Hunt, Young Vie for Trustee Slot 3

Saturday is election day in Sonora and voter turnout is expected to be heavy in the school board election with place 3 on the board being a contested spot.

James Hunt, incumbent and John Young a newcomer to the political scene, are both vying for place 3. Incumbent W.L. (Bud) Whitehead is running in place 4 uncontested. Young, an employee of Amoco Production Company, is married and the father of two children. He is a deacon in the Church of the Good Shepherd, a member of the Masonic Lodge and says he will initiate long range planning for a more efficient and better school system. He says this type of planning and decision making is needed to insure that our children have continuing excellence in their education.

Hunt, a lifetime resident of Sonora, has served on the board for six years. He is a rancher, and he and his wife are parents of two children.

He has served in many areas of the agricultural industry, is a member of the Sonora Lions, past president of the Park Association and is on the vestry of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Hunt says that he feels the Sonora Schools have an outstanding record for the past six years and feels privileged to have served on the board during the school's period of expansion.

As of Monday afternoon, 51 votes had been cast by the absentee method and more were expected at the close of absentee voting Tuesday.

Those voting in the school board election Saturday will do so at the courthouse. Polls will open at 7 a.m., and close at 7 p.m.

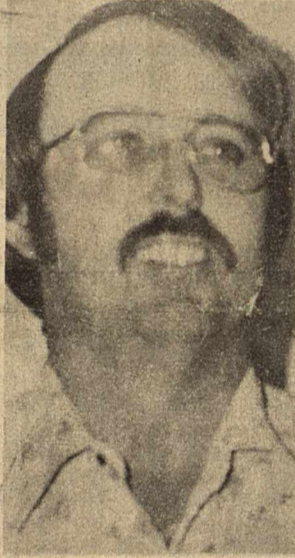

Of the more than 2,000 registered voters in the country, few are expected to vote at the city hall Saturday when three aldermen will be elected to the city government.

The terms of Hershel Davenport, Jack Kerbow and Lemuel Lopez are up and all are seeking re-election to their posts. None are opposed.

Voting in the city election will be at the city hall. Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

A Growing Time....

By The Rev. John W. Fritts, St. John's Episcopal Church

Spring is the time of year when things are made new again in and through the acts of God in Nature. The leaden skies of winter give way for the brighter skies of Spring. Trees, stark and dead-looking in Winter are showing new life, flowers are beginning to show, the hummingbird is finding nectar, grass is turning green again expressing the fullness of nature.

This is the time when Christians pray that the eyes of all people may behold God's gracious hand in all his works. Now is the time to rejoice in the whole of Creation, now is the time to honor God and thank him.

As we are surrounded with beauty on every hand in Nature it is also a time for us to contemplate the necessity of our spiritual growth. The Christian Church for long centuries has looked upon Spring as the season of Lent (another name for Spring). The same God made known to us partially in Nature cannot be identified simply with His handiwork. You can't do this anymore than you can look at the work of any artist and claim the work is the artist. God's mighty acts are contemplated because his almightiness is chiefly shown to human beings by acts of love and mercy. The very nature of God is shown to us in the saga of man's sin and God's redemption in and through His Son. Herein is the perfecting of human nature by one human expressing the divine as well.

The contemplation of all this requires an offering of our time to engage in corporate worship, the deepening of prayer life through practice, the study of Holy Scriptures to enhance our knowledge of God's acts in history for mankind and each of us in particular. Contemplation issues in reinforced faith that in turn finds expression in doing our best in the world, for God and man. We grow.

On the other hand, if we neglect the means of spiritual growth that enriches our relationships with God and man, we will well remain in the coolness of the Winter of our Souls and never know the joy of a new life, an Easter of our Souls, for which we may prepare now.

W.L. (Bud) Whitehead

I am running for reelection to Place 4 on the Sonora School Board. When I first ran for this position six years ago, I said that I would always have time to listen to and consider your questions and suggestions concerning school matters. I also stated that I would help promote a program that offered a solid athletic schedule for both girls and boys. I hope that you can see our schools' progress and are pleased with our students' achievements.

Personally, I think that we as trustees, along with the help of an interested faculty, administration, and an enthusiastic and participating community, are able to offer our students a good basic education geared to meet their various needs. If a student takes advantage of the courses available, and follows the suggestions of the counseling program, he or she will be prepared to begin a career of their choice upon graduation. They are also offered an introduction to the fine arts through the music, art, and speech classes.

We all know there will always be problems and room for improvement. The schools' needs are never static. I am asking for your vote so that I can continue to work for our students and our school. With your continued support we can solve our problems smoothly and efficiently, and improve or adjust our programs as the need arises.

Thank you for your support,

Bud Whitehead

Highway Personnel Honored Recently

Seventeen employees of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) were honored at the Safety meeting held at the Sonora Maintenance Office recently with the presentation of Safe Driving and No-Injury awards. These awards recognize those employees with careful driving records and also those who have completed a year with no injuries which required a trip to the doctor.

District Maintenance Engineer James R. "Bobby" Evans of San Angelo made the presentations ranging from 2 to 25 years for safe driving and from 1 to 25 years no-injury.

Safe driving saves time and money. The (DHT) knows that these savings are of the tax dollars of the citizens of Texas. Through safety meetings and training, safe driving of state equipment is encouraged.

Recipients of the Safe Driving awards are: Kenneth L. Duckworth, 25 years. (Kenneth has the most safe driving years on any other state driver in the 13 counties of District 7); Alcadio G. Escobar, 19 years; Manuel V. Martinez, 13 years; Louis Olenick, 10 years; Tiodoro R. Chavez, 9 years; Gildardo C. Favila, 8 years; Pat G. Brown and William Radle, Jr., 6 years each; Ernest P. Carroll, 5 years; Rutilio V. Robledo, 3 years; and Juan A. Castro, 2 years.

Individual No-Injury awards are given to those non-office employees who are directly associated with maintenance and construction work, and those who regularly drive state equipment as their duty. The award is meant to provide recognition to those field employees who avoid personal injury in spite of occupations which expose them to greater hazards than most persons otherwise employed.

Recipients of this award are: Kenneth L. Duckworth, 25 years; Ernest P. Carroll and Manuel V. Martinez, 15 years each; Rutilio V. Robledo, 11 years; Gildardo C. Favila, 9 years; Vicente G. Bautista, 8 years; Jesus E. Guierrez and Heraldo F. Martinez, 6 years each;

ICA Barbecue Success

Approximately 175 persons were in attendance to hear Ace Reid speak at the barbecue held March 24, hosted by the Independent Cattleman's Association.

Cleve T. Jones, who was chairman of the barbecue, said it was a tremendous success. Door prizes were won by Mrs. Jackie Schmidt of Fredericksburg and Mrs. T.G. Whalen of Sonora.

The ICA meets the first Thursday of every month at 7 a.m., for breakfast at the Sutton County Steakhouse. Anyone interested in becoming a member of the association may get in touch with Jones or any member.

History Books On Sale

Everyone has heard the old fable about the tortoise and the hare. The tortoise shocked everyone by winning the race. Have you ever thought about what the hare was thinking as he played along the side of the road? Perhaps his thoughts went something like this, "I don't need to hurry. That ol' tortoise is just creeping along."

Do you see yourself in the above story? You should if you have not purchased all of the copies of the Sutton County History Book that you will want or need. Like the tortoise, time does seem to creep along sometimes. However, eventually it will run out. If you have not placed your book orders by then, you, like the hare, will be left wondering what happened.

These books are to be a limited edition, available on a pre-publication basis only. Only the number of books ordered and paid for in advance will be printed. If you are "playing along the side of the road" and thinking, "I'll just wait and get mine after they are published. There's no sense in hurrying," you will be very disappointed--and empty handed!

Don't let this opportunity pass by while you are not looking or just not paying attention. The hare let the tortoise pass him, and look what happened!

Order your books today by contacting the Sutton County Historical Society, P.O. Box 1145, Sonora, Texas 76950, or call 387-2649 for more information.

My Friends Have Asked Why I Seek Reelection To Place 3 Sonora Independent School District

THIS IS MY ANSWER....

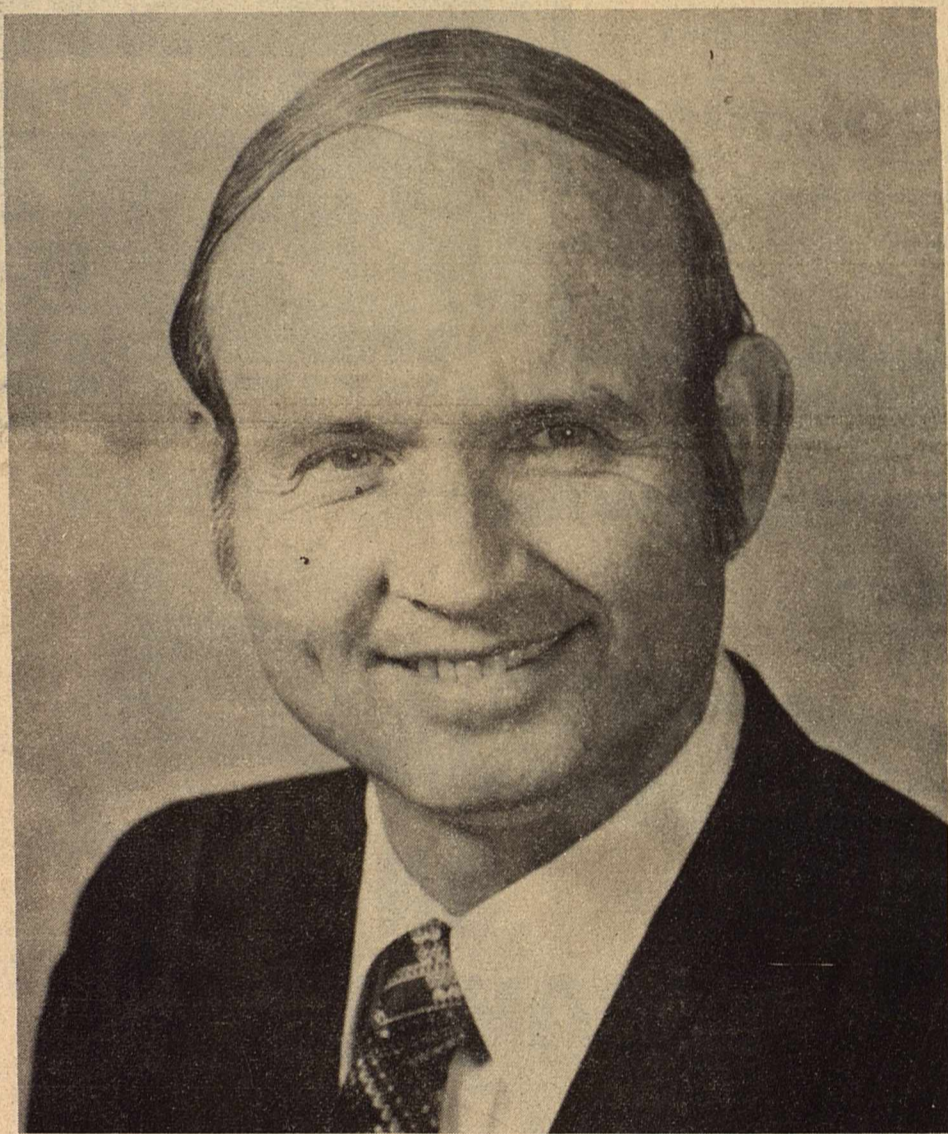

Sonora and Sutton County is my home. My business interests are here and I expect to be a resident of this community for the rest of my life. I'm deeply concerned with the future of this community and the educational environment it will provide for your children and mine. I feel that in the past, as your elected representative, your school board has met the needs of a rapidly growing community in an exemplary and businesslike manner...but the job is not yet complete.

Projects In Progress:

1. A new Junior High School with a large library and science laboratory to provide a better learning environment.
2. Renovation of the old gymnasium for basketball games, and to accomodate physical education classes in several sports and to provide practice rooms for Bronco band members. This facility would also work well in a summer recreational program.
3. Departmentalization of subjects through the curriculum director to provide coordination from kindergarten through High School.
4. Expanding the vocational educational program.
5. Dressing rooms at the athletic field for our girls.

Projects To Be Proposed:

1. A traffic pattern to help alleviate traffic congestion around the school.
2. Construction of additional tennis courts to accomodate the growing tennis program. Also lighting of some to give better utilization during the summer months.
3. Expansion of the cafeteria facilities at the school to meet the needs of our growing student body.
4. Construction of a Little Theater for training of our drama and speech program participants that would have a stage adequate for the entire Bronco band to perform. This facility would make it possible to bring many cultural and entertainment programs to Sonora.

Sheep Breeders Oppose Animal Treaty

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association joins with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, the International Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies and doubtless many other bodies in opposing United States participation in a proposed international treaty on migratory animals.

trated in the history of this nation. The problem shows no signs of improvement but instead will probably get worse, all in the name of U.S. participation in a program totally unnecessary here but judged to be of some benefit on an entirely different continent.

The proposed treaty is similar in many respects to another international agreement that has already proven disruptive and objectionable to the furtherance of necessary and practical wildlife management. The previous treaty, the International Convention on Endangered Flora and Fauna, has led, during the last couple of years, to some of the most flagrant usurpations of the states rights ever perpe-

The Endangered Species Convention does offer an inducement to certain factions in this country, of course—because it can be and is used as an excuse to further weaken and circumvent the authorities granted individual states under the U.S. Constitution. That holds irresistible appeal to collectivist segments of our society.

The proposed migratory species treaty has the same potential and the same appeal to the same people—for the same reasons.

The new treaty would give an international body—unelected, uncontrolled and entirely irresponsible to the people of this country, authority over any species of animal or insect that is thought to wander across international boundaries, even occasionally. As with the previous treaty, once the U.S. signs it will be bound to accept and enforce whatever insane rules might be railroaded through by a block of irresponsible representatives of other nations. In the case of the Endangered Species Convention, all wild cats were pronounced endangered and thus protected because a handful of emerging African nations couldn't muster the wherewithal to protect their own cats from their own people and Great Britain announced that it didn't think its customs inspectors had enough on the ball to tell the pelt of an endangered cat from the pelt of an overabundant one. As a result, in the U.S. alone, a massive, expensive and almost totally uncontrollable bureaucratic machine sprung up overnight to dictate to the states what they could and couldn't do with their resident cats. The most vivid example is the bobcat, actually overabundant in many areas but treated as threatened nevertheless because it is in fact a cat. For the record, it should be noted that certain groups have an almost obsessive ambition to control wildlife affairs through their easily obtainable federal bureaucratic positions. The U.S. Constitution, however, denies the federal government such power—except in the gray areas on international treaties. Small wonder then that federal regulators are contemplating yet another international agreement to give them even broader powers which they were never intended to have. It is convenient, too, for them to be able to deny responsibility for their actions by pointing out that they are required to take such actions under international law.

Screwworms Threatening S. Texas

The year's second lab identified screwworm sample from a Texas animal came from a horse owned by Fausto Salinas of Sullivan City.

The Salinas herd is in Starr County near Sullivan City and near the Hidalgo County line. The screwworm sample was collected by Ed Martinez.

Dr. James E. Novy, director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program, says that screwworms are threatening to invade south Texas.

Novy says there are many cases in Mexico about 50-100 miles south of the Rio Grande along the Gulf Coast. There has been evidence of some northward migration in recent weeks, and conditions are ideal in south Texas. Animal owners should watch for signs of screwworm infestation in their livestock and pets.

Novy says output of the new strain of flies from the production plant near Mission is increasing. Composed of genetic material from the state of Arizona in the U.S., and the state of Veracruz in Mexico, the new strain is called "Aricruz."

Approximately 150 million flies are now produced and sterilized weekly at the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) plant near Mission. Four-hundred million are produced weekly at the Mexico-U.S. Screwworm Commission plant near Tuxtla Gutierrez, Mexico. Production at the Mission plant is scheduled to rise to the 200-million per week mark.

Sterile flies are released among known wild screwworm fly populations. Females of this species mate only once in their lifetimes. Any eggs produced after mating with a sterile male will not hatch—ending the life cycle.

Novy warns it is going to take the combined effort of livestock owners and the Screwworm Eradication Program to prevent a major screwworm problem in the southwestern U.S. this year. Livestock owners are asked to avoid wounding operations whenever possible, treat wounds and suspected screwworm infestations with an approved insecticide, and promptly submit larvae to the lab at Mission for identification.

Postage free mailing kits are available from veterinarians and county extension agents. They may also be obtained on request by calling the Screwworm lab at Toll Free Number 1-800-292-5816.

Control of Winter Weeds Recommended

"A robust weed population in dormant bermudagrass or St. Augustine-grass lawns is not only unsightly but can delay recovery or turfgrasses for several months," says a turfgrass specialist.

Clover, chickweed, henbit and dandelions are common weed problems in lawns during winter and early spring months, points out Dr. Richard Doble with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

According to the specialist, homeowners can take several steps to control winter weeds in lawns.

"Applications of a pre-emergence herbicide such as Dacthal or Balan in October will prevent many winter weed problems. However, if you missed that opportunity, there are other methods to keep winter weeds in check," says Doble.

"Close mowing following periods of mild temperatures in February and March will greatly improve the appearance of a weedy lawn and will promote early recovery of turfgrasses," he points out. However, mowing will not eliminate the weeds. Systemic herbicides (chemical weed killers) such as Wipeout (Greenlight), Weed-B-Gon (Ortho) and Systemic Weed Control (Ferti-lome) will successfully control most broadleaf weed problems is used according to label instructions. Two applications of these materials about 14 days apart may be required for complete control of broadleaf weeds.

Doble emphasizes that these chemicals will not control grassy weeds such as annual bluegrass and rescuegrass. Pre-emergence herbicides treatments in the fall are required to control these weedy grasses.

Systemic herbicides can be applied with a two-gallon pressure sprayer or a hose-end sprayer, says the specialist. Use care to apply materials uniformly at the recommended dosage when temperatures are above 60 degrees F.

"If herbicides are applied properly, broadleaf weeds will begin to shrivel a few days after the first treatment and will turn brown after the second treatment," explains Doble. "Close mowing several weeks after the second treatment should remove all traces of the broadleaf weeds and should promote recovery of desirable grasses."

4-H Citizenship Short Courses Announced

The Texas 4-H and Youth Office is pleased to announce two 1979 National 4-H Citizenship Short Courses and Heritage Tours. 108 Texas 4-H youth and 12 adult leaders will participate in the program. The group will depart from Dallas for each tour on June 12 and July 3. Delegates will tour historical points of interest enroute to Washington D.C. The Heritage Tour will take four days and will be highlighted with the Citizenship Short Course at the National 4-H Center. Four more days of return traveling studying American heritage will end the event in Dallas, June 26 and July 17, says Jeannine Callahan, Extension 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension service, The Texas A&M University System.

Points of interest to be visited include the Kennedy Center, Arlington National Cemetery, the Capitol and Library of Congress, memorials to great Americans, Mount Vernon, Williamsburg, Monticello, and the Museum of Atomic Energy.

The National 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour is designed to supplement the citizenship education and leadership development training young people receive through the home, the school, the church, and other organizations.

Horsemanship Clinic Set

Arena April 25 and 26 for all 4-H leaders, 4-H members, county agents and other interested persons.

Doug Householder, extension horse specialist of College Station will be instructor for the two day event.

The schedule of activities will begin at 6:30 April 25 when instruction will be given in showmanship, horsemanship, biting and basic maneuvers. Horses will be provided for these instructions.

Sutton County 4-H Center adult training for the 4-H horse program will be held from 2-4 p.m., April 26.

At 6:30 p.m., on the 26th there will be training classes for western horsemanship, western pleasure, pole bending and barrel racing. 4-H members are invited to bring their horses to this session so that they can participate in the various training classes.

Ozona Chosen Site For District Meet

By Kay Holdridge
Ozona will be the site for the district 7AA track meet to be held on April 7. Both the girls and boys will participate in the meet and both will be favored to take the district crowns. The first two places winners will represent the district at Regional in Lubbock on April 20-21 and 27-28 for the boys division.

In the girls' division, all three relay teams are definite favorites as the Broncos rate high in the top ten track bests. The mile relay was rated first before the weekend action.

Paula Friess and Jessica Robledo will find more than enough competition in the long jump. Kermit's Yellowjackets boast a 17 1/4" jumper. The triple jump competition will be tight, but Friess and Robledo have to be favored.

Annabelle Gonzales will run her first open 200 meter dash and could surprise the entire district. She has been clocked in her 800 meter relay leg at 27.0 and 26.0. Crane's Fort will also do well.

Tonya Evans should place high the 100 yard dash with competition from Fort of Crane.

Marche Lane and teammate Pam Powers could give us a one-two finish in the 800 meters. Lane was second in the West Texas bests and Power's time of 2:33.5 will move her into the list.

Paige Pollard has the fastest time posted in 7AA for the 80 low hurdles and Diana Hardling should nail second place in the mile behind Ozona's Kay Thompson.

Stacey Chandler and Judy York will face Bishop of Crane and a Kermit shotputter who are capable of 34 and 35 feet throws.

The Broncos should place in the top six. Chandler and York as well as Sandi Wright will face the same two in the discus.

The 400 meter dash could well find Friess, Noriega and Denise Neal with all three medals. Friess and Noriega have run 60.05 and 60.07 and Neal has a 63.4 to her credit. Kermit's quarter miler will be a threat to the third place medal.

In the boys' division, points will be harder to come by as Crane and Kermit have more than decent track teams. The relays could be a toss up as Kermit and Crane have run 44.3 and 44.1 in the 400 meter relay. Sonora, despite poor handoffs at times, has a 45.1 to its credit. Sonora mile relay has been sporadic at times, but should be competitive.

Eddie Favila should have the favorites nod in the 100 yard and 200 meter dash. Crane has a respectable sprinter with a 10.05 speed in the 100 and 22.84 in the 200. McGilbra of Kermit has 23.24 clocking in the 220.

Bobby Williams of Kermit should take the pole vault honors as he has a 14'8" vault. Cody Savell, Ozona's Dan Sewell and Joey Kirby will scramble for second through fourth place honors.

Savell, Kirby and Preston Love should place in the first six of the high jump contestants with Savell or Kirby rated to win.

Savell and McLaughlin, Sonora's long jumpers, should also do well and McLaughlin will be the definite shot put favorite and fight it out with Crane's Reeves in the discus.

Enrique Sanchez and Juan Mendoza, Sonora's pair of 800 meter runners have 2:06 times and should be favored in their speciality. Kermit's Allen has 2:09.47 to his credit.

Rudolfo Ramos' 4:49 mile clocking should enable him to be favored along with an Ozona boy.

Mike Jones and Sewell of Ozona have a good chance to win the 120 yard high hurdles while Ozona, Kermit and Crane have excellent 330 intermediate hurdles.

The field events will begin at 10 a.m. and the running prelims at 1 p.m. Final action gets under way at 3:30 p.m.

Risks Necessary To Find New Oil and Gas

Texas Railroad Commissioner James E. (Jim) Nugent has declared the need is paramount for a clearly defined regulatory road for energy explorationists and producers in their risk-taking ventures.

At the Commission, Nugent expressed to the Downtown Beaumont Rotary Club, "our role is to encourage people to take the risks necessary to find new oil and gas reserves, to produce these finds as effectively and efficiently as possible, and finally, to squeeze out every drop of oil that is technically and economically feasible."

From a regulatory standpoint, he observed, "we have to stay out of the (oil and gas hunters) way as much as possible while they are doing it."

Speaking within a few miles of the site of the historic Spindletop oil gusher that propelled Texas into the industrial age in 1901, the newest member of the Railroad Commission emphasized that energy regulation in Texas is geared toward maximizing recovery of resources, protecting the rights of neighboring producers and property owners and protecting the fresh waters of the state.

Today if it had not been for risk-takers—people who were willing to bundle up what they had and try for something new," Nugent cited in reporting that most of Texas' new oil discoveries today are being made by independent wildcatters who put their talents and limited resources on the line.

"Now, more than ever, government regulations must encourage the risk-takers," Nugent insisted. Nugent said he hopes to continue and reinforce the pattern of Commission regulation that is designed to encourage energy risk-takers in the face of a totally new dimension in federal production and controls.

"I am talking about the massive intrusion of Washington politics and bureaucracy in the business of energy and energy regulation at the state level," Nugent explained. Rather than providing powerful new incentives for the production of domestic oil and gas reserves, however, someone in Washington hits the bureaucratic panic button, he observed.

"While lip-service is paid to relaxation of controls, every production incentive is coupled with paperwork disincentive," he reported. Nugent reported the new federal Natural Gas Policy Act is so complicated and complex "that one operator told me it took his attorneys 90 days to figure out what prices his wells should qualify for."

100% Oil Production Set for April

The Railroad Commission has set the Texas oil production rate for April at 100 percent of market demand for the twenty-sixth month in a row and the 82nd time since the Commission first went to the ceiling level in April 1972.

E. (Jim) Nugent directed the continuance of the maximum allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in April totaling 2,766,268 barrels daily, a decrease of 29,549 barrels daily when compared with March buyer requests.

April permissible rate of output is calculated to average 3,543,813 barrels daily with actual production estimated at 2,745,000 barrels daily. The maximum allowable applies to all but 10 fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation reasons.

Poerner reported that April nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 21,492,010 Mcf (thousand cubic feet) daily a decrease of eight percent when compared with March nominations, but indicates the same demand as April 1978 nomination. The next statewide oil and gas hearing will be held Thursday, April 19, at 9 a.m. at the Driskill Hotel here.

RR Commission To Set Allowables

April 1979 nominations for the purchase of Texas crude oil total 2,766,268 barrels daily, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division reported today.

Purchaser nominations for March totaled 2,795,817 barrels daily. Comparable purchaser nominations for April 1978 totaled 3,942,172 barrels daily. The Commission will set the April production allowables during the monthly statewide oil and gas proration hearing at 9 a.m. Tuesday at the Austin Hilton Inn.

The statewide oil allowable for March is set at 100 percent of market demand with actual production expected to approximate 2,770,000 barrels daily.

The Oil and Gas Division reported final tabulations place purchases of Texas crude oil in January at 2,680,601 barrels daily.

Tuesday's production setting session is also the annual state-of-the-industry hearing at which petroleum industry executives from across the nation appear to brief the three-member Commission on petroleum policies and their impacts and the operating status and outlook of their companies.

Bronco Girls Place Second at Junction Relay

By Kay Holdridge
The Broncos held off a strong surge by the host Junction Eaglettes to capture the Junction Girls' Relay Friday. This was their fourth consecutive title out of five meets. The girls finished second at the tough Hill County meet in Mason.

The relay teams won two out of three races, placing second behind Junction in the 800 meter relay. Annabelle Gonzales, Tonya Evans, Jessica Robledo and Paula Friess captured the sprint relay trophy in a time of 51.6.

Gonzales, Evans, Robledo and Rosa Noriega fell victim to handoff troubles as the 800 meter relay finished second to Junction in a time of 1:49.7.

Noriega, March Lane, Robledo and Friess breezed to their fourth straight 1600 meter crown with a 4:09.7 clocking.

The Broncos continued their triple and long jump domination as they went one-two in both events. In the long jump Robledo and Friess each jumped 15'7½" but due to a better second length, Robledo took the gold medal.

The triple jump found Friess on top with a 34' effort and Robledo second with a 33'11½" leap. Noriega grabbed fourth with a 15'1½" jump.

Stacy Chandler threw her furthest distance of the year, but her 34'2" heave was good enough for only 6th place.

Individually, the running events picked up another 35 points. Sonora was a triple winner in the 400 meter, but Noriega's 60:07 time was nullified when she stepped out of her lane on the last curve. Friess' 60:05 was second and Denise Neal copped third in a time of 63.4.

Marche Lane faced her first defeat of the year as she ran a 2:27.2 for a second place finish. Pam Powers ran a career best as she crossed the line with a 2:33.5 for fourth place honors.

Paige Pollard hurdled the 80 yard lows in a 12:00 clocking to take fourth place while miler Diana Harding ran a career best 5:55 timing to met four points for her fourth place finish.

Sprinter Evans added a one point sixth place finish in the 100 meter dash. Her time was 12.8.

Four girls compiled over forty points in the JV division, placing sixth overall. Daphaney Smith garnered fourth in the 70 low hurdles, Sandi Wright and Julie Stewart went third and fourth in the shot and fifth and sixth in the discus.

Debbie Kemp, Wright and Stewart teamed for fourth, fifth and sixth in the 800 meter run. Kemp, Wright, Stewart and Smith captured fourth in the mile relay.

Bronco Bits.....

By Annabelle Gonzales

"Foiled by an Innocent Maiden", Sonora's district UIL one act play entry, took first place honors at the district 7AA competition held in Midland. Beth Bartz's performance earned her best actress honors. Tony Hooper and Hillary Hunt were named to the All-Star cast and Kent Cagle received honorable-ment.

The Sonora girls' track continued to dominate the area track meet as they captured another championship trophy in Junction last Friday night. The girls had 129 points and their closest competition had 73 points.

The girls won both the mile and sprint relays with the 800 meter relay placing second. The girls did well in the individual running as the field events.

Both the girls and boys track teams will participate in the District Track Meet in Ozona this weekend, April 7. The girls and boys are both favorites to win the District title. The first two placed in each event will advance to Regional Competition on April 20-21 (girls) and April 27-28 (boys).

The Sonora High School UIL contestants placed third overall in the literary meet held at ASU Saturday.

American Red Cross Needs Your Support

The local chapter of the American Red Cross needs financial support, according to Melissa Teaff, who is in charge of the drive.

Last June when the hail storm hit Sonora, the American Red Cross assisted 29 families at a total cost of $9,532.00 for home repairs, clothing, food, essential furniture items and rent. These funds given by the American Red Cross are outright grants from the American people.

The Sutton County Chapter conducts each year a water safety program for the children of our community to learn to swim. They also assist families of servicemen with communications during emergencies. During the last year 15 families have been helped in such situations..

A gift to the Red Cross is tax deductible.
