Ransom Bill In Cash Case Found Today

Federal Agents Try To Trace Money to Person Passing It

PRINCETON, Fla., June 7 (AP). — The Miami News said today federal agents had recovered a five dollar bill, a part of the $10,000 ransom James Cash paid vainly for the return of his kidnapped son. The News said the bill was spotted by a filling station attendant at Jacksonville. The newspaper said the men who passed the bill were two Tennessee policemen returning home from a vacation in Miami. They were released after being questioned. Where the bill was obtained was not ascertained. Monday, federal agents released the only two men they were known to be holding while a handful of men continued a last-chance search of islands south of here. James Bailey Cash Sr. reopened his filling station and lunchroom for the first time since his five-year-old only child was abducted a week ago Saturday. The men released were M. F. Braxton, unemployed Princeton carpenter, and his son, James, a Cape Sable commercial fisherman. The men returned home shortly after their wives made a fearful appeal for their release. They did not discuss the investigation. J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director, was reported to have visited the spot where the ransom was paid before coming here. Searchers were sent to Buttonwood Key, an island south of here, upon receipt of a report a navy plane had sighted a boat among the mangrove bushes.

Warplanes Bombard Canton Three Times Today, Hundreds Die

CANTON, June 7 (AP). — Japanese warplanes bombed this South China city three times today and swelled the toll of dead and wounded which reached 6,000 since a punishing series of raids began 11 days ago. Canton, including the foreign settlement on Shameen Island, was without electric power tonight. Chinese officials feared the toll might be even higher as rescue workers searched the ruins of more than 1,000 buildings destroyed or damaged. Today's attack raised to 6,000 the estimated total of casualties in this city since the current series of raids began May 28. More than 100 bombs fell as the warplanes swept over in droves in one attack at 8:30 a. m. and another two hours later. One side of the French-owned Donner Hospital on the river front was blown out. A French military surgeon was wounded, two Chinese patients killed and seven injured. The hospital was struck as the raiders attempted to bomb the Pearl river bridge. (Charles Arsene Henry, French ambassador to Tokyo, protested to the Japanese government against the bombing.) A. P. Blunt, the British consul general, telephoned a protest to the Japanese consul in Hongkong against the flight of the warplanes over the International quarter. Government buildings, railway stations, electric power plants and the Pearl river bridge apparently were the principal objectives of the fliers.

Half Inch of Rain Falls in Midland Early Last Night

The heaviest rain to hit Midland in weeks fell early last night in the space of about 30 minutes. The rain, a downpour during the short time it lasted, reached a total of .58 of an inch. Like the rain that fell last week, the one last night was not heavy enough to be of much benefit to crops. However, it did cause the mercury to take a sharp drop today, relieving heat, suffering residents. Lawns and shrubbery in the city were greatly benefited by the precipitation. Reports from the surrounding area indicate the rainfall was general between here and Lubbock, one man reporting he drove through rain all the way from Lubbock here last night.

Deep Pool for Andrews Looms As Perkins Cowden Heads Oil

BY FRANK GARDNER. Making a head of high-gravity oil each time better was run this morning, southwestern Andrews' deep test, the Frank S. Perkins et al No. 1 E. P. Cowden, appeared assured of developing production from a depth of approximately 7,700 feet. Yesterday two special Lane-Wells casing plugs were set, the first at 7,723 and the second at 7,714. These were set to shut off bottom-hole sulphur water which rose 1,000 to 1,200 feet in the hole after 5-inch casing was perforated with 156 shots from 7,666 to 7,760. Shortly before noon, the No. 1 Cowden was shut down awaiting special casing swab rubbers, which will be brought over from Jal, N. M. Operators here said they were confident it would make a commercial producer but were unable to hazard a guess as to its probable size. Hole had been loaded with oil prior to perforating casing, but it is said that oil now being headed is definitely new oil, being of much higher gravity. No. 1 Cowden drilled to a total depth of 8,012 feet, deepest yet attained by any well in the northern part of the Basin. It was believed by operators to be still in Permian lime and black shale at total depth, but some reported the horizon to be of Pennsylvanian age. Schlumberger electrical survey made before casing was run showed several oil and gas zones in the deeper horizons. Five-inch pipe was cemented at 8,004, with cement plug filling hole to 7,902. The well is located in section

Filibuster Threatened By Senators

Adjournment Plans Given Set Back by Wage-Hour Fuss

WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP). — Senate and house conferees apparently were near to an agreement today on the controversial wage-hour legislation which had started a north and south fight at the capital. Senate conferees adopted a compromise taking out the measure of requirements that the 40-cent an hour pay scale be applied to all inter-state industry at the end of five years. Later Chairman Norris of the house conference group indicated house conferees would join in the proposal. WASHINGTON, June 7 (AP). — A tacit warning by a group of Southern senators that they would filibuster against new wage-hour proposal last night worried congressional leaders who had hoped to dispose of the complex question quickly and adjourn by Saturday. It appeared doubtful whether their hopes would materialize. Before the Southerners spoke, the wage-hour proposal, which was offered as a compromise, has appeared likely to break the deadlock between senate and house providing for a seven-year delay before imposing a flat 40-cent minimum wage the country over. The suggestion has attracted wide support. Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate labor committee brought it out as a composite of suggestions that had been made. But the Southerners, realizing themselves outvoted in the conference committee, held a caucus of their own. They were inclined to favor those portions of the Thomas scheme which provided for a 25-cent wage the first year, 27 1/2 cents the second and scales fixed upon the recommendation of industrial boards the next five years. But objection was raised by certain of the Southerners to the provision for a country-wide scale of 40 cents after the seventh year. Quickly, they made it plain the price of such an arrangement would be a long delay in ending the session. The report of the conference committee must go to both senate and house for debate and approval. "There will be full discussion in the senate," Senator Ellender (D-La.) remarked ominously. The conference by Southern senators was attended by Senators Ellender (D-La.) and Pepper (D-Fla.), members of the conference committee, and Senators Andrews (D-Fla.), Bankhead (D-Ala.), Connally (D-Tex.), Overton (D-La.), Byrnes (D-SC), Smith (D-SC), and Russell (D-Ga.). One of the important issues before the senate-house conferees is rigidity vs. elasticity. As passed by the senate, the wage-hour bill proposed a 40-cent minimum wage to be administered by a board empowered to grant exemptions, while the house measure called for rigid imposition of minima advancing from 25 cents an hour the first year to 40 cents after the third. By flatly applying wage minima the first two years, and then permitting exceptions to the next five years, Thomas sought to win support from supporters of rigidity and elasticity.

Insurgents Launch Strong Offensive

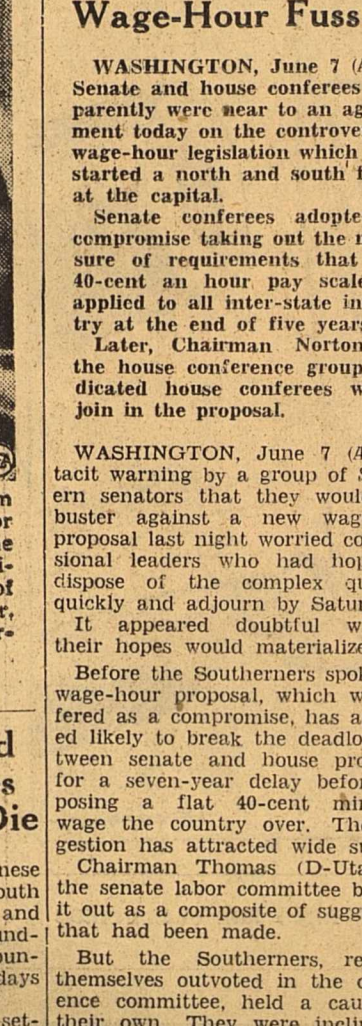

HENDAYE, France, June 7 (AP). — Spanish insurgents today launched a general offensive against Valencia along a 50-mile front between Teruel and the Mediterranean. The attack was supported by hundreds of planes and large concentrations of heavy artillery. MILAN, June 7 (AP). — Premier Mussolini's newspaper Il Popolo D'Italia today replied to Secretary Hull's speech of June third with the admonition the United States, before trying to humanize warfare in Europe, should learn to protect its own citizens. The editor obviously referred to the recent kidnappings in the United States. Accounts of the Levine and Cash cases have been widely published in Italy.

Full of pep and vinegar after a winter on the open range, this sun-fishing South Dakota bronc is giving his rider a taste of some bad medicine to start out the spring rodeo season. With all four feet off the ground, hooves flying, body twisted in a devilish spin, the horse has disengaged the rider from the saddle and tossed him in the air, his boots still entangled in the stirrups. Texas, New Mexico Pipe Line Company To Erect Building

Construction of a one-story brick office building across the street from Petroleum Bldg. at the site previously occupied by the house known as the Rasken home, will be started in the morning by the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line company. The house that stood on the lot has been removed and final clearing of the lot was to be completed today. J. H. Moss is the contractor of the new building and has promised to have it ready for occupancy within 60 days. The main office of the company will be placed in the building when it is completed, the office personnel being moved here from Junction. Approximately a dozen families will be moved here by the company, and several of them have already made plans to build their homes here. E. R. Osburn, general superintendent of the company, is here at present. He is in charge of work being done in stringing four telephone lines for the company from Crane to Midland.

Will Discuss Cause of Tragedy

"On The Trail of Tragedy" will be the title of the paper to be read by Miss M. Elizabeth Wilson, county health nurse, on the good health program to be broadcast over station KRLH Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The paper will include a discussion of suicides, insanity, and other tragedies and the variety of causes which may be responsible for them. Mrs. F. R. Schenck will announce the program. Musical numbers will be transcribed. STAMFORD, June 7. — Jean, national champion sheep dog for three years, will be presented by her owner, Luke J. Pasco of Chicago, in an exhibition in herding untrained sheep as a special attraction at the ninth annual Cowboy Reunion in Stamford July 4, 5 and 6. Along with Jean will appear another of Pasco's intelligent sheep dogs. The sheep dog exhibition, an entirely new entertainment feature for the cowboy gathering, will be included on all afternoon and night rodeo performances, making a total of six appearances. The dogs will not appear in the morning shows. Pasco and his sheep dogs have appeared at such shows as the International Livestock Exposition, Chicago; Southwestern Exposition and Fair Stock Show, Fort Worth; National Western Stock Show, Denver, and Madison Square Garden, New York. The dogs are guided in their clever maneuvers in handling sheep by whistle signals from their master, each tone of whistle having a certain meaning. Segregating an individual sheep from the flock, herding the flock into a small pen and sorting the herd into different groups are some of the feats which the dogs perform, unaided except for Pasco's signals. The sheep dog act is one of the events in an elaborate rodeo program which includes bronc-riding, calf-roping, wild cow-milking, steer-riding, cutting horse contest and a special roping contest for cowboys over 65 years of age.

Backer of Roosevelt Losing Out

Incumbent Polls Over Half of the Votes Cast Monday

DES MOINES, June 7 (AP). — The purported drive of some nationally known New Dealers against Iowa Senator Guy Gillette appeared to have been swamped under a deluge of democratic primary votes today. Gillette, who charged New Deal strategist Tommy Corcoran was directing the drive against him from Washington, was polling more than 50 per cent of the votes. Representative Otha Wearin, endorsed by W.P. chief Harry Hopkins, was receiving little more than a quarter of the total and three other candidates were sharing the rest. Incomplete returns gave Gillette 63,537 and Wearin 34,989 votes. Former Senator L. J. Dickinson, attempting a comeback after his defeat two years ago, was adding to his lead over Representative Lloyd Thurston for the Republican Senatorial nomination. Gillette sought renomination for the senate on a platform of loyalty to President Roosevelt but said he would retain the right to judge each New Deal proposal on its individual merits if he is re-elected. He was one of the foes of the President's court reform plan but supported the re-organization bill and other administration measures. Wearin was called "my friend" in a telegram from James Roosevelt, son of the President, during the campaign. 2 Children Killed When Roof of Barn Collapses on Them

WASHINGTON.—Numerous guests at the Soviet embassy the other night wished they had been totting candid cameras. There, in white ties and long coat-tails, were Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes of the Supreme Court and Justice Hugo L. Black, engaged in earnest—and cordial—conversation. Between them, listening in, was Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, who led the successful fight against the Roosevelt Supreme Court plan last year. One man who could have used a camera to good advantage had he been there was Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas, whose opponent in this year's Democratic primary already is campaigning against him on the issue that Maverick has been a guest at the Russian embassy. To disqualify from public office men guilty of that offense would depopulate Washington of nearly all its big shots, Republicans and Democrats alike.

RUSSIANS RABID SENATOR FANS.
ALTHOUGH Mr. Roosevelt is having trouble finding someone who wants the American ambassadorship at Moscow, there's no question that Ambassador and Mmes. Troyanovsky are enjoying themselves in Washington. One day you see the Troyanovskys at a nearby race track and a day or two later you see them at an American League baseball game. And a few evenings later you spot them coming out of a downtown movie house, then strolling slowly down F street and gazing into each shop window.

A visitor to Troyanovsky's office recently heard the ambassador talking on the telephone. "Yes, yes!" the envoy from the U. S. S. R. was exclaiming with some glee, "we won in the last inning!" He was talking about the Washington baseball team.

Tommy Corcoran, correctly credited with ghost-writing many speeches for Mr. Roosevelt and other New Deal luminaries, has had a book out of the RFC library for some time. It's a small volume called "Washington's Farewell Address."

MRS. ROGERS AND THE JAPANESE.

EDITH NOURSE ROGERS, congresswoman, appeared conspicuously in a newsreel recently shown here. Entering the theater to see herself in action, she found she had come a few minutes too late. A full-length feature picture starring Ginger Rogers, not Edith, flashed on the screen. Uninterested, Mrs. Rogers departed.

SENATOR RUSH HOLT of West Virginia: "We need another WPA director. Of course I know that my word will not be heeded at the White House. I am not being fooled into believing that just because I ask Harry Hopkins to go he will go. Instead, he will probably get a raise in salary."

Seeking to stem the flow of Japanese goods into this country, Mrs. Rogers has collected—and indignantly displays—some 20 or more souvenir articles sold in Washington stores, metallic reproductions of the Capitol, Washington Monument, and so on—all marked "Made in Japan."

Mrs. Rogers tells how an American manufacturer sold cheaply some glasses which were inferior because air bubbles had accidentally appeared in them. Japanese, she says reproduced the glasses with the bubbles faithfully copied—at a still lower price.

So far, it appears, Mrs. Rogers hasn't heard that the Japanese lanterns assembled for a big White few of them get a salary for doing it. George Ernest, who portrays young Roger Jones in 20th Century Fox's justly famous Jones Family series, the newest of which is now at the Ritz theater, has the candid camera bag.

Young George, some time ago, fitted out the bathroom in his home as a dark room—red lamps, green lamps, trays, tanks and printing frames—complete. Imagine his joy (to say nothing of his opportunity to act his part naturally) when his present role in "A Trip to Paris" called for him to enact a candid camera-struck youth. And imagine the script calling for him to fit up a bathroom in the picture—as a dark room!

"This movie job is like home, sweet home," remarked George.

A suggested new-use for cotton by W. G. Hayden, Big Spring, Tex., editor: Cotton fabric such as used in road construction should prove ideal for roofs on flat top homes and business buildings. Well, if we can get a few more showers like that one last night the crops will be all right. What rain we got really fell in a hurry.

And speaking of rain brings to mind what Bill Colyns said yesterday after returning from Marshall. "I never saw so much rain, so many trees and so many niggers in all my life," Bill opined.

I am late with this so I will fill it up with a bunch of jokes I found in the Texas Outlook.

Feminine Fancies

The strictly modernistic style of furniture has lost some of its appeal during the past year, a dealer in better grade furniture tells us. The reason, he avers, is because the modernistic pieces with their lack of intricate designing and finish may be easily produced and so may be copied in cheap grades, whereas the curved and carved pieces (reminiscent of the elegant 1800's) now coming into favor of necessity are of the finer quality workmanship and materials.

Their quality is evident at first glance as that of modernistic articles may not be.

Nevertheless, modernistic styles continue to be shown in attractive suites and therefore must still be favored by many.

Personally, not liking to dust or care for complicated carvings and other ornate details, we still hanker after the clean, smooth lines of the modern designs.

One striking bedroom suite would bring ecstatic exclamations from the high school miss or her co-ed sister. Of blonde bird's eye maple, this suite is distinguished by an unusual vanity.

At first glance, the entire back of the vanity, down to the floor, seems composed of one huge circular mirror against which three drawers are posed on the left-hand for toilet articles. To the right of the drawers a wide glass shelf forms what would ordinarily be the top of the vanity.

The beauty of this is that, while seated, lady may view her slippers as well as her curls and so get an ensemble idea of her appearance.

In reality, of course, the glass back is not composed of the single huge glass circle that it seems to be composed of. The mirror proper is semi-circular, there is no glass behind the drawers, and the glass below the shelf is another piece, but the circular effect remains.

And speaking of circles and circular effects, the idea is used to advantage in a servitor which stands

Baptist Circles Will Meet Together During the Summer

All circles shall meet together at the church during the summer it was decided at a business session of the Baptist missionary union held at the church Monday afternoon. Time of meetings was changed from 3:30 until 4 o'clock.

Mrs. J. Howard Hodge was elected to teach the study book on "The Levant."

Plans were made for a program on church hospitals to be presented sometime this month.

A letter was read asking a donation for a church now being built. Announcement was made that the daily vacation Bible school of the church will open Monday.

Mrs. R. O. Walker led the opening prayer and Mrs. S. L. Alexander led the singing.

Psalms 27:1-7 was read as the devotional.

Circle chairmen made reports. Mrs. H. S. Collings acted as president in the absence of Mrs. Myrtle Smith who was ill.

Mrs. Alexander dismissed the meeting at which about 20 women were present.

flat against your dining room wall but whose top is a half-circle with the drawer and cabinet space beneath curved in the same manner.

Especially in a small room this should eliminate the danger of running against a sharp corner when the hurried housewife (or even hubby or Little Johnny) falls to look where he is going. It will probably be highly recommended by husbands who have a falling for groping through the dark to the kitchen for a cold drink of water in the wee hours of night.

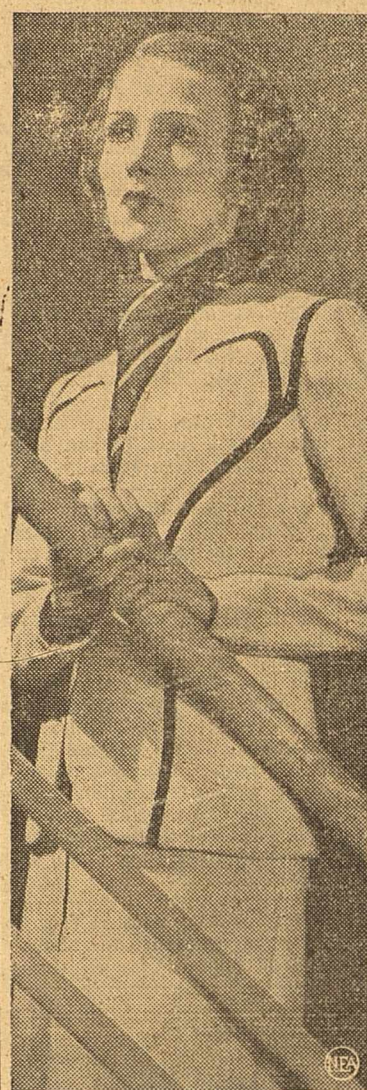

A new idea for dining room tables is to have the extra leaves for use when company comes inserted near one end of the table instead of in the center.

We vote a laurel wreath for whoever thought up this improvement. Too many times our not-so-saintly temper has been tried by having to yank, pull, and tug at a heavy table in order to open it for inserting leaves in the middle.

Only Bees in Haunted House.

TURLOCK, Cal. (U.P.) — Migratory workers started the rumor here that a vacant house was haunted, insisting they had not only heard rumblings in the house at night but had actually seen the "ghost" fly in and out the windows. Finally police were called to watch, and the "ghost" flew out of the window in the shape of two swarms of bees.

Paris Sounds Gayer Note In "In-Between" Styles

For resort wear or a yachting party, nothing could be smarter than this Patou suit. It is white wool, with intricate engravings stressing the new length and the squared shoulders. These are bright blue wool, to match the scarf, which is striped in darker blue and white.

For a day's shopping in town in the summer or a sightseeing expedition abroad, Molyneux's ensemble shown here is both practical and elegant. It is made of wool crepe, in light navy, with the tuilps and rounded neckline done in white embroidery. The model in the background wears a pleated silk skirt in navy blue and a natural linen jacket.

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE, NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS. — Even the best-planned summer wardrobe is apt to lack an extra dress for in-between occasions. You may have all the dainty sheer frocks you will be likely to need, with your spring suit for off-days and an all-round black crepe dress, but it's a good idea to consider an ensemble or a suit which would look equally good in town and later on, in the country or at the seaside.

The midseason collections offer a large choice in this category of clothes, destined for women who spend a day or two in the city on their way from a seaside resort to a country house invitation, or again, for a sightseeing trip which includes museums, galleries, and so on, ending up with outdoor luncheon.

Light Colors Predominate.

Most of these are light-colored and bright. Trim suits in bright pink, blue, purple or white, the latter always edged with a dark color, are shown by Paquin. Feminine, but not too fussy, blouses accompany these tailcoats, which later will be perfect for a week-end in the country or elsewhere with a change of accessories.

Molyneux suggests both the pastel and the always safe dark blue ensemble for this purpose. Beige is a color which is also invariably right, especially when it is combined with the new rich yellows and a dash of green or red.

These little suits are different in that they are a shade more fanciful than the first spring suit. Linings often match the blouse, for example, and a touch of embroidery, or some such other whimsical note, will adorn the jacket or bolero of the ensemble.

Methodist Women Present Double Program Monday

A double meeting, consisting of the regular business session and the World Outlook program, was held by the Methodist missionary society at the church Monday afternoon.

Because of the revival which will open next Sunday, further meetings will not be held during the month.

Mrs. S. H. Hudkins was leader for the World Outlook program which was in charge of the Mary Scharbauer circle. She brought the devotional on "The Indebtedness of Women to Jesus."

Two selections from the Scriptures were read, one from Mark 10:12 by Mrs. W. A. Black and the other from John 4:7-30 by Mrs. T. A. Famin.

Leaflet study was on "Building the Kingdom of God in Japan" and parts were presented by Mmes. Hudkins, J. L. Tidwell, Frank Prothro, O. F. Hedrick.

Mrs. J. M. Prothro, society president, was in charge of the business session during which reports of officers were heard. She also offered the first prayer.

Closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Hudkins.

Approximately 20 women were present.

Marcellene Howard Honored With Party On Fifth Birthday

As a birthday courtesy to her five-year-old daughter, Marcellene, Mrs. Burshel Howard entertained with a party at her home, 508 N. Colorado, Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Games were played outdoors and pictures of the children were made.

Gifts presented to the honoree were opened.

At the refreshment hour, the birthday cake was decorated in green and white. Favors were balloons.

Boys and girls present were: The honoree, Peggy Lou Whitson, Mary Frank Smith, Whit Stanley, Charles Neely, Rosalind Leggett, Walter Leggett, Frank Allen Roberson, Paul Dale Smith, Mary Helen Winston, Margaret Mims, Billy Mims, Bobby Jean Howard, Lavada Crudup, Avajene Crudup.

Piano Program Attracts Good Crowd Monday

With a good-sized crowd in attendance, despite the rain, the concluding program for the Wallace Wimberly piano classes of the winter term was presented at the First Baptist church Monday evening.

"I believe it is the best one I've ever had," Mr. Wimberly said in expressing satisfaction with the program and with the showing made Lelong's Yellow and Black.

Yellow and black is a good combination for these "in-between" numbers. Lelong has a model in his midseason collection which consists of a linden-yellow jacket, fitted and buttoned from the bust to a little below the waistline, where the rounded fronts open onto a white pique vestee. This is worn with a black wool crepe skirt.

Patou, on the other hand, suggests dark blue uncrushable linen made into a pert dress with box-pleated front and simple bodice trimmed with an upstanding ruche which goes around the neck and down the front. This is completed by a tuxedo jacket with a soft, flat collar and sleeves in printed linen—several shades of blue on white.

Both this jacket and Lelong's could do double duty as evening jackets with slim, white and even navy dinner dresses, and look very smart.

Women of First Christian Church Re-Organize Work

Honoring the Rijnhart circle of the missionary society of the First Christian church, Mrs. S. P. Hall, 1004 W. Tennessee, was hostess to the two organizations at the monthly meeting of the latter Monday afternoon.

The following program numbers were presented under Mrs. Geo. Ratliff as leader:

Opening prayer—Mrs. Chas. Brown. Devotional—Mrs. J. V. Stokes Sr. Discussion, "The Progress of Christianity as Contrasted to Pagan Religions"—Mrs. Ratliff.

Talk—"Not Without Witness"—Mrs. J. E. Pickering.

Talk—"Unity in Christian Missionary Work"—Mrs. Chas. Klapproth.

The women's work was re-organized to include every woman in the church and the following corps of officers was elected: President, Mrs. Klapproth; vice-president, Mrs. L. B. Pemberton; treasurer, Mrs. B. W. Stevens; recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. Elder; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Glenn Brunson; librarian, Mrs. Wade Heath.

The treasurer presented a report showing the sum of money in the treasury.

After the business session refreshments were served. The table for the service was laid with a lace cloth and centered with daisies and other blossoms.

Present were: Mmes. Brown, G. H. Butler, F. C. Cummings, Heath, J. R. Jones, Klapproth, Joe Norman, M. A. Park, Pemberton, Pickering, Ella Ragsdale, Ratliff, B. W. Recer, D. B. Snider, Stevens, Stokes, Horace Rankin, Frank Elkin, Elder, one visitor, Miss Ida Bright of Abilene, and the hostess.

Liquor Find Speeds Work.

PCCATELLO, Ida. (UP).—WPA workers, improving a road near Inkton, unearthed a cache of a prohibition bootlegger. The quality proving fine, and a report spreading that another 5-gallon jug of well-aged moonshine was buried in the vicinity, rapid progress was made on speeding up the road improvement.

We, The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT.

How to meet a man and marry him is still the great question for most of the girls in the country whether they are 16 or 26.

It was the great question when newspapers first hired women to answer letters signed "Blue Eyes" and it is still in the front of most girls' minds.

In small towns they think the answer is a city. If they could only live a year or two in New York or Chicago, then they would have a chance to meet the interesting men.

And in a city the girls moan because there is no way to meet them—interesting or otherwise. One of the New York papers the other day carried a story about two girls who were giving up good jobs in New York to go West, where "there is a chance to meet men."

And there are girls in the West right now who are scheming and planning to go East "where there is a chance to meet men."

So what is the answer?

Well, we hold with what on first thought may sound like a hard, even callous, theory. If you can't find a man one place, you won't find him somewhere else.

Changing your locale will do nothing to change your technique, and it is usually the latter that is responsible for a marked scarcity of men.

Instead of trying your luck in a different part of the county, or sitting around wishing you could, it would be more sensible to carefully study the girl who doesn't seem to have difficulty meeting men. Say quite frankly "What has she got that I haven't got?"—and then watch her until you can answer the question.

You'll probably find that it isn't brains, money (unless she has a lot of it), or even beauty. Certainly, one thing you'll notice, is that she has self-confidence. And you'll probably see, too, that she has a quality of aliveness. Don't be surprised if she laughs easily (that doesn't mean giggles self-consciously). Or if she is fundamentally, though light-hearted, kind in her manner toward everyone. Or that she has a knack of making people like themselves.

Girls aren't born knowing how to meet men. It is an art, and one that can be acquired at home as well as it can in some far part of the country. The quickest way to learn it is to watch an expert—in action.

Midland Girl Is Awarded Bachelor Of Science Degree

DENTON, June 7. (Special). — Completing her undergraduate career this spring, Miss Walter Faye Cowden of Midland was awarded her bachelor of science degree Monday.

At the thirty-fifth annual commencement exercises at Texas State College for Women, her graduating class was the largest in T. S. C. W. history, including over 300 girls.

With physical education as her major subject, Miss Cowden minored in English. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cowden, she did part of her work toward a degree at Ward Belmont, Nashville, Tenn., and Baylor University, Waco.

Amazing Dr. O'Callaghan Does Everything, And Does It Well Indeed, Thank You

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD, NEA Service Sports Writer.

Meet the amazing Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan of Dublin — chief-of-staff at Tipperary General Hospital, Olympic Champion and by simple admission, one of the greatest athletes in the world.

Maybe the Good Doctor won't up and state he's the GREATEST on the globe, but in his confident and dignified manner he gives you to understand he's quite some shakes — or the Irish equivalent thereof. What does he do? Well (taking a deep breath) Dr. O'Callaghan is a hammer thrower, hurdler, high jumper, broad jumper, discus heaver, shot putter, sprinter, quarter miler, boxer, wrestler, Gaelic footballer, golfer, swimmer, and handball star.

That's all. Currently touring the United States, Ireland's prize athletic specimen, on a leave of absence from his hospital duties, has an idea he can pick up some nice change in boxing and wrestling circles.

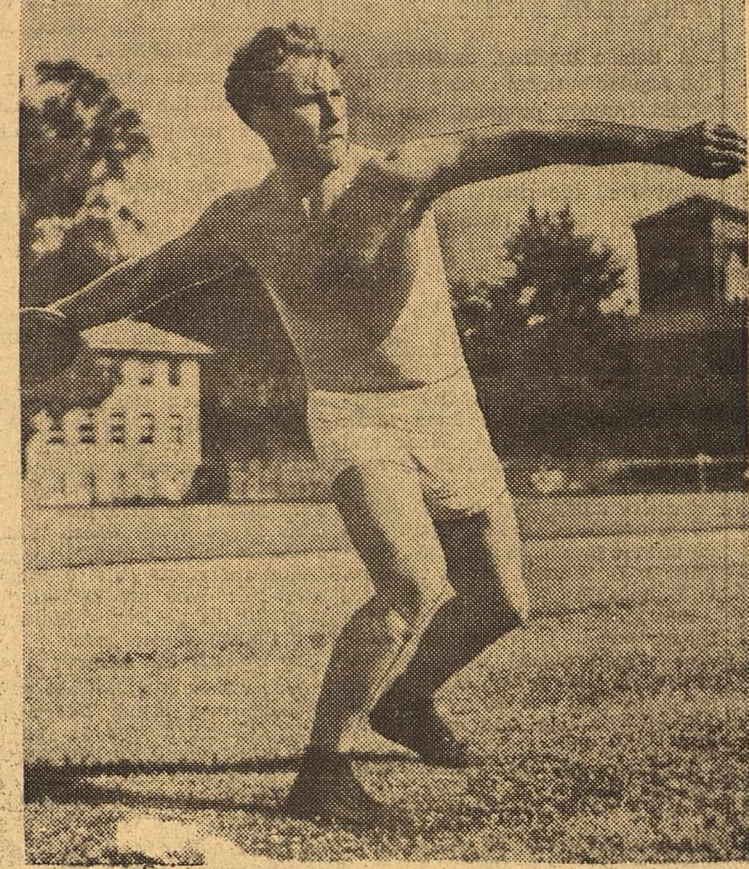

Patrick is in his best element on the cinder path, or when he's throwing various items of hardware through the air for astonishing distances. . . . but a body can't get rich that way.

So before he returns to his scalpel and laboratory in Tipperary Hospital he'll take a fling at the ring—both boxing and wrestling.

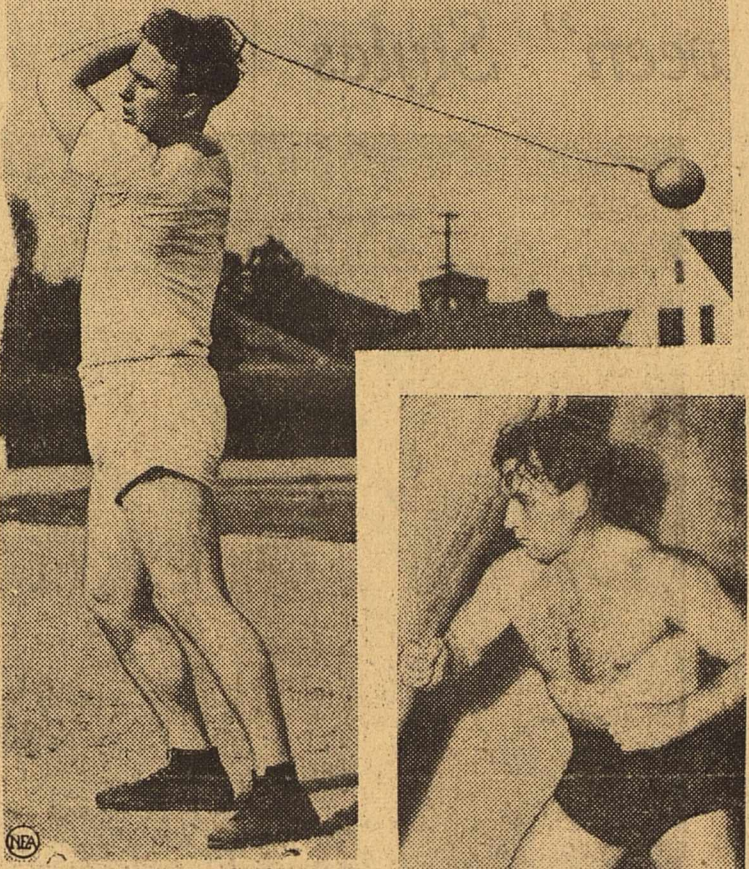

WOULD MEET ADAMICK IN RING DEBUT

O'CALLAGHAN, a largish individual who stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 230, is tremendously fast for his size. Fast enough, in fact, to clip off the hundred in 10-flat. He's never had any professional experience in the squared arena, but he probably has more class than any amateur ever displayed before.

His confidence in himself is such that he is negotiating for a match with Jimmy Adamick, off all people for his first professional ring battle. And it takes a first-rater having a hot night, to trade leather with the uprising young clouter from Midland, Mich.

O'Callaghan heaves the discus.

O'Callaghan throws the hammer.

In his mat debut on the west coast, Patrick took ferocious El Pulpo, a first-rate Mexican grappler, and tossed him in eight minutes, breaking his foe's arm in the process.

The learned man from Ireland holds degrees from Dublin University in surgery, medicine and obstetrics, but the most amazing thing about him is his list of achievements in track and field. It just doesn't seem possible for a man to be so versatile, yet cold facts speak for themselves.

He won the Olympic hammer throw at the age of 18 at Amsterdam, and repeated again at Los Angeles in 1932. Because the Irish Athletic Association was suspended by the International Body in 1935, he couldn't compete in 1936 at Berlin.

His world record in the event is 198 feet 8 inches. He has thrown the shot 53 feet 4 inches; high jumped 6 feet 4; broad jumped 23 feet 8; has run the 100 in 10.2; the 440 in 49.4, and has thrown the discus 152 feet 8 inches.

Most of these efforts would take first place in a lot of dual meets in America.

SHARP SHOOTING ALSO ON HIS LIST

FOR three years he has been the amateur heavyweight wrestling and boxing champion of Ireland and is also considered the outstanding clay pigeon shot in the land.

He was top man in his medical class at Dublin, and still found time to be the outstanding athlete in school—and later in the country.

An individualist to the nth degree, he twice found himself in jail, once in 1921, and again in 1922, for his activities with the Irish Republican army, in those trying days after the World War.

An interviewer, on going through his scrapbook on the west coast, murmured: "Boy, if you could only cook. . . ."

The Doctor perked up his ears and raised an indignant eyebrow.

"Heavens, my good fellow," he thundered in a rich Gaelic brogue, "that's what I do best of all!"

Simply amazing, this Dr. O'Callaghan.

CARDINALS WILL TRY TO BREAK JINX IN GAME WITH THE HUBBERS TONIGHT

By JESS RODGERS.

The Midland Cardinals, in the first division for the first time this year, and boasting three wins in their last four starts, tonight at 8:30 will meet the Lubbock Hubbers, a team they have been unable to defeat all year.

The scheduled game with Wink last night was rained out, giving the Cardinal pitching staff some much needed rest. "Dizzy" Tommy Warren was scheduled to start the game last night and will probably get the starting assignment tonight.

The Cardinals, thanks to their recent winning streak and a losing streak by the Big Spring Barons, are tied up with the Howard county club for fourth place in the standings. The Cardinals are only one game behind the third place Hobbs Boosters and two games back of the second place Wink team.

The Cardinals and Hubbers will meet in two games tomorrow, the first to start at 4:30 in the afternoon and the second at 8:30 p. m.

In the other league games played yesterday, the Big Spring Barons defeated Lubbock, 3-1, in a game called at the end of the eighth inning on account of wet grounds. The cellar Clovis Pioneers had a walkaway in handing Hobbs a 20-5 lacing.

Personals

Miss Dorothy Cook and Miss Eula Mae Yeats have returned from Big Spring where they have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Coy B. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Cook had as their guests recently, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cook from Royalty, Texas.

John T. Bell of Garden City and daughter, Miss Maxine, and son, B. C. are in Midland today on business.

Mrs. Adrian Van Kampen and son, John, will leave Wednesday for Milwaukee to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stone. After a stay at Milwaukee they will go to Nashotok, Wis., to spend the remainder of the summer at Moose Lake. Mr. Van Kampen will accompany them as far as Dallas. On her return from the north, Mrs. Van Kampen will bring with her in September her two nieces to make their home with her here.

Mrs. F. D. Gardner went to Big Spring to meet her brother, William Stephens of Fort Worth. He accompanied her home for a visit.

Boy, 16, Charged in Child's Death

Held for investigation since shortly after the mutilated body of 6-year-old Shirley Ann Woodburn was found near her home in Cincinnati, Lindbergh Heist Trent, above, has been charged with the murder of the child. Detectives announced that the 16-year-old Trent had confessed stabbing the child to death, but the youth told reporters he couldn't remember committing the crime.

Girl, 12, Victor in Spelling Bee

Holding her trophy proudly is Marian Richardson, above, 12-year-old farm girl who won the 14th annual national spelling bee when she spelled "pronunciation" after Jean Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., had faltered on the word. Miss Richardson, who lives in Floyd county, Indiana, also won $500 prize money in the contest at Washington, D. C.

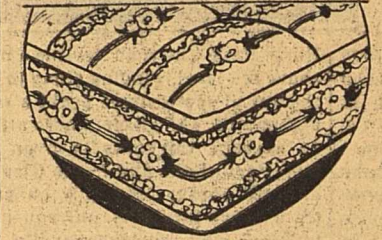

Traffic Perils Attributed to Poor Lighting

DETROIT (U.P.)—Although he believes Detroit is the best lighted city in the United States, Louis J. Schrenk, superintendent of the public lighting department, will not be satisfied until "improved lighting" of heavy traffic streets has been doubled. Rich dividends in the saving of lives have been reaped on the 200 miles of "improved lighting" streets and the night traffic problem would be virtually solved if an additional 200 miles of such lighting were effected on main thoroughfares, he said. Improve the lighting, the superintendent advises, and you will eliminate most of the accidents involving drinking drivers. "These drivers cause accidents," he said, "not because they have been drinking but because they cannot see on improperly lighted streets." Schrenk also believes that well-lighted streets will cut down the number of hit-and-run accidents. "Brighten the street," he said, "and the driver hasn't the normal courage to run away." Visibility is the fundamental requirement for the safe movement of traffic, and the more main streets which are equipped with "improved lighting," the less traffic accidents there will be, he said.

Shipment of cactus is becoming a big business at Presidio. R. H. Johns recently shipped 10,000 plants ordered from London, the largest order he has received from a foreign country.

Local market prices of farm products continued to decline during the month ended May 15, the bureau of agricultural economics reports. The index, at 92 per cent of pre-war in mid-May was 2 points lower than a month earlier and 36 points under the May 1937 figure. This represents a decline of approximately 30 per cent during the past year. The May index was at the lowest level for the month since 1934.

The exchange value of farm products weakened further in May. Prices paid by farmers continued steady but lower prices of farm products caused a 1-point decline in the ratio of prices received to prices paid during the month. At 74 per cent of pre-war the ratio was 22 points below a year earlier.

Prices paid by farmers for feed declined 1 point during the month ended May 15 and on that date 96 per cent of the pre-war level. Price changes in other commodities purchased by farmers are estimated to have been small. The general index of prices paid remained unchanged at 125 per cent of pre-war.

Prices received by farmers moved downward from April 15 to May 15 for all commodity groups except fruit and poultry products. Briefly, the mid-May price picture was as follows:

Grains: 70 per cent of pre-war; down 3 points from April and 70 points under a year earlier. Wheat was lower with a large crop in prospect, and other grains were unchanged or slightly lower.

Cotton and cottonseed: 71 per cent of pre-war; unchanged from April level but 41 points under a year earlier. Wheat was lower with a large crop in prospect, and other grains were unchanged or slightly lower.

Meat animals: 111 per cent of pre-war; 3 points under April and 22 points below May 1937. All items declined.

Dairy products: 103 per cent of pre-war; down 7 points from April and 13 points below a year earlier. Retail milk and butterfat down seasonally but wholesale milk and butter declined more than usual. Index down more than seasonally.

Chickens and eggs: 98 per cent of pre-war; up 5 points during the month but a seasonal upturn usually takes place.

Truck crops: 89 per cent of pre-war; below the pre-war level for the first time since June 1936.

Fruit: 77 per cent of pre-war; up 9 points during the month but 75 points lower than a year earlier.

Cotton prices failed to make the usual seasonal increase as domestic mill output of cotton textiles continued on a restricted basis, and general industrial activity showed no improvement from its depressed level. Cotton prices at local farm markets averaged 8.4 cents per pound in mid-May, or the same as in the two months preceding, but 4.5 cents below the average on May 15, 1937.

Cash wheat prices declined further during the month as domestic and world crop prospects improved and prices in foreign markets moved generally downward. Prices received by farmers for wheat dropped from 75 cents per bushel in mid-April to 71.4 cents in mid-May, although they usually rise slightly during this period. Wheat prices averaged $1.18 per bushel on May 15, 1937, when the much smaller 1936 crop was being marketed.

Corn prices held steady during the month ended May 15 in the face of generally lower grain prices. Small declines in prices received by farmers for corn in many parts of the country were offset by slight advances in Middle Atlantic and East North Central states. A sharp increase in exports was the principal price supporting factor. The mid-May average of 52.7 cents per bushel was the same as a month earlier, but much below that on May 15, 1937, when prices averaged

Peyto Glacier's 500-Foot Ice Blanket Lies on Newly-Opened Motor Road From Lake Louise

A CANADIAN Rockies region hitherto untraversed by vehicles of any sort will be open to motorists this summer when the Columbia Icefields Highway becomes accessible to visitors in Lake Louise. This new road, stretching 46 miles northward from Lake Louise to the forks of the Saskatchewan River, passes through a mountain-peak country full of intervening glaciers, high plateaus and steep passes. A special motor service has just been started over the thirty miles between Lake Louise and Peyto Lake for the convenience of summer visitors.

The extension of this highway now adds another side-trip to a list which already includes Banff, Lake Louise, Moraine Lake, Emerald Lake, Yoho Valley and Kicking Horse Pass. The road itself is a mile above sea-level, winding along in the shadow of snowcapped peaks a mile higher still. The glaciers here attain an average thickness of over 500 feet. Peyto Lake and Peyto Glacier, hitherto encountered only on pack train trips into this unfrequented territory now become equally the possession of the motorist.

The new route leads from Lake Louise along the east shoulder of the Bow Valley past Mt. Hector (11,135 feet), Hector Glacier, Molar Glacier, Bow Peak (9,194 feet), Crowfoot Glacier (so called from the shape of the glacier's giant toes), Dolomite Peak (9,828 feet), Bow Lake (source of the famous Bow River), Mt. Thompson (10,119 feet), Howse Peak, Mt. Murchison, Peyto Lake, Peyto Peak and Peyto Glacier.

Branch Station for Negroes Opened by The County Library

Midland county library has opened its first branch station exclusively for negroes, Miss Marguerite Hester, librarian has announced.

The station is located in the Macedonia Baptist church and the colored PTA furnished and installed the shelves for the books. A total of 182 books, a number of magazines and one weekly newspaper published by negroes for negroes, are now in the station.

Melinda Holland is custodian of the station which will be open from 6 until 8 o'clock each Monday and Friday evening.

Miss Hester expressed gratification for the interest shown by the colored population of Midland in the project.

"Our negro population has waited long and patiently to get a library started," she said. "Much enthusiasm is shown and I feel assured of the success of the branch."

Opened Sunday afternoon, the first regular library hours were observed Monday night. So eager were some of the small colored children to be at the library or time that a group of them gathered at the custodian's home by noon yesterday, asking about the opening, she reported.

May 15 prices of other feed grains averaged less than a month earlier, influenced largely by lower prices for wheat and for meat animals. During the month ended May 15, oat prices declined from 28.3 to 27.5 per bushel. Barley grains dropped from 50.4 to 49 cents. In mid-May of last year prices received by farmers for oats and barley averaged 53.5 and 86.1 cents, respectively.

Continued weakness in consumer demand was reflected in lower prices for all types of wheat animals during the month. Hog prices continued to decline, although marketings failed to increase as much as usual. Hog prices averaged $7.35 per 100 pounds on May 15, or 12 cents less than a month earlier and $2.04 less than in May 1937.

Beef cattle prices declined slightly during the month ended May 15, although they normally show some seasonal increase during this period. Receipts at 7 primary markets increased slightly as the average price received by farmers dropped from $6.30 per 100 pounds on April 15 to $6.25 in mid-May. The May 15 average was 88 cents under a year ago.

Lamb prices declined more than usual during the month as marketings of early spring lambs increased seasonally. Lamb prices dropped from $7.23 per 100 pounds in mid-April to $6.90 in mid-May. The average was $9.16 per 100 pounds on May 15 last year.

Prices received by farmers for wool strengthened slightly from April 15 to May 15 after a 9-month continuous decline. Local market prices averaged only 18.7 cents per pound in mid-May, however, as new clip wool started to market in volume. This was just 14 cents a pound less than a year earlier. Large stocks in the hands of domestic dealers and manufacturers, heavy supplies in the Southern Hemisphere and a slow rate of mill activity combined to keep wool prices to farmers at a low level relative to prices in recent years.

Dairy products made greater-than-usual seasonal declines for the fifth consecutive month and on May 15 were 11 per cent lower than a year earlier. Rapid increases in butter production, record storage holdings for this time of year, and poor consumer demand dropped butterfat prices to 25 cents a pound in mid-May. This was 2 cents less than on April 15, 6.6 cents under a year ago, and the lowest May price paid farmers for fat since 1934. Farm butter prices and both wholesale and retail milk prices also dropped from April 15 to May 15.

Prices received by farmers for live chickens averaged 16.1 cents per pound on May 15 or only one-tenth of a cent less than a month earlier. The mid-May price was 13 cents per pound higher than a year earlier, however, as a result of a sharp drop in poultry marketings, and a sharp reduction in storage supplies.

Egg prices advanced 17 cents per dozen to 17.6 cents at local farm markets during the month ended May 15. While egg production per hen continued at a record high level, total egg production was below a year earlier as a result of a decrease in the number of layers. Although total egg production and storage stocks of shell eggs were smaller than in mid-May of last year, weakness in consumer demand resulted in prices three-tenths cent per dozen lower.

Potato prices declined slightly during the month ended May 15, as crop marketings increased sharply. Potato prices averaged 55.5 cents per bushel in mid-May or about one half cent less than a month earlier. A year ago prices received by farmers averaged $1.07 per bushel but a much smaller crop was being marketed. The average prices received by Texas farmers for the period ending May 15, 1938, continue to show declines for almost all commodities. Grain sorghums, soybeans, cotton, sweet potatoes, chickens and eggs show slight increases, while cows, turkeys, wool, milk cows and mules show no change. Considerable decline is shown from a year ago, for all commodities with the exception of chickens, turkeys and eggs. This decline is a continuation of that in evidence during the period ending April 15, 1938.

TO THE TAXPAYERS
OF THE
Midland Independent School District

IN ORDER THAT BOND REQUIREMENTS and increased expenses made necessary by a larger enrollment in our schools, may be properly cared for, it will be necessary that several thousand dollars more revenue from tax payments be obtained for 1938 than have been paid during the past school year.

Voluntary tax payments during the past years have been sufficient to enable the school program to be carried on with a high standard of efficiency, but due to the building program of the past two years, made necessary by a larger enrollment, increased revenue must be obtained this year to care for the increased cost of maintaining a larger school. Examination of the delinquent roll shows that there are sufficient delinquencies when collected, to take care of the added cost of operation without materially altering last year's assessments. In fairness to those who have kept their taxes paid up values should not be raised as long as there are collectable delinquencies.

Estimated revenues for budget requirements are being made accordingly and it is hoped that this initial step in a determined delinquent tax collection program will receive the prompt attention of those owing taxes to the School District. It is urgent that those owing delinquent taxes of either large or small amounts, go to the tax collector's office located in the City Hall, and indicate just what cooperation can be expected.
