

Speech Tournament Holds Silver Anniversary Honor

Young hopefuls adept in the art of forensics, will gather here this weekend to compete in the twenty-fifth annual speech tournament with James Buchanan, head of the speech drama department, directing the event and Smith Neal, serving as co-director.

Buchanan said few schools hold such a distinction of longevity for this type tournament, and this one will be known as "A Quarter-of a Century Forensics" Tournament. The tournament has much civic support and the entire community endeavors to make students feel welcome.

The largest number of schools ever have indicated they will bring students to compete in the two-day affair. Nineteen schools plan to enter students in the competitive events, with Lubbock the largest school to send students.

Registration begins this afternoon (Thursday) at 4 p. m. in the corridor of Sonora Elementary school, with a get acquainted mixer and dance in the cafeteria to begin at 8 p. m.

Competition begins Friday morning with the planning and preliminaries of some of the individual events scheduled. Impromptu speaking, dramatic interpretation and junior declamation competition starts the speech meet at 9 a. m. Friday. Debate preliminaries Round I, II and III begin at 2 p. m. and conclude at 4:30 p. m.

Buchanan said the one-act plays should be especially entertaining this year, and they will begin at 7 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Finals will be held in all events Saturday, concluding with a barbecue at 6 p. m. in the elementary school cafeteria. Presentation of awards is planned for 7:30 p. m. and first place winners in humorous declamation will present their speeches at this time.

Trophies will be awarded to the winning boys and winning girls debate teams and the best one-act play. Individual speaker medals will be presented to the first, second and third place winners in other events. Housing is provided for contestants and sponsors from schools who have attended the tournament in the last two years provided they are not within commuting distance. Breakfast will be served in the school cafeteria Friday morning from 7 until 8 at 75¢ per person. Other than the Saturday evening barbecue, all other meals are obtainable in local restaurants.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Continues

Doorbells were ringing city-wide last Friday, when the Girl Scouts began their annual cookie sale. Girls are still calling door to door selling the five varieties of cookies offered this year—assorted sandwich, mint, butter-flavored, peanut butter sandwich and pecanettes.

From the sale of each 60-cent box of cookies, the individual Scout retains 5¢ for the local troop's treasury. The balance is the sole source of income for capital improvement at Camp Jo-Jan-Van and for Day Camp equipment.

The annual cookie sale is held to help troops earn money, to help girls develop responsibility, and to provide the primary source of funds for the El Camino Council's Camping Program.

A special incentive for each young saleswoman is an opportunity to earn her way to camp.

"Our Natural Environment: Preserve and Protect It"

by Scott Jacoby
The intellectual and industrial progress of civilization is amazing—Man has walked on the moon; he can transmit current events as they occur thousands of miles away; he can project his voice through a tiny wire, and can safely erect tall buildings. However, in spite of all man's technical knowledge, he is unable to imitate God's gift of our natural environment.

The resources and outdoor areas of today's world are slowly disappearing. Growth is good, but it can also be harmful as a disease. The careless use of our land, air, and plant life is beginning to deplete the productivity of our farms and ranches.

Much of the beauty and purity of our streams has been marred by people who carelessly or lazily throw trash and waste into them. The abuse of our streams has been harmful to both the outdoor sport enthusiast and the urbanite. Wildlife is vanishing in certain areas, and many cities are suffering acute water shortages, and fighting for clean air to breathe.

Another one of nature's beauties is the land itself. Creation of parks and careful conservation practices have aided in the prevention of complete destruction of our beautiful country. Universal awareness of the need to protect these vital resources is urgent.

Preservation is the art of maintaining a part of the original, intact. Preservation is a basic law of life. It applies in every phase of our existence. The capitalist invests his money and keeps it intact, while at the same time using it for further gain.

The housewife knows what to combine with a small amount of leaven to cause her dough to double in bulk. She will keep her main leavening agent intact by feeding it carefully.

In Proverbs 18: 9 and in Proverbs 24:30-31, we are admonished against slothfulness and waste.

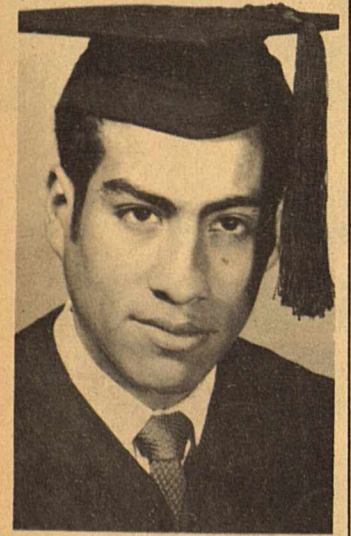

"He also that is slothful in his work is brother to him that is a great waster.

I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding; and, lo, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles and covered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken down."

In man's quest for knowledge, he must not overlook the importance of preserving and protecting our life-sustaining natural environment.

THE BILL SCOGGINS family were at the football banquet Friday night at the 4-H Center. Scoggins, named head coach and athletic director, is shown with his son, Mike, his wife, Beth, and David, 8. Mrs. Scoggins, who is working in Burnet schools, will move here as soon as a replacement for her is found.

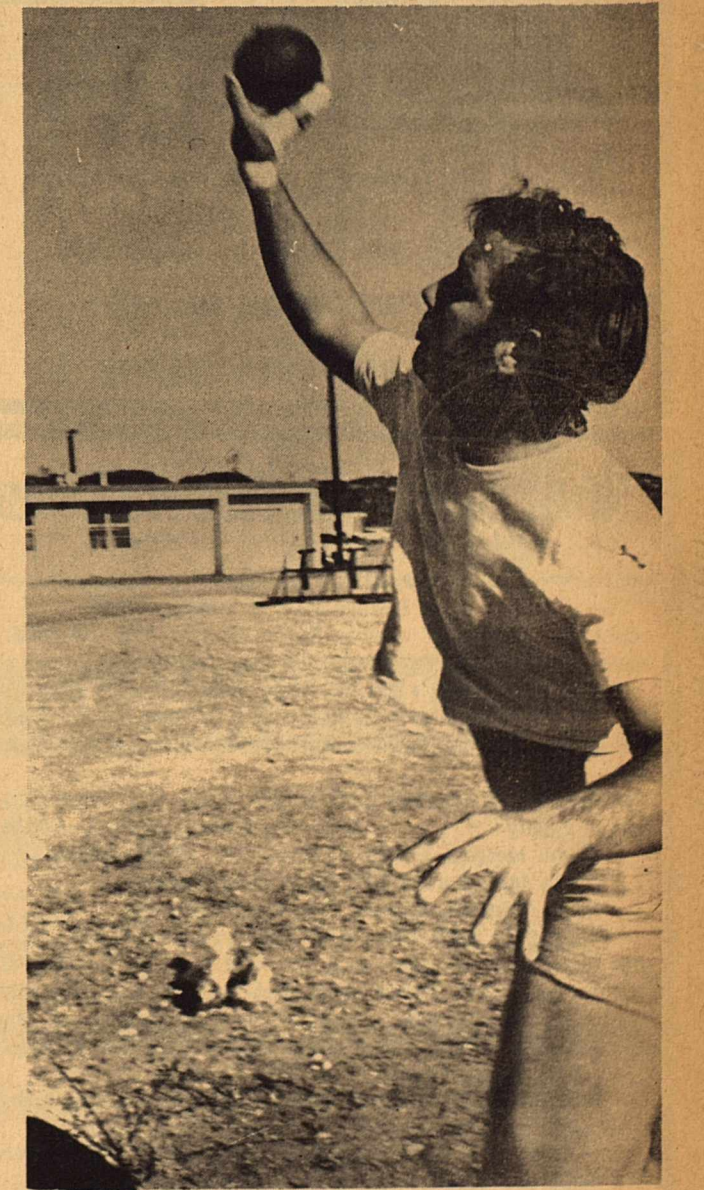

Manuel Paredes Youngest Candidate Seeking Board Post

Manuel Paredes, 27, has announced as a candidate for School Board Trustee of the Sonora Independent School District. He is the youngest candidate seeking a spot on the board, and possibly one of the youngest ever filing for the trustee post in this county.

A native of Sutton County, son of Mr. and Mrs. Candelario Paredes, he attended Sonora school and graduated in 1963. He is a member of St. Ann's Catholic Church, and is president of St. Ann's Holy Name Society. He is an employee of El Paso Natural Gas Company.

The Paredes have three children, Gloria Jean, 5, who is a kindergarten student; Jessie, two, and Lisa Marie, one. Paredes said "I firmly believe in the best education for all students, regardless of race or color. I believe I am acquainted with this school system, due to the fact that I spent twelve long years in the schools. If elected I will do my best to offer the best education available to all our children. Thank you for your support and your vote will be appreciated."

WITH SPRING WEATHER, track season opens and with the warm weather prevailing track boys are getting in lots of practice. Here Gene Trainer practices shot put. Head coach Bill Scoggins announced the track schedule this week with the first meet tentatively set March 6 in Ozona. Ballinger will host track teams March 12; Eldorado, March 20 and the San Angelo relays are set for March 26-27. Sonora travels to Del Rio April 2, and the District Meet will be held in Robert Lee April 17. Scoggins said seniors Mike Taylor, Scott Jacoby, James Noel and Arnold Samaniego will represent the school in sprints; Jimmy Cade, pole vault; Bill Thompson, hurdles; Ben Snodgrass, discus; Richard Bernal, shot put and Freddy Gonzales mile race. Wade Richardson, a sophomore will participate in the pole vault. Scoggins said other younger boys will be entered in various track competition.

"THE MAKING OF A SURGEON"

Anyone who wonders why the output of doctors from medical schools has lagged behind the explosive growth in health care demands should read the book, "The Making of a Surgeon," by William A. Nolen, M. D., as it was condensed in The Reader's Digest.

To begin with, the layman may be shocked to learn that graduating from medical school is but the first step in the life of a surgeon. It requires five years to turn an inexperienced doctor, just out of medical school, into a practicing surgeon.

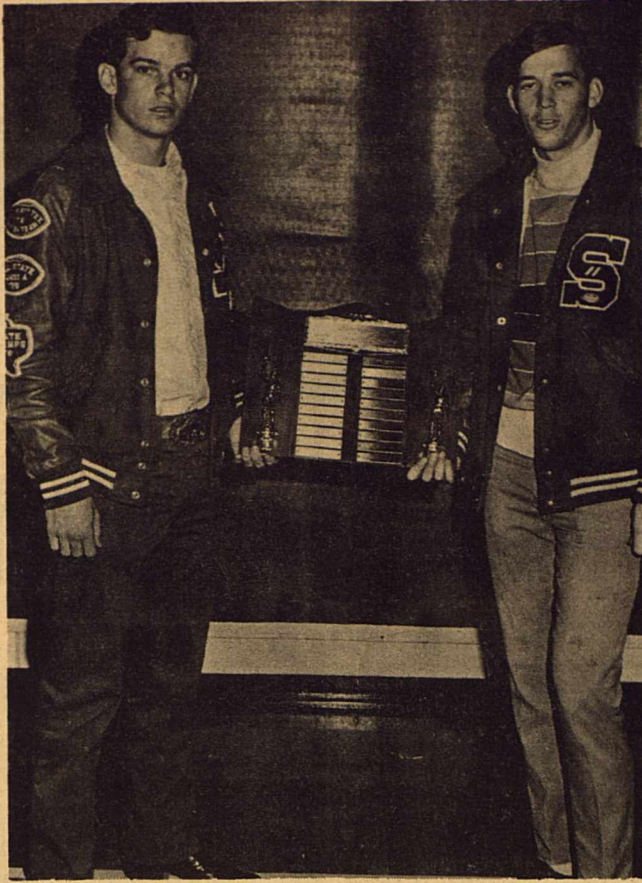

In a brief introduction, The Reader's Digest says, "They are exhausting years, filled with tension and crisis—plus, fortunately, occasional moments of comic relief." The author of the book takes the reader through years of internship during which textbook studies and medical theory become stark reality in the life and death arena of the operating room.

He tells how, as the moment approaches, to enter the work-a-day world of a surgeon, he finds that "... a man never truly becomes a surgeon. He is rather, continuously in the process of becoming one. I knew then, as I know now, that after every operation I performed, every decision I made, every crisis I met, I would be a bit more of a surgeon than I had been."

In leaving the hospital, where he concluded his internship, the author looked back on the years that it took to make him a competent surgeon. He felt, "They had been wearing, physically and emotionally, and I knew I could never go through them again...." Fortunately, there will always be those who will have the inclination and the capacity to go through the grueling course of becoming a member of the medical profession. But, "The Making of a Surgeon," makes one fact abundantly clear—doctors are not made overnight.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ....
Come Out With A Backward Method Of Improving Nation's Mail Service
Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-sweet ranch on Dry Devil's River studies the post office department this week, with what success we won't say. Dear editor:
According to some articles I've been reading in the newspapers that turn up out here, the post office department is undergoing a lot of changes in order, Washington says, to help balance the budget.
While I don't understand why Washington should balance its budget, very few people in the country balance theirs, still I've been following the re-organization plans as I understand them the best way to make the post office pay is to increase rates and cut down on service.
For example, first-class stamps are going up to 8 cents, air mail to 11 cents, second-class rates are going up, etc. At the same time, post office hours are being cut back, city deliveries are being limited, and it has even been suggested that rural delivery be made only every other day.
This might do it, just as farmers would get a lot more for what they raise if they'd farm just every other year, but if you ask me Washington is going about the post office business in the wrong way. It's not getting at the heart of the matter.

The reason the post office is losing money and the service is getting worse is that people are flooding the mails with too many letters and other stuff.
And the reason they're doing that is that there are too many people in this country who can read and write.
The way to solve the mail jam is to stop teaching kids to read and write. They don't need it anyway, with television.
I understand some schools are working on this, some of them rather successfully, but I won't go into that.
Actually of course Washington has the wrong philosophy concerning mail service. The post office is a public service institution, it's not supposed to make a profit. It's like farming and ranching.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

A Bishop Looks at Life What About Drugs?

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

A wave of shocked concern went through our country in October, 1969, when Diane Linkletter committed suicide as the result of a bad experience in the use of drugs. Since that time her father, Art Linkletter, has dedicated himself to alerting both parents and young people to the serious dangers of drug abuse. In a recent hour-long television interview he reviewed with great frankness the life of his own family, and the discoveries he has made that might help others.

When he was asked what might be done to prevent drug addiction he urged that parents, teachers, ministers and others help young people to know the facts about various drugs, and he added: "Especially do we need to show them that life itself can 'turn them on'; that they don't need drugs to find excitement and inner joy. Even our bad days can be looked at as a challenge and accepted as a part of the adventure of living."

As I heard his words I remembered part of a statement issued by the bishops of the Episcopal Church on drug dependence: "If we understand at the deepest level the growth of the dependence upon drugs, we can appreciate the hunger of the soul and the meaning of serious and profound religious disciplines. The abuse of drugs, reveals, on the one hand a positive desire for a new quality of life—for contentment, happiness, a greater awareness, ecstasy, a sense of well-being and self-confidence. On the other hand, viewed negatively, the turning to drugs reveals a rebellion against a quality of life in our society which many find to be barren and oppressive."

Putting Things In Order

In this age of medicare, social security and homes for the aged, sometimes people forget an important part of growing old—tranquility!

Yes, tranquility and peace are just as important in growing old gracefully as is sufficient insurance or all the other means with which we show our concern for the elderly.

Have you ever noticed that old people have a knack of putting things in order? In fact, they need everything tidy, neat and sure. Certainly their greatest need is for peace and security—but this can come only when they are at peace with God!

If we want to reap the harvest of friendship with God in our old age, then we must cultivate our relation with Him—when we are young and able. Regular church attendance and worship is your assurance of peace and tranquility during your own gentle lengthening years. It will be a heaven-sent reward and one which you cannot, will not, want to miss.

TEEN SCENE

By KAY KERBOW

The days at SHS have been taken up mainly by plans for the speech meet which will kick off tonight with a mixer dance in the cafeteria. Twenty schools will be involved in the largest speech meet ever held at SHS.

helpful host by aiding with the meet in any way possible. Timekeepers are asked to be on time to their assigned events. If an imperative reason comes up and the assigned timekeeper cannot be there, he should get a responsible, reliable substitute to take his place.

It is up to SHS to be a polite, Legislature is specifically authorized and empowered to prescribe such limitations and restrictions and enact such laws as may be necessary in order that such federal matching money will be available for assistance and/or medical care for or on behalf of needy persons.

However, to avoid confusion, the assigned timekeeper should be at his event if at all possible. Students are asked not to volunteer for this job if they are not sure they can be there.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend, modify or repeal Section 31 of Article XVI of this Constitution; provided further, however, that such medical care, services or assistance shall also include the employment of objective or subjective means, without the use of drugs, for the purpose of ascertaining and measuring the powers of vision of the human eye, an fitting lenses or prisms to correct or remedy any defect or abnormal condition of vision. Nothing herein shall be construed to permit optometrists to treat the eyes for any defect whatsoever in any manner nor to administer nor to prescribe any drug or physical treatment whatsoever, unless such optometrist is a regularly licensed physician or surgeon under the laws of this State.

There will be several Sonora speech students entered in all categories. With such speakers as Rick Hill, Rick Street, Kelley Sue Sentell, Sandra Mounce, Molly Morris, "Rud" Berger competing, SHS has a very good chance to win big this year. Many of our contestants have competed and won in past Sonora and out-of-town meets.

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on May 18, 1971, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment removing the limitation on the total State appropriations for assistance grants for the needy aged, the needy disabled, and the needy blind, and setting a limitation on total State appropriations during any fiscal year for assistance grants for needy dependent children and the caretakers of such children."

These students named above are only a few of the contestants. There are many more talented contestants entered in SHS's name.

proved before that day by resolution of either House of the Legislature.

Categories include Impromptu, Extemporaneous, Persuasive, Humorous Declamation, Dramatic Interpretation, Prose Reading, Poetry Reading, Debate, One-act Plays, Bible Reading, and Junior Declaration.

(b) All rates of compensation, mileage allowances or per diem rates and all changes and recommendations made by the commission thereof shall not take effect until approved section by section by resolution of both Houses of the Legislature.

Preliminaries will be held all day Friday with the one-acts that night in the high school auditorium. Limited entry will allow only four schools to compete. Sonora will not present a play but rather will wait until district competition in April.

(5) The commission shall promulgate rules of ethics to govern the conduct of all legislators, legislative officers and all officeholders, appointive or elective, of any office, department, district agency, commission, board or any governmental unit or branch established by or under the authority of the constitution and laws of the State of Texas and all persons who shall use any privilege of the floor in either House of the Legislature. The Texas State Ethics Commission shall further promulgate rules providing that each member of the Legislature and each of the hereinabove named officeholders upon election and any appointee to any of these offices shall file with the State Ethics Commission a statement under oath setting out a complete financial statement in detail within 10 days after being elected or receiving an appointment. This information shall be privileged information to the State Ethics Commission to be used only by them to determine if there exists a conflict of interests or if there is or has been a violation of any of the rules of ethics promulgated by the Texas State Ethics Commission or any laws of the State of Texas. The Legislature shall enact statutes dealing with unauthorized disclosure or misuse of said privileged information.

Six week tests will be given next week beginning Wednesday. Due to the speech meet, the tests are being given a week later.

(6) The commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet in Austin at least once each year to review existing rules of ethics, legislative compensation rates, mileage allowances and per diem rates, and to make any changes deemed necessary.

Chapter 9 makes it illegal for a person to defend his property with deadly force, which means that a citizen could no longer shoot at a robber.

(7) All rules of ethics, compensation rates, mileage allowances or per diem rates currently in force, as well as all changes and recommendations by the State Ethics Commission shall be promulgated before the convening of any session of the Legislature by filing a certified copy of the proclamation with the Secretary of State.

Chapter 46 deals with "weapons" and severely restricts a citizen's right to bear arms. Among other things, it says that a weapon carried in a vehicle must not only be unloaded, it must be "broken down in a non-functioning condition and could not be readily assembled". This would include any firearm whether rifle, shotgun or pistol; and, naturally, the restriction would apply to every rancher or farmer who carries a rifle in his pickup.

(8) The members of the commission shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

If you are alarmed at this prospect, please write to your State Legislator and State Senator and oppose these measures. By all means hurry because the liberal majority in the Legislature are pressing for its quick passage.

(9) Each rule of ethics or change thereof made by the commission shall take effect on the 15th day of the legislative session following the proclamation unless disapproved by the Legislature.

Dear Editor:
Many Sonorans possibly do not know that the proposed revision of the Texas Penal Code contains several ideas directly opposed to customs in this part of Texas.

(10) The commission is further authorized to recommend to each Legislature changes which will update, improve, and effect economy in the legislative process.

Chapter 9 makes it illegal for a person to defend his property with deadly force, which means that a citizen could no longer shoot at a robber.

Has President Nixon embraced the Keynesian theory of deficit spending? Partisans are arguing it both ways. For good or ill, whatever it's called, it is quite a reversal of fiscal policy. The President's 229-billion budget, with a built-in $11.6 billion deficit, marked a turn-about from the past. Only a year ago Mr. Nixon told the nation: "We must balance our federal budget so that American families will have a better chance to balance their family budgets."

from the new Republican flip, House Speaker Carl Albert said of the President's budget: "I welcome Republican conversion to Keynesian economy a full generation after it was accepted by the Democratic Party."

Only 20 years ago the federal budget was $43 billion. Now it's $229 billion. It will be recalled that the first $100-billion budget came in 1965, on the eve of the Great Society's massive welfare drive and zooming deficits. The current annual deficit is estimated to be $18.6 billion.

Budgets mean spending, and spending is supposed to be politically stylish with those who are on the receiving end. The theory is that taxpayers don't feel the pinch, so long as the money to cover deficits is borrowed. Little attention is given to the expanding public debt, annual interest on which is now $19.6 billion!

Special Election May 18, 1971

Generous spending, irrespective of deficits and inflation, is the hallmark of liberals. It's supposed to corral votes.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section 49-d-1 to read as follows:

In a sense, budgets serve as Christmas trees, with goodies for all—along with the essentials. Perhaps that explains the switch-over. The Washington "Evening Star", in an article related to the new budget, had this to say: "The poor, the black and the young—long claimed by Democrats—will be special targets of a Republican drive in 1972."

"Section 49-d-1. (a) The Texas Water Development Board shall upon direction of the Texas Water Quality Board, or any successor agency designated by the Legislature, issue additional Texas Water Development Bonds up to an additional aggregate principal amount of One Hundred Million Dollars ($100,000,000) to provide grants, loans, or any combination of grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature. The Texas Water Quality Board or any successor agency designated by the Legislature may make such grants and loans to political subdivisions or bodies politic and corporate of the State of Texas, including municipal corporations, river authorities, conservation and reclamation districts, and districts created or organized or authorized to be created or organized under Article XVI, Section 59, or Article III, Section 52, of this Constitu-

The bonds shall be issued for such terms, in such denominations, form and installments, and upon such conditions as the Legislature may authorize.

Last Wednesday, Chicken McMillan posted the best score for the ladies and she wasn't using her brand new clubs that W. B. gave her for their anniversary. She is saving them until it rains and the grass grows!!!

—GN— There has been much work done around the golf course and club house. Roads have all been rebuilt and parking lot cleaned. Really looks great.

—GN— Saturday and Sunday the golf course was full. There were many out of town golfers including eight from San Angelo. Diana and Gil Trainer have been visiting. James and Gil had a round of golf Saturday celebrating Gil's discharge from the service. Sunday, Betty Jo Cooper and Gail Schoenwolf had an "unwanted caddie—baby Hugh".

—GN— Lee Spencer sent us a book entitled "Speedy Golf" by the National Golf Foundation. The book emphasizes the need of all golfers to move along at a faster pace, always conscious that others are playing the course. Listed below are a few quotes to help 'speed up' the game.

—After hitting the ball, move promptly off the tee box and proceed down the fairway.

—Allow speedy golfers to play through when observing the 5 minute rule while looking for a lost ball.

—As an ethical golfer, never stand in the position that interferes with a putt, shot or concentration of a fellow golfer.

—Approach the green and get behind your ball ready to putt.

—The club house is the place to tell stories and entertain your friends—not on the greens.

—Stay away from the green with golf cars and golf carts. Do not park them in front of the greens.

—Think about the next shot as you approach the ball—make club selection enroute, step up and hit the ball without delay. "Speed-read" your putts.

"Sight-in" and follow the trajectory of every shot you hit, establish reference markers and go straight to ball.

The first "Around the World" airplane flight was made by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty in 1931. The distance was 15,488 miles and the time was eight days, 15 hours, 51 minutes.

Green News

—Mark your score card on the next tee, never on the green.

—Excessive practice swings and unreplaced divots will delay play and annoy golfers playing behind you.

—Drive a golf cart correctly. A speedy golfer drops his playing partner off and proceeds directly to his ball. He picks up his walking partner enroute to their next shot.

—Always repair ball marks on the green.

—GN— We are fortunate to have many beginners that we think will enjoy and learn from the posters that we have placed in the club house.

TO THE CITIZENS OF SONORA

Your City Council has, after many months of deliberation and serious consideration, decided to ask your support on a 1% City Sales Tax. This Sales Tax will be put to the qualified voters of Sonora on February 27, 1971.

It is the estimate of the Texas Municipal League that approximately 85% of the people in Texas live in cities, towns and villages, and about 75% of the people of Texas live in cities which have adopted the City Sales Tax. This means that wherever we go we are helping support another city and, we should realize some help from our traveling citizens. We are not saying that what is good for another city is good for us, but we have some definite reasons for asking for the passage of the 1% City Sales Tax.

1. We will be able to maintain our water, sewer, and power rates at their present level.
2. We are going to reduce our property tax from the present $1.25 per one hundred dollar valuation to $1.00. This is a 20% reduction, and after one year on the sales tax we should be able to make a greater reduction.
3. We will be able to improve our City services to the citizens wherever they are most needed.

It is the sincere pledge of your City Council that if this tax proposal is carried on February 27, the three above reasons will be carried out.

good investment... good insulation...

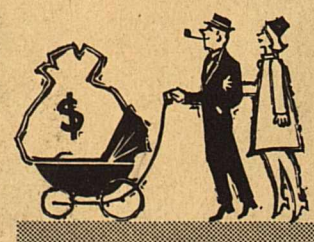

- Looking for ways to save money? Then don't overlook insulation. Heating engineers say that 4 inches of high quality thermal insulation will retain as much heat as a concrete wall 15 feet thick. They also point out that many homeowners lose large amounts of heat in winter through inadequate insulation. This can waste money and cause discomfort.
- You save several ways with good insulation. First, you use less heat in winter. Secondly, you can operate an air conditioner more economically in the summer. Thirdly, you are able to heat or cool with smaller, less expensive equipment, thus reducing installation costs.
- The best time to get proper insulation is when you build or remodel. You simply specify adequate fibrous and reflective insulation in floors, ceilings and walls. You may also consider double pane window glass, with a pocket of air between each pane.
- You can also make substantial insulation improvements in an existing home by locating and closing cracks and other openings. Another good money-saver is to install weatherstripping around doors and windows.
- Regardless of whether you use our energy—low cost electricity—to heat and cool your home, we suggest that you insulate properly for comfort... for savings.
