36th Annual Speech Tournament To Get Underway Friday

Sonora High School Speech Department will host its 36th annual Speech Tournament February 12 and 13. It is expected to be even larger and better than in the years past.

The tournament is divided into two sections: debate and individual events. Student directors this year are Brad Johnson, director of debate and assisted by Bryan Hunt, and Charley Carroll, director of individual events and assisted by Louise Ingham, Miles Miller, Vicki DeMarco, Jennifer Spencer, Cody Childress, Efrain Torres, Kathryn Parker, Eric Neal, Aimee Middleton, Mike Poloczek, Jessy Allen, Ronnie Pollard and Mike Phillips.

Debate will be divided into standard debate and novice debate. Individual events will be Original Oratory, Dramatic Interpretation, Poetry, Junior Poetry, Humorous Interpretation, Persuasive and Informative Speaking, Bible Reading, Prose and Duet Acting.

Approximately 300 students from 25 schools will be participating including: Waco Richfield, Waco University, Odessa Permian, Coahoma, Big Springs, San Angelo Lakeview, San Angelo Central, Brownwood, Andrews, Junction, Menard, Christoval and Brady.

The finals will start Saturday at noon and the awards ceremony will be held at 4:00 Saturday in the High School Auditorium.

School trophies will be offered for first place in all events. In individual events and debate, medals will be given for first, second and third places. Trophies will be awarded for Sweepstakes and Runner-up.

The Sonora Lions club will provide a free barbecue for all the students participating in the meet Friday evening and the student council will sponsor a dance for the competitors as well as the students of Sonora High School.

The faculties of Sonora schools all participate in judging as well as many townspeople.

"We especially appreciate the great number of townspeople who house students, give them their time to judge these contestants, and the Lions Club for their barbecue. This is certainly a unique tournament in Texas and one of the three oldest," Speech director James Buchanan said.

One Woman Killed In Auto Accident

A two car collision 2.6 miles east of Sonora on IH-10 resulted in the death of one Blue Springs, Missouri woman and the injuries incurred by her husband Tuesday, February 2.

Mildred Parker died enroute to Shannon Memorial Hospital after she sustained massive head injuries.

Arthur Ward Parker is in Shannon in critical condition.

Harold Douglas Henson, of San Angelo, was treated for lacerations of the head and released.

Mildred Parker was driving a Suburban and pulling a house trailer when she lost control of the vehicle and began to jack knife. Henson, driving a cattle truck behind the Parkers attempted to miss the Par-kers by going to the inside lane, but struck the vehicle in the left side, then continued into the median where he rolled over on his right side and stopped part way into the median and the east bound lane.

County Commissioners Adopt Subdivision Ordinance

The County Commissioners adopted a subdivision ordinance which will establish regulations over the subdivision of land located in unincorporated areas of Sutton County during their regular monthly meeting Monday.

The ordinance will become effective March 1, 1982, and will provide regulations to accommodate more easily the amount and kind of traffic over all streets and roads within subdivisions in unincorporated areas of the county, to provide adequate drainage systems within said subdivisions for purposes of placement on the tax roll, to prevent the Sutton County Road and Bridge Department from being burdened with standard streets and roads in the future and to provide for adequate and sanitary sewage disposal and water wells within the subdivisions.

Anyone who thinks he will be affected by the ordinance can pick up a copy in its entirety at the County Auditor's office.

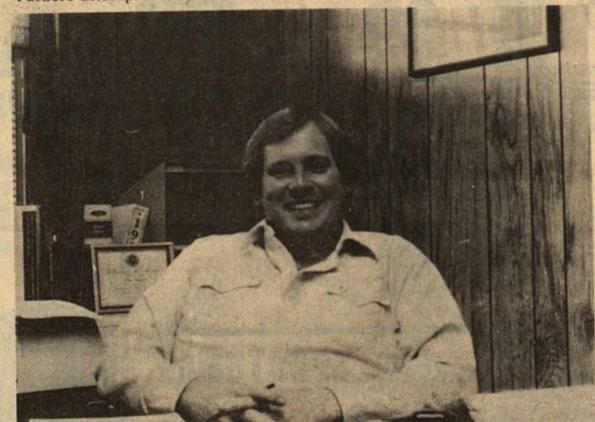

The commissioners also adopted a motion to purchase an auxiliary power plant for the county jail from J-Dan Electric Company for the price of $16,124.

Rachel Oehler was confirmed by the commissioners to replace Sarah Wade as the county extension agent.

An operational fund for investigations for the Grand Jury was passed and $2,000 was allocated for the fund.

Reverend Jim Miles was appointed to serve on the Task Force for indigent care and $1,000 was allocated for the Task Force.

The commissioners also decided to allow the sheriff's department to take bids for gasoline bulk tanks and gasoline prices.

The Sonora Ford Company has announced that Bill Johnson has joined its sales staff. Bill is the brother of Lola Beth Jones and has been working as a salesman at the immunizations are offered. Please bring all previous immunization records. Given by Texas Department of Health, Public Health Region 4, San Angelo, Texas.

Ford Dealership in Granbury for the past seven years. He previously was the sales manager at Bruce Lowrie Chevrolet in Fort Worth.

Fling Ding Successful Despite Cold Temperatures

"These people from Sonora sure must be tough," commented on first time Fling Ding visitor as the below-freezing temperatures kept very few from enjoying the annual dance Saturday night.

Hearty party-goers huddled around kerosene heaters and donned thick socks and thermal underwear as more than a 1,000 people enjoyed the music of the Ted Weems Orchestra and Olive Hays and Miles McMillan rinky-tink piano.

Maxine Browne, who has been in charge of the Fling Ding decorations for more than twenty years, had turned the woolhouse into a mirage of birds, bees, and butterflies for the event.

Most people stayed in the much-warmer 28,000 square foot woolhouse where dancing was provided by the Ted Weems Orchestra, venturing into the 3,000 square foot bar only for a quick refill of "anti-freeze."

Several local store owners commented that thick socks and thermal underwear were in much demand Saturday as the women planned to hide them underneath elegant formais that night.

Everyone was relieved that there was not a repeat of last year's bomb threat as the thought of standing outside of the building brought shivers just to think about it.

The Fling Ding has been described as "uniquely Sonora, Texas entertainment" and is provided each year by the Fling Ding Club.

The Fling Ding Club was organized in the late 1930's with a membership of nine who just wanted to have a big party. The club disbanded during World War II and was re-instituted in 1954 with 54 members. The present membership of the club is limited to 135.

Since 1954 many big-name bands have furnished the music for the members and their guests including: Blue Barron, Tex Beneke, Charlie Spivak, Jimmy Dorsey, Skinney Ennis, Russ Morgan, Jan Garber, Shep Fields, Ralph Marterie, Henry King, Johnny Long, Glenn Miller, Warren Covington, Les Elgart, Clyde McCoy, Claude Gordan, Paul Neighbors Orchestra, Gary Lee Archer Orchestra, and the Mal Fitch Orchestra.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower

U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Abraham Lincoln was not only one of our nation's greatest President's, but also one of our most eloquent. As the anniversary of his birth approaches, much will be said to honor this great leader and statesman.

Yet, his own words are a far better tribute than any we can devise. It is a tribute to the greatness of Abraham Lincoln that his observations about people and their government hold true now as they did when they were made five score years ago. I would like to share just a few of his statements which are well worth remembering now:

"The dogmas of the quiet past are inadequate to the stormy present. The occasion is piled high with difficulty, and we must rise with the occasion. As our case is new, so we must think anew, and act anew."

"The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done, but cannot do at all, or cannot so well do, for themselves, in their separate and individual capacities. In all that the people can individually do as well for themselves, government ought not to interfere."

"The maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially the right of each state to order and control its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of powers on which the perfection, and endurance of our political fabric depends."

"This government must be preserved in spite of the acts of any man or set of men. It is worthy of your every effort. Nowhere in the world is presented a government of so much liberty and equality. To the humblest and poorest amongst us are held out the highest privileges and position."

And finally, the Gettysburg address lives on as one of the most moving tributes to the principles which bind us together.

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in Liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate -- we can not consecrate -- we can not hallow -- this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for use to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us -- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion -- that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain -- that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom -- and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

Sawyer, Aldwell

Among Former Scouts

Fifty years ago a group of twenty-five Scouts and leaders took a 5,000 mile trip from the Concho Valley Council to see the Xth World Olympics being held in Los Angeles, California in August of 1932.

A 16 mm film of the trip made by Edwin Sawyer was shown at the Annual Council Banquet in January. Several of the former Scouts who took the trip were present.

Those men, who still live around here include Ed B. Keyes, C.O. Harris and Sam Scheuber, all of San Angelo; Doyle C. Maddux of Uvalde; Edwin Sawyer and LeRoy Aldwell of Sonora. Marshall Borders of Austin; Luther Coulter of San Antonio; Roy Vance, Odessa and Fred Nibling of Fort Worth.

As one of the men stated "this was during the depression and it was quite a trip for us boys!"

Brice W. Draper, former local Scout Executive, organized the trip and went with the group. They traveled in five cars including a 1929 Model "A", a Studebaker, a Packard and a Plymouth. They traveled over mostly gravel and dirt roads as there were few paved highways in those days. They camped out all the way, living on seventy-five cents a day.

Safety Activities Week Slated By Dowell

More than 8500 Dowell employees nationwide will devote an entire work day to the discussion of safety and participation in safety related activities. The special effort is part of Dowell's fourth annual National Safety Week, to be held during the week of February 15.

Dowell is a division of Dow Chemical U.S.A., and provides services such as cementing, well stimulation and drilling fluids to the oil and gas industries. In addition Dowell provides industrial cleaning and mining services.

"Safety week is designed to heighten everyone's awareness of potential hazards," commented Mike Seller, Dowell's manager for Safety & Loss Prevention. "We already have the best safety record in the industry, but you can never be too safe. Safety demands constant attention, and Safety Week makes that point very vividly."

Each individual district will be responsible for its own Safety Week program. Staggered schedules for the meeting will be arranged so business can continue at the same time.

Safety Week in only part of an intensive yearlong safety program at Dowell. According to Seller, "Every Doweller goes through extensive driver training at our Kerrville, Oklahoma training center before ever getting behind the wheel of any Dowell vehicle. Every Doweller wears NOMEX fire retardant clothing; hard hats; safety shoes and glasses on every job. And before any job is started, Dowellers have a safety meeting to discuss the best and safest methods for completing that job."

"And if a job can't be done safely, then we don't do it," Seller concluded. "That's a company policy."

In closing Al Look, president of Dowell, added, "Our outstanding safety record is one of our most valued achievements. It's good for everyone—the employee, Dowell, the customer, and our families at home. Working safely is a large part of Dowell's success and reputation, but we can't afford to rest on our laurels. Safety Week is the starting point each year to renew our efforts for an even safer year to come."

Dowell has over 130 locations throughout the United States. Safety Week at the Sonora district is scheduled for February 16-19. For more information on Dowell's Safety Week activities in your area contact H.S. Young at 915-387-3526.

RRC Report

Texas Refining Up Over '81

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent announced that 66 refineries in Texas processed 137,936,722 barrels of crude oil and hydrocarbon blends during August 1981.

This volume compares with 124,225,962 barrels in the previous August, the Commission's Oil and Gas Division reported in its monthly recapitulation of Texas refinery operations.

Inputs of crude oil and blends totaled 130,093,707 barrels in July 1981.

Texas refineries ran 108,505,825 barrels of crude oil in August compared to 101,397,807 barrels in July 1981.

Products manufactured in August 1981 totaled 139,989,470 barrels, up from 123,377,633 barrels in the same month the previous year, and up from the 127,595,917 barrels in July 1981.

August 1981 manufacture of motor gasoline totaled 58,168,621 barrels, compared to 49,094,357 barrels in the year-earlier month and 46,582,045 barrels in July of 1981.

Texas refineries manufactured 9,571,759 barrels of home heating oil in August 1981—an increase of 1,212,512 barrels from the year-earlier volume. July 1981 output was 8,477,592 barrels.

Germans To Furnish Pipe For Russian Pipeline

The Russians will be getting their pipe for the Siberia to Western Europe Gas Pipeline from two German companies. They'll deliver 1.2 million metric tons over the next two years. And, Mexico, apparently, is ending a six-month hiatus from buying oil field supplies from American import permits for deliveries to Pemex. That's good news for the American suppliers since the U.S. boom is cooling off somewhat.

Also, in the news, 24 members of Congress and five state attorneys have filed a lawsuit challenging the pre-billing of customers in the construction of the Alaska Gas Pipeline. The law allows the pre-billing so that companies can meet payments on loans if construction is delayed. The suit says the project may never be completed and that consumers shouldn't have to take risks that for four years bankers have refused to take.

Profits by major oil companies in 1981 compared to 1980 were generally down. Exxon was down 1.5 percent, Mobil off 13 percent, Standard of California down 1 percent, Gulf down 12 percent Getty off 1.7 percent and Marathon down 9.5 percent. Those with increases include Standard of Indiana up 1 percent, ARCO up less than 1 percent, Shell up 10 percent and Union up 22 percent.

And, a decision is expected in June on the lawsuit against the so-called Windfall Profits Tax on oil. The U.S. District Judge is expected to rule on a motion for summary judgement at that time.

In the Permian Basin our

Railroad Commission Denies Phillips Plea

The Railroad Commission today denied motions by both sides involved in the application of Phillips Petroleum to amend field rules in 11 Panhandle oil and gas fields.

The motions were filed at a pre-hearing conference held Nov. 10. The Panhandle Independent Producers Group asked that Phillips' rule change application be dismissed. Phillips asked for an interim order that would put most of its proposed rules changes into effect pending a hearing on the application.

The Phillips application asks that natural gas liquids recovered from casinghead gas or oil well gas not be reported as crude oil production. The Panhandle Independent Producers Group says adoption of that interpretation of the field rules will result in the reclassification of many wells from oil to gas wells, forcing many independent producers to shut in their wells because of existing rules.

The fields involved in the proposed rule change are the Panhandle oil fields in Carson, Collingsworth, Gray, Hutchinson, Moore, Wheeler, and Potter counties and the Panhandle East, Panhandle East (Abany Dolomite, Lower), and Panhandle West gas fields.

bers are urged to help decorate.

This is the yearly fund raiser for the Sutton County Chapter and the chairman, Ben Epps urges all members to do their best in making this 5th Barbeque as successful as the previous dinners in the past.

The guest speaker will be announced.

Public To View Opinions On Grade Revision

Livestock and meat industry interests and members of the public will have a chance to make their views known on the proposal to revise the official U.S. standards for grades of carcass beef and for slaughter cattle at a U.S. Department of Agriculture hearing here Thursday, Feb. 25.

The hearing, the last of five sessions being held across the country, will begin at 9 a.m. in the Dunfee Dallas Hotel, 3800 W. Northwest Highway. Mildred Thymian, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service will preside.

John Ford, deputy assistant secretary of agriculture for marketing and inspection services, said the hearing sessions are being held so that the public will have ample opportunity to comment on the proposal before a final decision is made.

Ford said the proposed changes should allow leaner beef to qualify for Prime and Choice grades but not significantly lower the palatability of either grade. Beef in the Good Grade would be leaner with lowered palatability.

The proposal is the result of latest research findings and of petitions for change that USDA has received in recent months, Ford said.

He said USDA officials have reviewed all available research data and information to evaluate the effectiveness of the present beef standards and to explore possible alternatives. The review, he said, indicated that some modifications of the beef grade standards may be needed.

USDA's proposal provides:

--That the minimum marbling requirements for the Prime, Choice, and Good grades in A maturity (cattle up to approximately 30 months of age) would be reduced to "minimum moderate," "typical slight," and "minimum traces," respectively;

--That all young beef not meeting minimum requirements for the Good grade would be graded Utility;

--That the Standard grade would be eliminated;

--That the rate of increase in marbling requirements in B maturity (cattle approximately 30 to 42 months of age) would be doubled, that the marbling to maturity relationship be increased from 1:1 to 2:1;

--That quality grade requirements for bullock beef also would be changed so they would still be the same as those for steer, heifer, and cow beef in A maturity; bullock beef would still be identified for class.

--That the related standards for grades of slaughter cattle would be changed to reflect changes made for grades of carcass beef; and --That no changes would be made in yield grade standards.

Marbling is the amount of fat dispersed through a piece of meat and is one of the factors considered to contribute to the tenderness, juiciness, and flavor of beef.

Persons may submit written comments and supporting data, Ford said.

Written comments should be submitted by

March 31 to the Livestock, Meat, Grain, and Seed Division, AMS 2M-Annex, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

The proposal was published in the Dec. 30 Federal Register. Other hearing sessions are scheduled for Salt Lake City, Des Moines, Atlanta and Washington, D.C.

PROTECT YOUR FUTURE WITH AN INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT AT

You'll Have Benefits Today, Retirement Income For Tomorrow And The Strength and Security Of First National Bank Of Sonora Throughout.

Beginning January 1, 1982, for tax year 1982 and thereafter, a new federal law will make the benefits of an Individual Retirement Account available to everyone, even those already covered by a pension plan. Previously, this plan was available only to those not covered by a pension plan. And the benefits are great both for today and for the retirement years to come.

Q. Why is this new program so important?

A. There is a new emphasis on self reliance, especially in terms of providing for one's own retirement. The new Individual Retirement Account allows you to do just that, regardless of what other pension or retirement plans you have.

Q. How does it work?

A. Simply stated, you can put up to $2,000 a year into an Individual Retirement Account and deduct that amount from your taxable income. The interest you earn on your funds accumulates tax-free as well. After retirement, you may begin withdrawing from your Individual Retirement Account. You must pay taxes on it as you withdraw, but your tax bracket should be much less after retirement.

Q. Do I have to put in $2,000 every year?

A. No. You can contribute whatever you like each year, but it can't exceed $2,000 for an individual or $2,250 for a couple using the same Individual Retirement Account.

Q. What about married couples?

A. A married couple, when both parties work, may set up two separate accounts. This means you'll be able to tax shelter $4,000 a year. If your spouse does not work, you may still increase your annual contribution to $2,250 to cover both of you.

Q. At $2,000 a year, can I really accumulate a significant amount?

A. Judge for yourself:

Let's assume an interest rate of 12%. In 20 years, with contributions of $2,000 a year, your Individual Retirement Account would grow to $177,277.

Of course, the interest rate will vary over that period of time, but this will give you some idea of the opportunity an Individual Retirement Account offers.

Retirement Benefits for Tomorrow

At End of Year	Total Amount Deposited	Balance in Account (12% interest)
5	$10,000	$ 14,541
10	$20,000	$ 41,035
15	$30,000	$ 89,311
20	$40,000	$ 177,277
25	$50,000	$ 337,559
30	$60,000	$ 629,614
35	$70,000	$1,161,772
40	$80,000	$2,131,427

This chart is based on $2,000 deposited at the first of each year at a rate of 12% compounded continuously.

Q. When can I begin withdrawing from my Individual Retirement Account?

A. At age 59½, regardless of whether or not you are retired. Any withdrawal previous to that time will carry a tax penalty amounting to 10% of the amount withdrawn, plus regular income tax on that amount. There is an exception, however, in case of disability.

Q. Do I have to begin withdrawing from the account when I retire?

A. Not immediately. However, retirement withdrawals must begin no later than the year in which you reach 70½. At that time you can make a lump sum withdrawal, or begin a program of installment payments.

Come in The First National Bank of Sonora and see Sue Rosford or Jo Ann Jones today and set up your Individual Retirement Account Start accumulating your retirement fund as soon as possible Member FDIC

State of the Union

In his State of the Union message to the nation President Reagan outlined a comprehensive program to address the nation's domestic concerns. His message was characteristically straightforward. There are no quick fixes to the problems that have been festering during decades of runaway government spending.

What has been proposed is a major reshaping of the fiscal relationship between the federal government and the states. The program, involving some $47 billion in federal grants-in-aid, is intended to sort out the responsibilities properly assigned to each governmental level. Those responsibilities will, in turn, be directed back to the states along with the revenue sources needed to fund them. The end result will be greater efficiency and economy for the states and federal government.

In many ways, the proposals outlined in the State of the Union message represent the fifth installment of the President's mandate.

Last year, with the help of a bipartisan Congress, we brought about a reduction in the growth of government spending, personal and business taxes were reduced and regulations which cost billions of dollars annually were cut. Out national defense was strengthened. By his own words, the next thing he wanted to do was return power to the states. This fundamental realignment of the federal system is a dramatic and bold initiative and one that certainly will dominate debate in Congress.

The plan has two major components: A "swap" of Medicaid to full funding by the federal government. In return, the states would assume responsibility for the food stamp and welfare programs like Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC). Secondly, the plan calls for "turnback" programs in education, community development, transportation and social services along with funds from a $28 billion federal trust to be financed by existing federal excise taxes. The program, as proposed, is to be phased in over eight years starting in fiscal year 1984.

Congress will likely begin reviewing new federalism legislation by spring. The reaction to the proposed program changes by Members of Congress turns on politics and ideology. I, and many of my like-minded colleagues, firmly believe that the programs that will become the objects of debate can be more effectively administered by the level of government nearest the people served.

Be assured that this is no abdication of federal responsibility. It is, rather, a clearly stated opportunity for the states and local governments to sort out their mutual responsibilities.

It is my belief that "new federalism" may not even be the best term for what is about to happen. It is in its purest sense a return of government to the people. At the local level, we will have the opportunity to prevent the growth of a super bureaucracy that wastes energy and siphons off dollars that could be better spent on people and programs. Time and again, Washington has demonstrated that it is too far away from the states to see local problems with a clear eye.

I support the thrust of the President's message and applaud his boldness. As he said, we must summon the strength to continue the course we have charted. I believe we will and I shall do my very best to see that this next phase of the "new beginning" becomes a reality.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen said Wednesday that European farmers could not compete with U.S. farmers for export sales without unfair subsidies by European governments.

Bentsen, co-chairman of the Senate Export Caucus and ranking minority member of the Senate Subcommittee on Foreign Trade, commented during a Senate speech on agriculture trade. It was one in a series of Bentsen speeches leading up to Trade Subcommittee hearings February 11.

"Few European agricultural products would have any export market at all without subsidies. While the subsidies are changed frequently so meet market conditions and are different for different products, we can observe that European common market price guarantees are almost always higher than the comparable world price average," Bentsen said.

The Senator pointed out that the soft wheat common market price guarantee for 1980-81, for example, was $4.59 per bushel compared with the recent market price of $3.69. The common market price guarantee on beef and veal was $1.01 compared to world prices of about 55 cents.

Pork price guarantees are almost 2 1/2 times world prices; corn prices 1.4 times world prices.

Bentsen said that all these common market price guarantees are scheduled to increase in the 1981-82 season by amounts ranging from 6 percent to 11 percent.

"As a result of the heavily subsidized European exports, there has been a dramatic shift in world export commodity market shares. These changes have been detrimental to other agricultural exporting countries, particularly the United States," Bentsen said.

"Let me cite an example. In the period 1959-62--before the policy of subsidies was instituted--the European share of the world commercial wheat flour market averaged 28 percent. The U.S. market share was also 28 percent. In the period 1977-80, following almost 20 years of subsidies, the common market share had risen to 71 percent while the U.S. share had dropped 11 percent."

Senator Bentsen also said that European countries increased their market share of poultry meat exports from .4 percent in 1974 to 28.1 percent in 1979 while, during that same period, the U.S. share was declining from 37.5 percent to 25.1 percent.

"Especially during the past two to three years the Common Agricultural Policy of the European common market has produced a dramatic change in the way agricultural trade is conducted," Bentsen said.

"This policy, complete with unfair subsidies, has effectively limited the growth of U.S. exports and has reduced world agricultural trade to the detriment of all trading nations," Senator Bentsen said.

Mengden Files For U.S. Senator

State Senator Walter Mengden, a conservative Republican, has officially filed for the office of U.S. Senator.

In a news conference held at the State Capitol, Mengden reaffirmed his belief that incumbent Lloyd Bentsen is too liberal to represent Texans, citing his low 39 percent career conservative voting record given to him by both the American Conservative Union (ACU) and Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA).

"Bentsen will be defeated in the November election if the voters are made aware of his liberal voting record," Mengden said.

Mengden indicated that he will run an aggressive campaign to clearly illustrate the differences between himself and his Republican primary opponent, Congressman Jim Collins.

"Collins and I part company on several important issues. I supported the AWACs sale to Saudia Arabia, while he voted against it. I oppose increased foreign aid appropriations in a time of budget cuts at home, but Collins voted for the recent $7.495 billion Foreign Aid Bill," he said.

"However, the greatest difference between Collins and me concerns effectiveness. During the past decade, I have demonstrated my ability to initiate intelligent, conservative change in Texas government. I have passed 91 pieces of legislation in my 10 years in the Democrat controlled Senate. By contrast, Collins has never passed even one piece of legislation. All that he has to offer to the voters are poor excuses," Mengden said.

Mengden cited an interview that appeared in a January 15, 1982 article in the Fort Worth News-Tribune, in which Collins is quoted as saying, "As you know, as a Republican, I can't introduce a bill. The way the system works the Democrats introduce all the bills."

But Mengden said Collins did not know what he was talking about. "Someone needs to explain to Collins that Republicans can introduce bills in the U.S. House of Representatives. I hope that Collins has not forgotten that he himself has introduced many bills in his career in the House. Perhaps his statement is an attempt to hide the fact that not one of those bills has ever passed," he said.

"Not only can Republicans introduce bills," Mengden said, "but Republicans can pass them. Just in the last session of Congress, I counted 57 bills that Republicans in the House introduced that were enacted into law."

As examples, Mengden pointed to legislation passed by Republicans in the House during the last session, including H827 by Bob Wilson of California relating to Postal Employee disputes; H3978 by Matthew Rinaldo of New Jersey relating to FTC exemptions for savings and loans; H5174 by James Quillen of Tennessee relating to amendments to the Criminal Law Code; H5386 by James Jeffords of Vermont relating to quarantees for equal cost burden among states for education; H5748 by David Emery of Maine relating to National Guard property; H6440 by Tennyson Guyer and Willis Gradison, both of Ohio, relating to payments and relations with the Peoples Republic of China; and H7554 by James Broyhill of North Carolina relating to incentives for small businesses.

"During his 14 years in Congress, Collins has generally voted correctly, but done nothing else. It takes more than conservative views to make a good U.S. senator. It takes initiative, leadership, and the ability to get things done. I am an active, positive conservative and Collins is not. This will be the most important issue in this primary campaign. I am confident that the voters will understand this difference, and I look forward to the opportunity to take on Bentsen in the Fall," Mengden said.

San Angelo Research Facilities Enlarged

The facilities for research and for Extension educational programs will be enlarged this year in San Angelo at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center.

Dr. Carl S. Menzies, director of research, said DLS Contractors Inc. of Abilene will begin possibly in February adding 6,272 net square feet of the existing 8,900.

Architectural services were supplied by the San Angelo firm of Darrow, McSpedden and Sellars.

The Center began in early 1972 in implement research and teaching programs aimed at helping area livestock producers as well as farmers increase net profits. It adjoins U.S. Hwy. 87 North six miles from downtown San Angelo.

The Center is headquarters in a large area for both the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Regents of the Texas A&M University System approved in January an $801,100 contract with DLS, which is expected to finish construction in the Spring of 1983.

The increased floor space will include an auditorium with fixed seating for 295 persons, a room for home economics demonstrations, a small conference room and three offices with the necessary secretarial rooms.

The new laboratory facilities will allow Experiment Station scientists to expand their current research on rangeland management, including better ways for controlling noxious plants.

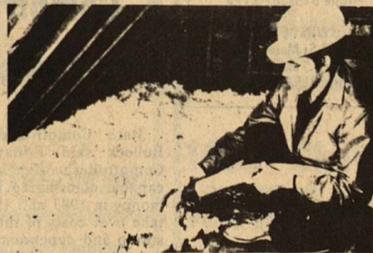

Personal bankruptcies have increased by 82 percent in the past year, primarily due to inflation and the Bankruptcy Act of 1978, says Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist. McCormack is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Comptroller Says New Taxes Not Needed

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday the Comptroller's office is fully capable of bringing in the money in 1983 and 1984 to take over costs of the food stamp and dependent children programs without new state taxes.

Bullock noted that Texas voters would first have to raise the present $80 million welfare spending limitation in the constitutional amendment election of November 1982.

"We in the Comptroller's office will meet President Reagan's challenge of 'New Federalism' just as we have met other challenges, by increasing efficiency, dedication and hard work," Bullock said.

For the past four sessions of the Legislature the Comptroller's office has increased tax collections to pay for new and expanded services authorized by the Legislature without deficit spending.

He noted that in 1981, Texas' population increased 1.9 percent and that inflation was 8.9 percent but that state tax collections by his office increased 23.2 percent over 1980.

"This additional 12.4 percent - or $900 million - over and above population increases and inflation in 1981 just didn't blow in with a blue norther," Bullock said.

Approximately 1.2 million Texans take part in the food stamp program and 296,000 mothers and children receive help from the aid to families with dependent children program.

Taxpayers Should Notify Post Office Of New Address

Taxpayers who move after filing their federal income tax returns and are expecting a refund should notify the post office serving the old address, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The IRS center where the return was filed should also be notified in writing of the address change. This will help the IRS to forward the refund check to the new address as soon as possible. When advising the IRS of the address change, the taxpayer's Social Security number should be included in the correspondence.
