Regular Luncheon of Jaycees Held Today

Regular semi-monthly luncheon of the Midland Junior chamber of commerce was held at the Methodist annex today noon a light attendance being reported. Vice-President Carl Ulffers presided in the absence from the city of President W. M. (Bill) Holmes.

Scheduled Meeting of Oil Association Directors Postponed

Meeting of the Board of Directors of the recently organized Permian Basin Association scheduled to be held in Midland September 14 has been postponed until a later date due to the illness of President Harry Adams of this city. It was announced here this morning. President Adams, who was admitted to a local hospital yesterday afternoon, plans to call a special meeting of the group as soon as possible, it was said. Notice of the postponement of the session was this morning telegraphed to interested parties over West Texas.

Stores Will Close Early for Football Game Saturday Night

Interested in boosting attendance at the first football game of the season here Saturday night between Thomas Edison High of San Antonio and the Midland Bulldogs, a majority of the downtown retail stores contacted this morning said they would close at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, 30 minutes earlier than the usual Saturday night closing time, so that employees might have the opportunity of witnessing the entire ball game. This week's game is the only Saturday night game scheduled here this season. Cooperation of all stores in the city in this regard was urged by W. B. Simpson, chairman of the Retail Committee of the Midland chamber of commerce.

French Pound Way Into the Siegfried Line

Saarbruecken Heavily Bombed as Troops Continue to Move Up

PARIS, Sept. 12. (AP)—French dispatches tonight reported French advance guards had driven a wedge into advance fortifications of Germany's Siegfried line east of Saarbruecken.

One section of attacking forces was asserted to have "slightly turned" defenses of the industrial city.

Artillery pounded German lines surrounding Saarbruecken from the heights in the Wadmt forest.

BASEL, Switzerland, Sept. 12 (AP)—Advancing despite German counter-attacks, French troops were reported in advance reaching Switzerland today to have moved up as much as four miles in one sector and to have captured four German towns.

Small patrols of German troops crossed into French territory for the first time in the present war early today. Swiss reports said, but they retired to their own side of the frontier after a furious clash with the French.

The French, relying on a series of co-ordinated attacks in the face of the counter-attacks, were said to have taken Brenschelbach, Utwoeller, Peppenkun and Medelsheim, northwest of the French Maginot fortress of the Bitch area, and west of Volmunster.

The French-German clash on French territory took place just east of Saageunines and southeast of Saarbruecken.

The German troops apparently were not connected with any large German advance, but were merely small groups which made charges to outflank positions the French had taken.

The German policy so far has been to keep to their own side of the frontier. The frontier at this point is very irregular, however, and observers doubted the sortie tonight meant a change in policy.

The French high command, as if taking German counter-attacks as a cue for its own strategy, was reported to have extended the French battlefield eastward from the Saar River into the foothills of the Vosges Mountains.

Almost all the great Maginot Line fronts from the Moselle to the Rhine were reported to be operating as bases for an attack while their big guns pounded the German Siegfried line.

The area wherein the French began a series of attacks in the afternoon was a sector north and east of the powerful Maginot fortresses of the Bitch area.

The French launched their attacks due west of the French town of Volmunster and east of the French town of Walsbronn. Volmunster is on the west side and Walsbronn on the east side of a French salient in the border.

Neutral observers said they thought the western attack apparently was designed to relieve pressure on the right wing of the Saar drive where the Germans were reported to have recaptured a number of positions in the past two days.

The left wing struck at the rolling, wooded, Vosges foothills opposite the huge army field artillery proving ground before the Bitch forts.

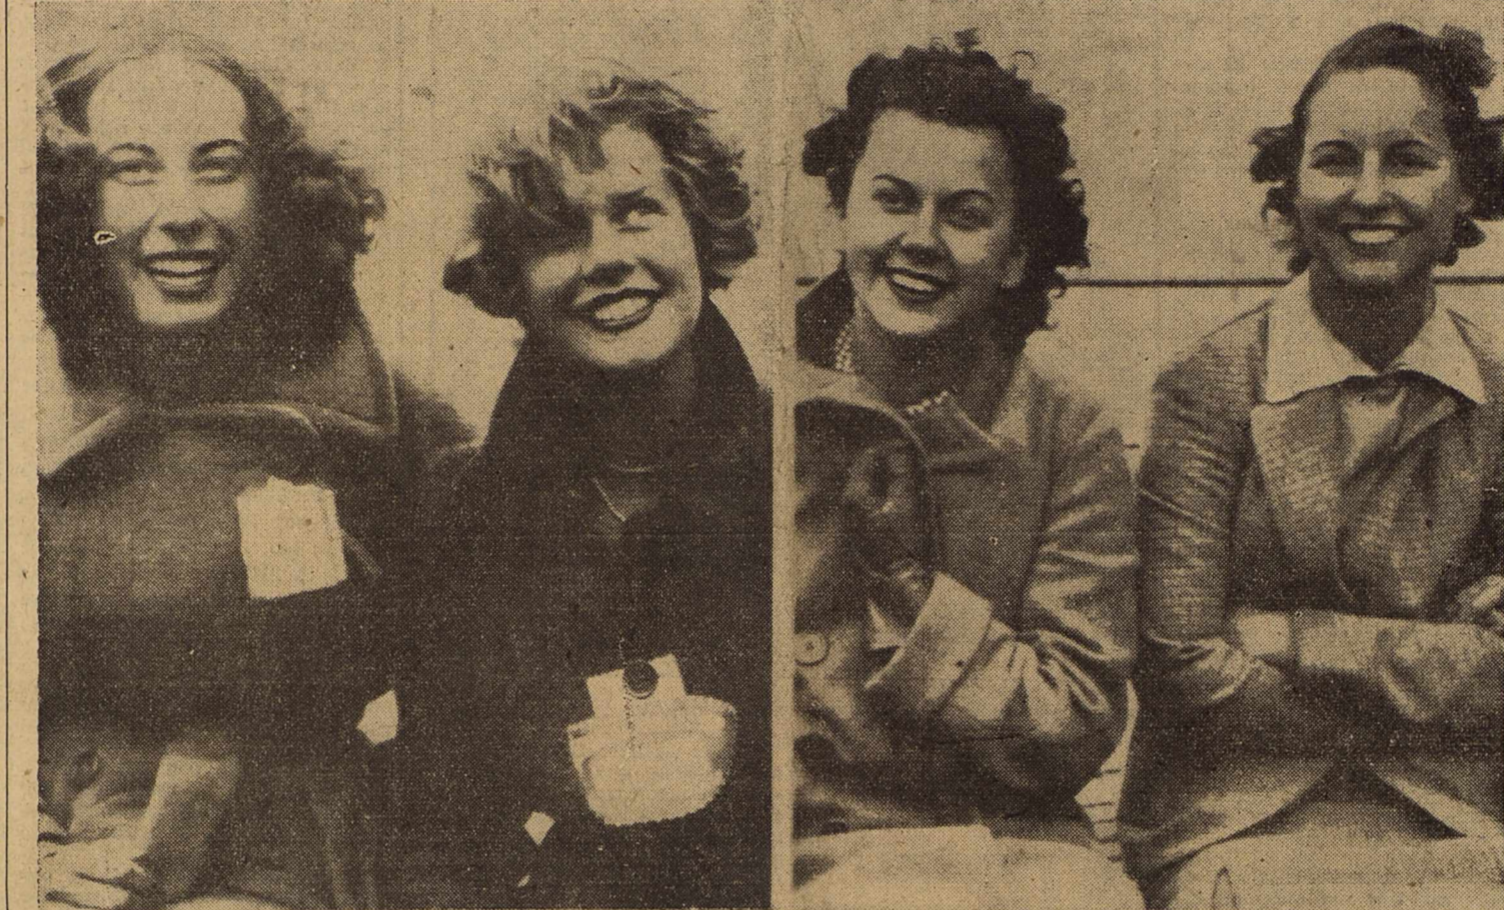

Congratulations to:

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Alkire on the birth of a son in a Midland hospital Monday. The baby weighed 8 pounds four ounces.

PATIENT ADMITTED.

Harry Adams was admitted to a Midland hospital late Monday.

German Attackers Beaten Back by Polish Defenders in and Around Warsaw Limits

BUDAPEST, Sept. 12. (AP)—Polish army general headquarters today asserted Warsaw's German besiegers had been pushed back "far into the outskirts of the city."

The communique, broadcast from the station at Lwow, said the nearest German troops were now six miles from the center of the city. It said a push was "developing" with the aid of heavy Polish reinforcements rushed to Warsaw from the south.

Declaring the German invaders had been halted "dead in their tracks," the Polish radio station at Warsaw early today said the capital's besiegers had been forced to retreat and the Poles were resisting attacks "on all fronts."

Warsaw's energetic defense in the fourth day of siege forced the Germans to retreat, the announcer said, and signaled a turn in Poland's war fortunes.

The radio said the Polish army had established itself in prepared positions along the east bank of the Vistula and had stopped the Nazis.

The front of resistance was described by the announcer as running through Warsaw along the Vistula, south to the River San, thence along the eastern bank of that river to a point near the Slovak frontier.

North of Warsaw, the Polish troops were said to be holding on the Vistula, Narew, and Bug Rivers in a fan-like spread.

Warsaw, shattered by constant shelling and bombing, was described by the announcer as a spearhead of what he said was the beginning of real Polish resistance after more than a week of steady retreating.

The Polish troops were said in earlier Polish radio reports to have pushed the Germans from "some suburbs."

A radio announcer identifying himself as in Warsaw declared at 10:40 p. m. (3:40 p. m. C.S.T.) that the city's defenders withstood 17 air raids during the day and repulsed attacks from German mechanized troops.

During the day, a German radio announcement heard here said the annihilation of Polish forces in Warsaw was "nearing the end" and declared "many encircled troops already are beginning to surrender."

Women, Children Killed.

The Polish station's account of the fourth straight day of fighting at the capital and the deaths of women and children from bombs dropped by German airmen came less than 12 hours after a Polish station at Lwow (Lemberg) announced the Germans had been forced to retreat from some Warsaw suburbs.

The Warsaw broadcast declared the bombing and shelling of that city continued all day.

"Warsaw is now a battlefield," the Warsaw announcer said.

"Many houses are aflame in the open city. Women and children have been killed and wounded. Every house is being turned into an inviolable fortress."

"Children also are helping fortifying the houses."

"Warsaw cannot be captured. Warsaw and Poland will score the final victory."

The announcer told of seeing German air raids from a house top.

He said 60 invading planes attacked an anti-aircraft battery in the courtyard of a huge apartment house. The bombs ignited the building and the fleeing occupants were reported by the announcer to have been machine-gunned by low-flying planes. He declared many were killed by the bullets and others were buried in bomb explosions.

The battery still was intact after the day's raids, the speaker said.

Every house is being surrounded by bodies of women and children and house wreckage.

Sinclair-Prairie to Drill Offset To Gulf Holt Deep Pay Discovery

BY FRANK GARDNER

Second test of the deep pay underlying nominal Permian lime and sand production at the northwest end of the North Cowden pool in northern Ector county was announced today by Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company. It is the No. 3 Fay Holt and was staked 440 feet out of the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of section 1, block A, public school land. The well will be drilled with rotary.

The new Sinclair deep test is a direct east offset to the discovery and, as yet, only well producing from the deep horizon nearly 800 feet below the regular North Cowden pay, Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 O. B. Holt. The Gulf strike showed nothing in the upper pay and was drilling deeper without change until it defined a new pay for the area at 5,048 feet. It went to total depth of 5,200 feet in lime and was plugged back to 5,168, where it was acidized with 6,000 gallons. On off-cial potential test, the discovery flowed 217 barrels of 38.6-gravity oil per day through 2-inch tubing set at 5,167, with packer at 5,067. Gas-oil ratio was 461-1.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-A B. H. Blakeney, west-side North Cowden test, is drilling ahead below 4,227 feet in lime.

In the pool, Stanolind No. 77 J. Cowden flowed 352.21 barrels of 29-gravity crude in 24 hours, with gas-oil ratio of 5,750-1, for completion at 4,229 feet. It topped pay at 3,935 feet and was shot with 320 quarts.

On the east side of the pool, Sinclair-Prairie No. 7 Hugh Corrigan flowed 1,817 barrels of oil the first nine hours of potential gauge after shooting with 190 quarts from 4,282 to 4,405 feet, the total depth.

Rayner Shooting Today

Nitro shot with 615 quarts spaced from 4,846 to 4,760 feet, ten feet up from top of plug, was scheduled to go off at eight o'clock this (See OIL NEWS, page 6)

Citizens Applaud Feat.

Two German bombers were shot down in a fight over the capital amidst "wild" applause of the citizens, he added. The pilots were saved.

A German tank which became lost in the fighting was captured near the main square, the speaker said.

The announcer said Warsaw's defense was the beginning of Poland's victory over the Germans.

"The capital can hold out," he said.

On our western front we have repulsed the Germans. We know what the German radio meant when it announced today their troops retreated from Warsaw for strategic reasons. Obviously the Germans thereby meant to make good their false announcement of Warsaw's fall.

The mayor of Warsaw, Stefan Starzinski, in a radio address to the capital's citizens said "German bombs have no effect on us, we are accustomed to them."

Orders Shops Stay Open.

He ordered barricades removed from certain streets as they hampered traffic and ordered all shops to remain open.

The mayor expressed approval of the city's defenders, saying, "only one man left his post during the bombing."

"We believe in an ultimate victory," the mayor said. "The bombing and shelling won't intimidate us. Warsaw with victory will save Europe."

The officer, who yesterday said there had been "considerable noise" during 40 raids by German airmen, declared Sunday night had been comparatively quiet in Warsaw but lively outside the city limits. He reported a tank attack beyond the city limits resulted in the capture of three German tanks.

Three German planes had been shot down, he added.

MORE TROOPERS ARE MOVED UP

By Associated Press.

German headquarters today announced German forces this morning had launched a three-front offensive which is expected to be the final push to break Polish resistance.

The fronts were given as east of Radom, north of Lodz, and northeast of Warsaw.

Germans said a bitter battle north of Lodz appeared to be ending with heavy Polish losses.

Another announcement said Poznan, other former German cities in western Poland had been captured.

A general staff communique from Polish officials received at Budapest by radio said Poland had brought German plane, tank and artillery attacks to a temporary stalemate throughout the battle zone. The communique announced severe fighting along the Bug river.

On the western front British troops took positions that seemed to foreshadow a major battle.

A French communique, however, reported it was "calm all night along the entire front."

The impending annihilation of the Polish army was openly forecast in German communiques. These official statements, however, continued to mention the "stubbornly resisting" Poles.

Army advices said the bridge across the Vistula River between Warsaw and Modlin Fortress—13 miles northwest of Warsaw—was under heavy artillery fire. In several places between Radom, 60 miles south of Warsaw, and the capital, Polish troops were also reported caught in the maws of the German "vice."

There have been no figures indicating the number of casualties in the dramatic struggle over the Polish capital. Banner lines in German newspapers, however, speak of the "great battle" before Warsaw.

City Lists "Don'ts" to Help Citizens Prevent Losses by Fire

Advice to property owners to prevent fires has been printed for distribution by the city of Midland, and will be passed out in connection with inspection of building properties.

Observation of fire prevention regulations has saved the property owners of Midland thousands of dollars in insurance premiums during the past year, according to city officials. Each one is being called upon to do his part in maintaining the good record.

A list of "don'ts", well worth the consideration of every citizen, young and old, is furnished by the city:

- Don't permit rubbish or waste paper to accumulate; burn it, but not near any building or in fire zone.
- Don't keep matches where young children can get at them.
- Don't be careless with cigarette or cigar stubs—or matches.
- Don't leave oily rags or mops or open paint containers in corners where they may start a fire. Keep them in closed metal containers, or wash and hang out to dry.
- Don't use worn electric cord, or leave electrical appliances connected when finished using them.
- Don't store gasoline in your house or use it there for cleaning.
- Don't use kerosene to start fires.
- Don't use leaky gas hose or connections.
- Don't fail to place sheet metal under stoves and on woodwork nearby.
- Don't neglect cleaning and repairing flues and chimneys.
- Don't put ashes into wooden boxes or cartons. Keep in metal cans.
- Don't fail to protect open lights and to screen open fireplaces.
- Don't thaw frozen pipes with open flame; use only rags wet with hot water.
- Don't look in clothes closets with lighted matches.
- Don't look for gas leak with matches or open flame (use soap suds).
- Don't bridge fuses.

HAS POLAND A CHANCE TO WIN?

By GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT,
NEA Service Staff Writer on Military Affairs.

LONDON. — You can depend on the German military mind never to be too original.

German tactical theory is still dominated by the ideal of Van Scliffen, who considered the victory of Hannibal over the Romans at Cannae in 216 B. C. a model for all tactics. In other words, the object of the German military always is to envelop the enemy flank—preferably both flanks.

In the present Polish campaign we see this traditional strategy at work once more.

It is illustrated in the enveloping of the Polish corridor from east and west, Upper Silesia from west and south, and in the current efforts to surround central Polish positions by concentric attacks from East Prussia, from the corridor and from Silesia, via Lodz.

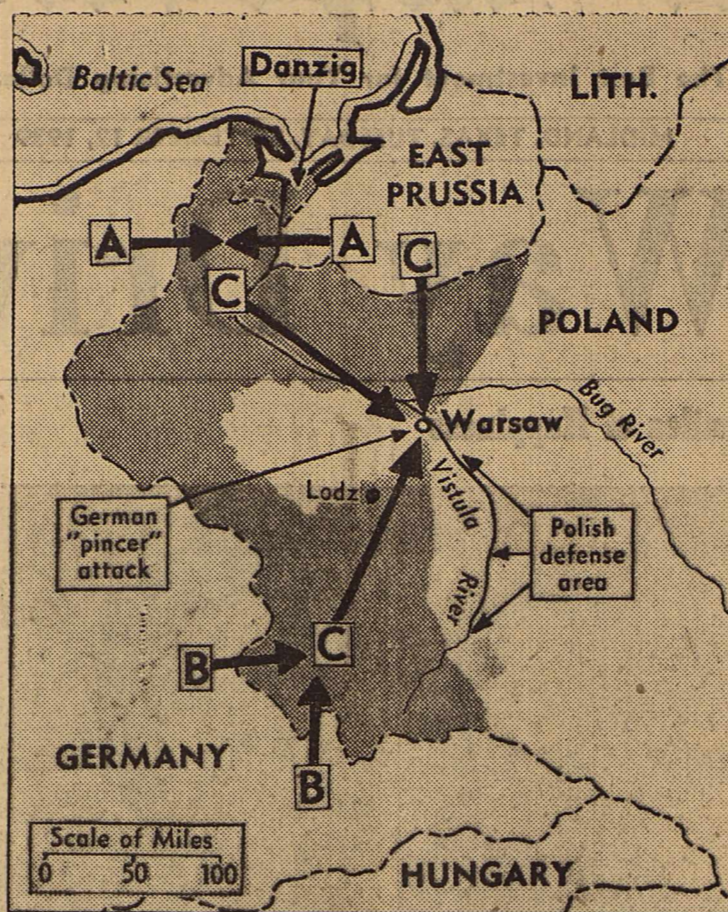

However, present German disposition in Poland has passed beyond the stage where they may be described as true envelopment, in which the enveloping force rarely loses touch with its own main body or holding force.

SEPARATE DETACHMENTS EXPOSED TO ATTACK.

THESE have become vast turning movements, in which there are widely separated forces moving toward a common objective. The danger there is that, as against a well-organized central force, various detachments are exposed to counter attack and destruction.

I was told again and again in Warsaw that the Poles expected considerable German advances in early days of the war, and that the Polish objective was to keep their army intact and then to counter attack once the Germans were deep into the country, its armies widely separated.

This very situation seems to have arrived and Polish counter attacks can be expected, provided there still are troops available for that purpose, which seems quite certain.

The fundamental German military tactic—the flank attack—as exemplified in the current Polish campaign. The arrows (A-A) show the flank/rg movement from east and west in the initial campaign. The same type of movement (B-B) from west and south were used in the attack on Silesia, and the subsequent campaign (C-C-C) on Warsaw took the same line.

Polish resistance to the German advance has not so far been of last ditch character, and quite rightly so, because the Poles cannot afford to lose any of their precious first line divisions in early stages of the war.

German reports of prisoners and guns taken would indicate capture only of Polish rear guard detachments and a scattering of local reserve formations.

WILL SPEED OF ADVANCE BREAK POLISH MORALE?

IT would seem that the Polish army has escaped any serious disaster and is now concentrating in and south of Warsaw. Meanwhile, the advance of the northern and southern arms of the German pincers appears checked on both sides.

The Nazis undoubtedly realize the dangers of their present tactics, but probably count on the speed of their advance to disorganize Polish armies and break Polish morale.

Likewise, they presumably figure that their air force attacks can nullify the Polish army's mobility, an essential to counter attacking. It is quite clear that the Germans have, for the moment at least, established air superiority on the northern front, but air superiority is never a permanent or assured thing because of the very nature of that holding arm.

But the fact remains, despite all this, that the Poles have lost a great deal of territory and their continuous retirement certainly is not helping morale.

Unless they can score, not only some striking success, but also be given strong evidence of allied support, they may be in serious trouble.

However, I suggest that both these things may yet happen, and that the Polish situation, though not at the moment very favorable, is a long way from being hopeless.

Then, too, the Germans may be getting a little too cocky, and, as they press on and spread out more thinly, their transportation difficulties begin.

strong finish, barely missing the finals for the WT-NM playoff. A lot of credit goes to the men who look over the club late in the season when it was floundering financially. Their spirit of never quitting seemed to take effect in the team members, and the club climbed from the mid-season cellar position to third place at the finish. Midland ended the summer highly baseball-minded and will be ripe for opening of the 1940 season. Hats off to Messrs. Duffy, Scharbauer and Greene.

And now we will have time to give attention to the Midland Bulldogs, just entering the class AA race against Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Lamesa, San Angelo and Odessa. The local boys didn't look too powerful against Monahans last Saturday night, observers said, but on the other hand Monahans loomed as a threat in her own district, which includes Wink. When the Bulldogs meet the Thomas Eldson squad from San Antonio this Saturday night, a better early season opinion may be formed of them. Chances are, with the grind to which they have been subjected this week, they will look like a different aggregation from the eleven which nosed out Monahans 6 to 0.

Editor Shuffler of Odessa failed to have anything worthwhile in his column yesterday and, as I don't feel free to take digs at many other editors, I will close today's quota without vitriolic comment.

Two aged Midland citizens have had birthdays this month. J. D. Cowden, on September 4, reached the age of 78. He was born in Palo Pinto county and saw some rough times in the Indian fighting days before coming to Midland.

Today, C. S. (Uncle Charley) Aycock reached the age of 80. He was born in Falls county, spent much of his life as a telegraph operator and held his finger "on the pulse of the world" during some interesting stages of Texas development. Today he is near death at the Ryan hospital, where he has been ill since July 19, but several friends have brightened the day with flowers or remembrances.

Wanted—Bullets For 50 Hold-Ups

Eight hundred rounds of ammunition, enough for fifty bank robberies, were fired during a hold-up sequence in "Undercover Doctor," which comes to the Yucca Theatre on Wednesday next. The Paramount crime film is an expose of the crooked activities of a brilliant surgeon, a civic leader and a gang of ruthless killers, based on J. Edgar Hoover's book, "Persons in Hiding." J. Carol Nash, as the brilliant but weak-willed surgeon, becomes an undercover doctor for a gang of desperadoes when he no longer feels like fighting for the recognition he feels he ought to have. With the lucrative, illegal fees he earns from the crooks, Nash establishes himself as a swank society physician. Thus the

FEMININE FANCIES

By Kathleen Eiland

If there's a small child in the family who exhibits a violent dislike for soap, we suggest that mother employ one of the clever sets consisting of a cuddly little hen and a big egg, both molded from soap. Lastex shirtings are used in vertical lines on a green jersey blouse. And other colors and designs have touches of shirring or gatherings to give the fullness and softness that characterize trimmings for new clothes this season.

In meandering about among blouse counters, we discovered some pretty blouses of silk jersey. One in particular won our heart—a rich rosy-wine red—made of puffed cordings (there must be some lastex in them) to clasp midlady's throat in a high band and with a buckled belt of self-material giving a bloused effect at the waist. Lastex shirtings are used in vertical lines on a green jersey blouse. And other colors and designs have touches of shirring or gatherings to give the fullness and softness that characterize trimmings for new clothes this season.

Of course, there are cotton jersey blouses, too, for those who do not care for the silk jersey or do not care to put as much into a blouse as the price tag on the better garments indicate. Things we like: Sunsets that are red-and-gold; chilly autumn nights with the moon rising big and round and red, mysteriously strange; little white-skinned grapes; a bowl of hot soup on a wet, cold day; poems that have both beauty and meaning; people who are gentle and courteous, with the gentleness and courtesy that goes with strength of will and character; people to whom the word "faith" means something to live by; people who think that loving one's fellow man is more important than sitting in the amen corner at church each Sunday (and sitting in judgement on the afore-said fellow man all week); sunny weather all the time.

We hear quite a lot about discipline these days—discipline or the lack of it. To our mind about the hardest discipline to attain (or maintain) is mental discipline of one's self. Besides the difficulty of self-discipline, there is also the problem of whether or not it should be maintained, even if it can be. One writer earnestly beseeches his reader to refrain from all anger and hate and scorn, as such burn up the bodily tissues and are harmful altogether to men. Another with apparently just as much conviction, declares that one should have tantrums if he feels like it—should let the hard-held barriers of restraint and express his anger, hate, and scorn as freely as he pleases—because to keep such caged up within is to harm one's body and nerves. So—apparently one must simply make a choice of method and stick to that—and whichever choice he makes, there will be wise ones to laud him. It's a great world and an exceedingly wacky one. No wonder such idiotic things as wars keep on occurring.

NEW ORLEANS (U.P.) — Frank (Val) Barbara makes a living out of cabs and cadenzas without being able to read music and without being classed as a singing cab-driver.

Here's how he does it: During the day he forsakes music entirely, with the exception of an occasional tweet on the whistle he uses to call cabs. He works as a cab started—from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

After dark, Barbara directs his dance band. He doesn't know anything about music personally, but he knows there's money in dance bands.

Yes, and only two ways—before and after it happens! Instead of enduring those dull, tired, head-achy days and then having to take an emergency medicine—why not KEEP regular with Kellogg's All-Bran? You can, if your constipation is the kind millions have—due to the lack of "bulk" in modern diets.

THERE IS NO WAR CLAUSE IN A PRAETORIAN POLICY

Wars and the rumors of wars cause the patrons and executives of life insurance organizations to meditate upon the factor of increased mortality incident to such violence.

At the outbreak of the World War all standard life insurance policies contained what was known as the "war clause," cancelling the insurance, or at least denying liability for loss or injury incident to military service.

Since nations feverishly prepare for war, and armies of the millions are now marching, what must be the thoughts of those now holding, and those desiring to acquire, life insurance protection?

Praetorian policies now contain the following clause: "This policy is free of restrictions from date of issue as to change in occupation, residence or travel."

COWBOYS DROP 5-2 DECISION TO PAMPA TO END SEASON HERE

Dilbeck Limits Home Team to 5 Hits in Finale

The 1939 baseball season came to a sad end in Midland last night when the Pampa Oilers defeated the Cowboys in the fifth game of the first round playoffs.

The victory gave Pampa the right to meet the Lubbock Hubbers in a best four out of seven series for the league championship. The two clubs meet in Lubbock tonight in the initial game.

It was simply too much Dilbeck for Midland last night. The Pampa hurler gave up only five hits and was double tough in the pinches all except once. Lefty Shelton started on the mound for the Cowboys but, pitching with only one day's rest, lacked his usual amount of stuff and was knocked from the box in the fifth inning.

The Oilers got away to a two run lead in the second inning and were never headed. After Beavers walked to start the frame, Jerry Jordan singled, Bob Bailey walked to load the bases and Dilbeck singled to send two runners home.

The Cowboys never threatened during the first four innings. In the first half of the fifth, the Oilers really sewed up the game. Saporito, Phillips and Seitz singled in succession for one score. Nugent relieved Shelton and walked Summers to load the bases and then catcher Beavers came through with a single to score two more runners and put the game on ice for the visitors.

In their own half of the fifth the Cowboys got the first two men up on base but could not tally. In the sixth, after Cox led off with a double, Naranjo walked and Jordan came through with a single to count one run.

The Cowboys could not get a man on in either the seventh or eighth but in the ninth Joe Piet hit a long home run over the left field wall to account for the final Midland tally.

Ancient Homes Found in Iowa

GLENWOOD, Ia.—Evidence that at least some forerunners of the white man in Iowa possessed a fairly well developed culture has been uncovered through recent excavations by the Iowa archeological survey.

Sites of 12 aboriginal homes were uncovered by WPA workers under the direction of Ellison Orr. They were located on bluffs along the Missouri river in southwestern Iowa.

Dr. Charles R. Keyes, director of the survey, said well-preserved foundations and relics definitely showed that the occupants had another prehistoric inhabitants of Iowa.

Keyes said it was a matter of conjecture when this culture flourished, but he was positive the people had no contact with the white man.

The typical ancient house, as reconstructed from evidence uncovered, was from 25 to 3 feet square and about 20 feet high. Closely set post, 8 to 14 inches in diameter, covered with clay plaster formed the walls. The roof was a thatch of prairie grass plastered with clay and covered with a foot of earth. "Built partly underground," Dr. Keyes said, "the interior was reached by a long ramp of the same wall and roof construction as the house. The roof was insulated so that it was warm in winter and cool in summer. The vent in the roof for the fireplace gave ventilation for the occupants."

These early people stored large quantities of food in pits in the floors of their houses, Keyes said, and some charred corn was found. Pottery, implements and ornaments of bone, antlers, shell and stone also were uncovered.

The sites of the early dwellings were filled in again and returned to agriculture when the work was completed.

Twin Scorers May Lift Rice To 1937 Peaks

BY RICHARD M. MOREHEAD
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOUSTON, Tex. (U.P.) — Rice Institute's potential great football team hopes this year to overcome the jinx that pushed its favored entry in the Southwest Conference race into fourth place in 1938.

Young Coach Jimmy Kitts is counting upon his famed senior and Ollie Cordill — to speak his 1939 team to be reconstructed from a squad that lost heavily by graduation. Lain, a 220-pounder, passed and plunged the 1937 Rice team into the conference championship, with some able assistance by Cordill, then a sophomore triple threat.

Cordill, right tackle, weighs 190 pounds and his average yards gained from scrimmage last year was 4.47. Lain, injured during much of the season, averaged only two yards per try, but maintained a 500 average on completed passes. Cordill was his most effective receiver.

These two men are reported "ready to go" and around them Kitts will fashion a team designed to wrest the conference title from

Seven Veterans Lost

From the 1938 team, Rice has lost seven starters—Jake Schuchie, fullback; Paul Hancock, blocking back; Harry Arthur, center; Jim Rogers and Matt Landry, guards; Jess Hines, tackles; and Walter Williams, end. Three other backs who saw frequent service—E. Y. Steakley, Doug Sullivan, and Don Coffee—also have been graduated.

Despite this loss, Rice is expected to have a strong team—particularly from tackle to tackle. Letterman Ken Whitlow and Sophomore Buck Sloan, weighing 180 each, will compete for the center assignment. Capt. Ed Singletary, 215, and Andy Nobles, 190 pounds, will provide a pair of experienced guards. They will be backed up by two other lettermen and the best sophomore guard corps in recent Rice history.

The returning tackles are Reinhart Stanzel and J. R. Green. They also have plenty of sophomore help.

The ends are the biggest question mark of the team. Don Hager, letterman tackle, will be converted into an end and he probably will be tried out with Harold Palmer, another letterman, who weighs 199. Bib Robb, 180, is a senior end. The backfield promises to be Kitts' pride. Billy Cline, returning letterman, will be available to replace Lain, with speedy W. C. Moore and sophomore Don Suman to relieve Cordill. Floyd Mechler, letterman ineligible last year, will probably get the vacant fullback assignment, with six competitors battling for the alternate job.

Lain Signal Caller

Lain calls signals from his left halfback position, so the quarterback's chore is chiefly a blocking assignment. Bill Haner and Hugo Stevens, both lettermen, are the leading contenders for that place. The Owls are expected to be much stronger defensively than in 1938 and to have one of the most potent backfields in the conference. Kitts has available, such a large number of backfield candidates that he can supply either the fastest or the heaviest quarter in the league—or a combination of both.

Move to Name Bridge After Lou Ambers

By NEA Service.
HERKIMER, N. Y. — Lou Ambers may become the first fighter in history to have a bridge named after him. A movement toward that signal honor for the boy who regained the world lightweight championship in a second match with Henry Armstrong is under way here in a proposal that the newly constructed bridge over the Mohawk river at Herkimer should bear the name of the Italian boy who made the town famous. The structure, which will not be officially opened for several days, was opened temporarily for a parade arranged as a testimonial to the home town boy who made good and so that he could be the first to cross it. The movement to name the bridge after Ambers, initiated by a local manufacturer, is receiving strong support.

Convict Requests Whipping, Pardon And Citizenship

SACRAMENTO, Cal. (U.P.) — Gov. Culbert Olson was stumped when Robert Thomas, Canadian convict in a California prison, demanded a horsewhipping.

Thomas was serving time for an armed robbery. In addition to the horsewhipping, he also asked a pardon, restoration of citizenship, restoration of his hearing, and a job.

"I have asked the board of prison terms and paroles if I could be given a horsewhipping for my crime and I have not received any answer. So I thought I would write to you and ask if I may be given a whipping for my wrongdoing."

Thomas said his partial deafness prevented his obtaining employment and asked medical treatment along with a pardon to help him get a job. Olson finally gave the case to the advisory pardon board.

Eden Declares Will Last Until Hitler Regime Is Vanquished

LONDON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Anthony Eden told the world last night that "there can be no lasting peace until nazism, and all that it stands for in oppression, cruelty and broken faith, is banished from the earth."

"This," he said, "is an issue that admits no compromise." The former foreign secretary, brought back into Prime Minister Chamberlain's war cabinet as dominions secretary, said in an international radio broadcast that Fuehrer Hitler "deliberately and with set purpose x x chose to embark upon a war of naked aggression."

As for Britain, he said: "For us there will be no turning back." Great Britain's people, Eden asserted flatly, are "ready to fight a very long war to the bitter end if that must be to rid the world of Hitlerism and all that Hitlerism implies."

It was his first broadcast since war was declared. Reviewing the diplomatic exchanges that preceded the outbreak of the conflict, Eden asserted "the German chancellor carried dissimulation so far as finally to invade Poland because Poland had failed to accept peace proposals."

There has never been a more faithful mockery of international good faith.

Poland, said the handsome statesman, was "always ready to negotiate as Czechoslovakia was ready. Herr Hitler has preferred force. He has made the choice: He must suffer the decision."

Eden reiterated Great Britain had "on quarrel with the German people."

Five-Time Aggressor

"Five times in the last eighty years," said Eden, "the rulers of Germany have embarked with only the slightest pretext upon a war of aggression."

"Against peaceful Denmark in 1864, against Austria in 1866, against France in 1870, against the world in 1914 to 1918, and now against France, Poland and Great Britain in 1939."

With such a record, he went on, Germany's present leaders "might well have thought that they should accept to negotiate," but "they preferred yet once more the path of lawlessness, the path of misery and bloodshed, the path of anarchy and want."

Eden said "Let there be no mistake about this. Our determination to see this war through to the end is unshaken. We must make it clear to the nazis leaders, and if we can to the German people, that this country x x has not gone to war about the fate of a faraway city in a foreign land."

14 Lose Lives When Danish Steamer Sunk

British to Remove Government Aides

HOUSTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The British government announced today it was taking steps to remove 7,000 to 8,000 members of staffs of the government departments from London, but stressed the government itself was not moving from the capital.

The plan was described as a degree of decentralization.

The Declaration of Independence of the Republic of Texas injected a new element into history when it listed a "neglect of public education" as one of the legitimate causes for revolution. Out of that grew The University of Texas, conceived in legislation and opened in 1883.

Food Prices And Profits

A Statement of Safeway Policy

THE FORCES of market disturbance, fear, and speculation, are at work. Prices for some basic commodities have already gone up. Increases in Safeway's retail prices on these items reflect the rise in wholesale cost, over which Safeway has no control.

It is a fundamental Safeway policy to earn only a small profit on each sale. Safeway pledges that during the period of war emergency it will not change this policy; and that in the future, as heretofore, it will make every effort through improved methods to reduce distribution cost—the difference between what the farmer gets and the consumer pays. You will always be able to buy from Safeway at the lowest prices available anywhere.

Consumers may assist materially in preventing unwarranted price increases by continuing their purchases on a normal scale. There are adequate supplies of food stuffs for every American. Hysterical buying which strips retail and wholesale stocks creates artificial scarcity, which pushes prices to abnormal levels.

Machinery exists within the government to control production, storage and release of commodities, imports, exports, quotas and prices—if it should become necessary to employ these methods to protect the economic welfare of the country.

Safeway further pledges complete cooperation with the governmental agencies and with farmer producers in all efforts to stabilize prices; discourage profiteering; and maintain orderly facilities for food distribution.

SAFEWAY
