BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8. — A prophet usually lands in the dog-house in his own country. That was exactly the fate of Dr. Stanley High, who was publicly booted from the White House inner circle when he wrote a magazine article predicting a liberal-conservative battle for control of the democratic party.
But High knew what he was writing about, and events he predicted have come to pass. His piece "Whose Party Is It?" appeared Feb. 6, 1937. He had prepared it weeks before without knowing President Roosevelt would put his Supreme Court plan on the eve of publication, and would depend on conservative politicians to put it over.
Roosevelt had no foreknowledge of High's article. Although he wreaked his wrath on High, he finally has said the same things High said—and publicly.
The issue, High wrote, was whether the Democratic party was to become the liberal party in 1940. Old-line Democrats were ready to ease out the "economic salvationists" and their salvation plans and "Restore the inoffensive Democracy with which they were familiar in the traditional era before Roosevelt."

They were sure, he continued, they could have a party by 1940 in which Carter Glass, John L. Lerner, Al Smith, Jim Reed, and John W. Davis could again feel at home. Sensational at the time, but state news 18 months later, was High's prediction.
"It seems probable that the engineer of this movement of restoration will be the Vice-President, Mr. Garner. Hopes of the old-order Democrats are pinned on him. . . . the one man who can set the party stage for a candidate to their liking—Paul McNutt, Harry Byrd, or Bennett Clark. . . . Mr. Garner has undertaken the job with relish."

SENATOR JOSEPH C. OMAHONEY of Wyoming, chairman of the Temporary National Economic Committee (monopoly investigation committee to you), selected as his assistant Prof. Arthur R. Hibbert of the University of Wyoming, a specialist on corporation law, business units, public utilities and public administration. Hibbert also has been a professor of business administration at University of Oregon and a State Department lawyer, and has installed merit systems in state government.

A tall, slim, weather-beaten westerner with black mustache and quizzical expression, Hibbert for three years has worked with Omahaoney on the latter's widely discussed plan for a federal incorporation law. Hibbert collects unusual air mail stamp covers, and, in auto-graphing one of these, Omahaoney recently wrote the words:

"There can be no political liberty without economic freedom."

GUFFAW BRINGS REBUKE

SOME industrialists and financiers hire Washington lobbyists, press agents or other specialists to coach them on appearances before Senate investigating committees. Vice-President Charles M. White of Republic Steel didn't.
Citizens and police of Canton, O., had been testifying before the LaFollette committee that squads of Republic armed guards had tear-gassed school children, unarmed strikers, and spectators, and had beaten women and men with iron bars, shooting several. Then Bus Driver Darrell Smith told how he had been attacked and had managed to get away.

At this point White leaned back and guffawed.
"I will ask Mr. White to restrain his levity," said Chairman LaFollette. "I don't think anyone else is impressed with it."
Then the committee heard that Republic Steel had been so impressed with Smith's evidence as to pay him $500 damages, and that Herbert Blazer, non-employee, had got 400 buckshot in his back, with photographic evidence.
By that time White had received so much attention he was trying to sit in the back of the room.

Reeves, Ward Alfalfa Crop Heaviest Ever

PECOS (P).—Early indications are that this year's alfalfa crop in Reeves and Ward counties will pour thousands of dollars into farmers' pockets. There are around 4,500 acres planted in the two counties, a substantial increase over last year's acreage.
The hay crop has been harvested and alfalfa seed crop, the big money-producer, is getting under way. Last year the seed brought 14 cents a pound, 17 cents for the certified variety.
Last year the seed was shipped in carload lots and this year prospects are for a much larger production. Production is expected to be around 300 pounds to the acre which will mean a return of around

Hardy Perennial

The Town Quack

Dublin Haynes, genial deputy tax collector, who makes a plea to save the purple asters while engaged in slaying the weed crop. I don't think many asters have been sacrificed yet, because not too many weeds have been cut, but the people are beginning to go after the weeds and I gladly reprint her letter about saving the asters:
"While you are campaigning for vacant lots without unsightly weeds I wish you'd put in a kind word for the purple daisies which would cover our vacant lots if given a chance.
"These beautiful wild flowers come early in the spring and are killed by the frost. They live and bloom through dry weather and sand storms and take on new life and beauty after every shower. If they grew in Colorado or California we'd Oh! and Ah! and write home about it but since they are ours free we cut them with the "keelers" weeds.
Leonard Proctor suddenly left a meeting of the rodeo committee last Monday night at 9 o'clock and didn't show up again until this morning. I had been thinking maybe he got lost in a weed patch on some vacant lot.

Italy Becomes Farm Teacher In East Africa

ROME (U.P.)—Although Italian labor is being imported into East Africa as quickly as it can be absorbed provisions have been taken to find constant employment for the native populations, it is learned.
After some experimenting authorities have come to the conclusion that farming is the best outlet for these local peoples. With their agrarian and pastoral backgrounds, the natives are better adapted to working the soil and raising cattle than they could be to any form of urban labor.
Under the guidance of the agrarian section of the governmental inspectorate, the natives are being encouraged to interest themselves in truck farming, cereal growing, cattle raising and poultry and small barnyard animal raising.
Former Slaves Trained.
Former slaves and nomadic tribes whose main form of lucrative employment once consisted in pillage and brigandage are among the converts. Those already engaged in agricultural pursuits are being encouraged to improve their methods. This is where the greatest resistance admittedly is being encountered.
The native is encouraged to recognize the benefits obtained from cultivation with mechanical equipment. The work is slow but in most cases it is said the natives can see the enormous difference between the results obtained with primitive tools and those obtained through the labor saving devices of the Italians.
The native will be taught to produce better products in greater quantity and at lower cost.
Once the natives have been converted to the modern methods of farming, fascism believes the greatest obstacle will have been hurdled.
Various Grains Planted.
About two-thirds of the territory surrounding Javelle, the seat of the Borana commissionship, in the Galla and Sidiama provinces, recently has been plowed and sown to maize, barley, dura, wheat and vegetables.
The agrarian section at Javelle has prepared 40,000 square yards of land to be sown to wheat, maize, barley and corn for fodder.
Hog feeding is developing rapidly. The agrarian section also is studying the reasons for the almost total disappearance of fowls from the district and has arranged for the construction of an experimental hen house with some 100 birds. As they reproduce they will be distributed in pairs among the native families.
The Harara region also is said to present great possibilities for considerable native agricultural development. The agrarian section has created an experimental farm of its own. There the policies and modern methods to be adopted by the natives will be evolved so that intensive development will be given to agriculture as a whole, with particular attention to cereals.
Natives Use Modern Tools.
The farm is managed by experts and supplied with modern equipment such as tractors, sowers, colonial plows, weeding machines, ventilators, sodbreakers, fodder presses, threshing machines and other up-to-date machinery.
The managing personnel and the mechanical equipment are provided by the farm while the care of the crops and all the field labor is carried on by the natives interested in the concern.
The farms are operated on the metage system, which is a sort of profit sharing plan.
After the harvest the quantity expended on seeds and labor is first recovered and then all the

21 Hurt as High-Speed Trains Crash

Sliding along wet tracks with all brakes set, the crack New York Central Commodore Vanderbilt train plowed into the rear end of the same railroad's streamlined Mercury near Toledo, O., demolishing the Mercury's observation platform, as shown above, and seriously injuring 21 persons. Only the fact that the Commodore Vanderbilt's engineer saw a block signal and applied brakes prevented a tragedy. The Mercury, on its Detroit-Cleveland run, had grazed an auto and stopped when its New York-bound, sister train skidded into it.

French Amass 52 Air Marks To Lead World

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Thirty new international aircraft performance records established in the past few months by Italy, France and Soviet Russia have relegated the United States to the background, according to the National Aeronautic association.
Of the 175 established international records, the United States holds 19. France leads with 52. Italy is second with 33. Russia and Germany have 18 and 17, respectively.
Czechoslovakia holds 13 records, Great Britain 10, Poland 7, Belgium 3, Austria 2 and Japan 1.

Wheat Allotment for State Much Smaller

COLLEGE STATION, (P).—The Texas wheat allotment for 1938 is 3,684,863 acres, the state AAA office at Texas A. and M. College was informed from Washington.
The allotment was made at this time to give winter wheat farmers the information well before planting time, E. N. Holmgreen, administrative officer in charge of the Texas office said.
The acreage, however, will not be allotted to counties and then to individual farmers within counties, he indicated. The national allotment is 55,000,000 acres under the terms of the new farm act.
The state allotment for 1938 compares with a 1937 planted acreage of 5,315,000, a 1928-37 average of 4,955,426, and a 1928-32 average of 3,929,000 acres. The allotment for 1939 is based on a figure of 74.36 per cent, uniform for all states, of the 1928-37 average, with allowances made for trends.
Wheat growers who comply with their 1939 allotments will be qualified for advantages which other phases of the farm program offer, Holmgreen said, such as price adjustment payments this year, 1939 conservation payments, 1939 wheat loans if a loan program is in effect next year, and a renewal of crop insurance program policies next year.
Marketing quotas are in effect in 1939, such quotas will be a uniform percentage of these acreage allotments multiplied by the normal yield for the farm. Such quotas will be in effect if supplies exceed normal domestic consumption and exports of wheat by 35 per cent, and if approved by two-thirds of the wheat growers.
Allotments were made to 39 states, with Texas the fourth largest wheat state on the basis of the allotments. Kansas received the largest, 11,067,349 acres, and Oklahoma 3,783,954.

Wisteria of Memories Barely Survives Flames

NEW ORLEANS, (U.P.) — Neither heat, nor cold, nor the prying knife can kill the 78-year-old "twisted vine" that gives a name to a French Quarter courtyard.

The wisteria became so large that it supported a canopy that covered most of the "Courtyard of the Twisted Vine." Spring after spring it blooms into a blanket of lavender blossoms.

Last winter, remodeling forced pruning the vine. Only a stub was left against a wall. Last spring, the stub bloomed out.

A short time ago, a fire swept the courtyard. The vine was twisted and shriveled by the flames. But experts have examined it roots, and they believe that with another pruning the vine will survive and bloom again next spring.
