

Quiet Holiday Looms for Midland

'Yessir, That's How I Got My Start'

Funeral Held Today for Early Midland Resident, S. W. Estes

Friends and relatives from a wide area assembled at the First Christian church here today to attend the last rites for Sanders Walker Estes, 77, whose death occurred Friday when he was struck by an automobile at Miami, Ariz.

Coming to Midland in 1886, S. W. Estes was one of less than a dozen of Midland's first citizens. He had been in the cattle business throughout that time, with ranches near Midland and Monahans. During his early days, prior to the fencing of pastures, he had many thrilling experiences, made numerous trail drives and was known throughout the southwest as a cowman of ability and prestige. He led an active life and was "in the saddle" up to the time of his death.

He had been active in business and civic affairs of Midland, prior to transferring much of his time to his Monahans ranches. He was an active member of the First Christian church, was one of the strongest supporters of the former Midland College, which later was moved to Cisco, and was prominent in Masonic circles.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Aldrede Estes, who is a prominent cattleman and inspector of the Midland-Ector-Andrews cattle-men's association; two daughters, Mrs. Rex Jeffrey and Mrs. Wilbur T. Brown, both of Los Angeles; four grandchildren, Aldrede Estes Jr., of Midland, Sanders Walker Brown, Douglas Jeffrey and Dianne Jeffrey of Los Angeles; one sister, Mrs. Dona Crabtree. The late E. H. Estes, whose death occurred a few years ago, was a brother of S. W. Estes.

S. W. Estes was born at Mount Calm, in Hill county, Texas, moved later to Colorado and came to Midland in 1868. He was married to Miss Minta Dwyer in 1893.

The Rev. J. E. Pickering, pastor of the First Christian church, officiated in the funeral service. Burial was with Masonic honors. Pall bearers included R. M. Barron, G. P. Mitchell, Poy Proctor, M. D. Johnson, Addison Wadley, E. H. Barron, F. B. Armstrong, A. C. Francis and Dr. L. B. Pemberton.

Honorary pall bearers included J. A. Johnson, John Potter, W. F. Scarborough, H. E. Cummins, Leonard Proctor, Ed M. Whitaker, J. V. Stokes, W. S. Elkin, H. G. Bedford, J. H. Knowles, F. F. Elkin and John C. Roberts.

Mr. Estes, who with his wife had been visiting their daughters at Los Angeles for six weeks, was returning to Midland when the accident occurred. They were accompanied by Mrs. Brown and two of the grandchildren. At Miami, Arizona, Mr. Estes had stepped from his car and was struck by another machine before the driver could stop, it was reported.

The driver was absolved, at an inquest held there.

The body was brought to Midland by train, Mrs. Estes, Mrs. Brown and the children arriving by automobile.

Good Place to Visit But Texas Better Place to Call Home

"Them's my sentiments," said Fred Wemple when he returned from California and read what Addison Wadley had to say, namely that he wouldn't trade a few feet of West Texas for the whole state, as a place to live.

Wemple and Mrs. Wemple attended the convention of Rotary International at San Francisco, took side trips to scenic points along the west coast, and returned to Fort Worth with the Rotary special train. They went on to Blossom to get their children who had spent the time with grand-parents, all returning here late Saturday.

The Midlanders praised highly the scenic points and the vacation attractions of California.

Midland Woman's Grandfather Dies

Funeral services for H. P. Long, 81, grandfather of Mrs. Cleve Baker of Midland, were held at Eberley's funeral chapel at Big Spring Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, interment being in Mt. Olive cemetery beside the grave of Mrs. Long, who died in 1920. Rev. B. G. Richardson officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker attended the services from here.

Mr. Long, widely-known farmer of the R-Bar community near Big Spring died Friday afternoon at the home where he had resided continuously for 36 years. In failing health for two years, he had been seriously ill for some time.

Born in Hunt county June 23, 1857, Mr. Long came to Howard county in 1902, setting up residence in the R-Bar community. That has been the Long home since, the elder man in recent years living there with a son, Eugene Long.

Besides that son, two other sons and four daughters survive: Berry D. Long of Kansas City and W. W. Long of Knott; and Mrs. G. W. Brown of Moore; Mrs. Shelby Henderson of Martin county; Mrs. Homer Gent of Colorado, and Mrs. Ben Long of Big Spring. Also surviving are 36 grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren.

HIETT'S HAVE GUESTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotter Hiett have as their guests for the holidays Mr. and Mrs. Lindy Hiett and sons, Bill and Bub, of Breckenridge; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lynnhart of Ochiltree county. The Lynnharts were married Sunday at Wichita Falls. He is connected with soil erosion work for the federal government and she, the former Miss Martha Tarter, is home demonstration agent in Ochiltree county. She is a sister of Mrs. Cotter Hiett and has visited here on various occasions.

HERE FOR THE SUMMER.

Robert Maddox has returned from Texas University and is employed at the Midland Dry Co. He is a brother of Mrs. Barney Greathouse.

GIRL TO HOECKENDORF'S.

A daughter weighing seven pounds, thirteen ounces was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hoekendorf in a local hospital Sunday. Both mother and child are doing well.

Never Thought the Columns Would Come Down That Easily

The large sandstone columns, for many years the architectural pride of Midland's business section, were removed Sunday from the front of the First National bank building, preparatory to refinishing the bank to harmonize with its eight story office building. The bank will be extended eight feet to the east, with removal of the columns.

A huge crane was used to bring down sections of the stone columns, placing them easily into trucks to be hauled to the material yard of the R. F. Ball Construction Co. at Texas and Carrizo streets.

One bystander began to reminisce, while the work of removing the stones was in progress.

"I seen 'em put those stones up there, but I never figured they would get 'em down that easy," he remarked.

Recalling July 4 of '63 at Gettysburg

Seventy-Five Years Ago Blood Spilled on Pastures to Keep The North and South United

By NEA Service.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 4.—Seventy-five years ago this July 4 the Blue and the Gray had fought a battle in a pasture south of Gettysburg that decided the fate of a nation. As General Lee's forces dragged wearily along in defeat back toward Virginia, both the North and the South knew that the United States was to remain one great union.

The Union forces had barely managed to repulse the southerners, but the victory was theirs. The cost had been high. Blood stained the pasture. Thousands upon thousands of young men lay dead. But the Union was to live.

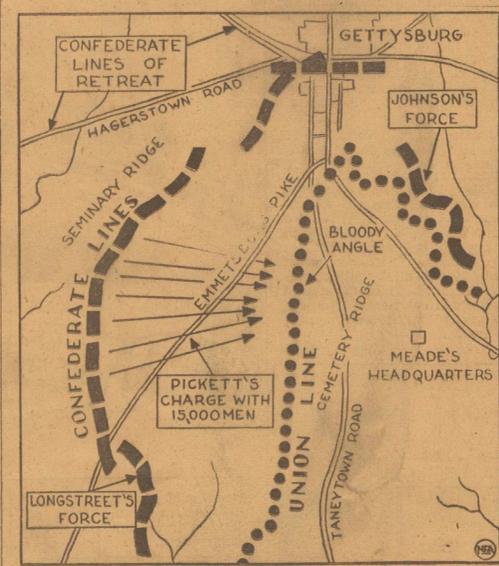

For three days they had been locked in battle. On July 1 Lee's army of 70,000 men had driven Gen. George Gordon Meade's 82,000 foot and horse southward out of Gettysburg and as far as Cemetery Ridge and Culp's hill. It was a major Confederate victory and the following day the southerners won more ground and consolidated their gains to set the stage for the final push that they hoped would win the war.

THEN CAME THE BIG BATTLE.

The Confederates were in three corps. General Longstreet's force, farthest in advance on the west flank, had spent itself; so Lee ordered General Johnson on the east flank to open the attack.

Johnson led his men down the gorge of Rocky Creek and met heavy losses as Union batteries from above them poured down a relentless fire. He was beaten, forced to retire.

With Johnson defeated, Lee had only one chance. Pickett and his 15,000 veteran Virginians were in position on the west flank of the Union line and impatient for ac-

After General Longstreet and Johnson had been repulsed, General Lee ordered the famous Pickett's Charge, which resulted in one of the bloodiest engagements of the entire conflict.

Odd Accident Causes Penwell Man to Get Bullet in His Arm

The first holiday week-end accident reported by a local hospital came yesterday when G. E. Greer, Penwell, was admitted with a bullet in his elbow. Greer explained he and his son, Ellsworth, were riding in a car while hunting rabbits when they hit a rough place in the road and the gun went off. Greer had his arm extended along the back of the seat and the bullet entered his arm after having gone through about four inches of seat upholstery.

The bullet was removed from his arm, and his condition was reported as satisfactory.

Counter Attack Breaks Offensive Of the Japanese

SHANGHAI, July 4. (AP). — A furious Chinese counter-attack in flooded, swamplands along the Yangtze river today drove back the vanguard of Japan's offensive against Hankow, China's provision capital.

The Japanese retreated from Pengtsai, 175 miles below Hankow, close to the submerged boom at Matowchen, after intensive fighting. Chinese declared their bombers sank a Japanese gunboat and damaged two others at Nanking, Anhwei province capital, below the Matowchen barrier of sunken, rock-filled junks.

Casualties in the three-day battle were said to have been heavy.

After a Japanese transport, riding flood waters in the Yangtze, passed the Matowchen boom Saturday land forces forged ahead on both banks.

One drove against Pengtsai, on the south bank, apparently to reach Hukow, 150 miles down river from Hankow.

Japanese reported wide-spread aerial forays on Chinese positions along the river and declared war-plane and anti-aircraft batteries in Matowchen were attempting to raid Japanese war-ships and troops below Hankow.

Chinese, however, declared their fliers successfully carried out raids on Japan's war fleet and denied loss of any planes.

Bathub Mishaps Cost 20 Billion in Insurance

CLEVELAND (UP). — Bathbubs are the cause of so many accidents that since 1929 insurance companies have paid more money in claims resulting from such accidents than the government has spent on relief.

These accidents have cost insurance companies nearly $20,000,000,000 in death claims and loans, Claris Adams, of Columbus, O., told delegates to the National Accident and Health association's convention.

Blaze in Home Starts As Firemen Pass By

LANCASTER, Pa. (UP). — Phares Kinder believes that if lightning had to strike his home, it came at a convenient time.

When fire broke out in the attic of his home near Coalbank, after the bolt struck, three members of the Mount Joy fire department were passing. The trio quickly extinguished the blaze.

Ulmer, Cole Will Represent City at Water Works Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 4. (Special). — More than 600 city officials and water works engineers are scheduled to attend the annual convention of the Southwest Section of the American Water Works Association here October 1-20. M. B. Cunningham, Oklahoma City Water Superintendent, in charge of arrangements, said today.

Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma will send delegates. Scheduled to represent Midland are Mayor M. C. Ulmer, and A. B. Cole, city water superintendent.

The convention program will be unique in the annals of the association, combining studies in public health and public safety with those relating to the technical operation of water plants.

Highlight of the program will be a thorough study and discussion of the problems of fluorine in city water supplies, a problem common to many cities in the southwest. High fluorine content in drinking water results in mottled, discolored teeth among children. State and Federal health officers and practicing physicians and dentists will join water works men in discussing the fluorine nuisance.

Another convention feature will be presentation of a complete plan for mobilization of the city facilities in case of a major catastrophe. G. R. McAlpine, Oklahoma City Fire Chief, will show how equipment and manpower of public and private agencies can be mobilized and assigned to duty quickly in meeting emergencies caused by fires, tornadoes, floods and other disasters.

The convention also will provide delegates with information on municipal and criminal liability involved in the operation of water plants.

Midland Only Town Having Paid in Full Its Council Quota

Midland, according to a financial statement issued by the Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, on June 25, was the only town in the entire Buffalo Trail Council that had paid its council quota in full as of the above mentioned date. The Midland quota amounted to $750 for the six months period just ended.

Midland scout leaders expressed appreciation for the excellent support given by Midland residents in prompt payments of their Boy Scout pledges.

'Peace Eternal' Monument Dedicated by Roosevelt

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 4. (AP). — President Roosevelt, dedicating a monument to American "peace eternal" where thousands fought and died 75 years ago, said last night "we are near to winning" another conflict "as fundamental as Lincoln's."

The struggle, he told a throng estimated by state police at 150,000, is "fought not with glint of steel, but with appeals to reason and justice on a thousand fronts—seeking to save for our common country opportunity and security for citizens of a free society."

The civilian army came to join 2,000 survivors of the blue and gray meeting here in a "last reunion" on the Gettysburg battlefield.

The president borrowed a phrase or two—with credit—from the immortal address by which Abraham Lincoln consecrated the battlefield nearby.

President Roosevelt dedicated his country to the "wisdom and the humanity of the heart of Abraham Lincoln."

Light Touched Off.

The address was the signal to touch off a light, designed to burn "forever" as a symbol of the friendship that followed the war between the states. It will glow from a bronze urn atop a limestone monument, towering 40 feet above historic Oak Hill.

Recalling that "immortal words" as well as "immortal deeds" had created a "shrine of patriotism" here, Mr. Roosevelt said the fullness of Lincoln in stature and the fundamental conflict forced upon the civil war president "invite us ever to turn to him for help."

"For," the president said, "the issue which he restated on this spot 75 years ago will be the continuing issue before this nation so long as we cling to the purpose for which it was founded—to preserve under the changing conditions of each generation a people's government for the people's good."

"The task assumes different shapes at different times. Sometimes the threat to popular government comes from political interests, sometimes from economic interests, sometimes we have to beat off all of them together."

Challenge Always the Same.

"But the challenge is always the same—whether each generation facing its own circumstances can summon the practical devotion to attain and retain the greatest good for the greatest number which the government of the people was created to ensure."

Not since the fratricidal slaughter on this ground July 3, 1863, had Gettysburg seen crowds such as those surging before and about the president.

Into this renewal of peace vows went almost $1,300,000 in public funds and the enthusiasm of the pitifully small band of survivors at the reunion.

Facing the monument were some who aimed at musket and cannon on the very plot—Oak Hill, at Devil's Den, at Bloody Angle, in Pickett's famed charge.

The president said "men who wore the blue and men who wore the gray" are brought here by the memories of old divided loyalties, for they meet here in united loyalty to a united cause which the unfolding years have made it easier to see.

"All of them we honor, not asking under which flag they fought then—thankful that they stand together under one flag now."

Mr. Roosevelt said that Lincoln, commander-in-chief in war, "wanted above all things to be commander-in-chief of the new peace."

People Must Act.

"He understood that battle there must be; that when a challenge to constituted government is thrown down, the people must in self-defense take it up; that the light must be fought through to a decision so clear that it is accepted as being beyond recall."

"But Lincoln also understood that after such a decision, a democracy should seek peace through a new unity. For a democracy can keep alive only if the settlement of old difficulties clears the ground and transfers energies to face new responsibilities."

"That is why Lincoln—commander of the people as well as of an army—asked that his battle end 'with malice toward none, and charity for all.'"

Mr. Roosevelt declared that "to the hurt of those who came after him, Lincoln's plea was long denied."

"Here in our land, we give thanks that, avoiding war, we seek our ends through the peaceful processes of popular government under the constitution."

Absentee Voting Opens; Ballots in County Clerk's Hands

Official ballots for the democratic primary election were in the hands of the county clerk Saturday, the time for absentee voting having started officially at midnight Saturday, to extend until three days before the election which will be held July 23.

Those planning to be out of the city July 23 were reminded that voting may be effected now by communicating with County Clerk Susie G. Noble.

2 Baseball Games are Scheduled

Many Residents To View Rodeos Over West Texas

Taking advantage of a two-day holiday, many Midland residents left either Sunday or today for various vacation spots of West Texas and New Mexico.

A quiet "Fourth" loomed for Midland, a doubleheader baseball game between the Midland Cardinals and the Big Spring Barons being scheduled as the only local action for the day. The first game will get underway at 2:30 this afternoon at City Park.

Rodeos at Pecos, Big Spring and Stamford will probably get more customers from Midland than any other events. However, many persons left today for Carlsbad Cavern, while others were making trips to the Big Bend country.

Many people were expected to go fishing and boating at Balmorea, while others were planning to go to San Angelo for fishing in the Concho river.

A motored of a score of cars left early this morning for Pecos to attend the rodeo there. Pecos sponsors of the show have promised to return the trip this fall when the Midland Cowboy Contest are held.

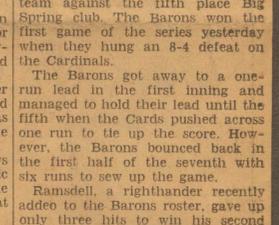

Officials at Cloverdale expected to see the largest group of picnic families of all times today. Boasting several new improvements that make the park much more favorable for the children, families are taking increasing advantage of the chance for outings there, officials said. Several new swings, see-saws and slides have been erected and the wading pool for the children is full with fresh water.

In the baseball games here today, it will be the second place Midland team against the fifth place Big Spring club. The Barons won the first game of the series yesterday when they hung an 8-4 defeat on the Cardinals.

The Barons got away to a one-run lead in the first inning and managed to hold their lead until the fifth when the Cards pushed across one run to tie up the score. However, the Barons bounced back in the first half of the seventh with six runs to sew up the game.

Ramsdell, a righthander recently added to the Barons roster, gave up only three hits to win his second straight game. Wildness, causing him to walk an even dozen men, got him in several jams, but he had the stuff to work out of them. See (Holiday) Page Four.

Gettysburg Relic

When the smoke of Gettysburg's famed Battle of Peach Orchard cleared away 75 years ago the fruit trees of the Rev. Joseph Sherry were among the casualties. But a few peaches were unharmed and those were canned by Mrs. Sherry. That jar of peaches, still sealed, is shown here in the hands of Mrs. Charles H. Pfeiffer, granddaught-er of the Rev. and Mrs. Sherry, who still lives near Gettysburg.

Washington, July 4. Although the Senate Campaign Expenses Committee offers partial sanctuary for any WPA project worker who is subjected to political "intimidation," it is not yet cramping the style of President Roosevelt and other New Dealers who insist on supporting "liberal" candidates as distinguished from "conservatives."

There may be some backdown on one side or the other, but it looks as if the committee and the administration might engage in a running skirmish for the rest of the campaign season. The committee is dominated by anti-New Deal senators.

A curious sequence of statements began when Chairman Morris Sheppard announced that government officials who supported congressional candidates would be summoned before the committee. Roosevelt then flatly told the country he would support certain candidates in the primaries. Instead of suggesting that the President be called before the committee, Sheppard complimented the "fireside chat" and said: "He is entirely within his rights in discussing candidates for office."

WHAT TO DO?
OTHER officials will insist on their right to speak or work for certain candidates in their capacity as "private citizens." Committee members haven't made up their minds exactly what to do about it. "All government agencies must keep hands off primaries and elections," it said originally, conspicuously failing to say "all officials." Now it has described Deputy WPA Administrator Aubrey Williams' speech to the Workers' Alliance as "unfortunate" and warned against political speeches by "dispensers of funds."

Members of the committee besides Sheppard are Dave Walsh of Massachusetts, consistent New Deal, and Pats Harrison of Mississippi, conservative administration critic, both recently named to the committee by Vice President Garner, who hopes to wrest control of the Democratic party from Roosevelt; Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who is firmly opposed to Roosevelt's efforts to "split" the party, and Wallace White of Maine, a Republican. The committee will find, if it doesn't know it, that WPA directors in most states owe their political allegiance to sitting Democratic senators rather than to Harry Hopkins. In primaries to date this fact has favored Senators Pepper in Florida and Gillette in Iowa and Senator Joe Guffey's defeated ticket in Pennsylvania. It seriously handicaps Roosevelt's efforts to defeat certain senators up this year for re-election, although it aids New Deal incumbents such as "Dear Aiben" Barkley in Kentucky.

ABOUT F. D. R. AND GARNER.
MR. HENRY M. HYDE visits and chats with Jack Garner early every morning when the vice president is in Washington. Garner calls him "the old farmer" and Hyde is closer to him than any other Washington correspondent. That's why it was most significant when Hyde wrote in the Saturday Evening Post, after citing an old report of a definite Garner-Roosevelt break: "Sooner or later, such a break seems inevitable. The open break may come—may be forced—at any time. For instance, if the precedent-breaker should announce his candidacy for a third presidential term, it is certain the old Texas cowhand will give a 'Yip' and start shooting from the hip."

"But deeper and more fundamental than such political differences is the gulf between the economic and social philosophies of the two men."

A bit of liquid wax applied to the edges of the cowl ventilator is an effective means of stopping a leak there.

WPA Sculps--FDR Will Dedicate

WPA workers are pictured putting finishing touches on the North-west Territory Sesquicentennial Celebration monument which President Roosevelt will dedicate when he visits Marietta, O., July 8. This monument marks the spot where Gen. Arthur St. Clair was inaugurated as governor of the territory in 1788 to establish the first American civil government west of the original 13 states. Gutzon Borglum designed the model for the monument and WPA artisans used pneumatic tools to carve the figures from a huge block of stone.

Air Conditioning Value Pointed Out

AUSTIN.—The value of air conditioning from a commercial standpoint is responsible for the rapid growth of the industry generally, and for the establishment of at least 10 factories in Texas producing air conditioning equipment. Mrs. Clara H. Lewis, editorial assistant in the University of Texas bureau of business research, pointed out. Besides the location of branches in the state representing most of the nationally known producers of air conditioning machinery, the Air Conditioning company of Houston is a recent addition to the list of manufacturers opening plants in the state.

"There has been a corresponding increase in the demand for insulating materials, such as rock wool of the type produced by the Serv-Tex Materials company of New Braunfels and the Texas Insulation company at Grand Prairie," Mrs. Lewis added. "A new plant of the Standard Asbestos Manufacturing company, with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo., has been established in Houston."

"New oil refineries for the past month include that of the Maritime Oil company at Houston, the Osage Distributing company at San Antonio, and the Delrey Petroleum corporation at Sandy Point. "The canning of tomatoes in the Jacksonvill area has developed into an important industry during the last few years as is indicated by the increasing production in that section each year and the growth of the canning industry. A recent addition to the list of plants canning tomatoes is that of E. R. Adams, located in Jacksonville. In the Rio Grande valley approximately 15 plants now operate the year around canning vegetables after the close of the citrus season and through the summer months, according to reports from the state department of agriculture.

"Other new firms established in Houston during May include the Byron-Jackson company producing oil tools; the Electric Pneumatic Pressure Motor company, devices for registering tire pressure; the Glovebox Taximeter corporation, manufacturers of taximeters; and the Green's Bayou Refining company topping plant."

Orville Gee Weds Miss Nedra Arden In Quiet Service

In a ceremony read at the Methodist parsonage, Miss Nedra Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pitts of Brownwood, and Orville Gee were married Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The couple had no attendants. The bride wore a bolero dress of ashes of roses crepe and brown marquisette.

The couple is at home at the Colonial apartments on Baird street.

The bridegroom, son of Sam Gee, is well-known in Midland, having been reared here.

Mrs. J. H. Hodge Teaches Lesson Loyalties

A lesson on Joshua under the subject, "A Choice of Loyalties," was taught by Mrs. J. Howard Hodge at the meeting of the Naomi Sunday school class at Hotel Scharbauer Sunday morning.

Feminine Fancies

One of the many things that puzzle us is why any food that we are told is good for us instantly becomes somehow uninviting to contemplate.

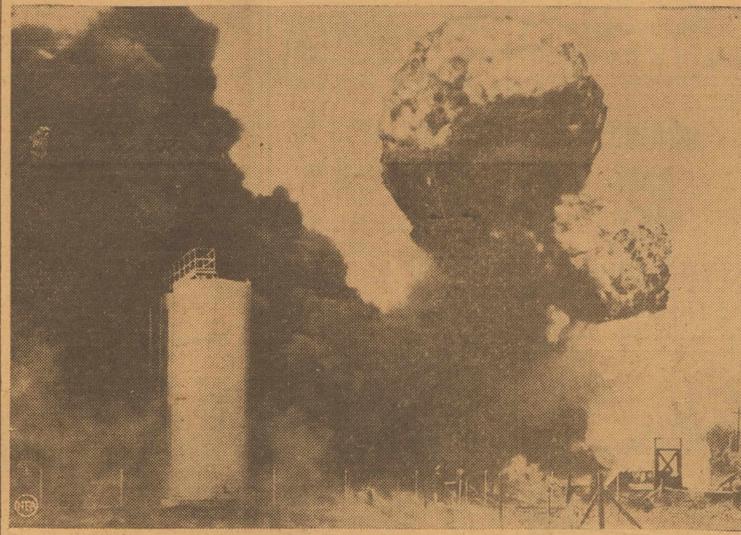

The contrariness of the human nature is astonishing when viewed with detachment.

Periodically, we see an interesting and informative article in a magazine—the kind of thing we should read if we're to keep up with world's progress.

On well, we understand now why so few humans are able to make the steep grade into really well-informed, scholarly men and women.

But who wants, every day and every minute, to do the thing that is wisest and most progressive? Not we, at any rate.

Religious Drama Opens at Ritz On Tuesday

Hailed as the greatest achievement in the filming of the story of Christ, "Golgotha," the story of the pitiful Passion of Our Lord, is told sadly, yet simply.

Religiously "Golgotha" teaches an inspiring lesson. It moves as strongly as the word of the most eloquent of the contemporary preachers in their most vivid word descriptions of Christ's Passion.

At times the scenes are starkly realistic. The blood pouring from the Savior's face after the crowning with thorns and the flagellation by the Roman soldiers, move to deepest sympathy, likewise His slow and tortuous trip to Mt. Calvary.

In addition to its religious ardor, the deep interest in the story as a story—the world's greatest drama—"Golgotha" is a technical masterpiece, in architecture, consuming and production.

It comes to Ritz Tuesday and Wednesday.
