Fall Meeting Of AAPG to Be in El Paso

Geologists of West Texas to Sponsor Session

Fall meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists will be held in El Paso, it has been announced by the executive committee, under auspices of the West Texas Geological Society. Officers of the West Texas organization this week received letters from executive officers of the American Association, stating that the fall meeting had been given approval, as well as the location.

Setting of dates, routing of field trips and other details will be worked out by the West Texas body as soon as possible. H. A. Hemphill, president, W. C. Fritz, secretary, and Bertie R. Haigh were planning to go into details with members of the West Texas Society as soon as a meeting can be held. Tentative dates were given as September 23 through October 2. Invitation of the West Texans was extended at the spring meeting held in New Orleans.

Lions Club Program Devoted to Music; Ball Team Guests

In observance of National Music Week, the regular weekly luncheon of the Midland Lions club today noon was devoted to music, the program being presented by Miss Lydia Watson, local music week chairman. Miss Watson traced the history of music week in Texas, stating that a small group of musicians met in Dallas 15 years ago and decided to dedicate one day each year to music. The plan met with such great success that it was then decided to dedicate an entire week each year to music, the first week in May having been dedicated to this cause. Music Week was a pioneer in individual weeks, said Miss Watson, who added that this year 2,500 communities in the United States are observing music week. Seven hundred state chairmen and several thousand local chairmen are enlisted in promoting music week this year, she said. Miss Watson has been the Midland chairman since observation of the week was started.

Last year and again this year, the major project of music week has been the bringing out of local talent, according to Miss Watson. In line with this project, Miss Watson presented two students of the Watson School of Music; Miss Elinor Hedrick rendering a piano solo, and Miss Jacquelin Campbell rendering a violin solo, accompanied at the piano by Miss Watson.

Ball Players Honor Guests.

Honor guests at the luncheon were members of the Midland Cardinal baseball team, the ball players being welcomed by President Ed M. Whitaker. The following members of the team were introduced individually by Lion Fincher E. (Tat) Withers, president and manager of the club: Tommy Warren, Al Larriere, Red Dosdoorian, Del Ballinger, Frank Nelson, Jake Snylar, Chief Franklin, Hank Froeschauer, George Zemek, Cliff Neighbors and Art Withers, secretary.

President Whitaker and Secretary George Philippus were named as delegates to the annual convention of District 2-T, Lions International, to be held in Lubbock next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Marion Flynt was a guest at today's luncheon which was served by the women of the First Methodist church.

Elma Jean Noble Is Class Honor Student

Elma Jean Noble, student of the seventh grade in junior high school, has been selected honor student of the class. She was tied with a straight "A" average by Jo Ann Froelich but when test papers were averaged it was found that the Nobles girl had a very small lead over the other girl.

Late News

VATICAN CITY, May 4 (AP).—Pope Pius was quoted by the Vatican newspaper today as saying that it was "a sad thing that the insignia of another cross that is not the cross of Christ" was hoisted in Rome on Holy Cross day. Yesterday was Holy Cross day, and it coincided with the arrival of Adolf Hitler, in whose honor the city was blanketed with swastikas.

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP).—William Knudsen, President of the General Motors corporation, told the United States chamber of commerce today the Wagner labor act is the "largest drawback to good industrial relation." He said the labor board makes no pretense of even paying any attention to the employer's side in strike cases.

BIRMINGHAM, May 4 (AP).—In the face of a "secession" threat the judicial council of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, ruled valid today the conference approved plan to unify American Methodism.

A Born Showman

Perched high on a circus wagon, U. S. Senator Tom Connally of Texas proves in the picture above that his flair for showmanship is not confined to the halls of Congress. The photo shows the veteran Texan as he drove a team of prancing horses in the Community Circus at Gainesville, Tex., of which he was honorary ringmaster. The circus, now in its ninth year, is composed entirely of non-professional performers. Riding with the senator is Mrs. Geraldine Murrell, department store milliner, who also can walk a tight wire.

Hitler Welcomed to Italy By Mussolini and the King

ROME, May 4 (AP).—Adolf Hitler today paid homage to Italy's kings and her unknown soldier. The Fuehrer laid a wreath at the soldier's tomb while bands blared and his party saluted. They then went to Capitoline Hill to salute a monument to fallen fascists. Hitler and Premier Mussolini found two periods in the festive round for conversations on purposes of the Nazi-fascist friendship, and informed sources said their exchanges dealt entirely with collocations.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, May 4. — Benito Mussolini welcomed Adolf Hitler to Rome last night with a dramatic display of friendship between the two Fascist dictators. The nation greeted the German Fuehrer with gorgeous ceremony rivaling those of the days of Caesar in size, scope and grandeur. Rome turned out almost to a man to see the glory of Hitler's coming. Underneath, a deep undercurrent of uneasiness has run through Italy since Hitler absorbed Austria.

Exactly at the appointed hour the German dictator's special train rolled into the station. It ended a triumphal but guarded all-day journey of 460 miles from the Brenner Pass. King Vittorio Emanuele and Premier Mussolini stood together on the platform beneath a great swastika.

Mussolini wore on his militia corporal's uniform the Order of the German Eagle which Hitler had conferred upon him. Hitler appeared in the doorway of his coach clad in a Nazi khaki uniform. His only decorations were an iron cross on his sleeve and the emblem of an honorary corporal of the Fascist militia — an award from Mussolini last September.

The Nazi guest received warm handshakes from the king and Mussolini before the king raised his arm to indicate the direction of march. Hitler fell into step beside him and together the king and the grim man who rose from humble beginnings to lead a nation of 75,000,000 strode down 300 yards of red carpet.

Il Duce left the station alone and motored to his office. Outside the station brass helmeted lancers were drawn up in a huge semi-circle, their blue pennants fluttering in the chilly night breeze. Within the semi-circle rank after rank of Fascist youth, uniformed Nazi residents of Italy and carabinieri were drawn up at attention.

Thirty mounted sabres guards rattled their kins in salute as Der Fuehrer emerged from the station. Hitler climbed into the royal coach, taking his seat at the king's right. The procession moved off down a newly-completed Adolf Hitler avenue to the sound of the Nazi Horst Wessel song and the Fascist anthem.

Ministers and generals followed in twelve other carriages. An estimated 500,000 packed the three miles of streets along the route.

When the royal coach halted at St. Paul's gate a few hundred yards from the station, Don Pietro Colonna, Rome's Governor, read the city's welcome. The governor declared: "We welcome you on Rome's sacred soil."

University land leases, comprising 153 tracts in three counties, will be sold at auction in Austin June 24, it has been announced. Description of the lands, which lie in Andrews, Crane and Crockett counties, will be published at an early date, according to Bertie R. Haigh, district geologist and in charge of the Midland office of University Lands.

TRANSFERRED TO OKLAHOMA. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. West will leave Friday to make their home in Oklahoma City where he has been transferred by the D & M Machine Works.

TO VISIT DAUGHTER. Mrs. Minnie Shimek of Houston is expected to arrive shortly to visit her daughter, Mrs. Reid Hodgson here. Accompanying her will be Mrs. R. C. Biering of Houston.

FROM HOSPITAL. Private G. Dubois is back on duty today after treatment in the base hospital at Fort Sam Houston. He plans to leave soon on vacation.

GO TO DALLAS. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Barron and Mrs. J. H. Barron left this morning for Dallas, to be gone the remainder of the week.

New Deal Victor In Elections

Senator Pepper Scores a Smashing Victory in Florida

By Associated Press. Renomination of Senator Claude Pepper, Florida, gave the Roosevelt administration a victory today in the first 1938 primary test of the president's popular support.

Pepper was an easy winner over other candidates. The Florida contest was the only one in four state primaries yesterday which had any national aspects.

Senator Lester Hill, Alabama, was nominated without opposition. Senator Herbert Hitchcock, South Dakota, lost a three-way contest for the democratic nomination to former governor Tom Berry.

Incumbent house members were leading in Indiana.

By the Associated Press. Senator Claude Pepper, ardent Roosevelt supporter, held an impressive and apparently growing lead Tuesday night as returns from Florida's Democratic senatorial primary accumulated.

Endorsed by James Roosevelt, son and secretary of the President, Pepper based his appeal to the voters on his consistent support of administration measures. He was credited with 104,420 votes to 63,249 for Representative J. Marx Wilcox, a critic of some administration policies, in 632 of the state's 1,375 precincts. Former Governor Dave Sholtz received 21,594 votes and two other contestants barely a thousand each.

The Florida election attracted national attention because it presented the first contest of the election year involving what beforehand was widely discussed as a test of public sentiment toward the administration.

Primary elections held in three other states dealt principally with local issues.

In Indiana, three incumbent members of the House, Representatives Schultz, Griswold and Virginia Jenckes, all Democrats and generally administration supporters, were leading. Other Indiana House incumbents, with the exception of one not seeking renomination, were unopposed. In the one excepted district, George N. Breaumer was holding a wide lead over four opponents.

Returns from South Dakota had Oscar Foshelm leading in a Democratic gubernatorial primary, Harlan Bushfield slightly ahead in the Republican gubernatorial primary, former Governor Tom Berry ahead in a contest for the Democratic nomination to Senate, and Chan Gurney leading in the equivalent Republican primary.

In the balloting between Democratic senatorial aspirants, the incumbent Senator Hitchcock was running third to Bery and Fred Hildebrandt.

Monetary Policies Being Discussed by Three Big Powers

PARIS, May 4 (AP). — Officials said today that conversations have been started among the United States, France and Great Britain looking toward an amendment of their accord made in October, 1936, for monetary stabilization.

Bankers said stabilization of the franc at about 35 to the dollar was under consideration. If the conversations succeed, officials said, there will be a declaration of the new monetary policy by the three powers, accompanied by flotation of France's projected national defense loan of about $450,000,000.

Last Honors Paid To Hollis Roberts

Last honors were paid in Abilene Tuesday afternoon to John Hollis Roberts, Midland oil well driller, who was fatally injured on a well near McCamey Monday morning. The Rev. W. J. Coleman, pastor of the First Presbyterian church here, was in charge of the final service. Interment services were held at the Abilene cemetery.

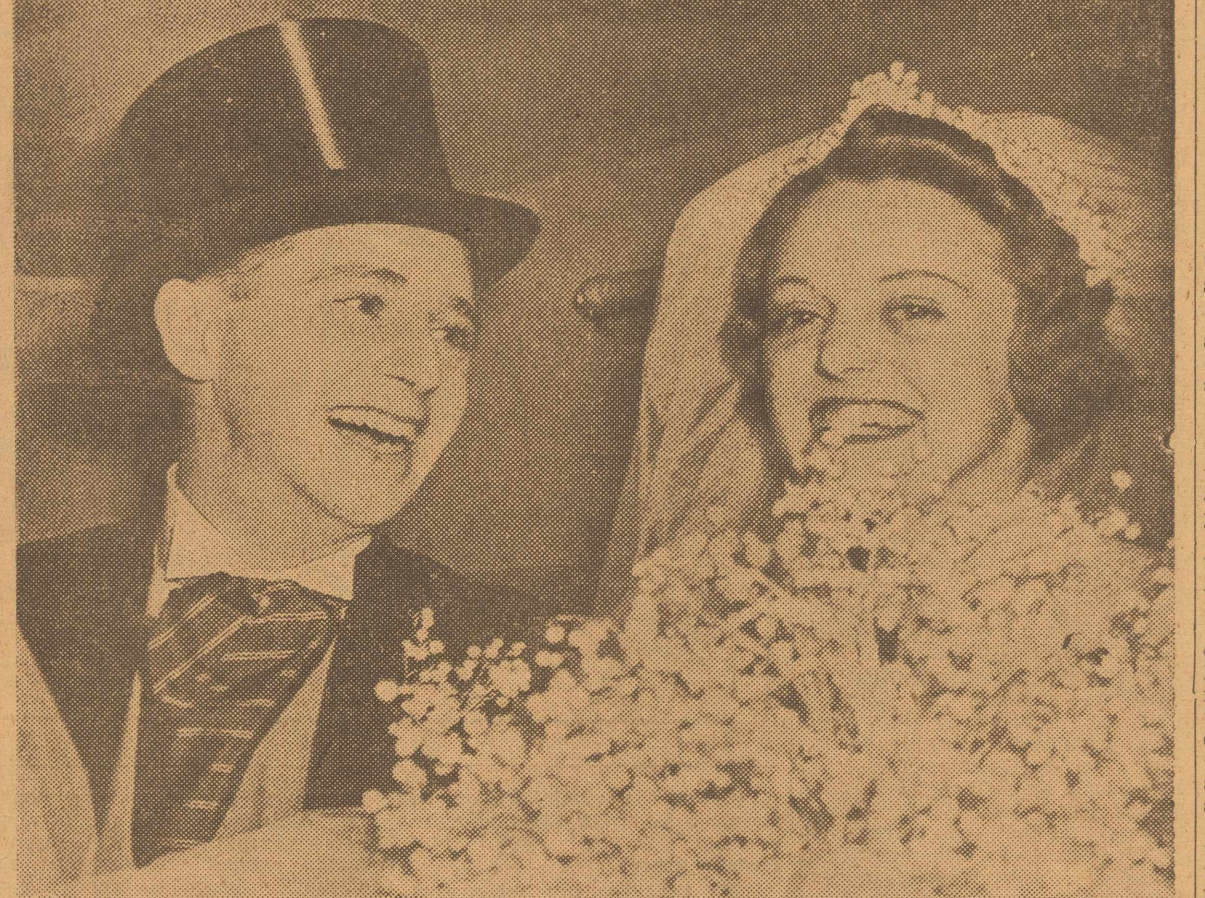

Roberts had been with the firm of Stout and McQueen, local contractors, for almost ten years and had lived in Midland for the last five.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Miss Maedelee Roberts, both of Midland. Attending the funeral from here were: Rev. W. J. Coleman, R. D. Scruggs, Golden Donovan, Miss Mary Lowry, Miss Cole, Miss Allene Alverson, Mrs. Ora Holzgraf, Misses, and Messrs Lanier, Arthur Stout, R. DeChicchio, Frank Stubbeman, Jas. G. Harper, Miss Laura Hitchcock, J. H. Fine, Miss Marguerite Bivens.

ON VACATION TRIP. Mrs. C. G. McCall will leave Thursday morning for Dallas where she will join her youngest sister and continue on to Naples, Texasarkana, and Pine Bluff, Ark., for a visit. She plans to be gone a week or ten days.

Love Is Simply Grand

Happy and smiling, their faces still glowing as they emerged from St. Bartholomew's church, New York City, were Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler, Jr., caught here by the cameraman a few seconds after they were married in an impressive and elaborate ceremony. The bridegroom is the eldest son of the Detroit motor magnate, while the bride is the daughter of Mrs. Walter H. Sykes of New York.

Country to East Gets Rain; Sand Storm Hits Here

While the country east and southeast of Midland was receiving rains ranging from light showers to downpours, one of the worst sand storms of the year struck here.

The storm lasted for approximately 12 hours and caused all air traffic to be halted and slowed traffic on the highways. The sand was swept in by a gale that varied from 30 to 62 miles an hour during the afternoon. Some dust still hung in the air early this morning but had practically disappeared by noon.

Big Spring received a shower and a little hail and further east the rain was general. Sweetwater received almost a half inch and Abilene 55 of an inch.

Regular Meeting Of C C Directors Thursday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Midland chamber of commerce has been moved up from Monday night to Thursday night due to the fact that several board members will perhaps be attending either the district conference of the Rotary Club in Breckenridge or the district convention of the Lions Club in Lubbock on Monday evening, Marion Flynt, president of the chamber of commerce announced today. Several important matters are scheduled for discussion at tomorrow evening's meeting which has been called for 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is urged.

Oil Rises 500 Feet In Two Hours in Cochran Discovery

By FRANK GARDNER. Texas Company No. 1 Mallett Land & Cattle Company, discovery well in extreme southeastern Cochran county, yesterday evening was drilling ahead below 5,073 feet after filling 500 feet with oil in two hours on test. It had been swabbed down to 4,800 feet, bottom of 7-inch pipe. About one-third of a barrel of salt water, believed to have come in from 5,052-60, showed up in four hours. Water is thought to be coming from pocket and probably will exhaust; other tests in the Cochran-Hockley area have had similar slight water shows. The Texaco well topped pay at 5,039 feet. It is in section 7, block G, public school land, about five miles southeast of the Duggan pool of Cochran.

Mrs. Van Kampen Tells of Milwaukee Recreation System

Mrs. A. Van Kampen, for sixteen and one-half years connected with the famous Milwaukee recreational system, presented the chief talk at the meeting of Midland county public health board at the courthouse Monday evening. She discussed generally the effect of proper play upon the physical, mental, and moral health of the players and explained the working of the Milwaukee system which is said to be the foremost of its kind in the United States.

The Milwaukee system is handled through the school board, she said. There are summer, fall and spring playgrounds, and winter social centers, the latter being recreational, industrial, and educational in character. The department of municipal recreation and adult education presents classes in cabinet making, millinery, dressmaking, and similar work and also provides places for meetings of the citizens. Dancing and gym work are given.

Mrs. Van Kampen spoke briefly on how the system might be adapted to smaller cities, beginning with a small project and increasing its scope as the work grew. She was one of the teachers in the recreational department in Milwaukee.

Colorado Professor To Address Oil Men At Meeting Monday

"Secondary Recovery and Valuation," two phases of the oil industry which are of increasing interest to oil men, particularly in West Texas, will be the subject of an address to be delivered by Dr. Clark F. Barb, professor of Petroleum Engineering at the Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Colorado, in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer next Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock, E. A. Beasley, secretary of the Permian Basin Chapter of the American Institute, announced today. The meeting is being sponsored by the Permian Basin Chapter of the A. P. I. of which K. L. Sappington, Midland, is chairman.

Dr. Barb is in charge of a group of graduating petroleum engineers of the School of Mines now visiting the Permian Basin oil fields, the group to arrive in Midland next Monday afternoon.

Dr. Barb has done considerable research work on secondary recovery, particularly water flooding in the Pennsylvania fields, and is the author of several papers on the subject. He is considered an outstanding authority on the subject which he will discuss.

All oil men and others interested in the discussion of the subject are cordially invited and urged to attend the meeting, arrangements being made to take care of a large attendance from over a wide area.

Large Crowd of Rotarians to Make District Meeting

Official delegates from Midland Rotary club to the district conference at Breckenridge Monday and Tuesday include Clinton Lackey, president-elect, and W. I. Pratt, secretary-treasurer. These will be joined by several other Rotarians, the total number from Midland probably reaching fifteen or twenty. The delegates will leave here Sunday, the principal meetings being Monday and Tuesday.

Rotarian Ernesto Aguilar, Mexico City, official representative of Rotary International, as the principal speaker. Senator Aguilar is a past director of the international unit.

Sunday afternoon beginning at 1:30 will be registration, in the Burch hotel, followed by a church service at night in the First Christian church. Rev. Brian Kitchley, Mineral Wells Presbyterian minister, who has been a national American Legion chaplain, will speak. An informal get-together follows at the hotel.

McLaughlin to Preside. Monday morning conference opens at 9:15. J. Edd McLaughlin, Falls, district governor, will preside. Senator Aguilar speaks as well as does A. L. Shuman, Fort Worth, on "On to San Francisco." At noon five luncheons for the men and one for the women will be held. Late in the afternoon golf will be available, and a tea for the Rotary Anns, with Senora Aguilar in attendance. At 6 p. m. a chicken barbecue will be served in the high school stadium, followed by an entertainment program. An informal reception and the annual governor's ball will follow at the Burch hotel.

Breakfasts Tuesday morning will be for presidents and secretaries. Speakers at the assembly will include: Rabbi Joseph Blatt, Oklahoma City; Harry Park, Fort Worth; Dr. R. Thomsen, Amarillo; Dr. J. A. Hill, Canyon; L. W. Johnson, Stamford and Senor Aguilar. During the noon hour balloting for district governor will be held.

At 12:45 an all-conference luncheon will have as the main speaker, Dr. Tom Taylor, Brownwood, past district governor.

Linton Estes, Wichita Falls and R. N. Cluck, Cisco, both past club presidents, are candidates for district governor.

Reconstruction of Austin Dam Approved. AUSTIN, May 4 (AP). — Lower Colorado River Authority officials announced today the public works administration had approved reconstruction of the Austin dam at a cost of $2,300,000.

The dam is the final link in the $27,000,000 flood control and power project on the Colorado.

TWO TLP'S LAND. Flying a TLP Pilot Cringley, who remained overnight at Sloan field Tuesday departed for Barksdale field, La., this morning.

A second TLP, torpedo land plane, under Pilot Hughes, came from El Paso and went to Hensley field. Lieut. Holmes arrived from Brooks field, San Antonio, in an O-43.

Advance of 12 Miles Is Said Made

Estimated 34,000 Nipponese Slain In Recent Days

SHANGHAI, May 4 (AP).—The general Chinese offensive all along the south Szechwan front was declared by the Chinese command to have smashed through the center of Japanese lines at Taierhchwang today and to have advanced 12 miles.

The Chinese advance guard fought forward five miles in a night battle, adding these gains to seven miles they rolled back and buckled up the Japanese lines in their first assault yesterday.

Chinese sources estimated the weary, outnumbered Japanese had lost 34,000 men killed in fighting in recent days.

The reported Chinese gains indicated the end of a bloody deadlock on the central front in which neither army was able to gain more than a few yards despite fierce conflict.

They also meant a new obstacle against an apparent shift of Japanese strength toward the west.

Indications of major warfare in the vicinity of Hanchwang, where the north-south Tientsin-Pukow railroad crosses the Grand canal, has been seen in the movement of reinforcements of both sides in that direction.

The Japanese, presumably, had aimed to drive inland toward the railroad and then turn south toward Suchow, their main objective, where the Lunghai and Tientsin-Pukow lines cross. A previous attempt to reach Suchow on that line was turned back by the Chinese last January.

New friction between Japanese and British broke out in Shanghai, Domei (Japanese news agency) said Japan would protest to Great Britain against alleged interference of six British soldiers with fixed bayonets who prevented Japanese gendarmes from searching a truck carrying munitions.

Russian Doctor Proves Alibi in Frome Murders

ABILENE, May 4 (AP). — A. L. Barr, department of public safety investigator, said today the story of a Russian doctor that he had stayed in a Roswell, New Mexico, hotel March 30, established by officers as the Frome murder date, had been verified.

The doctor, who had been questioned in San Angelo about the case, was taken to Del Rio yesterday for investigation by immigration authorities of his entrance into the United States.

GOLFERS TO MEET. Women's Golf Association will meet at the Country Club Friday morning at 10 o'clock, with Mrs. J. E. Adams and Mrs. J. B. Richards as hostesses. This is an important meeting, officials said, and all members are urged to be present.

We Have With us Today—Harrumph, The Dog Poisoner

The dog poisoners are at it again! From all parts of town have come reports that pet dogs, many of them pedigreed, high priced, harmless and "kept up," have been victims of that dread, night-stalking menace, the dog poisoner.

Those who engage in the practice of poisoning dogs probably would argue that dogs are a menace. In many instances this is true. Dogs allowed to roam at large all hours of the day and night often constitute a nuisance. Some of them have been known to kill sheep in pastures near the city. Others have killed chickens, committed sundry depredations.

But the pet dog which is kept up by its owner and which can be poisoned only by entering a yard or hurling the tainted meat over a fence, usually is not harming anyone. Often this dog is a child's pet and in some cases the child's protector.

To deprive a child of its pet dog is to bring grief and unhappiness. Dog poisoning usually is done in the smaller towns. Along with many other forms of growth, Midland should have outgrown this pernicious practice, but the dog poisoner is still present, from reports heard about town.

A little amateur detecting, to determine the identity of the dog poisoners, might lead to infliction of maximum penalty, judging from irate expressions heard among friends of good dogs.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, May 4. —Unless numerous well-informed persons in Congress and the administration are whispering through their new straw hats, the reorganization bill is likely to be brought back to the House floor for another vote.

Supporters of the measure keep saying that "the bill would pass if it were brought up today." The special House committee on reorganization to which the bill was re-committed is as strong for it as ever. Administration strategists, although they may deny it, have been assuring each other that the measure is far from dead.

Any plans which may definitely exist for reporting out the bill, possibly in modified form, are secret. Conceivably it might be rushed onto the floor in a surprise move. But if it actually is presented again at this session, the chances are better than even that it won't be until after the House disposes of the spending-lending program and the wage-hour bill.

The bill lost April 8 by a vote of 199 to 204. A switch of five votes would have carried it. Pro-Roosevelt constituents have written many letters berating members who voted to recommit. Six Wisconsin Progressive congressmen who voted against the administration have been especially excommunicated in this way. It has been hotly argued whether the bill was defeated more by the onslaught of propaganda against it or by administration clumsiness in handling it. Other arguments are being presented to prove that the bill couldn't lose if again offered. Roosevelt's "is".

ON April 9, writing to Majority Leader Rayburn to thank him for his fight for the bill, Roosevelt said the measure "is" intended to simplify and improve the public service and that the question presented "is" solely one of policy.

If this present-tense attitude toward the bill had not persisted, Roosevelt probably by now would have appointed someone to the comptroller-generalship, long ago left vacant by resignation of John R. McCarl. The White House believes that the more surrounding Acting Comptroller General Richard N. Elliott, former Republican congressman, was one of the strongest forces in the anti-reorganization lobby.

Although the bill would have abolished the comptroller general's office, the fact has gone unmentioned that Roosevelt can appoint a New Dealer to this 15-year term if he so desires and thus end McCarl policies which he considers "obstructive."

Undersecretary of the Interior Charlie West has been quietly promoting himself for the job. Congressman Lindsay C. Warren of North Carolina has been mentioned. And of course if you happen to hear of either of them—or of someone else—being appointed to the post, it will indicate that the administration has given up hope for the reorganization bill.

Farley's Speech.
NOW that the tax bill compromise has been made—with its skimpy face-saving concession to the President—who do you suppose is going around at this late date defending the undistributed profits tax and the capital gains tax? Strangely enough, that conservative Jim Farley, who has been warning congressmen against any more reform legislation.

In a recent speech at Montgomery, Ala., Farley noted that the "capital gains tax and the surplus reserve tax have been declared the reason for the present stagnation of business," and asserted:

"The first of these was designed simply to make the profits of speculation pay taxes, just the same as profits from investment. That doesn't seem to me a very oppressive measure. The second was to prevent tax-dodging by enormously lucrative corporations, which covered up their gains by slipping them into excessive reserves instead of distributing them as dividends. These taxes were in the law during the peak years of Roosevelt recovery, and there was no sign that they were depression breeders."

Civil Service Exam Announced For State Jobs

Merit examinations for the position of Junior Interviewer in the Texas State Employment Service have just been announced. Vacancies in the operating staff of the local employment offices will be filled from eligible lists established through these examinations.

Application forms and detailed announcements concerning the examinations may be obtained from Professor Emmette S. Redford, Special Representative of the United States Employment Service, Box 2119, University Station, Austin. Application forms must be returned to Mr. Redford by May 31, 1938.

The examinations are open to men and women who have been citizens of Texas for at least five years immediately preceding the date of employment.

Applicants must meet the following minimum requirements for participation in the examinations: (1) A high school education and three years of the required experience; or (2) a college education and one year of the required experience; or (3) any equivalent combination of (1) and (2); or (4) four years of the required experience. Required experience is full time paid employment in work definitely providing familiarity with employment problems and practices such as are found in industrial, commercial, professional, and labor fields.

The annual salary range for Junior Interviewer is $1260—$1620.

Applicants who meet the specifications set forth in the detailed announcement will take written tests to be held in Abilene, Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Harlingen, Houston, Lubbock, Paris, San Angelo, San Antonio, Tyler, Waco, Wichita Falls, June 24 and 25. Those who pass the examination will be asked to appear before a special interviewing board.

Reminder of Near Death.

BROOKVILLE, Ont. (U.P.) — A Townsley's car stalled on a railroad track and he got out to crank. An eastbound express rolled down the track, demolished the car. Townsley still has the crank; a reminder he once owned an automobile.

The Town Quack

When you look up and see the whole country blowing over, your natural inclination is to think this land should never have felt the nose of the plow. But I want to remind you that it's an established fact that when it rains, this country comes back to normal more quickly than any other part of the world. Don't get too pessimistic until it's too late for the rebound. I've seen Midland make above-average crops with a later start than this.

I heard something this morning which is bound to be embarrassing to a Midland sportsman so I won't use his name. He has become recognized as an expert with the rod and reel and an authority on casting. His demonstrations have been seen and heard by hundreds. Now they tell me that on a fishing trip the other day, this sportsman took along a new rod and reel. When he approached the stream, he squarred off in full view of his fellow fishermen, made a beautiful cast but (this is the embarrassing part) he over-cast himself. His cast was so violent that he flung the rod and reel right out in the middle of the river. Maybe the handle was greased.

Any sportsman is liable to throw something away, whether it be a rod and reel, a golf club or a ball game. But we can't mark time on that. We have to go on and pull for better luck next time.

A Midland banker urges the newspaper to start some sort of a campaign to change this weather. If I thought we could change the situation by buying a red rooster, the bird would be in the mails now.

If this is a radio joke, I apologize for printing it. But I heard about a country boy in Arkansas who was enumerating the members of his family to the census taker. He mentioned a brother in Harvard. The enumerator was surprised and asked what course the brother was taking.

"He ain't taking no course," was the reply. "He's in a bottle. Brother's got two heads."

Credit Service Firm at Work Here

Representatives of the Texas Associated Credit Service, with district offices at Lubbock, are in Midland this week to explain details of their service to Midland merchants. A letter to The Reporter-Telegram from W. A. Tranah, manager, said the state representatives include Adrian James, Preston E. Wright, Jack Tiner and Ralph Nix.

Credit information of the association is collected from merchants and reported to the district office. Mr. Tranah pointed out that there are "racketeers" working West Texas towns with similar propositions, but that his concern desires to be checked up by merchants and gave as reference the Lubbock National bank.

Altar Society Elects Officers

Mrs. Sara Dorsey was elected president of St. Anne's Altar society for next year in the last meeting of the organization for this season, held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Riley Monday. Mrs. Earl Moran was named vice president and Mrs. Jas. FitzGerald secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. D. L. DeHonne, retiring president, offered the opening prayer for the afternoon. Refreshments were served to 13 members including: Mmes. FitzGerald, C. C. Duffey, M. S. Dunlap, Henry Wolcott, Jack Cusack, Allen Tolbert, J. C. Jordan, Sara Dorsey.

Thrilling Scenes Feature Circus Film Drama

Thrilling death leaps by daring trapeze artists, savage animals, maddened to a frenzy, laughing clowns and cold murder before thousands of witnesses, are features seen in Columbia's "The Shadow", thrilling circus drama which plays a one day engagement at the Ritz Theater tomorrow.

Charles Quigley and Rita Hayworth are featured in the film with Marc Lawrence, Arthur Loft, Marjorie Main and many more appearing in support. Charles C. Coleman directed.

SAUGUS, Mass. (U.P.) — A poultry owner insisted there were only 27 hens in his flock. A doubting assessor let out a lusty "Cock-a-doodle-doo" and 47 roosters obeyed the summons. The tax bill was made out for 47.

Lighthouse to Be Museum.

ISLESBORO, Me. (U.P.) — Citizens and summer residents plan to make the old Grindle's Point lighthouse into a maritime museum a memorial to the town's seafaring men. Townspeople bought the property when the old building was abandoned several years ago.

Tuesday Luncheon Club Entertained By Mrs. Osborne

Mrs. Paul Osborne entertained the Tuesday Luncheon club in its bi-weekly meeting at her home, 214 South L street, Tuesday at one o'clock.

California poppies introduced a brilliant note into the party accessories.

A two-course luncheon was served at quartet tables after which the afternoon was devoted to two tables of bridge.

Mrs. Cary P. Butcher was club guest.

Present were: Mmes. A. B. Cather, John Cornwall, David S. Googins, John W. Rettig, J. E. Simmons, R. C. Tucker, and the hostess.

Wesley Bible Class Holds Monthly Social Tuesday

Mrs. L. C. Stephenson was hostess and Mrs. J. M. Reising co-hostess to the monthly social of the Wesley Bible class of the Methodist church which was held at the home of Mrs. Stephenson Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. M. V. Coman read Psalms 138 as the devotional.

Mrs. Reising conducted a Bible questionnaire in which Mrs. W. T. Beauchamp was winner.

Visitors were Mrs. Sam Hardy and Mrs. L. U. Feeler.

Refreshments were served to Mmes. Hardy and Feeler and the following class members: Mmes. T. A. Fannin, P. H. Wilmoth, Beauchamp, J. E. Feeler, Emma Zimmerman, Velma Stewart, Mary S. Ray, Coman, Sinclair, M. D. Johnson, J. M. Hughes, W. A. Black, and the hostesses.

Child Movie Stars are Growing Up

By PAUL HARRISON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.
HOLLYWOOD.—Judy Garland is 14 and definitely precocious. But good fun.

Her wisecracking is garnished with modesty and her trim little figure is obscured by unflattering juvenile frocks. Judy is trying her very best to remain a child until Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer decides that she can be an ingenue. That will be in a little more than a year; her sixteenth birthday will be June 10, 1939.

No Can Eat.
The studio decided she didn't look childish enough for her role in "Everybody Sing," so she put on a routine of diet, exercise and massage which reduced her hips three inches. She's still on a diet. I had lunch with her and her mother the other day and she was grumbling about it.

"Everybody in the restaurant is watching to see that I don't snitch an extra dessert or something," she said. "At least I feel that everybody's watching. Maybe it's my conscience."

She recently was announced for the role of Dorothy in Metro's version of "The Wizard of Oz." The selection drew a good deal of adverse comment, and as much from Judy Garland fans as from anyone else. She herself seems a little uneasy about it.

The Dorothy of L. Frank Baum's stories was a much younger, simpler girl. The assumption is that Judy will introduce swing music into the Emerald City, and will teach the Scarecrow and Tin Woodman how to do the Big Apple. Maybe they'll change the title to "The Wizard of Jazz."

Miss Garland has a great deal of vitality, love of excitement, and a chronic detestation of routine events. In a rapid, sarcastic sing-song she recited her Hollywood working schedule and it was easy to guess that she doesn't like it much. Rising, acting, classes, luncheon, acting, recording, more classes, lying on a rug in the sun ("That's a rip-roaring experience. I can tell you"), radio rehearsals, radio broadcasts, study, reading, bedtime—all these are mapped out pretty rigidly.

Those are some of the reasons why she likes personal appearance tours such as she recently made to eight cities. Another reason is that Judy is a veteran of eight years of vaudeville. Her parents were professionals and her father, Frank A. Gumm, now is a Los Angeles theatre owner. She and two elder sisters toured as a singing trio until Suzanne married and broke up the act. Judy then walked into the Metro casting office, hot-chad a couple of numbers, and got a job. As simple as that.

Anyway, she still likes the road. "You know," she said, "the most fun is to finish the last show and get a bunch of actors together and get out and get big steaks somewhere and sit around and talk. They won't let me do that here."

Tours, Benefits.
She worked hard on her tour. After doing five shows and dozens of interviews a day in New York, Judy and Mrs. Gumm went to Providence hoping to get a little rest before she played Pittsburgh.

"Instead," said Miss Garland, "we were met at 7:30 in the morning by a 93-piece band, the governor, the mayor and 7000 people. I played eight shows a day there besides benefits for the firemen children's library at the courthouse Saturday morning from 10 until 11 o'clock.

County museum in the courthouse will be open from 2:30 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The public is invited.

Feminine Fancies

BY KATHLEEN EILAND.

We can understand perfectly why the sheiks of the desert grow fiere and carry on long-drawn-out feuds—that is, we can understand if the desert sandstorms are anything like those of West Texas. A few consecutive sandstorms and we feel equal to carrying on few feuds, too.

Apparently the slogan of "poly-colors for style" is beginning to gain ground in other realms than that of fashion. We had grown accustomed to seeing three or four colors used in costumes but it was only recently that we observed the same tendency in household equipment. We discovered a tri-color set of enameled refrigerator dishes with glass covers. Built for compactness, the group consisted of a long rectangular dish in blue with two smaller ones, one each in red and yellow, designed to be placed upon the blue one. The covers were in clear glass.

Live and learn is certainly demonstrated in our acquiring of cookery knowledge. Many's the yellow squash we've cooked but always we've sliced them, and perhaps even peeled them, before putting them in the pot. We were therefore quite impressed when, upon complimenting a friend upon the tiny yellow crook neck squashes served whole at her dinner, we were informed that this was the correct way to cook them. We can well believe it. With the flavor and the food value retained in full by the skin, the little squashes are quite tasty when boiled until tender, and served with a sauce of melted butter.

Of course, the squashes MUST be young and tender.

Judging by the appearance of grocery store shelves these days, it seems safe to predict that cellophane (Feminine Fancies) Page Six

Junior High PTA Hears Varied Program

A paper by Mrs. J. H. Trickey, installation of officers for next year, a report on the Del Rio convention by Mrs. W. L. Nicol, delegate, were features of the lengthy program at the meeting of the Junior High PTA at the Junior High Building Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Trickey discussed "The Child in the Community from the Social and Health Viewpoint." Her paper will be printed in a later issue of The Reporter-Telegram.

Mrs. Glenn Brunson presented two musical readings, accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Y. Barron, as a special entertainment feature.

By-laws for next year were adopted. The PTA voted to donate $15.50 to the purchase of books for the school library. Mrs. Harry Tolbert to select the list of books.

Three room awards for the day were presented to L. M. Froels' 6-B, to Miss Frances Farnham's 6-C, and to Mrs. Geo. Philipps' 7-B.

Reports on Convention.
Mrs. W. L. Nicol reported that the outstanding or guiding director of the convention at Del Rio recently was Mrs. A. C. Surman of Post, state PTA vice president. The main address was presented by Rev. M. M. Fulmer of the First Baptist church at Alpine, on the subject of "Re-mounting Our Jewels." The talk dealt with the drilling on courtesy which children should receive in the homes. He stressed the fact that children are out of the school room 75 per cent of the time and that the homes of the community are the laboratories.

Mrs. Nicol urged all PTA members to clip the card from the January issue of the Texas PTA magazine and mail it in to the publishers. Otherwise, the magazine will not be mailed free to members next year, she said.

Mrs. Nicol looks forward enthusiastically to the 1939 district convention which will be held here, her invitation to come to Midland having been accepted over those of Del Rio, Sweetwater, and San Angelo.

She was named vice president over four counties, Midland, Martin, Ector and Andrews, being one of seven officers of that rank for the district. She pointed out as special goals for PTA work in Midland next year, the re-organization of South Ward PTA, the organization of a High School PTA, and creation of a City PTA Council.

About 200 attended the convention, Mrs. Nicol said, 170 delegates being registered.

Three counties were hosts to the convention, with a number of entertainment features honoring the visitors.

CARDINALS, HUBBERS MEET IN FIRST NIGHT GAME AT 8:15

FROSCHAUER WILL START ON MOUND FOR THE HOME CLUB

The Midland Cardinals, after being "rained" out in their second scheduled game with the Lubbock Hubbers, will trot out on the field at City Park tonight in the first night game ever played here by a league club and the second night baseball game that has ever been played here.

No special program has been planned for opening under the Mazdas and the game will start promptly at 8:15.

Manager Withers has announced he would start Hank Froschauer, a right hand curve ball artist who has yet to win a game but who has pitched well enough in a couple to win. Faulty support by his mates have cost him a couple of games but the hurler said today he was determined to copy this one.

Manager Hack Miller will probably start "Anagram" Anagram, called by some the fastest hurler in the league. Lubbock officials have predicted a big year for Anagram particularly after the clubs swing into night ball exclusively.

Del Ballinger, the new catcher secured by the Card manager from Sacramento, will be behind the bat tonight for the first time since his arrival. Ballinger is a highly regarded prospect by Sacramento officials and they have declared he would help the home team a great deal. Short and stocky, Ballinger has the ideal build of a catcher, and is also reputed to be a good hitter.

Manager Withers has also announced that he would alternate at least four of his pitchers in right field hereafter, the regular garden-er, Charlie Ringer, having been given his release at his own request.

Pitchers Nelson, Franklin and Warren have been showing just about as much power at the bat as some of the so-called hard hitters of the club and the manager is sure he won't be weakening the team either defensively or offensively by having them on the outer patrol.

Mexico Now Has the Oil, but What She Really Needs Is Some Money

Big Trouble Is to Find a Market for Expropriated Foreign-Owned Petroleum

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

MEXICO, D. F.—The whole economic structure of Mexico hangs on whether the republic is able to sell the oil confiscated from United States and British interests.

If Mexico can market the oil, all will be well. If she can not, prospects are almost hopeless for any kind of stable financial structure in the government.

One out of every 15 pesos of Mexican government revenue has come from taxes paid by the oil companies. That is now lost. About 42 per cent of the petroleum produced is refined and consumed within the country. But the other 58 per cent must be exported, and that oil is now running over the edges of storage tanks.

More than 1,000,000 pesos a week (about $250,000, according to present rates of exchange) in oil payrolls is being met regularly by the government. The 42 per cent local oil consumption enables this to be done.

True, the oil workers are not getting the raises they demanded from the American companies in the controversy that led to expropriation. In fact, they are getting a little less, although basic rates have not been cut because in some cases they are being asked to work eight hours instead of seven and one-half, with overtime for Sunday work in cases of emergency. This they are expected to accept, borne up on the wave of patriotism and "sacrifice for economic independence" which is now sweeping the country.

There are 18,000 oil workers, one of the largest labor groups in Mexico. These workers are faced with a definite prospect of a reduced standard of living in the name of patriotism.

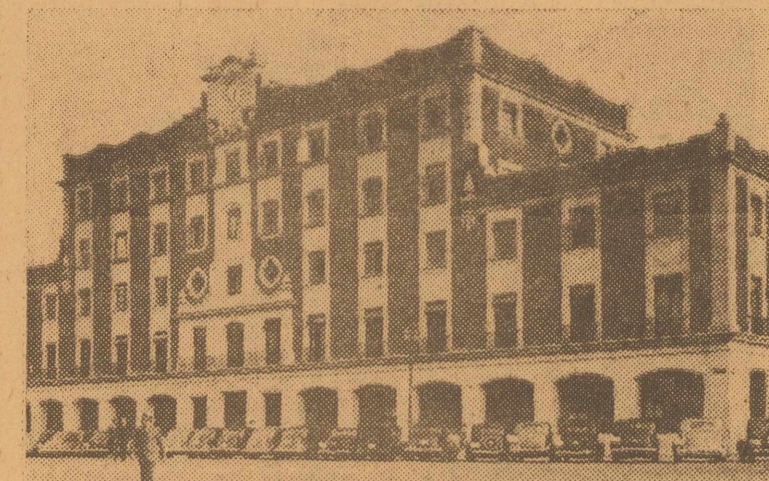

In addition, government operation leads logically to consolidations. There is no logical reason for an Aguila station on one corner and a Huasteca station across the street, now that all are being run by the government. Some officials estimate that consolidations would eliminate 5,000 jobs. The oil workers wouldn't like that.

The vigor with which Mexican workers approved the oil expropriations is vividly portrayed in the cartoon above, which was carried on the cover of the magazine "Futuro," organ of the CTM, the dominant labor union which is headed by Lombardo Toledano. The cartoon depicts a death blow being dealt to an octopus (representing foreign ownership of oil) which workers believed had taken a strangle-hold on the industry.

In the meantime they are getting their pay, but the government isn't getting the tax money it used to get. And it won't get it, or the extra funds to compensate for the confiscations, unless it can sell surplus oil abroad. The big foreign companies are determined to prevent such sales.

The embargo tactics being discussed, and tentatively applied, have teeth in them. The companies can't prevent Mexico from shipping oil, for it is a sovereign state and can not be sued. But if the oil is shipped to an individual in Stockholm, the companies can go into the Swedish courts and say "Look, this oil about to be delivered to this man is our oil, stolen

When the Mexican government confiscated oil properties in Mexico it expropriated everything it could lay its hand on. Above is the British oil building, just completed at a cost of $600,000, which the government promptly took over as headquarters from which to administer the confiscated oil wells, derricks and pipe lines.

not interfere. Should Mexico turn to Japan, Germany, or Italy, as she may in extremity, the pressure to prevent delivery will be of a different kind, but it will be there.

Business Decline.
Business has been falling off steadily here for almost a year. Last May a 15-day oil strike started the ball rolling, and all domestic business began to decline.

Oil company deposits and capital were sent out of the country, and Mexican money went with it. At the close of last year, by sudden decree, tariffs on American imports were suddenly raised, in some cases as much as 500 per cent. Imports immediately began to fall off.

A month ago came the oil expropriations. Credit tightened. Business went on a cash basis, as the peso was released to find its own level in relation to the dollar. An importer doesn't know how many pesos it would take to buy a foreign article from one day to another, or what he should charge a foreign buyer. Business stagnated, with many houses desperate because the labor syndicates refused to permit the discharge of idle help.

Tourists Staying Away.
In 1937 American tourists spent in Mexico around 50,000,000 American dollars. Not only is that equivalent to almost half the national government budget in terms of pesos, but it means actual dollars in hand to uphold the peso in foreign exchange dealings.

Since the oil expropriations, this tourist traffic has taken a sudden and terrific drop, estimated as high as 75 per cent. Highways which formerly saw 75 or 80 American cars plodding southward daily, now see 7 or 8. My wife and I were the sole Americans on the train southward from Laredo.

Deprived of once of oil tax revenue, of a large part of tourist revenue in actual dollars, faced with a sluggish domestic business situation, the Mexican treasury faces critical months in May and June.

Dollars Hard to Get.
The special session of the Mexican congress now meeting is regarded as almost certain to lower some of the tariff increases. But this must be done with care, for every time a person in Mexico buys something in the United States, dollars must first be bought with which to consummate the deal, and dollars are getting scarce.

Thus the Cardenas regime, many of whose accomplishments are admitted by even its enemies, has bitten off a very large lump in the oil expropriation. Facing a critical time during the next two months, everything hangs on what disposition it succeeds in making of its export oil supply.

After Austria-What Does Hitler Want?

Hitler's conquest of Austria was planned for in his book, Mein Kampf fourteen years ago. The new March of Time now at the Yucca Theatre shows that, as long ago as 1924 Hitler proposed to destroy Austria, then move on the greater things. Anschluss was to be merely the first step in a program designed to remake the map of Europe and place Germany in the dominant position.

Hitler's Reich is today larger than pre-war Germany. When will he complete the program set forth in Mein Kampf? The March of Time's episode, "Nazi Conquest—No. 1," reveals Hitler's fourteen-year-old plans and explains how he proposed to make Germany "the world power—or nothing."

Laboratory for Wildlife.

LAWTON, Okla. (U.P.)—The Wichita mountains near here have become a Federal laboratory for the study of wildlife. Dr. Hartley H. T. Jackson of the U. S. Biological Survey said the study and other like it throughout the nation are necessary "before effective game conservation laws can be drawn up and enforced."

Wife Chained by Peasant.

BELGRADE (U.P.)—For two years Stepan Munkash, a farmer near Bezdin, kept his wife locked in a cellar of his house to be free with his sweetheart, handsome Anna Nerolich. Relatives of the wife, coming to visit her, finally discovered the unfortunate woman's plight and had Munkash arrested under a charge of cruelty.

When the farmer has money to spend, almost everybody else has. Speaking for our friend, the barley farmer,—he's doing very well, thank you. He supplies the Home of BUDWEISER with 2,500,000 bushels of choicest grain each year... and is paid premium prices for it. The money we pay him he reinvests in farm machinery, trucks, automobiles, radios, food, clothing and other necessities and luxuries.
• Many men and many things are needed to produce BUDWEISER. The world's largest brewery is a vast clearing house through which pass millions of dollars not only to farmers, but to workmen in many kinds of factories all over America. We have to do a lot of buying before we can do a bit of brewing. That's why we say, "When you drink BUDWEISER, every sip helps somebody."

ers, benefits either when its monthly income increases or prices drop on goods and services it must buy. Mr. and Mrs. Average Consumer currently have been able to continue to buy in reasonable volume, despite a leaner pocketbook, as a result of the decline in prices during the last four months.

Rents Up Four Cents.
 "An apartment house or cottage today costs $1.04 to rent as against $1 a year ago Rents or housing, however, are the only important living expenditure today that are higher than they were twelve months ago.

"The sharpest decline in living expenses, compared with a year ago, has taken place in foods. Ninety-two cents today will buy the same amount and quality of meats and groceries as would a dollar last spring.

"Clothing today costs 99 cents as against one dollar a year ago. Miscellaneous items such as shaves, manicures, automobiles and amusements now cost only 96 cents as against one dollar at the start of April, 1937.

"The composite purchases of an average family now cost 98 cents as contrasted with one dollar at the start of April, 1937. Compared with the same months a year earlier the living expenditures in February were down one cent on the dollar, but in January they were up one cent, and in December they were up five cents.

"Real Income" Explained.
 The difference between the cash income of the average citizen, 81 cents at the start of April, 1938, against $1 a year earlier, and his cash outgo, 98 cents against $1 a year earlier, in his "real income" or 83 cents. This "real income" of 83 cents is not a mere subtraction of cash income from cash outgo, which would be an index of savings rather than real income, but an average relative figure of income and outgo designed to show how the cost of living affects the adjusted income dollar.

phane will be the prevailing packaging medium of the future. More and more food products are being put up in this transparent material that allows the purchaser to see what she is getting—and for the seller saves storage space formerly consumed by boxes and cans. All in all, cellophane's popularity is to be approved.

Hint to forehanded housekeepers:
Stock your emergency shelf with picnic supplies or you'll find yourself in a dither some fine evening when Friend Husband and the children come in clamoring for an outing.

By supplies, we don't mean food, which every woman must select according to the needs of her family but those other necessities which can make an outdoor supper easy.
We mean paper napkins (and besides the regulation size ones in most any desired color, stores are now showing the little "cocktail" napkins for use with various drinks), boxes of paper forks and spoons, even paper tablecloths with matching napkins if you go in for ensembling effects. Such things you really should have, along with paper plates and cups, and various-sized paper dishes if you go in for de luxe picnics. It's a good thing to have one or more of the exceedingly long-handled forks for toasting bread, weiners, bacon, or marshmallows.
Though personally we've found a clean sharpened stick more to the point in such work.

Bridges After Shot.
Finley & Cherry and Sawyer
Drilling Company No. 1 Dalmont, in southern Gaines, this morning was hauling in circulating oil preparatory to cleaning out on bridge.
It was shot yesterday at 3:40 p. m.
with 280 quarts of nitro from 4,708-77. There was a six-foot anchor of nitro shell containing dry cement from 4,777-83, bottom of the hole.
A yard and a half of wet sand temp was placed on top of shot.
The hole bridged immediately after shot at 4,445 feet, bottom of the 7-inch pipe. Operators said here today that if the well fails to show commercial production after bridge has been drilled out and tests made, they will core it deeper. Contract calls for depth of 5,100 feet, oil in commercial quantity or sulphur water in the lime. Bailing test made before shooting had shown about three-fourths of a barrel of water hourly, bearing only a scum of oil.
Analysis had not been made to determine if water were sulphur water or drilling fluid contaminated by sulphur gas. The well is located 1,980 feet from the north, 660 feet from the west, line of section 6, block A-21, public school land.

Second cement job at bottom of 7-inch pipe set at 4,280 having failed,
Eastland Oil Company No. 1 P. C. Dunbar was re-cementing this morning with 60 sacks. Mud and water had broken in when bailing had reached 1,000 feet from surface. If present cement job fails, operators said they will run a smaller string of pipe inside the 7-inch. Total depth of the well is 4,483 feet in line which showed intervals of saturation and porosity in the bottom 100 feet.

PTA Units Start on Summer Round-Up
AUSTIN. — Local units of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers throughout the state are beginning their Summer Round-Up work, a health campaign the object of which is to send to the entering grades of schools a class of children as free from remediable defects, both physical and mental, as possible.
"The campaign is intended to arouse in the parent a sense of responsibility," according to Mrs. E.
M. Carter of Sherman, Round-Up chairman of the Texas Congress,
"and to bring public opinion to bear upon the need of providing the school with pupils who furnish perfect working material.
"When the Summer Round-Up was first begun in 1925, the examinations were practically all made in groups, as it was believed that the stimulus of the groups in arousing interest was needed at that time.
The present policy, however, is to advise parents to take their children to their family physician and dentist for examination and treatment."
The Round-Up in the summer, in which preschool children are examined and defects found, is followed by a check-up in the fall to determine the results of the campaign.
A summary of the results of the 1937 Round-Up in Texas shows the following facts; PTA units registering for the Round-Up, 509; units carrying through the Round-Up, 185; number of these units meeting campaign requirements, 173; children entering school, 9,388; children examined, 4,439; parents present at examination, 3,009; defects discovered, 3,632; defects corrected, 1-382; children found not protected against smallpox, 2,631; children subsequently protected against smallpox, 1,334; children found not protected against diphtheria, 2,049; children subsequently protected against diphtheria, 801; children referred to physician, 1,180; children consulting physician, 505; children referred to dentist, 928; children consulting dentist, 402; children receiving tuberculin test, 421.
