 to October 30. The South Zone mourning dove season is September 26 to November 24, except in those counties having a whitewing season where it will be September 5 and 6, September 12 and 13, and September 26 to November 20. Shooting hours in all counties will be from 12 noon to sunset.

The Department map clearly indicates by shading the South Texas counties which have a whitewing season this year, and it also shows the protected "buffer zone" for whitewings along the Rio Grande in Starr County and a portion of Hidalgo County.

Whitewings may be hunted in 21 counties only on September

5-6 and 12-13. Daily bag limit for both species is 10 birds, with a possession limit of 20. Bag limits of both white-winged and mourning doves may be taken in the counties having a whitewing season September 5-6 and

Dentist Leaving

Ron T. Williamson, who has been practicing dentistry here since February, 1968, is closing his office and moving to San Angelo. Dr. Williamson and his family moved here from Fort Worth, where he had maintained an office for three years.

Dr. Williamson's office was in the Jack Mackey home and the family lived in the home formerly occupied by the Lin Hickses.

With the leaving of Dr. Williamson, Sonora is without the services of a dentist; however, Williamson said he had been in touch with another dentist who might possibly be interested in opening an office here.

In announcing his decision to move his office to San Angelo, Dr. Williamson said, "we would like to express our appreciation to all our many loyal patients and would invite them to come and see us in San Angelo". His office will be adjacent to the Doctors Clinic in San Angelo, and since he will be connected with the clinic he feels that he will be able to provide better professional services for his patients, he said.

The office here will close Thursday (today) and the San Angelo office will open Monday with Williamson to begin practice then in the San Angelo office.

limitation on wheat, feed grains and cotton. The Findley-Conte amendment included wool while the $55,000 Committee limitation does not.

In spite of House passage of a $20,000 payment limitation on two previous occasions, efforts of farm groups, including the NWGA, were successful in securing votes necessary to defeat the Findley-Conte amendment and pass the Committee's $55,000 payment limitation. The teller vote on the Findley-Conte substitute amendment was 161 against and 134 in favor. No names are recorded in a teller vote.

A move by Congressman Teague (Calif.) to re-commit the bill to the House Agriculture Committee with instructions to report the bill back to the floor with deletion of five titles (not including wool) was defeated 218 to 167. Final passage of the bill followed immediately after this re-committal motion failed.

The bill now goes to the Senate Agriculture Committee where it will be considered and possible amendments made before it reaches the Senate floor for action. Senate floor action will probably not come until after Labor Day. In other action the Senate increased sheep research funds.

ALAN SAUNDERS, HIS WIFE, ANN, and son, Dean have been kept busy this summer with the preparation of the ground and cultivation at Saunders Garden. Watermelons, cantaloupe, eggplant, tomatoes, okra, peppers and many other vegetables are available at the old field house where the Countians maintain a vegetable stand to display the produce they have for sale. The garden is located next to the football field.

National And International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare

Officially the administration has acknowledged that inflation will continue to be a problem in spite of restraint in federal spending and other measures adopted to contain it. In his address on the state of the economy, President Nixon provided for ways in which the federal government can intervene directly in the wage and price-setting process.

It will be the job of a new National Commission on Productivity to study ways in which the productivity of industry and labor can be improved, thus, reducing the impact of higher wage costs. It is to be the job of the Commission to publicize broadly any wage or price increases which, in the judgment of the Council of Economic Advisers, appear to be out of line. In addition, there is to be a federal regulations and purchasing review board, whose job it will be to assure that government purchases do not have the effect of driving prices upward.

Most authorities agree that President Nixon's approach to the problem of inflation through a study of national productivity factors and public censor of excessive wage and price increases is one good approach to inflation control. But, it certainly would not be proper to encourage public belief that the cure for inflation lies in this direction alone. The rest of the cure lies where it has always been—in the direction of controlling federal spending.

The difficulty revolves around the fact that several hundred congressmen are engaged full time in spending over $200 billion of somebody else's money—in part for the national good and in part to benefit the particular constituency upon which they depend for reelection. Also, curbing the spending appetites of multi-thousand-man federal bureaus, agencies and departments is virtually impossible.

Who would volunteer to downgrade his job or phase his own activity out of existence? In addition, uncounted numbers of organizations press for larger spending for public works, for education, for veterans and for the purchase of everything from aerospace hardware to horseshoe nails. But, necessity is still the mother of invention, and the realization that there could be such a thing as national bankruptcy might bring forth a good deal of inspired effort and sacrifice on the part of government, as well as the general public.

In a recent article, the Washington editor of The Reader's Digest looks at the problem of federal spending control and suggests three approaches: "1. Repair the piecemeal appropriations process in Congress. 2. Make each cent of controllable spending count. 3. Continue to whittle away at government waste and inefficiency."

In the first category, as it now stands, Congress virtually never looks at the budget as a whole. Multitudinous committees seek spending appropriations in each of their own areas of interest without regard to any overall target of spending limitation. In the second category, over two-thirds of federal spending is virtually uncontrollable. It goes for such items as interest on the national debt and spending required by law for such things as medicare, veterans' payments, public assistance benefits, etc.

Therefore, the need for the most efficient use of the remaining dollars, so that overall spending can be controlled, is of critical importance. In the third category, the productivity of government itself must be examined and outdated programs discontinued. But, as The Reader's Digest editor points out, this will require a change in thinking on the part of many congressmen that now take the attitude, "Reduce federal projects—except in my area."

The final answer lies with the people themselves. In its conclusion, The Reader's Digest article poses a question, "Are you prepared to give up an unsound federal activity that could benefit your pocketbook?" Certainly the productivity of labor and industry are important factors in sound national growth. But, ultimately the course of inflation, the future of the dollar and the solvency of the nation will be decided by the people of the U.S. who, if they are able to restrain their own demands on government, will at the same time, bring federal spending under control.

AUGUST 18, 1960
Mrs. Jym Adamson and daughters have returned from an extended vacation trip.
Miss Linda Link and James T. Hunt were united in marriage in garden ceremonies at Westlaco Saturday evening, August 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Blake of Farmington, New Mexico, have been visiting here with Mrs. Blake's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Taylor.

Thirty-nine first graders at L. W. Elliott School completed their summer school program conducted for two months by Mrs. Audrey Bridges. The 39 six-year-olds learned an average of 400 English words of a vocabulary designed to prepare them for their first year of public school.

AUGUST 18, 1950
The Sonora five-county draft board has ordered 12 registrants to appear in San Antonio for physical examinations, according to Mrs. Tom Nevill, clerk.

Mrs. Frank Turney and her granddaughter, Rose Alice Turney, have returned by plane from a visit in Fort Stockton with Mrs. Turney's daughter, Mrs. Sam Lloyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Labenske, Mrs. John Cauthom and Fred Adkins are vacationing in Colorado and other western states.

Miss Beverly Smith, bride-elect of Charles Howard, was honored Sunday afternoon with a gift tea given by Miss Peggy Ann Willman and Miss Darlene Lovelace.

AUGUST, 1940
Mrs. Tom Driskell was a visitor in San Antonio the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Taylor were hosts to the Friday night bridge club Saturday night on the lawn of their home.

James T. Barton and Alvin Holmig entertained a group of friends Sunday afternoon with a fish fry at the Simmons park on the Ozona Road.

Slim Davidson of Ozona was a visitor in Sonora Wednesday, coming here for the purpose of having dental work done by Dr. Tom White. Slim states that Dr. White is one of the best dentists in the state of Texas.

To compliment Mrs. Rex Baker, Mrs. Hilton Turney and Mrs. Will Kelley entertained a group of her friends at a party Thursday at the ranch home of Mrs. Turney.

At a called meeting of the Ex-student's Association of Sonora High School held in the office of Sheriff Hutcherson with Mrs. Lem Johnson the president in charge, plans were perfected for the annual meeting of the association. Committees were named and entainment features were discussed at the meeting. In charge of publicity were H. V. Stokes, Lunetta Morgan and Edwin Sawyer. In charge of beans and barbecue were Dee Word, Tom Bond, and Alfred Cooper.

Bill Cartwright has returned from a short visit to California.

65 YEARS AGO
R. F. and B. M. Halbert arrived home this week from the San Antonio Fair. R. F. stopped over at several places to visit some of his relatives.

Lige Barbee a well known stockman of the Eldorado country was in Sonora Saturday the guest of Judge and Mrs. Wardlaw.

Married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Estes in Sonora on Wednesday, November 14, 1906, Miss Bell Murray to D. Al Purcell, D. B. Woodruff, Justice of the Peace officiating. The happy pair are at home on the O. T. Word ranch. JUNE 26, 1925 ISSUE.

Wednesday afternoon, of last week Miss Phyllis Loos entertained with a complimentary bride party at the home of Mrs. Edith Bond, the honoree being Mrs. Joseph Vander Stucken, a bride of this spring. Even though the party began and continued during the bountiful rain enough of the invitees were present to form five tables of bridge.

This was possibly the most enjoyable party to have ever been given here as a real drought-breaking rain fell throughout the time and the guests are hopeful of Miss Loos entertaining again under like circumstances, soon. Deli cious refreshments were served on the culmination of the game.

He Wants To Start A New Fashion In The Length Of People's Lawn Grass

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Dry Devil's River claims he's trying to set a new trend, but there may be other explanations.

Dear editor:
I had just settled down on my front porch yesterday reading a newspaper and had already finished one article reporting Congress was about to set a limit of $55,000 per farm in government payments next year which I thought was fair, I believe I can just about meet expenses with that amount, it sure beats what I'm getting now, and had wondered to myself, after hurriedly reading that Chet Huntley on retiring as a television newscaster to open up a tourist attraction in Montana, said he found astronauts boring, if he'd find tourists real exciting—the one that came by this bitterweed ranch the other day asking directions to Juno, didn't seem like he'd be too interesting to know permanently—anyway, to get on with this sentence which is getting out of hand but take a deep breath and keep going, I was just getting well into the newspaper when a car drove up and a neighbor got out and waded through the grass and sat down on the steps and asked: "When are you going to cut your lawn? It's getting too shaggy to walk through."

"When are you going to come abreast of the times?" I asked him.

"Whatta you mean?" he demanded.

"It's the new style in lawn grass," I explained. "Us high fashion people are letting it grow longer this year. Everything is longer this year. Hair is longer. Sideburns are longer. Dresses are longer. Wall Street brokers' faces are longer. Anybody with a crew-cut lawn just ain't with it. This is 1970, man."

"Uh-huh. Well, I guess I'd better be going," he said, and got up and left.

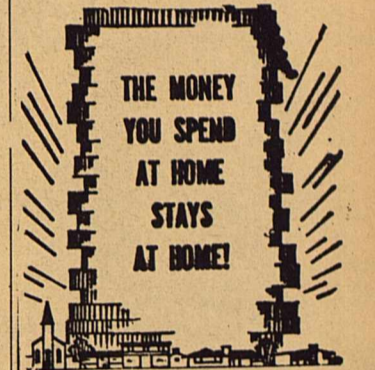

He never did say what he came for.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Inspection Stickers Number Nine Expire In Sept.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today reminded Texas motorists that vehicles bearing red motor vehicle inspection stickers with the large numeral "9" must be re-inspected before midnight September 30.

Texas now operates on a 12-month inspection system. The inspection sticker in the lower left-hand corner of the windshield contains a large numeral showing the month of inspection and expiration.

Speir said vehicles with red stickers and the number "10" will require reinspection before midnight on the last day of October. Those with an "11" must be re-inspected before the end of November, with a December 31 deadline for red stickers numbered "12".

MRS. MICHAEL GOSNEY

Donna Sheppard Marries Mike Gosney In Church Rites

Miss Donna Jean Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Herring of Junction, and Michael Conrad Gosney were married August 15 at the First Baptist Church in Junction. Mr. and Mrs. Billy C. Gosney are parents of the bridegroom. The Rev. Sam Coffey, minister of the church, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a formal gown of silk organza over taffeta featuring an Empire waistline. The high neckline and long, puffed sleeves were banded with lace insertion and fastened with tiny buttons. The floor-length Mantilla was edged with lace insertion and attached to a small crown of lace and pearls.

Mrs. R. D. Kothmann was organist for the occasion and Miss Mary Baldwin of San Antonio, was soloist.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was Miss Kaye Horstmann of San Antonio. Mrs. Jerry Ragland of Junction was matron of honor and Miss Truba Teaff was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of yellow crepe with Empire bodice trimmed in lace and green ribbon.

Clifford Giese of LaGrange was best man and groomsmen were Odie Wright of Menard and Mike Richardson. A brother of the bride, Randy Sheppard of Junction, and Jimmy Jones of Junction, were ushers.

Another brother of the bride, Ricky Sheppard of Junction, and Mickey Wright of Menard, were candlelighters.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Green Room of the First Baptist Church in Junction. A three-tiered cake was served from a yellow cloth-covered table, centered with the bride's and bridesmaids' bouquets. Yellow colored punch, mints and nuts completed the arrangement.

Chocolate cake, made in the shape of Texas A&M emblem, and coffee were served from the bridegroom's table.

Serving at the reception were Mmes. Ralph Walker, Felix Murr, Jack Haschke, Dow Burnett, and Joe Barker all of Junction; Cameron Wright of Menard, Bob Fields of Robert Lee and Philip Jacoby.

The bride is a graduate of Junction High School, and has attended Southwest Texas State University of San Marcos and Angelo State University. Gosney is a graduate of Sonora High School and a first year veterinary student at Texas A&M University. Both will attend school at A&M this fall. After a trip to the Texas Coast, the couple will be at home in Bryan.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to say thanks to the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department for their efforts in putting out the fire on the C. M. Epps ranch last Monday. Sonora is indeed fortunate to have this group of men who give of their time and efforts.

by Jo & Monica

We have praised many people for their work and support of our golf course. This week, we want to say that we couldn't operate without Lester Archer. Whenever we gals want something, we holler at Lester. He "sports" a RED Sonora Golf Club Cap—he has never "hit" a ball, but he surely can "find" them. We think Lester is the greatest.

Museum News

Mrs. Ben Cusenbary was in charge of the Miers Home Museum last Thursday. Mrs. Cusenbary checked the number of items that have been donated to the museum, and over 125 items are on display. Most of the articles have been outright gifts to the museum, with a few loan items on display.

Several persons called during the opening hours of 3-5 p.m., and they included Bill Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Les Chastant and Andree and Renee from New Orleans, Mrs. Joe B. Ross, Mrs. Harry Kiser and Mrs. Clyde Hill.

Mrs. Rex Cusenbary will be in charge of keeping the museum open this Thursday, from 3-5 p.m. for the convenience of visitors to the museum and also to receive any articles for display.

Lyn Clark, George Davenport Marriage Vows Read

The chapel of the First Christian Church in Lubbock, was the setting of the August 1 wedding of Miss Lyn Clark and George Arthur Davenport. The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Homer G. Henderson, pastor of St. Matthew's Methodist Church of Lubbock.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Edwin Clark, Sr. of Aurora, Colorado, and Mr. and Mrs. Hershel L. Davenport.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white silk organza. The gown was designed with a scoop neckline and had an empire bodice and bishop sleeves which were enhanced with lace and crystals. The A-line skirt and chapel train were accented with appliques of lace and crystals. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion cascaded from silk and lace petals was trimmed with crystals and pearls. She carried an English bridal bouquet of white roses.

Serving the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Ernest Edwin Clark, Jr. of Canyon. Also attending the bride were Mrs. Don Garrett and Miss Myra Warren, both of Lubbock. They were attired in princess gowns of lemon yellow cotton brocade accented by a strand of daises.

The best man was Gary Richardson of Espanola, New Mexico. Ernest Edwin Clark Jr., of Canyon and Leslie Michael Davis of Arlington, were groomsmen. Guests were seated by Casey Floyd Clark and Richard Matthew Davenport.

Following a wedding trip to

New Mexico, the couple is at home in Lubbock where both are seniors at Texas Technological University.

Chasing Ghosts from Abandoned Mine

The cobwebs and ghosts of the past are being evicted from an old nickel mine abandoned in 1923. International Nickel is pumping some 100 million gallons of water from the Victoria mine in the Sudbury District of Ontario so that it can investigate the possibility of reopening it. Although abandoned because of the low grade of its ore, Victoria may be worth mining again because of today's improved ore recovery and processing techniques.

WHEREVER WE LIVE

Harold assured Davie and Tommy that moving day did not mean the end of life for us. In fact, we were not going to the end of the earth. Many people would still be around us. Of course, not our same favorite people . . . whom we will keep on loving even though we don't see them . . . but new friends who would find places in our lives.

And that's the way it happened.

Our new neighbors opened their hearts to us. Our boys brought school friends home with them to play and sometimes to eat dinner.

Best of all, our family found a new church home — among people who welcomed us because they loved God. Anywhere we go in our country, there is always a church where we can worship with other people.

You, too, can find one wherever you move—and right where you are now.

Prospects are that the Congress will this year approve major legislation designed to improve the battle against narcotics. Beginning with the Harrison Narcotic Act of 1914, 9 major laws have been enacted in the narcotic and dangerous drug field—the last being the Drug Abuse Control Amendments of 1965.

Even though laws on the subject are now plentiful, the Attorney General has asked for some streamlining and recodification, hopefully to strengthen enforcement and reform efforts. These include education, research and rehabilitation.

Drug misuse is a growing national problem. More than 100,000 addicts lead totally unproductive lives—a burden on society. Many lives are being wrecked.

In a recent appearance before a committee holding hearings on narcotics control, Attorney General Mitchell commented: "In a few weeks the young people of our nation will be returning to school—an event which American parents once looked upon with a smile of relief. Today, it is a sad fact that parents view the opening of school with trepidation and concern because the drug traffic—narcotics and pills—has penetrated the school rooms and school yards of America at virtually every level.

"It is no exaggeration to say that the drug danger threatens the moral and physical health of an entire generation."

In pursuance of the Attorney General's recommendation, a new law will probably soon be enacted. But it will take more than that. It is a matter of enforcement—and more education concerning the evils of the drug habit. The user of drugs simply can't win. This education begins in the moral atmosphere of the home.

It's a battle that must be won! And it's everybody's battle.

(Any one who would like up-to-date information on any of the dangerous drugs may obtain what is desired upon request to me).

A Bishop Looks at Life
WHAT IS INNER BEAUTY?
By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

As I passed a barber shop I noticed a sign on the door, "Shine Inside." As I walked on I began to meditate on the deeper meaning of these words—how some people actually do seem to shine inside. These people have an inner radiance that comes through to others.

My meditation continued when I found a popular magazine had asked a number of persons to put into words what is meant by inner beauty. There was a wide range of answers, but three especially impressed me:

A boy named Sandy, four years of age: "I think when somebody is beautiful inside they are very loving—a very loving person—and when you meet them you are glad."

Yousuf Karsh, internationally famous photographer who has studied the human face in all parts of the world: "Man is nothing but what he makes of himself. The triumph of the human spirit over adversity forges inward beauty. To reach out and touch another's thoughts and feelings; to penetrate with compassion and understanding the mask we all wear so that, suddenly we trust and reveal ourselves and are not afraid—who possesses this rare spiritual magnetism possesses inward beauty. Such inner serenity shows on the face as an outward radiance, independent of physical beauty—and yet transfiguring it."

Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, distinguished Episcopal clergyman of New York City: "Human personality, like planets, shines by the reflection of light. One catches at times, in a

I closed my meditation by asking: Whom have you met recently with inner beauty? There came to mind a nurse I had seen in action during a terminal illness, a woman with heavy burdens in her own family who gave herself with such abandonment and devotion to the needs of her patient there was an almost visible light that shone around her.

NUMBER SEVEN ON THE BALLOT (HJR 22)
General Election Nov. 3, 1970

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
Section 1. That Subsection (a), Section 64, Article III, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:
"Section 64. (a) The Legislature may by special statute provide for consolidation of governmental offices and functions of government of any one or more political subdivisions comprising or located within any county. Any such statute shall require an election to be held within the political subdivisions affected thereby with approval by a majority of the voters in each of these subdivisions, under such terms and conditions as the Legislature may require."
Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for consolidating governmental offices and functions and allowing political subdivisions to contract for performance of governmental functions in any county."

Spice-Up Windows

Wood shutters make a spicy window dressing for a home. Once considered strictly utilitarian (they provided privacy and weather protection), today's shutters are primarily decorative. Strong wood shutters, properly installed, can still shut out bad weather. But their main purpose now is to add variety to windows and thus "spice up" the entire house exterior.

The appeal of shutters is that they are economical, easy to install, and cosmetically effective. Panel or louver shutters of ponderosa pine are available in stock sizes and a variety of styles at local lumber dealers. Some come with attractive panel cutouts or inserts.

While almost any house style can be visually enhanced with shutters, certain architectural designs—such as Georgian and Colonial—practically demand them. They give horizontal emphasis to windows—or doors—and provide interesting texture and color accents to the house facade.

Since wood shutters can be easily repainted, they also allow a quick color change and inexpensive face-lift for a home. Or, if you prefer, simply stain or varnish them to highlight the natural grain of the wood.

roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof.

"(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (b) of this Section, bonds may be issued by any county in an amount not to exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property in the county, for the construction, maintenance, and operation of macadamized, graveled, or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, upon a vote of a majority of the resident property taxpayers voting thereon who are qualified electors of the county, and without the necessity of further or amendatory legislation. The county may levy and collect taxes to pay the interest on the bonds as it becomes due and to provide a sinking fund for redemption of the bonds."

Drunk or Sober?

The breath test shows the difference between the drunken driver and the one who is legally sober.

Statewide use of the breath test, the Texas Safety Association says, can cut the Texas traffic toll.

T. R. DRISKELL DEGREE CANDIDATE

Thomas Robert Driskell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thomas Driskell, and grandson of Mrs. Juliet Driskell, is one of one hundred four University of Texas seniors who are tentative candidates for bachelor's degrees in the College of Engineering.

Driskell will receive a bachelor of science in electrical engineering at the close of the summer session, August 25.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Tax Free Dollars

Your neighbor carelessly backs his car into your fence, causing $200 worth of damage. Acknowledging his fault, he hands you a check for $200. Do you have to pay income tax on this amount?

No, because it is not really "income" at all. The money merely makes you "come out even."

Now, suppose he refuses to pay and you have to sue him for the money. Then, too, if you win the $200, it is tax free. Again, it simply makes you come out even.

This principle has wide application, notably in personal injury cases. Accident victims sometimes win verdicts involving large sums of money. To the extent that the money is compensation for their injuries, it is not subject to income tax.

In fact, the injury need not even be physical at all. In one case, a man won $100,000 for defamation of character. The government tried to collect income tax on this sum, but a court ruled that it was not taxable. The court said the purpose of the money was just to "make the plaintiff whole."

And in another case, the money that a girl won in a breach of promise suit was likewise held not taxable, since it was compensating her only for the harm she had suffered.

However a verdict may also include "punitive" damages, imposed not to compensate for the plaintiff's injury but to punish the defendant for his wrongful conduct. On this portion of the verdict, a tax may indeed be collected.

For example: In another defamation case, the plaintiff won $1,000—$650 for the damage done to his reputation, and $350 to teach the defendant a lesson. The $650 was held tax free, but the plaintiff did have to pay income tax on the $350. This was considered income because, in spite of the harm he had suffered, he came out $350 richer than he had been before.

Coffee Break

by Shirley Hill

While glancing through the Big Lake Wildcat, I came across these interesting ideas on living in a small town. Since we are also privileged to live in a small community, thought my readers might like to hear one person's views on the matter.

"Thousands and thousands of words have been written about the pleasures of living in a little town... along with the handicaps some city people like to mention.

People who don't like living in a small town probably don't like themselves very much either.

People who do like living in the little home town which they inhabit, by accident or on purpose, like it for various reasons... mostly because they like themselves and like other people, too.

People who prefer life in a little town like it in spite of all the funny things said or written about the small town—and may be BECAUSE of those very things.

At least there is something to be said for knowing, usually, exactly where you are "at". And little town people do.

A LITTLE TOWN is where you don't have to guess who your enemies are. Your little town friends will tell you.

A little town is the only place on earth where people past middle age get hailed by their first names when they saunter down the street.

A little town is where everybody knows which church last Sunday... and who got arrested for what.

A little town is where everybody knows everybody else's car by sight... and also where it goes when.

A little town is where people read the local news for the fun of seeing familiar names in print, including their own—in case, of course, the news is good news.

A little town is where people with various ailments can air them properly for sympathetic ears.

A little town is where people know what time other people go to bed.

A little town is where when you get the wrong telephone number you can talk for fifteen minutes anyhow, if you want to.

A little town is where people know what happened to you last year or last week and sometimes what's gonna happen to you day after tomorrow, whether you know it yourself or not.

A little town is where people care. Good people care, that is. A little town is where the ratio of good people to bad is something like one hundred to one. That's nice to remember.

A little town is where it's hard for anybody to walk to work for exercise because it takes too long to stop and explain to people in cars who stop, honk and offer a ride.
