King to Wed

The American influence is strong again in the newest king-and-crown romance. The beautiful Countess Geraldine Apponyi (whose mother was Gladys Virginia Stewart of New York before she married Count Julius Nagyi-Apponyi) and King Zog, first royal ruler of Albania, will follow the royal road to romance blazed by a certain American woman and another King. They will wed at the end of April.

British Studying Plans to Abolish Submarine Piracy

LONDON, Feb. 3 (A.P.). — Great Britain last night awaited quick replies from France and Italy to proposals designed to forestall a new scourge of "piracy" in the Mediterranean following sinking of the British merchantman Endymion. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden laid the plans before French Ambassador Charles Corbin and Italian Ambassador Dino Grandi in a conference in the foreign office. Informed sources indicated the proposal were mainly technical and involved no major change in the already comprehensive Nyon pact. It was understood they were aimed at achieving more efficient and coordinated action by the three sections of patrol ships — British, French and Italian — and possible limitation still further of submarine navigation. Under the Nyon pact of Sept. 9, 1937, to which Italy later adhered, the signatories agreed to keep their submarines in port or advise the other powers of proposed movements and arrangements for surface vessels to accompany the undersea craft. Submarines also were allowed to exercise in restricted areas. The French and Italian ambassadors were expected to receive their governments' replies Friday at the latest and possibly within 24 hours.

Ex-Partner Of McCraw Is Quizzed

Heath Denies He Was Approached By Dallas Dealer

AUSTIN, Feb. 3 (A.P.). — W. W. Heath, assistant attorney general until a few months ago, testified today that Tom C. Clark, Dallas, did not request him to help procure a receivership job for land commissioner William McDonald or anyone else. Clark, now assistant United States attorney general, was attorney general William McCraw's law partner before McCraw took office. His named bobbed up occasionally in the current senate committee investigation of McDonald's activities. Under questioning yesterday afternoon was Francis Felty of Burkburnett, employe in the land office from December 1936, to December, 1937. J. R. Chatham of Burkburnett said he and associates reaped no private gain from Felty's service in the state job and Felty had no interest in state oil leases which they were awarded. Chatham is interested in the banking, oil, newspaper and other businesses. Felty, a brother of Rep. Fred Felty of San Antonio, worked in the bank and now is employed by Chatham and I. E. Harwell of Burkburnett in their oil ventures. Senator Joe Hill, of Henderson brought out that Chatham had not bid on any state leases until McDonald took office and thereafter he and associates obtained what they considered highly productive submerged lands in Jefferson county.

Rose Paidar Finds Road to Success Is Not So Very Tough

Rose Paidar, brilliant young singer, is finding the road to success an easy one. Scarcely out of her teens, she is already recognized as one of the outstanding young singers of the day. Three years ago she made her first semi-professional appearance at Cole College, where she was a student, in an opera which received such excellent criticism that it helped to strengthen her determination to study voice seriously. Her efforts have been well rewarded, for everywhere this beautiful young mezzo-soprano sings she is met with demands for return engagements. In August, 1937, she made an appearance at the Hollywood Bowl in the gorgeous and picturesque production of "The Bartered Bride." Studio scouts have an eye on the young lady and there are high hopes for her success in that field, as well as in music. Miss Paidar and Mae Gilbert Reese, concert pianist, will be heard in joint recital Monday evening, Feb. 7, at the high school auditorium.

Red Bluff Dam Official Is Heard by Rotary Club

Termining the Red Bluff Dam project as a major stepping stone in making West Texas the great country it should be, Judge J. E. Starley of Pecos, attorney for the Red Bluff Water Power Control District, was the guest speaker at the noody luncheon of the Midland Rotary club today. "Water" being the subject of Judge Starley's interesting and educational address. The speaker, an authority on water and water rights, was introduced by Tom Sealy. In a most interesting style, Judge Starley told of early day farming on the Pecos River, the various stages of development of the Red Bluff Dam, the cost and construction of the project, the area served, varied benefits offered and of future plans which will make of Red Bluff Dam one of the major farming and recreational centers of this section. The Pecos River was in itself, a stepping stone in the development of the country, said the speaker, farmers settling along the river about 1890 with numerous small dams having been constructed, but as they increased there was not enough water to go round and the farming communities gradually were abandoned. For a number of years it has been the aim and purpose to provide enough water to secure an ample water supply for irrigation, he said, any irrigation system depending on an ample water supply for success. Judge Starley enumerated the various stages of development of the project, stating that the money for the dam was secured in 1932, the contract being let in 1933, actual construction starting in 1934 and the project being completed in September, 1936. He thanked the Midland chamber of commerce and others for cooperation in securing appropriations for the project. The dam proper cost $2,000,000 he said.

Goering Expected To Be Next Chief Of Army in Germany

BERLIN, Feb. 3 (A.P.). — Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, No. 2 Nazi leader, stood out today as the expected successor to Marshal Werner von Blomberg as minister of war. The cabinet held a session Wednesday evening but no announcement was made immediately. Von Blomberg was said by a reliable informant to have resigned Friday before leaving for a honeymoon with his 28-year-old bride, the former Erika Gruhn. The ultimate fate of the 59-year-old marshal assumed secondary importance in many minds as rumors spread Goering was planning "a cleanup" if and when the armed forces were placed under his command. Rightly or wrongly these rumors caused apprehension in three quarters — among industrialists unfriendly to Goering's four-year plan for economic self-sufficiency, among certain monarchist groups and among certain Nazis prominently identified with projects which Goering thinks should be investigated. Von Blomberg resigned, informed sources said, after representatives of the army officers' corps insisted his marriage was socially "impossible." Chancellor Adolf Hitler, who was one of the witnesses at the secret wedding Jan. 12, was said to have been convinced that the officers' view was justified. Frau von Blomberg is a carpenter's daughter. Private comment of highly placed officials said Von Blomberg was not expected to return to Germany.

Shell 1-B Baumgart Flows 240 Barrels First Nine Hours

By FRANK GARDNER. Shell Petroleum Corporation No. 1-B George Baumgart, west offset to the easternmost producer in the Denver pool of southern Yoakum, flowed 240 barrels of oil the first nine hours of potential test. Basic sediment cut is only two-tenths of one percent, and gas tests 2,940,000 feet a day. Testing, through 2 1/2-inch tubing, is still in progress. No. 1-B Baumgart, located 1,320 feet from the south, 440 feet from the east line of section 829, block D, John H. Gibson survey, is bottomed in lime at 5,010 feet and has been treated with a total of 5,000 gallons of acid. An extension test a mile and a half to the east and one-half mile to the south, Shell No. 1-C Baumgart, is ratholing at 4,702 feet, in lime. It is in section 866, block D, Gibson survey. High solid lime encountered at 4,470 has made it likely that the well will prove an important extension of production. Gulf No. 1 S. J. Dixon, test between the Bohago area and the Bennett pool in southern Yoakum, is drilling at 4,895 feet, in anhydrite. Gulf No. 1 F. C. Futch, west outpost to the Denver pool, is drilling below 339, in red rock. Ector Test Plugging. Jack D. Boddins No. 1 Will P. Edwards, wildcat in extreme south-eastern Ector, is being plugged for abandonment. It reached a total depth of 4,901 feet and failed to log shows of oil, gas or water in the Permian lime. Another abandonment listed today is Moore Brothers Corporation No. 1 Paul Perner, deep test in Crockett county, which is being plugged at 9,105 feet. It is bottomed in brown lime. It is understood that the test failed to penetrate to the Ordovician, its objective. Magnolia No. 1-A McKee, Pecos deep strike, loaded hole with oil and pulled 7-inch liner. Cable tool unit is now being installed to deepen from 5,294 feet. Swabbing test through tubing showed no new oil or gas, but it was believed that canvas packer set opposite an horizon which showed oil and gas when drilled might have shut off production. Humble No. 1 Lewis & Wardlaw, Tom Green Ordovician try, is drilling at 5,115 feet in shale, possibly of Pennsylvanian age. Plug is being drilled from 5 1/2-inch pipe cemented at 7,028 feet, 100 feet off bottom, in Stanley A. Thompson No. 1 Elinore Cattle Company, Pecos deep test 19 miles south of Fort Stockton. Test will be made of Pennsylvanian section below 7,037 which showed oil saturation and sufficient gas to cut drilling mud. Seminole Extension Swabbing. Amerada No. 1 T. S. Riley, quarter-mile north extension to central Gaines' Seminole pool, is swabbing two barrels of fluid hourly through tubing, 76 percent oil, 20 percent drilling water and four percent sand sediment. It was perforated in the 5 1/2-inch casing with 80 shots from 5,277-43, and 2 1/2-inch tubing is set at 5,045, with packer at 5-019. The practice of perforating through the gas and oil horizon is an innovation in the Seminole pool. As swabbing progresses, oil and gas are reported increasing, and drilling water is expected. 'Little Men' Agree Upon A Program

To Present Advice To the President Sometime Friday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (A.P.). — Delegates of "little business" adopted over many shouted protests a program of advice to the Roosevelt administration that included recommendation that the government supply financial aid by stimulating private credit today. Without formal debate, a standing vote was taken by chairman Fred Roth, Cleveland, despite insistence by some that minority reports be heard and insistence by others that any contradictions between recommendations should be composed. Because of pressing business, a White House aide said, the scheduled conference with President Roosevelt this afternoon had been postponed until tomorrow. Varied ideas of what would help little business men were advanced by the delegates but the only one on which they agreed was that more money would have to be advanced by the government. The business conference finally was adjourned as the uproar continued. During the pandemonium, two delegates were forcibly tossed out of the auditorium in a vain effort to restore order. Despite shouted protests, however, the conference adopted reports of nine committees.

This was the first time the contending forces in Spain agreed to an exchange of prisoners. Forty-one Rebel officers were taken to Cerberre by the Republican government and there saw their lives bartered for those of Loyalists captured by Franco's forces.

British Guns Trained on Sino-Jap Crisis

As the soldiers of the rising sun widened their conquests in China and threatened to isolate Hong Kong, England tuned up her Empire guns. A bona fide tenant of China by right of renting Hong Kong, Great Britain moved to protect its property. The anti-aircraft weapons at the mouth of Hong Kong harbor, hills of China in background, are pictured as England's artillerymen got them ready for action.

President's Birthday to Be Observed at Dance Tonight

With Eddie Morris and His Band of Tomorrow furnishing the music, do not dance having swelled the citizens of Midland and surrounding cities will join in celebrating the President's birthday at a gala dance in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer this evening, proceeds from the annual event going to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock, no time limit having been set. The affair was postponed from last Saturday night due to the fact that an outstanding orchestra could not be secured for that date. The Morris band is one of the most popular ever to play here, and dance fans of the section have evidenced their appreciation of the orchestra by a heavy advance sale of tickets. One of the largest crowds ever to attend a dance here is predicted by W. M. (Bill) Holmes, chairman of the affair. The town has been canvassed by ticket sellers this week and a marvellous response has been reported.

Green Indicted for Treason by U. M. W.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (A.P.). — The United Mine Workers convention, acting as a grand jury, indicted William Green Wednesday on charges of treason. The convention then directed the union's executive board to give the American Federation of Labor president a hearing, and to expel him from the U.M.W. if he were found guilty. Union officials had talked of asking the convention to expel Green without further to-do, but they decided in favor of today's action after Green challenged the right of the convention to act as an original trial court. Green, a member of the U.M.W. for 48 years and for many years international secretary-treasurer, contested his own local union in Coshocton, O., should try him if he were to be tried. (Green was charged with treason after he signed an A. F. of L. charter for the Progressive Miners of America, rival of the U.M.W. in Illinois.)

Worst Air Disaster In Navy's History; Rain Squall Blamed

SAN PEDRO, Feb. 3 (A.P.). — The death toll from a mid-air collision between two giant bombers—the worst plane disaster in American naval history—rose to 11 today as a search was made for the missing bodies of ten airmen. Rescued from the water after the bomber 11-P-4 fell last night, J. H. Hester, radioman, San Diego, died aboard a hospital ship. Three of his companions were seriously injured but are expected to recover. Three more of the bomber's crew and seven men in its sister bomber, 11-P-3, were hunted but naval sources admitted there was no hope they survived. The bombers, scouting for a theoretical enemy, collided during a rain squall within view of maneuvering surface ships. One of the bombers fell in flames after the crash. The missing: Lieutenant Elmer Cooper, Erwin Koch, Maurine Fitzmaurice, George Griffin, Joe Walton, Paul Landgrebe, Julian Rawls, Lieutenant Carlton Hutchins, Marion Woodroff, John Niedzwiecki.

Enforcement of the Neutrality Act Is Urged by Senators

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4 (A.P.). — The Japanese foreign minister's assertion a "state of war" exists between Japan and China brought renewed demands Wednesday from some congressmen for invocation of the neutrality act. Administration leaders indicated, however, that in the absence of a formal declaration of war there was little likelihood President Roosevelt would apply this act forbidding arms shipments to belligerents. It was pointed out Koki Hirota, the Japanese minister, had made his remark informally while answering a question in the Japanese diet. "It seems to me," said Senator Nye (R-ND), "that there is no post left to hide behind for not invoking the (neutrality) law." Others who previously had demanded application of the act expressed a similar view. Most members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said they believed Hirota's statement would not affect this government's policy in the Sino-Japanese hostilities.

Gas Leak Blamed By Mines Bureau In London Blast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (A.P.). — The bureau of mines today blamed a gas leak rather than seepage from surrounding lines or wells for the disastrous New London school explosion last March that claimed nearly 300 lives. The report said it was quite possible the leakage had developed from a broken service connection.

CRANIUM CRACKERS

Fred Rauch decided to disappear and make people think that he was dead. He built up a clever plan, which fooled his wife—but not the police. At 10 o'clock at night Mrs. Rauch was summoned to the morgue, where she identified the body of a motor accident victim as that of her husband. The features were unrecognizable, but Mrs. Rauch said that the clothes were those which her husband had been wearing that day. Papers found in the pockets also indicated the dead man was Rauch.

The last persons who had seen Rauch was Sam Jenkins, a barber, who had given him a haircut at about 5 p. m., and who had seen Rauch enter his car and drive away immediately thereafter. The police informed Mrs. Rauch that the dead man was not her husband. Here what Rauch had done: On the outskirts of the city he picked up a hitch-hiker who resembled him in general build. After riding a short way, he called his companion's attention to something on the right side of the road and knocked him out with a wrench. He then stopped the car, changed clothes with his victim, disfigured the man's face, drove the car to the top of a steep hill and jumped out as he turned it off the road. Rauch went on his way, believing no one would ever know that the body in the car was not his. HOW DID THE POLICE KNOW THE BODY WAS NOT THAT OF RAUCH? Solution on Page 6 will do with the country club when they get the proposition to looking gilt-edged.

Some talk has been stirring recently about a bond issue for paving a few miles of streets in Midland. The city tried for a whole year to get property owners to sign up on a job whereby bonds wouldn't have to be voted, and were successful in getting a light pavement on two streets, with the parkways filled in on some streets already paved. That helped some but it didn't go far enough. I believe we will have to vote bonds of about $50,000 to $100,000 if we are to get $200,000 or $300,000 worth of pavement laid this year. When a contractor is brought on the job with the right kind of equipment, he can lay a lot of it much cheaper than he can fix up a few short lengths. Let's get some pavement in 1938, one way or another. These swell homes which have been scattered over the city will look a hundred per cent more swell when the streets are paved in front.

"Of Mice and Men" Is Vulgar, Gripping Tale of Futility

Editor's Note: The following review of the book, "Of Mice and Men" by John Steinbeck was written by Mrs. W. Bryant who read the novel before the meeting of the Play Readers club Wednesday.

"Of Mice and Men" is a thriller, a gripping tale running to novelette length. George and Lennie belong to the floating army of drifting ranch hands. "Guys like us," George says, "are the loneliest guys in the world. They got no family. They don't belong no place. They come to a ranch and work up a stake and then go into a town and blow the stake, and the first thing you know they're poundin' their tale on some other ranch. They ain't got nothin' to look ahead to."

The relationship between these two buddies of roads and ranches is a strange one and causes comment at the ranch. George is small, dark, wiry, restless, keen-witted. Lennie is a huge, hulking man with an expressionless face, pale blue eyes and wide, sloping shoulders, walking heavily. He is stupid, but well-meaning. George and Lennie come from the same Southern town, and George has taken it upon himself to take care of the big fellow. Sometimes he wishes he were free of him. He'd get ahead much faster. Lennie is always getting them into trouble-like the time he wanted to stroke the pretty red skirt of the girl on the last ranch and in his dumb strength tore it off her. They had to run away to keep Lennie out of jail. The baby boy in the big man's body has baby urges-to stroke, pet and fondle animals, all soft or pretty things, and he kills or destroys them unaware of his strength. But when George is around he is all right, for he obeys George implicitly. George is a keen thinking man. There is nothing in this knocking about. If only he and Lennie could get together six hundred dollars, he knows of a little place with a few acres they could buy and settle down to work for themselves. If only Lennie can be kept out of trouble. And so he keeps drumming it into Lennie's head that he must be good and not do bad things. Then they can get a stake together and live on the fat of the land in a place of their own.

would suggest, that the best laid plans of mice and men go awry. They do in this story as in others. But it is a play on the immemorial theme of what men live by besides bread alone. In sure, raucous, vulgar Americanism, Steinbeck has touched the quick in his little story.

L. S. Parker, recent graduate of the University of Texas, has joined the geological staff of Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company here.

There are trouble-makers in the bunk house. Curley, the boss's son, a little fellow handy with his fists likes to take on big clump fellows, picks fights with them. Curley's wife, a lush beauty, is always coming around where the men are, on pretense of looking for Curley, giving all the men the eye and because, being a town girl, she is bored on the ranch, bent on stirring up excitement. The other boys know how to keep out of trouble. But Lennie only knows what George tells him when George is right there on the spot. The girl spots Lennie as the only soft guy in the bunch. The climax comes not as a shock but as a dreaded inevitability. The theme is not, as the title

Thirty children responded to roll call at the regular meeting of the Robyn club at the Watson studio Wednesday afternoon by telling how many pieces of music they had memorized during the present teaching session.

At the birthday greeting hour, Miss Lydia Watson was greeted by the singing of "Happy Birthday to You" and the usual club greetings were extended to Eileen Eiland and Clarrissa Mann.

Miss Watson read a story, "A Message in Music."

The following program was presented: Piano—Summer Days (Williams), Dorothy Barron.

Piano—Sonatina, Opus 36 No. 3 (Clementi), Virginia Countiss.

Piano Duet—(Bilbro), Norman Jean Hubbard with accompanist.

Violin solo—A Donkey Party, Lewis Wingo, with Pauline Wingo at piano.

Piano—Rose in My Garden (Williams), Wilma Dee Vaughn.

Piano—Gavotte in D (Gossec), Alberta Smith.

Piano—Banjo Song (Ketterer), Mary Mayfield.

Piano—Gondoliera (Nevin), Pauline Wingo.

Piano—Sonatina (Clementi), Eloise Gabbert.

Eileen Eiland and Betty Jo Tate presided at the attendance card. In the absence of the secretary, Eloise Gabbert was acting secretary.

One new pupil, Jacqueline McCollough, was enrolled.

The club adjourned with the repetition of the club motto.

The club will meet next week with Mrs. R. L. Stewart.

Wednesday Club Has Study Program at Payne Home

"The Challenge to the Middle Class," an article by William Allen White in the Atlantic Monthly, was the subject of study at the meeting of the Woman's Wednesday club with Mrs. E. Erle Payne, 324 South I street, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Russell C. Conkling was program leader and was assisted by Mrs. George Glass, Mrs. Andrew Fasken, and Mrs. W. G. Whitehouse as panel speakers.

Discussion of the course of study for next year was a feature of the afternoon's business session. Plans were also talked over for the Girl Scout Valentine party which will be sponsored by the Wednesday club and two others during this month.

Thirteen members were present including: Mmes. H. C. Barnes, J. M. Caldwell, Fasken, Glass, Jas. H. Goodman, M. R. Hill, R. L. Miller, W. E. Ryan, M. C. Ulmer, W. T. Walsh, Whitehouse, and the hostess.

Steinbeck Play Read for Club By Mrs. Bryant

Eleven members and four guests were present at the meeting of the Play Readers club with Mrs. J. M. Hawkins, 205 North H street, on Wednesday afternoon.

The play for the afternoon was the dramatization of John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men" and was presented by Mrs. W. Bryant. Following the reading of the drama, a round table discussion of the production was held with questions prepared by Mrs. Bryant.

At the close of the program refreshments were served to: Guests, Mrs. Robert Dewey, Mrs. E. P. Lamar, Miss Walter, Miss Jo Hestand, members, Mmes. E. W. Anguish, E. H. Barron, R. M. Barron, Bryant, De Lo Douglas, Wade Heath, J. Howard Hodge, Wallace Irwin, W. L. Miller, W. T. Schneider, and the hostess.

Jean Lewis, Jeanne Davis, Barbara Jean Harper, Lynn Stephens, Jessa Lynn Tuttle, Freda Fae Turner, John Dublin. Miss Agatha Bruner, director of the play, and Wallace Wimberly were special guests.

SON TO CRAYS.
 Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Crays are the parents of a 9½-pound son born this morning in an Odessa hospital. The child has been named William David.

Mrs. Geo. McCann left Tuesday for her home at Kermit after visiting her son, Chas. McCann and wife here.

Slam Club Meets With Mrs. Dobson On Wednesday

Mrs. Joe Dobson was hostess to the weekly party of the Slam club at her home at the Atlantic Tank Farm Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Valentine wrappings for the bridge prizes and Valentine taffies lent a typical February touch to party appointments.

Prizes for the afternoon's play went to Mrs. W. G. Attaway for high score, to Mrs. R. L. Bailey for second high, and to Mrs. D. H. Smith for guest, while traveling prize went to Mrs. Bonner Lacey.

A salad course was served at the conclusion of the games to: Mmes. Bailey, Smith, R. L. Stewart, Lacey, G. J. Battell, Frank Nichols, Attaway, W. L. Nico, D. W. McCormick, a second guest, Mrs. A. B. Hale.

Odessan Honoree At Tea Given by Mrs. Hasetline

Honoring Mrs. Harold Logan of Odessa, Mrs. W. L. Hasetline entertained with a tea at her home, 506 N. Colorado, Wednesday afternoon from 3 o'clock until five.

Red and white were chosen colors in decorations and were followed out in the tea table which was lighted by white candles and bore a bouquet of red and white flowers.

Mrs. Bert Hemphill poured for guests calling during the service hours.

He Stakes $2,500 a Week on His Knowledge of Tobacco...

Robert W. Barnes

—Independent Buyer—
 one of many tobacco experts who smoke Luckies

"I OFTEN invest $2500 a week in tobacco—$2500 of my own hard-earned cash," says Mr. Barnes. "So you can see that the only way I've stayed in business 10 years is to know tobacco. "Now I know Lucky Strike tobacco and it's top-grade. That's why I've smoked Luckies for eight years now. "Lots of other independent buyers, auctioneers, and warehousemen I know smoke Luckies for the same reason." Yes, sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts like Mr. Barnes, Luckies have over twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigarettes combined.

E. P. LAWSON KAYOES BIG SPRING FIGHTER TO EARN TRIP TO STATE AMATEUR TOURNAMENT IN FT. WORTH

BIG SPRING, Feb. 3. (Special).—E. P. Lawson of Midland, showing an almost unbelievable improvement in form, last night knocked out in the second round of their scheduled fight Hugh Brown of Big Spring to cop the championship of the light heavyweight division of the Golden Gloves boxing tournament finals here.

Lawson, who won a close decision over his foe last week in the semi-finals, appeared a different fighter all together last night as he started after Brown with the opening gong and never let up until his foe was out cold in the second. Lawson unleashed a terrific two-fisted attack that had Brown down once in the first and out for keeps about midway of the second round.

Five other champions were crowned along with Lawson last night and they, with the two that were crowned last week, will enter the state championship tournament in Fort Worth later in the month.

Only one other clean knockout was registered during the evening but three technical knockouts added flavor to the finals card of ten matches. The other official knockout came in the heavyweight final when Red Cunningham of Big Spring put Kenneth Jones of Big Spring on the canvas for a full count. The end of the heavyweight fight came about midway of the first round when Cunningham backed out of a clinch and came over with a "roundhouse" right that caught Jones squarely on the button. Jones went down like he had been hit with a club and his effort to arise at the count of eight failed completely. He was still out for some time after the bout was over.

J. C. Wallace, Big Spring middleweight who scored a knockout with one punch in his first fight and who had been thought unbeatable in the local tournament, came through with a victory in his battle with Joe Henderson of Big Spring but not until he had received the surprise shellacking of his life during the first round and a half. About midway of the second round he landed a hard right into the pit of Henderson's stomach and the scrappy youngster was forced to concede defeat when he became "sea sick" and was unable to continue.

Henderson, a southpaw, unleashed a blistering attack from the opening gong that Wallace was unable to fathom and was rapidly rolling up points toward a victory when he had to call it quits. He scored heavily with looping lefts to Wallace's head, disregarding all defense in an attempt to get over a sleep producing blow.

The best crowd yet attended the matches last night, approximately 1500 fans paying admission.

Complete results:
James Skalsky, 121, Big Spring, technical knock out over Johnny Owens, 122, Big Spring, second round. Frank Barnes, 131, Lamesa, outpointed Tuffy Jackson, 130, Big Spring. Don Beck, Monahans, outpointed Alton Bostick, 146, Big Spring. Ersell Robinson, 144, Big Spring, outpointed Owen Brummett, 144, Big Spring. E. P. Lawson, 162, Midland knocked out in second round Hugh Brown 172, Big Spring. J. C. Wallace, 157, Big Spring won by technical knock out over Joe Henderson, 155, Big Spring, 2nd round (title). Red Cunningham, 176, Big Spring knocked out Kenneth Jones, 176, Big Spring, first round (title). James Skalsky, 121, Big Spring outpointed Robert James, 120, Ackery (title). "O, GIVE ME A HORSE I CAN RIDE"

My love is a rider, wild bronchos he breaks,
Though he's promised to quit it, just for my sake,
He ties up one foot, the saddle puts on,
With a swing and a jump he is mounted and gone.

The first time I met him, 'twas early one spring,
Riding a broncho, a high-headed thing,
He tipped me a wink as he gaily did go,
For he wished me to look at his bucking broncho.

He made me some presents, among them a ring,
The return that I made him was a far better thing;
'Twas a young maiden's heart, I'd have you all know,
He's won it by riding his bucking broncho.

Now all you young maidens, where'er you reside,
Beware of the cowboy who swings the rawhide;
He'll court you and pet you and leave you and go
In the spring up the trail on his bucking broncho.

—From BUCKING BRONCHO

This is one of a series of advertisements finding inspiration in the original, authentic cowboy ballads. Selections are from the John A. Lomax collection, "Cowboy Songs" and "Songs of the Cattle Trail and Cow Camp."

While Admiration Coffee may not pack quite the "wallop" of a bucking bronco, nevertheless there's a quality about it as a pick-up beverage that is wholly satisfying. After work, either physical or mental, it provides a lift that soothes tired muscles and tired minds. Care is taken to roast Admiration to the exact point where its essential oils of caffeine and caffeol serve their purpose best as a mild stimulant. This, plus the known food value of good coffee, makes Admiration the ideal pick-up drink. And of course, Admiration is as delicious to the taste as it is good for you.

Educator-

wide range of services, Dr. Scarborough is possessed of one consuming passion. All else is animated by that. It is not ministerial education, although he is president of a seminary. It is not denominational efficiency, although for that none works more tirelessly. It is not scholarship, although he appreciates such. It is not leadership, although he is a proven leader. It is evangelism. He is essentially, pre-eminently, and preferably an evangelist. All else revolves around and heads up in evangelism.

His first pastorate was at Cameron, Texas. The second at Abilene. He then went to Fort Worth to teach Evangelism in the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary where he was later to succeed Dr. B. H. Carroll as president. This position he has held since 1915.

It was Saturday morning, in his office at the seminary. It was in November. Football was at mid-season tension. He had gotten from the afternoon before, was to leave that day to help dedicate a church somewhere in Texas. His secretary brought letters which were signed as he continued to talk to me. The phone was answered. A student wanted a word with him. Through it all he was imperturbably itself. He is never jostled, never "jittery." He is always definite, positive, and prone to use superlatives. Upon my asking him one question, he reached for his phone, asking his secretary to get connection with a man in Dallas, and before putting down the receiver he had answered my question and had made an engagement for a conference a month later. Such definiteness, such ability to expedite, is a character quality of Doctor Scarborough.

When asked what were his hobbies, he answered: "I have none." But, of course, he has. All men have. Some are more vitally motivated than others. He plays golf irregularly, usually when solicited. He keeps up with football "only as it affects Baylor University," and baseball "as it concerns Fort Worth." For vacation he goes to Ruidoso, New Mexico, to spend three weeks in a cottage given him by his brother. There he "mainly does nothing," but climbs mountains, rides horse back a good deal, and cuts logs to burn in an open fire in August. While there he likes men for visitors as together they may have extended leisure conversation.

"What kind of books do you like best?"

"Biography and that mainly as it centers in Missions." It then appeared that he reviews all of the state Baptist papers each week. He reads the daily papers; the American magazine for human interest stories of success; Review of Reviews for political outlook; and most of this reading is done when traveling, or while holding meetings.

"When, Doctor Scarborough, does a seminary president do his daily devotional reading?"

His reply was instantaneous. "Early in the morning, and late at night. During the day, as I can snatch a chance." He took from his coat pocket a copy of Moffatt's New Testament, saying he likes to read it for "its coloring" but he reads publicly only the King James version which is his preference of all.

"But prayer is a different matter from Bible reading," he said. "Paul said, 'Pray without ceasing' and that I try to do—when preaching, when talking over a phone, all the time. I think of God as a very busy man and I want constant contact rather than sessions of prayer with him." That he said, was Spurgeon's idea of prayer. Spurgeon once said he tried to "keep all the underbrush cut down between him and God." This meant constant prayer.

"Regarding the Scriptures; what is your favorite verse, chapter, and book?"

"There are two verses: Isaiah 30: 15 'In returning and rest shall we be saved; in quietness and confidence shall be your strength.' I have gone to sleep a thousand times by that. And Jeremiah 33:3 'Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.' Ephesians is my favorite book, and Romans 8 the most loved chapter."

At my insistence, Doctor Scarborough related the story of his conversion and call to preach. "I was seventeen years old and living at Merkel, Texas, when I was converted. Rev. Will S. James was holding a meeting with the churches in Merkel in 1887. He preached one night on John 3:36 and got my soul. My mother and father prayed most of the night in a room adjoining my bedroom. Mother talked to me about my soul. After a sleepless night I went to the public school and my studies. The superintendent, Professor Witt, spoke to me that morning, saying that he was interested in my soul, and, seeing that I was under conviction, he exhorted me to go to church. Putting his hand on my right hand he said, 'I am praying for you.' I was converted before I got to church, while walking along the sidewalk. Six people were carrying me on their hearts—my preacher father, my mother, my sister, Mrs. Blair (the wife of the pastor of the Baptist church), Prof. Witt and Will James. Preacher James is the only one of all of them who is now living."

"When I was three weeks of age, my mother got out of bed and walked on her knees to my cradle and held my hand as she prayed two prayers—'God save my boy and call him to preach.'"

"Twenty-six years afterwards, while silent in the Law School at Yale University, the pressure of God's call came on me. I fought it for three months and, greatly distressed, went to my pastor, Dr. E. M. Potea, of Calvary Baptist church, in New Haven. He advised me and prayed with me. I went back to my room in Farmington Hall and fought it out and said 'Yes' to the Saviour. That was April 20, 1896, in Yale University, and I have been making in that direction ever since."

Being pre-eminently an evangelist, he rates preaching highest amidst the service possible to man. He himself has been teacher, author, administrator, any right preacher. He has done the former only as incidental to the latter. Questioned as to the quality of modern preaching, he said the weakness of today is "prayerlessness and tearfulness along with the loss of intercession and compassion." Where strength is found in preaching today, it is due to "scriptural simplicity." He attributes the many vacancies, pastorless churches, to a lack of training and leadership qualities of the preachers. The many preachers without jobs is due to their leaving off systematic study after college or seminary days. The reason for applications for preachers for parsonages today is "ignorance and loss of the sense of ministerial ethics."

When asked the greatest preacher he has ever heard, he answered like a flash, "B. H. Carroll." He immediately proceeded to pay tribute to Dr. George W. Truett by saying that he is in his judgment the greatest living preacher and also the greatest Christian in the world today. Incidentally he cited a recent gift of $15,000 to Doctor Truett which he immediately gave, every dollar of it to the debt on his own church.

In his office, Doctor Scarborough uses two desks. One is the old roll-top style, the other a modern flat-top desk. His swivel chair is between the two so, with only a turn, he can use either. He usually works on the modern one. The roll-top one is seldom open. On top of it, however, are two picture frames, each holding three pictures. These, too, like the desks, represent two different time periods. In one frame are photographs of B. H. Carroll, R. C. Buckner, and J. B. Gambrell. In the other are George W. Truett, S. P. Brooks, and L. R. Scarborough. These two sets of pictures were selected, printed, and circulated by Texas Baptists to represent Texas Baptist leadership of three and four decades ago; and of the two decades immediately thereafter. So this leader conserves honored traditions, at the same time being alert to the modern and the progressive.

Regarding young people he is hopeful and optimistic. He is compared with the sterling character qualities of two or three generations back, they are not so upward in tendency. "Today youth is confused by commercialized amusement—movies, gambling, drinking, dancing, and so forth. Further, the ease and comfort of modern convenience has had a softening and effeminate effect on the motor nerves and muscles. They are what they are today in spite of the ease and conveniences of life, and not because of them. Hardships, trials, hard work, and difficulties when met and overcome are great developers of sterling character."

"What is to be the future of our Baptist schools?"

"They are climbing the hill. They are about stable in numbers now. We shall strengthen what we have with endowment and they will stand up so long, and only so long, as they remain under denominational control."

"What is your philosophy of life?"

"The words of Jesus: 'If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life will lose it; and whosoever will lost his life for my sake shall find it!" It took not a second's reflection for him to give this answer. He answered as though he had anticipated the question.

"What would you give as your message to one hundred college students, if you had but one thing to say to them?"

Again he was ready. "Through Christian character, spiritual knowledge, and militant spirit, you must conquer civilization."

"Is civilization on the up or down grade?"

"It is on up grade! Militant Christianity will win! It may seem slow, but he must reign. The gates of hell shall not prevail. But when the world is lifted youth will do it."

"What is the greatest strength of Southern Baptists? And their greatest weakness?"

"Their greatest strength is their loyalty to the authority of the Bible and the Lordship of Christ. Their greatest weakness is their lack of a sense of stewardship. If the Lord was Lord of their pocketbooks they would have everything else."

"What is your greatest ambition for your life ahead?"

"To lift the debts and raise an endowment for the three theological seminaries of Southern Baptists."

"Thus we see in Doctor Scarborough at the age of sixty-seven a great Christian with evangelism as the consuming, vital impulse of his life; a scholar with world outlook and alert to local issues; a mind so well disciplined that it is immune to confusion; a leader of men trusted by his contemporaries and loved and followed by youth."

Invalids "Perk up" with PURSANG

It is remarkable how much better Pursang makes invalids feel. And not only invalids but those who always feel "half sick" because illness, overwork, wrong food or lack of exercise have reduced the iron content of their blood.

Physicians and hospitals now often prescribe Pursang as an aid to convalescence. It is a scientifically developed hematonic, containing copper and iron compounds which help to correct iron deficiency in the blood. Pursang aids in building red blood corpuscles, so necessary to all-around physical well-being.

If you are tired, run down and nervous, can't sleep or eat well, or find it hard to recover from simple illnesses, try Pursang. See how much better you feel after two or three days. In a week or more you'll hardly recognize yourself for the same person!

Prominent Race Drivers Testing New Hudson 112

Four of America's leading race drivers, Babe Stapp, Ted Horn, Chet Miller and Ira Vail are out and driving 10,000 mile test runs with the new Hudson 112, the latest entry in the lowest price field. These drivers are putting the four cars through their paces in widely scattered parts of the country so that all climatic and road conditions will be encountered. The cars and their famous drivers have now been on the road since January 11.

conditions. Owing to the nature of the country, Stapp can put an infinite variety of experience into his daily reports to the Hudson factory. Ted Horn, who ranks second in the AAA Contest Board Championship standing this year and who was third at Indianapolis in the last race, is now on his way back from Austin, Texas via Waco, Dallas, Wichita and Des Moines. He will be in Detroit this week and then off on another lap. Chet Miller who is also a consistent "money man" in the big AAA races, is completing a lap which took him through Tennessee, Alabama and Florida, down the West coast and up the East, touching at Tampa and over the Tamiati trail to Miami. His route lay through the Big Smokey mountains.

Ira Vail whom all know as one of the real old-timers of racing fame has had the "snow and ice assignment." He has been through the mountains of Pennsylvania and New York State. When he completes his first lap this week-end he will be sent on a milder assignment while one of the other drivers will tackle the snow belt. Careful reports of gasoline mileage, oil consumption and other data are being compiled to give the Hudson company first hand information on the performance of these cars. About 20,000 miles of hard running under all sorts of conditions have already been completed with all four drivers highly pleased at the results, without a single stop for repairs, and without any water added to a radiator since the start.

in the way of opening a new $44,000 bridge over Ellicott creek. The bridge, a gift from the county, has been completed and is ready for traffic, but stands idle because officials cannot agree whether it is up to the town or village to repair the necessary bridge approaches. Meanwhile, traffic is being detoured.
CLONOMO, Ceylon (UP)—A native woman who cannot be photographed is said to have been found in an ancient temple deep in the jungles of Ceylon.
Four men who visited the temple to take photographs came upon a native woman in a state of "religious ecstasy." Never having witnessed a similar incident before, they exposed several feet of film in broad daylight, using three cameras. In all of them the woman was prominently in view.
The films, when developed, showed no trace of the woman.

Cameras Strangely Fail To Photograph Woman

KINSTON, N. C. (UP)—The telephone operator at the Kinston police headquarters is a blind officer, whose 10 years of duty has robbed him of none of the thrills and perplexities—he once had as an officer in the line of duty.
Claude Jarman, the officer, was given telephone duties when his sight failed him. He declined a pension when the telephone post was offered him.
The blind officer relays telephone messages to the sergeant on duty. A police automobile takes him to and from the station.

Blind Man Operates Police Switchboard

LOS ANGELES (UP)—California adults are making up for early deficiencies of the "little red school house" days. A record breaking total of 10,150 adults are now enrolled in the adult educational courses of the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.
The British Postoffice Savings Bank has 10,000,000 depositors, who make 120,000 transactions daily thru its 16,000 branches.

the real old-timers of racing fame has had the "snow and ice assignment." He has been through the mountains of Pennsylvania and New York State. When he completes his first lap this week-end he will be sent on a milder assignment while one of the other drivers will tackle the snow belt. Careful reports of gasoline mileage, oil consumption and other data are being compiled to give the Hudson company first hand information on the performance of these cars. About 20,000 miles of hard running under all sorts of conditions have already been completed with all four drivers highly pleased at the results, without a single stop for repairs, and without any water added to a radiator since the start.

Houston Museum Gets Sword of Santa Anna

THE gold inlaid sword of Santa Anna, the "Little Napoleon of Mexico" who led the attack on the Alamo on March 6, 1836, has been presented to the Sam Houston State Teachers College here to be placed in the new $40,000 Sam Houston Memorial museum.
Soldiers of Gen. Houston's army purchased the sword at an auction sale held immediately after the battle of San Jacinto to dispose of Santa Ana's personal effects. The sword is made of blue steel with gold inlaid figures on both sides. The handle is of mother of pearl.

Ten-Year Cruise Faces Portuguese Stowaways

GLoucester, N. J. (UP)—Two Portuguese stowaways on a Greek tramp steamer face a 10-year tour of the world as a result of U. S. Immigration regulations.
The men were informed by immigration authorities that United States law requires that stowaways be returned to the port from which they boarded the ship, by the same vessel. The men embarked at Rio de Janeiro.
Manual da Gracia, 23, and Virgilio Maria Rocha, 21, citizens of Portugal, were informed by Capt. J. Paleograsas of the steamship Nicolas Pangoas that he did not plan to touch Rio again "for many 10 years."

91 Per Cent of Midland School Students Pass Examinations; 4 90 on Honor Roll

Reports from the various schools of the Midland system show that 91 per cent of the pupils taking the mid-term examinations passed on their work for the first semester, and that 490 pupils won distinction on examination in their respective grades. In the high school 20 pupils were totally exempt and 14 were partially exempt. In order to be exempt from taking the examinations, pupils in the high school must average 90 on the six weeks reports, 85 on six weeks quizzes (examinations), and 85 on department for the semester.
The distinction lists are in three groups: Those making all A's on examinations (Summa Cum Laude et Honore); those making half A's and half B's or better (Summa Cum Laude); and those making better than a B (Magna Cum Laude). The first group corresponds to a grade of 95-100; the second grade, from 90-95; and the third group from 85 to 90.
