Gdynia Falls Before Nazis Early Today

Capture of Seaport Announced With News Of Continued Advance

BERLIN, Sept. 14. (AP).—The surrender of Gdynia was announced today and Germany's eastern army was reported to have made new advances in drives against Warsaw and two other key Polish objectives.

A communiqué said German troops had entered the Polish port city this morning. "The Polish commandant surrendered the city but north of Gdynia fighting is still going on," the communiqué continued.

Germans reported 66,000 Polish prisoners had been captured during the Polish campaign.

The communiqué said three moves were being concentrated upon: Encircling Warsaw; cutting off Lublin from Lwow; advancing upon Brzesc, 110 miles east of Warsaw.

Second Large Well Found in Deep Pay Of Crockett Pool

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Another producer from the prolific deep pay underlying shallow production in the Crockett pool on University of Texas lands in northwestern Crockett county was indicated today by the report that Gilcrease Oil Company of San Antonio, No. 11-13 University was flowing heavily after deepening to the new horizon.

No gauges were immediately available on the new well, but it was said to be even larger than the discovery of the deep pay, Gilcrease No. 1-13 University, a half-mile to the southeast, which flowed 2,205 barrels in 26 hours after deepening to 1,444 feet and later gauged 108 barrels in six hours. Old total depth of No. 11-13 University was 1,370 feet, where it had originally been completed on pump for initial production of 50 barrels of oil daily after shooting with 100 quarts from 1,320-70. It is located 1,320 feet from the north, 330 from the west and section 11, block 4, University survey.

Acidizing with 1,500 gallons was slated today for Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and Monte Warner No. 1 J. S. Masterson, discovery well of the Ageo Ordovician pool in northern Pecos, which was completed naturally early last June for 24-hour flow of 183.87 barrels of oil bottomed at 4,595, 45 feet in the Ellenberger, lower Ordovician. Operators evidently decided to acquire the discovery because of the surprising increase in production obtained by treating its southwest offset, Magnolia Petroleum Company, No. 1 M. I. Masterson, with 500 gallons, which converted it from a 24-barrel pumper into a flowing well gauged at 1,012 barrels in 10 hours. Rayner Washing Hole.

After cleaning out shot cavings to bottom, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Jeanette B. Rayner, Cedar Lake pool opener in northwestern Gaines, today was washing hole with oil while awaiting erection of additional storage. That nitro shot with 615 quarts from 4,646 to 4,760 feet increased gas was indicated by the fact that circulating oil, which had been dead when first pumped into the hole, appeared live in returns. The well is said to have tried to head. Total depth is 4,770 feet, plugged back from 4,830 to shut off water, and the well at Cedar Lake has been acidized with 2,500 gallons, swabbing 182.36 barrels of oil, cut slightly with water, in 12 1/2 hours afterward.

In the east extension area of the Denver pool, southern Yaokum, Magnolia No. 4 R. M. Kendrick was completed for potential of 650 barrels a day at 5,112 feet after acidizing with 3,000, 2,500 and 2,000 gallons in successive stages. The Company No. 5 Kendrick still is a location. No. 6 Kendrick, bottomed at 5,237 feet, is drilling pump from 10 3/4-inch casing cemented on bottom with 150 sacks; No. 7 Kendrick is drilling rat hole.

Two new producers were completed in the Bennett pool of south-eastern Yaokum, Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 23 Bennett rated potential of 1,604 barrels of 34-gravity oil per day, with gas-oil ratio of 1,483-1, after shooting with 680 quarts from 5,058, where pay was topped to 5,232. It is bottomed in lime at 5,238 feet.

Magnolia No. 8 Bennett set potential of 426.84 barrels after shooting and acidizing at 5,243 feet.

Polish Officials Flee to Rumania As Germans Advance

BUDAPEST, Sept. 14 (AP).—Eleven Polish officials, headed by Eugene Kwiatkowski, vice premier and finance minister, were reported last night to have crossed the southern Polish border into Rumania.

One of the party was identified as the head of the Poleska Bank (Bank of Poland).

This development was reported as the progress of the war in Poland was veiled here through the inability of observers to pick up Warsaw or Lwow broadcasts during the day and the refusal of the Poles to permit correspondents to enter their country from Hungary or Rumania.

The Polish officials were reported to have arrived at Cernauti, Rumanian city south of the Rumanian-Polish border.

A dispatch from Cernauti also said 14 planes landed there during the day with a total of 48 persons from Poland, mostly members of the families of Polish commercial airline pilots.

The Rumanian ambassador to Warsaw and his staff also entered Rumania at Cernauti.

Poles earlier had reported that Germans had dropped men on Polish territory by parachute in an effort to expedite the Nazi advance.

Hull Serves Notice Rights of Americans Will Be Protected

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP).—The American government served notice on warring nations today it reserves all rights of the United States and its nationals under international law and will take appropriate measures when these rights are violated.

Secretary Hull detailed various steps taken through legislation such as restriction of travel on belligerent vessels, loans and credits to belligerents, but added "these restrictive measures do not constitute modification of principles of international law."

U. S. Boat Prepares To Save Tanker Crew

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP).—The United States liner Manhattan today radioed she had turned from her course to rescue the crew of the British tanker, "British Influence," reported to have been torpedoed.

Formally at War, Canada Prepares to Shoot Stream of Supplies and Pilots to England

Thomas Wayling, one of Canada's best-known correspondents, has written much for NEA Service on Canadian affairs. Since this story was written, Wayling, a World War ex-service man, volunteered and was accepted as Chief Press Liaison Officer for Army, Navy, and Air Forces, with the rank of Major.

BY THOMAS WAYLING.
(Written for NEA Service).

OTTAWA, Canada, Sept. 14. —With Canada in the war, the beginnings already have been made on a "bridge of ships" on the sea and in the air which will carry a continuous stream of war supplies and trained air pilots to England's aid.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King already has announced plans for support by the Dominion of the English effort in the war. While volunteers between 18 and 41 are being accepted for service in Europe, universal conscription is not planned at present.

Inclusion of Canada under the terms of the United States' arms embargo is expected to raise certain problems, as does the present regulation forbidding enlistment of Americans under the Canadian colors.

But Canada's economy already has been so regulated as to place its maximum power behind the war effort. Conservation of food resources and the speeding up of production in many fields has already begun, and across the sea and through the air, Canada's supporting strength will soon begin to flow to Britain.

CANADA IS RESERVOIR OF MANPOWER

CANADA'S military forces have already been readied for whatever may come. The 5000 regulars and 125,000 militia are standing to arms. But a better indication of Canada's potential military value to the commonwealth is the fact that she sent 600,000 men and women in uniform to Europe during the World War.

The Canadian navy consisted of only six destroyers, but that six were the best in the world during the war, when she depended on ships loaned by the British Admiralty. Coastal defenses have been immensely strengthened, and the air force, while small, about 150 ships, is modern and well-trained. Some of the best Royal Air Force flyers of the World War were Canadians, who are naturally skilful and bold flyers.

Boeing Aircraft, for instance has a plant at Vancouver turning out Shark bombers for the Royal Canadian Air Force. Other plane-builders can quickly adopt the same technique.

Significant moves are on foot to build up Canada's production of essential war munitions and materials. Two years ago the Dominion had three airplane factories. Today it has thirteen. All are speeding up production, and delivery is made direct by flying the Atlantic. Previous to the present emergency Canada had only one small-arm factory, government-operated. Now British war contracts have enabled various engineering plants to switch to munition-manufacture.

WAR MATERIAL OUTPUT SPEEDS

PRODUCTION of the "sinews of war" has been, and will be speeded up. Ninety per cent of the world's nickel is produced in mines around Sudbury, and copper production can be speeded up.

Canada is an important producer of gold, and also a safe haven for gold already produced. More than $600,000,000 in British gold has already been deposited in the Bank of Canada. The western oil fields of Alberta, as yet comparatively untouched, might quickly start to flow.

The great grain terminal elevators which dot the prairies and the storage facilities at Halifax and St. John will be placed at the disposal of the British government at fixed prices. The entire wheat production of Canada can quickly be placed under complete control. There is a carry over of 100,000 bushels and a heavy crop is in prospect.

Expansion of American manufacturing plants having branches in Canada may be expected. Nothing can effect the legality of sale by Canada to England of goods produced in Canada.

More than $4,000,000,000 of American money is invested in Canada, and skilled workers and equipment can readily be transferred across the border to speed up Canadian production of supplies and munitions.

Canada has already mobilized industry, commerce, transport and food distribution, with all plans ready to put them on a war basis at a moment's notice.

Shoppers Urged to Do Trading Early Saturday in City

Since practically all retail stores of the city will close their doors at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening, 30 minutes before the usual Saturday night closing time, in order that employees and others may see the football game between Thomas Edison (San Antonio) and Midland on today being urged to do their shopping as early as possible Saturday evening in order that stores will have no difficulty in closing at the 8:30 hour. It is predicted that the largest crowd ever to witness a football game in Midland will be in attendance at Lackey Field Saturday night.

Struggle Over Neutrality Act Is Foreseen

Special Session Order Scored by Roosevelt Fans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP).—President Roosevelt's call of a special session of congress for September 21 yesterday gave the signal for a tense and bitter struggle over his proposal that the present embargo on arms shipments to Europe's belligerents be abolished.

Simultaneously, the chief executive invited the leaders of both parties to an extraordinary conference at the White House on Sept. 20. This invitation apparently was in line with his announced effort to obtain "national unity" in the situation resulting from Europe's war.

A short time after the special session call went out, James A. Farley conferred with the president and then, in talking to reporters, supported the chief executive's plea that politics be adjourned.

"I don't think the people are interested in politics at the moment," said Farley.

It became apparent Mr. Roosevelt probably would command majority support in the senate foreign relations committee where the opening skirmishes of the neutrality revision battle will be fought.

This came about through an announcement from Senator Van Nuys (D-Ind) that he would vote to repeal the embargo and substitute a "cash and carry" system of arms sales, if proper safeguards were provided. A few months ago the committee divided 12 to 11 against proceeding with the legislation, with Van Nuys opposing the administration at that time.

Many assumed, meanwhile, that the president was counting upon the support of a majority of the senate as well. It was generally believed that Mr. Roosevelt would not have issued his proclamation unless he felt sure of his position.

Administration men insist that the embargo as such is essentially unimportant in that through it this nation deprives Great Britain of the advantage to be gained from its huge fleet and control of the seas. They contend, too, that it is inconsistent to embargo actual war implements—guns, ammunition, airplanes and the like—yet freely permit the sale of the raw materials from which the instruments of death can be manufactured.

It is freely conceded that if the embargo is lifted, Britain's sea power will see to it that only English ships and planes have access to American-made arms.

From this, the opponents of repeal, drew their principal counter argument. To make American arms available to Great Britain by changing the law at this stage would, they assert, be unkindly to Germany and therefore unneutral.

Expeditions Into Grand Canyon Are Described in Talk

Experiences gained by two summers of exploration into Grand Canyon of Arizona and in the Marble Gorge were recounted in a talk by Georges Vorbe, Midland geologist, at the Rotary club today. The speaker illustrated his talk with a map made from findings of the party. The explorations were made when Mr. Vorbe was on the faculty of the University of California during the summers of 1932 and 1933, and he was chief of one of two parties conducting geological research.

Photographs of the Marble Gorge area, showing its inaccessibility, were passed among members of the audience. He told of the lower strata computed at 800-million years of age and of the various layers up to formations being made at present. The trail into Marble Gorge was made in 1890, he said, and had been used only twice when his party made the expedition.

Among visitors at the luncheon were Fred Bucy of Tahoka, Jim Eddy of Austin, Paschal Buckner of Big Spring, Huey Reeves and E. B. Ribble of Odessa, Bill Wright of El Paso and Jack Pentose of Odessa.

Canada's Eligible Voters Estimated at 6,500,000

OTTAWA, Ont. (UP).—Approximately 6,500,000 men and women will be entitled to vote in Canada's next general election, election officials here estimate.

Of the total, about 4,875,000 probably will cast ballots to elect the 19th Parliament.

In the last federal election on Oct. 14, 1935, there were 5,918,207 eligible voters and of these 4,452,675 cast ballots, representing 75 per cent of the total.

Many Divisions of British Troopers Landed in France

PARIS, Sept. 14 (AP).—French troops, supported by British, were reported today in military dispatches to be closing in from three sides on Saarbruecken.

A brief communiqué read: "There is strong action by heavy enemy artillery on the heights south of Saarbruecken."

PARIS, Sept. 14 (AP).—Several hundred thousand British troops have landed in France unhampered either by submarine or aerial attack, it was announced last night.

Announcement of the achievement was made in authorized quarters shortly after Premier Daladier had reformed his cabinet for "win the war" purposes, with himself as premier, minister of foreign affairs and minister of war and national defense.

It also followed an official communiqué stating that French troops fighting their way forward in the Saarbruecken area of Germany again had bettered their positions after having previously gained a mile.

The addition of two ministries—blockade and armament—and the consolidation of the national defense and foreign affairs ministries under Daladier, gave the cabinet 21 members compared with 19 in the previous government.

Daladier named Senator Georges Pernot, who belongs to the repub-

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP).—The crew of the British freighter Vancouver City, torpedoed today off the south coast of Ireland, was rescued by a Netherlands tanker and airplane, the United States liner President Roosevelt radioed today.

Chamberlain Backs Talk Of Halifax

Says Country Not To Attack Others Than German Troops

LONDON, Sept. 14. (AP).—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons today if Germany bombed civilians in Poland it would strengthen the resolve of Britain and her allies to "insure the menace we are now fighting is finally removed."

Chamberlain reiterated a statement made yesterday by Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax that Britain would claim a free hand to take "appropriate action" if Germany bombed civilians.

"But I wish to add that whatever lengths to which others may go his majesty's government will never resort to deliberate attacks on women, children and other civilians for the purpose of mere terrorism," Chamberlain said.

At the same time, the British government took the stand that, although it had agreed not to bomb civilians, it would claim a free hand if the German high command carried out its reported threat to bomb Polish towns to crush civilian resistance.

This warning was given by the foreign minister, Lord Halifax.

Halifax made his declaration after Prime Minister Chamberlain and Earl Stanhope, lord president of the council, in a report on the war told the two houses of Parliament that Britain and France were determined to end German aggression "once and for all."

The prime minister's statement, which was read by Lord Stanhope, reviewed the activity of the armies, navies, and air forces of the warring countries and gave a general report on the defense situation of the allied powers.

Chamberlain, referring briefly to his flight to France for a meeting of the Allied Supreme War Council, emphasized the complete unanimity of Britain and France and declared they would fight until they had banished "the intolerable strain of living under the perpetual threat of Nazi aggression."

Nazis Deny Charges They Plan to Form Sub Bases in S. A.

BERLIN, Sept. 14. (AP).—British charges Germany may try to establish submarine bases in Central and South America were denounced in a communiqué today as a "clumsy attempt to create panic among Latin-American nations."

"It must be stated once again Germany has no political or military ambitions of any nature in North Central or South America," the communiqué added.

The official British belief that Germany may attempt to establish submarine and air bases in South and Central America was expressed while the British government made it clear its bombing operations in Germany depended on whether the Reich's high command carried out its threat to bomb unfortified Polish cities.

In a brief communiqué, the ministry of information said the government had reasons to believe Germany might try to build bases in Central and South America and had instructed England's envoys to be on the watch.

The communiqué said the British representatives in the possibly affected countries had been told to invite the governments to which they are accredited to take steps which may be necessary to prevent any breaches of their neutrality.

SO THEY SAY

War Brings Financial Disaster

(Houston Chronicle.)

In any consideration of war of lengthy duration, financial cost necessarily occupies a large place.

The world war left Germany bankrupt, France and Italy nearly so, Russia in economic as well as social chaos, and other nations' financial resources severely strained.

Bankruptcy might well be in store for every nation participating in a second world war. It costs more per man to put an army in the field now than then, for armies nowadays are mechanized to an extent scarcely dreamed of a quarter century ago. Airplanes by the thousands, tanks and trucks by the scores of thousands, and other equipment used in greater measure than formerly are expensive.

The nations of Europe are in immensely poorer financial position for war than in 1914. Not only have they been unable physically and financially to recover completely from the last one, but they have been spending money for preparation at an annual rate greater than the cost of war itself was in all except the world struggle. The armaments race had attained the speed of something like $17,000,000,000 a year. Since 1933 the nations of the world have spent, according to one calculation, more than $60,000,000,000 in preparation for war. This figure may be none too accurate, for the military budgets of some nations are not reliably reported, and furthermore it is necessary to make an arbitrary estimate in translating the value of some currencies into dollars. But the figure probably is close enough.

Classical economists of not long ago would say that nations going into war under such a heavy burden of debt could not support the struggle for long. In 1914-18, however, the nations learned that under stress of war they could raise greater sums than had been thought possible. In the enclosed economies of Germany, Russia and Italy financial miracles can be performed, for awhile. But the day of reckoning is bound to come for all; a long continued world war would bring financial disaster far greater than the first one did.

The Town Quack

I refer to the baseball playoff. Personally I was through with baseball the night Midland got eliminated and am ready for football to begin.

Saturday night will mark the opening of home games for the Bulldogs when they take on the Thomas Edison team from San Antonio. If you haven't picked up your reserved seats, drop around to the chamber of commerce and make your purchase, as the demand is going to increase considerably by tomorrow.

The chamber of commerce will sponsor a big air show in connection with formal opening of Midland Municipal Airport, after the big improvement program is completed. This is a worthy project and should make the city more air minded.

A group of local men, I understand, will purchase a plane and teach themselves to fly. I look for many local citizens to own their planes within the next ten years. One would be surprised at the number of men living here right now who are licensed pilots or who have considerable flying time to their credit.

Frankie Ingham, five year old son of Homer, still wears his rodeo contestants' number "22" pinned to the cuff of his Levi breeches. Homer had to talk three contestants out of their numbers, for just such purposes, and Frankie is going to wear his as long as it lasts. Incidentally, the five year old was one of the best riding cowboys in the third entry, sitting on his bay mare, Jessie, like a veteran.

Clay Floyd pulled a sheep deal involving several thousand head, it is reported, but it took more running rounds and salesmanship than the cow trade which slipped up on him at time in the bowling alley.

Looks like Lubbock will take the air games from Pampa in stride.

SWAPPING ITALY AND JAPAN FOR SOVIET AID WAS GOOD TRADE FOR HITLER-ELIOT

What lies behind this sudden new German-Russian friendship? It seems to have cooled Italy and Japan toward their former Nazi ally. Did Hitler make a good bargain in trading them for Russian aid? George Fielding Eliot, famous authority on military subjects, answers those questions in the exclusive dispatch below, cabled to NEA Service and The Reporter-Telegram.

BY GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT.
LONDON—The consensus of Europe's "expert guessers" as to the Moscow strategy in this present conflict is that Russia hasn't the slightest intention of moving a soldier or firing a shot until western Europe is in shambles.

On the basis of information here and my previous observations in Warsaw, Bucharest, Belgrade, Athens and elsewhere, this would seem to be a fair analysis of Russia's role in the current war.

From the German viewpoint, there is little doubt that Berlin expected Poland to surrender at the mere announcement of the Russo-German pact, whereupon Britain and France would make the best of a bad bargain.

The Russians may also have considered this possibility, in which case Russia and Germany would divide Poland. If Russia had made a deal with the French and British, and then Germany beat Poland, Russia would get no cut of the melon.

However, the possibility must not be rejected that the Russo-German pact goes deeper and envisages real cooperation—in which case the whole situation changes.

Rumors continue of secret agreements partitioning the Balkans. To Russia goes Turkey, Bulgaria and Bessarabia, the eastern part of the Baltic states, including Finland and the eastern part of Poland. To Germany goes Yugoslavia, Rumania (less Bessarabia), Greece, Hungary, Danzig, the Corridor, upper Silesia and Posen, leaving of Poland only a small rump of a state around Warsaw.

The Germans must have known that the pact with Russia would alienate Japan and Spain and do no good for the Nazi standing in Rome. Yet they went ahead. Unless the Russians are deliberately double-crossing Germany, a new and startling situation may arise.

CONSIDER RUSSIA AS ACTIVE ALLY.
CONSIDERING Russia purely on speculative basis, as an active military ally of Germany attacking the Poles at the proper time, it is difficult to see how the Poles could resist the sheer weight of numbers of Russian troops, despite the bad quality of the Russian command, staff and transport.

Similarly, a Russian attack on Bessarabia, coupled with lightning German moves by air, using troop transport planes to seize Rumanian oil fields, would create an impossible situation in Rumania.

Meanwhile, Turkey, which holds the key to the Black Sea, might well hesitate because of the long, exposed, Black Sea coast and the Caucasus frontier. And the Bulgars might come in if promised Dobrudja and perhaps a seaport.

ITALY MIGHT SWING TO ALLIES.
IT is quite possible that all of this might completely alienate Italy and result in counter moves in the Balkan Peninsula, perhaps by Greece and Yugoslavia, supported by the British, French and Italians.

The situation is very obscure. Certainly, if given Russian intervention on the German side and gradually growing German control of Russian resources, man power and raw materials, Germany would have made an excellent bargain in exchanging these against Italy, Japan and Spain. Indeed, just this is Hitler's purpose as outlined in Mein Kampf. And it is not easy to see how it can be prevented save by vigorous, immediate action in the Balkan area by allied powers which might scare off the Russians before it is too late.

All these speculations, however, assume that the Kremlin intends to keep faith with Germany. Much, and perhaps everything, may depend on the vigor and correctness of actions taken by France and Britain within the next few days.

The map above shows eastern Europe as Russia and Germany might divide it between them. The black area shows Germany plus the countries she would take over. Vertical shading indicates the greater Russia, which would include Bessarabia, in the northeastern part of Rumania. Poland would be reduced to a small area around Warsaw.

I think we may be certain that there will be stirring news within the next few days. The appointment of General Sir Edmund Ironside as Chief of the Imperial General Staff confirms me in this opinion.

Ironside is no man to sit and twiddle his thumbs in a situation

It is difficult to see how the Poles could resist the sheer weight of numbers of Russian troops . . .

like this, and he is the best informed man in the British army on Russia and Poland. Further-

Bob Hope Finds Blackout Gags Good in London

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Hope offers Hollywood a tip after this experience in two London blackouts.

Talent scouts, according to Hope, are missing a big bet when they pass up London cabbies. "Those drivers are natural comedians and gag men," he said. "They top anything I ever heard on the West Coast."

Hope remained in New York long enough to arrange with Paramount for the premiere of his new feature, "The Cat and the Canary." He was on the high seas when England and France declared war against Germany, so that the time he was vacationing in London enabled him to experience two blackouts.

"The first," said Hope, "was disappointing. I looked out of my hotel window and there were too many lights on throughout the city for it to be really effective."

Lunar Ship Designers Report Progress Made

LONDON—Designs for the construction of a "space ship" in which scientists hope one day to be able to travel to the moon, are published in the current issue of the Journal of the British Interplanetary Society.

That a lunar voyage will be possible in the not too distant future is the belief of a group of men who are working steadily and unobtrusively toward their goal, states an accompanying article which gives some idea of their progress.

The pioneers point out the necessity for extensive ground experiments before the construction of a space ship could be undertaken.

It Looks Like an Inside Job

He Makes Hitler Eat Humble Pie

The independence of General Werner von Fritsch and his face-to-face criticism of some of Hitler's policies once resulted in his being "purged" into civil life. Now he has reason to laugh—for Hitler has had to recognize him as one of Germany's greatest soldiers, place him in command of one of the armies invading Poland, and depend on him for the success of the Nazi adventure.

A recent check-up showed that Texas farmers have received more than $4 million dollars in 1937 cotton price adjustment payments, a few more of which are yet to be made; more than $9 million in 1938 (farm and range) conservation checks, which are being paid this year; more than 3 million in 1939 wheat price adjustment payments, and almost 5 and a half million in 1939 cotton price adjustment cash.

The Maharajah, failing in health, summons Safi. He and the Maharani consider Safi almost their own. They want him to marry, and have chosen a bride for him of ancient Rajput stock like his own. There have been rumors of the beautiful Englishwoman, Lady Edwina, but the Maharajah knows Safi will not betray his great heritage. Meanwhile, one night, Tom is amazed to find a drenched Fern Simon in his home. She begs Tom to let her stay; then her people will think the worst and send her away. He refuses, despite her startling admission that she loves him, and makes her go home. The next day, Lord Eketh takes sick, and Edwina summons Safi as physician. They have become closer and closer friends, to the extent that Tom warns Edwina. She must let Safi alone, before she destroys him as she has so many other men, but Edwina replies that Safi may be the great love she has been seeking. That it is their great love they discover in each other's arms, when in a sudden torrential roar, continuing the throbbing emotion in their hearts, the rains come at last to Ranchipur! ### Former Midland High School Students Are Married at Lubbock; to Live Here

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Roberts have returned to Midland to make their home following their marriage at Lubbock on Monday of this week. Mrs. Roberts is the former Miss Marie Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. X. W. Craig of Lubbock. Mr. Roberts is the son of Rev. and Mrs. O. W. Roberts of this city.

The couple was married in a candlelight ceremony at the Four Square Gospel church Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Floyd Dawson officiated at the simple ceremony. The minister stood before a six-branched candelabrum bearing lighted white tapers while reading the nuptial vows. Other tall standards, likewise holding burning tapers, were ranged about the flower-decorated altar and down the aisles of the church. Green vines formed a background for the wedding party group.

Mrs. Daisy Eubanks of Lubbock was at the piano for the pre-marriage music. Miss Mary Webber, also of Lubbock, sang "Indian Love Call" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." "I Love You Truly" was played softly during the service, and traditional wedding music was employed as the processional and recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of deep wine alpaca, made with short sleeves, high neckline, and front-pleated skirt. She wore a gold necklace, gift of her parents. Her accessories were black and her flowers a corsage of white roses.

The bride's attendants, three in number, were all from Lubbock. Miss Velma Ross was maid of honor. She wore a black and white costume with black accessories. Mrs. Ray Terrell, in black with matching accessories, and Miss Wanona Medlock in black and white with black accessories, were bridesmaids.

Bill Craig, brother of the bride, was best man. The bridegroom's brother, Wilbur Roberts of Midland, and Joe Poole of Lubbock were ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left immediately after the ceremony for a

Demonstration on Making Stuffed Roast Is Given

"To make a delicious roast either to be cooked and used fresh or to be canned and opened on a cold winter day, take a flank steak or another piece of the thin lower rib meat, fill it with a meat loaf made of ground meat, salt, pepper, sage, celery seed, and minced onion, roll securely within the flat piece of meat, tie in two places on each side to fit baking dish, exhaust for 25 minutes at 10 pounds in the can for canning, then process can after sealing at 15 pounds pressure for 50 minutes, or if for immediate eating, baste with bacon drippings or butter, add a cup of tomato juice, and roast in oven at 300 degrees until done—repeated basting gives a delicious browned finish." Miss Alpha Lynn, county home demonstration agent, told Greasewood home demonstration club women, as she directed the preparation of a cold roast in their meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Midkiff, Wednesday afternoon.

Other meats prepared and canned in the demonstration were Swiss steak, pork sausage, stew with vegetables, and tenderloin pork roast. Luncheon was served with cans of the rolled roast, pork sausage and tenderloin roast the center of interest.

"March of Time" Film Depicts Air Force of Nation as Prepared

Answering dramatically the present vital question: "Will America's air forces be ready?" the new "March of Time" showing at the Yucca theater Friday and Saturday voices an emphatic "Yes."

In the film, the U. S. Air Corps parades in the air before the eyes of those who view it. Produced with the full cooperation of the authorities, the picture is done with dignity and impressiveness, not a single bla-blah, nor a touch of flag-waving hokum anywhere. And not a touch of propaganda.

Every phase of Air Corps work and training is shown. Coming at a critical time with the terror of air bombing in Europe holding the world in a grip of fear, it is a film that exhibitors are showing as a public duty as well as offering vital information to the people and reassuring them as to the nation's preparedness.

Here, in all its stark reality, the armada of the nation sweeping through the sky, wave on wave of air ships, from the fast pursuit planes to the mighty air fortresses weighing 25 tons is shown.

Our vote for the most romantic of the newer costume jewelry goes to the big heart-shaped pin, studded with jewels, and the smaller jeweled hearts to be used as ear clips.

As a "sweetheart ensemble," what could be nicer?

We've been hearing quite a lot recently about the new marred lipstick to be worn with the new fall colors in clothing.

There are some of us who, no matter how pretty it is, simply can't feel too comfortable wearing rouge that is clear red. To such, it is rather a relief to learn that rosy copper is now appearing in make-up tones and that, too, is a nice complement to the fall colors.

We've read of various and sundry marriages conducted in a manner nothing short of goofy. The latest is the idea of a "golf course" wedding which was carried out by a couple near New York.

Of course the high contracting parties, feeling that the solemnity of their vows might overcome them, might crave the cooling touch of the open air on their harassed brows during the ceremony. Still and all, there seems to be something distinctly casual and not particularly "ill death do us part" in the thought of taking the nuptial vows in the sporting atmosphere of a golf course.

We hope no ill-timed shots from golfers-not-marrying marred the attention of the wedding party.

Wonder how it would seem to be one of these strong, silent souls who never (at least in their own opinions) do anything wrong? Who always have perfectly controlled tempers (and tongues), a heart free from bitterness, and a soul full of love toward their fellow humans? Or do such people really exist? We wonder.

Texas Today

By the Associated Press

Extensive experiments at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station upon proper feeding and management of turkeys wherein excessive protection was withheld from young poults, established "a profitable hardening process that prevented later losses and resulted in higher egg production."

It is, perhaps, premature—a long look ahead at least—to reflect upon hatching eggs while Texas growers are directing all efforts toward finishing one of their largest cash crops for the best and most profitable market, Thanksgiving. Regardless, the poultry division of the Station undertook a four months study which demonstrated that proper feeding and management increased egg production per bird from an average of 60 to 80 and 100. The experiment also revealed that inferior hens should be sold prior to becoming a costly liability and that the egg-production flock should be chosen from only the early maturing hens.

It was noted early by Lee Eynon James, assistant poultry husbandman who directed the experiment, that there was a greater mortality in poults than was evident in chicks one week old. This death rate was attributed to starvation, but further study disclosed that when poults were raised in a colony type brooder house and given daily care and hand feeding, or older poults employed to instigate feeding habits, there was an eight to 10 per cent reduction in mortality.

In confined pens where sunshine was not available equivalent to four hours of sunshine weekly, it was necessary to feed one quarter of one half per cent codliver oil to prevent rickets. This condition is expected to occur where poults are started in battery brooders of the colony type brooder houses devoid of sun porches. Small flock owners utilize turkey hens to incubate and brood individual clutches of eggs. Tests on such a practice, James said, showed that if the brooding hen was not rid of external and internal parasites, they were transmitted to the hatched brood with resultant losses.

Results showed that poults started in battery brooders should be transferred to the range when they are three or four weeks of age. This practice produced a high mortality, but prevented any nursing of the weaker birds through early poults, which is costly due to high adult mortality. Poults raised in colony brooder houses were better hardened than those raised in batteries due to the possibility of exercise and the availability to runs or sunporches.

It was found that a growing ration for maximum growth should contain a protein requirement 5 to 8 per cent higher than a similar ration for chickens. It is percent wheat gray shorts, a calcium-phosphorus ratio requiring 2 per cent oyster shell and 1 1/2 per cent bone meal. The ration levels were sufficient to insure against losses due to slipped tendons and market discriminations caused by dented or crooked breast bones. The inclusion of 4 per cent tobacco dust containing 2 per cent nicotine in turkey rations partially controlled, but did not entirely prevent, caecal worms, the intermediate host of the black head organism. Better results were obtained when the feeding practice was supplemented with weekly transfers of probable range shelter to new range areas not accessible to chickens and older turkeys.

In 1936 a typical farm practice was tested. Marketable birds were sold and the immature hens kept. As livability, longevity, maturity, and proper brood type are inherited characteristics, the subsequent flock was an inferior type. This agreed with early findings that the turkey producer should cull and sell inferior birds prior to their becoming a costly liability. The breeding stock should be selected before marketing any of the flock.

Experiments on feeding of laying hens was conducted to obtain data on the relative value of varying amounts of ground whole oats, wheat bran, and meat and bone scraps. The time to commence feeding the laying mash for highest production was determined as the last of November to the middle of December. A pound of feed produced an average of 80 to 100 eggs per bird in a four month laying period. From the test it was concluded that 20 per cent meat and bone scraps and 5 per cent of dried whey satisfied the protein requirements of laying turkeys. Eight to 12 pounds of feed per month was required to feed a turkey hen, this was a requirement of 3/4 to one pound of feed to produce one egg. The turkey consumed more mash and less grain at the season advance. A decrease in egg production was correlated with broodiness among the hens.

As the essential requirements for quality hatching eggs are fertility and hatchability, combined with the inherent factors to produce a healthy uniform breed, it was found these requirements could be increased 7 to 10 per cent by a daily rotation of tons, frequent gathering of eggs, cool storage of eggs and weekly settings.

THERE IS NO WAR CLAUSE IN A PRAETORIAN POLICY

Wars and the rumors of wars cause the patrons and executives of life insurance organizations to meditate upon the factor of increased mortality incident to such violence.

At the outbreak of the World War all standard life insurance policies contained what was known as the "war clause," cancelling the insurance, or at least denying liability for loss or injury incident to military service. That limitation was deemed vitally requisite to actuarial soundness and solvency. Strange to relate that among the Americans enlisted, fatalities from disease exceeded the heavy mortality of the service at the front. In that holocaust of death and destruction, cruelty and murder, there transpired many fine things to redeem the depravity of the mad world. One incident of local origin, and a matter of modest pride, gave to all life insurance history, a new and challenging spirit. The Praetorian Life Insurance Society of Dallas, Texas, notwithstanding the war clause in its policy, on the 24th day of July, 1917, decreed and provided that the institution would pay all "CLAIMS FOR DEATH RESULTING, DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY, FROM ENGAGING IN MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, AND THAT MEMBERS, WHILE SO ENGAGED, SHALL BE EXEMPT FROM PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS." This policy was carried out in good faith and actual performance.

Since nations feverishly prepare for war, and armies of the millions are now marching, what must be the thoughts of those now holding, and those desiring to acquire, life insurance protection? The alert mind and the keen thinker will act promptly before new clauses, exceptions and limitations are incorporated in future policies. There may be no real occasion for special concern in this matter, but who can foretell the tomorrow?

Praetorian policies now contain the following clause: "This policy is free of restrictions from date of issue as to change in occupation, residence or travel."

502 Petroleum Bldg.—Midland, Texas
Office Phone 111—Res. Phone 859-J

for a few months. The Stephens-Eastland county boundary was in the middle of Learay's main street and the lawless had things pretty much their own way until the sheriffs of both counties named the same man as a deputy sheriff and the merchants "chipped in" enough for his salary and for the construction of a one-room jail. A noted member of the Texas Rangers accepted the appointment and law and order came to Learay.

Learay received its name from the fact that the Cisco and Northern Railway, constructed through the town from Cisco to Breckenridge, was financed by R. Q. Lee and Walter Ray, both of Cisco.

Arrival of the first train assured the town's future, it was felt, and thousands of dollars worth of lots were sold. Drilling of dusters and decline in the output of the wells caused Learay to dwindle, however, and within five years, it was the scene of one of the biggest wolf-hunts in this part of the State, so completely had it relapsed into the wilderness.

The late Colonel Robert D. Gordon swung the attention of oil men back to the Learay sector years after the boom, by uncovering a new sand on the Ramsower farm. Many wells were drilled, some of them making 1,000 barrels a day and more, but Learay as a town did not come back because paved roads enabled the crews to commute between the field and Ranger, Eastland, Breckenridge and Cisco.

Learay came into ghastly prominence a few years ago when an oil field pumper living in a lonely shack near the ghost town and his brother who was visiting him were shot and beaten to death. A youth confessed he shot them "to see 'em kick" and is now serving a life sentence.

Former citizens of Learay are expected to attend the homecoming at Breckenridge, 18 miles north of the vanished town, when a football game, parade, golf, and other events are scheduled for the busy two days.

"Trouble Shooting" Fund at Univ. Groves
AUSTIN. — A "trouble shooting" fund for University of Texas students who find themselves in financial distress totals more than $350,000, a survey of loan fund facilities today revealed.

Largest fund for needy students to tap is the $200,000 pool of the Ex-Students' Association, made up of some half dozen endowments, biggest and newest of which is the $100,000 gift of the late Will C. Hogg of Houston.

Administered by the University and its various offices are 17 loan funds aggregating $88,500, of which some $60,000 is now tied up in student notes.

Fourteen other emergency scholarship-loan and special items from which students may borrow, totaling some $70,000, are governed by individual committees.

Loans from most of these funds bear interest and are payable within five years. Notes with proper endorsements protect the funds. A few loans, in the nature of scholarships, are cancellable at the end of definite periods provided holders fulfill certain requirements.

University authorities report negligible losses.

FINAL HARD DRILL SLATED TODAY FOR THE BULLDOGS

Team Ready for Invasion Saturday By Santone Eleven

Another hard session of scrimmaging was on the slate for the Midland Bulldogs today with skull practice and dummy scrimmage being scheduled for tomorrow night in preparation for the game here Saturday night against the Thomas Edison (San Antonio) Bears.

A roster of the Bear squad was received this morning by Coach Bud Taylor and it bore out rumors he had already heard that the Bears would be rough and tough.

Chief offensive threat of the invaders is a boy named Pfeiffer, who weighs only 192 pounds and is a triple threat back. He does most of the kicking and passing as well as most of the ball carrying for the team.

are fast and the Bears are said to boast a dangerous passing attack. Ten lettermen from last year's club should insure it a better season than last year when the Bears rated high in their own district.

The Midland team is in better than fair physical condition for the game. Paul Klatt is still bothered with a shoulder injury he received a couple of weeks ago and Jim White is suffering from a charley horse but all the other boys are ready for the game to start.

Although none of the Midland coaches will predict a Midland victory, all are confident the boys will be greatly improved over last week when they barely nosed out the Monahans team. Lack of a goal line punch kept the Bulldogs from making several other scores last week and that phase of the game has come in for plenty of work this week in practice sessions.

Several of the boys have not yet reached peak playing condition but are rapidly rounding into form. Most of the backfielders appeared slow and uncertain in their assignments last week and long hours of practice have been their lot this week.

Officials of the Bears failed to list what side of the line various boys would be playing on and that will naturally bother the local coaches in plotting their own offense since the visitors boast a 180 guard. It is a cinch the Bulldogs will not run many line plays at the side on which those two boys are placed. The other tackle on the club weighs 172 pounds and should mean that the bulldogs will probably go in more for end runs and pass plays than usual since lack of weight in the Midland backfield will probably mean less chance of them cracking the heavy forward wall of the Bears.

The Santone boys are coached by Joe Ward, once head coach at Big Spring, and have a reputation of each year being one of the toughest in the South Texas city.

Ward is expected to bring 24 boys here for the contest, arriving either tomorrow night or early Saturday morning. Outside of his tackles, guard and center, only one man, Pfeiffer, weighs more than 160 pounds. However, most of the boys

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF, Associated Press Staff.

Big Les Cranfill, who made Temple feared in the Texas schoolboy football race, says you just forget about being sorry for his Wildcats this season.

Temple was suspended from the Interscholastic League for rules violations. This year the Wildcats can not play against league teams so Cranfill has scheduled a mixture of junior colleges, academies and non-league members.

And Coach Cranfill says he wouldn't be surprised if the Cats won all their games, colleges included. He has ten lettermen back, says his defense will be as good as the quarter-final team of last season and that the offense will be

Cats Rally in the Ninth for 3 Runs And 5-4 Victory

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14. (AP).—Assisted by Shortstop Eddie Lake's error which let in the tying run and put the winning run on second base, the Fort Worth Cats scored three runs in the ninth inning here last night to overtake the Houston Buffs in a first round Texas league playoff game 5-4.

It was the Cats' first victory in three games and prolonged the series at least another night. Clyde McDowell's clean single to right center field broke up the game and pinned the defeat on Harry Brecheen who relieved Murry Dickson after the tying runs were put on base.

The victory went to Ed Greer who started to Brecheen in the opening game of the series at Houston. Greer followed Ray Starr, Stanley Corbett and Bill Yocke to the mound in this hectic battle.

Hubbers Win 9-5 Over Oilers in Second of Playoff

LUBBOCK, Sept. 14. (Special).—The Lubbock Hubbers, defending WTMU League champions, spotted the Pampa Oilers three runs in the second inning last night and then went on the win by a 9-5 count.

The win made it two in a row for the Hubbers and they took two more of winning their second championship in a row.

The two clubs journey to Pampa today where they will play the next three games—if that many are necessary.

Big Walter Gorski was wild to start the game for the Hubbers last night, giving up three runs in the second inning. But his mates tied the score in their half and after the Oilers had made one more in their half of the third the Hubs came back with another trio of runs to chase Hutton and take a lead they never relinquished.

Chinese Plead For Aid From U. S. Colleges

CHUNGKING, U.P.—The president and chancellors of 16 leading Chinese universities have sent a joint message to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, urging stronger measures against Japan.

The messages appealed for "more concrete measures, such as an embargo against the shipment of war materials to Japan, and positive assistance to China in financial and other fields."

A message also was sent to the chancellors of the great American universities. Dr. Butler was asked to forward copies of this message to the presidents of all American universities and colleges and the chancellor of Oxford University was asked for similar cooperation in England.

The message to Dr. Butler pointed out the great admiration and enthusiasm aroused throughout China by President Roosevelt's abrogation of the Japanese-American trade treaty of 1911, which was characterized as a "masterpiece of statesmanship."

"However," the message added, "while the aggressive war being waged by Japan is continuing at full blast, the six month period before the actual expiration of the Japanese-American treaty is still too long.

"We earnestly appeal to the enlightened American public opinion to support the President's policy and enable him to take further definite steps.

"We are horrified to see the constant loss of American life and property together with Chinese through the use of destructive means supplied Japan by America. At the same time, it is only through American leadership that the troubled Pacific will begin to regain its calm and the memory of America's aid in our war of independence will be cherished forever by the Chinese people."

The message sent to the chancellor of Oxford University said that the statement made July 31 by Neville Chamberlain, British prime minister, "revived our confidence in the general attitude of the British government."

Steers Waste Dozen Hits in Dropping Decision to Buffs

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 14. (AP).—The 13th of the month was really unlucky for the Dallas Rebels here last night, as they did everything but make runs off Hurler Ed Cole, and wound up on the short end of a 2 to 0 count for their second straight loss to the San Antonio Missions in the Texas league Shaugnessy playoff.

They made 12 hits off Cole, and left 12 men stranded. They got one walk, and had one man caught off base.

The Missions made but five hits off Jolly Sorelle, used one of them with a walk and an error for an unearned run in the first, two more with a sacrifice and an infield out in the eighth, and there was the ball game.

The Hubbers move to Dallas tonight to wind up the five game series, the Rebels faced with the task of winning three straight to win the right to face the Fort Worth-Houston winner for the league title.

40 Class AA Teams Will Play This Week

DALLAS (AP)—The gridiron drive opens for more than half the field in the Interscholastic League this week.

Close to 40 games, with a majority of them matching class AA teams swing into action next week with some of the games counting in the conference standings.

Scattering skirmishes last week offered little chance for the critics to establish favorites. Only one of the games—Tyler's 53-6 defeat of Jacksonville—was between class AA teams.

This week also marks the start of intersectional rivalry with El Paso High, Texas and Port Arthur playing teams from other states.

El Paso High engages Las Cruces, N. M.; Texasiana plays Surdon, Ark., and Port Arthur meets Lake Charles, La.

Interdistrict games listed follow:
North Side (Fort Worth) at Lubbock, Pampa at Vernon, Masonic Home (Fort Worth) at Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells at Big Spring, Fort Worth Tech at Lamesa, Poly (Fort Worth) at Odessa, Brownwood at Sweetwater, Plainview at Bowie (El Paso), Ranger at Ysleta, Olney at Gainesville.

Sulphur Springs at Denison, Sherman at Greenville, Corsicana at Highland Park (Dallas), Athens at McKinney, Amarillo at Paschal (Fort Worth), Childress at Arlington Heights (Fort Worth), Denton at Hillsboro, Riverside (Fort Worth) at Longview, Jacksonville at Marshall, Bryan at Beaumont.

Hub Fans Still Refer to Team As the 'Braves'

By NEA Service

BOSTON—There are plenty of die-hards among local baseball fans. The Bees used to be called the Braves, and the present National League Park was known as Braves Field. But you can't tell that to the old-timers.

On the City Hall, a big canvas sign promoting the mayor's field day designated the place as "Braves Field." A similar advertisement within a block of the Bees' Park, referred to the place in the same manner.

Hard Work Slated For Cowboys Before Game With Centenary

ABILENE, Tex.—Rough work, and plenty of it, was on tap today, and every day of the second week of fall grid drills, as Coach Frank Kimbrough's Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys prepared for their Centenary's Gentlemen come first, in a night game at Shreveport, a week from Saturday night, and indications were today that Coach Kimbrough would send an all-veteran combination into the inaugural fray.

At least three sophomores are threatening to crowd their way into the first lineup, however, and may do so later, if not sooner.

The menacing rookies are headed by Murray Evans, 205-pound Burk-burnett boy who promises to become the best Cowboy passer in years; Lloyd Flahe, 206-pound fullback from Cross Plains, and H. C. Burrus, Big Spring end, seasoned by a summer as softball hurler at Hobbs, N. M.

Evans ranks with the first five H-SU backs. Owen Goodnight, triple threat back; Moon Mullins, 203-pound fullback; Kirk McKin-n, running and kicking ace, and Sam Oatman sparkplug who was ready to start a year ago before he was stricken by undulant fever, from the quintette from which the Head Rancher will name his starting backs.

Probable starters in an all-letter line are headed by Bulldog Turner, 220-pound All-American center nominee, ranked on a par with the best pivots in the Southwest this fall.

Wilford Moore and Larry Cunningham, or Winston Tucker, all converted backs with speed, seem favorites at the guard posts. Long Turner Treadway, 240-pound giant of the squad, and Travis Green, a senior, have the inside track at tackles, unless dislodged.

Deward Marcum, shifted to right end to succeed Bud Reeves, graduating in June, and Nea Davis, earning All-American mention at left end for two seasons, loom as end starters, with Burrus crowding Davis and D. A. Parker and Bob Cowsar on the heels of Marcum.

The team boasts no half punts, but Turner Treadway and Mullins are the only three to exceed 200 pounds. The backfield will average 180 pounds, with a plus. The line 190 plus.

The Cowboys travel 5400 miles in three games away, at Centenary, University of San Francisco, and The Texas College of Mines in El Paso, before opening at home, with St. Edwards, on October 13.

Don Frye, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) footballer, is insured by Lloyd's of London. He has a $15,000 policy against any injury he might suffer from special lenses he will wear this season.

Frank Tolbert, the very entertaining Fort Worth sports writer, misses that inasmuch as Lloyd's follows closely the movements of ships on which they have written policies, maybe they'll want daily bulletins on Halfback Frye.

Although the glasses are the "unbreakable" sort, Don will continue wearing a helmet with heavy nose and eye guards.

This season will mark the last for 19-year-old football players in the Interscholastic League.

Next fall all boys who become 18 years of age on or before Sept. 1 will be ineligible for further high school competition.

R. J. Kidd, league athletic director, explains that inasmuch as the state department of education has committed itself to a 12-grade system in Texas schools, the age limit was lowered to better equalize the teams.

It points out that a school of 12 grades keeps a boy longer so with the higher age limit would have an advantage, whereas if all boys finished their eligibility at 18 there would be no advantage.

"Say," yelled Johnnie Pierce, coach of the Corsicana Tigers, "what do you mean putting us on the spot by saying Corsicana would be among the State's best this year?"

But it wasn't five minutes before we had even more information to show that Corsicana is coming up with a good football team.

Johnnie admitted himself that Wally Spencer, his star back, should be just about the best ball-carrier in the State.

Matty Bell, coach of the Southern Methodist Mustangs, tells this one: While coach at Texas Christian, Matty's team lost a close game. The next morning he read in a paper that his team had been outplayed in about every department of the game.

Matty didn't like it and he told the sports writer so.

"In my opinion you were all wrong," said Bell.

"Yes," replied the sports writer, "but my opinion has more circulation than yours."

"I had to laugh," Matty said.

Polish Children Try to Stop German Attack

Idaho Foresees Boom Of Phosphate Industry

POCATELLO, Ida. (U.P.) — Production of phosphate soon may become one of Idaho's principal industries because the Gem state is one of the leading potential producers of phosphate in the nation, Dr. Harrison C. Dale, president of the University of Idaho, said at the Westem Phosphate Conference here.

Dale pointed out that phosphate is an important and necessary product in war times. He said it also was valuable agriculturally as a fertilizer. Vast deposits of the mineral are available in low grade ores in Idaho, Wyoming, Utah and Montana.

A full 16-day livestock show will be held at the 1939 State Fair of Texas, as will every other department have full 16-day shows. This insures the visitors to the State Fair on either Opening Day or Closing Day the same opportunity of seeing the Fair as the visitor during the middle of the celebration.

Pupils Discard Heritage Shame

PITTSBURGH. (U.P.) — Children of foreign-born parents must become proud of their cultural heritage, educators in local public schools have decided.

Alarmed by the common attitude of shame evidenced by many young pupils, because their parents are of immigrant background, an experiment is being tried out in local elementary schools in an attempt to dispel this attitude among students in this city of vast foreign-born population.

Typical of the new program is a plan put into effect by J. A. Harrison, principal of Horace Mann school here.

"There is a large percentage of children with foreign-speaking parents in our school," explained Harrison. "The teachers observed that many of these children seem ashamed of their background.

New Approach Tried.

"We decided to utilize this field of our children's experience and at the same time build up the idea that everyone has something to contribute to our country, regardless of his nationality."

Harrison and his staff prepared an original musical play with one scene representing Ellis Island. Included in the drama were speeches in German, Polish, Italian and Slovak and also native songs and dances.

"At first," Harrison declared "the children would not admit they could speak another language, but we soon convinced them that this was an accomplishment for which many people have studied for years."

Pride in Accomplishments.

Children of the different groups, Harrison explained, soon began to sing songs they had heard at home, and the music teacher picked out the melodies. The children were made leaders and taught the pronunciation to the rest of the class.

"As a result," said Harrison, "the children developed a new respect for their homes and families and became quite free in the discussion of nationality. But we tried to incorporate into the program the idea of patriotism, developing the thought that it was not what country you came from but what you could do for America and thus become a good citizen."

A brief report on the project has been selected for special distribution to all principals, assistant principals, head teachers and superintendents in the hope that the program may be extended further.

Beasts' Legacy Aid to Mankind

NEW YORK. (U.P.) — Animals helped teach man the use of antiseptics, according to a report prepared for the American Chemical Society by Profs. E. F. Degering and George C. Gross, of Purdue University.

"Long before man acquired the use of antiseptics the bee had developed a mechanism for excreting formic acid that served as defense mechanism," the report said. "Man even observed the higher forms of life licking their wounds to maintain a degree of sanitation, but still he lagged along for ages before he acquired the concept of applying antiseptics for maintenance of his own health and the preservation of his own life."

The report said man's first use of antiseptics probably was in connection "with the curing of meat, fish and fruits when it occurred to him that these principles might be applied to the preservation of food supplies."

Later he learned to apply tar and other ointments to his wounds, and in 1200 B.C. Moses gave directions for handling leprosy, plague and sores, according to the report.

"About the same time, the Greeks acquired the technique of fumigating by burning sulphur," the report said. "Purification of water by exposure to sunlight and filtration through charcoal was known as early as 800 B.C. Susrata fumigated the operating room as early as 500 B.C."

"About a century later, Hippocrates gave explicit instructions for the care of wounds. Wines and juices of healing herbs were used on the battlefields of the Greeks. Celsus, about 100 A.D., treated wounds to reduce hemorrhage and inflammation. Sea salt was used by Dioscorides about 300 A.D.

Mineral Forms For 50 Years In Borax Bed
WASHINGTON. (U.P.) — A rare mineral which exists about once every 50 years has been added to the collection of the Smithsonian Institute, it was revealed here.

The mineral, found for the first time on the bed of the Borax Lake in California in 1934, was named "teepelite" in honor of the late Dr. John E. Teeple, by its discoverers, W. A. Gale, of the American Potash and Chemical Corp., Dr. William F. Fosha, of the U. S. National Museum, and M. Vonsen, of Petaluma, Cal.

"Teepelite was found in crusts of salts formed within small pools that remained when the borax lakes dried up the year the mineral was found. The fact that the

Tables Turned on Hunter
GUINDA, Cal. (U.P.) — Wirt Pierce went deer hunting and took along his favorite saddle horse Dolly to carry back the four-point deer he expected to shoot. But Dolly missed a ditch jump and came out so damaged that instead of transporting back a big buck, Wirt and two companions had to transport Dolly home.

Errant Spring Under Building To Aid Cooling
PHILADELPHIA (U.P.) — Engineers supervising construction of the new Municipal Court Building put their minds to good use when confronted with a baffling underground spring that poured out 200 gallons of water a minute.

The stream for a while held up construction until foundations were sunk 22 feet into the ground. But the engineers still had the water seepage problem.

Tests were made of the spring and showed it always was 58 degrees and clear enough to drink.

Nation Building By Negro Cited

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Classifying the Negro as the "oldest American, next to the Indian," Dean William Pickens of New York told Pacific coast audiences that American historians have sadly neglected the Negro as one of the vital elements in the building of America.

"The Negro came to this country 12 years after the first whites," Pickens declared, "but stopped coming in 1839—some 80 years ago,—whereas most of the whites have come since 1839. Hence the Negro is the oldest American after the Indian."

Pickens is field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"Historians have failed to note," he declared, "that the Negro helped to make the colonial country as the chief worker in the fields and woods; that he helped to create the Union by his valiant fighting as a soldier, as a Minute Man and as a privateer."

Dean Pickens declared that he had been out of Yale for many years before he learned that George Washington had nearly 5,000 Negro troops at Yorktown when he beat Cornwallis.

"The Negro troops were on guard when Cornwallis came forward to surrender—and if I had stayed at Yale, I would not have learned that by now."

"The Negro helped to defend Baltimore in 1814 and in 1815 he helped defend New Orleans. According to Lincoln, we could not have won the war for the Union, to preserve the Union, without the Negro soldier."

Still, Pickens insisted, historians hardly mention the Negro, who remains "the most American of all American people."

Pickens insisted that the Thirteenth Amendment to the Constitution did not free the slaves but merely lifted the barrier on the road forward to freedom and that they have been journeying that hard way ever since. He declared that they have not yet arrived at full freedom and democratic liberties.

"After the chains of slavery were broken and discarded," Pickens said, "there was racial segregation and caste, disfranchisement, the terrorism of lynching and inferior education in sham public schools."

He conceded, however, that these hindrances are being broken down, but that one of the last justices that should be accorded the Negro is that American historians should give him his real place in American history.

Lamb Forgotten Animal, Alabama Farmers Told

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—Alabama has a "forgotten animal."

It is the gentle, little lamb. Dr. R. S. Sugg, livestock specialist of the state extension service, contends the woolly creature has been forgotten and the state should encourage the sheep industry.

Records show that returns on investment in properly managed sheep are greater than for any other common livestock, Dr. Sugg explained.

"I can't understand why the sheep industry has been so neglected," he said.

Enthusiasm Shown By Girls at First Girl Scout Meeting

First meeting of the Girl Scouts, a called session, was held at Junior high school Wednesday afternoon with 54 girls attending. The Junior High PTA is sponsoring the Girl Scout movement.

Mrs. June Kingon, intermediate troop leader, reported the girls enthusiastic and that their response showed that they "want and need a girl troop."

Fundamentals of troop formation and troop dues were discussed and girls were asked to bring their parents' signatures on printed forms to the next meeting so that work of organization may be actually started.

For the present, the meetings will be held at Junior high school each Wednesday afternoon after school.

Appreciation was voiced by Mrs. Kingon for the courtesy of Prin. A. L. Glibreth of Junior high school in providing a room for the meetings. The wish was also expressed that merchants of the town will cooperate in assisting the work.

First formal meeting of the group will be held next week.

Nation Boosts Braille Books

CLEVELAND, O. (U.P.) — Construction of Braille books for the blind by volunteer workers had its real start here many years ago, and since then has brought information and enjoyment to thousands of blind persons throughout the world.

It was following the close of the World War that the U. S. surgeon general's office issued a call for Braille "cheer up books" to aid in the re-education of sightless American veterans.

Previous to that time the Braille system had been perfected, but the expense involved in the construction of the volumes greatly limited their distribution.

Mrs. Gertrude T. Rider of the Library of Congress in Washington was not progressing as rapidly as she believed necessary with the volunteer Braille idea.

She wrote Harold T. Clark of Cleveland, who then was chairman of the executive committee of the legal advisory board here.

She told the Clevelander of the great need of books for the blinded veterans and explained that to have them press-Brailed, instead of doing the work by hand, was so expensive as to be prohibitive.

Clark, who had been interested in work for the blind even before the World War, recognized that if properly carried out the volunteer idea would bring gratifying results.

A Cleveland Braille committee was formed. To bring the subject before the public a pamphlet was published under Clark's direction asking for volunteers to carry on the work and giving examples of how veterans had benefited from the Braille volumes.

Volunteers Nationwide

People throughout the nation volunteered for the work.

Working girls worked with desk slates on Braille typewriters during lunch hours.

A salesman helped out while waiting for customers. Persons who had idle hours at their disposal rushed in eagerly to help as much as they could.

Others contributed money. A

U. S. Prospects For War Metal

BOISE, Ida. (U.P.) — What geologists described as potentially the greatest deposits of antimony in the continental United States are located in the Yellow Pine-Subalpine area, about 50 miles northeast of Boise.

The United States bureau of mines and the U. S. Geological Survey plan to investigate the deposits in the near future as a possible source of ore vital to national defense needs.

Sinclair H. Lorain of the U. S. Bureau of Mines said preliminary prospecting work in the area started recently and will continue through the fall. They will prospect for likely spots where test drills can be made.

Antimony is essential to the making of steel and lead alloys. It now is obtained by the United States principally from China and Mexico. In the event importation was stopped domestic production, now comparatively small, would have to be increased to meet vital needs of the vast steel industry so vital to national defense.

The Bradley Mining company already is taking commercial quantities of antimony from its Valley county gold mining operations as a by-product of gold.

During the World War, large quantities of antimony were mined and shipped in Idaho, according to Arthur Campbell, state mine inspector.

The present development work is being undertaken as a part of a strategic metals program for which congress recently appropriated $500,000 a year. The survey work will cost in Idaho about $20,000.

The metal is found in stibnite rock, a combination of antimony, sulphur and other metals. It must be milled and smelted.
