Commissioner Gonzales Heads Light Delegation

Sutton County Commissioner, Juan Gonzales recently made a request to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for a traffic light at the intersection of St. Anns St. and U.S. 277. County Judge Charles Sherrill, this week released a letter he received from District Engineer, D.R. Watson, as to the disposition of the request.

"Mr. Juan Gonzales and a delegation from Sutton County presented a request for a traffic light at the intersection of US 277 and St. Anns Street just south of Sonora. Mr. Gonzales made an excellent presentation and pointed out several hazards at this location. These hazards included poor sight distance, passing on the right, and very steep incline on one approach to this intersection. We have instructed Mr. Olenick to correct these hazards immediately."

However, the Department of Highway study did not reveal a need for the traffic light. Mr. Watson gave the following reasons for not installing the traffic light. "From the studies and information that we have made to date, we feel that the installation of a traffic signal could present a much greater hazard that presently exists. Rear end accidents on U.S. 277 would probably increase since it would be very difficult for traffic to go from 50 mph to 0 mph in order to stop at the isolated signal at St. Anns Street. Our studies indicate that we would be stopping approximately 1,000 vehicles per day, 7 days a week, 52 weeks a year. The traffic crossing St. Anns on a green signal indication would have a very false sense of security because an isolated signal is not seen, is not expected, and is very subject to being run by traffic U.S. 277."

Some improvements were recommended by Mr. Watson. Those improvements are:

- 1) Clean brush from right of way to improve sight distance.
- 2) Construct right turn lanes on each approach to St. Anns Street.
- 3) Install safety lights.
- 4) Install advance warning signs.
- 5) Split present flashing beacon to cover both lanes and bounce indication from one to the other, thus increasing target value.
- 6) Raise grade level on St. Anns Street from east approach to increase sight distance.
- 7) Sutton County, through its police authority, enforce the posted speed limit south of Sonora.

Although Mr. Gonzales' efforts have not brought the traffic light, he has been successful in getting much needed improvements underway at the dangerous intersection.

Members of the Sonora 4-H Wool Judging Team for the Senior Division are shown here at San Saba Judging Fleece Wool. The Sonora team will be ready for the 42nd Annual Sonora Wool and Mohair Show set for June 12, 13, 14. The National 4-H Wool and Mohair Judging Contest will be held in conjunction with the Show.

Natural Gas Shortage?

By Darrell Rasberry

A recent article in the Del Rio "News-Herald" about the problem of a Val Verde County Rancher brings up the question of how much of the same problem is occurring in Sutton County.

Philip Arledge owns a gas well that "can produce 21 million cubic feet of natural gas every day." He owns six of these wells at present. The problem arises because his gas brings $1.95 per thousand cubic feet and gas going into interstate commerce sells at $1.75 per thousand cubic feet. Now it does not take a mental giant to figure out that the gathering company is going to lose 20 cents per thousand cubic feet.

Why does this situation exist? Our National Government, in all its wisdom, sees fit to regulate the prices.

In a NBC special on energy Sunday night, President Carter made a statement to the effect that our energy crisis is caused by excessive demand in relation to supply. The President's remarks seemed to say the consumer should bring the demand for energy down to meet supply.

But, after reading the article in the "News-Herald" one can wonder how much of our supply of energy is being kept in the ground by nothing more than misguided government regulation.

Mr. Arledge told "News-Herald" reporter, John Carroll, that one of his wells could produce 135 million feet a month, yet in February, 1979, it produced 4.7 million feet of gas. Why?

Why should we buy gas from a foreign country at a higher price than we pay our own citizens, who just happen to pay U.S. taxes?

Why should we refine oil into home heating fuel when a large part of Texas is floating on natural gas that's not being produced?

Why aren't we working more intensely on new sources of energy?

It seems to this reporter that the Government polices on energy are as sensible as a man trying to kill a rattlesnake by chopping off its tail. When the president puts the blame for the energy crisis on excessive demand, one has to wonder if he knows where the head of the problem really is! One also has to wonder how many "Arledge stories" are there?

Lone Star Gas Files For Rate Hike

Lone Star Gas Company's representative, J.T. Morgan, recently filed an application for a gas service rate increase which would raise residential customers' bills about 75 cents per month during summer months and $2.75 per month during winter months, based on average monthly consumption of 8,000 cubic feet.

Morgan said the Company needs $41,933 of additional revenues to meet its costs of operation and to earn an adequate return on the company's rate base in Sonora. For the twelve months ended September 30, 1978, based on adjusted revenues and expenses, Lone Star earned a minus 1.92% rate of return on its fair value rate base. Morgan said rising costs are the reason why the company's earnings are deficient.

The largest single cost of the utility's operations throughout its pipeline network to 533 cities and towns in Texas is the cost of purchased natural gas, climbing more than 700% since 1971, when the company's average cost was 18 cents per thousand cubic feet, to today's cost of approximately $1.75.

Morgan added that, despite recent cost increases to customers, natural gas is still, by comparison, the cheapest energy source available.

"Though the customer may not realize it, rates adequate to provide Lone Star an equitable return help assure the customer adequate service for his needs, whether in the home, the office, the hospital, school or factory," Morgan concluded.

Under the present rate, residential users averaging 8,000 cubic feet per month are paying $21.25.

Petro-ettes Great For Community

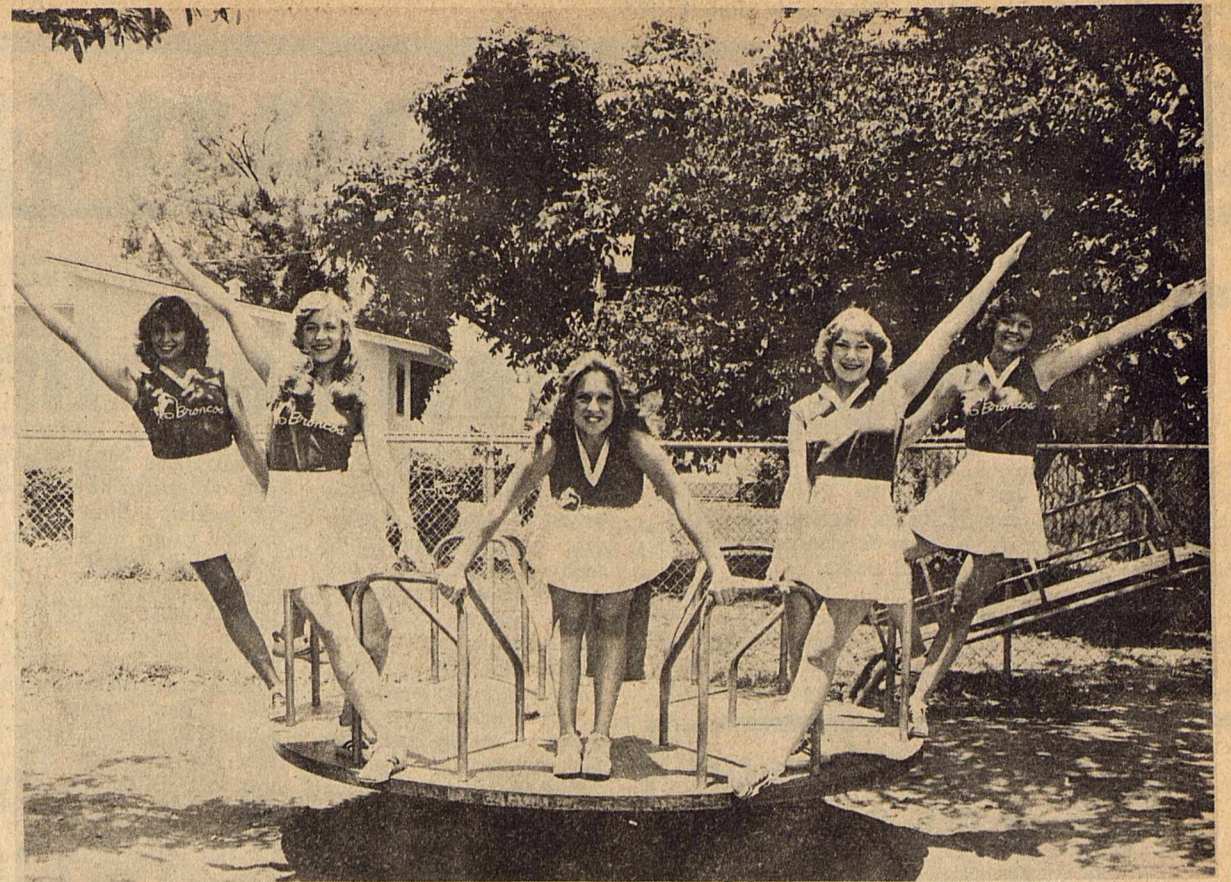

In last Wednesday's West Texas News Brief, is the only daily newspaper available to Sonorans on a regular and timely basis, the activities of the Petro-ettes on behalf of the Sonora community were given a rather cursory and ill-informed treatment. Describing the Petro-ettes as a "loosely organized group of women whose husbands work in the oil industry", the article failed to do justice to an outstanding group of citizens whose generous and wholehearted efforts have benefitted this community in a great number of instances. We believe the girls deserve better than that! The membership of the organization is open to all women of the community. The only prerequisite for membership is a genuine interest in making the community a better place to live. The group regularly conducts fund-raising activities in the form of Bake Sales, the Annual Spring Dance, operation of the soft drink concession at Sutton County Days and many other activities. With the funds gained through enterprise and volunteer work, they have:

- 1) Contributed more than $2,000 to the Sonora Park Association.
- 2) Contributed $300 to the Women's Club Library Fund.
- 3) Contributed $500 to the Pee Wee Football League.

In addition to these monetary contributions, the organization has sponsored the Dance-A-Thon for teenagers, contributed to both the Boy Scout and Girl Scout fund drives and has helped needy families in Sonora on an individual basis. We feel that this fine organization of energetic and dedicated women is a credit to Sonora and Sutton County.

State Comptroller Rep. Will Be In Sonora June 20

State Comptroller Bob Bullock will have a representative from his San Angelo office in Sonora on June 20, 1979 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes. Bullock said Enforcement Officer Esther Esparza will meet with local taxpayers in the Driver's License Room in the County Courthouse from 1 to 2:30 p.m. "If Sonora area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing state tax forms, Ms. Esparza will be there to assist them," Bullock said. "We're trying to cut the red tape in this office, and we believe these face to face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added. The San Angelo office, headed Thomas M. Goff, serves San Angelo and surrounding counties.

Third Report in the Series,

Foreign Investment In U.S. Farm-Ranch Land

Current concerns in our farm community over foreign investment in crop and ranch land is not the first time in history that investors from overseas have come to U.S. shores looking for real estate. "Foreign investment actually hit a peak prior to the turn of the century," said Dr. Richard Floyd, a Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist for real estate. "The same pattern followed in those days also when farmers objected and many states passed laws to restrict foreign investment," he said. Why exactly do foreign investors consider American farmland an plum worth picking? Dr. Floyd says there are at least five major reasons to prompt investors to seek real estate in this country. They are the following: --Our right to own land under a stable and free governmental system. "This has historically been a major attraction to foreign investment in U.S. farm land, and remains so today," he said.

--Income from agriculture comes from operating the farm itself and from appreciation in land values. "We are all aware that profits from farm operations have not been that attractive, averaging 4.7 percent return on investment since 1970," Dr. Floyd said. "But, capital gains from farmland ownership have been substantial. Since 1975, capital gains income has been more than twice as large as farm income on a current dollar basis." The economist said that while these capital gains are not realized each year, they must be considered part of income over the long run. They also are taxed on only about half the rate of current income.

"The point is that the combination of net income and potential capital gains makes farmland an attractive investment," he said. --Despite rising land values, recent devaluation of the dollar overseas has made U.S. farmland less expensive to the foreign investor who has been holding a strong currency such as the German Mark of Japanese Yen relative to the U.S. farmer who must buy land with dollars. "Since much of the investment in domestic farmland has come from West Germany, the mark offers an excellent illustration," Dr. Floyd emphasized. "In January, 1979, the mark would buy double the number of dollars it did in January, 1970." "This means simply that for West German investors holding marks, U.S. farmland is 50 percent cheaper than it is to the U.S. investor with dollars. If the dollar strengthens, this situation would change." "To strengthen the dollar," Dr. Floyd said,

"We must get inflation and our balance of payments deficit under control." --Aside from investment for agricultural use, farmland may be purchased for its value in terms of other resources or use potential. "This incentive to buy farm land is particularly important in Texas where energy production potential and urban or industrial development continue to be strong considerations in buying land," Dr. Floyd said. --The existence of tax advantages to the foreign investor compared to the U.S. investor is a very complex issue. It varies from country to country and is difficult to generalize.

Glen Fisher's Wool & Mohair Report
The wool market remains fairly steady but may be off a little as several firms seem to have filled up and dropped out of the competition. At Junction last week, all the offering was sold at prices comparable to past sales. We sold the rest of our 8 months wool at private treaty with prices about the same as the ones we rejected earlier at our sale. We had hoped for slightly better prices, but with most firms filled up, it seemed best to go ahead and move the wool. Mohair is still inactive with little or no sales taking place. The market for adult would probably be around $4.75 if a sale could be made. It will take a while yet for the mohair to move as everyone is trying to wait and see exactly where the new price will settle. When it does, probably new business will pick up and a little upward price movement will take place.

Farmers Home Administration Appointment New FM HA Administrator For Sutton Co.

Ben Rucker has been named Farmers' Home Administration County Supervisor for Sutton County in Sonora.

The local appointment was made by W.H. Pieratt, State Director of FmHA, headquartered in Temple.

For the past six years Rucker has serviced Concho and Menard Counties with the headquarters office in Eden and will continue with the headquarters office in Eden. In addition to the Sutton County FmHA office in Sonora, Rucker's new appointment also includes FmHA offices in Crockett County in Ozona, Kimble County in Junction and Schleicher in Eldorado.

Individual FmHA programs include farm operating loans, emergency loans, soil and water loans, and irrigation and drainage loans. One purpose of Farmers Home Administration farm ownership loans is to help promising young people and others, unable to get needed funds elsewhere, to get a start in agriculture. Farm operating loans assist mostly to cover production expenses. Individual home ownership insured loans are made to families of low to moderate income, including senior citizens, who need adequate housing; maximum term for repayment is 33 years. Interest rates are adjustable and are determined by formula. Interest supplement benefits may reduce interest to as low as one percent for low-income families. Direct loans are made for home repairs to very-low-income families for 20 years at one percent interest; loan limit is $5,000.

The agency also finances community facilities and make business and industrial loans. However, the latter two types of loan are usually handled by personnel at a district, or from the state, office. The county office has information about all programs and will accept applications, but mainly handles loans with individual farmers and rural families.

The Sutton County FmHA office in Sonora is located in the City Hall, and office period is held on Thursday morning following the second Wednesday of each month from 10 am to 12 noon. The next office period will be on June 14th.

Rucker states he can be reached at the Concho County FmHA office, located in the Eden ASCS office, each Monday morning from 8 to 12 noon. The mailing address is Farmers Home Administration, Box H, Eden, Texas 76837, telephone number 915-869-3941.

San Angelo- Wool & Mohair State 4-H Judging Contest

A couple of hundred boys and girls will compete here June 8 in the State 4-H Wool and Mohair Judging Contest. Site of the annual event will be the Angelo State University Center for Management, Instruction and Research, about 10 miles north of the city and 1 mile off Hwy. 87. A purpose of the June 8 program will be to determine which senior teams will represent Texas in the 19th annual National 4-H Wool Judging Contest, June 14 at Sonora.

The national contest is part of the 42nd annual Sonora Wool and Mohair Show, June 12-13-14.

Judging at the MIR Center will begin at 9 a.m. in both the Junior and Senior divisions, said Dr. George A. Ahlschwede, sheep and goat specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

First City National Bank of San Angelo will sponsor the awards and trophies that will be presented to winners after lunch.

Jack Groff of Kerrville, Extension sheep and goat specialist, said contestants in the state judging will place two classes of wool and two of mohair, and grade 20 fleeces of wool and 20 samples of mohair.

He and Ahlschwede will superintend the annual contest.

Texas Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace Says,

Self-Cures Answer To Energy Crisis

Texas Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace recently declared the U.S. must turn to the self-cures of increased domestic petroleum production and refining capacity if any treatment of the "national energy heart attack" is to succeed.

"First we must increase domestic production and rid ourselves of this horrid dependence on foreign sources of energy," Wallace insisted in a talk before the Palestine Rotary Club.

"The we must increase domestic refining capacity to insure that the oil is transformed into the products which you and I depend on from day to day."

Wallace said the "cure" formula is heavily dependent of two ingredients: Deregulation of oil and gas, and the resolution of energy-environmental conflicts. Deregulation is necessary to insure that the U.S. has industrial and military security.

"Overzealous environmental concerns have become infectious and debilitating," Wallace observed in ticking off a number of "incomprehensible" actions by the U.S.

Dept. of Interior and the Bureau of Land Management, in particular, "amidst rationing and panic in California, recent icy winters in the Northeast and Midwest, and a tenuous and vulnerable foreign energy supply line."

The Texas energy official said deregulation is "bitter" medicine for most members of the Democratic caucus in the lower house of Congress.

"But it must be taken to insure that there is always energy at home to fire out furnaces and fuel our tanks," insisted Wallace.

"I would have expected greater foresight and bolder leadership from Rep. (Toby) Moffett and his cohorts in the House."

Wallace pointed to similarities between heart attacks and the energy crisis that confront the nation.

"They are crippling, paralyzing and sometimes fatal, but they are treatable and preventable," he asserted.

Nevertheless, noted Wallace, "federal administrations for over two decades have done little to protect this country from a national energy heart attack."

"For numerous misguided reasons, they refused to practice good sound preventative medicine. As a result, the United States experienced its first paralyzing attack in 1973 with the onslaught of the Arab oil embargo."

Wallace said the latest "attack" was caused by the Iran oil stoppage. The next one may come as the result of action by Saudi Arabia, Kuwait or Oman, he suggested.

To achieve increased domestic oil and gas production, Wallace said it is essential that president Carter "rid the nation of the costly environmental antics of the Interior Department and the Environmental Protection Agency," provide incentives to get petroleum explorers back to the fields, and expedite the mining and use of lignite, coal and geothermal energy.

"Once in pursuit of increased production," Wallace continued, "we must simultaneously strive for increased refining capacity nationwide."

With projects like the Long Beach-Midland pipeline to move crude oil and a proposed gasoline and fuel oil refinery at Portsmouth, Va., Wallace maintained "there would be no need for talk of allocation of spot shortages, of inconvenience, of disruption, and of rationing."

Wallace described the 500,000 barrels-per-day pipeline as "a corridor of vital national importance" whose construction and operation has been impeded by California Gov. Jerry Brown and several of his associates.

He charged they "have played extremist environmental games with the national interest."

Last week management of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, for the second time, announced plans to abandon the Long Beach-Midland project that would link Alaskan oil fields to refining centers of the Gulf Coast and in the North and Northeast.

Wallace said the decision was a sound one for a private entity. He expressed hope, however, that the decision is revocable "because the independence and economic vitality of this nation are at stake."

Furthermore, insisted

Wallace: "The State of California, whose long lines of filling stations and odd-even rationing bear witness to the need for the Long Beach-Midland project, should find ways to insure the construction of the project this nation so desperately needs."

Wallace said Texas has done its fair share in both the supply of oil and gas and refinery capacity.

"In 1977, Texas' gasoline consumption amounted to 8.5 billion gallons or 7.5 percent total U.S. consumption," he reported, adding:

"In the same year, Texas' refining capacity totaled 28.3 billion gallons or 27.41 percent of all the capacity in the United States."

In contrast, he cited, California consumes 10.03 percent of the gasoline in the U.S. and only maintains refining capacity equal to 14.3 percent of the national total.

"California is not alone in its selfish and short-sighted energy and refining policies," Wallace reported.

"New York consumes 5.42 percent of all the gasoline in the United States but only maintains a refining capacity of seven-tenths of one percent. Ohio consumes 4.82 percent but only maintains a capacity of 3.44 percent."

Wallace noted that 32 companies have tried to build refineries on the East Coast since 1954 without success.

"As a matter of fact, all the refineries in the U.S. that are hamstrung and inoperational today because of environmental concerns are located on the East Coast," he said.

Pilot Secondary Recovery Project Approved For Crockett County

The Railroad Commission has approved the initiation of a pilot secondary recovery project in Crockett County that could lead to the production of an additional two million barrels of oil.

Chairman John H. Poerner and Commissioners Mack Wallace and James E. (Jim) Nugent Tuesday authorized Suburban Propane Gas Corp. to initiate the project in the Refoil (3200 Sand) Field. Also, they approved a unitization agreement covering 2,280 surface acres of the field.

Approval of the water-flood project and the unit pact was recommended by Senior Legal Examiner Roger Schultz and Senior Staff Engineer Willis C. Steed during the weekly conference on Oil and Gas Division matters. They conducted a hearing on Suburban's application May 8.

Currently, there are two producing wells within the unit area which have yielded 39,000 barrels of oil since production began in 1957.

Suburban plans to initiate the pilot waterflood vicinity of the two wells and estimates that additional recovery oil will amount to some 57,000 barrels as a direct result of the project.

The operator believes the pilot area had about 316,000 barrels of oil when production began more than two decades ago.

If the pilot project flood achieves expectations, Suburban plans to expand the project to cover 510 productive acres of the unit. An engineering report submitted by Suburban indicates that expansion of the flood to the entire productive acreage will result in the recovery of an additional two million barrels of oil.

Injection water for the project will produce salt-water from the Canyon and Pennsylvanian formations.

tions of a Midland-based operator to sell natural gas from state-owned land in two Peco County fields for out-of-state consumption.

Zinke & Philpy, Inc., sought Commission approval to sell gas from their wells in the D S (Devonian) and Di-Mar (Devonian) Fields to the El Paso Natural Gas Co. El Paso has a pipeline near the two leases involved in the applications.

Operators of gas-producing properties on state-owned lands are required to obtain exceptions to the Railroad Commission's Rule 69 in order to sell gas to interstate customers. They must show the gas is not needed in Texas. The rule implements by state statute.

Chairman John H. Poerner and Commissioners Mack Wallace and James E. (Jim) Nugent disapproved the Zinke & Philpy applications recently during the weekly conference on Oil and Gas Division matters. Senior Legal Examiner J. Brooks Peden recommended denial in advising the Commission that the applicant failed to make a showing that no market for the gas existed in Texas.

Zinke & Philpy sought exceptions to Rule 69 that would permit the interstate sale of gas from a well on its Grant-State lease (State Lease No. M-7758) in the Di-Mar Field and its Dietrich-State Well No. 1 (State Lease No. M-7759).

Railroad Commission Approves Rate Increase

The Railroad Commission recently approved a rate increase to recover higher fuel costs amounting to about 3.47 percent for Texas motor carriers of the variety that transport products in tank-type trailers.

The action came at the Commission's regular weekly conference on Transportation Division matters and was based on the recommendation of the Division's Senior Legal Examiner Jerry L. Spence.

Spence explained the rate increase requested by more than 150 carriers is based "completely on diesel fuel price increases incurred from Sept. 30, 1978 through March 31, 1979."

Spence further explained that the increase does not represent an automatic fuel adjustment clause for the carriers but that they will be required to file additional applications for any such rate increase requests in the future.

According to Spence, the rate increase will amount to about 2.7 cents per running mile. The bulk of the rate requests were filed under applications by the Texas Tank Truckers Association and the Texas Bulk Carriers Association, Spence said.

Spence noted that the fuel rate increase will be tagged to the carriers' regular rates.

The tank carriers transport such products as liquid petroleum products, cement, flue ash, plastic pellets, etc.

In Counties Of 5,000 Or Less Population

Amendment Passes Senate To Allow County To Do Road Work

The Senate recently passed a proposed constitutional amendment which, if approved by Texas voters, would allow county governments in counties of less than 5,000 population to construct and maintain private roads.

The constitutional amendment, sponsored by Sen. Ron Clower (D-Garland), requires that a county impose "a reasonable charge" for any work it does on private roads. In addition, the measure gives the Legislature the power to limit any county's authority to do such work, and it mandates that the proceeds from any work on private roads go into the maintenance or construction, including right-of-way acquisition, of public roads.

"This amendment would affect only those Texas counties with populations of 5,000 or less according to the last federal census," Clower explained.

"In many of these counties, there are no commercial contractors who do road maintenance or construction, and it's difficult for local residents to get a private road built or maintained. They're willing to pay for it, but they just can't find anybody who will do it. As a result, thousands of Texans must drive on sub-standard, poorly-maintained roads. They damage their cars and trucks and, in many cases, families living a quarter-mile or more off a public road find themselves stranded when wet weather makes their private dirt road impassable.

"This amendment contains ample safeguards to prevent the situation from being abused," Clower continued, "and in many cases, I think you'll see the proceeds of this work on private roads contributing a significant amount of money to these counties' public road construction and maintenance funds."

The measure passed the House prior to Saturday's action in the Senate, so it requires only approval by voters statewide before going into effect.

Crude Oil Production For March Announced

Reported and estimated unreported production of Texas crude oil totaled 85,456,845 barrels in March 1979, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division reports.

The preliminary figure compares with final compilations of reported February 1979 production totaling 77,211,217 barrels and March 1978 production of 90,459,518 barrels.

Texas oil production averaged 2,756,672 barrels daily in March, down from 2,759,226 barrels daily in February.

The March allowable totaled 110,380,354 barrels for the month.

The preliminary March summary indicated Texas Oil production was 22.59 percent under the allowable for that month.

First Screwworms Reported In Texas This Year

Screwworms made their first laboratory-confirmed appearance of 1979 in Karnes and DeWitt counties during May as the Texas count reached 13, says Dr. James E. Novy, director of the Screwworm Laboratory.

The newly developed Screwworm Adult Suppression System (SWASS) is being used to reduce adult screwworm fly populations in these counties. Novy says SWASS is a pellet developed by the Science and Education Administration to reduce Adult screwworms populations to a level which allows the sterile male release technique to be effective.

SWASS is approved for limited use by the Texas Department of Agriculture when known screwworm populations in an area reach a certain density. It is applied on a one pound per square mile basis.

Pellets include a chemical screwworm attractant, a feeding bait, and an insecticide which has a relatively short half life, leaving no residual effects in the environment after a few days.

Novy warns that screwworms appear to be moving north in some parts of Mexico. One case has been recorded just south of El Paso in Municipio Juarez and another on the Mexico side of the Rio Grande near Eagle Pass.

Stressing that the screwworm Laboratory urgently needs to know about any new or suspected screwworm infestations in Texas, Novy asks producers or veterinarians to use the new toll free telephone line (1-800-292-7563) to notify the Laboratory when they find a suspicious infestation in a wound of any warm blooded animal.
