Visit of Mr. O'Daniel High Tribute to Permian Basin

Residents of the Permian Basin should not treat lightly the acceptance of the Hon. W. Lee O'Daniel of an invitation to attend the fourth annual Midland Rodeo. His appearance here Monday follows the careful studying of hundreds of invitations, with necessary "weeding out" of most of them due to the heavy demands on his time.

His decision to come to Midland is a high tribute to the Permian Basin, world's leading oil center, and a recognition of its strong position in commerce and industry. No doubt, every citizen appreciates the visit of a man whose nation-wide popularity has caused him to receive fabulous offers from every hand, with opportunity to capitalize tremendously if he so desired.

Governor-Nominate W. Lee O'Daniel is making a close study of his state and its needs. His selection of Midland Rodeo as a place to make this early visit, to meet the people and to learn more about his state apparently is just an example of his intention to KNOW TEXAS and to work for the state's best interests.

Mr. O'Daniel, whose experience is far from the "local" type, should do great things to sell Texas to the outside world, to create new industries and attract new capital. He is welcome to Midland and to the Permian Basin.

Great Crowds Here Mean More Responsibility on Drivers

Probably the greatest crowds ever to assemble in Midland will be seen Monday, when the visit of W. Lee O'Daniel, the Labor day holiday and the closing programs of the greater Midland Rodeo combine to make this one of the high spots of Texas. Traffic will be at its heaviest, people will be coming and going at all hours and accidents may happen too easily.

With the added congestion comes a greater responsibility on every motorist. A little too much hurry at the wrong time may mean death or accident to some person. Never was there greater need in Midland for the most strict observance of traffic rules and of common sense.

Take seriously your position with reference to this traffic and do everything possible to prevent accidents.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER Reporter-Telegram Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON.—Leaders of the movie industry, faced with anti-trust prosecutions, will come here some time this month and promise to be good.

Justice Department officials privately doubt whether the film moguls will promise to be good "enough." Assistant Attorney General Thurman Arnold has asked dissolution of theatre ownership and control by producers, and an end of the block-booking practice which often compels theatres to accept films they don't want. If the movie men conceded that much, prosecution undoubtedly would be dropped. But Justice officials suspect their anti-trust suit will go to trial—probably in January.

REAL REASON.—Abandonment of a federal study of price maintenance laws in the states, begun last April as a WPA project, is formally attributed to fear the work might be duplicated

Five Little Girls---and How They Grow

As the Dionne quintuplets draw toward their fifth birthday, differences in physique and personal appearance become more evident, as may be seen in this, their latest photo. Note how Marie, second from left, who has always been the smallest, is still definitely so, while the heights of the others range from her 38 1/2 inches up to 39 1/4. Marie also weighs lightest at 36 1/2 pounds, while Annette is now heavyweight champ at 41. Left to right, the quints are Yvonne, Marie, Cecile, Annette and Emilie.

Widening Employer-Worker Rift Said By Babson to Contain Many Dangers

A parade by the Knights of Labor in New York City fifty years ago started Labor Day. Now, in every state it is a legal holiday, highlighted by speeches from politicians and labor leaders. Monday's speakers, however, will say little about the Number One problem of the day, namely, the widening gulf between employers and workers. Scant attention will be paid to the great need for a new spirit of cooperation in business.

Recently in this column, I discussed the railroads. I told of their financial troubles and how they were trying to avoid additional re-equipment through big economies in operating costs. I forecast that railroad workers would be forced to accept a compromise reduction in pay as their contribution to keeping the carriers in operation. I emphasized that because pay rates had been unjustly boosted last fall thousands more employees are now jobless than would be if wage by the temporary national economic committee investigating monopolistic and other business practices. Actually, the halt was called because of belief trade association executives were having too much of a hand in the project. The objective was an impartial survey of the economic effects of these price maintenance laws, which operate in most states and usually require that retailers must sell drugs or other items at a price set by the manufacturer. Most of these laws were lobbied through state legislatures by trade associations. The T. N. E. C. probably will take over the survey.

THE SMITHS HAVE IT.

President Roosevelt's disregard of the A. F. of L.'s protest against reappointment of Donald Wakefield Smith to the national labor relations board may or may not be due to the fact that Smith has been more friendly to A. F. of L. unions

YODEL HATS ARE OUT.

Publicity ruined a plan of the forest service to equip its guides and rangers with romantic green Tyrolean hats a la Alps. So many persons who read about it in this column wrote sarcastic letters the idea was abandoned.

than the other Smith on the board, Edwin S., whom William Green also denounces.

Chief objection of the A. F. of L. to NLRB has arisen from the board's occasional nullification of a contract between an A. F. of L. union and an employer on the ground the employer had influenced workers to join the A. F. of L. union and had discriminated against a C. I. O. union.

But the board several times has upheld the A. F. of L.'s contention that votes to choose worker representatives for collective bargaining should be taken by craft units—or partly by crafts—and on such occasions, Donald Smith has voted in the majority with Chairman Warren Madden, while Edwin Smith stood by the C. I. O.'s industrial unionism position. Hence Edwin's sin, in Green's eyes, is greater than Donald's. But Edwin's term doesn't expire until 1941.

Pipeline Employees Are Honored With Lawn Supper Here

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Grafa and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Strauch were hosts to members of the Texas-New Mexico Pipeline staff and their families with a lawn supper at the Grafa home, 604 N. Marienfeld, Thursday evening.

The meal was served in picnic style to the following guests and their families: Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Studdart, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cecil, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Troseth, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Herring, Mr. and Mrs. Sammie

Angelo Standard-Times, for its special section Thursday, and so do the many other daily and weekly papers which have been liberal with their space about the big Midland event.

The opportunity is ripe to clinch Midland as one of the big rodeo hot spots. When they start talking all over the rodeo world about Cheyenne, Pendleton, Calgary, Salinas, Fort Worth, Midland and the Garden, we have joined the company we covet.

It is just such work, expenditure of time and money, such a high class of management and such feature attractions as we are seeing this week-end that will do the job. More and wider advertising will help next year.

W. W. Stewart, who covered six states and a gillion miles with his trailer house, said he merely came home to get to argue with a couple of heavy-set fellows we all know.

The young McLaughlin trick ropers, Don and Gene, have been featured with Paul Whiteman and his band, Abe Lyman and his band, have been photographed with Mayor LaGuardia of New York and have performed their stunts at leading rodeos of the east, the northwest and the southwest. They were featured attractions at the Texas Centennial in 1936 and the 1937 Southwestern Exposition at Fort Worth.

Frank Reeves, Star-Telegram staff man, said: "You surely have advertised your rodeo well." That was a modest statement from Frank. The Star-Telegram has done a big share of advertising the Midland Rodeo and deserves the thanks of the public. And so does the San Francisco Chronicle. This situation cannot last forever. We can never have real prosperity until they again pull together. This is the gospel that should be shouted from ever bandstand and soap-box on Labor Day!

Sponsors' Contest Colorful Note to Rodeo Days

Twenty-Eight Cowgirls From New Mexico And Texas Enter Annual Competition Here; Are Honored at Social Affairs

They're here—the cowgirl sponsors! Keeping step with the masculine contingent, riding in the parade, and in the grand entries to the arena, demonstrating their ability to handle horses in the riding tests through which they are put before the judges—but doffing these masculine attributes like true daughters of Eve to become the essence of femininity when a function like the sponsors' ball last night stars the program of activities—these chosen cowgirls of West Texas and New Mexico have trekked to Midland to compete this week-end for the coveted first place in the annual sponsors' contest.

Attesting the growing popularity of the event is the total of 28 entries for this year, including:

Miss Mary Nell Edwards, Big Spring.

Miss Sydna Yokley, Canadian.

Miss Alpha Mae Stone, Hobb, N. M.

Mrs. J. Glyn Hamack, San Angelo.

Mrs. Isora DeRacy, Pecos.

Mrs. Tura Bates McWilliams, Carlsbad, N. M.

Miss Anna Lee Spieth, Roscoe.

Mrs. Mary Beth Todd, Water Valley.

Miss Madeline Hancock, Roswell, N. M.

Mrs. Earl Moore, Pampa.

Mrs. Phyllis Ingham, McCamey.

Miss Angela Schell, Stanton.

Mrs. H. H. Clements, Monahans.

Mrs. Jewel Duncan, Toyah.

Mrs. Maxine Young, Rankin.

Miss Margaret Owens, Big Lake.

Mrs. H. O. Murrell, Odessa.

Mrs. Fred Gray, Andrews.

Mrs. Virginia Duncan, Knickerbocker.

Mrs. Beverly Herndon, Sweetwater.

Miss Frances Thomas, Abilene.

Miss Lucille Murray, Iraan.

Mrs. J. F. Taylor, Lorraine.

Miss Mattie Taylor, Sonora.

Miss Ora Altizer, Spofford.

Miss Daisy Chambers, Lovington, N. M.

Miss Jo Ramsey, Black River Ranch, Carlsbad, N. M.

Heading the Midland sponsors' committee again, this year is Mrs. Roy Proctor, wife of a prominent ranchman, club workers, and talented singer. Assisting her are Roy Parks, Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer, Mrs. John Dublin, Mrs. Leonard Proctor and Mrs. Geo. Glass as senior members of the committee, Miss Walter Fay Cowden who is Midland's sponsor, and Miss Jeanne Davis as junior hostess.

Following registration of sponsors in the chamber of commerce office under direction of Miss Cowden and Miss Davis, Saturday morning, the day was devoted to various rodeo activities including riding in the parade and the grand entry at the rodeo arena before the initial performance Saturday afternoon.

Climaxing the day for the visiting cowgirls was the formal dance honoring sponsors and their escorts which was held in the Crystal ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer Saturday evening following the night rodeo performance.

Feature of the dance was the grand march followed by introduction of sponsors with their escorts.

This morning will be free on the sponsors' schedule but at 2:30 o'clock they will ride again in the grand entry for the afternoon's performance.

At 6 o'clock this evening the cowgirls will be honored at the second function when they will be entertained with a "chuck wagon" supper at Cloverdale. Their escorts will be specially invited guests at this time and sponsors are asked to wear their rodeo garb. Music will be provided and perhaps some surprise feature of the program.

After the supper, sponsors will again appear at the Fair Grounds, riding in the grand entry for the night performance.

Monday morning will see final judging of the sponsors but presentation of awards to winners will not be made until after the grand entry at 2:30 o'clock preceding the afternoon performance.

The sponsors' contest is under the auspices of the chamber of commerce.

Coffee and Buffet Supper Courtesies For Austin Visitor

Honoring her houseguest, Miss Mildred Inks, of Austin, Miss Marcelline Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wyatt, entertained at the recently-completed home of her parents, 515 W. Holmsley, with two parties Thursday. In the morning she was hostess to a coffee for a group of high school and college friends and in the evening for an informal buffet supper for seven couples.

Mexican Motif.

A Mexican theme in keeping with the character of the livingroom of the Wyatt home was employed in decorations and accessories for the coffee.

Zinnias and margolds in flower arrangements stressed the vivid tones of Mexican colors as did the Mexican pottery service on the coffee table. Centerpiece for the table, which was covered with a Mexican cloth, was a Mexican service group

Unique "Texan" Dance at Country Club Honors Three of Younger Social Set

Patriotic Colors, Rodeo Theme Lend Picturesqueness to Affair Given by Mmes. Hall, Girdley, and Williamson

Important among the social events of the week-end, particularly for the younger set, was the "Texan" dance with which Mrs. B. C. Girdley, Mrs. Sidney Hall, and Mrs. Frank Williamson entertained at the Country club Friday evening, complimenting Eddy Gene Cole, Billy Joe Hall, and B. C. Girdley, Jr.

Decorations for the affair, given on the eve of the opening of the Midland Rodeo, followed a patriotic trend in red, white, and blue, with Rodeo suggestions.

In the ballroom, the huge central chandelier was topped by red, white, and blue balloons, with streamers of the tri-color extending to the lighting fixtures on the walls. Adding the authentic touch to the Rodeo theme, a pair of old cowboy boots swung from the center chandelier, while ropes, spurs, a cowboy hat, and tapaderos were suspended from the side chandeliers.

Red and roses graced the piano, the girls' dressing table, and the register table where guests signed their names in a volume bound in redwood, handtooled in copper.

The punch service was placed in a corner of the ballroom beside a tall floor lamp, the table being laid with Italian cutwork, Ferras and red verbenas were barked about the outglass punch bowl.

Out of town guests signing the register were: Cowden Ward of Wichita Falls, Dondee Purkey of Odessa, Nash Tucker, Jr. of Odessa, Billye Ruth Adams of Odessa, Dorothy Johnson of Odessa, Dorothy Jean Cody of Odessa, Shug Baughan of Odessa, Jerry Poole, of Odessa, Dan Rose of Odessa, Jack Green of Hobbs, N. M., Tolbert Bell of El Paso, Chas. Gibbs of San Angelo.

City guests signing were: Eddy Gene Cole, Jeanne Davis, Dorothy Sue Miles, Mary Sue Cowden, Eleanor Wood, Barbara Jean Harper, Marcelline Wyatt, Helen Droppelman, Lou Annice Reeves, Lorena Dunagan, Edna Earl Linebery, Millie Irtz, Jessa Lynn Tuttle, Jackie Beaver, Fredda Fae Turner, Marlin Locklar, Virginia Ford, Jean Bodkins, Lily Freeman, Anna Beth Bedford, Evelyn Phillips, Martha Flaherty.

B. C. Girdley, Billy Joe Hall, Billy Noble, E. B. Rountree, Marvin Park, Robert Filson, Bobby Martin, Hubert Williams, C. L. Stephens, Remmel Cowan Jr., John Turner, Jr., Harold Thompson, Bob White, Spec Voliva, Ernest Remingtons, Merle Miller, Robert Dunagan, John Dabbs Jr., Joe Bean, Darrell Johnson, Burton Estes, Joe Norman, Ben Murray, W. E. Lynch, Lloyd Parker, Dalton Cobb, R. M. Zimmerly, David Wafford, J. B. Thomas.

Mrs. W. L. Pickett, teacher, was in charge of the lesson.

One visitor, Mrs. B. L. Crites, was present.

Refreshments were served at the close of the study period to the guest and the following club members: Mmes. A. W. Lester, C. O. Fredregill, J. C. Hudman, R. L. Mitchell, W. P. Collins, C. Shafer, Harvey Kiser, Herbert King, W. L. Fickett, and the hostess.

The class will meet with Mrs. W. G. Attaway, 404 W. Ohio, on Friday of this week at 4 o'clock.

Stories by Bailey, James and Burgess Told at Story Hour

Two stories by Carolyn S. Bailey and one each by Ahlee James and Thornton W. Burgess were told by Mrs. W. Bryant at the Story Hour held in the children's library Saturday morning.

The Bailey stories were "The Story of Persephone" and "Apple-Seed John." The James story was "The Witch Wife" and that by Burgess was "Why Buster Bear Appears to Have No Tail."

Special features of the morning were: A piano solo and song by Toya Chapple; a verse by Dianne Debnam; piano solo by Betty Ruth Pickering; riddle by Billy Pate.

Stitch and Chatter Members Quilt for Hostess Friday

Quilting a quilt for the hostess occupied members of the Stitch and Chatter club meeting with Mrs. L. M. Hedges, 406 E. Tennessee, Friday afternoon.

Birthday gifts were presented to Mrs. E. L. Reagan.

In addition to the eight club members, two visitors, Mrs. A. E. Dixon and Mrs. Fred Klatt, were present.

Refreshments were served at the tea hour to the guests and the following members: Mmes. Chas. Ward, Ben Biggs, L. G. Boyett, J. C. Bryant, E. L. Reagan, F. D. Reven, Miss Jewel Hedges, and the hostess.

The group will meet Friday with Mrs. Chas. Ward, 503 Holmsley street.

Midland Geologist Marries Colorado Girl Saturday Afternoon; to Live Here

Initiating autumn weddings of interest to Midland oil circles and other friends here was the marriage of Fred Kotzya of this city and Miss Billie Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Bennett, which took place at Shove Memorial Chapel, Colorado Springs, Colorado, Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Returning to Midland in about a week, the couple will make its home here.

The bride holds a master's degree in geology and has been employed by the Gulf Oil Corporation at Denver, Colorado.

Mr. Kotzya is a graduate of Nebraska university. He has lived in Midland for more than two years, being employed with the Tide Water Associated Oil company as geologist.

Walker to Install Green House Here

A permit has been issued to R. O. Walker, proprietor of the West Texas Nursery, for the erection of a green house on his nursery yard at H and Wall streets.

Walker, who has been in the nursery business here for the past 15 years, says he has felt the need of a modern green house for a long time and that he is not sparing anything to make the date in every respect.

Walker says he will feature bedding plants and pot plants and will be equipped to handle an extensive business.

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 4.
The Golden Text is: "Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. . . . O Lord of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee" (Psalms 84:4, 12).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty" (Psalms 91:1).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "But man cannot be separated for an instant from God, if man reflects God. Thus Science proves man's existence to be intact" (page 306).

2. Serving God only. v. 4.
3. Gathering together in Prayer. v. 5.
4. Penitent confession. v. 6.
5. Fasting. v. 6.
6. Calling to remembrance the promise of the Messiah. v. 9.
II. Spiritual Revival Effects.
1. Sin Arises to defeat the revival. v. 7.
2. Makes God's people humble. v. 8.
3. Great power is manifested to defeat the enemy. v. 10.
4. Hence humility turns to boldness. v. 11.
5. Because of the gratitude of the recipients of the revival, it has lasting remembrance and effects. v. 12-13.

Speaking of Sponsors . . .
Finding out about people is a fascinating occupation as any reporter (detectives are not permitted to speak at this time). But finding out about the cowgirl sponsors who are adding color and dash and charm and interest to the Midland Rodeo and the Rodeo crowds this week-end is especially fascinating.
What do these girls think about things—what do they like—what do they dream of doing—the answers are varied in a dozen different ways, yet many of them are curiously alike.
And here are some of the things a reporter has gleaned about them—

Wants to Write.
To publish a book which truly pictures the Southwest is the special dream of Mrs. Virginia Duncan, representative of Knickerbocker near San Angelo.
She divides her hobby—horse riding, however, between writing and sheep raising, thus combining the practical with the cultural in her "out of hours" avocations.
She can't choose between dancing and going to shows, so answers that "Both" comprise her favorite recreation.
Her eyes are brown and her favorite color theme is brown and yellow. She is only five feet, three inches in height, a brunette—and single.
When film favorites are mentioned, she votes for Myrna Loy.
Oh yes, her favorite sport, besides riding, is swimming.
Western in Tastes.
Miss Ora Altizer, sponsor from Spofford, is frankly Western in her tastes. Her favorite sport, besides riding, is roping, and her chief ambition (besides winning the sponsors' contest) is winning in calf roping. And her favorite movie star is (you guessed right) Buck Jones. She hasn't any hobby, so she says.
Quite in keeping with her brunettes coloring and brown eyes, the five foot, six inch, Spofford miss names red as her favorite color.

Dancing is her favorite amusement.
Cowgirl-Nurse.
Being a cowgirl is really not the every-day role in life of Miss Hattie Taylor, who is Sonora's sponsor. She is on vacation now but in her work-a-day guise she is a graduate nurse employed by North Texas State Teachers college.
Her chief ambition, she avows, is to win calf roping (did you ever realize how many West Texas girls cherish that aim?).
For sport she likes tennis and for recreation dancing.
Norma Shearer is her special pet as a screen star.
She adds another to the redheads who are entered in the sponsors' contest. Her best-liked color? It's blue, naturally.
She has brown eyes and her height is five feet, five and a half inches.
"Just Tall Enough."
The brown head of Mrs. J. F. Taylor, sponsor from Loraine, touches the measuring stick at exactly five feet.
But that's tall enough for a hazel-eyed brunette to choose tennis as her favorite sport, dancing as her favorite recreation, and an even more strenuous hobby—training horses and roping.

But there are plenty of other important interests in the world for the little cowgirl—for instance her chief ambition, which is to make a good wife. (Who said modern girls are not serious?)
Joan Crawford is her favorite screen luminary.
Brown tops her list of colors.
Gray-eyed Mrs. Gray.
Gray are her eyes and Gray (Mrs. Fred Gray) is her name—the brunette young woman who embodies the challenge of Andrews in the sponsors' contest. She is five feet, six inches tall and her chosen color is black.
She likes to rope—so much so that her chief ambition (other than carrying off the laurels in the sponsors' event) is simply that—To Rope. Considering which it is not surprising to learn that her hobby is rodeos.
Her specialty in recreation is dancing.
Green-eyed But Not from Jealousy
Redheads with green eyes are rare but brunettes with green eyes are rarer still. Mrs. Earl Mgeore, who comes from Pampa prepared to carry the sponsor prize back to the North Plains, is one.
Rodeoing is, not her ambition or hobby, but her recreation, preferable in her opinion to dancing or shows or such frivolities.
Her chief ambition is to be a trick rider.
As a hobby in her spare time she collects pictures and for sport she chooses to swim.
She likes black best of all colors. Spencer Tracy has her allegiance as a film fan.

Mrs. Moore is five feet four inches in height.
She Likes Simone.
Simone Simon, the temperamental little French star, has at least one loyal admirer among the cowgirls gathered here. That is Mrs. H. O. Murrell, who represent Odessa among the sponsors.
A gray-eyed brunette, five feet, four inches tall, Mrs. Murrell is another of the serious young women whose chief ambition is one that everyone (especially husbands) will applaud—to make a good wife.
Her hobby is raising canaries, her favorite recreation is dancing, and her favorite sport (beside riding) is golf.
Her favorite color is brown.
She's a Collector.
Albany sends Mrs. Guy Caldwell to carry the town's banner in the sponsor event.
She has a hobby that at least is a keen one—she collects knives.
Besides riding, her favorite sport is swimming, while she prefers dancing for recreation.
Matching her brown eyes, she chooses brown as the prettiest color.
Yes, she's a brunette, and five feet seven inches tall.
Former Winner.
"Miss 1937" (Miss Fern Sawyer to you) who won the sponsors' contest here last year may not compete in this year's event. However, she is in Midland for the Rodeo and will reign as Queen of Sponsors, until the winning cowgirl for 1938 is chosen to take over the laurel wreath.
What is the 1937 winner like?
First of all, she is single—and five feet three inches tall—and See (Sponsors) Page 8

Advance Glimpses of Some of the Films in the $250,000.00 Movie Quiz Contest Which Will Appear at Local Theatres.

Here are the undersea heroes of 20th Century-Fox's "Submarine Patrol".

Spring Byington, Lionel Barrymore and Jean Arthur head the list of mad, merry funmakers in Columbia's "You Can't Take It With You".

It's a field-day for squirreldom when the nutty-but-nice Marx Brothers cut loose in RKO's "Room Service".

Jackie Cooper, Deanna Durbin and Melvyn Douglas argue things out in Universal's "That Certain Age". (Left) Fred Astaire in RKO's "Carefree".

Dorothy Lamour has her troubles in Paramount's "Spewn of the North".

Little girl, what now? Janet Gaynor and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., refined vagabonds in Selznick's "The Young in Heart".

Norma Shearer is gay and vivacious as the Queen in M-G-M's "Marie Antoinette".

Andrea Leeds in Universal's "Letter of Introduction".

Robert Taylor in M-G-M's "The Crowd Roars".

James Cagney in "Boy Meets Girl", Warner Bros.

Louise Campbell and Fred MacMurray in Paramount's "Men With Wings".

Janette MacDonald in M-G-M's "Sweethearts".

Bette Davis and her lovely companions are stately and demure in Warner Bros. "The Sisters".

Adolphe Menjou in Universal's "Letter of Introduction".

Loretta Young in 20th Century-Fox's "Suez".

Pat O'Brien in Warner Bros. "Garden of the Moon".

Deanna Durbin in Universal's "That Certain Age".
