

City names member to Authority

Clayton Neal was appointed to the Haskell Housing Authority by the City Council March 24 and Mayor Abe Turner appointed Joe Alves as chairman of the board.

Neal replaces Raja Hassen, who resigned from the board.

Discussion of the Housing Authority's activities consumed considerable time on the agenda of the City Council during its semi-monthly meeting.

Jo Iva Long, executive director of the board, was at the meeting. She told the Council that the board will be having regular meetings on a monthly basis. The first meeting is to be April 1. Councilmen requested that she appear at the next council meeting to report on the board's meeting.

Other members of the Housing Authority are R. C. Couch Jr., Raymond Andrada and Royce Williams.

In other action, the City Council released the Fair Board of the responsibilities of upkeep of the Corral Building, vacated an alley in a residential area, declined to approve the installation of a WATS telephone line and heard reports from the city administrator.

Steve McGuire appeared to request the release of the Fair Board from the responsibilities for the upkeep and maintenance of the Corral Building.

Tom and Mary Watson petitioned the City to close the alley in a part of Block 40.

Councilmen took no action on the proposal to install the WATS line after a study of long distance telephone calls by the City failed to disclose that a WATS line would prove economical.

Councilmen instructed city administrator Robert Baker to accept bids for the operation of the swimming pool and to check on the cost of leasing a dump truck.

Baker reported to the Council on the crossings on Ave. A, the progress on the cleanup of the park and the cleanup by the fire department of the lot behind the Civic Center.

Weather smiles on Haskell area

Beautiful spring weather prevailed throughout the month of March in Haskell.

High temperature for the month was 89 degrees registered on March 9. Lowest temperature was 32 degrees on March 21, according to Sam Herren, local weather recorder.

Rainfall of .4 inch during the month brought the total for the year to date to 1.4 inches, less than half the normal of 3.04 inches for the first three months of the year.

Sagerton plans annual Hee Haw

The always-popular Sagerton Hee Haw will be held Friday and Saturday at the Sagerton Community Center.

Reserved seat tickets, priced at $2.50 each, went on sale March 18: They may be obtained by contacting J. B. or Dorothy Toney in Sagerton (997-2688).

The Hee Haw cafeteria opens at 5:30 p.m. on each evening. Music starts at 7 p.m. and the show begins at 8.

EASTER EGG HUNT

Approximately 150 youngsters showed up Saturday for an Easter egg hunt at City Park, sponsored by the Haskell Lions Club. Merchants contributed prizes and money to pay for the eggs.

POSTER CHILD

Joel Fox, Haskell MDA chairman, visits with Angel Chavez, the 1986 poster child for the Fort Worth West Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. Angel will be representing this area on the 1986 Jerry Lewis Telethon.

Joel Fox chairman of MDA campaign

Joel Fox has been appointed to serve as 1986 Haskell chairman for the Muscular Dystrophy Assn.

He will coordinate volunteers and fund-raising events to benefit MDA.

Plans are now underway for the 1986 Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to be seen on KTAB in Abilene and on KIDY in San Angelo.

Those interested in helping coordinate fund-raising events and the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon should contact Fox at KVRP radio, 864-8000.

Funds raised allow MDA to continue its programs of patient services for children and adults with one of the 40 neuromuscular diseases covered by MDA. They also will allow MDA to continue the summer camp programs, adult retreats, patient care and all-important research for the cures and treatments of neuromuscular disease.

Civic Center still has pressing needs

The Haskell Memorial Civic Center is now being used by people of the community, but there are still some pressing needs.

Most immediate of these needs are the air conditioner compressors which need to be installed before the building can be rented during the summer. Eleven compressors are needed, which will cost $13,000.

Although some individuals already have given to this cause, others are encouraged to do so. Donations are tax exempt.

To help on this project, a benefit supper featuring the Imitation Stats musical group is scheduled for April 12.

Tickets to this event, priced at $10 each, may be purchased from R. C. Couch Jr., Tom Watson, Delight Jones, Abe Turner, Carolyn Everett, Juanita Dunnam, Mattie Felker, Jerrene Couch, James Davis, Dickie Greenwood, Doyle High, Bill Comedy, Pat Quattlebaum, Selina McGuire, Betty Hook, Callie Robison or Bud Turnbow.

The second most pressing need of the Civic Center is money for insurance premiums, which will be approximately $300 a month, and the priority after that will be for floor coverings.

Statue of Liberty gets boost from kids

Haskell kindergarten students of Mrs. Shirley Sloan have sent $20 to help on the restoration of the Statue of Liberty.

The $20 represents the amount the students earned for the during their spring vacation.

In a letter, which accompanied the donation, mailed Thursday, the students wrote:

"We are in Mrs. Sloan's kindergarten class in Haskell, Texas. In school we learned all about our country and that everyone needs to be a good citizen, even when they are five years old.

"We learned that the Statue of Liberty is cracking and needs help. We decided that each one would work during the spring vacation and try to earn $1 to send, because we want to work for our country and be good citizens like we should.

ID cards to be issued to students

Haskell students will have the opportunity next week to be fingerprinted, photographed and otherwise categorized for a special "Youth Watch I.D." card.

By showing up at M-System between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on either Friday or Saturday, April 11-12, students will be issued an identification card, on which they will list their hair color, height, weight, color of eyes and other pertinent information.

Their fingerprints will then be reproduced on the card and a photograph will be taken to be attached to the card. The card will be laminated and returned to them.

The card will become the property of the students' parents and will serve as a permanent identification record. In the event the student ever disappears, the parents will have the information which will be valuable in a search for a missing person.

The project is being sponsored by Pepsi and radio stations KVRP, KSEY and KXOX, along with M-System. The Haskell County Sheriff's department is cooperating.

Clint Gibson of Abilene, district route manager and supervisor for Pepsi, is supervising the local project. He has provided flyers to teachers from grades 1 through 8 for distribution to their students who will take them home to their parents. The flyers explain the program.

Services are not limited to students of this age, Gibson said. In fact, he hopes that all students will participate. And if an older person desires an I.D. card, he or she too will be provided with one, Gibson said.

Cotton meeting in Rule April 10

A cotton production meeting will be held April 10 in the Depot building in Rule. It begins at 7 p.m.

Al Alexander of Vernon, area Extension agronomist, will speak on cotton fertility. Emory Boring, area Extension entomologist, will speak on cotton insect control.

The public is invited to attend this informative meeting on cotton production. Refreshments will be served.

Voters have two dates Saturday

Elections

City...

Haskell voters will elect a mayor and two councilmen in a city election Saturday. Voting will take place in the City Hall Annex between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Candidates include Mayor Abe Turner, who is unopposed in his bid for a second term, and City Council candidates Tony Burson, Claude Payne and Kenny Watson. Watson is seeking a second term on the city governing body.

Two of the Council candidates will be elected, the positions going to the two top vote-getters of the trio.

In addition to the position now held by Watson, the position now held by Larry Gilliam is to be decided. Gilliam, who plans to move out of town, is not a candidate for re-election.

To be eligible to cast a ballot in the city election, a voter must be registered and be a resident within the city limits.

With only three candidates for the two contested positions, interest in the election has not been great. Absentee balloting, which already has closed, was described by city officials as "light."

Those elected will be sworn in April 8.

Councilmen whose terms are not expiring include Joe Cortez, Jerry Stocks and Darrell Smith.

Voters in two other Haskell County communities will hold elections Saturday.

At Rule, Mayor R. C. Langford is unopposed for re-election.

Gary Casey, William (Willie) Palmer and Larry Tanner are candidates for the two seats to be decided on the City Council.

Rule voters will cast their ballots at City Hall between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Rochester has eight candidates for three spots on the City Council. Candidates include incumbents Bob Easterling, V. A. Mitchell and Basilo Andrada, along with Thelma Grinstead, Hubert Wilson, Marvin Stegemoeller, Lewie McNeil and Delbert Smart.

Rochester voters will cast their ballots at City hall between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

School...

Three candidates, including two incumbents, will be vying for two three-year terms on the Haskell School Board in Saturday's school election.

Candidates include incumbents Mike Guess and Pat Henry. The third candidate is Lonnie Hodgkin.

Voters will cast their ballots in the Community Building of Haskell National Bank. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Only registered voters living within the Haskell Independent School District will be eligible to vote.

At Weinert, voters will elect three School Board members. Candidates include Jimmy White, Bob Wood and Jerry Hester. White and Wood are incumbents, along with Dale Carroll, who is not seeking another term.

Voting at Weinert will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the school library.

Six persons are seeking four positions on the Paint Creek School Board. Present Board members Wallar Overton and Kenny Thompson are candidates for re-election to three-year terms. Also seeking three-year terms are Mrs. Kim Crawford and Lee Roy Cockerell Jr. Incumbent Burl Medford is not a candidate for re-election.

Candidates for a one-year unexpired term are Gene Fischer and Paul C. Early.

Rule and Rochester also will have School Board elections Saturday. Jimmy New, John Pike and Patrick Pace are candidates for the three positions to be decided on the Rule School Board.

At Rochester, School Board candidates are Bill Penman and Mike Adams. There are two positions to be decided.

Fund established for Messenger girl

A fund for the benefit of Olivia Messenger has been established at Haskell National Bank.

The seven-month-old daughter of Randy and Johnna Messenger underwent surgery Friday at Lubbock General Hospital. Several more operations will be required.

FOR THE LADY

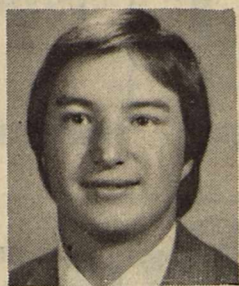

Kindergarten students of Mrs. Shirley Sloan are about to mail their contribution to the Statue of Liberty restoration fund. The students worked during their spring vacation to get money to send to the project.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

EXTEND YOUR FILING DATE

There are a number of reasons for not filing your tax return by April 15th. Some people have financial transactions or joint ventures which may be difficult to summarize by the April 15th filing deadline. Others simply don't get around to it. The "automatic" extension does not require that you state a reason for requesting additional time.

To avoid penalties for filing later than April 15th, certain steps must be taken. You must file for an extension and show an estimate of your tax liability. If your estimate of the total taxes due exceeds the amount that you already paid in, you are required to send the difference along with your extension request. If your tax estimate on the extension request is less than the tax on your final return, you may be subject to penalties.

The "automatic" extension period is from April 15th to August 15th. Additional time can be obtained by filing a request for further extension. This second extension requires that you state the reason for the delay. You will also be asked whether or not your tax returns for the three prior years were timely filed. You'll have to state whether or not your estimated tax payments, if any, were made on time.

If you are not in the United States on April 15th, you have until June 15th to file your return. This does not require the filing of an extension form. When you file your tax return, you attach a statement showing your whereabouts on April 15th. Since the "automatic" extension is available to everyone, there is no longer a tax reason to be out of the country on April 15th.

at Haskell Memorial Hospital. She had lived in Haskell County since 1919.

The Rev. Tommy Wilson of the First United Methodist Church of Rule and the Rev. Mel Swoyer of Faith Lutheran Church of Sagerton officiated. Burial was in Highland Cemetery of Stamford, under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home of Haskell.

Born May 30, 1898, in Eddy, Texas, she was married to Cliff E. LeFevre Sept. 6, 1915, in Teague, Texas. He preceded her in death Sept. 26, 1971.

She and her husband moved to Rule from Limestone County in 1919 and to Sagerton in 1923. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Sagerton.

Pallbearers were Jerry Manske, Tommy Manske, Johnny Manske, Pete Bryan, Larry LeFevre and Kent LeFevre.

Mrs. LeFevre is survived by a son, Delbert LeFevre of Sagerton; two daughters, Frances Clark and Mozelle Manske, both of Sagerton; a brother, Van Laughlin of Rule; a sister, Lada Anderson of Houston; eight grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Susie Atchison

Graveside services were held Monday, March 24, at Lakewood Memorial Park for Susie Ivadell Atchison, 93, of Turlock, Calif., who died the previous Friday after a long illness.

A native of Texas, she had lived in the Turlock area since 1946. She was a homemaker and a member of the First Baptist Church of Turlock.

She is survived by five sons, Horace Atchison of Stockton, Calif., Denton Atchison of Haskell, Hulen Atchison of Oakland, Calif., Gerald Atchison of Livingston, Calif. and Rex Atchison of Las Vegas, Nev.; three daughters, Alice Holmgren, Dana Gilbertson and Hazel Cook, all of Turlock; 16 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

Morris Villarreal

Funeral services were held in Artesia, N. M. for the Rev. Morris Villarreal, who died March 24 in a boating accident at Lake McMillan.

Villarreal, 45, was minister of Primera Iglesia Bautista in Artesia. He was the son of Petra Villarreal of Haskell.

A native of Texas he came to Artesia from Sonora in 1982 to become pastor of the church. He spent 20 years in the Air Force, retiring after 20 years service as a technical sergeant. He then entered the ministry and was associated with churches in Baird, Winters and Sonora before going to Artesia.

New Mexico State Police said that Villarreal and two friends were fishing in an 18-foot motorboat when strong winds and swells developed. Villarreal, who was operating the boat, backed into the swells, and the boat was swamped and eventually capsized. His two companions swam to safety.

He is survived by his wife, Alice. Other survivors include his mother; sons Daniel of San Angelo, Josue of San Diego and Ismael, Felipe and David, all of Artesia; brothers Manuel Jr. of Roswell, N.M., Leonard of Dallas and Paul and Samuel of Haskell; and sisters Bessie Nieto of Sanger, Calif., Omega Polanco of Fort Carson, Colo., and Mary Helen Gonzalez, Abigail Salinas and Ruth Jimenez, all of Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis

McJunkin-Lewis vows exchanged

Kelly Ann McJunkin and Russ Lynn Lewis were married at 7 p.m. March 22. The wedding was in the home of the bride's father, Fred McJunkin Jr., of Duncanville. Families and co-workers of the bride and groom were in attendance.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Freddie Moore of Ennis and Fred McJunkin of Duncanville.

The Rev. Eldon Irving, minister of the First Christian Church in Duncanville, officiated.

The bridegroom graduated from Duncanville High School and attended Texas Tech and Tarleton State University. She is employed by the Texas Quarter Horse Assn. in Dallas.

The bridegroom graduated from Rule High School, attended Tarleton State University and is employed by Suburban Irrigation, Inc., in Duncanville.

The couple will live south of Waxahachie.

Eric Wilson gets ACU honor

Eric Wilson has been recognized as a University Scholar at Abilene Christian University.

This award was initiated this year by ACU's Faculty Senate to honor students whose academic achievements exemplify the highest standards of the university.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, received a letter from William J. Teague, president of ACU, which said in part, "Congratulations on your own contribution to Eric's achievement and abilities. Thank you for allowing him to be a part of the ACU community."

Haskell Kiwanis Club and the Haskell Chamber of Commerce members invite everyone to join them at 5 a.m. Saturday for a look at Halley's Comet. They will meet just south of the auction barn.

Shower honors bride-elect

Miss Kelly Wallace was honored with a breakfast gift and gadget shower Thursday morning, March 27, in the home of Stephanie Browning.

Other senior girls helping Stephanie host the gift breakfast were Lynne Dewey, Rebecca Holt, Jill Jennings, Tina Lacey and Pam Weise.

Fresh tulips added a touch of spring to the table, decorated with the bride-to-be's chosen color of lilac.

Gifts of useful and unusual kitchen gadgets were accompanied with a favorite recipe of the giver.

Joining Sandra and Deanne Wallace, Elaine and Holly Reed, mother and younger sisters of the bride and groom-to-be, were girls from the senior class, fellow cheerleaders and twirlers.

The early-morning breakfast was ended in time to make the first school bell.

Church has Easter events

On March 21, Trinity Lutheran Church sponsored a salad supper, followed by a flashlight Easter egg hunt.

There were two age groups, toddlers to age 8 years, and 9 years through adults.

Prize eggs were hidden and prizes were awarded after returning to the church following the egg hunt.

Those attending the salad supper but not egg hunting stayed at the church and played dominoes.

The Easter Bunny arrived just prior to the hunt, and during the hunt made a brief appearance at KVRP radio station and was interviewed on the air.

There were 51 people in attendance.

Hobby Club

The March 18 meeting of the Rochester Hobby Club was one of the most enjoyable ever—with friends visiting, relaxing and working together. Two former active members, Mary Adkins and Virgie Brown, made the day more enjoyable by their presence.

Shelly Speck, hostess, assisted by Mae Speck and Eunice Newberry, served an extra delicious lunch to 20 members and 17 guests.

Members expressed their pleasure at the recent improvement to the west side of the building. Now, the inside is scheduled for repair and re-decoration.

Members also expressed pride in the thrilling sight of the waving flags atop the museum's flag pole.

One new member, Lois Charles, was welcomed. New members and visitors are always welcome.

BIRTHS

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS
We want to express our thanks to all our friends, relatives, nurses, and doctors during the past weeks of illness. We really appreciate all the visits, phone calls, food, flowers, gifts, and most of all the prayers and support. A special thank you to the ones who have helped by sitting up. Your love, friendship, and thoughtfulness will always be remembered. Your continued prayers and concern are appreciated as Bea recuperates at home. Without all your kindness, support, and help, the past few weeks would have been even more difficult. Thanks again for everything, Hugh and Bea Miller and family. 14p

CARD OF THANKS
Words are inadequate to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for your many kind deeds shown me during my recent surgeries. Also, a special thank you, to each one of you, who helped my sweet darling mother, while I was away from home. Sincerely, Dimpel Nehring. 14c

CARD OF THANKS
Not enough words come to me to express my thanks, love and appreciation to so many people who made my birthday party so wonderful and exciting. First I want to mention my children, Kenneth and Doris, Lodena and Todd, who did so much work sponsoring the party, sending out invitations and doing so much work. Also thanks to the 168 people who signed my guest book. Now finally, but not the least, for the many, many cards, letters and telephone calls I received from near and far, Haskell, Vernon, San Antonio, Louisiana, Amarillo, Washington, D.C., Singapore, and many others cities. Love, Oscar W. Tooley
There was another party Tuesday evening when Doyle High and his cohorts led the Lions Club through a roast for me. Well, it was a little brown but very exciting. 14c

CARD OF THANKS
Garvin and I want to thank the people of Haskell for your prayers, calls, visits, letters and many cards. At a time like this we realize how much we depend on our friends for support. Garvin and Arnolia Foote. Foote. 14p

CARD OF THANKS
The family of Chris Strickland would like to express our thanks to the many organizations and people who responded with concern, prayers, and willingness to help us find our son. His arm was fractured, but we consider this fortunate! Thanks again, Willis J and Karen Strickland and family. 14p

Maidens take first

Paced by Joy McKeever, the Haskell Maidens captured first place in the girls' division of the Buckaroo Relays in Breckenridge Saturday.

Coach George Martin's Maidens placed in 17 individual and team events to register 119 points, two more than second-place Coleman. Paducah was a distant third with 77 points.

McKeever took first place in the 100-meter hurdles with a time of 16.35. She also took second place in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, and was a member of the 400-meter relay team which won second place with a time of 52.61.

Other members of the 400 relay team were Tammi Miller, Mindy Smith and Julie Roewe.

Sheree Dumas won second in the 400-meter run with a time of 63.91 and the 1600 relay team of Dumas, Roewe, Leiza Morales and Teresa Rodriguez was second with a time of 4:22.9. McKeever added a third place with a triple jump of 33-10. Denise Young took third in the discuss at 90-10 1/2.

Other third-place winners included Morales in the 800 run (2:32.29), Roewe in the high jump (4-10) and the 800-meter relay team of Roewe, Miller, Dala Harris and Vicky Chavez (1:53.44).

Miller took fourth in the 100-meter run, Young was fourth in the shot put and Tina Lacey captured fourth place in the discuss.

Sylvia Castillo won fifth in the 3200-meter run and sixth place in the shot put.

Other sixth places were won by Rodriguez in the 400-meter dash and Chavez in the 200-meter dash.

This Saturday, the varsity girls will accompany the junior varsity boys to an invitational meet in Aspermont.

Junior varsity has rough time

Once again last week, the JVs had a tough time getting people to the finals.

Junior Jeff Neal and freshman Derrick Billington both made the finals.

Neal ran the 330 and Billington placed fourth in the 220 with a time of 23.7.

"The team really didn't do that badly; it was just that there was some tremendous competition from larger schools," Coach Jimmy Lisle said.

The JV's next track meet will be April 5 at Aspermont. The team will leave at 7:30 a.m. The JVs will again be running against Class A varsity teams.

PC girls win 4th

Paint Creek girls scored 63 points to win fourth place at the Jayton six-man track meet.

Rhonda Coleman, Gina Calk, Sharlene Grisham and Sophie Gonzales finished second in the 1600 meter relay with a time of 4:28.17.

Rhonda ran a personal best in the 400 meter run with a 62.13 time in the preliminaries and a 63.03 in the finals to finish second. She also won the 800 meter run in a time of 2:34.89.

Sharlene finished fifth in the 400 meter run with a 67.89 time and fourth in the 800 with a time of 2:40.08.

Sophie finished sixth in the 400 with a clocking of 69.27.

Gina Calk placed in three individual races. She placed second in the triple jump with a distance of 30-11 1/4. She finished second in the 200 meter run with a time of 28.14 and third in the 800 meter run with a time of 2:39.23.

The girls will compete this Saturday at Aspermont.

Golf tournament here next week

By Michael Wallace
The Haskell girls' golf team will play in the district tournament Thursday, April 10, at the Haskell Country Club.

Brockington wins 200

Stephon Brockington won the 200-meter dash at the Buckaroo Relays in Breckenridge Saturday with a time of 22.16.

The Haskell speedster beat out Stamford's Tim Delce, who posted a 22.8 timing, and his Haskell teammate Joel Torres who came in at 22.87.

Haskell's 400-meter relay team, which has posted three consecutive first-place finishes, came in third at Breckenridge. The teams of Brockington, Mark Young, Torres and Fred Shaw posted a 43.81 to finish closely behind Breckenridge (43.35) and Munday (43.71).

Young was fourth in the 400-meter run, and Shaw took fifth in the 100 and sixth in the 200.

A dropped stick wiped out a good performance by the mile relay team.

Haskell was competing in a division which included Class AA and Class AAA schools.

Next action for Coach Jimmy Lisle's thinclads will be Friday and Saturday of this week when they compete in the San Angelo Relays.

Paint Creek player on all-star team

Jamie Braly of Paint Creek has been chosen for the six-man All-Star basketball game to be played in July at Tarleton College in Stephenville.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Braly, Jamie is a senior at Paint Creek High School.

He was chosen to the first team all-district in district 25-A following a season in which he averaged 18 points and nine rebounds per game.

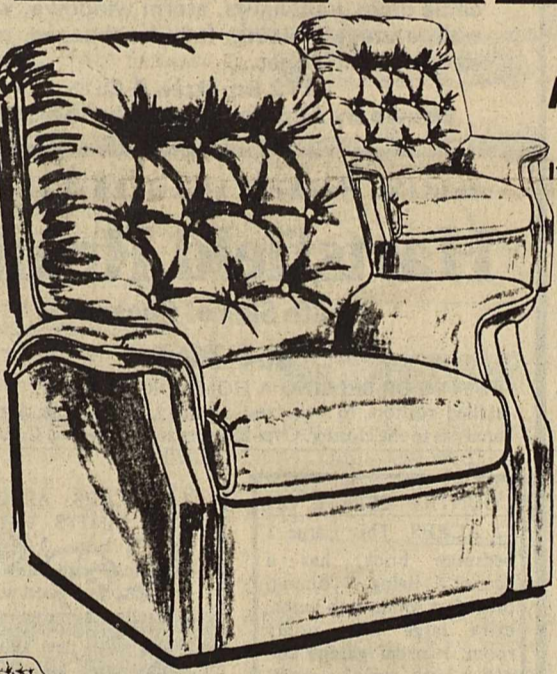

During the past season, he shot 42.3 percent from the field and 63.2 percent from the free throw line.

Retires:

Sanderson takes off his railroad cap

[The following feature story appeared in the March 23 issue of the Brownwood Bulletin. Sanderson, known here as J. Eldon Sanderson, grew up in the Haskell area. He attended school in Sagerton, Old Glory, Tonk Creek, Rule and Weinert, graduating from Weinert High in 1938. He married Lola Bell Gifford in Haskell in 1939.]

He's been working on the railroad.

And now those days are over but the memories are still there.

J. E. Sanderson first put on his railroad cap on July 27, 1942, in Brownwood and rode the tracks until Feb. 27, 1986.

After 43 years and seven months, Sanderson decided to hang up the railroad cap and do some of the things he has always wanted to do but lacked the time.

Recollections of those years crowd his thoughts as he reminisces the good and some of the bad that happened during his years on the railroad.

By the bad, he was referring to a few train wrecks, one in particular in which many lives were lost.

It happened during World War II on Jan. 13, 1944. There were 12 killed in a passenger train collision. Two passenger trains were enroute from Brownwood to Sweetwater. The regular passenger train had to make a stop at Novice to let off passengers. "The train had stopped and I was on the passenger train following the regular train," he said.

He explains that he was a fireman on a military train enroute to Camp Barclay to pick up a load of soldiers. At that time the railroad did not have block signals, he recalls. "It was during a six-inch snow storm and there were no signal indications. We came around the curve into a cut approaching Novice and we did not see that the regular passenger train was stopped until it was too late," he said. "It was too late to stop short without a rear end collision."

The collision was inevitable, he remembers. Not only were 12 killed, 99 were injured.

The Brownwood Bulletin story on the train wreck shows that many of the dead were not immediately identified. A three-months-old baby and an 11-year-old boy were among those killed.

During the years that followed he saw or was involved in other wrecks but that January wreck between two passenger cars was the worst one of his career.

"As a boy I had always hoped to operate a train, but never dreamed that I really would until six months before I got the job," he said.

He grew up in Sagerton near a little branch line where he could hear the whistle of the train as it passed the edge of his farm.

Sanderson loved all of his years on the railroad. "I loved the feeling of operating the steam engines and also the diesels. Once a railroad man, always a railroad man," he said.

He did admit, however, that he enjoyed operating the steam engine more than the diesel because of the sentiments attached to the steam engine. "The diesels are much more advanced, cleaner with air are equipped with air conditioners," he said.

He started out as a fireman and was promoted to engineer. "It took three years and three exams," he said. "Since I already knew the handling of airbrakes, I knew the signals and other operations. It was just a matter of familiarizing oneself with a diesel locomotive."

His railroad service was interrupted during World War II. He served in the United States Army Air Corps from June 1944 to June 1946, serving on a B-17 and a B-29 bomber crew. But when he came home, his railroad job was waiting for him. "The Santa Fe protected our jobs when we served with the armed forces," he said.

Sanderson has good memories of his years on the railroad. So enthusiastic was he about his job that all four of his sons have followed in their father's footsteps. Mark and Gary are locomotive engineers and A. J. and Dennis are conductors.

Now that the railroad years are behind him, Sanderson is planning to farm and fish, and of course, take an occasional train ride. "It's good to work for the railroad," he said. "Every train ride was different—different freight trains, different crews on every trip. Besides the work I enjoyed the fellowship."

To remind him of his railroad days, standing in front of his house off Highway 183, a mile and a half north of Heartland Mall, is a train order signal board. This is definitely a memory from the past. He explained its function was to give orders to the train engineer and conductor of the train.

The signal board that now belongs to him had at one time been located at a San Angelo junction. The train order signal boards were all discontinued about 15 years ago.

"The roadmaster gave it to me many years ago and I would not take for it," he says.

State Capital Highlights

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—For a couple of days last week, Texas teachers looked like they were standing alone. Actually, we know now, they were just standing in the middle.

When the state's largest teacher group recently refused to endorse any candidate in the governor's race, they probably committed the one single act that will most influence the outcome of the '86 race.

Basically, they threw the gubernatorial election up for grabs, especially the Democratic primary nomination.

Texas teachers refused to endorse Gov. Mark White, the man they propelled into office four years ago, and it has caused them to take a lot of heat statewide.

But there's no denying that teachers are now positioned to make or break White, to catapult Don Crowder or Andy Briscoe into the Democratic nomination, or to forge a new bond with Texas Republicans Bill Clements, Tom Loeffler or Kent Hance.

Uncertainty Factor

Certainly not all teachers vote Democratic, but the members of the teacher groups that endorse candidates traditionally support the Democratic ticket.

Although they snubbed White and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, the Texas State Teachers Association did endorse the rest of the Democratic ticket.

And while some politicians concluded that teachers were committing political suicide by biting the hand of their only reasonable choice for governor, the teachers themselves obviously felt the need to flex their political muscle.

With that in mind, they injected "the uncertainty factor" into the governor's race.

Door Left Open

Make no mistake, teachers left the door open to Mark White, but it's also open to Crowder and Briscoe, who are both actively seeking the teachers non-public, word-of-mouth endorsement.

And it's also open to Republicans.

White's strategy has been to ignore Crowder and Briscoe, and try to deprive them of credibility as viable candidates.

But both of the political newcomers have kept on campaigning and have closed the gap considerably on White, making inroads not only in labor, rural and minority sectors, but also in Austin.

Considering the number of votes the teachers can bring to a primary election, it's reasonable to speculate that they now, or will soon, hold the clout to force White into a primary runoff.

Forced labor? ordinance allows it

By Wendell Faught

Did you know that the City Marshall has the authority to make you work the streets and alleys of Haskell five days a year?

He does—if you're male, and between the ages of 21 and 45.

It says so in a city ordinance passed July 1, 1907, when A. J. Smith was mayor and O. E. Patterson was city secretary.

There were provisions for the affluent:

"...or furnish a substitute to work in his place...or any person liable to street duty may discharge the same by paying the City Marshall or said City of Haskell one dollar per day for each and every day he may be warned or requested to work said streets and alleys, but said payment shall be made on or before the day he is required to report for said street duty."

It's just one of many worthless ordinances still on the books at City Hall.

Because of ordinances such as this, the City Council has entered into a contract with Municipal Code Corp. of Tallahassee, Fla., to help it re-code, classify, delete or update all city ordinances passed over the years which are no longer applicable or appropriate.

Some of the ordinances when read today, many decades after their passage, are hilarious. Many of them had to do with animals in a day when the most popular forms of transportation were horses, mules and jackasses.

On March 17, 1910, over the signature of Mayor T. E. Matthews, this ordinance was passed:

"Any person who shall leave within the city limits of the City of Haskell, any team, hitched to a wagon, buggy or other vehicle or conveyance, without first securing such team to some hitching post or other safe hitching place, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding five dollars."

And back in 1925, this became the law through an ordinance passed Jan. 15 when Hardy Grissom was mayor:

"No person or persons shall hereafter ride or drive any animal or vehicle of whatsoever description onto, upon or across any public school grounds or any place or grounds being used for public school purposes within the corporate limits of the City of Haskell, Texas."

The aforementioned Mayor Matthews and his councilmen must have had trouble with animals. Here are some more restrictions passed during his administration:

"All hogs, goats, mules, calves, oxen or cattle, asses and sheep running at large within the incorporated limits of the City of Haskell are hereby declared public nuisances and they shall be removed."

"All persons are prohibited from herding cows, horses or other animals and are prohibited from allowing them to run at large on any vacant lot, block or parcel of ground within the incorporated limits of the city, and all persons are prohibited from tying, staking out any animal on or across any street, avenue, sidewalk, crossing or alley in this city or so near thereto that such animal can get on or across such sidewalk, alley, street, crossing or avenue."

"It shall be unlawful for any person to keep any stallion, jackass or bull for service to mares, jennets or cows in any open lot in this city or permit any bull, horse, stud, jack to run at large in the City."

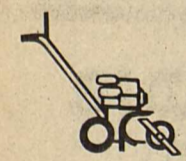

"It shall be unlawful for the owner or keeper of any horse or mule afflicted with the contagious disease known as "Glanders" to drive or allow the same to be driven at large within the city."

An ordinance passed March 19, 1915, when T. C. Cahill was mayor, no doubt illustrates the fear citizens of that era had of the dreaded disease of smallpox. It reads:

"It shall be unlawful for any person to willfully enter into any public place, street, alley or any private residence in the City of Haskell who has knowingly entered into any room or place containing a person or persons having smallpox without a thorough disinfectant of his person and clothing."

The years have given new meanings to some of the words and terminology of decades ago. "Tying an ass to a hitching post", for instance, meant something quite different to the interpretation of the phrase 75 years later.

There's a history lesson in thumbing through the old laws of early Haskell. It's rather easy for one to imagine what circumstances brought about the passage of a certain ordinance.

And nearly always, one can sympathize, and appreciate, the problems of town leaders faced with the task of helping carve an orderly community out of a virgin country.

In many developed countries, a person can easily use 150 gallons of water each day. Yet in many African countries, daily use can be close to two to five quarts per person, says International Wildlife magazine.

Production Credit Assn. schedules annual meeting

Rolling Plains Production Credit Assn. will feature Dale Minnick, Oklahoma humorist, at its 52nd annual stockholders meeting to be held April 4 in Childress and April 5 in Stamford.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the meeting to commence promptly at 10 a.m. for both sessions.

Site of the Childress session will be the City Auditorium. In Stamford, it will be the High School Auditorium.

Known as the Deep Country Voice of the Deep Water Windmill Company, Minnick is guaranteed to present a rib-tickling, motivational message with a dose of "Stick, Pick, Hook, Look, Laugh and Pray."

Born and reared near the Oklahoma Panhandle, Minnick still farms and ranches with his father. He is also a rodeo announcer, auctioneer and professional speaker who has recently traveled 300,000 miles to speak in 39 states and 11 foreign countries.

At the age of 22, Dale was appointed the youngest faculty member at Oklahoma State University where he taught Ag Economics. His experience includes that of corporate economist for the Federal Land Bank of Wichita and an executive in a savings and loan association and real estate development. In 1983, he became executive director of the Oklahoma Wheat Commission.

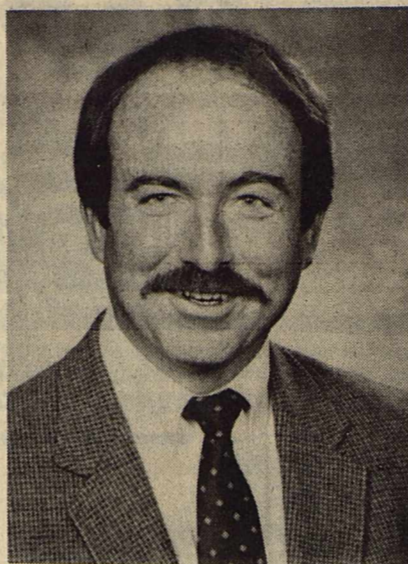

Other positions held by Minnick range from egg gatherer, morning milker, bronc stripper, theatre janitor, head cowboy, foot cowboy and general flunky.

Officials of the association promise a laugh-filled program, delicious barbecue and drawings for cash prizes.

In the business session, a director representing the Munday field office area will be elected. Nominees for the position are Garon B. Tidwell of Munday and Warren Short of Rochester. A director also will be elected to represent the Childress field office with nominees for this position being Dan Henard Jr. of Wellington and Steve Piper of Paducah.

Rolling Plains PCA is one of 28 member-owned Production Credit Associations in Texas. Collectively they serve more than 14,000 of the state's agricultural producers. Last year, almost $1 billion was loaned through Texas PCAs. Rolling Plains PCA is part of a nationwide Farm Credit System which provides more than $66 billion in loans.

During 1985, Rolling Plains PCA loaned more than $116 million to approximately 1,000 member-borrowers in Briscoe, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dickens, Donley, Foard, Hall,

Cattle industry financial crisis 'overstated'

The story of financial crisis in the cattle industry is not as bad as the media has portrayed it and forecasters think prospects for improved beef prices are good. That's the message speakers gave more than 2,000 working cattlemen at the 109th annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn.

Conservation Viewpoints

Grass-planting time has arrived this spring with many producers wondering how to plant their seed or who will sprig their bermudagrass.

The Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District has had their grass seed drill completely rebuilt and it is ready for use. The increased demand for grass seeders hastened work on the drill. New seed boxes, gears and chains have been installed to ensure more accurate seeding of expensive grass and seed varieties. For people that will be sprigging coastal bermuda, the ground should have been plowed through March and now awaits a spring rain prior to sprigging.

There are several options available on methods of planting grass this spring, but will be getting away fast. Contact the Soil Conservation Service office in Haskell for assistance in planting grasses.

Signup deadline near for commodity programs

Texas farmers have until April 11 to sign up for the various commodity programs administered by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Because the programs are complex, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is lending a hand in helping farmers interpret the programs so that they can make knowledgeable decisions.

In particular, worksheets and computer programs have been developed by Extension Service economists along with crop budgets to help farmers in analyzing all aspects of the programs so that they can determine what's right for them.

"The many facets of the programs make it tough for a farmer to decide what is best in his particular situation," says Lawrence Lippke, Extension economist. "We've tried to break down the various parts of the programs as they apply to different crops. With these decision-making aids, farmers can get a better handle on what to do."

According to Lippke, farmers can get copies of worksheets and other aids at county Extension offices for from Extension economists.

To assist farmers, Extension economists have analyzed four major production areas in Texas for the major program commodities-cotton, feed grains and wheat. Consideration was given to deficiency payments, the acreage reduction program, and planting a non-program crop on acres taken out of production.

"In all analysis involving these crops, participation in the farm program was found to be highly profitable compared to nonparticipation," Lippke points out.

For corn, returns to participation exceeded those to non-participation by values ranging from about $50 per acre in the Blacklands to more than $130 per acre in the northern High Plains.

Returns to participation for sorghum ranged from $39 per acre in the Coastal Bend to almost $90 per acre in the northern High Plains.

For cotton, the advantage of a farmer taking part in the government program exceeded nonparticipation by almost $69 per acre for dryland production in the Rolling Plains to more than $150 per acre in the Coastal Bend. These wide margins indicate that the level of deficiency payment could be reduced substantially without affecting the decision of whether or not to participate, says Lippke.

Regarding wheat, returns to participation exceeded those to nonparticipation by some $15 per acre for dryland production in the northern High Plains to $87 per acre for irrigated production in the same region.

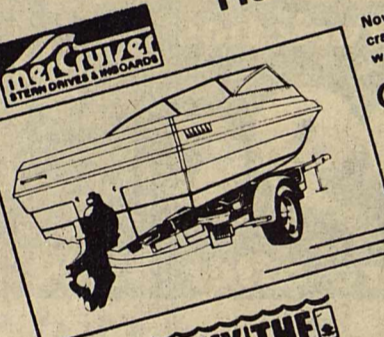

Two other issues of concern relate to whether to participate in the optional diversion portion of the wheat program or whether to reduce planted acreage to a level lower than permitted acreage on land of the commodities. "The decision of farmers to participate in either of these options is marginal, depending on whether yields per planted acre increase when moving to a lower level of planting," Lippke points out. Another factor which may influence the decision to plant less than permitted acres is the return a producer might receive from a non-program crop planted to that reduced acreage. "While farmers need to look at all particulars of the various government programs, we have tried to sort out some of the main aspects so as to help them with their decisions," notes Lippke. "They need to continue to keep in mind the $50,000 limit on government payments, and they also need to look at the government's new Conservation Reserve Program."
