One Shot After Argument At Local Lounge Sunday

An argument in the parking lot of the Frontier Lounge resulted in the death of one man at 11:35 p.m. Sunday.

Pronounced dead on the scene was Steven Ray Hamby of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

When officers Caldemeyer and Whitt, and Deputy Earl arrived, they found the man lying unconscious with a single gun shot wound to the upper chest. The officers tried to revive the man, but were unsuccessful.

Lloyd Michael Hamby, of Odessa and half-brother of the deceased, has been charged with the murder.

Lloyd Hamby has had twelve prior arrests and one felony conviction on his record.

Witnesses said that an argument started between the two men in the parking lot behind the Frontier, and saw Lloyd Hamby pull out a gun and fire. The gun was thrown into the draw between the Frontier and car wash.

The weapon, a .38 caliber Blue Steel Derringer, was found approximately 75 yards from the scene. The police found the gun at 11:58 a.m. Monday.

on October 7. Cocktails will be served at 7:00 p.m. and the program will start at 7:30 p.m. and will conclude at 9:00 p.m.

The Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 has been called the most sweeping tax legislation in a generation. Taxes for individuals and businesses have been cut dramatically. Estate planning has taken on an entirely new meaning, and over one hundred other changes significantly affect a wide variety of taxpayers.

The bank has arranged for Padgett, Stratemann & Co., Certified Public Accountants, of San Antonio, to speak on how the tax act affects persons as individuals and as businessmen. At the program tax changes that are already in effect as well as changes taking place in 1982 will also be discussed.

Persons interested in attending the program should contact Jo Ann Jones at 387-3861 in order to make reservations.

Sutton County Sheriff Bill Webster, Deputies Joe Rios, Tommy Earp, and Texas Highway Patrolman Charles DeLa Rosa assisted the Drug Enforcement Agency from San Antonio in the seizure of approximately nine ounces of cocaine on Sept. 18 and Sept. 23, 1981.

According to Sheriff Webster the suspect became suspicious, and dumped the cocaine on IH-10; approximately six miles West of Sonora on September 18, 1981. The suspect was traveling from Florida to California when he decided to dump the drug, according to Webster.

Street value of the cocaine is estimated at approximately $18,000. Webster stated this would be considered a fairly large seizure of cocaine for this area.

The suspect and cocaine are in custody of the Drug Enforcement Agency.

St. Ann's Catholic Church Celebrates Mexican Independence

The OLAS organization and the Catholic community of St. Ann's Catholic Church of Sonora celebrated Mexican Independence Day Sept. 19, 1981 with a fiesta.

Ya que en esta ciudad tenemos mucha gente de la Republica Mexicana, a recordar las tradiciones de un Pueblo es enseñar a nuestros niños el pasado y la gerencia que nos legaron los que nacieron en otro pais (Mexico). Ante todo, nos sorprendio ver tanta organizacion, en poco tiempo. OLAS lanzo su candidata a reyna, srta. Jane Pena-vera. Por la iglesia Catolica corrio la srta. Millissa Ramirez. Cerraron el computo el 19 del presente mes con un colorido desfile. En done participaron todas las organizaciones. Realmente fue impresionante ante la participacion en dicho desfile. Se dice que por mucho tiempo no se hamia celebrado una fiesta tan linda.

Por la noche tuvimos la coronacion de la reyna, saliendo triunfante, la srta. Mellissa Ramirez y princesa srta. Penavera. Despues tuvimos un programa cultural en los terrenos de la iglesia de St. Ann's con la participacion de todo el Pueblo. Con mucha elegancia pudimos ver la marcialidad de las Reynas, acompañadas de sus chabanes. Minutos despues fue conorada su majestad 1981-82.

Seguidamente tuvimos la actuacion de un ballet de ninos de Mexico deleitandonos con bailables de la Republica Mexicana. Realmente fue algo extraordinario. Miled de gentes se dieron sita para delitarse y ver. Recordando que una vez fueron y gosaron nuestros antepasados. Al ritmo de los sonos jalicienes, michocanos, pudimos disfrutar de algo digno.

Tambien tuvimos la actuacion de la ya popular y orgullo de esta ciudad el grupo Los Pueblanos. En fin fue una noche llena de colorido.

Todo el dinero que se recaudo sera para continuar con muchos proyectos de construccion de la iglesia Catolica. Tambien OLAS, que como siempre tiene en mente ayudar al necesitado, se preocupa por que se haga justicia a la raza.

THORP'S LAUN-DRY

Sporting Chance

by Don Holdridge

After having to lay off the picking business for a week, I was about ready to start claiming unemployment insurance, but that suicidal instinct to stick my neck out on a limb forced me back. (It also had something to do with the editor holding a gun to my head and telling me she needed some kind of garbage to fill up space.)
Actually, things are quite as bad as they sound. In what I had dreamingly hoped would be my last week, I hit 15 of 19 games, including the Boston College upset of A&M and the Michigan win over Notre Dame. That brings my season average up to a very respectable 45 of 60 for a .750 percentage. But I keep listening for the ax to fall.

Sonora at Llano
The Broncos should hopefully be able to win by a much as Brady did over the yellowjackets, so why not try the same score. Sonora 14-0.
Coleman at Wylie
This is the only other District 8-AAA that shouldn't be a rout. The Bluecats help hold up the league's respect with a mild upset. Coleman 14-13.

Ballinger at Tahoka
Not to run down the Bearcats, but rumors have it a certain Panhandle town is adding a third digit to its side of the scoreboard. Tahoka 48-0.

Breckenridge at Comanche
The Bucks aren't quite as powerful as they have been the past few seasons, but they've still got more than enough left. Breckenridge 34-7.

Brady at Marble Falls
The Bulldogs couldn't be any more blue (black) if they had fallen over marble falls and bounced down granite shoals. Marble Falls 31-6.

Eldorado at McCamey
The Eagles should be able to get a victory in sometime this season, but this isn't the team to do it with. McCamey 28-7.

Arkansas at TCU
Upset of the week. Stranger things have happened, and it couldn't happen to a nicer bunch of pigs. TCU 20-19.

Baylor at Houston
This one's the tossup of the week. Give the Cougars the nod with the home field advantage and a revenge motive for last year. Houston 24-17.

Tulane at Rice
Once upon a time, this was a game the Owls scheduled to make sure they won at least once during the year. Not so any more. Tulane 21-9.

Texas A&M at Texas Tech
Say good-bye to Tom Wilson. The Aggies get upset again. Texas Tech 13-10.

East Central Oklahoma at Angelo State
With an extra week to work on this one, the Rams should have little problem. Angelo State 19-7.
Missouri at Mississippi State
And this is another that used to be a lopsided rivalry until Emory Bellard (known for a short time to some Aggie fans as a Emily Beloved) arrived to show the Tigers. Mississippi State 35-20.

Florida State at Ohio State
The Buckeyes will have their hands full here. But then again, they've got big hands. Ohio State 17-14.

Dallas at St. Louis
If the Cowboys can play flat and win as they did last week against the Giants, then they should certainly have no trouble here. Dallas 38-17.

Cincinnati at Houston
I should quit trying to pick the Oilers because I haven't been right all year. After hitting rock bottom they have no place to go but up. Houston 19-14.

Nugent Supports Gas Field Safety Plan

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent today pledged his full support to making the RRC natural gas safety program the best in the nation.

"Texans, as leading producers and users of natural gas, deserve nothing else," Nugent told oil and gas industry representatives at the monthly statewide oil and gas hearing here. He noted that Texas produces a third of the nation's natural gas and consumes less than any other state.

The RRC Chairman traced the expanding use of natural gas in the state saying that by 1980 some 240 companies had laid over 75,000 miles of natural gas pipelines across Texas. More than 1,000 Texas cities were supplied with gas by extensive distribution networks.

"In all," he said, "2.9 million Texas homes are connected to gas pipelines, the second highest number in the nation."

Although the Railroad Commission has had minimal jurisdiction over safety since 1937, Nugent said, the Texas legislature never authorized more than four people to oversee the pipeline network until 1977. Inspection of all the state's aging gas distribution systems was virtually impossible.

"By 1978, Commission safety inspectors were finding one crisis situation after another," he said, "in every area of the state."

Today, in at least 91 gas distribution systems, public and private, gas lost or otherwise unaccounted-for exceeds 20 percent of the gas purchased. One of every five city-owned systems loses 30 percent of their purchases.

"It was apparent that a major initiative was required," Nugent said. "During the past legislative session, the three members of this Commission asked the legislature for the staff and resources to do the job and the legislature responded."

Increased funding by state lawmakers will allow the Commission to "almost double its field safety staff," he explained. "It will enable us to oversee, through more frequent evaluations, the progress of systems known to have problems."

The Commission's current seven gas utilities safety districts have been restructured to create an eighth district, headquartered in Abilene. The new district will encompass 234 local gas distribution systems and 448 pipeline transmission systems in 31 counties in North Central Texas.

Nugent said he supported special, stricter maintenance programs for gas systems that continue to have problems, "even though they may be in nominal compliance with existing rules."

Nugent added that the Commission has asked its Gas Utilities Division staff to prepare new, stricter safety standards and procedures for problem systems, "standards which are enforceable and which we intend to see enforced."

"Those companies refusing to comply altogether should be referred to the Attorney General for appropriate action," he said.

Referring back to the 91 problem systems, Nugent said recent status reports reveal that Commission attention has been effective. Substantial improvements were noted in 76 percent of the systems, complete or substantial pipeline replacement has been accomplished in 46 percent, and a gradual yearly reduction in unaccounted-for gas was documented in 41 percent of the systems.

He commended the Gas Utilities Division safety strides that have been staff and Program Director made.

RRC Sets 100% Allowable

The Railroad Commission today set the Texas oil production rate for October 1981 at the market demand factor of 100 percent for the 56th month in a row and the 112th time since the Commission first went to the ceiling level in April 1972.

Chairman Jim Nugent and Commissioners Mack Wallace and Buddy Temply directed the continuance of the maximum statewide allowable after receiving and reviewing purchaser nominations for Texas oil in October totaling 2,511,226 barrels per day, a decrease of 3,493 barrels daily when compared with September 1981 buyer requests. October 1980 nominations totaled 2,617,096 barrels daily.

Next month's permissible rate of output is calculated to average 3,051,490 b/d with actual production estimated at 2.46 million b/d. The maximum allowable applies to all but 10 fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation purposes. Actual production in October 1980 was 2,519,344 barrels daily.

Nugent reported that October 1981 nominations for the purchase of Texas gas totaled 23,392,989 M.f/d (thousand cubic feet per day). Has nominations for September amounted to 24,961,348 Mcf/d. October 1980 gas nominations totaled 23,381,425 Mcf/d.

The next statewide oil and gas hearing will be held Tuesday, Oct. 20, at 9 a.m. in Austin at the Hilton Inn.

Major purchasers filed these floor nominations for Texas oil in October:

Amoco Production, 215,000 barrels daily, down 2,500 from the previous month; Cities Service, 80,000, unchanged; Conoco, 56,000, unchanged; Exxon, 303,500, down 800; Gulf, 112,000, unchanged; Marathon, 67,460, unchanged; Mobil, 199,700, down 2,400; Phillips Petroleum, 72,000, down 4,000; Shell Oil, 186,300, down 6,200; Sun Oil, 90,602; Texaco, 98,000, unchanged; Union Oil, 27,350 unchanged.

Significant changes in October nominations were submitted in writing by these purchasers of Texas crude oil:

Arco, 134,000, down 1,000; Basin, Inc., 39,770, up 2,994; Champlin, 2,500, down 1,200; Charter Crude Oil, 21,222, up 4,158; Chevron, 40,654, down 2,035; Clayco Inc., 22,380, up 1,510; Compton Corp., 2,960, up 1,050; Crude Co.,

6,084, down 2,216; Diamond Shamrock, 11,257, down 2,440; Matador Pipelines, 81,340, down 6,700; Scurlock Oil, 95,800, up 6,800; Sigmores Refining, 4,790, up 3,020; Total Petroleum, Inc., 6,201, up 4,061; and Western Crude Oil, 27,317, down 2,584.

Chairman Nugent reported that crude oil and petroleum products imported into the U.S. averaged 5,443,000 barrels daily for the four weeks ending September 4, down 714,000 barrels from the same period a year earlier.

Wallace Urges Winter Gas Service Planning

Citing the approach of the winter heating season, Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace served notice to state natural gas pipeline companies to begin planning now to avoid gas curtailments.

In approving Wallace's motion, the Commission called upon intrastate pipelines to review their ability to move natural gas around the state and report their findings to the Gas Utilities Division by November 1.

Commission on the intrastate pipeline systems' ability to respond in time of shortages.

Wallace expressed confidence in the voluntary system of allocating natural gas between pipelines saying it has worked well in the past.

"The cooperation of the pipelines in our system has worked to guarantee service to human needs customers and to protect the public interest in general in times of future heating seasons.

Wallace's remarks came in the form of a motion which was approved by Chairman Jim Nugent and Commissioner Buddy Temply at the Commission's weekly conference on Gas Utilities Division matters.

Wallace said he had been informed by an expert in the natural gas field that a normally cold winter in 1981-1982 would cause gas curtailments. He said, "We must reassure ourselves that we are able to respond to any natural gas shortage which may occur this winter."

The Commission also asked the pipeline companies to work together to eliminate bottlenecks or other problems which might disrupt the supply of gas.

The Gas Utilities Division was instructed to review the priorities of each pipeline periodically throughout the winter so that shortages which could not be avoided would cause as little hardship as possible. Companies are currently required to file curtailment plans for Commission approval indicating the priority in which customers would receive gas if supplies couldn't meet demand. Hospitals, schools and homes usually head the priority list.

Also stated in the approved motion was the intent of the Commission to select a Pipeline Committee to encourage cooperation between natural gas pipelines and to advise the

But he said, "It is my belief that human needs customers need not worry about the availability of their gas supply, and it is unlikely that electric utilities without alternate fuel capability need worry about their supply."

"As a whole, common sense tells us that the state must prepare for any alternative," he said.

Senator Urges Windfall Profits Tradeoff

Senator Ernest Hollings, a Democrat from South Carolina, favors a 5-year Windfall Profits Tax on natural gas in exchange for the immediate decontrol of the hydrocarbon. Hollings, who opposes decontrol, says his tax would add 40 billion dollars to the U.S. Treasury. However, he thinks Congress will probably decontrol gas without a windfall profits tax. And, Democrat Congressman John Dingell, Chairman of the House Energy and commerce Committee, said decontrol of natural gas in 1981 or 1982 is wrong. He had earlier said gas would be decontrolled over his dead body.

In other news, the Federal government collected 281.2 million dollars in royalties on Federal leases in Texas in 1980. This is almost as much as the entire amount collected up through 1979. Federal offshore royalties increased almost 60 percent last year, following a tripling in 1979 and a nearly five-fold increase in 1978.

The Dallas Morning News reports that almost 85 million Americans benefit either directly or through oil company stock ownership or indirectly through pension and insurance plans or other kinds of funds that own oil company stocks. It's apparent that many people have a lot of stock in how the oil companies perform.

The national rig count is 4,224 as of September 14th. In the Permian Basin our rig count for last week was 488. One year ago it was 329.

Ranchers Roundup Information Available For Purchase

Ranchers who were unable to attend the recent International Rancher's Roundup in Del Rio can still benefit from the information presented there.

A limited supply of the inch and a half thick 435-page proceedings has been made available for purchase at printing cost by sponsors of the big gathering of ranching experts and producers. About 700 persons participated, the largest such educational event for the ranching industry ever held in the Southwest.

The book contains about 80 percent of the talks presented by over 100 ranching experts of various fields from 12 states and four countries who spoke during the five days of action-packed meetings and ranch tours.

Included are the narratives of 17 talks related to range nutrition and grazing management (115 pages), 13 covering beef cattle (77 pages), 12 emphasizing sheep and goat production (59 pages), 11 outlining white-tail deer management (62 pages), seven detailing ranch business management (47 pages) and the remainder in mineral lease management, horse production, general session addresses and miscellaneous remarks.

The IRR proceedings can be obtained by mailing $20 to: IRR, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, Texas 78801.

"We have received a flood of enthusiastic comments about the Roundup and a substantial number of them related to the preceding book that was provided each registered participant," said co-chairmen Drs. LeRoy Hoermann and Larry White, Texas Agricultural Extension Service livestock and range specialists, respectively. The two principle organizers of the Roundup are based at the Texas A&M Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Uvalde.

"Many producers felt the proceedings was such a valuable educational reference book that they requested an additional copy," the specialists note. "Since a sufficient supply remains, we decided to offer them for sale to producers at the printing cost."

Included in the comments made about the Roundup is one from a prominent South Texas ranch manager who served as chairman of a beef cattle concurrent session which was one of the more popular sessions during that week.

"This was probably the most comprehensive educational activity for the industry I've ever been associated with," said Ed Stanfield, general manager of the Chaparrosa Ranch at La

Pryor. "Rancher who weren't able to come missed an excellent opportunity to learn more about their industry and improve their operation. It was worth paying the registration fee just to obtain a copy of the proceedings."

Springer Named Head Of A&M's Agricultural Communications

Dr. Donald M. Springer has been named head of the Department of Agricultural Communications at Texas A&M University, effective Sept. 16.

The department is a support unit of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, both agencies of the Texas A&M University System.

Springer will fill the position currently held by Mrs. Dorothy Holland, who has served as acting head of the department since last October following the transfer of Dr. William E. Tedrick to another position. Holland plans to retire shortly.

Springer has been head of the Department of Public Information at the University of Kentucky for the past five years, directing communications efforts for the university's agricultural research and Extension programs as well as academic programs in agriculture. Prior to that, he was in charge of television production for the Kansas

Extension Service for 12 years and also worked in commercial television for several years. In addition he served a brief stint as an Extension 4-H agent in Kansas.

"We are extremely pleased to have such a highly qualified individual as Dr. Springer assume leadership for our overall communications programs," said Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, Extension Service director. "Our communications department plays a vital role in the success of our overall Extension educational programs, and we look forward to Dr. Springer's leadership in developing new and innovative approaches to more effectively reach our clientele."

Dr. Neville Clarke, who heads the Experiment Station, the state's agricultural research agency, said, "Dr. Springer has a found background in communications and is a proven, dynamic leader in planning and implementing communications efforts designed to inform various publics about research and Extension programs. The communications aspect is a vital part of any program supported by tax dollars because we have an obligation to keep the public informed about our work," Clarke noted.

"We made a wide search to find a person to fill this important position," said Dr. Perry Adkisson, Texas A&M's deputy chancellor for agriculture. "Dr. Springer has performed in a distinguished fashion at the University of Kentucky and is highly respected in the communications field. We look forward to outstanding leadership from him in heading the Department of Agricultural Communications."

Springer has a Ph.D. in mass communications from Ohio University, with major emphasis in radio and television. His B.S. degree is in animal husbandry and his M.S. is in technical journalism, both from Kansas State University.

Springer is active in numerous communication and journalistic organizations, including Agricultural Communicators in Education (ACE) for which he is director of the southern region.

The department of Agricultural Communications has some 30 professional staff working in the areas of print and broadcast media, publications, educational media development, graphic design, and reproduction and distribution. Among the staff are six Extension communications specialists located at Lubbock, Dallas, San Angelo, Overton, Uvalde and Weslaco.

Estate Planning To Undergo Changes Due To Economic Recovery Tax Act

Future estate planning will undergo drastic changes, a result of the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981. Many of these changes will be especially useful to farmers and ranchers whose estates consist largely of land and other fixed assets, according to Jose G. Pena, Texas Agricultural Extension Service management economist based when the gift is actually distributed to recipients.

There is no limit to the amount one can give every year to pay for someone's educational or medical expenses. However, the money must be paid directly to the hospital, doctor or college.

Certain additional properties will be eligible for current use valuation under the new law. Real property is generally included in a gross estate at its fair market value based on its highest and best use. If certain requirements are met, an election can be made to include family farms and real property used in a family business at its current use value which is usually below fair market value. The "current use valuation" provision was included in the 1976 Act, but requirements for qualification were so complex they excluded many farms and ranches from eligibility. Experts estimate most farms and ranches will be eligible under the new law.

There are clearly many differences between the two laws that are substantial enough to behoove one to become familiar with the new statute and its advantages.

"It is very important that you study its provisions with your financial adviser so you will know exactly how and when to take advantage of the huge tax breaks the new law offers," Pena emphasizes.

Pena says taxes paid as a result of death place an unusually heavy financial burden on survivors and drastic measures have been necessary even in recent years to pay inheritance taxes.

"The new law promises to relieve tax pressure," he stresses. "Once it goes into effect we should see a dramatic reduction in inheritance tax problems. We are already living with some of its new provisions, while others will take effect in 1982 and subsequent years." Pena says the new tax law is extensive and complex and will require careful study. He outlines some of the estate planning highlights of the new legislation:

By 1987 the new unified transfer tax credit will rise to eliminate the tax on individual estates of $600,000 or less. Tax experts estimate this will eliminate at least 95 percent of all estate tax returns.

It allows an unlimited amount of gift and estate transfers to surviving spouse tax free, unlike the 1976 Act which provided for a deduction equal to the greater of $250,000 or one-half the adjusted gross estate. However, many existing wills and trusts include maximum marital deduction formula clauses under the old law. If these wills are not changed after enactment of the law to reflect new rules, marital deductions will be figured under the old regulations.

By 1985 the maximum transfer tax rate will be reduced by 50 percent from the current 70 percent rate.

More control of money or property will be left to the surviving spouse. A spouse can put his/her estate into a trust and when he/she dies, the remainder goes to their children. This life estate cuts out benefits going to spouses from second marriages.

The annual allowable gift tax exclusion increases to $10,000 (20,000 in case of married couples making a split gift.) Owners of large estates may transfer large sums of younger generations without incurring a tax liability nor using up their lifetime exclusion. A wealthy couple may want to place large gifts into trusts in order to control the age

THE ECONOMIC RECOVERY TAX ACT OF 1981

The Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 has been called the most sweeping tax legislation in a generation. Taxes for individuals and businesses have been cut dramatically. Estate planning has taken on an entirely new meaning, and over one hundred other changes significantly affect a wide variety of taxpayers.

As a service to our customers and the community, the First National Bank of Sonora is presenting a program on the new tax act. First National Bank has arranged for Padgett, Strateman & Co., Certified Public Accountants, of San Antonio to speak on how the tax act affects you as an individual and businessman. At the program, they will discuss tax changes that are already in effect as well as changes taking place in 1982 and thereafter.

Fine Arts Gallery To Open In San Angelo

23 Park Place, Gallery of Fine Arts, will be opening with our premier show Friday and Saturday, October 2nd and 3rd, 1981. As a new fine arts gallery in San Angelo, we will offer a broad range of quality art in such forms as: oils/acrylics water colors, pen and inks, monotypes/monoprints, limited-edition lithography, serigraphy, and etchings, bronze castings, imported flat-weave rugs, and fine-arts posters.

For our opening show, and during the month of October, we will be featuring two dynamic, Native-American Artists, Darren Vigil and C.J. Wells. They will be with us for our opening weekend. Drawing from the wealth of their Indian heritage, their work reflects the beauty and vitality that is the legacy of their ancestors.

C.J. Wells has studied at the University of California at Los Angeles, Los Angeles City College, and Eastern College, Billings, Montana. She has been deeply influenced by Monet, Van Gogh, Cassatt, Gauguin, and Matisse. Her large acrylic images of the Plains Indians offer a fresh look in contemporary American Indian Art. She exhibited at the 14th Annual Southwestern Art Show in Midland, Texas and has shown in several well-known galleries in the Southwest. In February of this year, she presented a one-woman show at the Institute of American Indian Art, Santa Fe, New Mexico, and, in May, she was chosen to participate in the premier exhibit at the Native American Center for the Living Arts (The Turtle Museum), Niagara Falls, New York.

Darren Vigil attended the Institute of American Indian Arts, Santa Fe, the College of Santa Fe, and studied serigraphy with Kate Karasin in Santa Fe, New Mexico. He has been accepted in shows at the Missoula Museum, Great Falls, Montana; the Wheelwright Museum, Santa Fe, New Mexico; the Anchorage Fine Arts Museum, Anchorage, Alaska; and the participate in the opening of the Turtle Museum, Mr. Vigil shares with few others the honor of being in the vanguard of contemporary Native-American Art. He is represented in Santa Fe, N.M. by the Gallery of the 21st Century.

Selected workers by other important Native-American Artists—Kevin Red Star, R.C. Gorman, T.C. Cannon, John Nieto, Fritz Scholder, and Bruce King—will be on exhibit as well during the month.

Other artists we are proud to represent are: Norma Andraud, John Axton, Sue Blackburn, Gene Garriott, Mary Garriott, Susie Judycki, Gary Michael, Judy Miller, Mary Margaret Pipkin, Carol Thornton, and Evelyn Wallace.

Please make time during our opening weekend to come visit with Darren and C.J., to see their work, and to introduce yourself to 23 Park Place.

Jerry Lackey's Country Folk

Those of us who travel, and enjoy eating as well, we have our favorite places scattered in every town in West Texas. And I for one, plan my travels to reach those certain places at mealtime.

From time to time over the last several years that I have written Country Folk, we have visited a number of those good food havens, places like Fredericksburg's Immigrate's Landing and My Place in San Antonio, or Lowake Inn at Lowake, Buffalo Gap in Taylor County and La Borunda in Marfa...to name a few.

Well, they all have a great story behind them and we are going to re-visit some of them in upcoming columns. But for this visit, we made another visit to Applegate's Landing in Del Rio.

This unusually beautiful restaurant offers an atmosphere and charm all its own. One can have their meal by the splashing waters of an old grain mill and select their salad from the pickup bed of a 1928 Model A.

In 1893 "Beauty" was a wagon brand. Ursella, always the lady, inquired "Sir, are you hurt?" Pop's reply is unrecorded.

Graciously offering to assist Pop to the nearest doctor, Ursella took a left instead of a right, putting the couple in front of a church. Not wishing to make a bad impression on a stranger whom she had just run over, Ursella married Pop on the spot.

"Well, you know what happened. Ursella was soon Mom Applegate and there were many mouths to feed, so Pop, still slightly dazed, opened his restaurant."

Some of that family history is now recreated: The Old Mill they ground grain in; the Back Porch they dawkled on; the Gazebo they romanced in; the Model A they drove in; and some of the original boards from the first store.

Says the restaurant management: "We want all your readers to know this restaurant has been designed and built for those, who, like us, love natural things—wood, brick, and stone." Continuing, the owners of Applegate's Landing went on: "Combine them with craftsmen's artistry and you have a delightful blend of the old, the new, and the unusual."

Well, here I've gone and spent the whole column talking about the environment of the restaurant and you're wondering about the food! Yes, let me add it is excellent.

Bullock Reminds Texans Of New State Inheritance Tax

State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office Monday reminded Texans that a new state inheritance tax law took effect this month and will apply to estates of those who died on or after September 1, 1981.

The Comptroller's office reported the new law will save Texas taxpayers at least $20 million in death taxes the first year.

The new law did away with the state's basic inheritance tax schedule and statutes, replacing them with a law that ties Texas inheritance tax collections to a part of the federal estate taxes owed.

For example, under the old state law if the federal tax due was $5,000, the "federal credit" would be $500 and the state inheritance $700, resulting in the Internal Revenue Service collecting $4,500 and Texas $700.

Under the new law, Texas would now collect the "federal credit" of $500 and the IRS would collect $4,500, using the $5000 example.

In effect, the new law allows persons who owe federal estate taxes to deduct from the amount due the federal government any inheritance tax paid to the state. The amount is determined by an IRS formula.

The Comptroller's office said this also means that if federal estate tax rates are cut, Texas inheritance taxes are automatically dropped back.

More than 45 other states have similar laws that piggy-back on the federal law.

are great. The Mexican plates are truly authentic, a Pop Applegate "was noted for his nocturnal exploits in Mexico and brought back all kinds of hidden secrets." In the baked pasta department, the eatery features; Gilbertini. That's pronounced Jill-ber-teeny. "Won in a stakes poker game in Iowa, a friend's recipe of pasta, meat, and cheese, baked up in the company of a rich white butter sauce. Old Gilber, he's a cooker."

There's the plain hamburger, sandwiches, the appetizers of "Macho Nachos" or Fried Zucchini or Sautéed Mushrooms. And of course that '28 Model Ford pickup with a bed full of choice salads.

Applegate's Landing in Del Rio is a unique dining pleasure and I can't wait for another assignment to take me back there!

The Sonora Broncos faced their toughest challenge of the year Friday night against the Coahoma Bulldogs and used two big plays to propel them to a 16-14 victory.

The Broncos added a 59-yard touchdown run by Allen Stewart in the first quarter and a 76-yarder by David Buitron to a second quarter Scott Savell field goal in gaining their third straight win.

Bruitron and Stewart continued to pace a strong Bronco running game that gained 329 yards on 56 carries.

Fullback Buitron finished with 146 yards on 24 carries, and halfback Stewart gained 108 yards on 19 carries. Stewart's effort was his fourth 100-yard effort of the year, while Buitron was his second.

Stewart's TD came on the 10th play of Sonora's first possession of the night to cap an 80-yard march.

Savell added the PAT to give the Broncos a 7-0 edge with less than five minutes elapsed in the game.

The Bulldogs, after stopping another Sonora threat at the 28, used some razzle dazzle to knot the score before the end of the period.

Faking a double reverse, the last runner pitched back to quarterback Bruce Walker who hit a wide open Shane Mayall behind a completely fooled Bronco secondary for a 72-yard score.

Walker booted the PAT to even the score with 1:37 remaining in the initial period.

Savell's field goal was set up late in the half when Charlie Carroll recovered a Bulldog fumble at the Sonora 44.

The Broncos covered most of the yardage on scrambles of 24 and 11 yards by quarterback Marney Sorenson, and Savell's legs booted the field goal from 24 yards out with two seconds left in the half.

Coahoma came back to capture its only lead of the night on their series opening the second half. Tony Uranga's two-yard run with 5:25 left capped a 14-play, 74-yard drive, and Walker's conversion kick boosted the lead to 14-10.

The Broncos wasted no time in regaining their edge as Buitron got his tally after hitting over the left side, breaking one tackle at the line of scrimmage and outrunning the remaining Bulldog defenders.

Savell's kick was wide right, his first miss of the season, but the 16-14 margin held up through the remainder of the defensive battle staged the rest of the game.

The Broncos made one final threat. Starting at their own 46, the Red and White chewed up yardage and the clock in 16 plays as they moved to the one-yard line before stalling out with 30 seconds remaining on the game clock.

The Bulldogs tried desperately to get within field goal range, but Mark Doan intercepted a Walker pass at the 37-yard line with eight seconds left to seal the victory.

The win lifted the Broncos to a 3-1 season record, while Coahoma fell to 1-3.

Brady was the only other District 8-AAA team to win over the weekend as they nipped Mason, 34-28.

Broncos Take On Llano Friday

The Sonora Broncos go back on the road Friday for an 8 p.m. contest with Llano with a chance to avenge their only 1980 regular season loss.

The Yellowjackets, coming off a so-so 6-4 season, unloaded on a flat Bronco team last season to put the only blemish on their 9-1 regular season slate.

And while Bronco Coach Jerry Hopkins would most likely downplay the revenge factor, the contest could easily prove to be the toughest competition this year for the Broncos along with giving them some idea of how they stack up against Brady, the slight favorite to wrestle the District 8-AAA away from Sonora.

The teams may be actually mirror images of each other as both are experiencing success this year with only a small nucleus of veterans.

The Yellowjackets return only six starters and eight lettermen off last season's squad. The have posted a 2-2 season record, falling to both Brady and Class AAAA Fredericksburg, then winning over San Saba and Mason the past two outings.

The few returnees do boast some quality though as ends Trey Franklin, Wayne Salem, Kirk Underwood along with tailback Karl Tatsch were all four all-district selections last season.

Other top players for Llano include quarterback Terry Hutto, running back Ashley Blake, tackles Robert Burton (6-0, 210) and Kelvin Milam (6-1, 250), guards Mark Joy, Jon Tate and Stanley Callaway, center John Evers and backs Perry Wingett and Jim Graham.

The Broncos continued their domination of the ground game in last week's 16-14 win over Coahoma as mini-backs Allen Stewart and David Buitron both gained over 100 yards for the second straight week.

Bruitron had been hampered by injuries until the Eldorado game two weeks ago, but still leads the team in scoring while Stewart has broken the 100-yard barrier in each of the Broncos' four outings this year.

The main problems for the Broncos so far this season have been the absence of a passing attack and consistency on defense.

Senior John Blankenship and Junior Marney Sorenson have been splitting the quarterback duties, but neither has had a great measure of success through the air although part of the reason for their low passing percentage is a high number of dropped balls.

The defense started showing signs of coming together last week. Although the secondary gave up 184 passing yards, 76 of those came on a flea flicker that completely caught the whole team off guard.

While the Broncos will be trying to up their season record to 4-1, other action among district teams includes Brady at Marble Falls, Ballinger at Tahoka, Coleman at Abilene Wylie and Comanche at Breckenridge.

Heart O' Texas Savings and Loan will.

It's the new Tax-Free Certificate, available beginning October 1st at Heart O'Texas Savings & Loan Association.

Why is it so important? Because it's the first time a savings certificate has been exempted from Federal taxes. And unlike tax-exempt municipal bonds, it's for a short-term and low denominations. This means your effective yield can go much higher than the actual interest rate (12.61% in today's market). For instance, if your household Income is $35,000 your effective yield could be over 20%. Tax-free certificates are available in denominations as low as $100 and have the advantage of locking in your money at current high interest rates. And remember - these certificates are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation to $100,000.

Why is Uncle Sam running a special on these new savings certificates? Because these deposits are dedicated to financing housing. So your tax-exempt investment goes to work helping your neighbor buy a house. A good deal for the saver, a good deal for the home buyer.

Existing Money Market CD's and Security Repurchase Agreements can be converted to Tax-Free Certificates soon to be on the best-seller list at Heart O' Texas Savings and Loan Association.

Band Members Complimented

(The following letter was received by Dr. Joe Andrews after the Bronco Band's trip to Phoenix this summer.)
 Dear Mr. Andrews:
 Recently, four of us teachers were having our evening meal at Luby's Cafeteria. Your band students had also stopped to eat at Luby's. In all of my thirty-seven years of teaching, I have never seen such a well behaved group of young boys and girls. They were so orderly while waiting in line for their food and while eating their food. In fact, they were so quiet that we did not know when they left to go outside and get on the bus.

 Having attended grade school and high school in Coleman, Texas, it made me proud to know that those young people were from my part of the state. A mutual friend, Katherine Cherry, gave me your name.

 Please compliment the young people and their instructor for us.
 Sincerely,
 Mrs. Kay Carroll Province

Rep. Rains Appointed To New Committee

Texas State Representative Don Rains of San Marcos has been selected by House Speaker Bill Clayton to serve as chairman of the newly created Joint Committee on Higher Education. The joint committee is composed of selected members from the House of Representatives' standing Committees on Higher Education and Appropriations.
 The committee is requested to review the method of developing formulas through which community colleges are funded, the method of reporting scholastic hours, the method of accountability for handling of library books and equipment, the method of determining higher education's need for capital outlay in terms of formulas, the accuracy of past estimates of educational and general funds within the appropriations for higher education, and the legislative provisions relating to international students.

 Rep. Rains is serving his fourth term in the House of Representatives, is vice-chairman for the Committee on Appropriations, and is a member of the Committee on Financial Institutions.
 Clayton commented on his appointment of Rep. Rains: "The charges to this committee deal with various aspects of higher education and their funding. It is imperative that the intricacies of higher education funding be thoroughly reviewed and assessed to determine if present methods are efficient and resulting services are effective."

Horton Named President of SASA

Lee W. Horton was named President and a member of the Board of Directors of San Angelo Savings Association at an annual meeting held on September 23, according to Board Chairman and former President, H.J. "Mickey" Sallee.

In announcing the selection of Horton, Sallee said, "The appointment of Horton as President reflects the SASA Board of Directors desire to provide for continued growth and expansion of the association with a total of $100 in operating capital. Within six months, assets had grown to $7,500. After receiving a federal charter in 1937, the name was changed to San Angelo Federal Savings and Loan Association. The association was state chartered in 1969 and the present name, San Angelo Savings Association was implemented.

SASA has shown continued growth and progress since 1922 with current assets in excess of 96 million dollars and savings in excess of 82 million dollars.

In addition to the main office at 5 South Chadbourne, a 3200 square foot branch office building is located at Knickerbocker at Jackson St. where expansion of drive thru facilities and twenty four hour teller services are being undertaken. SASA also has a branch office in Sonora.

A native of San Angelo, and a 1968 graduate of A&M University with a degree in Business Administration and Finance, Horton served as an infantry officer with the U.S. Army in Vietnam. He returned to San Angelo to enter the appraisal business with J.H. Russell & Sons and later became Executive Vice-President of Horton-Kenley Mortgage Company, a firm founded by Horton's grandfather, the late L.B. Horton, Sr.

Horton joined the staff of San Angelo Savings in 1974 as a loan officer and was promoted to Vice President in charge of lending in 1976.

Active in civic affairs, he has served as Treasurer for the El Camino Girl Scout Council and on the Sales and Horse Show Committee of the San Angelo Livestock Show and Rodeo. A Past member of the West Side Optimist's Club, Horton nas been active in the United Way campaigns and is a member of the San Angelo Ramrods and is a current director of the San Angelo Country Club. He and his wife, the former Eva Waring of San Angelo, have two sons, Cade and Alex, and attend Emmanuel Episcopal Church.
